

FIRST FALL STYLE SHOW BRILLIANT SUCCESS--SEEN BY IMMENSE CROWDS

MANY THOUSANDS THROUGH STREETS TO VIEW THE DISPLAYS

SPLENDID SHOWINGS IN ALL LINES OF MERCHANDISE AND EXHIBITION A REVELATION TO CITIZENS

SHOW TO BECOME ANNUAL

Success of Initial Event Makes Certain that Not Only Fall Style Show But Spring Show Will Be Made Regular Events Here

Success that surpassed the most sanguine expectations of those who planned the affair marked Wichita Falls' first style show Thursday night. A crowd that exceeded a circus day throng gathered in the business district, gazed at the handsome displays in the show windows and visited the brilliantly lighted shops. It seemed that every store was thronged almost to its capacity, while thousands of people milled along the sidewalks.

GREAT CROWDS ON STEETS.

Throughout the day the show windows had been adorned with curtains while the displays were being prepared and just before the hour of 7:30 the business district presented a somewhat gloomy aspect. Then the fire whistle shrieked its siren call, the curtains went up, the lights flashed on and the style show began. The crowd taxed the street cars to their capacity, and there were thousands who came on foot and in automobiles. While it is impossible to make even an approximate estimate of the number of people downtown, it was generally agreed that it was the largest gathering that the business district of the city had ever held.

It was not merely in point of numbers, however, that the style show attained brilliant success. It was the completeness and the excellence of the displays that gave it glory. The merchants seemed to vie with one another in preparing their exhibits and the ensemble gave an impression of mercantile superiority that will bear fruit. Not only in dry goods, men's and women's clothing and "stylish" things that follow the lines of "style" but in jewelry, hardware, drugs, furniture and even groceries were there displays that served to make the occasion more attractive.

SHOWS NEXT YEAR PLANNED.

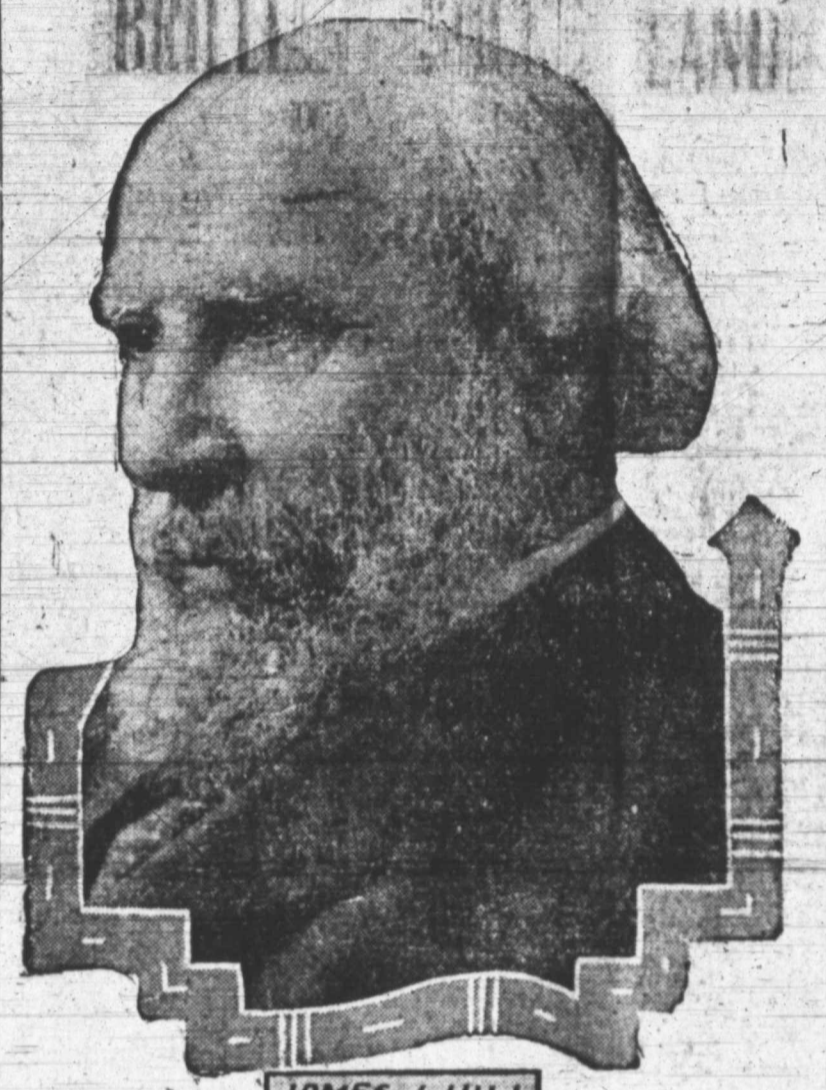

The idea for a style show this fall originated in the office of The Times and was adopted by the merchants with a readiness and a spirit of cooperation that bespoke the Wichita Falls spirit in large letters. The Merchants' Association gave its endorsement and assistance, and the individual merchants took hold with both hands. One thing is certain, this was Wichita Falls' first style show, but it will not be her last; with the experiences of Thursday night as a guide, there will be a spring style show next year and another fall style show a year from now, though probably at a later date, as September 16 was found to be a trifle early.

It would be an impossible task to attempt to single out any one display as worthy of particular mention. Each new place visited seemed to offer new delights and the crowd found plenty to interest it everywhere. Those who lingered too long in one place, especially the women folks, found that they scarce had time to visit all the shops and the two hours which the show was supposed to last proved all too short.

By Associated Press. Berlin, via London, Sept. 17.—Reports received here that President Wilson will make no formal reply to the German government's communication concerning the sinking of the steamship, Arabic, but will confer confidentially with Ambassador Von Bernstorff are acclaimed by Germany as a new indication of the good will of the American government and its intent to come into an understanding with us.

JAMES J. HILL SAYS BIG LOAN MUST APPEAL TO ALL BANKERS

OF PACIFIC

Discussing the proposed loan of $1,000,000,000 to the allies, James J. Hill, railroad builder and one of the financial geniuses of the country, said: "Any loan that is arranged must be a national loan. It must appeal to bankers all over the country. If a loan should be limited to war munitions and supplies the country banks in the west would take little or no interest in it, and it would undoubtedly prove to be very unpopular in the western section of the country. If, on the other hand, the loan, in addition to covering credits for war munitions and supplies, shall cover the country's exportable foodstuffs and provisions, there is every indication that the western banks, even in the smallest towns, will give it their heartiest support."

SECRET MEETING BETWEEN BANKERS AND COMMISSIONERS

THE ANGLO-FRENCH FINANCIERS MEET BANKERS FROM LEADING FINANCIAL CENTERS OF UNITED STATES

QUESTION AS TO PURPOSE

If Proceeds Will be Used to Buy Commodities and Not War Materials Much Larger Loan Can Be floated Many Financiers Believe

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 17.—Another secret meeting, the third within three days, was held today between members of the Anglo-French financial commission and representatives of big New York, Chicago, Boston and other out of town banking houses negotiating the proposed mammoth credit loan to Great Britain and France. No further word was forthcoming from the commission than its brief statement of last night, saying so much had been accomplished already that it was hoped a definite statement could be issued, telling of the progress made.

The proposal said to have been made by American bankers that the commission be given a loan of half the sum originally asked was widely credited today. The commission let it be known soon after its arrival here that it was seeking a billion dollars; five hundred million it is said has not appeared to be altogether acceptable to the commission and it is believed the sum will be increased by $100,000,000 or possibly to $750,000,000 before negotiations end. What ever is loaned it is generally believed the interest rate will be five per cent to the investor and about five and one-half per cent to the underwriter.

Whether the big credit should be used to pay for shipments of war munitions as well as wheat, cotton and other commodities has been the subject of much discussion among the conferees. It is believed a much larger loan could be floated if it were agreed that the credit would apply only to commodity shipments and that munition shipments would be paid for in some other manner, possibly by gold shipments.

U. S. AND MEXICAN SOLDIERS IN FIGHT ACROSS RIO GRANDE

FIRING STARTED BY IRRESPONSIBLE CARRANZA SOLDIERS WHO WERE REPRIMANDED BY OFFICER.

