Today gave every promise, during the early hours of being a very warm day.

Bowie, Texas, July 8.—After losing the first game to the Bowie team Tuesday afternoon the Tigers won the second game of the series Wednesday afternoon by a score of 9 to 5. The third game of the series is being played this afternoon. The Tigers will return to Wichita Falls on the 3:45 train Friday morning. Douglas pitched a splendid game for the Tigers yesterday striking out 13 men and holding his opponents to 4 scattered hits. A bright feature of the game was Trotter's stick work. In six times at bat he held one on a bager and four clean singles. The batteries for the Tigers were Douglas and Crow; for Bowie, Ryan and Hunt.

200 CHILDREN AND MOTHERS ENJOY ANNUAL OUTING GIVEN BY THE SALVATION ARMY TODAY

More than 200 children are guests of the Salvation Army at Lake Wichita today for the annual picnic given by the army. The little ones and many of the mothers were taken out in automobiles furnished by Wichitans and will return late today on street cars. All the lake attractions, motor boat rides and the "flying jenny" were enjoyed by the little folks, with dinner as the principal attraction of course. The automobile ride which began the day's program was not the least enjoyable feature. "Hey, mister, show a little speed, don't let that bunch catch up with us," was the command given one volunteer chauffeur by a youthful passenger. "I wonder if they'll let us ride the hobby horses." "Of course they will, if Captain Robb tells 'em to." The children—all carried flags and presented a lively scene as the 40 cars moved through the business district and out Tenth street. At the lake the "hobby horses" and other attractions were enjoyed during the morning; dinner arrived on a special car and was spread on a long table in the pavilion. The menu included an array of eatables that Captain Robb calculated would fill his charges to the gunwales and the picnickers did ample justice. There were 30 gallons of ice cream on hand as dessert. For many of the children it was their first automobile ride and for a number of the mothers, doubtless, it was the first outing in many a day. Captain and Mrs. Robb, with characteristic thoroughness, saw that nothing was lacking and they made the day one to be long remembered by the little folks who were their guests. Special cars were to bring the picnickers back to town late this evening.

Gov. Ferguson's Solution of The Texas Prison Problem

(Austin American)

If the plans Governor Ferguson has evolved and is working out for the solution of what has become known as "Texas prison problem" continue with the success they have proved thus far, there will be no special session of the Thirty-fourth legislature to enact penitentiary laws.

This was learned from an authentic source, close to the administration yesterday, when it was said that the present laws relative to the State's prisons and prison farms are proving adequate to their management, and that the penitentiary system is rapidly being placed on a self-sustaining basis.

It is the hope of the governor and his personal representative, Captain Craddock, it was said, to not only place the system on a self-supporting basis, but to make the system revenue producing. Drastic changes in the management of the penitentiaries and convict farms have already been made and it is expected that other changes equally as radical from the old order of things, will soon be put in force.

Factories are being operated, timber, lumber and other products, until now neglected, are placed on the road and in short things about the prison are beginning to hum with renewed life and energy.

At one fell swoop the pay roll was sliced and other expenses curtailed until a saving of approximately 50 per cent in prison operation expenses has been made since January 1. The box factory at Rusk is working there being about sixty convicts employed there. Soon the factory will operate to its full capacity. The State owned 600,000 feet of good lumber there, purchased for manufacturing boxes and fruit baskets and crates. It was worth approximately $150,000, but it had lain at Rusk ever since the box factory was closed.

Factories Now Operating.

Governor Ferguson and Captain Craddock, it was said, investigated and found that it would be a good business venture to operate the box factory. The lumber will be saved, manufactured into boxes and crates and sold at a profit.

On Jan. 1 or when James E. Ferguson took office, the prison commission had on hand more than four hundred wagons manufactured at Huntsville. Some of them were found years old, but no efforts had been made to sell them. The governor and the commissioners, advised by Captain

Craddock, it is said, placed an experienced salesman on the road and he has disposed of most of the wagons at a good profit. They would have gone to ruin under the old regime. Now the wagon factory has been put into operation and will be continued as long as the demand for wagons continues brisk. It is running at full capacity and furnishes work for many convicts.

The furniture factory at Huntsville is also operating and it was said by a man close to the governor that he is planning the enlargement of the manufacturing end of the prisons to the factories' full capacity, so that the needs of not only the penitentiaries but of all the State's eleemosynary institutions for boots, shoes and clothing can be supplied there. It will possibly take six months or a year to work the plans out in detail, but the system is rapidly being placed on a strictly-business basis.

The Shaw farm will probably be sold. The prison commission has the power to make the sale if the governor approves, and it was said Captain Craddock has advised the sale, although this could not be verified.

Will Plant More Sugar.

Several years ago, the State went into the sugar business on a large scale, spending $500,000 for sugar-making machinery. When sugar was placed on the free list in the new tariff law, Texas dropped the sugar business as a State conducted venture as one might drop a coal of fire. Since then the fine machinery has been practically idle.

Gov. Ferguson plans, it is said, to launch into the sugar business on a larger scale than ever. There will be no more crop farming by the State. It will not pay out all its money for the convicts to raise cotton and corn, but it will reduce its cotton acreage as it has advised all farmers to do, and will plant cane. The sugar machinery is on the Harlem and Clemens farms and will be used to its full capacity as soon as the cane crop can be brought in.

