FRANK LOSES IN SUPREME COURT

THAT TRIBUNAL DENIES HIS APPEAL

ONLY RECOURSE NOW IS APPEAL TO PRISON AUTHORITIES FOR COMMUTATION

TWO JUDGES DISSENTED

Highest Court Holds That Frank Enjoyed All His Legal Rights at Trial

By Associated Press. Washington, April 19.—Leo M. Frank, under a death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan, an Atlanta factory girl, lost another step in his fight for life in the supreme court of the United States today, in a decision to which Justice Holmes and Hughes dissented. The court dismissed Frank's appeal from the federal district court of Georgia which refused to release him on a writ of habeas corpus.

Frank contends that alleged mob violence at his trial and the fact that he was absent when the verdict was read had removed him from the jurisdiction of the courts of Georgia. The majority opinion of the supreme court rejected all these contentions and declared that Frank had enjoyed all his legal rights in the Georgia courts. Apparently no other recourse is open to Frank through the courts. The state officials might release him from the death penalty however.

COMMUTATION OF SENTENCE WILL BE ASKED FOR FRANK

By Associated Press. Atlanta, April 19.—Leo M. Frank's attorneys, when informed of the decision today of the United States Supreme Court said they believed every means in Frank's behalf before the court had been exhausted. They added that they now probably would prepare a petition for presentation before the Georgia prison commission, asking for commutation of Frank's sentence to life imprisonment.

"I am very much disappointed over the decision and I will still keep up the fight," said Leo M. Frank when informed that his habeas corpus suit had gone against him. He refused to add to this statement.

FRANK'S CONVICTION AND FIGHT FOR NEW TRIAL

By Associated Press. Washington, April 19.—Leo M. Frank's legal fight for life has taken place among the celebrated murder cases of recent years. Seven times since his conviction in August, 1913, the lower and supreme courts of the State of Georgia refused to grant Frank a new trial or set aside the verdict; three times the sentence of death was passed upon him and twice appeals were made to the United States Supreme Court, the first being unsuccessful and the second resulting in the decision today.

The murder of fourteen-year-old Mary Phagan, a factory employe of Atlanta, Ga., which at first appeared to be a crime of only local importance, eventually developed into a case of national-wide interest. This was due in large part to the efforts of Frank and his friends to obtain for him a new trial or annulment of the verdict. Added interest in Atlanta was given the case because of its having been brought into a municipal controversy, which involved attacks on that city's police and detective departments and rancorous factional feuds in the city administration.

Soon after the trial ended, the case came in for agitation which spread all over the country.

Mary Phagan was murdered April 25, 1913, on a Southern holiday in observance of Confederate Memorial Day. Shortly after noon of that day she was seen to enter the pencil factory, in Atlanta, where she had been employed and where she went to obtain wages due her. Her body was found next morning in the basement of the factory, with a cord tied about her neck.

Frank Arrested. Leo M. Frank, a young Jew, a college graduate and married, whose home had been in Brooklyn, N. Y., was superintendent of the pencil factory. Three days after the murder, Frank was arrested on suspicion and on May 5, Frank and a negro watchman at the factory, New Lee, were held by the coroner for the grand jury's action. Leo subsequently was released. Sixteen days later "Jim" Conley, a negro sweeper at the factory made a confession to the police in which he accused Frank of having killed the Phagan girl, and declared he had helped dispose of the body. Conley, who was one of the chief witnesses for the state at Frank's trial, was convicted as an accessory after the murder in February, 1914, and sentenced to one year's imprisonment. He began his term last July.

Frank was placed on trial in Superior Court, July 28, 1913, L. S. Ross, presiding. Judge Ross March 23, 1915, in New York. A verdict of guilty was returned August 25, Frank being sentenced to death. In his statement to the jury at the close of his trial Frank said he had seen Mary Phagan in his office in the factory, a few minutes before the time the state contended she was murdered; that he paid the girl her wages and that she left his office. The theory of the defense had been that Conley, who was about the building when the girl entered, and who had been drinking, at-lacked and killed the girl after she left Frank's office.

Asks New Trial. In October, 1913, Frank's attorneys filed a motion for a new trial, alleging 103 errors in admission of testimony and conduct of the trial, and also charging that demonstration by the crowd within and outside the court room during the trial had interfered with a fair verdict. Judge Ross denied the motion and the Georgia Supreme Court affirmed his action February 17, 1914. A motion for rehearing of the appeal was denied by the State Supreme Court two weeks later.

An extraordinary motion for a new trial and a motion to set aside the verdict were filed simultaneously in superior court April 16, 1914. Among the grounds alleged in the motion for a new trial was that of newly discovered evidence. The motion set aside the verdict was based on the ground that Frank's constitutional rights had been violated by the trial court. His attorneys alleged that Frank had not been given a fair trial because of the "spirit of mob violence that pervaded the court room," and also that his constitutional rights had been violated because Frank and his attorneys had been absent from the court room, without Frank's consent, when the verdict was returned. This absence, it was claimed, was at the request of the presiding judge who was quoted as saying he feared mob violence against Frank and his lawyers if a verdict of acquittal were returned.

To U. S. Supreme Court. The extraordinary motion for a new trial was denied by the superior court May 6, and the decision was affirmed by the state supreme court October 14. The superior court on June 6, 1914, dismissed the motion to set aside the verdict on constitutional grounds, by sustaining the state's demurrer to the motion. The supreme court affirmed this action November 14, 1914, and six days afterward the supreme court refused to certify a writ of error to the United States Supreme Court.

To review that action, application was made first to Justice Lamar, then to Justice Holmes and finally to the entire Supreme Court of the United States. For a writ of error. All held that the decision of the Georgia Supreme Court could not be reviewed because its action was based on the grounds of procedure, namely, that the plea for setting aside the verdict should have been advanced at the time the motions for new trial were made.

Application was made December 19 to Judge Newman of the Federal Court for Northern Georgia, for a writ of habeas corpus, alleging that Frank had been convicted without due process of law; that the trial court had lost jurisdiction over him during the trial because it was "dominated by a mob hostile to the prisoner," and that Frank had been absent from the court room when the verdict was returned. Two days later Judge Newman refused the writ of habeas corpus, holding that to grant it would mean that a Federal Court should review the action of the State Courts in a manner not warranted by the law of the country, and that, too, after the Supreme Court of the United States had decided no Federal question remained for consideration in the case. Judge Newman also refused to issue a certificate of "probable cause" for appeal to the Supreme Court, but it was issued by Justice Lamar December 28, and the case came to the Supreme Court for review of Judge Newman's action, argument being made last February.

