RUMORED THAT CITIZENS OF AT LEAST ONE BELLIGERENT COUNTRY SUPPORTED HIM

NO MORE ARRESTS ARE MADE

Reports of Foreign Backers For Huerta Not Officially Confirmed At Washington

By Associated Press. Washington, June 29.—Rumors that citizens of at least one belligerent country were among the foreign backers of the alleged Huerta revolution were heard here today but there was no official confirmation. United States District Attorney J. L. Camp in San Antonio, in whose district Huerta is to be given a hearing Thursday announced today that there would be no more arrests of Mexicans in his district until after Huerta's hearing and perhaps not then.

MANY JITNEY CARS QUIT AT FORT WORTH.

Fort Worth, June 29.—Many jitney cars suspended operations yesterday morning to await developments. With the dissolution of the injunction Saturday afternoon by Judge Brown of the 7th District Court the new jitney ordinance became effective and city officials announced that they would begin enforcing it immediately. Very few cars have taken out licenses and filed the indemnity bond under the new ordinance. The majority failed to comply with the terms of the act.

The Auto Transit Company, which had thirty-two cars in operation and about $20,000 invested, has no cars on the streets. The Jitney union, which represents another group of cars, says it will continue to operate. No arrests were made this morning for violation of the ordinance, nearly all policemen and officials being absent to attend the funeral of Capt. Coffey.

It is said they intend to circulate a recall petition for city officials, who, they claim, legislated them out of business. The injunction case ruled on Saturday in the District Court here will be appealed to the Court of Civil Appeals of the Second Supreme Judicial District. The application heard in the United States District Court at Dallas by Judge Meek, who ruled lack of jurisdiction, will be appealed to the United States Supreme Court, Attorneys Mays & Mays announced.

ALLEGED INTERVIEW SHOWS LACK OF RESPECT.

By Associated Press. Rome, June 28, via Paris, June 29.—The Observator Romano, official organ of the Vatican, publishing the statement made by Cardinal Pietro Gasparri, papal secretary of state in which he declared Pope Benedict was misquoted in the published interview obtained from him last week by Louis Latapie, a member of the staff of the Paris La Liberté, makes this comment:

"From this interview it follows that the idea of the Pope must be sought again in official pontifical document and not in words never uttered, but attributed to the pontiff and reproduced with fantastic interpretation in the newspapers. Additional evidence of a lapse of respect for the Pope is found in the discussion of the letter from the Pope to Prince Von Duelow. An effort has been made to give it political character and significance, whereas it was a private letter, replying to Prince Von Duelow, who unable to visit the vatican, believed it well to write the Pope to take leave of him and ask his benediction upon the princes."

AMERICAN FIGHTING IN GERMAN ARMY IS KILLED.

By Associated Press. St. Louis, June 29.—Lieutenant Von Heinhilshofen, a St. Louis insurance man who was a captain of volunteers in the American army in the Spanish-American war, has been killed fighting in the German army, according to a message received here today.

Local Option Election Will Be Asked By The Prohib

Decision to ask for a local option election in the near future was decided upon at a conference of representative prohibitionists from practically every section of the county at the First Christian Church Monday night. It is probable that petitions will be presented to the commissioners' court when it meets on July 12th. It is understood that the election will be asked as soon as the required notice can be published. Definite plans for a campaign, it is understood, have not been adopted but reports brought to the conference from outside precincts are said to have given the drys great encouragement for victory in the proposed election. Petitions were circulated nearly two months ago over the county and hundreds of signatures are reported to have been secured. These petitions which were not presented at that

"THAW, SAME NOW AND ALWAYS HAS BEEN"

This is Testimony Of New Hampshire Expert At Hearing To Determine Sanity

NO MORE ARRESTS ARE MADE

Reports of Foreign Backers For Huerta Not Officially Confirmed At Washington

By Associated Press. New York, June 29.—Dr. Charles P. Bancroft, head of the New Hampshire state hospital for the insane and a member of the federal commission which examined Harry K. Thaw, last winter today swore at Thaw's insanity trial that he believed Thaw not only was sane now but he believed he always had been sane. He said: "Thaw wanted to get even with Stanford White. His act was a product of sane mind, which after he had indulged in champagne suddenly lost control." Bancroft added that the fact that Thaw expressed regret was proof that he was not a paranoiac of that type of insanity never expressed regret.

HALL NOT AVAILABLE; BRYAN LECTURE POSTPONED

Chicago, Ill., June 29.—William J. Bryan did not deliver his address on peace before the Sons of Teutons here last night, as had been planned. G. F. Hummel, chairman of the committee on arrangements, called off the meeting, after telegraphing Mr. Bryan at New York, suggesting that the topic be exportation of ammunition to Europe. Mr. Bryan said he would discuss the change when he arrived in Chicago. In the meantime, it was learned the hall desired for the meeting could not be obtained and the affair was abandoned. Mr. Bryan may address the organization when he returns to Chicago late in the summer. Mr. Bryan left last night for Lincoln, Neb. In speaking of his plans, Mr. Bryan said:

"I shall spend such time lecturing as may be necessary. It will not be more than three months a year. I expect to devote some time each year speaking to students at colleges on subjects connected with citizenship. I shall continue my newspaper editorials."

Mr. Hummel, in speaking of the calling off of the mass meeting said: "We wanted him to talk on the exportation of ammunition and he offered to repeat his lecture on peace. That talk would do us no good. Stop the exportation of ammunition and there would be peace in a month."

ZAPATISTAS PREPARING TO EVACUATE CAPITAL

This Report Received By Carranza Consul At Galveston—Fighting Continues

Galveston, Tex., June 29.—A report that the Zapata government archives have been removed from Mexico City to Cuernavaca and that trains for the transportation of troops from the capital are being held in readiness was brought to the headquarters of General Pablo Gonzales by Americans yesterday, according to information reaching the constitutionalists' camp here today. It is also said that a committee of foreign diplomats is arranging with the Zapatas for the protection of private property during the evacuation of the city. The dispatch from Vera Cruz adds that Gonzales forces continue to engage the Zapata troops in the suburbs of the capital.

