

BELIEVED GERMANY WILL MEET AMERICAN VIEWS ON SUBMARINE WARFARE

GERARD TRANSMITS GERMAN INQUIRY

BELIEVE DISPUTE BETWEEN TWO GOVERNMENTS WILL BE AMICABLY SETTLED

DISPATCH SENT TO WILSON

Known That Germany Aims To Secure Safety For American Passengers And Respect Flag

By Associated Press. Washington, July 6.—Secretary Lansing stated today that a dispatch had been received from Ambassador Gerard, giving informally the views of the German government on submarine warfare, but this government has not replied.

While declining to discuss the contents of the dispatch Mr. Lansing let it be known that the proposal contained in it was similar to those which have already been discussed in Berlin press dispatches, indicating a desire to clarify the situation before making a formal answer.

NO EXCHANGE OF VIEWS.

Mr. Lansing said there has been no exchange of views yet and that this government has not tendered any negotiations. Mr. Gerard's dispatch has been sent to the president with whom decision as to the instruction to be given Gerard is being made.

WOULD PROTECT AMERICANS.

What the German foreign minister suggested in his conference with Gerard to meet the American view on submarine warfare was not revealed by the state department. It is known, however, that Germany aims to insure safety of Americans on passenger ships and also maintain submarine effectiveness against ships engaged primarily in contraband traffic.

TO PROTECT AMERICAN FLAG.

It is believed that in effect immunity from attacks has been guaranteed to ships flying American flag by Germany's recent note. Although no definite assurance has been given, officials believe further attacks without warning will not be made against any vessel, neutral or belligerent, at least until means of insuring safety of Americans is agreed upon in the present negotiations.

MARKED ACTIVITY IN GERMAN OIL FIELDS

Berlin.—The cutting off of petroleum imports into Germany through the war has caused a marked revival of activity in the domestic petroleum industry. The only oil district of any importance in Germany lies in the Lubeburg Heath to the east of Hamburg, where exploitation began in earnest about twenty-five years ago.

BRITISH SUBMARINES SINK PASSENGER SHIPS?

German Official Report Said To Give Full Particulars—Even Hospital Ship Is Sunk

By Associated Press. Berlin, July 6.—The Overseas News Agency today says: "An official report gives full particulars of several cases in which British submarines and torpedo boats sank Turkish unarmed passenger ships and even one hospital ship with 700 wounded on board. The agency also gave out a Constantinople dispatch declaring that Italian Consuls in Italy are slowly leaving the country and that they probably will be followed soon by the Italian Ambassador. American representatives will care for Italian interests except in Palestine where Spanish representatives will take charge."

By Associated Press. New York, July 6.—Dr. B. R. Ward of Cambridge, Mass., who arrived today after spending a year in Russia, said the Russians are making extensive preparations for an early offensive against the Germans in Galicia. A newly constructed railroad line reaching from Zolozda toward the battle lines has been taken over entirely by the government for the transport of munitions, he said.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 6.—Tony Skerdinek, 17 and Victor Zinnie, 25 of Ringo, made a firecracker out of an eight gallon beer keg and twenty-five or fifty pounds, the reports disagree, of powder. Zinnie today was near death in a hospital at Gerard. Skerdinek was at his home badly burned.

SHORTAGE OF ALL KINDS OF LABOR IN GREAT BRITAIN

London.—Shortage of male labor in the United Kingdom, which was reported by nearly all trades in April has now extended to female and boy labor, according to the board of trade Gazette's monthly review of the labor market. Enlistment makes the working of the coal-mining industry and building-trades difficult; metal trades are active, while engineering and ship-building trades continue to work at high pressure with slight shifts, Sunday work and much overtime, etc.

THOUSANDS AT LAKE WICHITA YESTERDAY

GOOD TIME FOR EVERYONE

Six Automobiles Laid Out By Accidents on Road Between the City and the Lake. Probably the largest crowd ever gathered at Lake Wichita celebrated the Fourth of July Monday at that popular resort yesterday. The traction company had seventeen cars in service yesterday afternoon and last night on the lake. Two o'clock this morning before all the crowd could be gotten back to town. Practically every car to the last one was crowded with as many as could get on. Hundreds of automobiles carried thousands and at times the road between town and the lake was almost a solid procession of machines coming and going. The traction company's receipts will fall short of the heaviest previous day because only a five cent fare was charged whereas on previous occasions the fare has been ten cents.

