

GERMANS SO FAR HAVE FAILED IN EFFORT TO CRUSH RUSSIAN FORCES

RETREAT CONTINUES BEFORE THE MIGHTY ADVANCE OF TEUTONS

GERMANS PRESS FORWARD FROM NORTH AND SOUTH-COAST UPON GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS FORCES.

LATTER NEARS POSITIONS

Reported That Reinforcements Are Near And It Is Expected That Russians Will Soon Make Stand And Bring Campaign To Climax.

By Associated Press. London, August 28.—Germanic efforts have not yet exhausted their efforts to smash completely the Russian army. While the Germans in the Baltic provinces under Field Marshal Von Hindenburg have again become aggressive and are attempting to drive the Russians back to the Dvina, the Austro-Hungarians with the assistance of the Germans have taken the offensive in southeastern Galicia and according to official statements from Berlin and Vienna have succeeded in breaking through the Russian position on the Zlota-Lipa river, north and south of Siraczyn.

RUSSIAN ARMY INTACT

Along the rest of the front the Germans claim to be gaining more ground but apparently they are as far as ever from their main endeavor—the capture or destruction of the Russian army. The latter although pressed hard at many points continue their orderly retreat leaving little or nothing that might be used by the invaders. Some rear guards that are left behind with machine guns to retard the Austro-German advance, have been overwhelmed and captured, but the guns and reports of reinforcements invariably have kept out of reach of the relentless pursuit. Whether the Russians will be able to make a stand in the new positions which they are said to have prepared, the next few days should tell.

There are reports that reinforcements are being sent from the east to the western and Serbian fronts but military writers express the opinion that so long as the Russian armies remain intact it will be dangerous for the Austrians and Germans to detach troops for operations elsewhere. Now that the fortresses are reduced the big guns might be moved to some other field of operations. This opinion apparently is borne out by the fact that there is no evidence of a German offensive at sea, while Serbian aviators are said to have ascertained that the Austro-German force gathered at Orsova for a rumored effect to force a way through Serbia and Bulgaria to render aid to Turkey is not of the strength reported, indeed, the Serbians express the opinion that the force is not strong enough for the task which some writers had set it.

AIRMEN ACTIVE

On the west front the activity of the airmen continues. Six German aviators attempted an attack on Paris but were driven out with the loss of one machine, while the allies threw bombs on Ostend, Middelkerke and Brugge. On the dunes at Middelkerke the Germans have some of their most formidable batteries for use against attacks at sea, while at Brugge the objective of the air force would be the canal and docks used extensively by the Germans for transport purposes. This was doubtless a further phase of the attack on the Belgian coast, initiated by British warships last Tuesday.

The Balkan situation still creates a great deal of interest and confidence is expressed that with Serbia showing a compromising attitude, it will be settled to the advantage of the entente allies. Serbia's reply to the allies, however, has not yet been delivered and Bulgaria, Greece and Roumania are holding their hands until the contents are known.

TO ELEVATE NAVY'S BIG GUNS TO 36 DEGREES

Main Batteries Of Battleships Will Be Elevated To Give Greater Range And Accuracy.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—Main batteries of American battleships hereafter will be given an elevation of 36 degrees, practically doubling the present angle of fire, according to a decision reached by the navy department experts. It is said, after close study of all available information on naval engagements of the European war. Whenever possible ships now under construction and those already in commission will be thus fitted. The effect of the change will be to increase materially the range of the navy's fourteen-inch guns and also to make gun fire more accurate in rough weather.

HAS SUBMARINES THAT SUNK ARABIC BEEN SUNK?

This Theorp Advanced by One London Newspaper—Another Gives Credit to Wilson

By Associated Press. London, Aug. 28.—The Daily News today advanced the suggestion that the submarine which sank the steamship Arabic has itself been sunk since and that therefore Germany's disavowal of the action of the underwater commander becomes apparently easy. The editorial continues:

There is not the slightest reason to suppose that Admiral von Bethmann-Hollweg, German imperial chancellor, sanctions the attack on the Arabic. The sinking of the Arabic may be assumed with some degree of certainty to have a trick of his opponent, designed quite as much to embarrass him as to drive America to action. The paper says that the submission of official Germany to the United States' demands is a fact of historic importance, involving at least recognition of the force of public opinion and insofar justifies President Wilson's patient diplomacy.

The editorial adds "if this really has been accomplished the president has struck a shrewd blow for peace in other continents than America." The Standard expresses the opinion that it is not probable that Germany will abandon her "submarine savagery" altogether. "There will be complaints at the relinquishing of so formidable a weapon at American dictation," continues the Standard.

PARIS PAPER DOUBTS GERMANY'S SINCERITY

By Associated Press. Paris, Aug. 28.—The Figaro, in an editorial today on the situation growing out of the sinking of the steamship Arabic says: "Germany handed excuses to Denmark and would like to hand them to the United States. German excuses imply neither repentance nor intention not to relapse. President Wilson and Secretary Lansing will no longer be satisfied with empty words. Berlin is well aware of it and is doing everything to gain a few days."

POLK COUNSELLOR OF STATE DEPARTMENT

New York Man Chosen By President For the Position For Which Clegg Johnson Mentioned.

By Associated Press. Washington, August 28.—The selection of Frank L. Polk, corporation counsel of New York City, to become counselor of the state department was announced tonight by Secretary Lansing. The president has tendered the position to Mr. Polk, who has accepted.

Mr. Polk will succeed Mr. Lansing, who became secretary on the resignation of William Jennings Bryan last June. The counselor's office has been vacant since Mr. Lansing took place in the cabinet and there has been much speculation as to who would fill it. A Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania and Clegg Johnson of Texas, solicitor of the state department, have been among those most prominently mentioned although it is known that Mr. Polk's name was suggested by Secretary Lansing early in the discussion.

MORE FERTILE BOTTOM LANDS ARE FLOODED

By Associated Press. Little Rock, Arkansas, August 28.—The breaking of the White River levee ten miles below Des Aik flooded another large area of fertile bottom lands. People in this district, however, had been warned to leave and most of them saved all their possessions, though their crops are ruined. The break has caused the river to fall slightly, and its effect tomorrow will be felt further up stream where the river still was rising tonight. It is intimated that 50 refugees are camped on the Lower White River at Georgetown, De Valles Bluff, Augusta and Clarendon.

The river fell somewhat at Newport today with the state sending large sums of money and quantities of provisions. The conditions of the thousands of refugees there is greatly improved. Newport is nearly free from water and the relief committees are spending their energies in improving sanitary conditions. As the flood waters receded today the bodies of hundreds of dead animals were exposed. The negro refugees under the direction of the militia company from Jonesboro worked all day removing these.

ANOTHER MEETING OF PAN-AMERICAN CONFEREES SOON

CONFERENCE WILL PROBABLY BE HELD THIS WEEK TO CONSIDER THE NEXT STEP TO BE TAKEN IN MEXICAN AFFAIRS.

CARRANZA'S REPLY AWAITED

Believed He Will Reply to Petition as Soon As He Establishes His Capital in Mexico City—Villa Faction Favorable.

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 28.—The next step in the effort to bring peace to Mexico will be considered by the Pan-American conference probably next week. A majority of the military and political leaders of Mexico have replied to the appeal of the conference for a peace agreement, it was announced officially today. The conference would be assembled soon, although a definite date for the meeting has not been set. Copies of the replies have already been received and furnished to the diplomats, who with Secretary Lansing compose the conference.

Await Carranza's Reply

General Carranza's reply is expected early next week and it is understood the call for the meeting will be issued as soon as that is in Mr. Lansing's hands.

Carranza officials here said the reply probably would be sent as soon as General Carranza reaches Mexico City to re-establish his capital there. He has chosen to delay his answer until then, because it is said he wished to impress the conferees with the fact that the government he claims is in control of the greater part of Mexico is well established in the capital.

Villa Faction Favorable

Responses favorable to the appeal have come from General Villa and all his military commanders, members of his cabinet and political advisers. All replies from Carranza's generals and advisers have referred the matter to their chief. All leaders outside the Carranza and Villa factions have accepted the offer of the Pan-American conference to aid in arranging for a convention to be held in neutralized Mexican territory for the purpose of creating a provisional government to arrange a general election.

Besides General Villa himself among those who have sent affirmative replies are: Diaz Lomardo, minister of foreign affairs in Villa's cabinet; Enrique C. Lorente, Gen. Felipe Angeles, Gen. Maytorena, governor of Sonora; Gen. Ramon Madero, Gen. Hernandez and others.

Sentiment Sectional

Mexican leaders favoring the Pan-American plan are located principally in the north and west of Mexico, those opposing it in east and central Mexico. Gen. Zapata in Morelos, south of Mexico City is expected to favor the plan, although his reply has not yet reached Washington.

Before another conference is held, Carranza's adherents are hopeful that General Obregon will have captured Torreon, toward which he is said to be advancing. Villa is said to be massing his forces at Torreon to meet this attack.

DETACHMENT OF SOLDIERS SENT TO EBBS RANCH

By Associated Press. Laredo, Texas, Aug. 28.—Col. R. A. Brown, commanding the Fourteenth United States Cavalry here, today ordered a detachment of fifteen men to proceed to the ranch of Henry Ebbs, between Hebbronville and Rio Grande City. Mr. Ebbs reported yesterday a band of Mexicans had ordered his foreman to leave the ranch under penalty of death.

ANOTHER BIG SHIPMENT OF GOLD FROM ENGLAND

Special Train Carries Between $25,000,000 and $29,000,000 in Bonds and Gold to New York

By Associated Press. Vancouver, B. C., August 28.—The second largest shipment this month of gold and securities from London to New York passed through here today on a special train. It was said that it consisted of bonds to the value of $25,000,000 and $29,000,000 in gold. The gold and securities were placed on a heavily guarded train at Halifax, where it is understood they had arrived on a British battleship guarded by a convoy of smaller craft. The train was made up of six steel express cars, a dining car and a coach, and carried 38 express guards. The shipment was being forwarded in much the same manner as was the first consignment early in August when $52,000,000 in gold and securities were sent from London and deposited in the treasury in New York to the account of J. P. Morgan & Company, the fiscal agents of the British government.

