

BRITISH STEAMER ORDUNA AND PASSENGERS NARROWLY ESCAPE THE LUSITANIA'S FATE

PURSUED AND FIRED UPON BY GERMAN SUBMARINE

British Steamer Bound For New York With Americans Aboard Attacked Without Warning

By Associated Press: New York, July 17.—The Cunard liner, Orduna, bound from Liverpool to New York with 227 passengers, 22 Americans, was attacked without warning, it was learned on her arrival here today, by a German submarine on the morning of July 9th, twenty miles from the graveyard of the Lusitania off Old Head of Kinsale. The Orduna escaped the Lusitania's fate by one-half mile of time, or two feet of space, the German torpedo churning the water that distance behind the liner's rudder. Then the Orduna sped away. She was followed by the submarine which rose to the surface and a gun on her back shelled the fleeing steamer.

Ten minutes before the attack a sailing ship with two American flags painted on her side was seen ahead. Captain Taylor became suspicious of this craft and began maneuvering his ship. Then came the attack. The first warning of it was the screech of a torpedo which plowed through the water and just missed the Orduna's stern. The stewardess aroused the passengers. With clothes fastened haphazard they made for the upper deck. Life belts were adjusted and life boats swung out. The crew stood ready to launch the boat when from a submarine off the starboard quarter there came a shell which kicked up a miniature geyser in the Orduna's wake. The submarine had the range.

Seven Shots Fired. For about half an hour the submarine pursued the liner with a band of water between them lengthening each minute. Seven shots were fired in all. Four of them passed over the deck, the other three fell close to the ship they the submarine, distanced, gave up the chase. Early risers were with the captain on the bridge when the attack began, among them was Baron Marcus Rosenkrantz of Denmark who married Miss Rebek DeLoew of Atlanta, Ga.

"Ask the passengers what happened," Captain Taylor said when the Orduna docked here today. "I am attached to the royal naval reserves and therefore can not discuss the matter."

"But there is one question you alone can answer, were you attacked without warning?" "I did not have the slightest warning of the attack," Captain Taylor answered.

Saw American Flag. Baron Rosenkrantz describing the attack in detail said: "At 5:55 a. m., Friday by my watch the first missile, a torpedo, was fired. A few minutes before that, however, we saw a small sailing ship just ahead of us. She had two American flags painted on the side that she turned to us. Captain Taylor apparently became suspicious of this boat. We noticed that the course of the ship immediately was changed so that the little vessel ahead would be given a wide berth. Some of those aboard believe that the sailing ship was hiding a submarine behind her. "We passed the sailing ship at a considerable distance having done this most of us forgot her. A few minutes after we had left her behind I looked through my glasses over the sea and saw a white streak coming towards us through the water. It was a torpedo. When it appeared to be half a mile or so off the Orduna seemed to jump ahead and a second afterward to swerve to one side. It looked then as if the torpedo would strike us but it didn't. It passed not more than ten yards

ATTACK ADDS TO TENSION

ORDUNA INCIDENT INCREASES GRAVITY OF ALREADY SERIOUS SITUATION

NEWS WAS A SHOCK

Came When Belief Growing Germany Had Abandoned Attacks Upon Passenger Ships

By Associated Press. Washington, July 17.—Into the grave situation that has developed between the United States and Germany over the sinking of the Lusitania was thrust another issue today when it was revealed that the British steamer, Orduna, carrying a score of Americans, had been attacked by a German submarine. Should first reports of an attempt to torpedo without warning be borne out by the official investigation about to be instituted, it was indicated in official quarters, that the United States probably would regard the incident as adding a grave element to the already strained relations between the two countries, and would certainly compel serious consideration by President Wilson and his cabinet in formulating the next step in the policy of the United States.

Although the Orduna escaped unhurt, this, in the view of the officials does not relieve the case of grave possibilities. The fact that a merchant ship bound for the United States with Americans on board and without arms or ammunition as a contending vessel—which was the reason for the previous attack—was sunk, and that passengers slept convinced many officials that the theory they had entertained of an actual change in the practices of German submarine commanders apparently had been dispelled.

Was Warning Given?

One point on which the entire case, so far as the United States is concerned, may hinge, is whether any attempt was made to halt the Orduna by the customary warning signals. As yet, the case is not officially before the state department, but as soon as some of the American passengers file their statement of what took place, the question undoubtedly will be brought immediately to the attention of the German government for a report from its submarine commander.

The case is believed to be different from that of the Anlo-Californian and the Armenian which was ordered to halt but attempted to escape capture. According to the rules of international law, even though neutrals are on-board the use of force is held to be justified to compel submission.

The captain and officers of the Orduna stated no warning or signal had been given when the torpedo was seen. Officials here thought, therefore, that any action made by the Orduna to escape was probably justified. Her subsequent action, they believed, could be upheld in the interest of self-defense.

Irrespective of whether or not a signal was given to her, the view which impressed officials tonight was that German submarines had not abandoned their attempt to destroy enemy passenger vessels whether carrying contraband or not and that American citizens seemed still to be subjects of hazards from which under previously accepted principles of international law, they should be immune.

Secretary Lansing said tonight he would have no announcement to make until the case was brought to his attention in some official way. It is believed the British embassy will submit the statement of the Orduna's captain for the information of the American government.

In official quarters news of the attempt on the Orduna came as a shock, for it had been confidently believed, as a result of the informal expression of Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador and press dispatches from Berlin concerning the care being exercised by German submarines that Americans on passenger vessels at least would be safe from attack.

Villa's Forces Have Destroyed Rail Connections in All Directions Around Obregon's Army

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, July 17.—Indications are that it may be two months or more before the main forces of Villa and Carranza meet in their next big struggle for the control of northern Mexico. George C. Carranza, special agent of the state department, returned today from Torreon, where he left Villa yesterday. Information obtained confirmed the claims of Villa that Gen. Obregon, commander of the army that drove Villa out of Aguas Calientes, is effectively isolated. He also confirmed the earlier reports that Carranza has not yet been occupied by Obregon, but is held by a small Villa garrison.

Two official reports from Villa headquarters were contradictory regarding the evacuation of Zacatecas. That Obregon has the larger and better equipped army is conceded, by Villa adherents here, but the temporary uselessness of his organization is explained by his isolation. In all directions Villa's forces have destroyed Obregon's line of railway communication. It is believed by them that he has a wholly inadequate material and that not until many weeks will be able to restore the track. Obregon's army is in a regular position north of Aguas Calientes territory north of Aguas Calientes contains greater stores of foodstuffs. Rumors that Villa is willing to enter into some sort of peace pact, based on the elimination of both himself and Carranza, are still current.

STRIKE THREATENED BY REMINGTON MACHINISTS

20,000 Men Engaged in Making of Arms For Allies May Quit Their Work

By Associated Press. Bridgeport, Conn., July 17.—Unless there are some unexpected developments in the industrial situation in Bridgeport, within the next 36 hours, machinists in the employ of the Remington Arms and Ammunition Co., will go on a strike Monday. Announcement that the strike call would be issued for that time was made today by J. J. Keppeler, international vice president of the Machinists' Union, after he had made an unsuccessful attempt to place before Mayor W. W. Penfield, manager of the company, the demands formulated last night at a strike meeting of the machinists. Mr. Keppeler said representatives of the union were considering ways and means of having machinists in other manufacturing communities of New England strike in sympathy.

Frank Jennings, one of the machinists' vice-presidents, said the proposed strike would throw out of employment between 20,000 and 30,000 workers in Bridgeport, including those in plants operated by subcontractors for the Remington company.

Vincent de Falco, international organizer of the Red Carriers' Union, stated if the machinists walked out, the Red Carriers will follow them. Such a move would in turn involve the brick layers engaged on the new buildings. The drop fencers engaged in the manufacture of bayonets are also considering what action they will take. Efforts were being made today to organize those workers not now belonging to unions.

Mr. Keppeler said a general strike of all the machinists in Bridgeport would not be called unless it was "absolutely necessary."

"We do not want the public to get the idea," he continued, "that we are warring on the munitions pact by peace propaganda. There is as much to that as there is to the expressed belief that the German influences were behind the movement."

U. S. Building More Submarines That Can Operate On the Other Side of Atlantic

By Associated Press. Bridgeport, Conn., July 17.—Simon Lake, inventor and builder of submarines, was gratified today by the success of experiments testing the new submarine G-3, which demonstrated that the new boat can cross the Atlantic Ocean and return without stopping, having a cruising radius of 6,000 miles.

"It is perfectly practicable," he said, "for the G-3 with her new engines to cross the ocean, do what she wants to do and come back without any dependence on a base of supplies. It is merely a question of the economy of fuel."

The G-3 was built by the Lake Torpedo Company of this city. Her extensive cruising radius is due to the efficiency of a new Swiss engine which drives the boat both on the surface and under water, replacing both the gasoline engine heretofore used to drive submarine craft on the surface and the electric motor used for undersea travel.

The new boat has a speed of 14-17 knots on the surface and 10-7-0 knots submerged. She cost more than $450,000.

The G-3 is only 160 feet long, but seven new Lake submarines which are being constructed for the United States navy will be 350 feet long and possess a much greater radius of activity than the G-3. They will use the new engine, and, said Mr. Lake, should be the equal of any in the German navy.

"The new boats will cost $535,000 apiece and will be equipped with six torpedo tubes each," said Mr. Lake. The United States government holds the specifications for the new engine which burns heavy oil and American firms will be able to build them.

GERMANS ACTIVE IN LORRAIN DISTRICT

FRENCH, HOWEVER, CLAIM GERMAN ATTACKS ARE BEING SUCCESSFULLY REPULSED

NO NEWS FROM EAST FRONT

German Offensive Being Heavily Pressed in Riga District But No Decisive Battle Fought

By Associated Press. London, July 17.—The Germans have been showing renewed activity in Lorraine and early this morning attacked the French trenches in the forest of Tarrow, where, according to the French official report—the only official communication received up to a late hour tonight—they were repulsed.

The French war office says also that the Germans suffered a defeat in the Vosges. On the rest of the western front the two armies have engaged in violent artillery actions. These operations are of minor importance.

On the major battlefields in the east which have for their object Riga and Warsaw, not a word has come through from either side tonight. From earlier reports, it is gathered that the German offensive which now reaches as far north as the district of Riga is being heavily pressed and that although in several sections the Russians are retiring no decisive action has been fought so far.

In addition to the advance on Riga, there is still fighting on the Naraw front in northern Poland and the advance guards have been engaged on the Vippis and Bug in southern Poland. Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and Von Mackensen are clearly acting in co-operation in the movement against Warsaw, one advancing from the north and west and the other from the southeast. It probably will be several days before the armies get into full swing.

