FOUR MORE VESSELS SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINES

EXTEND SCOPE OF THEIR OPERATIONS

BRITISH STEAMER REPORTED SUNK 700 MILES FROM A SUBMARINE BASE

FIGHTING ON WESTERN FRONT

German Reports Repulse of French Attacks in Forest of Le Petrie With Heavy Losses

By Associated Press. London, April 2.—German submarines have sunk four more vessels in the North Sea. One flying the Norwegian flag was sunk by the submarine U-20 and three trawlers were blown up by the U-10. The crews of all four ships were saved.

Heavy fighting was resumed in eastern France near the German border. The German official statement today says that French attacks were repulsed in the Le Petrie forest and that in counter attacks the French were forced to give up positions there. Elsewhere along the western frontier there were artillery duels.

A decided extension in the range of operations of the German submarines is indicated in a Lisbon dispatch which says the U-23 has sunk the British steamer, Southpoint, off Cape Minisiree. Cape Minisiree is more than 700 miles from the nearest German submarine base and is less than 300 miles from Gibraltar.

The fighting in the Carpathians is described in a Berlin dispatch to Amsterdam as unusually bitter, the Russians pushing their way through the dep. snow and operating in their attempts to dislodge the Austrians from the heights and passes, but are said to be accomplishing little in the way of substantial results. This is contradicted by the Russian reports which also claim successes in northern Poland. The Russians claim an important victory over the Germans at points west of the Neiman.

The attention of the British public is concentrated on the absence movement which has completely overshadowed the discussion of the war. That some drastic measures are contemplated by the government is certain, but it is not known whether these measures will take the form of total prohibition or severe regulatory measures.

Prohibition, it is pointed out, will not require a legislative enactment as a prohibition decree can be issued under the "defense of the realms act."

GREAT UPRISINGS IN AUSTRIA FOR PEACE

By Associated Press. Rome, April 2.—Advices received here from the Austrian frontier report the unrest among the civilian population of Austria as growing. Opposition against the continuation of the war is said to be growing stronger throughout the dual monarchy on the part of the classes who suffer the most. At Vienna a demonstration is reported to have been made a few days ago in which a mob threw stones against the war office building. The mob was dispersed by troops. Several persons are said to have been wounded and many arrested.

THREE TYNE TRAWLERS SUNK BY A SUBMARINE

Boats Sent To Bottom After Crews Were In Safety By Submarine Who

By Associated Press. Newcastle, Eng., April 2.—Three Tynes trawlers, the Granloxian, Jason and Nellie were sunk by the German submarine U-10 yesterday after the boats' crews were taken aboard the submarine. The submarine then towed the fishermen toward the shore until they encountered some fishing craft on which they were delivered. The fishermen say the German commander of the submarine was congenial. He supplied hot coffee and told them it was a hard thing to do but "we have orders to blow up everything. It is war and England started it."

MORE ABOUT ARREST OF GIRL IN MEN'S CLOTHES

Strong For the Baptists But Not Communicative About Anything Else

A Sherman dispatch in the Denison Herald tells more about the girl arrested at Sherman traveling in a box car in men's clothing. The dispatch says:

Deputy Sheriff Carl Smith arrested a young couple near the stock pens in southeast Sherman early this morning. The girl was dressed in men's clothing and at first glance looked like a Mexican laborer. She gave the name of Martha Coble at the county jail and the man with her gave the name of Joe Coble at the same place. The girl says she is 18 but would pass easily for 15 and is small for that age. The pair was seen to leave a Frisco box car this morning on the "Y" in the local yards and from there they went south when the officers observed them and took them in custody. The girl says she has been married and she and the man when separated gave different names for the man to whom she claims to have been married to. They do not resemble in any respect. The woman had on a large white hat with a Big Springs, Texas, mark on the inside and high heeled cowboy boots. While she was dirty from travel, she has good features and if cleaned up would make quite a presentable appearance. She has a winning smile and when officers tried to run her into a hole where she could be caught, she would simply smile and say, "I don't remember," or "I do not know."

The man looked sullen and morose and would make no statement further than quoted. At the jail he gave the names for himself and the girl, explaining "She has been married and her husband mistreated her and I went after her." Later, when he was placed in a cell up stairs he gave the name of Peter Johnson as the name of her husband. The girl was placed in the woman's department, having come and when asked what her husband's name was said it was Peter Robertson. She stated that she and her brother had been through West Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and had about decided to go back to West Texas, but would say nothing else, having conveniently forgotten the town in which she was married, the name of the preacher who married her, the town where her parents lived and most everything else that would be of value to the officers in helping her out. She smilingly said she is a Baptist and was married by a Baptist minister, but naively said: "I forgot the name of the place where I was baptized; you know it doesn't make any difference so the way is deep enough for the purpose and the minister is a Baptist." This was in answer to Jailor Ross Stark, who was trying to get her located and when she said she belonged to the church and had been baptized, he asked: "Where were you baptized?" She was then asked whether or not she was married by a minister or a justice of the peace and quickly replied: "By a Baptist minister, of course." Mr. Stark then said: "What is his name?" She replied: "Well, I declare, I know that preacher's name but I could just think of it," and then she smiled. Ross then said: "You seem to like your church pretty well but you seem to have had hard luck even if a minister of your church did marry you." She looked him in the eye and said: "Yes, pretty hard luck, but you must remember that was not the church's fault or the preacher's fault."

A reporter talked to her quite a while and she seemed to take great pleasure in carrying on the conversation and especially in evading all the questions that would lead to her identity.

She is being detained in the woman's department of the jail and will be given a bath and some suitable clothing. Here it seems, is an opportunity for some of the ladies of the city to help provide some wearing apparel for one of their sex and at the same time will no doubt be highly appreciated.

SEARCHING FOR HUSBAND HER MONEY GIVES OUT

Woman and Little Girl Had Been Without Food For Over 24 Hours

A woman whose husband had deserted her in a North Texas city and who had drifted there was found by officials this morning and supplied with money to buy herself some food. She had not eaten since yesterday noon she said. A little girl about three years old was with her. The woman had come here in search of her husband, but was unable to find him and her money soon gave out. The case appears to be one for the attention of the charitable organizations of the city as the woman is not in a condition to be wandering the streets.

THREAT OF REPRISAL BY GERMANY IS MADE

By Associated Press. London, April 2.—A German protest and threat of reprisal on account of the treatment accorded the crews of captured submarines was made public here today. The protest was transmitted by Germany to Great Britain through the United States. The reply of Great Britain also was made public.

TUGS MOORED NEAR THE PRINZ EITEL

AMERICAN OFFICIALS GO ON BOARD GERMAN CONVERTED CRUISER

SHIP TAKES ON PROVISIONS

Reported That German Liners Fired Up at New York May Make Dash For Sea

By Associated Press. New York, April 2.—Two United States tugs from the Norfolk navy yards arrived this afternoon and moored close to the German cruiser, the Prinz Eitel Friedrich. One was moored near the Eitel's bow and the other tied up at the opposite side of the pier.

Captain Hamilton with a party of officers boarded the Eitel. Efforts to ascertain the mission of the tugs from officials here were unavailing. United States artillerymen with bayoneted rifles turned back those who attempted to approach the Eitel at a distance of fifty yards.

The German converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, began taking on provisions this morning under the neutrality provision act. Commander Teichens, it is understood, has asked permission to load supplies for a fifteen days' voyage. Only a small portion of the supplies will be loaded today. The bulk will go aboard Saturday and Sunday.

The time limit for the Eitel's departure does not expire for several days yet. British merchant ships are leaving here daily. After the date of expiration of the time limit the Eitel has 24 hours in which to leave American waters. If in that time, an enemy's merchant ship leaves the port the Eitel will have 24 hours more, but at the end of this 24 hours she must be given an opportunity to leave and if she does not leave she must be interned.

Reports current here that German warships have evaded the British fleet and were making for South American waters with supplies for the Eitel are not supported, although the allied warships are reported, in a dispatch from Madrid, with having sighted a German steamer off the coast of Spain.

The British cruisers, Suffolk, Berwick Vornas and a French vessel whose name is not reported, by marine men lying on both sides of the channel about ten miles off the Virginia capes in the day time and four miles at night.

REPORTED GERMAN LINERS MAY SOON DASH FOR SEA

By Associated Press. New York, April 2.—Two British cruisers which have been watching at the entrance of New York harbor, steamed southward Wednesday night, according to the pilots of transatlantic boats coming in today. It is believed they have gone to strengthen the squadron watching off the Virginia capes.

A report was current today that some of the German liners tied up at the Brooklyn and Hoboken docks would soon put to sea. Steam has been up on all the ships since the war started so that they could be moved in case of fire. Customs officials have been stationed at all the docks with instructions to report any manifestations of a tendency to sail without clearance papers. No applications for clearance papers have been filed.

He is expected to leave as soon as he has been assigned.

GENERAL VILLA WANTS AVIATOR

LACK OF AERIAL SCOUT DELAYS OPERATIONS AGAINST MATAMORES

OPERATIONS WILL BE SLOW

Destruction of Railroads Makes Movements of Troops and Equipment Tedious

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Texas, April 2.—Lack of an aviator today delayed the Villa operations against Matamores by the Villa biplane which came here from Monterey yesterday. Villa officers looked for an aviator in this section today but they balked at paying at the rate of $100 per day for thirty days which was demanded by an aviator here. They had an aviator are so badly torn up that forces can not be moved but slowly. Villa has been using aeroplanes in an absence of better means of communication.

A toy balloon let loose by an April fool jester in Brownsville last night sailed over Matamores. It created excitement in Brownsville but not a shot was fired from the Carranza garrison.

An ordinance was passed prohibiting vehicles standing in front of gasoline supply stations in such a way as to prevent motorists from reaching the pumps. This action was taken following some complaints on this score.

A contract was drawn with I. H. Roberts for the curb, gutter and sidewalk at the Thirteenth street park. This led to a discussion of the grades in that vicinity and it was thought by City Engineer Hinckley that a storm sewer was necessary to solve the problem which presented itself. The council decided to visit the scene Saturday morning and determine what was necessary.

TRACK AND DEBATING CONTESTS TOMORROW

Five Schools Entered in Athletic Events at City Ball Park Tomorrow Afternoon

Wichita county's representatives in district contests for track athletic and debating and declamation honors will be chosen tomorrow when students from five high schools in this county will meet at the city ball park. Burk Burnett and Cashion will meet here to compete for these distinctions.

The track contests will be held at the city baseball park and the following events will be held: pole vault, mile run, high jump, long jump, 100 yard dash, 220-yard hurdles, 50-yard dash, hammer throw, shot put, discus hurling. Indications point to some close contests as all of the schools will be well represented. The winning team will represent Wichita county in the district track meet to be held April 16 and 17, when teams from eleven counties will be here. The winner of the district contest will go to Austin to compete for the state championship.

Tomorrow night at the high school the debating and declamation contests will be held. The debate subject is on the literacy test for immigrants, which was so prominently before Congress during the winter. Charles Butts and Bryan Hanks will represent the Wichita Falls High School, while in the declamation contest, G. W. Akin, Jr., and Rosa Bassinger will be Wichita Falls' entries. The district and state honors in these contests will be decided in the same way as in track athletics.

Today is Good Friday and is being observed by the Catholic and Episcopal congregations here in the usual manner. TEACHERS EXAMINATION IN PROGRESS TODAY

Examinations for State teachers' certificates are being held today at the court house, with six applicants, five being candidates for second grade certificates and one for first grade. C. L. Nichols of Iowa Park and A. E. Corder of Elciote, are some of the examinees. Yesterday an examination for a permanent certificate was held.

EARLY REPAIR OF TENTH ST. PAVING

CONTRACTOR WRITES THAT HE EXPECTS TO MAKE REPAIRS SOON

FOOD INSPECTOR NOT NAMED

No Decision Reached By Council and Dr. Bolya Will Serve Another 30 Days

No decision was reached by the city council at its session Thursday night as to the employment of a food and dairy inspector to succeed Dr. R. T. Bolya, resigned, and Dr. Bolya will remain in office another thirty days while negotiations with several applicants are in progress. The council wants a man who will agree to give his full time to the work, and this is causing some difficulty in filling the vacancy.

Early action was promised the council on the Tenth street paving repairs by R. D. Moxley, the paving firm which did the work. At the session of the previous Thursday, it was decided to bring suit on the contractor's bond; Mr. Moxley wrote that he expected to be able to return and make the repairs very soon. He thought the city was to blame for some of the defects in the paving and said that in the future if any paving were done here, he wanted to put down a block of it with the understanding that it would cost nothing if it proved unsatisfactory.

An ordinance was passed prohibiting vehicles standing in front of gasoline supply stations in such a way as to prevent motorists from reaching the pumps. This action was taken following some complaints on this score.

A contract was drawn with I. H. Roberts for the curb, gutter and sidewalk at the Thirteenth street park. This led to a discussion of the grades in that vicinity and it was thought by City Engineer Hinckley that a storm sewer was necessary to solve the problem which presented itself. REHEARSALS BEGIN FOR SCHOOL PLAY

"FI FI" MUSICAL EXTRAGANZA TO BE PRESENTED BY HIGH SCHOOL

Rehearsals for "FI FI of the Toy Shop" a musical extravaganza to be given by local talent under the auspices of the senior class of the local high school, have already commenced and the play will be given Friday evening, April 9 at the Wichita Theatre. P. W. Westerman of Chicago, who has given "FI FI" with tremendous success in neighboring towns, such as Ardmore and Hobart, Okla., and Abilene, Texas, will have charge of the local production and will furnish costumes and scenery.

"FI FI" is a show-out of the usual run of home talent production and to quote from an Abilene paper, "Considering numbers in the cast, the scenic and lighting equipment and costumes 'FI FI' ranks better than any home talent and among the headliners in professional productions."

The theme for the production in brief is: Bonnie, the toymaker's daughter, while wandering in the woods near her father's shop at the close of day, is overtaken by the Sandman who sings her to sleep. She dreams a wonderful dream in which the blique and wicker creatures of her father's shop are endowed with life and a night of exciting revelry follows, before the morning light dispels the charm.

GERMAN TROOPS BREAK ALL MARCHING RECORDS

Xenophon's Retreat and Napoleon's Famous March Outdistanced in Present War

By Associated Press. Berlin, April 2.—The prodigious marches accomplished by some of the German troops, especially before the battle of Tannenberg and in the last battle of the Masurian Lakes, have moved a local historian to make interesting comparisons with famous marches of other days. He concludes that no troops have ever before made such a record in this respect as the soldiers now in the armies in the East.

An average march, he says, is 20 to 25 miles, but after three days a day of rest is observed if this pace has been kept. On the famous retreat of the 10,000 Greeks under Xenophon, after the battle of Kunaxa in 401 B. C., from near Babylon to Trapezunt on the Black Sea, the average day's march was 18-24 miles, but this average was secured by several forced marches of 27-32 miles, and the normal day's march was about 15-14 miles.

A striking accomplishment was that of Napoleon's Grande Armee, who covered 110 miles in six days on their march to take part in the battle of Jena, and that over 600,000 through the Thuringian forest. The Ninth German army corps with exhausting marches behind it, covered 46 miles from the vicinity of Blomberg in the afternoon on December 16 and 17, 1870, over a muddy road, and was ready to fight the next day.

One East Prussian regiment marched 122 miles in five days to join Hindenburg's army, and took part in the battle of Tannenberg in the afternoon of the fifth day without stopping to rest.

BURGLAR'S CIGAR STUMP FOUND STILL BURNING

Abe Marcus Went Home Last Night To Find Burglar Had Just Departed

The residence of Abe Marcus at 1819 Tenth street was burglarized Thursday night, the intruder opening drawers and closets throughout the house in his search for spoil. Some wearing apparel belonging to Mr. Marcus and a diamond stick pin are missing. When Mr. Marcus reached home late in the evening he found a cigar stump still burning in one of the rooms, and he believes that the burglar went out the back way as he came in the front. The intruder made a very thorough search and it is believed more would have been stolen had he not been interrupted. Entrance was effected by cutting the screen on the back door. Mrs. Marcus is visiting relatives in Waco. The burglar left traces by which it is thought he can be identified and both city and county officers are at work on the case today.

ARTILLERY OF OPPOSING ARMIES BEING COMPARED

French Claim Superior Efficiency of Their Guns Is Being Regularly Demonstrated

By Associated Press. London, April 2.—A French artillery officer, who has been at the front from the beginning of the war, has sent to the newspapers an account of the French "75" gun, which he regards as the most successful all-round piece of artillery in use by any nation.

