British Sentinels Look From Afar On Turkish Fort Defending Constantinople

BRITISH SENTINELS VIEWING TURKISH FORT.

While the eyes of the world are fixed on the desperate fighting on the western war front and the awaiting fortunes in Russia, warfare continues on the Gallipoli peninsula, where the Turks are defending Constantinople against allied attacks. The picture shows a group of British sentinels gazing at a Turkish fort, which is miles away, despite its apparent nearness according to the photograph.

BACKSTOP-WORK IN COMING BIG GAMES

NEITHER SIDE HAS ANY MATERIAL ADVANTAGE BEHIND THE BAT

SOME VETERANS IN SERVICE

Catchers of Boston Team Have Higher Fielding Average However, Than Those of Phillies

New York, Oct. 6.—Offensively and defensively there appears to be little advantage for either the Boston Americans or the Philadelphia Nationals in the catching departments, in the coming world's series. Both the Red Sox and the Phillies have a trio of backstops who are far above the ordinary in ability in this particular feature of the game. The American League champions in Manager Carrigan, Cady and Thomas have three experienced catchers who are thoroughly at home behind the plate and familiar with every detail of the position. Killifer is the veteran of the Phillies catching force but Burns has shown, during the past season, that he is not far behind his chief in all-around ability while Adams, the thrifling catcher is a youngster who, in his few tries, has given promise of measuring up to the standard set by his two superiors in the near future.

While experience counts for much in the work behind the plate, it is not always the veterans who shine in the big baseball series. It was the case the Americans would have a wide margin of reserve strength since Carrigan and Cady both figured prominently in the famous eight game struggle between the Giants and the Red Sox in 1912, whereas none of the Phillies' catchers has figured in a fight for the premier position of the diamond game. Thus it can be seen that, as far as experience is concerned the Red Sox have Carrigan and Cady to the Phillies, Killifer, Burns and Thomas are about equal in this respect while Moran's third eligibility is an unknown quantity.

So far as the figures for the season's work can be used for a basis of comparison, however, there is nothing to indicate that much difference of ability exists in the actual work of the players under consideration. Killifer has caught a majority of the games played by the Phillies this year with Burns filling in as emergency and relief catcher. The former has a fielding average of .973 and batted .247 while Burns has batted one point above Killifer's average and fielded four points below.

FACE TO FACE WITH TROUBLE

BASE BALL

Adams' record falls to show participation in play for the veniant.

For Boston, Cady and Thomas have done the major part of the backstopping although Manager Carrigan has handled the delivery of the left handers from time to time. Cady is the best of the trio if judgment can be based on the season's unofficial averages. In something over seventy games, he has batted .277 and fielded .976. Thomas, in about an equal number of games has batted .271 and batted .239. Carrigan has received credit for playing in a little more than half the number of games that Cady and Thomas have officiated in and his averages are: Fielding .976; batting .207.

The individual averages and the averages of the rival catching departments, considered as units are as follows:

	Boston		Philadelphia
	B. A.	F. A.	B. A.	F. A.
Carrigan	.207	.976	.239	.971
Cady	.277	.976	.271	.974
Thomas	.239	.971	.207	.976
Averages	.241	.974	.247	.973
Killifer	.247	.973	.248	.969
Burns	.248	.969	.200	.900
Adams	.200	.900	.247	.973

$5,000,000 WORTH OF AMERICAN CARS IMPORTED

London, Oct. 6.—During June, July and August there were imported from America over 5500 motor cars complete, valued at over one million pounds, while in addition there were over 500 chassis valued at 250,000 pounds, and tires, tubes and other parts valued at over 600,000 pounds. These figures were given in the Commons where there is a growing disposition to put some tax on such importations, and many newspapers are urging such action.

Before I commenced using Cardul, I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling all the time, and was irregular. I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches continuously.

Since taking Cardul, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight.

If you are a victim of any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, it is strong to suffer.

For half a century, Cardul has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year.

LENS IS IMPORTANT PLACE IN INDUSTRIES OF FRANCE

Belonged City is Iron and Steel Center With Little Attraction For Tourists

Washington, Oct. 6.—Lens, toward which the French recently made a tremendous drive on their way northward in the direction of Lille, is a town of 100,000 people, the center of a great iron and steel industry.

The region all around is an industrial one. Through this district of the department of Pas de Calais run large coal fields. Lens is one of the centers of coal mining. The town is situated 13 miles northeast of Arras, around which latter place the French and Germans have been fighting with increasing bitterness for months.