GERMANS CAPTURE ROLLAND GARROS

FAMOUS AND INTREPID FRENCH AIRMAN CAPTURED AT INGLE-MUNSTER, BELGIUM

HOLDER OF MANY RECORDS

Only Few Days Ago he Captured Two German Airmen Single-handed

By Associated Press. Berlin, April 19.—An announcement of the progress of hostilities given out today by German headquarters relates that Lieutenant Rolland Garros, the famous French aviator, has been made a prisoner by the Germans at Inglemünster, Belgium.

The exploits of Lieutenant Garros have made him a prominent figure in aviation circles throughout the world. He has appeared all over the United States. He once flew in Dallas. Since the beginning of the war Garros has been among the most intrepid and daring of the French military airmen. His latest exploit was at Dunkirk three days ago when he shot down an aeroplane and captured the aviator and the observer.

Garros was born of French parents at Cape Town, Union of South Africa in 1888. He is a graduate of University of Paris and for a time practiced his profession in the French capital. Among the aviation records made by Garros were: his flight made on Dec. 11, 1912, when he ascended to a height of 19,032 feet and established a world's altitude record; his flight from Tunis to Sicily in December, 1912, when he traveled 160 miles entirely over water, and his flight across the Mediterranean sea from St. Raphael to Diarea, this latter feat was accomplished in 7 hours and 53 minutes, in which time he traveled 558 miles.

DUNDEE MAN FATALLY HURT TRAINING COLT

Roy Capps Dies From Injuries Received When He Was Thrown From Cart

Special to The Times. Dundee, Texas, April 19.—Roy Capps, aged twenty-three, died Saturday morning as a result of injuries sustained in a runaway late Friday evening. Mr. Capps had a young colt trying him out, when the colt became frightened and commenced to run. The young man in trying to calm the horse was thrown out backwards, and cart having no back, and was unconscious when picked up. He was taken to a nearby drug store and regained consciousness soon and was thought to have been but little injured. Saturday morning he became unconscious again and died within a short time. The doctors give a ruptured blood vessel as the cause of his death. The accident occurred in the town near Friday evening. Deceased was unmarried and one of the most prominent young business men in the community.

SPY SCARES FREQUENT AT THE CANAL ZONE

Panama.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Since the beginning of the European war there has been a number of spy scares at the Canal Zone which have caused the canal authorities considerable annoyance. Only recently a report was circulated that an aeroplane had been seen flying over the locks and fortifications at Pedro Miguel and Miraflores.

All of these reports are instantly investigated both by the military and canal zone police authorities, and thus far have proven without foundation. The "aeroplane" over the locks was found to have been a fire-ballooning which furnished the moving light and a small motor boat in the canal which aided the illusion of an aeroplane engine in flight.

C. F. EBERT FOUND DYING ACID BOTTLE NEARBY

Man Heard Groaning in Attic of Hotel On Lee Street—Too Far Gone For Aid

C. F. Ebert, aged 34, was found dying in a hotel on Lee street late Sunday evening, with a bottle containing a small amount of carbolic acid near him. Justice of the Peace Howard held an inquest finding that death was due to poison taken with suicidal intent. Ebert went to the attic of the hotel and other rooms there heard him groaning; he was nearly dead when found and the end came within a few minutes. Little is known of Ebert's family, which is understood to live in Illinois. His wife lives here but testified that they separated about a year ago and that Ebert formerly worked in a saw mill in East Texas. It appears he had not been employed since coming to this city. The body is being held by the Wichita Falls Undertaking Company pending advice from relatives.

FRANCE TO BUILD 100,000 TWO ROOM HOUSES

London.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—It is announced that lumbermen in British Columbia have been asked to bid on a contract for 500,000,000 feet of lumber to be used in constructing 100,000 two-room houses in Northern France. The houses are to be built at government expense for those whose property was destroyed by war.

BANK CASHIER AT ELECTRA HELD UP

MASKED BANDIT SECURED $100 FROM A. N. TRESSE SATURDAY NIGHT

ROBBER WORE A DISGUISE

"Give Me All Money You've Got," He Commanded, When He Found Cashier Alone

Walking into the First National Bank at Electra and covering A. N. Tresse, the cashier, with a revolver, a robber late Saturday night secured $100 in currency and made a successful getaway. The affair was not reported to the sheriff's department until today. Mr. Tresse was alone in the bank, working on the books when the man entered, pointed a revolver at Mr. Tresse and said "Give me all the money you've got." Mr. Tresse had just $100 with him and he handed that over. The man backed out of the bank and was gone. The robbery took place between 8 and 8:30 o'clock.

The robber wore a raincoat and had a rag over his face, making an effective disguise. The Electra bank remains open late on Saturdays and had the robbery occurred much sooner it is probable the vault would have not been closed. Officers are at work on the case today.

BARNES' SUIT AGAINST ROOSEVELT ON TRIAL

Barnes Attorneys Accept Twelve Jurors—Roosevelt's Examination Begins

By Associated Press. Syracuse, New York, April 19.—"Twelve men selected to counsel for William Barnes in his suit for alleged libel against Theodore Roosevelt taking $50,000 damages were selected here today, during the opening session of the suit in the state supreme court. Col. Roosevelt's lawyers expected to begin their examination of the prospective jurors at the afternoon session of the court.

Mr. Barnes and Col. Roosevelt sat at adjoining tables but neither paid much attention to the other. The room was crowded to the doors and outside there was a great crowd. Examination of talesmen in the special panel of 75 called for the case began as soon as the court was opened this morning.

COTTON CONFERENCE IS APPROVED BY WEINERT

State Warehouse Commissioner Says Association Headed by Kemp Fills Need

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, April 19.—F. C. Weinert, state warehouse manager, today wired J. A. Kemp of Wichita Falls, president of the Texas Cotton Conference assuring him of the co-operation of the warehouse commission in the effort to finance the cotton crop. This commission today issued an appeal to the farmers and stockmen of Texas to stand by this permanent warehouse law.

Kemp Receives Telegram. Mr. Weinert's telegram was received by Mr. Kemp here this morning. It follows: "An association of yourself and associates to finance the cotton crop of Texas will insure the success of the cooperative marketing association of Texas. Production, preparation and financing are three essential foundations. Your organization, composed of prominent business men, supplies the missing link in our law. I assure you of hearty co-operation and best wishes as a member. The warehouse receipts as prescribed in the permanent warehouse law meets all requirements and are acceptable as collateral by the Texas Bankers Association, the Emergency Currency Association and regional banks.

F. C. WEINERT, State Warehouse Commissioner.

HEAD OF GREAT NEWS AGENCY ENDS OWN LIFE

Death of Wife Causes Baron de Reuters to Send Bullet Through Brain

By Associated Press. London, April 19.—Baron Herbert de Reuters, directing manager of the Reuters Telegraph Co., was found dead yesterday at his home near Regent's Park. A discharged revolver was found near his body and the authorities declare there is little doubt he committed suicide. Baron Reuters was prostrated by the death of his wife last Thursday. Her body was still in the home awaiting interment. Their only son is in the army.

