GERMANS RETREATING IN BALTIC PROVINCE--MANY SUBMARINE VICTIMS

ITALIANS ADVANCE OVER WIDE FRONT

TAKE AN IMPORTANT POSITION NORTH OF TRIESTE AFTER FIGHTING

RUSSIA SENDS REINFORCEMENTS

Reported in Central Galicia But Austro-Germans Claim Their Advance Continues

By Associated Press. London, June 10.—A German tactical retreat in the Baltic province in Russia is indicated by the official statement today from Berlin. It is said the Russians brought up reinforcements in the district south of Shavil and that the wing of the German forces which had been attempting an encircling movement east of the Dubaya river was withdrawn. Fresh Russian forces have been brought up also in Galicia to the south of Lemberg where the principal Austro-German effort is now being directed. The Berlin announcement says the attacks of the Russians were repulsed.

War reports from Paris and Berlin show that a series of sporadic engagements is in progress in several sections of the front. On each side minor successes have been won. The French attack south of Arras which won for the allies a long section of the German trenches near Hebuterne apparently is not being followed up, none of the fighting in this region being reported. The Italian force operating in Trent has made a further advance. The Austrians destroyed and evacuated the fortress of Robert. Three Austrian aeroplanes raided the Serbian arsenal at Trabuyevatz, dropping bombs which killed three persons and wounded ten. One of the Austrian aeroplanes is said to have been brought down. Capture of Austrian town of Monsalcone is announced in an official communication from Rome. General Cadorna, an Italian chief of staff reports that the town was occupied after desperate fighting along the Jaonez River. Monsalcone lies three miles east of the river and about an equal distance north of the Gulf of Trieste. It is sixteen miles northwest of the city of Trieste against which the Italian advance is being made. Possession of Monsalcone would be of strategic importance to the Italians, particularly as that point is connected with Trieste by railway. The latest mention of the town in an official Austrian dispatches was made in an Italian attack in that vicinity which failed.

At various points along the Isonzo sharp fighting has occurred and several successes for the Italians are announced but it is conceded that the Austrians still hold dominating positions along the north or right bank of the river. Italian forces still are making northward over the Trent frontier but thus far the engagements have been little more than tactical skirmishes.

Uninterrupted successes for the Austrians and Germans in Galicia are claimed in Vienna. It is said the advance south of the Dniester is continuing. In central Galicia the Russians apparently are resisting the advance with more success.

MR. SULLIVAN'S CONDITION NOT SO FAVORABLE

R. J. Sullivan, Katy superintendent who was injured Tuesday in a railroad motor car accident, spent a very bad night and his condition this morning was not considered so favorable. He showed some improvement this morning, but his condition is quite critical. Dr. S. Webb Jr., chief surgeon of the Katy, arrived late Wednesday, coming up from Henrietta in a motor car; he found that local physicians had done everything possible.

RIVER ENCROACHES ON SOUTH BANK

APPARENTLY IS CUTTING NEW CHANNEL FROM BURNETT TO SCOTT AVENUE

TRAINS ARE RUNNING AGAIN

Most of Flood Back Water Has Run Off--Other Conditions Improving

The 1915 floods at Wichita Falls were very largely a matter of history when the sun rose this morning. The river was back within its banks, though not in its old channel, and Holiday creek was nearly within its normal limits. Less than a score of families were still homeless, those including a few near Holiday creek and a dozen or more in the East Lake vicinity.

SMALL HOUSES FLOAT AWAY

Arlington Heights and North Fort Worth Cut Off From Main Part of City

LEVEE BREAKS IN TWO PLACES AND LOWLANDS ARE UNDER WATER

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, June 10.—Fort Worth is facing the most serious flood situation in its history. The levee broke in two places last night flooding the city in two directions. Arlington Heights and North Fort Worth are cut off, many street cars being marooned. Houses were swept downstream at this morning, most of them being small negro shacks from the lowlands. The only means of communication between the main part of the city and North Fort Worth where the packing plants are located is by a railroad bridge. The Kanter baseball park is under four feet of water. The big power plant at the dam which furnishes power for cities 100 miles in two directions is out of commission this morning and it will be necessary to get electric power from Waco. Water is spurting through two big breaks in the levee but the river has begun to fall some.

VENICE BOMBARDED BY AUSTRIAN AEROPLANES

Airship Station Center of Attack But Not Damaged--One Person Was Killed

By Associated Press. Venice, June 10.—One person was killed and several wounded by bombs dropped this morning from two Austrian aeroplanes. Historic buildings suffered. When the hostile aircraft approached the populace fled to St. Marks square apparently they were concerned chiefly lest damage be done to the famous basilica, the rebuilt Campanile and the Palace of the Doges. No bombs fell in this district, however. The two aeroplanes at once became the center of fire from anti aircraft guns stationed around Venice. One machine gave out and was put to flight. It is believed it was damaged. The other three down about one dozen bombs aimed principally at the airship station outside the city. None struck the hanger. Other bombs fell in the canal and on the Grand Canal. The windows of the hotel Monaco, were broken by one missile while another crashed through a roof and fell into a bed but did not explode.

TURKEY'S NAVAL OFFICERS HAVE BEEN IN QUARREL

Rupture Reported Between Admiral Soucon and Captain Von Mueller of Sultan Selim

By Associated Press. London, June 10.—There has been a rupture between Admiral Soucon, commander of the Turco-German fleet and Captain Von Mueller of the Sultan Selim (formerly the German cruiser, Goeben), according to Constantinople advices received at Athens. Captain Von Mueller is reported to have been relieved of his command in the charge that he was responsible for the irreparable damage done to the Sultan Selim.

DEVASTATING HAIL SWEEP STRIP TO NORTHEASTWARD

Hail Sunday afternoon covering a strip of country about seven miles wide extending from a few miles east of Wichita Falls in a northeasterly direction for many miles—how many has not been learned—completely devastated the wheat and oats crops, killed many chickens and birds and broke windows in many houses, according to J. C. Hopkins who lives in the path of the hail storm, sixteen miles east of the city. Mr. Hopkins was in the city yesterday with his son, G. T. Hopkins and W. M. Carmichael.