ENVELOPING MOVEMENT BY ITALIANS

By Associated Press. Rome, August 28, via Paris.—The Italian front has been divided by General Cadorna, the commander in chief into two wide sections, each conducting a vast enveloping movement. Trieste is the objective in one case and Trent in the other. The action is developing in each theater in accordance with the plan. The reports from the front state that constant progress is being made although movements are slow. General Cadorna has given instructions that as little damage as possible be inflicted on the towns in the path of the Italian armies.

RUSSIAN LINE IS PIERCED BY GERMANS

By Associated Press. Berlin, via London, 3:30 p. m.—Tentative pressure against the Russians in Eastern Galicia has resulted in the piercing of the Russian line along the Zlota-Lipa River. It was officially announced today by German army headquarters. It was also announced that the town of Narew about 20 miles southeast of Bialystok has been occupied by the Germans.

ARTILLERY FORCE AT PANAMA CANAL TO BE INCREASED

WILL BE MAINTAINED AT FULL STRENGTH WITH 2,000 MEN CONSTANTLY STATIONED THERE.

TO INSTALL GREAT GUNS

Sixteen-Inch Rifles Will Gradually Displace Guns of Smaller Caliber on the Coast Defense—Increase in Coast Defense Force to Be Asked.

By Associated Press. Washington, August 28.—The coast artillery force on duty at the Panama Canal will be increased to full strength of 28 companies or about 3,000 men. It was learned today that the former policy of maintaining the big gun crews at about half strength in peace times having been abandoned.

Fortification of the canal zone are rapidly nearing completion. Originally it was planned to man them with fourteen companies on the theory that it was improbable that the defense of both ends of the waterway would be necessary at the same time and the canal and railroads made rapid shipment of forces to the danger zone possible. Under the general adjustment plan of the army, new garrisons of the defenses have been determined upon and it is considered certain that a big increase in the coast artillery corps will be asked when congress assemblies as the doubling of the canal forces will reduce the forces in territorial United States.

Plans are now before the army fortifications board for new fortifications of the first class with sixteen inch rifles with a range of about 20 miles; it is not proposed to substitute the gigantic weapons for the present twelve and fourteen inch batteries; but in all new work and when the smaller guns are worn out and discarded the sixteen inch rifles will be installed. Changes in gun carriages, magazines and other equipment for handling the bigger guns would make the cost of substitution of them for the present twelve and fourteen inch guns almost prohibitive. One sixteen inch rifle made several years ago has been ordered installed at the canal. It is understood, however, that a newer type of gun has been developed by army engineers with increased range.

AN ATTEMPTED AIR RAID ON PARIS MEETS DISASTER

ATTACKING GERMAN AIR CRAFT PUTTING TO FLIGHT AND ONE AIRCRAFT DESTROYED BY THE FRENCH

AIR FLOTILLA IN WAITING

When German Aircraft Appeared French Air Fleet Started in Pursuit and One Enemy Aeroplane Destroyed and Its Crew Killed

By Associated Press. Paris, Aug. 28.—Four German military aeroplanes attempted to make a raid on Paris this morning. They were attacked by a French air flotilla and one of the German machines was shot to pieces in mid-air. The French lines, flying at a great height, and driving toward Paris. North of the capital they sighted a French air flotilla waiting for them and three of the German aeroplanes, wheeled about and headed for the German line. Two of the German machines escaped but one was riddled by bullets. It fell flaming into the forest of Halatte, where the burned bodies of two aviators were found.

The fourth machine dropped five bombs on Montmorency a town fifteen miles from Paris. No one was hurt. The batteries at Montmorency opened fire on the aeroplane but it got away in the haze.

Travelers arriving in Paris from the north can see at almost any hour from ten to fifteen French war planes in the air at the same time, protecting the capital from German air raids.

CONDITIONS ARE LITTLE CHANGED AT SEUL BARR

Associated Press. Falls to Discover That Allies Have Made Material Gains Since June

By Associated Press. Turkish Headquarters, Gallipoli, August 24, via London, August 28.—After inspecting earlier this week, the Turkish front at the narrow area of headlands near Salt Lake, where the British landed troops this morning, the Associated Press correspondent has visited Sedel Bahr at the tip of the peninsula, on the other end of the line. Conditions at Sedel Bahr have remained virtually unchanged since the correspondent's last previous visit in June with the exception of immaterial losses and gains of ground on both sides. These changes involve about 500 yards of trenches. In the interval the Turks have greatly improved their earthworks and bettered their positions in other respects, especially by posting artillery, including heavy batteries, in advantageous positions across the straits on the Anatolian shore.

According to information from a trustworthy source the losses to the Allies in the attack simultaneous with the Anzakis landing, were very heavy. About 5,000 men were killed. Owing to the effective fire of the Turkish artillery near Sedel Bahr the allies recently were obliged to move several large camps.

BUYING MOVEMENT SENDS COTTON PRICES HIGHER

Prices Advanced More Than $250 Per Bale Saturday and December Contracts Sell at $10.20.

By Associated Press. New York, August 28.—There was a renewed of the general buying movement in cotton here today which sent prices more than $2.50 per bale above Friday's closing figures and closed the market strong at a net advance of 25 to 29 points with December contracts selling at 10.20 or about $2 per bale above the low level of Friday. The opening was firm at an advance of twelve to fifteen points.

HEAVY TRADING YESTERDAY ON NEW ORLEANS EXCHANGE

By Associated Press. New Orleans, August 28.—Bulls continued to force advance in the cotton market today basing their buying on bullish private condition reports and fresh rains in Texas. The rise was maintained up to the close which was firm at a net gain of 25 to 24 points all within a point of the best of the session. It was an active and excited day and trading was heavy.

ASCENDENCY OF LIBERAL ELEMENT IN GERMANY IS REGARDED AS HOPEFUL

TIRPITZ AND HOLLWEG STILL IN CONFERENCE WITH GERMAN EMPEROR

Admiral Von Mueller Who Is Known To Be Against Complications With America Also In The Conference At The Eastern Front.

By Associated Press. Berlin, Aug. 28.—Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg the German imperial chancellor, and Admiral Von Tirpitz, minister of marine, who left together on Wednesday, intending to join the emperor are still at eastern headquarters where they are discussing the submarine policy and the subjects of consideration. No word has reached Berlin concerning the conference and development of any sort has occurred in the case here since the chancellor's declaration of policy, given in a statement to the Associated Press last Wednesday.

Admiral Von Mueller, chief of the private marine cabinet and the emperor's adviser on naval affairs, also is with the emperor. The admiral's influence, it is known, is with that of Dr. Bethmann-Hollweg and Foreign Minister Von Jagow, against complications with the United States and so the opinion is held here that there is no reason to change the hopeful view of the situation expressed in the chancellor's statement.

The exact wording of the instructions issued to naval commanders has not been divulged and high officials who are questioned, avoid an answer, but it is stated that they include the direction to attack no passenger ships without adequate warning. Whether this applies to freighters cannot be learned, but the technical difficulties in distinguishing a freighter from a passenger ship through a periscope would in any case produce the same effect. The American government is now officially in possession of the same declaration of policy as contained in Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg's statement, and apparently with the same limitations, this having been conveyed by Minister Von Jagow to James W. Gerard, American ambassador, at a conference Wednesday noon.

ROOSEVELT LETS LOOSE ANOTHER STATEMENT

Criticizes Administration Because Of Alleged Failure To Provide Target Practice.

By Associated Press. Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt tonight issued another lengthy statement in reply to Secretary of War Garrison in the controversy brought about by Mr. Roosevelt's Plattsburg speech. Col. Roosevelt took issue with the secretary on the administration's attitude toward Mexico and Haiti. He also called attention to what he called the unpreparedness of the fleet, saying in part:

"I pointed out to him that for nearly two years, in 1913 and 1914, the ships of the navy were never exercised in fleet maneuvering and I am reliably informed, were never exercised in fleet squadron gunnery. A moderate intelligent child of six knows that the failure of two years to undertake such maneuvers means a literally criminal deterioration in the fleet and cannot possibly mean anything else. No expert knowledge is needed on this point. It is a mere matter of ordinary common sense.

BRYAN CITES ROOSEVELT AS HORRIBLE EXAMPLE

By Associated Press. Chicago, Aug. 28.—William Jennings Bryan, on his way to Winona Lake, Ind., stopped long enough in Chicago to criticize Theodore Roosevelt for his speech at Plattsburg, N. Y., recently. "It is said to have been an ancient custom of parents to teach their children the evils of intemperance by taking before them persons in an intoxicated condition," Mr. Bryan said, "It is possible that Mr. Roosevelt is serving a useful purpose in warning the public of the effect which the doctrine of unpreparedness may have on a man when he gives himself up to it as a regular business."

MEDIATION BY AMERICA BELIEVED MORE FAVORABLE

GERMAN ANNOUNCEMENT CONSIDERED VICTORY FOR AMERICAN DIPLOMACY OF SIGNIFICANCE.

GERMAN LIBERALS HAVE WON

Tension Relaxed At Washington And Believed Negotiations About To Be Operated That Will Result In Complete Understanding Between Countries.

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 28.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will leave Washington tomorrow for New York to await instructions from his government which he confidently expects will lead to negotiations that will bring a speedy and wholly satisfactory conclusion of the entire controversy between the United States and Germany over the question of submarine warfare. Unless the situation in Berlin wholly changes, the ambassador believes he will be authorized to reopen informal discussion with Secretary Lansing to the end that a note may be framed by the German government entirely satisfactory to the United States.

So far as the state department is concerned, formal presentation of the Arabic case to Germany awaited receipt from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin of the German admiralty report on the destruction of the ship. Dispatches from Berlin tonight said the report might be delayed a fortnight. The last of the German submarines operating south of Ireland will not return to port before that time. Until the admiralty statement is received, however, and the Arabic case disposed of, it is unlikely that the discussion of the broader question of submarine warfare will be reopened.

