

MEXICANS GIVEN PRESENTS FOR VOTE AT CORPUS CHRISTI

MEXICANS TESTIFY TO TRANSACTIONS IN THE 1914 ELECTION NON-NATURALIZED MEXICANS CAST VOTES.

MEXICAN GOT TWO DOLLARS

Others Testify That Corner of Poll Tax Receipts Clipped—These Received Presents From Timon Faction After They Had Cast Their Votes.

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 8.—The taking of testimony in the government prosecution of alleged election frauds this morning did not follow the expectation of court officials who earlier had announced that a county officer would be the next witness. In the latter's stead a Mexican testified through an interpreter that "unnaturalized" Mexicans had voted in the 1914 election and had been paid money to vote a certain way. He said he had been given a present of two dollars after he had carried out a promise to vote the Timon ticket, which took its name from one of the defendants, County Judge Timon. Another Mexican, a native of Coahuila, but a resident of Texas for twenty-six years testified that he was not a citizen and that he received three dollars after voting the Timon ticket.

"Making a present" was the term used by one witness in the case this morning when he told he was given two dollars to vote the Timon ticket in the 1914 election. The man was Raymond Gonzalez, a native of Mexico. He said he was told to go and vote, and that when he went through to come back to a certain place where there was a number of people. He said he recognized two of the defendants. One was Ed Castleberry who gave him two dollars as a present. The Mexican said the corners of his poll tax receipt were clipped off but for what reason he did not know.

The court finished the testimony of H. O. Headley at last night's session in which the witness told of attending a Democratic meeting which he later left because he did not approve of the proceedings. Today's evidence will follow events leading up to the election of 1914, in which three congressmen were chosen in the district affected by the judgment. The congressional election is the basis of the government's jurisdiction.

Headley testified that for five years he had been superintendent of the Corpus Christi Street Car Company coming here from Colorado Springs. He said that in response to an invitation from an individual named Julius Dorenfeld Jr. district clerk, he attended a meeting in County Judge Timon's office at 8 o'clock at night during the latter part of October. The purpose was to check over poll tax lists. Witness remained fifteen or twenty minutes and left because he didn't like the "personnel of the meeting" and several things that came up.

Answering questions he said that as the poll tax list was called, those present would say which side each voter was on and would name men in the meeting to look after given voters. He named some eight or ten of the present defendants who were at the meeting and testified that August Uehlinger (a defendant) asked Judge Timon "How much is it going to take to carry the hill?" and that Judge Timon replied, "Between $2,500 and $3,000, and that they would have to get out and hustle, as the other side was going to spend money like water to carry the hill."

ARMY AUTHORITIES TAKE SOLE CHARGE ALONG RIO GRANDE

INDISCRIMINATE FIGHTING BY CIVILIANS WILL NO LONGER BE PERMITTED IN THAT SECTION

MOVE AN IMPORTANT ONE

Mexican Authorities Claim They Can Co-operate Better With American Army Officials if Texas Rangers and Civilians Eliminated

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 8.—The United States army today took the most important step it has yet made in the border complications in the lower Rio Grande valley when an order was issued here giving the army officers command over the actions of civilians on the river bank in case shooting across the international boundary is resumed. Heretofore the local peace officers have been permitted to participate in returning the fire of the Mexicans from the other side of the river. In some cases these peace officers have pursued bandits fleeing to the river banks and then held battle with them across the international line.

The army will attempt to handle all situations of whatever sort which may arise on the Rio Grande. There is a double purpose in this. The Carranza authorities have announced that they believe they may co-operate better with Americans in suppressing bandits if there is no dividing authority on the river bank and if they knew that they have to deal only with American soldiers; also the army officers have no authority to make arrests or do police work in the interior away from the river, so that in lightening their river patrols they believe they are taking control.

SHEPPARD WILL WELCOME BAILEY IN 1918 RACE

Port Worth, Texas, Sept. 8.—I will be a candidate for re-election to the Senate in 1918 and will gladly welcome Hon. Joseph Weldon Bailey in the race," said Hon. Morris Sheppard, while here Tuesday in the lobby of the Westbrook Hotel. Senator Sheppard was here waiting between trains en route from Gainesville to Childress, where he will make the opening speech at the Childress fair.

"It will give me pleasure to join issues with Bailey on the forum and abide by the decision of the people at the polls." Passing from the discussion of the Bailey issue, Senator Sheppard said he favored the army and navy of sufficient strength, and so equipped as to be mobilized easily to protect the persons and property of American citizens without militarism. "If the United States had had a navy sufficient to cope with England I do not believe that the indefensible cotton contraband order would ever have been issued. The order of the allies headed by England, which is favored by the contraband list, in my opinion, is one of the most indefensible things ever perpetrated on the American people."

"Recent developments along the border has demonstrated the necessity for our reorganizing our defenses on land as well as on sea. While I think that the question is being handled as well as it can be done with the available men and equipment, we should have more men in the army and more equipment, and the men and the equipment should be so stationed that it could be mobilized easily in case the necessity arises. We need an army and navy of sufficient strength to defend our country without becoming an aggressive and military nation."