ITALIAN DIRIGIBLE DESTROYED IN ATTACK

Believed Crew Have Been Saved and Taken Prisoners By the Austrians

By Associated Press. Rome, June 10.—An Italian dirigible which made an attack on Plunne, an Austrian seaport yesterday, caught fire and was lost. The crew was believed to have been saved and taken prisoners.

FLOOD IS SERIOUS AT FORT WORTH

NOTE TO GERMANY NOT AN ULTIMATUM

U. S. EXPECTS GERMANY TO CEASE HER ATTACKS UPON AMERICAN CITIZENS

STATEMENT BY MR. BRYAN

Former Secretary Will Issue Another Statement When Note is Published

By Associated Press. Washington, June 10.—Former Secretary Bryan is preparing another statement of his attitude on the situation between the United States and Germany which he intends to issue for publication with the appearance of the text of the American note in tomorrow morning's papers. It became known today that just before the note was forwarded to Berlin it was shown to Mr. Bryan by Secretary Lansing at the personal direction of President Wilson. Some slight changes had been made and the president wanted Mr. Bryan to see it in its final form.

THOUSANDS OF FEET OF RAILROAD TRACK OUT

Little Wichita Ups to Top of Telephone Poles--News Butch Does Thriving Business

Wichitans who arrived yesterday from Henrietta after being detained there for several days by the high water, say that Wichita county was not in the running with Clay when it came to floods. The Little Wichita was up to the top of telephone poles in places, they say, and thousands of feet of railroad track was washed away on both the Fort Worth & Denver and the Katy. Some of the folks who were marooned at Henrietta were amusing themselves yesterday by buying candy and fruit from the butch for the children of an immigrant family which was waiting there. There were about twelve of these children and by the time the eldest was reached the candy and fruit were all gone; the butch had nothing left except a small box of patent pills. There were given to the oldest child, a girl and she ate twelve of them. A number of those who were stopped at Henrietta returned to Fort Worth and came in by way of the Texas & Pacific and Wichita valley, arriving sooner than those who waited at Henrietta.

Berlin, June 10, via London.—The Galician town of Stanislaw has been captured by the Austrians, according to an official statement here today. Stanislaw is 75 miles southeast of Lemberg.

London, June 10.—Unofficial dispatches from Geneva say that the Russians have won a victory in eastern Galicia, checking the Austro-Germans along the Dniester. This statement however, is not born out by advices from Petrograd.

Paris, June 10.—The Havas agency has received a dispatch from Madrid which says it is officially announced there that an epidemic of cholera has broken out in Vienna.

London, June 10.—Official announcement was made by Secretary of Admiralty Balfour that a German submarine had been sunk and six of her officers and 21 members of her crew captured. Mr. Balfour announced that prisoners would be given the same treatment accorded other German prisoners.

London, June 10.—Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons that the total of British casualties from the beginning of the war to May 31 was 258,069. Of this number 50,242 had been killed, 153,980 wounded and 53,747 missing.

Paris, June 10.—A Havas dispatch from Athens says that the allies have resumed the offensive at several points on the Gallipoli peninsula. A squadron is protecting the landing of fresh troops at Seddoo Bahr while a ceaseless bombardment is being conducted against the inner forts.

London, June 10.—It is reported that the Lady Salisbury was torpedoed without warning and that she sank in five minutes. Fifteen of her crew of eighteen were saved.

GERMANS CLAIM RIGHT TO SINK ANY AMERICAN SHIP CARRYING CONTRABAND

By Associated Press: Washington, June 10.—Germany's latest note to the United States on the sinking of the American sailing ship, William P. Frye, by the Prinz Eitel Frederick in March, makes the far reaching claim of a right to destroy any American vessel carrying contraband, while agreeing to pay damage for the act.

Two points made by the United States are rejected by Germany. One was the statement of the American government in its note of April 28th, that prize court proceedings meant unnecessary delay, all matters concerned being susceptible of prompt settlement through diplomatic channels. The other was that the destruction of the Frye was unquestionably a violation of the obligations imposed upon the imperial German government under existing treaty stipulations between the United States and Prussia.

Under the Prussian American treaty of 1828 the binding force of which admitted by Germany in its note of April 5th, the right of citizens of either country to ship arms and ammunition in their own vessels was granted in times of war but each party had the right to detain such contraband and make payment for it if confiscated. The note from Germany enlarges on the treaty of 1828 by claiming that while the treaty did not specifically permit the destruction of vessels, nevertheless, if its contraband could not be stopped in any other way, "it could, in extreme cases, be effected by the destruction of contraband and ship carrying it."

International law outside of treaty stipulations has contained many a moot case on this point. While the Declaration of London established finally that in case of military necessity, a ship whose cargo was more than half contraband could be destroyed after passengers and crew were removed, that declaration was not ratified by the United States express notice having been given again by the American government to Germany in the note of April 28th that the declaration was not regarded as in force.

MARCONI'S DEVICE OF VALUE TO ITALIANS

Enables Military Authorities to Intercept Wireless Messages of the Austrians

By Associated Press. Paris, June 10.—A report issued by the Italian naval staff shows that Austrian wireless messages are intercepted regularly by the Italians, says a special dispatch from Rome. The Italians have been enabled to obtain much information which is of great value to the military by the use of a new device by Guglielmo Marconi. The device is said to make it impossible for the Austrians to intercept Italian messages.

GERMANS RETREATING IN BALTIC PROVINCES

The statement says that the German wing southwest of Shavil has withdrawn to the south toward the Beisagola-Cogne line.

YEGGMEN WRECK SAFE AT SHAMBURGER YARD

Small Sum of Money and a Number of Papers of No Value to Robbers Taken

Less than ten dollars in cash and notes to the value of about $2000 was the booty secured by yeggs, who Wednesday night blew open the safe of the C. D. Shamburger Lumber Company in the factory district. Dynamite was used and the safe was wrecked, while considerable damage was done to the office. All desks in the office were ransacked, but the total loss was small, as the stolen notes were on record and can be collected. William Martin, one of the employees, discovered the robbery when he came down this morning to open the office. The door of the safe was jammed, but he managed to force the door open with a door wedge, through a door and into another room. Some of the office furniture was wrecked and contents of desks were scattered everywhere. Officers were notified and are at work on the case.