GOOD RAIN FALLS IN THIS SECTION

PRECIPITATION HERE MORE THAN INCH—CROP PROSPECTS EXCELLENT

CANADIAN BRIDGE IS OUT

Southbound Passenger Train Deterred Via Tucumcari Over the Rock Island

Considerably over an inch of rain fell here Sunday afternoon and Sunday night and was also reported from all points on the Denver between Childress and Fort Worth and also at all points on the Wichita Valley. It also extended well into Southern Oklahoma and appears to have been general over a wide section of Texas and Oklahoma.

At Tucumcari, on the Denver, twenty-three tons of the bridge over the Canadian river went out Sunday and all southbound trains on the Denver are many hours late. The train due here at two o'clock this morning did not go through until after noon today, as a detour over the Rock Island by way of Tucumcari is necessary.

Considerable lightning and some hail accompanied the rain in this vicinity, but a damage was done by either, so far as learned. The government gauge shows 1.45 inches yesterday afternoon and last night while George Simons' measurement shows 1.14 inches for the same period. There was about half an inch of rain Saturday. Streets and gutters were flooded during the heaviest part of the rain and large pools of water were in evidence at points where the drainage was poor. On the paved streets the storm sewers were unable to carry away the flood of water and large pools formed in the gutters.

The rain will be of immense benefit to the growing wheat crop although wheat in this county was not as much in need of wet weather as in some other parts of Northwest Texas.

FERGUSON SAYS LABOR COMING TO ITS OWN

Governor Delivers Address at Opening Session of State Federation

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, April 19.—With an attendance of about 300 delegates the State Federation of Labor opened its eighteenth annual convention here today, the meeting being held in the hall of the house of representatives.

Governor Ferguson delivered a brief address in which he said that the time had arrived when labor is to be reckoned with as the most important factor in this country. The governor urged the co-operation of the federation in the administration of state affairs and welcomed the delegates to his office and to confer with him. He predicted that if the labor leaders would follow the golden rule prosperity would continue to follow as in the past.

TEXAS FEDERATION OF LABOR OPENS MEETING AT AUSTIN

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, April 19.—The Texas Federation of Labor was scheduled to begin a four day session in this city beginning today. Matters of interest to labor generally were to be considered during the meeting. Governor Ferguson has promised to address the association during the meetings.

SESSION OF FEDERAL COURT OPENS AT OKLAHOMA CITY

By Associated Press. Oklahoma City, April 19.—Federal court of the Western District of Oklahoma, scheduled to begin a month's sitting here today, had a heavy docket before it. The calendar contains fifty four cases, some of them important. A number of criminal cases applied to alleged violation of the Mann-White Slave Act.

IRISH LADS AND TIGERS PLAY 11 INNING TIE

Tigers Pull Off Triple Play That Prevented Their Losing the Game

An eleven inning tie, 3 to 3, resulted in Sunday afternoon's game between the Irish Lads and the Tigers at the City Park. The feature of the game was a triple play by the Tigers. With the bases full and none out, Monroe Huey knocked a hot liner to was third. All the runners started at the crack of the bat and when Powell, playing third base for the Tigers, pulled the drive down, all were well off the bases. Powell touched third base, making a double out, then threw to first in time to complete the triple. The club of ball exhibited yesterday indicates some interesting games in the Twilight League series which will open tomorrow.

OKLAHOMA GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION MEETS TODAY

By Associated Press. Oklahoma City, April 19.—The Oklahoma Good Roads Association held a business meeting here today for the announced purpose of "coming together in one statewide organization all bodies, organizations, officers and individuals interested in good roads in every section of the state." Several hundred persons were expected to participate in the session.

OFFENSIVE IN FRANCE GIVEN UP

THIS IS INFERRED IN LONDON BY LATEST MOVEMENTS OF ALLIES

NOW CONCENTRATING IN EAST

Swiss Authorities Stop Shipment of American Machine Guns into German Territory

By Associated Press. London, April 19.—Abandonment by the German general staff of plans for a general offensive in France is inferred in Rome, according to information received here. It is said this opinion is indicated by official communications to the Italian cabinet as well as by statements by German official circles, and that hope of penetration further into French territory has been set aside.

A dispatch from Geneva gives the impression that the Austrians and Germans have decided to concentrate their energies on the eastern campaign. It is said that at a council of war presided over by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg it was determined to transfer the Austrian heavy artillery now before Verdun to Poland and to send back to Craow and western Galicia the Hungarian cavalry now on the western front.

Whether negotiations from Rome and Vienna concerning Italy's demands for territorial concessions have been broken off remains for the moment an official secret, but it appears to be agreed that the tension is approaching the breaking point. It is suggested here that the Italian government is awaiting an ultimatum from Vienna on the subject of Italian military preparations along the frontier as a pretext to cover the remaining ties barring an outbreak of hostilities.

The alertness with which every move diplomatically or otherwise is now followed in London indicates the high importance attached here to the efforts to bring Italy to the fighting line. One of the main reasons advanced for this desire to include Italy in the war is that it is possible to close effectively the door through which supplies are still reaching the Teutonic allies in considerable amounts. A case in point is the exportation by the Swiss authorities, at the request of Geneva today, of various kinds of machinery and other manufactures which will go on the way to Germany from Geneva. Shipments of copper, antimony and sulphate have been reaching Germany with a fair degree of regularity. It is asserted today that a sudden embargo has been placed at Come on a train load of these commodities and that Italy and Roumania have taken joint action in refusing supplies for the civilian population in Austria to go through.

IMPROVEMENT EXPECTED IN THE OIL INDUSTRY

Stocks in Oklahoma Field Being Reduced and Prices of Refined Products Going Up

The price of gasoline has been raised in this city from 10c to 12c, and it is predicted that a further raise will be made within a few days. No definite explanation has been given for this action other than the fact that the surplus of crude oil has been reduced to an extent that justifies the controlling companies to take this action and it is likely that further increases in the price of the refined product will be made as this supply of crude oil is exhausted.

It will be remembered that several months ago general operations were suspended in the different oil fields on account of the fact that the price of the crude product did not justify further activities. It is explained that this time has been gradually reduced until now conditions are deemed such as to justify an attempt to restore normal prices and conditions, especially as affecting the refined product.

A prominent oil man, in conversation with a "Times" representative Saturday, gave it as his opinion that there would be a renewed activity in the various oil fields within a very short time as a result of this reduction in the surplus of the crude product and the prospect for an increased demand throughout the country.

This gentleman explained that even now it was estimated that there was a surplus of 5,000,000 barrels in the Oklahoma fields alone, but that this amount would be fast consumed and that in the event of a culmination of the European war, such supplies would last but a very short time.

