WHEN THE WORLD WAS NEW.

The world is biggest when we are young enough to conceive of the past as an empire and the city block as a republic. Time is longest when we are young enough to see a day as an epoch, a week as an era, a summer vacation by sea and lake shore as a sternly holiday.

OUR PRESIDENT.

The most impressive thing in the United States during the past few weeks has been the weight and power of our public opinion gathering to back the President in his conduct of the Nation's foreign affairs.

WHAT CHANGE?

"Less'n one shayt yeah ago, brudern and sistahs," dramatically declared Brother Bogus, during the experience meeting, "was a miserable wretch, wadin' in de dough 'o' sin and waller'n in de sinkhole 'o' sickness!"

OUR COUNTRY.

Probably no women in all the world ever gave up their husbands and fathers and sons more bravely than did the women of the North and South during the Civil War.

be among the most warlike of all history. As you honor the noble men who made this glorious Nation and its history do not be guilty of such treason as to say that you would not give a son to see it saved to work out the destiny which so fired the imaginations of those who gave us this rich heritage that their love of country and their faith in God were almost inadvisable.—Austin Statesman.

ADVICE TO STOCKMEN.

According to an order passed by the Commissioners Court of Wichita county there will be held in this county on Saturday, July 24th an election known as "the tick eradication election."

Here is the article: Tolbert, July 2.—I notice in yesterday's Record and Dallas News where in Mr. Avery of the livestock sanitary board is encouraging the counties by the quarantining to submit to tick eradication must advise the stockmen and farmers in counties this contemplated to fight against the proposition. A quarantine was declared in North Wilbarger county in November, 1913.

OUR PRESIDENT.

The most impressive thing in the United States during the past few weeks has been the weight and power of our public opinion gathering to back the President in his conduct of the Nation's foreign affairs.

WHAT CHANGE?

line as they desire to sell. The Times understands the grain farmers of this county are now seriously considering a proposition of that nature.

That was a record breaking crowd at Lake Wichita last night. It is estimated there were at one time more than 5,000 people gathered at the pavilion and along the lake front, fully one-half of whom were visitors to Wichita Falls.

It appears from the statement of the Armenian Captain that it was not until he had forfeited all the rights and privileges that law conferred on him that his vessel was fired on. He was sailing a ship which flew the British flag, and a ship whose cargo was contraband in every category.

Wichita County is to have a prohibition election in the near future. Petitions are being circulated and will be presented to the commissioners court of that county on the 12th of July.

OUR PRESIDENT.

are standing behind both the cotton and grain farmers. Grayson county farmers, therefore, are given every advantage possible consistent with sensible and sane banking and commercial methods.

There is every indication that the market price for both wheat and oats will be higher than now. It is just as essential that the banks and business men should be interested in assisting the grain farmer to hold his grain on a long term basis.

The statement of Wichita Falls banks as made June 23rd, shows deposits of about $2,500,000. The Times is in receipt of a box of nice crisp potato chips, a "made in Wichita" product, made by D. D. Bailey of 800 Lamar.

Every boy, if it is expected that he is to make of himself a man among men in the world, should be taught that wealth and success only grow and thrive on the bushes that are watered by the sweat of the brow.

not to rush their new wheat crop upon the market all at once and thus force down the price to where they would lose heavily in the transaction.

Mr. Burke is now in Paris, France, and he writes Mr. Crouch that the European governments are now waiting for the American farmers to dump their wheat upon the market in bulk knowing that when they do so the market will crumble and the wheat can be procured for a much smaller figure than if the crop were dealt out slowly in response to the law of supply and demand.

Here's a bit of rhyme that is going the rounds of the press, and it fits nicely right here in Wichita Falls, especially at this season of the year when so many of our over-worked citizens are leaving to spend the summer where they hope to find the surroundings and conditions better and much improved over what they are right here at home.

The Reporter has often read of "adding insult to injury" but he has never known of a more striking case than the present Huerta incident which is attracting the attention of the people of the United States.

