THREE JURORS SELECTED FOR TRIAL OF FRY AND OTHERS

HALF SPECIAL VENIRE ALREADY EXHAUSTED

JURISDICTION PLEA IS OVERRULED

BOTH SIDES ANNOUNCE READY AND SELECTION OF JURY IS BEGUN

CROWD FILLS COURT ROOM

Questions Asked Veniremen Indicate Self-Defense Will be Plea of Defendants

Three jurors had been chosen at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the trial of the Young county defendants which opened this morning in the 78th district court. The defendants are E. W. Fry, Pete Fry, J. S. Liechke and R. M. Todd, indicted for murder in connection with the killing of Deputy Sheriff E. T. Chaffin of Young county at Graham, February 24.

At 3 o'clock over half of the special venire of 90 members had been exhausted and the defense had used seven and the State four of the 32 pre-emptory challenges allowed each side.

Questions asked the jurors by attorneys for the defense indicate that self-defense will be their plea.

The jurors selected are H. Beuch, public weigher at Burk Burnett, Bob Dutton, hardware dealer at Burk Burnett and J. M. Shaw, a farmer living near Cashlon.

The court room was packed when the trial began this morning and counsel had difficulty in securing seats inside the rail. Mrs. E. W. Fry was in the court room and sat near her husband, Mrs. Todd, with her little girl and little boy, the latter looking like a small edition of his father sat near that defendant.

Thirteen talesmen were examined at the morning session without one proving satisfactory to both sides. Judge E. W. Fry is a Baptist and the State is not disposed, apparently, to accept members of that denomination. The fraternal society membership also enter into the qualifications.

Five of those examined declared themselves as opposed to capital punishment, and were promptly excused. One talesman had an opinion that disqualified him. The State accepted the talesman who were then challenged peremptorily by the defense on behalf of the defendant, R. M. Todd. Four others were challenged by the State.

No Motion For Severance. No motion for severance of the cases had been filed and the only motion presented this morning was on which attacked the jurisdiction of the court; it was overruled.

With over 30 of the talesmen already excused or challenged, and no jurors found up to noon, the prospects for completing the panel from the special venire are not bright. Judge Nicholson's desire to make a rapid progress as possible was evinced by his limiting the dinner recess to one hour.

When court opened at 9 o'clock, Judge Nicholson asked that a special effort be made to keep quiet. The case was then called and the State announced that G. F. Marshall, county attorney of Young and Orville Bullington had been added to its counsel. Further proceedings were delayed because District Attorney Leslie Humphrey and Judge R. L. Taylor of Henrietta had not arrived. They soon came in putting, and said that the trip from Henrietta had been in an automobile and two hand cars, then by foot. Their excuse was accepted. The defendants were then brought into court; they were not handcuffed. E. W. Fry was neatly dressed in a suit of dark gray and all were clean shaven and well dressed.

Jurisdiction Questioned. The State announced ready. The defense after 25 minutes consultation of attorneys called the roll of its witnesses and asked that attachments be issued for several of the absent ones. The defense then filed a motion attacking the jurisdiction of the court because the venue had not been changed to the county nearest Young. This motion was overruled and exceptions taken. The defense then announced ready for trial and the talesmen were sworn.

either of themselves or in their families. All such were excused, the defense excepting when those over age excused. Those excused for one reason or another were J. F. Moore, L. C. Denny, E. T. Moore, C. A. Andrus, W. F. Miller, H. O. Craven, E. H. Davidson, A. Lohofner, R. Brannon, J. J. McCaughey, J. Coffey, R. Y. Messner, S. D. Hodges, Lipscomb, Hill and R. C. Hardy. Several who sought excuse for business reasons were not excused.

Examination of Talesmen.

Examination of the talesmen then began, Judge P. A. Martin for the State and A. H. Carrigan for the defense.

W. H. Barber was opposed to capital punishment and was excused. K. F. Knauth had formed an opinion about the case and was disqualified.

Dewlen, after considerable questioning by counsel by both sides, in which he declared he had expressed an opinion to his wife about the case, was challenged by the defense, for cause and this challenge was overruled. The State accepted the juror, but the defense challenged him on behalf of R. M. Todd, after excepting to the ruling against the challenge for cause.

C. B. Woods was opposed to capital punishment and was excused.

C. B. Nunnally was challenged by the State. Questioning brought out that he was a member of the Missionary Baptist church.

Jack Medlock declared himself opposed to the death penalty and was excused.

Baptist and M. W. A. W. L. Scott of Burk Burnett, a member of the M. W. A. and formerly a Baptist, was challenged by the State.

J. M. Homer was opposed to capital punishment and was excused. J. L. Colthrop who once resided in Fort Worth and knew McClain and Cummings of defense counsel there was challenged by the State.

Ed Foster was opposed to capital punishment and was excused.

W. L. Crosslin of near Burk Burnett was challenged by the State after a lengthy examination. He once lived in Tarrant county.

Early Dutton a young farmer living near Burk Burnett was accepted by the State but was challenged by the defense on behalf of R. M. Todd.

C. E. Jarrell was also accepted by the State but challenged by the defense of R. M. Todd. Court then recessed for dinner.

J. F. Pickle was opposed to capital punishment and was excused.

W. W. Viles had an opinion about the case and was excused.

R. F. Livermore was challenged for cause by the defense and when he said he did not think there would be an indictment against a man unless there was "something to it." The challenge was overruled. The State accepted the juror and the defense challenged him on behalf of the defendant Todd.

E. F. Gaston declared himself opposed to capital punishment and was excused.

Had An Opinion. T. B. Fenley had formed an opinion about the case but did not think it would influence him as a juror; he admitted it might, however, and was challenged for cause.

H. Beuch was accepted by both sides. He is public weigher at Burk Burnett, formerly a cotton buyer.

W. O. W. a Mason and a member of the Missionary Baptist church.

M. Fowler was opposed to capital punishment and was excused. Bob Dutton, hardware dealer at Burk Burnett, was accepted by both sides. He is a Mason, not a church member and has a family.

J. C. Ottlinger was accepted by the State but challenged by the defense for Todd. He was at one time a federal revenue officer in Tennessee.

A. L. Gentry was opposed to capital punishment and was excused.

J. H. Shaw was accepted by both sides. He is a farmer living near Cashlon and once lived in Young county, but did not know any of those involved in the case. He is an Odd Fellow; he was not questioned as to church membership.

Challenged By Defense. B. S. Maxwell was accepted by the State but challenged by the defense for Todd. He said he had read about the case in the papers but had learned not to believe what he saw in newspapers. This venireman also thought there were many laws that ought to be better enforced.

Hy Willis was challenged for cause because he said he had an opinion.

Harry May was opposed to capital punishment and was excused for cause.

A. J. Betts was accepted by the State and challenged by the defense.

AN APPROPRIATION FOR DOCTOR'S MEET

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PROVIDES $50 FOR ENTERTAINMENT OF N. W. T. M. A.

MERIDIAN ROAD PICTURES

$10 Toward Making Films of Scenes Along Route of Highway is Contributed

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held this morning at ten o'clock, $50 was appropriated for the entertainment of the Northwest Texas Medical Association, to convene in this city on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The request was made by Dr. Mackechney of the local association, who explained the nature and the importance of the entertainment. In the discussion that followed the request it developed that only seven physicians, representing six firms, were contributors to the Chamber of Commerce to the extent of $7 per month or a total of $84 a year. The list of contributors was read at the meeting upon the request of some of the directors present. This fact, however, did not deter the organization from making the appropriation, but it was explained that a more loyal support of the Chamber of Commerce would be expected in the future.

Meridian Road Pictures.

An appropriation of $10 was made toward the movement to secure moving picture film of the Meridian Road which picture it is intended to exhibit as a means of arousing interest in this project.

Secretary Thomas read a letter from the Dallas Chamber of Commerce announcing that a delegation of Dallas business men would visit this city on April 20. The communication explained that no provisions for entertainment were expected or desired, but that those constituting the excursion be given an opportunity to meet the business men of this city.

