FRENCH MAINTAIN OFFENSIVE IN THE CHAMPAGNE DISTRICT

SIR JOHN FRENCH'S TELEGRAM INDICATES EFFORT BY ALLIES FOR DECISION ON WEST FRONT

RUSSIANS ARE WEAKENING

Germans Making Progress Toward Dvinsk While Russian Offensive On South Against Austrians Appears to be Weakening.

London, Sept. 29.—The British are battering the third line of the Germans in the vicinity of Loos. The French are maintaining their offensive in Champagne. The Germans in the Artois have been unable to make important gains and have refrained from their infantry attacks. This sums up briefly the situation in the west as seen in London today.

ALLIED OFFENSIVE CONTINUES. No great change in conditions is shown but England attacks high importance to indications that the offensive movement of the allies is not to be relaxed as was predicted in some quarters. A short breathing spell has been succeeded by harder pressure on German positions at the points weakened or shattered by the allied rush. That it is the intention to maintain this pressure is indicated in a telegram by Field Marshal French to the Lord Mayor of London, thanking him for his message of good will. The British commander added that the message encouraged his troops to "push the immediate success to the really decisive issue."

TESTIMONY BARRED AT MURDER TRIAL MAY BE ADMITTED

E. W. FRY'S TRIAL ON CHARGE OF FORGERY TAKES A NEW TURN - LISCHKE AND R. M. TODD SUMMONED.

J. R. OGLESBY ON STAND

Testifies Belief That Judge Fry Wrote Signatures to Checks On Which Indictments Based—Witness Was Put Through Severe Cross Examination.

Business picked up late Tuesday in the trial of Judge E. W. Fry, charged with forgery, when it became apparent that not only the matters dealing with the alleged forgery, but the particulars of the killing of E. T. Cherryholmes at Graham last Friday, may become part of the record in this case.

Subpoenas were issued last night for R. M. Todd and others involved in the murder trial of last April. Judge Fry is already here, as a witness for the defense, while J. B. Lischke is a state witness.

Lischke was placed on the stand immediately after dinner today, and later in the afternoon, Billy Dollins, who helped G. T. Cherryholmes guard the court house, was a witness. Lischke, one of the four defendants in the murder trial, and the only defendant who did not testify in his own behalf, told of being at the Fry home, of seeing Judge Fry masked, and then of going to the skating rink near the court house, where he was to wait until it was time to open the safe.

On cross examination, the defense attorneys brought out that Todd had told Lischke that the Young county officials had "framed up" on Judge Fry.

The testimony given by Lischke today was in conflict with some evidence adduced at the murder trial. Dollins' testimony dealt with the fight in the court house yard in which Cherryholmes and Carlton were killed.

The situation is fraught with interesting possibilities from the fact that evidence which was barred at the murder trial might be admitted now. The unique situation arose while Dillard Henson, former tax assessor and present county commissioner of Young county was on the stand. On cross examination the defense had asked questions seeking to bring out the feeling of the witness against the defendant, and it was in complying with this line of interrogation that Judge Martin asked about placing the guards on the court house and the subsequent effort to reach the records which resulted in the death of Cherryholmes and Pat Carlton. The defense at once objected, but Judge Nicholson held that the testimony was admissible. The defense attorneys at once took steps to present their side of the case which resulted in an acquittal for the four men accused of Cherryholmes' murder.

Hand Writing Expert Testifies. John R. Oglesby, formerly of Dallas, but now located in Wichita Falls, was on the stand all morning, testifying as a hand writing expert. He testified as in the previous trial, that he believed Judge Fry wrote the signatures on the checks which the state alleges are forged. Each of the 49 checks was first up and discussed separately, first by the state and then on cross examination by the defense, he process requiring all morning. Judge Taylor for the defense put the witness through a rigid cross examination, bringing out many points of dissimilarity between the signatures compared by the witness, but without affecting the general trend of the expert's testimony.

2 INVESTIGATIONS IN PROGRESS AT ARDMORE TODAY

OKLAHOMA RAILROAD COMMISSION AND STATE FIRE MARSHAL INVESTIGATING EXPLOSION DISASTER.

DEATH LIST STANDS AT 47

Report of Larger Number of Deaths Yesterday Erroneous—Two More Bodies Identified Today—Only One Remained Unidentified at Noon.

By Associated Press. Ardmore, Okla., Sept. 29.—There are two separate investigations under way today in an attempt to fix the blame for Monday's explosion disaster which cost 47 lives and a property loss of over a million dollars. The investigation was first set in motion yesterday afternoon by Russell Brown, city attorney, when he petitioned the state corporation commissioner whose commissioner, George A. Henshaw, is here. Brown alleged negligence on the part of the railroad in the alleged violation of several provisions of the interstate commerce commission's regulation with regard to the handling of gasoline and other explosives. The state commissioner will make an investigation, it is said, and then report to the commission as to whether its regulations were violated as charged.

A second investigation was also begun by City Attorney Russell Brown. By this investigation the dead bodies which have remained in the fire following the disaster. City officials today engaged principally in getting evidence and witnesses. Deputies McKeehen and Williams of the state fire marshals' office arrived here this morning and also commenced an investigation.

The death list at noon remained at forty-seven, twenty-six white and twenty-one negroes. Two unidentified women who were last seen the morgue since the disaster were identified this morning. The unidentified woman who was last seen alive in the freight depot—billion household goods, has been recognized as Mrs. Bond, a widow, her residence is not known. One unidentified man was recognized as Henry Carpenter, a farmer living near this city. There remains but one unidentified victim, a man. His body is burned beyond recognition. A telegram was received from Mena, Ark., that H. A. King, an attorney, was missing in Ardmore and it is believed that the one remaining unidentified man is he.

Physicians say there are still injured persons in sanitariums who probably will die. At ten this morning a coroner's jury for this county (Cotter) went into session. This body will investigate the deaths of the more than two score persons.

REVOLUTIONARY MEXICANS APPEAR BETTER ORGANIZED

PRESENCE OF TROOPS HAS NOT DETERRED MEXICANS SEEKING TO ORGANIZE REPUBLIC IN THE SOUTHERN PART OF TEXAS.

VIGILANCE IS REDOUBLED

U. S. Troops in Larger Bodies Being Concentrated at Lard From Which Reinforcements Can Most Easily be Sent to Points of Trouble.

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 29.—Evidence that Mexicans who are said to desire to make an independent republic of south Texas have today a more complete organization than when the outbreaks began two weeks ago, came to the notice of army officers here today. The Mexican army service is said to have caused American troops considerable trouble especially in cutting army telephone lines just before raids, and as a result requests have been made for five or six sets of field wireless outfits. Heretofore, raiders attacking a small detachment of American troops have always managed to escape before reinforcements could be brought up in sufficient numbers to surround the bandits. Practically without exception the Mexicans in these raids or their confederates on the American side have cut the army wires.

Colonel Ballard in command of the infantry district patrol work, Colonel A. P. Blockson, commander of the cavalry patrols, have issued orders tending to concentrate larger bodies of troops than heretofore at points whence reinforcements can be distributed speedily.

A bag of about 200 rounds of ammunition dropped by the Mexicans in the Progresso fight with the nose of each bullet cross filed so as to make "dum dum" missiles has been delivered to Colonel Ballard.

Major Edward Anderson of the Twelfth cavalry whose troops are doing most of the patrol work in the Progresso section where the presence of about 600 Mexicans on the Mexican side of the river has been reported, has arranged for every available river point to be visited by cavalrymen eight times each twenty-four hours.

Colonel Ballard today returned to Harlingen from an inspection trip in his district which included a visit to San Diego, where last January, the plan for a revolt of Mexicans in the southern portion of the United States was written. Colonel Ballard said that while San Diego seemed peaceful he was impressed by an editorial appearing in a San Diego Mexican newspaper. The town has hardly a dozen American inhabitants, although it is the county seat of Duval county. This editorial in Spanish was a full page appeal to Mexicans in that section to support General Carranza. Colonel Ballard said that in no place did this article appeal to the citizens of San Diego as American citizens but seemed to be always based on the idea that these Texas-Mexicans are really citizens of Mexico, that their government is that of the republic of Mexico instead of the United States. The idea that they had citizenship duties to the United States, Colonel Ballard said, never seemed to occur to the Mexican editorial writer, though he has resided in Texas thirty years.

CHANGES REPORTED IN BULGARIAN CABINET

King Ferdinand Reported to Have Asked Former Premier to Form a New Cabinet

By Associated Press. Paris, Sept. 29.—A Havas dispatch from Athens said: "The Bulgarian ministers of finance and commerce have resigned according to a reliable report from Sofia. The reason given officially is a divergence of views on international questions but the real cause is the complete disagreement of these cabinet members with Premier Radoslawoff on the policy to be followed on the view of the determined attitude of Greece. King Ferdinand granted an audience to former Premier Malloff, leader of the party favorable to Russia and asked him, it is understood, to form a new cabinet.

FURTHER ADVANCE IN CRUDE OIL EXPECTED

A further advance in local oil prices is again expected, following increases in the Pennsylvania and Ohio-Indiana fields. No advance from the Mid-Continent field which appears to control the price in Northwest Texas has yet been reported, but it is thought that the market there will follow the trend in the east, and as advance in Oklahoma is almost certain to be followed by higher prices in this section. Since the recent advance in price there has been a large amount of new work started in this section, and conditions in the field are more active than for many months past.

TOWN LOT SALE HELD 33 YEARS AGO

MONDAY ANNIVERSARY OF OPENING WICHITA FALLS TOWN-SITE

FIRST BUILDING STANDING... Located Near the Hunt Elevator Having Been Added Since Constructed

From Tuesday's Daily. Tomorrow is Wichita Falls' birthday and there would be 33 candles on the birthday cake if Wichita Falls were giving a party. On September 27, 1882, the town lot sale which marked the beginning of the present city of 15,000 population was held.

The Times today publishes a picture of the present-day Wichitans who were here at that time. It publishes also a picture of a number of Wichitans who have been 30 years or more, there being over 40 in the group. This is probably less than half of the Wichitans who have been here 30 years, but the others, for one reason or another, were not in the picture.

Although the sale of the townsite lots marked the birth of the town Wichita Falls was already on the map, there having been a settlement here for several years before that time. It was not until the railroad came, however, that the community attained any importance. The birthday of Wichita Falls has not been celebrated with any degree of formality in a number of years, although efforts have been made for some form of annual observance.

At the meeting of "old timers" arranged by The Times to have the group pictures taken, there was some talk of organizing an association of those who have been here 30 years or more, and admitting new members each year as they attain the 30 year mark. Plans have also been discussed for a reunion at Lake Wichita of the earlier settlers here, and it is likely that some action for such an affair will be taken shortly.

In connection with the birthday of the city, it is worthy of note that the first frame building to be erected in the present city limits is still standing. It is located near the Hunt elevator, having been added to since first constructed. It was built by A. H. Harris, father of Will T. Harris, deputy county clerk, in 1850, and is still in good condition.

FRY FORGERY CASE SET FOR TRIAL NEXT THURSDAY

Former Young County Judge Will Again Be Tried on Charge of Forging Warrant

From Tuesday's Daily. The forgery case against E. W. Fry, former county judge of Young county, is set for next Thursday in the 25th district court. About 150 witnesses from Young county have been subpoenaed for this trial which promises to be one of widespread interest.

Judge Fry will be tried on one of 49 indictments against him, charging forgery and passing of forged instruments. At his first trial last June the jury was unable to agree, standing seven to five for acquittal.

MAKING TIME IN ALLIES' LOAN NEGOTIATIONS

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 25. Negotiations toward establishing a $500,000,000 loan to Great Britain and France marked time today. Many of the American bankers who have been in consultation with the Anglo-French financial commission failed to visit the financial section today and the commission itself remaining open received 43 callers than on any previous day of its stay here.

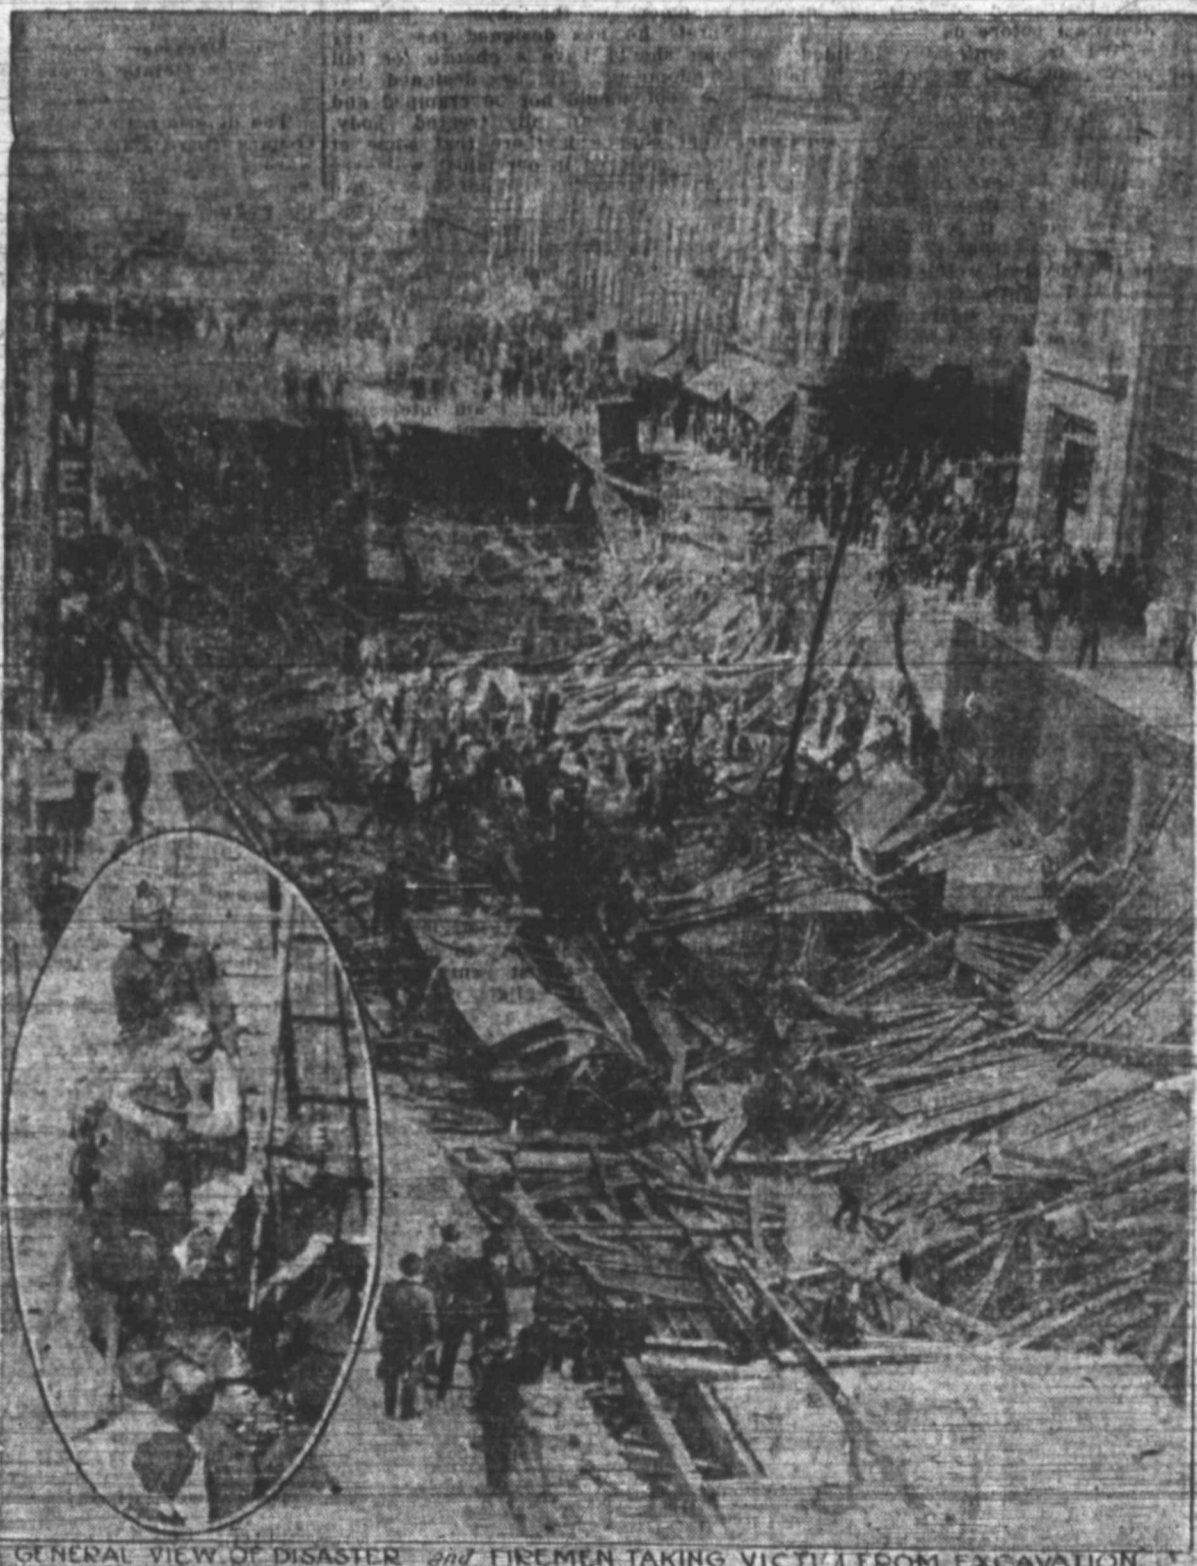

No one in close touch with the situation could be found who could check a generally credited report that the commission had submitted to the British and French governments the rough draft of terms satisfactory to American bankers and was awaiting word from Paris and London before proceeding further with negotiations. The general belief was a reply would be received by Monday. It was regarded likely the reply would contain other suggestions which would be made the basis of further bargaining and referred again to Paris and London before an actual working agreement would be reached.