Market Report

Chicago Grain Futures. Chicago, July 7.—Heavy rains and higher cables resulted today in a swift advance in the price of wheat, besides Liverpool advices appeared to indicate that decided expansion of European buying was imminent. After opening 7-8 to 4 cents higher the market here steadied at a moderate reaction from the top point of the bulge. Corn rose with wheat and as a result of unfavorable weather. Prospects of harvest delay had a quick bullish effect on oats. Wheat closed unsettled, wheat July 197 5-8; Sept. 1.02 1-8; Dec. 1.05 1-4; corn July 74 5-8; Sept. 73; Dec. 64 1-4; oats July 53 3-8; Sept. 53; Dec. 53 1-4.

FORT WORTH MISS HONOREE AT PICNIC

Complimenting their niece, Miss Annie Y. Burnett of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Roberts entertained a number of young folks with a swimming party and picnic Thursday evening. The dip in the natatorium served to make the enjoyment of the bounteous picnic repeat all the keener. Dancing and games were in order following supper, the young people being indebted to the host and hostess for an evening of unusual pleasure. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Roberts in entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ferguson. The guest list included Miss Annie Y. Burnett, honoree, Misses Cecelia and Sadie Adcock, Allen, Gretchen and Ruby Avis, Audrey Ferguson, Annie Lea, Sibyl Kell and Edwin and Jimmy Blair, John Allen, Robert Ferguson, J. B. Ferguson, Marshall Huff and Dillard Anderson.

MISS HAYNES OF OKLAHOMA HONORED THURSDAY EVENING

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pitman, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Phil Kerr entertained very pleasantly Thursday evening for their niece, Miss Naomi Haynes of Lindsay, Okla., the affair being in the nature of a lawn party. Rev. F. L. McFadden and Frank Nicholson assisted Mr. Pitman in gathering up the guests in automobiles, a short ride being enjoyed before the party. On arriving at the Pitman home they were met by the hostess and escorted to the daisy bushes where each young lady pinned a boutonniere on her escort. During the introductory chats Victoria selections were rendered and little Charles Pitman gave an interesting recital. Much enjoyment was derived from out-door games, and additional pleasure was given by a musical program arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Pitman. Delicious ice cream and cake was served on the lawn, and the guest of honor, Miss Haynes, presented each young lady and gentleman with a stick of peppermint candy as a souvenir on leaving. An auto ride home brought the delightful evening to a close. The guests included Miss Naomi Haynes, honoree; Miss Norma Brown of Jacksboro, house guest of Judge and Mrs. E. W. Nicholson, Misses Gladys Matchett, Ethel Rainey, Theresa Gisham, Christine Hureh, Emma McGinnis, Messrs. Charles Milligan, Marcus Helber, Birk Taylor, Bill Moran, Frank Nicholson, Bob Weaver, Olin Brown, Carl Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Kerr.

MEETING EX-SERVICE U. S. N. MEN CALLED

THOSE WHO HAVE RECEIVED AN HONORABLE DISCHARGE WILL MEET HERE

NAVAL RESERVE PROPOSAL

Lieutenant Cunningham and Surgeon Bostwick Will Be Here on That Date

Young men in this section of the State who have served in the navy and who have received honorable discharges will be given an opportunity of joining the National Naval Reserve next Tuesday, July 13 when Lieutenant Cunningham will be here to explain the organization of the Reserve to the men who have served enlistments.

The Naval Reserve was created by an act of Congress approved March 3, 1915. Thousands of highly trained men serve out their enlistments and are honorably discharged from the navy each year. The men are not being enlisted in a Naval Reserve who can be called upon in times of National emergency.

When he comes here next Tuesday, Lieutenant Cunningham wishes to meet all ex-service men living in this vicinity so that he can talk with them and get their views and opinions in regard to the Reserve. At other places the ex-service men have received the proposals for enlistment in the Reserve with enthusiasm. Any men who care to enlist in the Reserve can be enlisted here on that date. There are many in this section and those who have been interviewed have expressed an intention of joining the Reserve.