In German circles here it is firmly believed that the Berlin government is anxious to bring a quick and friendly termination of the whole discussion over the submarine campaign. The visit of Count Von Bernstorff to Washington, acting on instructions from Berlin, is viewed as conclusive proof that the liberal element of the German government has triumphed and that every effort will be made to meet the views of President Wilson as expressed to the ambassador in an interview soon after the Lusitania was destroyed. The German foreign office is believed to be ready to encourage an informal exchange of views between Count Von Bernstorff and Secretary Lansing in order that the drafting of a full reply to the last American note on the Lusitania, satisfactory to the American government may be hastened.

WILL OFFER REPARATION

As to the Arabic case, it was positively stated today, that whatever the German admiralty report might be, the Berlin government would give assurances that its submarine commander had received explicit instructions that no passenger ships would be attacked without warning. This was in accordance with suggestions sent to Berlin by Count Von Bernstorff immediately after his interview with President Wilson. Evidently the submarine commander attempt to justify his action or even should no report be received from a submarine commander as to the Arabic, it is believed the German government will ask it clear that as a national policy the warfare against passenger ships will be suspended.

POSIBILITY OF MEDIATION

Out of the relaxing tension of the situation a new hope for peace in Europe has sprung. German observers here have noted that there is a group in each country which sees possibilities of American mediation behind the peaceful adjustment of the American-German disputes. With one contention won from the belligerents by diplomatic means—the security of lives of neutrals on the high seas—it is thought possible that other proposals might follow with restoration of peace as their object. The ascendancy of the liberal element in Germany, it is said, lends color to that view, so far as Germany is concerned.

CHINESE GOODS FOR CHINA IS SLOGAN

THIS IS FORM BOYCOTT AGAINST JAPANESE GOODS HAS TAKEN IN LAND OF DRAGON.

BUY - IT - MADE - IN CHINA

China Is Striving to Interest Capital in Enlargement of Spindle Works in Her Country.

Peking, Aug. 28.—"Chinese goods for China" is the latest slogan in the new Republic. It represents the boycott against Japanese goods in a modified form, a form against which Japan can offer little objection.

President Yuan Shi-Kais' decree that there should be no boycott against Japan as a result of the Japanese demands upon China, has had no effect. In fact, boycotting has become more marked. It is an affair wholly beyond the control of the Chinese government. But the boycott has been given a new twist by the Shanghai Chamber of Commerce and other commercial organizations which have started the "home-made goods movement." The campaign is ostensibly directed against all wares not manufactured in China, but the Chinese have shown a greater disposition to do without Japanese goods than the products of other nations.

Cheap cotton goods and cigarettes have suffered more than other Japanese products, perhaps, as a result of the boycott. Japanese goods are sold in China through the Japanese selling agencies. Consequently Chinese merchants have no trouble in avoiding the wares of the country against which they feel a grievance. The falling off in the sale of cheap Japanese cotton goods has been so marked that Japan is seeking a market in India. A commission recently visited that country and another Japanese commission is to go later.

Cancellation Efforts.

A delegation from the Osaka Chamber of Commerce visited Hong Kong, Shanghai and other Chinese cities in an effort to conciliate the Chinese merchants. It was announced that the feeling against Japanese manufacturers was due to misunderstanding which could doubtless be removed by closer personal relations. Similar "get acquainted" movements have been organized by other Japanese commercial associations, but apparently without marked success.

Japanese shipping has been especially hard hit by the boycott. The ships of the Toyen Kisen Kaisha, which formerly carried several hundred Chinese in the steers each trip, now seldom carry a single citizen of the new Republic. Chinese freight has also been diverted from the Japanese lines whenever possible. Chinese coolies and Chinese commercial concerns of large influence are lending a hand alike in the boycott.

One of the features of the home-made goods movement which may be of great interest to the United States is the effort to stimulate cotton manufacturing and cotton growing. Japan formerly supplied large quantities of coarse cotton goods to China. The Chinese now hope to supply this themselves and are striving to interest capital in the enlargement of spinning works operating in Shanghai and Hong Kong.

No reliable figures are available concerning the cotton manufactures of Japan, but it is estimated that the number of spindles in the Republic varies from 900,000 to 1,200,000. Limited quantities of coarse cloth are now made in nearly every province on hand looms. Coarse twist of foreign and home manufacture has been used in making this cloth. Printed cloth, as well as plain, has been made—this second-hand presses purchased in Japan. The wooden looms used by the printing have been done chiefly on primitive Chinese factories are mostly operated by hand and the output of each loom of this character is about three yards an hour. Machinery for spinning, spinning and weaving is mostly very crude and incapable of supplying the finer grades of cloth now bought from England, the United States, France and other European countries.

Huge Cotton Imports.
China imported about $105,000,000 worth of manufactured cotton in 1912. Of this amount about $67,000,000 worth was coarse fabrics and yarns of a sort which Chinese factories could produce. The same year it is estimated China

GOVERNOR CONFERS WITH THE ADJUTANT GENERAL

Also Discusses Border Situation With Representatives From That Section of State

Special to The Times.
Austin, Texas, Aug. 28.—Before any orders are issued for the movement of state troops in the border counties, it is now apparent the governor wants to gather from all possible sources all the information he can relative to the true situation. With this end in view he held a lengthy conference this evening with Lawrence H. Bates, member of the legislature from Cameron county, whose home is at Brownsville, and Lon H. Hill, millionaire land owner and ranchman of Hartings, these gentlemen having reached here this afternoon. Another conference was also held with Adjutant General Hutchings. Mr. Hill declared that in his opinion some of the reports emanating from the border counties were exaggerated as to conditions; that he believed the situation was now in the control of the authorities. Neither the governor nor the adjutant general cared to discuss the situation this evening.

POSSIBLE THAT NATIONAL GUARD MAY BE CALLED OUT

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Aug. 28.—Adjutant General Hutchings conferred at length today with Governor Ferguson, presumably relative to the probability of calling out the Texas National Guard to protect the interior of the border counties. Officials were reticent as to the nature of this conference. The question of the coming encampment of the guard, which is likely to be held at Dallas the latter part of September, may also have been discussed. The guard, however, is known to be in readiness for movement at a moment's notice. General Hutchings also conferred today with Capt. Collin H. Ball, inspector-instructor of infantry and Capt. John D. Long, inspector-instructor of cavalry, Texas National Guard. Should the guard be called out, it is very likely the federal government will bear the expense incidental thereto.

SOUTH TEXAS LUMBERMEN HARD HIT BY THE STORM

Standing Timber Damaged and Idle-ness Enforced on Account of Poor Logging Conditions

Houston, Texas, Aug. 28.—Damage to standing timber of several hundred thousand dollars, storm losses to mills of $100,000, smaller output on account of enforced idleness of the mills and poor logging conditions in the situation which faces the lumbermen of Southwestern Texas. These statistics have been compiled by J. C. Oleson, publisher of the Gulf Coast Lumberman.

It is reported that 140,000,000 feet of standing timber was destroyed and that the idleness of the mills caused by damage to plants has cut down the output about 45,000,000 feet since the storm. Fifty big saw mills between Houston and the Sabine river have suffered damage which they think will amount to $100,000. As an offset to this loss stand the two facts of a steady upward tendency in the lumber market, and a constant demand for timber for repairing.

By Associated Press. San Antonio, Texas, August 28.—General Frederick Funston has ordered a detachment of cavalry to proceed from Fort McIntosh, Laredo to Highbroville in Jim Hogg county, to operate against a band of bandits. PUTS BAN ON ANCIENT JOKES

Bank Teller, Driven to Desperation, Officially Announces the "Canning" of Musty Witticisms.

The paying teller in one of the large trust companies, which has many woman depositors, has just had this framed and hung up on the wall of his "cage":

"Notice—The following old jokes are officially canned:

"1. The joke about the woman who drew a check wrong, threw it into the fire, and then called up the bank in a panic and asked that payment on the check be stopped immediately.

"2. The joke about the woman who went into a bank and thought she could open the same kind of an account as in a department store, setting up at the end of the month.

"3. The joke about the woman who, when her husband opened a bank account for her, was afraid to draw checks because she thought people might find out how much she was spending and what it was for.

"4. The joke about the woman who, when told by the bank that she had overdrawn her account, insisted that it couldn't be, as she had several blank checks left in her check book.

"5. The joke about the woman who went up in the air and was grievously insulted because the cashier (who lived on the same street) insisted that she must be identified upon presenting a check for payment."

ODD BELIEFS AS TO SHOES

German Mother Sees Misfortune in the Loss of Heels—Signs to Guide Steps of Lover.

The German mother says that should she lose the heel of her shoe one of her children will die before the year is out.

The Scotch lassie believes that should she by accident drop her new shoes before they have been worn, they will surely lead her into trouble. It is said that old maids believe that when their shoes come untied, and keep coming untied, it is true their sweethearts are talking and thinking about them.

The sweetheart, when on his way to see his lady love, should be sure to see his right toe, will surely be welcome, but if he stubs his left he may know that he is not wanted.

It is said that if old shoes are burned, snakes will squirm away from the place, while to keep old shoes that are past wearing about the place will surely bring good luck.

Should you meet a person whose shoes are "worn on the toes" you may put it down as a certainty that "he spends as he goes," and on the same authority it is said that the girl that has her shoes "worn on the side" is surely fated to be a "rich man's bride."

SLAUGHTER OF THE INNOCENTS

Do you hear the morning and evening choruses of the birds? If not, you are missing a riot of song that fairly startles you with its volume. How the birds do sing and how they answer each other as they swing back and forth on topmost branches!

And where there is one bird today there should be dozens. With ruthless and thoughtless hand we have driven them out, killing off by tens of thousands and forcing the expenditure of thousands of dollars for tree care which the birds would have done gratuitously. One good law of the present legislature refers to the care of the bird life and absolutely forbids any unnatural person from getting a permit to go shooting or to have a gun in his possession.

This law should be followed by many others looking to the very severest penalties for the ruthless pursuit or the killing of any kind of bird life. And that further laws will be enacted is true because first of all the real sufferers of the state realize that something must be done to prevent the extinction of many forms of bird life.—Gloucester Times.

UNITED STATES ARMY RATIONS.

