ACCIDENT VICTIM'S INTERESTING PAST

MAN KILLED SATURDAY ONCE VERY PROMINENT IN INDIANA

BRYAN'S CLASSMATE AT SCHOOL

Investigation Conducted Since His Death Reveals Career of Considerable Importance

T. W. French, the aged and homeless man who was killed in a fall from a wagon at Zed Stein's ranch fifteen miles southwest of Archer City last Saturday and whose death was reported in Monday's Times, it has been found, was once a man of prominence and influence and has relatives of high standing.

Investigations made by Sheriff Turberville of Archer county and Mr. Stein who had the body embalmed and held on their own initiative and who set about to find French's relatives have resulted in disclosing some of the chapters of French's life.

It has been learned that French was a native of Mt. Vernon, Indiana, that he was once a state senator in that state, that he was at one time warden of the Michigan state penitentiary at Lansing and later warden of the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas and that he was a college classmate of William Jennings Bryan and was a 33 degree Mason.

French's body was brought up from Archer county yesterday and was shipped to Mt. Vernon, Indiana this morning. His brother, I. W. French, a prominent Oklahoma educator of Muskogee, came in last night and left with the body this morning. Mr. French was reticent in discussing the life of his brother but it was learned that he had at one time been wealthy.

On the death of his first wife he married her sister but the union was an unhappy one and troubles growing out of this marriage are said to have been responsible for French's condition. He disappeared about two years ago and none of his relatives had been able to find any trace of him until they were notified of his death by Sheriff Turberville. French himself had never discussed his past life with Mr. Stein in any detail but had told him something about his relatives and this gave the clue that enabled Mr. Stein and Mr. Turberville to locate him.

French's death was reported in Monday's Times. He died soon afterward.

GERMAN'S BIG GUNS USED IN NIEUPOORT BOMBARDMENT

Shelling of Westende By Allied Warships Reported—Gains By Belgians Claimed

By Associated Press. Paris, March 17.—The enemy is again furiously bombarding Nieuport, this time with sixteen-inch howitzers, says an undated message from the Fifth Parisian war correspondent, who adds that shells have fallen in the town, making enormous holes and demolishing several buildings, but no one was hurt. Belgian troops profiting by a slight recession of the waters in the district they occupy, carried two German advance positions.

Warships and monitors of the allied navy shelled Westende. The Germans replied feebly, but none of their shells took effect. Torpedo boat destroyers protected the bombarding ships, shelling a German submarine which attempted to approach. The fire was directed by aeroplanes.

SAYS NO PROGRESS MADE IN DARDANELLES ATTACK

Constantinople Report Declares Bombardment Is Having Very Little Effect

By Associated Press. Constantinople, March 17.—Only unimportant operations have been undertaken by the allied fleet operating against the Dardanelles for the last few days. The activity of the warships has been limited to demonstrations. Two big attempts by cruiser and destroyer to approach the outer fortifications and clear the channel of mines are reported to have been futile because of the effective fire from the defenders. The civil population of Constantinople appears quite calm and almost indifferent to the efforts which are being made to force a passage of the Dardanelles.

Two Families Said To Be So Poor They Wish To Give Their Children Away

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, March 17.—W. S. Noble, secretary of the Land League of Texas, told the federal commission on industrial relations today that he has this week found two land tenants in North Texas so poverty stricken that they were offering to give their children away. His testimony at a hearing on American farm land conditions, Mr. Noble said he had found these tenants in a search of what he considered a typical example of the poor class of the tenant farmer.

Not believing them typical he said he had brought to Dallas a voluntary witness, L. T. Steward, a farmer whose experiences were more typical of some 50,000 tenant families in the Southwest. Steward then took the witness stand. Alongside sat his wife and six of his eight children, ranging from three to twenty years old.

Three of the smallest were barefooted, their feet showing sores from frost bites. Steward described his efforts for twenty years to buy a farm home, beginning in Arkansas. After his first year's farming he said he sold his mule "to get square of debt" for food. The next year he borrowed a mule "and came out fifteen dollars to the good on the year." Then he bought a small farm on six years time, but was forced to give it up for lack of $40 to meet payments at the end of the first year. After several years he had he got $200 ahead whereupon he immediately bought an 85-acre farm in Arkansas. He did well, but two children died and their doctor bills out his savings so that he had to leave the farm, unable to meet payments.