There has been a number of men rejected at the local office for slight physical defects who would doubtless be accepted if there was a doctor at this station. If these men will call at the office next Tuesday they can be examined by Surgeon Bostwick, U. S. N.

Lieutenant Cunningham is in command of all recruiting stations in the central and northern part of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas with his headquarters in Dallas.

GOVERNMENT CAN'T HELP ON OVERFLOW PROBLEM

State Drainage Department, However, Will Study Situation and Make Recommendations

No government assistance can be given Wichita Falls in solving the overflow problems, according to Congressman Stephens, writing to Mayor Britain. The matter was brought up at the council meeting Thursday night. The state drainage department, however, will make recommendations for preventing further overflows. The Wichita River is not a navigable stream and is not the boundary between two states, consequently the federal government has no jurisdiction over it.

Mayor Britain reported the awarding of the Ninth street storm sewer contract to Ralph Hibbs. Permission was granted the Catholic church for connection with the sewer. Mayor Britain reported the purchase of additional land near the garbage incinerator, for the city's use. In executive session the appointment of George Gilham as policeman was confirmed and other police department matters discussed. The session of the council was brief.

ERNEST BASSETT FOUND GUILTY ON THEFT CHARGE

Jury Recommends Suspension of Sentence in Case of Youth Who Had Not Asked It

Ernest Bassett, indicted for theft from person, was found guilty last Thursday by a jury in the 78th district court. His sentence was fixed at two years, but the jury recommended that the sentence be suspended. No suspended sentence had been asked for the defendant, and the judge had not charged the jury on that provision of the law at all, and it is thought the jurors simply took the defendant's youth into consideration. The suspended sentence could not be asked in Bassett's case. He was alleged to have picked the pocket of an Oklahoma man at a resort in the state, securing about $50. The jury's recommendation for suspended sentence does not necessarily mean that the sentence will be suspended, as Judge Nicholson must pass upon the question.

Of the sixty-six Texas postmasters who get a raise in salaries this year, Wichita Falls postmaster is one of them. The salaries are based on the amount of business transacted. The salary for the Wichita Falls office has been increased from $3,100 to $3,200 per year. One hundred and forty-one Texas postmasters had their salaries reduced.

Summer resorts are suffering greatly this season from the wave of economy that has spread and is still spreading over the entire country. And then, we note that the motor car manufacturers are working over-time and are unable to supply the demand for cars. From this it would seem that the people are saving here in order to spend there. In other words, they are cutting out their summer trips and taking the money they would expend on such trips to buy motor cars.

Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, in his address on Independence Day at Kansas City had this to say: 'Is half your allegiance here and half in England, or some other country? If so, you are not worthy the protection of the American government. You can't eat the grapes of American privileges and the fruit of treason at the same time. You are either a patriot or a traitor.' Senator Reed was addressing his remarks to foreign-born Americans. Those who are criticizing President Wilson's policy in the European war should read and study what Senator Reed has said, for he has said nothing except the truth, and should meet with the hearty approval of every loyal American citizen. Those who cannot endorse it, should not expect to be decent enough to remain quiet.

If the wheat-holding movement is being maintained over Texas as it is in Denton county, the Texas wheat sales do far have cut little figure in the prices. Local bankers say that practically every farmer is holding some wheat in anticipation of a rise in the price, and not a few are holding their entire crops, confident that it will not be any lower when they get ready to sell than it is now.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

A TIMELY CONUNDRUM. (From San Antonio Light). A correspondent in the New York World, who signs himself 'German-American,' asks the following questions: Why do American hate Germans? Is it because they are faithless? Is it because they are treacherous? Is it because they strive for achievement? Is it because they know how to behave themselves? Is it because they are law-abiding citizens? An interesting question, and worthy an answer. Happily, the reply is not difficult to give. Americans hate Germans because they are more expensive than gold? Why are ham and eggs more favored in fashionable restaurants than lobster a la Newburg? Why does fire burn water? Why does a steamship move faster than a train? Why do illiterates know more than educated people? The answer to all these queries is substantially the same as to the questions. 'Why do Americans hate Germans?' They don't.