"I have introduced a bill on the calendar for the construction of a military road to run parallel with the Rio Grande, and when Congress reconvenes I propose to push it. The necessity for such a highway has made itself manifest within the past two weeks of the acts along the border. Such a highway as I propose would not cost a mint of money and at the same time make the obligation of the army along the border easy and at the same time place the patrol in position to watch the Mexicans closely."

"The future prosperity of our South is not in danger. From what I can gather from experts who have studied the cotton situation, it is my opinion that the spindle capacity of England, Spain, France, Japan, Italy and Russia will be sufficient to take care of a 12,000,000 bale crop that is expected to be garnered this year."

Mrs. Ida Cooper and F. H. Tinsley of Durant, were married at the home of Mrs. C. S. Vandigriff, 1818 Tenth yesterday afternoon. Both are from Durant, Okla. They left this afternoon for a trip to Fort Worth and other points.

Eugene Gilbert, Daring French Aviator, Again Interned In Switzerland After Escaping

EUGENE GILBERT

Eugene Gilbert, French aviator, again is interned in Switzerland, having been returned to that country by France. Some time ago Gilbert alighted on Swiss soil in his aeroplane and was interned there until the end of the war. One day Gilbert wrote to the Swiss authorities advising them of the fact that he was going to escape. Three hours after dispatching the letter he started for the Swiss-Franco border and succeeded in crossing it. Switzerland protested to France that this was a violation of her neutrality, and so it happens that Gilbert is again forced to view Switzerland scenery.

JOHN BULL'S SOVEREIGNS NOW IN SUB TREASURY

Third and Largest Shipment of British Gold is Delivered in New York City.

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 8.—The third and largest consignment of gold shipment from England to the United States during the last few weeks was placed in the sub-treasury here today. The entire consignment was made to J. P. Morgan and Company, agents of the British government.

After the gold had been deposited at the sub-treasury from twenty motor trucks it was reported to consist of 11,670,000 British sovereigns, equivalent to about $55,597,000 and $7,850,000 in American eagles. The British coin, it is said, will be sent to the government's assay office to be assayed and melted down into bullion.

NO EXTRA SESSION OF LEGISLATURE THIS FALL

Judge Cunningham of Abilene Says the Governor Made Positive Statement to Him.

By Associated Press. Abilene, Tex., Sept. 8.—That there will be no extra session of the Texas legislature this fall is the positive statement of Governor Ferguson, according to Judge Jim Cunningham of this city, who says the governor made this statement to him last night at Sweetwater. The governor is quoted as saying that he does not believe it his duty to spend $50,000 to redistrict the state. The proposed redistricting of the state by congressional districts has been generally accepted as the possible object of an extra session. The governor departed last night for Austin whence he will go on a tour of inspection of the state penitentiaries and prisons.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—Secretary Lansing today cabled Ambassador Gerard at Berlin to forward any information available on the sinking of the steamer Hesperian. Jay Walking Zone Is Marked Off On Downtown Streets

A "Jay-walking zone," was marked off on the principal downtown corners this morning by the police department, with white lines plainly delineating the territory which those crossing the street must avoid. Several days ago arrows indicating the proper direction to be taken, were painted in red on the sidewalks at the intersections, but it was found that some more pointed hint was necessary.

Local motorists continue to register their cars with the city tax collector and the required initial "C" is making its appearance on many machines. The traction company has put the near side stop rule into effect on the downtown corners, and while the public has not yet grown accustomed to it, it seems to be causing no inconvenience.

BIG OFFENSIVE ON WEST FRONT EXPECTED SOON

GEN. JOFFRE HAS RETURNED FROM CONFERENCE WITH GEN. CADORNA ITALIAN COMMANDER IN CHIEF

CAMPAIGN ON EAST FRONT

Emperor Nicholas in Supreme Command of Russian Armies—Weather Conditions Again Intervening on the Side of Russian Armies

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 8.—Emperor Nicholas is now in supreme command of the Russian military and naval forces in the fighting zone and Grand Duke Nicholas, who as commander in chief of the Russian army was one of the most conspicuous figures of the European war, has been transferred to the Caucasus. London is speculating as to what section of the long eastern front will be selected by the emperor as his headquarters.

At present Courland appears to be the critical section of the line. Gen. Brusilov is in command there and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg apparently is making any great progress against him. The central sector has been held by Grand Duke Nicholas.

Efforts of the Germans to drive a wedge through the swamp is proceeding very slowly. The Gallician wing command of Gen. Inavonhoff is making a stubborn stand against the Austrians and Germans who are engaged in a tremendous effort to drive these last Russians from Austrian soil.

Weather conditions which in the past have proved efficient allies for the Russians again are intervening on their side. A dispatch published in a Copenhagen newspaper says the rivers have been swollen by autumn floods to such an extent that they promise to form an impassable barrier to a further advance by the invaders. This dispatch represents the immediate objective of the Austro-German campaign to be the seizure of the entire railway system from Riga to Lemberg by insuring control of lines of communication for a penetration of White Russia.