"The feature in which the gun has most conspicuously established its superiority," he writes, "is in the rapidity of its fire. This to some extent depends upon the division of labor among the gunners, but even more upon the mechanical properties of the gun. The designer has so arranged it that no matter how the weapon is pointed, the force of the recoil passes through the exact center of the barrel or anchor. In the German gun, the force is directed not at the point of the barrel, but at a point to right or left of it, with the result that the gun tends to be slewed around and has to be continually aimed afresh."

"A great virtue of the French '75' is its exactness to which it details deterioration. If you examine a French shell that has been fired at the end of the past six months of hard fighting you will find evidence that the gun's rifling is almost as good and efficient as at the beginning of the war. This comes as a surprise to many people who have heard of the rapidly with which naval guns deteriorate, but the conditions are, of course, different, as the velocities needed in naval work make an enormously greater demand upon the naval gun."

"A great deal has been written about the deadliness of the French shell fire and the relative inefficiency of that of the Germans. Assuming that the shells of both guns explode, the French shell will have the advantage for the following reason: The German shell hits the ground and digs a hole. By the nature of things—as the fragments of shell must fly roughly, straight—nothing will be hit that is below a line extended out in diagonal direction from the sides of the hole dug by the shell. In other words, it is possible to be lying on the ground quite close to the spot where a shell has burst and be untouched. A horse has to be a yard or so farther away, but even he soon gets out of the zone of the fire."

"With the French shell it is different. The French shell is constructed to ricochet; it strikes the ground and bounces, only exploding when it is in the air as result of the bounce. The explosion occurs when the shell is off the ground, and there is no 'high surface' to the shell as the French shell is different. Our artillery has made its own gun. We have accepted improvements from every quarter, and have paid our men not in cash reward but by promotion or recognition."

"Our experience in the present war seems to show also that the French 'shrapnel' bullet is more efficient than the German. The bullets of the 75 shrapnel shell weigh 11 grams (slightly less than half an ounce), whereas the similar German shrapnel weighs only nine grams. Experience seems to show that a bullet of at least eleven grams is necessary to stop a man advancing. The effect of the bullet is of course enormously increased by the high velocity with which the French shell strikes at a velocity of 95 meters a second, whereas those of the corresponding German gun travel at sixty meters. The energy of the two bullets is in fact mathematically about three to two in favor of the French shell."

"From one general point of view, the German artillery has long stood condemned in our eyes. In Germany there has been for years a divorce between the artillerymen and the men who make the guns. Every improvement with the German gun has had to originate from Krupp, and there has been a disastrous hiatus between theory and practice. With us it is different. Our artillery has made its own gun. We have accepted improvements from every quarter, and have paid our men not in cash reward but by promotion or recognition."

SCHOOL TRUSTEES WILL BE ELECTED TOMORROW

County, Common School and Independent Trustees Are To Be Chosen

School trustees for the county and for each of the common school districts in the county will be held tomorrow. The local voting box will be at the city hall; in other localities the school houses will be polling places.

No ballots have been printed for the county trustees election but the names of Lee Prescott for precinct No. 1 and of E. A. Dale for precinct No. 4 have been suggested and voters who wish to see them elected may write their names on the ballot. Mr. Prescott is already the member from this precinct. The member from the fourth precinct is T. H. Barwise, who was appointed county commissioner last year and consequently cannot continue as trustee. Mr. Dale has been mentioned as an available man for the place. Three members of the board will hold over: the years W. B. Minnick, J. J. Snyder and G. T. Smith.

In the common school districts two trustees will be elected by the voters. In the Wichita Falls independent school district three members will be elected.

The attorney general's department has ruled that saloons must close for school trustees elections.

Geo. H. Mayr of 154 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., a prominent druggist, has published a guide to health, in which he shows how he cured himself and brought relief to thousands of other sufferers from constipation, biliousness, indigestion and intestinal troubles by the use of French healing oils. One dose usually convinces. The most chronic cases rarely need over three doses. Any one wanting a copy of this book can get it at the drug store free. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by

200 MEN

The Sunday school is no longer the work of women and children only. Last Sunday there were nearly 200 MEN in the First Baptist Sunday school. Men from every honest calling of life sit together as friend and brother. You are more than welcome. Come and help us and we will help you.

WHEN BUYING SHOES

Why not buy good ones? This is an age of economy. "Everyone must economize to get by." Good shoes do not cost more than junk, factory seconds and culls, and poorly constructed shoes are a source of waste as they run over, crack, rip and wear out in a shorter time—and give less comfort. We are agents for Bostonian and Stetson shoes for men, J. & T. Cousins, Grovers and several other reliable brands for ladies. We have the new desirable styles in slippers and oxfords, and will be pleased to have you come in and inspect our new styles, and see how nice fine finished shoes fit. Every pair of shoes sold by us is guaranteed to give satisfactory wear.

The new slippers for ladies $2.50 to $5 00
Men's new oxfords $3.50 to $6 00
We also have a complete line of children's and misses' shoes and slippers $1.25 and to $3 50

We are agents for "Billiken" and "Acrobat" foot shape shoes and Dr. Reed's Cushion sole shoes for men.

ELECTRA MAN WHO TOOK ACID BURIED AT VERNON

The remains of W. Arthur Holman, aged 35, who made an exit from this mundane sphere by the carbolic acid route at Electra last Friday night, was brought to Vernon last Sunday afternoon and interred in East View cemetery, under the direction of the Vernon Undertaking Co. An inquest was held at Electra and the verdict was that Holman came to his death from carbolic acid poisoning, self-administered. Financial troubles are said to have been the cause of the rash act. Holman was an employee of the Producers Oil Co. at Electra and a large delegation of friends attended the funeral, coming up in automobiles.

Meeting the remains at the train, they followed the procession in automobiles. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Wilson, pastor of the Harold Baptist church, and Rev. Renfro, pastor of the Electra Baptist church. He is survived by a wife, two children who with his brother, L. P. Claude and N. E. Holman of Midland, Texas, and E. F. Holman of Bronte, Texas, attended the funeral. Another brother, James, his mother, and two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Pettit and Miss Ola Holman, living in Los Angeles, Cal., were unable to attend the funeral. He had no relatives here, but the family are old acquaintances of C. Seay of this city. East View cemetery was selected for interment on account of its beautiful surroundings.—Vernon Call.

Stylish FOOTWEAR

Is one of the most important details of correct dress, if one is to follow the dictates of fashion this spring.

Cloth trimmed boots and low cuts with short skirts or trousers to show them off to best advantage—these are the order of the day.

You will find here the styles that will be worn by people of good judgment. They have been selected from a variety of over one thousand Selz models as the most desirable and attractive styles for spring and summer wear.

With footwear such as this you can feel confident that you're correctly shod. You may see similar styles—nothing good was ever created that was not imitated—but the only way to be sure of the quality and the perfect fit of a well-lasted shoe is to come here and get the genuine, and have them fitted to your feet by experts.

Courage.
Because I hold it sinful to despond,
And will not let the bitterness of life
Blind me with burning tears, but look beyond
Its tumult and its strife.

Because I lift my head above the mist,
Where the sun shines and the broad breezes blow,
By every ray and every raindrop kissed
That God's love doth bestow.

Think you I find no bitterness at all?
No burden to be borne, like Christian's pack?
Think you there are no ready tears
to fall
Because I keep them back?

Why should I hug life's ills with cold reserve,
To curse myself and all who love me?
Nay!
A thousand times more good than I deserve
God gives me every day.

Dark skies must clear, and when the clouds are ast,
One golden day redeems a weary year.
Patient I listen, sure that sweet at last
Will sound his voice of cheer.

Then vex me not with chiding. Let me be,
I must be glad and grateful to the end,
I grudge you not your cold and darkness—me
The powers of light befriend.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS. Carrier boys are not authorized, nor is it any part of their duty, to collect for subscriptions to The Times.

The Trades and Labor Council has been exceedingly unfortunate in the selection of their slogan, which reads: "Equal Rights to all and Special Privileges to None."

Taking everything into consideration, including that of the business depression that has prevailed throughout the whole of the United States for the past six or eight months, conditions are sound.

In explaining why he failed or refused to sign a certain contract made with the city, Lee J. Cracken stated in the article published in yesterday's Times that the minutes of the council meeting as published in the Union Leader regarding that matter were incorrect.

A lawyer of Seattle, Wash., in describing the effect the "jitney" car in the United States says: "Electricity and gasoline vehicles have upset and disorganized the freight and passenger-carrying situation in more than one-half of the communities of the United States. We see all this, but owing to the larger investments either er will not see or stubbornly continue in a set course, hoping against hope for a change in that which cannot change." In this connection it might be well to point that without good roads the "jitney" car, the freight and passenger motor would find it impossible to compete with electric or steam railway lines, and in the cities the jitneys would find the business unprofitable if there were no paved streets.

WHEN YOU STOP TO THINK

Have you really done all you could towards beautifying that cemetery plot of yours? We know it is the habit to neglect those things, and count a death in the family as an added burden to be thrown off as lightly as possible. Yet, don't you think you owe it to the community in which you live to at least assist those who are striving with all their might to make our BURIAL GROUNDS half way beautiful. The good ladies of the Cemetery Association have labored long and unceasingly, without so much as "thank you" from good influential citizens, who have never looked at their plot since that last sad day when some one was buried. Are you a real live wire, or just a plain make believe? Go out and look the situation over, that neglected plot on the hill will answer this question for you.

28 BLOCKS PAVING PLANNED IN CITY

TWO MILES OF PAVED STREETS WILL BE ADDED PROPERTY OWNERS AGREE

CITY IS READY TO START

Contracts Drawn Up and Ready For Property Owners to Sign to Assure Work

An ambitious paving program involving 28 blocks, was outlined by the city council at its session Thursday night and if the property owners affected are willing, two miles will be added to the paved streets of this city. The program includes: Three blocks on Scott from Tenth to Seventh.

One half block each on Seventh, Eighth and Ninth, between Indiana and Scott.

Two and one-half blocks on Ohio, from Eleventh to Wichita Valley tracks.

Seven blocks on Lamar, from Tenth to Seventeenth.

Nine blocks on Tenth, from Van Buren to Tilden.

Concrete was the material adopted, as being most likely to meet with general approval.

Part City Will Do. Under the terms of the form of contract agreed upon, the city will pave all street and alley intersections, bring the street to grade and prepare the street for paving; the remainder of the expense would be borne by the property owner.

If this program can be carried out, it would mean a paved boulevard on Tenth street from the extreme western limits of the city to Michigan avenue; a paved highway on Ohio from the factory settlement in the southeastern part of the city to the business district; Scott avenue paved through the business section and the side street gaps filled; and Lamar street made into a permanent highway to the southern part of the city. On Lamar street the street car tracks run for the entire distance covered by the proposed paving, and the company will be asked to do what double tracking it has in prospect, at once, before the paving is undertaken.

Large numbers of property owners on all the streets mentioned are anxious for the paving but it remains to be seen just what per cent of them will be willing to sign up. Enough work can be definitely contracted for, it is believed, to permit the starting of operations within a short time.

Form of Contract. The proposed contract which property owners will be asked to sign, and the council's resolution for paving follow:

The State of Texas, County of Wichita. Know all men by these presents:

That we, the undersigned, and his wife, the owners of the following described property situated in the city of Wichita Falls in Wichita County, Texas, to-wit:

In consideration of the improvements, including grading, excavating, paving and guttering, street or roadway, to be made on the above described property situated in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, by virtue of the resolution, contract plans, and specifications heretofore adopted or which may hereafter be adopted, changed, ordered or amended by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, upon the completion of said improvements in front of the property and premises above described and the acceptance thereof by said city, promise to pay to the city of Wichita Falls or its assigns whatever sum shall be ascertained to be the pro-rata share of the cost of said improvements in front of said premises, according to the front foot rule under the terms of such resolution, contract, plans and specifications of said city, not to exceed the sum of $..... dollars, but if the frontage of said premises shall finally exceed the amount herein stated, then the pro-rata costs of improvements shall exceed the sum of $..... and the said owners of said premises in addition to the foregoing sum.

All amounts due hereunder shall be payable in cash within thirty days after said improvements have been completed in front of said property and accepted by said city. All such amounts not paid at maturity shall draw interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum from maturity until paid, together with ten per cent attorney's fees thereon if the same shall be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection or suit is brought thereon.

And in consideration of the improvements aforesaid and the fact that thereby the value of said property will be enhanced in value in excess of the cost of such improvements, we the grantors aforesaid have expressly given and granted and by these presents do give and grant unto the said city of Wichita Falls, its successors and assigns, a first and valid builder's contractor's, material man's and mortgage lien upon the aforesaid land and premises to secure the full payment of the indebtedness herein before mentioned and all of such liens and mortgages shall remain in full force and effect until the full and final payment of all indebtedness aforesaid. It is distinctly understood and agreed that all such liens and mortgages shall accrue on the property aforesaid for the benefit of said city of Wichita Falls regardless of whether said resolution already passed or which may hereafter be passed by the city of Wichita Falls or not, and whether the final amount to be pledged hereon shall be ascertained by compromise, arbitration, judicial ascertainment or whether recovered under the contract or on quantum meruit. It is expressly understood that this obligation is not conditioned upon the improvement of said street before all property abutting thereon, but such improvement may be omitted in front of the property of such owner or owners abutting thereon who decline to make satisfactory arrangements with the said city of Wichita Falls for the payment of his, or their part of the cost of same; and this obligation shall be deemed independent of such proceedings of board of aldermen herein before mentioned of such provisions as the said board of aldermen shall make for the pro-rata cost of such improvements against the abutting property or the owners thereof.

The validity of this contract shall not depend upon the compliance by the city of Wichita Falls with any ordinance or resolution of said city, or State law adopted by such city; but shall exist wholly independent thereof, and by virtue solely of this contract, and the making of such improvements in front of said premises, and said city shall have the right to let said contract with or without bids therefor, and to such contractor or contractors and for such prices (not to exceed the amount agreed to be paid by grantors) as the said board of aldermen may deem advisable.

Resolution. Whereas various property owners owning real estate situated and abutting upon street between street and street in the city of Wichita Falls, have presented a petition to the board of aldermen of the said city of Wichita Falls requesting that the said street be paved as hereinafter more fully appears; and,

Whereas, the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls deems it necessary and advisable to so pave and cause said street to be paved; and,

Whereas, the said paving will be beneficial to the said property owners owning property abutting upon said street and such paving will enhance the value of such real estate so abutting on said street in excess of the cost of such improvements; and,

Whereas, the board of aldermen is desirous of causing said street to be paved, provided the property owners will pay for the necessary curb and gutter in front of their said property and will pay for all such paving according to the front foot rule, that is to say from the curb line to the center of the street in front of such property abutting on such street, and upon the following terms and conditions:

1. That the city of Wichita Falls will bring said street grade and prepare the sub-grade for the necessary paving, and in addition thereto the city to pay for the paving of street and alley intersections.

2. The property owners respectively to pay for the necessary curb and gutter and paving in front of their said lots, according to the front foot rule as aforesaid within thirty days after the completion and acceptance of such paving, and in addition thereto such property owners to execute a valid contract upon forms to be furnished by the city for such improvements, and to give a valid lien and mortgage upon the lot or lots so owned by them to secure the payment of all sums to become due thereunder, such contracts to be executed by the grantor and his wife where the said city shall deem it necessary for the wife to execute.

3. The city to select and designate the character of paving which it does here-by now designate as concrete paving to be laid in accordance with the plans and specifications drawn by L. C. Hinckley, engineer and the city to have the right to let such contract for said paving work with or without bids and for such prices (not to exceed the sums agreed to be paid by such owners in said contracts) as the said board may deem advisable.

4. That such owners also to agree to all other terms and conditions specified in said contract and this resolution, and such resolution may be changed or amended whenever said board of aldermen may deem it to the best interest of said city and to said property owners, save and except in the particular that the price shall not be increased above that specified in the contract without the consent of such owners, and all such terms and conditions specified in such contracts, blank forms of which are to be supplied by the city, shall be carried forward therein as the said board of aldermen may deem advisable.

5. The owners' liability to the city shall not depend upon the compliance by the city with any ordinance of said city or any State law adopted by the city with reference to such improvement, but such liability of such owner or owners shall be valid and binding regardless of such ordinance or law and wholly independent thereof.

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, that the following street be paved with concrete pavement in accordance with the plans and specifications and all-the other terms and conditions as above set out, to-wit: street from the side of street to the side of street in the said city of Wichita Falls, Texas, and a curb and gutter shall also be constructed in accordance with the terms and conditions as aforesaid on each side of said street in front of the abutting property.