Another phase of the governor's plan is said to be the purchase of a big farm in the Fannin section of Texas for the culture of wheat and feed stuffs to supply the penitentiaries and all the eleemosynary institutions.

cause of his dissipation, and told that he was a founding. When the uncle is found murdered and his safe robbed, evidence points to the profigate. He is finally acquitted, although many believe him guilty. The profigate goes into the country, where he reforms. There he meets a girl with whom he falls in love, but her friends know the profigate and tell of his past. The profigate determines to find the real murderer. He traces a man who was trying to pawn some bonds to his home, and discovers it is a man supposed to have been the bosom friend of his "uncle." He forces the man to confess.

A locket is accidentally dragged from the profigate's pocket and the murderer recognizes it. The locket had been placed on the neck of his baby when he had driven his wife and child from the house. The woman had left the child on a doorstep and ended her own life. The profigate is staggered by the thought that he is the son of the murderer. As he stands there the girl he loves walks into the room. She comes to bring him back some trinkets of her friend who had died, and who was a niece of the murderer. She has heard all and throws herself into the arms of the profigate. They turn to find the murderer overcome by fright, has succumbed to heart failure.

The Majestic.

Helen Gardner is featured in "The Breath of Araby," a three part Broadway Star Feature attraction. "The Breath of Araby" is the most potent of love charms and has a mysterious subtle power. Clothilde Chauvassat desires to possess the wonderful drop of love potion and goes to extreme lengths to do so. She gains it and with it—death. The story is an unusual one that will hold the attention of the theatergoer from beginning to end. Also on the program is a Latin comedy, "A Lucky Strike" with Frances McMoray.

The Empress.

Charles Cary, Francis Billington, Edward Warren and Anna Mae West are featured in a two part Majestic, "At the Stroke of the Angelus" and Ed Coxen and Winifred Greenwood are featured in a comedy drama, "Through the Window." A Keystone comedy and a Reliance drama with Irene Hunt feature complete the program. A synopsis of "Added Fuel" the newspaper detective drama, is given.

Jane Pepper, reporter for "The Daily Mail," hears that her father's and brother's business difficulties are being aired upon "the street." She begs Slim West, rival reporter for "The Express" to print a denial. West makes a scoop and publishes the entire scandal. Shortly after this Jane's father is found mysteriously murdered. The guilt falls upon her brother. No one is able however, to find Pepper's securities and money, which have disappeared. By this time West repents his abuse of Jane's confidence. Believing that his story has precipitated the crime, he tries with all his might to make amends by helping to ferret out the mystery of the crime and save her brother. Jane also is at work seeking the clue. She barely escapes however, falling into the trap of the real criminal. It is West's timely arrival which saves the situation, clears her brother of blame and causes the arrest of the guilty butler.

ETHEL BARRYMORE TO PLAY AT MAJESTIC TOMORROW

Miss Ethel Barrymore's first film production is "The Nightingale" which will constitute the program at the Majestic Theatre Friday. An exhaustive review of Miss Barrymore's initial screen effort was made by Louis Reeves Harrison and is quoted from as follows:

"The debut of Miss Barrymore in a screen play, 'The Nightingale,' devised especially for her by Augustus Thomas, is an event even in this era of events and the general impression among members of a critical group gathered at the first presentation was favorable to the positive merits of the production. The play was received with close attention, and comments indicate that the All Star Corporation will enjoy a success beyond their natural and fond expectations. 'The Nightingale' afforded Miss Barrymore a wide range of opportunity and she scored without qualification from beginning to end.

"Miss Barrymore holds the eye every moment she is in the scene and not because she is of this or that type, but because she responds to a romantic ideal. She reaches the mind quite as much as she does the heart with an infinity of fine character delineation, and with a homespun unaffectedness that makes one glad that she is ours. The effects she achieves appear to be drawn from simple materials—it is flashed upon us at unexpected moments that she has a rare insight into the human heart, and she has a still rarer quality of communicating by delicate methods her many fleeting shades of thought and emotion.

"It became evident as the story progressed, as she was gradually transformed from a street singer, the offspring of commonplace parentage, the creature of commonplace environment, into a veritable artist of grand opera, that she ceased to play a part and released her natural self. It would be impossible for a woman of Isola's origin and surroundings to acquire in a very short period of time such exquisite refinements of movement and motive as were evidenced in her advanced condition."

Gained Four Days Out of Nine

Over in Oklahoma one of the business concerns using a great many wagons had been considering the question of axle grease.

Apparently no conclusion could be reached from the statements of competitive sellers of the products, so the company decided to make a test.

Two NEW wagons which had just been delivered to the company were selected for the test. To one wagon a competitive grease was applied on both front and rear wheels, Texaco grease being used on the other.

They were set to work. In five days the competitive grease was done, the spindles got hot and a new application was required.

IN NINE DAYS TEXACO GREASE WAS STILL GOOD, SPINDLES IN PERFECT CONDITION READY FOR ONE MORE DAY.

Texaco service on wagons is like Texaco service on anything else, ready to give unusual value to the man who uses it.

Take advantage of Texaco quality by buying the Red-Star-Green-T oils. Made in Texas.

Lamar Airdome.

Tonight marks the opening of a new vaudeville bill at the Airdome and a three part feature picture, "Shattered Memories" will compose the picture bill.

Two hundred old soldiers from the Old Soldiers' Home at Santee, Cal., took part in many of the scenes in the latter part of "Shattered Memories." A real Decoration Day scene is depicted in the graveyard of the Soldiers' Home, where row after row of the soldiers who fought for the blue and the gray, stretches away in the distance from the camera, while the living actors continue the story of "Shattered Memories" in the foreground. Each year the roll of veterans of the great Civil War steadily decreases in number and each year the survivors become more feeble. Even as late as 1895 the veterans were well, substantial looking fighting men but now iron gray heads have turned snow white and once erect forms are bent with age. The annual Memorial Day processions become more pathetic year by year.