It is connected by branch lines with Arras and St. Pol and Bethune, in the southeast and east, and with Lille, 25 miles to the northeast. Lens is a railway center and a manufacturing town of first importance.

Lens had just before the present war, a population of 28,000. Lens had had a great history, as all those cities have had which are scattered through the important northern and northeastern parts of France. Its grounds were frequently fought over during the wars of the 14th, 16th and 17th centuries. The

THE CROSSED FINGERS.

He swore that her kiss was the first he had had; But his fingers were crossed! He'd kissed but his mother when he was a lad— Yes, his fingers were crossed! He vowed that no girl he'd ever had a taste Of gulvering lips, but that no other waist Had ever been clasped in his arm. Then in haste His two fingers he crossed!

The sparkler he gave her he'd purchased that day But his fingers were crossed! No previous maiden had worn it—nay, may!

But his fingers were crossed! And never, so long as his life should endure, Would eye, cheek, or lip of another maid lure— He knew it—past every doubt he was sure—

But his fingers were crossed!

She listened to all of the guff he had said While his fingers were crossed! She laid on his bosom her wise little head—

While his fingers were crossed! She answered so low that the famed "little bird"

Who peddles sweet secrets could scarcely have heard "Oh my love, I believe every word!"

But HER fingers were crossed! —Exchange.

WESTERN UNION RESUMES SERVICE TO NEW ORLEANS

The Western Union-Telegraph Co. announces that notwithstanding the work of restoring its lines to New Orleans has been impeded by heavy rains in that section a substantial progress has been made and that at the opening of business on the fourth a number of wires were available for service. Although their efficiency was below normal because of swings caused by the prevailing high winds and continued rains. It is understood that the Western Union lines constituted the sole means of telegraphic communication with New Orleans up to noon of Oct. 4 and officials of the company point with pride to this achievement. The notable character of which will be apparent when it is understood that the damage was so severe that traveling service by some of the routes will hardly be restored for several weeks.

GRACE SAYS HE IS NATIVE TEXAN

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 4th, 1915.—For some time I felt so throwy in the morning and so run down that I did not feel at all like going to work. My trouble was with my stomach. I had indigestion and after meals gas would form on my stomach and I would suffer with very severe pains, and a washed out feeling that caused me to simply drag along," stated Mr. Bob Grace, of 5625 Alton Street, Dallas. "I have taken one bottle of Tanlac and it has relieved me beyond explanation. I have no pains in my stomach now, I can enjoy my meals thoroughly, I have gained three pounds and I feel better than I have for months."

"When I saw so many statements in the paper about what Tanlac was doing, I thought that possibly the work of the new medicine had been exaggerated, but now I know that it was not for it has done for me just these things that it was intended for. It is unquestionably the best tonic I ever saw. You ought to see a bottle of Tanlac, that is put before me something that I have not been able to do for some time. I can now do a full day's work and really enjoy it for I feel like a new man."

Mr. Grace is a native of Dallas, is connected with the Dallas Taxicab Company, is a married man and his statement is convincing. Tanlac will continue to be explained at the Palace Drug Store. (Advertisement)

MASSACRE OF ARMENIANS BY TURKS IS DESCRIBED

Arrival of Russians at Van puts End to Slaughter—Men Killed and Women Abducted

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 6.—Details of the siege of Van and the massacre of Armenians by the Turks are given in the current issue of the Near East, which fixes the responsibility for the crime on Jevded Pasha. It was on Jevded Pasha's order that the refugees Armenian missionaries, in the story of their sufferings recounted to the Associated Press correspondent at Petrograd this week, laid the guilt. Jevded is the supreme commander of the Turkish army operating in this province.

Van, the ancient capital of the Armenian Arshirunt dynasty, was occupied by the Russian army with its advance in the Caucasus during the first week of last May. The Russian commander, General Oganosov, who is an Armenian, was assisted by six Armenian volunteer regiments under the Armenian revolutionary, Andranik, who had fought with the Bulgarians against the Turks in the first Balkan war. But long before Van fell to the Russians, Jevded Pasha started the work of massacring the Armenia population.

The massacre began at Shadokh, a large and isolated village, where not a man was spared except those over sixty years of age. Of the women, the more comely were carried away by Jevded's soldiers and Kurd tribesmen. The massacre was carried out systematically in the entire province of Van beginning with the outlying villages. Great care was taken to prevent rumors of this from reaching the capital.