The crowds at the lake were handled without accident but there were a number of automobile accidents on the road between town and the lake. At one time last night there were six disabled machines along the road. Wheels were torn off two machines, an axle was broken on another, two machines were put out of commission in a head-on collision and after the machines collided the drivers also collided in a physical encounter but nobody was much hurt. Another machine was overturned and the rear tire was torn from another when a reckless driver "hogged" the road. There were several other minor automobile accidents but so far as was learned no one was seriously injured.

A double header baseball game, motorcycle and motor boat races, swimming, boating, dancing, skating, basket dinners and fireworks were features of the entertainment that kept everybody busy and sent them home tired last night. The fireworks display was exceptionally good and was witnessed by thousands. The stands and concessions at the lake all did a thriving trade yesterday. Taylor's Wichita Band furnished excellent music.

JANE ADAMS SAYS PEACE PROPOSALS IN ORDER

Declares Belligerents Would Receive Proposals in Spirit Offered By Neutrals

New York, July 6.—Peace proposals from neutral nations will find the people of the warring countries in a mood to consider them, according to Jane Adams of Chicago, chairman of the recent international congress of women for peace at The Hague, who returned on the steamer St. Louis from Liverpool after heading the delegations appointed by the congress to visit the various belligerent countries and talk with the leading civil and military officials on the prospects of peace. "Every day, however, that peace negotiations are delayed," she added, "will make terms of peace just that much harder. The heavy toll of life and treasure means that the people will expect just that much more consideration for their agreement to end the war. The belligerents cannot but go on, for suggestions of negotiations would appear weakness, and none yet feels in the slightest bit that its cause can and must succeed."

"The people are beginning to realize the futility of the slaughter," she was told by an officer from the western front that even on days when an engagement was not on the loss was fully 2,000 lives every twenty-four hours by sharp shooting, fire from advanced trenches and dropping bombs from aircraft. On the days when an actual engagement is in progress the loss of life so far can only be estimated.

What country could or would take the lead in peace negotiations Miss Adams would not say. While America, she said, was recognized as the strongest of the neutrals in Germany there was resentment owing to the sale of arms and ammunition to the allies. In France, she said, she found resentment because the United States had not made formal protest over the invasion of Belgium. United States Within Rights. In Germany, however, she said she found among officials an acknowledgment that the United States was acting wholly within her rights. Minister Jacob himself told her, she declared, that the United States had a legal as well as formal right to sell arms and ammunition to whom it chose.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE CONVENTION OPENS TONIGHT

Atlantic City, N. J., July 6.—Thousands of delegates are here for the sixteenth national convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America. The opening session of the convention will be held tonight.

HOLT ATTEMPTED TO END OWN LIFE

CUT WRIST WITH TIN BAND THAT HELD RUBBER ERASER IN LEAD PENCIL

CUT DIDN'T REACH ARTERY

Prisoner Somewhat Cheered By Receipt of Telegram From His Wife at Dallas.

Glencove, July 6.—Evidence to support the theory that Holt and Meunter are the same person was strengthened by the announcement that Holt's body revealed scars corresponding to descriptions of scars on Meunter's body. Meunter's scars were due to an operation.

HOLT HAS SCARS LIKE MEUNTER HAD.

Glencove, July 6.—Frank Holt, J. P. Morgan's assassin, who also has confessed to setting the bomb that exploded in the capitol at Washington last Friday night, attempted to kill himself at midnight by trying to open the artery in his left wrist with a lead pencil. After several hours had passed without sleep during the early part of the night Holt called to an attendant and asked for a lead pencil. He said he wanted to write to his wife. A lead pencil was brought to him and a few moments later a pad of paper. The attendant remained in the cell a few minutes and Holt, turning on his left side apparently started writing. The attendant then left. Within less than five minutes he passed the door of Holt's cell again. He then noticed that Holt seemed to be in pain. He entered the cell and found blood flowing from a jagged cut in his wrist.

After the flow of blood had been checked and the wound bandaged the keeper and Warden Hulse searched for the pencil. They found it in the cot. Holt had extracted the rubber eraser from the tip of the pencil and with his teeth had bitten the metal which held the rubber in position until the edges met. The result was a fairly sharp weapon with a blade perhaps a quarter of an inch long. Apparently Holt had not reached the artery. He said cut a vein, however, and from this the blood was flowing.

Holt was cheered somewhat today by the receipt of a telegram from his wife at Dallas. It read: "Have best counsel here. Advise to rest and wait. You must do the same. Sending loving greetings hourly. Beautiful tribute to you in both evening papers here. I am plying for details of our finances. I will come when you need me. Do not be afraid; rest." The telegram was signed "Leon."