Discussing the question further this gentleman called attention to the fact that such matters were regulated by the controlling companies to meet current conditions and he was very optimistic in his prediction that noticeable improvement would very soon be evident in all lines of business affected by the oil industry.

Teaching Uncle Sam's WARDS

IN SPITE of the marked improvement in conditions which has been wrought in the Philippines under the beneficent reign of Uncle Sam, instructing the natives of the islands in the three R's is not an easy job. According to Morton I. Nelson, of Detroit, Mich., Mr. Nelson's conclusions were reached as the result of personal knowledge. For three years he and Mrs. Nelson taught the brown people of our far East possession, only recently returning to Detroit to make their home. Their stay in the island was not of sufficient length to give them perspective, while both were able to accurately gauge conditions in the line of endeavor with which they were identified. That great good is being accomplished both agree. Incalculable benefits are being conferred on the natives by the educational system instituted by the United States, and the enlightenment of the masses through this medium is the lesson which will eventually dispel the ignorance and discontent bred by long years of Spanish oppression, and fit the people for an even greater measure of self-government than they now enjoy. But the man or the woman who goes to the Philippines as a teacher with the idea that it is going to be a perpetual holiday stands a splendid chance of being disillusioned before the task has been fairly undertaken. Not because the work is so hard, but from the fact that the awful loneliness gets on the nerves after a time and causes mental depression that sometimes leads to demoralizing excesses. Americans Degenerate.

First place we had our home. Again, with the exception of the first year, when I was a teacher, I acted in a supervisory capacity. This kept me moving around the province, but with rare exceptions I managed to spend the nights at home. When I was unmoored in one of those little villages, I could appreciate the loneliness of the one who was compelled to spend all his time there, and I felt genuinely sorry for them. There isn't any way of bettering conditions for a long time to come, so far as I can see. For many years there will be isolated villages where the people require instruction. What the government is bending its energies to accomplish is the fitting of a sufficient number of native teachers so that there will be little or no demand for American instructors, save in a supervisory capacity. But it will take years to accomplish this, in spite of the rapidly with which the natives familiarize themselves with the English language, and the eagerness of great numbers to qualify as teachers. There is a reason for this rush of applicants for positions as instructors—a potent one, although, of course, other considerations figure. Your Filipino as a rule detests manual labor. As a teacher he can wear good clothes and keep his hands soft—and that is a great inducement. The salary paid a native teacher in the primary grades runs from ten to fifteen dollars a month—not a princely sum as we understand it, but when the native mode of life is taken into account, it is found that in the end the native teacher is just as well off financially as the American instructor who receives several times as much. Besides, it enables the native to preserve his caste—which is about all a lot of them have to hang on to. This

GREAT PREACHER'S LAST DAY

Closing Hours of George Whitefield's Mortal Life Passed Amid Beautiful Surroundings.

Two hundred years ago the great evangelist, George Whitefield, was born in Gloucester, England. Four years after graduating from Oxford University, in 1736, he came to New England. On the 24th day of September, 1770, the immortal Whitefield visited Kitter, N. H., and preached his last sermon, the eighteen thousandth, and partook of his last dinner at the home of Colonel Giffman on Upper Front street—built in 1736. The out-of-door religious services must have been sublime beyond the power of language. It was the threshold of fall; the fields were still fragrant with clover, and glorified with the splendid goldenrod. The foliage on the incomparable elms had begun to assume a Madeira wine tinge, and the earth was rich in the glory that none could pass by. The day was brilliant with clear air and sunshine. It is said that the lightning flashes of Whitefield's eloquence were never written, and could never be repeated. Gilded with a daring fancy, full of pathos, he moved his hearers at will with every emotion of which human nature is susceptible. A multitude of people collected from all the neighboring towns. Among the citizens of Kitter stood John Phillips, in purple shirt, knee-breeches with silver buckles, and socked hat in hand. The waiting crowd stood spellbound under the monumental trees on beautiful Front street, and over all was the infinite peace of a cloudless sky. With the sunset of that rare day the curtain of time was about to ring down for George Whitefield. After a sermon lasting two hours he rode to Newburyport, where at the hour of midnight the veil of immortality was lifted and the great soul passed out to a further life.

WONDERFUL ENGINES OF WAR

Marvelous Are the Devices That Are Being Employed by the Operating Armies.

The Germans have adopted several ingenious devices to cope with problems not foreseen at the start of the war, such as armored cars, motorcycloes, quick-firing guns on motorcycles, canal gunboats, and other similar inventions. A wonderful stereo-telescope produced by the famous firm of Zeiss serves for inclusion. Every battery of German artillery is provided with one. It is a remarkable instrument, which can be used behind cover out of sight of the enemy. The outstanding features are two long slender arms rather like the antennae of an insect. Though absolutely invisible at a very short distance, the antennae can give the hidden operator a very extensive view. To insure the accuracy of the guns, the Germans have an air-gun appliance which pushes the bomb out from the back of the aeroplane with the same velocity as that at which the aeroplane is flying, thus doing away with the curve with which the bomb would fall if merely dropped by hand. Quite a number of German aeroplanes are fitted with wireless apparatus capable of transmitting messages a distance of 30 miles, but another ingenious method of signaling is to blow off a powder chalk through the engine exhaust. The Krupp illuminating projectile is a shell containing two magnesium bodies, filled with paraffin, so that at night-time it illuminates the ground over which it hangs for a few minutes.

Dressings for Soldiers' Wounds.

The demand for dressing materials—that is, materials for dressing wounds—is reported as immense in Europe, and Kroeck, a German military surgeon, is quoted by the Medical Record as prophesying that in this war the unexpectated will reach 50 per cent of the actual combatants. Economies are being practiced in dressing the wounds of soldiers, small wounds being fixed up with a little mull and a patch of adhesive plaster instead of a wad of cotton and long strips of bandage. Fading material is being used by the surgeons generally only for fractures. Roller bandages are being used as seldom and as sparingly as possible. Plaster of paris dressings for gunshot fractures are being used as one of the economies in the military hospitals.