Said curb and gutter not to exceed in cost the sum of cents per linear foot, and the said paving not to cost in excess of dollars per square yard.

The said board of aldermen reserves the right to change the plans and specifications of the concrete and its mixture where the pavement is to be laid on the business street from that to be laid on residential streets, and the said city to make street and alley intersections as above set out, the property owners to pay for all of the curb and gutter and pavement from the curb line to the center of the street, except, however, where the street railway traverses any street to be paved, the Wichita Falls Traction Company to pay for all pavement under and between their said tracks and a distance of eighteen inches from each rail and the property owners in such event to be allowed the proper credit therefor.

REV. WALTERS CONDUCTING MEETING AT IOWA PARK
Rev. E. F. Walters of the First Christian Church has been conducting services each evening of this week in Iowa Park and will continue the services next week. A good attendance and much interest in the meetings is reported.

At The Theaters

The Lydia Margaret. Camm and Theria are on the bill opening yesterday at this theatre giving an excellent variety of acts. The other act is a comedy musical sketch, put on by George Dixon. He plays every imaginable instrument in a way that will never fail to draw hearty laughter. Both of these acts were much applauded at their opening yesterday and with the amateur acts will be repeated tonight. The picture feature is a two part feature "The Prayer of a Horse." The famous Universal trick horse "Dobbin" has the stage all to himself for two reels in the Big U feature drama, "The Prayer of a Horse." True, Murdock, MacQuarrie and Agnes Vernon may seem to be playing the leading roles, but neither of them bestride "Dobbin" the honors which are justly his. In the cast of "The Prayer of a Horse" beside the Big U stars and Dobbin are C. W. Drew and A. J. MacQuarrie. Chas. Giblyn, in producing "The Prayer of a Horse" has brought forth a play, which, for originality of plot and execution, takes the same rank in the moving picture world as the novel, "Black Beauty" does in the world of books devoted to the portrayal of life from the dumb beast's point of view.

The Gem. An all country program is on schedule here today, two split reel Kalems, an Essanay, a two part Vitagraph completing the program. Sidney Drew and Jane Morrow are featured in "The Home Coming of Henry" a synopsis of which follows: On the third day of their vacation in their country bungalow, the Hannibals are rudely interrupted by a telegram to Henry, calling him back to the office to attend to an important contract. Finding that he will have to go West to see a man personally about the matter, he writes his wife he may be gone some time. She rents the bungalow to four young ladies, then goes to her mother's. She neglects to inform Henry of what she has done and when he succeeds in closing his business transactions much sooner than he expected, he is already on the way home. He arrives at the bungalow in the evening and the girls, hearing a man on the porch outside, prepare for war. When Henry, thinking to surprise his wife, steals softly in, he is beaten and locked in the pantry. After an awful fifteen minutes, he succeeds in making the girls realize their mistake and is released. Wishing to make up for their ill treatment of him, he is made guest of honor at a little party. Henry is soon enjoying himself immensely. Meanwhile, his wife, learning her telegram was not delivered, surmises her husband has returned to the bungalow earlier than expected, and hurries there. She finds Henry as much at ease as though he had known the girls all his life. With a wild cry of rage she rushes upon them. The girls beat a hasty retreat and she turns on Henry, but he seizes her arms and forces her to listen to his explanations. He presents proof of the genuineness of his business trip, explains the mistake the girls made and Mrs. Hannibal finally has to laugh over the whole affair. The girls re-enter the room and the dinner is resumed, with Mrs. Hannibal and her husband side by side celebrating his "homecoming."

The Empress. The fourteenth installment of "The Twenty Million Dollar Mystery" is showing here today. The mystery of Zudora's fortune and its source is still unsolved, in spite of the efforts of Jim Cruze and Zudora's lawyer speechcraft. In addition a two part Majestic, "Imar, the Survivor" will be shown and Baby Orr will sing in the evening. The Majestic. Today is Biograph day, only one reel of any other company being shown. The Biograph productions are "The Borrowed Necklace" and a two part drama, featuring Irene Howley. One delightful hour in the company of a girl with ravishingly beautiful eyes, an exquisite voice and the charm of Circe this was the memory that returned again and again to Wallace long after the other guests at Mrs. Van Stuyvesant's masked ball had forgotten the incidents of that night when May West stole in among them. Sometimes Wallace thought he had dreamed the enchanting lady and all the exciting events of that night, but it could not be a dream, because he still had the slipper she had dropped in her flight. Then in the dusk he heard the new governess telling his motherless children the story of Cinderella and knew that he had found her at last. "The Lady of Dreams." For May West, the old fairy tale came true incredibly - her Prince charming really loved her. It is this spirit of romance that makes "The Lady of Dreams" a masterpiece.

For extra good cooking always use Cottolene

When you use Cottolene you get the best results, because there is no other cooking fat that equals it. For biscuits, pie-crust, cakes and doughnuts and for frying, Cottolene is supreme, because it is the purest cooking fat and possesses important food values. It is an exact combination of specially refined cottonseed oil, of a grade so high it is not listed on the market, with pure beef-stearine from selected leaf beef suet. It is this precise combination which gives Cottolene its unexcelled cooking qualities.

Cottolene

There are imitations, but there is no substitute for Cottolene. For over a quarter of a century it has rightfully held a position peculiarly and distinctively its own. For economy, as well as for good cooking, use Cottolene. You will require a third less of it than of any other shortening or cooking fat.

We guarantee Cottolene for its purity, for its wholesome qualities, for its food value, and for its superiority as shortening.

Anyone who can cook or bake at all can cook and bake better with Cottolene.

Cottolene contains no salt or water—it is 100% clean, pure cooking fat.

Pails of various sizes, to serve your convenience. Arrange with your grocer for a regular supply.

BIRD PROTECTION LAW STILL EFFECTIVE

Washington, April 2.—Many of the press comments on the decision of the United States District Court, rendered March 20, at Topeka, Kansas, holding that the Federal Migratory Law is unconstitutional, according to the United States Department of Agriculture, are erroneous and are apt to mislead the public concerning the real situation in this matter. The Kansas decision, like a former decision to the same effect in the Eastern District of Arkansas, is limited in its operation solely to the district in which it was rendered. Neither decision settles or nullifies the law, and the exact contrary has been held by the United States District Court for South Dakota. The Arkansas case has been appealed to, and is now pending in the United States Supreme Court. The Act of Congress protecting migratory birds stands effective until the Supreme Court finally decides the question of its constitutionality. In the meantime, it is incumbent on every law-abiding citizen to observe its provisions and the regulations. It is the duty of the Department of Agriculture to enforce this law and the officials in charge will endeavor to do so as long as it is in force. Reports of violations will be carefully investigated and when sufficient evidence is secured they will be reported for prosecution. In this connection it should not be forgotten that an offender against this, as in the case of other United States laws, is subject to prosecution any time within three years from the date the offense is committed.

Brussels, THE LITTLE Paris

BRUSSELS is well called "Little Paris," for the ancient capital of France is most decidedly French. It grew up way back in the eighth century on both banks of the little River Senne, which is now hidden beneath the fine modern inner boulevards built upon arches which extend through the city.

Like Paris, Brussels has many arcades lined with splendid shops. The Jallerie St. Lambert is one of the most popular of these glass-covered arcades, where the Brussels ladies of fashion buy their choicest costumes and the latest Parisian styles in hats and jewelry.

The Hotel de Ville stands in the Grande Place, or market square, which is in the center of the lower part of the city. It is not only the most famous building in Brussels, but admitted to be the most beautiful and artistic edifice in all Belgium.

Architect Hanged Himself. A story is current that Jan, the architect of the tower, in the very moment of his exaltation at the completion of his work was informed by a critical burgher that the edifice was ruined because he had not placed its tower in the center. In his chagrin and despair at this criticism the architect is said to have gone off and hanged himself.

Another splendid building in the square is the Maison du Roi. The house of the king has three stories and boasts an open gallery, like the Italian loggia of the Venetian palaces on the Grand canal, where the Brussels grand dames could stand to view the fetes and ceremonies taking place in the Grand palace below.

Close by the Maison du Roi is the building known as the Pigeon, the delightfully quaint guildhall of the painters, which is decorated, not with birds, but with four reliefs of lion heads. Beyond is La Taupe, the guildhall of the tailors, but none of the guildhalls are older than the end of the seventeenth century.

Brussels is a bright and healthy city, and its museums and works of art as well as its historic associations, its famous art schools and conservatories have caused it to become a favorite colony for European and American students of both art and music.

Has Thriving Suburbs. Beside the city proper, Brussels consists of ten thriving suburbs, which have important manufactures of leather goods, linen, woolen and cotton cloth, furniture and bronze. But most celebrated of all are the factories where Brussels lace is made, a lace which is exported to all the principal cities of the world.

A tourist who visited Brussels at the time of the Balkan war, tells an amusing story on himself. He admits he had become somewhat nervous and agitated as a result of his experiences before reaching Belgium, so was delighted to find himself safe and sound in Brussels, where he put up at a small and quiet hotel.

Rushing from his chamber, he halted one of the hotel attendants and told him some one was being murdered next door. But to the chagrin of the traveler, the man only replied with a smiling shrug: "But, no, monsieur, it is only the play house," and the next morning the American had pointed out to him the gay posters of the popular melodrama which was being performed at the theater adjoining his hotel.

Throughout all Belgium the old Latin saying is still current, to the effect that Brussels rejoices in noble merchants in money, Ghent in hatters, Bruges in pretty girls and Malines in fools.

Malines got its unfortunate reputation, it is said, because once upon a time some of the good burghers mistook the moonlight shining through their cathedral tower for a fire, and the fire engines were called out to extinguish the conflagration.

HOW EUROPE'S MAP WAS REMADE IN 1815

DIVISION OF SPOILS OF WAR AFTER FINAL DEFEAT OF NAPOLEON

PERMANENT PEACE EFFORTS

Return of Napoleon Frustrated England's Plan for Permanent International Tribunal

Washington, April 2.—"While the spring campaign in Europe's great war is opening up," says a statement issued by the National Geographic Society today, "and the question is pending as to whether or not the coming summer will end hostilities as those of Napoleonic wars were ended in the year in which this is the centennial, it is interesting to go back a hundred years for a glimpse of the process by which the map of the continent was re-made at that time."

"In March, 1814, Great Britain, Austria, Russia and Prussia entered into a treaty binding them to stand together until peace was concluded. A little less than three months later France, with Napoleon beaten, entered into a secret agreement with these powers giving them the disposition of all countries which the Little Corporal's fall had liberated from French control.

"The allies decided to hold a congress at Vienna for the distribution of the spoils of the war. As soon as they met there Great Britain, Austria, Russia and Prussia decided that they would first settle all controversies themselves, and then call in France and Spain to ratify what they had done. France was represented by Talleyrand and he declared that France would never give its assent to such a course of procedure. Sweden and Portugal were finally added as members of the congress, and it was not long until bones of contention were thrown into the arena of debate upon which the four allies could reach no agreement among themselves. One of these was the question of the disposition of Saxony and Poland. Russia insisted that she should have the whole of Poland as the price of its contribution to the war. England, through its leading representative, Lord Castlereagh, firmly opposed the pretensions of Alexander.

"The diplomatic war continued for a number of months with England standing by France, her late enemy, against Russia, her recent ally. Finally, with Russia showing no signs of yielding, France, Austria and Great Britain entered into a secret treaty of defense, the purpose of which was to force Russia to terms. The allies probably would thus have fought among themselves at that time, just as the allies did after the Balkan war a few years ago, had not Napoleon reappeared on the scene of action as their common enemy again.

"The outcome of the bickerings in the congress resulted in Austria and Prussia retaining most of their Polish dominions, with the remainder going to Russia under an agreement that it should be a separate kingdom, ruled by the Czar of Russia, according to its own constitution.

"It was the purpose of the English representatives to secure a solemn guarantee from the members of the congress to make collective war on any nation that might undertake to disturb the agreement of partition. This plan partook something of the nature of an international court such as is today recommended by many peace advocates. But the return of Napoleon forced the adjournment of the congress, almost before it had parceled out the territory at issue, and wholly before it could take up and adjust those matters which might have the more fully made for permanent peace."

Doctors Said He Had Dropsy. Some time ago I had an attack of grippe which finally settled in my kidneys and bladder. I doctored with the doctors and they claimed I had dropsy. I tried other remedies and got no relief from any of them. My condition was such that I was unable to work for about two months and the annoying symptoms caused me a great deal of trouble and pain. It was hardly able to turn over in bed. I was sure of my death. I decided to give Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root a trial and after taking several bottles was able to resume my work again. I cannot say too much in praise of your Swamp Root as the results in my case were truly wonderful. Yours very truly, ROBERT BALLARD, Mansfield, Pa.

AMERICAN HELD BY FRENCH AUTHORITIES

ALLEGED THAT RAYMOND SWABODA SET FIRE TO STEAMER LA TOURAINE

BOASTED TO PASSENGERS

Letters Found in His Room Said to Point Strongly to His Guilt

By Associated Press. Paris, March 31.—Raymond Swaboda one of the passengers aboard the French steamship, La Touraine, has been arrested with a netting fire in the vessel at sea March 6, according to the Matin. Swaboda is said to be an American.

Swaboda the paper asserts is suspected of having close relations with the enemy. Correspondence found in his room is said to have directed him to blow up the steamer. This correspondence has been taken to Havre. Investigation has established that the blaze aboard the La Touraine was caused by an explosive bomb placed with criminal interest in a trunk store with baggage of the first class in hold No. 2.

Witnesses stated, according to the Matin, that they had been amazed at the statements made by a fellow passenger during the voyage when they were discussing threats of the Germans to torpedo ships. This passenger is quoted as saying: "Oh, that is only in the war zone that it would be dangerous. Germany is strong enough to do what she wants. This ship herself, even before she reaches her destination, might be obliged to have recourse to the doctors and nurses aboard to care for passengers."

The passenger who is quoted as having boasted of Germany's power is Raymond Swaboda who was entered on the ship's register as 35 years of age, an American subject, a financier, a banker, a resident of Paris. When Swaboda's room was searched letters written in German were found which seemed to point strongly to his guilt. He was turned over to the marine authorities at Havre by the Paris police.

SWABODA GAVE SAN FRANCISCO AS RESIDENCE

By Associated Press. Washington, March 31.—Search of the state department records today revealed that Raymond Swaboda made application for a passport Feb. 26, giving his residence as San Francisco. The state department today turned over all the papers bearing on his registration to the department of justice.

RAISING FUNDS HERE FOR INDUSTRIAL CONGRESS

Hoped to Secure $300 to Help Carry On Educational Work of Organization

Funds for the support of the Texas Industrial Congress are being solicited in Wichita Falls today by a Chamber of Commerce committee, headed by L. G. Franklin of Dallas, financial secretary of the Congress. It is planned to secure at least $300 in this city and some liberal responses have been received.

The Texas Industrial Congress is the organization which each year offers $10,000 in prizes to stimulate farming. It was started by Col. Henry Exall, who died last year. This year there are 100 contestants more than there were during the three years that Col. Exall was in charge, and Mr. Franklin points out that most of these contestants are young farmers, who will put to good use, in the years to come, the knowledge they gain in competing for the prizes.

"The Congress is attracting much attention throughout the country," said Mr. Franklin, "it is the only organization of its kind in the United States. There are no profits and no dividends, but simply a carrying out of the plans of Col. Exall."

The Chamber of Commerce directors endorsed the work at their meeting Tuesday and appointed a committee to visit the business men. This committee is at work with Mr. Franklin today.

NEGRO TELLS OF KILLING OF TWO KATY BRAKEMEN

Were Shot From Behind After Negro Had Been Put Off the Train

Clarence Green, a negro seventeen years old, arrested at Denton together with Eugene Lawson, another negro aged 25, is reported to have made a confession giving a detailed account of the killing of Joe Jackson and John Ray, two Katy brakemen recently. Green and Lawson are now in jail at Dallas. The Denton Record and Chronicle says:

According to this purported confession Green says in substance that the two were riding the freight train from Fort Worth to Denton, that he had paid 25c for the privilege, but that Lawson, having no money, had been put off the train by the crew twice, getting back on after each expulsion.

One Feature Cleared Up. The second time occurred near the gravel pit. Shortly afterward, while Rayne and Jackson were sitting on top of the banana car, they were shot to death from behind the cars. Then the bodies were held on top of the car until the train reached the Denton yards, where the murderers abandoned them and made their escape just before the train reached the depot here. This supposition clears up one of the most puzzling features of the entire mystery—how the bodies remained on the loading car through the intervening thirteen miles between here and Smoot's spur, where the killing is supposed to have occurred.