CHAMP CLARK FAVORS MILITARY PREPAREDNESS

Speaker of House Would Double Number of Cadets at West Point and Would Drill Other Students

By Associated Press. San Francisco, July 17.—Champ Clark, speaker of the House of Representatives, was inspired by the reception of the Liberty Bell here today to discuss the need of greater military preparedness to preserve to citizens of the United States that liberty of which the bell is an historic symbol.

In the course of his remarks he said: "I differ toto toto with the proponents of 'Peace at any price.' That is an amazing, demoralizing, a degrading doctrine."

"On the other hand I am utterly opposed to those who advocate a large standing army and to those who advocate a navy equal to the two biggest navies in the world. I am not a jingo. God forbid! I hope most profoundly there will never be another war—particularly another to which we are a party, but knowing that human nature has not changed a jot or tittle since Adam and Eve were driven with flaming swords from Paradise, I am in favor of putting the country in such posture that if war should for any reason become necessary we may emerge from it conqueror, as we have been in all our wars."

"Towards the consummation of this plan I am in favor of doubling the number of cadets at West Point and of making it obligatory upon the secretary of war to detail an army officer to any school, college or university, which will furnish a minimum of two hundred students to drill. In that way and at the least possible cost we would in a few years have enough drilled men to officer a volunteer army of a million soldiers, if needs be."

"In fact there would be wisdom in a scheme by which in addition to the cadets educated free by the government at West Point and Annapolis, any boy possessing the prescribed qualifications might on reasonable terms be educated at those two great institutions. The surplus West Pointers could be used to advantage in drilling the youth of the land, while the surplus naval graduates would make splendid officers for the great merchant marine which President Wilson and some of the rest of us are determined to place upon the high seas from which our flag has almost entirely disappeared."

TICK ERADICATION SENTIMENT CHANGES

PETITIONS NOW IN CIRCULATION TO SECURE QUARANTINE IN COUNTIES WHERE DEFEATED

LOSSES HAVE BEEN HEAVY

Some Cattlemen Who Voted Against Eradication Now Signing Petitions For Quarantine

Some cattle raisers who voted against tick eradication in the recent elections on that matter in Clay and Archer counties are now signing petitions that are being circulated in those counties to have them placed above the quarantine line through the operation of the requirements that would have prevailed had those counties voted for tick eradication. This was a report made yesterday by W. C. Young of Archer City, who led the campaign for tick eradication in Archer county.

Cattlemen in Wichita, Archer and Clay counties have suffered thousands of dollars losses on account of the fever tick this season and it is said there has been a decided change in sentiment in the two counties where tick eradication was defeated. Petitions signed by three-fourths of the cattlemen of the districts affected will result in a quarantine being established and the result will be practically the same as if tick eradication had been adopted by a majority vote.

The question of tick eradication will be before the voters of Wichita county next Saturday. There is considerable sentiment in favor of its adoption.

Action in Clay County. Speaking of the movement for tick eradication by petition in Clay county, the Henrietta Independent says: "Though they won a victory in the late election, the Texas fever ticks have not by any means vanquished their foes, and they now face a more dangerous conflict in the northern half of the county."

The law provides that by securing the signatures of parties owning two-thirds of the cattle of a county that subdivision may take up the task of eradicating the ticks. A petition is now in circulation designating that part of the county north of the Denver railroad from the west county line to Henrietta, and north of the Katy railroad from Henrietta to the east county line, and the parties pushing the matter say they believe they can easily secure the necessary number of signatures. It is understood that Byers brothers, R. P. Grogan, Hub Stine, J. L. Huggins and others are behind the move. "Securing the necessary number of signatures does not mean that the prescribed subdivision of the county is placed above quarantine, but it does mean that the work of tick eradication will be carried on in that subdivision just as it would have been in the whole county. If eradication is carried in the late election. The state live stock sanitary commission will have charge of the work."

"In case eradication is taken up in this way, cattle from the north side and cattle from the south side, when shipped out over the railroads will have to be loaded from different pens at every station, one on the Katy which can be used for south side cattle, and one on the Denver which can be for north side cattle. East of Henrietta, there will have to be two sets of pens at every station or alternate stations will have to be designated for north side and south side cattle."

STEAMER ORDUNA AND PASSENGER NARRAWLY ESCAPE LUSITANIA FATE

of the attack had reached America, for it certainly was known to the British admiralty. Nor can I understand why the admiralty failed to give us a convoy. The day we sailed four hours before we were attacked we passed the White Star liner, Adriatic, bound in from New York. She was convoyed by two torpedo boat destroyers.

Thompson to Protest. Protests will be made to the American government by at least one citizen of the United States, and possibly others, who were aboard. William O. Thompson, of Chicago, consul to the federal industrial relations commission, who went aboard in his official capacity last March and was returning to complete a report, is the passenger who said today he would make vigorous protest to the American government.

"It probably will be several days before I shall make report on the attack and my protest," Mr. Thompson said. "I consider I am in duty bound to do so. As an American citizen, employed in an official capacity by the government to go abroad, I feel that I should bring the government's attention to the attack. I feel that I had a right to return home on a flag because she is a passenger ship. The fact that she had no mention of war on board fortifies this opinion. The Orduna, an unarmed passenger ship, was deliberately attacked without warning, pursued and subjected to shell fire. It is little short of marvelous that she was not bent to the bottom with all on board. "In making my report to Washington I shall proceed along the lines combining with the protest a report of the attack as I saw it."

Whether the submarine hid behind an American ship, the bark Tormando from Gulfport, Mississippi—a point upon which passengers held varying opinions. A small sailing ship with two American flags painted on her side was sighted ahead shortly before the attack. Captain Taylor suspicious of the craft, changed his course. Soon thereafter a torpedo was sighted. Captain Taylor of the Orduna said: "I account for the torpedo missing the ship to the misjudging of the speed, allowing fourteen knots, instead of sixteen, which we were going. It was an ideal day for a torpedo attack, light wind, a light ripple, clear weather. The torpedo could only have been a few inches above the water, for a strict lookout was being kept by chief and third officers and myself. However, we failed to see it."

YOUTH GAVE $10 BOND TO A FAKE OFFICER

A fifteen year old boy appeared at the police court Saturday morning and said that he had been told to appear there by an officer, to whom he had given ten dollars as a bond. Nothing was known of the matter at the city, but later in the day the sheriff's department arrested a young man on a charge of impersonating an officer. It appears that the boy was told that he was wanted for robbing a man, the "officer" agreeing to take ten dollars as a bond for the boy's appearance in police court. The boy was on hand but the "officer" and the ten dollars were not. The boy says the man stopped him near East Lake.

DEEP REDUCTIONS IN FURNISHINGS, SHOES AND HATS

LET US BE FAIR

(Advertisement) Our prohibition friends, in recent articles furnished for publication, have declared that it cost $12,400 for jury fees in this county for the past year, and seek to leave the impression that all this expense was due to the criminal record here and further that the saloons are wholly responsible therefor. This intimation was contained in their reply to the article of this committee and was worded in a way to leave the impression that present conditions were alone responsible. Fairness, it seems to us, would have dictated to our prohibition friends that they give the figures in detail. Why did they not show what percentage of this expense was criminal business and what portion was for civil? Furthermore, why did they not advise the public of the amount that had been expended for grand juries, which must convene, regardless of conditions. The only conclusion that can be reached is that these figures did not suit their prohibition purpose, that the totals would not make it look so "bad" for Wichita Falls as in their desire and purpose in this campaign. But the citizenship of this county is not so easily misled, and in keeping with the policy of this committee to deal fairly with the voter, we herewith give the figures in detail, which information makes quite different reading from that proposed by the opposition.

In the first place a tabulated statement of all the petit jury fees for criminal cases in the district court from June, 1914 to June, 1915, as shown by tabulated statement on and attested by A. F. Kerr, district clerk, show a total of only $3097.00. Added to this is the amount paid for the grand juries including all amounts paid to bailiffs of the various terms of court, amounting to $2335.00, represents a total of only $5432.00, while the amount expended for juries in the county court to this date this year is only $495.00. Quite a difference in these figures and those the prohibition committee would seek to have you believe.

But here is where that committee probably flew the track in their over enthusiasm and failed to distinguish between the amount paid for criminal and for civil jury fees. In the district court for the period specified, a total of $7,084.50 was expended for juries in civil cases, which, of course, has no bearing on the criminal record of the county. We submit to the fair minded voter that it would have been just as easy for our prohibition friends to have given the correct figures in dealing with this matter, instead of seeking to leave the impression that all the money expended was solely for criminal purposes. They could as well charge that the existence of saloons was the cause of the excessive rains in this country some weeks ago, or that they contributed to the incidents leading up to the great war now in progress, as to charge that these institutions make necessary the convening of grand juries and the trial of civil cases, something that is done in every prohibition county in the state. Let's be fair in this campaign. Let us submit the facts to the voters of Wichita county and abide by their intelligent decision. This citizenship is capable of hearing these questions and no amount of figure juggling or general misrepresentations will serve to change their purpose, which we believe will continue to be to develop this splendid section, regardless of those who would tear down the work of years.

READ THIS LETTER. Office of Vice President M. K. & T. Ry. Dallas, Texas, July 12, 1915.

Dear Sir: Replying to your favor of July 10th. We are endeavoring, on the M. K. & T. lines, to rigidly enforce our rule which absolutely prohibits the use of intoxicating liquors by employes, the penalty for violation being dismissal from the service.

Yours very truly, W. A. WEBB, Vice President.

The employers of labor every where are down on the man who drinks. No laboring man in this city can afford even for "business reasons" to vote the anti ticket. But we appeal to the laboring men to vote the dry ticket on the higher ground of it being good morals to do so.

MORE NEWS FROM KANSAS. Senator Thompson of Kansas in the United States Senate in discussing the amendment for national prohibition introduced by Senator Shepherd among other things declared as follows: "During 33 years of prohibition temperance has been reduced from 49 to 2 per cent. With 106 counties in the state, 87 of them have no insane, 54 have no feeble minded, 96 have no drunkards, and there is only one paper to every 3,000 population, 38 county jails have no inmates, and 53 jails are empty, while 65 counties have no prisoners serving sentence."

A FEW FACTS ABOUT PROHIBITION IN MAINE. Maine has had prohibition since 1855. If the law was a failure in that state why have the people refused at the ballot box to repeal it? The total commitments to jail in the United States for the year 1907 averaged 582 to every 10,000 population. In Maine for the same year they averaged 80 to every 10,000 population. There are a number of counties in Maine where no attempt was made until recently to enforce the prohibitory law, and yet in 1908 there were only 542 retail liquor licenses paid in Maine, while 4,770 such licenses were paid in Massachusetts, and 289,512 in the United States.