The condition of Mr. Morgan who is recovering from the two wounds in his left hip, inflicted by bullets from Holt's revolver continues to improve. C. R. Apted, assistant superintendent of buildings at Cambridge, Mass., who knew Meunter at Harvard reached here today and visited Holt for a few minutes but did not attempt, because of Holt's condition to question him. Apted said:

There is a remarkably striking resemblance between this man and Meunter, but it has been nine years since I saw Meunter and I cannot say positively that Holt is the man. C. R. Wood, assistant district attorney of Nassau county who knew Meunter at Harvard, visited Holt again today. Wood said he was still unable to say whether Holt and Meunter were the same. Holt was believed to be in such a serious physical condition from loss of blood and refusing to eat that forcible feeding was considered today. District Attorney I. J. Smith said: "Holt is very weak and I should not be surprised if he dies. I do not know whether he is trying to starve himself or not, but I do know that he is not eating and that he has lost much blood."

OHIO PREACHER CERTAIN THAT HOLT IS MEUNTER

Youngstown, O., July 6.—Rev. S. M. Bennett today declared Holt was known to him as Prof. Erick Meunter. He said he knew Meunter at Harvard and also at Lawrence, Kansas. He compared a photograph of Holt and said there was no doubt they were the same persons. The photograph show Meunter without a beard. Littleton Will Look After Holt's Rights. New York, July 6.—Martin W. Littleton, formerly of Texas went to Mineola to assume charge of Frank Holt's defense. He said he had been asked by residents of the South, who believed Holt mentally irresponsible to look after his legal rights.

HOLT WROTE LETTER TO WIFE TELLING OF PLANS

Dallas, July 6.—A letter from Frank Holt written after the bomb was exploded in Washington but before he shot Mr. Morgan was received by Holt's wife here. The letter referred to the bomb incident. It also advised of Holt's plan to go to the Morgan home and keep the Morgan family in custody until Morgan should go to Europe and end the war.

EVELYN THAW STANDS ON RIGHTS AND ANNOUNCES SHE WILL REFUSE TO TESTIFY AGAINST HUSBAND

New York, July 6.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw summoned to testify against Harry Thaw in the proceedings to determine his mental condition reached here today and announced that she would stand on her constitutional rights and would not testify against her husband. State attorneys said as the hearing is a civil proceeding and not a criminal case that the court could direct her to testify and that they would ask the court to so direct. Her appearance did not bear out reports that she was suffering from nervous prostration. She looked extremely well and said: "I spend much of my time out of doors and keep in splendid health."

CITY COUNCIL FINALLY ADOPTS TRAFFIC RULES

At Adjourned Session Monday Afternoon Traffic Ordinance Finally Passed

At an adjourned session of the city council Monday afternoon the traffic ordinance was passed finally, and will become effective in 60 days. The ordinance was not changed in any material particular, but a section was added providing that drivers intending to stop or turn their vehicles shall give signals with their hand and arm to those in the rear. Some local motorists have already adopted this idea, in anticipation of the ordinance, and it is probable that it will be readily accepted by all, as a means to safety and convenience. This was probably the last full session of the council for several weeks, as Aldermen Gardner and Bradley will be out of the city.

SUPREME COURT GREATLY BEHIND ITS DOCKET

Austin, Texas, July 6.—Despite the fact that much business was transacted by the state supreme court during the term just ended, abstracting a period of nine months, the court still is 613 cases behind on its docket. This number includes 342 applications for writs of error. Many lawyers throughout Texas are urging this as one reason for the adoption on July 24 of the proposed constitution of amendments providing for five judges instead of three for the supreme court. It is expected that should the increase be authorized at the polls, there will be a lively contest for the two positions thus created. There already are ten tentative candidates.

ALLIES LOSSES EXCEED 5,000,000 GERMAN CLAIM

Heer Und Politik Compiles Enemy Losses From Enemy Newspapers Giving Total

Note.—Since the following was written the great Galician battles have been fought in which the Russian losses have been estimated at more than a million killed, wounded, captured and missing and on the estimate herewith given the total Russian losses would be 3,500,000. Berlin.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press) More than 5,000,000 soldiers of the countries at war with Germany, it is estimated, have been killed, wounded or captured. These figures, compiled almost exclusively from papers or magazines published in foreign countries by "Heer Und Politik" are presented in an effort to show that Italy's entry into the war cannot hope to offset, numerically, the losses of her present allies.

Heer Und Politik purposely goes outside of Germany for estimates of the French, English and Russian losses, so far as possible, in order to err on the side of conservatism and not lay itself open to charges of inflation. The French estimates are taken in part from Italian papers—the French journals publish no losses—and some of the Russian figures have been shown in the English publications.