On the other front events point to a concerted movement by the allies. The French commander in chief, Gen. Joffre has returned from a visit to his Italian colleague, Gen. Cadorna. British warships and guns along the Belgian coast have joined the force of artillery fire along the western front. All this gives support to the growing belief in London that an offensive movement will soon mark activities on the western front.

TIME TO ACT
Don't Wait For The Fatal Stages of Kidney Illness. Profit by Wichita Falls Experience.

Occasional attacks of backache, irregular urination, headaches and dizzy spells are frequent symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect these ills. The attacks may pass off for a time but generally return with greater intensity. Don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills and keep up their use until the desired results are obtained. Good work in Wichita Falls proves the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

Mrs. M. A. Smith, 1401 Scott avenue, Wichita Falls, says: "My kidneys bothered me pretty badly some time ago, after I had had a bad cold. I had a constant ache across my kidneys and I couldn't bear to even touch my back, as it was so sore. My sight blurred and I became very dizzy. I treated with four doctors, but none of them gave me the relief which Doan's Kidney Pills did. I used three boxes of this medicine and all these ailments left me. My kidneys have remained normal ever since."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Smith had. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

The success of a party ticket, Yes, he understood such was the usual and customary way of meeting such conditions.

On redirect examination he testified that the $2,500 or $3,000 fund was "for the hill" and that the "general impression I got from the meeting on what was to be done" was the reason he left. Yes, he left immediately after the discussion of the fund. Yes, he understood that this money was to be used by the workers on the hill to get the Mexican vote, which is always purchasable. Mr. Lane objected to this conclusion of the part of the witness. The court observed in response to further objections by defendant's counsel to similar character of testimony:

"The jury can use its own judgment whether the $2,500 if used on the hill was for educational purposes or otherwise."

"And its judgment whether used all over town, and not only on the hill," suggested Mr. Lane.

On second cross examination witness said he did not protest at the procedure at the time he left the meeting. He just got up and walked out. Then and now he would not associate with and "didn't have any use for" two or three of the defendants. The others, then and now, he regarded as his friends.

Among the spectators was Congressman Garner of this district, who may possibly be a witness. Congressman at large Jeff McLemore of Houston is expected to be here. Mr. Garner, from this district and Mr. McLemore and "Cyclone" Davis from the State at large were elected last November.

THIS WAR TERRIBLE MUNICH SHORT OF BEER

Nine O'clock Closing Practiced Because at That Hour Beer Supply Has Been Consumed

Munich, Germany.—The shortage of beer in Munich, the home of many famous brews of the dark Muenchener beer, is now very real. The decreased production has not only caused a jump in prices, but has produced here a semi-drought that apparently has not been felt in any other part of Germany.

The recent proposal to cope with the problem by closing cafes as early as 9 o'clock instead of midnight provided all Germany with a laugh at Munich's expense, but it was no laughing matter in Munich. Few, if any, of the cafes had sufficient allowances of the beer supply to keep things running after 9 o'clock.

Karl von Koelicker, a member of the cabinet of the state ministry of Bavaria, and a life long Muenchener himself, had this to say about the resignation of the people to the restricted beer measure:

"If anyone had had the temerity to tell a Muenchener one year ago that in August, 1915, he would be restricted in his allowance of beer, that he would have to go home thirsty at 9 o'clock, and that the whole city would be enduring a semi-drought, that man would either have been told that he was crazy or the Muenchener would have replied that he would never submit to any tampering with one of his necessities of life."

Notwithstanding the Muenchener today wends his way homeward at 9 or 10 o'clock, without a grumble and fully deprived of his accustomed allowance of beer.

The authorities have grappled with the disposal of the balance of a certain so-called wine restaurant in the heart of the city, for instance, a restaurant patronized principally by people who customarily drink wine, is granted an allowance of 70 liters of beer a day. The restaurant has permission to stay open until midnight and does so, but the beer drinkers leave when the 70 liters are gone. And it might be remarked parenthetically that a relatively small crowd of beer drinkers as the Germans expressively call them will consume 70 liters in an astonishingly short time.

The wine restaurant stays open, but the beer restaurants do not, even though they have wine on their bills of fare. None of their clients want wine, and to keep open means merely a waste of electric light.

At The Theaters

The Majestic.
"The Diamond from the Sky," Chapter 5, is on today's program, also a two-part Lubin, "The House of Cards."

The Gem.
The Selig Red Seal Special, "The House of a Thousand Candles," is today's offering.

Harry Mestayer, the famous Selig star, who won an enviable reputation for himself behind the footlights before he took to the screen, assumes the leading role and is supported by such well known players as Grace Darmont, John Charles, George Backus, May Robson, Forrest Robinson and Edger Nelson. The story of "The House of a Thousand Candles" deals with the "treachery" of an old squire and a "revival" in his will that his grandson must not leave the squire's estate for one year; if he does he is to forfeit the entire fortune. The grandson takes up his residence, but because of a cabaret singer he formerly kept company with and a girl he falls in love with after coming to his grandfather's country home. He finds it difficult not to leave the grounds. He finally attends a masked ball at the home of the girl he loves and is discovered; thus he forfeits the estate. An unscrupulous lawyer attempts to secure the fortune of the squire himself, but the old man surprises everyone by coming to life suddenly and righting matters in general. He explains that he has only been in hiding to see how things would progress after his real death.