RUSSIAN ARMIES NOT DISHEARTENED

BELIEVED AUSTRO-GERMANS CONSTANTLY WEAKENED BY ENORMOUS LOSSES

RUSSIANS ARE NOT BEATEN

Ready to Take Offensive at First Favorable Opportunity, It is Assured in Petrograd

By Associated Press. London, June 29.—The Times correspondent wires that Russian armies are neither beaten nor disheartened and that they claim the Germans have lost 380,000 men in the Galician campaign and the Austrians almost as many. The Russians believe they can retreat and advance again indefinitely caring little for the moral effect of the loss of towns so long as they are constantly weakening their enemies and preventing such trench deadlocks as exist in the west.

BECKER THINKS WITNESSES MAY CHANGE STORIES

New York, June 29.—Charles Becker has demanded through his counsel Martin T. Manton, that Governor Whitman afford the witnesses whose testimony convicted him as the chief conspirator in the Rosenthal murder an opportunity to recant. If they so desire, before the date set for the execution, July 12.

The move is admittedly without precedent in criminal procedure and can only be construed as a direct appeal to the conscience of the governor, whose activities as district attorney resulted in the conviction of Becker.

The plan is understood to call for a designation of a justice of the supreme court who will have Rosenthal killed and admitted having hired the four gunmen who already have been executed.

The others are Louis Webber, Harry Valion, Sam Schepps and Morris Luban, all of whom corroborated the story told by Rose. They were given immunity from prosecution under an agreement requested from the courts in return for their services to the State.

NEED FOR NEW COURT HOUSE FELT KEENLY

WITH TWO DISTRICT COURTS IN SESSION COUNTY COURT BECOMES WANDERER.

BOTH COURT ROOMS LEAK

Offices too Small and Need for More Ample Quarters is Being Demonstrated Daily.

The need for a new court house is being amply demonstrated at present, with two district courts in session and with the need for accommodations for grand and petit juries. The county court is a wanderer on the face of the earth at present. When both district courts are in session it uses the second floor of the jail unless that is needed by the grand jury. In that case, the county court meets in the little room used by Judge Harris as an office. Yesterday a petit jury used one of the district court rooms and later went over to the old jail.

The new court room in the west end of the building is unusable for several reasons. It is out of the south breeze, electric fans are used, but it is frequently necessary to cut these off on account of their noise. The county attorney now makes his office in a small hole formerly used for a cell in the old jail. When it rains both the district court rooms are apt to spring leaks and become untenable.

These conditions, taken with the fact that there is hardly an office in the county house that is not too small for the county's needs, are serving to emphasize more and more the need for a new and commodious building in keeping with the county's importance.

TEUTONIC FORCES ON RUSSIAN SOIL

AUSTRO-GERMANS COMPEL RUSSIANS TO FALL BACK FROM GNILA-LIPA RIVER.

RUSSIANS MAY STAND ON BUG

Trend of Fighting Now Toward That River—Russian Withdrawing From Tanev Section

By Associated Press. London, June 29.—Further pressure by the Teutonic armies in Galicia has resulted in important advances for them at two points, according to the German official statement. In the one case the forces of Grand Duke Nicholas which they have been pursuing to the north of Lemberg have been driven, at some points, toward the Galician border. In the other case the army of General Von Linsingen has forced the Russians back from the Gnila-Lipa River upon which they retired from the Dneister region north of Halicz. The result of the Austro-German operations northward from Lemberg was forecast to some extent in recent official reports from both sides, the Russian statement indicating continued retreat in the region and the Austrian report that the withdrawal of the Russians was impeded only by stubborn opposition from the Russian rear guard. The German report now states that the engagements in the territory have everywhere resulted in defeat for the Russians.

In one section were driven over the border, fighting being reported as far north as Tomazow, Russian Poland which is about fifty miles northwest of Lemberg.

Regarding the trend of events affecting the Russian center along the Dneister which cut the Russian forces there to the Gnila-Lipa River to the eastward it has been questioned by observers on the side of the allies whether the Muscovite forces would hold very long in the position taken along that river. The probability was suggested that their next determined stand would be along the line of the river Bug. It is in that direction that the fighting at present is tending.

As evident as the pressure being exerted along the Dneister is the pressure being exerted has already resulted in the Russians beginning to evacuate position in the Tanev section and along the lower San.

In the west there have been sporadic attacks by the French who report progress through an infantry operation along the road between Angres and Ablain. German accounts declare that all attempts by the French to gain ground were frustrated. The French concede the corrected gain in the recent German claim to have captured the ground lost was recaptured.

The only other hint of stirring activity comes from the Dardanelles where, according to Turkish reports, there have been several attacks which later with Turkish declare they have repulsed. The course of these operations is being followed with close interest by British observers and there are hints that they are of more importance than yet come from the allies.

On the Austro-Italian front the progress of the invading forces continues slowly. The Austrians, indeed, report entire inactivity on the part of the Italians except for artillery firing.

PEACE APPEAL THOUGHT TO BE SYMPTOMATIC

Believed in Italy That Change of Opinion is Taking Place in Germany

By Associated Press. Milan, Italy, June 29, via Paris, June 29, 8:30 (received by censor). The appeal of the German socialists is considered here symptomatic of the change that has taken place in a large section of public opinion at the end of the first year of the war. Such an appeal, it is believed here, would have been impossible in July, 1914. Italian intransigent socialists have been approached with the object of stating whether they were ready to take similar steps toward their government. The opinion prevails in Milan, however, that they first will see what the socialists of other countries concerned in the European conflagration decide to do.