ON ROAD NEAR MANILA. sists during their stay in the Philippines. Whatever views they may have entertained regarding the usefulness of motor cars as a means of rapid transit, your notions when you see what isolation has done in these cases. At home conventions place a certain restraint about a man that he is bound to respect. Association with others of his kind bows him up, even though he may be naturally weak. But take a man of this type and drop him down in a little Philippine village, perhaps many miles from the nearest white, where there is nothing to do once the school has closed for the day, and everybody goes to bed at dark except during the time when the moon is full, and it is not hard to understand why he sneezes all the Scotch whisky he can lay his hands on, and rightly pays court to a half quart of more, that he may forget his loneliness, and that he speedily slips down the moral scale. The awful solitude of such an existence must be experienced before one is in a position to understand just what it means. After you have had a taste of it you wonder that the excesses practiced by some of these fellows, who have left home and friends and society behind and plunged into a wilderness populated by strange people, are not more serious, and marvel at the self-restraint they display. Of course, not all the men who go to the islands as teachers turn out that way. Many lead exemplary lives; but the temptations are there just the same, and it takes a lot of moral stamina for a single chap to maintain the standards that would pass muster at home. "I was fortunately situated. In the also an inheritance from the Spaniards, perpetuated in part by the Britishers who are encountered in Manila and all through the islands. They are a splendid class, but they cling to the traditions of home, and are outspoken in their criticism of what the United States is doing for the natives. Shattered Casts Horrifics British. To them everything is progressing backward. They are accustomed to ruling with a mailed fist, and because Americans handle the Filipinos with some consideration, instead of wielding a big stick, they figure that the islands are headed straight for the howlers. "Fancy an Englishman stripping off his coat and perhaps his shirt, and performing manual labor alongside a class of Filipinos in order that they might be shown how it could be accomplished more advantageously. Not in a million years would such a spectacle be witnessed, because caste prevents. Yet that is what the American teachers do, and they win the regard of the natives as they could in no other way. "This matter of caste is pretty much of a joke to one unaccustomed to it. Nowhere else did I find it better exemplified than in Singapore, while I was on my way home. I was desirous of visiting the botanical gardens, and stepped into a little shop to ascertain the direction and the rate of fare. There are two classes of rickshaws in every town—first and second. You can tell them apart, for the first-class carry a sign to that effect, although they are identical otherwise with the second-class, and are driven by men it would be impossible to distinguish one from the other."

At The Theaters

The Empress. Robert Edeson is featured in a Paramount Special, "The Call of the North" the popular legitimate actor who scored a remarkable success in two continents is at his best in this drama of the far north. He is ably assisted by a cast of stars. Clara Kimball Young will be seen in "Hearts in Exile," a World's Favorite Wednesday following which the Wednesday features will be Paramounts, the Empress putting on the regular Paramount twice-a-week service.

The Gem. Harry Millard, Anna Nilsson and John Machin are featured in "The Jury Room," a Kalem two part drama of intense interest. A Biograph drama, "A Stray Shot," and a Hearst-Selig Pictorial, showing actual war scenes, completes the program.

The Majestic. "A Fool There Was," a picturization of Kipling's famous poem, "The Vampire," opens a two days' engagement today. This sensational play, one of the most successful of the century, and for many years the starring vehicle of Robert Hilliard, has been converted into a superbly vivid and startling photo-play by the William Fox forces.

Edward Jose, former leading man with Sarah Bernhardt, portrays in a masterly manner the "Fool" who forsakes family and friends for a soulless sensual creature in the guise of a beautiful woman. Theda Bara, leading woman at the Theatre Antoine, Paris, has been cast as the "Vampire," one of the most fascinating, though revolting female characters ever created. Miss Bara's interpretation is remarkable for intense dramatic realism, while her wonderfully seductive beauty serves to enhance the illusion created by her art. Her gowns in this production were designed by the the leading customers of her wardrobe. Mabel Freese, Victor Densel, May Albon, Clifford Aron, and little Rina Hodges, the child actress, together with many other players of reputation are ably aided in supporting company such as has seldom been gathered for a single production. DEAF NOTES BEGIN TWO DAYS MEETING. By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, April 18.—The Lone Star Association of the Deaf began a two days meeting in Austin today. Many well known state officials were to attend the sessions. Exhibitions were the feature of today's program. Tomorrow a barbecue and baseball game was part of the planned entertainment program.

Our Silences. What silences we keep year after year. With those who are most near to us and dear: We live beside each other day by day, and speak of myriad things, but seldom say the full sweet word that lies within our reach. Beneath the common ground of common speech.

Then out of sight and out of reach they go. These dear familiar friends that loved us so. And, sitting in the shadows they have left. Alone, with loneliness and sore bereft. We think with vain regret of some kind word, That once we might have said and they have heard. —James Russell Lowell.

W. F. WOMAN HONORED BY MOTHERS' CONGRESS

The honor of being president of the First District of the Texas Congress of Mothers was conferred upon Mrs. J. W. Lee of this city, president of the Austin Mothers Club, at the convention closing Saturday at Stephenville. Mrs. A. E. Watters of Fort Worth for five years president of the First District, has been elected first vice president of the state at large.

Mrs. Lee and the other delegates have returned from the convention and report a most enthusiastic and interesting meeting. The district is composed of ninety counties, all of which were represented and the delegates characterized the entertainment given them by the citizens of Stephenville as "first class." Reports were made by all of the school representatives on the work done by the schools and special measures were recommended.

Mrs. Watters urged the importance of appointing of all committees and showed their value. Fort Worth public school kindergartens and twenty-five girls in training for that work in Fort Worth was noted. Mrs. John Dooley of Fort Worth championed social center work and showed that on October 20, last there were 124 parents at schools as visitors. Mrs. Jewell Rawley in her address urged the convention by saying that Fort Worth "is the coming city of the South when it comes to attractiveness. We are cleaning all the lots and covering unsightly buildings with vines." Mrs. C. C. Hess of Jacksonville explained how the women there had obtained through the city council a drinking fountain on the square. Mrs. J. V. Brewer of Fort Worth said that the club there had received 600 essays from seventh grade pupils on the effects of alcohol and in that way the cause was winning.

Dr. W. A. Davis of Austin said that he was preparing a set of charts for a ten days' course in medicine and hygiene and when completed this chart would be free for the asking, save expense.

Prof. Henry Sims, of Stephenville, gave an address on teaching, the care of the grounds and the sacredness of the use of the public school funds. Resolutions were adopted approving health in school rooms, the health bill which failed passage, a careful birth registration, condemning the social evil, urging better baby campaigns, disapproving sports, etc.

YOUNG LADIES GUILD MEETS SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The Young Women's Guild of the Episcopal Church met Saturday afternoon in regular session at the rectory. Following the devotional exercises which opened the meeting, a business discussion was held and the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to work on the altar linen. The Guild will meet next Saturday at the rectory.

REGULAR MEETING OF JUST SO CLUB SATURDAY

Mrs. Floyd Billingsley was hostess to the Just So Club Saturday afternoon. The usual sewing was in order, there being, however, only a few members present on account of the showers of the afternoon. A short business session was held and the hostess served delicious nut cream and pineapple cake. Mrs. Evans was a guest. The club members present being Misses Adah Anderson, Florence Barrier, Hazel Jones, Virginia Andrews and Mrs. Billingsley. Mrs. Fred Sehman will be hostess next Saturday.

Mrs. S. A. Hancock left Sunday for a visit with her parents in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Ade Evans and children of Fort Smith, Ark., are the guests of Mrs. Evans' sisters, Mrs. P. Kleinman and Mrs. L. Cohen at Kemp Court.