He told the commission that one year he had lost money when cotton was seven cents a pound, but that he saved a little the next year when he received only four cents a pound; he saved by reducing living expenses. He said his wife "got to town" only once in two years. Sometimes, he said, he had lived too far from a school house for his oldest boy to attend. Then, when he lived near town later on, the boy was ashamed to go on account of his clothes. Commissioner Walsh asked: "What do you want your children to do?"

Wife Will Testify. "I had rather," replied Steward, "that they be farmers. I think that is the happiest life—if you get hooked up right." Getting "hooked up," Steward said, consists in securing ownership of a good place.

HOSTILE ATTACKS FUTILE, GERMAN REPORT CLAIMS

Statement Tells of Unsuccessful Advances By Enemy in France and Russia

By Associated Press. Berlin, March 17.—Official statement: "The contest for the possession of an eminence on the southern slope of the Lorette heights to the north-west of Arras has been decided in favor of the Germans. In the Champagne district, specifically to the west of Perthes and to the north of Le Mesnil, the French yesterday delivered several unsuccessful attacks. North of Le Mesnil the attacks were renewed with stronger forces and the engagements still continue. In the Argonne the fighting has not yet come to an end. French troops have been driven back from the slope to the northwest of Fauquois occupied by them. Two French attacks in the Le Petre forest northwest of Pont-a-Mousson resulted in failure. In the Vosges there has been nothing more than artillery duels.

The Russian advances against Taurougen in Korno province, Russia, northeast of Tiflis in East Prussia, just across the border from Taurougen have been repulsed. Russian attempts to break through the German lines between the Skwa and Pryce rivers north of Warsaw also have been repulsed. There is no change in the situation south of the Vistula."

TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY MEETING TODAY

Dallas, Texas, March 17.—Interest in Texas railroad circles today centered in the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Texas & Pacific Railway in New York City.

At this meeting a president of the road was expected to be elected to succeed E. J. Kearney, who recently left the Texas & Pacific to enter the service of the Wabash system. Other matters affecting the Texas line probably will be acted upon.

NO EFFORT TO PASS PIPE LINE MEASURE

FAILURE OF BILL FOR THIS SESSION NOW APPEARS CERTAIN

TO VOTE ON FEE BILL AGAIN

Senate Favors Submission of Amendment, At Fifty Cent Road Tax Measure

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, March 17.—At a conference of those interested it was decided that there will be no further effort made to pass any pipe line regulation measure at this session of the Legislature. Senator Bailey, who is behind the measure, said today that although he had a majority in the Senate for the measure, he feared that it was too late to get it through the House as it is understood there could be an organized effort at filibuster. There will be no effort made to submit this measure at the special session, but two years hence it is planned to have this legislation enacted. This, it is believed, leaves the coast clear for the passage of the Valentine bill which would have the effect of permitting the return to Texas of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company.

House Passes Several Bills. Most of the forenoon was devoted to passage of the Senate bills in the House on their final reading. Among them were the following bills: By Bailey, appropriating $3000 for suppression and eradication of fowl brood in bees.

By Hudspeth and Brelsford, providing for investments of available school funds for counties, irrigation district, road and independent school district bonds.

By Townsend, empowering the railroad commission to compel railroads to maintain tracks and road beds in safe condition and to authorize improvement bonds.

By Lattimore, permitting records of notice of appeal a quo tunc after the term of court expires where a motion for appeal had been actually made.

Fee System Amendment. The House joint resolution by Butler proposing an amendment to the constitution abolishing the fee system for officials in Texas and permitting the legislature to name the salaries for all such officials was engrossed today in the Senate. An amendment was adopted, though, eliminating county and precinct officers and authorizing commissioners' courts to fix the salaries with certain limitations. The Senate also engrossed the House joint resolution by Butler which provides for a tax of 50 cents on the $100 to be voted by counties and districts for road building and maintenance.