The average daily field ration of the United States army is made up as follows: Bacon, 12 ounces, or fresh meat, 20 ounces; bread, 18 ounces; beans, 2.4 ounces; potatoes, 20 ounces; prunes or preserves, 1.28 ounces; coffee, 1.12 ounces; sugar, 3.3 ounces; evaporated milk, 5 ounces; vinegar, .16 gill; salt, .64 ounce; pepper (black), .04 ounce; lard, 6.4 ounces; butter, .5 ounce.

Of this ration, just a portion is carried individually by the soldier, the rest, such as butter, lard, pepper and sirup are given in bulk to the companies and then distributed to the men at meal time. This ration is greater than necessary, and the men trade in the surplus for delicacies.

BULGARIA IS READY TO INTERVENE WHEN HER DEMANDS ARE GRANTED

When Rights Felched from Bulgaria Are Restored Parliament Will Be Convened.

By Associated Press. Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 28.—An inspired statement appeared in a publication controlled by the government containing the announcement that if conditions affecting Bulgaria should be modified by the granting of Bulgaria's territorial demands to such an extent as to call for intervention in the war, the government will convene parliament immediately. This statement was elicited by the action of opposition in parliament which has been responsible for the publication of statements condemning the attitude of the cabinet as contrary to the interests of the country. The immediate convocation of parliament was demanded by the opposition.

In making this reply, the government publication explains that it is the intention of the cabinet to adhere to its policy of neutrality except in the event that the rights "felched from Bulgaria" under the treaty of Bucharest after the second Balkan war, are restored.

"But should conditions be so modified as to demand intervention, the statement concludes, 'the government will immediately summon parliament.'"

LAUGHING AT SERIOUS THINGS

Attitude of the World Has Long Been a Matter of Complaint Among the Realists.

Many creative dramatists seek to draw men and women with remorseless realism. Now, it is exactly this remorselessness of the artist which gets him into trouble with a number of different sections of our world. He is unflinching in his portrayal, and men do not like unflinching portrait painters.

They want the picture touched up by some indulgent and benevolent philanthropist. The realist refuses to play with what he deems to be the truth. At the time when the younger Dumas was writing extremely interesting though not altogether persuasive prefaces to his plays and was particularly occupied with some of the destructive activities of modern woman he made some remarks about the things we ought to laugh at and the things we ought not to laugh at. "It is our common habit in France," he wrote, "to laugh at serious things." It is often our habit—especially in musical comedies—to laugh at serious things.

But, according to Dumas, the only right attitude is to laugh at things which are not serious, and which make no pretension of being serious. When we are faced with a very serious sort of wisdom which dismisses such subjects with a laugh. There is, of course, a touch of pedantry in an observation like this and there was certainly a good deal of pedantry in Dumas' didactic attitude. Nevertheless, there is solid truth beneath, which is very applicable to our modern audiences.

OLD AS THE ETERNAL HILLS

R. E. Morse, the Outlaw, Lurked in Shadows in Garden of Eden, and is Still With Us.

If Adam were still alive he would be about the same age as R. E. Morse. Adam met him after he was banished from the garden of Eden. Eve also knew him after she ate the forbidden fruit. Pharaoh must have been well acquainted with him, as he met him repeatedly. He was with Joseph's brethren a long time after they sold Joseph into Egypt. Saul, David, Solomon and all the kings of old knew him well. And in the New Testament we find men who also know him. Judas, who betrayed the Lord and afterward killed himself; Peter, who denied his Master, and so on all the way through the Bible and up to the present time. We all know him or have met him. Could we by any power annihilate R. E. Morse, how happy we should make the world! But no one cares to profit by the experience of others, and therefore all must learn by the one teacher, whose lesson is bitter in the extreme.

Experience! If our conscience were not hardened, and we would listen to its dictates often, we might become less familiar with R. E. Morse. Looking back in the time we see him, R. E. Morse is always right there behind us. If he would only come out into the open, so we could see him as he is, we might avoid his acquaintance—the outlaw, Hercules. Christian Herald.

Nature's Crushing Plan.

A well-known manufacturer of crushing machinery gives it as his opinion that there is but one manufacturer who has ever produced a perfect pulverizing machine, and that is the Divine Inventor. He continues: "I examined one of His machines in 1883. I was impressed with the magnificent output of a million tons a day, crushed from coarse to siliceous or silt, according to figures given in a report of the United States geological survey. I am referring to the great Colorado river. It generates its own power, with no loss of time for repairs, no slipping of tappets, no broken cams and no dropping of stamp heads—a perfect work from start to finish, and a perfect object lesson for the inventor. Large irregular rocks are worn into bowlders, and from that into cobblestones, and from cobblestones into sand, and from sand into silt, and then delivered to points where the product will do the most good for the human race. The immense Imperial valley and various other valleys have the finished product from that magnificent pulverizing machine."—Engineering and Mining Journal.

When You Move Your Family.

Guard your family from contagious disease germs in the new home. It has been proved that thousands of tuberculosis and scarlet fever cases annually are the result of moving into houses which have not been disinfected.

Secure the "health history" of the house you expect to buy or rent. It will be supplied by your board of health, your health officer or any physician who practices in your town. If it has housed a tuberculosis patient, don't take that house; find another.

No matter what the "health history" of the house, have the plumbing examined, the drains flushed and the entire house disinfected.

If the walls are to be repaired, have the old paper removed. Do not move into any house where the cellar has been flooded and is moldy.

In towns where there is neither city water nor sewerage system, make sure that the well and the cesspool are widely separated.—Woman's Home Companion.

EVACUATION OF POLAND DECIDED BY RUSSIA AS LONG AGO AS 1910

Retreat of Russian Army Military Forces Means That Russian Offensive Will be Irresistible.

Petrograd.—The evacuation of Poland was decided upon by Russia in 1910, declares the Russian Invalid, the Russian military organ, in a discussion of the general staff's before the war plans for the defense of the western frontier.

"Before the war," says the journal, "Russia anticipated that in the event of war Austria and Germany, because of their rapid means of mobilization and immense technical resources, would turn their attention first of all against Russia. To frustrate this plan it was decided in 1910 that the Russian territory jutting into Germany and the fortified places west of Brest-Litovsk should not be organized for a state of war. The region further east was chosen for the concentration of the Russian forces.

"It would have been dangerous to attribute too great an importance to and to have held on to the Narew and Vistula, with their fortified towns. It is better to take advantage of the depth of our theatre of war to draw the German armies far from their base and to force them to exhaust themselves. To this end it was necessary to sacrifice the Polish salient. Three months have elapsed since the Russian army started to put this plan into execution. Constant marching, fighting and privations weaken the enemy. There are already evidences that the moral force of the German army is weakening in its attack, and prisoners confirm that this weakening is not only moral but physical.

Retreat Assures Victory. "This war will be decided by the armies in battle, and it is of no importance where this battle will take place. Thus our retreat assures us victory, for our armies are only now beginning to develop, while an abundance of munitions of war awaits us in the near future, thanks to the mobilization of the national industry and to the orders placed abroad, whereas for the moment the enemy is in a favorable position in this regard.

"A glance backward shows that at the beginning of the war the Germans threw the mass of their army against France. This leap forward on their part had happy results for us; for we advanced into enemy territory, notably in Galicia; new the tables are turned. However, it is impossible to hamper the liberty of movement of the Russian army in any particular region or on any particular frontier, and it would be impracticable to waste garrisons in defending fortified towns which are none too safe, as the Austrians did in Przemysl.

Wearing Out Enemy.

"At the present time we have against us nearly all the German cavalry, nearly all the Austrian army, and more than half of the total German forces—about 70 divisions—and the enemy artillery has numerous guns of all calibres. The Russian army is offering a heroic resistance; it is not only standing up under the most hellish fire, but it is inflicting countless losses upon the enemy, and wearing him out, notwithstanding his technical perfection. We are getting nearer to our supplies of ammunition by means of which we will correct our line and throw back the enemy. If only for this reason we can say that the evacuation of Warsaw, the line of the Vistula, Ivangorod, Novo, Georgievsk will make certain that the Russian offensive this time will be definite and irresistible.

"At the threshold of the second year of war Russia has the most definite plans for the issue of the campaign, while maintaining at the same time the firm resolution to wage this fight to a victorious end."

MAXIM HAS A PLAN FOR MAKING GAS HARMLESS BY USE OF FIRE BOMBS

Would Throw Bombs Between British Troops and Approaching Gas Dispensing it in Air.

London, Aug. 28.—The British army plans to fight the German gas attacks with fire. This is the scheme recommended by a committee of inventors headed by Sir Hiram Maxim, who has designed a simple apparatus which the government is now testing.

The object of the apparatus is to cause large and rapidly spreading fires by means of specially designed incendiary bombs thrown in the path of the advancing gas at a distance of several hundred yards. By this means, since the heating of the air must cause an upward current, it is expected to drive the gas up out of harm's way.

Sir Hiram's explanation of the scheme is as follows: "The German gas is one atmosphere of pressure in two and a half times as heavy as air. In escaping into the air it very quickly becomes mixed with a large quantity of air, so that by the time it reaches our trenches it is, as a rule, less than 1 per cent heavier than the surrounding air; that is, it is extremely light as compared with the air, but it is quite strong enough to prove fatal. In most cases we find the air that has only one-thousandth part of chlorine is the one that has done the most harm."

"It occurred to me some months ago if a fire could be produced between the gas and our trenches, the rapid upward movement of the air would take the chlorine along with it, and this is quite true. The bombs that I made were to be thrown by hand, but it was found that, in order to be thrown any distance, they had to be made quite small, and, moreover, they could not be thrown as far as the officers wished to throw them. I delivered 100 to the government for experimental purposes. A few of these have been tested, and it was found that the fire should be greater and farther away, so I have designed a very much simpler and larger form. The firm in London who proposes to make them have designed a machine for throwing them with great accuracy a distance of 300 yards, which will be quite enough. By this means a fire of any size may be produced and if the fire is large enough the gases must be dissipated; it cannot be otherwise.

"The first bombs I designed involved the use of petrol, but it was thought that the consumption would be so large that there might be a shortage. I have therefore been experimenting, and am now in possession of a liquid that does just as well and only costs half as much, while the supply of it is unlimited."