MEXICANS VIOLATE ORDERS

Officer Shouts Explanation Across the River—Beats Men With Sword—Morning After Effects Independence Day Celebration Are Feared.

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 17.—American cavalrymen and Carranza soldiers had a fifteen minute battle across the river today near the city limits at Brownsville. Soldiers reported they killed one Mexican and hit five others. They saw about 15 Carranza soldiers in two separate groups. No Americans were hit. They were stopped by a Carranza officer who rushed up to his men and reprimanded them in strong language. He then started shouting across the river to the Americans that the Carranza troops who had fired had violated orders. This officer was seen to beat some of the soldiers with his sword to stop the firing.

The fighting started when a part of Troop C Third Cavalry under Lieut. A. N. Glass was sent from here to investigate the killing of a horse and the shooting into a house on the American side of the river by Mexicans on the Mexican side. Lieut. Glass saw two bands of Mexicans on the opposite side of the river behind ditches. The Mexicans opened fire on the Americans. Glass' men about 30 in number took positions on the irrigation ditch and returned the fire.

According to the Mexican officer who stopped the firing an irresponsible band of soldiers broke discipline and started shooting up the American shore. In addition to killing the horse, they shot into a house on the American side occupied by Mexicans. Army patrols today watched even more closely for trouble than they did yesterday, believing that while feeling the morning after effects of the celebration Mexican "bad men" might be more dangerous than they were yesterday. Col. Bullard said that both today and tomorrow night he regarded as critical periods in the conditions of these bandits. That plenty of bandits still are attempting to operate. Col. Bullard's command discovered yesterday. Near Sebastian late yesterday evening four or five men of the 26th Infantry saw a number of Mexicans through the open spaces in the brush at some distance. The Americans opened fire, meanwhile advancing on the Mexicans.

ABOVE AUSTIN DAM STAGE OF 68 FEET HAS BEEN REACHED AND WATER RISING

BIG DAM BELIEVED SAFE

Great Amount of Drift Piled Against It But Flood Gates Reported Working Perfectly.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Sept. 17.—Waters from the big rise in the Llano river emptied into the Colorado have caused a tremendous rise in the Colorado above the Austin dam. The rise began in Lake Austin Thursday night at 9:30 at which time the river stage was 46 feet. The water is now 68 feet high and still rising. Although a big drift reaching back for three hundred feet or more is resting against the dam the big concrete structure is holding intact. The dam flood gates worked perfectly when the high waters struck and the flood rushed through with no damage to the structure.

YOUNG MAN'S SCALP IS ALMOST TORN FROM HEAD

"Doc" Bills of Chillicothe Sustained Painful Injury Beating Way on Passenger Train

With his scalp torn from his head, a young man staggered into the Miller drug store about two o'clock this morning and asked for medical attention. He gave his name as Doc Bills and said his home was in Chillicothe. He sustained the injury when he either fell or jumped from southbound Denver passenger No. 8. Bills was taken to the city hall, where Dr. Moore attended him, and later was removed to the Wichita sanitarium.

The wound is a painful one, but is not expected to result seriously; the scalp was ripped across the top and a portion of it was hanging down over his ear when he was found. His father arrived from Chillicothe this afternoon.

SCHOONER RUBY BRINGS WORD FROM STEFANSON

FIRST DIRECT TIDINGS HEARD FROM ARTIC EXPLORER IN YEAR AND HALF

By Associated Press. Nome, Alaska, Sept. 17.—Biljalmar Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, is safe on Banksland. The schooner Ruby arrived yesterday with dispatches from him to the Canadian government. Stefansson had not previously been heard from since April, 1914 and it generally had been believed that he and several other companions had been lost.

FIRST DIRECT WORD IN YEAR AND A HALF

By Associated Press. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 17.—The receipt at Ogawa, Ontario today of a message from the Biljalmar Stefansson expedition by way of Nome, Alaska was the first direct tidings of the explorer for a year and a half. No news of the explorer and his two companions had been received since their supporting party turned back April 7, 1914 from Camp Separation on the north coast of Alaska. At that time he expected to reach Banksland on the drifting ice but the strong current from the Mackenzie river and unfavorable winds drove the ice to the westward. This drift, it was hoped by Stefansson's friends, would carry the explorer and his companions toward the Siberian coast. On this belief trading schooners and whalers plying the Arctic this summer were asked to keep a sharp lookout for the explorers. Last month vessels arriving at Nome, Alaska after trading along both the Alaskan and Siberian shore of the Arctic reported no trace of Stefansson had been found. There still remained the hope that he had found refuge on the Wrangell island where the survivors of the Stefansson exploration ship, Karik, sought safety, after that vessel was crushed in the ice 18 months ago.

NEW LAND DISCOVERED BY STEFANSON

By Associated Press. Nome, Alaska, Sept. 17.—Stefansson succeeded beyond all expectations in his explorations. He discovered new land southwest of St. Patrick's land. He is now on Banksland outfitting for a continuance of exploration to the southward to ascertain the full extent of the new land.

ENDED LIFE IT IS BELIEVED BECAUSE HE SHOT OFFICER

By Associated Press. Houston, Sept. 17.—Patrolman W. J. Cunningham was shot on July 2 by an unknown suspicious character he had started to arrest. The wound was not fatal. Next morning when it was thought the officer would die Peter Mason, former baseball star, committed suicide. No connection of the two events was thought of until last night when a man was arrested by Cunningham who recognized him as one of the men he had tried to arrest. The man arrested said Mason had fired the shot.

POSSESSION OF TOWN WILL AID VON HINDENBERG IN PROGRESS THROUGH THE PRIPET MARSHES

FIGHTING AT THE DARDANELLES

Turks Claim Successful Attacks While Other Reports Say Defensive Power of Ottomans is Weakening—Artillery Combats Continue on the West

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 17.—Petrograd admits the Russians are falling back in the direction of Timsk, the capture of which was announced yesterday by the Germans. Occupation by the invaders of this town may be expected to facilitate greatly the progress of Field-Marshal Von Mackensen's forces through the Pripet marshes. Situation is feared as is indicated by Duma domestic affairs are occupying the attention of the Russians. The effect of this incident on the military situation is feared, as is indicated by the proclamation by Gen. Ruzsky, Russian commander in the north, calling upon workmen not to slacken their efforts to keep the army well supplied with munitions.

Although no official reports have been received recently from French or British sources severe fighting seems to be under way again on the Gallipoli front. The Turks, according to their report, have made several successful attacks on the Gallipoli peninsula.

Athens and Rome continue to send out reports that the defensive power of the Turk is weakening but no official news has been received in confirmation. Dispatches from Greece express strong belief that Turkey and Bulgaria have definitely reached an agreement but in the near East it is not believed this will lead to actual participation in the war by Bulgaria on the side of the Central powers.

Artillery combats continue on the western front. The German reply to French guns is growing in intensity.

By Associated Press. Laredo, Texas, Sept. 17.—The wreck of a military train resulting in the death of ninety persons took place Wednesday afternoon one mile out of Saltillo, according to advices here today. The military train was en route from Saltillo to Monterey with a large number of troops when due to spreading rails it left the track at a point near a canyon precipitating two coaches with their occupants to the rocks below. Soldiers, women, camp followers, children and babies literally were ground to pieces in the debris. Passengers who arrived today and who had passed the scene of the wreck say that a stack of bodies was visible where they had been piled together preparatory to burial which would take place in deep trenches. All the dead and injured were Mexicans.

OPEN HOUSE HELD BY FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Young Ladies at Tellers' Windows Dispensed Flowers—Money Exposed View in Vaults

The First National Bank, which kept open its doors during the style show, was closed last evening by upwards of 15,000 people. Although the bank has been in its handsome new quarters several months this was the first public "opening" it has held and the public took full advantage of the occasion.

The big vault at the rear of the lobby was thrown open, though the cage door was kept closed so as not to tempt the crowd. Between the bars could be seen the modest sum of $118,000 in silver, gold and paper, none of the amount being shipped in for the occasion.

Some of the gold on display has been in the bank's vault for nearly a quarter of a century being in the reserve. Mr. McGregor yesterday opened up a sack of gold that he sealed before his son, Carter, was born.