Lawson, it developed Tuesday, was arrested Saturday night and was in jail since. Green was arrested Monday night. The county attorney's office was the scene of a busy session which continued all night, sweating the two negroes.

The statement is said to have been secured at about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning. Lawson, it is said, positively denies the entire story, but Green's story was circumstantial and agrees with previous suppositions regarding the crime.

Shots Led to Arrest. The clue which led to the arrests was the finding of a pair of blood-stained shoes beneath the freight depot platform here. They were found by Agent Corey, John Rose and Ed Fry, and the officer put on the trail. Green said whom the shoes belonged to, and this statement was later confirmed by the owner from whom they are believed to have been stolen.

It will be impossible to get a trial at this time of the district court, according to Judge Spencer, who was asked to adjudge that he would reconvene the grand jury for an investigation of the case.

"We should have insufficient time at this time," said Judge Spencer, "as all of this week and next are already occupied by set cases, and the final week could be consumed by legal delays even if trials were begun."

Joint track agent, J. E. Corey, stated Tuesday morning that he with Fickett Agent John Rose and Clerk Ed Fry were the first to find the shoes leading to the arrest under a freight shed on the company's right of way Saturday. They notified the officers of their find and the shoes were removed and the place watched until the negro returned to get them. Mr. Corey stated that the depot had developed evidence showing that Green drove his cab to the station Wednesday evening to meet train No. 20, northbound Katy due here at 9:52 and then had another negro call for him at the trap which he caught a freight train to Fort Worth.

Details of the purported confession leaked out during the day. It was not signed up until 4 o'clock Tuesday morning. It was admitted by County Attorney Wilson, who refused to divulge further contents, saying it would only make the state's case more difficult. From other sources, however, it was learned such a cargo being prepared for the German raider, marine experts strengthened their supposition by calculating that 1600 tons of coal was the amount required to take the cruiser to her nearest port.

The first barge loads of 1600 tons of coal ordered by the cruiser Prinz Eitel Frederick has left Sewall's Point and are proceeding across Hampton Roads toward this point.

ed that Green said that on arrival in Denton he went to his room and then decided it would be best to get rid of his shoes, so he took them back toward the station and threw them under the depot platform, returning to his room. He has been in town all the time since.

TO RENEW FIGHT TO MAKE NATION DRY

SENATOR SHEPPARD DECLARES FIGHT WILL CONTINUE IN NEXT CONGRESS

HE EXPECTS NEW SUPPORT

Submission of Amendment and District Prohibition Will Be Pushed Vigorously

By Associated Press. Washington, March 31.—The fight for nationwide prohibition will be renewed with greater vigor than ever at the next session of Congress, according to Senator Sheppard of Texas.

"We will renew the fight all along the line," declared Senator Sheppard, "as soon as Congress convenes I expect that we will have strong support from both Democrats and Republicans. The effort will be for favorable action for submission of a constitutional amendment for nationwide prohibition as well as for local prohibition in the district of Columbia."

Senator Sheppard declared that the action of the British Chancellor in denouncing drink was significant. "The experience of Russia and the declaration of Chancellor Lloyd George as to what should be done in England," said Senator Sheppard, "shows there is a world wide movement for prohibition."

Relatives of Leon Thrasher Ask For Particulars Concerning Submarine Attack

By Associated Press. March 31.—Leon Thrasher one of the passengers whose lives were lost when the British steamer Falaba, was sunk by a German submarine, was a citizen of the United States. He was born here in 1884. The family has appealed to Washington to learn the details of his death.

Mrs. Austin M. Thrasher of West Springfield communicated by long distance telephone with Congressman Fred M. Gillette, whom she said had promised to telegraph Walter Hines Page, American ambassador to Great Britain asking the British government for a full report.

BUT LITTLE DAMAGE TO PEACH CROP HERE

Only Early Plums Have Been Damaged by Frost in This Section

Although fruit in East Texas has been damaged fifteen to 20 per cent, and as far as 25 per cent in South Texas, the March frozes in this section resulted in very little harm to the trees, according to J. L. Downing of this city.

"Some of the early plums were damaged," Mr. Downing said, "but the peaches were hurt scarcely at all and as far as I have seen the frozes will not affect the crop in this section."

"Peach and pear trees are blooming as luxuriantly as ever since the cold snaps and there is no damage apparent."

SPEAKING CONTESTANTS CHOSEN BY HIGH SCHOOL

J. W. Akin and Ross Bassinger Will Represent High School in Speaking Contest

The high school representatives in the county declamation contests were chosen yesterday, J. W. Akin and Ross Bassinger, winning first and second place respectively, over several other contestants. The subject of universal peace was the topic of these declamations and is the general topic selected by the university committee, which is conducting the contests. The county contest will be held Saturday in connection with the track meet and debating contest, the winners being given a chance at the district championship. The Wichita high school representatives covered themselves with glory last year in both of these contests, the debating team going to Austin to compete for the State championship, and although defeated by another district, received honorable mention from the judges.

U.S. ARTILLERY NOW AT BROWNSVILLE

THREE BATTERIES OF THIRD ARTILLERY NOW AT CITY ON MEXICAN BORDER

BREASTWORKS ARE ATTACKED

Apparent, However, That Villa Forces Only Feeling Strength of Defenders

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Texas, March 31.—Three batteries of the third artillery are here today ready for the protection of Brownsville.

Last night's fighting was between the garrison and two columns of the troops who crept up close to the breastworks. They did not attack in force and apparently attempted only to test the strength of the forces behind them. No Villa cannon were fired in this attack, the cannon shots being from the Carranza forces.

TRAIN CARRYING ARTILLERY FORCE ESCAPES WRECKING

By Associated Press. Corpus Christi, Texas, March 31.—A few hours after the train carrying the three batteries of the Third Artillery to Brownsville passed through here last night, a switch on the railroad that was passed by the special train was nailed open and the south-bound St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico passenger train early today was partially derailed. The engine and baggage car turned over. Passengers on the train escaped without injury. No arrests have been made.

400,000 SHARES SOLD ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Easy Rates of Interest and Increasing Foreign Trade Factors in Boom

By Associated Press. New York, March 31.—All records since the closing day when the European war demoralized conditions here were broken on the New York Stock Exchange today. Up to noon the trading exceeded 400,000 shares. In the afternoon the trading fell off. The main impulse for the activity was the increasing growth of the country's foreign trade and the easy rates of money.

New York Cotton. New York, March 31.—Cotton made new high records for the season today on a continuation of yesterday's buying movement in the active months. After opening at an advance of 4 to 7 points the local market closed 12 to 14 points net higher in the early trading. A very light reaction seemed to bring an increased demand. During the early afternoon there was a further advance with October selling up to 10.50 or 21 points net higher. The market closed steady at a net advance. Jan. 10.27; May 9.44; July 9.58; Dec. 10.29.

Chicago Grain Futures. Chicago, March 31.—Speculative selling today wiped out an early advance in wheat. Higher quotations at Liverpool were chiefly responsible for the bulge. Corn suffered from lack of support. Several big houses were conspicuous on the selling side. Wet weather eased oats. Wheat closed weak, corn closed steady. Wheat, May 1.51-54; July 1.21-24; Sept. 1.09-74; corn, May 72-74; July 75-74; oats, May 57; July 52-54.

56 SQUARE MILES RECLAIMED IN BRAZOS BOTTOMS

AUSTIN, Texas, March 31.—Within the next few weeks the task of the reclaiming of 56 square miles of territory embracing some of the most fertile land in the Brazos bottoms will have been accomplished by State Reclamation Engineer Arthur Stiles and his corps of engineers. This land is situated in part of the in part on the Clemons state farm and is either owned or controlled by the state through the penitentiary commission. Heretofore this land has been practically worthless because of overflows. There are six surveying parties in the field and their work is expected to be finished within a few weeks.

AGRICULTURAL HINTS FROM A. & M. COLLEGE

Owing to the lateness of the season, a timely warning has been issued by Dr. J. O. Morgan, professor of Agronomy at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, against planting such crops as sorghum, cowpeas, soy beans, sudan grass, and peanuts before April 15. "These crops require warm soils in which to germinate," says Dr. Morgan, "and in most sections of the state should not be planted until the soils are warm. A cold soil will not only make growth very slow, but will also decrease the size and the vigor of the plants."

Whitewashing Dairy Barns. That sanitation is very important in determining the quality of milk and its products is the opinion of Professor J. W. Ridgway of the Department of Dairy Husbandry of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, who recommends that a good coat of whitewash be applied to the barn at least twice a year. "Black 20 pounds of lime," adds Professor Ridgway, "and mix it until it is about as thick as cream. Add 3 pounds of common salt and a half pound of alum. If a stronger disinfectant is desired, add about a half pint of carbolic acid to each pail full of the whitewash."

Saving Pigs. "This is farrowing time," states L. B. Burke, associate professor of Animal Husbandry at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, "and farmers should use every precaution to save their young pigs. Supply warm, comfortable and dustless quarters, furnish a moderate amount of bedding, and warm the pigs if necessary. Keep the sow in the hog house, using a guard rail. Just before and after farrowing feed a succulent, laxative ration. Immediately after farrowing feed nursing but water during the first twenty-four hours. On the second and third days feed a small amount of light food, such as wheat bran and shorts. After the third day gradually increase the ration to about six to eight pounds per animal, getting up to fourteen and twenty pounds within the next eight days. Then gradually substitute grain of some kind for the wheat bran and the shorts, adding to this mixture skimmed milk or linseed with which to balance up the ration."

Spraying Peach Trees. Peach trees demand three or four sprayings during the year, in the opinion of horticulture of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, who believes that now is the time to give the trees their first spray. "Spray with self-bolled lime and arsenate of lead," states Prof. Cowart, "just after the petals fall. Use the following formula for making the solution: Fresh lime (not slacked) . . . 8 pounds Sulphur 5 pounds Water 50 gallons

Mix the lime and sulphur in a vessel and add a small quantity of water. As soon as the lime has slacked dilute at once to fifty gallons of water and add two pounds of arsenate of lead. Be sure to apply the spray at high pressure and see that every part of each tree is thoroughly covered."

How to Handle the Manure Crop. Barn yard manure is the farm's most valuable crop and care should be taken to prevent its leaching. "Barn yard manure should never be stored in open pens," states Professor J. O. Morgan of the department of agronomy of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, "for the reason that a large portion of the plant food will be leached out during rainy weather. Keep the following important points in mind: 1. Keep the manure under shelter. 2. Keep the manure compact. 3. Keep the manure fairly moist. An ideal method of handling barn yard manure is to haul it directly to the garden, or field and spread it broadcast."

Steamer Flammian Sunk Off Scilly Islands But Crew Escapes in Boats

By Associated Press. London, March 31.—The Ellerman line steamer, Flammian, with a general cargo from Glasgow to Cape Town was sunk off Scilly Islands Monday, March 29, presumably by a German submarine. The members of the crew were saved.

The steamer Flammian was of 2,250 tons. This is the same vessel that was reported sunk last night. Her name was not then known. She had no passengers. Her crew of 25 men took to their boats and were picked up by a Danish steamer.

TO OCCUPY LESS EXTENDED FRONT

GERMAN CAVALRY ALREADY SAID TO BE MOVING FROM YSER DISTRICT

DARDANELLE ATTACK RENEWED

England Occupied With Drink and Labor Problems—German Losses Heavy

By Associated Press. London, March 31.—A dispatch from Amsterdam says that reports are current there that the Germans are about to abandon their present line in Belgium for a less extended front extending westward from Brussels. It is reported that the withdrawal of German cavalry from the Yser section has already begun.

A Reuters dispatch received from Constantinople through Berlin today says that the allied fleet has resumed its bombardment of the villages near the outer forts at the entrance of the Dardanelles.

German Aviators Active. Great activity has been displayed recently by German aviators, says a Reuters dispatch from St. Petersburg which quotes a semi-official report as follows:

"Fifteen German aeroplanes attacked Oostersluis Monday dropping two bombs at a small house which they apparently believed was the Russian headquarters. None of the bombs hit the house."

Trap Worked Other Way. The German movements in northern Poland have been attended with unusually heavy losses, is reported unofficially from Petrograd. This information is to the effect that the Germans fell back from the Nieman river district expecting that the Russians would pursue them and be trapped by a flanking movement. The Russians saw through the ruse and instead sent divisions of Germans were themselves caught in a trap and annihilated.

The battle in the Carpathians passes surpass the attack on Constantinople in their political possibilities. German experts assert that the efforts being made by Russia are so fraught with political importance that the supreme efforts of the Teutonic allies is justified to check the invaders. According to this view the sudden and dramatic influx of the Muscovite hosts into the Carpathians and Huangary will attain great importance long before the attack on the Dardanelles straits attains anything like a definite conclusion.

Internally in England labor and drink situations hold public attention. There is no sign of the Liverpool doctors receding from their demands, while commercial bodies throughout the empire are coming forward with offers to back the government in its fight against the drink evil. The liquor interests are beginning to express fear of severe regulations.

By Associated Press. London, March 31.—The Ellerman line steamer, Flammian, with a general cargo from Glasgow to Cape Town was sunk off Scilly Islands Monday, March 29, presumably by a German submarine. The members of the crew were saved.

The steamer Flammian was of 2,250 tons. This is the same vessel that was reported sunk last night. Her name was not then known. She had no passengers. Her crew of 25 men took to their boats and were picked up by a Danish steamer.

NO PARALLEL TO FIGHT AT HAVANA

WILLARD AND JOHNSON BIGGEST MEN EVER KNOWN IN CHAMPIONSHIP CONTEST

WILLARD IS BIGGEST OF ALL

Battle Likely to Develop into Contest of Ring Strategy vs. Youth and Endurance

By Associated Press. March 30.—The history of the prize ring offers no parallel to the battle for the world's heavyweight championship in which Jack Johnson and Jess Willard will engage Monday at Havana, Cuba. Big men have fought for this premier title of istiana since the early days of the eighteenth century but never through the long list of champions from James Figg to Jim Jeffries have two fighters of the physical proportions of Willard and Johnson crossed arms in the roped arena.

Of the champions of modern times Corbett, Jeffries and Johnson all passed the six foot mark while Sullivan, Sharkey and Fitzsimmons were from one to three inches below this height. The average of the heavy weight class. Willard will weigh close to 235 pounds which will give him an advantage of about twenty pounds over Johnson in the clinching and tussling which will doubtless play an important part in the battle.

Next to Jim Jeffries, the Goliath of modern ring times, Johnson is the biggest man who ever held the title. Jeffries weighed 220 pounds and stood six feet one and a half inches in fighting shoes; Johnson is six feet one-half inch tall and weighs 215 pounds. Condition: Jim Corbett scaled 137 pounds, at his best and was 6 feet 1 inch tall; Fitzsimmons was one and one-fourth inch shorter and fought at about 170 pounds; Sullivan stood 5 foot 10 inches and fought at 195 lbs; Tom Sharkey weighed 175 pounds and fought his best bouts at close to 190 pounds.

Willard Modern Sampson

Compared with these past heavy-weight gladiators Willard appears as a Sampson. Even when ranged alongside Johnson the Kansas cowboy over shadows the negro title holder. In almost every point of physical measurements. In addition to his 5-3 inches advantage in height and ten years difference in age he outweighs Johnson by twenty pounds. His reach of 83 1/2 inches against the negro's 76 inches will also prove of exceptional value if properly used. In all the measurements of trunk and limbs, Willard shows an advantage in structure muscle and chest expansion varying from two to four inches. The physical make-up of the negro pugilist excels in almost every point of physical measurements. Willard's Ring Assets Unknown

Johnson's financial assets are well known but uncertainty clouds Willard's prospects. In his short period of active glove-battling he has never faced an opponent of the power, skill and experience of Johnson. The negro is no physical weakling even at the age of thirty-eight years and while Willard must be accorded the advantage here it is likely that the champion's offensive and defensive skill in both boxing and clinching will nullify this to a considerable extent. In the closing rounds of the battle it is probable that endurance and courage will play an important part.

Willard has shown both these qualities but up to this present time has not been noted for aggressiveness or boxing ability. Whether he can rise to the opportunity will be demonstrated in the supreme test at Havana next Monday. The future drawing powers of a new champion, lowering far above many of his predecessors, adds a glamour to the contest which pugilists have had in mind since they began the preliminary arrangements some months ago.