GERMANS DENY BRITISH SANK ONE OF THEIR SUBS

German Admiralty Tells of Attack by German Submarine on East Coast of England

By Associated Press. Berlin, via London, Aug. 28.—The admiralty today made denial of the official British statement that a German submarine had been struck this week by a British aviator off the Belgian coast near Ostend. The admiralty also made a report on the attack on August 16 by a German submarine on the English coast.

"One of our submarines on August 16th," the statement says, "destroyed by gunfire the Benzol factory with the attached warehouses and coke furnaces near Harrington, England. The statement that the British press stated the submarine attacked the open town of Harrington, Parton and Whitehaven is incorrect. The same submarine on August 15 was fired at from a great distance in the Irish Sea by a large passenger steamer, probably a royal mail steam packet but was not hit. The British admiralty announced on August 27 that a German submarine had been destroyed and sunk off Ostend by a British seaplane. This is incorrect. The submarine was attacked but not hit and returned to port undamaged."

The British statement referred to by German admiralty was made on August 26. It stated that Squadron Commander Arthur Vickersburg had destroyed single handed a German submarine off Ostend. The announcement contained these words: "The submarine was observed to be completely wrecked and sank off Ostend."

The Evolution of the Coffee Roasting Industry!

Chapter Four—Why we went into the coffee roasting business. For something over 25 years we were engaged in the retail grocery business in Wichita Falls. During that time we handled nearly all brands of roasted coffees of national reputation, and were never satisfied with results in the cup.

We first commenced experimenting by buying straight roasted grades and doing our own blending, but finding this unsatisfactory purchased a hand roaster and experimented until we believed we could produce goods that were better than we were able to buy.

Our next step was to apply power to our hand equipment and with this crude machine began to sell our own roasted product. We did not however, take the public into our confidence as we wanted an unbiased verdict. Within ninety days our coffee business had increased 400 per cent, and we had out-grown our little outfit—so we equipped our plant with the latest and best roasting, cleaning, and grinding machinery and by frequent additions and improvements have kept it thoroughly up-to-date. We have made a most careful and painstaking study of the business, make frequent trips to the big markets personally buying only the very finest well aged samples of coffees which we test in the cup before purchasing. We have machinery for sample roasting and testing and are constantly experimenting to improve our grades but when once established we never change a blend but every roast is exactly alike, each variety entering into its composition being carefully tested and correctly weighed with as much care as your druggist gives to a prescription. You are cordially invited to call and inspect our plant at any time.

B. W. A. MEETS AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The regular monthly missionary program as carried out by the Baptist Women's Alliance meeting Monday morning at the First Baptist Church proved very interesting, the topic being "Mexico of Today." Devotional exercises were led by Rev. J. W. Jent of Henrietta and Mrs. S. J. Ashmore gave a paper of interest on "Mexico, Past and Present." Mrs. E. W. Carter had for her subject, "The Gospel in the Land of the Montezumas" and two biographies were read, Mrs. J. J. Lory giving the life story of Antia Mayberry and Mrs. T. H. Wilson that of Hattie Neal. An instructive and entertaining letter from Miss Ida Hays, missionary now laboring in Mexico was read by Mrs. J. J. Lory. Division No. 8 was in charge of the program and a large attendance was enjoyed. The next meeting will be held in two weeks, next Monday to be observed as a day of visiting.

MISS HICKMAN ENTERTAINS TUESDAY EVENING

A most delightful indoor picnic was given Tuesday evening by Miss Murph Hickman at her home on Denver avenue. The picnic was planned for the lawn but the rain necessitated a removal indoors so the supper was spread in the dining room in conventional picnic style with paper plates and napkins. The menu was most appetizing and the supper hour was followed by a period of informal enjoyment with music as the chief diversion. The guests included: Misses Myrtle Henderson, Lennie McCune of Tulsa, Lucille Henderson, Martha and Vonelle Liddell of Gainesville, Maurine Hickman, Mrs. C. R. Hartsook, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Hickman and Messrs. Charles Clark of Abilene and Fitz and Eustace Hickman.

GREEKS PREDOMINATE AMONG NEW CITIZENS

About Dozen Natives of Foreign Lands Have Taken Out First Citizenship Papers

About a dozen natives of foreign lands have decided within the past year to become American citizens and have taken out their first papers from District Clerk Kerr. The latest applicant is John Cerynka of Electra, an Austrian, who yesterday applied for and received his first papers. The district clerk's record show that while a great many foreigners in this county have taken out their first papers, comparatively few have completed the naturalization process. Final naturalization papers may be taken out not less than two years after the foreigner declares his intention of becoming naturalized.

"Greeks predominate" among those who have taken out their first papers within the past year. Those applying are: William Gootfried Koch, Germany; William Brinkmeier, Germany; Harry Ten Brink, Holland; Karl Ten Brink, Holland; Nicholas Dakararas, Strate; D. Kafanias, I. E. Kacamburas, Theodoros Vakrimos, Antonio Lamboglou, Terpsandros Smyrness and Nick George Pappas, Greece; Henry Agdern, Austria.

FRENCH ERECT TRIUMPHAL ARCHES FOR BRITISH

When British Troops Succeed French in Trenches They are Given Demonstrative Welcome

British Army Headquarters, France, Aug. 28.—Triumphal arches were erected by the French soldiers to welcome their successors when the British took over a section of the line from the French a while ago. An occasional sniper's bullet and the occasional burst of a shell accompanied the informal ceremony.

"The peculiar thing is that the French do not like to go," said a staff officer. "They have spent months in building up their trenches to make comfortable and as secure from the enemy's fire as possible. They are proud of their trenches. In a sense they feel that the results of their labor belong to them. Besides they have got settled in the associations of the villages to the rear where they are billeted. They know all the local people."

Strictly speaking all that happens is that a British battalion marches in and a French battalion marches out after the officers of the incoming battalion have spent a day or two in the trenches familiarizing themselves with details. But to the men of both sides it is a great event.

Though the British and the French are allies the soldiers of the two armies rarely meet. Each is on his own side of the line which bounds the zone of the two armies.

"Probably not one out of fifty of the French soldiers speaks much English," said an officer, "and certainly not one out of fifty British soldiers speaks much French. Yet in five minutes they are talking together—and some way or other they make each other understand."

What interests them most is the comparison of equipment. They study the mechanism of each other's rifles. The Briton must try on the new French steel helmet which the Frenchmen wear to protect their heads from shrapnel bullets and splinters. After the helmets he must examine the new French knives which the French use at close quarters in trench fighting when the bayonet is unwieldy; and after that comes a comparison of their bombs and bomb throwing methods. Gestures serve pretty well for this kind of conversation.

Meanwhile every bit of school book French and English is in play in the midst of laughter. The outgoing soldier expatiates on his "dugout" and how comfortable he has tried to make it; and the new comer is properly complimentary in this diplomatic interchange between the men in khaki and blue.

"When the French go they say 'Good-bye' and the British try their hands at 'au revoir.'"

"There is certainly one thing our soldiers can learn from the French," said a British officer. "Though a Frenchman has never done any cooking before he soon learns how to make an appetizing stew. Our men are doing better. Camp life is a good teacher."

CHAIRMAN SUBMITS VIEWS ON CAUSES INDUSTRIAL UNREST

LOW WAGES SLAMED BY CHAIRMAN OF INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE IN REPORT JUST ISSUED

UNREST MENACE TO NATION

Workers Denied Full Product of Toil Through Oppressive Methods—Use of Collective Powers of Workers Declared Necessary Remedy

Associated Press. Kansas City, Aug. 28.—Low wages was found to be the basic cause of industrial unrest in the report which Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the federal commission on industrial relations and the labor members of that body will present to Congress as a result of the commission's two year investigation into the subject. The report, embodying the personal findings of Mr. Walsh and concurred in by Commissioners John B. Lennon, James O. Connell and Austin B. Garretson, was made public here today.

The workers of the nation, through compulsory and oppressive methods, legal and illegal, are denied the full product of their toil. It was declared in the report and the resulting industrial dissatisfaction was said to have reached "proportions that already menace the social good will, the peace of the nation."

Responsibility for the conditions under which they live was placed primarily upon the workers themselves, who "blind to their collective strength, and often deaf to the cries of their fellow-workers, have suffered exploitation and the invasion of their most sacred rights without resistance."

Text of the Report. The text of the report follows: "Charged by your honorable body with an investigation to discover the underlying causes of dissatisfaction in the industrial situation, we herewith present the following findings and conclusions, and we urge for them the most earnest consideration, not only by the congress, but by the people of the nation to the end that evils which threaten to defeat American ideals and to destroy the well being of the nation may be generally recognized and effectively attacked."

The nation. Citizens numbering millions smart under a sense of injustice and oppression. Born of the conviction that the opportunity is denied them to acquire for themselves and their families that degree of economic well being necessary for the enjoyment of those material and spiritual satisfactions which alone make life worth living.

"Bitterness, bred of unfulfilled need for sufficient food, clothing and shelter for themselves and their wives and children has been nourished in the hearts of those millions by resentments against the arbitrary power that enables the employer, under our present industrial system, to control not only the workman's opportunity to earn his bread, but oftentimes through the exercise of this power to dictate his social, political and moral environment. By thwarting the human passion for liberty and the solicitude of the husband and father for his own, modern industry has kindled a spirit in these dissatisfied millions that lies deeper and springs from nobler impulses than physical need and human selfishness."

"Among these millions and their leaders we have encountered a spirit religious in its fervor and in its willingness to sacrifice for a cause held sacred. And we earnestly submit that only in the light of this spirit can the aggressive propaganda of the discontented be understood and judged."

Depth of Unrest. "The extent and depth of industrial unrest can hardly be exaggerated. State and national conventions of labor organizations, numbering many thousands of members, have cheered the names of leaders imprisoned for participation in a campaign of violence, conducted as one phase of a conflict with organized employers. Thirty thousand workers in a single strike have followed the leadership of men who denounced government and called for relentless warfare on organized society. Employers, from coast to coast have created and maintained small private armies of armed men and have used these forces to intimidate and suppress their striking employees by deporting, imprisoning, assaulting and killing their leaders. Elaborate spy systems are maintained to discover and forestall the movements of the enemy. The use of state troops in policing strikes has bred a bitter hostility to the militia system among members of labor organizations and states have been unable to enlist wage earners for this second line of the nation's defense. Courts, legislators and governors have been rightfully accused of serving employers to the defeat of justice, and while counter charges come from employers and their agents, with almost negligible exceptions, it is the wage earners who believe, assert and prove that the very institutions of their country have been perverted by the power of the employer. Prison records for labor leaders have become badges of honor in the eyes of many of their people, and great mass meetings over the nation cheer denunciations of courts and court decisions."