There was a small amount of money in the safe, eight or ten dollars, and this is gone. Notes, cancelled checks and similar papers of no value to anyone else are missing; $5 package of stamps was not molested.

The Shamburger yard is in a rather remote part of the city, with no houses very near the office, so that the robbers were able to work uninterrupted. Mr. Shamburger announced this afternoon that he would give a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the parties who blew open the safe and took the papers.

still have been adequately handled, as owners of a number of downtown buildings informed Captain Robb of the Salvation Army that their places were available if necessary.

Cables Holding Wreckage.
The Huey house at the foot of Austin street was moved to a place of safety yesterday. It was thought that the building would break in two, as half of it was overhanging the steep bank, but it was pulled back on to safe ground some yards further south.

Men were at work today repairing the damaged places in the wood block pavement and the city street forces have practically cleaned up the damage that was wrought to the graded streets. The total amount of damage to streets, considering the amount of water that was on them, is very small.

Practically all of the small industrial plants which were in the flood district have resumed operations, their losses being very small.

STATE SUPERVISION WORKS SUCCESSFULLY
Berlin.—The state's supervision of the agricultural resources of the country has been brought to a high state of perfection during the past few months. Questions of credits, supplies, labor and marketing have all received attention. In fact, every effort has been made to adapt the country to the new conditions.

—Much effort was needed to transform the organization of credit which so powerfully supports German agrarian interests, in accordance with the requirements of war.

One of the acute difficulties was since the importation of nitrates and guano had ceased. The problem has been in general solved by the use of products in which use is made of the store of nitrogen in the air. In this, as in other respects, Germany hopes in the future to be self-supporting.

The labor difficulty was also a serious problem. A special organization was formed to supply labor saving agricultural machinery to farmers, and it is stated that 200,000 laborers are to be brought from the devastated districts of Poland. Prisoners of war will also be used; there are over a million prisoners in the various camps of Germany and Austria, and more and more of them are being used as farm laborers.

In many places they may be seen in their varied uniforms at work in the fields. The women also, have been mobilized for agricultural labor.

FIRST ROOMING HOUSE TRIAL AN ACQUITTAL
The first of the downtown rooming house cases was tried in the county court Tuesday, resulting in an acquittal. The state was able to establish that there had been improper proceedings at the rooming house in question, but did not convince the jury that the proprietress had knowledge of it.

Other cases of a similar nature are to be tried this week, another being on trial yesterday. Assistant County Attorney Lavenport is conducting the prosecution.

THE LOWRIE PASS FEUD

By ELLEN MARIE CLIFFORD.

(Copyright, 1915, by W. G. Chapman.)

"I am coming to your house to lick you, Thursday night, June 11," wrote Budd Nyevers to his "rival and enemy," Wharton Lind.

Here was the situation: At Lowrie Pass the better class of the ranch community had centered. Two miles down the river the settlement called Paynters had been slow to meet the advance guard of civilization. When young Wharton Lind had come to angry words with Budd, the Wharton family, discerning trouble, had moved over to Lowrie.

It was the sister of Wharton Lind who received the warning challenge. She opened it and read it, and her proud handsome face flashed and her eyes took a somber determined look to their depths.

Wharton had been away at college up to a year previous. He was brave as a lion, but he had not acquired the sturdy strength that comes with outdoor ranch life. On the contrary, Helena had gained the bronze, the hardened muscles, the health-glowing face of a true northwestern prairie girl.

It was a moonless night and the house was wrapped in darkness, except where a broad stream of radiance reflected across the grass from a lamp in the unattended sitting room. He made out a figure leaning against one of the posts clad in buckskin garb and wearing the shadowing sombrero of the district.

"I'm Budd Paynter," announced the visitor brusquely. "Ready for business?"

In reply his waiting adversary nodded and led the way to a clear level spot fifty feet away. Then began the battle.

Budd "sailed in," over-confident in his opinion of his superiority over a tenderfoot. Then he set on guard. There had come half a dozen quick blows that dazed him. As his opponent grappled, he felt himself lifted featherlike and flung ten feet away, landing with a shock.

"You've won," he acknowledged, and then with true frontier chivalry advanced with outstretched hand.

Budd changed the anticipated grip to a clasp. His recent opponent had suddenly staggered and had he not reached out would have fallen to the ground. Budd half lifted, half dragged, his inanimate burden towards the house.

"Hey, there!" he hailed as he came within the radius of the light, "young Lind has overdone himself, though he whipped me, mind you, and fair and square. Thunder!"

For the first moment Budd Paynter saw the face of his opponent. The hat had fallen off, the light streamed directly across Helena.

Across one cheek was an abrasion. Her lower lip was slightly cut and bleeding.

"I hit you!" gasped Budd—"a woman! I did that! Say, I could ery over it! Lady, I shall never forgive myself!"

As he could indeed have wept over his rough handiwork, he could have kissed those trembling lips. As Helena roused up in her usual strong womanly way, she directed one brief stinging rebuke.

It was to upbraid him for his idle, useless ways. Because her brother was ill, because he would have met the challenge even at that disadvantage, she had assumed his part, she told Budd, and he hung his head in shame. Then he went from her presence, for the first time in his life with lowered head and awakened conscience.

Then strange things began to happen. At Paynters the old chums of Budd began to marvel at a sudden somber change that had come over him.

A month later, two days before the announced wedding of Wharton Lind, there appeared at the Lind home the subject of considerable thought and interest to Helena—the new Budd Paynter.

"I've come from the boys down home, Miss Lind," announced Budd shyly, but very polite, though embarrassed. "They've authorized me to do the usual thing when a friend like Miss Willis steps off," and he produced a neat case containing a handsome bracelet.