Tronies 1 From Texas

The match making was not without delay and aspects is shown by the fact that if the pugilists meet as scheduled next Sunday exactly six months will have elapsed since the day Jack Curley and the other promoters of the big bout decided upon securing Johnson's signature to the articles of agreement. The big champion was in France at that time and Curley was entrusted with the commission to go find the Texas negro and secure his endorsement on the articles which had been signed by Willard a day or two previously. The syndicate which promoted the bout had picked Willard as the most promising of the white heavyweights to take the title from Johnson, and they still believe that the Kansas will prove the victor.

Curley Arrives at Paris, France

Curley arrived at Paris, France, early in November only to find that Johnson had gone to London, England. There Curley found him and after a good deal of persuasion succeeded in securing the champion's consent. The moment Johnson signed his name to the contract, which stipulated that the contest should be scheduled for twenty to forty-five rounds, Curley handed $1000 to Johnson, which was half of the amount to be allowed him for traveling and training expenses. This contract bearing date of November 16, last assures Johnson that his end of the purse, $30,000 shall be paid to him before he enters the ring and that in addition Johnson is to receive one half

ANOTHER PLUG TEST MADE YESTERDAY

MEMBERS OF CITY COUNCIL SEE TESTS MADE AT SCENE OF FIRE

SOFT SUCTION HOSE USED

The Amount of Pressure at Plug at Morning of Fire the Question

From Tuesday's Daily. The differences which have arisen with reference to the Floral Heights fire for a few days ago, which is now the subject of investigation by the city council, now appear to have resolved themselves into a question of the amount of pressure at the plug on that night. A trip to the scene was made Monday by the city council and fire department and it was demonstrated that the engine could connect with the plug without trouble and that the soft suction couplings could be satisfactorily used. There was a plug pressure of 28 pounds when the department arrived at the scene yesterday, and a 54 foot stream was thrown with an engine pressure of 100 pounds. When the engine pressure was increased to 140 pounds the soft suction couplings would never be run at such a speed during a fire, for any length of time, on account of the strain on the machine. The first tests were made with the normal pressure in the pipes but shortly afterward the water station was notified to put on the fire pressure, which resulted in a still stronger flow of water. The connection with the plug was not a perfect one, as the opening is not quite standard at this point, but there was not enough difference to cause any reduction in the pressure. Better results were obtained with the hard suction couplings when it was used, than with the soft one, and this fact may have had some bearing upon the events of the night of the fire.

The Telephone Saved a Life

When one of our men was badly injured by the threshing machine we telephoned the doctor, who told us how to patch the man up. The doctor then started for our place in a hurry. When he arrived the man was pretty weak, and without the doctor's advice the results might have proved serious. Thanks to the telephone, the man pulled through. HOW PRETTY GIRL ATTEMPTED TO USE OFFICER AS TOOL

By Associated Press. Paris, March 30.—The following story of a pretty girl and a susceptible officer which ended in the discovery of a system of espionage, is published here:

An officer, about to take the train to London, was accosted by a pretty girl who blushing asked if he would post a letter for her at Paris, so it would arrive more quickly at its destination. "I'm writing to my sweetheart," she exclaimed. "The officer promised to render this little service. The girl in a burst of gratitude threw her arms about his neck and kissed him. 'I have your word,' he cried after him as the train started, 'You'll post it at Paris this evening.' 'Before reaching Paris the officer had time to reflect upon some of the untoward circumstances of the affair. He knew that his relation still had a great deal of baggage. I think that she will arrive during the night.' The officer needed no more but carried the letter to the intelligence headquarters where it was figured out that it was a report of the arrival of important French reinforcements at a critical point on the battle front."

BIDDER DECLINES TO SIGN CURB CONTRACT

Didn't Want City Engineer to Pass on Work—Contract is Re-Awarded

Because he was unwilling to have the city engineer pass upon the completed work, Contractor McCracken, who was the lowest bidder on the concrete gutter, curb and sidewalk work at the Lamar street park, refused to sign the contract and it was re-awarded Monday by the city council to I. H. Roberts, who was the next lowest bidder. Mr. McCracken wanted the council as a whole to pass upon his work, but it has been the custom to let the city engineer take this action. It was decided to make an effort to rent the houses taken from the park tract for $12.50 per month; city employees will be given preference. A contract was closed with J. L. Berry for fencing in the city's dump grounds east of the city. As compensation Mr. Berry will have the use of the tract and the peat gravel thereon for one year.

FOREST OIL COMPANY ASKS INJUNCTION AGAINST OWEN AND WILSON

TO PREVENT SALE OF STOCK

Alleged That Defendants Indebted to Company to Amount of $22,000

Another chapter was added to the litigation involving the affairs of the Forest Oil Company, for while R. E. Hull was recently appointed receiver when suit was filed in the 30th district court today by the Forest Oil Company for debt and injunction, involving $22,000 against G. E. Wilson and T. W. Owen whose oil properties were merged into the Forest Oil company. The petition asks an injunction to prevent the defendants from selling their stock in the company. The petition alleges that Owen and Wilson, being in control of the management of the company, "took possession of and charge of a large amount of property belonging to the Forest Oil company, consisting of pipes, machinery, tools and oil and converted the same to their own use and benefit, and that the reasonable value of the property so converted is $2100; that during the year 1914 and up to the second day of March, 1915 the defendants got possession of $19,600 of the property of the plaintiff and converted the same to their own use and benefit."

The petition recites that at the stockholders' meeting on March 2, 1915, the defendants got possession of $19,600 of the property of the plaintiff and converted the same to their own use and benefit. It is further alleged in the petition that the defendants are trying to sell $50,000 stock which they now hold, and an injunction is asked to prevent this. Carrigan, Montgomery & Britton are attorneys for the plaintiff.

BRITISH MERCHANTMEN VIOLATING NEUTRALITY

Reported One of Orders to Alabama to Prevent Coasting of Allied Warcraft

By Associated Press. Newport News, March 30.—That British merchant vessels have been supplying coal to warships of the fleet off the Virginia capes lying in wait for the German commerce raider the Prinz Eitel Frederick, was reported today in marine circles. To prevent such violations of neutrality was said to be one of the orders to the U. S. battleship Alabama which arrived off Old Point Comfort at nine o'clock today where she commands the channel to the sea from this point and Norfolk.

APPEARANCE SO CHANGED BANKER DIDN'T RECOGNIZE CUSTOMER

From Tuesday's Daily. It is generally agreed that whiskers are a man's own fault; ingrown toenails, moles, cross eyes and similar afflictions may be washed upon a man's forehead by a cleaning brush, but he alone is to blame for whiskers. The amount of blame depends upon the nature of the whiskers. A man who turns out one of those curly little upper lip fringes is more to blame than a man who goes into retirement behind a full set of whiskers. And Lincoln hangs a mile.

Several days ago a man from New Mexico arrived here after a long journey on a ranch. He had both money and whiskers. The money he placed in a bank where the teller recognized him as an individual with long hair and a full armament of face foliage. The man left his money in the bank and then left his whiskers in Lawler's barber shop. He took everything the barber offered including a shave, haircut, shampoo, singe, tonic, massage and shine. A new suit of clothes came next and then he went back to the bank for more money. The teller gazed through the cage window at him. "I know you not," the teller said, "the depositor of these funds were a storm curtain and side-bangs. He had a crop of spinach that I suspected of harboring prairie dogs. You are not in. Depart from me, I know you not." That was the general effect of the teller's remarks though perhaps not the exact language.

In vain the de-whiskered party declared his identity. It was no use. Whiskers were his credentials and the teller agreed to accompany the man to the barber who testified that he had shorn him of many whiskers and that his appearance had been greatly changed thereby. Whereupon the banker disengaged.

MATAMORES QUIET TODAY

Nothing to Indicate When Hostilities Between Factions Would Be Resumed There

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Texas, March 30.—General Funston arrived here today from Fort Sam Houston, Texas, to watch over the border situation during the Villa attack on Matamoros, opposite this place. Three batteries of field artillery from San Antonio are now unloading here. There has been no renewal of hostilities between the Villa and Carranza factions today and nothing to indicate that when they would be resumed. The United States artillery is being brought here to guard against firing across the border, two persons having been wounded in the fighting of last Saturday. Villa soldiers who fell wounded in Saturday's attack are said to be still lying where they fell and today H. C. Harrison, an American Red Cross official, sought permission from the authorities at Matamoros to pick them up. The commander, Gen. Neforate replied he had men out gathering the wounded and placing them in Matamoros hospitals as rapidly as possible. Nothing further had been heard today of the reported Villa reinforcements. It was reported that the Matamoros garrison has planted dynamite in the approaches to the town and it was believed could repel an attacking force of 10,000 men.

St. Louis, March 30.—One hundred and twenty-five telegraphers, present and former employees of the local branch of the Western Union Telegraph Company unanimously voted to strike at a local meeting here today, according to Sylvester J. Koenekamp, international president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union. While the vote was being taken, W. C. Lang, secretary of the local union, received a telegram from Secretary of Labor Wilson asking that Mr. Blackman, commissioner of conciliation was en route to St. Louis to act as mediator. A request for mediation had been made to Secretary Wilson by the union. DESIRE FOR PEACE STRONG IN AUSTRIA

MANY LEADERS THERE OPENLY FAVOR NEGOTIATION OF SEPARATE PEACE

EMPEROR JOSEPH IS FIRM

German Chancellor and Austrian Emperor Opposed on Cession of Territory

Geneva, Switzerland, March 29.—Count Stephen Tisza, the premier of Hungary, has returned to Buda-Pest from Vienna where he conferred with the heads of the government regarding the future course of the dual monarchy, according to dispatches to Swiss newspapers. The leaders of different parties, it is reported, urged Count Tisza to make an effort to persuade Emperor Francis Joseph that Austria should conclude separate peace. The premier is said to have refused to make such an attempt. Advice received here from Austria are to the effect that well-informed public men are of the opinion that intervention by Italy is imminent. Count Endrassy, former Hungarian premier, is said to be one of those who no longer attempts to conceal the desire of the Austrian people for peace. Chancellor von Betham Holweg of Germany, the Swiss paper says, remains inflexible in his determination that Austria shall sacrifice some of her territory to Italy. Emperor Francis Joseph is reported equally inflexible in his determination that no territory will be ceded.

REPORTED AUSTRIA HAS MADE OFFER TO ITALY

Paris, March 29.—Austria has made an offer to cede to Italy a part of the province of Trent at the close of the war, according to the Petit Parisien's correspondent at Rome. He says that he has been informed this offer was made on Thursday and that the Italian government deferred action.

GOVERNMENT FILES BRIEF IN HARVESTER SUIT

Says To Recognize Contentment of Defendants Liberty

Washington, March 29.—The government today filed its brief in the supreme court in its suit to dissolve the International Harvester trust. In its brief the government argues that if combinations are not illegal which do not abuse their power there will be a renewal of the rush toward business and industrial combinations which, if permitted to run to its logical conclusion, would in the end endanger liberty itself.

Only six names will be submitted to the voters of Wichita Falls next Tuesday in the aldermanic election, no additional petitions being received up to the closing time Saturday night. The names submitted will go on the ballot in the order in which they were filed, those of the labor candidates being at the top and the "administration ticket" underneath. The names submitted are A. C. Wilson, C. C. Willard, S. T. Taylor, J. W. Bradley, J. F. Reed and J. L. Lea Jr.

STRANGER ASKS PREACHERS TO ENDORSE NOTES

From Monday's Daily. A new way of raising money, or rather of attempting to raise it, was sprung in Wichita Falls last week. The needy one went to a bank and secured a blank note which he filled out for $25; he then went to practically all of the ministers of the city and asked each of them to endorse the note for him. None saw fit to comply with the request. The man was all ways of the same denomination as the pastor whose endorsement he sought, and he changed from one to another with seemingly a fearless disregard for the principles of immersion, falling from grace, infant baptism, predestination and other things. Just why he picked ministers to endorse his note was not learned.

News has been received of the death in Maryland of Dr. John M. Gaines, one of the leading physicians of that State, a brother of Mrs. George Smoot Sr., of this city. Mrs. Smoot had not seen her brother for over twenty-four years. The physician was a native of Virginia and was educated in that State. During the Civil War he was a surgeon in the Confederate army.

POSSES STILL HUNT FOR SIX BANDITS

MEN BELIEVED HIDING IN HILLS SOUTHEAST OF STROUD, OKLAHOMA

STARR SAYS THEY ARE BAD MEN

Bandit Says He Met Them Only Last Wednesday—Robbery Planned Two Days Later

By Associated Press. Oklahoma City, March 29.—The largest posse that has yet gone in pursuit of the bank robbers left Chandler early this morning for the purpose of rounding up the bandits in the hills southeast of Strouds. The bandits are afoot and it is not believed they have been able to get far. Although the chase was not abandoned last night many of those who helped beat the brush all day yesterday returned to their homes this morning. Their places were taken by others. Officers here say they have learned the identity of at least two of the six bandits who escaped. One of them is said to be Nipp Vann, the cowboy in motion picture action who was alleged to have killed John McElroy, city marshal of Caney, Kansas, Nov. 12, 1913. A reward of $500 was offered for his capture then and is still standing. The other bandit's name is withheld.

Henry Starr and Louis Est, the two bandits in jail at Chandler, will both recover. Both suffer great pain to-day from their wounds. They still refuse to reveal the identity of their fellow bandits. They had wire cutters to aid them in their flight across the country and they also had field glasses when arrested.

Deputy Sheriff Frisbie, who returned to Chandler today, says the bandits have not been seen since Saturday afternoon. In a confidential talk with Bill Kilham, formerly deputy United States marshal and present warden in the Chandler jail today Starr declared that he did not know the five men who were with him in the Strouds bank robbery. He said he believed that they came from the neighborhood of Joplin, Mo., and that he and Est fell in with them last Wednesday.

"I have four good men with me and they are ready for anything," Starr said the leader of the men in the covered wagon told him. It was not until after they had been together two days that they planned the robbery of the Strouds bank. The suggestion that they rob a bank was made and later the Strouds bank was selected. Friday night they camped close to the town and planned the robbery for the next day. Starr cursed the men for deserting him after he was wounded but said they were bad men and would kill those who attempted to capture them. He said he had planned to go to Missouri after the robbery.

WILLIAM HALL FOUND DYING IN HIS CHAIR

From Monday's Daily. William Hall, (commonly known as "Bill"), a real old timer in this section of the country, died this afternoon at his home, 810 Tenth, following a paralytic stroke. Since a street railway accident suffered some time ago Mr. Hall had not been well but seemed in usual health this morning. Shortly after one o'clock his wife returning to the sitting room, where he had been sitting down, found him trying to reach a bed. He was helpless and unable to speak, making several attempts to speak after suffering the stroke, but died in a few minutes time.

He was born in Nashville, Tenn., March 19, 1856, and came to Texas when but a young man. He had made his home here since the days when there was only a small settlement, driving the stage for George Soole on the line between Henrietta and Bonita. He was at one time a member of the Rangers and had been engaged in various activities. He leaves besides his widow a son by a former marriage residing at Mineral Wells. Arrangements as to the funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

BRIEFS ARE FILED IN R. R. WAGE CASE

DECISION WILL BE MADE BY ARBITRATION BOARD BEFORE APRIL 20

R. R. SAY MEN HAVE FAILED

Sheehan's Brief Says Earnings Not Decreased nor Labor Increased

Chicago, March 29.—Briefs in the Western railroad wage case were filed by the board of arbitration today by James M. Sheehan, attorney for the railroads and by William S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. Local argument was begun and was expected to last two and possibly three days. Decision by the board on the demands of the men for higher wages and other concessions will be made on or before April 20, and will affect 63,000 engineers, firemen and hostlers employed by ninety-eight western railroads operating 140,000 miles of track. Mr. Sheehan's brief asserted that the men failed utterly to establish their contention that their labor and responsibilities have increased since their wages were adjusted by arbitration in 1910. Mr. Sheehan said that they made good their claim that their earnings, despite a higher rate, had been decreased in this period. Their contentions, Mr. Sheehan said had not been proven by their own exhibits, and had disproved by actual records quoted in the railroad exhibits.

Stringent Economies.

The increased productivity of the railroads was said in the brief to have been due, not to any increased effort of the men, but to stringent economies in operation, and the expenditure of $60,000,000 in extensions, additions and improvements to property, including heavier power and the reduction of curves and grades. Of this sum $20,000,000 was spent for the purpose of increasing efficiency and safety, and to expedite train movements. The improvements enabled the engines to earn their money in fewer hours than prior to 1910. Firemen he said actually shovelled five per cent less coal now than in the previous period. He said that the railroad exhibit showing that to grant the sixteen per cent increase the men would cost $1,000,000 a year had not been controverted. He pointed out the decreased dividend payments of recent years, and to the increasing use of labor saving devices on engines. He referred to the high earnings attained by some engineers and firemen, and demanded that the bulk of the engineers' average between $170 and $180 a month; and firemen between $110 and $115.