Tearful Scenes As Rescuers Bring Bodies To Surface In Subway Disaster

GENERAL VIEW OF DISASTER and FIREMEN TAKING VICTIM FROM EXCAVATION

For hours after the disaster firemen and police reserves from every station in New York sought bodies of victims who were caught when the construction work of the new subway in Seventh avenue, between 24th and 25th streets, collapsed, following the premature explosion of a large mass of dynamite. The entire block was in a shambles, and a trolley car, crowded with people on their way to work was trapped into the chasm formed by the collapse of the structure of the street. All along the block between 24th and 25th streets the fronts of the buildings collapsed and fell into the cavern. To add to the terrors of the disaster a fire started underground where the car plunged through the street, and two alarms of fire summoned the apparatus. The work of rescue was promptly begun and scores of policemen rushed to the scene. The trolley car that fell through is said to have contained at least fifty passengers, mostly shop girls on their way to work. A cordon of police was thrown around the entire scene and more workers hurried there to keep back the thousands of crowds on their way to work.

Another cavern Saturday night, this time on Broadway—resulting in the death of one person and the injury of several others. No explosion preceded Saturday night's accident. A street car heavily loaded was stopped by the motorman just in the nick of time.

PANHANDLE PIONEER DEAD AT CANADIAN. Canadiana, Tex., Sept. 27.—Robert Moody, a pioneer of the Panhandle and retired capitalist died here today, aged 75 years. His late home has been in San Diego, Calif., but he has been living here for the past few months. His estate is estimated to be worth nearly a million dollars.

MUST KNOW DESTINATION OF ARMS SHIPMENTS

By Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 27.—Orders have been issued to all American officers on the Mexican border to note all shipments of ammunition when the destination is not definitely known. No embargo is being laid on commercial shipments of war munitions to the principal factions but it is the purpose of the government to prevent any supplies reaching bandit hands and raiders operating independently. One shipment is being held up at Laredo, until its owner can be determined.

YAQUIS DERAIL TRAIN BURN 60 PASSENGERS

Those on Train Clowed into Hay Car which was set on fire—Story is Confirmed.

Washington, Sept. 27.—Official confirmation of the story of how Yaquis derailed a train between Hermosillo and Guaymas and burned sixty persons in a car of hay was received today by the state department. No foreigners were reported killed. There is no telegraphic communication between Guaymas and the Yaqui Valley.

TWO CARRANZA OFFICERS EXECUTED BY HIS ORDER

Laredo, Texas, Sept. 27.—General Carlos C. Brinjas and his son, Major Carlos C. Brinjas Jr., both connected with the Carranza army, were executed in Mexico City Saturday, according to an announcement at Carranza headquarters at Nuevo Laredo today. Both men, it is stated, were alleged to have falsified their accounts and misappropriated Carranza funds. The Brinjas were natives of Chihuahua State.

COUNTY MUST USE SITE ON WHICH COURT HOUSE STANDS

By Acceptance of Present Site County Appears Bound to Maintain the Court House There.

That Wichita county could not erect a court house on a site other than the present one is indicated by an examination of the records dealing with the donating of the block to the county. The question arose following the interview with County Commissioner McClellan, published in The Times of Sunday, in which he said that the present site must be used.

There is no deed on record of the court house block, which was given by H. B. Montgomery. There is recorded, however, a bond for title, for $50,000, setting forth that Mr. Montgomery had agreed to deed the block to the county "condition an said county's building thereon its permanent court house and jail to cost not less than $15,000."

The petition is said to be meeting little opposition, numerous signatures both inside and outside of town being affixed. The matter will come up at the commissioners' court meeting early in October. J. T. Young who is circulating the petition after securing more than 100 signatures here this morning went up to Electra with it this afternoon. The petition now has about 300 signatures. Only qualified, property tax paying voters are being asked to sign.

Continued killing of American soldiers has produced a bitter feeling among American enlisted men. As the body of Private Henry Stabile, held of Big Stone Gap, Va., was carried to the train here yesterday afternoon the soldiers lined the street here, many of them in tears.

KATY RAILROAD SYSTEM PLACED IN RECEIVERSHIP—C. E. SCHAFF IS RECEIVER

MOTORCYCLE AND AUTO IN COLLISION SUNDAY

Motorcycle Rider's Leg Broken When Machine Falls—Frank Haley, Aged 17, Victim.

From Monday's Daily. Frank Haley, aged seventeen, sustained a broken leg late Sunday evening when his motorcycle collided with an automobile driven by Roy Neblett. The collision took place on Eighth street. Mr. Neblett was turning his car around toward Ohio avenue, from in front of the Ward building and Haley had just turned to go in the same direction when the machines came together. The front wheel of the automobile is said to have struck Haley who fell with his machine. His leg was broken just above the ankle. He was taken to the Amason-Hargrave Hospital where he was reported resting well today, though he suffered considerable pain last night. Mr. Neblett's car, a Hupmobile, was purchased by him only a few days ago.

TWO MORE BANDITS WHOM McALLEN WOUNDED DEAD

These Make Four Killed by Ranchman—Another Captured And Search For Others Continues.

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 27.—Two Mexican bandits wounded by J. B. McAllen Friday when his ranch was attacked, died today. Two others were killed during the fight. Another bandit from this party was captured today by deputy sheriffs. The last of the bandits who was the last man killed in the fight indicated that there are ten others in the band in addition to five accounted for as dead or captured. Peace officers have the names. These they were searching for today. Probable reports said Mrs. Maria Agraz, Mexican cook for Mr. McAllen fought with him, but today it was learned that she spent her time praying during the fight.

HOSPITAL BOARD WILL BE NAMED THIS WEEK

From Monday's Daily. Steps will be taken this week for opening the joint city and county hospital, which will be ready for patients probably by October 15. The city council and county commissioners will appoint a board of five members, including two physicians, two laymen and one woman and the control of the institution will be vested entirely in this board, the city and county having nothing to do with the management except to foot the bills. This board is to elect the superintendent, matron and other officers of the hospital.

CHANGE IN GAME LAW WILL BE RECOMMENDED

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Sept. 27.—An amendment to the state game law is to be recommended to the Thirty-fourth legislature in the event it is called by the governor in a special session.

Commissioner Wood declares he has received hundreds of letters and petitions from hunters over the State, asking that such change be made. The dove season opens September 1, while the quail season does not open until October 15. Complaints have been made that the hunters, while hunting doves, are neglecting the "potting" of a few quail. It is pointed out that such changes would facilitate the enforcement of the game law.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT HOUSE DRESS

New York.—Our modern housewife, be she bride or matron, does not prepare breakfast in a beribboned and be-ruffled morning robe, or duster in a pass afternoon frock. She delights in her trim morning dress, with open throat, short skirt, and...

Detachable Sleeves. With never a thought of the washboard or the flat iron, one of our big dressmakers, in the early spring, designed a dainty tennis costume. This costume had a huge, flaring pocket on one side for tennis balls, and detachable sleeves. That is, the sleeves were arranged to button on to a drop shoulder; they could be removed when playing, and buttoned on again when the game was over. It was a pretty notion, and a highly practical one for the tennis girl; it was still more practical for the housewife and she readily adapted it from the frock of serge and satin, with its tight fitting, smart sleeves, to her frock of chambray and cotton crepe. Now, instead of rolling back, pinning, wrinkling and generally soiling a fresh dress, she merely removes her sleeves, proceeds with her work, and when the necessity for freedom of action is past, buttons them on again. The wide pocket, too, is made good use of.

The Pantaletta Skirt. Practical housekeepers are obliged to climb a ladder now and then, to hang pictures, drape a curtain or portiere, or reach a glass of jam on the very tip-top shelf of the cupboard, and then—what a nuisance a fluffy petticoat is. Along comes the efficiency expert and designs—the trouser skirt. Blouses and trousers, which resemble a pair of overalls, are joined together; there is an outside skirt worn in the ordinary way which may be omitted when there is strenuous work to do, and donned when desired. This is, perhaps, one of the most sensible costumes of the year. While it is ideal for the blouse it is quite as good for the out-of-door girl, who enjoys a mountain climb; excellent for walking, boating and like sports. The idea may be carried out attractively in the dance frock; the pantalettes being fashioned of filmy fabrics to correspond with the frock.

E. A. Gebhart of Dallas, representing Austin Brothers bridge contractors, was here today on business with the commissioners court.

A Pretty Evening Frock For The College Girl. These large all enveloping aprons play no small part in the housekeeper's scheme of things. Crepe is also being used considerably for these aprons, but gingham still holds first place; this is a garment that requires a bit of crispness to make it look fresh. Percale, striped or patterned in some conventional design, is attractive, too, and there are a number of other wash fabrics, thin duck for instance, that are used.

Pockets and Trimmings. Large, roomy pockets are features of both dresses and aprons. They come in very handy for carrying a dust cloth, a short handed duster or yolk broom, a pair of shears, or some other article to be used at various times during the morning; besides being useful, they break the severity of the dress and render it more becoming.

Buttons are used to trim these dresses, too; but they must be a washable button—bone or crocheted. Pearl buttons, which are not removable, are apt to break when the garment is laundered. The large pearl or bone buttons, however, the shanks of which may be slipped through buttonholes, secured with a bar, and removed when the frock goes to the tub, are the height of the practical. The skirt, which buttons from the belt to hem and may be laid out flat on the ironing board, is another happy notion.

Another way to brighten the house dress without making it fussy is to pipe the neck edge, armholes, cuffs, down the front and around the pockets, with a contrasting bias tape. This comes in linen or cotton in many attractive colorings; also in stripes and checks, and makes most effective trimming for both dresses and aprons also for children's wash dresses. It may be purchased by the piece, comes folded, ready for use, and being bias may be applied readily to armholes and neck edges.

This good looking model is constructed in navy broadcloth. The skirt's fullness is obtained by three side plaits on the hips, and its bottom is finished with a strip of navy velvet, as is the coat. A novel hem-belt confines the coat's full front, and velvet buttons are used as trimming.

Ex-American Warships May See Action: Greece's "Petticoat" Soldiers Called Out

GREECE'S "PETTICOAT" SOLDIERS—THE LEONIS (FORMERLY U.S. BATTLESHIP) AND OTHERS.

Greece, deciding on general mobilization as a reply to Bulgaria's action, can put at least 500,000 men under arms. The country is divided into six army corps districts, which produce eleven divisions of 22,000 men each, making 242,000 men in all. By using the veterans of 1911-12 these could easily be raised to 500,000. Some of the infantry dress in the famous and distinctive Greek national dress, including the "petticoat" or kiln. The Greeks take great pride in their artillery, which, like the Bulgars, is the French pattern. The Greek infantry is armed with the Mannlicher-Schönauer rifle, model 1903. The field ar-

REV. SMITH TALKS ON "THE WORTH OF A MAN"

Sounds Call of Duty to Good People of Wichita Falls to Alleviate Existing Wrongs

In a sermon on "The Worth of a Man," Rev. G. C. Smith at the First M. E. Church Sunday morning, sounded a call to duty to the Christian people of Wichita Falls. "It is the duty, the imperative duty," he said, "of the good people of Wichita Falls to work as they have not yet worked to alleviate the wrongs that exist here." He directed special attention to conditions in the red light district and declared that the cancer of immorality was eating into the social life of the city.

His text was "How much then is a man or more value than a sheep?" Matt. 12, 12. In part he said: "Many of the most striking things in the teaching of Christ are presented in the form of questions. This text is one of those sudden turns which the Great Teacher was in the habit of taking by which he silenced the carping faultfinder in the crowd and incidentally drove home a serious question to all who were listening. They could not escape this interrogation—'not-would-forget-its-significance' he answered them by asking a question in turn. He and his disciples had come through the wheat fields and because they had ribbed out a few heads of wheat their ever watchful critics accused them of threshing on Sabbath day. They came on into the synagogue and the faultfinder placed a crippled man near by to see if this wonder worker would heal on the Sabbath. Jesus healed the man and then their occasion for criticism had come. He cited the law in regard to a sheep in distress and asked essentially why when a man will deal mercifully with a sheep he will not also deal kindly with a man. As is often the case in such instances Jesus sets forth a principle much larger than the immediate occasion. This truth is too great to be restricted to this incident alone. How much more value is there to a man than to a sheep? If decency and common human mercy impels one to feel badly when he sees a sheep in distress, how can we be indifferent when we see one of our fellow men in sore straits?"

Have Just Begun to Learn. "When we raise a question of this kind we have learned to look to Christ for the final answer, because he is recognized to be the world's greatest ethical teacher. He alone has set forth the principles by which we can determine our responsibility one to another. His spirit and teaching often brought him into conflict with the times. He was criticized and sorely ostracized and finally crucified because his doctrines of brotherhood did not suit the ideas of men. He held that a man was of more value than an animal and for that reason was entitled to more consideration before the laws of righteousness. This declaration, seemingly so innocent is still far from being really wrought into our beings today. Great changes must still come before we follow all that Jesus implied by this question. It is not an exaggeration to say that in many ways animals are given more consideration than men. We have only just begun to learn the lessons Jesus set before us.

We are noticeably inclined to undervalue man as such. The individual seems so insignificant before the mass. Emphasis on the supreme importance of the spiritual may have led us to undervalue the physical. "There can be no disputing the fact that the soul of a man is supremely important but we do not need to disparage the importance of the physical welfare of men in order to magnify the spiritual. The soul of a man must find its expression through the body and the fact is that we often abuse and neglect the vehicle of the soul that the soul is not allowed to work out its better self. When we look about us and see what social and economic conditions have done for some people we must conclude that in reality we have had less care for men than we would for sheep. If there were sheep in our community in as sore distress as there are people we would plan for their immediate relief. But since it is people and not sheep we let them alone in their misery.