A communication was read from the Chamber of Commerce at Galveston asking that this county provide an exhibit to the Cotton Carnival, to be held in the Island City July 22 to August 1. Owing to the distance and the fact that it was not thought a profitable investment, no action was taken.

The Commercial Club at Terrell, Texas asked in a communication that some action be taken favorable to a raise in railroad rates, which communication was passed without action. It being the sense of those present that no official action be taken.

Those present at the meeting were: President R. E. Huff, Secretary John W. Thomas, A. L. Huey, P. H. Pennington, J. A. Kemp, Charlie Bean, J. W. Ward, C. L. Reid, Marvin Smith, J. S. Bridwell, R. O. Harvey and Dr. Mackechney.

Good work was done at the polling places in counting the votes and the result was known about half an hour after the polls closed. There was considerable ticket splitting and not a little single-voting but an overwhelming number of voters took their stand.

J. L. Lea Jr., the new councilman is a native of Tennessee, making his appearance in the town of Fulton about 47 years ago. In the Combes hill two French battalions were destroyed. At Ally our troops commenced a counter attack which was successful.

Numerous bodies of the field before our front and the number is increasing, owing to the fact that the French threw those who had fallen into their trenches in front of our position. On the western border of the Petris forest one of our battalions beat back strong forces of the 15th French infantry inflicting heavy losses. Notwithstanding a heavy snow storm fighting continues at Hartmanns-Weilerkopf.

In the eastern theatre during an advance on Russian territory in the direction of Antrel, 30 kilometers southeast of Newel, our cavalry annihilated a Russian battalion. The commander, five officers and 360 men were taken prisoners, 120 killed and 150 seriously injured. Another Russian battalion which came to their rescue was beaten back. BULGARIAS ATTITUDE DECLARED AUDACIOUS

Rome Newspaper Says that Country Negotiating With Both Sides

By Associated Press. Rome, April 7.—Commenting on Bulgaria's reply to the Serbian representations on the Valtovo incident, (the attack of the Bulgarian irregulars) the Tribune thinks that Bulgaria is negotiating with the allies while at the same time continuing relations with Germany and Austria. The Tribune says:

"Bulgaria is hoping for a realization of the promises of the St. Stefano peace in 1878, and her conduct is most surprising and audacious."

The treaty of St. Stefano was signed March 3, 1878, at St. Stefano and put an end to the Russo-Turkish war. Under its provisions Bulgaria was to be a principality bounded by the Danube and the Aegean. Rumania, Serbia and Montenegro were recognized as independent states. The provisions of the treaty were greatly altered as the result of a conference later at Berlin.

BATTLE MAY DECIDE FATE OF MEXICO

40,000 MEN BELIEVED ENGAGED IN VICINITY OF IRAPUAUTE

EFFECTS OF VILLA VICTORY

Carranza Forces at a Number of Strategic Points Would be Isolated

By Associated Press. Washington, April 7.—A battle with 40,000 troops of the Carranza and Villa factions engaged in progress or impending at Irapuaute in the state of Guanajuato according to state department advice dated from Mexico, April 1 which said that the fight would take place soon. This was taken to mean that Villa was preparing to attack the forces under General Obregon and was moving south from Torreon along the National Railway. Obregon was last reported at Queretaro and was said to have about 20,000 men. The Villa forces are believed to be of equal strength.

This battle may have a decisive result in the campaigns of Villa and Carranza and the outcome is being awaited with much interest at Washington. The state department today issued the following:

"The state department is informed that General Villa has announced that if he is successful in defeating the forces of General Obregon he will open communications from the American border to Mexico City. Advice indicate that should Obregon be defeated the Carranza forces at Vera Cruz, Tampico and Matamoros will be isolated."

GERMANY REPORTS LOSS OF SUBMARINE U-29

Special to The Times. Berlin, April 7.—Statements published here declare that reports are beginning to be received in Berlin which show that Germany's submarine blockade is beginning to have an effect on England. POPULATION OF U. S. FRIDAY WILL BE 100,000,000

Washington, April 7.—At 4 o'clock Friday afternoon the population of the United States was 100,000,000, according to the estimates of C. A. Sloane, geographer of the census bureau in Washington. In the census bureau such figures are based on the difference in population in 1900 and 1910.

By that system of computation the country would contain 100,342,218 persons on July 1, 1915, and more than 108,000,000 on July 1, 1920. By the census estimates the population of all the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii, would be 110,750,000 on July 1 of this year.

J. S. McCoy, actuary of the treasury calculated that 100,000,000 persons were in the country on Feb. 1. He arrives at his figures on which treasury statements of the per capita wealth are based by including in his calculations what he calls the factor of second differences. His effort is to show the natural increase within the increase as figured by the census bureau. By the system of computation he estimates the continental population at the first of the present year at 99,875,000; Feb. 1, 100,018,000, and July 1, 100,725,000. Mr. McCoy estimates that on July 1, 1910, the population will be 109,339,000.

NOTE TO BRITAIN DON'T PLEASE GERMAN PAPERS

Cologne Gazette Says American Note is Against Germany Instead of England

By Associated Press. Amsterdam, April 7.—Commenting on the published summary of the American note to Great Britain on the British council "blockade order" the Cologne Gazette says:

"It is a note against Germany rather than England and is so framed that England may leave it unnoticed without having any difficulty with the American government. Against Germany, however, although in a veiled manner the reproach is made that she does not observe the principles of warfare as recognized by civilized countries. This ends their second note to Britain as typically as the first, while at the same time America continues eagerly to supply the enemies of Germany with ammunition and provisions and even advances money for their purchase."

The Kreuz Zeitung, the only Berlin newspaper commenting on the American note, declares it makes plain that a blockade must be effective.

EITEL READY FOR DASH TO THE SEA

GERMAN CRUISER HOISTS SIGNAL FLAGS AND SMOKE POURS FROM FUNNELS

WHISTLE BLOWS SHRILL BLAST

Belligerent Merchant Ships Held in Newport News Despite Protests of Agents

By Associated Press. Bulletin, Newport News, April 7.—The Prinz Eitel Frederick hoisted a line of signal flags and shortly afterward blew her whistle on a shrill blast. Smoke is pouring from her funnels. These are regarded as indications that she is preparing to make her dash for the sea before nightfall. "We are not even talking about internment of the Eitel," said Collector of the Port Hamilton here earlier today after he had awaited expectantly all night for the departure of the German cruiser. As the collector spoke he was preparing to proceed again to the German ship under directions from Washington. He visited Commander Tietchen and his staff aboard the cruiser last night.

Evidence that the United States is determined to prevent the departure of merchant ships of belligerent powers was revealed today. Agents of British ships appealed to Norman R. Hamilton, collector of the port to know when their ships could depart. When he refused to give them a definite answer they demanded an explanation. This was refused. One agent said there were 35 ships being detained.

Another asked permission to send his ship from Newport News to Norfolk. He was told under no conditions would this be permitted without first notifying a customs collector. The agent was informed that in view of the fact that ships must pass by the Battleship Alabama which was stripped for action it would be wise to take every precaution.

Tug boats in the James river were notified by Captain McCracken of the U. S. Navy Tug Patent that if they attempted to run their boats at night without light he would be forced to bring them to with a shot.

"MILITARY NECESSITY" AGAIN EXPLANATION OF GERMANS

Washington, April 7.—Government officials took under consideration a statement from the German embassy quoting an official message from the Berlin foreign office in which responsibility was disclaimed for the loss of any neutral lives on board the British steamer Falaba, recently sunk by a German submarine. Germany claims that the Falaba, as well as other British merchantmen was armed and that military necessity made it impossible for the submarine to give any longer for the passengers to escape.