There was living in Van city at that time Prince Jaikham, an Armenian who had formerly been useful to the government in settling troubles between the Turks and the Armenians. He was asked by Jevded to go to the villages and try to reconcile the contending parties. Jevded addressed the Prince in a letter as his "dear friend." The Prince, unaware of the plot, started out with a number of advisers. The entire party was slaughtered by a party of Jevded's horsemen while taking lunch at a coffee house.

At this time also there was in Van an Armenian member of the Turkish parliament by the name of Vramian, who was invited by Jevded to call on him at headquarters. On arrival at headquarters Vramian was arrested, a large stone was tied to his feet and he was thrown into a lake and drowned.

The Russians were now reported on the advance. Talat Bey published a warning against the Armenians participating on a penalty of dire punishment. But the story of the massacre in the isolated parts was carried by survivors and the Armenians prepared to sell themselves as dearly as possible, the peaceful element as well as the revolutionaries. Jevded then called on the Armenian Bishop to visit him. The Bishop refused. Thereupon Jevded descended upon the "rebellious" city of Van with an army of 8,000 Turks and Kurds and called on the people to lay down their arms, surrender without conditions and trust to the clemency of the sultan. This offer was made through the Italian consul.

INTEREST IN ASTRONOMY INCREASED BY ZEPPELINS.

London, Oct. 6.—Since zeppelin raids have become more the rule than the exception in London and environs, there has been a marked increase in public interest in astronomy. Just now the newspapers are filled with discussions about this or that star—discussions directly attributable to the fact that Londoners have acquired the habit of star-gazing in the hope of sighting hostile air craft. Edward II. o'clock at night, the usual "Zep. time," per-happened a third of London looks skyward.

A few nights after the big raid the Planet Jupiter seemingly rising in an unaccustomed place, was mistaken for a zeppelin searchlight. Perhaps a dozen persons made the discovery. Since then several newspaper articles have appeared giving Jupiter a clear bill of health.

Business Office 1671 Editorial Room 1671

Wichita Falls, Texas, October 6, 1915.

The open season for shooting ducks and geese according to Colonel W. G. Sterrett, formerly game and fish commissioner of this state begins October 15th and ends February 1st.

If county fairs are any indication of prosperous times then it must be that Texas is enjoying a greater degree of prosperity this year than ever before. And that is not all. These county fairs are drawing large crowds.

Next Saturday, October 9th is Fire Prevention Day. If you don't do anything else, look over your fire insurance policies and see if you are observing the rules; and if you are not, then make an effort to do so. It will prevent many fires.

This is election day in Fort Worth and there are 31 candidates for one office—that of light commissioner. That indicates the office is an awfully good one with little work and a large salary attached, or else there are a number of politicians in Fort Worth who are out of jobs.

A Berlin statement says Germany has captured and now holds 69,498 square miles of territory formerly held by the allies, and has lost but 4,266 square miles. This, however, does not include the loss of German foreign or colonial territory conquered by Great Britain and France since the beginning of the war, amounting to something in the neighborhood of a half million square miles.

Dr. Brooks don't want to make prohibition an issue in the next senatorial campaign, but it is not likely the good doctor will have his way about that matter. The people will make the issues and apparently the people of Texas have already decided that prohibition shall be an issue in every election that is held. It seems to be a question that just can't be side-tracked.

Next Monday, October 11th the commissioners court will convene and on that day a petition signed by more than 1,000 tax payers of the county will be presented asking the court to order an election to determine whether a new court house shall be constructed and if so, the amount of bonds to be voted. Nearly all citizens of Wichita county agree that a new court house is needed, and the only real question is to determine the amount to be voted for that purpose. Some few would like to see the people vote as much as $250,000 worth of bonds for that purpose while others and apparently a great majority figure that a court house to cost $100,000 will answer all purposes.

For more than forty years Chicago saloons have remained open on Sundays. Last year a fellow by the name of Thompson was elected mayor, and he is a Republican, the first of that political faith to hold that office for years, and Mayor Thompson has given it out that the saloons must close on Sundays. The Illinois state law has always prohibited the sale of intoxicating liquors on Sunday, but heretofore no attempt has been made to enforce it.

On October 19th New Jersey will hold an election to determine whether the ballot shall be extended to the women of that state. New Jersey is the home state of President Wilson, and the President has let it be known that he will vote in favor of the amendment granting suffrage to women. In making this announcement, however, President Wilson wishes it understood that in doing so, he is only expressing his own convictions in that matter, and not as the leader of the Democratic party.