Recruits for Agitators. "To the support of the militant and aggressive propaganda of organized labor has come, within recent years, a small but rapidly increasing host of ministers of the gospel, college professors, writers, journalists and others of the professional classes distinguished in many instances by exceptional talent which they devote to agitation, with no hope of material reward, and a devotion that can be explained only in the light of the fervid religious spirit which animates this organized industrial unrest."

"We find the unrest here described to be but the latest manifestation of the age long struggle of the race for freedom of opportunity for the individual to live his life to its highest ends. As the nobles of England, wrung their independence from King John and as the tradesmen of France broke through the ring of privilege enclosing the Three Estate, so today the millions who serve society in arduous labor on the highways and aloft on scaffolding and by the sides of whirling machines, are demanding that they, too, and their children, shall enjoy all of the blessings that justify and make beautiful this life."

Changed Conditions. "The unrest of the wage earners has been augmented by recent changes and developments in industry. Chief of these are the rapid and universal introduction and extension of machinery of production, by which unskilled workers may be substituted for the skilled and an equally rapid development of means of rapid transportation and communication by which private capital has been enabled to organize in great corporations, possessing enormous economic power. This tendency toward huge corporations and large factories has been furthered by the necessity of employing large sums of capital in order to purchase and install expensive machinery, the use of which is practicable only when production is conducted on a large scale. Work formerly done at home or in small neighborhood shops, has been transferred to great factories where the individual worker becomes an impersonal element under the control of impersonal corporations, without voice in determining the conditions under which he works, and largely without interest in the success of the enterprise or the disposal of the products. Women, in increasing numbers have followed their work from the home to the factory and even children have been enlisted."

"Now, more than ever the profits of great industries under centralized control pour into the coffers of stockholders and directors who never have so much as visited the plants, who perform no service in return. And while vast inherited fortunes represent zero in social service to the credit of their possessors, automatically trouble and multiply in volume two-thirds of those who toil from 8 to 12 hours a day receive less than enough to support themselves and their families in decency and in comfort. From childhood to the grave their only resource—their opportunity to toil—shall be taken away from them, through accident, illness, the caprice of a foreman, or the fortunes of the industry. READY-TO-WEAR APPAREL FOR LADIES

On their recent trip East our buyers spent a great deal of time in searching the markets for the new and attractive styles in ladies' ready-to-wear. No effort was spared to secure for this department of our store everything that would uphold its reputation for showing garments of style, satisfactory workmanship, durable materials and popular prices. Just how well they have succeeded in their efforts may be seen by a visit to this department of the Pennington Store.

The Autumn Suits

Suit styles are attractive, practical and becoming to the average figure. The new of fects may be divided into two classes: the strictly tailored models and novelty or dressy styles. Suit coat lengths are conservative and there is no evidence of any radical style developments that will change this most important feature. Skirts show no startling changes. Groups and panels of pleats will be favored as during the past season. Belts on skirts will be as extremely good as on all other garments. The inch and a half belt at the waist of suit skirts has become almost standard. The chief colors for fall are Navy, African brown, dark green, mulberry and black. The materials are: simply a combination of durability and attractiveness. All wool p. plins, wool gaberdines and serges are much in the lead. We have been able to combine all the Latest Style essentials with smart tailoring and high grade materials and still keep our prices within the popular range of $12.50 and to $45.00

Ladies' Dresses

Fashions in Women's Dresses are sufficiently diversified to appeal to the individual taste of practically every woman. Seldom has there been a more attractive range of styles in Dresses which are at the same time wearable and smart in every detail. In fact, conservative, becoming styles prevail in Women's Dresses for fall; Skirts are not shown in extreme widths and waists are semi-fitted.

The prevailing materials are wool serge, wool poplins altogether and combined with silks of different kinds—Many pretty silk Dresses are shown in Faile Silk and taffetas both plain and in combination colors, Satin faced materials as crepe de Chine, crepe meteor are also strongly in vogue. In the less expensive materials we have some very pretty dresses which range in price from $6.50 and to $15.00

The more expensive materials are priced $15.00 and to $30.00

Ladies' Waists and Separate Coats

The styles in ladies' waists seem prettier each season. We are very proud of our reputation for always showing prettier waists at smaller prices. We have more than upheld this reputation for the fall season. The price of very dressy waists range $2.50 to $3.50 and $3.50 to $6.50

Although rather early in the season for showing separate coats we can assure our customers that in these garments they will not be disappointed in any detail of style, workmanship, material or price. At present the most interesting thing in coats is a beautiful line of sport coats at $4.00 and to $13.50 their babies are snuffed out by bad air in cheap lodgings and the lack of nourishment and care which they cannot buy. Fathers and husbands lie or are maimed in accidents and their families receive a pittance, or succumb in mid-life and they receive nothing.

Opposition to Organization. "And when these unfortunates seek by the only means within reach to better their lot, by organizing to lift themselves from helplessness to some measure of collective power, with which to wring living wages from their employers, they find too often arrayed against them not only the massed power of capital, but every arm of the government that was created to enforce guarantees of equality and justice."

"We find that many entire communities exist under the arbitrary economic control of corporation officials charged with the management of an industry or group of industries and we find that in such communities political liberty does not exist and its forms are hollow mockeries. Give to the employer power to discharge without cause, to grant or to withhold to thousands the opportunity to earn bread and the liberties of such a community lie in the hollow of the employers' hand. Free speech, free assembly and a free press may be denied, as they have been denied time and again and the employer's agents may be placed in public office to do his bidding."

"Large communities where espionage becomes impossible, the wage earner who is unsupported by a collective organization may enjoy freedom of expression outside the workshop, but there his freedom ends. And it is a freedom more apparent than real. For the house he lives in, the food he eats, the clothing he wears, the environment of his wife and children and his own health and safety, are in the hands of the employer, through the arbitrary power which he exercises in fixing his wages and working conditions.

Fixing the Responsibility. "The social responsibility for these unfortunate conditions may be fixed with reasonable certainty. The responsibility and such blame as attaches thereto, cannot be held to rest upon employers, since, in the maintenance of the evils of low wages, long hours and bad factory conditions, and in their attempts to gain control of economic and political advantages which would promote their interests, they have more fully followed the natural bent of men involved in the struggle of competitive industry. The responsibility for the conditions which have been described above, we declare, rests primarily upon the workers, who, blind to their collective strength and oftentimes deaf to the cry of their fellow-workers have suffered exploitation and the invasion of their most sacred rights without resistance. A large measure of responsibility must, however, attach to the great mass of citizens who, though not directly involved in the struggle with capital and labor, have failed to realize that their own prosperity was dependent upon the welfare of all classes of the community and that their rights were bound up with the rights of every other individual. But until the workers themselves realize their responsibility and utilize to the full their collective power, no action, whether governmental or altruistic, can work any genuine and lasting improvement."

"Fourteen years before Abraham Lincoln was called to the high office where he immortalized his name, he uttered these great truths: "Inasmuch as most good things are produced by labor, it follows that such things of right belong to those whose labor has produced them. But it has so happened in all ages of the world, that some have labored and others have without labor enjoyed a large proportion of the fruits. This is wrong and should not continue to

Society At The Bazaars

New York, Aug. 28.—When we think of bazaars, we naturally conjure up pictures of fancy work in the name of charity, even the wholesome odor of cruetiers and the picturesque white iced cake. Mrs. Thompson on the corner made a specialty of—but bazaars have outgrown this homey atmosphere and today have become bazaars of fashion. No longer do you attend to buy Christmas gifts and goodies, but more properly to learn what to wear or purchase, to show your own new dress.

Fashion Fetes in the Name of Charity

Newport is the setting for some of these bazaars. Here on the spacious lawns of country homes, mannequins display the very latest modes from Paris vying in smartness with the women who come to see them. There are tableaux and grand promenades and best of all you can sip tea and view them with a conscience free from guile, for your entrance fee goes to sweet charity.

The latter part of last week the bazaar of the season was held at the terials; heavy fall silk was a favored fabric. One tall blonde mannequin wore a dress of striped satin and grosgrain silk which was particularly new and attractive. Its very simplicity baffles description, its charm being in the clever use of the stripes. The skirt had a pleated lower section, kilted one might say for it was straight and laid in deep folds from the hip to the bottom. This was cut with the stripes crosswise, while the yoke, waist and cuffs had the stripes straight up and down. There was a sheer vest and Quaker collar of white Swiss and sleeves of black Georgette crepe, making a striking contrast with the cuffs of the silk.

Skirts Short and Shorter Still.
There seemed to be no limit to the shortness of the skirt. The costume just mentioned was worn with white kid shoes and the skirt was so short that at least an inch of the stocking showed between the top of the shoe and the bottom of the skirt. Indeed, many of the mannequins looked like school girls, but shoes are fancy and skirts are obviously short to show them. Women want their money's worth. As I watched the mannequins, I could not help thinking of the little boy who went without his coat in December to show his new suspenders.

Braid Introduced as Hat Trimming.
There were many new things introduced. Perhaps the most interesting notion was Hercules braid as hat trimming. There is no question of its popularity as dress trimming, but for hats, the idea was certainly unique. It was used in three flat bands on the velvet brim of a sailor, while the crown was white satin trimmed with beads. This was sent by a New York modiste.

The Parasol Reverses its Handle.
It was decidedly a showing of everything a lady needs for a complete wardrobe. The accessories were as startling as they were smart. One of the girls carried a parasol with a swan's head handle on the top, while what naturally would be the handle tapered off into the cap of the walking stick. Though a bit top heavy, the effect, when opened, was attractive.

Enter the Frock With Floating Panels.