State department officials say the death of Leon C. Thresher, an American, lost with the Falaba, constitutes a complicated case. If the German view is accepted the rights of neutrals to travel about on belligerent craft of any kind would be circumscribed. Furthermore, Germany contends sufficient time was permitted for the escape of the passengers and the intimation is given that if he was not included among those saved there was an act of negligence for which the Germans were not responsible.

OKLAHOMA COMMISSIONER WROTE ABOUT A "DIVVY"

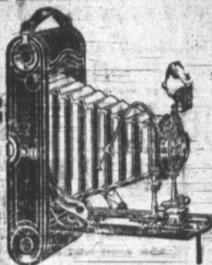

By Associated Press. Oklahoma City, April 7.—The impeachment trial of A. L. Welch, insurance commissioner of the State of Oklahoma has reached a stage of inquiry into a letter written by Welch to A. H. Dillon of the Union Mutual Insurance Company of Enid, in which he asked for a "divvy" for helping out the affairs of the company which had been in the hands of a receiver. Dillon said the letter had been regarded by the officials of the company as a joke. Welch licensed the company to do business in the State after reorganization, but this action was taken on advice of the state attorney general. Witnesses testified that Welch held out about $20,000 each month from the state treasury and deposited with banks but the defense declared that Welch received no interest from the banks and that he deposited this monthly to protect State warrants. The proceedings up to this point have been favorable to Welch.

A CALL TO BATTLE

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART.

The Honorable James Stoddard scarcely knew himself what impulse had taken him back to the old church. It was 15 years since he had left the city—it was 20 since he had been inside the Second Presbyterian church. In the interval he had thought of the idea, but never thought of it as something vaguely as the place where he had been married, and therefore, as the beginning of his material prosperity. For the Honorable James had married a wealthy wife, and money began to come.

"The Devil You Are!"

It was almost an accident that he found himself standing in the little home city over Sunday. It was the fault of an unavoidable break in his itinerary, not any desire to return to the scenes of his boyhood. And when Judge Bennington, the local Democratic leader, had discovered him at his hotel and news of his Sunday evening dinner, the senator was exasperated.

He required strength and stamina. The lines looked hard, he thought, almost insolent. He was glad now that he had not married her, and yet, perhaps she would have been different had she married; she looked as if all the impulses of her nature had been frozen, as though she had missed her heritage, that dower of womanhood which should have been her right.

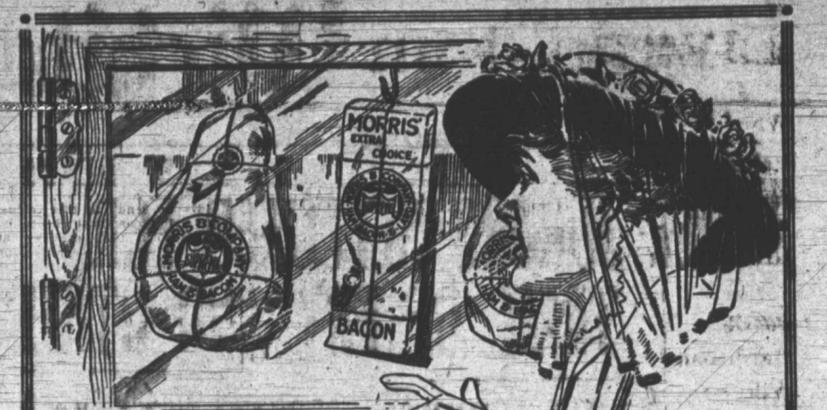

Through the sermon he relaxed somewhat; every infection was familiar—it was as if each gesture, each word, had been impressed on his mind years ago. But toward the end the minister's voice strengthened; Angela shifted her position, there was a perceptible movement through the building.

"Men of the Second church," the minister's voice was full and strong. "Forty years ago today I stood in this pulpit and looked in the faces of my people. Some of them are still here, worn and old like myself—thank God, the army of Jesus Christ has no age limit—you who were here will remember the day, a warm June day like this. The city was quiet—quiet with the stillness of desolation. Regiment after regiment had gone out and had not come back. Another call had come for volunteers; the danger was great. At Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville the Army of the Potomac had been defeated with sickening loss; General Grant was before Vicksburg; Lee under cover of strategy, was moving his army north through the Shenandoah valley.

The president called for a hundred and twenty thousand more men—those who could be spared had gone before; there were left the fathers of families, the sons of widows. That morning the people had been awakened with the blare of bugles and the clanging of the church bells. Some of the men who sat in those pews were stained with clay from the earthworks where they had labored all night. And standing here—the old man's voice shook—"with the eyes of women and children on me, I read the president's call for more men, and asked for volunteers to follow me to the field. Sixty men stood up at the call, every man of an enlisting age in the congregation. Not a man who did not leave a mother, or a wife and children. Of the 60, 19 came back again. Three of them are still living, but the time is not far when there will be none to answer present to the roll call.

But although these men are gone, their children and even their children's children are still with us. Today we are threatened, not with civic conflict, but with civic degeneracy. This great country, which was saved at such a cost, is in danger, danger from its public men, who would sell its soul for gain; danger from its people, who are becoming peace seekers and money getters. Men of the Second church, your country needs you as much today as it did 40 years ago—volunteers for the army of pure government and just legislation. I am an old man, but once again I would like to see my people respond to the call of duty. Up there all of us, who volunteer to preserve the purity of this great country we love."

Stoddard had felt his pulses leap at the minister's words; his father had been one of those to go, and had not come back. Then he looked at Angela; probably she would be scornful if he posed as an advocate of pure government. She gave no indication of emotion, sitting erect and tense, but she was very pale. "Louise Stoddard, from his mother." Perhaps he would better get up. He drew a deep breath, then he rose slowly, gripping the back of the next pew with straining fingers.

BELGIANS HOLD ONLY SMALL STRIP OF COUNTRY

Of 11,370 Square Miles of Territory, Germans Occupy All But 300

Washington, April 7.—Out of 11,370 square miles of territory occupied by Belgium under the present war, less than 300 square miles thereof is still held by the Belgians and their allies; and the normal population of the part of the country still held by the Belgians is only 100,000 while the peace population of the whole country was more than 7,000,000. This begins a statement just prepared by the National Geographic Society showing what Belgium has lost of her territory since the present war began. It then continues:

A customs port on all her borders where goods pass through save those ports alone upon the French and German borders where war munitions and supplies for contending armies are pouring in. Belgium's trade is no more; her industry is no more; her mining is no more; her cities are foreign soil; her schools, her four universities at Ghent, Liege, Brussels and Louvain are no more; her capital is lost; her farms are gone—Belgium herself, is almost non-existent as a concrete thing.

RAISING FUNDS AT DENISON FOR PLUCKY CUBAN GIRL

Interest in the Monica Valdes fund has not abated and every day finds more dime deposits in the bank for the little Cuban senorita, who refused to wait upon Jack Johnson's white wife in Havana several days ago. Although the improvised bank has been open for deposits only a few days, something like $12,000 graces its interior. The receptacle was removed from the Denison Grocery Company this afternoon to the Chamber of Commerce, where it will be held for several days. The first actual step taken in the movement was made by J. W. McLaughry, a Katy brickmaker, who rigged up a "bank" by means of sealing the cover of a tin can, in the top of which was placed a hole for depositing the coins. Mr. McLaughry made the rounds of several business houses Saturday and met with fair success in making collections, as nearly every one approached was willing to donate something to the little senorita who would tolerate nothing from a "white woman who had married a negro." After a few more dimes have been added to the fund, the entire amount, together with a note of appreciation, will be sent to the girl, commending her action in thrashing the black man's wife.—Denison Herald.

LITTLE DONE TO REPAIR EARTHQUAKE DAMAGE

Two Months After Quaked Towns and Villages Still Furnish Dustheaps

By Associated Press. Rome, April 7.—Although over two months have passed since earthquake wrecked a large portion of the Abruzzi district, comparatively little has been done to start life afresh in the ruined region. The great desire of most of the few survivors, however, is to return once more to their native mountains and put together some humble shelter for themselves.