Russia is shown to have been the heaviest loser, with more than 3,000,000 men, it is estimated. The figures are obtained in the following fashion: There are more than a million Russian prisoners of war in Germany at present, according to the German general staff. The London Times as long ago as January placed the Russian dead and wounded list at 1,300,000. Since then there have come the Maurian Lakes battles and the Carpathian victories, with Russian losses estimated by "allied" papers even at 650,000 men at the very least. In Germany at present there are over 300,000 French prisoners of war in addition to which the French losses are known to have been huge. The Italian paper, Corriere Della Sera, estimates that the French army has lost half its strength in dead and seriously wounded, and the London Daily Mail places the French loss in dead, wounded and captured at 1,600,000 as a minimum. The balance of the estimated five million is made up, Heer Und Politik believes, by the British and Belgian losses of all kinds, and the total it feels is rather too low than too high. From its statistics it draws the conclusion that "the accession of Italy to the ranks of our enemies will not snatch victory from us."

PETROGRAD VERY OPTIMISTIC

Desperate Fighting Raging Between the Vistula and Bug Rivers On Base of Triangle. London, July 6.—Special correspondents in Petrograd telegraph optimistically concerning a coming Russian campaign for the defense of Warsaw, which forms the center of a vast circle of one hundred miles of strong fortifications. Even the fall of the fortress of Ivanograd, according to the correspondent, would not mean the loss of the Polish capital. Fishing described as desperate in the official Petrograd dispatches is raging between the Vistula and Bug rivers along the base of a triangle of which Warsaw forms the apex. The country there is marshy and it is predicted in London that because of the character of ground this campaign will be a constant drain on German resources until even victory itself will be almost as costly as defeat. The German thrust against the French positions west of the Moselle river apparently has not extended beyond the infantry attacks which regained trenches previously lost by the Germans, but preparations probably are under way for a further advance, as Paris reports a violent bombardment in this region. In reply to the German statement of an aerial raid on Landguard fort at Harwich the British admiralty reports that a German aeroplane and Zeppelin, flying at great height, were pursued by British airmen and forced to drop their bomb harmlessly into the sea. Russia has apologized to Sweden for violation of Swedish neutrality when the German mine layer, Albatross, was driven ashore after shells had been fired into her within the three-mile limit. FRENCH OFFICIAL REPORT TELLS OF MUCH ACTIVITY. By Associated Press. Paris, July 6.—The French war office issued this statement today: "Last night showed much activity at several points along the front. In Belgium, British troops supported by our artillery took some trenches southeast of Tillyker. The railroad station of Souvigny remains in our hands in spite of repeated attacks. In the Argonne there was incessant fighting last night with bombs and hand grenades but our artillery checked several attacks of the enemy. On the Heights of the Meuse our positions on the south side of a ravine. They were completely repulsed. Near Leprie forests they also assumed the offensive. Two attacks were checked with very heavy losses to the enemy."

HEAVY FIGHTING ON NEAR MONTEREY

TWENTY THOUSAND MEN ENGAGED IN BATTLE—2000 CASUALTIES MONDAY

CARRANZA REINFORCEMENTS

With Arrival of Fresh Troops Carranza General Renews Attack Upon Large Villa Force

Laredo, Texas, July 6.—Six hundred Carranza troops were killed in an all-day battle yesterday in a fruitless attempt to capture Paredon, a Villa stronghold about thirty miles northwest of Monterey. Eighteen thousand men were reported engaged in the battle with total casualties on both sides of 2,000. Carranza reinforcement renewed the attack today. There were about 8,000 Carranza troops in yesterday's battle and they were reported to be about 10,000 Villa troops. Cavalry, infantry and artillery took part on both sides. This morning's report said Carranza troops were receiving about 8,000 reinforcements.

CHURCH PEOPLE WILL PROSECUTE VIOLATIONS

Representative of Dallas Council of Churches Files Complaints of Sunday Law Violations

Dallas, July 6.—Twelve affidavits charging violation of the Sunday laws by operation of motion picture shows on Sunday were filed by Geo. W. Archilles, a member of the Council of Churches. Judge R. B. Seay also charged the new grand jury on the subject of Sunday closing. The complaints are based on alleged operation July 4.