The Senate today granted the request of the House for a free conference committee on the state normal bill and appointed Henderson, Connor, Bailey of Dewitt, Darwin and Parr on the part of the Senate. The following House bill was passed finally: By Metcalfe, extending the time to file applications for water rights in irrigation districts.

Excitement in House Tuesday. The land question occupied the lower House most of Tuesday, the total result being the final passage of the amended land investigation bill, and the failure of the Lowellling graduated land tax resolution to receive the necessary two-thirds vote.

The Lowellling resolution received only 53 votes on final passage, after a debate which was marked by one episode, which very nearly precipitated a "bat" fight. Hot words passed between Biggers and Bagby, the latter resenting certain remarks of the former and rising to a point of personal privilege. Bagby's remarks in reply angered Biggers, who made a rush in the direction of the speaker, but was stopped by members of the House.

The amended land investigation bill was further amended so as to give the attorney general the plenary powers of swearing witnesses and going into any court for evidence that the original bill gave to the proposed commission. It was then passed finally by a vote of 84 to 27.

The House killed Hunter-Lane's bill providing for the collection of delinquent taxes by striking out the enacting clause. The House passed finally the Dove resolution providing for a constitutional amendment authorizing counties and localities to issue bonds for the purpose of erecting warehouses, cold storage plants and grain elevators. The vote was 99 to 19.

The House committee on public health killed the White pure sugar bill, reporting it unfavorably. No notice was given of a minority report, and it will not be heard from again this session. The various committees are now clearing up their dockets and killing most of the bills before them, excepting only important matters which they believe will have a chance of passage. Among the bills that have gone down because of lack of time to pass on them was the McNeel's hotel defrauding bill, for which the hotel men of the State have been working. The committee on jurisprudence has reported it unfavorably.

ARE URGING REPEAL OF PERMANENT WAREHOUSE LAW

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, March 17.—Petitions are being circulated by Texas ginners among members of the legislature urging a complete repeal of the permanent warehouse law passed by the last session of the legislature, on the ground the law will cost Texas farmers $4,000,000 a year for its operation. There are said to be about 8,000 ginners in the State who have signed the petition. Governor James E. Ferguson recently declined a request of the ginners that he recommend the law be amended so it would exempt a provision requiring ginners take three samples of all cotton ginned. The governor told the ginners he would oppose any change in the act. The ginners now are endeavoring to have the law repealed and a measure to that end has been introduced with little prospect, it is said, of passage.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, March 17.—General Leman, Belgian defender of Liege, now a prisoner in Germany, has refused to accept his liberty under a parole, which the Germans have offered him, according to a letter received by one of his friends, the petitioner. Governor James E. Ferguson replied to the offer of a parole, writing him and that his first act on obtaining his freedom would be to offer his services to Belgium and his king. He added that the wound in his foot which troubled him so long had healed.

"THE DEEP PURPLE"
By Paul Armstrong and Wilcox Mizner

A Liebler Drama in 5 Acts
as the heroine of this great drama Clara Kimball Young has to traverse the gamut of many varied emotions, an unscrupulous country girl, she suddenly finds herself flung into a seething turmoil of New York's underworld life; she is the guileless tool of an unscrupulous band of villains to whom cheating, deception, robbery, even murder mean nothing.

At The Theaters

The Lydia Margaret.
Today marks the close of the vaudeville bill showing for the first half of the week. Both acts have been uniformly enjoyable and the comments of the audience have been favorable. Dan Bowen has an excellent black face act and both of the Longworths have good voices. The man writes the songs for the team. A two-part feature—The Cabaret Singer, featuring Marguerite Couger and Tom Moore, and a L-KO comedy, "Zeb and His Gang."

The Majestic.
"The Master Key" No. 10 here today, with every foot of the two reels full of interest. Just when Dore and East seem to be nearing the end of "The Master Key" something happens and Wilkors is on top. There are only five more installments of this serial. A George Agg comedy "High Falutin' Aggie" and "Her Cousin Fella," with one other reel, complete today's program.