Both Ella Hall and Robert Leonard seem to have caught the true fervor of patriotism. Their acting in the picture scene of the first reel of "Shattered Memories" is a masterpiece of pantomime. Such acting has seldom been seen.

The Gem.

Today's feature picture is a three part Essanay, featuring Ruth Stonehouse and E. H. Calvert, namely "The Profigate" a synopsis is given.

The profigate, a joyous but dissipated young man, is cast off by the man he believed to be his uncle, because of his dissipation, and told that he was a founding. When the uncle is found murdered and his safe robbed, evidence points to the profigate. He is finally acquitted, although many believe him guilty. The profigate goes into the country, where he reforms. There he meets a girl with whom he falls in love, but her friends know the profigate and tell of his past. The profigate determines to find the real murderer. He traces a man who was trying to pawn some bonds to his home, and discovers it is a man supposed to have been the bosom friend of his "uncle." He forces the man to confess.

Archimedes Was Central Figure in the Earliest Record of its Determination.

Parents who may be asked to explain what is meant by "specific gravity" might do worse than tell the school child of the earliest record of its determination.

For when the finished product arrived the king expressed to Archimedes a fear that it might contain an admixture of base metal. To test the matter, Archimedes put the crown into a vessel brimful of water.

What Might Be Called Plumbers' "Detective" Has Been Proved of Great Value.

Piping of various kinds such as gas, water, steam heating, vacuum cleaning or compressed air, is often concealed within walls, generally under plaster, but when it comes to making repairs or replacing such pipes, their exact position cannot always be found without doing considerable damage to the wall.

A recently patented electric method for locating the pipes is simply a special application of the well-known induction balance principle. A convenient apparatus is made up consisting of two sets of coils placed on ends of a magnet bar.

The balance is first established so that no sound is heard in the telephone. When the device comes near the metal piping, this disturbs the balance and a sound is heard.

Queer Signs on Cars

You see some queer signs on the street cars here, writes a New York correspondent. Today a well-dressed woman boarded a Madison avenue car, carrying a peculiar looking square tin box suspended from a leather handle.

of our legislature, and the confidence of the people have in the men they vote for and send to the legislature is put to the test when they are called upon to vote on constitutional amendments.

A study of our efforts in Belgium during the war is the way in which we have not only helped to feed the starving, but have by an international system of banking prevented business anarchy and made the supply of food go further. Last autumn it was calculated that $50,000,000 worth of food would be necessary before the next harvest, and this by the rise in prices amounted to $65,000,000.

Wichita Falls needs and should have another railroad to the north, if she makes the proper effort. It takes enterprise and lots of it to build a city, and The Times believes that another railroad to the north will double the population of Wichita Falls within the next four years.

The Mexican government, indeed, if there is any such government, has asked Governor Ferguson to turn over to General Huerta, but Governor Ferguson has very wisely concluded that he will do nothing of the kind, that is a matter for the government at Washington to handle.

El Paso is a part of Texas, and Texas is a very good part of the United States, yet some citizens of El Paso do not seem to comprehend what it means to be an American citizen.

The position of the Times is simply stated. This paper believes that Huerta deliberately insulted the United States and every citizen in it. This paper believes that the "President" will not do much to avenge the insult, he did not wipe out the insult completely.

The Times regrets that some of El Paso's best citizens have seen fit to make such a fuss over this person. The Times regrets that the Mayor of the city did not take steps to prevent the hired revolutionists from pulling off a fake ovation at the Federal building yesterday when Huerta was there before the court charged with a violation of this country's sacred laws.

WATCHING THE CONSTITUTION. The man who votes against all the proposed constitutional amendments is just as much nearer right than the man who votes for all of them. Besides, amending the constitution of Texas is like mending old clothes with new cloth—not worth the new goods wasted.—Bonham News.

Theories as to Cancer. Most of the theories of the cause of cancer fall into two groups—one that it is a germ disease, the other that it is hereditary. The supporters of the first, or germ, theory are much the more numerous, and to their credit be it said, the more active and unwearyingly industrious. Yet it must be regretfully confessed that although the germ of cancer has been one of the favorite objects of pursuit by research workers ever since the first germ-crime was accused and convicted by Pasteur, and literally hundreds of patient and laborious workers and scores of special institutions have been, and are yet, engaged in its study, the net result has been practically a nonmit. The verdict to date must be the cautious conclusion of the "lotch jury," "Not Proved."

Bees is Busy But Unwise. The bee may be a busy little insect, but it has no common sense. At least Henri Fabre says so, and Fabre, you know, has been called the "bees' Homer" by Maeterlinck. Fabre gives many proofs of his assertion, for example: He opened the bottom of a cell in the course of construction, but the bee that was building it kept right on with its work, building up the cell and storing honey in it, quite unconscious of the fact that the food for the future generation was oozing out, and finally laid its egg and sealed up the top of the cell, never paying any attention to the hole in the bottom.

We Do The Intricate WORK-T-A The Fine WORK

Many shops are equipped to do ordinary cleaning and pressing. A can of gasoline and a flat iron will do a good deal in making an old suit look new. But for real intricate work where the clothes are worth the money that is spent in cleaning them, modern machinery and methods are demanded.