FORT WORTH MEN ARE HERE

Invite Wichita Falls to Align With Them and Name Director in Association

Members of the board of directors of the "Buy It and Make It in Texas" Association, recently organized in Fort Worth, arrived in Wichita Falls on the Fort Worth & Denver this afternoon and began a meeting with the Chamber of Commerce directors. The Chamber of Commerce was notified earlier in the day of the coming of the party and was asked to name some Wichita Falls business man for a member of the directorate. In view, however, of the fact that the Fort Worth meeting split into two associations, each with the same objects, and with evidence that one was apparently trying to play politics in the organization, the directors had decided at their meeting this morning not to affiliate with any organization until the situation cleared up. They agreed to meet the Fort Worth party, however, and secure all the information available.

The movement was started by C. W. Woodman, state liquor commissioner, and the meeting was held at Fort Worth last week. Several factors contributed to the split which promises to interfere with the plan. One was the ancient rivalry between Fort Worth and Dallas. Another was the attitude of labor union leaders; still another was the decision, believed to have been politically inspired, not to permit Texas insurance companies to become members. The result was that the organization was formed. Considerable feeling is said to have been stirred up by the controversy, and it was not deemed wise for Wichita Falls to align herself with either side at present.

The directorate of the Fort Worth organization includes E. Shelton of Fort Worth; A. T. Clifton of Waco; R. L. King of Longview; W. T. Eldridge of Sugarland; Stanley Watson of Waco, and Edward Cunningham of Bridgeport.

ACTION DELAYED UNTIL ELECTION

ASSESSMENT PLAN DEFERRED UNTIL AFTER LOCAL OPTION ELECTION HELD

IT WOULD RAISE $20,000

Directors of Chamber of Commerce Hear Report of Special Committee on Matter

No effort will be made to raise the assessment advertising fund for the Chamber of Commerce at the present time. This was decided at a meeting of the directors this morning, the sentiment being that with a prohibition election now a certainty, the public would be too much wrapped up in that topic to make it advisable to broach the advertising fund just now. The committee in charge was continued until a more opportune time.

A. L. Huey, chairman of the committee which has the matter in charge reported that the tax lists had been canvassed, there being 1185 property owners who paid taxes on more than $1,000 worth of property. A tax of 25 cents on each $100 valuation, it was estimated, would give a fund of about $20,000. The committee wished, Mr. Huey explained, to see this fund used first to employ a secretary who was able to interest manufacturers in establishing plants here, in advertising for factories and in carrying on the personal campaigns necessary to bring industries here.

Mr. Blair suggested that with conditions as they are at present, due to the war, it would be difficult to secure new industries. Mr. Kell replied that there were several kinds of enterprises not affected by the war in a way that would prevent this city working for them. He cited a cotton mill and a straw board mill as examples. Mr. Bean thought that in view of the large amount of wheat straw available in this section, for which a straw board and coarse paper mill would furnish a market, this matter should be taken up at once, and the secretary was instructed to proceed. Mr. Kell thought a creamery would also be an excellent institution to bring here, saying such concerns were thriving in Oklahoma, dairy products being shipped to them from distant points. He said that while there were perhaps not enough cows in this immediate vicinity to support a creamery, a properly operated creamery was not limited in its territory to the immediate section.

The prohibition election was not discussed by the directors, but it was recommended by the committee that no further action be taken until the election is held and this recommendation was adopted.

WOULD RECOMPENSE OWNERS OF SALOONS

Bill Defeated in Illinois Legislature Would Provide Compensation in Dry Districts.

SOME ARE SERIOUSLY HURT

Wagon Running Over Electric Wires Established Short Circuit Causing Explosion

By Associated Press. Springfield, Ill., June 29.—A new campaign issue between wets and drys in Illinois which may be used in other states, took life during the closing days of the Illinois legislature. It was embodied in a bill that proposed that saloonists who are put out of business by popular vote should be recompensed to the full value of their stocks and fixtures and compensated for the "good will" attached to their places of business. This expense was to come out of the public treasury of any community voting out the saloons.

The bill was introduced into both branches of the state assembly. It was carried in a hostile committee in the Senate. In the House it was reported favorably and advanced to second reading where it died in the closing days of the session without coming to a vote.

Proponents of the measure have indicated, however, that while circumstances gave them no hope of success in the 1915 legislature the bill would be re-introduced in 1917 and that meanwhile its provisions would be used as campaign material elsewhere.

Opponents of the proposal assert that the sole object of the liquor interests in introducing the bill is to provide a "club to hold over towns and cities." They point out that should the measure become law, communal voting dry would not only lose revenue but be mulcted of the cost of the saloons in solid cash. The anti-saloon people also said that they saw in the bill chances for illegitimate private gain in that saloonists who envisioned the possibility of a "wall" could lay in large stocks of liquor previous to elections, lose little or nothing if the vote resulted in their favor but gain a considerable cash sum if the anti-saloon forces won. The bill provided that the saloon keepers should receive a refund of the exact price paid to the wholesaler for his stock and fixtures.

The history of the bill in the House began late in the session. There were two committees dealing with saloon questions, one called the "commerce committee" being composed of "dry" and the other, denominated the "liberal committee" being composed of "wets." It was to this latter committee that the bill was referred. A public hearing was announced on the bill and a special train load of liquor dealers and manufacturers came to Springfield from Chicago and other parts of the state. Levy Mayer, a Chicago attorney, was announced as the spokesman for the allied liquor organizations and delivered an argument in favor of the bill. No opponents of the measure were heard.

Mr. Mayer argued that the supreme court of the United States had recognized the saloon as a legitimate business enterprise. He said that it necessarily followed that the saloon keeper was entitled to recompense if his business were abolished by law. He pointed out that millions of dollars have been invested in the manufacture and distribution of liquor and that hundreds of thousands of persons gain their livelihood through employment in the business.