STRAW FLIES ARE CAUSING MUCH TROUBLE TO FARMERS

Flies Are Great Annoyance to Live Stock and Interfere Greatly with Farm Work

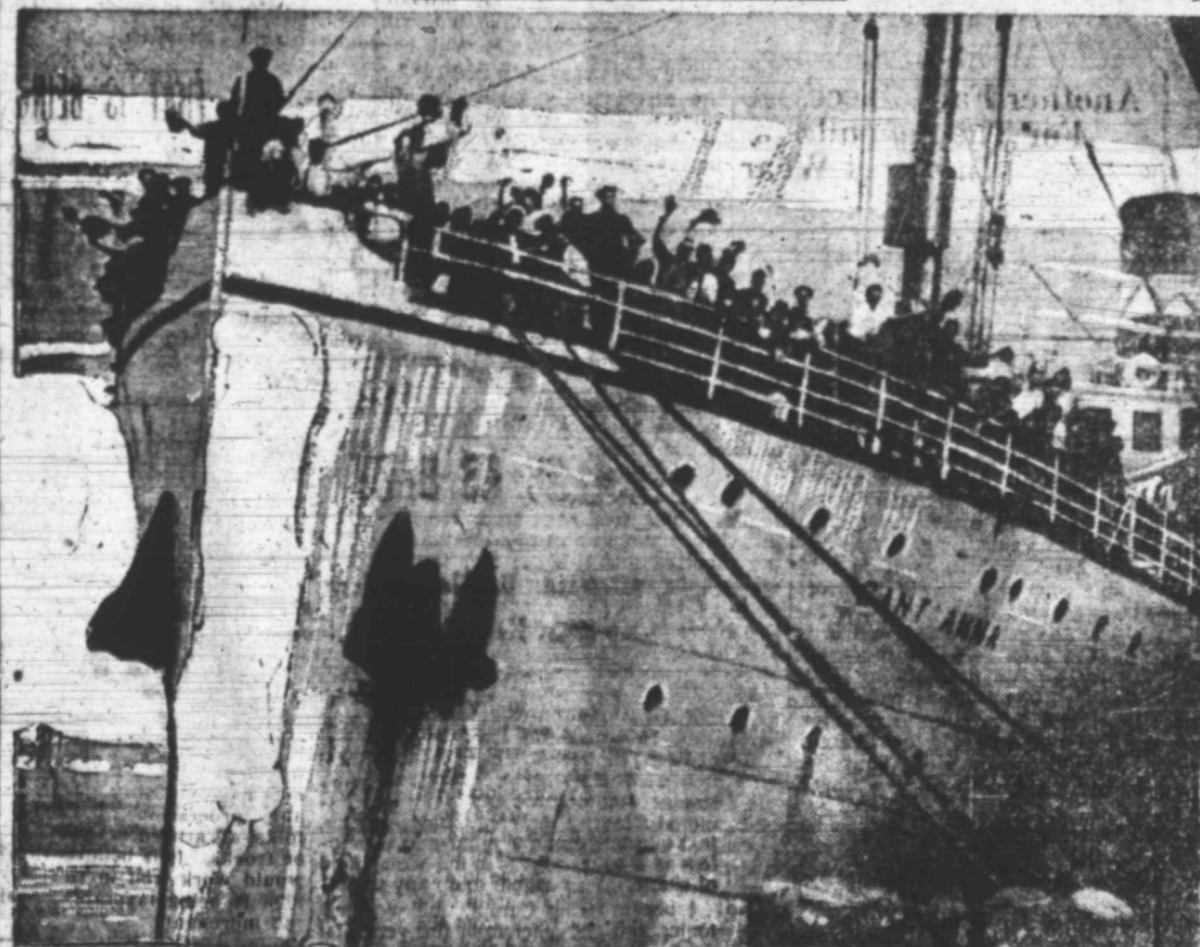

Straw flies have again made their appearance on farms in this section and are causing much annoyance to stock. These flies invariably become numerous when rain falls upon the stacks of wheat straw in which they breed, and they annoy horses to the extent of frequently causing manure. In spite of the fact that this pest could be eliminated by burning the straw promptly after threshing, there does not seem to be any disposition among farmers to take this easy method of prevention.

Nearly 2000 Reservists Aboard The Sant Anna, On Fire At Sea

NEARLY 2000 RESERVISTS ABOARD THE SANT ANNA LEAVING NEW YORK

Nearly 2000 Italian reservists were passengers on board the Fabre line steamer Sant Anna, when she left New York, according to the agents of the line. The ship carried a large cargo of merchandise, but had no munitions of war or inflammable materials of any kind, it was stated. Her cargo consisted chiefly of foodstuffs. "The Sant Anna carried no munitions of war," said Mr. Jones of the shipping firm. "In fact, the Fabre line has not been carrying any arms or ammunition to ports in the Mediterranean touched by its steamers. I cannot understand the cause of the fire. Her merchandise cargo was made up of foodstuffs and provisions." Besides the large number of Italian reservists aboard the Sant Anna, the ship carried a small number of first and second class passengers. Her crew numbered about 100. Fire was discovered in hold 2 of the Sant Anna while she was lying at her pier in South Brooklyn on Sept. 11, 1914. All the goods in that hold were destroyed by fire and water and the loss was estimated at $100,000. The steamer was not injured, it was

The Sant Anna is commanded by Captain Favy and is in the New York-Mediterranean trade. She sailed from this port on Foot 7 for Naples and Marseilles. She is a French vessel and was built at La Seyne, France. Her home flag is that of the Fabre line. She is a steel twin screw vessel of 5,814 tonnage and is 470 feet long. Her calling port is Marseilles.

So at our mother's knees we had been taught to pray.

INTERESTING ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT THURSDAY

With the opening of the fall social season comes the announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of two of the most popular members of the younger social set. Miss Anne Freear and Mr. Burton Stoyton, the announcement being made Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Ivan Murchison, sister of the bride-elect at a charmingly appointed bridge party. Roses in varying shades and in luxurious profusion beautified the rooms of the Murchison home and amid these pleasant settings tables were placed for the game of bridge which preceded the more important phase of the afternoon. The souvenir, a cut glass vase, was cut for Miss Anne Carrigan being fortunate.

When the last game was concluded the table covers were removed and glass luncheon trays for each table brought in. These were set with four covers. In the center a miniature rural mail delivery cart drawn by a tiny white horse gave a hint that something out of the ordinary was to happen. Pink ribbons led from the cart to each plate and the guests found at the end of these ribbons small envelopes with the communication that "Oct. 14, 1915 Anne Freear ceases to be." Congratulations then followed and a discussion of wedding details and the thousand and one things of interest aroused by the announcement was enjoyed with the luncheon course. The refreshment plate was unusually attractive with bread and butter sandwiches simulating engagement rings, heart molds of salad, creamed chicken in heart shaped patties, ice tea, cheese balls and olives. The ice was served in pink rose cases with pink and white cake. As the announcement was read Mrs. Overton McDowell at the piano rendered the preliminary strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March as an appropriate musical setting. Mrs. Murchison in making this interesting announcement was assisted in her duties as hostess by her mother, Mrs. W. A. Freear.

As the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Freear, the bride-elect has been an important and in-

BIG PASTURE FARMERS WARNED ABOUT HESSIAN FLY

Several farmers reported in the summer that the Hessian fly had reached Tillman county, especially the vicinity of Holister. While I was unable to find any certain evidence of it I am convinced that we should watch our step as it is certainly moving rapidly southward. There is a way to handle this pest but cooperation on the part of wheat growers is necessary. I wish to ask that all wheat raisers examine the volunteer wheat for evidence of infestation and report any suspicious cases to me. The insect probably yet in the larval stage but will soon begin to emerge. It will be found under the blades right at the top of the ground or a little beneath the surface. The eggs for the fall brood or the brood that passes the winter in the larval stage will be laid between now and the first killing frost. The remedy is to disk up all volunteer wheat and to defer sowing the crop until about October 25 or November 1. Of course this will spoil our fall pasture but we cannot afford to sacrifice the wheat growing industry for a few weeks pasture. The fly will attack barley and rye but not oats, so we might substitute oats for all pasture.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Samuel Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emery, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with neuralgia in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

I began taking Cardui, the womanly tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 45 years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

NOW IT IS DRESS UP WEEK THAT IS BEING TALKED

Continuous Open Air Style Show is Being Considered as Next on Wichita Calendar

A "dress-up week" for Wichita Falls is now planned. A "dress-up week" is one set aside in which everyone is expected to appear in his very best togs, making a sort of continuous open air style show. The idea has been tried with marked success in eastern cities in the past, and this year some Texas cities have adopted it.