In our shop, which you are invited to inspect any time you wish, the most modern machinery and expert help is provided for the very finest class of work, and we do that work on every garment that comes to us, whether it is a dress suit, business suit, party gown, or any article of apparel that you may have worn for any occasion—we will clean it properly, and press it properly, and at no more cost than the fellow who only has a tailor's goose. One trial will satisfy you on this point.

Henry Mungrove was in the city today. His farm is located eight miles north, and he has finished threshing his 275 acres of wheat which made a total yield of 3,437 bushels, or about 12½ bushels per acre. He says he had straw sufficient to have made double that yield. There was too much rain, which prevented the grain from filling out.

Notice in Bankruptcy. In the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Texas.

In the matter of Fred W. Rhodes, Bankrupt. No. 843 in Bankruptcy. First Meeting of Creditors.

Office of Referee, Fort Worth, Texas, July 6, 1915.

To the Creditors of Fred W. Rhodes, and District aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given, that on the 3rd day of July, A. D. 1915, said Fred W. Rhodes, was duly adjudicated bankrupt and that the first meeting of creditors of the bankrupt will be held at my office, in the city of Fort Worth, Texas, on the 17th day of July, A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such business as may properly come before said meeting. At same time will be considered matter of sale of all assets.

W. B. PADDOCK, Referee in Bankruptcy.

Interesting Find in Attic.

Attics in old houses are always interesting places. The cleaning of an attic in Wilmington, Vt., resulted in the discovery of a record book dating back to 1796, in which year there was organized a "social library," with constitution, by-laws and subscribers, manifestly a forerunner of the free libraries that are now found in every community. Entries in the book show that fines were assessed whenever one of the precious volumes was even slightly soiled by fingering or marred by the turning down of leaves. That there was much reading by candle light may be inferred from the fact that Israel Lawton was fined 17 cents for dropping tallow on book No. 93, and Timothy Castle six cents for getting a single drop of tallow on book No. 16. It is an interesting glimpse of days when books were rare and their perusal a privilege for which the studious paid gladly.

TOLD OF QUIANT COUNSELOR

Of Course It Will Be Recognized as a Fable, Since There is None Like Him.

Once upon a time an unfortunate traveler fell off from the top shelf of a sleeping car and dented his left kneecap quite a good deal. He forthwith bled him, limping and lamenting, to a lawyer who was reputed to be so honest that he preferred to tell the truth even when a lie would do just as well, and would not accept a retainer from a client unless the latter had a just cause for action. He also had plenty of time to practice on the violin.

"I choose to sue the soulless corporation for $10,000 damages," quoth the injured man, "both because I really am damaged fully $16 worth and also because $10,000 is the only sum for which anybody ever sues a corporation."

"Fish, likewish tush!" returned the attorney, reaching out for his faithful fiddle. "You would but waste your time and mine, for the counsel for the defense would make you a laughing stock and cause your dreams of avarice to turn to ashes in your mouth, by proving on your own testimony that you were lame from your berth."

Ah, was he not a queer lawyer, thus to carelessly throw away an opportunity for a fee, merely to make a sad witticism?—Kansas City Star.

PLANT LIFE WORTH STUDY

Men of Science Have Ascribed to Them Nearly All the Attributes of Humanity.

Occasionally a writer bobs up who ascribes to plant life nearly all the attributes claimed for humanity. Recognized scientific authorities are painfully silent on the subject, as must be the case with all who have had an intimate acquaintance with plants, yet plant life reveals many wonders to those who study it closely.

A magazine, whose name we have diplomatically forgotten, contains an article on the "Passions of Plants," in which occurs the following: "In the light, moreover, of the new knowledge we have regarding the joys and sorrows of buds and blossoms, what can be said in defense of the heartless race of florists and horticulturists? Every year—nay, every month—they deliberately snip off from the parent plant thousands and thousands of unoffending blossoms and innocent buds, who are thus brought to an untimely end. And for what? Merely to heighten, perhaps, the beauty of a ball-room!"

BANKERS AND FARMERS CONFERENCE IS OPENED

Speaker Says Bankers Peculiarly Well Situated to Advance Cause of Better Agriculture

Chicago, July 7.—Bankers, farmers, educators, from various state agricultural schools and experts from the federal department of agriculture met here today for the session of a two-day conference on the relations between bankers and farmers.

F. B. Mumford, dean of the college of agriculture of the University of Missouri, said that the farmers' problem was essentially economic. The solution of the economies of agriculture as related to the actual business of farming, will carry with it the solution of many of the other problems of the rural community.

Prof. Mumford pointed out that the American farmer, as a class, is peculiarly well situated to help in advancing the cause of better agriculture.

Recent investigations have clearly indicated that agriculture in America is under-capitalized. The very first step in farm betterment required a much larger amount of capital in our agricultural operations than has been utilized in the past half-century.

The bankers of America then can promote the cause of better agriculture by cooperating with the agricultural colleges in promoting the lending of county Agricultural Agents and by loaning money at low rates for the purchase of fertilizers, building of silos, seeding to alfalfa, purchase of registered sires and for all other enterprises which have been demonstrated to be in the interests of a permanently prosperous agriculture.

Somewhat similar points were advanced by H. E. Russell, director of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin. He devoted his paper to a discussion of the work of county agents and urged increased Agricultural Extension Service by state schools.

WOMAN IS GROWING YOUNGER

Improvement of the Home and Lightening of Its Drudgery is Uplifting the Whole Race.

Our women are carrying their years better. Not only is the length of life increasing, but they are making their youth last longer. They are raising stronger children. There is an uplift to the whole race. Many explanations are offered, but the big cause underlying the whole effect is the improvement of the home and the lightening of its drudgery.