RAILWAY RECEIVERSHIP RECORD BROKEN

With the inclusion of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, the mileage of railways in the United States in the hands of receivers is now greater than it has ever been before, the Railway Age Gazette points out in an editorial in its current issue. According to the Railway Age Gazette's record, the addition of the 3,868 miles of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas system makes a total of 82 railways, operating 41,988 miles of line and with a total capitalization of $2,264,000,000, now being operated by receivers. This is more than one-sixth of the railway mileage in the United States, and exceeds the total railway mileage of any other country in the world, except European and Asiatic Russia combined. The total par value of securities outstanding of roads being operated by receivers represents about 15 per cent of the total capitalization of the railways of the United States, and is greater than the total capitalization of all the railways of any other country in the world outside of Russia, Great Britain, Germany and France.

This is a record of insolvency unparalleled in history. The largest mileage of roads in receiverships previously recorded, according to the Interstate Commerce Commission's reports, was for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, when 192 roads, operating 40,818 miles of line, and with a capitalization of about $2,500,000,000 or about 25 per cent of the total capitalization at that time were being operated under the direction of the courts. It will be noted that with a greater mileage the capitalization of the roads now in receiverships is less than that of the roads bankrupt in 1894. The proportion of the total mileage in receiverships hands in 1894 was not quite one-fourth. The large mileage of roads in the hands of receivers in that year was, of course, accounted for principally by the effect of the panic of 1893. 126 of the roads that were insolvent on June 30, 1894, having become so during the fiscal year and 35 during 1893. At the end of the fiscal year 1895, there were 169 roads in receiverships, operating 37,855 miles and having a total capitalization of $2,499,000,000 and on June 30, 1896, 161 roads, with a mileage of 36,475 and a capitalization of $1,742,000,000. The present large mileage made up chiefly of roads that have gone into receiverships comparatively recently, including 20,940 miles of road, with a capitalization of $998,673,000, since January 1, 1915.—Railway Age Gazette.

A TOP CROP ROMANCER

There is a cotton bear writing for the newspapers. He had a story in the Dallas News of Thursday: "Cotton is making a heavy top crop," is the information volunteered the readers of that newspaper. He says the top crop of cotton this year bids fair to break all records if only the farmers can have three or four weeks of fairly hot weather without a blighting frost. He admits that the farmers need the money, too, and he has made the discovery that in the bottom lands, particularly the top crop of cotton is "unprecedented."

This bear is very modest. He does not give his name. No doubt he detests publicity. But he wishes the world to know that two weeks more of warm weather would mean one-third to one-half bale to the acre of "an entirely new crop."

The experts who travel over the state missed this wonderful top crop. Commissioner of Agriculture Fred Davis receives daily reports from all counties where cotton has a home. These reports do not indicate a top crop. Wise county cotton farmers are quite positive that the boll weevil has destroyed their crop. Tarrant county cotton growers realize that the top crop story of 1915 is pure fiction. This top crop specialist who is airing his knowledge in the city at the head of Trinity navigation saw green fields in the lowlands and jumped at the conclusion that if the sun continued to shine for two weeks a new crop of cotton would come to bless the farmers and to fill the hearts of the bears with joy and create visions of a golden rakeoff when the slump came in the cotton market.

This top crop is mostly in the mind of this Dallas bear. He admits that there are many "ifs" in the way of the top crop, but being a bear, the ruling passed was strong in death and he could not resist the temptation to bludgeon the cotton market once more in defense of his fellow bears and to make it possible for them to haul in a few easy dollars in Texas. This is the verdict of the men who produce cotton, and they are supposed to know.—Fort Worth Record. There will be no top crop to speak of.

PANAMA CANAL TO REMAIN CLOSED UNTIL NOVEMBER

More Earth Slides Block Channel Great Deal of Traffic Will Be Tied Up

Panama, Oct. 5.—Lieutenant Colonel Chester Harding, the engineer in charge of the Panama Canal, has sent a message to the secretary of war at Washington recommending that President Wilson issue an executive order officially closing the canal until November 1.

Colonel Harding explains that it will be impossible to clear the channel before that date and perhaps not then. He favors refunding the tolls to those ships which have paid them and are now awaiting passage and also that arrangements be made to transship the cargoes of the vessels now awaiting transit to their destinations. It is estimated, however, that it would require at least a month for the Panama railroad to complete the transshipment of the cargoes of the ninety vessels now in canal waters.

The conditions caused by the new slides are the worst in the history of the canal, according to Colonel Harding. More than 1,000,000 cubic yards of earth must be removed before the channel is again deep enough to permit the passage of ships. The dredges are maintaining a high point of efficiency and during the month of September removed more than 1,000,000 yards. The work is being pushed energetically and canal officials are optimistic that eventually the danger of slides will be overcome.