At Capelle, Avezzano and other towns which suffered most severely, nothing strikes the beholder so forcibly as the thoroughness of the destruction. The towns are immense, formless dustheaps. It is easy to understand how the work of rescue in the early days was rendered almost impossible by the entire lack of ladders, tools of any instruments which could aid in disinterring the innumerable victims.

The venerable patriot and historian, Senator, Gaetano Villari, whose fascinating books on Savonarola and on Machiavelli have been translated into many languages, has come forward to suggest that a body of workers, resembling those trained for Red Cross work in war, should be thoroughly and scientifically prepared before hand in order that when these recurrent earthquake tragedies over-whelm one part or another of Italy, they could be sent instantly, armed with every appliance to render assistance that would be needed in saving by its promptness. Prof. Villari calls that the Japanese, whose land is also constantly threatened by earthquakes, have a permanent commission for the study of earthquakes and of the best mode of rebuilding the towns that have suffered and of avoiding the consequences of these calamities.

Recipe For Welsh Rabbit Salad. Make a well flavored Welsh rabbit mixture in which a tiny pinch of soda added first, a tablespoonful of vinegar added last, and a dash of flour "binding" have been used, so that the mixture is not tough and heavy when cold. Or a well seasoned "cheese sauce" made with the maximum amount of cheese, will sometimes do just as well. Pour the hot cheese mixture carefully upon slices of canned pineapple. Let cool, then arrange one "cheesed" slice for each service on a foundation of lettuce hearts or chicory, with French dressing and garnish the tops with finely chopped and squeezed parsley.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR MISS ADAH ANDERSON

Honoring the birthday anniversary of Miss Adah Anderson, Miss Virginia Andrews entertained Tuesday evening for a few intimate friends of Miss Anderson.

Numerous informal amusements of a unique and ridiculous nature had been planned, the first contest, a guessing of identity by means of advertisements pinned on the back of each guest, succeeding in removing all restraint or formality and the old time games, such as Fruit Basket, were followed.

A peanut race and Easter egg hunt resulted in the prize, a mysterious package with many wrappings which finally disclosed a tiny candy Easter egg, going to Miss Florence Barrier. At a late hour the dining room doors were thrown open, disclosing the card table in birthday array. The Easter motif was featured in the centerpiece, a large basket, in which was arranged a nest of Easter eggs. From this basket red ribbon streamers led to each cover, terminating in a miniature rabbit, the plate favors. Place cards were in rabbit shape and at each cover a small red candle was burning, while the larger red candles were placed at either end of the table.

A two course luncheon, consisting of deviled crab, lettuce leaf, bread and butter, sandwiches, olives and tea, and a date pudding dessert with whipped cream and cherries. George Kelly was toastmaster and toasts to the honoree were offered by Overton McDowell, Merle Waggoner and Dr. Andrews. Music and additional games were enjoyed before the party broke up. In the entertainment of the evening Dr. and Mrs. Andrews assisted very materially. The guests were Miss Adah Anderson, honoree, Misses Tula Stokes, Laura Martin, Kathleen Coffield, Florence Barrier, Messrs. George Kelly, Chas. Crowell, Earl Edelman, Merle Waggoner, Overton McDowell, Baldwin Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shelton.

The Little Sisters, half dozen in number, were together for the first time since the Christmas holidays Tuesday afternoon with Miss Lillian McGregor, with the exception of one of their number, Miss Ann Eresar, who though in town, was prevented from attending by illness. Sewing and conversation furnished diversion for the entire afternoon and a delicious salad course followed by a refreshing ice was served to the following: Misses Kathleen Blair, Genevieve Carrar, Beas Kell, Bernita Mae Kemp and the hostess, Miss McGregor.

TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB WITH MRS. FRANK BLAIR

Mrs. Frank Blair was hostess to the regular session of the Tuesday Bridge Club Tuesday afternoon, entertaining four tables of players. Three guests, Mrs. J. M. McDowell of Fort Worth, house guest of Mrs. Wiley Blair, Mrs. Merle Waggoner and Mrs. H. A. Allen, were present in addition to the regular club members. A salad plate was served on the conclusion of the game. The next meeting of the club was announced for two weeks hence with Mrs. Robert Thorburn.

DIME SOCIAL MONDAY QUITE SUCCESSFUL

At a special held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Kerr, the ladies of the Central Presbyterian church turned in the results of their "dime investment" made some time ago. Something over twenty dollars was the sum realized, the investment proving quite profitable. Numerous diversions were enjoyed, including games of 42 and the musical selections by Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pittman, Mrs. J. C. Pressley and the hostess, Mrs. Phil Kerr. A refreshment course of eberbet and cake was served late in the evening. About thirty-five of the church congregation were present.

B. O. P.'s MEET WITH MISS MURPH TUESDAY

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Jane Belle Emery, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

"I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 43 years of age, but feel as good as I did when only 16."

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

"If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too."

Resolutions

Unanimously passed this spring by one wise motor car owner who was dissatisfied with his last year's car

A Motor Car Owner being Dissatisfied with last year's Motor Car Experience, called a Conference with Himself to Determine if Possible the Reason.

After duly Considering the question, he Found the Reason and passed the following set of Resolutions Unanimously. The resolutions explain the Reason.

"WHEREAS, in 1914 I started out to sell the automobile manufacturers my old car for as high a price as I could get, and take therefor the car on which I received the best trade; and

"WHEREAS, the car I obtained proved unsatisfactory.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that in 1915 I will forget that I own a car that I want to sell or exchange,

"And be it further resolved, that I am going out first to buy the best car I can find and then sell my old car for the most I can get for it, or let the manufacturer do it for me,

"And be it further resolved, that I will never again go into the automobile selling business in competition with 250 manufacturers and 600,000 owners of old cars. I find that my motor car happiness lies in buying well and not in selling badly."

Embroidered Cape-Collar and One of Lace

To be worn with the attractive blouses of crepe de chine, which are such an important factor in spring apparel, many collars have been designed. They are to serve the double purpose of protecting the neck of the blouse and providing quickly adjusted decorative touches. There is a great demand for them, and therefore an endless variety in designs.

The collars in the picture are adjusted to the same blouse. The blouse is of sand-colored crepe worn with a suspender dress of brown broadcloth and plain except for small sprays of embroidery at each side of the front in silk of the same color as the blouse. The lace collar is merely a frill of cream-colored net-top lace, narrowed at the front and stitched into a band. Small covered wires support it about the neck at the sides and back.

The second collar is a novel design made of fine embroidered batiste. It is a high turnover, open at the top and lengthened at the back into a little caplike portion. This is set into three panels which terminate at the bottom in three embroidered loops.

By means of these caps, freshen may change the neck-line or less up to the throat and onto the collar dressy effect accord chosen.

BOTTOMLEY

The room will seem: ing the light in which the ceiling also, that as he given a fairly copy is too high, the walls only up to air by molding, or within two or three feet of the ceiling, and tinting the ceiling above either the same tone the ceiling or a shade between the floor and walls.—Craftsmen.

BEST COLORS FOR THE ROOM

Matter Worthy of the Most Careful Attention, as So Much Depends Upon It.

Pale colors are appropriate for small rooms and for furniture which is light and delicate, while dark colors should be used in large, "architectural" rooms and with furniture which is heavy in build.

The vitality of a color is determined by its intensity, or its relation to the neutral-gray. Intense colors should be used with restraint, for brilliant coloring is pleasing only in small areas, just as "the flash of diamonds is more tolerable on account of their insignificant size." The lining, walls and floor of a room should be set off by setting for its finishings, and should always be neutralized. At the same time, their colors should be kept fresh and clear. Another thing to be remembered is that the lighter the colors, the more they will show the dirt.