Staying younger is largely a matter of keeping interested in things, and to keep interested there must be variety, a writer in the Woman's World states. So the current criticism that woman is flying from one thing to another and undertaking too much and wearing out her nerves is not altogether sound.

Doctors found that the reason so many cases of mental disease came from the farms was that farm women did not have enough interests. Their loneliness was disastrous. Now that the farm women have the telephone and the automobile and social societies and other means of diversion and employment, conditions are improving.

So the lessening of woman's work by system and the use of all labor-saving devices possible really means that besides the enjoyment of better hours she has time for things that will broaden and stimulate her mind, and bring her in association with other women and give her the opportunity to be part of the larger life and progress of the age.

WHAT DIABETICS SHOULD EAT

Famous Specialist Gives a Safe Diet for Persons With Tendency to That Disease.

Many folk ask what is a safe diet for a person suffering from a tendency to diabetes. Dr. Arnold Lorand of Carlsbad, a famous specialist in diabetes and author of a book on the subject, says that the following foods may be eaten: Milk, rice, eggs, green vegetables in large quantities, especially spinach; white fish, cakes made of buckwheat, from which the cellulose has been removed, macaroni, spaghetti, butter, small quantities of rye and graham bread, potatoes (fried or in the form of salad), oyster plant, cauliflower, salads, apples cooked or raw, strawberries, cranberries, huckleberries, oranges and most fruits.

The same authority forbids the following: Sugar, meat, most soups, lentils, peas and beans (except the soy bean), most of the cereals, white bread, candy, beer and other alcoholic drinks.

If some sweetening be desired in coffee and tea saccharin may be used, but it should be remembered that this is more than six hundred times as sweet as sugar, so a very minute quantity of it is enough.

Youth and Age

Physicians have for some time about made up their minds that the use of oxygen in lung affections of the aged is, in spite of the promise at its introduction, of very little service, unless perhaps to prolong fading life for a few hours. It is interesting to find, then, that just at this time comes the announcement that this gas in connection with mechanical artificial respiration may actually be life saving for infants just born, in whom breathing has not been established normally as yet.

Such is the way of life. Young vitality can take advantage of the slightest help offered to it. Age with waning vital force loses its grasp even of what seems sure aid. Youth will be served.

Exercise of Choice

The human faculties of perception, judgment, discriminative feeling, mental activity, and even moral preference, are exercised only in making a choice. He who does anything because it is the custom makes no choice. He gains no practice either in discerning or desiring what is best. The mental and moral, like the muscular powers, are improved only by being used. The faculties are called into no exercise by doing a thing merely because others do it.

He who lets the world or his own portion of it, choose his plan of life for him has no need of any other faculty than the apolike one of imitation. He who chooses his plan for himself employs all his faculties.—John Stuart Mill.

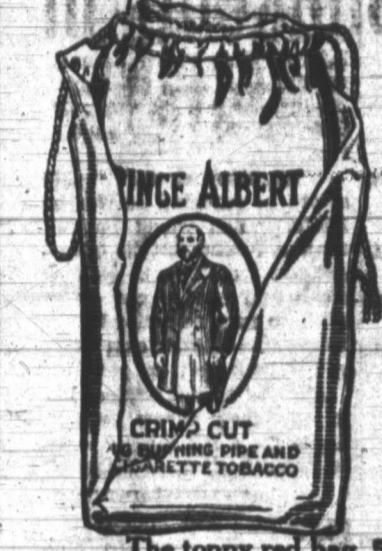

Branding the Innocent

When a witness under cross-examination is admonished to answer "Yes" or "No" to all questions and is then asked "Have you ever stopped beating your wife?" he feels that something is wrong with a system of court procedure that puts him in that position. Either "yes" or "no" convicts him for beating his wife at some time or other. Such trick questions are heard in court every day and the witness gets little satisfaction out of the assurance that he can explain on re-examination if the lawyer on his side of the case thinks it worth while to give him a chance and does not forget to do so.—New York Commercial.

PRINCE ALBERT

is such good tobacco you feel like you could just eat the smoke!

Yes, sir, P. A. puts a razor edge on your smoke appetite—division that's hobby enough to be photographed!

The tippy red bag, 5c. For you can put your little old blue-pencil O. K. right here that Prince Albert is a regular double-header for a single admission—as joy us to your tongue and taste one way as the other!

Will the "rollers" kindly step forward for a spell and get some of this listen into their systems? Because Prince Albert certain and sure jams more joy into a makin's paper than ever before was figured up on two hands!

In the plain language of the hills, you can't any more resist such makin's tobacco than a bullfrog can pass up a piece of red flannel! Because P. A. hands to you everything any cigarette roller ever dreamed of—rare flavor, and aroma, and mildness, and body; absolutely the best bet—the best smoke

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY, Winston-Salem, N. C.

You or any other man ever did roll and put the fire to! Men, we tell you to wise up.

P. A. is crimp cut and stays put—which means rolling P. A. is as easy as falling off a log. And it's good to remember P. A. is put up in the tippy red bag especially for you "rollers." Sells for the price of a jitney ride, 5c.

Now, will the "pipers" kindly open both ears? Here's tobacco that has made it possible for three men to smoke pipes where one smoked before!