Mrs. J. A. Cavanaugh left this afternoon for Dallas where she will visit.

WILL RECOMMEND $10,000 FOR THE TEXAS EXHIBIT

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, April 18.—While Governor Ferguson vetoed the bill passed at the last regular session of the legislature carrying an appropriation of $10,000 to gather and maintain an exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition by the State of Texas, he has announced that he will recommend to the coming special session that $10,000 be appropriated for that purpose. He thinks the latter amount will be sufficient and would have it made available immediately. Meanwhile plans for gathering the exhibit continue under the supervision of Mrs. O. B. Colquitt, wife of the former governor.

Suitable Trimmings for Lingerie

EVEN the least expensive of the new undermuslins have been designed with trimmings of narrow, dainty laces and medallions that appear fine enough for handwork. Big, showy patterns prove less attractive to the shopper than more quiet and unobtrusive ones.

The pretty combination which is shown in the illustration gives here an inexpensive, but well-made garment. The bodice is laid in a few narrow tucks at the front and back. At the top a row of insertion is joined to a narrow lace edging by means of a fine beading. The insertion terminates at the shoulders, but the beading and edging extend all around the top and form the strap over the shoulders. This makes opportunity for a narrow ribbon or crocheted cord by which the garment is adjusted to the figure.

Across the front four small medallions are set in, each one a small floral pattern in machine-made embroidery and open work which is very much like handwork in appearance. These are enclosed in set-in scalloped insertion.

The pants are joined to the body with a strong, narrow heading and finished at the bottom with edging put on, with scant fullness. With narrow laces in dainty patterns used, and much more attention given to workmanship than has been given them heretofore, these undergarments in sheer materials and practical designs are a great help to busy women with little time for sewing. NO GERMAN EVEN DREAMS OF DEFEAT

AMERICAN BANKER RETURNED FROM BERLIN SAYS GERMANS CAN'T BE STARVED

PRICES ONLY LITTLE HIGHER

Unemployment Almost Non-existent and Resources and Men in Exhaustible

London.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—An American banker who has just returned from Berlin, talked with a party of English newspapermen on his arrival in London. He gave them rather a different idea of the state of affairs in Berlin than that conveyed by most of the English newspaper comment. He said:

"You English should not be deceived by newspaper statements reaching you from various Continental points to the effect that Germany is on the brink of starvation. I have just closed my house in the fashionable residential part of Berlin. My household budget was not more than twenty-five per cent higher on March 10 than it was a year ago. Various staple articles of food cost more—do they do in London—but hardly one is beyond the reach of the ordinary middle-class householder, or even of the humbler classes. Everybody must have a bread ticket, and there is no shortage of bread. My family of four and two servants never used the whole of our tickets for the week. The potato flour bread is only slightly less palatable than the old-time wheaten loaf.

Defeat Not Dreamed Of. "At present no German is capable even of dreaming of the possibility of defeat.

"I find also a vast amount of foolish misapprehension in England about industrial conditions in Germany. Trade does not seem to me to have been materially dislocated. The shops appear to have their regular flow of customers. The coffee houses, the restaurants, the theatres, the concert halls, the picture palaces, and other establishments dependent on public patronage seem to be doing as well as eight months ago. The coffee houses which have cabarets are always crammed.

"It is generally understood here that Germany is at the moment short of artisan labor. Unemployment is almost non-existent. Wages are high. A skilled man who used to get only $1 or $1.25 a day can now earn $2.50 or $3. Everything connected with the output of German ships is working at its most capacity day and night. Sundays and holidays, without cessation. New factories have sprung up like mushrooms to produce goods heretofore imported into Germany.

"Furniture to Straggle. "A German friend of mine who used to make furniture and found his business temporarily shelved by the war is now making shrapnel employing women and girls in place of the men who have gone to the front.

"It is also wrong to conclude, as I sometimes read in the English newspapers, that Germany is now near the verge of her resources that boys of fifteen are being dragged into the army. Nothing of the sort. A German friend of my acquaintance, a fine athletic fellow of eighteen, has not been summoned, although he is ready to volunteer. They do not need him. "In short, to the casual observer, there is no outward sign that Germany is on the verge of a famine or other misadventure, misfortune or money. The plentifulness of money is almost the only bluff that Germany is putting up. The money so plentifully in circulation is paper currency of value as low as 25 cents, flowing from the Imperial treasury like water. "The Germans' judgment, thanks to far-sighted precautionary measures and natural frugality, can never be starved into surrender. They can be inconvenienced—they are new but that is a different thing."

The people of the county should not allow some recent happenings to interfere with getting a new court house.

The rain of yesterday and last night amounted to 1.95 inches and it is not necessary, perhaps, to add that it is worth a great deal to wheat and other crops.

Speaking about news, that man Huerta certainly has an abundance of that article and to spare. It is bad enough for citizens of the United States to criticize our president and his official acts.

New York State is soon to vote on an equal suffrage amendment, and one of the leading papers of New York City is sending out post cards to women in order to determine how they stand on the matter.

Progress in trade continues, and the improvement, as a whole, is of striking proportions. Nothing in the commercial situation evincing the remarkable revival of activity on the Stock Exchange.

Apart from a large contract placed by the Russian government for wax split sheets, conditions in footwear show little change. Nearly all manufacturers have sufficient business on hand to keep their plants running.

Activity in export trade still continues with limited domestic buying in iron and steel. There has been a marked expansion in the foreign demand during recent weeks.

FRY'S BOND FIXED AT $1,000 EACH IN 10 CASES

Parties Expected From Graham This Afternoon to Provide Bond—Cases Not Set

Bond of $1000 in each of ten felony cases was fixed by the 78th district court this morning for E. W. Fry, the former county judge of Young county who was acquitted of murder, with three other defendants on Saturday. It was expected this bond would be furnished this afternoon or as soon as some parties from Graham reach the city.

Judge Fry is still here and will probably remain until the felony cases are tried. These cases have not yet been set, as District Attorney Leslie Humphrey is busy in district court at Henrietta and the setting will depend largely upon when he is able to return.

FIESTA WEEK CELEBRATION BEGINS AT SAN ANTONIO

Associated Press. San Antonio, Texas, April 19.—Celebration of "Fiesta Week" under the auspices of the Fiesta San Jacinto Association began here today. Street parades, the battle of flowers and the Queen's Ball were the principal features of the week, according to the published program.

Market Reports

Fort Worth Livestock.

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, April 19.—Cattle receipts 3200, steady; hogs $6 to $7.50. Hog receipts 1300, steady; bulk $7.25 to $7.50. Sheep receipts 5,900, steady; lambs $8.50 to $10.

Kansas City Cash Grain.

By Associated Press. Kansas City, April 19.—Wheat No. 3 hard 1.56 to 1.57; No. 2 red 1.55 to 1.55 1/2; Corn No. 2 mixed 77; Oats No. 2 white 57 to 57 1/2.