TYPHUS IS SPREADING THROUGHOUT SERBIA

By Associated Press. Belgrade, April 7.—All reports indicate that the dreaded typhus is gaining ground throughout Serbia. Over a hundred doctors have died from it, as well as 60,000 of the population, mostly women. It was only a few months ago that the disease was brought into the country, probably in December by the Austrian prisoners with vermin in their clothing. There were over 40,000 wounded Austrian prisoners after the battles of Val and Belgrade. These men were sent into the same hospitals with Serbian troops and cared for by some doctors and nurses. When these hospitals were the scene of the disease has been propagated to the ministers of foreign dignitaries, down to the women who were engaged in the cleaning, all of whom in the hospitals from the standing every morning and rest, before leaving evening and the disease has effort for disinfecting way from the hospital.

been carried by Parasites. It is the lack of sufficient clothing of uniform soldiers who have been dismissed from the hospital is allowed to return to the home. They have been given the same clothes they wear when they came to the hospital. This in many cases doubtless already infected with the body parasite which carries the typhus and which is able to live dormant for weeks. It comes to life as soon as it comes in contact with the heat of the body. In this way the disease has been propagated to distant villages, so that thousands are dying on outlying farms, to which no efficient aid can be sent by the government, owing to the insufficiency of doctors, nurses, transportation facilities, and especially of tents and clothing for isolating the cases.

The need of the latter is urgent. The Red Cross Sanitary Commission has supplied the necessary scientific knowledge, (the surgeons and nurses are offering their services to go into the danger zone, even though it has been stated that the chances of death are sixty per cent greater than they are in the trenches, but unless the necessary tonics and clothing are to be had immediately, the work of the commission must fall of any but nominal result.

It has been suggested by the Americans here that the U. S. Collier Jason should be sent upon such an errand of mercy. This sanitary work is of importance not only to the whole of the belligerents but to all of the neutral states as well. The sailors who are handling the shipping at Salon shipping which goes to the world, will be liable to infection, be the means of transmission of disease as the summer comes.

"Despite the calamity howlers," says the Philadelphia Record, "the country has turned the corner and good times are here for an indefinite period."

The rains of today added to other things of recent occurrence cause the Times to feel somewhat cheerful and optimistic, and when it feels that way it can hardly keep from saying some things that would sound very much like "tooting its own horn."

James J. Hill says the European war will end by October first of this year. As to how much better he is able to judge the European situation than others, we cannot say, but the reason he gives for making such a prediction is not that the allies will whip Germany or that Germany will succeed in subduing her enemies, but because the belligerents will have thoroughly exhausted themselves both physically and financially, by that time. There are others, however who predict the war can last for two or three years yet.

Pullman porters wages are $27.50 per month. They must get tips or starve. After a sleeping car porter has served the Pullman company for fifteen years, he gets an increase in wages of five per cent. The government is making an investigation of the manner in which the Pullman company has of dealing with their conductors and porters, and if this investigation results in requiring the Pullman company to pay its employees decent wages instead of depending upon the patrons to do that for them, it will be worth the trouble the investigation is giving the government. It is hardly possible for a man to clothe and feed himself on $27.50 per month, more especially when he is compelled to travel and buy his meals wherever he goes get them. The Pullman people know this, and employ their porters with a superabundance that they must get or tips from the patrons to make up for the shortage.

This business of building up progress after all, is largely a matter of sentiment. It can be cultivated in a way to encourage or discourage. The way to discourage progress is to encourage a movement arraying one class of citizens against another, and when that sort of condition prevails in any city, those who have buildings to be done or improvements to be made are going to delay the matter just as long as possible. Such a condition as this has prevailed in Wichita Falls for the past several months and with bad results. The results of yesterday's election, however, indicate to The Times that we may expect conditions to change. The demands made upon the city government by the Labor Council was turned down by the defeat of their candidates for three aldermen by a majority of nearly two to one. Naturally, The Times feels somewhat elated over the result, but at the same time it is going to give credit for the victory to whom credit is due. Had it not been for the fact that there is a goodly number of voters—members of organized labor unions—who placed their citizenship above the selfish demands made upon the city government by organized labor, the ticket known as the administration ticket would have been defeated, or if elected, the majority would have been so small as to be uncomfortable. To them is due much credit for the victory in yesterday's election. The Times has no apologies whatever to make for the position it took in the matter. It was principles that were involved, and when that is true it takes the side it believes to be right and just without stopping to count the cost. It believed that Wichita Falls should not be a city governed in the interest of one special class of our citizens as against all others, and the results of yesterday's election show clearly that the great majority of the people of this city think along that line pretty much as does The Times.

YOUNG COUNTY NOT IN RED.

Last week in reporting the incident of the return of a warrant unpaid for $450, any asset other than cash re-investments in school bonds) $18,990.00, making our total assets $59,177.29. Against this amount is $61,199.00 in bridge bonds, due in forty ears and outstanding warrants to the amount of $28,377.31 or a total of $90,576.31. The amounts standing just against us would leave us in debt only $30,931.92, but to discard the bridge bonds as a present indebtedness, we would actually be ahead of the game $31,067.68. And it should be borne in mind that Young is one of the best bridged counties in the State. Any prospective county has outstanding bonds for bridges, and we doubt seriously if Wichita county could make a better showing along this line. The delay in paying the warrant in question was not occasioned by a lack of funds, but because the warrant not being properly endorsed when presented to the bank at this place. The warrant was returned to Wichita Falls with a request for proper endorsement, and when it came back the second time was so defaced that the local bank deemed it inadvisable to pay it and requested that it be sent to the Chicago bank, who issuing the county's warrants and ascertain from them if the defacement was such that the warrant would be invalid. And here was no reason for the warrant not being properly endorsed, since the county clerk's office had furnished the person to whom the warrant was issued, complete instructions for its proper endorsement. Young county is ready, willing and able to pay any just claim, and the Reporter regrets that The Times in justice to the citizenship of this county, published a statement in order to correct the false impression that is being left from the publication of The Times' statement.

On the occasion of the district W. C. T. U. Convention to be held here April 13, 14 and 15, Mrs. Cora Belle Megrall, State W. C. T. U. lecturer booked as one of the principal speakers. Mrs. Megrall comes highly recommended in order to testify to her worthiness to be a speaker. On the occasion of the Cambridge, March 16-18 was the mid-year executive meeting of the State W. C. T. U. Among the members of the program was an address by Mrs. Cora B. Megrall on the topic "Law Enforcement." Mrs. Megrall is a native of Ohio and is a well known and active worker in her own subject. The session of Mrs. Megrall as one of the speakers was a listless comparison to her ability and effectiveness as a platform talker as his occasion made these addresses or her out of the four State meetings of the organization. "Mrs. Cora B. Megrall gave a fine address Sunday evening in a crowded house. Mrs. Megrall is a woman of strong intellectual powers and a splendid speaker. She is one of the best I have seen or privilege to hear," Virginia Correspondent. "The talks of Mrs. Cora B. Megrall, Ohio W. C. T. U. lecturer and organizer during the day meetings were instructive, comprehensive and enthusiastic. Her address in the evening was strong and masterly."—Lima Times-Democrat. "Monday evening Mrs. Megrall lectured to a crowded house. The lecture was much appreciated by a large audience for Mrs. Megrall is capable of transmitting her enthusiasm to her hearers."—Sentry, Woodsfield, Ohio. "Mrs. Megrall delivered a forceful address on 'Results of Alcohol from a Scientific, Economic and Moral Standpoint.' The prospects of a young man from a financial outlook who smokes cigarettes was also ably presented. Mrs. Megrall's arguments and illustrations were based on actual facts and figures and she was one of the ablest speakers that has ever presented the evils of temperance in Celina."—Celina (Ohio) Standard.

