Philly Batters Hit Ball With Smashing Force--But Fail to Get Them Out of Reach--Game Brilliant, Thrilling Contest From First Man up.

Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—The breaks of the game, those fickle favors of fortune that sway the pendulum of fate...

President Woodrow Wilson and his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Galt, shared the honors of the second contest with a stoutly built young Boston pitcher...

FOSTER'S OTHER ACTIVITIES. In addition to these meager activities in the box young Foster aped to the first base a couple of times...

It was real baseball today, sharp and brilliant throughout all the innings, and different from the somewhat soft-ironed contest of yesterday...

GAME SERIES OF THRILLS. There was also a wonderful difference in the effect of today's plays on the crowd. Yesterday there was lack of excitement which kept the throng in an attitude of indifference...

The rooters followed each play and at times their applause was almost as generously bestowed upon a visiting player as upon the heroes of the home team...

Mayer justified Moran's confidence, despite the fact that the game went against him. Mayer was cool and calm at all times. He struck out seven and allowed but two bases on balls...

GERMANS SAID TO HAVE LOST HEAVILY IN ATTACKS

By Associated Press. Paris, Oct. 9.—The reports of the night indicate that the German losses in the offensive of yesterday against the positions of the allies near Loos were very heavy. This information was given out by the French war office this afternoon...

tion of a strictly internal nature satisfactory assurances on these and other subjects have been received from the Carranza government. These assurances are as follows:

The Guarantees.

- 1. Foreigners will be protected in their lives and property.
2. The Carranza government to assume full responsibility for claims arising out of the revolution and will adjust them equitably by means of international commissions.
3. No one will suffer in his life and property on account of religious beliefs; all priests and nuns who have not taken part in Mexican politics will be permitted to return and will be protected provided they do not participate in politics and obey the Mexican laws governing the separation of church and state.
4. A decree of amnesty is in preparation which will enable all elements irrespective of political affiliations to return to Mexico with the expectation of those guilty of complicity in the plot to kill Madero and Suarez who are charged with political crime.
5. A few political leaders who have heretofore opposed the Carranza government will not be permitted to return until the government is firmly established and then only if they will pledge allegiance to it.
6. Form Undeclared.
7. The form in which recognition is to be extended has not been decided. Secretary Lansing said an ambassador might be sent to the Carranza capital or an ambassador named by Carranza received here or that they might be an exchange of notes.
8. The recognition of a de facto government does not limit its actions in any sense, officials explained. The term applied to an authority that arises out of revolution. When a constitutional government is again erected, other precedents will be given to the American diplomatic representation. In the meantime, the full moral support of the United States is to be given to the de facto government to hasten restoration of constitutional authority.
9. Secretary Lansing reported to the assembled ambassadors of Argentina, Brazil, Chile and the ministers of Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala today that he had conferred with representatives of the Villa and Carranza factions and had come to a conclusion that the Carranza party possessed the military supremacy or "material capacity" required for a government on this point all were agreed.
10. Memoranda filed by Enrique Llorente, representative of General Villa and Eliseo Arrolondo, representative of General Carranza were examined to determine the "moral capacity" of the claimant. General Villa's proposal of a coalition government did not make headway in the conference because it was known General Carranza would reject it and the conferees said they had no means of interfering in Mexico's internal affairs to compel such an agreement.
11. BELIEVED BANDIT TROUBLE WILL SOON BE ENDED.
12. Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 9.—Officials on this border, both military and civil, were practically unanimous tonight in declaring their belief that recognition of Carranza will end the bandit trouble in San Diego plan revolution. In addition to the expectation that Carranza officials would not tolerate the presence of the bandits along the border any longer, it was believed it soon would be possible for the officials on this side of the river to confer with Carranza officers, something which has been heretofore impossible. Lack of such conferences has been responsible in part for some serious misunderstanding.

BERLIN REPORT TELLS OF CAPTURE OF ENEMY POSITION WITH PRISONERS AND NUMBER OF GUNS.

SLIGHT PROGRESS AT LOOS

English Attack Reported to Have Failed Northeast of Vermelles--German Claim Some Progress East of Loos, French Lose Hill South of Leintrey.