Galveston, Texas, June 29.—Resolutions commending the action of the attorney general of Texas in his campaign against illegitimate clubs and calling upon the secretary of state to decline to issue any club charter unless a rigid inquiry of the purpose of the club had been made were adopted here today by the Texas Clubs. The convention adjourned today and the time and place of next meeting will be decided by the executive committee. J. L. Peeler of Austin, was elected president. W. N. Bonner of Wichita Falls was elected a member of the executive committee.

Standing seven for acquittal and five for conviction and reporting its inability to agree upon a verdict, the jury in the case of E. W. Fry, charged with forgery, was discharged at 3:30 this afternoon, after being out 72 hours almost to a minute. There was no change in the attitude of the jurors since they first reported their inability to agree, at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Judge Nicholson expressed his regret that no verdict was forthcoming, but stated that in view of the inability to reach an agreement he could not hold the jurors further. Judge Fry consented to the discharge.

 "The Royal Actress," Betty Nansen in "Anna Karemina" is today's feature. Miss Nansen is assisted by a wonderful company of world famed actors. First and foremost of Miss Nansen's company of artists is Edward Joe, the Warfield of the Pictures as he is sometimes called. Mr. Joe will be readily recalled by spectators of the Fox features on account of his striking rendition of "The Fool" in "A Fool There Was." Mr. Joe also gave another bit of powerful characterization to the screen by his playing of Don Julian, the wronged husband, in Miss Nansen's recent success, "The Celebrated Scandal." Mr. Joe, before signing with Mr. Fox, was one of the best known actors on the boards, both here and abroad. In Paris, he was leading man for Sarah Bernhardt, a curious fact, in this connection, being that he commenced his stage career with the Divine Sarah. He was then signed with Mr. Fox, and after viewing him in one performance of a small part, dispensed, politely but firmly, with his services. Nothing daunted, Jose set out on a tour of the provinces with a small company. After many vicissitudes, he at length began to attract recognition. Finally, when he was one of the most famous of French leading men, he was cast for the title role of Cyrano de Bergerac, at the Comedie Francaise. Among the audience was Bernhardt. Although many years had passed since she had seen him, she went for him after the performance, and said:

Of these twenty-seven died. In two hospitals for treatment of eye diseases there have been treated 134 patients suffering from partial or total blindness from the same cause. The spirit is obtained by treatment of varnish, eau de cologne and various kinds of polish. The foregoing is the result of the investigation by a special committee named to report to a military commission.

 Demanded by young and old movie fans, the return engagements of Mary Pickford in "Cinderella" is scheduled for today. This fairy story film was viewed by capacity houses on the occasion of its engagement here a fortnight ago and the management had repeated requests for its return.
 A story of Cinderella is too well known to require a lengthy description, but all the familiar beauties of the tale are enhanced in the photo-production, with many added odd touches, pathetic, romantic and humorous. The haughty sisters will be seen in all their conceit and grotesque ugliness, the cruel and tyrannical step-mother, who is all sweetness to her own daughters and all unkindness to Cinderella; the handsome Prince who wins the cinder girl's heart, and loses his own to her, in the forest, where he first meets her, staggering under a load of wood, and who, after dreams of her as the Princess of his soul and throne, which she afterwards becomes in reality. There are elves, goblins, witches and fairies aplenty throughout the production, but the greatest character of all is Cinderella herself, clothed with all the tender sweetness and picturesque beauty for which the genuine artist who plays her, Little Mary, is world famed.

The Gem.
 Augustus Phillips and Mabel Trunnelle are featured in a three part Edison drama, "With Bridges Burned" an adaptation from the story of the same name by Rex Beach. A synopsis follows:
 Louis Mitchell is doomed to keen disappointment as he enters the office of Comer and Mathison, steel contractors, by whom he is employed as a salesman. Mr. Comer informs him, in characteristic fashion, that business is "rotten" and that Mitchell, with other members of the sales force, will be obliged to take a vacation.
 At home, his wife, always anxious to know how business is, runs across a notice to the effect that Robinson and Ray of London are to rebuild their mammoth South African Pyramide tanks. Hardly has Mitchell returned home, and imparted the news to her, when she proposes that they try for the $2,000,000 Robinson and Ray contract. She accordingly draws her $1,000 from the bank to finance her husband on his trip. Mitchell succeeds in getting a letter of introduction from Comer and Mathison, delegating him as their accredited representative, and authorizing him to formulate bids in their name. With his wife's $1,000 drawn and apportioned, Mitchell realizes that the bridges have been burned and there is no retreat.
 Grigsby, a rival competitor for the contract, by trickery, learns that Mitchell's figures are lower than his, and as it is the day before the thirty-first, it is too late to alter his. He bribes the chief clerk to fix the clock on the following morning.
 A nervous wreck from the great strain, Mitchell hurries to the Robinson and Ray offices on the thirty-first, and to his dismay, the clock and the watches of the chief clerk and Grigsby point to 12:10. Dropping the plans, he rushes heartbroken from the place. Struck by pity, the office boy, whom Mitchell had tipped on a previous occasion, reaches through the office railing, gets the bids and takes them to the inner office. A couple of weeks later, Mitchell gets a telegram from Comer and Mathison to the effect that their bids were accepted, and that he has been appointed sales manager.