"Sheep" Needing Care. "There are people in our community rearing families in such ignorance and degradation as to be a black disgrace upon our modern civilization. There are drunken husbands abusing wives and families in a way which we would not allow at all in a pen of animals. There are folks who if they ever get out of the quagmire into which they have fallen will need to be pulled out like sheep from a mud hole. Instead of hastening to their rescue we are in many cases selfishly for the money there is in it forcing them deeper into the mire. We sustain those institutions which are directly the cause of their misery and which we know will only degrade them further. What can we do? Not a great deal perhaps as an individual alone but still we have an individual responsibility. An aggregate of individuals make the community and by uniting our strength we can do some things to mitigate the misery of men. It is the duty, the imperative duty, of the good people of this city to work as they have not yet worked to alleviate the wrongs that exist here. There are those, not a few, in social degradation that is to be described only as a slimy pit from which pity demands that we drag them if possible. To be a little more definite one general reference will suffice for illustration. We have looked at long with complacency upon the red light and boarding house conditions existing in our city that the idea for which this evil stands has permeated our whole social fabric. It has reached to the school children in the grades, to say little of the larger young people. The conversation and practices of the children show conclusively that they are imitating their elders to an alarming degree and this condition alone presents to the community a colossal problem. What are we going to do about it? Are these children more to us than sheep? Shall we demand that the teacher solve this problem? The teacher can do only a small part of it which the child is under her immediate direction. It is a parent's problem. The reason it is such a difficult one is that so many homes are saturated with this vice and foster rather than retard it. If we value children above sheep we must be watchful and do for the children at least as much as we would for the sheep. "The Creator has fitted the world with things suitable for the best de-

DETERMINATION OKLAHOMA COUPLES IS REWARDED

One Couple Waited Here Two Days For Necessary Papers—Another Sent Notary Across River

The determination of two youthful couples from Oklahoma finally was rewarded last week when marriage licenses were issued them, but one couple was required to wait two days, and the other put to considerable trouble.

Both bride and groom of one couple were under age and the bride was accompanied by her parents, but the groom did not have the properly attested consent of his father and mother. He and his bride-to-be remained here two days until they could write to his home for the necessary affidavit.

The other groom had the necessary papers, but the bride was under eighteen and could not be married in Oklahoma, even with parental consent, so she came to Texas. Her father had given his written consent, but not her mother. County Clerk Kelly refused to issue the license without the mother's consent also so the couple phoned to a notary public at Burk Burnett, who made a trip across country to Randlett, secured the mother's affidavit of consent, then returned to Burk Burnett and notified Mr. Kelly that the matter was willing. The license was then issued and the young people went on their way rejoicing.

TAFY AND BRYAN INVITED TO SPEAK AT UNIVERSITY

Austin, Texas, Sept. 25.—Former President William Howard Taft and former Secretary of State William J. Bryan have been invited to address the students of the University of Texas.

Since Mr. Taft is visiting his brother, Judge Henry Waters Taft, near Gregory, Dr. William J. Battle, acting president of the University, sent a telegram to the former president Saturday night, asking him to make an address at the University at any time to suit his convenience.

Mr. Bryan is booked on a lecture at Venice, Calif., Sept. 28.—A ladder set up in police headquarters here will be a test for alleged intoxication hereafter. If a man arrested can climb up and down the ladder without falling then he will have proved himself sober and he will be released, with an apology, if he tries and slips—the dungeons for him.

SECTION HAND LOSES FOOT IN ACCIDENT

P. W. Phagan Run Over By Box Car When He Stumbled Red Flag on Track

P. W. Phagan, a section hand, sustained the loss of his right foot late last night, when he was run over by a box car in the Fort Worth & Denver yards, near the coal chute. The wheel almost severed the foot below the ankle. Phagan said that he was walking down the track when he stumbled and before he could get up again the box car was right upon him. He was taken to the Wichita Sanitarium.

The dispatches tell us that that $500,000,000 the English and French want to borrow has been arranged for with the understanding that the money is not to leave this country. It is to be subscribed for in amounts from $100 up, and is to draw interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, payment being guaranteed by the English and French governments.

Today's war dispatches make the situation for the Germans look a little better. For the last two or three days the French and English have been gaining ground, and the French estimate that the Germans losses killed, wounded and captured during the last two or three days amount to about 120,000. The Germans admit they have been hard hit, but say they have regained some of the territory lost.

As a rule the boys who inherit riches in a lump from their parents are not apt to add anything to them. In most instances they spend them freely, and it is often the case some run through with their money and die paupers. That must have been the idea a Denver man of considerable wealth had when he drew up his will. To each of his sons he left $500 with the provision at the end of each year they shall receive a sum from the estate left in trust by him equal to that which they have earned. In that way it was his expressed desire that his sons would prove themselves worthy and competent to handle and inherit his entire fortune. It is not at all a bad idea.

An exchange remarks: "A dozen live-wire business men can do more for the prosperity of a town by reaching out for business than a hundred of those kind of business men who sit around and wait for the trade to back up to them." That is the view the Times has always had of such matters. The non-advertiser gets some of the business that is brought to the town by his progressive competitor. That is true. Perhaps he gets more of it than he is really entitled to, but be that as it may, the progressive, pushing business man is the fellow who gets the bulk of the business, and he is entitled to it.

Cotton prices advanced a dollar a bale yesterday, and in nearly all local markets in the State it was selling for nearly 12 cents per pound. Some Texas newspapers are inclined to give credit for the advance in prices to gambling in futures, but the facts are that supply and demand are the cause. With the cotton crop of the United States cut down by reduced acreage four or five million bales under the 1914 crop coupled with the further fact that the boll weevil is at work as never before, and the still further fact that the federal government has come to the aid of the cotton producers by making it possible for them to borrow money at 6 per cent interest can be attributed the chief causes for the rise in prices of cotton.

The announcement by Governor Ferguson that he will not call an extra session of the legislature unless something of an imperative character demands it is not saying that there will be no extra session by a long shot. In times like the present imperative demands are likely to arise any day. Intervention in Mexico is liable to come any time and that would mean an extra session as the Governor suggests. But for our part we shall be glad if the state is saved the necessity of a special session. When the legislature meets it always means weeks of uncertainty.—Abilene Reporter.

Let's hope and trust that there will be no extra session of the legislature. That body has already done a sufficient amount of "legislating" to last the state for years to come. The business it ought to act on is always neglected, and about all the majority of its members care for, seemingly is to watch and scheme for an opportunity to advance their own selfish interests.

The decision of that English prize court that awarded $15,000,000 worth of meat products, the property of American packers, to the crown does not look much like the English have an over friendly feeling for Americans. Had it been a German prize court that rendered such an outrageous decision some American newspapers would have called it a plain case of theft, and they would not have missed the mark. But then, it must be remembered that our English friends are masters of the sea, and the balance of the world are permitted to use them only when England grants her permission.

Many thought the European war would last not more than a year at most, but they now see their error. Indeed, the second year of the war looks now as if it was going to prove more terrible than the first. Bulgaria has joined with the Teutonic allies, and while she has not yet actually fired the first gun this may be looked for at any time. That means that both Greece and Roumania will get into the fight. With eleven nations of people—the Russians, Turks, Italians, French, British, Austrians, Germans, Bulgarians, Serbians, Roumanians and the Greeks fighting for their very existence, it does not look now as if peace were in sight, or that the war will end soon. Peace will come however, but at the present time it does not look as if that will be within the next year.

There is but little opposition to the building of a new court house, and doubtless the commissioners court will act favorably on the petition now in circulation asking that an election be ordered to determine the matter, when it is presented. But in ordering the election, it should be drawn up in such a form as to designate whether the new court house shall be erected on the plot of ground where the old court house now stands, or whether a new site shall be selected. In the event that a movement is started to change the site, it will meet with opposition that might prove strong enough to defeat the object sought, that of securing a new and commodious court house. The Times feels confident there will be no attempt made to change the location for the reason there can be no good reason for such a change.

In a speech delivered at Boston the other day Mr. Bryan is quoted as having said: "I believe if we were as well prepared as some would have us be, we would now be in this war. If you would realize the doctrine of preparedness, just imagine what a condition we would be in if we had in the White House a jingo with a hair-trigger patriotism. We have reason to be grateful that we now have one who loves peace and longs to keep this nation in peaceful ways." That doesn't sound much as if Bryan was at outs with Wilson now, or that he intends opposing him for a second term. But this will keep the enemies of Bryan from doing all in their power to create a breach between him and the president. Their principal object would be in bringing about such a breach which would be as much for the pleasure it would afford them in destroying the political fortunes of Wilson as that of Bryan. They are only pretending friendship for the president because by so doing they hope that they say and do will have better effect and carry more weight. But President Wilson seems fully aware of their purpose and is not allowing the soft-soaping they are giving him to turn him against Bryan. In this he is showing not only good judgment but his gratitude toward a man who was his friend when that friendship meant something, for it was Bryan who made it possible for the nomination of Woodrow Wilson as president even if the credit for his election will have to be given to the Republicans, who refused to nominate Roosevelt as their candidate, taking Taft instead, thereby causing the biggest part of the Republican vote to go out of the old party into a new one created for the purpose of supporting Roosevelt for the presidency. There is not likely to be but two tickets in the field next year—the Democratic and the Republican ticket, with perhaps two or three other party tickets that will cut no figure so far as winning electoral votes are concerned. If the Democrats can win the next election they realize now that Wilson is the man to nominate. Bryan realizes this, and from all indications now is going to be as strong for Wilson in 1916 as he was before the Baltimore convention. Those newspapers that are now having so much to say in their eagerness to embarrass Bryan are going to change their attitude in a short while. In fact, some have already seen the handwriting and again actually admitting that, after all, Bryan is a pretty nice sort of a fellow. It will not be long until these same newspapers will again be praising him.

THE "DOWNS AND OUTS"
The enforcement of the misdemeanor laws presents some interesting problems to the city and county officers. Especially are recorders and justices of the peace confronted with problems that bring up a conflict of emotions, between their sense of duty and their sympathy for the unfortunate prisoners. Every day they are called on to pronounce judgment on the chronic offenders—the "downs and outs" whose bodies are physical wrecks, and whose minds have lost their will power to resist temptation. The average citizen, who does not attend the daily sittings of the recorder and justice courts, can not know the conditions that surround the lives of the delinquents that drift into the official nets, during the twenty-four hours of each day in the year. Consequently they accept these conditions as a matter of course and go on their way to attend to their own business, giving little thought or concern unless they are called in as witnesses or jurors in the administration of the laws.

This leaves the solution of all problems of enforcement of misdemeanor laws up to the officers, and they will be damned if they do, and they will be damned if they don't, according to criticism, just or unjust.

But this does not relieve the condition of the "downs and outs" who have become objects of charity, though they continue to be a menace to society by violating the misdemeanor laws. Often times the recorder or justice, in addition to assessing the customary fine, considers he has performed a humane act in sending the defendant to jail, where he can receive both food and medical attention that his weak physical condition demands, after a long debauch.

THE MEN CONVICTED.
(San Antonio Express.)
Sentenced by Judge Waller T. Burns in the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of Texas, at Corpus Christi yesterday:
August Uehlinger, County Clerk—one year and one day in Leavenworth penitentiary and fine of $5,000.
Henry Stevens, merchant—one year and one day in Leavenworth penitentiary and fine of $5,000.
Ed Castleberry, former Constable—one year and one day in Leavenworth penitentiary and fine of $5,000.
Tom B. Dunn, former city secretary—six months in Victoria County Jail and fine of $2,500.
Leo Riggs, Constable—six months in Victoria County Jail and fine of $2,500.
These five citizens of Nueces county were found guilty by a jury of the charge, on indictment of conspiracy in connection with the general election of 1914, under section 37 of the Penal Code of the United States.
If two or more persons conspire to commit any offense against the United States in any manner or for any purpose, and one or more of such parties do any act to effect the object of the conspiracy, each of the parties to such conspiracy shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than two years or both.

These men have appealed from the sentence of Judge Burns.

Possibly the recent Federal court trials at Corpus Christi were an invasion of state's rights as same of the breathers aver. But we wonder how long it would have been before the State District court grand jury would have returned an indictment in the cases. The practices complained of in the Federal court have not been uncommon in Nueces county elections for a good many years, judging from the evidence furnished at the recent trial, and the State courts might have taken action long ago had they desired to do so. Local influence is sometimes strong enough to prevent local courts probing matters affecting the influence-wielders. And it is good, we think to see the Federal courts undertake to put a stop to a state of affairs from which the remainder of the state had suffered more or less, but which the remainder of the state was quite powerless to remedy.—Denton Record Chronicle.

WHITE SLAVING, DRUGS AND LIQUOR.
The Houston Chronicle of September 19th, published an article written by W. H. Cousins, formerly of this city but now editor of the Southern Pharmaceutical Journal that is a most able defense of the pharmacist against an attack made on that profession by a writer in the Houston Post, which the Times considers well worth reproduction and is as follows:
"The craft of pharmacy has toiled and labored long hours to serve the world and to aid the physician in the alleviation of pain and the cure of disease. Pale-faced young men and women have stayed through school to master the science of pharmacy and stand the grilling test that is required of those who would prepare and compound the remedial agents that are to restore to health those who are in the clutches of disease. No craft in the world renders more faithful service than the druggist. He is dependable. Call him at morning, noon or midnight and his response is swift and sure. No craft shoulders greater knowledge of science than the druggist. He is located in the city, but street or in the rural village, he has had to pass the test, and his qualifications must be up to a standard, because in the practice of pharmacy there can be no guesswork—he must know."
The druggist must meet every class of humanity. He sees poverty and disease. He watches with trained eye the nervous movements of the wild-eyed young woman who asks for cocaine. He talks sense to the man and woman who seduce the unwary to sin. The entire hideous white slave traffic is made up of such. So is the drug business. So in a great degree is the liquor business.
Our beloved profession, according to Mr. Ellis and the Post, is as bad as the white slave traffic and worse than the liquor traffic. Was William Proctor, Jr., the father of American pharmacy, to whom the druggists of this country have pledged a movement, "the devil's own?" Should Joseph P. Remington, our "grand old man," be burned at the stake? Should Eberie and Cline, who have taught Texas boys and girls pharmacy, be executed? Is Adolph Kieseling as bad as a white slave trader and worse than a liquor dealer? What of Berghelm, Leitichworth, and scores of other Houston druggists? After the awful Galveston storm, when J. J. Schott opened his great store and bade the people of his wrecked city to take the earnings of his life of toil, and pay when they were able, if ever, could you place him in the class in which Mr. Ellis says we belong? Does this kindly old man look like a bartender? Does he resemble the demon who lurks in the shadows of the drug store? Or does he seem to have some of the traits of the Man of Sorrows who, in Beth-sepnae, paid the greatest debt that mankind ever owed? When the San Francisco fire left that great city in ruins, when men saw the toll and labor of a lifetime reduced to smoke and ashes, the National Association of Retail Druggists immediately went $40,000 to the relief of the sufferers. Does this on the part of the druggists of the United States indicate that we are the spawn of perdition and a disgrace to the mothers who bore us?
How does the statement of Ellis in the Post set with the sons and grandsons of the Alamo, Goliad and San Jacinto? Is this man Ellis a native son? Was he reared to manhood in the light of the Lone Star? We hope no. We regret profoundly that there is within the borders of our great state a man who can find it in his heart to defame a profession that has stood for the highest ideals of life throughout its history. We hate for such a statement as this to go out to the world from a Texas. It is not only a blot on the records of the Commonwealth, for which Busham, Bowie, Travis and Crockett died like men, but it is a disgrace and insult to every druggist on this continent. Mr. Ellis' poleoastic tirade is a part of the Post's Sunday School section. We would marvel at seeing such a statement in the Police Gazette, or hearing it from a bum on a shady corner; but when a great daily mixes it up with the International Sunday School

Lesson, we can but exclaim, "What next?"
We of the drug trade must meet poverty and minister to its needs many times without money and without price. During my long experience in the business no sweaty, brine-covered man with a sick wife or child ever asked me for medicine, and said he had no money, who left my store without it. I claim no credit for this, because you can find thousands of my craft in Texas who have done the same thing, and not only in Texas but in every state in the Union.
A notable example of the druggist's charity is the child of a poor family stricken with diphtheria. The anti-toxin for this disease is one of the most expensive items known to the trade, but the child must have it or die. How many of us can stand up and tell the poverty-stricken parents that they can't get it without the money, which is equivalent to telling them they can't get it at all? I never had the heart to say "No." I'd rather my own child had less clothing and fewer meals than to say "Your child is nothing to me; I want the money" and in this, I am happy to say, I am only one of thousands who thus interpret the casting of bread on the waters.
Probably in charity we should have turned the other cheek and passed the insult by; but the spirit of the Alamo is in us, and when our honor is attacked we can't keep our gun hand off our hip, although we know Stephen was stoned, Christ was murdered, and that hell hath no horrors like a penny-liner who has run out of something to say.