CITY ATTORNEY TAKES ROLE OF ATTORNEY FOR DEFENSE

Mike Levine, transacting a second hand business on Indiana avenue, near Seventh street, was fined $10 on a city court this morning on a charge of having used abusive language to Mrs. Abe Blank, who with her husband, is engaged in a similar business in an adjoining building. The trouble, as a result of which Levine was compelled to appear in court, occurred yesterday morning in front of their places of business, when blows passed as a result of an argument between the parties involved. The nature of the case was such that City Attorney Horace Nutt was forced to assume the attitude of both prosecutor and defender. Judge Scurry also appearing in the case in the role of prosecutor. The trial attracted quite a little attention so much so that the court room would not begin to accommodate the crowd that sought entrance. No complaint was filed against Mrs. Blank. Seventh street was the scene of several difficulties. Early yesterday morning a former "white hope" and a well known citizen mixed things in a lively manner in the latter's office. Later in the day a service car driver was one of the participants in an altercation on the same street.

WHO WILL BE NEXT TO MEET WILLARD?

New York, April 7.—Which of the various contenders for the heavy-weight championship would be first to persuade Jess Willard to accept a challenge to fight for the title was the subject discussed today in New York sporting circles. A guarantee of $10,000 was offered by Billy Gibson, manager of Jim Coffey, for a ten-round bout with Willard in Madison Square Garden in May. Coffey, the Dublin star, will fight Carl Morris in a ten round bout here tomorrow night. Bob Fitzsimmons, formerly heavy-weight champion, was among those who expressed assurance at Willard's victory. "I am as glad as can be that the title has come back to the white race," he said, "I am surprised because I didn't think I had a chance in the world. Johnson may have gone back very much during the past few years. If he were half the man he was when he met Jeffries he would have pushed Willard's face all over Cuba. Willard will hold the title for a long time. He is the best of the whole flock of white hopes and there is none in sight who can beat him."

AGRICULTURAL HINTS FROM A. & M. COLLEGE

The following has been issued by the extension department of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas: Get Ready for Sudan Grass. Sudan grass, the wonderful hay crop of the South, whose drought resistant characteristics have made it the most popular forage crop in the country, should be sown some time between April 10th and 26th, according to Professor J. O. Morgan, of the Department of Agronomy at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. Dr. Morgan also believes that the best results will be obtained by sowing the grass in rows, just wide enough to allow cultivation, using about 15 to 20 pounds of seed to the acre. Professor Morgan recommends this unusual heavy seeding, because of the recent investigations of the Texas Experiment station, which have shown that thick seeding prevents the stalks from growing too rank, which will interfere with the production of hay of good quality. Silos Increasing. Over 14,000 silos are in use at the present time in Texas, states Professor J. W. Hedway of the Department of Dairy Husbandry, and the number of silos is rapidly increasing every day. The silo is no longer in its experimental stage, as it was in the stave, concrete and pit form, with the large number of silage crops now used, shows that this form of saving crops in their green, succulent stage is a working, practical success. Feeding Baby Chicks. Professor F. W. Kaxmeier of the Department of Poultry Husbandry, believes that the largest number of chicks are lost at the time when they are first being fed, especially if given feeds that are hard to digest and recommends that hard boiled eggs be fed only in limited quantities. As a much preferred substitute he advises feeding dried bread crumbs, soaked in sour milk and then pressed out thoroughly. About three ordinary sized tin pie plates of dried crumbs, prepared in this way will do nicely for a brood of 50 chicks, for the first few days, after which rolled oats in small quantities may be supplied together with grit and ground bone meal. Saving Pige. In an article that appeared last week on the subject of caring for brood hens, Professor L. H. Burke of the Department of Animal Husbandry, was misquoted in his statement of the amount of feed that should be given to the hen. The following should be the correct statement: "Immediately after the hatching, feed nothing but water during the first twenty-four hours. On the second and third days feed a small amount of light food, such as wheat bran and shorts. After the third day, gradually increase the ration to about six to eight pounds per animal, getting up to the eight pound ration from fourteen to twenty days, depending upon the condition of the animal. Care should be taken not to feed too heavy, or the animal will founder."

RESERVE FORCE FROM NATIVES OF PANAMA

Brig. General Edwards is Said to Have Such a Project Under Consideration. By Associated Press. Panama, April 7.—Plans for the organization of a large and well trained reserve force from among the natives of the Republic of Panama are being considered by Brigadier General Clarence R. Edwards, commander of the Panama Canal Troops. It is proposed that these reserves should form a part of the Panama Canal defense forces and should be trained by American officers for use in case the canal or the republic were attacked. General Edwards has had a brief conference with General Esteban Huertas, the liberator of Panama, who declared the plan entirely feasible and promised his aid in the event it was decided to establish such a native reserve force. It is said that practically all of the natives in the interior are excellent shots and would be perfectly willing to serve for a short time for little pay in the various instruction camps that would be established. General Huertas believed that probably 20,000 to 30,000 such reservists could be obtained. The native troops would be officered by young Panamanians, schooled by the American officers. It would be in the nature of a National Guard of Panama but would not supplant the present national police. General Huertas probably would be entrusted with the organization of the reserve force under the direction of General Edwards. He took part in the bloodless revolution that freed Panama from Colombian domination and made the present Republic of Panama possible. He then was in command of the Colombian troops stationed in Panama with which he joined the revolutionists. He is a trained soldier and has seen much military service in the various revolutions that Colombia had to contend with before he became a Panamanian. General Edwards has found what he believes to be an ideal camping and maneuvering ground for his troops near Aguadulce in the Province of Coclé. Aguadulce is the capital of the province and is practically surrounded by a gently rolling plain, almost enclosed by low mountains. It is plentifully supplied with water while fodder and sustenance for the troops and their pack animals may be obtained in abundance. His proposal to use these grounds created much comment in Panama City. It was rumored that this was a preliminary step of the United States in taking over the republic. This, however, was quickly dispelled when it was made plain that General Edwards was desirous only of preparing defense plans for both the Panama Canal and the Republic of Panama. It is probable that the near future one of the infantry regiments now stationed on the Canal Zone will be sent to Aguadulce for maneuvers and reconnaissance.

DECREASING REVENUES ON PANAMA RAILROAD

By Associated Press. Panama, April 7.—To avert further monthly deficits the Panama Railroad Company is planning to resume the transportation of broken and less than cargo lots across the isthmus by rail instead of carrying them by steamer through the canal. It is declared the railway is losing from $50,000 to $60,000 a month which is due to the lack of freight across the isthmus from which the railway obtains anything like paying revenue. If carried out the proposed step may eliminate the Panama Railroad Steamship line boats from using the canal, instead they will make their destination at Cristobal as before the canal was opened for traffic. The steamship line is still making money and it is stated, would continue to do so even with the loss of the through-transitman freight.

The Valve-in-Head Motor The Keystone of Buick Success. Any man in the Buick organization who has not proved himself the advantages, the merits, and the value of this company's guarantee back of each Buick valve-in-head motor car, any man who does not daily practice the policies under which these cars are built and marketed, overlooks the four following great factors to which this company can trace its success and the ever-growing demand for its motor cars: The Buick Motor Company guarantees its Valve-in-Head motor will develop and deliver more power than any other motor of the same size—American or foreign make—that's the Buick idea of power. The Buick Motor Company guarantees that every man in this great organization contributes his best effort to make and market a motor car that will at all times and under all circumstances give the owner uninterrupted use of his investment—that's the Buick idea of service. The Buick Motor Company guarantees to make all parts of its cars so carefully that every Buick car built may merit distinction as a motor car of absolute dependability—that's the Buick idea of honesty. The Buick Motor Company guarantees that its cars will be exact in all statements and to serve every Buick owner—courteously and quickly, thus insuring him the motoring pleasure he expects—that's the Buick idea of satisfaction. Just to the extent that any man in the Buick organization neglects to emphasize the worth of these guarantees, or lacks appreciation of this policy, he fails in comparison with the standard of this company's product and ideals.