The Empress.

A fourpart Paramount, "Brother Officers" is on today's program and is especially recommended as a feature attraction. A synopsis of the story of the son of London "bookmaker." The boy is brought up in a sordid atmosphere and is taught to cheat at cards by his father's clerk, Jim Stanton. Stanton runs away with the bookmaker's money and the bookmaker's wife soon kills the bookmaker, and his son leaves home with the one ambition—to find and kill Stanton. He enlists in the British Army as James Hinds and is sent to Afghanistan where his regiment sees some sharp fighting with the natives. Hinds saves the life of Lieutenant Pleydell, who promises to help Hinds find ever he is in need of it. Hinds wins the Calcutta Sweep and buys a commission in the "First Lancers" with the money, thus becoming a "brother officer" of Pleydell's. Pleydell gradually manages to train Hinds into the ways of "an officer and a gentleman," although Hinds makes mistakes that are both serious and amusing. Meanwhile Stanton has prospered in Australia and has become a millionaire. He returns to England, meets Pleydell and wins over $50,000 from him in a card game, accepting notes for the amount. With the notes as a weapon he forces Pleydell to take him home and introduce him to his friends, including Honor, Baroness Roydon, whom Hinds loves but who, unknown to Hinds, loves Pleydell. Hinds learns of Honor's love for Pleydell by accident and, knowing Stanton's hold on him, is at first tempted to allow Pleydell to be smashed, but his better nature triumphs and he agrees to try to get Stanton to let Pleydell off. He accordingly sends for Stanton and after talking with him for while suddenly recognizes him as his father's old clerk. He then forces Stanton to return Pleydell's I. O. U. and shows Pleydell's mother and Honor or that Pleydell was really cheated out of the money by Stanton. This freedom from debt leaves Pleydell free to marry Honor, and Hinds is seen to depart, leaving them to their happiness.

The Lydia Margaret.

Tonight's program has a double attraction. The DeLoy Musical Comedy Company and a four part Universal special drama, "Scandal," a masterpiece by the Phillips Smalleys.

The story of "Scandal" was suggested by the editorial page of the Los Angeles Examiner of March 21, 1915. In this article the editor stated that if one could sit behind one of the club windows that face the avenue of any great city, he would hear "more poisonous and dangerous gossip in half an hour than one would hear at a sewing circle during a whole afternoon."

"It makes you think" The reason it makes you think is because it is based upon absolute fact. It does not bring up a great issue or arouse a new problem in the mind of the man or woman who sees it. It reflects the very things that you and I, and the rest of the inhabitants of this world are doing daily. We find it as full of punches as a transcontinental railroad ticket, and we gasp as we realize the truth depicted, mirrored, in every scene.

It is such pictures as "Scandal" which are going to do a lot towards perpetrating the moving picture art. First of all, it was a good scenario. It came from the pen of that student of philosophy, Lola Weber, whose "Hypocrites" still remains fresh in our memory. She has not taken a big subject and discoursed on it in a series of pictures, but she has thrown a strong light on us, and it is thrown so strong that it blinds us with its truth. There are those who might say she has exaggerated the truth, somewhat. She hasn't. In fact, she has withheld, if anything, more than she has disclosed. Those who sit uneasy in their seats are the ones she has hit. And it is these who will say it is unreal, far fetched and illogical.

Mud is dirty. It's cowardly, for it hits you and then runs. You can't get rid of it until it dries, and even then it sometimes leaves a stain which cannot be effaced. Mud-slinging is a dirty business. Sometimes the aim is wrong and it hits the one not intended for the target.

The author has picked a good subject and she tells her story smoothly, dramatically and with logical sequence. She shows the great harm which often comes from those miserable people who seem to find little else to do besides gossip. It is a picture which reveals to us just what a woman's jealousy and a man's indiscretion will do.

Handling the Credit Problem!

Anyone who has investigated credit conditions knows that a great many merchants are carrying more in book accounts than they can afford to, simply because they have not handled this part of their business as a business proposition.

Like many other dealers, Mr. A. B. Goldstein of Portage, Pa., found that he was carrying too much on his books and decided to change his policy from that of a credit system and make his business a cash proposition.

He announced this to his customers through the following letter. This is written in a diplomatic, frank, straight-forward, business-like manner, and Mr. Goldstein has presented the facts so that no customer could possibly take offense.

This is Mr. Goldstein's letter:

Portage, Pa., July 15th, 1915.

Dear Friend:

After due consideration I have decided that I will after September 1, 1915, conduct my business on a cash basis and to sell for Cash only. We are all aware that with ready cash one is a factor in the open market as well as in any business.

There are many reasons why a merchant should sell for cash as well as you should buy for cash: the two following ones are the most notable: First, we will be able to buy our merchandise from 10 to 15 per cent less. Second, this will be a saving to you of at least 20 per cent. Just think what this means to you.

To our many friends who have treated us with fairness for our line of credit extended them, we shall in the future more than try to repay them in return by selling them merchandise lower than any store in the country.

In the matter of taking this course, it is not a reflection on any one's honesty, but a protection, and the spirit of treating all our friends alike.