Mr. Archilles is a member of the law enforcement committee of the Council of Churches, which committee had charge of the investigation leading to the filing of formal charges. Epps Knight is chairman of the committee and Judge A. W. Walker is the vice chairman. Officers of the council would not talk of the move last night. All questions were referred to the Rev. George Fulcher, who is away from Dallas for two weeks. The step was taken however, immediately after Judge R. B. Seay had charged the grand jury yesterday morning. The Rev. G. W. Benn, a member of the council, said last night this was the reason the cases were filed.

Judge Walker yesterday said he did not know whether the charges had been filed or not. When informed that they had, he said the action was taken through the law enforcement committee. Claims Law Is Clear. He said the law is clear on the subject. He said the State law says a city can form laws to meet local conditions providing only that there is no State law covering the same matter. He said in the case of Sunday closing it is clearly defined by the State law. He said under these conditions the city of Dallas would have absolutely no right to pass any law to the contrary.

Following the filing of the complaints before Assistant County Attorney P. B. Ballou, it was announced that three of the complaints will be sent to each of four courts. Three will go into Justice Barrett's court. These may get to a hearing Wednesday. Three are to be placed in each of the criminal district courts for hearing before Judges Seay and W. L. Crawford Jr., respectively. Three others are to be filed in the county court at law for trial before Judge T. A. Work. Owing to absence from the city of Justice of the Peace Leslie Stewart, none is to be placed in his court. All of these courts now have jurisdiction in misdemeanor cases.

10,000 MONTENEGRINS IN U. S. WILL RETURN TO FIGHT

By Associated Press. Boston, Mass., July 6.—Dr. Jovan Matanovitch, representing Montenegro, was here today after having concluded a trip throughout the United States during which he claims to have induced ten thousand Montenegrin reservists and sympathizers to go home for service in the army. G. W. Halford, who dropped dead at Lake Wichita Sunday, was a grandson of the famous Day Crockett scout Indian fighter and Alamo hero, according to J. S. Fore who knew Halford in the 70s in Parker county before coming to Wichita Falls. Halford was then in more prosperous circumstances. His body was shipped to Weatherford Monday for burial.

German Official Statement Says German Airships Forced British Squadron to Retreat

Berlin, July 6.—A great British airship was directed against the German position in a German bay of the North Sea on the morning of July 4, according to a German official statement issued under date of July 5. The attack, the announcement says, failed. German airships were sighted at dawn off Terschelling, an island off the Netherlands. The advancing British naval forces were forced to retreat. One British hydro-aeroplane which succeeded in rising in the air was pursued by German aeroplanes but it escaped by flying over Dutch territory.

The state insurance commission has taken charge of its affairs. The deaths in this class were fifty per cent more than among the total temperance. Black Pepper and White Pepper Come from Same Plant

It is a common belief that there is a difference between black pepper and white pepper. The fact is that they are both made from the same plant, the pepper tree. The difference is only in the part of the fruit that is used. Black pepper is made from the whole fruit, while white pepper is made from the seed only.

White pepper is preferred by those who do not like the strong flavor of black pepper. It is also used in many of the same dishes as black pepper. The two are interchangeable in most cases.

Waples-Plattner Grocer Co. has a large stock of both black and white pepper. They are guaranteed pure and of the highest quality. Write for a list of prices.

Ice And Cleanliness Two Great Weapons Against Disease

A few simple precautions will aid the housewife in keeping meat unspoiled in hot weather, says the Weekly News Letter of the United States Department of Agriculture. It is, of course, common knowledge that the higher the temperature the quicker meat will spoil, but the family's supplies are not absolutely at the mercy of the thermometer. Ice and cleanliness are two great weapons of defense.

For many families a refrigerator is obviously out of the question, but it is perhaps better to have no refrigerator at all than a neglected one. Merely to wash it out occasionally does little good; it should be thoroughly scalded at frequent intervals. In particular the drain. This, if overlooked, is apt to harbor fungous growths, which may spread to the food. On one occasion a man applied to the department because he had found that a joint of beef placed in his refrigerator had turned a peculiar bright red. Upon examination it was ascertained that the meat was covered with a peculiar fungous growth due entirely to the condition of the refrigerator. Growths of this kind do not always advertise themselves so prominently and there may be much evil in an ice box that the eye can not detect.

If the refrigerator drain is not thoroughly cleaned, moreover, it is likely to become choked, the water is not carried off quickly enough and little pools are left standing in the interior. Dampness is one of the conditions most favorable to bacterial growth. An ice box in this state will not protect food long. It is, in fact, a wise precaution to wipe the interior of a refrigerator every day with a dry cloth.