By Associated Press. Berlin, Oct. 9.—Teutonic forces have captured a portion of Belgrade, the war office announced today. It was also announced that the Teutonic troops already were driving the Serbians toward the south after crossing the Danube at four points below Semernia. The announcements were contained in a section of today's statement by German army headquarters, which reads:

The main section of two armies of the newly formed army group under Field Marshal Von Mackensen has crossed the Save and Danube rivers. After the German troops of the army of the Royal and Imperial Infantry under General von Kiewitz had captured Cigunec island and the hills northwest of Belgrade the army succeeded in bringing the greater part of the city of Belgrade into the hands of the Teutonic allies.

Austrian troops stormed the citadel and the northern section of the town of Belgrade. German troops stormed the New Market (the royal palace). The troops are penetrating further through the southern part of the town. The army of General Von Goltz has forced crossings over the Danube at several points on the section below Semernia and is driving the enemy in front of it toward the south.

Concerning the western front the statement says: "Western theater: Northeast of Vermelles a strong English attack failed with heavy losses to the enemy. During a local German attack some progress was made east of Loos. In Champagne the French attacked a position at Navarin farm after a few hours of artillery preparation and penetrated one of our trenches. A counter attack drove them out and left 400 men in our hands. In French Lorraine the French lost the much fought for hill south of Leintrey. One officer, 70 men, one machine gun and four minutes were remained in our hands."

"Eastern theater: The army group of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg before Dvinsk, Garboudanaka, south of Lukst, an enemy position on both sides of this village were taken by storm on a front of four kilometers. Five officers and 1356 men were captured. Two machine guns were captured near Nefedy south of Wizeniew. 139 prisoners were taken. The enemy refrained from making important attacks. "Army group of Prince Leopold of Bavaria--north of Kosiutsh at Labusz and Saleuzje Russian advances were repulsed easily. "Army group of General Von Lieseneger--Southwest of Pinsk, Komery, Kozmierz and Tizyklandki were taken by storm. At Wolkebreznianska and southwest of Kuchekawola cavalry engagements are proceeding north and northwest of Czertorysk; the enemy has driven back across the Styr. It has been driven back across the Styr."

GREEK KING TOLD THAT ENGLAND MEANS BUSINESS. By Associated Press. Rome, Oct. 9.—King Constantine of Greece was told plainly by British Minister Elliott Thursday that Great Britain and France were determined to push their military expedition to Saloniki, says an Athens correspondent.

ON THE WEST FRONT.

There has been more heavy fighting around Loos and Artois which the British took in their first attack three weeks ago and which is now defended by the French. The latter claim that the Germans were "mowed down" but Berlin claims that the attack made some progress. In Champagne the fighting seems to have resumed the character of trench warfare. The French holding virtually all their gains while there has also been a resumption of activity in Lorraine where the Germans record the capture of a much contested height Leintrey. Field Marshal Von Hindenberg is again striking at Dvinsk and has made some headway, but along the rest of the front it is the Russians who are doing the most of the attacking. The general belief here is that the Austro-Germans are concentrating troops on both wings of the eastern line and intend to make one more effort to obtain the line of the Dvina river in the north and drive the Russians across the Basarabian frontier in the south before digging themselves in for the winter.

REAL TEST TO COME WHEN INVADERS GO LITTLE FARTHER

VON MACKENSEN'S ARMY IS STRONGER THAN ONE THE SERBIANS ROUTED EARLIER IN THE WAR.

BIG ALLIED ARMY LANDING

Thousands of French and British Troops are Being Landed at Saloniki Daily--Attitude of Greece Uncertain Until New Cabinet Makes Announcement.

By Associated Press. London, October 9.—Belgrade, the old capital of Serbia, or the greater part of it, is in the possession of an enemy army for the second time since the outbreak of the war, while other Austro-German troops have crossed the Save and Drava rivers and are attempting to make a great drive into Serbian territory.

The capture of Belgrade has been expected, as it was not thought that the Serbians would make any serious attempt to save the city. It is situated on a point of Serbian soil at the junction of the Save and Danube, jutting into Austria and could consequently be attacked from three sides--operations which were carried out with little difficulty. The real test will come when the invaders reach the Serbian position in the country where the Austrians were so severely defeated previously. The present, however, is a more formidable attack, the new army under Field Marshal Von Mackensen having been organized for that purpose. It is supposed that this army is composed chiefly of Austro-Hungarians with a stiffening of German and is largely commanded by German officers. General Von Gallwitz who took part in the great offensive against Russia have command under Mackensen.