I trust you will look on this matter with consideration and help us make this store "Portage's Best Shopping Place," also to carry our Cash Sale policy to success.

Thanking you for your past patronage and soliciting your future business, on the merits of our goods, prices and courtesy, I beg to remain,

Yours very respectfully,

A. B. GOLDSTEIN.

After September 1st, positively no credit extended.

All over this broad land, from Maine to California, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, merchants are deserting "the credit system," realizing the unnecessary waste of this method of business.

Our stock is now the most complete it has ever been and we shall be pleased to demonstrate to you the many advantages of the "cash system."

Wichita Falls, Texas, Sept. 8, 1915.

Emperor Nicholas has announced that he has placed himself at the head of the Russian armies, and inasmuch as this took place just at a time when the Russian armies were in full retreat, there is little danger that a German bullet can harm the emperor.

Three second-hand autos of a certain make were advertised in Sunday's issue of The Times by three different parties, and all three found buyers for their cars by Monday. The Times' object in making mention of this is to give proof of a substantial nature that it has a very wide circulation, and that ads placed in its columns are read and in most cases bring buyer and seller together. The Times' fee in the matter was probably less than $1.00. If you want anything, let The Times tell what it is, and if you have anything of value to sell, and there is any demand for same—a classified ad in The Times will, in most cases place you in direct communication with the fellow who wants it.

Wichita Falls should make a determined effort to bring the state blind institute to this city. It is by no means a foregone conclusion that Austin will get it, as that city not only does not seem disposed to donate a site, but is asking exorbitant prices for tracts that the state might be willing to purchase, and if it goes to any other city there seems to be no valid objection to Wichita Falls. This city could afford to offer a choice of several sites, with one near Lake Wichita as the most suitable. Scotland park some of the tracts on Holiday creek or the wooded district east of the city might also be available. An institution of this kind would be worth something to this city. Not only would there be $100,000 or more spent here for the building, but several hundred blind students would be kept here with their teachers and attendants, and the effect on the city's business would be felt promptly. As a rule, blind children are good customers, buying good clothing and patronizing all institutions liberally. It is to be hoped that the Chamber of Commerce will make a determined fight to bring this institution to a section of the state that has never received anything at the state's hands.

The question of woman's suffrage looms larger and larger these days, and there is not much doubt that an effort will be made at the next regular session of the Legislature to have a suffrage amendment submitted to the voters. The question is a many-sided one. The Times would favor almost any change in the organic law that would tend to make the ballot cleaner, for while Texas has only recently attracted outside attention by reason of alleged election frauds, there have been practices in the past that have not impressed close observers that the idea that the ballot in Texas is as near pure as it might be. If woman's suffrage will remedy this condition, by all means let Texas adopt it. But aside from that, The Times is not inclined to favor giving the women the ballot until there is certain evidence that they desire it. As yet, the demand for suffrage in Texas has come from a small group of women and the average Texas woman doesn't seem to be sufficiently interested in the question to know whether she wants the ballot or not. The suggestion of a Texas legislator that the women vote themselves on whether they want the vote was certainly correct in theory, though perhaps difficult in execution. When Texas women as a whole really want the ballot, The Times believes and hopes that they will get it.

Testimony in the election fraud cases now on trial at Corpus Christi was begun yesterday, and judging from the evidence given in by the first witness, there is a section in Corpus Christi known as "the hill," inhabited chiefly by Mexicans, who make it their business on election days to peddle their suffrage to the highest bidder. The voting strength of Corpus Christi is said to be about 1500, at least one-third of whom are Mexicans. A few days before the election was held a meeting of a few politicians was held, at which meeting one speaker stated that it would be necessary to raise the sum of $2,500 or $3,000 to "carry the hill," meaning it would require about that much to control the Mexican vote.

It also appears that there are factions in Corpus Christi as well as other cities, and each faction was trying to control the vote of the Mexicans by corrupt methods. The State law condemns such practices, but apparently pass them by unnoticed. Doubtless there were a few, and perhaps many people in Corpus Christi, who believe the ballot is sacred and should not be corrupted, and inasmuch as the State and county authorities would pay no attention to their complaints, they interested themselves to the extent of calling the attention of the Federal government to the corrupt practice with the result that about forty indictments have been returned. As to what the outcome of the matter will be is difficult to figure out, but that the defendants are uneasy and scared is evidenced from the fact that they have retained some of the ablest lawyers in the state to defend them. The man who sells his vote ought not to be allowed to vote, and the man who is the purchaser is no better than the fellow who sells. The practice should be stopped, and if our state laws cannot do this, no fault or criticism should be lodged against the Federal government when it steps in and takes a hand in the matter.

Germany wants one million bales of cotton and agrees to pay 15 cents per pound, delivered. The normal price for carrying a bale of cotton to Bremen is $2.00. Deducting $2,000,000 for freight, leaves $72,000 net offered the farmers for one million bales. The farmer is actually getting $43,000,000 showing a loss of $30,000,000, due to the blockade, contraband order and other marketing difficulties due to the war. The Texas crop this year will exceed three million bales, but figuring it at three million, would indicate a loss of $90,000,000 to this state on one short crop of cotton.—Corpus Christi Democrat.