The Gem.
Edwin Wallock and Adela Lane are cast in the leading roles in an entertaining Selig drama, "Between Mattie and Night." The two-part production for today is a Lubin, "The Way Back." Lillie Leslie, Clarence Elmer and Justina Huff are featured. The story follows: At the opening of the Civil War duty calls Captain Willis, of the Northern army, from his bride, Louise, daughter of the Confederate officer, Colonel Frear. At the same time Belle Daring, a zealous Confederate, breaks her engagement with Lieutenant Fiske of the Union troops, though he vows to regain her love at the close of the war. After the passage of a year Belle Daring has become a Confederate spy, whose exploits are the scourge of the Northern forces. Captain Willis is assigned to a certain outpost, and is given the mission of passing through the lines and depends upon her friendship with the Southern officers to obtain her passage through the Confederates. She and Belle are captured by Union soldiers, and Belle pleads for her life through the kindness of the Southern officers who had promised to deliver her to him the famous woman spy if he will delay the execution until it can be referred to the authorities in Washington. The general agrees, and at the place of execution, Louise, Willis and the baby are united. Then Belle turns to General Shagan with: "I am Belle Daring, General, and your prisoner."

The Empress.
"The Deep Purple" the World Film Corporation photoplay in five parts featuring Clara Kimball Young is today's offering. Miss Young plays the titular part of Doris Moore, the innocent decoy who becomes the starting action of the drama is thrown. Doris is the daughter of a country clergyman who is inveigled to New York by a glib tongued exponent of the badger game who has won the girl's love and has promised to marry her. The girl's father is scathed and unskillful through a series of remarkably disconcerting adventures in the New York tendarities. She is used as a decoy for William Lake, a rich young western miner, who is trapped into a compromising position with her. Fleeing to Doris's husband, Harry Leland, "the badger" attempts to blackmail Lake. The girl indignantly denies that she is Leland's wife, whereupon the latter attempts to throttle her. The gang of crooks attack Lake, rob and injure him, and pack Doris in a bus. But he recovers and she escapes through the instrumentality of Frisco Kate, a kind hearted reformed crook; the police run the gang to earth and Lake and Doris escape. Genuine love springs up between the two and the play ends happily for them.

The Empress.
As the heroine of the drama Clara Kimball Young has to traverse the gamut of many varied emotions. An unscrupulous country girl, she suddenly finds herself flung into a seething turmoil of New York's underworld life; she is the guileless tool of an unscrupulous band of villains to whom cheating, deception, robbery, even murder mean nothing.

The Empress.
The girl's beauty, simplicity, loyalty, devotion and truthfulness are well simulated by Miss Young, who works hard in many trying situations.

The Empress.
It is a play of startling incidents and dramatic contrasts; a thrill in the literal meaning of the word. It is moreover true to life and free from any nauseating sex themes or suggestions—there is nothing of the white slave traffic in it; nothing offensive; nothing unclean.

The Empress.
Clara Kimball Young, fresh from the laurels of "MY OFFICIAL WIFE" and "LOLA," will demonstrate again to her many admirers that she is unsurpassed in dramatic action as every observer will conclude after seeing her in "THE DEEP PURPLE."

Shows start 12:30, 2:45, 4:05, 5:45, 7:30, 9:15.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES
They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions. An examining physician for one of the prominent life insurance companies, in an interview on the subject made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

According to this it would seem that a medicine for the kidneys, possessing real healing and curative properties, would be a blessing to thousands.

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., who prepare Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the well known kidney, liver and bladder remedy, claim that judging from evidence, received from druggists everywhere, who are constantly in touch with their customers and also indisputable proof in the form of grateful, testimonial letters from thousands of reliable citizens, this preparation is remarkably successful in sickness caused by kidney and bladder troubles. Every interesting statement they receive regarding Swamp Root is investigated and no statement is published unless the party who sends it is reported of good character. They have on file many sworn statements of recoveries in the most distressing cases. They state that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is mild and gentle in its action and its healing influence is soon noticed in most cases.

Swamp Root is purely an herbal compound and Dr. Kilmer & Co., advise all readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—50c and $1. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Wichita Daily Times.