BULGARIANS ADVANCE.

The Bulgarians acting in concert with their allies are advancing from Sofia toward the Serbian frontier along the road to Nish, the Serbian capital. The French and British are landing troops at the rate of 140,000 daily at Saloniki and are largely dependent on assistance of Serbia.

The Balkans therefore have taken their place with the Russian and western fronts as a center on which the interest of the world will rest for some time to come. The Black and Aegean Seas also will be the scene of greater activity for as soon as Bulgaria strikes at Serbia the allied fleets will give the Bulgarian ports their attention. Although the Bulgarian minister at London, who has not received word for his passport declared today that Bulgaria had no quarrel with London, an attack on Serbia would be considered by England as sufficient reason for a quarrel.

Turkey, according to a dispatch from Saloniki is sending 50,000 men to Varna and Dedagatch to help defend those ports.

ATTITUDE OF GREECE.

The attitude of Greece is still somewhat obscure. The Greek minister at Paris reiterated that Greece's neutrality would continue to be one of benevolence toward the belligerents, but more than that had been expected and the Allies are awaiting a definite statement from the new cabinet.

ON THE WEST FRONT.

There has been more heavy fighting around Loos and Artois which the British took in their first attack three weeks ago and which is now defended by the French. The latter claim that the Germans were "mowed down" but Berlin claims that the attack made some progress. In Champagne the fighting seems to have resumed the character of trench warfare. HENRIETTA WINS FROM WICHITA FALLS

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL LOSE TO HENRIETTA TEAM BY SCORE OF 7 TO 0.

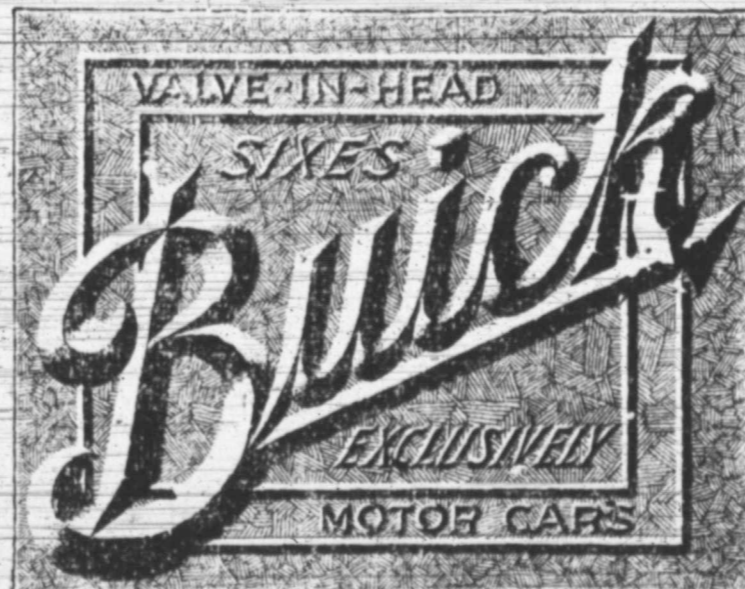

FUMBLES LOST THE GAME

Wichita Falls Outplayed in First Two Quarters—Made Good Showing in the Last Two.