AN ANSWER AS TO COMAL AND OTHER COUNTIES IN TEXAS. The anti point with pride to Comal county as being moral and free from crime. Read the following facts taken from the latest government records available, make the comparisons and draw your own conclusions.

Population of Comal county, census 1910, was 5,443; number of convictions for a felony from August 31, 1908 to August 31, 1910, was 6. Comal county is wet.

Population of Montague county, 1910 census, was 26,123; number of convictions for a felony from August 31, 1908 to August 31, 1910, was 3. Montague is a dry county.

Population of Collin county, census of 1910, was 49,021; number of convictions for a felony from August 31, 1908 to August 31, 1910, was 8; Collin county is a dry county.

Population of Clay county census of 1910, was 17,043; number of convictions for a felony from August 31, 1908 to August 31, 1910, was 5; Clay is a dry county.

Population of Young county, census of 1910, was 19,467; number of convictions for a felony from August 31, 1908 to August 31, 1910, was 10; Young is a dry county.

Population of Wichita county, census of 1910, was 16,094; number of convictions for a felony from August 31, 1908 to August 31, 1910, was 22. Wichita is a wet county.

Neither Comal where Governor Campbell had to send the rangers to close the saloons on Sunday or even good old Wichita stands much of a show in comparison with the dry counties above named, population considered. In all the counties of Texas for the above two years the percentage of crime was 83 per cent. greater in the wet counties than in the dry counties. And yet the anti say the saloon takes nothing from our morals.

Paraguay and its Resources

In order to study the trade situation in Paraguay, M. Drew Carrol, commercial representative of the Buenos Aires branch of a New York bank, recently made a trip through that country, and in The Americas he writes entertainingly of what he saw there. His article is thus summarized in the bulletin of the Pan-American Union:

The only practical routes of access to the country, the heart of one of the richest agricultural regions of South America, are the river and the railway running from Buenos Aires, a thousand miles away, if Asuncion, the capital and chief city of the republic, be taken as the traveler's destination. There is direct connection between Buenos Aires, via the Argentine Central, Entre-Rios, and Paraguayan Central railways, and Asuncion. Through trains leave once a week each way.

Of from Buenos Aires betimes, the train arrives at Zarate early in the evening, some sixty miles up country where the expanse of the River Plate has narrowed into the Parana. Here, all except the engine is run on to a huge iron ferryboat for a four-hour voyage up and across the river to Ibicuy on the eastern shore. Nearly all day Saturday is spent journeying through the flat country of Entre-Rios. The orange groves increase, with here and there tobacco fields, giving way as the tropics are neared to numerous royal palm trees.

Poasadas, the last station in Argentina, is reached and the train is again run upon a large ferryboat and carried across the upper part of the Parana river to Encarnacion in the Republic of Paraguay. The level of the deck of the ferry is some fifteen feet below the level of the roadbed, on both sides of the river, and it is necessary to lower and raise the trains down and up an incline by means of cables and steam winches to the proper level. After running over a switch-back on the Paraguay side, Encarnacion is reached, some 150 feet above the level of the river.

Diocletian. His fame as an austere anchorite reached the ears of the noble lady to whom it belonged and she presented the mount to him and in addition a tract of land, thinking that Marinius, as was usual in those days, would found a monastery.

He did this and more, for he founded a republic. Dying, he gave Tizano to his disciples, recommending them never to abandon it and "to organize a civil society and live always in perfect communion and peace based upon principles of virtue." Marinius was canonized after his death. His body now rests in the principal church in the republic and his fete, which is the most important in the land, is celebrated on September 3.

Scenery is Magnificent. San Marino lies about twelve miles from the Adriatic coast and about the same distance from Rimini. Across the country from north to south is seven miles; from east to west, about five, scarcely larger than Manhattan island. It is wedged in between the provinces of Urbino, Pesaro and Forli. From Rimini an excellent road leads to San Marino through a rich, beautiful plain covered with olive trees and vines. As it ascends Monte Tizano there is spread out a gorgeous panorama with the Apennines to the south and west and the Adriatic to the east; while far to the north stretches the Pineta that Eocaccio made famous in his "Decameron" and of which Byron sang in "Don Juan."

The road leads through the single gate into Borgo, near the base of the mount, the chief commercial village of the state. Here are the caves of San Marino's wines, which a seventeenth century poet said were "so pleasing, pure, grateful and good that they have no cause to be jealous of the clarets of France." On one of the houses is a great sundial with this rather striking inscription in Italian that the people of San Marino so frequently quote: "Thou art nothing without God and I am nothing without the sun."

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR. It was our expectation from the first, that this car would play a large part in determining motor car values. We said as much in our advertisements almost a year ago. We expected it to set up in the public mind a model and a pattern of what a car of moderate price should be. We expected that it would encourage buyers to judge motor cars by the standard of quality—not by price. Surely the results have more than realized our expectations. Surely you can see that the car is considered a criterion of what constitutes real worth. Once a man has driven the car, even for a few miles, nothing can distract his mind from its performance and its quality. He thinks of the price only in relation to the remarkable value it buys. That is why the first 20,000 fell so far short of supplying the demand. That is why the second 20,000 are being absorbed with equal eagerness. DODGE BROTHERS, DETROIT. The price of the car complete is $785 f.o.b. Detroit. McFALL BROTHERS, Dealers Dodge Brothers Motor Cars

The Thaw trials have cost the state of New York the neat sum of $425,000, and the Thaw family $1,375,000. Wonder what part of the $425,000 paid by the state of New York, ex-District Attorney Jerome received?

About the best that cotton is now bringing in this country is 8 to 9c per pound. In Germany they are offering 30c per pound, but our friends, the English will not allow our ships to take cotton to Germany. It strikes the Times that if England will not allow or permit us to sell our cotton where it will bring a price that will leave a profit to the producer, she should at least take the cotton off our hands at the price Germany is offering for it.

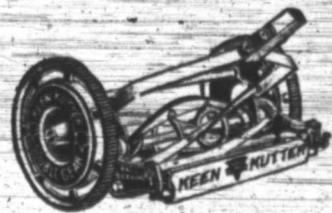

Cyclone Davis says that unless Dr. Brooks endorses certain measures that are before Congress now, he shall feel it his duty to give his support to Congressman Henry. And it must be remembered that Dr. Brooks is a strong prohibitionist, nation and state-wide, while Mr. Henry is a dyed-in-the-wool anti. But Mr. Davis says there are other things that are of greater importance than the question of prohibition, and the mere fact that Dr. Brooks is a prohibitionist will not be sufficient to bring to him his support.

The Times has come to an agreement with the campaign committees of both the pros and antis that it will not accept for publication any communication on that subject unless such communication has first been reviewed by the committee for the side of the question the author seeks to promote. In taking this view of the matter the Times wishes to commend both committees. Those who want to write on that subject will therefore submit their writings either to the Hon. W. J. Bullock, manager of the pro campaign committee, or the Hon. A. H. Britain, manager of the anti-pro campaign committee.

Carranza is now in charge of Mexico City. If he can hold it against Villa and Zapata it will show that he has gained in strength since the time he was forced to flee from that place to Vera Cruz. Carranza is playing for recognition from the United States. In order to obtain recognition he will have to demonstrate that he is stronger than both Villa and Zapata. Apparently he has determined to do that very thing, and it begins to look favorable for him. Villa is not so strong as he was when fighting with Carranza and the Constitutionalists. He shows this by making overtures to Carranza, but as yet Carranza does not seem inclined to accept the terms of Villa for a settlement of their differences.

We don't envy Wichita county for her prohibition fight, but we hope she will go dry with a majority large enough to make this the last contest. —Henrietta Independent. That's awfully sweet of you. us. The campaign is well under way and it will soon be over. So far as The Times can determine, it's not going to be a walk-over for either side. A majority of between fifty and 100 either way is going to about the size of it, and if the pros lose they are going to submit gracefully. It will be the same way with the antis. And after smoke of the battle rolls away, all will get together and work for a greater and better Wichita Falls.

At the meeting of the Wichita county commissioners' court Monday the petition for a local option election was presented. This petition, according to reports has been ready since May, but for some reason was withheld from the May and June terms of court. And all that time the sword of Damocles has been suspended over our friend Mud Flats. The commissioners acted favorably on the petition, and appointed the election for Saturday, July 31. This gives sixteen days of campaign sheathing out of this warm question, and in good old hot July at that. Henrietta's is not the vacuous mind that is neutral on any live subject, gentlemen—but will supply no munitions to either belligerent. And we are composed. If the ants among us see the principle of free moral agency defeated, the pain will be mitigated by the thought that Wichita Falls has been too dad-binged upposed, anyhow.—Henrietta view.

COMMENDS EDITORIAL IN THE TIMES.

Wichita Falls, Tex., July 16, 1915. Editor Wichita Daily Times, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Dear Editor: Please accept a word of praise from me for the attached editorial which appeared in a recent issue of the Daily Times. Miss Jane Adams, who has just returned from The Hague peace conference, reports that the people of the warring nations are now ready for peace. That is really no news. If the people had ever been consulted there would have been no war in Europe. The people who bring on the wars are the people who expose themselves to shot and shell after hostilities begin. They take precious good care of their own worthiness hides.

You could not have said it better. Editorials like this will do more for humanity and more for the preservation of the peace of our country than the biggest battleship afloat. True, as you say, if the people were consulted there would be no more wars. If a law were passed forcing daylight diplomacy, giving the people a right to vote directly on the question of war, with a clause providing that those who voted for war should be the first to take their places on the firing line in case of war, we would not have to build a larger navy in order to preserve the peace of our country. Again congratulating you on the stand you have taken and hoping you will continue to give us such editorials, I beg to remain, Yours truly, JOHN H. STOKES.

Pronunciation of "Newfoundland."

The noun "Newfoundland" is pronounced "Nu-fund-land" with the accent on the first and last syllables. To quote Lippincott's Gazetteer: "This word is universally pronounced by the inhabitants with the accent on the first and last syllables. When, however, it is used as an adjective, as in the phrase, 'a Newfoundland dog,' euphony requires that the accent should be placed on the penultima. The same rule seems to hold with respect to some other names: Leghorn and Cashmere, as nouns, are usually accented on the last syllable, but as adjectives almost invariably on the first." It is, no doubt, this distinction in accenting the word, by its two usages, which has led to the suspicion of a change in the standard of pronunciation.

Senior Among Nations.

Italy may fairly claim to be senior among the nations of Europe, so far as its name is concerned. The peninsula has been "Italia" almost as far back as even legend reaches. According to Mommsen the "Itali" proper were the inhabitants of the southern part of the country. As to the origin of the name, there is the normal legend of a King Italus; but his name must have been pronounced Vitalus or Vitulus, which means a bull-calf, and it is easy to recognize in it an allusion to Italy as the land of cattle.