"Why, this is truly charming," declared Helena, and she invited the caller in. Then when he went away she accompanied him to the road. There Budd halted, fumbling his hat seriously. He stole a glance at her proud handsome face.

"PREACH THE WORD" IS EVANGELISTS' THEME

Rev. Nelson Pointed Dangers of Preaching Differently From Teachings

An increased audience was present last night at the open air meeting to hear the sermon delivered by Evangelist J. B. Nelson. Mr. Nelson's subject was "Paul's charge to Timothy." He emphasized the point that the young preacher was solemnly charged to "preach the word." 2 Tim. 4:1. To preach the word is to preach the truth and to preach the truth is to preach the gospel, Col. 1:3; Eph. 1:13. He impressed on the audience how dangerous it is for a preacher to preach differently from what the Apostles preached. In Gal. 1:10 we are told that neither man nor angel can preach any more than what was revealed to the Apostles, if so, they will be cursed, he said.

The speaker told his hearers how the Apostle declared that he had not shunned to declare the whole counsel of God, and how he had preached a full and complete gospel, Acts. 20:27.

Then strange things began to happen. At Paynters the old chums of Budd began to marvel at a sudden somber change that had come over him.

A month later, two days before the announced wedding of Wharton Lind, there appeared at the Lind home the subject of considerable thought and interest to Helena—the new Budd Paynter.

"I've come from the boys down home, Miss Lind," announced Budd shyly, but very polite, though embarrassed. "They've authorized me to do the usual thing when a friend like Miss Willis steps off," and he produced a neat case containing a handsome bracelet.

"Why, this is truly charming," declared Helena, and she invited the caller in. Then when he went away she accompanied him to the road. There Budd halted, fumbling his hat seriously. He stole a glance at her proud handsome face.

"Miss Lind," he blurted out, "I'm a better man than I was when I first met you."

"You deserve credit," said Helena, and she flushed a trifle.

"You can make me still better," he continued, "and only you, Miss Lind, if I could call here once in a while—"

His face glowed with hope. His spirits rose high, and he faced the deepening twilight bursting into a happy song that echoed like a glad-some cheer.

The Wichita State Bank. The Guaranty Fund Bank.

SOLICITS YOUR BUSINESS AND OFFERS SAFETY FIRST.

SAFETY FIRST is our principle and the GUARANTY FUND LAW your protection. It means that your money deposited in this bank is absolutely safeguarded.

It is one of the best things we have to offer together with COURTEOUS TREATMENT and every accommodation consistent with conservative banking.

Below is a newspaper clipping showing how this GUARANTY FUND LAW WORKS and how you are protected.

We will soon be the only bank in town operating under this Guaranty Fund Law.

Newspaper comment:
The Wichita Daily Times says:
A few days ago there was a bank failure at Amarillo. It was a state guarantee bank, however, and the depositors will not lose one cent. The state guaranty fund has in it $961,000, and the closing of the Amarillo bank will take from it the sum of $59,000 with which to pay the protected depositors. The more we see of this law the better we like it. Every depositor who trusts his hard-earned money to a bank should be protected to the limit, and that is what has been done in every instance where a bank operating under this law has failed or closed its doors.

And the El Paso Times says:
According to a statement made by Receiver Arnold, depositors of the defunct Arizona Bank and Trust Company will receive 75 per cent when its affairs are finally wound up. The first dividend of 50 per cent will be paid on May 4, it is said.

The patrons of the Texas bank will get their money promptly. The patrons of the Arizona bank will only get 75 per cent and will have to wait for that.

If, however, it is desired to prepare a quantity for use some hours later, the liquor should be strained into a pitcher and allowed to cool slowly. After it gets down to moderate temperature, it should then be stored in a crock or other vessel in a refrigerator. When it is desired to serve, the liquor can then be poured into a tumbler of cracked ice. Iced tea should, of course, be served with both lemon and sugar.

SIMMONS-FRIBERG NUPTIALS TAKE PLACE WEDNESDAY

An interesting June wedding, one of the weddings which marked this month as one of social importance, took place Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Friberg, 1511 Tenth when they gave their daughter, Altha L., in marriage to Mr. J. Houston Simmons. The spacious Friberg home had been decorated pleasingly for the ceremony in a bridal effect of pink and white, combining ferns and potted plants to form the bridal arch and altar. Ribbons and streamers of pink and white hung from the center of the dining room, caught at the table by small kewpies. The great white wedding cake occupied the center of the table, kewpies standing guard over it and flowers used in profusion added to the general effect of pink and white daintiness. At the appointed hour Robert C. Carey sang "O Frauke Me" Mrs. M. E. Carey accompanying him. Following the song the pianist played the wedding march, at the first notes of which little Miss Edmontine Friberg, youngest sister of the bride, came from the head of the stairs, preceding the bride and her maid honor, Miss Vera Olson of Chicago, a "midhood friend of the bride. Little Miss Edmontine wore a short waisted frock of white silk, trimmed in Irish lace and carried the wedding ring in the heart of a rose. The maid of honor was beautifully gowned in cream net over yellow brocade satin. The bride's dress was an exquisite creation of white net over hand made lace and a rope of pearls was her only ornament. She carried the conventional shower bouquet of roses and valley lilies. The groom, the youngest man, Floyd Friberg, brother of the bride met the bride and her maid at the foot of the stairs and proceeded to the floral bridal altar, where the minister, Rev. Charles C. Smith of the First Methodist Church, awaited them. Following the ceremony the customary congratulations and good wishes were in order, the guests then being ushered into the dining room where a refreshment course was served. Miss Mary Byman and Miss Estelle Friberg presided at the punch table.

Both bride and groom are well known and well liked here and the numerous beautiful gifts received witnessed their popularity. The bride has made her home here for several years and is a young lady of much accomplishment and charm, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Friberg, she comes from one of the most prominent families of this community. The groom is in business here and the young couple will continue to make Wichita Falls their home. Only the immediate families of the contracting parties with the aunts and uncles of the bride were present, the list including: Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Friberg and family, Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mares, Miss Birdie Simmons, Miss Simmons, Oran Simmons, Mrs. M. E. Carey, Robert C. Carey, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Friberg, Mr. and Mrs.