EXTERMINATE RATS TO PREVENT SUBONIC PLAGUE

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, March 17.—The legislature has passed a bill which becomes a law when signed by the governor appropriating $25,000 for the extermination of rats in Texas especially along the Mexican border and the various ports of the State. The money would be spent under direction of the state department of health. The particular reason for attempting the extermination of rodents is to prevent the possible entrance into Texas of the bubonic plague which recently prevailed at New Orleans.

TAYLOR, NOT SCOTT IS LABOR NOMINEE

NAMES ARE CONFUSED IN REPORT OF MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

STATEMENT FROM SECRETARY

Corrected Ticket Consists of A. C. Wilson, S. T. Taylor and C. C. Willard

Some very egregious blunders crept into the Times report of Monday night's labor meeting and it was made to appear that T. W. Scott, instead of S. T. Taylor, was one of the nominees. Some other errors, both in subject matter and in proof reading, were made, giving a wrong impression of some of the work of the meeting. Mr. Scott was not even nominated for alderman Monday night, but the fact that both he and Mr. Taylor are carpenters caused the names to be confused. Mr. Scott was no doubt somewhat shocked to learn from the Times that he had been nominated. The matter is set right in a communication received by the Times, as follows:

To the Editor of the Times: As secretary of the Trades and Labor Council I must respectfully call your attention to some very serious errors contained in your report of the meeting of that organization held Monday night.

In the outset and in your heading the paper erred in giving the names of the candidates nominated. You gave as one of the nominees the name of T. W. Scott, when in fact Mr. Scott was not nominated, nor was his name even mentioned in this connection. The ticket as given by the Times included the names of A. C. Wilson, T. W. Scott, and C. C. Willard, when in fact the ticket selected is as follows: A. C. Wilson, S. T. Taylor and C. C. Willard.

We would not presume that this error was intentional but the mistake being so glaring, we call your attention to the matter, confident that in your fair minded way you will correct the error of the author of this article.

Your article further states that F. H. Denison nominated C. C. Willard, when in fact, Mr. Denison placed C. D. Willard in nomination. The similarity of the names would preclude a controversy on this point but for the fact that C. D. Willard after being nominated declined to accept and C. C. Willard was selected in his place.

The article further states in stating in the sub-head that Mr. Willard declines. This gentleman did not decline but is now one of the ticket of organized labor for alderman of this city.

Your reporter again erred in stating that "upon motion of J. A. Wray, a committee was appointed consisting of F. H. Denison, J. A. Wray, F. H. Denison, M. H. Beeson and M. F. Lawing." This account of the proceedings would indicate that Mr. Wray moved for the appointment of a committee including himself, when in fact the motion was that the chair appoint a committee of five of which Mr. Harris should be the ex-officio chairman.

Knowing the policy of the Times to be absolutely fair at all times I call your attention to this matter, at the request of prominent labor leaders who desire that their actions may be correctly understood by the citizenship of this city.

Thanking you to give this space in your paper and with kindest regards, I am yours very truly,
C. W. JOHNSON, Secy. Trades and Labor Council.

ENDORSED AT HOME

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Wichita Falls Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Feeling that the good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Wichita Falls adds one more to the many cases of home endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it:

John Glen, shoemaker, 715 Seventh street, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "For years I was troubled by kidney and bladder complaint. I had pains in my back and side and was troubled by irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I tried them and found them even better than represented. They cured me and now I seldom have need of a kidney medicine. When I do, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they always benefit me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Glen had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (Adv.)

Here's hoping the Civic League can give us some new spring styles in front yards and vacant lots.

With five churches on Tenth street and another building, there is some talk of changing the name to Church street. But that isn't what the autoists call it when their machines hit those little thank-you-marks in the pavement.

Wichita Falls is acquiring a very pretty park that not a great deal has been said about. It is the Huff-McGregor tract, just off Seventh street. Some tasty effects in landscape gardening are being developed there and when the work is finished there will be a beauty spot that any city might well be proud of.

There are people in this country who are more English than the English and others who are Germans first and Americans afterward. The rest of us will be satisfied with as little comment from these inhabitants during these critical days, as they can get along with. Of course, if they've got to pop off occasionally that can't be helped, but they can't expect any sympathy from real Americans.