Germany could with safety offer 15 and even 25 cents for the entire American cotton crop. She can't get a bale of it now. Perhaps Germany should have laid in a supply of American cotton last year, or before Great Britain placed cotton on the list of contrabands of war.

Russias Fortress Beyond The Marshes

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—The National Geographic Society gave out today the following description of Bobruisk, the Russian fortress beyond the marshes, which guards the threshold of Great Russia: "Napoleon's soldiers stormed in vain the fortress of Bobruisk, which was considered at the time of the 1812 campaign one of the strongest places in Europe. The defenses built by Alexander I, at the confluence of the Bobruiska with the Beresina, withstood heavy bombardment and bitter assaults by the French. Before the fortress, toward Europe, are millions of acres of tangled, desolate marsh lands, while a long line of swamps extends for hundreds of miles up and down behind the stronghold, simplifying the defense of Great Russia. Just to the east."

FUNERAL OF E. REXFORD THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The funeral of E. Rexford will take place from the family residence, 1616 Ninth street tomorrow afternoon. The exact hour cannot as yet be stated. The reason for the delay was to await the arrival of Mr. Rexford's daughter, Mrs. Nix, whose home is in Oregon. She is expected to arrive here tonight.

NO SOUVENIRS OR MUSIC AT THE FALL STYLE SHOW

Stipulations will be the keynote of the style show to be held on September 14th and at the meetings of merchants Tuesday afternoon a resolution was adopted opposing the giving of souvenirs and also opposing having music in the stores. Some merchants had already planned to give souvenirs, and these will discontinue them, anyhow, but most of the merchants, it is expected will forego both the souvenirs and the music.

It was decided not to have any general music, as it would be impossible for one band to play in front of all the stores in one evening and some would have music at the expense of others. In many stores the style show will take the place of the fall opening which is usually held at this time of the year.

MEINACE TO CHINA SEEN IN RUSSO-JAP ALLIANCE

Chinese Newspaper Sees Greater Arrogance on Part of Japan as One Result

Peking, Sept. 8.—Commenting upon the remarks which M. Sazonoff, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs made in the Duma concerning the possibility of a closer alliance between Russia and Japan, the Peking Daily News says it is a "pronouncement fraught with the deepest import for China."

The paper continues: "For some time we have known that conversations were passing between Russia and Japan with a view to an alliance, and we have already pointed out the possible explanation, which is that Japan by her action toward China has brought herself into international disrepute and is consequently anxious to have a friend in Europe, the more so that she has somewhat strained the alliance with Great Britain."

"It is perhaps too early to discuss the effects of such an alliance as is foreshadowed in M. Sazonoff's statements, but speculations are likely to be made in China, which must of course be vitally concerned in such an agreement. One immediate result would be the tendency on the part of Japan to greater arrogance, but there is little doubt that the conclusion of the treaty itself would bring about an increased sense of responsibility and an appreciation of its limitations."

Grain, Cotton and Livestock Market Reports

New York Cotton Futures.

New York, Sept. 8.—Demands seemed to broaden as prices worked higher in the cotton market on the bullish weekly report and the market was very firm during the middle of the afternoon with October selling up to ten cents and January to $1.50, or 14 to 16 points net higher and into new high grounds for the movement on December and later deliveries. The close was steady. Oct. $9.98; Dec. $10; Jan. $10.49; March $10.77; May $10.97.

Chicago Grain Futures.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Wheat prices took an upward turn today in response to a falling off in receipts here and in the northwest. Corn rose with wheat. The market was affected by the Iowa state report showing eight points lost in the crop conditions August.

Later a bearish reaction occurred in corn owing to the prevalent high temperature over the belt.

Although wet weather counted greatly against bulls absence of export demand led to a setback in wheat. The close was firm at 7-8 to 1-7-8 net higher with Sept. 93 7-8 and Dec. 91 1-8 to 1-4.

Fort Worth Livestock.

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 8.—Cattle—receipts 3,000 head, the market steady; beefs $6@7.15. Hogs—receipts 3,000 head, the market lower, heavy, $7.50 @7.55. Sheep—receipts 7,000 head, the market steady; lambs $7@7.25.

GERMANY'S SEWING ROOMS SUPPORT 30,000 WOMEN

Wives and Daughters of Soldiers Receive Double Usual Wages Making War Clothing

Frankfurt, Germany.—The problem of supplying certain clothing needs of the army and at the same time providing that the profit from the manufacture of these goods shall go not to individual firms but to soldiers' wives, sisters and mothers, has been efficiently solved in Frankfurt's Nachstube or Sewing room.

Through it some 30,000 women and girls, 5,000 of whom live in this city, today receive about twice as much money as they would if employed in private concerns, and are enabled to live in self-respecting independence, without having even to draw from their government the sums which as a matter of duty it is prepared to expend to support the dependents of soldiers.

Three organizations—the national service for women, the women's association of 1813 and the industrial association for home work—are really the creators of the Frankfurt Sewing room and its affiliations throughout the province of Hesse-Nassau and the grand duchy of Hesse.