"MRS. LOTT IN MODERN SOCIETY" SERMON THEME

Evangelist Friar Contrasts Some of Wichita Falls Women With Biblical Character

Last night Evangelist Friar delivered his famous sermon on "Mrs. Lott in Modern Society." He said in part:
 "Character means destiny; character determines destiny. Character is never made in a day; it is a building not made with hands, nor made in a day. Character is the constituent part of all we think, speak or act. The decay of character is the decay of the soul's moral fiber. If you turn your character making over to someone else you will go on the rocks."
 "Lott was that kind of a man—Abram handled Lott for awhile and where he went 'Lott went with him. He was a follower always; a leader never. Somebody decided to marry—grew tired of single blessedness—and remarked to Lott, I am going to marry.' Lott said: 'Me too.'
 "How many times a day do you catch yourself saying 'me too'? Some character stronger than you says, 'I'm going to the dance tonight' and you say 'me too.' Lott out, vacating soul; you are void of moral stamina."
 "Lott was never a pioneer in thought or action. I think his wife courted and married him. Soon they got into trouble with a 'friend of God'—Abram. His the dance led you into trouble with your pastor or your church. They are friends of God, Lott said; 'We will move.' They pitched their tent toward So-dom. Lott was not big enough to outlive his trouble; he moved. This is the Wichita Falls, Texas, June 29, 1915.

Ford cars will soon be selling for $300, we are told. Oh, you little lizzard, you'll soon be ours.

One of our dispatches today says "Italian Intransigent Socialists have been approached." Who had the courage?

An evangelist who is conducting a series of meetings at Chickasha, Okla., in speaking of sinners—saved and unsaved, relates this story:

"I was holding a meeting once and there was a man and four women, the kind of folks who say they do not sin, and they were the first to testify, the first to volunteer prayer. I inquired around a little and found the fellow owed everybody in town. So one day when he arose to testify, I pointed my finger down his nose and said, 'If you will pay every one you owe, the folks will think more of your testimony. He hit the seat like he was shot, and soot hit the street and did not come back to the meeting any more."

We have often wondered how a man can get the consent of his own mind and conscience to get up in a public meeting and admonish others how to live an upright and honest life before he squares himself with the world. But there are men in this world who have the crust to do that very thing. If you make observations you can locate 'em in almost every community, and generally speaking, they manage to get by with it.

It has now been definitely determined that a petition for the holding of a local option election in Wichita county will be filed at the next meeting of the Commissioners' Court, which will convene about July 12th. This determination seems to meet with the approbation of all—both anti and pro. The pros are hopeful and confident, as they always are, and the anti concede that it is better for them to have the election just as soon as it can be held and have it over with. In the event they win, and they profess confidence in the result, another election on that question will be deferred for at least two years. That will give to them an uninterrupted lease on life for at least two years, during which time the pros will have taken from them the club which they are holding over anti heads, threatening them with an election every time the weather changes. So, all concerned being satisfied, it is perhaps best to have the election now while things are a little dull. Usually on such occasions we can hear much talk of great things and great enterprises in incubation and which will develop into genuine realities if the result of the election is this way or that, and if there ever was a time when we would enjoy to hear some such talk as that it is right now. It helps a fellow to pick up courage and load up on optimism. And, then, if the commissioners order the election (and doubtless they will do that), and fix the election for as early date as possible under the law, the election will be held just about the middle of the heated period, or vacation time, furnishing a most excellent opportunity for those whose hearts are in the right place, but whose faith is not strong to kill two birds with one stone: go off on their vacation and thereby miss recording their votes. In fact, to hear them tell it—both pro and anti, the time is most propitious.

Ex-Senator Bailey recently made a visit to Texas, and while in the State had a good deal to say about Socialism being taught in our state institutions. The Austin Statesman, in commenting on Mr. Bailey's statement says:

"One reason why Joseph Weldon Bailey is not still the senator from Texas or perhaps president of the United States is that too many measures endorsed by the people of his nation looked to him like Socialism. He saw Socialism where others saw progress."

That is probably true. At one time Senator Bailey was frequently mentioned as a man the Democratic party could well afford to name as its candidate for president, and the principal reason urged against taking such a step was not that Bailey was not big enough to be president, but that he was a Southern man, and his sympathy for the South would make his election impossible. It was about this time that Senator Bailey got the idea that he was bigger than the Democratic party, and right then was the time he committed political suicide. He got the idea that he was the whole party and could lead it anywhere, and was not yet become fully convinced that he is not doing it. He says he has no further political aspirations, and it is probably well that it is that way. If he has it in plain they never can be gratified by Democratic votes. Not in Texas, at least. But this is not saying that ex-Senator Bailey has yet lost all his influence in Texas. He still has a strong following, and in the event he chooses to take sides in the next campaign for the election of a successor to Senator Culberson, the candidate who is favored with it, is very apt to be one of the two who will run it out in the second primary. There are all sorts of Democrats in Texas, and some of them endorse Bailey with just about as much enthusiasm as they do Wilson. There are even some Texas Democrats who endorse both Bryan and Bailey.

Farmers have been building granaries in the territory around Bangs, providing means for holding their grain crops for a favorable market. They have the right idea, as the ability of the farmer to hold his goods off the market has something to do with the price that he will be offered. —Temple Telegram.

There is a whole lot of talk now about warehousing cotton. Apparently the people have lost sight of the fact that comparatively few grain producers are prepared to store their grain after it is threshed and are therefore, forced to sell on a low market.

The way Democrats are resigning offices is enough to shake one's faith in his party. Five members of the Texas legislature tendered their resignations Saturday. But, be it said to the eternal credit of these patriots, they held on until they got something better.—Honey Grove Signal.

WOULD YOU SIGN IT.

For those citizens whose ardor is fired to such a fearful degree over present diplomatic exigencies, and who are straining at the leashes in a superhuman effort to be at the Germans or the Mexicans, or both, the New York Sun has a little pledge which it proposes. It reads like this:

"In case war between the United States and Mexico, or Germany, or any other nation should be declared, I, an American citizen by birth and naturalization, pledge my entire fortune, if required, and my life, if need be, for the prosecution of hostilities.

"I promise, on my honor, to put my person at the disposition of the United States Government for military or naval services immediately after the declaration of war or beginning of hostilities."

Mind you, Mr. Farris Bold, there isn't any unreasonable word in this pledge. No promise is contained in it that a loyal American citizen should object to; in fact, if you are not willing to give your life and your holdings to your country when it needs it, you are not a good American citizen.