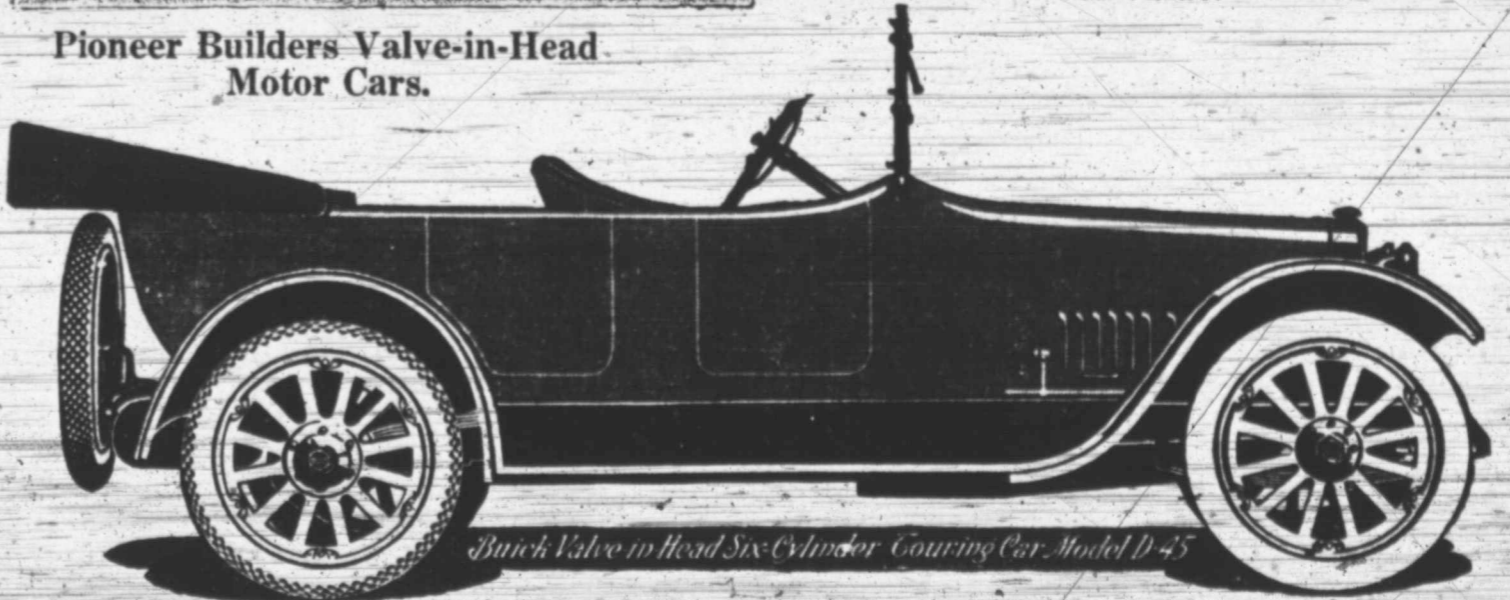

Special to The Times. Henrietta, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Wichita Falls high school football team lost to the Henrietta high school team in the first game of the season here this afternoon by a score of 7 to 0. Costly fumbles at critical times counterbalanced good team work and some splendid individual playing on the part of Wichita Falls. The two teams appeared about evenly matched but Henrietta played with greater precision.

During the first two quarters Henrietta kept the ball in Wichita Falls territory most of the time but Wichita Falls seemed to have a shade the best of it in the last two quarters notwithstanding Henrietta scored in the last quarter. Henrietta came dangerously near scoring in the second quarter. By a series of end runs and line plays Henrietta had carried the ball to Wichita Falls one yard line where they were held for downs. Harris for Wichita Falls punted from behind the goal line the ball rolling nearly three quarters of the way to the opposite goal posts. Henrietta recovered the ball and had carried it to the middle of the field when the whistle blew. The end of the third quarter found the ball on Henrietta's ten yard line. In the last quarter Cooper passed the ball backward to Davis who circled the end and carried the ball thirty yards before he was downed on Henrietta's ten yard line. Here Harris took the ball around the end again to Henrietta's one yard line. A fumble here gave the ball to Henrietta who punted it to the middle of the field. Another fumble gave the ball to Henrietta in Wichita Falls three yard line. Henrietta then rushed the ball over the goal for a touchdown and kicked goal. On the kickoff Wichita Falls returned the ball to Henrietta's 30 yard line and the whistle blew with the ball in Henrietta's territory.

Cooper and Harris featured for Wichita Falls in their tackling. Henrietta made some splendid gains on long forward passes. The Wichita Falls team will leave for home tonight.

Phone— Business Office 767 Editorial Room 1671

Wichita Falls, Texas, October 10, 1915.

To-morrow at 10 o'clock the petition asking for an election to vote bonds for a new court house will be presented to the commissioners court, and it is hoped that as many taxpaying citizens as can spare the time will go before the court and urge that the election be ordered as soon as possible. All, or at least, nearly all agree that a new court house is needed. The only question to be settled is the amount of bonds that will be necessary to construct a court house that every citizen of a county like that of Wichita—one of the wealthiest in the state, can point to with pride.