French and German Languages.

The French, Spanish, Italian and Portuguese languages (known as the "Romance" languages) are offshoots of the old Latin, and are, to a considerable extent, founded upon it, while the German and English tongues grew up quite apart from the Latin. That is why the Scandinavian, Dutch, German and English languages (which, like the peoples themselves, are closely related) are so scant in Latin words and derivations.

HOPE THAT WICHITA MAY SECURE BLIND INSTITUTE

Dispatches from Austin stating that the locating board for the new blind school was considering another location than Austin on account of the excessive prices asked for sites there has encouraged hope that Wichita Falls may secure the new school. While at Austin, recently, Acting Secretary John W. Thomas of the Chamber of Commerce interviewed members of the locating board and secured promises from them to give consideration to Wichita Falls' claims for this school. The Chamber of Commerce appointed a committee recently to lay the claims of this city before the locating board. The Austin dispatches said that consideration was being given "another city."

THIS is a strange story but a true one. Last winter we were approached by representatives of foreign governments with reference to purchasing the Chalmers Six-48 chassis for ambulance use abroad.

Knowing that we could not build all the motors in our own shops and take care of our regular production in addition, we went to one of the largest builders of motors in this country and asked them for a bid on these motors.

In submitting the bid their representative said, "We want it distinctly understood that this is not for the same quality of motor because we do not work to such close standards or limits as you do."

Quality Not Only a Slogan
This gentleman went on to say "The motor you delivered to us to bid on surprises us. It is good enough to go into any $4000 or $5000 car."
"It is the finest motor in material and workmanship we have ever seen."
"We are frank to say that we have never turned out a better motor even for higher priced cars, and we know of no company in your price class that is turning out a motor with such high-class workmanship."
"The wonder to us is that you can sell the car at your price (then $1725 and now only $1550 for exactly the same car) and spend so much money on making it."

Quality a Business Principle
Understand this concern is a thoroughly reliable concern and builds good motors.
They upheld their own workmanship and material against any other motor builder—as included.
But they were honest and stated to us at once that our standards were higher than they thought necessary.
Without the slightest reflection on these friends, we tell this exactly true story to illustrate what we have always contended, and that is that "Chalmers Quality is not only an Advertising Slogan; it is a Business Principle."
We believe that it will pay to keep it up.

We Sell All Who See
And that is also probably the reason why we can proudly boast that we have never failed to sell a prospective purchaser who went through the Chalmers factory and saw our cars made.
Examining the surface of a motor car or even the chassis means little even to the expert.
But when he goes through the factory and watches the processes of making, even the layman can see the difference which this motor manufacturer referred to.
Ask yourself, prospective buyer, if these are not considerations worthy to be carefully weighed in buying your car?

Why Not Beauty Too?
Then the Chalmers Motor Car has as distinct a reputation for "Beauty First" as if it had not surpassed all others in "Quality First."
No car at any price has more beautiful lines or finish. Its molded oval fenders are the most beautiful on any car and the only ones like them.
There is nothing more beautiful, Madam, than a Chalmers in dark blue body with red wheels and its distinctive body lines and molded oval fenders.
Add to this the Performance the husband demands and there's nothing left to desire in a motor car.
Let us show it today.

Special Features—Chalmers Six-48
Full 48 h. p. motor—Big 7-passenger Body.
124 wheel base—34 x 4 1/2 tires. Nobby treads on rear wheels. Entz non-stallable starter.
48" vanadium steel rear springs—extra strong torque tube. Equipment very complete even to Yale lock to prevent theft of car.

The Congenial Crochet Club met in usual session Wednesday afternoon, an unusually pleasant time being enjoyed with Mrs. J. B. Dollard. Sewing and conversation was enjoyed and a special diversion was afforded in the singing of several Swedish songs by Mrs. A. B. Anderson. A tempting refreshment plate was served to the following: Guests—Miss Grace Anderson, Mesdames Gregg and Simon; Members—Mesdames Bachman, Anderson, Corkhill, Tyman, Duke, A. J. Anderson, Shappell, Mead, Mary Friberg, C. A. Andree and Kate Friberg.

MISS UNDERWOOD HONOREE AT GARDEN PARTY WEDNESDAY.

A pleasant reunion of old acquaintances and school day friends was the informal evening's entertainment on Tuesday evening devised for her house guest, Miss Pearl Underwood of Van Alstyne, by Miss Alice Burnside. During her residence here a few years ago Miss Underwood made many friends who were delighted with the opportunity to be with her once more for a chat and school day reminiscences. The lawn of the Burnside home was strung with electric lights, shaded by Japanese lanterns and with rugs, tables and chairs, placed on terrace, made an ideal reception room. Programs, bearing the name of hostess and honoree and date, were passed with places for ten numbers of progressive conversation, a topic for each number being designated. The punch table, placed on the lawn refreshed the guests at intervals and food watermelon was served at a late hour. The guests invited to meet Miss Underwood included Misses Ola Mae Hamlin, Theresa Smith, Grace Nolen, Roslyn Lynn, Hazel Hunter, Olive Airey of Mobile, Ala., Bess Kell, Anne Freear, Pauline Mears, Margaret McMahon of Houston, Blanche Kahn, Louise Fox, Margaret Burnside, Jeanette Walker, Messrs. Gerald Pond, John Gould, Chester Morgan, Glen Peeler, Bobby Burns, Earl Cutreer, John Thomas, Wiley Blair, Jr., Burton Stayton, Sylvester Gregory, Carter McGregor, Jonette Bonner, E. K. Lunn, James Walker, Jack Barnard, John Humphries and Ray Erwin; Mrs. W. B. Shepherd. Miss Burnside was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Miss Margaret, her mother and Mrs. Erwin.

MISS ROBERTSON HONORS MISS POPE TUESDAY EVENING.

Complimentary to Miss Lucy Pope of Fort Worth and Miss Lorna Shaw who will leave soon to make her home in Ohio, Miss Ellen Adele Robertson entertained the members of the I. G. B. C. Club with an elaborate 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday afternoon at the Robertson apartments in Kemp Korf. The Kewpie is the club mascot and this outfit, with the club colors, pink and green was prominently featured in the dinner arrangements.

The hostess and her mother added fresh laurels to their fame as entertainers in this affair, both the dinner and the dance that followed being perfection in every detail.

The dining table was arranged with a huge Kewpie standing on a daisy and fern banked mirror reflector. Pink and green ribbons were conveyed from the lights to the central Kewpie and smaller Kewpies were tied in graduated effect on these streamers. Ribbons to match the pink shaded lights, extended from the center to each cover and were caught by daisy place cards. A tempting five-course menu was served as follows: Iced cocoa topped with green whipped cream, chicken a la Maryland, creamed potatoes, peas, cauliflower, olives, jelly, bread and butter, fruit salad with cheese waters, pink and white crick cream with green ice cake, coffee and salted nuts. During the progress of the dinner the girls sang toasts to the air of popular college songs, toasting the hostess and her mother, and the I. G. B. C. Three toasts, exceedingly clever were given, Miss Marian Maer toasting Miss Robertson in the following order: There is a young miss named Ellen Adele and believe me, she's some belle. Although not yet twenty, she has brains a plenty. There is a young man named Bob, who the Robertson family would rob, but the father, Walter, would take a strong hater and cause him many a sob. And now I faint with our gratitude to our charming hostess and mother, may the Good Lord send us another, our invitation list to swell.

Likewise Miss Louise Montgomery toasted the departing member, Miss Lorna Shaw. "Here's to Lorna Doone Shaw, whose departure has bid us all with woe. My, but we will miss her, we'll think of her every day when she has moved to Fergus far away." Miss Shaw responded with a toast to the I. G. B. C., commenting, "Here's to the I. G. B. C., the best little club in town; I've only to name the members and you'll agree to our renown." In clever rhyme she brought in the names of the club members with a pun or hit on their chief characteristics. The girls in the club, with Misses Elizabeth Patterson and Rose Johnson, absentees, are: Misses Adele yellow and white mints. Top score prize, a sterling silver tea strainer, went to Miss Sherrod and the two honorees were presented with remembrances by the hostess, Miss Airey's favor being French ivory toilet articles and Mrs. Smith a cut glass sandwich plate. Punch was served during the progress of the game, Miss Ethel Rabby, sister of the hostess, presiding at the bowl. Mrs. Walker's guest list included: The honorees, Miss Airey and Mrs. Smith, Misses Ethel Chamberlain, Lucille Sherrod, Lennie Childers, Mesdames Eugene Sherrod, Harvey Gwynn, E. L. Smith, Myrtler Reese, Wade Walker, Sepherd, Priddy, Strib Moore, Daniels, Little and Duke.

The attendance was quite large.

ENJOYABLE SWIMMING PARTY AT LAKE MONDAY

As is the case with other Texas cities swimming parties have become quite the rage a "nat" party being almost the only way of entertaining in summer time that provides amusement and is at the same time cool. Scarcely a night goes by that the Lake Wichita pool is not the scene of some such festivity. A delightful swimming party was enjoyed Monday evening by the following party: Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Andrews, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. A. Guest, Messrs. Dr. and Mrs. Dames C. W. Seider, T. B. Noble, W. W. #### ENTERTAINMENTS IN HONOR OF MISS ANNIE BURNETT

Two charming affairs for the younger folks who are beginning to make things interesting, were given Saturday and Tuesday evening on both occasions Miss Annie V. Burnett of Fort Worth being the honoree. Saturday evening six couples chartered by Miss Avis and Mr. Baum went to Lake Wichita about 8 o'clock, enjoyed an hour or so at swimming, spread supper and spent several hours at dancing and skating. The guests were: Miss Annie Burnett, guest of honor, Misses Sibel Kell, Cecelia Adickes, Lulu Wood, Gretchen Avis, Ruby Avis and Dillard Anderson, Marshall Huff, Frank Wood and Jimmy and Edw. Blair. Tuesday evening Edwin and Jimmy Blair entertained their friends in compliment to the young miss from Fort Worth, who has added much to the enjoyment of the boy and girl affairs. The paved court in the rear of the Blair home made an ideal skating pavilion and dancing with other games was also enjoyed, the young hosts providing an evening of unusual pleasure. Refreshments were served at a late hour to the following guests: Miss Burnett, honoree, Misses Sibel Kell, Cecelia Adickes, Ruby and Gretchen Avis, Annie Lea, Lulu Wood, Jocelyn Blair, Ruth Bernard and Dillard Anderson, Frank Wood, Robert Statton, Wells Smith, Ernest Robertson and the hosts, Edwin and Jimmy Blair. The affair of Tuesday evening marked the close of Miss Burnett's visit here, she returning Wednesday to Fort Worth, after a fortnight's stay with her aunt, Mrs. T. W. Roberts.