Declares Pay Adequate.

The brief claimed that these pay roll figures demonstrated that the present schedules provide full, fair and adequate pay, whether measured by comparison with other trades, by comparison with other railroad employees who have like duties and responsibilities, or by comparison with engineers and firemen of the East or South; and in making this claim directed attention to the fact that these pay roll figures had not been unduly inflated by the employees whose names appeared thereon, notwithstanding the fact that during the hearing, while the railroad exhibits were being introduced, Mr. Carter stated to the board of arbitration: "I have reached the conclusion that my case is lost if we treat the exhibits of the railroads too seriously."

STATE OFFICIALS HERE TO INVESTIGATE WORK

Visit in Connection With Request for Resignation of Dr. R. T. Bolyn

From Monday's Daily. Dr. R. T. Bolyn, state pure food inspector and Mrs. E. J. Darwin, of his department, are in Wichita Falls today, their visit being in connection with the recent action of the city council in asking for the resignation of Dr. R. T. Bolyn. The local inspector, Dr. Bolyn stated that as the council took its action shortly after he heard a talk by Dr. Hudson of the state department he had thought Mr. Hudson's remarks had inspired the action. He was in consultation with Mayor Britain this morning. Dr. Hoffman stated that some meat and milk samples which Dr. Hudson took here had been analyzed and found fully up to the standard. He had no comment to make upon the nature of the work done by Dr. Bolyn, saying he had not investigated it, and that his visit here was simply to clear up any misunderstanding that has resulted.

Mrs. Darwin was here last fall and made a thorough inspection of local conditions. Neither she nor Dr. Hoffman will make any inspections on their present trip. This morning a committee from the Civic League visited Mrs. Darwin. Mrs. Darwin had much to say in praise of the spirit that prevailed among the women of this city. After three weeks of exemplary behavior, as shown by the police records, Wichita Falls relaxed a little Saturday and Sunday and a total of sixteen defendants were arraigned in justice and police courts, being the heaviest dockets in about a month. The offenses were mostly trivial, vagrants and drunks predominating, with a fight or two by way of variety.

HOW TO MEET HIGH COST OF FLOUR

HOUSEWIFE, HERSELF, CAN MIX SUBSTITUTES WITH WHEAT FLOUR

UNCLE SAM TELLS HOW

Potatoes, Corn, Flour, Rice, Rye Meal and Many Other Substitutes Can Be Used

Special to The Times. Washington, March 27.—That the American housewife is herself quite capable of doing all the flour mixing desirable is the contention of Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Vrooman on the muddled mixed flour question. He says further that the American housewife could materially reduce the cost of living if she were to get the flour mixing habit. "There are some thirty substitutes that can be mixed with wheat flour in making yeast bread," he said in a statement issued here today. "Many of these are more nutritious than wheat flour; some of them are cheaper than wheat flour, and of these, two or three, at least, are commercially obtainable at most any place. Potatoes, corn flour, and rice (in certain sections) can be used with profit in mixture with wheat flour in making yeast bread. With wheat flour as the base, the flouring agent, the housewife stands to effect quite a saving by using one of these products to knead out her wheat flour. Experiments have shown that the substitutes can be used successfully in the proportion of one part to three parts of wheat flour. At least three-fourths of the mixture must be good wheat flour. Mashed Potatoes and Flour Potatoes have a certain advantage in this regard since potato bread can be made without going to the trouble of getting the commercial potato meal. Plain mashed potatoes, four parts of wheat flour, will serve the purpose quite well. If the dry potato meal or flake is used, the ratio should be one part of potato to three parts of flour. Baked rice can be used in much the same way as mashed potatoes, care being taken to allow for the water in the rice and to use about three times as much in bulk as would be used of the rice flour. In making potato bread the sponge should be made and just enough water or milk to mix the yeast with the potato, since the sponge becomes very soft after partial fermentation. The remainder of the flour is worked in afterwards, care being taken to make the mixture stiff enough so that when mixed it will be moist but not sticky. This bread is much moister than bread made of straight wheat flour. Use of Corn Flour "Corn flour, which should cost about one-third the price of wheat flour, may be mixed with wheat flour directly, one part of corn flour to three parts of wheat flour. Use the mixture just as though it were wheat flour—and mix it yourself. It should be remembered that the addition of rich materials, such as potatoes, rice or corn starch (which is sometimes used to adulterate wheat flour in baking) tends to make a loaf less rich in protein and hence less nutritious than the straight wheat flour. Baked rice can be used in much the same way as mashed potatoes, care being taken to allow for the water in the rice and to use about three times as much in bulk as would be used of the rice flour. Other Substitutes "There are other flour substitutes, such as soybean meal and pea flour, which serve to add greatly to the nutritive value of the flour. These would be, if any, change in the nutritive value of the bread, but make it cheaper. WILL SPEND $2,500 TO ENTERTAIN U.C.T.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL PROVIDE $750 OF THIS AMOUNT

BOOKLET WILL BE PRINTED

Directors Appropriate $450 For This Purpose—Others Proceeded

From Tuesday's Daily. Preparations for the entertainment of the United Commercial Travelers, who will hold their state convention here May 13, 14 and 15 were started Tuesday morning at the weekly session of the Chamber of Commerce, when $750 was appropriated by the directors to defray part of the expense of the affair. Wiley Blair brought the matter to the attention of the directors, saying that between 500 and 600 visitors were expected for the convention, which Wichita Falls has obtained after Greenville was unable to handle it. It was planned to spend about $2500 in entertainment, he said, and he wanted $750 of this from the Chamber of Commerce. The appropriation was ordered.

Plan for Decorating.

E. Leopold brought up the matter of having the merchants decorate their places of business and this idea was endorsed. It was stated that the local U. C. T. committees are making plans for considerable decorating. L. S. Franklin of Dallas, financial secretary of the Texas Industrial Congress, addressed the directors upon the needs of the Congress. There were already 30,000 entries in the farming contests this year, he said, and it was hoped to be able to carry forward the work started by the late Henry Exall without interruption. Mr. Franklin had a tribute to Mr. Exall and told of the importance and scope of the work. He wanted a committee appointed to work with him in raising funds here. Such a committee was authorized and President Huff appointed Messrs. Marcus Huey and Spint New Booklet. An appropriation of $450 was ordered to defray the expense of a new booklet which is being prepared by Secretary John Thomas for advertising purposes. President Huff announced that he had been advised that the bill permitting corporations to contribute to the support of commercial organizations had passed the legislature. This bill was the subject of some action at a previous session of the directors. Those present at the session were R. E. Huff, T. B. Noble, E. Leopold, M. J. Gardner, M. A. Marcus, P. H. Pennington, A. L. Huey, R. O. Harvey, J. S. Bridwell, Marvin Smith, F. M. Gates, J. L. Art, J. A. Kemp, A. W. Reid, Myles O'Reilly, Wiley Blair.

SUBMARINE F-4 MOVED 300 FEET TOWARD SHORE

Vessels With Cables Towing It Fated Submarine From Her Death Bed

By Associated Press. Honolulu, March 29.—The submarine F-4 sunk in the entrance of Honolulu harbor had been moved 300 feet toward shore by vessels with cables at three o'clock this morning according to a message received today by Secretary Daniels from the United States Navy. The message gave no details. This brief message was the first positive word that the rescue parties had made any progress toward the recovery of the submarine. While it gave hope of salvaging the boat it revealed no hope that any one may be found alive in the vessel. Lieutenant Smith has reported that the water about the spot where the submarine rested is from 43 to 60 fathoms. The distance to the harbor light house, presumably the nearest land, was 2800 yards, which would mean that the submarine is now 2700 yards from shore, and that shoal waters, in which divers could work was much closer than at first indicated.

TEUTONS HERE SENDING FLOUR TO FATHERLAND

Ten Pound Shipments By Parcel Post Being Mailed To Relatives From Here

Ten pound packages of flour are being sent by parcel post in large numbers to Germany by German-Americans with a view to warding off any possible food shortage in Germany, it was learned today. A number of such shipments have been through the local postoffice by German-Americans in this city and vicinity. German newspapers in this country have been urging their subscribers to adopt this means of preventing any food shortage in Germany and it is understood the response has been liberal. The shipments go as part of the United States mail and are consequently not subject to interference or seizure. If all the German-Americans in this country were to comply with this request it would mean the sending of millions of pounds of flour to Germany and would result in a material increase in that country's food supply.

HENRY STARR CAPTURED DURING BANK ROBBERY

NEGRO DROPPED STOLEN MEAT BUT DID NOT HALT

OTHERS OF PARTY ARE CAPTURED

Burglar Surprised at Howards' Grocery This Morning by A. G. Smith

A pair of pillars leveled in the manner of a revolver by C. G. Smith caused a negro who had broken into W. J. Howard Jr.'s grocery at 809 Seventh street this morning to drop a ham and three pieces of bacon when commanded, but failed to excite obedience to a command to halt. On the other hand the opposite effect was induced. Throwing his cap in his hand the negro sprinted down the alley at a speed that will not be equaled in the athletic meet here next Saturday. Mr. Smith who runs a tailoring shop next door to the grocery and sleeps in a room at the rear of the store heard someone getting into the door of the grocery store at about 4:30 this morning. At first he thought it was the proprietor, Mr. Howard, opening up, but when he heard an electric light globe break he concluded that the noise must come from a burglar. He went to the front window of his shop in time to see the negro come out with the meat. Mr. Smith made a run for his front door just as the negro saw him. The negro started to run and turned down the alley alongside the building. Mr. Smith having a revolver had picked up a pair of pillars and reached the head of the alley when the negro was about twenty paces away. "Drop it," commanded Mr. Smith leveling the pistol. The negro turned and saw the weapon leveled at him and dropped the meat. "That was the next command. This had the opposite effect and Mr. Smith remembers a streak like effect down the alley. The negro was recognized by Mr. Smith. The officers were looking for this negro this morning. The negro had prided open the door and on getting inside had put out an electric light by breaking it.

INSPECTION COMMITTEE CRITICIZES SIDEWALKS

State Officials Comment On Spite Spattered Walks in Business District

From Monday's Daily. Several of the state sanitary inspection committee visited here today and made a tour of the town in the interests of the Civic League clean-up day, March 31. One of the most objectionable features of the town, they said, is the unsightly and unsanitary condition of the sidewalks. The no spitting ordinance seems to be having little or no effect here lately and the majority of the sidewalks in the business section are in a filthy condition. The Civic League has announced that on clean-up day all sidewalks in front of business houses and adjacent to the places of business must be washed—that means scrubbed good and that the individual merchant will be held responsible for the sidewalks in front of his store or office. It was stated that the robbers took about $2,500 from each bank. Bill Easton, one of the robbers, fell from his horse a mile east of town and was captured by the pursuing posse. He had been shot in the fight in the street and was badly wounded. Easton told his captors he came from Missouri and had lately joined the Starr gang. He had $75 in cash in his pockets and was scattered on the ground around him. Starr had $1000 in currency in his pockets when captured. Starr Picturesque Character. Starr is the last of the picturesque desperadoes who left romance to outlawry in the Indian Territory. He is a descendant of a Texas pioneer and an early Indian desperado. In the early '90s Henry Starr, then in his teens began to sell whiskey to Indians. In 1891 he was charged with complicity in the robbery of an express office at Nowata, Okla., which resulted in the killing of Floyd Wilson, a deputy United States marshal. In rapid succession bandits said to have been led by Starr robbed the Bentonville bank at Bentonville, Ark.; a Missouri, Kansas & Texas train at Pryor Creek, Okla.; stores at Nowata and Choteau, a bank at Aldrich, Missouri and the Caney Valley Bank at Caney, Kansas. After the Caney robbery Starr was betrayed and captured in Colorado Springs; he was taken to Arkansas and convicted of the Bentonville robbery. He was released from state prison in 1906 after serving nearly thirteen years. In 1909 Starr was convicted of a bank robbery at Anity, Colo., but later was released on parole. It is for violation of this parole that he is in jail in Colorado. His Dashing Bravado. One of the stories which reveals the dashing bravado of the man is that of his romance and marriage. Among the passengers of a train robbed near Pryor Creek, Okla., in 1902 was a young woman, who, crazed with fear ran away in the darkness. Later it is said, the robbers found her and Starr lifted her to his horse and captured her and carried her to a rail yard train that she might continue her journey. She was a young woman of Joplin, Mo., whom Starr later married. She has been a school teacher most of the time since her wedding. A letter was received by Governor Williams today in the hand writing of Henry Starr and purporting to have been sent by him from Reno, Nevada. In the letter Starr declared that he had been in Nevada several months and that he did not know until he met a friend from Oklahoma that a price had been placed on his head. It is reported a farmer, Jerry Turner was fatally wounded because he refused to throw up his hands at the command of the robbers when the Strouds National Bank was robbed Sapulpa, Okla., dispatches say Mrs. Cora Starr, wife of the alleged robber, had obtained a divorce today at most coincidentally with the raid on the Strouds banks.

640 ATTENDED BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL SUNDAY

Believed That Number Set New Record for Sunday School Attendance in Wichita Falls

What is believed to be a new record for Sunday school attendance was established yesterday at the First Baptist Church, when a total of 640 were present. This is the best attendance ever recorded in a local Sunday school. At the same time, there were 128 in attendance at the Walnut Street Mission of the Baptist Church. After the services, a picture was taken of all those present. The offering was $193.18. The attendance at the Baptist Sunday school has been stimulated by contests between the boys' and girls' classes. Next Sunday it is hoped to record an attendance equal to the full membership of the church, 750 and the officers and pupils of the Sunday school are working to that end.

ELVEN BANDITS LED BY STARR ROB TWO STROUD, OKLA. BANKS

Other Bandits Are Surrounded By Posse in Thicket Near Strouds

By Associated Press. Oklahoma City, Okla., March 27.—Two banks at Strouds, Oklahoma were robbed at ten o'clock this morning and Henry Starr, one of the robbers, was shot and captured; eleven men were in the gang that robbed the bank. The men rode into Strouds at ten o'clock and tied their horses at the stockyards. They were unmasked and walked directly to the Strouds National Bank. It was entered by several of the robbers who quickly ordered the bank officials to hold up their hands. Other robbers at the same moment entered the First National Bank and robbed it. As they came out the citizen were aroused and began running into the streets. Several such weapons as they could gather quickly. Many shots were fired. As one of the robbers was mounting his horse in the street, Paul Curry, sixteen years old, ran out with a rifle in his hands. He pointed it at the robber and as he did so the man dropped under his arm for a revolver. "Drop that gun or I'll shoot," young Curry called to him. The robber was Henry Starr, on whose head there is a reward of $1000 offered by the State. Starr was shot in the leg and the bullet striking Starr in the leg and he was unable to mount his horse; he was captured. The other robbers rode out of town in a battle that was not for a few minutes. They were hardly out of sight before the posse was mounting their horses and going in pursuit. In less than 30 minutes the bandits were headed off and surrounded in a pasture two miles east of Strouds. They took refuge in a draw when 300 men surrounded them. At 11:30 hours drums were beating and coming from all directions, the alarm having been sent out by telephone to farmers and to nearby towns. It was stated that the robbers took about $2,500 from each bank. Bill Easton, one of the robbers, fell from his horse a mile east of town and was captured by the pursuing posse. Food must be getting scarce in Germany, or else those Germans are busy inventing new schemes to make the supply on hand hold out.

Let us impress the fact on the minds of everyone that Wichita Falls is a city that stands ever ready to extend the glad hand to the stranger within her gates, regardless of political or religious beliefs, or as to whether they are capitalists or wage earners.

According to Col. E. H. R. Green, instead of the European war being the cause of a decrease in the consumption of cotton, it has in fact increased the consumption by 20 per cent.

COMBATING FALLACIES (Toledo Blade)

The moon, planets and stars have no influence on the weather; a severe winter does not mean an early spring; the ground hez is a delusion; a showery Easter is not a forerunner of seven wet Sundays; the weather doesn't originate in Medicine Hat; animals have no knowledge of coming atmospheric changes; convulsions of the air do not bring thunder storms; lightning does strike more than once in the same place.

This is the blow that science, through Andrew H. Palmer of the United States weather bureau gives tradition. He calls all the old time "signs" fallacies. And even though he may be right, what has he accomplished by his ruthless onslaught? Some fallacies are not only harmless, but are absolutely comfortable. Not everybody can talk science, and if everybody could there is no assurance there would be harmony. Scientists do not always agree.