CHIVALRY STILL EXISTS IN MODERN WARFARE

By Associated Press. Frankfurt, Germany, April 7.—Chivalry still persists in modern warfare, as is proved by the experience of a non-commissioned officer in a Baden regiment, who was wounded in the recent fighting at La Basse between the Germans and the British. In one of the repeated charges by which the celebrated brickyards changed hands so often, the non-commissioned officer led his squad to within fifteen yards of the British trenches, where he fell wounded by six bullets. His comrades, who were forced to fall back to their own trenches fifty yards away, tried to carry off the body of their supposed dead leader, but were unable to do so owing to the heavy fire. Twenty-four hours later the British discovered that the wounded officer was still alive and called to him to come to their trench promising him good treatment. He was unwilling to do so and instead raised himself on his elbow and called to his friends: "Come get me. I don't want to be a prisoner of the English."

The Germans shouted to the British a request for the permission to bring in the wounded man. The British promised not to shoot and two German soldiers ventured boldly out of their trenches, crossed the intervening space and carried the wounded man back, not a shot being fired and both British and Germans joining in cheers. The story is printed with approving comment in the German papers.

AUSTRIANS HALT RUSSIAN ADVANCE AT LUBKOW

By Associated Press. London, April 7.—The military situation is competing in interest today with prohibition. The cabinet met today and is expected to formulate an announcement providing drastic regulations concerning the consumption of intoxicating liquors. Total prohibition is not expected.

A conservative consideration of both the Austrian and the Russian reports leads to the belief that the Russian advance at Lubkow has been checked while they have forced the Lostock Pass and captured two villages on the southern side of the Carpathians.

The Art Literature Club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. B. Burgess, the members answering to roll call with current events. Following a few minutes business discussion, Mrs. J. J. Berry took charge of the program, the Bayview lesson being "Old California Missions." The adjournment of the club session was marked by a social half hour, musical numbers being given by Misses Elna and Lorene Mooneyham. Easter lilies and other spring blossoms were featured in the decoration of the living rooms, reminiscent of the Easterlike just past. The hostess, assisted very prettily by little Miss Lucille Rountree, served delicious sherbet and cake to the following members and guests: Misses Cora Phillips, Mooneyham, Lorene Mooneyham, Meadames Barron, Bean, Baker, Filgo, Gebhardt, Harris, Robertson, Blankenship, DeBerry, Rountree, Pridden, Hall and Pope.

TWO BIBLICAL MIRACLES EXPLAINED BY EXPLORER

Says Moses Knew of Existence of Spring and That Wind Held Back Waters

By Associated Press. Philadelphia, April 7.—Two Biblical miracles were explained in an address here today by Prof. Camden M. Coburn, explorer and archeologist, who has just returned from Egypt and Arabia.

Prof. Coburn has been conducting investigations at Kadesh-Barnea where Moses struck the rock with his rod and brought forth water. He declared that Moses knew of the presence of the spring and struck the rock with his rod to let his people know he had found water. He says there is still a small oasis there which the Arabians hold as sacred.

HAPPENINGS in the CITIES

Lives as a Hermit in Fashionable Neighborhood

OMAHA, NEB.—Just across the alley north of Dodge street and east of Thirty-fifth street is a humble little cottage in which Theodore Hardenbecker lives alone. For one score years this venerable German has maintained a residence at this location and he is the last of a colony of squatters who settled on a tract of land which was owned by Dr. G. L. Miller. Surrounded on every hand by comfortable and commodious homes, he enjoys life in the three small rooms which he calls home, sweet home.

He is a striking example of the verity of the statement that happiness may be found in the most humble of places. Mr. Hardenbecker is eighty-five years of age and happy. He reads his German papers, smokes his pipe, takes a walk every morning, has friends, cooks his own meals and expects to live to be one hundred years old. Some years ago the squatters were ordered from this tract, but this old man declined to move without first making an effort to stay. He had grown used to the little habitat which he fashioned with his own hands. Dr. G. L. Miller became interested in the man and arranged to allow him to stay as long as he lived. He pays no taxes and is sure of his home until the final summons shall come.

Mr. Hardenbecker makes picture frames for a living. He has built up a nice little business, enough to supply his few wants. He never worries and he takes a keen interest in affairs, considering his years. He believes in the old saying, "Early to bed and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise." He rises at 6 o'clock and goes to work at 7 o'clock. He goes to bed at 10 o'clock and gets up at midnight for a soothing pipe of tobacco. After his midnight communion with the pipe he goes back to sleep and is up again at six o'clock. He seldom misses a morning walk. He does all of his own housework except the laundry, which he sends out. He has no kin in this country. His wife died a few years ago. He has a daughter in Germany and the other afternoon he said that the daughter has four sons in the European war. This same daughter has seven girls.

New York Has Youngest Police Force in World

NEW YORK.—There is a unique organization in the lower East side called the Junior Police. They are more than three hundred strong, and behind the organization is every uniformed man of the precinct, with the city government in all its power and majesty looming up in the background. Some authority, as will doubtless be conceded, it is the youngest police force in the world, individually speaking, this band of enthusiastic youngsters. And it's getting results. For instance, the regular police say that since the inauguration of the venture street bonuses have been reduced in the district 98 per cent, complaints of disorderly street gatherings have been cut to less than half, street cleaning has been lightened, garbage cans kept in order, juvenile cigarette smoking made unpopular and a juvenile millennium all but inaugurated. The "boy policemen" go on patrol duty on the beats assigned to them immediately after leaving school, and pound the pavements for "sessions" varying from one to two hours a day.

They keep a sharp lookout for obstructed fire escapes on the different buildings, inspect the garbage cans, make notes of the condition of the sidewalk, keep pushcart men in line, and, in fact, do pretty much the same things that a regular policeman is expected to do in the performance of his duty. Any infringement of the rules of the force, which are largely paraphrased from the most commonly violated ordinances of the city, are called to the attention of those responsible for them, and if remedial steps are not forthcoming the matter is reported to the regular police and a "regular" sent out to force compliance. The merchants and most of the other residents of the precinct have learned that a boy policeman is not to be trifled with on matters conflicting with the laws of the city, and a simple request is usually enough to bring about the desired change. As a result the precinct is cleaner now than it has been for years, lawlessness is on the wane, and the work of the regular police reduced to a minimum.

High Benches Develop "Swingitis," New Malady

DETROIT, MICH.—An innovation of a labor-saving device in the circuit court rooms has developed a new disease, "swingitis," and court attaches fear an epidemic of nervous prostration. It all came about when the jurors complained about the difficulty in cleaning under the court benches. The auditors authorized the carpenters to place castors under the benches, so that they could be moved at will.

Then short-legged jurors and witnesses began to notice that they were "up in the air." When they sat squarely on the benches their feet zepplined simultaneously back and forth in a vain attempt to reach terra firma. The sight of many bodies swaying in unconscious rhythm and the scraping of soles on the marble floor soon proved distracting to his honor, the jury, and the occupant of the witness stand. The genial face of Judge Mandell acquired lines of care. He is a burly fat man who "sits tight" as long as he can stand it, then he grins and stands up against the wall in disgust. There you see a woman who swears a wife, then looks around to see whom she may blame for her unrest of mind and feet.