ROWENA CIRCLE MEETS TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The Rowena Circle met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. I. Sanders as hostess, who after the regular business of the Circle was completed and an instructive discussion of Ivanhoe engaged in, served an elegant three course lunch to those present. All present testify to the entertaining qualities of their hostess and look forward to the time when she will again entertain the Circle. Those present were: Mesdames W. F. Wallace, Sanders, Zetsche, Shuler, Perry and the Misses Sauls of Petrolia, Hunter of Toronto, Canada and Mrs. Holt of Salt Lake City as visitors. The next meeting of the Circle will be held at the home of Mrs. W. F. Wallace, 506 Lamar.

Scene from "Plunderer" with William Farnum—Majestic Theater Tuesday, July 20th.

SHORTHAND IN OLDEN TIMES

No System of Phonetic Stenography Was Known to Ancients—Abbreviations Were Employed.

We are told, in a recent story, that not only the Romans, but the ancient Hebrews, possessed fine systems of stenography, and that public men took stenographers with them wherever they went. This is not true in any strict sense. The ancient Romans had Hebrews had systems of shorthand, but not of stenography. Their shorthand consisted of abbreviations, the use of letters for words, the introduction of arbitrary symbols and memory systems, and that kind of thing. No system of phonetic stenography, such as we have at the present day, in which a fluent character represents a certain sound, and in accordance with which the sounds of the human speech can be transcribed as they are uttered, was known to the ancients. The shorthand system invented by Ciro, the secretary of Cleopatra, is well known; it has no phonetic basis. Two amanuenses were necessary to keep up with a speaker, and there are even tales that Caesar kept six amanuenses going at once. It is certainly a long jump from that to the handy girl of today, whose swift pencil easily keeps up with a man's utterance.

Few people of the present day have any just or correct understanding of phonetics. The average person confuses the name of a letter of the alphabet with the sound which it is supposed to represent, fails to distinguish between diphthongs like long "I" and the simple vowel sounds, and in many ways betrays the fact that he is quite without the phonetic sense. The teaching of stenography has spread a knowledge of phonetics, and in the long run must produce a much more general realization of the ridiculousness and wastefulness of our present system of spelling the English language.—New York Mail.

LANGUAGE OF SEALING WAX

Meaning Has Been Given All Colors Generally Made, Says New York Stationery Dealer.

A well-known New York stationery dealer says that the language of sealing wax is a late fashionable fad. A meaning has been given to all the colors generally made, and all persons who use sealing wax on their letters should be acquainted with these meanings, so that the use of a favorite shade may not be misinterpreted.

In this new language white means a proposal of marriage, black is a message of death, of course, and violet signifies sympathy or condolence. Chocolate should be used for invitations to dinner, vermilion for business communications, while ruby—suggestive perhaps of a bleeding heart—is used to seal love letters. Green is used to signify hope, brown a tell of melancholy, blue of constancy and yellow of jealousy.

Pink is the proper color for school-girls to use in sending letters to one another, while matured ladies should use gray for letters of friendship.

Regeneration.

Starfish will grow new arms, lobsters new claws, and lizards new tails. A new lizard will not indeed spring from a new tail, or a new lobster from a discarded claw, but a new starfish will grow from a detached arm. In the vegetable kingdom, as a writer in Knowledge remarks, this phenomenon is still more common, and has been put by man to practical use. Although identical in principle the growing of a plant from a cutting may not seem so astonishing as the growing of a new starfish; but growing bot one but many plants from a leaf seems almost as extraordinary. It is not unusual to see a leaf of the bryophyllum that, after lying on moist ground for a little time, has half a dozen new plants growing from its edge. Among the many plants that can thus be propagated is the Begonia; and every housewife knows a geranium plant can be grown from a leaf stalk.—Youth's Companion.

"The Goddess" will start at the Gem July 30.

THE VICTROLA HAS NO PEER

If all the people could hear all of the substitutes for Victrolas, there would not be any music machines except Victrolas. Rather a contradictory statement, but a fact never the less.

The Victrola is so far ahead of all the tin horn imitations that any prospective buyer who would take the trouble to hear all of them, would not hesitate to buy the Victrola.

It is the one great musical machine with a tone volume that carries through the largest auditoriums, and yet may be heard in the smallest rooms without the mechanical twang that so offends the ears of real musicians.

It is the one great musical instrument from which you can get the masterpieces of the world's greatest singers and players. The art of these great singers and players is recorded in imperishable form exclusively for the Victrola.

Aldo, Amato, Bori, Braslau, Butt, Calve, Caruso, Culp, DeGogorza, Depachmann, Destinn, Eames, Elman, Farrar, Galski, Gluck, Hamlin, Homer, Jadlowker, Kreisler, Kubelik, Martinelli, McCormack, Melba, Michailowa, Ober, Paderewski, Patti, Powell, Ruffo, Schumann-Heink, Scotti, Sembrich, Terry, Tetrizzini, Whitehill, Williams, Zimbalist, as well as the greatest bands and orchestras of the world.

It is the one great instrument that brings to the home the music that is desired, and anybody can make up a program from the Victor numbers that will be entertaining to the audience. It also brings into the homes the newest dances and dance music, and the folk songs and dances of all nations.

The Victrola is sold at various prices, from $15 to $300, and on easy terms.

A delightfully social event of the past week was the morning musicale given Friday morning by Miss Katherine Cook in honor of Miss Brown and Miss Landrum of Lampasas. A roster of artists from the best musical talent of the city, were on the program and the hostess, herself a musician of much repute and talent, contributed two numbers.

The guests on arriving were met by a house party composed of the hostess, Miss Cook, the two honorees and Miss Cornelia McAllister of Paris, Texas and Miss Vesta Hastings of Oklahoma City and enjoyed a short time in conversation with the out of town guests. The reception hall and music and dining rooms were all charmingly decorated with a profusion of ferns and cut flowers in a color motif of pink and white.

The program was opened by the hostess, who apprised the guests of a surprise in store for them at the end of the program. Miss Cook's vocal numbers, (a) The Sandman Is Coming, Heinrich Snell, (b) An Open Secret, R. Huntington Wood, pleased very much, a characteristic of the soloist which makes her much in demand. Miss Gladys Herron, who has been studying under Yess Nat, formerly Tetrazzini's accompanist, rendered a Grieg sonata in a finished and highly artistic manner. Mrs. Bruce Greenwood, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Mark Walker gave two violin selections in her usual perfect manner. Her numbers were (a), Cradle Song, Schubert, (b) Minuet in G, Beethoven.

One of the most pleasing numbers on the program was a French song "Le Cour De Ma Mai" by Dalcorze, sung by Mrs. Walter Robertson, who charmed her audience as usual. Mr. and Mrs. Barhold Machlin's rendition of the second movement of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony was altogether enjoyed as was the contralto number, "Calm Is the Night" Bohm, by Mrs. G. Fred Thompson. As the promised surprise, the hostess introduced Little Miss Vesta Hastings, a fourteen year old musical prodigy. Miss Hastings' "Marchen" by Raff was heartily encored and the young lady responded graciously.

Following the program, Mrs. R. W. Cook, sister-in-law of the hostess, assisted by her little daughter, Miss Edna Mae, delightfully attired in pink and white in harmony with the color motif, served a refreshment course consisting of pink and white brick cream, pink and white angel food cake and mints to carry out the prevailing scheme. ## INTERESTING TWO PART DRAMA AT AIRDOMS MONDAY

Monday night at the Airdoms the picture program will include a two part feature, "A Life in the Hat Room."

King Baggott is featured in a two reel human interest drama. The story of the play, written by Anthony F. Kelly and produced by Geo. A. Lessey. Ned Gordon, Arline Pretty, Jane Lee and Frank Smith enact the other principal roles. The story of the play follows:

Farmer Robbins' little daughter has a high fever and the rich old farmer fears to trust the aged Dr. Smiley to handle the case when the latter announces that the child has appendicitis and must be operated upon.

Old Doctor Smiley is the only doctor in Crescent. His daughter, Nellie Webb, a widow, has one child, Jane. In a neighboring town, Dr. Savage, a young physician finds that his small practice shows no signs of an immediate boom and is despondent. He feels that he should move to a larger town where there is more need of his services.

Farmer Robbins notices that old Dr. Smiley is obliged to doctor his own eyes before examining his daughter and does not feel that the old doctor should be permitted to perform such delicate operation as that for appendicitis. He plainly tells the old doctor of his attitude in the matter. The old doctor realizes the truth of Farmer Robbins' remarks and leaves for his home where he tells his daughter that he feels that his race is about run.

Farmer Robbins then goes to the next town and calls upon Dr. Savage. The young doctor eagerly takes charge of the case. He finds that the old doctor has diagnosed the case entirely wrong because of his falling eye sight.

Old Doctor Smiley feels that he would be doing an injustice to the patients of Crescent if he were to continue his practice any longer, but his daughter scoffs away his fears and tells him he is as good as ever.

Dr. Savage quickly cures Farmer Robbins' daughter and makes quite a reputation for himself in Crescent through his handling of the case. Old Doctor Smiley steadily falls in health meanwhile, and one morning his daughter, Katherine, finds him dead in bed.

Katherine realizes that thereafter she must make her own way in the world and attempts to settle up her father's affairs. Her little daughter wanders into the old man's laboratory and plays with a vial of some mixtures with which the old doctor had been experimenting shortly before his death.

The burns which the child receives in this manner become serious, threatening even her life. The young doctor by his care saves the life of the baby and wins the heart of the mother who becomes reconciled to the new doctor.

WILLIAM FARNUM AT THE MAJESTIC TUESDAY

"The Plunderer" pictured from Roy Norton's famous novel of the same name is the Tuesday's Fox attraction at the Majestic.

Bill Matthews (played by William Farnum) and his young chum Dick Townsend (Harry Spingler) halt their weary burros at a dusty way-side tavern in the foothills of the mighty Coast Range. In the fast falling evening light, Dick points towards a distant towering peak, slashed by a deep cross-shaped formation of quartz. The setting sun gleams yellow on it.

"There she is Dick," exclaims Matthews—"The Croix D'Or—the Cross of Gold, where we're either going to peter out or become millionaires." The Croix D'Or has been left to Dick in a strange way. The old mine, long abandoned, belonged to his father. The elder Townsend, dying beneath the mine to Dick, made the surviving partner of Dick's father's firm has faith enough in the old water-soaked Croix D'Or to "stake" Dick a mining engineer, to $100,000, to work the property till he strikes the hoped-for "mother lode." Dick, with Bill Matthews, his mining partner, sets out hopefully to win the "Big Bonanza."