The agents of the steamer Finland, which arrived at Colon October 1 from New York, have received orders to send the ship to New Orleans from which port the 300 passengers will be forwarded to San Francisco by rail.

BATTLE CRUISERS WILL COST GOVERNMENT $18,000,000 EACH

Will Surpass Anything Now Afloat. If Plans of Navy Department Are Carried Out

Washington, Oct. 5.—Superbattleship cruisers, bigger, faster and more heavily armed than any war craft now afloat or building and which will cost $18,000,000 each to construct and equip, will be recommended to Congress as a part of the navy building program for next year. Decision on this step was reached at a conference between President Wilson, Secretary Daniels and Representative Baggett, chairman of the House naval affairs committee.

Plans for such a type of vessel as is contemplated already have been prepared under the direction of Rear Admiral David W. Taylor, chief constructor of the navy, and are now being considered by the secretary and members of the general board. Just how many of the new type ships will be asked for this winter has not been determined. Secretary Daniels said after the conference. Cost of construction of navy crafts has risen since the outbreak of the European war, with the consequent enormous demand upon American resources, some recent steel contracts for the navy showing an increase of 30 per cent over previous prices. Dreadnoughts, which also will be recommended for construction this winter, will cost $18,000,000 each. It is estimated, as against $15,000,000 for those now building. Part of this increase, however, is due to new hull constructions to provide greater protection against torpedo attack.

New Haven Officials Soon To Face Court On Charges Of Conspiracy

Financial and railroad men in New York and other cities are giving much attention to the coming trial on October 13 of directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, under indictment for alleged violations of the criminal provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law. Circuit Judge William H. Hunt in a decision filed in the criminal branch of the United States district court, in New York City, granted a separate trial to Alexander S. Cochrane and denied similar motions made in behalf of Lewis Cass Ledyard, Charles F. Brooker, Charles M. Pratt, Henry K. McHarg and Frederick Brewster, directors, to whom were granted separate trials a couple of months ago. Messrs. Ledyard, Brooker, Pratt, McHarg and Brewster will therefore be called on October 13 with the other main defendants, William Rockefeller, George Macculloch Miller, D. Newton Barney, Robert M. Taft, James Heaton Robertson, James Hemingway and Edward D. Robbins. The other three indicted directors, John Billard, Jas. S. Elton and William Skinner, have received immunity because of testimony which they gave while witnesses before the federal grand jury and the interstate commerce commission. The pictures show, from left to right, Messrs. Rockefeller, Brooker, Brewster and McHarg.

GRAIN SITUATION IS BULLISH
Light Receipts and Unfavorable Weather Cause Bulge in Provisions Also Higher Today.
By Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 5.—There was a good deal of reaction sentiment around the ring at the opening of the cotton market today and first prices were barely steady at a decline of ten to thirteen points under rather heavy offerings which appeared to have been inspired by the relatively easy cables and the failure of the weather map to show any frost in the belt. At the decline to 12.65 for December and 12.86 for January or about thirty-five points under yesterday's high record, there was a big commission house demand however and prices later rallied with January selling back to thirteen on covering by some of yesterday's sellers and fresh buyers on expectations of a bullish weekly weather report at midday.

Chicago Grain.
Chicago, Oct. 5.—Wheat values bulged today, influenced by a continued falling off in receipts north-west and by the meagerness of arrivals here. Dispatches telling of unsettled weather in the Dakotas and Minnesota added to the prevailing bullish sentiment as also did assertions that fall seeding in Kansas would be reduced as much as a million acres compared with last season's total. Opening prices which ranged from 1-8 to 1-1/2 higher with December at 99 7-8 to 100 1/4 and May at 100 1/2 to 100 3-4 were followed by decided further upturns. Wide spread frosts gave strength to the corn market. Rural buying was especially free. After opening 1-3 to 1/2 higher, prices scored a material further advance. Oats rose with other grains. The bulls were led by representatives of one of the principal elevator companies. Fresh advances in provisions resulted from the excellence of cash demand, besides hog receipts throughout the west were decidedly less plentiful than last week or a year ago.

The Empress. Today's offering at the Empress is "The Clue" a Paramount production with Blanche Sweet in the leading role.

Detective William—Billy Einar. In "The Clue" which is the fourth in her series of Lasky productions, Blanche Sweet plays the role of a wealthy American girl whose lover believes himself to have been guilty of an unintentional murder, and who stands steadfast throughout the days of tribulation, never falling in court-ship, understanding or sympathy.