From the so-called Kriegserborge or very roughly translated, war assistance, a fund was established for the creation and maintenance of the Sewing room. The latter started in all-intents and purposes as a private business concern would have done, with money and credit, sufficient in amount to pay salaries, buy supplies and rent quarters.

Women deserving of assistance—particularly those who, perhaps would have had to have financial support from the government or some organization under other circumstances—then were encouraged to seek employment. Five thousand have done so in Frankfurt, which is the headquarters for the province of Hesse-Nassau and 25,000 more are given work. Darmstadt is the headquarters for the grand duchy of Hesse.

For a time the Sewing room received its largest commissions from the Red Cross, but gradually the government orders, direct from the military authorities, have superseded all others, until today the plant is working almost exclusively for the empire. In the city, it is possible of course for the women to leave their homes and work during the day in the plants. In the country district home work is provided.

PRESIDENT LAW ADDRESSES BANKERS

PRODUCTION INCREASING, UNEMPLOYMENT DECREASING—DISTRIBUTION BROAD

WORLD ON EVE OF CHANGE

Every Department of Human Life Will Be Affected—Great Responsibility With Bankers

By Associated Press. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 5.—As a whole production is irresistibly increasing; unemployment is slowly and steadily decreasing; and distribution is quietly broadening, according to the presidential address of William A. Law, of the American Bankers Association, which was delivered at today's session of the bankers convention.

President Law, who is the head of the First National Bank of Philadelphia, viewed the world's economic situation from several angles. In part he said:

"We are meeting in the midst of strange and stirring days, saturated with the romance of world changes. In Europe, war has continued its progress with increasing military ferocity, economic devastation and the loss of human life. In America the situation has served to reveal the marvelous material resources of the United States.

Fluctuating Conditions. "During the year you have seen sterling exchange rise to its maximum, and then fall to its minimum. You have seen interest rates uncomfortably high and again discouragingly low; you have seen wide fluctuations in the values of our staple products; you have seen economy practiced till, as a consequence, retail trade suffered severely.

"Manufacturers in many branches have not been able simultaneously to meet the combined effects of tariff changes, the usual shifting of prices for both raw material and products under war conditions and recently the demoralizing competition for skilled labor by the contractors for war supplies. As soon as business is resumed on a large scale we are going to face most unusual labor conditions. Practically no immigrants are coming in at the present time; our normal movement averages about 100,000 per month.

"Those industries concerned in the production and distribution of food stuffs have been least injured. Leather has been strong and active; the automobile industry has been surprisingly stimulated, due in great measure to the war. On the other hand, textiles have been irregular and difficult. Construction and all products purchasable by the railroads have been slow and dull. Our coal tonnage exceeds the combined tonnage of the products of agriculture, forests, manufactures and animals. The success of many of our railroads, therefore, depends upon manufacturing activity. The railroads have been suffering from a four-fold burden of decreased tonnage, decreased freight rates and the increased cost of labor and money, but they are pluckily overcoming their difficulties.

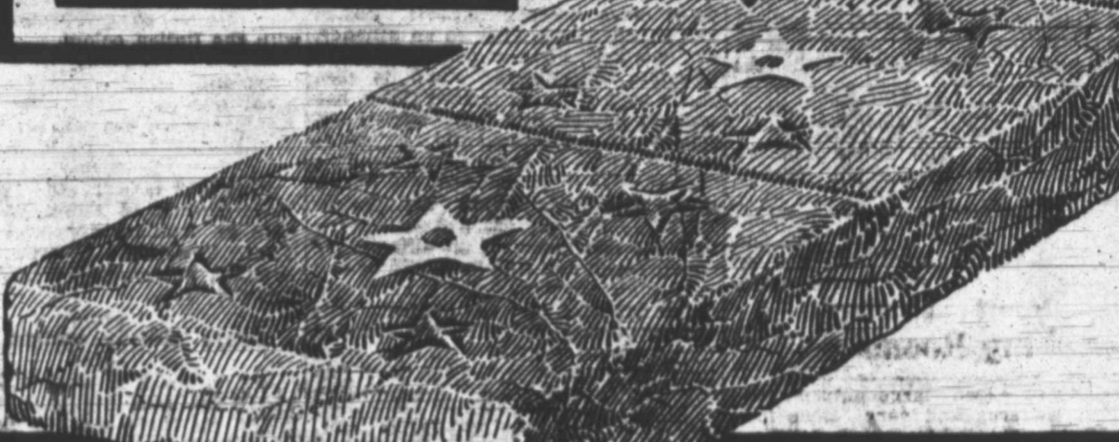

Conditions Improving. "As a whole, production is irresistibly increasing; unemployment is slowly and steadily decreasing; distribution is quietly broadening.

"The unprecedented prices for some of our agricultural and industrial products have revitalized stagnant labor generally, besides strengthening the position of our most important interest—farming. The United States has grasped its unique opportunity to become a larger factor in international finance and commerce. Last fall, when Europe needed the surplus of our two most bountiful crops wheat and cotton, we shipped over 20,000,000 bushels of wheat and gathered over 17,000,000 bales of cotton; hence our amazing international credit trade balance for the year ending June 30, 1915, amounting to $1,094,000,000. This immense balance has created serious exchange problems. But let us not forget that over $220,000,000 of this export excess was caused by the decrease in imports of raw material in connection with our retarded industrial activity, accompanied by idleness and suffering on the part of wage earners in many of our manufacturing centers.