A meeting of the merchants will probably be held this afternoon at which the matter will be discussed and some decision reached. The time has been tentatively set for the week beginning October 4th, and the mayor will be asked to issue a proclamation for it.

The idea is to give everyone an opportunity to show off his or her new fall clothes, not merely on "dress-up" occasions, but in the regular course of business, and in places where the idea has been adopted there is a veritable procession of spick and span folk, all attired in their new fall suits or frocks. It is believed that the plan would work well in this city and the idea is being favorably considered by the merchants.

BIG PASTURE FARMERS LOSE IN GALVESTON STORM

(Grandfield Enterprise)
Fred Varner has returned from Galveston, where he went in the interest of Big Pasture farmers to try to recover for them cotton lost in the recent gulf storm. Several hundred bales had been consigned by local farmers to cotton warehouses at Galveston. Most of this cotton was scattered along the beach and all the marketing sabotaged. The result has been to pool this cotton, sell it and forfeit the money. Mr. Varner does not believe the owners will have much left after expense of selling the cotton has been deducted.

J. F. Riggs held a little style show of his own at his store on Ohio avenue this morning. The store was opened this morning and the first business was the sale of a pair of suits at $10.00. Big crowds thronged the store throughout the morning and the clerks were scarcely able to wait on all the customers. Mr. Riggs makes a specialty of handling "miffit" suits from some of the big tailoring houses in the north east.

The Rexall Store also entered into the spirit of the style show with an attractive new window display and other displays noticed were those of C. H. Hardeman and B. B. King, grocers. The windows of the Fair were newly draped for this occasion and the Robertson Furniture Company was also open and had a display of children's beds.

H. B. Danville, representing the Southern Amusement Co., was here today arranging for the engagement of his company here on the week beginning October 14th. The Southern Amusement Co. has one of the biggest carnivals operating in the South. Arrangements have been made for the grounds on Ohio avenue near the Wichita Mill and Elevator Co.

We Could Bluff, Too.

There are a lot of fourflushers who go through life without learning that fourflushing is a fine art. Such are beneath contempt. But one has great admiration for those few who have mastered the game.

"If a man called me a liar," asserted one of such, "I'd sail in and lick him. If he weighed three hundred pounds!"

"Well, you big bluff," answered one who was tired of listening, "I call you, right here and now. You're a liar!"

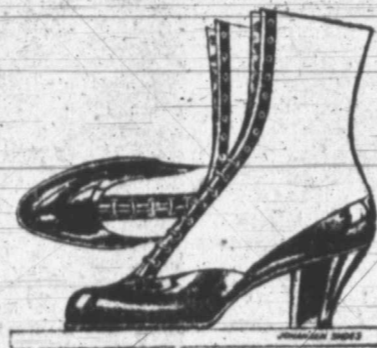

"Bluff, yourself!" came back the artist, without a minute's hesitation. "You don't weigh more than one-fifty and you know what I said."

The requirement for accuracy in railway watches in particular, and for others as well, is becoming more exacting every day. Horologists are at their wits' end to meet them. The time is surely coming when a purely mechanical device will no longer suffice to produce sufficient accuracy. What then? Some other force of nature must be enlisted. What will it be? What else but that mysterious force, electricity? That wonderful power which is being harnessed to lighten man's burdens and minister to his wants and pleasures. Yes; wireless electricity is destined to solve the problem.—Scientific American.

Ringlings' circus will appear in Wichita Falls this year, about October 20, according to S. J. Pettit, advance man for the show, who is here today. The exact date of its appearance here is not known, as it may be necessary to cancel some dates in South Texas on account of the recent gulf storm. The date will be October 19, 20 or 21.

The circus will appear either on the old show grounds at the foot of Seventh street, or at the corner of Ninth and Denver streets near the car barns. Mr. Pettit contracted with H. H. Davidson for the placing of the show's paper and the posters will make their appearance shortly.

Market Reports

Chicago Grain Futures:
Chicago, Sept. 17.—In the wheat market assertions that northwestern farmers were selling wheat on quite a liberal scale tended to bring about a setback. The close was weak, ranging from one to one and one-half net lower to one cent advance, with December at 95 3-8 to 1/2 and May at 8 1-8. Corn hardened with wheat, at first though the market gave evidence that ideal weather was not altogether lost sight of. After opening unchanged to one cent lower, prices scored moderate gains all around. The close was steady at 1 1/4 under last night. Oats reflected

New York Futures:
New York, Sept. 17.—Firmness of Liverpool and reports that offerings of spot cotton from the south late yesterday were higher appeared to bring a good many buying orders into the markets here at the opening day and prices were firm at an advance of 10 to 14 points with October selling at 10.32 and Jan. at 11.25.

Fluctuations were very irregular during the entire morning but there seemed to be a good deal of cotton for sale on rallies and the market worked off to a net loss of 8 to 4 points before midday with October selling at 10.68 and January at 11.17.

Kansas City Cash Grain:
Kansas City, Sept. 17.—Wheat No. 2 hard 1.04 to 1.09; No. 2 red 1.12 to 1.15; Corn No. 2 mixed 69 to 70; No. 2 white 69 to 70; Oats No. 2 white 37 1-2 to 38 1-2; No. 2 mixed 34 to 35.

Fort Worth Livestock:
Fort Worth, Sept. 17.—Cattle receipts 1500, market lower and uneven. Hogs 2000, twenty cents decline, heavies $7.50 to $7.55. Sheep receipts 300, no quotable change.

Miss Hazel Jones will be hostess to the Just So Club Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All members urged to attend.

NEW YORK FINANCIER RECOVERING FROM POISONING.
Special to The Times.
New York, Sept. 17.—Newman Erb, financier and railroad reorganizer, who swallowed two poison tablets by mistake last Tuesday, was today reported to be resting comfortably after having passed a quiet night. Although the four physicians attending Mr. Erb at his hotel, N. Y., summer home said the railroad man has a fair chance for recovery, the next three days will mark the most critical period.

STEAMER DAMAGED IN COLLISION REACHES MONTREAL.
By Associated Press.
Montreal, Sept. 17.—The Praetorian of the Allan line which was in a collision with the steamship Kansas, below Quebec on Wednesday reached port today. The liner's bow plates had been set back and it is probable she will have to go into dry dock here for repairs.

AT THE THEATERS

The Lamar Ardome.
Gene Gauntier and Jack Clark are featured on the picture program and an interesting vaudeville turn is given by Miss Cortez in a number of poses.

"Gene of the Northland" is a drama of the Canadian Northwest which fairly breathes the spirit of the pinewoods, the white capped mountain tops and the enormous level expanses of plain between the lake country and the western ranges. It tells a gripping, red blooded story in which the mounted police, half-breed, stern Anglo-Saxons and French habitants all have a part. The original scenario was written by Gene Gauntier and the play was produced by Jack J. Clark.

The Majestic.
Bryant Washburn and Ruth Stonehouse are featured in "The Call of Yesterday" a two part Essanay in which Mr. Washburn has an especially appealing part. Other pictures are a Mina comedy, "On the Job" and "The Rajah's Tunic" featuring Nell Craig.

Emilio Braga, the arch criminal, has fled to Paris and left Dominica in the lurch, almost penniless. Dominica meets "English Jeff" a crackle hand, meanwhile, has been rescued by the "Rajah's Tunic" said to be encrusted with jewels and worth an enormous sum. Dalrymple is a sculptor and Dominica seeks employment as a model. Dalrymple wants her to pose in the altogether, but she refuses. She learns where the tunic is hidden and lets English Jeff into the studio while Dalrymple is supposed to be away. Dalrymple catches them and lashes Jeff with a whip. Dalrymple then threatens Dominica with prison if she will not pose as he wishes her and she consents through fear.

The Gem.
Five reels of pictures including the eighth chapter of "The Goddess" makes today's program.