MASTER CAR BUILDER IS BACK FROM FRISCO FAIR

P. Murphy, master car builder here for the Katy lines, has just returned from San Francisco where he was sent by the railroad company with all his expenses paid as a reward for winning the safety prize in the mechanical department for the entire Katy system in 1914. Mr. Murphy's shop was found to rank the highest for neatness and for the best use of safety devices available of any shop on the entire Katy system. The award was made by General Superintendent of Motive Power W. L. Kellogg after a personal visit and reports from every shop on the Katy system. The distinction is one that is highly prized by Mr. Murphy and the men of his department. Among other things they have a flower garden growing amid the surrounding cinders at the shops in the freight yards where the shop is located. Mr. Murphy made the trip to Denver and Salt Lake City and Los Angeles visiting the San Diego as well as the San Francisco fairs. Mr. Murphy has been with the Katy lines about fifteen years, having been with the Wichita Falls & Northwestern before that lines' absorption by the Katy.

GROUPS ON WHICH WICHITA COUNTY REVERSED

Three cases which were tried at the January term of the district court were reversed Wednesday by the court of criminal appeals at Austin. The cases were those of Charles Escheleman and Jim Sparks, charged with robbery, and of Bob Carruth, a negro, charged with robbery. The two negroes were charged with robbery were alleged to have taken six dollars from an old man in a downtown alley and the appeal was taken on alleged insufficiency of evidence, also for failure to post bonds to allow attorneys to prepare their cases. The Carruth case was appealed on several grounds among which was the ordering of the arrest of a witness for perjury by Judge Akin in the presence of S. P. Jones, Escheleman by Bernard Martin and Carruth by Dan Boone.

THE LINE MUST BE DRAWN IF REVIVAL SUCCEEDS

Rev. Friar Points Lesson From Story of Elijah and the Prophets of Baal

The story of Elijah and the prophets of Baal was used by Rev. Friar at the tent meeting at the corner of Eighth and Lamar streets to show that a line must be drawn and the forces of righteousness lined up for the conflict, if the revival was to be successful. He announced that next Sunday night he would preach a sermon on "Old Man Boose" and that every Sunday night during his stay here he would preach on the same subject.

Mr. Friar pictured Elijah as an "old cornfield preacher—a John the Baptist of the Old Testament," and drew a graphic picture of the prophets society with Obadiah, the servant of the king and his contest with the prophets of Baal. He said that everything worked out by law; that every revival worked out by law. He quoted the words of the text, "If God is God, serve Him; if Baal's God serve him."

He recited instances where worldly people had sought to dominate churches and said: "You can't charge the devil with the devil's crowd in your ranks. You can't put down the dance if you've got the dance in your church."

There could be no halting between two opinions, he declared. "You can't preach against the saloon effectively, if you've got a man in the church who votes for the saloon," he told the preachers present. "Some of you good women," he said, "are trying to do society and religion at the same time; you can't serve God and mammon at the same time."

He said that whenever God draws the line and the God fearing people get lined up on one side with the other crowd on the other there is no question about who is going to win. When Elijah had his people lined up he was anxious to force the issue. Mr. Friar said he wanted the line drawn and to see the other people on the other side ready to accept the challenge.

"Do you want to close the saloons of this town; do you want to close the lawdy houses?" he shouted. "If you do, get your church members to quit going there." He said that wherever the God fearing people had taken a stand against the hosts of unrighteousness there had been a revelation of God's old time power.

Rev. W. W. Slater who is to take part in the open air meetings of the Church of Christ at the corner of Tenth and Scott avenue, arrived yesterday from his home at Stigler, Okla.

The Three Blind Men and the Elephant

They were taken to "see" the elephant. The first one touched the trunk and said that the elephant was like a snake. The second one grasped a leg and said, "How like a tree!" The third passed his hand along the side of the huge beast and said, "Just like a wall." As is frequently the case, they didn't combine their knowledge.

Take three engineers and their lubricating problems. One has achieved perfect valve lubrication. Another has reduced wear and trouble on his guides. The third knows how to make gears last longer.

The combined knowledge of the three would increase the value of each one to himself, and to his employer. How can they exchange experiences?

By getting in touch with an organization which has worked out thousands of these lubricating problems. Such an organization is back of Texaco Lubricants. Unlimited experience in all parts of the country, plus the means for giving you the benefit of that experience, enables us to solve your particular lubricating problems.

On this basis we have built up an extensive, growing business in all classes of lubricants. The engineers who have benefited by our service cover the country, and embrace every industry—yours included.

Wichita Falls, Texas, June 10, 1915

The Fort Worth Record and some other newspapers of the state are making it appear that the damage to crops in Wichita county by high water, excessive rains and hail is really more than it is. One report sent out to the outside papers placed the damage to crops in this county at $1,500,000, and as a matter of fact it is not more than one-third of that figure at the most. In fact, it now appears that the damage to crops is not near what it was at first thought it would be, and the most pessimistic had never placed it at more than 30 per cent. It is thought that 20 per cent will cover all the damage easily, with plenty of margin left.

Milton Clendenin, editor of the Burkburnett Star, drove over from Burkburnett this morning, and says that the damage to wheat and oats crops on the route he came over is just about ten per cent of what he had thought it was. There is yet fields of wheat that will in the judgement of old wheat raisers like Monroe Dobson and others that will make as much as 30 bushels per acre. Of course, there are some fields where the damage by hail and high water is almost total. In the estimation of Mr. Clendenin the damage will not exceed on an average of more than 20 per cent.

THE TIMES COMMENDED. The principal officer of one of the many life insurance companies doing business in this state commends the Times' position on the stand it took against the Gibson bill and in favor of the Robertson act in the following letter:

Fort Worth, Texas, June 8, 1915. Editor Wichita Times, Wichita Falls, Texas. Dear sir: I have noted with interest your position on the Gibson bill during the fight for the passage of this bill in the special legislature just adjourned. You have been so straightforward and clear in your dealing with and understanding of this piece of legislation that I feel I cannot resist my desire to write you and commend you and your paper on the action taken by you in this contention. I am, yours truly, J. W. IRON.