On their arrival at the mine they meet up with Bully Brady and his henchmen. The struggle between the two men, the subsequent finding of the rich mother lode and the charming love interest interwoven in the story makes "The Plunderer" one of the most interesting pictures released in many a day.

THREE PART EDISON AT THE GEM THEATER MONDAY

Miriam Nesbitt and Marc McDermott are featured in "Her Probation."

Free Pictures at Lake Wichita

F. P. ST. CLAIR, Mgr.

Place' a three-part Edison drama. A synopsis is given.

Agnes Reynolds, considered the drudge of the household, while her sisters, May and Clarabelle, enjoy a comfortable position in the social set. Harry Cornell, the bank president's son, has become enamored of May. Agnes starts her family by stating that she is going to the Capital to work and get something out of life.

Agnes has for some time, admired Senator William Northrup, and oftentimes had been ridiculed by her sisters because of her confessed infatuation. At the Capital, Agnes gets work as a clerk in the office of a real estate operator, whose office is immediately opposite that of Senator Northrup. She progresses well in her work, and studies stenography evenings. Attempts to get financial assistance from home prove futile, and she has to be extremely parsimonious to get along.

One evening, she remains at the office after hours to complete work on a title. As she is leaving, she hears loud voices in Senator Northrup's office and listens. She declares that some one is trying to bribe the senator to remain away from the session when the anti-betting bill is to be presented. The senator repudiates the bribe, and in emphatic terms tells the agent of the gambler he will champion the bill on the floor of the senate. There is a pistol shot and the would-be murderer rushes out past Agnes. She rushes in, and staunching the flow of blood temporarily, calls a doctor. The senator is impressed by the beauty of Agnes, and is so grateful that he indiscreetly offers her money. Agnes leaves, and the senator realizes his mistake. Subsequently, the bill is passed, the senator telling of the attempted murder and bribe.

Efforts to find Agnes are futile, and Senator Northrup is discouraged. She has returned home, and told her family she is engaged to Senator Northrup, now a candidate for governor. Agnes is feted and lionized. The newspapers get it and Senator Northrup denies the story flatly. Agnes is cornered. A reception is given, and out of curiosity, Senator Northrup goes to the town to see who the woman is who is playing the game. He meets Agnes and realizes. She asks forgiveness and agrees to tell the newspapers the real conditions, as a scandal will ruin his political career. Instead, he asks her whether she can try and care for him a bit, and the answer is affirmative.

DUSTIN FARNUM AT THE EMPRESS MONDAY

The scenes are laid in 1840, when California was cruelly misruled by the Mexicans, and when the missions served alike the purpose of schools and places of refuge for the pioneers, when hard pressed by the organized bandits who were in power. Two homes were pillaged and burned in different settlements, and the occupants killed. From one, however, emerged a tiny girl, Eleanor, who was given shelter by the old padre, Father Reinaldo, at the mission. From the other came a youth, Leonardo, who returned to his home only to find it in flames and his parents brutally murdered, and who made a solemn vow to avenge their deaths. How he does this is pictured in some thrilling escapades, such as dashing up mountains on a fiery steed, bridging chasms, snatching Mexican riders from their horses and appropriating the horse for his own purposes, disarming and robbing lone travelers and killing Mexicans fore and aft.

The remarkable feature of this highwayman is that he does not keep the spoils himself, but gives them to the poor of his own people, who have been injured or robbed by the Mexicans. So terrible are his depredations, and so swift and mysterious his movements, that the Mexicans have a superstitious fear of him. On account of the courtesy and gallantry which he shows toward the poor, the weak and helpless, they give him the title "Captain Courtesy." And in the cast Captain Courtesy is Dustin Farnum, the brilliant actor who is so well known and loved, both on the legitimate stage and in screen dramatizations, and who is starred in this play. In the latter part of the picture there is a beautiful love scene between "Captain Courtesy," who throws off his highwayman's mask and appears as Captain of the Riflemen, and Eleanor, the orphan rescued by the padre, Miss Winifred Kingston, who has been the heroine in all Mr. Farnum's great photoplay successes, plays the part of Eleanor, and does it with her usual grace and sweetness. That grand actor of character parts, Herbert Standing, takes the role of the padre, and the gentleness of his features and sympathetic touch add a charming note to the picture. Courtenay Foote has the role of the American who is spying upon his own people for the Mexicans—a most thankless and unappealing job, but one which Mr. Foote's artistry has made distinctive. Carl Von Schiller takes the part of a Mexican officer, and Winona Brown assumes the role of Indian girl with great effect.

This story of "Captain Courtesy" is one which would please almost anyone, for its scenes are unusually diversified. There are many views of California, missions, with grounds, and in some cases interiors, beautifully photographed. The horses which are shown in this picture are alone an evening's entertainment, for they are wonderful thoroughbreds, trained for this very kind of work.

DEBUT OF YOUTHFUL PIANIST LAST THURSDAY EVENING

Miss Bernice Sohke
Mrs. Irene Foster presented her little pupil, Bernice Gohlke to the public on Thursday evening at Kemp Kort. Dainty programs adorned with the picture of the youthful debutante were distributed among the invited guests, each of whom seemed spellbound when the tiny maiden appeared at the piano and played five pieces with an abandon and expression far beyond the average ability of students of her age. While the technic was good, the interpretation was pleasing to a remarkable degree and proved striking evidence of the young student's diligent work under a most capable and conscientious teacher. Mrs. Foster and little Bernice were the recipients of warm expressions of praise from their guests.

The program was highly elaborated by Miss Bruce Dickson of Milford College and the Misses Helen Hines and Anita Monroe, students of Mrs. E. L. Fulton of this city. Their splendid readings were enthusiastically received by the hearers, and Miss Monroe's Spanish dance performed with sylphine ease and grace proved a most delightful closing number. These talented young ladies added much to the success of the entertainment as did also several members of Mrs. Foster's senior class who completed the program as given below.

- Holiday Sprites, Engelman—Madalene Thomas and Mrs. Foster.
- Thousand and One Nights, Reinecke, Will O' the Wisp, Jungman—Bernice Gohlke.
- Song of the Rushes, Seeling—Agnes Leitcham.
- Cupid and Dickey, Anonymous—Miss Helen Hines.
- Trust in Absence, Baumfelder—Bernice Gohlke.
- Spanish Dance, Moskowsky—Louise Hines and Mrs. Foster.
- The Courier, O'Henry—Miss Bruce Dickson.
- Playing Dragon Flies, Gonschals—Bernice Gohlke.
- Polish Dance, Scharwenka—Agnes Leitcham.
- A Matrimonial Experiment, from Dickson's, Leonard Spots—Miss Helen Hines.
- Barcarol, Spindler—Bernice Gohlke.
- A Spanish Dance—Miss Anita Monroe.

LOCAL MEN ONLY WILL SPEAK FOR THE DRYS

Chairman Bullock Makes Announcement in Open Letter Addressed to Chairman Britain

W. J. Bullock, chairman of the prohibition campaign committee has addressed an open letter to Chairman A. H. Britain of the anti committee enclosing a list of the prohibition speaking dates over the county, announcing that the prohibition speakers would be willing to divide time with the anti. He also announces in the letter that it is the intention of the prohibition committee to have as speakers only persons who live in Wichita county. The letter follows:

Hon. A. H. Britain, Chairman Anti-Prohibition Committee, Wichita Falls.
Dear Sir: I gave a list of speaking dates on yesterday to the public press. All these appointments are to be filled by men who live in Wichita county and who have as they see it, in this contest the best interests of our county and city at heart. If you wish to send local men to these appointments—speakers will gladly give them a division of time, and the most courteous treatment possible. We will bring in no outside speakers as long as you bring in none. If you decide, however, to bring in those from the outside we reserve the right to do the same thing.

Thinking you may think it proper to have these joint discussions I write you this letter, and as it is a matter in which the voters are interested I am giving a copy of this letter to our local papers. If your committee wishes to accept this offer let me know so arrangements can be made. Yours very truly,
W. J. BULLOCK, Chairman.

BABY SHOW TO BE AIRDOME FEATURE NEXT WEEK

As a feature for all next week at the Lane Airdome the A. H. Lewis Picture Show Company will give a baby show, giving the mothers of Wichita Falls an opportunity to see their babies on the screen. The pictures will be shown as they are received and every mother in town is urged to send in her baby's picture. Further information concerning the show will be given at the Airdome box office but it is assured that this baby show will be the biggest thing in the amusement line shown here for some time. Mr. Lewis is in the city now and commencing with Monday evening will show the baby pictures, continuing all next week. Monday in addition to this feature and the usual picture program a new vaudeville bill will open with the following acts: Hill and Lewis, novelty staging and talking act, carrying special scenery and Jerome and Italia, comedy singing and talking specialty.

The names of two Wichita Falls officials appear on the program planned for the meeting of the League of Texas Municipalities, which will meet shortly at Greenville. Mayor Brittain is slated to discuss traffic regulation and City Secretary W. J. McCarty the duties of city secretaries.

JULY CLEARANCE

Watch Our Ads in the Daily Newspapers

Do not miss a single issue during the month of July. To do so may mean a lost opportunity. Our buyers are now in the eastern markets and even at this early date we are beginning to receive some express shipments from them. They will as usual purchase quantities of late summer merchandise at ridiculously low prices and we will place it on sale as fast as the express companies can bring it to us. We will also throughout the month of July make every effort possible to clear every section of our store of summer merchandise. It will take low prices to sell them and we know how to make low prices.

"It's pretty hard to find anything better than a good promise well kept."
—Mister Squegee

Men's greatness is measured, not by the things they promise to do, but by what they accomplish. So it is with all things in this world. Many men have announced their intention of doing greater things with electricity than Edison has done. They have not made their promises good, and Edison remains the wizard of science. The popularity of Diamond Squegee Tread Tires is due to their merit in giving cheap mileage and fulfilling service requirements with unvarying regularity. Great promises are made for other tires—promises that in many cases are never fulfilled. More than 99% of all Diamond Squegee Tread Tires exceed the service that is promised for them. That comes pretty near giving you absolute certainty.

GRAND JURY HAS TAKEN A RECESS

TOTAL OF 40 FELONY INDICTMENTS AND TWO MISDEMEANOR BILLS FILED

A PARTIAL REPORT FILED

Deals Mostly With Official Acts or Omissions in Performance of Duty

Adjournment was taken by the grand jury late Friday until August 2, after returning one additional felony indictment, making a total of 40 to date, with two misdemeanor bills.

During the last few days of its session, the grand jury had a number of women from the reservation before it but no indictments were returned on bawdy house charges. When the jury reported to Judge Akin, he said:

"Have you returned any bawdy house indictments?" "No" was the answer.

"Didn't you find any bawdy houses in the city?" asked Judge Akin, with a smile.