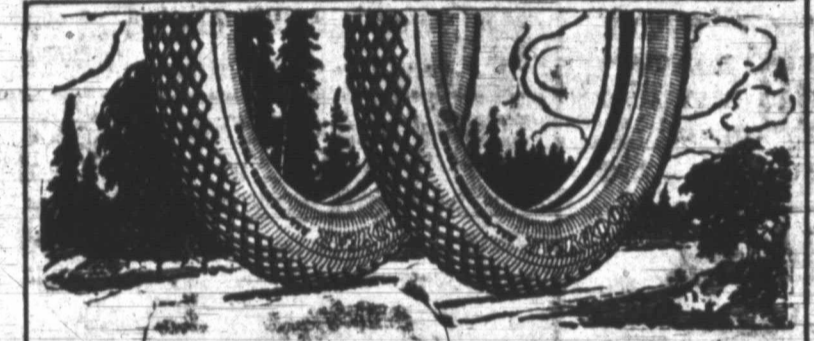

Any way you hook it up, Prince Albert is tobacco insurance! Yes, sir, it guarantees your future as well as your present smokings! And just makes your tongue so jimmy pipe joy us that your smoke appetite grows, whopping big. You men who "dassn't," we say you go to P. A., natural-like! Because there isn't a bite in a barrel of this national joy smoke.

Unlimber your old jimmy pipe! Dig it out of the dark corner, jam it brimful of P. A. And make fire with a match! Me-o-my!

You get acquainted with Prince Albert in the tippy red bag, 5c.; or tippy red tin, 10c.; but for the double-back-action-joy, you buy a crystal-glass pound humidor. And then you're set! You see, it has the sponge-moistener top and keeps P. A. at the highest top-notch point of perfection. Prince Albert is also sold in pound and half-pound tin humidors.

Twin Tires?—No One's a Goodyear as It Might Be The Other Costs Us $1,635,000 More

This is to prove that you can't judge tires by looks.

Here are two Goodyear tires, seemingly identical. But one is built like many of its rivals. Goodyear extras are omitted. The other has those hidden values. And those unseen extras, on this year's output will cost us $1,635,000. This year's betterments alone add to our cost $500,000 yearly. Yet our 1915 price reduction saves our users about five million dollars.

No Price Excuse This is not a price excuse. Goodyear prices have been fairly racing down. Our late big reduction made the third in two years, totaling 45 per cent. No equal tire can compete.

FAILED TO IMPRESS JUDGE

Fact That Jurist Had Heard Similar Story May Have Been One Cause of Unbelief.

A retail grocer reported to the police, the other day, that certain sacks of flour had been feloniously abstracted from in front of his store, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. A sleuth was put on the job, and very soon this sleuth saw a man whose clothes were white, and therefrom argued that this person must be the flour thief. The detective followed the suspect to his home, and there he discovered six bags of flour.

The man the detective detected was the thief. He confessed before the municipal court judge the next morning. "Yes, your honor," he said, "I did take that flour, but I didn't steal it. There it laid on the sidewalk, and the grocer wasn't taking care of it, and I thought some thief might come along and swipe it. So I took it home to save it for that grocer."

"Yes," commented Judge Sanders. "You were a noble citizen. Your story reminds me of a fellow who was arrested for burglary and larceny not long ago. He explained it like this: He was going along the street and he saw a house on fire. He went in and rescued an old lady from burning to death. In her gratitude she gave him the articles the police found on his person, to-wit: Six silver spoons, six silver forks, six silver knives, a silver teapot, a revolver, a blackjack, a billy and a dark lantern."

BEST LITERATURE IS SIMPLE

Should Give Beautiful Expressions to Thoughts Entertained by Plain People. There is no higher achievement in literature than to delight plain people with beautiful expression of thoughts which they themselves have already entertained but could not express, says the Minneapolis Journal. For there are no men or women so rude, so illiterate or so depraved that fine thoughts and imagings do not intrude upon them betimes. To seize and utilize these flashes of divine ideas is beyond the ability of the grounding, and so it becomes the business of the gifted to give them utterance and perpetuity. So that, in the end, the best function of literature is to immortalize the thoughts, aspirations and beliefs of ordinary people so that they may gain faith in themselves having something to cling to and being sure that their best impulses have the indorsement of the nurtured minds of their day. And it is for this reason that the best literature is that which is distinguished by simplicity, sincerity and that plainness which—above all other qualities—is commendable in preservative art. Books do not contain anything so precious as the songs of the people, for no matter how literary they seem they are vital and vocal of the yearning of human hearts, and no amount of criticism or rhetorical analysis can rob them of their essential value.

How We Breathe

It is startling to learn that medical science has carefully noted and named our various "breath sounds" and can say exactly what they denote. With healthy breath is the hiss, with mouth shut and soundless. The "snoring" breath sound, due to mouth breathing, is, in the case of infants and young adults, a sign that they have been the victims of the India rubber "comforter." This has pressed against the roof of the mouth when the latter was "soft" and caused the palate to arch and encroach on the floor of the nose. Hence mouth breathing and snoring.

Adenoids, we are told, "came in with the comforter," and they are more producers. If not cured, deformed jaws, enlarged tonsils, bad teeth and an idiotic expression follow. Snoring in adults, in health, is due to a deeply relaxed soft palate. In disease snoring denotes brain trouble.

Improving the Noon Hour

"As a general thing, builders have some leisure time every noon after the more or less full dinner pill has been disposed of. There are probably as many different ways of using this spare time as there are carpenters and builders working. Some ways don't amount to much, while others work out better than a college education for the ambitious builder," says the American Carpenter and Builder. It is really surprising how much can be learned in 20 minutes' thoughtful reading each day at the noon hour. Get into the habit and turn your noon hours to real account, 365 days in the year. With all the readable and instructive building trade books and journals now obtainable so easily, everyone can do this.