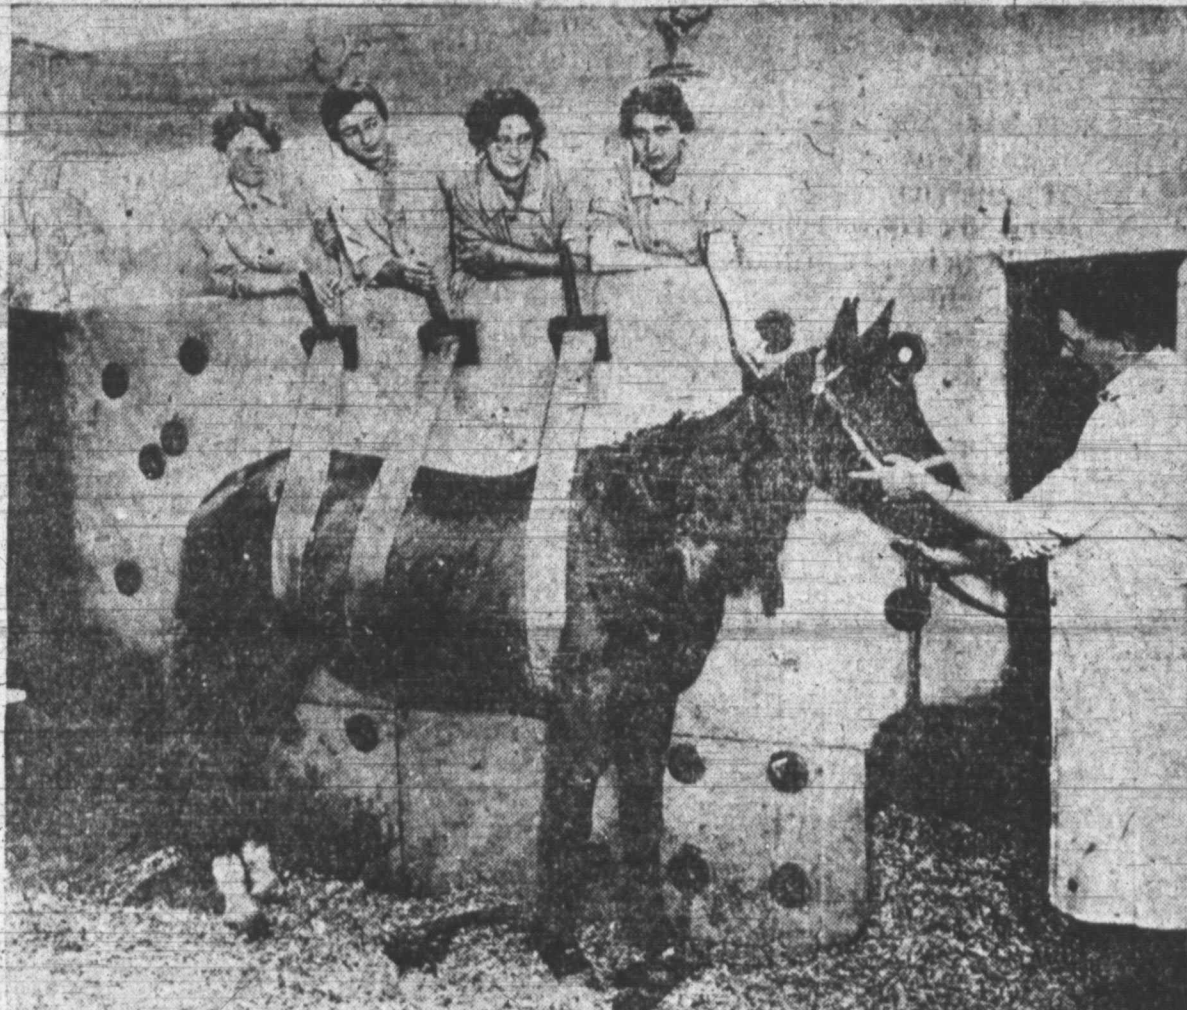

The ultimate solution of the intrigue is as unexpected as it is happy. The mystery, which has become apparently impossible of explanation, suddenly clears up in a twinkling, and the expert detective sees that justice is done.

The Gem. A three reel serial drama, "The Isle of Content" appears today at the Gem. There is one other picture.

Captain Spragot, blown out of his course, sights an uncharted island. He goes ashore and the island is so beautiful that he marks it on his chart.

The captain has promised his wife that this is to be his last voyage, but on his return the ship owners make him such a tempting offer that

On the day of sailing Captain Spragot's wife pleads with him to remain home. He refuses. Then it is that the wife agrees to leave with Western.