The Times, financially, is not interested in any of the various life insurance companies doing business in this state. It does not own a dollar of their stock. And the amount of business it gets out of them during a year's time would not be sufficient to pay for the oil with which its press is kept in condition. It believed, however, that there was a scheme behind the Gibson bill—one that if carried out, would result in great injury to the Texas' life insurance companies that came to the rescue of the people of Texas after the old line companies, becoming disatisfied with the Robertson law, had left the state, virtually saying to the people of Texas that so long as you permit a law of that kind to remain on the statutes they would not give the people of this state protection in the way of life insurance. And the old line companies did withdraw, throwing out of employment hundreds of good men who had made life insurance a study. These men, left without jobs formed life insurance companies of their own, giving to the people of Texas life insurance just as good and at just as low rates as the old line companies had been selling it to them, and were and are yet doing this under the very law that the old line companies complained of, and said in their literature would bankrupt them were they to attempt to write life insurance in Texas under the Robertson act. The Texas' companies have prospered under that law. If there had been no Robertson law there would not have been any Texas' life insurance companies. Under the law 75 per cent of the earnings of all life insurance companies are invested in securities of this state. Before the Robertson law was enacted not more than ten per cent of the earnings of the old line companies were being invested in Texas, and even then at a higher rate of interest than is now being charged by the companies that are doing business in the state, and are entirely satisfied with the Robertson act. That is why the Times opposed the Gibson bill. If it ever becomes a law it will not cause interest on Texas' loans to be lower than now for the reason that the old line companies can loan all the money they want to loan in Texas now under the Robertson act, and the best evidence that the old line companies do not want to loan money at a lower rate of interest in Texas is that they are not doing it, and never have, even before the Robertson law was enacted. They were simply draining the state of every dollar they could and leaving absolutely nothing here that could be carried off and stored in the vaults of their great sky-scraping office buildings in the city of New York. Under the Robertson act several handsome structures have been erected in various Texas' cities. If not tampered with, there will be more of such buildings to go up.

PRODUCERS OIL COMPANY HAS LEASED STINE RANCH

One of the biggest oil leases in the history of the Petrolia field was consummated this week when the Producers Oil Company leased the Stine ranch adjoining the Byers on the west, for a cash bonus of $59,000. The tract consists of about 600 acres, and the lease calls for oil privilege only, he has privilege on this land having already been sold to the Lone Star Gas Company for a consideration of $7,000. This tract is in virgin territory and the enormity of the price paid just for the oil privilege alone has put everybody in guessing. The lease has also been renewed activity in the shallow oil district during the week, quite a number of leases having been secured.—Petrolia Enterprise.

The Wichita Valley train which was delayed here at 2:10 this afternoon was delayed north of Seymour by a minor accident and was expected to reach here between 4 and 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

LED BAYONET CHARGE BRANDISHING A CANE

Cairo.—In recent dispatches from his place mention was made of the jamaican hero of Sed el Bahr, a certain colonel who, after the difficult landing operations there, and subsequent to the assault on the fortress, led the men in a gallant bayonet charge up a hill. All he carried was a small case, but a band he wore on his arm apparently was that of a staff officer. He walked about in the open under a continuous fire talking to the men, cheering them up and rallying them together. When they were all ready for the bayonet charges, he placed himself in front of them all, and armed simply with this small case, led the charge up the hill. The moral effect of the officer's action was great. The men charged up the hill and cleared their enemy from his position but the unknown officer lost his life. It now transpires that the officer was Major Doughty Wyllie and the hill on which he met his death is known as Doughty Wyllie's Hill. He had no business to be there as he was a staff officer, but the loss among the officers in landing had been so great and the necessity for making headway quickly was so essential that Major Doughty Wyllie acted in the emergency.

THE ARIZONA WILL BE LAUNCHED JUNE 19

39TH AMERICAN BATTLESHIP WILL CARRY TWELVE FOUR-TEEN INCH GUNS

WILL COST $16,000,000

Work to Be Started On California, Which Will Be Driven By Electricity

By Associated Press. Washington, June 10.—The thirty-ninth battleship built for the American navy since 1892 will take the water June 19 next when the super-dreadnought Arizona slips from the ways at the New York navy yard. Compared to the first American battleship, the Indiana, launched in 1895 the Arizona will be nearly twice as long, half again as wide and of three times as great displacement. Against the Indiana's four 13 inch guns and eight 8-inch, the Arizona will carry twelve 14-inch and twenty-two 5-inch rifles, the same armament as her sister-ship, the Pennsylvania, recently launched at Newport News.

In addition to the great size of the new ship's main battery, the guns are of forty-five calibre as against the 35 calibre of the Indiana's thirteen inch guns, identical with those aboard the famous old Oregon, which played their part in the battle of Santiago. With the fourteen of the Arizona in her turrets, the Oregon could have halted any one of the fleeing Spanish ships almost without leaving her stations. The Arizona's guns have a range, even at the low elevation of American navy mountings, of fifteen miles or more against eight or nine miles for the old thirteens.

The Arizona will be the fourth battleship built by the United States in its own navy yard at New York. The others were the Connecticut, the dreadnought Florida and the super-dreadnought New York, at present one of the largest, swiftest and most powerful of American fighting craft. Against the New York's displacement of 27,000 tons, the Arizona will displace 31,400 tons and will measure 600 feet in length and 97 feet 6 inches in width. She will mount twelve 14-inch guns to the ten fourteen carried by the Texas and they will be carried three to a turret as aboard the Pennsylvania.

Immediately upon the launching of the Arizona the keel of the navy department's greatest experiment in naval construction, the electrically driven super-dreadnought California, will be laid at the New York yard. She will be nearly a thousand tons heavier than the Arizona although carrying the same equipment and arrangement of guns; but is expected to develop greater speed than the 21 knots desired of the Arizona.