Several of our strongest assumptions have proven erroneous. Our stock of gold was not exhausted by foreign shipments; in fact, international exchanges gradually turned in our favor. Our cotton exports were not cut in fire as predicted, but exceeded 92 per cent of the previous year's volume. Our copper industry was not ruined but has been stimulated. Our stock exchanges have not been overwhelmed by a flood of distressed American securities sold at sacrifice prices by European holders, but we have readily absorbed all of them. The barometer of our national trade is strong and active. The New York Stock Exchange is vigorously celebrating its new lease upon life with a speculative orgy in some issues which is causing thoughtful men a little concern. This is caused mainly by the unprecedented plethora of funds congested in New York City, where funds were loaned as low as 1 per cent on call.

"On November 18, 1914, the federal reserve banks were opened, starting too late to afford relief during the financial stringency, as the retirement of emergency currency was by that time in full swing. Unfortunately, this contraction was not sufficient to meet the reduced requirements of commercial depression combined with speculative inactivity

The Highest Possible Award The Grand Prize for STAR Tobacco

LEADING BRAND OF THE WORLD

The Only Chewing Tobacco

That Ever Won

An International Exposition

Grand Prize

THE one supreme chewing tobacco at the San Francisco Exposition was STAR. So decided the International Jury of Award, selected from all parts of the world.

As the result of that decision, STAR received The Grand Prize—the highest award that the International Jury could give.

The same "superior quality" that won the Grand Prize for STAR, had won for it the highest regard of chewers for half a century.

STAR'S extra quality of mellow chewing leaf, STAR'S absolute cleanliness of manufacture, STAR'S full "one pound to the plug" weight, and reasonable price, long ago made it the world's largest selling brand of plug chewing tobacco.

"Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO"

and for the past six months at least we have been suffering acutely from retarding currency, a condition in many respects more dangerous than a stringency.

"The federal reserve system had not yet been fully tested. The country still awaits the action of two most important factors in its operation, namely, the entry of the state banks as members and the removal of government deposits from the independent treasury. It cannot be questioned that all commercial banks, no matter where their charters are derived, together with the secretary of the treasury, should fully cooperate with the system if we are to coordinate all elements in our sphere of commercial finance.

Outlook Optimistic. "We have reasons to believe that our financial position will strengthen steadily as the European war progresses, that our devoted president will be successful in preserving neutrality. When war makes what it means to us as a nation? We shall see—enough and generous enough to contribute liberally toward the help of the needy; to assist in the mass of immigrants who will probably rush to our shores; to compete vigorously with the stronger nations in seeking foreign trade.

"Shall we have made heavy sacrifices and incurred serious risks for the sake of humanity or shall we have ceased averting the cause of the oppressed of the other countries. Shall we find that, in account of the enormous profits exacted from the dire necessities of the belligerents, we have devoted our attention more to material gain than to the moral and spiritual influence which should accompany our traditions regarding human liberty? We are on the eve of world wide changes in every department of life. The responsibility rests upon each of you who are the leaders in thousands of communities to use your influence with wisdom and conservatism in saving sentiment and the conduct of affairs.

Man of Many Names Claimed Kinship With Wichitians

A man with many names was taken into custody by county officers late Tuesday and placed in jail on a swindling charge. He will probably have a hearing today. The man went to see Dr. S. H. Burnside and told him his name also was Burnside, putting up a hard luck story; when he went to see R. E. Huff, his name was Huff and when he went to see C. B. Felder, his name was Felder and when he went to see Dr. Beckman, his name was Beckman. He also went to see City Attorney Nutt and his name was Nutt. He was docketed as C. H. Nutt this morning. The sympathy gag worked beautifully on some of the man "kin folks" and others the proceeds were very small. He not only had the names of his victims down pat, but was always from their home town and home state. Some of the officers believe that instead of one man visiting all of the parties mentioned, there was a gang at work, the members of which had previously obtained the "dope." Several of the stranger's local "kin folks" came across with two or three dollars and there were few who did not have at least a dollar's worth of sympathy.

WHEAT 34 YEARS OLD JUST THRESHED IN ENGLAND
London.—Wheat 34 years old has just been threshed and it made exceptionally good bread. The wheat was grown and harvested in 1881 by a farmer named Selby near Grant-ham, Lincolnshire, who swore he would not sell it until it reached a certain price. That price was still a secret when the farmer died. The grain was then put on the market, bringing a good price.

TYLER BANKS LOANING MONEY AT SIX PER CENT
By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Sept. 8.—Banks of the city of Tyler, Smith county, are the first in the State to take the initiative, it is stated here, to lend money to farmers direct at six per cent interest on cotton stored in Texas state bonded warehouses. F. C. Weinert, member of the permanent warehouse commission, just received information to this effect. It is believed many other banks in the cotton producing sections of the State will follow Tyler's example.