While Celestia's future actions are predicted in this number she accomplishes little actually. Tommy leaving his father goes to aid the coal strikers in Pennsylvania. Then Celestia gets an invitation to speak at a reception given in her honor by Mary Blackstone.

She accepts and then the rest of the last reel, about half, is devoted to Freddy's preparation for the evening for he must escort Celestia to the house. He has a terrible time with a dress suit, high collar, tight shoes and trick hat, but finally manages to array himself in all of them. There is good comedy and good drama in this installment, which is just as interesting as the previous chapters.

The Empress.
Winifred Greenwood and Ed Coxen are featured in "The Deception" a two part drama by the American Film Company. Other pictures for today are "The Straw Man" a Majestic drama in which a little boy and his grandfather are the heroes and

MRS. CECIL NOW ARDENT CHAMPION

Dallas, Texas, September 15, 1915.—Mrs. J. D. Cecil, who is connected with Hill's dairy, is an ardent champion of the merits of Tanlac since she began taking it some time ago. Mrs. Cecil lives on Dealy Avenue, Dallas, and her statement follows:

"I was in a very bad shape for some time. I had been feeling badly for months and it seemed a great effort for me to muster sufficient energy to attend to my duties. I also suffered from biliousness, which made me sluggish and further contributed to my run down condition."

"I saw from the newspapers what Tanlac was doing for other Dallas people and a little over a week ago I bought a bottle. After taking it a few days I felt invigorated and rapidly regained my appetite and I can now enjoy my meals. I think Tanlac is the best tonic I ever used. It consequently gives me great pleasure to recommend it to those in the same condition that I was in. I am now here for my second bottle."

"Tanlac will continue to be explained at the Palace Drug Store." (Advertisement.)

"Tangled Paths" a two part tale with Francella Billington featured. A story of this last named picture is given. Ben Rand and Jack Doe love Nell Summers. Doe proposes and is rejected. Soon after this, Nell becomes engaged to Rand. Rand is ambitious to make some money and urges Doe to go with him to the gold fields. The latter, seeing in this plan a hope of ridding himself of Rand and getting the girl for himself, consents. The young prospectors strike it rich. Doe determines to use desperate means. He shoots Rand in the back, stakes the claim and returns East with the news of his partner's death. Doe is now a rich man. Nell, urged by her mother, promises to marry him. Rand, meanwhile, has been rescued by the gypsies and nursed back to health by a girl of the tribe. The Romany girl loves him, but he does not return her affection. As last he leaves the gypsies to return to Nell. Happening to pick up a paper in which is the announcement of Nell's engagement to Doe, Rand concludes that the girl he loves has forgotten him and goes back to the gypsies. Some weeks later, at a shore resort, the gypsy girl discovers Doe, Nell and her mother. She learns that this is the girl for whom Rand is grieving, and conspires to bring them together. But, meanwhile, Rand and Doe have met. Doe, astounded to see his old pal alive, steps back over the cliff and is killed. Rand marries Nell.

ELECTRA TEAM HAS WON ELEVEN GAMES STRAIGHT Has Defeated Everything in This Part of Country and Have Run Out of Opponents

(Electra News) What the Sam Hill is Electra going to do with the remainder of the baseball season? Is the question that is being asked for the past week, and it seems that it is a hard question to answer. Our boys have very plainly demonstrated their superiority over everything in this neck of the woods—in fact, for the past two months there has not been anything to even interest them and as the result the fans are getting tired of going to see games when there is nothing but a walk over. Electra has fourteen of her last fifteen games and the last eleven of them straight. These games have been played with Wichita Falls, Petrolia, Iowa Park, Vernon and Chillicothe, Blue Grove a little town about eleven miles east of Henrietta is claimed to have a team that has won its last ten games and our boys thought they were coming here last Sunday, but for some reason or another the game was cancelled. Vernon came down and received her usual defeat by a score of 6 to 0.

There is one thing that can be said of the Vernon team, and that is that it is composed of the most gentlemanly fellows and the cleanest base ball players that have ever visited Electra, and from the time the game begins until the finish there is no squabbling and fans enjoy seeing a ball game and not a rag chewing match. Petty pitched another wonderful game for Electra Sunday, allowing only two scratch hits and fanning eighteen men. However a good part of Petty's success can be attributed to the catching of Sylvester, who is thoroughly acquainted with the south paw and know how to make him work to the best advantage. It is now understood that Childress is going to be here next Sunday to try her luck, and here's hoping that they at least furnish us with a ball game but may Electra continue to win.

FARMERS FIX PRICES, DEALERS ORGANIZE FOR PROTECTION
London.—An amalgamation of the three largest dairy companies in England has just been effected here. The new corporation, to be known as the United Dairies, has a capital of $5,000,000 and will control the bulk of the trade of London and the surrounding district.
According to the big dairy men, the combination was made necessary by the strength of the farmers' organizations, which fix the wholesale price which the dairy companies must pay for milk. These farmers' societies which are banded together in a strong central body, have recently been considering radical changes in the milk contracts, and their delegates will meet this month to fix the wholesale prices for the coming twelve months.

PAYS BIG DIVIDENDS
Keeping the place up pays the biggest kind of dividends, if you only stop to think about it. Keeping the fence repaired, the out-buildings in good shape and the leaky place in the roof patched, gives a property a value on the market, that a run-down house never has. If you need any lumber—no matter in what quantities—we will be glad to furnish it to you, and will guarantee to give you the best quality at prices as low as you can find anywhere. We take just as much pains with an order for one or two boards or a bundle of shingles as we do for a carload.

LIFE LIKE CONTEST
SPEAKER DECLARES

REV. C. C. SMITH DRAWS LESSON
FROM GRIDIRON SPEAKING ON "DIVINE INTENTION"

PAUL CALLED TO BE SAINTS
DIVINE GOAL SET FORTH

Words of Paul "Called to Be Saints"
Text of Interesting Sermon
Sunday Evening

"Life is not unlike a contest," said Rev. Chas. Clark Smith at the First Methodist Church Sunday evening. "There is strife to it. Our enemies may not be men but they are none the less enemies. Our own dispositions and habits may be our worst enemies against which we must wage incessant battles. It is a hand to hand struggle and our victory or defeat will be decisive. There is no half way about it. We are in to win or lose. We fight no draws in the conflict of life. We may not be able to master every difficulty but if we fight well we will rise as moral victors over every difficulty and that is the real contest. We may sometimes be seemingly overpowered by circumstances but in soul we need not be overmastered and we may be having our greatest victory when the onlooker thinks we are in the midst of defeat. The score may seem against us but if we acquit ourselves like men we have won a victory."

Rev. Smith's subject was "The Divine Intention." His text was Romans 1:7, "Called to be Saints."

Meaning of Word Saint.

He said we use the word saint to characterize one who has attained marked goodness, one who is well nigh perfect in character. This, he said, was not far from the original meaning of the word in the sense in which Paul used it. It was the daily business of the people of whom Paul spoke to be righteous. "Called to be Saints," Paul looked upon Christian life as something entirely inseparable from moral excellence. "Paul's writing," he said, "is larded around one central idea. He is essentially athletic in his temperament and views life as a contest. It is an individual battle like the ancient hand to hand fighting and it is either win or lose. In this battle of life there are two kinds of defeat. One may go down in a physical defeat after having done his best which defeat is in reality a victory. Or one may go down to disgraceful defeat simply because he did not do his best, which sort of defeat is defeat indeed. Paul seeks to show these Christians that sainthood is a sort of goal which is to be the ideal of all Christian living. If we do our best we will attain it while doubtless we will come short of perfection but may still have a sense of failure. If we do less than what we should we will fall with only our selves to blame for failure. To idly fall below this goal is defeat. One may make many a stumble in reaching after this goal but when he attains it he has won the fight."

Seeming Defeat Was Victory.

Rev. Smith drew an illustration from his college days, showing where seeming defeat was, in reality victory. His college football team went to a neighboring college to play. They played cleanly and hard and the score was a tie. They returned home they found the whole college at the depot to welcome them. They had met honorably their defeat and in a large sense were victors, he said.

Much Depends on Our Goal.