The government is advising against the planting of "half and half" cotton. That is doubtless good advice, but better advice would be not to plant any cotton at all. Wichita county has proved that she can diversify and the cotton land should be used this year for hogs, wheat, milo maize, kafir corn, oats, truck, more hogs and more wheat.

The American dollar commands a big premium in the commerce of the world today, being worth a whole lot more proportionally than the English pound, the German crown and other monetary measures. Foreigners are just beginning to appreciate the American "stimolon" at its true worth. People in this country have not been unappreciative of Uncle Sam's mint pieces; the only trouble with most of us has been to get hold of them.

AN HISTORIC TREE.

In the town of Graham, county seat of Young county, there is a large oak tree standing by itself on one of the most valuable business lots of the town, and it will probably never be disturbed as long as the tree lives. It matters not how valuable property might get to be in that town. The reason for this is there is a history to the tree. Many years ago, long before there was anything more to Graham than a mere cow camp, a number of Texas cattlemen met at that point and in order to better protect themselves from cattle thieves and for the further purpose of encouraging cattle breeding it was decided to form an organization of cattlemen to be known as the Texas Cattlemen's Association, and there being no building of any consequence in the town, and the weather being warm, it was decided to hold the first cattlemen's convention under the shade of this wide-spreading oak. The lot is enclosed and is between a large mercantile establishment and the leading hotel of the town. All citizens of

THE SEVENTEENTH OF IRELAND.

"Hurrah! for St. Patrick's Day in the morning." The custom of "the wearing of the green" has become so general that almost everybody, without regard to their nationality, takes pleasure in celebrating Ireland's Saint Day, once in each year. Next to his love for his "Dear Old Emerald Isle," your jolly Irishman is a citizen of the world. His "heart and hand" is always open and extended to struggling mankind in every nation under the sun.

"Go where you will on land and sea," and you will always find an Irishman there with his cheery, good-natured face in the line of duty. No army ever marched to meet a foe without Pat and Mike carrying a gun and knapsack in the ranks, or with sword in hand leading the van-guard.

The expedition, however hazardous, never crossed the frozen Arctic fields or penetrated the unknown and unexplored regions without the irrepressible presence of the Irishman, conquering the hardships with his witty sayings. "Tis your representative Irishman who stands high among the ranks of the statesmen, soldiers, clergymen, authors and poets of the world; they shine in history like beacon lights along the dusty corridors of the past. Yes, wherever the words Irish and Ireland are heard they seem to invite sunshine and smiles or appeal to us with heartaches and tears; and we associate them with the humor and pathos that vibrate with every emotion within our hearts.

Then let us join with our Irish friends and shout, "All honor to Saint Patrick and the Emerald Isle!" May her sons and daughters wherever they are proudly wear the Shamrock. And, with the poet, Tom Moore, say: "O, the Shamrock, the green, immortal Shamrock! Chosen leaf of Bard and Chief, Old Erin's native Shamrock." EDGAR RYE.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS KAHN'S STYLE SHOW

INTERESTING AND ATTRACTIVE SPRING FASHION PORTRAYAL IS HELD

DISPLAYED BY LIVING MODELS

Newest Dictates of Fashion Are Shown For Entertainment of Large Throng

A gorgeous galaxy of gowns, a charming collection of creations, fluffily, frivolous, fetching frocks and other similar alliterative, aggressive adjectives may be most fittingly used to describe Kahn's spring style show Tuesday evening at the Wichita Theatre. And all of the pretty dresses were displayed on living models, eight of them. The smaller members of the frivolous sex were represented also and the little girl's clothes were quite as delightful in their own way as those designed for big sister and mother.