INDIANA HOUSE CLEARING. (Memphis, Tenn., Commercial Appeal). Following the example of the federal government, Indiana has entered upon a general housecleaning. Corrupt politicians will be put out of business. For many years—in fact, ever since the days of the blockade of five inaugurated the Republican party—the state has been the scene of many fraudulent elections. The state courts have been successful in securing convictions, and the guilty have always escaped. It remained for the federal government to begin the cleaning of Indiana, and to begin the cleaning of Indiana, starts out to do a thing it never stops until the thing is accomplished. The Terre Haute convictions are yet fresh in the public mind. The sheriff of the county, the mayor of the city, the chief of police, the county judge and other notable officials all fell under the ban of investigation. They are now spending the summer in Leavenworth penitentiary. The latest development promises to be even a greater sensation than the one in Terre Haute, for many of the identified political leaders of the state are involved. Tom Taggart is the leader of the 123 men now under indictment in Indianapolis. Tom Taggart is a big man and a man of wealth and influence. Three times he has served as the mayor of the city. He is a member of the Democratic National Committee and has served many times as chairman of the State Democratic Committee. It was through his influence that Tom Marshall was nominated for the vice presidency. He is the close friend of Senator Kern. He is interested in many important industries of the state and is looked upon as a leader of his party. An indictment is one thing, and conviction is another. The 123 may have been indirectly connected with frauds in elections, but it may be a difficult matter to secure their conviction. State courts are never so effective as the courts of the government. At any rate the determination expressed in the action of the grand jury shows that Indiana has grown tired of crooked elections and is determined to purge the state of election crooks. It is an example that might well be emulated in other states. There seems to be a popular impression that a ballot is legitimate plunder and can be stolen with impunity. Evidently the grand jury of Indianapolis does not think so. It remains to be seen whether the courts will continue the work of cleaning up the state.

MAKES A SUGGESTION. Wichita Falls, Tex., July 9, 1915. Editor: Times: I wonder how this would appeal to those who maintain that the red light district should not be done away with, but should be regulated. Let all such houses in that district be moved on a reservation, and surrounded by a high fence, with a registrar always at the entrance, and compel every one who passes therein to register his own name, then publish these registrations in the Sunday issue of The Times each week. The records always being open to the public.

What do you think about it? COUNT. A MOTHER AND TEACHER FAVORS NATIONAL PROHIBITION BUT IS AGAINST LOCAL OPTION

Editor of The Times: Will you permit one who is a wife, mother and teacher to express her views on the prohibition and local option question? As a mother of three promising sons, one of whom is almost old enough to be out from under mother's jurisdiction, I am very much interested in the whiskey question. I am in favor of prohibition if it could be made to prohibit, but cap it! Nationwide prohibition might be effective, but county local option or even Statewide prohibition never addresses the interstate commerce commission laws can be changed. I was raised in a county where there were open saloons and when I was a child whiskey was even kept in grocery stores, and I never saw but two drunk men in my life until long after I was grown and then whiskey had been voted out and we had county local option, bootleggers, blind tigers and Kansas City whiskey by the express car load. Then every boy, no matter how small, could order all the whiskey he wanted. If he had the price and you could find boys, young men and old men, lying in ditches beside the road or in old out houses drunk as they could be, yet we had local option all over the county. The express offices at all the small towns as well as the larger ones, were stacked with gallon boxes of whiskey. They bought it by the gallon then instead of by the drink. I lived in that county twenty-five years. Three years after whiskey was voted out I left there and went to the local option county. There I saw that whiskey shipped from Port Worth and little boys in knee pants would order whiskey with their spending money and would let out on the creeks, drunk, when their parents thought they were visiting friends. When I left there I moved to a wet county and in the twenty months I was there I never saw, but one drunk man. About a year and a half ago I came to Wichita Falls and I can say with all sincerity that I would a hundred times rather raise my boys in a saloon town where the laws are enforced than raise them where they can have whiskey shipped to them. For I well regulated saloon town boys under twenty-one can't get whiskey. Nationwide prohibition might solve the whiskey problem, but local option, NEVER.