The temperature of the average refrigerator is higher than most persons suppose, and in those households where a regular supply of ice is not obtainable, a cool cellar, a spring house, or the depths of a well may serve somewhat the same purpose. On farms where there is an ice house the meat may be placed in some form of closed retainer and buried in the ice. In any event, the meat must be carefully screened from flies. The danger from infection from these pests has been pointed out many times, but familiarity breeds contempt and they still persist. The fly not only does the meat itself no good, but it may readily deposit upon it some infection, which is carried in turn by the meat into the human system. Some flies will deposit their eggs on the meat and these in a short time will become maggots, and the meat is "flyblown."

Much sickness that is popularly ascribed to ptomaine poisoning or to bad food in general is really caused in some such way as this, the food, a itself perfectly wholesome, acting merely as a mechanical carrier for the "germs" which cause the trouble. Some of these sorts came from the human intestine, and their presence is a sure indication that filth is present, even if the amount is too small to be seen. Filth of this kind may be carried by dust, but it more often comes from soiled hands. One might wish that every kitchen could have the sign found in some well-managed food factories: "When you leave the room for any purpose, wash your hands before you return to work."

"Germs" which grow in foods and cause illness grow very rapidly, particularly if the food is a little warm, and are not destroyed unless the food is well cooked before serving. Simply "warming up" is not enough, as was found in a case of illness recently reported after eating some warmed-up creamed vegetables. Certain kinds of food—canned chicken, for example—are excellent culture mediums for bacteria which may have been introduced into them by accident. For this reason it is a safe rule to have as short a time as possible intervene between the preparation of food and its consumption. Broth is another excellent medium and in consequence should be drained off if it is intended to keep the meat for any length of time before serving. If the broth is used also it should be boiled thoroughly first. All food, cooked or uncooked, should be kept in a clean, cool place in order to reduce the danger of infection to a minimum.

When meat must for any reason be kept for unusually long periods of time or when the conditions are unusually unfavorable, scalding may be resorted to advantageously. Dropping the meat into boiling water for a few minutes will not seriously affect its flavor when it ultimately appears upon the table, and it will put it in a much better condition for keeping. It is important, however, that it be dipped in a large body of boiling water—only a small amount of water is used, the introduction of the meat will lower the temperature to such an extent that the whole process becomes worthless. With such meats as veal or pork, which are always—or ought to be—thoroughly done, the precaution can be carried further and the joints partially cooked before being stored away. Care should be taken, however, to see that the re-cooking is thoroughly done.

UNUSUAL COOL WEATHER FOR SEASON OF YEAR. Wichita Falls weather on the Fourth and fifth of July was unusually cool and the temperature was low enough to add considerably to the pleasures of the holidays. Up to noon today the maximum attained by the mercury had been 88 degrees, although it was higher than that at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The temperature was below 80 during most of Monday.

EVERYBODY PICKNICKED AT LAKE WICHITA YESTERDAY
All Wichita Falls was at Lake Wichita yesterday and participated in the biggest celebration of the kind ever known here. The Glorious Fourth was celebrated in a most fitting manner, even if the big time was postponed until the fifth. The weather man could not have sent a more perfect day, not like the usual Fourth of July weather but nice cool, sunny weather, and all the city and people from neighboring towns by the hundreds were ready to take advantage of the weather man's kindness. No special affairs have been mentioned—the gathering being just a general public good time. Family picnic dinners and suppers were in order and dozens of crowds and sets took the opportunity for a general merrymaking. The various attractions at the lake were well patronized and the pool prove especially alluring. The lake itself was dotted with sail boats, row boats and canoes and the motor launches made regular trips. SKATING and dancing provided additional amusement and everybody in the great big crowd seemed to be having just the best time ever, in the usual "Wichita Way," with the big fireworks display in the evening as a grand finale.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT THE REVIVAL MEETING
Despite Fourth of July Diversions Many Attend Friar Meeting—Salvation, Sermon Theme

Despite the holiday attractions the attendance at the Friar meeting was good and the interest was more marked than usual, the invitation extended at the close of the sermon being responded to by a good number. Mr. Friar told the simple story of salvation and how to be saved, taking his text from the fifth chapter of First John, sixth verse, "If we receive the witness of men the witness of God is greater; for this is the witness of God which He has testified of His Son."
Using many illustrations and practical applications Mr. Friar told the story in an impressive manner. The all important salvation was summed up in the following words of the evangelist:
"A man cannot come to God except the Spirit draw him; God is never going to force you into Heaven. The Scriptures are worth just as much to you as God says they are; it's just a matter of taking God at His word and upon His record. When you give your soul in trust to Jesus Christ you are safe."
Street services will be held this evening at 7:15 at the corner of Seventh and Indiana and tonight at the tent.