If you are willing to sign the above pledge and still clamor for the immediate beginning of hostilities with the Germans, the Mexicans or the Japs, we, for one, will accord you the right to call yourself conscientious.

If you are not, but still feel the longing to tear up the patch, you might trek for Yucatan and enlist against the Yaps. They are particularly fierce at this writing and are willing to take on anything in the shape of a blip that comes along.—Daily Oklahoman.

CARICATURE.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, the suffragist leader, was praising in New York the recruiting work of the English suffragists.

"Englishmen now," she said, "have a better understanding of their suffragist sisters. The average Englishman's idea of a suffragist in the past is well illustrated in an anecdote."

"Dear me," said one woman to another, "here's a wife just been arrested for horsewhipping her husband in a public theater!"

"Quite right," the other woman, a suffragist, answered firmly. "Quite right, too, to arrest her. These painful duties should never be performed in public, but only in the sacred privacy of the home."

ABOUT WHEAT STORAGE.

Editor of The Times:

Referring to your editorial on storing wheat for the farmers, in justice to ourselves we beg to say that at the time of the publication of the editorial and for several days prior thereto, we have been telling the farmers that we were trying to arrange storage elsewhere, so as to take in their wheat here. This arrangement is necessary, since we have not sufficient room for our own wheat, without being handicapped by trying to hold wheat for the farmers; especially is this true of this season, when we have a number of cars of some six kinds of grain left over from last season, and occupying our storage space. We arranged to store some wheat with a large exporter this morning and immediately told several customers. We did not know at your editorial until this afternoon and we hasten to correct any impression that this editorial might make that would tend to show that we have not been anxious to do our part toward conserving the crops of grain or the proceeds thereof to the benefit of the farmers in this section.

This time you can felicitate yourself on obtaining quick results from your editorial, but we are not going to plead guilty to having waited for your editorial to spur us on to do our duty, since we have been working on this storage proposition for about a week and only this morning consummated the arrangement.

Permit us to take occasion to say to the farmer that from our standpoint, we believe it will pay them to hold their wheat, provided they can hold until some time next spring. We don't anticipate much advance before then and think there may be some decline during the summer. We have no confidence in the oat market. The crop in the United States promises to be extra large and oats cannot be fed to automobiles or traction engines, that are fast supplanting the horses.

NOISE NOT PATRIOTISM
STATE FIRE MARSHAL

Recommends That Cities Limit Fourth of July Fireworks to Certain Hours.

Appealing for a safe and sane celebration of the Fourth of July by the citizens of Texas, State Fire Marshal S. W. English yesterday issued a statement showing the gigantic toll of death and injuries that has followed in the wake of celebrations of this day during the past twelve years, and also suggests how much of these disastrous consequences may be eliminated this year.

In the past twelve years 1,832 persons have met death in the United States as a result of fireworks, and 49,954 have been injured.

"Noise is not patriotism," says Fire Marshal English, "and Fourth of July celebrations with fireworks invariably leave sorrow instead of gladness in their wake."

He calls attention to the fact that in 1914 three little boys died from lockjaw; sixteen persons, mostly little girls, were burned to death from fireworks fires; five persons were killed by firearms; six by explosions of gunpowder, guns or torpedoes; four by cannon, and five died from blood poisoning resulting from injuries caused by fireworks.

Among the excessive toll of injuries thirty-six persons were totally blinded, thirteen lost one eye each, sixteen lost legs, arms or hands, and sixty-seven lost one of more fingers.

"It is perhaps, too much to expect a complete return to sanity, but effort should be made by all cities and towns toward leading the public in more moderate forms of celebration," continues Mr. English. He then suggests that the authorities of the various municipalities should limit the explosion of fireworks to certain hours of the day in the public parks. He also suggests that fireworks should be prohibited in thickly settled communities and recommends that all trash be taken up before the Fourth.

Continuing, he says:

"It is the duty of every city and town to arrange for its people suitable amusements or exercises definitely calculated to educate them in a rational observance of this historic holiday eliminated by a substitution of something better. The things a municipality can do to interest its citizens in a safe and wholesome celebration are unlimited and while all patriotic Americans should properly commemorate the beginning of the country's liberty, it is well to bear in mind in so doing that a common sense celebration alone will eliminate the casualties that heretofore, to a more or less degree, have marked all Independence Day programs."

A tabulated list of fireworks casualties follows:

1903	466	3,983	4,449

Cloves Are Dried Buds

The buds of an East Indian tree are picked, dried and then graded according to the percentage of oil they contain—the oil is the source of the clove flavor.

But unless care is taken in grading, even the cloves lose much of their flavor. After grading, the cloves must be protected from evaporation by most careful packing.

You see then that it is not only fresh cloves you must insist on, but selected cloves which have been handled throughout the best way to keep them full of the oil which flavors.

That's why we suggest that you insist on White Swan Cloves, selected from the best grade, ground by our "cool" process to retain flavor and strength and packed in air-tight tins. Your grocer sells White Swan Cloves—the cost is a little more, but the economy is greater because a tin lasts longer.