"Our success or failure in life," he said, "is measured very largely by a goal which we may set for ourselves. What is the mark we have set for ourselves? What mark will determine whether we have won or lost? To illustrate again from the athletic field—it is not at all uncommon when a weaker team is to play a stronger to play a relative score that will be recorded as victory. The weaker team will be well satisfied if only they can score on their opponents and keep their score down within reasonable limits. They fix upon a score which while against them is still relatively a victory. How shall we gauge our lives? Some people have their ideals of achievement very low. They get what they set out after and accordingly have won but their winning is very insignificant. We are called to be saints. We should set our ideal high and then even if we fall in attaining that high ideal as the world counts failure still because of our worthy effort we have won a great victory that had we set our goal low. How shall we judge our lives? What sort of standard have we fixed ourselves which will proclaim us victors, falling which will proclaim us losers? There is of course an absolute standard according to which God measures, but what is our standard of measurement? God calls us to be saints. How nearly does our standard of life correspond with that?"

"Paul sets forth the divine goal in these words: 'We are called to be good men and women. Success in life is to develop goodness. He who lives a good life is succeeding. Some conditions may seem adverse to the good man, but he is not to be fighting a losing battle, but he is becoming a good man he is winning. Goodness is the divine goal. We are so prone to measure success by material things that it is hard to use the word probably in connection with soul achievements. But it is plainer today than ever that success is to be measured in terms of character rather than in dollars."

"Our call to be saints therefore should inspire us. That is what God sees in us. If it is in us we ought to desire very much to bring it out. We should use every power we have to win. If we play the game to the best of our ability we have victory though the score may seem to be against us. A true conception of what we are and of what we are called to will help us to have much compassion for the man who is fighting apparently a losing battle. We will want to see him win too. We may even forget ourselves long enough to give him some help. Paul spent his life trying to help others to sainthood little knowing that in so doing he himself was on the surest way to that sort of goodness."

The Winner of the Contest. "Called to be saints, therefore, is called to be good men and women. The good man has mastered sin. He is strong. He has won great victory. He is a helpful man. He sets a good example and inspires and helps others to victory. There were only a few of those saints down at Rome but what a heaven they provided. In a few years they were turning that old empire upside down. A few saints in a community will soon all unconsciously use themselves known. If Paul were writing to us and should address us as saints as he used the word then meaning consecrated, devoted Christian people how many of us could worthily wear the title? Have we set a worthy goal for our lives? Are we doing our best to be good men and women? This is an old fashioned question but it is worthy of our most earnest consideration."

MET INDIAN WHO TRIED TO ESALP HIM.

Tuesday Fred Estes, a pioneer citizen of Childress but now living in Memphis, came down to visit the Childress County Fair, and while here he called on old Kromartie, one of the underchiefs of the Kiowa Indians who are spending the three days here. In talking with the old Indian, Mr. Estes reminded him that some 36 years ago he was given a hard chase by hand and knife near Quasah. At the mention of this incident, Old Kromartie's face brightened up and in broken English he declared, "Ugh! Ugh! member," and other exclamations, showing that beyond all doubt he was one of the band of thirty-seven Kiowas that gave Mr. Estes and his brother, Joe, a terrific chase for their lives, after killing and scalping another man by the name of Joe Earl. On learning that Mr. Estes had played the leading part in one of his old chases, the old warrior became quite demonstrative, shook Mr. Estes' hand warmly and very clearly indicated his pleasure at the meeting. The incident caused the old man to grow reminiscent concerning the days of his youth and he told how he and his companions used to make war on the white men and take their scalps, but concluded by a rather regretful sigh, "all gone now."

FOUR ARRESTS SUNDAY UNDER TRAFFIC LAW

Those Arrested are Autolists Charged With Running Past Standing Street Car

Four arrests under the traffic ordinance were made Sunday, each being for running past a street car. The cases were set for trial in the city court today. A special officer made the round of the downtown loop Sunday afternoon, keeping a watch on the traffic situation.

Some misunderstanding appears to exist as to the meaning of the traffic ordinance on running past street cars, which is the "blind" side. The "blind" side is the one opposite to that on which passengers are discharged; autolists may pass a street car on the blind side, but must go slow and not closer than seven feet to the car. They must not pass on the open side of the car, the side on which passengers are getting on and off, under any circumstances, but must bring their machines to a full stop until the street car has passed on.

The police department expects to enforce the traffic provisions with more strictness this week, believing that the public had had ample time to become acquainted with it. Arrests for failure to take out city license will probably be made in a short time.

Pay Day On Board The Lord Nelson,
Now Operating At The Dardanelles

PAY DAY IN WAR TIME

JEWIS HERE TO OBSERVE THE DAY OF ATONEMENT

Observance Begins at Sundown Friday Stores Conducted by Jews Will Be Closed Saturday

Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, the most solemn of the Hebrew calendar begins next Friday at sundown. In observance of the day all stores in the city conducted by members of the Jewish race will close promptly at 6 o'clock Friday evening and will remain closed until 6 o'clock Saturday evening. Services will be conducted by the local orthodox congregation here.

The following relative to Yom Kippur is furnished by the Central Conference of American Rabbis:

The initial service is held in the evening of the 17th of September. The entire day of the 18th of September is devoted to it. The ritual of the day is public and congregational; the significance is personal.

The day brings the people together because they share the limitations of human nature and because they are equally aware of the fact that our careers, whatever they may be to others, satisfy or dissatisfy ourselves in accordance with our moral or immoral interests. This Holy Day gives opportunity for earnest thought on our inner life. The difficulties men encounter in the course of a busy year may prove after self-examination to be not "degrees" of God but instances of their own shortcomings. The ancients frankly and humbly called them "sins."

The reminiscences of centuries cling to this day of days and make its lessons suggestive and impressive. In ancient times priestly solemnities invested it with dignity and the persecutions of later times gave

It is a pathos and intense fervor. It is always a salutary experience to face the facts of life as they are to realize that there are illusions and delusions, to bring home to ourselves the truth that we work under the limitations of mind, heart and will. Men who feel their responsibilities will neither ignore this reminder nor evade the appeal. They will frankly avow the shortcomings of their common human nature in midst of their fellowmen. The Day of Atonement is not for selfish purposes, as little as for penitence which is merely penance. It is for moral uplift, by which we may acquire moral strength. The first act of moral health is humility.

The ritual of the day expresses goodness, sympathy and a desire to attain to a moral will. And so do the customs of the day. Fasting is meant as a discipline of self-control, the sponsor of any virtues. Concentration upon the problems of character makes it easy and noble. Public confession of sins is an act of will, an assertion of the best in one's self. The day brings men together in a consciousness of their common mortality. Judaism makes men genuinely democratic; it makes them realize that they are equal before God.

One phase of the ritual of the day is the thought and memory of the dead. Each man thinks of the void that has come into his career through the loss of kindred and of the obligations he has because of it. And all think of the eminent dead, of the men of efficiency and world influence, who have served and advanced the good of the world. In this, too, there is evidence of the democracy of Judaism. Whatever their origin or place, the great and good are mentioned with appreciation.

Six Inch Gun On Stern Complicates The Hesperian Sinking Controversy

HESPERIAN - CROSS INDICATES WHERE SHE CARRIED GUN

Almost simultaneously with the receipt from Consul Frost, at Queens town, of an affidavit of four officers of the Hesperian, giving their version of the sinking of that vessel and admitting that she carried a six inch gun mounted on her stern, the fact became known that the state department had taken up for reconsideration its decision of last fall regarding the arming of merchantmen. There are indications in official circles that the government may now change its attitude as to what is to be regarded hereafter as constituting an armed merchantman. The question is now being seriously considered whether a merchant vessel ought to have complete immunity if it mounts a six inch gun in the stern. A weapon of this size is capable of sinking a submarine and it is argued that such a gun on a passenger ship might prove not only a temptation to the officers for resisting a submarine but that even if the gun were not used its presence on the merchantman complicates the circumstances of the case. It is not contended that the mere presence of a gun that is not used against a submarine can be regarded as forcible resistance such as would strip the merchant vessel of immunity, but it is being seriously considered whether a vessel that assumes to proceed on an innocent voyage can be regarded as having the same status as a merchant vessel that carries no guns.