New York Cotton Futures.

By Associated Press. New York, April 19.—Relatively easy cables and reports of beneficial rains in the southwest inspired considerable realizing in the cotton market early today and the opening was two to seven points net higher. The market grew firmer with prices making new high records on all deliveries on reports of an improved demand for spot cotton in the South. Coverings continued full support. December contracts sold 10 to 11 cents with the general list ruling about 7 to 12 points net higher shortly after midday. The close was firm. May 10 1/2; July 10 1/2; Oct. 10 1/2; Dec. 11; Jan. 11 1/2.

Chicago Grain Futures.

By Associated Press. Chicago, April 19.—Active general buying carried wheat prices up with a rush. On the high free selling, on reports of an improved demand, sharp rally followed. The market was extremely nervous. Trading in corn showed a much larger volume than has recently been the case. The opening which varied from 3-8 to 1 cent up was succeeded by some additional upturn. Oats rose with other cereals. Selling pressure was light. Corn and wheat closed heavy. Wheat closing: May 1.63 3/4; July 1.37 7/8; Sept. 1.24 1/2; Corn May 77 1/4; July 75 1/4; Sept. 76 5/8; Oats, May 57 3/4; July 56 7/8; Sept. 55 1/2 to 7/8.

Long Retain Evil Qualities.

The exceedingly minute organism that causes infantile paralysis, identified by Dr. Simon Flexner of the Rockefeller Institute, has survived and retained its poisonous qualities for more than a year in cultures kept by Doctor Flexner, Doctor Noguch, and Dr. Harold I. Amoss. The Journal of Experimental Medicine says that inoculations of cultures into monkeys which fail to produce paralysis may fall also to induce resistance or immunity. The virus contained in infected nervous tissues also fails to produce immunity. The experiments prove more strongly that the organism in monkeys is the same as that which produces poliomyelitis in children.

REVIVAL BEGINS AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Large Congregation Heard Dr. C. B. Miller at Opening Service Yesterday

The meetings at the First Baptist church commenced yesterday, Dr. C. B. Miller of Kansas City holding services both morning and evening. An unusually large attendance featured the morning service but on account of the rain the attendance on the evening worship was small. In the morning Dr. Miller spoke on "The Greatest Need of the Hour." This need Dr. Miller embodied in an appeal for the manifestation of Christ in the daily life of the church member.

Dr. Miller is an unusually forceful speaker and makes a deep impression on his hearers and much is expected from these meetings. The subject at the evening hour was "The Freedom of a Christian."

Services will continue through the week at 8 o'clock and after Wednesday-day services will be held time to be announced later. The singer, Carson Taylor of Fort Worth, is expected to arrive Thursday to take charge of the music.

STRIKERS IN CHICAGO ASK FOR MEDIATION

Chicago, April 19.—Efforts to settle strikes and lockout in Chicago which have thrown 125,000 wage earners out of the building trades out of employment, were continued today. John A. Metz, president of the carpenters' district council, said that his organization was willing to arbitrate. Leo J. Wintzke, chairman of the men's office of arbitration, announced that arbitration plans will be submitted to the striking carpenters and their employers on Monday.

All of the union carpenters who have not been called on strike or locked out by their employers have been in the building trades out of work for the time they are working in order to swell the strike benefit fund.

SOUTH AUSTRALIAN ELECTIONS LABOR PARTY VICTORY

By Associated Press. Sydney, Australia, April 19.—The South Australian elections this month resulted in a Labor victory. Premier Peake was defeated. A referendum vote on the liquor question resulted in favor of closing bar-rooms at 6 p. m. instead of 11.

14-INCH GUNS IN POSITION AT THE PANAMA CANAL

Panama.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Two of the 14-inch guns for the defense of the canal on the Pacific side have just been placed in position. These are the two big guns which were carried on the deck of the Abcon when, flying the peace flag, the steamer made the first complete official trip through the canal. Carriages for the cannon were received only a short time ago and have just been set in the emplacement on the top of Naos Island.

The emplacement for the monster 14-inch gun has been ready for some time and the arrival of the gun is now awaited. This will be set on the top of Little Perico Island which is the center of the three fortified islands at the Pacific end.

Agent Hodge of the North Texas Gas Company has returned from a trip to towns served by his company down the Denton.

HE KNEW ABOUT THE TWINS

One day President Cleveland sent for John Barrett, now director of the bureau of American republics, and said:

Mr. Barrett, I am looking for some young man who is not afraid of hard work, and who wants to make a reputation for himself, to go as minister to Siam, to settle the claim of Dr. M. A. Cheek involving several million dollars, and also involving some delicate matters in connection with the interpretation of our treaties with oriental countries. This particular case is one of the most important we now have in the Orient. Will you accept the position as minister to Siam? But first, what do you know about Siam?

Mr. Barrett couldn't remember whether Siam was in Asia or Africa, but a little thing like this didn't bother him, so he said: "Mr. President, I know all about Siam."

"Well, what do you know about Siam?" said Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Barrett was stumped for a second, and then said: "Why, Siam is the country that produced the famous Siamese twins."

Mr. Cleveland, with a twinkle in his eye, arose gravely and said, as he shook hands with Mr. Barrett: "Mr. Barrett, I am happy, indeed, to get hold of a man with such profound knowledge and abundant information about Siam. As a matter of fact, I am glad you know nothing about it, as you will not be prejudiced one way or the other in regard to the questions to be settled there."

Mr. Barrett went to Siam, where he stayed for four years. At the time of his appointment he was twenty-six years old, and was the youngest minister plenipotentiary that the United States had ever appointed.

$120,000 DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST DENVER ON TRIAL

Dr. G. R. Yantle Suing For Heavy Damages For Personal Injuries Here

The case of Dr. G. R. Yantle vs. the Fort Worth & Denver for $120,000 damages for alleged injuries sustained when a banana peel on the platform of a Denver car caused him to fall, causing his petition asserts, serious and permanent injuries, was called in the 78th district court at 1:30 this afternoon and the taking of testimony will probably begin late today.

The plaintiff was brought into the court room, prone on an invalid's chair with an attendant. He is represented in the case by Cox & Fitzgerald and Hughes & Boone. J. H. Barwise, Jr., of Fort Worth and E. R. Ryan, Montgomery & Britain of this city are representing the railroad. The amount involved is the largest ever asked in a damage suit filed in this county.

LIVING COST CONTINUES TO ADVANCE IN LONDON

London.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The cost of living continues to advance slowly in London. Prices of most of the commodities of last week of March reached a point higher than at any time in twenty-five years. The wholesale prices of all grades of beef, mutton, pork and veal showed on the quotation board a range of one to fifteen per cent above the high water mark of all records since 1890. "Not a butcher in London is making a profit today," declared one of the trade journals.