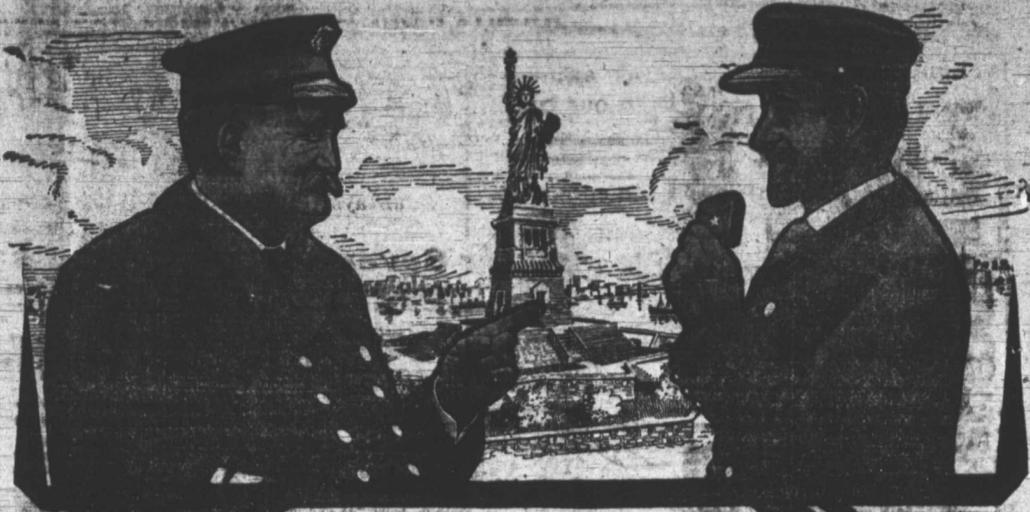

From a quiet, peaceable court Judge Mandell's room has developed into a haunt for nervous, jittery, and worried individuals. When jurors are called into this court during the suspending of a jury there is an obvious tendency for the short run to hank back at the door or to make a rush for the few chairs in the room. It is the long-legged man's paradise, however. Those who have experienced the first symptoms of "swingitis" in Judge Mandell's court are considering a strenuous protest to the auditors.

Makes a Long Prayer, Then Fights the Police

HAVERTHILL, MASS.—Police officers armed with a warrant for his arrest stood over William Petrawicz at his home on Crown place the other day, waiting for him to finish his prayers. He prayed so long and fervently that the officers decided to find out what he was praying about and an interpreter told them that he was asking forgiveness for stabbing Mary Petrawicz at a birthday celebration the night before.

The interpreter listened to the long prayer, and told the officers that Petrawicz was saying that he had meant to stab the woman, but he had been clumsy and wanted to be forgiven for his clumsiness. When Petrawicz was finally arrested he protested that he couldn't leave home because he had other prayers to offer, but he was told to make ready for a trip to the police station. Then he changed from the praying supplicant to the enraged fighter and gave battle to Inspector Hussey and Reserve Officer Murphy all the way to police headquarters.

The celebration, at which it is alleged the Petrawicz woman was stabbed with Petrawicz' knife, was one in which the entire Crown place colony participated and was followed by a general affray.

"STAR—A Good Thing To Pass Along"

Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO

WHO helped make New York one of the world's greatest ports and STAR the world's biggest selling brand of Chewing Tobacco?

Why, those jolly "sea dogs who sail the wet seas round," who have an opportunity to compare STAR with tobacco in every corner of the seven seas, and who still prefer STAR.

Perhaps STAR'S "bigness" (not in weight alone but in every way) appeals to men who love the "bigness" of the sea.

For STAR is big. Tightly compressed in its thin wrapper is three-quarters of an inch of the mellowest of extra long leaf—so thick that it won't dry out like a thin plug.

STAR isn't a 14 or 15 ounce "pound" either. Each plug is 16 full chewable ounces—a "ship shape" plug made clean and kept so. STAR is so popular that it never stays long on the dealer's shelf.

Perhaps you can realize what a big brand STAR really is by this: Last year's output of STAR plugs, placed end to end, would stretch from Liverpool, in England, to Kansas City and more than 317 miles beyond.

At The Theaters

The Lydia Margaret
The Rooney sisters, Queens of the Silver Threads, and Al Lawrence close their acts here tonight. They have offered one of the most entertaining programs seen and heard here this winter. Today's movie program includes a two-part Kalein, "The Dig," featuring Harry Warrington, featuring Ruth Roland, "The Girl Detective."

The Gem
Little Leslie and Joseph Smiley are featured in "In Her Mother's Footsteps," a two-part Lubin. Chas. Chaplin in "A Night Out" makes today "Red Letter Day" at the Gem. This is the second comedy shown in this city since Chaplin has been with Esplanade and he, with Ben Turpin, make two thousand feet of riotous fun. They start out to make a night of it and succeed admirably. After they get tangled up sufficiently and are thrown out of the cafe they start for home. When they finally get there after several nerve-racking experience Charles decides that a night out is all right, but a little bit will go a long way.

The Majestic
Today in "Master Key Day" the thirteenth of the series being shown. The scenes have shifted to India and are of rare beauty, the temple settings being the most wonderful seen in pictures for some time. The breezy between Dore and Ruth widens still more, caused by Sir Donald. The idol and the coveted plans are close at hand and success—but to tell any more would ruin the interest of the film. This installment is one of the most interesting of any yet shown. On the same program is a George Ade comedy, "The Babe of the Good People Who Rallied to the Support of the Church," and a Seltz, "The Hut in Brynmore Gap."

The Empress
Virian Martin, who makes her third appearance as a World Film star, "The Arrival of Perpetua," in the show at the Empress today, has won a remarkable reputation as a motion picture actress in a short space of time. It was in "The Wishing Ring," based upon Owen Davis' play of the same name, that she made her debut. In this charming play of English life of a past century Miss Martin easily showed the possession of histrionic gifts, which, added to the utmost daintiness of face and form, at once established her as one of the most refined and beautiful of ingenues in film-dom.

Her success in "The Wishing Ring" was followed by her appearance with Lew Friers in the World Film's "Old Dutch," in which she took the part of Violet Struband, the daughter of the old inventor, whose adventures and misfortunes are the bases of play and film. In this offering Miss Martin was pretty, look at and acted with great charm and eagerness.

"The Arrival of Perpetua" is the first production of Mona. Emile Chuslard, the new director of the World Film Corporation, who has but recently arrived from Paris to take up his new duties, and it is expected that in this photoplay she will make still further advances in popularity.

Miss Martin's experiences on the legitimate stage included appearances with Charles Wagner in "Drink," and with Andrew Mack. She was in the children's company that Chas. Barric masterpieces, "Peter Pan," "Work with W. H. Crane in "Father and the Boys," and Wallace Eddinger, "The Only Son," was followed by appearances in "Officer 66," "Stop Thief," "The Call of Youth," and "The High Cost of Loving."

Miss Martin comes of an old English acting family, and her future work in the screen world will surely be watched with greatest interest.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIANS TO BUILD AT PETROLIA
After much delay and numerous disappointments on account of unfavorable weather, and other causes, work was definitely begun on the construction of the new Cumberland Presbyterian church building Thursday, the first of April. And this is no April fool.

Robert T. Pepper is the boss carpenter in charge of the construction, and Uncle Jimmie Webb, one of the church deacons, is supervising architect.

The new church will be almost a facsimile of the Baptist church, with the exception that the tower will not be as high. The main building will be 24x46 feet, with an annex of annex 14x24 feet, and the total cost is estimated at $1,200.

It is expected to have it completed within next week. Petrolia Enterprise.

SCENE FROM "THE DISAPPEARANCE OF HARRY WARRINGTON"

Doctors Said He Had Dropsy.
Some time ago I had an attack of grippe which finally settled in my kidneys and bladder. I doctor'd with the doctors and they claimed I had dropsy. I tried other remedies and got no relief from any of them. My condition was such that I was unable to work for about two weeks and the annoying symptoms caused me a great deal of trouble and pain. I was hardly able to turn over in bed. Seeing one of your Almanacs, I decided to give Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root a trial and after taking several bottles was able to resume my work again. I cannot say too much in praise of your Swamp Root as the results in my case were truly wonderful. Yours very truly,
ROBERT BALLARD,

WHEN YOU STOP TO THINK

Have you really done all you could towards beautifying that cemetery plot of yours? We know it is the habit to neglect those things, and count a death in the family as an added burden to be thrown off as lightly as possible. Don't you think you owe it to the community in which you live to assist those who are striving with all their might to make our BURIAL GROUNDS half way beautiful. The good ladies of the Cemetery Association have labored long and unceasingly, without so much as "thank you" from good influential citizens, who have never looked at their plot since that last sad day when some one was buried. Are you a real live wire, or just a plain make believe? Go out and look the situation over, that neglected plot on the hill will answer this question for you.

Decoration Day May 30th. Are you ready?