CORPUS CHRISTI WITNESS TALKS LIKE TEDDY ROOSEVELT

ABSAILS SOME OF DEFENDANTS IN VOTE BUYING CASES AS "CROOKED POLITICIANS" AND UNDESIRABLE

COUNTY TAINTED BY TIMON

Witness Declared Neuces County Not Fit to Live in With Such a Judge as Timon Operating in Election and Corrupting Ballot

By Associated Press. Corpus Christi, Texas, Sept. 13.—Before the defense in the election cases on trial in the United States district court had its inning here today the proceedings in the case took a distinct turn when Matt L. Dunn was recalled by the government to continue his testimony of Saturday in which he attempted to repeat an alleged conversation with the defendant, Tom Dunn. He related his story and then finally said the conversation concerning the proposed purchase of votes had reference to the primary election of July 25 and not the general election in November.

On the stand he assailed a number of the defendants as "crooked politicians" and stated that "this county was not fit to live in with such men as Judge Timon operating in the election." This was during the cross examination. Dunn declared that he sought information as to vote buying from his cousin, Tom Dunn, that he might enlist the aid of federal authorities in the election and of crooked politics in Neuces county. He said that he believed at the time he could protect his cousin and that he had no idea of incriminating the latter.

CONCRETE CAUSEWAY AT LAKE SPILLWAY

ROADWAY SIXTEEN FEET WIDE WILL BE BUILT BY WATER CO. AND THE COUNTY

PHONE BILLS OF OFFICER

Location of Payment Makes Peopleing Problem for Commissioners Now in Session

A concrete crossing has been agreed upon by the water company and the county commissioners as a solution of the spillway problem at today's session of the county commissioners, the work was ordered to go forward. A concrete roadway sixteen feet wide will be constructed across the lake bed a short distance above the railroad bridge. A law of the water company as that while the corporation did not feel that it was legally bound to do this work, it was willing to share the cost with the county.

The question of a bridge was brought up, the objection being made by both the commissioners and the water company that to build a trestle or bridge would mean another batch of damage suits as soon as there is another overflow. The concrete causeway will be passable all times for wagons and there will be very few days when automobiles cannot get across.

The commissioners are this afternoon considering the publication of the delinquent tax list, with several publishers on hand to discuss the question. No decision had been reached at 3 o'clock.

Payment was made for several bills not yet paid, including the printer's bill of $41.

Accounts presented by some of the county officials for their stamp and telephone bills caused a reopening of this question. County Judge Harris had fortified himself with a ruling from Attorney General Looney holding that in counties where the fee bill is not in effect, the county may issue and tabulate stamps as a stamp bill out of the general fund. This has been a topic of controversy between the commissioners and some of the officials for some time.

"Nothin' But Niggers Shootin' Me" Bates Told The Officer

Henderson Bates, a well known negro barber, was shot twice late Sunday, one load of bird shot taking effect in his face and another in his hip. Neither wound was dangerous. Lather Brown another negro was arrested following the shooting, but was released this morning after an examining trial before Justice Howard.

It was brought out that Bates has been too assiduous in his attention to Brown's wife and that he disregarded Brown's warning to remain away. There were some words between the two men and some threats passed. Brown then obtained a shotgun and when he next saw Bates, about 75 yards away, he fired four times with the automatic.

The officers on their way to investigate met Bates coming toward town. "Where was the shooting?" they asked. "It wasn't nothing but a nigger shootin' me" replied Bates.

ITALIAN SOLDIERS WELL CARED FOR

COMRADESHIP EXISTS BETWEEN OFFICERS AND MEN NOT IN ANY OTHER ARMY

VISIT TO FRONT DESCRIBED

Simple Yet Business Like Manner of Operations Most Impressive—Cold and Heat Problems

The Italian Front in Trento, Sept. 13.—A foreigner visiting the Italian army along any of the fronts is quickly impressed with the camaraderie existing between officers and men.

This friendly spirit between officers and men has actually made for excellent discipline and bravery, military experts state.

Provisions for Comfort. In addition there are numerous relief carried on by private and public subscription by an English woman.

Along the front in the Trentino one rises rapidly from the heat of the valleys to the sharp cold of the Alpine heights.

Over the entrance to the officers' mess is chiseled "Grand Hotel Moritz." In the center of the hotel hangs a cage containing a canary captured in the Austrian trench.

Evidence of Fighting. On the heights overlooking the Dolomite road there is much evidence of recent battles in that region.

The Italian officers have already accomplished much in transporting large siege guns in the mountains, as well as keeping an adequate supply of ammunition and food on hand.

From General Cardona down to the ordinary private, one is everywhere impressed with the simple, yet business like manner of the operations.

Close to the front of the eastern frontiers of the Dolomites, the Italian army is quickly impressed with the camaraderie existing between officers and men.

QUARANTINE REGULATIONS WORKING A HARDSHIP

By Associated Press. Eagle Pass, Texas, Sept. 13.—State Quarantine Officer B. E. McFarland today wired Governor Ferguson at Austin asking for a modification of the quarantine order which today has kept a great number of Mexican workmen who reside at Piedras Negras from coming to their jobs.

The situation is entirely different however, in the territory that was Austrian until ten weeks or so ago. Sentries are apparently everywhere and everything is under military control.

With the ground now thoroughly moistened, preparation for the planting of the new wheat crop can proceed.

INDIANAPOLIS MAYOR CHARGES CONSPIRACY Indianapolis, Ind., September 15.—That the prosecution of Mayor Joseph E. Bell was planned in the office of the owner of the Indianapolis News was the assertion of Attorney Michael Ryan defense counsel. Ryan, in his opening statement, charged that Prosecutor Rucker met with the owners of the News and Davis (Bat) Materson of Terre Haute in the News office and that Materson was handed $50 that day and started to Chicago to round up his men. "Isn't it peculiar," said Ryan "that the state should get its attorney and its chief witness from Terre Haute?" That the Bell election corruption conspiracy trial will in bitterness outrank anything in the State's history was indicated when Ryan resumed his opening statement. Ryan charged that the prosecutions were instigated by the News in retaliation for the libel suits filed against newspaper by Thomas Taggart, Mayor Bell and Chief of Police Sam V. Perrott, all defendants to the indictment. The attorney also asserted it came from the desire of Alvah J. Rucker, the young prosecutor recently from Indiana University, "to become the greatest man in Indiana." He asserted Rucker was the "tool of the News." Ryan denied that Thomas Taggart had collected $1,000 from breweries for a slush fund or for any purpose as charged by the State.

OUR CONTROVERSY WITH BRITAIN

"YOU DID IT YOURSELF" SAYS JOHN BULL TO UNCLE SAM ANSWERING PROTEST.

CIVIL WAR BLOCKADE CITED

American Government Contending for Right of Trade in Non-Contraband With Neutral Ports. Summarizing various press reports and diplomatic exchanges in its September number, Current Opinion gives the following account of our differences with Great Britain in the matter of contraband and non-contraband cargoes: "Neutrals," said Sir Edward Carson, attorney general of Great Britain, recently, "are the executive power to compel observance of the principles of international law, and if they fail to do so the result must be disastrous to the world at large, in the present and in the future, and give free play to a savagery and barbarism which is none the less revolting because it carries out its methods by the aid of the discoveries of scientific research and progress."

Not Merely Dollars and Cents. Our own conception of that issue is that in the case of both countries we have become the chief custodians of international law and the rights of neutral nations. The British press persists in regarding our contention as one for material interest and that alone. To the neutral, says the London Daily News, a continuance of the blockade on the present lines involves a detriment that is merely financial, and even so, not considerable. Americans will not, says the London Morning Post, we are sure, in this great crisis allow material considerations of passing magnitude to individuals but no more than a grain of sand in the scale of civilization to imperil the world's future. With this British view of the issue as a merely material issue, expressible in dollars and cents, the American press is entirely at odds. "The matter is not simply one of maintaining the rights of one neutral," as the Indianapolis News puts it, "but of standing by the law that protects the rights of all neutrals, not only in this war but in any wars that may follow."