THE EMPRESS

A novelty spectacle picture, "Life's Staircase," a Beauty film and a picture of an actual battle fought in the present European struggle with a two part Kay Bee. "The Human Octopus" make up today's program. Walter Edwards, Clara Williams and Howard Hickman are featured in the latter picture, a story of which is given.

Jack Kealey, supposedly a reputable business man and wealthy, is in reality president of the Beggars' Union, an organization made up of phony cripples, blind men and other fakers, who prey upon the sympathy of the public. Kealey has a beautiful daughter, Ruth, who is in love with Tom Horton, a newspaper reporter. Ruth's father orders Horton from the house and forbids the girl to have anything to do with him. Later Horton is assigned to investigate graft conditions in the underworld. He goes into the tenderloin disguised as a tramp. After an all night vigil, the exhausted reporter falls asleep. Some boys place a card stolen from a blind man on Horton's chest. On waking, he is taken into the confidence of a phony lame man who makes him a member of the Beggars' Union. Horton gives information to the police which results in a raid. He trails the president to a cheap hotel and looking over the transom, recognizes John Kealey, who has thrown off his disguise. Kealey, threatened with exposure by the young reporter, consents to the love affair between Ruth and Tom.

At The Theaters

The Lamar Air dome.
The new vaudeville bill opening last night is a good one, there being enough variety in the two acts to make them highly pleasing. Powell and Juno have a singing, talking and dancing act that is better than ordinary and the McGreeveys rural comedy drew the laughs. These two acts will be repeated tonight with an excellent picture bill. Mary Fuller is featured in "The With of Salem Town" and King-Baggot and Jane Gail are featured in "Fifty Fifty."

The Gem.
Tom Moore and Serguerite Courtot are featured in "The Black Ring," a three part Kaleid feature, shown in connection with the regular program. A synopsis is given.

The daring thefts perpetrated by the "Knights of the Black Ring," terrorize society. The Darnell's chauffeur, a member of the band, cleverly steals the magnificent necklace which Jean receives from her father. The crook hides his loot in the machine. Before he can recover it, he is discharged for drunkenness. Jack Baldwin, a wealthy young man, takes the crook's place. The Darnells are unaware of Baldwin's identity. Jack finds a black ring and carelessly places it on one of his fingers. He and Jean fall in love with each other. Jack finds a rival in Count Barnoff, who succeeds in fascinating Jean. Awakened one night, Jack sees the discharged chauffeur coming out of the garage. He follows the man and is guided to the rendezvous of the Black Ring.

The young clubman peers through one of the windows and sees the man he had trailed pass Jean's necklace over to a masked man. Jack discovers the latter to be Count Barnoff. In a daring piece of work, the young man secures the necklace and makes his escape. Jean and her father, suspecting Jack of being the original thief, endeavor to have him arrested. To their surprise, the detectives recognize the man and laughingly refuse to take him in charge.

Jack learns that Count Barnoff and his gang plan a wholesale jewelry robbery to take place on the night of the Darnell ball. Detectives posted by the young man take note of the thefts. Disguised as a Hindu fakir, Jack tells the fortunes of the guests and thus unmasks Barnoff. The latter escapes, closely followed by his rival and the detectives. The black ring worn by Jack enables him to enter the Knights' den and he brings about the capture of the entire gang after a furious struggle. Jean later consents to marry her "chauffeur."

The Majestic.
Concerning the part of Princess Fedora in "Princess Romanoff" which is the feature today at the Majestic, Nance O'Neil, the star of the production says:

"I had always thought that I had mastered every subtle phase of Fedora Romanoff's wonderful character but I find that in spite of the number of times I have played it upon the stage the screen offers possibilities of development of which I have never dreamed. As you know, movie pictures are a new field to me. But thanks to Mr. Fox, I have been able to enter this wonderful realm of new art. The weeks that were spent making "Kreuzer Senta" were the happiest of my life. I don't consider the motion picture work as hard in itself as the burning anxiety to see the result of one's characterization upon the screen. The tremendous possibility of expressing all the emotions without using words is what grips you. Frank Powell, the director of "Princess Romanoff," said to me, "Miss O'Neil, I want you to play this scene so that we won't need any subtitles." That one comment of Mr. Powell proves the possibilities of the photoplay. You must go into every emotion you express like the snap of a whip. You have to throw your full force into it to get at the very essence of the drama. As for me, I live my part more completely upon the screen than I ever lived it for the stage. So intensely do I live each moment that at the finish of my emotional scenes, I am completely exhausted. There is one thing that I have discovered upon the screen, and that is that sincerity in ones acting shows more unmistakably there than upon the stage.