It is now thought that action on a new court house for Wichita county will be taken at the next meeting of the commissioners court. So far but little opposition to the proposition has been encountered.
The Masons of Wichita Falls have long decided that they have gone long enough without a hope and have decided to have constructed a handsome Masonic Temple at the northeast corner of 10th and Scott. If present plans are carried out it will be a three-story structure 50x150 feet and will cost right at $40,000.
Amarillo, Abilene, Vernon and other progressive cities in this section of the state are holding fairs this fall that are attracting thousands of visitors to those towns. Wichita Falls is in a splendid position to establish one of the best fairs in the state. Organization and preparation are needed. The question of a fair generally comes up every spring and summer but at such times it is considered too late to get ready for a fair for the ensuing fall. If organization was started and preparations begun a year in advance, lack of time ought not to cause the effort to be abandoned. If there is thought of a fair next year, it is not too early to organize and get ready for it now.

The Fort Worth Young Men's Business League announces that from this time on it will not allow the organization to be used politically. It's a good resolution to make, and a good one to live up to. About the quickest and easiest way in the world for a business organization to destroy its usefulness is to permit or allow it to be used—even under cover to promote the interests of this or that political faction. It may be that the dissatisfied members will not show their displeasure or resentment at such tactics, but they will just naturally drop out, one at a time, and say nothing of why they withdrew.

It is what some ignorantly call gambling in cotton that's fetching the price up to 12 cents.—Waco Times-Herald.
In our judgment, gambling in futures has not caused the price of cotton to advance. In the first place, there was a reduced acreage. Add to this bad crop conditions which, according to estimates will put the 1915 cotton crop at least five million bales under the 1914 crop and the further fact that the federal government has set aside a large amount of money to be distributed to banks in the cotton states and loaned to cotton farmers at not to exceed 6 per cent per annum; has cut some figure in advancing the price of cotton. In fact, it looks like the supply is not going to be equal to the demand, and if by the aid extended by the federal government to cotton farmers through the banks the cotton farmers will take advantage of their opportunity, cotton will advance to at least 12 cents per pound during the next sixty days. Gambling in cotton has more often proved a detriment to cotton farmers than it has helped them, so far as advancing the price is concerned.

Editor McCollum is glad that the Federal authority went into Corpus Christi and cleaned up ugly conditions. But Editor McCollum is backing Bob Henry in his contention that the Federal authority ought not to come into Texas and put a stop to the liquor traffic. Strange all this difference should be "Waco Times-Herald."
As we understand it, there was a ring or gang of politicians at Corpus Christi who kept themselves in office and power by voting Mexicans at $2 per head, most of whom were not citizens of the United States. It was up to those in office and power to see that the State laws were enforced, but when they themselves were the persons who violated the laws and gained office and power by doing so, it could hardly be expected they would prosecute themselves. There was nothing for those who felt they had but their votes "killed" by fraudulent Mexican votes to do except to appeal for protection as American citizens to the federal government. When it is a rule to vote Mexicans who are not entitled to vote, or negroes or white men, it is to be regretted that our State laws are not enforced. The reason they are not enforced in most instances, is simply for the reason that those in office and in power whose sworn duty it is to enforce the state laws regarding the casting of illegal ballots, have gained their office and authority in that way. That is why the Federal authorities "budded in" at Corpus Christi, and no man who really believes in an honest ballot and fair count ought to complain, unless his complaint be that our State laws are not enforced in that respect, and on that account it has been necessary at Corpus Christi for those who believe in an honest election to appeal to federal authority to protect them in their rights.

REGARDING THE NEW COURT HOUSE.
In speaking of the proposition to build a new court house, County Commissioner A. McCleskey of Iowa Park said that he realized the necessity for more room; but thought that another story could be added to the present court house at a cost of not to exceed $40,000, that would be sufficient. This would furnish ample room for all purposes, and at the same time make of the old court house a very neat, substantial and modern affair. A new vault could be added, and the building equipped with an elevator. He favors this for the reason that if a new building is decided upon but little if any of the material now in the present building could be used to any advantage, and the loss would be almost if not quite total. In regard to the selection of a new court house site, Mr. McCleskey is of the opinion that if that is done the present site will revert back to the original owners.
"We favor a single presidential term, and to that end we urge the adoption of an amendment to the constitution making the president of the United States ineligible for re-election and we pledge the candidate of this convention to this principle."
The above is a plank of the last National Democratic platform. President Wilson is not a candidate for re-election, but it is conceded that he is going to be nominated by the Democrats, and will accept. In fact, no other Democrat is being considered, probably for the reason that nearly all Democrats are agreed that if the Democrats win the presidency in 1916 Wilson will have to head the ticket. If they can't win with him it is useless to put up any other man. Just what the Democrats are going to do with that plank in the platform which makes Wilson ineligible for a second term will probably be by constructing it to mean that until the constitution of the United States is amended limiting the time or terms one man shall hold the office of president, the plank as quoted above is no bar to President Wilson accepting a second nomination, and if elected a second term. That is the reasonable and sensible construction to be placed upon it. At any rate, if Wilson lives, he is going to be re-nominated for the reason that the American people have confidence in his ability to run this government, and will be re-elected by the greatest popular vote ever given any candidate for the presidency. Many of the strongest and most able Republican newspapers concede this now, and will throw their influence to Wilson regardless of who the Republicans nominate.

The federal government has made it possible for banks to advance money on cotton at 3 per cent interest, and most banks, or at least many banks have announced they are willing to do this. As the Times understands it, this cotton money is advanced to the banks by the government at a low rate of interest—something like 3 per cent, and the banks that get this government money are expected to loan it out on cotton at not more than 6 per cent. Much credit for getting the government to come to the relief of the cotton producer by making it possible for him to secure 6 per cent money is given to Congressman Bob Henry of Waco, who has neglected no opportunity that has presented itself to urge upon the government that it should do just what it is doing now, only the government, changed the plan somewhat, and instead of loaning the cotton producer direct on cotton, prefers to handle it through the banks. There are those who will deny that the persistency with which Congressman Henry has urged upon the federal government to do something in a financial way to aid the cotton farmers of the South has had anything to do with the matter, but the Times is rather inclined to believe that had Mr. Henry ceased to urge the matter, cotton farmers all over the cotton states would not have been able to secure 6 per cent money. So let's give to the Waco Congressman the credit, or at least the major portion of it. He has done well.

Rev. Dr. Hillis, made famous by the fact that he is now pastor of Old Plymouth church, New York, the church where Henry Ward Beecher used to preach, confessed to his congregation that he had lost his fortune by too great a desire to accumulate more wealth on Wall street, and he is now broke. Dr. Hillis in his younger days, was a socialist, and at that time thought it was a crime for a man to have an income greater than $50,000 per year. But he soon got out of that way of thinking and by preaching, lecturing and writing, accumulated a snug fortune of more than a million dollars. All this he had now lost.
A bank advertisement in an East Texas newspaper reads as follows: "This bank desires to announce that during the coming cotton season it will advance money to its customers at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, to be secured with bonded warehouse cotton receipts and will be available to cotton growers only." That ad has the right sort of ring to it, when cotton-growers can get advances on cotton at 5 per cent per annum they will not be forced to sell on a low market, but can hold until there is a better demand and a better market. When all the banks and bankers in the cotton states adopt that liberal policy toward the cotton-growers it will mean much for the whole people of the South. The trouble has been all along that interest has been made so high the cotton grower could not afford to pay, and, therefore, dumped his cotton on the market taking just what was offered, and that was hardly equal to the cost of his product.

BELLIGERENTS EMPLOY AMERICAN MACHINISTS
No Less Than 150 Americans Leaving Every Week to Work for Foreign Governments
By Associated Press.
New York, Sept. 29.—At least one hundred and fifty American machinists engaged in all parts of the country are leaving New York each week to work in the munitions plants of the European belligerents, according to information obtained at the offices of International Association of Machinists here. The competition between Great Britain and Russia is said to have driven the wages of such mechanics to the highest amount yet known. American manufacturers of war munitions are said to be paying as high as $7 or $8 a day to expert shell makers.

55 BODIES RECOVERED AT ARDMORE EARLY THIS AFTERNOON

GASOLINE DISTILLATE EXPLODES

CARMAN'S HAMMER STRUCK A SPARK EXPLODING GASOLINE TANK CAR AND DYNAMITE

WRECKS BUILDINGS

Fire Breaks Out and Other Explosions Add to Disaster in Which Depot and Several Business Blocks Were Wrecked

By Associated Press. Ardmore, Okla., Sept. 28.—The death list as a result of yesterday's gasoline and dynamite explosion here was brought up to fifty-five this afternoon when the bodies of a man and two small children were found on the former site of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway freight depot. Of the dead thirty-six are white and nineteen are negroes.

Of more than two hundred persons injured in the catastrophe physicians say there were many who cannot recover. Work of identifying the dead is proceeding slowly. Comparatively few of the victims, however, have been identified. There is danger of several walls of buildings gutted and damaged by the explosion and fire falling. Police have roped off these dangerous places and stopped traffic in the vicinity. Systematic work has started of cleaning the streets of broken glass which fell from thousands of broken windows. A dozen "trustees" from the Oklahoma penitentiary at McAlester are en route here on a special train to assist in cleaning away the debris and searching for the dead.

Three More Bodies Found. The death list today was increased by the finding of a father, aged about 49 years, two small children, a boy and girl, aged seven and ten on the site of the freight depot which was first consumed in the flames following the explosion. Persons said they saw the three standing on the platform before the fatal accident. The two negroes early reported missing have been found. The negro man, who was a physician, was probably in the worst condition of any of the corpses. The body of a negro woman also reported missing was found in the same place. A third negro whose name was given as Richard Brigham of Greenville, died at a hospital this morning.

The streets for about three blocks from the site of the explosion have been roped off from traffic. Persons are likewise kept a considerable distance from the freight yards where there is another car of distillate which may, according to those in authority, explode like the first one. The MacMahon Oil Company, a local concern, was first to head a relief fund here with $1,000. Offers for aid have come from Galveston, Texas, Madill, Marietta and Norman, Okla., as well as from the state prison at McAlester. One of the four unidentified men previously reported is said to be Richard Barnes, a Choctaw Indian who worked in a store which collapsed. A. H. Cornell, one of the men seriously wounded while playing in the Santa Fe tracks talked for a short time to the Associated Press correspondent from his cot in the sanitarium from behind a screen of bandages which showed only his mouth and one eye. Cornell said he did not remember anything after the explosion and that from time to time he heard the noise until he regained consciousness in the hospital all was blank. He said he understood that officials of the railroad knew the car was in bad order and that they had ordered it out but that it was not released from service quickly enough.

Property Damage $500,000. The property damage is estimated at more than a half million dollars. A tank containing 250 barrels of gasoline exploded. The tank car was standing near the Santa Fe freight office in the business district, and the terrific force of the explosion wrecked many buildings and threw burning gasoline in every direction. Scores of fires were started by the scattering of the blazing fluid and these raged until about 7 o'clock before being got under control.

The explosion was caused by a spark from a workman's hammer, which ignited the gasoline fumes as they escaped from a leak in the tank car. Two workmen were busy repairing the tank at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Suddenly one of them struck it with a hammer. A spark from the blow ignited fumes, escaping through a small hole. There was a terrific explosion, followed by smaller ones. The workmen were blown to pieces.

The shock shattered the Ardmore railroad station used by the Santa Fe Frisco and Rock Island railroads. The Rock Island freight station and scores of other buildings quickly took fire from the flying liquid. The flames spread rapidly until all of Main street appeared, a roaring furnace. Thirty freight cars in the Santa Fe railroad yards were destroyed. The pall of smoke hanging over the whole city prevented rescuers from doing effective work.

Among the buildings destroyed were the railroad station, Swift & Co., Pennington Wholesale Grocery Company, Whittington Hotel, Maddin & Co. dry goods and DeWitt Cigar Company. Not a building on Main street escaped damage, either as a result of the force of the explosion or of the fires following. The publishing plants of the Daily Ardmoreite and the Statesman were badly damaged.

Windows Shattered. All school buildings, business houses and residences within twelve blocks of the business district bear evidence of the explosion. Practically every window in the city was shattered by its force.

At the store of Maddin & Co., scores of girls were working, and it was feared last night some of them lost their lives.

Deeds of heroism were many. A woman waiting at the railroad station with a baby in her arms and a 4-year-old child at her side dashed three blocks with her double burden, her own clothes blazing as she ran. Passers by smothered the flames with their bare hands. The mother was taken to a hospital, dangerously burned. The children were not seriously injured.

For five hours after the explosion Ardmore was cut off completely from the outside world. Telephone and telegraph communication was severed.

The Santa Fe freight station was wrecked and was burned to the ground. The union passenger station is almost a total wreck. The express office was partially wrecked.

In the block on Main street from the Santa Fe freight station to the Whittington Hotel every building, including the Pennington Wholesale Grocery House, is wrecked. The east side of the Whittington Hotel was wrecked from the top story to the first floor.

On the opposite side of the street Swift Packing Company's plant was wrecked and burned. A two-story rooming house over the Canton Cafe at the corner of Main and Caddo was wrecked, as was also Bob Bigg's restaurant.

"Sherry" Taylor was killed there. A woman was dragged from the ruins dead. Several negroes were taken out of there also. Ladd & Davidson's wholesale house east of the railroad station was badly wrecked. Mrs. Clara Davidson was in a dangerous condition when dug from the ruins. Raymond McCoy, a bookkeeper, also was severely injured.

7TH STREET BUILDINGS ARE BEING IMPROVED

Old City and First National Bank Buildings and White Front Building Included

From Tuesday's Daily. Three downtown business buildings are now being remodelled and will be occupied as soon as the improvements are finished. They are old First National Bank building, the old City National building and the White Front building at Seventh and Ohio street. A drug store is to occupy the old City National building at Seventh and Ohio, while the White Front will be the home of a cafe under the Western management. The concern which has rented the First National building is not known.

Wiley Wyatt will install the cafe on the ground floor of the White Front, while upstairs there will be a banquet hall which can also be used for dancing. This room will also have a small stage, so that entertainments may be given there.

LIEUT. PETER FELL READY TO RESPOND TO CALL

Wichita Falls Greek, Veteran of Two Wars, Only Awaits Orders to Return to Fight

From Tuesday's Daily. Peter Fell, a member of the Greek colony of this city and a brother of A. H. Fell, the confectioner, will probably leave this country shortly for his native land, should Greece become involved in the war. He is now in Fort Worth, where with a number of other Greeks he is awaiting definite word that he is wanted at home. Fell is a first lieutenant of the Greek reserve army, which is reported to have been called to the colors.

Fell is a veteran of two Greek wars, returning from this country in 1912 when Greece, Bulgaria, Montenegro and Serbia were fighting Turkey. He also participated in the war of 1913 in which Greece, Montenegro, Serbia and Roumania defeated Bulgaria, seeing much active service in both wars. Although he would seem to have had his share of fighting for a man 38 years old, he is anxious to return if Greece enters the present struggle.