In other words, just as Germany feels that she is fighting for kultur and England feels that her fight is for civilization, so America feels that she is called on to uphold the rights of neutral nations that have been established by centuries of struggle. One of those rights is the freedom of the seas for neutral ships and neutral cargoes subject to only two kinds of restrictions—those that pertain to contraband and those that pertain to blockade. Our clash with Germany grows out of the restrictions that she claims the right to impose upon contraband and the ships that carry it. Our clash with Great Britain grows out of the restrictions that she assumes to impose in the name of a blockade. While the acts of one nation have resulted in the loss of American lives as well as American property, and the acts of the other have resulted in the loss of American property alone, both nations are regarded by our government as alike violators of international law. The New York Evening Sun, however, discerns a difference which it considers important. It says: "The difference between his (Sir Edward Grey's) position and the German is that he only argues that the details of application of international law are subject to change, while the principles remain immutable, while in fact if not in words the Germans assume to sweep all principles however fundamental aside and to place themselves above all law. Sir Edward Grey contends that the methods so far used by England are justified by international law as established in regard to blockades. "The one principle," he holds, "which is fundamental and has obtained universal recognition is that, by means of blockade, a belligerent is entitled to cut off the sea borne commerce of his enemy."

Now it so happens that German commerce can pass as conveniently through neutral ports as through its own. Rotterdam is indeed the nearest outlet for some of the industrial districts of Germany. A blockade limited to German ports would therefore leave open routes by which its commerce could pass almost as easily as through its own ports. To render such a blockade effective, then, commerce must be intercepted on the way to or from such ports. This, Sir Edward maintains, may be done lawfully provided it is established that such commerce is really German commerce and not destined to or proceeding from the neutral state. If it be recognized (he says) that the blockade is in certain cases the appropriate method of intercepting the trade of an enemy country, and if the blockade can only become effective by extending it to enemy commerce passing through neutral ports, such an extension is defensible and in accordance with principles of international law, have met with general acceptance. "The Continuous Voyage." This is the nub of the British case. To sustain it Sir Edward refers to the action taken by this government at the time of our Civil War, when a blockade was declared against the Confederate ports and cargoes were intercepted on their way to neutral ports in West Indies from which they were to be reshipped to Confederate ports. The case of the Springbok is cited. Our course in intercepting her on her way to Nassau was, we are reminded, condemned by leading international lawyers of all nations in "unmeasured terms" but the British government took a broader view and abstained from all protest when the United States supreme court upheld the action of our navy. Old principles relating to contraband and blockade were then developed by us to meet special difficulties and the doctrine of continuous voyage was applied, "under which goods destined for the enemy territory were intercepted before they reached the neutral ports from which they were to be re-exported."

There can be no doubt that Sir Edward's note has made a strong impression on a number of American papers. The New York Press, for example, asserts flat footedly that Great Britain is right and that the allies "have the goods on us" and are not going to surrender rights which they once yielded to us. But such concessions to the British contention are made by a very limited number of journals. Most of the editorial writers attempt to show that the cases in our Civil War ago so different as not to constitute a precedent. The Springbok and Peterhoff. The two most important cases in this controversy with Great Britain are those of the Springbok and Peterhoff. Both were British ships sailing from London, the former for Nassau, Bermuda, the latter for Matamoros, a Mexican port on the Rio Grande. The Springbok was captured by an American warship; the Sonoma, taken to a prize court in New York, and her entire cargo condemned. Only 1 per cent of this cargo—$3,500 out of $350,000—consisted of contraband, but the rest of it also was condemned as being obviously destined for one of the blockaded Confederate ports. The court held that "contraband or not could not be condemned if really destined for Nassau, and not beyond, and contraband or not must be condemned if destined to any rebel port, for all rebel ports were under blockade."

The same doctrine was laid down in the case of the Bermuda, (another British ship that sailed for Nassau from Liverpool) by our supreme court in the following words: "It makes no difference whether the destination to the rebel port was ulterior or direct; nor could the question of destination be affected by transshipment at Nassau, if transshipment were intended, for that could not break the continuity of transportation of the cargo." In both cases, it will be noted the cargo was on the way to a blockaded port through a neutral port. In the case of the Peterhoff there was a difference. Its cargo was destined for Brownsville (not a blockaded port) through Matamoros. The court held in this case that while the contraband cargo could be condemned the non-contraband cargo could not be, as no blockade existed against the port to which it was destined. Accordingly the non-contraband part of the cargo was bought and paid for. Our supreme court sustained this action, saying: "Such trade with unrestricted inland commerce, between such port and the enemy's territory impairs undoubtedly, and very seriously impairs, the value of the blockade of the enemy's coast. But in cases such as that now in judgment we administer the public law of nations and are not at liberty to inquire what is for the particular advantage or disadvantage of our own or any other country. This Peterhoff case is held to more than counterbalance the Springbok and Bermuda cases, inasmuch as the cargoes destined for Germany by way of Rotterdam or Copenhagen are like the cargo of the Peterhoff, going to nonblockaded ports. What we are contending for is not the right to send contraband to Germany by way of neutral ports nor the right to send noncontraband to blockaded ports. It is the right to send noncontraband to neutral ports and to receive noncontraband shipped from neutral ports. It is estimated that 150 million dollars worth of cargo destined for America are held up in Holland. Our claim as stated in our note of March 30 is that innocent shipments may be freely transported to and from the United States through neutral countries to belligerent territory without being subject of the penalties of contraband traffic or breach of blockade, much less to detention, requisition or confiscation. This contention is supported by a writer in the London Quarterly Review, Dr. John P. Bate, an Oxford authority on international law. He writes that the claim of the British that they may seize innocent neutral owned goods in a neutral ship trading between neutral ports if the goods be of enemy origin is "an almost unheard of claim." The British says the New York Evening Post, "wish to have their cake and eat it too." They are unwilling to assume the risks of a close blockade while desiring all the benefits that come from such a blockade.

SOUTH CAROLINA VOTES FOR STATEWIDE PROHIBITION Columbia, S. C., Sept. 15.—South Carolina adopted statewide prohibition, to take effect January 1 next, in place of the present local option system, according to unofficial returns here last night from throughout the state. The vote, with almost complete returns from a majority of the forty-four counties, stood 33,104 for prohibition to 14,157 against. It was declared by those who have followed the referendum election that the total vote would not exceed 60,000. Of the thirty counties which were dry under the local option system, all were declared to have voted for prohibition. Only one of the dispensary operating counties was known to have cast the majority of its votes for prohibition. NO MORE HORSE DRAWN EQUIPMENT TO BE USED City Sets Team Used to Pull Hosiery Wagon and Will Buy Motor Equipment. No more horse drawn equipment will be used by the city for the fire department hereafter. Today Tom and George, the handsome boys which have pulled the hose wagon to countless fires in the past seven years, were sold as soon as practicable the city will purchase an automobile ladder truck. Since the two auto fire engines were bought, the horse drawn wagon has been useless for all except the downtown fires, as the fire would be out by the time the horses got there if it was any distance from the station. The result was that the horses were an almost useless expense to the city. With the purchase of the new equipment, the city will have an all motor department, two engines and a ladder truck. NEGRO QUARTER SCENE OF A CUTTING AFFRAY Walter Carrington, negro, was stabbed in the back Tuesday night, sustaining a painful but not dangerous wound. Gus Reed, otherwise known as "Old Folks" was arrested following the affair, and was placed in jail. The cutting took place in front of the Last Chance restaurant in the negro quarters of the city. The cause of the affair has not been ascertained, but it is understood that it followed a quarrel over a woman.

22 RIGS STARTED OIL FIELDS HERE

YESTERDAY'S FURTHER ADVANCE IN OIL PRICES EXPECTED TO STARTY STILL MORE RIGS

DRILLERS ARE COMING BACK

Local Oil Men Believe Another Fifty Cent Advance is Due to Main-Tain Differential.

With twenty-two rigs started within the past few weeks, the additional five-cent raise which was announced Monday is expected to result in still more new development work in Northwest Texas. Already a considerable number of the drillers and workmen who left here when work became slack have returned, and others are coming. The price here is now within 25 cents of that paid at the high water mark in the field here, and has advanced a total of 35 cents since early in August. Local oil men still feel, however, that the five-cent difference in favor of Northwest Texas over Oklahoma should be maintained on account of the superior grade of oil produced here. At present eighty cents is being paid in both fields, although the price in Northwest Texas has been five cents higher than the Mid-Continent for several years. No reason for the abandonment of this differential has been advanced. WANTED—Good country homes for orphan boys up to 15 years old. Emilie Reck, Agent, Weatherford, Tex. 1047p