A capacity house attended, and many scores were demanded. The most striking characteristic of the new styles is a certain degree of quaintness, something about the fluff evening and dance frocks and lingerie dresses makes one think of old dagherotypes or grandmother's "wedding" dresses. A dress of navy blue and rose leaves. A pretty little dress of this type was a pale blue taffeta, worn by a petite model; the skirt was ruffled, with scalloped corded edges and the waistline, coming up under the arms, was marked by a corded up standing ruffle. Pink satin ribbon, silver lace and French flowers formed the bodice. A dress combining the quaintness of the '90's and the daring of the modern time, was a white taffeta with a brilliant scarlet fitted jacket of the same material. The bodice was trimmed with red and a white hat with flaming poppies about the crown was worn. Some of the New Gowns.

Like a glimpse between the covers of an old family album was a shepherdess gown of navy blue taffeta. The very full skirt was corded about the bottom in hoop effect, giving the wearer the appearance when walking of being borne along on billows of taffeta. The waist was made with long sleeves and a pointed lace bodice in front, the inset panel of gray and black striped taffeta continuing in broader folds down the front of the skirt; the neck of the gown was modestly swathed in folds of white crepe net, caught demurely in front with a hand painted medallion brooch. A shepherdess sailor of

STOMACH TROUBLES

Mr. Ragland Writes Interesting Letter on This Subject.

Madison Heights, Va.—Mr. Chas. A. Ragland, of this place writes: "I have been taking Theodor's Black-Draught for indigestion, and other stomach troubles, also colds, and find it to be the very best medicine I have ever used. After taking Black-Draught for a few days, I always feel like a new man." Nervousness, nausea, heartburn, pain in pit of stomach, and a feeling of fullness after eating, are sure symptoms of stomach trouble, and should be given the proper treatment, as your strength and health depend very largely upon your food and its digestion. To get quick and permanent relief from these ailments, you should take a medicine of known cumulative merit. It is 75 years of splendid success, in the treatment of just such troubles, prove the real merit of Theodor's Black-Draught. Safe, pleasant, gentle in action and without bad after-effects, it is sure to benefit both young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25c. R. G. W.

navy blue, faced with white completing the costume. A number of very pretty lingerie dresses were shown, lace trimmed, with garnishings of flowers and ribbon in pastel tones. The light airy hats worn with these frocks, some with transparent brims, all flower and ribbon trimmed, added much to the general effectiveness. In the afternoon dresses dark colors are favored, Dame Fashion expressing her sorrow at the war in this method, it is explained. The skirts are all full, the majority of them smocked and trimmed with narrow pinked double-ruffles. A striking model in this class was of purple taffeta, a deep rich shade. Two double-blaked ruffles trimmed the short, full skirt which was high waisted as well. Shirring on cords to the depths of six inches or more formed the belt and the waist was in jaunty bolero effect. Another pleasing afternoon dress of navy blue pussy willow, had a color note introduced by a front frill of brass lace overlaid with white embroidery, fastened in front with four vivid crimson buttons.

In the Tailored Suits. With the tailored suits some of the models carried games, lending an additional advantage to the tail coat creations. Black, shepherd's check, navy blue and striped effects, with an occasional sand and putty ran the gamut of spring's fashionable shades. The dark suits were heightened with white inset vests with silk embroidery.

Quite the most noticeable suit worn was a black gros de laines silk, striped with white. The short coat was bordered with white organdy and had an inset front of coral taffeta. The full sleeves were smocked and the fullness of the coat at the waist caught in V-shaped patches of smocking. The same smocked effect was noticed in the skirt. A black and white Castle sailor, coral trimmed, was worn with this suit. The Castles have been responsible for more of the season's styles than hats, one of the suits displayed being a black and white checked, "Mind Your Step" suit, the name being taken from the Castles' musical and dancing success now running in New York City. The coat to this suit was belted at the waist with a narrow leather belt and trimmed with large ivory buttons. The skirt is cut in points around the bottom, the points being bound in black. A mannish effect in sand covered cloth was noticed, buttons of self material and a black coat protruding the only trimming. A casaway front, trimmed down both sides of the cut, was the most noticeable feature of a black and white striped suit, the skirt of course was full with a high waistline.