Comparing the most recent government built battleship to the first turned out, navy officials point to the fact that although the Arizona has twelve guns to the Connecticut's four and displaces 15,400 tons more, she is being built twice as large, she will carry only 915 men as against the 1,012 needed to handle the smaller ship. This is due to the improvement in mechanical appliances for battle-ships in the last decade and also to the fact that oil has been substituted for coal as fuel, decreasing the necessary fire room force, and that only two sizes of guns compose her armament against the four sizes aboard the Connecticut. The result is a reduction in ammunition-handling forces.

The Arizona will be sponsored by Miss Esther Ross of Preston, Ariz., nominated by Governor Hunt of that State. As she looks in the water immediately after the launching, the ship will have cost the government $7,425,000. An even greater sum will go for her guns and armor and other equipment and when she goes into commission her cost to the country will have reached the huge total of $16,000,000 or more. This cost represents a reduction of nearly $500,000 in guns and armor, according to the navy department, under the prices paid for the Pennsylvania's offensive and defensive equipment. It was in dealing with contracts for the Arizona's armor that Secretary Daniels demanded competitive bidding and succeeded in effecting the saving.

HIGH COST OF LIVING GOING STILL HIGHER IN ENGLAND

London.—There is no halt in the advance in the cost of living in England. The British Statistical Service has just published a report showing that the average increase in prices of food stuffs since the beginning of the war is 43 per cent. This represents an increase of about a billion dollars in the value expended for food since August 1. The disconcerting thing about these figures is that the greater part of the profit from higher prices will accrue to farmers in foreign countries, whereas as a hundred years ago, during the Napoleonic wars, practically the whole of the advantage of the high prices then current was reaped by British farmers and landlords.

In normal times a great rise in prices checks consumption, but so far as England is concerned the present advance has failed to do this, the enormous war expenditure having brought in much additional income to the industrial classes, with the result that the purchasing power of the mass of the cost of living. Consequently there has been no reduction in consumption. In fact, the consumption of food in recent months has shown expansion rather than contraction.

RESOURCEFULNESS OF AGENT BRINGS RECORDS HERE

Mr. Stone got yesterday's papers through by the same method. He drove in his automobile as far as he could, then took a motor car, used a rowboat for a distance, then took a jitney car to Henrietta, where he secured copies of the Record which he brought back to Wichita, Falls by the same means.

Goodyear Passes Goodyear

$500,000 Better

The improvements lately added to Goodyear tires will cost us $500,000 this year—just this year's betterments alone.

Yet this year's reductions will save our users in 1915 about $5,000,000, we figure.

And our big price reduction on February 1st was our third in two years. The three total 45 per cent.

Our Extras

This half-million dollars we add to our tire cost means better tires than ever. It goes largely into extra rubber.

Then remember this: Goodyear Fortified Tires contain five costly features found in no other tire. They contain other features found in but few tires.

If we omitted those extras, our probable output this year would cost us $1,635,000 less. We could make that much extra profit.

What of You?

Goodyear rules Tirdom because of those extras. It outsells any other tire. It is today outselling our output.

These features are hidden. Tires that lack them look about like Goodyears. But they don't wear like Goodyears. If they did, we would omit them too, and save that $1,635,000.

Don't you think such extras are worth asking for?

Any dealer will supply you.

WHAT MAKES STARS TWINKLE

Scientists Explain That the Rays of Light From Them Are Bent by Our Atmosphere.

The question of childhood, "What makes the stars twinkle?" was answered probably by a bit of verse or poetic fancy. But men asking the same question sought scientific explanation and found it.

Although we live upon its surface, we are not on the outside of the earth, but at the bottom of the sea of air which forms the earth's outermost layer and extends above our heads to a height of many miles, says a University of Wisconsin press bulletin. We cannot see the stars save as we look through this atmosphere, and the light which comes through it is bent and oftentimes distorted so as to present serious obstacles to any accurate telescopic study of the heavenly bodies.

Frequently this disturbance is visible to the naked eye, and the stars are said to twinkle—namely, to quiver and change color many times a second, solely in consequence of a disturbed condition of the air and not from anything which goes on in the star.

This effect is more marked low down in the sky than in the zenith. It is worth noting that the planets show very little of it because the light they send to each comes from a disk of sensible area, while a star, being much farther from the earth, has its disk reduced practically to a mere point whose light is more easily affected by local disturbances in the atmosphere than in the broader beam which comes from the planet's disk.

At all times, whether the stars twinkle or not, their light is bent in its passage through the atmosphere, so that the stars appear to stand higher up in the sky than their true positions.

In the case of J. P. Wright vs. Whitaker-Harvey Co for $5000 personal injury damages, a jury in the 78th district court yesterday returned a verdict for the defendant under peremptory instructions from the court.

MARY PICKFORD

Full of her usual charm and sweetness in the delightful film version of the greatest fairytale ever written, aided by a superbly-chosen cast including Owen Moore, who makes a noble and heroic "Prince Charming," Georgia Williamson and Lucille Carney get every ounce of cruelty and hate out of the characters of the step-sisters, as does Isabel Vernon in the role of the harsh and selfish stepmother. W. N. Cone provides many laughs as the undignified and merry King, and a consistently capable corps of super numeraries further extended the charm of the exquisitely fanciful, beautiful and symbolic century-old story of

Breslau, Silesia's Capital

THE FAMOUS RATHAUSS

BRESLAU, capital of the province of Silesia and, next to Berlin, the most important city in Prussia, stands as a tempting bait for Russia, but, despite its nearness to the frontier, has not yet been seriously threatened by the czar's armies. Should the fortunes of war bring them to that city, all the civilized world will hope that no attempt will be made to defend it, for its ancient fortifications long ago were converted into beautiful promenades and a bombardment would result in the destruction of innumerable magnificent buildings.

Situated at the confluence of the Ohlau and the Oder, Breslau is divided by the latter river into two parts which are connected by numerous handsome bridges. The streets of the new portion of the city are spacious and regular and the houses stately and handsome, decidedly in contrast with the massive, somber structures of the old town. Being so close to the Russian frontier, Breslau has been an important trading center in raw products and its three annual fairs attract great throngs. In civic matters it has been very progressive, owning its own gas, electric and water plants and having an elaborate system of sewerage and sewage farms. Its many educational institutions include a university, several great libraries and two museums, and it is richly provided with hospitals and charitable institutions.