Ford Prepares For National Service By Studying Our Newest Submarines

MR. FORD DESCENDS INTO SUBMARINE MR. FORD AND LIEUT. NIMITZ

Following his plan of lending his inventive and mechanical ability to the strengthening of America's naval defenses, Henry Ford visited a submarine for the first time in his life in New York navy yard. Escorted by navy yard officers and officers attached to the submarine flotilla of the Atlantic fleet, Mr. Ford was taken into the K boats, where he had every opportunity to investigate and study the intricate mechanism of one of the newest and most up to date of American submarines. Mr. Ford went to the navy yard at the invitation of Secretary of the Navy Daniels, with whom he conferred in Washington on matters pertaining to the improvement of the navy, particularly the submarine arm of the service. At the yard Mr. Ford was met by Rear Admiral N. R. Usher, the commandant; Captain George E. Burt, the yard manager; Naval Constructor George H. Rook, Lieutenant Commander R. P. Craft, Lieutenant C. W. Nimitz of the submarine flotilla and Commander Earl P. Jessup of the navy yard staff.

SUSPECT ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF AUTOMOBILE

Sheriff Hawkins returned today from Memphis, Texas, with Ed Sturgis, who is charged with theft in connection with the loss of the automobile of Dr. R. L. Miller nearly two months ago. After the car was recovered, Chief Nall obtained a description of the man who was seen with it, and sent this to peace officers throughout this section. A short time ago the officers at Memphis reported that they had a man who answered the description and the sheriff went up last night, returning with the prisoner today. Dr. Miller's car was stolen from a downtown corner early in August, being recovered several days later in a garage at Alvard.

C. D. Shamburger made a business trip to Vernon this afternoon. Sheriff George Hawkins took Mrs. Theresa Valcik recently adjudged insane to the San Antonio asylum this afternoon.

Turkish Soldier Blindfolded To Keep Him From Learning Military Secrets

BLINDFOLDED TURK GETS ARMISTICE TO BURY DEAD

Englishmen and Frenchmen, fighting on the Gallipoli peninsula to batter a way to Constantinople, have acquired a high opinion of the Turk as a fighting man and also of the personal qualities of the Moslem. They say he "fights fair." On the other hand, German reports assert that the Turk has no great objection to the Frenchman, but does not like Tommy Atkins. Recent reports say that the allied forces on the peninsula have been strengthened by a great Italian army, so in all likelihood the Turks are now crossing arms with their old opponents of the Turko-Italian war for Tripoli. The picture shows a blindfolded Turk being taken through the British lines—blindfolded to keep him from acquiring useful military information—after he had come from his own side with a request for an armistice in which to bury the dead.

MASONS TO BUILD HOME DURING COMING WINTER

DIRECTORS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN SESSION

Vote Appropriation for Demonstration Agent and Act on Other Matters

From Tuesday's Daily. The directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their regular weekly session this morning voted an appropriation of $200 to J. W. Campbell, agricultural demonstration agent for the county, to supplement his pay from the federal government and from the county. The appropriation was conditioned on Mr. Campbell's collecting an agricultural exhibit for the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Campbell said that he would have new work during the coming year in the effort of the government to secure the cooperation of the farmers and land owners in preventing a recurrence of the boll weevil pest next season. He said it would be necessary to destroy all stalks as soon as the cotton is picked. "If we don't," he said, "we can expect the boll-weevil to get our cotton next year."

The directors voted their support to the "Dress Up Week" movement inaugurated by the Merchants' Association after some one interpreted the movement to mean that every director ought to buy a new suit of clothes and wear it that week.

It was also voted to recommend to the manufacturers of Wichita Falls, the Buy It Made in Texas movement as worthy of their support. This action followed a report on the status of the movement made by T. B. Noble, Wichita Falls director in the state association. In this connection the president of the Chamber of Commerce was asked to write a letter to Ball Brothers at Muncie, Indiana, calling their attention to the fact that the inscription on the shipping cartons and on the fruit jars themselves made here had no inscription to identify them with Texas or Wichita Falls.

On a motion a committee comprising J. A. Kemp, T. B. Noble and P. H. Pennington was named to confer with the city council to learn what step could be taken for the repair of the Tenth street paving from Lamar street to Brook avenue.

Directors attending the session were: Messrs. Huff, Hardy, Ward, Huey, Pennington, Noble, Kemp, Harvey O'Reilly and Smock.

NEW COTTON PICKING PROCESS EXHIBITED

W. A. Patterson Invents Machines For Cutting Stalks Removing Bolls and Cleaning Fiber

W. A. Patterson, the well known inventor, is demonstrating a cotton picking machine in a frame building on Barwise street just east of the Wichita Valley tracks. Local parties are interested with Mr. Patterson in the invention.

Mr. Patterson's inventions cover three operations, one cutting cotton stalks in the field, another removing the bolls from the stalks and a third removing boll shells and other debris from the cotton at the gin. The device which Mr. Patterson is demonstrating here is the one for removing the bolls from the stalks.

The cutting machine which Mr. Patterson has invented and models of which are now being made in an Indiana plant, it is claimed, will cut down thirty acres of cotton stalks a day. In the operation of Mr. Patterson's process these stalks will be left on the ground until they have thoroughly dried. The boll separating machinery mounted on wheels and pulled by horses will then be brought into the field. This machinery is comparatively simple and will not be costly. Its main pieces are two long rollers with facets of rubber composition. These are placed together one above the other. Before them is a guard made of two pieces of steel extending the whole length of the rollers with an opening between them into which the stalks of cotton can be thrust into the rollers but not fore-and-aft. The rollers then catch the stalks and being revolved by a small gasoline engine will strip the bolls at the joints.

The bolls are opened cotton fall from the guard onto a conveyor which is designed to discharge them into another work to be driven alongside the machine. A platform extends the whole length of the rollers. Onto this the cotton can be piled when lifted from the ground with a pitchfork. The machine strips the stalks of all opened cotton and bolls as shown by Mr. Patterson's demonstration and he claims that one machine can handle fifty bales of cotton in a day.

Mr. Patterson is expecting a completed model of his machine here in the next two weeks when he expects to give a field demonstration of its working.

3 STORY BUILDING WILL BE ERECTED

BETWEEN $35,000 AND $40,000 TO BE PUT INTO NEW BUILDING

HALL ON THIRD FLOOR

Second Floor Will Be Fitted up as Club Room—Business Rooms on First Floor

The building committee of the Masonic Lodge at a meeting late Friday afternoon decided to proceed with plans for the erection of a three story brick temple on the lot owned by the lodge at the corner of Tenth street and Scott avenue. It present plans are carried out work on the building will start early in the winter.

A call has been issued for a meeting Wednesday evening of members of the Knights Templar and of the Scottish Rite Masons to take action for the formation of a club to occupy the second floor of the building. This meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at the Masonic hall and all Knights Templar and members of the Scottish Rite Degree in the city are urged to be present.

The lodge purchased the site for its home several years ago. It lies 150 feet along the north side of Tenth street and extends back fifty feet along Scott avenue. The building will cover the entire tract. The first floor will be given over to business rooms. It is planned to use the second floor for club rooms and the third floor will be given over to the lodge hall.

The lot was paid for when purchased. The lodge has a considerable sum in cash and notes on hand and can make arrangements to borrow the remaining sum necessary for the building on favorable terms. It is planned to put about $40,000 into the building. It was planned more than a year ago to begin work on the building in a few months but the European war with its disturbing results stopped plans for the building for the time. The more favorable turn recently has decided the committee to recommend that the building now be erected. For many years the Masonic hall has been located in the old First National Bank building.

The members of the building committee include: Dr. R. C. Smith, chairman; J. A. Richoit, J. A. Kemp, Fred M. Gates, L. C. Hinckley, P. B. Cox, H. G. Karrenbrock, W. W. Gardner, T. C. Thatcher and Frank Collier.

YALE GRADUATE TEACHER IN HIGH SCHOOL HERE

C. H. Watkins of Nevada, Began Duties Monday as Instructor in Mathematics

From Tuesday's Daily. C. H. Watkins of Nevada, Texas, is here to fill the newly created position in the mathematics department occasioned by the unusually large attendance in the high school opening his classes Monday. In securing Mr. Watkins the school board and Prof. Clark, the superintendent of the city schools, feel that they have been exceptionally fortunate as he comes with high recommendations as to his scholarship. He is a graduate of Baylor University and of Yale, graduating with unusual honors in all studies from both institutions. He has been principal of the high school at Dublin, Texas, and was also connected with the Baptist College at Decatur.

TENNIS ASSOCIATION FORMED AT HIGH SCHOOL

Three Courts Laid Out on School Grounds—Association Starts With 12 Members

At a meeting Monday afternoon at the high school the organization of a tennis association was perfected and plans made for a game schedule. Mr. Miller, one of the high school instructors, was elected president and Coach and Joe Meares, Jr., secretary and treasurer. There are twelve members of the association and as there are three courts laid out at the high school the entire membership can engage in practice and match games at the same time. Additional members will probably be secured.

The tennis championship of this district was won by Wichita players last spring and from the material in the association this year it is hoped to develop championship material.

DEFENDANTS WIN $1,600,000 SUIT

JUDGMENT FOR OIL COMPANY AND OTHER DEFENDANTS IN COLLET SUIT

TRIED ON SPECIAL ISSUES

From Sunday's Daily. Judgment for the defendants was rendered Saturday at Vernon in the case of Mrs. J. A. Collett vs. the Houston & Texas Central Railway Company, the Corsicana Petroleum Company, the Magnolia Petroleum Company and the Central Trust Company of New York.

From Sunday's Daily. Judgment for the defendants was rendered Saturday at Vernon in the case of Mrs. J. A. Collett vs. the Houston & Texas Central Railway Company, the Corsicana Petroleum Company, the Magnolia Petroleum Company and the Central Trust Company of New York.

Mrs. Collett was suing for the value of the mineral rights on a section of land in this county. In the Electrica oil field, upon which the Corsicana Petroleum Company has fifteen producing wells and which mineral rights were valued at $1,600,000. Argument was heard this week on the judgment, Judge A. H. Carrigan and Judge J. T. Montgomery of Wichita Falls being of counsel for the defense. It is understood that the case will be taken to the higher courts.

The claims of Mrs. Collett arose from the fact when the Houston & Texas Central Railway owners in fee of the land, sued her husband to foreclose their lien on the tract. They did not make Mrs. Collett a party to the suit. This foreclosure suit was brought and decided over two years ago. Last year when the Corsicana Petroleum Company, which had a lease on the tract, was endeavoring to borrow money upon it, the omission was discovered. A suit claim was secured from Mr. and Mrs. Collett, but later the suit was filed.

After the jury answered the special issues last week, a report was sent out from Vernon that there had been a finding for the plaintiff. This report was due to a misunderstanding of the purport of the special issues.

J. L. McMAHON RESIGNS POSITION WITH OIL CO.

For Several Years Has Been Assisted Gen. Supt. North Texas District Producers Oil Company

From Sunday's Daily. J. L. McMahon, assistant general superintendent of the North Texas district of the Producers Oil Company, has resigned his position here effective October 1. Mr. McMahon has oil and gas interests in Oklahoma and mining interests in Missouri, to which he will devote his time.

Announcement of Mr. McMahon's resignation is received with marked regret by not only his associates in the Producers Company and in the oil business, but by the many Wichita Falls who have been glad to count him as a friend.

Mr. McMahon has been here for over two years, coming from San Antonio in the summer of 1912. In his position with the Producers Company he was in charge of much of the development work which that concerns hundreds of oil men who have made Wichita Falls their home in the past few years. None could count more friends than J. L. McMahon, and his pleasant, cordial, kindly manner won him marked popularity among all with whom he came in contact.

CORPSE STILL LACKING FOR MURDER EVIDENCE

Supposed Victim in Jail But Blood Stains and Other Evidence Still Unexplained

All that is needed to make a murder out of the events of Thursday night at a resort in the flats is a corpse, and so far, one has not materialized. After a careful investigation of the affair, officers are inclined to the belief that no one was either killed or injured. The woman who discovered the blood and the cut screen, is in jail on a charge of vagrancy and her husband is also confined on a similar charge.

CRIMINAL WEEKLY TIMES, WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1 1914 TRIED LAST WEEK

ONLY ONE ACQUITTAL RESULT—ED—TWO WERE GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE

FRY CASE SET FOR THURSDAY

Some Civil Cases Will Come Up in Early Part of Week—Major Trial Week After Next

From Sunday's Daily. Eleven criminal cases were tried in the 78th district court last week, and the docket is comparatively clear as a result of trials in both the 20th and 78th courts since the grand jury convened. Of the eleven cases tried, only one resulted in an acquittal, two resulted in convictions with suspended sentence and the remaining eight resulted in convictions without suspension of sentence. In two cases where suspended sentence was asked, the jury failed to recommend it.

The last case to be tried was that of Pat Solans, charged with robbery. He was convicted and given a five year sentence. Solans is already under a suspended sentence for forgery in Tarrant county, and will have to serve both sentences now. His case is a companion to that of Ed Thrasher, who was convicted of robbery and given ten years.

Fry Case Up Thursday. This week some civil cases are to receive attention, but week after next the case of Oscar Wells, charged with murder, is set for trial and several other criminal cases are also set for October. Next Thursday the forgery cases against E. W. Fry are set for trial.

The case of J. D. Houston, indicted for banding, has been dismissed by the state. Houston was tried in July, the jury standing eleven to one for acquittal. Other cases disposed of last week are: Arthur Williams, theft two year sentence; Ed Thrasher, robbery, ten year sentence; Pat Solans, alias Bert Williams, robbery, five years; C. E. Covart, robbery, two years; R. H. Hankins, forgery, two years suspended sentence; Nat Parus, robbery, three years; Frank C. Anderson, robbery, three years suspended sentence; O. R. McKennon, forgery, two years; W. H. Bowman, forgery, two years; M. G. Strader, attempted theft from person, acquitted.

COTTON BRINGS ELEVEN AND A HALF CENTS HERE

From Monday's Daily. From eleven and a half to eleven and five-eighths cents was the quotation for middling cotton in the local spot market today, but even at that figure little was offered and practically no cotton is being bought here.

Very little new crop cotton, probably less than a score of bales, has come in and there does not seem to be any rush to sell the cotton stored last season and held over.

THAT BULGARIAN MOBILIZATION FOR OFFENSIVE DENIED

London, Sept. 27.—The Bulgarian government this morning officially communicated to the powers a note stating in the most categorical fashion that the mobilization of the Bulgarian army was ordered in the national interest and that it had not the slightest offensive character.

The official note to the powers also was dispatched from Sofia on Sept. 27 so that it was framed before Greek mobilization had been decided upon. Dr. Ghenadiev, ex-Bulgarian foreign minister, whose inclusion in the Sofia cabinet is reported possible, has been known lately for his pro-entente views and it is believed here that, unless he was certain of the government continuing its good relations with the entente powers, he would not have assured them of his support.

DALLAS IN LEAD FOR DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Widespread Campaign Appears to Be Having Effect in Moulding Sentiment for Texas City.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 27.—Possibly the most illuminating development thus far in the campaign to bring the Democratic convention to Texas next year is the statement which William F. McCombs, chairman of the national Democratic committee, gave out to the New York press last week. As a part of his statement Chairman McCombs announced that Dallas is the leading candidate for next year's convention.

Another helpful development of the campaign was received this week through Judge William H. Atwell, Republican member of the Texas national Democratic convention committee. Judge Atwell has secured from past grand exalted rulers of the Elks, and other prominent Elks over the country the following statement: "I attended the grand lodge session and the national Elks reunion at Dallas, Texas, in July, 1908 and gladly say that the city handled the crowd splendidly and comfortably. The Dallas folks know how to entertain." Among the prominent Elks signing this certificate are Chester P. Ray, chairman of the Elks' reunion in Philadelphia in 1907 and a member of the 1915 Liberty Bell commission.

Comment By Henry A. Melvin.