CHINESE PRESIDENTS' OPIUM PROCLAMATION

In Picturesque Language Yuan Shai Kai Tells Story of Opium Reform in China Peking.—(Correspondence to the Associated Press). A proclamation bearing the seal of the president tells in a picturesque way the peculiar story of the opium reform in China. From the proclamation the following paragraphs are taken: "The evil of opium is known to all men, and no less than 38,000,000,000 and tens of thousands of lives have been sacrificed during the past few decades as a result of this evil. Once a person acquires the habit of opium smoking he degenerates into a parasite and is reduced to a skeleton; thus a rich man becomes a pauper and a healthy man a weakling. This consequently gives rise to the prevalence of undesirable characters and people who do not care to work, causing the deterioration of the race and the decline of morality; and both the country and the nation are affected and harmed. Fortunately, however, as a result of the unprejudiced spirit of the friendly nations and the well intentioned publicity given by Chinese and foreigners, an agreement was made with Great Britain in the Third year of Hsuan Tung for the prohibition of the importation of foreign opium and the cessation of the cultivation of native opium within a certain time limit. A persistent policy has been pursued with regard to the prohibition of cultivation, smoking and trading in opium, and as a result of it many provinces have succeeded in completely destroying all poppy plants; consequently transportation of opium into these provinces has been prohibited. If this opportunity were seized completely to banish the opium evil, the country would be put on a strong footing. This is why the order was repeated at the beginning of the inauguration of the republic. But owing to the lack of discipline and the fact that both desperadoes and unruly recruits were mostly opium smokers, the evil sprang again into being. The ignorant people, seeing profit in the opium business, defied the law, which up till then was in force. This was most regrettable. "Some people urge that since the opium trade affects the livelihood of many persons, it is unjust to use arbitrary methods for the prohibition of poppy planting. They forget, however, that the evil of opium is like a dangerous ulcer that sinks deep to the bone and for the cure of which it is better to cut away part of the bone than to patch it up with a piece of flesh taken from another part of the body. Whether the profit from such a trade is big or small the traders should be made to understand in unmistakable language that no one can live by drinking poison to quench his thirst. The local elders should be entrusted with the task of uprooting the poppy plants and the planters supplied with cotton, grain or other seeds for sowing instead. "The whole thing depends upon the officials, who should earnestly and persistently urge them and compel them to plant some other useful crop. We shall not permit one corner of the country to spoil the general movement of the whole nation and the ministry of interior is hereby instructed to communicate the order of prohibition and not to allow the cunning to utilize it as a means to enrich themselves."

EVERYDAY THE WAR CONTINUES

Two industries are absolutely benefitted. There has never been a time in the history of the country when farming and stock raising was so profitable as it is today and it will be for years to come. High priced food stuff makes high price farm lands. High priced cattle makes high price ranch lands. High priced living is driving the people from the cities and towns. There is no safer and profitable business, and lands are bound to enhance in value rapidly. Wichita is the banner county of this state for wheat or stock raising.

BUY A FARM I have some bargains. Can take your property in as part payment. Now is the time to buy. Don't delay—see me today.

16,000,000 MEN MILITARY AGE IN UNITED STATES

(Austin American) The general staff of the United States army will soon have ready for presentation to Secretary of War Garrison a carefully worked out National militia system, patterned after the Swiss and Australian ideas, and probably to go by the name of the federal volunteer army. Essentially the scheme is new. But with the question of military preparedness prominent today in the public mind, and with general agreement that a "citizen army" is the thing needed if the United States is to be able to defend herself without the menace of militarism, the federal volunteer army again comes into the center of attention.

According to the census bureau, there are 16,000,000 men of military age in the United States. If these men were armed and trained the United States would be in such a strong position that the attack would be practically impossible.

Today the United States has three trained military assets, the army, the navy and the militia. The army contains 100,000 officers and men, scattered over the continent and 14 island dependencies. It is not likely more than half this number could be turned to one campaign. The navy, the marine corps and the National Guard include about 150,000 additional officers and men.

Military experts declare the United States could not assemble 200,000 armed and trained men in one place in three weeks for any purpose. The recent naval maneuver off New York City proved that a fleet of enemy ships could evade the United States navy and effect a landing, showing the need of training the great mass of citizens for defense duty. It would require at least six weeks to assemble the National Guard, let alone to muster in and train recruits.

The general staff proposes to revert, in a way, to the early days of the Nation, when in 1792, the original law affecting the militia was passed. It required that every able-bodied man should be a member of the militia, provided with a gun throwing not less than a certain number of balls to the pound, a spontoon, a hanger, powder horn and a bullet pouch. The federal volunteer army plan recalls this scene, utilizes its principles and modernizes them. It is favored alike by regular army men and by progressive National guardsmen.

Under this scheme the army would be managed on a business basis and

URGES VOTE AGAINST BALLOT AMENDMENT

Galveston, Texas, June 29.—A stirring appeal to the organization to vote against the House joint resolution planned to enfranchise traveling men was voiced by Senator Q. U. Watson of Giddings in an address to the third annual convention of the Association of Texas Clubs.

"The amendment is so drawn as to disfranchise thousands of foreign born citizens and readmit negroes into Texas politics, opening the doors to fraud, political corruption and bribery," said Senator Watson.

"The efforts of the convention will be directed, through a strong resolutions committee, toward the abolition of illegitimate clubs in Texas by aiding the attorney general's department and calling for the enactment of more vigorous laws governing formation of clubs."

Berlin, via wireless to Savville, June 29.—Retired Admiral Kaius von Hofe, writing in the Vossische Zeitung, declared he believed six six-inch guns were mounted on the Lusitania, but in positions easily concealed from the American customs inspectors, who are laymen, not naval men.

The above illustration represents the modest beginning of this firm, established twenty years ago by Alex Kahn, whose likeness is shown herewith. While the building and stock was small, it was in keeping with the importance of Wichita Falls as a trading point at that time, and the firm has kept step with the progress of the city from year to year. Mr. Kahn who founded and directed the destiny of the business until the time of his death in 1914, was recognized as one of the city's most successful business men, and one who insisted on building up a business that would enjoy not only a liberal patronage, but the confidence of the people as well. How well he succeeded is attested by the present standing of the store with the buying public, and the remarkable growth of the business from year to year.