Instead of believing that Mr. Palmer is endeavoring to enlighten them, some good people will feel that he is trying to take from them some of the comforts of life, or aggressive at times. Furthermore, it has no sense of humor.

MIGRATORY BIRD LAW IN FULL FORCE AND EFFECT

In view of the fact that there is evidence that not only the public, but in many instances the press of the country also, is under the impression that the decision just rendered by Judge John C. Pollock of the Federal District Court at Topeka, Kansas, in which he holds the federal law for the protection of migratory birds to be unconstitutional, is the final adjudication on that statute, the following statement correcting this erroneous impression has been issued by President John B. Durham of the American Game Protective Association:

"Conservationists need feel no alarm over the Kansas decision. The Supreme Court of the United States now has before it on appeal a case from Arkansas in which the constitutionality of the law will be finally passed. That case lacks certain important elements, favorable to the sustaining of the law, which the Kansas case will be incorporated with it. It will provide, in a sense, then, Judge Pollock's decision is a welcome one to those who are working to avert the destruction of the wild life of the country.

"The Kansas decision is the third that has been rendered by federal judges on the law. In Arkansas, Judge Jacob C. Treiber on May 23, 1914, held the measure unconstitutional, while in South Dakota, Judge J. D. Elliott on April 13, 1914, held it constitutional. It is to be remembered that the law is in full force and effect and will be vigorously enforced by the United States Bureau of Biological Survey everywhere in the United States, with the exception of the jurisdictions of Judges Treiber and Pollock.

"The solicitor general of the United States has asked the Supreme Court for as early consideration for the test case as is possible but it may be that it will not be reached before next fall. We are hoping to have it passed upon this spring.

"The federal law provides protection not only for game birds but for most of the country's most valuable song and insectivorous species as well.

SOME WAYS OF AVOIDING PNEUMONIA (Philadelphia Inquirer)

This is the season of the year when the mortality from pneumonia is not to be neglected, and the department of health has deemed it desirable to send out some words of warning, which if heeded may save considerable unnecessary sickness.

To begin with, emphasis is laid on the fact that fresh cold air is a preventive, and in the case of pneumonia, this disease is unknown in the frozen regions, but when the inhabitants of the arctic and antarctic regions come to our boasted civilization they nearly always contract it.

Hence the health officials give out a few hints which may be observed with profit by all who live in our own uncertain climate. In the first place we are urged to avoid close, overcrowded rooms, as much as possible; we are told not to shut the air out of our sleeping apartments; we are advised not to direct drafts blow on us, whether in or out of bed, and finally we are warned not to sit around all day with wet feet and wet clothing. It may not always be practicable to follow these rules, but they contain the germs of common sense, and should be obeyed if possible.

A LETTER FROM DR. HILL

Editor Times: You give me a little space in which to say a few words to my friends in our thriving and growing little city. I would write each one a personal letter, but there are so many I wish to speak to, that I have neither the time nor the "ink" to address them all. Therefore I am not a first-class correspondent; I am too tangential—I branch out in too many directions.

I am always glad to see anyone from Wichita Falls. That predestinated Presiding Elder, Culbertson, the gas man, was down here not long since, and I was glad to see him if he had been kin to me. He took the San Pedro car and came out to hear me preach, and after the service I compelled him to go home with me for lunch. Wife and I enjoyed the visit ever so much. Right here I wish to warn all the inhabitants of that city, that when they visit here and fall to come to see me I will do something terrible to them!

I was sorry to learn about the big fire on Ninth street. I am glad that no lives were lost. Get into the Hope-wagon with Polya, a friend, and "play the glad game." There is nothing so bad that might not be worse. It is no laughing matter, but I could not resist the temptation of a mental picture of my friend W. W. Silk, as he "hit a sluck" across the prairie, clad in pajamas and sockless! Those poor women! I really pity them. But they will live over it. If they can do no better, let them have a spare room here in the paragon that is on a corner of a street and rose and honeysuckle prospect that would make old Father-Adam jump the fence of Eden and go to it. So, put a blanket around you, Bro. Silk, and "ride the rods" if need be, across the state to the most picturesque city in the great Southwest.

Just what kind of "stuff" dreams are made of we can not tell; neither can we explain the many tricks that fancy plays us when sugared up in the soothing embrace of our old friend Morphine. A few nights since I dreamed that P. P. Langford had lost his "burnsides" and that J. A. Kemp was wearing them. Wouldn't that jar you sister? I had a day-dream in which Judge Martin's plying chess. I hope to realize that dream some times. I also had a dream in which the stewards went in a body to Dr. Andrews and requested him to "speak a little louder." Dr. A. may get mad as this, but I become inspired with a desire to make a close connection with me with that dainty little right foot of his. Well, he can not do it; for I am some four hundred miles away from that pedal; and by the time we meet again he will be in a good humor and matters will go on as of yore.

Old San Antonio is at last paying all her streets. For centuries she has been cursed with a moss-back city government, which seemed to think that amblers in Mexico might well be duplicated here. In fact, she had no more Mexicans and other foreigners in her voting lists, (and most of them were five hundred years behind the times), that she could not do—that is, the progressive sentiment could not do—what ought to be done for the general weal. But that day has past, and the hope is cherished by the better element, that the day is not far distant when this great historic city will come into her own.

But this letter is too long for its width and thickness. Perhaps I had best "ring off." I wish I could see all the good people of Wichita Falls. They who are of any account, and I often think of them. I am pleased with my work here, and hope to succeed, but I shall never forget those good men and women who stood by me and helped me in my work there. I wish to send special greetings to Mother Hartsock, Mother Hutton, Sister Kay, (so shut-in and afflicted), and sister Smith, (Sister Faithful, I always called her), and—and—why? there are too many to mention in this space, whom I love and honor, both men and women. They must take the will for the deed, and remember that I love and pray for them all. I hope that the pastorate of Dr. Andrews will be the most prosperous in the history of his life; and that all the people of all the churches who really love the Lord and their fellow-men, may be most wonderfully and abundantly blessed.

With best wishes for everybody in Wichita Falls, I am, as I always hope to be, their lover and friend.

J. W. HILL, 127, Mistletoe Ave., San Antonio, Texas, March 27, 1915.

SECRETARY DANIELS AND THE NAVY

The impression is being fostered in this country by certain interests that the United States navy is badly demoralized; that most of the ships are ready for the scrap heap and that the men on the ships are untrained and would chuck to the coal bins on sight of the enemy. Recent reports from target practice showing extraordinary records must be a revelation to those who have been saying that we had no navy, no ammunition and no use to fire the guns. A whole lot of this talk comes from political enemies of the administration, some from the Navy League, some from manufacturers of armor plate and a good deal from the liquor interests who can't believe the navy can hold together after Secretary Daniels' "grape juice" order.

The Washington correspondent of the Kansas City Star recently presented a view of our navy recently which will be a surprise to those who have been reading articles by Theo. Roosevelt, Representative Gardner and others. The Star correspondent summarizes some of the improvements in the navy under Secretary Daniels as follows:

The enlistment strength of the navy has been increased by 5,670 men, about 12 per cent.

Re-enlistments have been increased about 12 per cent.

Desertions have been decreased 17 per cent.

Thirty-three more vessels have been put in active commission.

The annual capacity of the navy powder factory is being increased about 2,100,000 pounds, having a third plant for the manufacture of torpedoes in America has been opened and the supply increased by 56 to every 100 on hand.

The department has settled upon a type of mine and begun its manufacture, increasing the stock by 22 for every 9 on hand.

The Boston, Philadelphia, Norfolk and Portsmouth navy yards have been equipped to build ships and the Mare Island yard enlarged in its scope of operations to build destroyers.

Radio has been installed on submarines and seven-year vessels, having either obsolete or no equipment what soever, have been supplied with modern equipment. Three new shore stations in the navy's chain have been added—Balboa, Tutuila and Great Lakes.

The marine corps has had its first actual experience in establishing an advanced base.

The cost of manufacturing powder has been reduced 2 1/2 per cent. An aggregate saving of $1,364,210 has been effected on two contracts for projectiles and shells.

Through reductions obtained in the prices of armor, an aggregate saving of $1,110,084 has been effected on contracts for four ships.

The cost of manufacturing torpedoes has been reduced about $1,000 each and reductions in the price of those purchased have resulted in a further saving of $226,700.

Owing to the large increase in the number of vessels in active service, a more efficient organization of the fleet became advisable. Accordingly, the submarines were detached from the torpedo flotilla and organized into a separate squadron. The cruisers have been organized into a division under a rear admiral, who is responsible to the department for their condition, instead of each vessel reporting individually, as heretofore. The collar service has also been placed under a similar organization.

Enlisted men have been promoted and given new opportunities. Thirteen enlisted men have been appointed assistant paymasters, eleven ensigns and five midshipmen at Annapolis. By reason of this reorganization a bluejacket now has a chance to become an admiral. Schools have been established on every ship and every man who enlists has six months' schooling and training before he goes aboard ship.

And let us not lose sight of the fact that Wichita Falls needs a first class fire alarm system. Five or ten minutes saved in turning in a fire alarm will be the means of saving more than the cost of the system.

Of the more than twenty of the crew of the American submarine F-4 who lost their lives by the sinking of the boat in Honolulu harbor, one was a Texan and formerly resided in Clay county, near Byers. And one of the crew of the rescue ship, the Navajo, was Joe Tyson, a Wichita Falls boy.

The city election is to take place Tuesday, April 6, at which time three members (a majority) of the city council, are to be elected. That makes it a very important matter. If the taxpayers are not interested in that election they should be. There are two tickets in the field—one representing all that organized labor interests stand for and the other, so far as

The Times can judge, the city government as at present administered. It is the first time that organized labor has ever nominated a ticket in this city, and The Times takes it that the ticket nominated will receive all the support that organized labor can give it. Several weeks ago the claim was made that there were in this city about 1800 members in good standing of the various labor unions, more than half of whom are said to be qualified voters. If that is true, and the ticket nominated receives the full support of the union forces there should be but little trouble in electing all three of their candidates. As to whether they have overestimated their strength will be determined at the election, and The Times is really and truly glad that the test is to be made and decided so early. If Wichita Falls wants to advertise herself to the outside world as a city whose municipal affairs are to be governed by organized labor, and that those who do not belong to labor unions are not welcome to our city the best and quickest way to do that is to elect the three candidates for aldermen nominated by the labor unions. As for The Times it is not going to support that ticket. Others can do as they like. The Times feels that it should make this announcement, and is fully aware of the consequences. But it would be the same way if an organized labor should take the position that the city government should be turned over to it to be run in their interest—against organized labor or for instance, if the banks and corporations of the city, should get together and nominate a ticket, if elected would control the city government. The Times would oppose it with all the vigor it could command. No government can hope to succeed that proposes to govern in the interest of one class of citizens as against all others, and for that very reason any organization—whether of organized capital or of organized labor that proposes to undertake a thing like that ought to be crushed. Wichita Falls is, or at least should be, a city that extends the glad hand to all people who want to come here and live among us, and the only expectations that should be made or demanded of them is that they shall make us good citizens, and not whether they are union or non-union, or a Democrat or a Republican.

The ladies of Wichita Falls complain that the ordinance against expectorating on the sidewalks is not being given much attention. Right here it might not be a bad idea for the city to add to its police department a woman and make it her work to see that the city is kept in a neat and sanitary condition.

It is a matter of some interest that on next Saturday, April 3rd, three school trustees are to be elected for the independent school district of Wichita Falls, and also for every precinct or district in the county. The saloons will be closed on that day.

Billy Sunday had forty-one thousand people converted in Philadelphia, and for this he received fifty thousand dollars. There's money in soul winning.

According to reports put out by the allies, Germany has lost about one dozen submarines since the war started. But according to a report credited to Berlin, up to March 1st the Germans had not lost a single submarine. The only explanation of the two reports is, that either the allies or the Germans have been doing some awful thing to bolster up their respective causes.

There is some reason to believe that Gov. Ferguson has become sufficiently interested in the re-districting of Texas to submit that question to the special session which begins next month. Now if the governor can keep down legislative selfishness sufficiently to carry a bill that will be fair and equitable, the reapportionment of the State may reach him for his executive signature. Denton Record and Chronicle.

How would it do for the legislature to appoint a committee of three men who had already served the people of Texas faithfully and ably, and whose political aspirations had been fully satisfied to redistrict the State into eighteen congressional districts? In our own public judgment it is about the quickest way to get desired results. There are entirely too many members of the legislature who have congressional aspirations, and each of them want a district cut out that will fit them, or that they have an idea they will be able to carry against all opposition.

"Power generally serves to transform the characters of those invested with it. Hence the great necessity for those charged in the Constitution to bind all rulers and men in authority."—Alex. H. Stephens.

Our object in quoting the above is to support in so far as is possible, the position our county and city officials took when the proposition was put up to them by organized labor that all work on public improvements should be given to union men. It is possible that our county and city officials may be in thorough sympathy with organized labor, but under the general laws of our country, to have complied with the demand made upon them would have been to violate their oaths of office, administered at the time they qualified. To have done less would have subjected them to the just criticism that they were not worthy the trust imposed in them. They had the power to have complied with the demand, but that power was not given them to be abused. They must be governed by the law in their official acts. Under the law every man who is a qualified voter and a taxpaying citizen is a part and parcel of the government—whether it be municipal, county, State or the general government, and he is expected to support the government and not as some would have it, the government to support him. Therefore to say to any man, it matters not how humble his station might be or how well qualified he might be to render the government a service, you cannot work for this government unless you are able to show us that you are affiliated with a certain class of our citizenship would be the rankiest kind of discrimination. The position our county and city officials took on this matter was the only one they could take and maintain their integrity.

SHOOTING STRAIGHT (Austin American)

Just to make it unanimous, the United States has filed a protest with Turkey.

While Sherman declared war he hell, he lanced his opinion on the horrors of a military chicken stealing raid.

It is reported that the governor of Arkansas will veto the loan shark bill. It is also reported that the voters will veto the governor in case he does.

It is interesting to note that the Russians are resting from their "hurling back" tactics and are now "plunging forward." The next report probably will be that they are "receding rearward."

The meanest man on earth is a New Yorker who bought presents for an actress and charged them to his wife's account.

Barney Oldfield was more fortunate than some visitors to Houston. Instead of losing his life, he escaped with being named a correspondent in a divorce case.

"Billy Sunday," says the Dallas Times-Herald, "will not attempt to convert Houston. Evidently there are some jobs too big for Wallowing William." The real fact is that Houston has the Austin American, and will float a bond issue to make it worth William's while to undertake that greatest of tasks.

NEW TEXAS OIL KING IS GREAT PHILANTHROPIST

Fritz Fuchs Distributes Most of First $100,000 Among His Needy Relatives

To earn $100,000 and to give the same amount away in thirty days—that is the experience of Fritz Fuchs of Taylor, the new "oil king of Texas" says the Austin American.

Mr. Fuchs has rightly earned the title of "oil king of Texas." Thirty days ago he was a prosperous Williamson county farmer, but he was by no means rich. Today he has just finished giving away the first $100,000 that he has made, and he is still a rich man and is getting richer every day. And all on account of his luck in owning some land in the new oil field of Texas.

The new oil king is a young German farmer. He owned a few acres of land near Taylor, with the result that his land was valuable and when oil was first discovered in that region he knew that his fortune was made. He went to a large financial firm and begged and pleaded with them to back him in opening up wells on his lands. At first they laughed at him. Now they come to him and beg and plead with him and he is in a position to laugh at them. However, he finally secured backing and work was soon begun on his land with the result that a well was finally opened up and the young Teuton became a rich man. Since the first well was opened several others have been started and the prospects are that several more will be opened in the next week or two.

For the first success on his land the new oil king received a bonus of $100,000. But his success did not turn his head. He did not become a frenzied financier and his head was not turned on account of his wealth. He did not forget his relatives, and as soon as he received his first bonus he started out to dispose of it.

The first thing that he did was to look up his sister, who was not in the easiest of circumstances, and to buy her a valuable black land farm in Taylor. But he did not stop there. He went to the aid of another relative and bought him a home site in south Taylor. This last purchase consisted of thirty-three acres, for which he paid $30,000. And yet he did not stop there. He could not be partial to these two relatives so he gave gifts of home to all of his other kinsmen that were poor as he had been. As a reason for making these gifts to his relatives, he said:

"I will receive plenty of money in the future, so why should I not make them all happy now?"

In addition to giving homesteads and financial aid to all of his relatives he also made a gift of $10,000 to the German Lutheran Church of Taylor. Thus within thirty days after he had received his first money he had succeeded in giving away over $100,000.