OTHER WEAPONS WILL DISPLACE THE RIFLE

Rotterdam.—Military experts here are of the opinion that it is highly probable the present war will see the end of the rifle as the principal weapon of infantry.

According to German agents in Holland the German army is rapidly substituting men armed with machine guns in place of rifles. Men so armed, and protected by concrete works and wire entanglements, can hold off a long line of the enemy. The tendency, it is said, is to bring up main forces of infantry only in emergencies.

At the beginning of the war, Germany was credited with having 50,000 machine guns. Notwithstanding some heavy losses of these weapons, the factories have been working day and night and it is now asserted that the number being used on the various fronts is twice that total.

A German agent in Rotterdam states Germany's case as follows: "Military science develops so rapidly in times of actual war that the weapon of today soon is discarded and something better taken up. The greatest asset Germany possesses is her ability to see ahead and make today the weapon of tomorrow."

"With the enemy, the rifle is a sort of fetish. The English are highly elated because the war has shown that their men can shoot straighter and quicker than the Germans. There is little cause for triumph. A large part of the time spent in training their troops is spent in teaching them the construction and use of the rifle, while our men are being taught how to handle and serve the machine gun. "The present war will see the end of many things as it has seen the birth of many things, and although the rifle may not disappear before peace is signed, its doom as the principal arm of infantry is sounded. "In modern warfare and particularly in trench warfare, the soldier who can fire a hundred shots to his opponents five has ninety-five chances of coming out unscathed. The German soldier prefers the machine gun to the rifle; it enables him to sit down comfortably and snipe death at the foe as water is squirted through a hose, and it gives him that sense of superiority and security which the possession of a superior weapon al-

That was a record breaking crowd at Lake Wichita last night. It is claimed there were at one time more than 5,000 people gathered at the pavilion and along the lake front, fully one-half of whom were visitors to Wichita Falls.

The farmers of Wichita county formed a company two or three years ago for the building and operating of a cotton-seed oil mill, and it has proven a success, even a greater success than those who put their money into the enterprise had expected.

According to an order passed by the Commissioners Court of Wichita county there will be held in this county on Saturday, July 24th an election known as "the tick eradication election."

You With Concealed Tin Horn Substitutes for the VICTROLA

When you get a cabinet-style talking-machine, you want a cabinet-style talking-machine—with sounding boards and amplifying compartment of resonant wood built right into the instrument.

You don't want a substitute arrangement that merely conceals an amplifying tin horn behind some fancy grille work, or that swings the horn around from one position to another while the record is playing. With any such inadequate substitute you can't expect a satisfactory tonal reproduction from your records.

There's no such substitute device in the Victrola. You can open the modifying doors and see the sounding boards and amplifying compartment for yourself—and these exclusive Victrola features are necessary to provide the very limit of area and character of vibrating surface to a full and pure tone reproduction at all times in exact accord with the artist's interpretation.

Furthermore, the modifying doors give you full control over the volume of sound, and enable you to increase or diminish it at will simply by opening or closing the doors—another important patented feature, and exclusive with the Victrola.

Come in and find out all about the Victrola. See the features that result in such a wonderful tone and make the Victrola supreme among musical instruments.

Victrolas $15 to $300. Victors $10 to $100. Easy terms, if desired.

Walt Mason on Home Patronage

Kersmith & Kickshaw deal in wax, and chinese eggs and carpet tacks. They are good sports in every way; they cough up money every day to make the town a better place in which to live and push your face. They hire a couple of clerks or more who wait on patrons in the store. Our cross-roads burg they would up-build, and see it with glad people filled. And to that end they blow their seeds like truly patriotic lads. But when we need of eggs a few we send away to Timbuctoo, and when a carpet tack we wish, it's shipped from Ypsilanti, Mich. Each has the notion in his dome that things are best away from home; and so we order hods and hats and humming birds and maltese cats from strangers in some towns remote, who wouldn't know us from a goat.

We ship away our hard earned kale, and get our fourth rate junk by mail. Say, are we seers, or are we fools? Those strangers don't support our schools, or keep the peeler on his beat, or help to pave the muddy street. They do not paint the village pump, or build a fence around the dump. If our old berg were blown away they wouldn't care a wisp of hay. Well, if we send everything away, sometime we'll have no tax to pay, because likely we will have no town—our burg will just be out and down. That don't sound very good, you say?