A MOTHER AND TEACHER. Germany's reply to the American government has been received, but as yet its contents have not been made public, and probably will not be for several days. It is given out from Washington, however, that the reply is not at all satisfactory. As to whether there will be a further discussion of the matter by the exchanging of notes is not stated, but it occurs to most Americans that this business of exchanging notes has already been indulged in to a greater extent than ought to be. If Germany has not met the demands of this government in regard to the sinking of neutral unarmed ships without first giving those on board a opportunity to save their lives, it is time one friendly relation with that country shall be severed, and the way things look now that is just about what is going to happen.

MEAT OVERCOME WITH HEAT WORKING AT THE THRESHERS (Frederick Leader) The intense heat of Wednesday prostrated several men in the harvest fields. John Howard of Wellington, Texas, who was working with the C. C. Bohannon thresher on the P. P. Richardson farm, east of Frederick, was overcome and brought to Frederick. E. E. Eady, who was working with a crew on the Robert Cole farm, northeast of Frederick, was overcome and brought to town by John Stevens. Both of these men were seriously affected. John Hildebrand was overcome while working on the C. W. Howard farm, the old Whately place, at the northwest corner of the city, but did not suffer so severely. Dr. L. A. Mitchell attended all three cases.

Why Have Prohibition in Wichita County

(ADVERTISEMENT) Because it will reduce pauperism and crime fully sixty per cent, and practically empty the county and city jails, greatly reduce drunkenness on the streets of our city, and cut down the necessity for having some of our courts continuously in session, and an immense amount of money in the economic waste to the people of the county. Because it will put shoes on the feet of the child and groceries and fire goods in the home that are not there now, because father spends his money in the saloons. Because it will help to clean up the red light district and stop bootlegging in Wichita Falls. Twelve women in our houses of prostitution are reported to either have purchased or applied for a federal revenue license and it is a matter of common report that they have been selling whiskey and beer to men and boys in violation of the state laws. You can only fine bootleggers in Wichita Falls because it is a wet town. Vote out the saloons and bootlegging will be a penitentiary offense and stop the robberies and drunken debaucheries that occur in the red light district. Because there are just two questions at issue and they have but one answer. Is the saloon a good and decent place where men who drink get something of value for their money, and does prohibition kill business? Scientists all say that alcohol is poison and most every one admits that the saloon is an evil institution, while a hundred towns in Texas have prospered under prohibition. (ADVERTISEMENT)

THE UNPARDONABLE SIN SERMON THEME LAST NIGHT

This Sin is Sin of Refusing God's Pardon and Receiving His Promised Forgiveness. The Unpardonable Sin was the subject of Evangelist Friar's sermon Thursday night. The sin of refusing God's loving offer to men being characterized. "God's spirit shall not always strive with men," was quoted from Genesis as the text. Mr. Friar spoke first of Noah, whom he called the greatest preacher of his day and said that men rejected his preaching just as they reject God at this present day. He depicted the awful curse of God upon the children of Adam in the days of Noah. The penalty of refusing God was cited in the awful punishment visited upon the entire earth in the great flood. "Because I have called and you have refused I have stretched out my hand and no more regarded, I will laugh at your calamity, I will mock when your fear cometh. They shall seek me early but they shall not find me." "God shut in Noah and his family," the speaker said, "the same hand that shut in Noah shut out the world. For years Noah had pleaded with the people to forsake their evil ways and had urged them to seek the ark with him, but they laughed at him and called him 'old fogy.'" Continuing Mr. Friar applied the lesson to modern times. "There's not a man but that knows what to do," he said, "yonder is the open door and God's outstretched hand. There are thousands of reformed people but few regenerated ones. Why waste time seeking to perfect something God has already condemned. You are going to hell because you rebelled against God's only Deliverer, the Holy Spirit. God's way is the only way to be regenerated. The unpardonable sin is the sin of refusing God's pardon and receiving His promised forgiveness and regeneration. Sunday night Mr. Friar announced that he will preach on "Old Man Reboze." MEXICAN BANDIT THREATENS TO KILL ALL FOREIGNERS. Douglas, Ariz., July 9.—Ralph A. Meyer, an American mining man brought word here today that a Mexican bandit leader named Ugarte has announced that after June 9 he will kill all foreigners he captures crossing into Mexico. This revenue is for alleged ill treatment while he was in custody by United States troops. Meyer paid Ugarte $50 as ransom last month when his mining camp was raided.