Styles were not confined alone to the mannequins. Society took a keen interest in the cause and there were many notables present. It seemed as if every one had put on their best bib and tucker for the occasion. One woman who is summing in Maine home of one of the leaders of the Newport set, in artistic tableaux backed by Grecian summer houses, all the summer modes were reviewed and predictions made for the coming season.

Every dress showed a least two ma-came down to be present at the fete. Her gown was one of the new combinations of blue serge and Scotch plaid taffeta. When she stood still the skirt appeared to be of the serge but when she moved it broke up into floating panels displaying a medium-width underskirt of the plaid. This matched a shoulder and sleeve section, while the serge was used in a bib effect on the waist and for the deep cuffs.

Silks and Serges the Fabrics of Fall.
Many similar effects were to be seen. Serge seems to be even more popular than in past seasons. This is, no doubt, due to the fact that it is worn and for the French mills to weave their novelties. However, the serges are smart and the women seem content to use these in combination with the taffetas and fallies. There were some smart effects with striped taffetas and the plain dark blue grosgrain combined with serge made rich dresses. Scotch plaids were much in evidence—but the tones were so dark and rich they could scarcely be said to contrast with the blue.

Russian Boots Again in Evidence.
Several of the women were booted according to the Russian fashion. The woman who wore the floating panel dress described above, had the long boots in black patent leather. They were made the same as riding boots, wide enough at the ankle for the foot to slip through. There were other Russian boots in patent leather, trimmed with tan; one of the mannequins wore a pair of white kid boots trimmed with black patent leather.

Society Vies With the Mannequins.
Indeed, society seemed to be booted and gowned as smart if not smarter, than the mannequins themselves. The whole atmosphere breathed of fashion. There is something really fascinating about these women, slipping on and watching women wear the gowns that they themselves may wear later on.

PELLEGRA PATIENT DIES AT THE CITY HOSPITAL

The pellagra patient who was taken to the county farm early in August after coming here from Bowie, died Friday and was buried yesterday. When the man was taken to the county farm the Salvation Army agreed to pay his board up to the amount of ten dollars, which provided meals for 22 days. On the 23rd day, just after arrangements had been made for additional board, the man died.

The Salvation Army and the county are now caring for two small boys, typhoid fever patients, who came here recently with their parents, putting up at a wagon yard. The boys are quite sick, but are now being given proper care, a house having been provided for them, together with food and other necessities.

REPAIRING PIPE LINE SOUTH OF HENRIETTA.

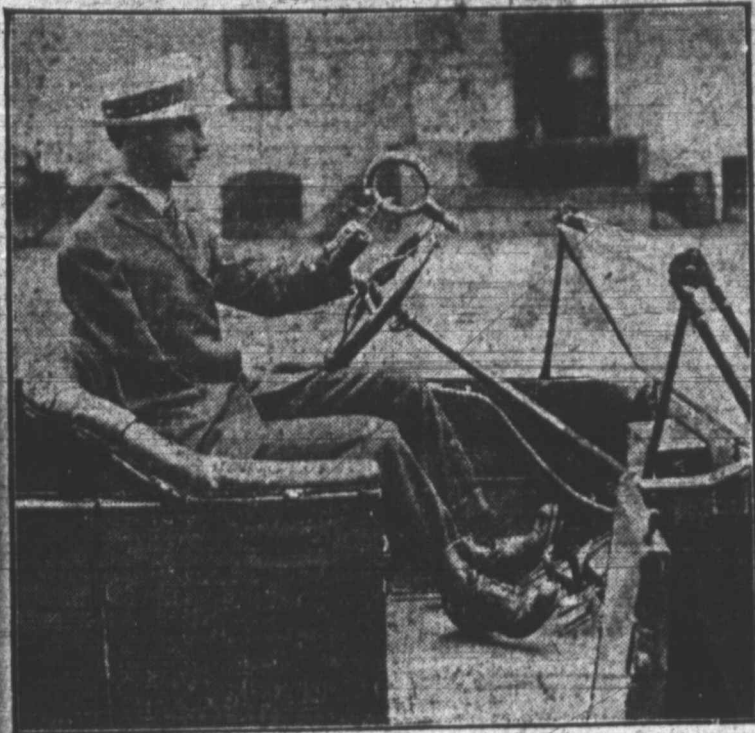

Henrietta, Independent.—A force of 125 men under George B. Cowper is relaying the Lone Star gas line between Walton and Alvord. Mr. Cowper has his headquarters in Henrietta. The pipe is being taken up, cleaned, new gaskets put in, painted and relaid. The supply of gas consumers is not disturbed because the company has double lines, and gas is sent through one while the other is being some over. The force of men is being worked in four gangs, and several weeks will be required to complete the overhauling of the two lines.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wright, 301 Sixteenth street, was buried Saturday afternoon in Riverside cemetery, the funeral taking place from the Hill Chapel at 4:30.

Arrangements have been completed for the lecture to be given here by Judge Quentin D. Corley, county judge of Dallas county, under the auspices of the Civic League. The lecture will be given Thursday evening September 2nd at the First Christian Church. The lecture will start at 8:15 p. m. Judge Corley will speak on "Overcoming Difficulties." As he lost both of his arms in a railway accident, after which he educated himself as a lawyer and has devised many contrivances which enable him to do most everything that a man with two arms and two hands can do, Judge Corley ought to be well qualified to speak on this subject. No admission will be charged and the Civic League is especially desirous that boys attend this lecture as they believe it will be an inspiration to them. As it is expected that the capacity of the building will be taxed the committee in charge suggest that only children old enough to be benefited by the lecture be brought to the church.

Judge Corley is making a tour of this section of the state in his automobile and in the above cut is shown driving it. He has lectured in a number of towns and his lecture has received favorable press comment. The McKinney Courier-Gazette said:

"More than 1,000 persons heard Judge Quentin D. Corley, the armless genius, speak at the First Baptist Church last evening on 'Overcoming Difficulties.' Judge Corley came to McKinney under the auspices of the First Baptist Baraca class and his address was the opening number of a series of interesting addresses that are being arranged for by that class."

"At the outset of his lecture the speaker stated that he would group the handicaps that hinder the progress of untold numbers of men and women into three classes: Those arising from mental weakness, physical deformity and moral unsoundness."

"As an example of a man who has made life a success in spite of difficulties that seemed impossible to surmount, Judge Corley himself, one of the most interesting examples."

"The citizens of McKinney are grateful to Judge Corley for his interesting and instructive address and many who felt they were facing great handicaps went away with new determination to surmount them. The address was an inspiration to all who heard it."

Pigeons Nestles Orphan Rabbits Under Her Wings

A nest of rabbits, apparently less than a day old, with a pigeon doing the mother act and jealously guarding the foster children, was the spectacle presented yesterday at the home of H. F. Cauble, 302 Lamar. The pets are the property of Frank Cauble, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Cauble. Just how this mixup came to be is not made clear, for when the owner of the pets discovered the situation, Mrs. Pigeon had taken charge of the rabbit children and was watching over the naked, blind little things to the best of her ability, and of course it was not her fault that she was unable to serve meals regularly. She ensconced herself in the middle of the nest, which is under the floor of the pigeon house and dared anybody to disturb her. She covered as many of the rabbits as she could with her body, and the remainder staggered around the nest.

No one knows what became of the real mother of the little ones and an effort to find her and make her assume her maternal responsibilities was made yesterday. It is thought that she was chased away by the pigeon, who, having no little ones of her own, decided to adopt those of somebody else. The error that she made was of the head and not of the heart, but that will be small consolation to the baby rabbits if food for them is not provided from some source.

The situation is one that has not hitherto been recorded by naturalists, and no plausible explanation of the reason for it seems to be forthcoming.

PROSPECT THAT GERMAN TAXES AFTER THE WAR DOUBLE PRESENT RATES

By Associated Press. Amsterdam, via London, August 28.—The Berlin Vorwaerts discussing the new German war loan directs attention to what is characterized as the alarming financial situation, which Germany must suffer at the conclusion of the war.

"After the war" says the paper "the imperial debt and pensions alone will demand an additional expenditure of at least $62,000,000, or a little less than the unaided ordinary and extraordinary imperial expenditure of 1912. In other words the income of the empire heretofore will only suffice to pay the interest on the national debt. For all other expenditures new sources of taxation must be created. Who ever remembers the taxation controversy of 1908 and 1909 can easily imagine into what political difficulties the war is bringing us."

First Bale May Be Brought In Within Few Days

The next ten days may see the first bale of this year's cotton brought to Wichita Falls. The crop is about two weeks late in this section, but the recent rains have helped it considerably, and blooms have been in evidence in many fields for the past week; in some of the Red River farms cotton was blooming two weeks ago. The cotton in this section is in good condition and the yield per acre will, with continued favorable weather, be above the average. The county's total production, however, will be the smallest in several years on account of the great reduction in acreage.

secure to each laborer the whole product of his labor, or as nearly as possible, is a worthy subject of any good government. With this lofty ideal for a goal, under the sublime leadership of the deathless Lincoln, we call upon our citizenship, regardless of the politics or economic conditions, to use every means of agitation, all avenues of education and every department and function of government, to eliminate the injustices exposed by this commission, to the end that each laborer may secure the whole product of his labor."

GERMAN LOSSES SAID TO SURPASS IMAGINATION.

By Associated Press. Dvinsk, Russia, August 28.—Wounded soldiers from the fortress of Gossowits recently evacuated by the Russians, who were in hospitals here, declare that the German losses before the fortress surpass imagination. German prisoners are represented as declaring that their officers declared that the fortress had cost them five times more than were in the garrison. The Germans, it is asserted, expended altogether more than 2,000,000 shells.

LABOR DAY PLANS PRACTICALLY COMPLETED - BOB HENRY INVITED TO SPEAK

LOG ROLLING BY WOODMEN

Day Following Labor Day Will Be Given Over to Fraternal Organizations

Monday and Tuesday, September 6 and 7, will be gala days in Wichita Falls if the plans of the labor council and the Modern Woodmen of America are carried out. These plans are practically complete and provide for a two days' affair that will no doubt bring thousands of visitors to this city.