Foreman Robertson replied that this question would be taken up more thoroughly when the grand jurors reconvened.

The report of the grand jurors dealt principally with county officials some critics being passed upon some of them, although nothing in the nature of charges was made. One of the criticisms no longer applies. It deals with the payment of claims before they have been audited by the county commissioners and this practice has been discontinued. The other criticism has to do with failure of officers to serve on county and precinct officials that this matter will be gone into further, there being an implied hope in the report that conditions in this regard will be promptly remedied. The report follows:

To the Honorable District Judge: The grand jurors beg to submit the following report:

In compliance with your Honor's instructions, we have caused more than 210 persons to be brought before us as witnesses and have, as we think diligently inquired into violations of law in this county; and as results of said inquiry, bills of indictment have been found in 42 cases and directions given to the county attorney to file complaints in four cases.

Special attention has been given to offenses wherein your Honor gave them because the law requires you to give them and, as we think, we have diligently sought to discover violations under other offenses not required to be specially mentioned by you, and under both classes of offenses have found indictments where developed facts justifies us in doing so.

As to official acts or omissions: 1. Wrongful acts: None found of magnitude sufficient to require reporting unless it be an irregularity in paying out county money on claims before said claims were audited by the commissioner's court, which irregularity has been done away with and the officers say that the practice will not be followed in the future and we discovered no fact justifying at this time, further inquiry into a possible hurt that might have resulted from said irregularity.

2. As to negligent acts or failure to act when duty demanded action, we find: (a) That all officers, except the present clerk, have failed to comply with Art. 115 and 116, Penal Code, in reference to reports of money collected by them other than state and county money and unclaimed, and as to this omission, we postpone action until August 2nd at which time we shall expect present officers to file reports covering their period of service; and that ex-officers file reports covering their tenure in office, reaching back to 1907.

(b) That with few exceptions, Art. 299, P. C., relating to tabular statement to be made by county clerk or commissioner's court, has never been complied with in this county. However, when the finance ledger is kept up to date, it is believed to be a substantial compliance with said law, since a copy of it, when so kept, would be a complete quarterly statement. We see small value in striking a balance in an officer's account when all the entries, both debit and credit, can not be made. The county clerk informs us that it is impossible to keep the finance ledger up to date under conditions that have obtained since he took charge of his office. The cause of this condition is the failure of officers to make quarterly reports on time or in their failure to make them. Our meeting on August 2nd is to consider further this neglect of duty.

3. As to commendable acts: (a) The seeming entire concord, one with the other; if there is friction anywhere, we failed to discover it.

(b) Insofar as we have been able to get a lineup on the various officers work, we must say that the work of the present county administration is above the average. It seems to be a business administration. The executive department appears to be lined up to the man for law and order.

4. As to the magnitude of the task assigned us: To find all non-performance of duty, presupposes knowledge on our part of perfect performances in the entire field of duty, a presumption calculated to stagger 12 laymen at the outset. However, we now feel, after the generous and able tutorage of the district attorney and the deputy county attorney that we are able to glimpse, fairly well, the measure of duty required of us. We have discovered that where the law imposes a duty, it invariably imposes a penalty for its violation. As to how well the law has provided for punishment, it might be well for all officers to read again, before August the first, articles 426 and 430, Penal Code. Finally, We desire to thank the court for his courteous treatment of

The World's Lowest Priced Knight Motor Car

This announces the greatest achievement in the history of the automobile business. The Knight is the automobile motor that revolutionized the entire motor car industry of Europe. The Daimler of England, the Panhard of France, the Mercedes of Germany, the Minerva of Belgium—in fact practically all of the costly European cars—are equipped with the famous Knight type motor. And these are the motor cars that cost from $4,000 to $8,000 each! Practically every royal and titled family in Europe owns one or more Knight motored cars. The Knight type motor is the nearest approach to 100% efficiency. This motor differs from other motors in that where all others deteriorate with use, this improves; to all others carbon is harmful, here it is beneficial; size for size it has more power. It has no noisy poppet valves; no noisy cams; no uncertain valve springs; no troublesome valves to grind; practically no wearing parts. The Willys-Knight has the same advantages and is just as efficient as those costly European Knight cars. As we build more cars in a single week than most European manufacturers build in a whole year, we are able to utilize every modern manufacturing economy. That is why our price is so much less. The Willys-Knight, in our opinion, has the least vibration and is the smoothest, quietest and most economical car made. Have your demonstration at once. Immediate deliveries.

Wichita Falls Testimony Remains Unshaken

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Wichita Falls story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us. Mrs. G. A. Swope, 612 Burnett St., Wichita Falls says: "For the past two years, I suffered terribly at times from my kidneys. The kidney secretions were very unnatural and I suffered constantly from weakness across my back. Hearing about Doan's Kidney Pills being so good for such troubles, I got a box from the Wichita Drug House. They quickly brought relief and showed that they were a fine kidney medicine. I feel much better now than I have for a long time." (Statement given June 15, 1905)

TO THE VOTERS OF WICHITA COUNTY

(Advertisement)

The prohibition committee, in an article given to the press, Friday, seek to becloud the issues in this campaign by a rambling tirade against this city and the county, in which they only reiterate what they seem to consider a grievance against this people, however, without offering any tangible remedy, except the stereotyped arguments of prohibitionists.

Still this committee says that "stripped of all pretense and sham the principal argument of our anti friends is that prohibition will not help moral conditions in Wichita Falls." In this connection we would state that it has been the purpose of this committee from the beginning of the campaign to "strip" this issue of the usual pretense and sham characteristic of the prohibition argument. Furthermore, to challenge the right of the prohibitionists to arrogate unto themselves a monopoly on the morality of the county, believing, as we do, that there are just as good men who are opposed to the principle of prohibition as there are among those who subscribe to the theory. However, we do not agree with our friends that this can be nothing else but a moral issue, and evidently they do not so consider the question, if we may judge from the amount of space they are consuming in an effort to prove that business conditions will not be seriously affected. In fact, they know that prohibition will affect the progress of the county, either for better or worse. From this issue they cannot escape, but rather than acknowledge the damage that would be done any city in a class of Wichita Falls, they seek to satisfy their conscience and convince the indifferent voter with the proposition that the city and county will not suffer as a consequence.

In this connection they refer in a general way to the testimony of a hundred dry towns in Texas to prove that prohibition does not hurt legitimate business. Of course, they refer only to towns smaller than Wichita Falls, and dare not mention those points in a class with this city in the matter of growth and progress. Just think, if you will, or imagine these men making such a comparison in any other than a prohibition argument. Would you not rather expect them under other conditions to herald this as one of the best cities in the entire country? In fact, have you not heard such eulogies pronounced by some of the men who are now most active in reflecting on the good reputation we have enjoyed. Strange that citizens heretofore assuming so much local pride should thus reduce their estimates of the home city solely for prohibition purposes.

Again, they would have you believe that business men prefer the dry communities, but they do not explain why we have so many of that class in Wichita Falls who came here from other localities as a result of the adoption of prohibition, and none of those who so love the dry communities have changed their place of residence thereto for business reasons. Our prohibition friends should at least be consistent in this matter.

We again submit that Wichita Falls is not only one of the most progressive cities in the state, but that the morals of the city will compare favorably with any community in Texas, notwithstanding the efforts of our prohibition friends to besmirch the splendid record it has borne all these years.

Why, if conditions have been so intolerable, as the committee would have you believe, have they not made a more determined effort to correct matters in the past, not waiting until this time and proclaim, from every house top, as it were, such an indictment as would be calculated to brand this community as one of an extremely undesirable nature, were it uttered other than in a prohibition election. The courts have been here for all these years, grand juries have been in session from time to time, and each succeeding term has furnished a large percentage of prohibition officials. In fact, a majority of the prohibition committee have served this county, others have served on its grand juries, and all without exception have been free to present their complaints to the courts and their inquisitorial bodies at any time.

The prohibition committee further charges that fallen women bootleg constantly with a federal license as a protection. If so intent on reformation, why not present this matter, with other alleged violations, to the courts for correction? This is due the county and the state, as much so from them as any other. Under prohibition this court procedure would have to be adopted and it would be no more difficult now than under a changed condition. In fact, it would be easier of accomplishment at this time, for unquestionably the incentive for illegal sales will be much greater if prohibition is adopted.

This committee, in its article, seeks to leave the impression that taxes will be reduced in the event of the adoption of prohibition. In an article they state that the county revenue from saloons amounts to between five and six thousand dollars, while in another they claim that these firms furnish no income in this or any other county in the state, but do furnish expense to tax pay-

VOICE FROM AMARILLO.

The following communication from Amarillo will be of interest at this time, especially as coming from one known to many of our people, a brother of Dr. R. L. Miller of this city.

Amarillo, Texas, July 14, 1915.

Hon. A. H. Britain, Mayor of Wichita Falls, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Dear Sir— I see Mayor Beasley has lent his name and official position to help the prohibitionists win at the polls in Wichita county. He states "the last four years of prohibition have been years of conservative progress in business activity."

The prohibitionists could not keep back Amarillo if they were to abolish grocery stores. Amarillo has more trunk and branch lines of railroads and a larger and richer country tributary to her as a wholesale and retail trade center, than any other city in the southwest. Amarillo was almost twice the size of Wichita Falls a few years ago and the ratio would have continued till now if our people had availed themselves of the resources at their command.

Amarillo would have 80,000 population if the energy and means that have been dissipated in prohibition elections had been devoted to a united effort in the educational, moral and industrial advancement of the city.

The morals and the intelligence of this place are as elevated as those of any other place of its size, whether we are running under dry or wet laws. I think the laws are well enforced. Our officers are capable and honest, but I don't know of anybody that has left town because of a scarcity of forbidden beverages. I would fain disturb the reign of serenity upon which they congratulate themselves. But before I would feel like telling Wichita Falls to clean up and behave herself I would cast out a beam or two from our own eye. I disclaim being represented by Mayor Beasley in my imitation his letter may convey against the morals of Wichita Falls and the administration of your city government. I do not believe there is a dry city on the map of the size and doing the business of Wichita Falls that breathes a healthier atmosphere and is better governed. In my opinion there are more people in Amarillo that share my views than those of Mayor Beasley.

I was Mayor of Amarillo several years ago when there were open saloons. Our morals were as good then as they are now. The word "conservative" did not then do justice in describing the kind of progress we were making. At that time we were the banner town in the state on the score of progress.

There are so many factors that figure in the causes of crime that I will not attempt a comparative inventory of the records made at Amarillo under wet and dry regimes.

I don't blame our officers for giving themselves a good recommend and incidentally reaching out to take a hand in running Wichita Falls. If the bustle and business of your wonderful city is a subject of jealousy in them or they are shocked by the morals of a town that license saloons it is but natural for them to take a hand in your election.