NEWTON SAYS THE IDEA IS THIS: If the convenience is worth the difference trade with the credit houses. You pay more for practically everything. Mrs. Jones was over to see Mrs. Smith the other day and while there the grocery boy came; he had a gallon of lard. Mrs. Jones says: "What does your grocerman charge for lard?" Mrs. Smith replied: "Only $1.25." Do you pay cash for it? No, we have it charged. That is the secret. You take the cash and buy the same lard from Newton's Saturday for only 90c per gallon. CANTALOUPE CROP AROUND VERNON IS PROMISING

(Vernon Record) According to J. T. Weatherall, one of our prominent local melon and cantaloupe growers, this year's crop of cantaloupes is very promising at this time, the rain of last Saturday night having put it in excellent condition. The crop this year is late though, on account of inclement weather a short time ago retarding its growth. Shipping will not begin before the 15th or 20th of this month while the crop generally matures the first part of July. Cantaloupes were at one time one of the principal crops for the section immediately surrounding Vernon, but the industry has been allowed to take a secondary place in the past few years on account of the difficulty in placing the melons to advantage and for other reasons.

The city tax rate is $1.15 on the $100 valuation and on this basis, assuming that all taxes will be paid, the city should receive $29,111.93, of which amount $12,657 will go to the support of the schools and $8,323.65 will go into the general fund, out of which the running expenses of the city government are met. The remainder is distributed among the road and bridge and various bond funds.

"I'll give you another chance. Don't get any more toothache."

At The Theaters

Lamar Air dome.

The new vaudeville opening last night for the last half of this week provides an excellent thirty minutes of entertainment. Regal and Bender, athletes, do not have to depend on their athletic stunts, which are in themselves very entertaining, for their popularity, but have a line of chatter and singing that makes a hit. Reg and Weston, a comedy pair, are also good. This bill will be repeated tonight with an interesting picture program, including "Trickery." Frank Lloyd and Clarence Badger have written a most enthralling tale in "Trickery" a Laemmle two reel society drama. Mr. Lloyd, Helen Leslie, M. K. Wilson and Merv Robb are featured in the drama which tells the story of a doctor, who schemes to free himself of an adventurous by introducing her to a young man who is in love with the innocent young girl whom the doctor secretly hopes to win away from him. The young man falls into the toils of the adventuress, as the doctor had planed, but pity at the grief of the young man's sweetheart prompts the doctor to undo his work.

The Majestic
Edith Barrymore is featured today in her first film venture, "The Nightingale." The very fact that Miss Barrymore plays the title role would make "The Nightingale" a picture far from the ranks of ordinary but the picture does not have to depend entirely on the star's reputation for its success as it tells a story far from commonplace in a manner artistic.