With his little daughter the captain sets sail for his island. There he sends the boat on to her destination and decides to remain on the island forever.

Jane, in the years that pass, becomes a beautiful girl. She discovers some diamonds buried in blue clay, but her father orders her to destroy them, telling her they will bring her nothing but unhappiness.

One day Ralph, a young society man loses his inheritance and rips on a vessel as steward. He is a victim of shipwreck and is washed ashore on the island of Content.

When one day Ralph's signal is seen and they are rescued by a passing ship. While Ralph is overjoyed and mingles with the officers, Jane, unobserved, steals from the cabin and leaving over the stern, watches her beloved island disappear from view.

Jane cannot adjust herself to the changed circumstances, and Ralph seeks for more congenial company. He becomes fascinated with Rossett Van Nott. Jane overhears the woman and her husband planning to divorce her.

One night Ralph is overcome by assailants and chloroformed. He is taken aboard ship where Jane is awaiting his arrival. Ralph is kept drugged until the old island is reached when he is carried ashore and placed in the old hut.

Another of the Kalein two part dramas in the series "The Mystery of the Grand Hotel" is on today's bill at the Majestic. This picture is called "The Riddle of the Rings" and it is said to be one of the most gripping and interesting numbers in this series.

Charles Chaplin in a four part comedy "Ambition" is also at the Majestic today.

condemned man jokes as he is sentenced to death. Wants to Eat One More Thanksgiving Dinner, But November 10 Is Late Set (Fort Worth Record) After Judge James W. Swayne of the Seventeenth district court had sentenced C. A. Myers, slayer of A. W. McTague, Tuesday afternoon and had set Nov. 10 as the date for him to be hanged by the neck until "dead, dead, dead," Myers looked up at the judge and smiled broadly.

Well, I don't want any foolishness about it this time, judge," he said, "because I don't like to be killed."

The court did not understand him at all and asked him again what he had said. Myers repeated the statement and smiled broadly at the grim joke as he was led away by the guards.

Encore the sentence of death was pronounced upon Myers a motion for a hearing of the case was presented to the judge by Judge A. J. Overton, one of the attorneys for the condemned man.

Judge Swayne then ordered Myers to stand up and receive his sentence. His prisoner complied and looked the judge squarely in the eye while the history of the case was briefly related to him.

Judge Swayne paid a high compliment to the attorneys for Myers telling the prisoner that he was indeed fortunate in having secured attorneys who did not know there was any such thing as quitting and who, although half-crazy, was being prepared for his execution.

There's just one request I want to ask of you, the prisoner replied, and here was a touch of pathos in his voice. "I want to eat one more Thanksgiving dinner before I go off of this earth, and if your heart is in the right place you will grant this request."

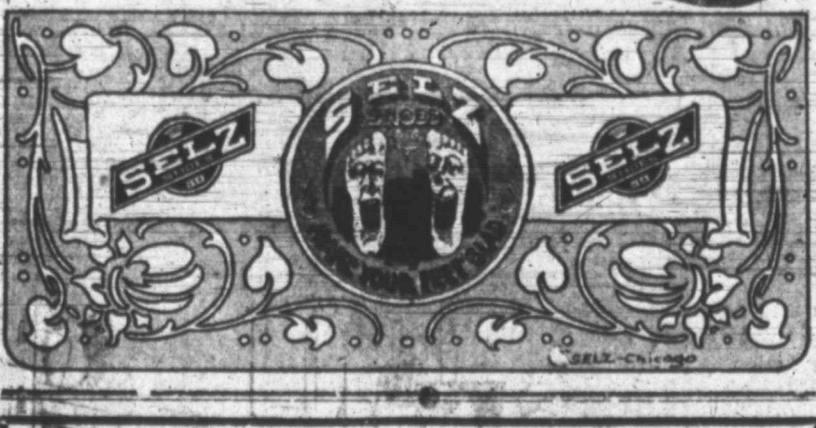

The judge pondered a few moments and consulted the calendar on the wall. "I don't know whether my heart is in the right place or not," he said, "but I'll not my intention to do anybody an injustice. I think the court has treated you very fairly and has given you more time than you were entitled to. As far as I am individually concerned I would be glad to grant your request, but the county has been put to a heavy expense in keeping two men in prison about you and I don't think they should be put to any more expense than necessary. But as you request it I will extend the time over a few days, but I don't want to fix it about Thanksgiving time. I will set it for November 10th, giving you about five weeks."