It now seems almost certain that President Wilson's "watchful waiting" policy pursued toward Mexico is going to bear fruit of the right kind. Carranza is to make a few more concessions, and when he does he and his followers are to receive recognition from the United States. Villa and Zapata and the other factions know well what that means. They will be given ample opportunity to make peace—attentive with the government recognized by the United States, and Carranza will have to deal with them just as if there had been nothing between them. At least, that seems to be the ends sought to be accomplished by the Washington government.

President Wilson is going to marry. He has just been on the top pinnacle of popular favor. We hope his marriage may not have the same effect upon his public favor that it had upon that of Admiral Dewey a few years ago. He was the idol of the American people and then he married. At once he became the fallen idol. The president is his loss of his life partner a little over a year ago had the sympathy of the world. Will he get the joyful acclaim of the world in this next step?—Hall County Herald.

As we view it, if President Wilson's daughters are satisfied with the match, and at least one of them seems partially responsible for its being made possible, other people should have no complaint to make or word of censure to offer for the plain and simple reason, it's a domestic matter that in no wise concerns them. The President is yet a man of middle age, and in choosing a second wife is showing no disrespect for his first wife.

The sinking of the Arabic has been disavowed by Germany, the submarine commander having exceeded his authority, and an indemnity will be paid to the American victims. As the sinking of the Hesperian was found to be due to a mine, this settles all difficulties with Germany, and Washington is jubilant over this latest diplomatic victory of the Wilson administration. The issue with England regarding tyrannical orders in council, which are restricting American trade, will be taken up next. Quannah Tripp-Chief.

Now that Germany has done the right thing by acceding to American demands, someone better posted than Uncle Sam don't put the screws to Great Britain and make her see things a little more like we see them instead of ignoring us almost completely. A good time to have done this was when the Anglo-French loan was being put through. But that was just the beginning. There will be other loans asked for, and then will be the time to require England to respect American rights.

LARGE REFINERY MAY BE ESTABLISHED HERE

Negotiations are in progress which may lead to the establishment of a refinery of several thousand barrels capacity daily in Wichita Falls. Plans are still indefinite, it is stated, and no announcement concerning the details has been authorized.

It is stated that W. D. Doyle, who has been drilling the test oil well on section 199, asks a six-month extension of leases in order that he may go 500 feet deeper. The well is now at 1,800 feet and there have been good indications of gas and oil. This well has cost Mr. Doyle many thousands of dollars, and money is not as easily raised this year, on wild-cat propositions as it was two years back. It is stated that several of the largest owners of land under lease to Mr. Doyle have readily consented to the extension asked and there is no doubt of others doing likewise. With this well at a critical depth, it looks as if there should be no hesitation in granting the extension, for if Mr. Doyle should abandon the hole and move the rig away, it is in no way likely that another test would be drilled in this county in a long time.

By Associated Press. New London, Conn., October 9.—The steamer Tennessee, New York bound, collided with a schooner off the southern side of Fisher's Island late tonight, according to a report received here. Details of the accident are lacking, but a tug has gone from here to assist.

YOUTH KILLS BROTHER THEN SHOOTS HIMSELF

DALLAS RESIDENCE BURNED SATURDAY MORNING

By Associated Press. Dallas, Tex., Oct. 9.—Fire in the big two-story frame residence at 441 Bry-an at eight o'clock Saturday caused the occupants to flee from the burning structure in scanty attire, no one, however, was injured. Mrs. J. L. Pettit, with her daughter, Mrs. O. Heanle, occupied the house. Mrs. Pettit was ill but managed to get out of the house in safety.

AGREEMENT IN APRIL BETWEEN BULGARIA AND GERMANY

By Associated Press. Rome, October 8, via Paris, October 9.—An agreement between Emperor William of Germany and King Ferdinand of Bulgaria providing for joint military action, the Tribune said, was concluded last April. Action against Serbia was delayed, however, by Italian intervention.

YAQUIS RAIDED SEVERAL TOWNS IN SONORA, MEXICO

Douglas, Arizona, October 9.—A band of Yaquis raided four towns in Sonora last Monday, according to word reaching here today. Several Chinese merchants were killed. Villa forces in Sonora are said to have failed so far to occupy Canaan recently evacuated by Carranza troops because of friction between the Yaqui soldiers.