September 6 is Labor Day and the unions will have charge of the program of that day, with a parade in the morning and a picnic at the lake immediately afterward. On Tuesday the Modern Woodmen from this and eleven neighboring counties will have a "log rolling" here with various races and contests and an address by Hon. Pat M. Neff of Waco. There may be an address on Labor Day, but this is not yet certain. An invitation was telegraphed to Hon. Bob Henry yesterday.

Seventeen unions have agreed to take part in the parade, and it is expected to be the most elaborate ever held in this city. Frank H. Harris, president of the Trades and Labor Council will be grand marshal, with J. A. Wray as assistant, and each of the unions taking part will have a marshal. Three unions not heretofore represented will take part this year, the log wagon drivers, the blacksmiths and the stage employes. The labor parade will be in three divisions, the unions, the decorated floats and the decorated automobiles. Prizes will be offered in all three classes.

The railroads entering this city have made reduced rates for the two days and neighboring towns have been through circularized; it is believed that a great throng of visitors will be here. Stores and business houses generally will remain closed on Monday, but will be open on Tuesday.

Tuesday's parade will be participated in by the Modern Woodmen and other fraternities, and will be followed by the program at the lake. There will be various novelty races and contests, followed by an address at 4 o'clock by Pat M. Neff of Waco, one of the leading attorneys of Central Texas, former speaker of the Texas legislature. All the lake attractions will also be enjoyed during the afternoon, while in the evening there will be a meeting of the Woodmen delegates.

A large number of merchants have agreed to have floats and decorated displays in the labor parade, and prizes will be offered for the best decorated. There will also be prizes for the best decorated automobiles and this is expected to bring many machines out in gala attire.

COTTON MISSING FROM THE WAREHOUSE HERE

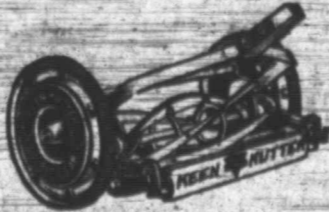

Audit of Books of Company Shows That Number of Bales Missing From the Warehouse

More than $1000 worth of cotton stored in the Wichita Falls public warehouse last season is missing, it has been discovered, following an audit of the books of the concern. Manager Morris of the warehouse is out of the city and no explanation of the matter will be forthcoming until he returns.

A suit was filed in the county court by the warehouse company against the Northwestern Compress Company for 21 of the missing bales, which were located in the compress. These bales had been shipped by the King-Gottlie Cotton Company, which has filed a claimant's bond for them. The cotton company purchased the cotton in good faith, it is stated, taking up the warehouse receipts.

AT THE THEATERS

Lamar Airdome.
Opening next week the Lamar Airdome has booked the Deloy Tabloid Musical Comedy Company for the week's run. This company needs no introduction to local theatergoers, having had a successful run a few weeks ago. The picture program will be of the excellence, the show opening Monday with a two-act Gold Seal Feature, "Romance."

A selfish child is an abomination; an ungrateful one has been compared to a serpent's tooth. In "Romance," a Gold Seal two-act drama featuring William Worthington, Anna Little and Herbert Rawlinson, these self-evident statements are brought home in convincing fashion through the skill of the scenario writer, Harvey Gates, and the masterly way in which Mr. Gate's photoplay has been produced. Usually in this world he who is most secure of his position, social and financial, is the last to assert his acknowledged pre-eminence over his fellows; those who class as the nouveau riche, who have suddenly acquired prominence more through chance than merit, are prone to make those who come in contact with them feel uncomfortable. Where the ego has assumed the proportions of megalomania in this class of boudiers the impression they make is increasingly unfortunate.

Erwin O'Day was such a young man. Although he did not know it his father was a jailbird and his wealth had come to him by devious means. His pride in his possessions made him avaricious instead of charitable, and the young man's many tenants found him as miserly and crabbed as might be expected of a soured octogenarian. The sense of his own power makes the young man selfish, and dominating to the point of brutality. His playmates, in his great real estate office find him a devil without the cloven hoof, and his lack of consideration for them caused them to hate him with an intensity beyond measure. His unbearable presence caused them to shirk their work on every occasion and to clog the wheels of business by little undetected acts of sabotage, which, unknown to young O'Day, are costing him thousands of dollars each year. The young millionaire little realizes that the good will of his employees is of immeasurable value to him as a business asset.

FOX FEATURE AT THE MAJESTIC TUESDAY

The Tuesday-Fox attraction at the Majestic will be "The Girl I Left Behind Me" with Robert Edison and Claire Whitney featured.

"The Girl I Left Behind Me," David "Bevo's" blood stirring drama of the army, love and red skin warfare, a play as thrilling as a trumpet call and a William Fox production extraordinary, released through the Box Office Attraction Company is the first great spectacular work of its kind to be filmed. In it the glorious traditions of Uncle Sam's dashing cavalrymen are depicted on a magnificent canvas by a masterly brush. With broad, sweeping strokes the days of Indian warfare are brought before us again. Skillfully combined with military valor and red skin craft is interwoven a love story of great romantic charm, handled with deftness and delicate skill.

The story of "The Girl I Left Behind Me" takes place in and about Fort Kenyon, a lonely frontier outpost where a small detachment of cavalry is stationed under the command of Major Burlleigh, a bluff, hale soldier, the apple of whose eye is little Dick, his motherless son, and the pet of the post. Years before little Dick's mother deserted the major for another army officer whose name the major does not know.

General Kenyon, after whom the post is named, comes during Indian summer, to visit and inspect the little garrison. He is accompanied by his daughter, Kate Kenyon, whose engagement to Lieut. Parlow, Major Burlleigh's second in command is about to be announced. Lieut. Hawkesworth, another young officer of the post also loves Kate and she secretly returns his affection. Her hand however, is pledged to Parlow and she will not repudiate her promise.

At a gay Halloween party a breathless scout rides furiously into the post.

"The Black Feet have taken to the war path," he cries.

Help must be obtained from Fort Assiniboine, the nearest fort where there is a strong garrison. The task of riding to secure the needed help, a mission that means almost certain death, is dodged by Lieut. Parlow. Hawkesworth then volunteers. The bag of dispatches, telling of the post's plight, is handed him by Kate Kenyon. As she slips the straps over his shoulders, she lets her arms linger there and whispers "I love you."

Before another day has passed the war whoops of the Indians and their hood curving battle cries are heard. Defense is an almost hopeless task from the very first. At last it seems that the end has come. The brave old general with a white, set face, hands his daughter a pistol. She understands and prepares to kill herself when the garrison falls. But suddenly a trumpet call is heard. The Twelfth cavalry awakes to the rescue driving the Black Feet, panic stricken before them. Hawkesworth, now that Parlow's craven nature is exposed, is accepted as Kate's future husband. Major Burlleigh receives a faded miniature from the city where his wife died. It is the picture of her betrayer which has just been found. Burlleigh with a savage oath recognizes the face as that of Parlow. He is about to execute summary vengeance upon the wrecker of his happiness when Margaret Kenyon, the general's elder daughter interposes. The slaying of Parlow is prevented and ultimately the gray-haired major and Margaret Kenyon find happiness together.

MARGUERITE CLARK AT THE EMPRESS MONDAY

Marguerite Clark, the fascinating stage and screen favorite, attains the greatest triumph since her advent in motion pictures in a charming photo production of Frances Hodgson Burnett's celebrated romance, "Pretty Sister of Jose" produced by the Famous Players Film Company. This subject is the latest Paramount release at the Empress Monday.

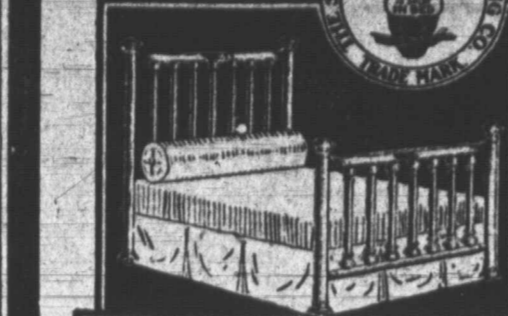

In the role of Pepita, the title character of this tender romance, Miss Clark has ample and varied opportunity for the display of her inimitable talents. Pepita is a young Spanish country girl who has come to live in Madrid with her brother. At the time of her arrival in the gay metropolis the city is ringing with the fame of a handsome bull fighter, Sebastiano, with whom all the women are in love. Warned that she too, will succumb to the spell cast by the heroic matador, Pepita vows that she will not even speak to him should he address her. Subsequently he sees her, falls in love with her, and begins an ardent campaign to win her heart. Haughtily, she spurns him, and in her pride defies him with look and gesture, although her heart is breaking with love for him. At last he is wounded right unto death in a bull fight. Then it is that her pride surrenders, and through her love wins him back to life and strength.

"Pretty Sister of Jose" is an impressive and sympathetic portrayal of a subject that has furnished the finest prose and verse in every language—love in its tenderest form. The scenery is exquisite and truthfully reflects the atmosphere of the story. But, above all else, Miss Clark's gifted interpretation of the capricious Pepita will be recorded as one of the most notable screen characterizations ever presented.

Margaret Clark in "The Pretty Sisters of Jose," at the Empress Monday.

She loves races... She loves roulette... She loves all games of chance. She loves them with a passion that is a mania.

You know how the drug habit can grip a man—or the liquor habit. You know to what lengths it will lead him—this girl inherits a similar craving—a craving for gambling. It is born in her. Her mother before had the gambler's instinct. She secretly kept a gambling house.

You see this girl returning from a convent where her mother sent her as a child. You see her about to enter society.

She is loved by a strong man. Her future is before her. She is taught to play cards. You see her heritage assert itself. You see it grip and hold her in its meshes. She can't resist it.

How it jures her! First to the bridge tables of fashionable society—then to the races—and finally to the notorious gambling hell formerly kept by her mother!

You see the great race track scene. You know how Vitagraph can stage a scene like this.

You see the inside of the gambling house—the gamblers. You see the raid by her husband who has become district attorney. He doesn't know she is there. You see what happens.

All these things appear before you on the screen in Vitagraph reality. This is the third of the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Features. In every detail it is up to the Blue Ribbon standard.