And the Hats. A good looking gaudy suit, in a midnight blue shade, was embroidered in black silk, the embroidery motifs forming a high waistline in the back, and had a collar of cream batists, hand embroidered. A number of exquisite hats were worn with the different costumes. One with trim of maline and crown of leghorn, was trimmed with two large pink plumes. This was worn with a dark-blue silk suit. The hats of the season are both large and smart and are of unusual becomingness. Flat shallow crowns and hat trimmings are characteristic. The theatre was thronged for the show and compliments on the showing were heard on every hand. Music was furnished by Katz' Orchestra and several were distributed. In taking the initiatory step in introducing an extensive fashion review to the people of Wichita Falls Kahn made quite a departure from the usual lines of spring openings and the showing Tuesday evening would do a much larger city full credit.

CHRIST AS IDEAL OF MAN DESCRIBED

SUBJECT OF SERMON AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TUESDAY NIGHT

LARGER ATTENDANCE NOTED

Ways in Which Men and Women May Become Like Christ Are Explained

"Like Christ" was the theme last night of Rev. J. W. Caldwell of Fort Worth, who is preaching at meetings being held at the First Presbyterian Church. The speaker told how his hearers might become like Christ quoting scriptures writing repeatedly. For his text he took the eighteenth verse of the third chapter of Second Corinthians: "But we, all with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the spirit of the Lord." Dr. Caldwell said that it was possible for men and women today to be like Christ. One of the ways in which men can be like Christ, he said, was that they can serve their fellow men. "The man whose life was one of service and that there were many today who were living lives of service to others. Methods Are Outlined. He told his hearers that another way in which they could be like Christ was in a spirit of self-denial and a willingness to submit to God's will. "Thy will not mine, be done." A third was in the habit of praying, the speaker recalling the many instances of prayer by the Savior reported by the disciples and Christ's own words on this privilege. The use of scriptures was another way in which any Christian might be like Christ, the speaker said, telling how Christ used the scriptures continually in His teachings. A fourth way shown to emulate Christ, he said, was the spirit with which "being reviled, he reviled not again." Another was the goodness of the spirit of forgiveness, "forgive them for they know not what they do."

Dr. Caldwell will speak again tonight but has not announced his theme. The attendance was larger at last night's meeting and it is hoped before the end of the week to have the church filled at each service. The public is cordially invited to attend the services. PROGRESS IS CLAIMED IN FRENCH OFFICIAL REPORT

Several Positions Said To Have Captured From Enemy. Belgians Make Gains

By Associated Press. Paris, March 17.-Official statement: "On the 16th the Belgian army has made fresh progress and has repelled German counter attacks. On the British front there has been violent artillery firing. To the north of Arras the enemy unsuccessfully attempted late in the afternoon to deliver another attack on the trenches on the spur of the hill of Notre Dame de Forrette. Sommes and Reims again were bombarded, two shells striking the Rheims cathedral. In Champagne, north of Le Meunil and west of Hill 196, we took possession along a front of some 600 meters of an important eminence held by the enemy. In the Argonne several German counter attacks between Reims and Four de Paris have been repulsed. There has been an artillery duel in the Woivre. One of our aviators dropped bombs on the barracks at Colmar, capital of upper Alsace."

Girls With Beautiful Faces or Graceful Figures

American girls have a world wide reputation for beauty, but, at the same time, there are many in our cities who possess neither beauty of face nor form, because in these instances they suffer from nervousness, the result of disorders of the womanly organism. At regular intervals they receive a treatment which keeps the strength in their bodies, that they are so prostrated that it takes days for them to recover their strength. Of course, such periodic distress has its bad effect on the nervous system. The withered and drawn faces, the dark circles and crow's feet about the eyes, the straight figure without those curves which lend so much to feminine beauty are the unmistakable signs of womanly disorders. When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother, when women pass through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances. At these critical times women are best fortified by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, an old remedy of proved worth that keeps the entire female system, perfectly regulated and in excellent condition. Mothers, if your daughters are weak, lack ambition, are troubled with headaches, lassitude and are pale and sickly, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is just what they need to surely bring the bloom of health to their cheeks and make them strong and healthy. If you are a sufferer, if your daughter, mother, sister need help get Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in liquid or tablet form. Then address Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential advice from a staff of specialists that is free; also 128 page book on women's diseases sent free-Advt.