Henry A. Melvin, associate justice of the supreme court of California, and past grand exalted ruler of the Elks, in attaching his signature joyfully states: "Being a rock ribbed Republican I could suggest a much more appropriate place for the national Democratic convention, than Dallas, but as the place to which I refer is one which is not visited even by Democrats until their political days are over, probably it would not be adopted by the convention of five ones." L. F. Williams, of the Elks Journal, Detroit, in attaching his signature adds: "The hospitality of Dallas is of the deep, sincere type which cannot be simulated."

As is generally known, there are 53 committees which are working to bring the convention to Texas. Of these 32 have written letters indicating that they are strongly inclined toward Texas. Of these 12 had stated outright that they will vote for Dallas. It is worthy of comment that only one, the committee men for Porto Rico, has declared himself as opposed to Dallas.

There are 25 Democratic governors of the United States; 15 have declared themselves unequivocally for Texas and are acting on the advisory committee to further the success of Texas. Eleven United States senators are working for Texas. The State Democratic chairman of 12 States are for Texas. Six justices of State supreme courts have declared themselves for Texas.

Committees Which Are Busy.

The committees which are working to bring the convention to Texas are three: first, an active committee composed of 150; next, an honorary committee composed of 4000 Texans from every section of the State; and third, an advisory committee composed of 10,000 prominent or representative men in other States. The last committee has among its members the governors, senators and other public men referred to, and also men of national prominence and influence, such as Hon. Luke Wright of Tennessee, Irvin S. Cobb, war correspondent and writer; John Burk, treasurer of the United States and other men widely known whose support means a great deal in the campaign.

AUSTRIA CLAIMS THAT HER OWN ACTS DON'T COUNT

Amsterdam, Sept. 27.—The Austro-Hungarian government, according to an official telegram received here from Vienna, has, in reply to the American note of August 12 relative to the manufacture of ammunition in the United States, reiterated the position taken in its protest of June 29.

The reply affirms that Austria-Hungary never intended to imply that it expected Washington would forbid American citizens to do a normal traffic in war material with the enemies of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, but solely protested against the economic life of the United States being made subservient to the production of war material on the greatest possible scale, whereby the United States became militarized.

The suggestion of the Austro-Hungarian government on the question of the supply of war materials was intended to prove that it is in the power of the United States to open the way for commerce with the central powers because this possibility has been prevented by the entente powers by measures which leave the government of the United States regards as illegal.

The reference by the United States to the Boer war is less apposite, since at that time England did not prohibit commerce and therefore there was no question of the commercialization of South Africa.

All In Readiness For Forty-Ninth Encampment Of Veterans Of G. A. R.

UPPER: G. A. R. NAVAL VETERAN. LOWER: MEETING OF G. A. R. VETERANS.

Final arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the Grand Army veterans at their forty-ninth annual encampment, in Washington, during the week of September 27th have now been completed. To correct any impression which might be gained by the association of ideas, it should be stated that the encampment is not to be a tented affair. The reunion will not be held under canvas, as has been the case with these affairs in many cities. Instead the Washington citizens' committee has provided for the use of the veterans a building adequately adapted for the purposes of the encampment and having, with the exception of the capitol itself, the largest ground floor space of any structure in the city.

There is a row of twenty or more rooms wherein the various corps and departments will have their individual headquarters throughout the reunion. A feature of the arrangements never heretofore provided will be a branch postoffice established in the encampment building to which will be assigned by the postmaster of Washington a force of clerks who will handle all incoming and outgoing mail for the veterans, and all hospital and other appointments and equipments necessary for the comfort and convenience of the old soldiers have been installed in the building.

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 27.—Whether C. A. Myers is sane enough to die on the gallows will be decided by twelve men, the choosing of whom will begin here today in district court. Myers is condemned to die for the death of A. E. Montague, a Texas & Pacific official killed last January because he had discharged Myers. In August Myers was snatched from the gallows thirty minutes before he was to hang by a higher court decree, granting him his hearing of his sanity.

SWEDEN MAINTAINS RIGHT TO TRADE

DISPUTE WITH ENGLAND OVER TRADE WITH GERMANY IS FAR FROM SETTLEMENT

NEWS CONFIDENTIAL

England Claims Goods Going Through to Germany, Sweden Admits This But Asserts Right

Stockholm, Sweden.—The English Swedish commission which has for two months been striving to adjust the trade differences between the two countries, is no nearer a satisfactory solution of the dispute than at the beginning of its session. Meanwhile, over twenty-five million worth of supplies for Russia which she urgently needs, have accumulated in Sweden, owing to this country's refusal to allow the transit of goods to Russia until England has modified her demands regarding the amount of Sweden's imports.

The resumption of the meetings of the commission after an adjournment which followed apparently ineffectual attempts to arrive at an understanding, has reawakened fresh interest in the trade question which is the moment the most widely discussed topic in Sweden. Hope is generally expressed that a compromise will be effected which will result in friendly relations between England and Sweden. Few are optimistic enough to believe that the misunderstanding will widen into a more serious breach between the two countries.

The two sharply conflicting points of view which were presented to the correspondent of the Associated Press by Swedish and English members of the commission do not, however, promise any immediate settlement of the dispute, nor do they contain in common to suggest the possibility of compromise. The English members of the commission argue that large amounts of supplies, many of which are directly connected with prolongation of the war, are transported through Sweden to Germany. The content that a conspicuous increase in Swedish imports beyond her own needs is evidence that the supplies find a way to Germany, and that a great many of them are articles which Germany particularly needs notably meat, coffee, cocoa, cotton, copper and lubricants of various sorts. Being assumed that these are destined for Germany, England claims the right to place such cargoes in the prize courts and is enforcing this right.

It is admitted that these cargoes are touched for by Swedish merchants as having Swedish consignees as their ultimate destination but it is claimed that through intermediate steps in Sweden they find their way finally into Germany. It is also stated by the English members of the commission that the collusion of the Swedish shippers with Germany has led to the deliberate surrender of ships and cargoes to German vessels and that their capture was not a prearranged plan. English commissioners admit the right of Sweden to continue the export of her own products to Germany and to impose any quantity of goods that it may be reasonably supposed is for Swedish consumption, but argue that the amount should not exceed her normal imports. Calling attention to the increase in imports, the English commissioners ask Sweden to guarantee that supplies except for home manufactures will not be sent to Germany or in other words that there shall be no transit of supplies through Sweden to Germany.

TWO WOMEN ARRESTED FOR ROW SUNDAY NIGHT

From Monday's Daily. Two married women residing on Scott avenue near the river were in police court this morning, following a neighborhood row last night. One of the women pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace and was fined five dollars; the case of the other was passed for further investigation.

One woman who was charged with disturbing the peace, a nice-looking young woman with snapping black eyes and other characteristics, admitted that she dragged the other woman out of the house, saying it was because the other woman had been making remarks about her husband. The second woman, finally, did not politely decline to come out into the street, seeming to prefer the comforts of home. It was brought out in court that there was another row several days ago, in which the two women clashed. The woman who was accused of doing too much talking came off second best. Last night, just as the row was ending, a youth who was passing that way laughed at the woman who had been doing the dragging; she promptly turned on him and advanced, with a few well chosen words, and he retreated what is termed in classic official dispatches as a strategic retirement. Neighbors who were witnesses in police court this morning declare that the young woman had several times shown her ability to take care of herself.

C. C. HUFF DISCUSSES KATY RECEIVERSHIP

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 28.—C. C. Huff, general attorney for the Texas line of the Katy, has expressed the opinion that the Katy will be able to fulfill its agreement with the State of Texas concerning improvements promised when the compromise of the State's suits was effected.

On May 1, 1915, the Kansas company had maturing practically $13,000,000 short-term notes. The trust agreement under which these notes were issued provided that if as many as 80 per cent of the noteholders would agree to extend them, that the railway might then declare the notes extended.

An effort was made to try to dispose of these suits, that being unavailing, the only way to preserve the property was to place it in the hands of a receiver. In 1891, when the State of Texas forced the Kansas company to give up its property in the State and provided for the creation of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas of Texas, it was provided in the statute comprising the litigation between the State of Texas and the Kansas company, that the Texas company should assume a certain amount of bonds then outstanding against the mileage in Texas, which was formerly owned by the Kansas company.

through which the Concho flows. He pitched temporary camp under some giant spreading pecan trees close to the stream and decided to fish in the river. He noticed the great number of muskels that peared the bed of the stream. He soon tired of fishing and, having nothing else to do, began raking muskels out with a stick and opening them in search of pearls.

"How much are the things worth?" he inquired. "The jeweler told Teblow that he was not enough of an expert to pass upon the value of the gems, but that a Boston pearl buyer would be in town in a few days and he would ask him. The buyer gave the pearls a careful examination.

"If you are willing to accept $15,000 for the collection of pearls I will take them and settle with you right now," the buyer told the cook. Teblow invested his money in a well improved stock farm up near the headwaters of the Colorado river and in doing well. His sudden rise to wealth caused the cowboys and others from far and near to flock to the banks at the Concho and buy pearls. But such finds as that of Teblow were made by any of them.

London, Sept. 29.—A dispatch from the Italian Navy Agency of Rome says the Italian battleship, Benedetto Brin, sank following an explosion which resulted from a fire on board the vessel. The cause of the disaster has not been ascertained. The announcement last night of the explosion did not make it clear whether the vessel had gone down. It was said eight officers and 379 marines had been saved, more than 100 men still are unaccounted for.

event, but some years ago made a reputation as a driver of fast cars in road races. Dario Reas who won the Vanderbilt and the Grand Prix events in California last spring and later won the 500 mile Derby at Chicago, and Ralph de Palma, who defeated Resta at Indianapolis, are regarded as the favorites for the Astor cup, though with Barney Oldfield, Eddie Rickenbacker, Bob Burman, Gil Anderson, Earl Cooper, Harry Grant and a score of others, they will have plenty of competition.

The building of the Katy through Indian Territory, now Oklahoma, gave rise to a lawsuit in the federal court, a suit involving millions of dollars.

After the lease was dissolved the Katy built its own line into St. Louis, practically paralleling the Missouri Pacific from Sedalia to St. Louis, but going along the north side of the Missouri river, while the Missouri Pacific went along the south bank.

RULES FOR KANGAROO COURT AT COUNTY JAIL

Code Presented For Approval Declares Jury System a Complete Failure.

A set of rules for the conduct of the kangaroo court in the county jail has been promulgated by the judges of the court, and will become effective as soon as approved by Sheriff Hawkins and Jailer McFall. The court has jurisdiction over all prisoners on the felony side of the jail.

The rules provide for punishment to those who infringe on them, the punishment being from five to 200 "ticks" with a razor strap; the rules require observance of the rights of fellow prisoners; payment of debts, cleanliness and other precepts which are good both in and out of jail.

The fines collected, when paid in cash, go to the tobacco fund, tobacco being the principal medium of exchange in the jail.

AUTO ACCIDENTS TOO NUMEROUS

The increasing number of automobile accidents emphasizes, police and other officials say, the great necessity of more care in the operation of motor cars through the streets and over the boulevards.

It is amazing observers declare, to learn that this great amount of traffic is confined to comparatively few thoroughfares. In practically all of the accidents, police say, the cause could be traced directly to the human error. In other words, accidents resulting from unavoidable causes, such as mechanical mishaps, were of such small percentage as to be almost negligible.

The automobile makers have equipped the motor cars of today with every possible means of safe operation. The wizards of the motor car industry make automobiles "too good." But they cannot give the automobiles the one great essential needed in their safe and successful operation—brains.

It does not require any great technical education to operate an automobile. In fact, the motor car dealer would rather see his autos go into the hands of buyers who have caution and ordinary sense than to the persons who know all the fine technicalities of the car and yet refuse to heed the common road rules.

Ignoring road rules and the law of safety brings the great bulk of accidents, the police records show. The most common place for accidents is at street intersections. Yet the state and city, to remove all confusion on this point, adopted the simple rule that the car on the right had the right of way in approaching crossings.

But the police find, they say, that motorists not only violate this simple law, which would prove a solution for crossing traffic, but they approach crossings at such speed as to make any rules regarding right of way useless.

Aside from the dangers involved by not regarding the safety of others or one's own self, there is an ethical phase in road driving. No driver has a right to more than his own share of the road. The thoroughfare is the great democratic ground.

A man afoot would not dash into a door ahead of another person and then slam the door in his face. And yet in effect that is what he does in an automobile when he rushes past him on the road and then cuts in quickly.

DEATH TOLL IN LATEST STORM MAY REACH SEVENTY

PROPERTY DAMAGE RUNS INTO MILLIONS

19 DEAD, 200 INJURED AND PROPERTY LOSS OF $2,000,000 AT NEW ORLEANS.

NO OUTSIDE AID IS ASKED

Work of Rehabilitation Proceeding Rapidly—Restoring Railroad and Wire Communication.

By Associated Press. Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 4.—The death list resulting from the hurricane which swept the New Orleans section and the Mississippi gulf coast Wednesday is expected to reach sixty-five or seventy, while property damage will amount into the millions, according to the latest reports compiled here today. The losses follow:

New Orleans—19 dead, 200 injured, property loss of more than $2,000,000.

Mississippi Coast—13 dead, and scores injured or missing and a property loss estimated at $2,000,000.

Frontier, La.—25 dead, about 30 injured and heavy damage to railroads.

Automobiles arriving here from New Orleans early today reported that the work of rehabilitation of the city was progressing rapidly, the streets being cleaned of debris and buildings left in a dangerous condition by the storm being torn down. Railroad traffic from the west into the city has been partially resumed and the telegraph and telephone companies were working night and day to restore wire communication between the stricken city and the outside world. It was stated no outside aid would be asked for New Orleans.

Reports reaching the capital from the coast south of New Orleans were meagre but indications were that the loss of life was not heavy owing to ample warning of the approach of the storm sent out by the state and federal authorities.

The decision was rendered against the Motion Picture Patent Company, the General Film Company and many other concerns and individuals manufacturing motion pictures, films and accessories or controlling the rights of their manufacture. Many millions of dollars are involved in the business. It is probable that the case will be taken to the supreme court.

The coach and paint shop was a large two story building of corrugated iron and wood frame work. A number of cars of merchandise were placed in the store room which was also a wooden building. The origin of the fire is not known but officials believe it was caused by spontaneous combustion in the paint room. The property was fully insured by a blanket policy. Officials of the railroad in Dallas and New Orleans have been notified of the loss and their orders regarding rebuilding have been sought.

SUIT ON PAVING BOND ORDERED BY COUNCIL

City Engineer Instructed to Prepare Estimates of Cost of Putting the Street in Condition.

Suit on the bond of the paving company which put down the Tenth street pavement between Scott and Brook streets will be instituted at an early date, according to an order passed by the city council Thursday night. The council has been endeavoring for some time to have the company repair this paving, concerning which there has been much complaint, and last night it was decided to take legal steps to have the work done. The city engineer and street committee were instructed to prepare estimates of the cost of putting the street in good condition.

The council passed to the third reading an ordinance prohibiting the taking of sand or gravel from the south bank of the Wichita river. This ordinance was considered necessary on account of the river's cutting into this bank during the flood last summer, it being felt that to permit the hauling away of sand or gravel would make further encroachments by the river easy. The ordinance applies to the south bank in the city limits, for a distance of 300 yards south from the bank.

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 1.—John R. Silliman, the state department representative at Carranza's headquarters in Vera Cruz, is returning to Washington at his own request, it was said today at the state department to confer with officials here. Conflicting reports reached the state department on conditions in Mexico City. The food situation, however, was reported growing better. EXPERT IS HERE TO INVESTIGATE PETROLIA FIELD

REPRESENTATIVE U. S. GEOLOGICAL SURVEY GATHERING DATA ON GAS SUPPLY FOR FORT WORTH AND DALLAS.

CHIEF GEOLOGIST IS COMING

Dr. David White Notifies Local Oil Men He Will Be Here Shortly, Object of His Coming Has Not Been Made Known.