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

KITCHEN SHOWER FOR MISS FREEAR THURSDAY

Of the many affairs occasioned by the engagement announcement of Miss Anne Freear whose marriage to Mr. Burton Stoyton will be one of the society events of next week none have been more thoroughly delightful than the kitchen shower given Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wiley Robertson, the girls of Mrs. Robertson's Sunday school class of which the bride-elect is a member, taking this method of expressing their regard for Miss Freear.

The house decorations for this affair were most lovely, the library being beautified with ferns and red flowers while in the dining room a bridal color motif of pink and white was carried out. Suspended from the chandelier, a large Kewpie pained over the centerpiece of plaid and white La France roses. Large tulle bows of pink adorned the Kewpie and the long streamer ends from the bows were caught at the four corners of the table.

The guests were entertained in the early part of the afternoon by a musicale, the hostess having arranged a most interesting program. Vocal selections were given by Mrs. Walter S. Robertson and Miss Katherine Cook and readings by Miss Marzelle Hart of Weatherford and Miss Dena Butler.

Following the musicale the president of the class, Miss Vera Taylor, made a short talk to the bride on behalf of the class, saying that for some time the pleasures of married life had been dwelt upon and now she would be introduced to the stern realities. At that she was blindfolded, a cap and apron placed on her and a broom given into her hands. Then she was escorted to a miniature kitchen where the various kitchen utensils which composed the shower were arranged. The handkerchiefs were arranged, the handkerchiefs removed and an examination of the gifts was then in order.

Those participating in the pleasant affair included: Miss Freear, the honoree, Mrs. Freear and Mrs. Ivan Marchison, her mother and sister, Mrs. R. B. PRETTY ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY GIVEN FRIDAY

At an extremely pretty heart party Friday afternoon the engagement of Miss Lillian Bachman to Ross Harold Corlett was announced. The marriage is to take place November 3 at the First Methodist Church. The announcement was made at the Bachman home, Mrs. H. J. Bachman, mother of the bride-elect, presiding. The decorations were in hearts and flowers, red hearts in varying sizes being hung from chandeliers and in doorways and used profusely wherever possible. Roses and ferns also adorned the room, attractive. The guests spent the afternoon with lanes work and chatting, being invited late in the afternoon to the dining room. The table centerpiece represented a miniature pond, surrounded by grass and flowers. On this pond small ducks and swans were swimming and a multitude of small Kewpie departed themselves about on the table. A toy telephone, with a policeman Kewpie hinted that perhaps some message would be given. A two course luncheon was served, chicken sandwiches in heart-shapes, Waldorf salad; olives, heart minis and coffee, being followed by jello in heart molds, shipped cream and cake. Mesdames Follic and Stella Bachman and Jewell Brown assisted in serving. When the guests were finished a ring was heard at the door and Walter Bachman, the younger son—was epied in. The young man was dressed in the uniform of a Western Union messenger and carried a message of each guest for which they had requested to sign. When all had been received the messages were opened and read in turn, the contents being of a non-sensical turn and each being signed by "H-3-15" which was later found to be the wedding date. The last message to be read was that of Miss Bachman which was as follows: "To Miss Lillian Bachman 1416 Eleventh street Greetings. The family as a whole wish you much joy in the fulfillment of your engagement to Ross Harold Corlett, November the Third, 1915. (Signed) Dad Cupid."

The congratulations followed and a discussion of wedding details. The Artist

When nature with a mission grave Was by the Lord endowed She painted on the sea a wave And on the sky a cloud. And on the land she drew a hill, And on the hill a tree, And in the vale she placed a rill That traveled to the sea. And then, progressing without doubt She took a little brush, And in the stream she placed a trout And on the tree a thrush, And on the water she related foam, And roses in the wild, And in the shelter of a home A woman and a child. And did all this perfection bring? Ah, no! Experience shows She caused the little thrush to sing: Give perfume to the rose. And best of all, the artist wise, And in her happiest style, Put love into the woman's eyes And made the baby smile! Pittsburgh Dispatch.