Yours truly,

(Signed) WILL A. MILLER, JR.

ers. It is well that this committee deals in a general way with the question of taxation. They do not tell you that the loss of this revenue must be met by an additional tax on property, for it will cost more to conduct the affairs of the county under prohibition than at present. That prohibition, with the consequent violations of law in the way of bootlegging and other practices, entails a financial burden on any community, is attested by the experience of Oklahoma, where a number of counties were almost bankrupt by statewide. Not only that but the state was put to an enormous expense in providing enforcement officers to help the county officials take care of the deplorable situation. They carefully avoid an acknowledgement of the fact that further additional taxes will have to be levied to make up for the deficiency that will be caused by a decrease in property valuations.

Under the present apportionment Wichita Falls represents one-half the total property valuations in the county. Under prohibition it can be safely estimated that valuations in the city will decrease at least fifty per cent. Then we will have a total county valuation one-fourth less than at present, for which deficiency an increased rate will have to be levied. This done, property outside of Wichita Falls will have to produce two-thirds of the total tax required, instead of one-half, as at present. This fact should appeal to the voters over the county, who must necessarily make up any deficiency.

Our prohibition friends ask, "why did we fail to get the West Texas Normal?" and answer with the assertion that it was because we had saloons. These gentlemen evidently know better than this, when as a matter of fact the location for this school was established on a donation basis. Wichita Falls offered the committee $50,000 as a bonus, but Canyon City raised the bid to $200,000 and was selected. They fail to tell you that a majority of the state institutions, educational and otherwise, were located in wet towns. They further refrain from referring to the fact a majority of the leading educational institutions of churches and individuals are likewise located in wet towns. Our friends should be consistent, at least, in dealing with these matters, without trying to mislead the public as to the true facts in the case. You heard no complaint from them when the Southern Methodist University was located in Dallas, nor did they protest when the Texas Christian University and the Baptist Seminary were established at Fort Worth. And we do not remember of an objection having been filed on account of the presence of Baylor University at Waco. Fact is, if the prohibition committee would admit, that San Antonio, with the greatest number of saloons of any city in the state, has also the greatest number of schools, and several among the best in the state.

The prohibition committee cannot hope to win before an intelligent people with such representations, especially in the face of conditions at home, where we have as good schools as can be found anywhere, and would have had some one of the state institutions, had our geographical location been a little more favorable.

Permit us to again to appeal to the committee to offer some tangible reason, other than that of a sentimental nature, for the adoption of prohibition. They do not give assurance of one additional church or an increase in the membership thereof. They do not propose the erection of one single institution, educational or commercial, or offer any degree of prosperity other than an imaginary kind which goes with prohibition theory but which never develops when that fallacy is put into practice.

They attempt to give no assurance to the laboring men of an additional days work, nor will they seek to explain what promise they hold out that he will not be reduced to a state of protracted idleness if their policy prevails.

We submit to the intelligent, fair-minded voter that our friends offer you nothing but a perishable dream that will vanish the eve of the election, whether they win or lose, and that they, themselves, will awake to a knowledge of the damage inflicted, in the event their theory is saddled upon this county.

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT.

No better evidence of the unfavorable conditions that follow in the wake of prohibition can be found than the comparative statement given below with reference to Kansas and Nebraska, the one state dry and the other wet. These figures are altogether favorable to the state not afflicted with prohibition and furnish little consolation to those who would like convince themselves and others that Kansas is an ideal state.

Then again, no more appropriate comparison could possibly be made, in view of the fact that the states referred to are adjoining, and similar in character as affecting population and general conditions.

These statistics are taken from the United States Census Bureau figures and may be accepted as correct:

	(WET)	(DRY)	Per Cent More in Kansas
Number of insane per 100,000 population in state	167.22	172.30	2.4
Number of insane with alcoholic psychosis per 100,000 population admitted to hospitals in 1910	1.7	4.41	159.0
Divorce rate per 100,000 population	226	296	26.0
Percentage of illiterate persons 10 years old or over	1.9	2.9	51.0
Juvenile delinquents per 100,000 population	11.17	26.68	129.0
*Prisoners held for homicide per 100,000 population	6.97	11.26	62.0
*Life prisoners per 100,000 population	2.94	4.49	52.0
*Prisoners of all kind per 100,000 population	55.12	90.94	64.0
Savings depositors per 100,000 population	1699	1148	45
Percentage of church membership to population	32.4	28.4	13

*United States prisoners in the penitentiary at Leavenworth are not included in this tabulation, which deals with Kansas prisoners only.

UNLOAD THREE DRY LOADS OF LIQUOR.

Those who have been reading about prohibition in Kansas will be interested to know that they are pouring liquor in the river by dry loads at Wichita, and that a chief of police has been discharged for selling confiscated liquor to negro bootleggers. And yet they tell you that prohibition is effective in that state. Following is from the St. Louis Republic of July 12th:

"Wichita Kan., July 11.—After ordering three dry loads of beer and whisky poured into the Arkansas river here Friday, Mayor Bentley appointed G. C. Hay, chief of police in place of G. K. Stewart, discharged for selling confiscated liquor to negro bootleggers."

Respectfully submitted,

A. H. BRITAIN, Chairman      HARD BUTLER, Secretary

LOCAL OPTION CAMPAIGN
NOW ON IN FULL BLAST

Oratory, Letters, Circulars, Personal Appeals and Advertisements in Newspapers

With the prohibition election less than two weeks distant, both pro and anti organizations are perfected and are waging their campaigns. Different plans of campaign are being followed by the opposing sides. The prohibition faction will resort largely to oratory and will hold meetings at various points in the county. The anti's will make use of circulars, letters and newspaper advertising to push their claims, and their fight will be largely based upon the effect which they claim prohibition would have upon the business conditions here.

An anti-prohibition meeting was held Friday night at the Wichita

Theatre, with between 350 and 400 people in attendance. Speakers were Judge Edgar Scurry, A. H. Britain, S. O. Jones, C. W. Bean, R. J. Goodale and C. B. Pash of Amarillo. Mr. Pash told of conditions in Amarillo under prohibition.

Prohibition meetings at the various school houses over the county have been announced and speakers will be heard at Allendale, Factory District, Turkburnett, Cashion, Howard, Pleasant Valley, Denny, Clara, Sunshine, Day Station, Friberg, Beaver Creek, Jonesdale, Bacon, Iowa Park, Electric, Everett, Prouds, Enterprise, Barwise, Weath, Pond Creek and Cobb.

WOMEN'S PROHIBITION MEETING TUESDAY, 8 P. M.

There will be a meeting of all the women of the town interested in prohibition on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the First M. E. Church, South. A good program is promised and important business will come up. Every woman interested in prohibition is urged to attend.

WHEAT ABOVE DOLLAR MUCH BEING MARKETED

For Several Days Buyers Here Have Been Paying $1.05 and Many Farmers Turn Loose

With the price of wheat above the dollar mark all the past week, Wichita county farmers have been much less disposed to hold their grain and the receipts since last Sunday have been the heaviest of the season. The opinion appears to prevail that the advance is not permanent and that as soon as conditions readjust themselves, it will fall below a dollar again. Many farmers who had planned to hold their wheat turned it loose last week.

Farmers who sold their wheat at Iowa Park yesterday realized $1.07 for it, two cents more than in Wichita Falls, this being due to competition. In this city, the price offered is usually uniform from all buyers.

FACULTY CHANGES IN COLLEGE OF MUSIC AND ART

Mrs. Elizabeth Hoyt Ayer, president of the Wichita College of Music and Art, returned to Wichita Falls Monday after an absence of a month in the East. Mrs. Ayer has been taking some special vocal work, preparatory to the opening of the college in September.

There will be only two changes in the faculty of the college this fall. Mr. Knott leaves the first of August in order to continue his studies in New York and in his place the college has secured Mr. Lloyd Miller of Cincinnati. Mr. Miller has taught in the Cincinnati Conservatory for four years and comes to Wichita Falls very brilliantly recommended. The college is very fortunate to have secured a man of Mr. Miller's ability and experience as head of the piano department.

Mr. Joseph E. Maddy, the new director of the college and head of the violin department, has been a member of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra for four years and all who are familiar with the high standards of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra will know that Mr. Maddy needs no further recommendation. He has been in orchestra work as director, teacher and player for a great many years and teaches all band and orchestra instruments. Mr. Pendleton who is personally acquainted with Mr. Maddy says, in speaking of him, "I deal with universities, colleges and musicians from Canada to the Gulf and know no man I would so readily recommend for your college."

With these two exceptions the faculty will remain the same as at the close of the college in June. Every effort has been put forth to secure the very best teachers obtainable and the faculty for the coming year is certainly a very strong one.

TO LAY CORNER STONE
NEW CHURCH JULY 24

Probable Bishop Lynch May Come for Ceremony at the New Catholic Church

The corner stone of the new Catholic church will be laid next Sunday afternoon, and it is probable that the Right Rev. Joseph Lynch, bishop of the Dallas diocese, will be here to officiate. It had been planned to lay the corner stone today, but a delay was found necessary.

The new church is being built at Ninth and Holiday streets, on the site of the frame building which served the local congregation for so many years.

MRS. WESTBROOK GIVEN ONE DOLLAR JUDGMENT

Costs in Slander Suit Are to Be Paid By Both Sides in Litigation

A judgment of one dollar was awarded Mrs. Lula Westbrook as damages for slander in her suit against Wiley Wyatt. The jury returned the verdict after being out just 24 hours. Mrs. Westbrook had filed suit for $20,000. The costs in the suit, amounting to about $50, will be paid by both sides, plaintiff and defendant paying the particular costs incurred by each.

The slander suit was based upon a remark which Mr. Wyatt was alleged to have made to a man about Mrs. Westbrook, who had formerly been in his employ. The jury is said to have stood eight to four in favor of the defendant when it first retired.

NUMBER OF CRIMINAL CASES UP THIS WEEK

Houston and Ashabranner Cases Set For Trial—Mrs. Ashabranner Withdraws Suit

A number of criminal cases are set for trial this week in the 30th district court and as many of the cases as have not been transferred to the 78th district will probably be called for trial. Only two definite settlements have been made, these being the Houston case, on a charge of pandering and the W. B. Ashabranner case, assault to murder, set for Wednesday.

It became known yesterday that Mrs. Ashabranner will probably not be a witness against her husband.

Soon after the assault upon which the charge was filed, Mrs. Ashabranner filed suit for divorce and it is understood that this case has been withdrawn.

After his trial here, Houston will probably be taken to Fort Worth, where a charge of bigamy has been filed against him.

"The Goddess" will start at the Gem July 30.