The Gem
"The Exploits of Elaine" as usual is the Friday feature at the Gem. The program for today is an unusually excellent one in addition to the exploits, another picture being "A Lily in Bohemia" with Lillian Walker and Ewart Overton featured. A story of "A Lily in Bohemia" follows:
His health undermined, Hugh Storey a young violinist, is ordered to the country to recuperate. At a little country farmhouse he meets Lillian, a typical farm girl, sweet, wholesome and unspoiled. They fall in love and after a picturesque courtship, are married. Hugh, now fully recovered in health and spirits, takes his bride back to the city with him. He introduces her to his artist friends, but Lillian feels very much out of place in her Bohemian surroundings, and soon becomes unhappy. Frankly, a temperamental but good hearted and sincere friend of Hugh's, sees how matters are going, so he endeavors to patch up things in his own way. After teaching Lillian to sip wine, smoke cigarettes and dance, he takes her to a masquerade ball, where, in disguise, she meets her husband. Although he does not know who she is, Hugh is charmed with her grace and vivacity and begs the fair unknown to reveal her identity. She laughingly refuses, but when unmasking time arrives, Hugh finds, to his astonishment, that he has been dancing with his own wife. He is delighted at first, but when the men begin to monopolize her attention, leaving him feeling like an outsider, he gets jealous. After the dance he gives a little celebration at his studio, and Lillian offers a toast to her advent into the magic circle of Bohemia, which brings forth roasting cheers. By this time Hugh is feeling pretty drunk, but when he explains to Lillian the position he is in, she, self, she retorts, "I'm only playing the game as I've watched you play it." After the others have gone he promises to take her home, but she, in a fit of anger and Bohemianism, declares she will do the same. She delightfully agrees, and the next time Francis sees them he finds a blissfully happy couple, leading a simple but happy domestic life.

she most admires. Miss Greenwood and Mr. Coxen are starred in "The Greater Strength," a synopsis of which follows:
The prince at Big Creek advertises for a physician to live at his camp. David Hart comes and settles among them. He is a young man of unusual physical strength, who, in a friendly wrestling bout, has unintentionally crippled a dear friend of his. Hart is seeking distraction from the incident. He has taken a vow that never again will he use phenomenal strength except it be to save a life. In the camp there is a bully, Bob Warner, who makes insinuating remarks about Dorothy Paul, the school mistress, with whom the doctor has fallen in love. Hart is strongly tempted to ignore him. But, remembering his promise to himself, he resists. Dorothy misunderstands this action on the doctor's part as cowardice and lack of chivalrous regard for herself. Later, however, diphtheria breaks out. Bob Warner's little girl falls sick, and the bully, whose sole thought is for his child, is frantic with fear of losing her. The young physician goes to the rescue. Not trusting Hart, however, Bob tries to prevent him from using the serum needle on the child. Realizing that in this lies the only means of saving little Barbara's life, the doctor overpowers and binds the father. He then injects the needle and the child recovers. When Dorothy learns the whole story, she forgives her lover and consents to become his wife.

WORK BEGUN ON TWO BUILDINGS AT BURKBURNETT.
Work has begun on two of the brick buildings to be erected on the south side of the main street. They are those of M. Dodson and D. F. McCracken. The contracts were let and the grounds cleared off the first of the week, and work on the excavations for the foundation began Tuesday. Other prospective builders have not let contracts at this writing, pending the settlement of insurance claims and other matters. Both of these buildings will be occupied as soon as finished.—Burkburnett Star.
J. E. Johnson, one of the best farmers on route one who lost about all of his wheat and oat crop this year by the hail, says out of 184 acres he made only 670 bushels of wheat, and his oats average 20 bushels to the acre. Mr. Johnson has been insuring his grain crops for 13 past seven years, and this is the first time he has ever had a hail ruin his grain. He received $1,011 insurance money, and will hold his 670 bushels for a better price than is being paid now.—Iowa Park Herald.

FAMOUS COMEDIAN AT THE EMPRESS MONDAY

Victor Moore, who makes his photographic debut under the management of Jesse L. Lasky in the picture "Shoeshine" to be shown at the Empress Monday is a distinct acquisition to the ranks of the moving picture stars. He positively has that invaluable camera asset—a face that makes you laugh and that fully expresses humorous ideas. In the role of the poor milkman who finds himself transformed into an English Duke of almost fabulous wealth, Moore has the most extraordinary opportunities for comically doing the wrong thing at the wrong time, and he makes the most of every chance. Never was there such a Duke before. At the same time, Moore is too fine an artist to overdo matters, and he never allows himself to become more grotesque than such a man might truly be under the circumstances.