Off the Beaten Track.

Writing in the Pittsburgh Dispatch as she saw it before the war broke out, Mary Ethel McCauley says:

Breslau, in the wildest stretch of imagination, could never be called either an attractive nor an interesting city, but as we like places according to the good times we have had in them, I liked Breslau very much, for here I had one of the nicest weeks of my life. It was on the beaten track for most European visitors, and when we were in Breslau we were told that we were the only Americans in the town. One old lady asked me if I were Polish, and when I told her I was an American she told me I was the first she had ever seen. She looked me over from head to foot, and asked me if I was rich. She went on to say that she had heard from a niece of hers that had gone out to America that Americans had rocking chairs in every room of their houses. She wanted to know if this was true. She said she had never seen a rocking chair, but her niece had sent her a picture of one.

Breslau is a very large manufacturing city, being the seventh largest in Germany and the capital of Silesia. It lies only about fifty miles from the Russian border, and the people are mostly Poles and Russians and nearly all are Jews.

It was once a strongly fortified city, but a promenade now marks the spot where the old moat ran around and protected the city. Last year (1913) this promenade was a regular "Lovers' lane" for lads and lassies. Today, I suppose, it is a very dismal place with lassies only, who are thinking of their lovers who have gone to war.

The University of Breslau is one of the famous ones of Europe and the medical course is considered one of the best in the world. Some wonderful experiments have been made by the X-ray medical students, who are the cleverest in that line in all Germany.

The pride of Breslau is their fine old Rathauss, which is said to be the finest secular building of the fourteenth century. The Church of St. Elizabeth is also a very interesting old building with its towers built in sections that look like a stack of children's blocks.

Great Celebration of 1913.

In 1913 was celebrated all over Germany the centennial of the downfall of Napoleon. Breslau celebrated it with a great exhibition, and their exhibition grounds were the most magnificent I have ever seen. In the center of the park was built a large artificial lake, with a fine colonnade extending around three sides and on the fourth was a large, fine cafe. This cafe was arranged in terraces. The tables on the lower terraces were for light refreshments, while the upper tables were for good substantial German meals. A band played afternoon and evening on the edge of the water. The sides of the colonnade were simply banked with flowers. It was fine to sit at the table, listening to the music and looking out over the lake, where the brilliant color of the flowers made giddy, flickering reflections in the water. We were quite happy here. Around the promenade and back from the lake were many lovely gardens. All the landscape gardeners in Breslau had been allotted a piece of ground, and each man tried to make his space the most beautiful. There were old-fashioned gardens with every lovely old-fashioned flower that grows. There were conventional gardens with walks and flower plots laid out according to a plan, and there were fruit gardens with all kinds of fruit ripening at once.

In back of all these gardens was the rose garden. It was late in October and yet never have I seen such roses—acres and acres of blooming flowers, white, yellow, pink and deep red. There were also thousands of buds that had not yet opened.

The Japanese garden on the other side of the lake was charming, the flowers here being irises and wisteria. To get to the little Japanese tea-house you crossed a tiny wicker bridge and walked down a little narrow path overhung with vines. The tea house itself was lovely, with its lanterns and beautiful hangings. German girls dressed as Japanese girls served the tea.

In another part of the ground was an imitation of a thirteenth century chapel and cemetery. The stones looked very real with queer old inscriptions engraved upon them. We were caught in a thunder shower and had to go in the chapel for shelter, and we had plenty of time to examine the primitive carvings and paintings that decorated the interior. Some of the pictures, rivalled cubic art.

The main exhibition building contained relics of the Franco-Prussian war. One room was devoted entirely to Napoleon, whom the Germans admire very much. There were many cartoons of Napoleon which had appeared in the German papers during the war, and in most of them he was nicknamed "Boney."

Like a Luna Park.

Part of the park was devoted merely to amusements, and it looked like a real American Luna park. There were many slide shows, the same as in America, but Oberbayern was the best of all. It was a great safe fixed up to represent the hills of Bavaria, with the castles of Ludwig II painted upon the walls. You walked up inclines that looked like mountain passes, and here and there were little flat places where tables were put for the guests.

On one side high up in the air was a platform where real Highland Bavarians danced the famous Schuhplattler dance, representing the male and hen pheasants of the Bavarian Highlands. Girls in Tyrolean costumes served beer, sandwiches and radishes, cut in a curl. Everybody talked to everybody else; and the waitresses would first take a drink of their patron's beer, a real Bavarian custom.

The moving picture shows in Breslau are very good, only rather expensive, a good seat costing 50 cents. I was told that a few weeks before we came to Breslau they showed pictures of Pittsburgh during the high water flood.

The cafes in Breslau are good, but they seemed to be mostly frequented by middle-aged couples, who seemed to take life seriously.

I have seen many fine art exhibitions in Germany, but one of the finest was in Breslau. It was the work of that wonderful and fine old man, Hans Thoma. In spite of Thoma's great age he belongs to the modern of moderns. His drawings have charm and imagination. He is an idealist and not a realist, an artist of the highest, fullest sense. No one cares if his trees don't look like trees nor his creatures are beings that could never exist, for everyone knows that true painting has nothing to do with realism, and that realism has nothing to do with art or beauty.

Merchant ship owners are operating to such advantage that they charge six times the normal sums for carrying freight. While 750,000 trade unionists altogether are bearing arms in Britain's defense, the millers have increased their profits four fold.

In his case against the ship owners, Williams points out that they now have no serious competitors in the carrying trade of the world, and that as a result of the elimination of German ships, the freight rates between Argentine and British ports had jumped from $2 and a fraction a ton to around $17. Another instance of profit to ship owners was the certain cargo steamer built in 1910 at a cost of $5,000 was recently sold for a hundred and fifty thousand dollars, an increase of 76 per cent over the original price.