Gas and electricity have gone up about ten per cent, and all the London laundries $11 add ten per cent to the total amount of each customer's bill after April 25. This is necessary, they assert, because of increased prices of coal.

GERMANY WOULD KEEP TERRITORY OF BELGIUM

Dr. Dernberg Says Peace Terms Must Give Sea Outlet and Free Commerce

Portland, Maine, April 19.—A letter from Dr. Bernhard Dernberg, former colonial secretary of the German empire, was read at a mass meeting here at which the German side of the European war was set forth.

Dr. Dernberg laid stress on the German fight for an open sea and asserted that the advantages accruing to Germany could be disregarded if all the other German demands for an open sea were fully complied with in making peace and the natural commercial relations of Belgium to Germany were considered in a just and workable form.

Would Neutralize Seas
Dr. Dernberg's letter in part follows: "I can with full authority disclaim any ambition for my country for world dominion. She is much too modest on the one hand and too experienced on the other not to know that such a state will never be tolerated by the rest. The aim of Germany is to have the seas as wide as the straits kept permanently open for the free use of all nations in times of war as well as in times of peace. I would go so far as to neutralize all the seas and narrow permanently by a common and effective agreement guaranteed by all the powers. A free sea is useless except when combined with freedom of cable and mail communication. I should like to see all the cables jointly owned by the interested nations and a world mail system overseas re-established by common consent.

Territory Not Wanted
"Germany does not strive for territorial aggrandisement in Europe; she does not believe in conquering and subjugating unwilling nations. Belgium commands the main outlet of German western trade, is the natural forland of the empire and has been conquered with untold sacrifice of blood and treasure. It offers to German trade the only outlet to an open sea and has been politically established, maintained and defended by England in order to keep the natural advantages from Germany.

OLD SPANISH METHOD OF HOLDING RIFLES ADOPTED
London.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The old Spanish method of holding the rifle overhead in firing from a trench so as to endanger only the hands of the firer, a method which has caused foreign observers to ridicule the fighting of Spanish-American armies which made the fire of the insurgents so ineffective in the Philippine war, has been adopted by the British army. But it is not the haphazard fire, for the aiming is done by periscopes.

BLOCKADE OF GERMANY

DECLARED EFFECTIVE

British Official Says Cotton Being Kept Out of Germany Most Effectively

London, April 18.—That cotton is being kept out of Germany and Austria just as effectively as if it were declared absolute contraband, is the tenor of a reply addressed to Attorney General Simon in a conference of chemists and engineers who raised the question whether the action taken by the government was sufficient to make it certain that no cotton reaches those countries. In his letter the attorney general says:

"The attorney general ventures to suggest that those for whom you write may be under some misapprehension either as to the law of contraband or as to the steps which in fact are being taken under the order in council of March 31. The steps which are being taken under authority of that order in council have been extremely effective in stopping cotton from reaching Germany and the declaration of cotton as contraband would not alter the result in the very least so far as preventing cotton reaching Germany is concerned."

"If an article is declared to be absolute contraband, it can be stopped from going to a German port and can be stopped even from going to an adjoining neutral port. If it is in course of transit through that neutral port to an enemy country, these are exactly the circumstances in which under the order in council of March 31 any article can be stopped whether it is contraband or not, and of course, this order in council is being put into force in all proper cases."

"To imagine that since that date anything can be gained so far as stopping the entrance of cotton into Germany is concerned by calling it contraband is in effect to suppose that blockade is rendered more effective if you add that specified contraband articles will not be allowed to break that blockade. A blockade stops all articles whether they are contraband or not and therefore any additional rulings would not have any practical consequences."

"What is true of Germany of course is equally true of Austria. Your memorialists will no doubt readily believe that there may be good reasons of quite a different kind for not making cotton contraband which would thereby be created but as a practical matter in the present war any stoppage of cotton by calling it contraband is actually secured by the order in council."

SPECIAL RECRUITING EFFORTS IN ENGLAND

London.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—From April 11 to April 15 the recruiting agents of the Greater London are to make a special appeal for additional men for the nation's new armies. Patriotic demonstrations will be held daily in every metropolitan district and the number of enlistments already arranged exceeds 1,500.

Similar "recruiting fortnights" have been held or are to be held shortly in all the larger cities throughout Great Britain. The "mass-meetings" will be held in parks, public squares, halls and some from motes arranged after the manner of an American election campaign. There will be bands or file-and-drum corps for most of the larger meetings, and the orators will be representatives of all three great political parties.

The official notice of the plan for the London fortnight says: "It is felt that notwithstanding the large numbers of patriotic Londoners who have already joined the army or navy, there are many more who may desire to join the colors, including men who were and are willing, but who were prevented by good and sufficient reasons, which no longer apply with equal force, from enlisting in the early days of the war; men who at the outset offered their services, but were rejected owing to their ability to fulfill certain conditions which have since been altered; and others who would give their services but for the erroneous idea that if they called now they will be too late to be of effective use before the end of the war. In Lord Kitchener's words: 'The 'old-time men still' will be needed until the enemy has been finally crushed."

BAD WRECK NEAR GRANDFIELD LAST FRIDAY Last Tuesday while running at a high rate of speed in order to reach Grandfield siding before the passenger train arrived, the southbound local freight was wrecked three miles west of town. Fourteen cars were torn into splinters. One of the cars contained four fine race horses, but only one was injured. Two car loads of eggs were in the wreck, but not more than a case in the whole lot was broken. Traffic was delayed about eighteen hours, the track being cleared at noon Wednesday. The morning trains transferred passengers and mail at the scene of the wreck—Grandfield Enterprise.

Guessing vs. Knowing If I were selling nails or glass, or pills or shoes or garden seeds, or honey from the bee—whatever line of goods were mine, I'd study up that special line and know its history. If I were selling shoes I'd sense the fact that, on gooseberry trees good leather doesn't grow, that shoe pegs do not grow like oats, that cowhide doesn't come from goats—such things I'd surely know. If I were selling books, I'd know a Shakespeare from an Edgar Poe, a Carlyle from a Pope, and I would know Fitzgerald's rhymes from Laura Libbey's brand of crimes, or Lillian Russell's dope. If I were a grocer man, I'd open now and then a can to see what stuff is held, 'twere better than to write in wax and make reply, "I didn't know," when some mad patron yelled. I hate to hear a merchant say: "I think that this is splendid hay, I guess it's first class tea." He ought to KNOW how good things are, if he would sell his silk or tar or other things to me. Oh knowledge is the stuff that wins, the man without it soon begins to get his trade in kinks. No matter where a fellow goes, he's valued for the things he knows, not for the things he thinks.—Walter Mason. WE ROAST COFFEE EVERY DAY Bert Bean Coffee House Telephone 35 824 Indiana