New Management

M. L. Hirschfelder, the new manager of the Kahn's Company, came to this city about the first of May from Wasco, where he had been connected with the Goldstein-Migel Company and Sanger Bros., for the past twenty-five years. Entering upon his duties here he at once began outlining plans for enlarging the business with a view to better accommodate the patrons of the store, having first become impressed with the importance of this city as a commercial center and with the outlook for its continued growth in population and volume of business. This faith in the future of the city and his policy to keep the store ahead of the business procession, were the occasion for the decision to entirely remodel the building from top to bottom, including the second floor, which will in the future be used by the firm. These remodeling plans necessitated a material stock reduction and forces the extraordinary sale herewith announced.

Mr. Hirschfelder, who is a man of unusual business ability, is keenly sensible to the high standing of the Kahn's Company in this city and it is his purpose to maintain that reputation and if possible add further to the prestige of the store, and to its capacity for serving the public, as conditions require

Ticks Cause Loss of $9.76 For Every Steer, Experts Claim

Washington, June 29.—Advocates of tick eradication in Texas have been much encouraged by recent reports of the showing of the last 2 or 3 years. Although the work in the state was started in 1907, it was not until 1911 that active co-operation was received from the state authorities and up to September, 1912 there were no laws which in any way committed the state to the policy of eradication. Since that time, however, matters have changed to such an extent that by the end of 1914, 28,805 square miles have been released from quarantine and in March of this year Sterling and Wilbarger counties were also freed.

The following table shows the amounts of money expended annually since the inauguration of the campaign:

Year	Dept. Animal Industry	State	Square miles
1907	$15,566	$25	660
1908	9,593	...	821
1909	10,393	...	821
1910	15,427	...	9,854
1911	14,333	4,299	1,976
1912	13,094	6,337	5,240
1913	15,482	7,993	8,392
1914	13,637	18,041	1,862
	$110,570	$36,745	28,805

In Texas, the increase had been $13.79. The weight of tick free cattle was said to be, on the average 1.5 more than it had been, and the milk production 1.4 more. Loss from tick fever has, of course, been stopped in tick free territory. According to the census of 1910, there were fifteen million cattle below the quarantine line with a valuation of approximately 270 million dollars. One-eighth of this sum is 34 million dollars and this represents approximately the annual loss from deaths alone. One stock raiser writing from Stonewall county said: "I figure that two men by bringing in ticky cattle have cost the cattlemen in this county alone $75,000 to $100,000. One man lost 50 out of 100 head, and several others lost heavily."

In addition to deaths, however, the tick is responsible for an enormous depreciation in other ways. As has already been said it stunts the growth and diminishes the milk supply of the infested cattle, causes discrimination and lower prices in markets, and prevents the introduction of pure bred breeding stock. The hide alone of the ticky animal, it has been estimated, is worth on an average $1.26 less than that of a tick free steer. It has also been figured that up to the present time the campaign for tick eradication has cost about 50 cents for each cow freed from the pest. In this respect alone, therefore, there is a profit of 76 cents.

How long it will be before Texas frees itself from the burden of the tick depends, of course, chiefly upon the strength of the popular conviction that the tick must go. At the present time, in comparison with the size of the state and the importance of its stock raising industry, the amount of active work that is being done is very small. At the close of 1914, there were only 69 dipping vats in operation in the State, whereas in Mississippi there were 3,352 and in Oklahoma 229. The federal government is prohibited by law from building these vats or from supplying them with the necessary dipping materials. It does, however, supply experienced inspectors and veterinarians and will cooperate in every way with the local authorities. During 1914, five veterinary inspectors and eleven lay agents were assigned to Texas. If more counties were to take up scientific tick eradication, this federal assistance would be proportionately increased.

Germany's Right to Sink American Ships Again Denied

Washington, June 29.—By agreement with the German foreign office the state department made public last night the text of the note sent on June 24th by the United States asking Germany to reconsider her refusal to set aside by direct diplomatic negotiations instead of prize court proceedings the claim presented on behalf of the captain and owners of the American ship William P. Frye, sunk with her cargo of wheat by the commerce raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich.

The American note declares that inasmuch as Germany has admitted liability for the sinking of the Frye under the treaty of 1852 prize court proceedings are unnecessary and not binding upon the United States. Aside from the question of how the indemnity should be paid, the note brings out clearly the refusal of the United States to accept the contention that Germany has a right to stop the carrying of contraband by American ships by the destruction of the contraband and the ship carrying it.

German Attitude Surprise. "As pointed out in my last note the government of the United States has considered the only question under discussion was the method for ascertaining the indemnity under an admitted liability and it notes with surprise that the imperial German government now desires to raise some questions as to the meaning and effect of the treaty stipulations under which it has admitted its liability.

"If the government of the United States correctly understands the position of the imperial German government as now presented it is that the provisions of article 31 of the treaty of 1799 between the United States and Prussia, which is continued in force by the treaty of 1823, justified the commander of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich in sinking the William P. Frye, although making the imperial German government liable for the damages and that inasmuch as the treaty provides no specific method for ascertaining the indemnity that question must be submitted to the German prize court.

TO STAMP OUT FRAUDULENT USE OF THE TELEGRAPH

New York, June 29.—It is announced here that vigorous steps are to be taken by telegraph officials to assist public prosecutors to stamp out the fraudulent use of telegraph lines in securing money transfers.

In the case of R. E. Miles, a United States army man, who was arrested some time ago for such a fraud, the Western Union Telegraph Company has secured his conviction and sentence of four years in prison.

On December 16, 1914, Miles sent a telegram from San Francisco, addressed to Pierre P. Ferry, Seattle, Wash., stating that he had just arrived on the transport "Sherman" and asking Ferry to wire him some money for expenses. To this message he signed the name "Herbert," intending that the addressee should think that the message was sent by one Herbert H. Foy, who had been a comrade of Miles in the Philippines. Both Miles and Ferry were enlisted men. On December 17th, Miles sent a similar message to Ferry asking for $200 more, to "Herbert H. Foy" at San Francisco, and Miles, with the aid of letters and communications which he had stolen from the real Foy, secured both sums.