An investigation of the Petrolia gas field with a view to determining its probable life was begun here today by E. W. Shaw of Washington, representing the United States Geological Survey. Mr. Shaw is undertaking this investigation to find out as near as possible how long the cities of Dallas and Fort Worth may expect to get gas from the Petrolia field, and this report will, of course, have a direct bearing upon the gas situation as affecting Wichita Falls.

The investigation will be along several lines, it being Mr. Shaw's purpose to collect all possible information as to the logs of the wells, the pressure, decline in production and other matters which might aid him in making his calculations. The investigation is started at the behest of Dallas and Fort Worth and if it should be found that the cities cannot expect to pipe gas from this section for more than a few years, steps will probably be taken at once to connect with other fields.

Another noted geologist is also expected here this week, but he will work along different lines. Dr. David White, chief geologist of the United States Geological Survey, has notified local oil men that he would be here shortly. He is making a study of conditions in North Texas, but the exact purpose of his visit here is not known.

McMAHON PRESENTED WITH HANDSOME GOLD WATCH

Fellow Workers Honor Assistant Superintendent Who is Leaving the Producers Company.

J. L. McMahon, whose resignation as assistant general superintendent of the North Texas district of the Producers Oil company became effective today, was handsomely remembered by the district employees Thursday night, being presented with a gold watch as a token of esteem. Mr. McMahon was lured into the office by Mr. Cullinan and the two were groping their way in the dark when the light was flashed on, disclosing some thirty or forty employees in the room. Judge John V. Kay, attorney for the company, made the speech of presentation, speaking of the love that the employees bore for the retiring official, of their regret at his departure and of their good wishes for his future. Mr. McMahon, though almost overcome, replied, thanking the employees. The occasion was a complete surprise to him. The watch is an exceptionally fine one, and is the joint gift of all the company's employees in the district.

Mr. McMahon will go to Oklahoma tonight to look after interests there, but expects to visit Wichita Falls frequently. William Little, who has been superintendent in the Moran field, succeeds him as assistant superintendent of the North Texas district.

73 GERMAN SUBMARINES DESTROYED?

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 1.—More than seventy-three German submarines have been destroyed and captured by the British chiefly through the aid of electrical detectors along the English coast, according to William Dubilier, an American engineer who arrived here today. Dubilier has been installing various electrical devices for the British and French governments during the last four months. He says that although only the highest admiralty officers knew the exact number of German submarines that had been destroyed he learned on good authority that the number exceeded seventy-three.

GERMANS SAY THE BRITISH HAVE CEASED THEIR ATTACK AT LOOS

FLOOD OF APPLICATIONS FOR ANGLo-FRENCH LOAN

Total of Subscriptions Already Received is Estimated as High as $430,000,000.

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 1.—Members of the banking syndicate which will manage the $500,000,000 loan negotiated by the Anglo-French loan commission had received today a flood of applications from banks and individuals for permission to participate in underwriting the loan. The subscription books have not yet been opened. A maximum estimate of the total subscription already offered places the amount at high as $430,000,000.

The banking house of Kuehn, Loeb and Company will not help to float the five hundred million dollar credit loan to Great Britain and France because it has been unable to obtain assurances that Russia will not be benefited thereby. Jacob Schiff, the senior member of the firm, asserted today is the first formal statement he has issued on the subject.

MOUNTAIN ARTILLERY IN PROGRESSO DISTRICT

Battery of Small Guns Command the Mexican Side of Iro Grande Near Scene of the Raid.

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 1.—One battery of American mountain guns moved into the Progresso district 35 miles up the Rio Grande at daylight today. Its presence served a double purpose as a moral restraint upon the bandits, smugglers, bad men or the lawless element from the Carranza forces and of commanding the fortifications on the Mexican bank of the river where organized raids have been launched into American territory.

It was learned today that the recently established cavalry camp between here and the mouth of the Rio Grande has been under surveillance from the Mexicans. To screen this camp from view a hedge of willows was built in front of the camp. After the hedge was erected cavalrymen noticed an unusual agitation in the tree branches on the other side and presently a Mexican fell to the ground from a tree top, having climbed too high for safety in an effort to see into the American camp.

General E. P. Nafarrate today commenting on the official report in the United States that he is either unable to control his army or is in sympathy with attacks on the American side of the river said he had arrested to date all Mexicans he could find who are suspected of joining in the revolutionary plot against the United States.

De La Rosa, it was learned positively today, was seen in the market place at Matamoras one day this week. His presence there was reported to General Nafarrate on that occasion. De La Rosa was surrounded by numerous persons, some of whom addressed him as "The Texas General."

The machine gun troops which left here about three o'clock this morning went up the river to this Progresso section.

FRENCH CLAIM FURTHER PROGRESS IN THE ARTOIS

Bulgarians Entrenching Along Serbian Front And Clashes Between Forces of two Countries Reported

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 1.—Pressing of the general offensive movement by the entente allies on the western front has resulted in further progress for them in the Artois region in northern France. Successes in this section, where the fight for the important town of Lens with its radiating railways is being waged, were won by a series of hand grenade attacks, according to a statement by the Paris war office.

In the Champagne district where the French have made notable advances in the great forward movement begun last Saturday, the Germans counter attacks have been checked, according to the official announcement.

On the eastern front the Teutonic progress is slower in most sections and has been checked altogether in others. According to the latest reports from Petrograd, Field Marshal Von Hindenberg's forces have made little headway against Dvinsk.

Reports have been received in Italy that Bulgaria is entrenching all along the Serbian frontier, protecting the entrenchments with barbed wire entanglements and that clashes between Bulgarians and Serbians on the border already have occurred.

Foreign Secretary Grey announced this afternoon that German and Austrian officers were arriving in Bulgaria to direct the Bulgarian army. The secretary said this was a fact which the allies regard "with the utmost gravity."

London, Oct. 1.—The French are bearing the brunt of the fighting now in progress on the western front. They are hammering at the second German line in Champagne in the direction of the Grand Pre Railway and at the same time dropping bombs on the line and station to prevent the Germans from bringing up reinforcements. Absence of news from the British front apparently indicates that these forces are occupied with consolidating their position in the territory recently won. The British forces now in France are estimated as a round million men which will be increased by 500,000. Daily lengthening of the obituary columns of the London newspapers is beginning to measure the price paid by the British for their recent offensive. There is no noticeable change on the battle front of the east. Bulgaria has not replied to the Grecian suggestion that she demobilize.

WALSH AND HENDERSON ARE BOTH IN GOOD TRIM

Many Memberships in Athletic Club Sold and Good Attendance in Prospect Tonight.

Two of the best boxers in the southwest will meet in the squared circle at the Wichita theatre at 8:45 tonight when Harry Walsh of Los Angeles and "Red" Henderson of Dallas come together for a ten round bout. The advance sale of seats has been encouragingly heavy and the indications are that the match will be well supported.

Both fighters have been going through strenuous "work-out" programs today. Henderson at the Eagles' club and Walsh at the Wichita theater. Shadow boxing, bag punching and light road work have served to keep the fighters in trim and both declare themselves in excellent condition for tonight's match.

There will be several preliminary events, but arrangements for them have not been perfected. Some local boxers will no doubt be given an opportunity to show their ability in these preliminaries, and if enough negroes can be persuaded to enter the ring a "battle royal" will also be staged. The principal interest, however centers in the main event, which is to go for ten rounds.

As soon as the fight is over, announcements are expected as to future bouts here, probably within the next few weeks.

LITTLE BOY'S GOOD EXCUSE

Couldn't Comb His Hair Before Going to School Because Family Comb Had Been Loaned.

Here is a story that was told at a recent dinner by Miss Sybil Baker, who was chosen queen of Rosa Festival, at Portland, when reference was made to the wonderful excuses invented by the rising generation.

One morning the teacher of a public school in a western village was glancing over her pupils, when her eye suddenly fastened on little Willie Brown.

"Willie," said she in a stern voice, "didn't I tell you not to come to school without having had your hair combed?"

"Yes, ma'am," was the rather meekful rejoinder of the youngster.

"Well, then," demanded the teacher, a little more severely, "why didn't you do it?"

"Because I couldn't comb it, Miss Mary" was the startling rejoinder of Willie. "We lent our comb to the Smiths last night and they didn't bring it back."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

HELPFUL ARTICLE.

Limits of Desarts.
Friend—Does the Desarts system teach you how to act when proposed to?
Bride—Yes! I studied that part carefully.
"Did you use it?"
"I used it with three or four whom I rejected, and I did it beautifully, I know; but when dear Tom proposed I forgot all about it."—New York Weekly.

Modern inventions are great.
"Yes; before long it will be the correct thing for a child to take a pocket adding machine to school to help in the solution of mathematical problems."

Interurban Prejudices.
"Is this a through train?" asked the impatient man from New York.
"Yes," replied the conductor. "It makes only one stop between here and Philadelphia."
"That's a good idea. It gives a man who has started for Philadelphia a chance to think it over."

The Query Discourteous.
"So glad to see you again, dear. And I've got such a lot of news for you. Did you know I was interested in business news?" said the first sweet young thing.
"Whose?" asked the second, and then the conversation lagged perceptibly.

Discouraged.
"How did you happen to leave your last boarding place?"
"The landlady had such mournful eyes."
"I don't understand you."
"She always beat them upon me when I asked for a second helping."

Engineering Triumph.
"Why are you studying that dachshund so intently?"
"I consider him an architectural triumph of Mother Nature's," explained the bridge builder. "See how nicely the stress is calculated to the span."
—Judge.

No Help Then.
"Hints on courtship abound. Every magazine will tell you how to win a wife. Anybody will gladly post you on the etiquette of love making."
"What's on your mind?"
"But after a man marries he has to shift completely for himself."

His Gait.
"That old sea dog at the banquet last night seemed to be continually steering for the wine on the sideboard."
"Yes, I noticed he had quite a list to port."

Force of Habit.
"What's the matter with this hotel? I can't get any answer to my ring."
"Sorry, sir, but you see all the bellboys have made a rush to the front."

Uninformed.
"What were the Seven Wonders of the World?"
"I dunno," answered Mr. Rufek. "I never could remember much about what I saw in a dime museum or a sideshow."

Had Been to New York.
"A Washingtonian has discovered a way to remove the bones from a head."
"Huh! I'll bet there are New Yorkers who could do it without the shaming it."

OPENING MEETING OF OLD MAIDS WEDNESDAY.

The regular routine of business occasioned by the first meeting of the season was in order at the meeting of the Old Maids Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Merrill Blair, retiring president, presiding. Officers were elected, Miss Anne Carrigan being chosen president and Miss Orveta Wyatt treasurer.

When the order of business had been disposed of satisfactorily several games of bridge were played and in favor, a silver picture frame, was cut for Miss Lillian McGregor being fortunate. A luncheon-course of salad, sandwiches, wafers, olives, tea and fruit charlotte was served. The attendance on this occasion was limited to the membership, those present being Misses Anne Carrigan, Orveta Wyatt, Agnes Reid, Mabel Simpson, Bertha Mae Kemp, Bess Kell, Kathleen Blair, Genevieve Carver, Lillian Avia, Lillian McGregor, Mesdames Merrill Blair, Earl Clayton and M. R. Garrison. There will be no meeting of the club next week, Miss Blair to be hostess on October 13th.

SHOWER FOR MRS. A. J. KAVENAUGH SATURDAY.

A very pleasant surprise shower was given by Woodman Circle, 1447 Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. A. J. Kavenaugh, the event taking place at the home of Mrs. W. F. Wallace from seven to twelve. Miscellaneous in character the shower was an expression of friendship extended to Mrs. Kavenaugh, who recently lost her home and all effects by fire. The evening was spent very agreeably and refreshments of ice cream and cake served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Laura Peterson. Those present were Mrs. Kavenaugh, the honored Mesdames Nantz, Martin, Smith, Peters, Hart, Buchanan, Matthews, Richards, Louvine Moore, Wallace, Misses Mattie and Katie Stearman.

CONGENIAL CROCHET CLUB WITH MRS. W. W. BROWN.

This week's session of the Congenial Crochet Club proved to be the usual pleasant informal affair, Mrs. W. W. Brown being hostess. Several guests, Mesdames Stinson, Dodge, Barron and Mary Friberg, were present to enjoy the club meeting with the members, including Mesdames Snyder, Taylor, Andree, Mead, Byman, Sharp, Corhill, Dollard and the hostess. The refreshment course was served by Misses Imogene and Jewell Brown, daughters of the hostess.

A "dress-up dance" will be among the features of Dress-up Week here the event being planned by the Elks for next Thursday night. At that dance, new suits are expected to make their appearance and the affair is expected to add to the observance of Dress-Up Week. The dance is expected to be largely attended.

OPAL THE GOAT OF JEWELS.

(From Chicago News.)
"When it comes to superstitions I guess there isn't much difference between emperors and commuters," said the manager of one of the loop's largest jewelry stores recently. The manager held in his hand a story from Paris that the Emperor of Austria is seeking to banish the "flapstone hoodoo" by selling the famous opal, the costliest of the crown jewels.
"That's not at all surprising," said the manager. "The opal is the jewel goat. If a man has any misfortune, if his wife deserts him, or his business fails, or his stomach goes back on him, the first thing he thinks of is to own an opal. It is the old legend that opals bring bad luck."
"Do you know," smiled the manager, "we don't keep opals in stock. Not one. No calls for them. It's a rarity in the jewelry business to have some one inquire for an opal. Occasionally we get opals for some of our regular patrons, but it is rare that a customer comes in and asks to see one."
"Before the scientific facts concerning the opal were known it was believed devils lived in its purple and red

ROTARY CLUB MEMBERS NOW NUMBER SEVENTY FIVE.

Prospects for Strong Club Considered Very Flattering—Permanent Organization at Next Meeting.
A meeting of the Rotary Club was held Thursday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, and a number of new members, bringing the list up to seventy-five, were elected. Representatives were chosen from practically all the lines of business in the city, and a list will be published as soon as the acceptances have been received.
At the next meeting it is probable that permanent organization will be effected, and it is hoped to have representatives of the Rotary clubs of Dallas and Fort Worth here to assist in getting the new club going. A charter will be applied for within a short time. There is much enthusiasm among the members and the prospects for a strong club here are considered very promising.

Kahn's Store Held Open House Thursday Evening

The 1915 fall open house of the Kahn Company, founded in 1895 was held Thursday evening, the store's formal opening having been delayed past the "Style Show" on account of the work of remodeling and enlarging which was in progress. Last night the store was visited by thousands of persons who saw one of the most up to date shops in this section of the State, the already attractive store having undergone many changes since Mr. Hirschfelder assumed the management. The lower floor is given over to the men's wear and furnishings with the second floor of the Kahn building devoted to ladies and misses year. Both floors were decorated for the occasion and the extensive lines of all departments displayed to an unusual advantage.
The dresses, suits and coats in the ladies department were among the most beautiful seen in this city

GAINESVILLE MAN MAKES STATEMENT

Gainesville, Tex., Sept. 29th, 1915.—Prominent among those who praise Tanlac, the master medicine, is Mr. W. P. Green, who lives at No. 5 Taylor Street, Gainesville, Texas. He said:

"I suffered from stomach trouble and indigestion and after eating my meals I would have such an uncomfortable feeling in my stomach that I simply did not know what to do. I had been reading about Tanlac in the Dallas and Fort Worth papers, and as soon as it was put on sale here with Watts Bros., I secured a bottle and have been taking it regularly."
"I am glad to report that since taking this new medicine I have not suffered from my stomach at all. Why do I recommend Tanlac?—because it has helped me!"

This is a brief but strong endorsement for Tanlac, the new medicine. Mr. Green is 66 years of age and has lived in Gainesville for 19 years. His statement is convincing.
Tanlac will continue to be explained at The Palace Drug Store. (Advertisement.)

fire. An opal will burst if heated or cooled too much. The fluctuations of temperature produce a changing color in the movement of the water in it.
"All these phenomena were believed to be supernatural and the opal from the earliest known time was declared to be an omen of bad luck. It was supposed to foretell things once and in a later age it was supposed to possess the power of pursuing its owner with an evil fate."
"The superstitions, like scores of other queer beliefs, have survived. To this day people believe that opals bring bad luck. It isn't very strange to hear that an emperor is trying to get rid of his. Something brings bad luck and it might as well be opals."