Reading History

He who reads history learns to distinguish what is local from what is universal; what is transitory from what is eternal; to discriminate between exceptions and rules; to trace the operation of disturbing causes; to separate the general principle, which applies to the general circumstances with which in every community they are blended, and with which in an isolated community they are confounded by the most philosophical mind. Hence it is that in generalization the writers of modern times have far surpassed those of antiquity.—Macaulay.

Suspected Negro Thief
A negro who was suspected of stealing a shirt in cooler & Hendricks store shortly after noon today made his escape through the back door and down the alley going to the corner of Eighth and Indiana, where he crashed head first into a pole, knocking him out. Lin Smith, who was pursuing the negro was close on his heels, but denies that he struck the negro. The latter appeared to suffer severely for several minutes and physicians were summoned. After being given treatment, the negro was removed to the county jail. He left the store while a clerk was telephoning to officers to come and arrest him.

BANKERS AND FARMERS CONFERENCE IS OPENED

Speaker Says Bankers Peculiarly Well Situated to Advance Cause of Better Agriculture

Chicago, July 7.—Bankers, farmers, educators, from various state agricultural schools and experts from the federal department of agriculture met here today for the session of a two-day conference on the relations between bankers and farmers.

F. B. Mumford, dean of the college of agriculture of the University of Missouri, said that the farmers' problem was essentially economic. The solution of the economies of agriculture as related to the actual business of farming, will carry with it the solution of many of the other problems of the rural community.

Prof. Mumford pointed out that the American farmer as a class has been slow to adopt new methods and to take the difficulties facing the agricultural colleges when the institutions try to get the results of their experience adopted generally.

Recent investigations have clearly indicated that agriculture in America is under-capitalized. The very first step in farm betterment required a much larger amount of capital in our agricultural operations than has been utilized in the past half century.

The bankers of America then can promote the cause of better agriculture by cooperating with the agricultural colleges, by promoting the locating of county Agricultural Agents and by loaning money at low rates for the purchase of fertilizers, building of silos, seeding to alfalfa, purchase of registered sires and for all other enterprises which have been demonstrated to be in the interests of a permanently prosperous agriculture.

Somewhat similar points were advanced by H. E. Russell, director of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin. He devoted his paper to a discussion of the work of agricultural agents and urged increased and incidentally materially increased crops.

WOMAN IS GROWING YOUNGER

Improvement of the Home and Lightening of its Drudgery is Uplifting the Whole Race.

Our women are carrying their years better. Not only is the length of life increasing, but they are making their youth last longer. They are raising stronger children. There is an uplift to the whole race. Many explanations are offered, but the big cause underlying the whole effect is the improvement of the home and the lightening of its drudgery.

Staying younger is largely a matter of keeping interested in things, and to keep interested there must be variety, a writer in the Woman's World states. So the current criticism that woman is trying from one thing to another and undertaking too much and wearing out her nerves is not altogether sound.

Doctors found that the reason so many cases of mental disease came from the farms was that farm women did not have enough interests. Their loneliness was disastrous. Now that the farm women have the telephone and the automobile and social societies and other means of diversion and employment, conditions are improving.

So the lessening of woman's work by system and the use of all labor-saving devices possible really means that besides the enjoyment of better hours she has time for things that will broaden and stimulate her mind, and bring her in association with other women and give her the opportunity to be part of the larger life and progress of the age.

WHAT DIABETICS SHOULD EAT

Famous Specialist Gives a Safe Diet for Persons with Tendency to That Disease.

Many folk ask what is a safe diet for a person suffering from a tendency to diabetes. Dr. Arnold Lorand of Carlsbad, a famous specialist in diabetes and author of a book on the subject, says that the following foods may be eaten: Milk, rice, eggs, green vegetables in large quantities, especially spinach; white flaked fish, cakes made of buckwheat, from which the cellulose has been removed, macaroni, spaghetti, butter, small quantities of rye and graham bread, potatoes (fried or in the form of salad), oyster plant, cauliflower, salads, apples cooked or raw, strawberries, cranberries, huckleberries, oranges and most fruits.

The same authority forbids the following: Sugar, meat, except hams, luncheon, peas and beans (except the soy bean), most of the cereals, white bread, candy, beer and other alcoholic drinks.

If some sweetening be desired, in coffee and tea saccharin may be used, but it should be remembered that this is more than six hundred times as sweet as sugar, so a very minute quantity of it is enough.

Youth and Age

Physicians have for some time about made up their minds that the use of oxygen in lung affections of the aged is, in spite of the promise at its introduction, of very little service, unless perhaps to prolong fading life for a few hours. It is interesting to find, then, that just at this time comes the announcement that this gas in connection with mechanical artificial respiration may actually be life saving for infants just born, in whom breathing has not been established normally as yet.

Such is the way of life. Young vitality can take advantage of the slightest help offered to it. Age with waning vital force loses its grasp even of what seems sure aid. Youth will be served.

Exercise of Choice

The human faculties of perception, judgment, discriminative feeling, mental activity, and even moral preference, are exercised only in making a choice. He who does anything because it is the custom makes no choice. He gains no practice either in discerning or desiring what is best. The mental and moral, like the muscular powers, are improved only by being used. The faculties are called into no exercise by doing a thing merely because others do it.

He who lets the world or his own portion of it, choose his plan of life for him has no need of any other faculty than the spark of imitation. He who chooses his plan for himself employs all his faculties.—John Stuart Mill.