So generous Fritz Fuchs is not only the new oil king of Texas but he is a champion philanthropist of the State.

T. J. TAYLOR TO RETIRE FROM SCHOOL BOARD

After 18 Years Service He Declines Re-Nomination—Judge Martin's Name on Ballot

From Tuesday's Daily

After eighteen years of service as a member of the school board of the Wichita Falls Independent School District, T. J. Taylor has declined to permit his name to go on the ballot to be voted next Saturday when four members of the board are to be elected for a term of two years. The name of Judge P. A. Martin will go on the ticket in Mr. Taylor's place. The names of three old members of the board, W. W. Brown, J. L. Jackson and W. R. Ferguson will go on the ballot.

Three other members of the board: W. J. Bullock, J. L. Downing and A. H. Carrigan, have another year to serve. So far as is known there is no opposition to any of the four whose names will appear on Saturday's election. The voters of Wichita Falls for a number of years appear to have been well satisfied with the acts of the board and very light votes have been polled in the school elections, and it is not expected that Saturday's election will be any exception to the rule.

NEARLY ALL JITNEYS ARE FORDS BUT NOT ALL FORDS JITNEYS

Nearly all Jitneys are Fords, but not all Fords are Jitneys. This fact is causing some embarrassment to Ford owners, especially those who use Tenth street, as some would-be passengers have the habit of hailing almost any Ford that comes along, apparently considering that since the car is a Ford it must also be a Jitney. A woman recently stopped a Ford driven by a citizen on his way to town, calmly entered and took her seat and gave the driver directions as to where to take her. The Fordist accommodatingly complied, hiding a smile beneath his whiskers meanwhile. When he arrived at the woman's destination, she tendered him a nickel and was considerably peeved when she was informed that he was not a Jitney driver.

There are now ten Jitneys operating here and all appear to be doing a fair business. A new one made its appearance today. It has seats arranged along a truck and will accommodate more than the ordinary Jitney.

HEAVIER EQUIPMENT TO RAISE SUBMARINE

Expenditure of $20,000 Authorized For Effort to Raise the Ship

Washington, March 31.—An expenditure of $20,000 to bring the sunken submarine F-4 to the surface was authorized by Secretary Daniels today after the receipt of a message from Admiral Moore saying that the heavier attached to the boat had parted and that the present equipment was too light to lift the submarine.

RUSSIAN FORCES HAVE OCCUPIED ARTZIN

Petrograd, March 31.—Official announcement: "In the coastal districts there has been gun firing. Our troops acting on the offensive from Borokajac and Ardau occupied Artzin and drove the Turks back to the south. The left wing of the Sara-Kamysh front now is in action and there have been artillery duels."

WOULD MAKE WICHITA FALLS SPOTLESS TOWN

Business Houses Will Be Asked to Wash Sidewalks Daily at Their Fronts

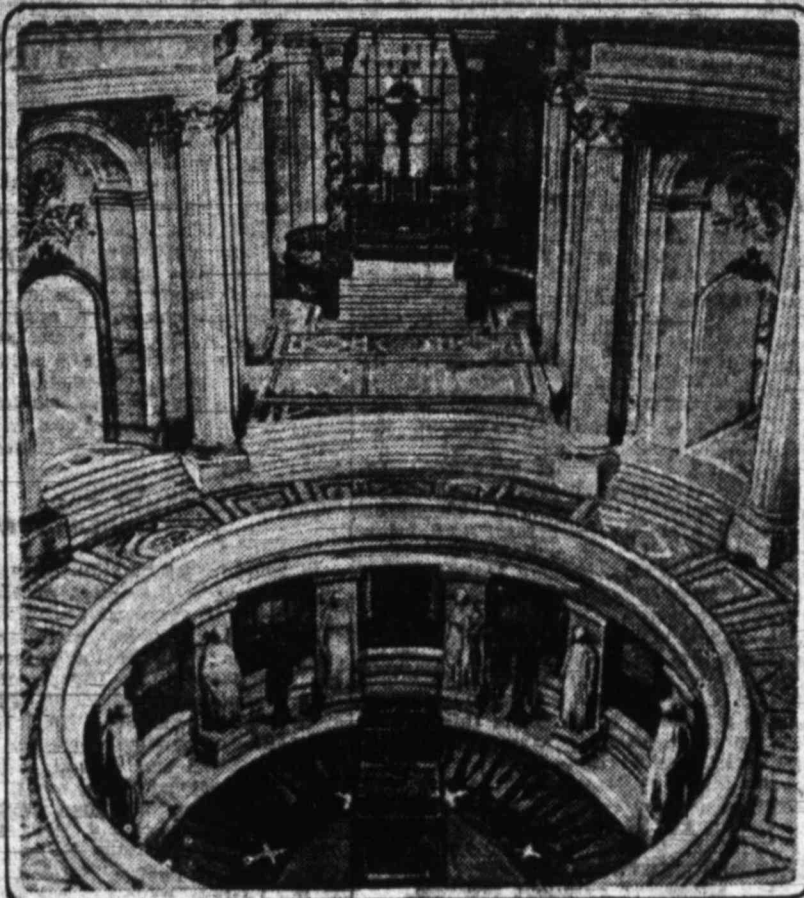

Clean sidewalks will meet the gaze of shoppers downtown hereafter if the wishes of the sanitary committee of the council are carried out, as every business house will be asked to wash the sidewalk in front of its building at the first thing each morning. The sanitary committee has taken this action at the request of the Civic League and it is hoped to have every downtown business house join in the movement beginning tomorrow.

It is believed that with the sidewalks clean and spotless to start the day, it will be much easier to keep them sanitary throughout the day and with the support of the business men it is thought the conditions which heretofore have existed will be eliminated.

OFFICERS COULDN'T KETCH-UP WITH NEGRO WHO STOLE CATSUP

A negro with an apparent weakness for tomato catsup stole a case of this condiment from Newton's grocery this morning. The thief was soon discovered and the negro was chased, but got away; however, he dropped the catsup. His pursuers could not quite ketchup with him and he made good his escape.

AT THE TOMB OF NAPOLEON

NAPOLEON'S TOMB, PARIS

NAPOLEON'S tomb is spacious, grandiose, silent. A parklike quarter beyond the Eiffel tower. Wide, shady avenues, few people in them; rich new apartment houses on a wide parade ground; old bronze cannon before the palace of the Soldiers' Home. One sees few old soldiers. Well dressed, dignified, they pass like shadows.

Enter a monumental iron gate. Pass armed sentries, pass a green lawn. Mount wide steps and stand in a vast interior beneath a noble dome. Mansard built it—part of the Old Veterans' church. Historic frescoes above, carved stone all around.

In the center of the floor a huge circular hole, protected by a stone balustrade. Look down. Giant angels of victory down there stand against the pillars that sustain the floor. Between them—panels of molding banners. The victories watch a great sarcophagus of Finland granite, gift of Czar Nicholas, writes Sterling Heilig in the Washington Star.

Once I was near an aged veteran who showed a young soldier around. Napoleon is enshrined really in the historical Old Soldiers' Home of Paris—"Invalides"—invalid. But the system has changed; no new ones enter and the old have almost died off. This one dated from the Crimea; his father had fought at Waterloo, and he imagined himself and a few other glorious old relics in some particular way to guard the emperor.

Many Flags and Banners. They stood by the circling balustrade and looked into the yawning space of circling Victories and sarcophagi. Alternating with the angels are those stands of molding flags and banners—flags and banners and more flags and banners—taken in battle from all the armies and countries of Europe in Napoleon's grand campaigns.

Descending the steps behind the baldachin you pass the black marble tombs of Marshals Duroc and Bertrand, which guard the approach to Napoleon. The door to the circling crypt is massive bronze. It was opened for Roosevelt on his famous visit. Over the door, in letters of gold, are the words taken from his will:

"I wish that my ashes shall repose on the banks of the Seine, among the French people, whom I so loved."

He died at St. Helena in 1821. He was not brought back to France until 1841, and the generous and grandiose act was done, to the detriment of the Orleans dynasty, by the gallant young Prince de Joinville, a younger son of the then reigning King Louis-Philippe Joinville.

Thus Napoleon's true funeral took place 20 years after his death. It was the most grandiose parade of Paris of the nineteenth century.

I found myself with the veteran, again, before the relics.

"Is it true that they belong by law to Empress Eugenie?" asked the young soldier.

The old fellow was troubled. Veteran of the Crimea, with all his pride loyal to the Bonapartes, he did not know how to answer.

In truth, most of the sacred objects had been inherited by Napoleon III from members of his family, or bought with his own money while emperor, or presented to him personally by third parties.

It is also true that they were awarded by the highest French courts to Eugenie as Napoleon III's widow and under his will, after 30 years of litigation. Probably she never contemplated taking the more illustrious pieces; probably her object was to merely keep the Bonapartist family claim alive.

Relics. Belong to France. Certainly she might have taken the bench of St. Helena among 63 objects that bore the ticket "Belonging to the Emperor" (i. e., Napoleon III, her husband) in the old Museum of Sovereigns. And no one would object to her taking the belt buckle of Pepin the Short and the jeweled box of St. Louis, bought by Napoleon III for 12,000 francs from the Abbey de Lya.

But Eugenie's legal rights were too magnificent, and immediately after the courts made her final award, in 1897, the famous antiquary, Veche, raised a cry before the public enumerating the historical and intrinsic value of the relics thus awarded to Eugenie.

No one can look on them without dreaming. They are four magnificent Moorish saddles, embroidered in gold and pearls, picked up by Napoleon after the battle of the Pyramids, and estimated at $20,000. At a public sale they would bring above $60,000 for their romantic history. An oriental scimitar, gold-handled, heavily jeweled, picked up by Napoleon equally in the shadow of the Pyramids, at the beginning of his career, and worn constantly by him. Estimated at $45,000 for its material, it is really worth $200,000, or perhaps double. An American, they say, offered Eugenie's lawyers a quarter of a million dollars for it in 1907. The parade saddle of Napoleon I, flashing with jewels, estimated at $20,000; the American offered $100,000 for it.

Then the sacred high glass case of all! Here is the "capote gris" of the Man of Destiny, his historic battle hair, cocarde, his cross of the Legion of Honor, his illustrious gray overcoat worn at Friedland, June 14, 1804; his gloves, his pistols—the whole legend of the Eagle.

The old veteran dreamed awhile, then spoke at last:

"These things belong to France," he said. "France paid dear for them." I once saw a party of French Boy Scouts being shown the tomb and relics by General Niox, director of the Museum of the Army.

We were down in the crypt, before the bronze door.

"He is in there," the boys whispered.

"My father saw him," said one. Everybody thought he must be mistaken, but a famous Parisian who knew the lad to be of the Mellet family, told us how he, too, had been of the party when this boy's father and himself were taken there. General Mellet, then governor of the Invalides, took them there.

"My own father raised me in his arms to look," tells Jean Richery, the poet; for it was he. "And I saw the emperor. I have never forgotten the sight. What is seen at that age by a boy of eleven makes a deep impression. I can still behold those eyes half closed, the beard slightly grown, the face of the whiteness of marble, on which spread a few spots that looked like bronze. When there shone in my memory that face of wax, which I have seen, and those eyes, which I have seen, I see the emperor as truly as if I had known him."

The face was for a time exposed to public view once a year, August 15, the fete of Napoleon.

Vast crowds passed in, found and out. The upper part of the coffin was raised, and through plate glass the Man of Destiny was seen, not as sleeping, but awaking, eyes half opened, just beginning to look up.

This was until 1862; but it was presumed that the bronze spots threatened injury, and it was ordered, to risk no more possible movement of exposure to the air, even under thickness of plate glass.

He was never embalmed. At St. Helena they lacked the necessary material. So it was wonderful that he was found untouched by time in 1841, when they brought him back to France.

EASTER TIME IS CLOTHES TIME!

The Newer Weaves in Bischof Suits

This year the pendulum swings to trim tailored effects. The soft materials that lend themselves so well to draping and puffs, retire in favor of coverts, homespun, worsteds, serge, etc., which are splendidly adaptable to the present style.

For the dressier models, there are Bengaline, Chuddah Cloth and Ottoman Silks. Coats of these rich, heavy materials need very little trimming; if any, to make them beautiful.

Our line of spring coats and suits by Bischof includes every worthy material and color — everything that a woman of taste is interested in.

Let us show you these charming Bischof models.

Men's Low Shoes

Easter ushers in the low shoe styles, for men as well as women, and again we call attention to the merits and style of Boyden and Just Wright Shoes. We are ready for Easter with styles that will appeal to men of taste and judgment by reason of their quality. Prices $4 to $7.

Easter Neckwear for Men

No matter how good your clothes if the "trimmings" are not right the effect is lost. We have always featured stylish neckwear—the newest shapes in collars, and the richer, better ties. Our stock in this particular is so complete that every taste can be satisfied.

The Right Price for the Right Clothes

Quality costs money, but lack of quality costs more in the end. Cheap clothes are the wildest kind of extravagance—we advise you to pay at least $15.00. From $15.00 up to $30.00, good clothes improve in direct proportion to their price. When you go above that, you begin to pay for de luxe trimmings and tailors' reputations.

We can conscientiously offer you the truest type of economy in our $15.00 to $30.00 Michaels-Stern clothes.

Shoe Styles For Easter

By giving special heed, as we do, to the trend of shoe styles, we are able to correctly forecast the fashions in advance of most stores. In this we have the able assistance of the JOHN KELLY shoe service bureau, and whose shoes we take so much pride in featuring. We will show for the Easter trade new styles—exclusive in this store and already ahead in sales in the large cities. Especially pretty are the Straps and Colonial pumps in patent, dull calf and mat kid. We also show the John J. Lattimore newest models, in all leathers, at prices from $3.50 to $5.

Oliver Twist Suits for Little Boys

We have just added a beautiful line of the new Oliver Twist suits for little boys, made with wide collar and set in vest effect. These are of wash materials, in sizes 3 to 5 years, and give a nobby appearance to the little man that is not found in any other line.

Dress-up Dresses for Stout Women

APPEARING STOUT IS LARGELY A MATTER OF CLOTHES

One of the interesting features of our new spring styles is a line of dresses for stout ladies. These are made of silk crepe, silk faille, and other materials suitable for this class of dresses and have all the style of the more slender models. They represent the acme of style in creations of this character and are priced very moderately for their quality. Prices $17.50 to $30.

Perfections Suits for the Boys

The little man must look well for Easter and for him we show the Perfection Suits, made in the Norfolk-style, of a quality not excelled by any other make in the world. Prices $3.50, $5, $7.50.

SILK SHIRTS FOR MEN

The new crepe effect in silk shirts—the very latest in shirt style. Our own exclusive patterns. Priced at $2 to $5.

We also show a superior line of linen shirts in the new stripes and colors. Price $1 to $3.50.

MEN'S STRAW HATS

A little early but we want to call your attention to the finest line of men's straw hats every brought to Wichita. You'll want them soon and we want you to know where to get the best. Prices $2 to $5.

He also said that the Society solicited memberships from among outside singers who desired to do earnest work.

The work of such organizations as the Wichita Falls Choral Society is highly commendable and the benefits to the community at large are much greater than most people realize or rendered tends to raise the ideals of life, to cultivate the better impulses and turn the public mind away from low class entertainment and toward efforts deserving the approval and support of all high minded people.

The Wichita Falls Choral Society has been especially fortunate in securing the services of Prof. Machlin who possesses an excellent musical education and talent shown by the results he has obtained in directing chorus work that he is a master of this branch of music as well as of the piano.

Several numbers of the concert besides the ensemble work deserve special mention. Mrs. F. Thompson sang with excellent taste and interpretation "He Was Despised" from Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," her full smooth contralto voice doing justice to this masterful composition.

A Mrs. N. M. Clifford and Mrs. Fred Thompson sang "Protect Us Through the Coming Night," a sacred number in a manner which made this one of the most pleasing parts of the concert. V. Brown, the centerfielder who was with the Wichita Drillers for several seasons and who played with Fort Worth part of last year, will be sent to the Toronto club in the international league this season, according to a Washington dispatch. Brown was drafted by Washington but will probably play for the season. The dispatch told of an unusual feat by Brown while playing centerfield for the Senators, in throwing a runner out at the plate. The runner was on third but held his base when a fly was sent to center. Brown did not quite reach the ball, but took it on the bound and shot it to the catcher in time to nip the runner.

It is understood that Lefty Scruggs, the youngster was with the Chicago White Sox this season; he was farmed out to a Nebraska team last season but will be kept with the main squad this year. Lefty Mullins another ex-Driller will be with Dallas again this season.