WIDER DRY AREA IS URGED IN ENGLAND.

(From London Times.)
Inquiries in official circles show that the restrictions with regard to the consumption of liquor imposed as a result of the work of the central control board have had a marked effect in all the districts which have been dealt with by that authority. The evil, however, has by no means disappeared or been so much diminished as to satisfy those who put the claims of the nation above all other considerations and interests. What has been achieved is a great, and it is hoped, a continuous decrease in the number of convictions for drunkenness. But much more remains to be done in this direction both by government action and lay effort.
It is vitally urgent that the good results attained in the North should be achieved in one metropolitan muniton district and certain districts in the Southwest. It is perfectly clear from the result of careful investigation that other areas beside those already scheduled will have to be considered. It is too soon yet to judge what effect the orders of the central control board will have upon the output and upon the time kept at the yards. The latter still undoubtedly leaves much to be desired. It is, however, certain that the reduction in the amount of drunkenness and the improvement in public order, of which there is much evidence from all the areas scheduled, cannot but exert a beneficial effect both on the time-keeping and the fitness and efficiency of the men when they come to their work.

English Comment On Loan

The Times says: "The successful conclusion of the Anglo-French loan in the United States is in itself an event of such magnitude in our relations with America that any purely financial criticism on the precise terms of the loan must take secondary place. All the circumstances of the financial operation are unprecedented."
 "We ourselves never before in modern history have sought a foreign loan. No country ever before has placed a loan for anything like such an amount abroad, not even in England, and it is safe to say that none of our enemies could borrow such an amount in the United States at any price."
 "We regard it as an expression of American confidence and in such circumstances need not scrutinize it too jealously if terms are rather high. If we criticize anything it would rather be the 2 per cent underwriting commission. If New York is ever to become in peace-times a serious rival to London as an international money center, it must learn to do things cheaper than that."
 The Morning Post, in an editorial explaining why the terms of the Am-

Cotton seed is selling as high as $32 per ton in some Texas markets.

As between torpedoing unarmed ships and confiscating property of a neutral and friendly people, the principle is about the same. Or, at least, confiscation is but one degree milder.

Losses by fire done in Texas is placed at $12,000,000 annually, and the state fire marshal estimates that 75 per cent of the fires are preventable. Governor Ferguson has issued his proclamation naming October 9th as Fire Prevention Day. The way to observe that day is to get out your fire insurance policies, read them carefully, and then go over your premises and see if the rules are being observed. If this is done and followed up by taking steps that will comply as near as possible to the rules of the insurance companies it will have a tendency to decrease the number of fires, and that, in time will, or at least ought to mean a decrease in your fire insurance rates.

At last accounts more than 1000 property tax-paying citizens of Wichita county had signed the petition to the commissioners court asking for an election to be ordered as early as possible to determine whether or not bonds shall be voted for building a new court house. The commissioners court will meet on October 11th, at which time the petition will be presented. The great majority of those who signed the petition want a new court house, while a few would be satisfied with an addition to the old one. The objection to remodeling the old building is that it would cost nearly as much to do the remodeling and at the same time convert it into a modern up-to-date fire-proof structure as it would to construct a new building. That is the opinion of those who have had experience along that line. It is thought that bonds to the amount of $150,000 will be ample for the construction of a new building that will be fire-proof and serve the purposes of the county for years to come. There are a few of the larger taxpayers who favor voting bonds to the amount of $200,000 or $250,000 for a court house.

The Washington dispatches of today announce that Charles C. Tolver, president of the Riggs National Bank, William J. Slather, vice president, and H. H. Slather, cashier, were indicted on the charge of perjury in connection with the bank's recent suit against Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams. This is the bank that retained ex-Senator Bailey to defend it against the charges brought against it by Mr. McAdoo and Mr. Williams, on the part of the National government, and therefore the outcome of the indictments returned against its officials will be watched with some interest in these parts.

MANLEY'S SECOND SPASM ON PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

Editor Times:—Will you allow me to report through the columns of the Daily Times a few things brought out in a lecture at the Socialist meeting Sunday the 9th.

First, let me say that every second and fourth Sunday evening commencing at 8 o'clock p. m. is devoted to talks on economic and public questions and every one who will attend is welcomed, and invited to give expression to his views regardless of his political affiliations.

Those who have talked in the previous meetings are our own citizens of the town—working men and fully recognize their weakness and ignorance but they believe that by each one investigating and reporting his discoveries that each can become moderately informed on topics relating to the best course to pursue to better their condition as well as that of the general public. Do you, Mr. reader, especially your who profess to be interested in the welfare and the betterment of the morals of the common and working men and women—the elimination of poverty and crime, I repeat—do you think these are unworthy of your notice and that what the toilers are striving for is dishonorable and beneath your attention?

Are you unwilling to meet them and show them their errors? I fully believe that every humanitarian in Wichita Falls ought to meet together and exchange ideas for the evils of Society and not ignore nor close our eyes to the unequal struggle of the masses for existence that is now so apparent not only here but everywhere. Is there a remedy? Can we not find some way to prevent the sad sights that daily swarm around us of misery, poverty, uncleanness, wretchedness, hunger and homelessness? Why should a few men, who do no work, own such things as they could consume in a life-time—free from want or the fear of want, and being thus freed from care are prepared to devote a large part of their time to a more certain chance of at last being admitted to mansions in the skies—and they generally are very devoted—see Rockefeller.) While millions who toil all their time and forced by their scanty incomes to deny themselves of the luxuries, and often many erican loan are necessarily high says:

"There can be no question that our American consuls with their usual astuteness, have taken full advantage of the allies necessities and obtained a magnificent bargain, especially as the operations will prevent the collapse which might have occurred in American export trade if there had been a debacle in the exchange on London."
 The Post, like many other papers, complaining of the government's procrastination, contending that, but for the delay, it might have obtained better terms.
 The Daily News also finds the high terms of the loan decidedly disappointing at first sight, but recognizes that they are due to exceptional circumstances and that it is undoubtedly worth the large expenditure to solve the exchange problem.
 The financial experts of all the morning papers comment on the terms exacted. The Times thinks it would have been cheaper and better to have offered a British war loan in the United States free of income tax, but as that opportunity was lost, "we had to accept the best terms obtainable."

The lecture last Sunday included a comparison of Glasgow, Scotland, with New York City, N. Y. Glasgow owns its street railways, electric light plants water works, gas and the best sewerage system in the world. In addition to all this Glasgow owns a system of ferries, steam R. R. and 700 farms besides granaries, slaughter houses, wholesale and retail markets. It has 425 public baths, 979 wash houses and seventeen swimming pools.
 Music Halls, and free summer resorts. New York owns none of these, but they are privately owned, and the difference in the cost of these utilities to the citizens was brought out in the lecture.
 Population of Glasgow in 1913 was, in round numbers, one million. New York five million. Glasgow's indebtedness was 74 millions; New York's fifteen times that amount or more than one billion.
 Comparing Brooklyn with Glasgow, the former having two million population, the lecturer showed the number of passengers carried:
 Glasgow 311,000,000
 Brooklyn 530,000,000
 Total fare receipts:
 Glasgow $5,000,000
 Brooklyn 25,000,000
 Cost of operation of railways:
 Glasgow $ 3,000,000
 Brooklyn 15,000,000
 Per capita cost of transportation per annum: Glasgow, $5; Brooklyn $16.
 Going back again to New York comparison—gas costs in Glasgow, 25 cts per 1000 for power; in New York 48 cts for domestic use.
 New York pays 80 cts. per 1,000. Electric lights, street lamps in Glasgow number 20,000; New York 77,000. Glasgow has 3 1/2 million c. p.; New York has 16 million c. p. Glasgow's 20,000 street lights at an annual cost of $17,000 per lamp amounts to $340,000; New York's at $65 per lamp practically $5,000,000 or fifteen times as much as Glasgow.
 The entire cost of running the city of Glasgow—officers, utilities and its public free institutions was $20,000,000 in 1913, more than one-half of which was met by the incomes of its utilities.

The city government of New York the same year cast $181,000,000, all of which was raised by direct taxation its only source of revenue.
 Can we not draw a lesson from these figures and other figures and from them draw safe and definite conclusions? I think we can.
 The second and fourth Sunday afternoons are the times set for discussing important problems at Labor Hall Seitz blacksmith shop; every farmer and working man as well as preachers, lawyers and doctors and business men are cordially invited to take part in the discussions and you are prob-

WHEAT STRENGTHENED BY LIVERPOOL DEMAND

Early Advance, However, is Followed By Reaction. On Publication of Crop Estimates.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Oct. 1.—Fresh strength developed in the wheat market today owing to response to excited demand at Liverpool from British millers. The bullish effect of scarcity in England, however, was in a measure offset by the publication of estimates from crop experts showing an immense surplus in the United States. The total domestic yield was represented a breaking of all records. Opening prices ranged from 1/4 to 3/4 to 7-8 higher with December at 95 3/4 to 96 and May at 97 7-8 to 98 1-8 but were followed by a decided reaction all around. Subsequently the wheat market rallied. Large export clearances and the slowness with which stock accumulates seemed to count against the bears but not in a lasting manner. Closing prices were easy at a shade to 3-8 to 1/2 net decline with December 95 1-8 to 1-4 and May 96 7-8. Some short selling orders were encountered in corn before the session came to an end. The close was steady at 1 and 1/2 to 3-4 under last night.

COTTON PRICES CLOSE AT SMALL NET LOSS

After Opening at Advance Prices Broke Heavily and Later Rallied Closing Steadily.

By Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 1.—There was a big break in the cotton market here this morning. Prices opened steady at an advance of 13 points on October while other months were three points higher to one point lower in sympathy with steady cables and reports that the northward progress of the southern storm had been attended by heavy rains in central and eastern sections of the belt. Private advices received from Memphis later in the morning said that according to New Orleans papers March had not sold below 11.90 on Wednesday while the closing of the exchange was attributed entirely to storm conditions.

At The Theaters

The Gem. The tenth chapter of "The Goddess" is showing today. Action continues in two different sections of the country with the "girl from heaven" and "Tommy" both intimately concerned. Miss Stewart and Mr. Williams continue to charm. Two other reels including a Ham Comedy are on the program.

The Empress. Charles Chaplin and Mabel Normand, two prime favorites in the comedy world are to be seen today in "Mabel's Married Life," a Keystone and two other pictures, "Pete Takes a Hand" and "A Woman of Nerve" both two part specials will be shown today. These two were booked for Thursday but failed to arrive. A story of "Pete Takes a Hand" was given in Thursday's Times.

The Majestic. The Betty Nansen picture "Should a Mother Tell" which showed here a short time ago, brought today repeated requests for a second showing and the management has secured the picture for today. Betty Nansen, Jean Southern, Stuart Holmes and Claire Whitney are featured in this Fox film.

There are few stories which present in so fascinating and thrilling a manner some of the vital problems which women are sometimes called upon to solve as "Should a Mother Tell?" as pictured by William Fox. The mother in the story is a woman in an ordinary station of life, the parent of a beautiful girl. She is suddenly thrust into a situation where action is demanded and where such action must either blight her daughter's life and honor or her own good name, conscience and her duty to God. On witnessing this picture one is contrasted with a picture of a woman almost unjust for frail woman to be called upon to face such a question.

But since the beginning of time, it has been said, woman has been called upon to shoulder most of the burdens and crosses of the world. In all mothers there is the world old primitive instinct for the protection of their young. When a mother is called upon to violate that instinct, even though it be to save the life of an innocent man, her first wild impulse is to do all to sacrifice all for her own. Later comes a reaction. Can she stand by and permit the blood of an innocent man to be shed? He is a young man, a young man with everything in the world before him. He, too, is the son of an adoring mother. Should she permit this promising life to be thus needlessly snuffed out? Can she permit it? But—her child! The little baby that she nursed, now a beautiful young woman. How can she permit her life to be ruined—her chance for future happiness shattered? She is the flesh of her flesh and the bone of her bone. The other is none but a stranger. But he is innocent; a word can save him. And so the cruel struggle rages within the mother's breast. Now her instinctive mother passion is uppermost. Now her sense of right and justice.

DOCKETING AUTOMOBILE NUMBERS NOT REGISTERED

CITY Begins Enforcement of Ordinance Requiring Registration of Automobile Numbers.

Enforcement of the provision in the traffic ordinance requiring automobile owners in the city to register their numbers with the tax collector at the city hall where on payment of a fee of one dollar a letter "C" is furnished to be attached to the number board, began this morning. Before ten o'clock numbers of thirteen automobiles had been docketed and there were prospects that the number would reach half a hundred before night at the rate they were being added.

IS NOT TEXAS MADE FLOUR

The Alliance Milling Co., of Denton, Texas, has been informed on good authority that certain dealers in Wichita Falls have been offering a brand of inferior flour called Peacemaker, and sold in Wichita Falls. Peacemaker flour has been sold and guaranteed by us as a first class, extra high patent flour. We have the same registered in the patent office at Washington. This other Peacemaker is an inferior grade of flour. The two letters herewith are self-explanatory. The Peacemaker flour is on sale in Wichita Falls only by the Farmers Supply Company.

THE ALLIANCE MILLING CO. Denton, Tex., Sept. 21, 1915. The Higginsville Milling Co., Higginsville, Mo.

Gentlemen:—We herewith enclose you a letter from one of our customers, which is self-explanatory.

We have spent thousands of dollars in advertising PEACEMAKER, and the fact that you are selling a second grade flour under this brand in our territory is very harmful to our trade, and tends to destroy the investment we have made in advertising our flour under the brand of PEACEMAKER for nearly thirty years.

We received your letter of recent date, which was very courteous indeed, and we trust that when you understand fully the effect of your selling second grade flour under our PEACEMAKER brand, which we have duly registered at Washington, is very damaging to our trade, that you will promptly discontinue the use of this brand, especially in the South. So far as the use of it in your own State, Kansas, Arkansas and other states north of you, we were not complaining, but we are compelled to vigorously protest against its use in the South, and earnestly that you use that brand no further in this territory.

Believing that you will see the justice in our position, and that you will govern yourself accordingly, we remain,

Yours truly, ALLIANCE MILLING CO.

THE HIGGINSVILLE MILLING CO. Higginsville, Mo., Sept. 23, 1915. The Alliance Milling Co., Denton, Texas.

Gentlemen:—We are in receipt of your courteous letter of September 21st, in regard to PEACEMAKER brand of flour.

By looking into this matter we find that you have used this brand since 1886, and we also find that you have same registered. We however, used the brand before 1886, but have never pushed same, and have used it only for ordinary grades of flour.

We have only a few customers in Texas that have been using this brand, and we are writing them to-day that in the future we will not ship our PEACE MAKER brand into the State of Texas. This will not inconvenience us very much, and we want to treat ourselves fair and square owing to the fact that you have worked up a big trade on this flour in your state. We, however, were not aware of the fact that you were using this brand.

We are also glad to note, however, that you have no complaint to make for us to use the brand in Kansas and Arkansas and other States. We are selling a small amount of flour under this brand, in Georgia and some of the Southern states. We also have about one-half dozen customers in Louisiana, and we trust it will be satisfactory to continue selling them. We will, however, not push this brand in the State of Louisiana, if it conflicts with yourselves.

Should we ever overlook, and through a mistake ship PEACE MAKER flour into the State of Texas, we will thank you to advise us promptly so the matter can be adjusted.

Rest assured we do not want anything but what is fair and square, and as we have very little trade on this brand in Texas, we are discontinuing same.

Yours very truly, The Higginsville Milling Co., Chas. Buddie, Sales Manager.

The Peacemaker flour is on sale in Wichita Falls only by the Farmers Supply Company.