ing girls, hundreds of horses, 90 musicians, a chorus of 1000 voices and a great cathedral organ are used to tell the story of a period ten centuries before the Christian era. The presentation is historically correct. The costumes, armor, vehicles and gorgeous trappings have been reproduced after Biblical descriptions. The best scenic artists and craftsmen in Italy have reconstructed the palace, the temple, the great judgment hall, the streets and the gates of Jerusalem. The action reveals a succession of scenes of such pomp and splendor as to fairly dazzle the beholder. The stage upon which this great wordless play is enacted is the largest ever constructed and takes up one entire side of the circus main tent. It is fitted with apparatus which makes possible the finest of electrical effects. Fifty men are required to handle the scenery and mechanical attachments. Solomon and the Queen of Sheba is produced under the personal direction of Al Ringling, assisted by a corps of stage managers headed by Ottokar Bartik, ballet master of the Metropolitan Grand Opera House. The spectacle is made a part of the circus program and opens the afternoon and evening performance. Its pageants are marvels of brilliancy and the productions presented when Solomon and Sheba's queen vie with one another in their contest for supremacy in riches, are said to be the most remarkable displays of their kind ever seen in America. Suits have been filed in the 78th district court as follows: D. B. Reed, receiver Great Southern Oil and Gas Co., vs. Wichita State Bank, injunction. Mary Idone vs. William Idone, for divorce, injunction and receiver.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT IN POLAND UNDER GERMANS

Invaders Have Reorganized Affairs of Cities on Much More Efficient Basis

By Associated Press. Lodz, Poland, Oct. 6.—Great changes in methods of municipal administration have been made here and generally in the occupied Polish cities by the German military administration. The occupation found the cities existing, so far as communal government is concerned, under conditions much like those in France and Prussia under the so-called ancient regime of more than a century ago.

The so-called "Citizens' Committee" which were, in some cities, appointed by the retiring Russians to take the places of the Russian officials who had departed, and in other cities were appointed on the initiative of the inhabitants, did good work, but were hampered by the lack of a solid foundation on which to build. The Germans, therefore, as soon as it became possible to do so, reorganized the whole system of municipal administration.

This reorganization has been based on the municipal plan of Baron von Steln, which has for more than a century been the basis on which Prussian municipalities have been administered. The reorganization of the finances has been based on the plans of Con Miquel, from 1890 to 1901 Prussian Minister of Finance. The cities are governed by a magistracy and aldermen, appointed from the citizens by the German authorities. The Poles as the most numerous race occupy a majority of these positions, but Jews, so far as position and capacity permit, have also been appointed. German residents have naturally also been given places in proportion to their numbers and economic importance.

The cities enjoy corporate rights which were denied to them under the Russian rule—and can issue loans, acquire property, impose taxes and in brief, do all things necessary to the proper development of a city.

Mr. Smith, in the Amen Corner, Offered Suggestion to Help Out Certain Young Minister.

One Sunday morning a certain young pastor in his first charge announced nervously: "I will take for my text the words, 'And they fed five men with 5,000 loaves of bread and 2,000 fishes.'"

At this misquotation an old paragoner from his seat in the amen corner said audibly: "That's no miracle—I could do it myself."

The young preacher said nothing at the time, but the next Sunday he announced the same text again. This time he got it right.

"And they fed 5,000 men on five loaves of bread and two fishes." He waited a moment and then, leaning over the pulpit and looking at the amen corner he said:

"And could you do that too, Mr. Smith?"

"Of course I could," Mr. Smith replied. "And how would you do it?" said the preacher.

"With what was left over from last Sunday," said Mr. Smith.—Advance.

Unavoidable. "I believe you are the same man who was here about a year ago," said the housewife.

"Maybe so, mum," replied the tramp. "I was in these parts."

"And you haven't found any work to do yet?"

"Only what was wished on me, mum, by one or two hard-hearted judges."

Slizing Up Father. "Mother, is my father the greatest man in the world?"

"No, indeed, my dear."

"But he's a greater man than George Washington, isn't he?"

"Certainly not. Why are you asking such foolish questions this morning?"

"I was just wondering why you ever married him."

Please Remember. Mrs. Meeks—This paper says no parental care ever falls to the lot of a single member of the insect tribe. In general, the eggs of an insect are destined to be hatched long after the parents are dead.

Mr. Meeks—Now, dear, you know why you have no right to call me an insect, I hope.

HE SHOWED HIM.

"You didn't know that girl was married?"

"Not until I was printing a bias on her nose and her husband showed me that I was making a typographical error."