Branding the Innocent

When a witness under cross-examination is admonished to answer "Yes" or "No" to all questions and is then asked "Have you ever stopped beating your wife?" he feels that something is wrong with a system of court procedure that puts him in that position. Either "yes" or "no" convicts him for beating his wife at some time or other. Such trick questions are asked in court every day and the witness gets little satisfaction out of the assurance that he can explain on re-examination if the lawyer on his side of the case thinks it worth while to give him a chance and does not forget to do so.—New York Commercial.

Twin Tires?—No One's a Goodyear as It Might Be The Other Costs Us $1,635,000 More

This is to prove that you can't judge tires by looks. Here are two Goodyear tires, seemingly identical. But one is built like many of its rivals. Goodyear extras are omitted. The other has those hidden values. And those unseen extras, on this year's output, will cost us $1,635,000.

This year's betterments alone add to our cost $500,000 yearly. Yet our 1915 price reduction saves our users about five million dollars.

No Price Excuse Goodyear prices have been fairly racing down. Our late big reduction made the third in two years, totaling 45 per cent. No equal tire can compete

From the splendid view of the Friberg church we can see the smoke of six threshers.

Miss Shonemaker of Wichita Falls, visited the Miss Lynekes Sunday and attended church. Mr. Adams lost at least a third of his wheat on account of the wet weather.

Mr. Norman has just completed a new grainery. He is going to store his wheat for a better price. Luke Bryant is a believer in Texas products. He went to Wichita and brought out a wheat grainery made in Texas.

RURAL MAIL CARRIERS GET INCREASE IN PAY

Austin, Texas, July 8.—Approximately 2,500 rural mail carriers are affected. It was estimated here today, by the increase in salaries which became effective July 1. E. A. Junck, paymaster here, said the increase ranges from five to ten per cent and affects with but few exceptions. Approximately $1,500,000 is paid annually to all rural mail carriers in the State these carriers.

Henry Musgrave has his wheat all threshed and is preparing his land for another crop. Casper Geyer is feeling good and wearing a smile. His wheat is threshed and in the bin. He made twelve bushels to the acre.

The thresher is with Charlie Bell today on the Cargy farm. Mrs. Charlie Quastrom is on the busy list, but is getting better. A. E. Thorion has been sick for some time but is up and about again. C. A. Andree had three fine cows to die a few days ago with Texas fever.

Mr. Bentley and bride of the Panama Canal Zone, were entertained at Mr. Joseph Stephenson's Sunday with a fine dinner. We had chicken in abundance. Mrs. Carey, one of the large land owners of the Friberg country, is to spend the summer in California.

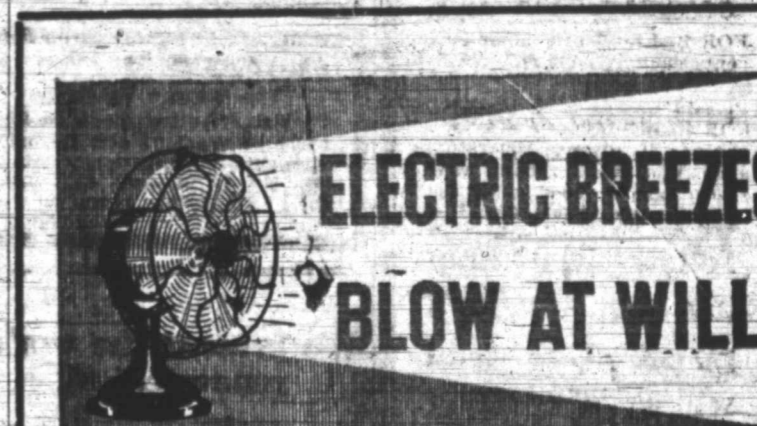

Born to T. L. Nisbet and wife a 12 pound girl, July 4. Mother and babe are doing well. Mrs. Lank Thornberry spent the night in town with her mother, Mrs. Carcy. Peaches and plums are getting ripe; some of the ladies are busy canning fruit.

Snoring in adults, in health, is due to a deeply relaxed soft palate. In disease snoring denotes brain trouble.

Improving the Noon Hour. As a general thing, builders have some leisure time every noon after the move or less full dinner pail has been disposed of. There are probably as many different ways of using this spare time as there are carpenters and builders working. Some ways don't amount to much, while others work out better than a college education for the ambitious builder.

It is really surprising how much can be learned in 20 minutes' thoughtful reading each day at the noon hour. Get into the habit and turn your noon hours to real account, 365 days in the year. With all the readable and instructive building trade books and journals now obtainable so easily, everyone can do this.

Reading History. He who reads history learns to distinguish what is local from what is universal; what is transitory from what is eternal; to discriminate between exceptions and rules; to trace the operation of disturbing causes; to ascertain the general principles, which are always the same, and which are applicable from the most dissimilar circumstances with which in every community they are blended, and with which, in an isolated community they are confounded by the most philosophical mind. Hence it is that in generalization the writers of modern times have surpassed those of antiquity.—Macaulay.

SUSPECTED NEGRO THIEF HURT TRYING TO ESCAPE

A negro who was suspected of stealing a shirt in Collier & Hendricks store shortly after noon today made his escape through the back door and down the alley going to the corner of Eighth and Indiana, where he crashed head first into a pole, knocking him out. Linn Smith, who was pursuing the negro was struck on his heels, but denies that he struck the negro. The latter appeared to suffer severely for several minutes and physicians were summoned. After being given treatment, the negro was removed to the county jail. He left the store while a clerk was telephoning to officers to come and arrest him.