TO NAME SUPERINTENDENT HOSPITAL THIS WEEK

Meeting of Board of Managers Will Be Called to Act On Recommendation

Another meeting of the board of managers of the joint city and county hospital will be held some time this month on the call of the chairman, Dr. J. E. Daniels. At this meeting it is expected a superintendent for the hospital will be named. Dr. Daniels and Dr. Hartsook who were appointed as a committee on the selection of a superintendent have received many applications. They returned Friday night from a trip to Fort Worth and Dallas, and it is said, are prepared to make a recommendation to the board at the meeting this week.

FARMERS OF THIS SECTION BUSY SOWING WHEAT

Considerable Acreage Being Planted—Some Already Above the Ground

Wheat planting is now well under way in this county, and some farmers have finished sowing while others have not yet broken the land. For this reason it is not yet possible to tell whether the acreage will be increased, but it is believed that it will be fully as large as that of the year past. Wheat planting begins early in October in this county, and some farmers plant as late as December. There are indications that the cotton acreage will be increased next year, as a result of the high price for the staple seed. Some farmers have received as high as $32 for their seed this season, and are encouraged to plant more heavily for next year, even in the face of damage by boll weevils. J. W. Campbell, agricultural agent, estimates that cotton acreage will be larger. Wheat is already above the ground in many fields and with anything like reasonable showers will make good fall and winter pasturage.

A number of property owners are planning to be present when the petition is presented. They will urge that an election be ordered. If it is believed the commissioners will order the election. The commissioners themselves will determine the amount of the bond issue to be voted upon. The time of the election will be fixed by the commissioners.

CHINA'S NECESSITY IS OPIUM MERCHANTS' OPPORTUNITY. Peking, Oct. 9.—The effects of the war upon China have been severe in many ways, and one of the worst is that the government, driven by need of money to desperate straits, has now been compelled to relax, for the purposes of revenue, on the splendid

MANY DIFFICULTIES FOR ITALIAN SOLDIERS IN ALPS

Huts Built on Concrete Floors and With Steel Lined Walls Guard Mountain Passes

By Associated Press. Lausanne, Switzerland, Oct. 9.—The Italian troops have had some extraordinary surprises in their mountain warfare against the Austrians, says a special correspondent of the Gazette de Lausanne who has been in the Italian front. The paper says:

They found at regular intervals from the Stelvio Pass to the Adamello Glacier, a distance of about 60 miles a series of huts for lodging Alpine tourists on and near the peaks. These huts have turned out to be built on cement floors and the walls of the huts are with sheets of steel sufficiently thick to turn bullets. Each hut has accommodations for twenty persons. It is extremely rare to find twenty Alpine together in the high regions, but neither the size of the huts nor their number seemed to have attracted suspicion because few Italian Alpinists ever go up into that part of Tyrol. Each of these armored lodgings is defended by machine guns. The approaches are so difficult and exposed that it would seem as though a couple of machine guns and a dozen men could hold a hut against a regiment, but the Italians have found ways of overcoming them. Where there are glaciers the Alpinists cut narrow trenches in the ice and gradually work their way up, protected from rifle and machine gun fire to where they can rush a hut. Winter snows are already falling in these high regions and it is not unlikely that both sides will be reduced to inaction during the hard winter in the Tyrol, but military operations will continue in the low countries at the head of the Adriatic and perhaps south should the Italians send an expeditionary force across the Adriatic to operate below Trieste.

A SEED CORN TESTING OUTFIT IS COMING HERE

Corn Will Be Tested for Fee of Fifty Cents a Bushel—Farmers Can Learn Points

Wichita county farmers who were sufficiently encouraged by this year's good corn crop to decide to plant corn again next year, can be assured of good seed if they will have it tested and arrangements have been made for bringing a testing outfit here. It will arrive October 21, being owned by Fred Clark who is making his trip through the corn belt of the State. A charge of 50 cents per bushel will be made for testing corn, but farmers who do not wish to test their seed may derive benefit from attending the demonstration and watching the methods employed. One Wichita county farmer who last spring tested the seed for five acres planting, found that the yield increased one-sixth over that of the previous season, there being only two single barren stalks in the five acres.

TRIALS COSTLY TO YOUNG COUNTY AND STATE

Murder Trial and Two Forgery Trials Have Already Cost More Than Three Thousand Dollars

It has cost the State of Texas and Young county about $3000 so far to attempt to mete out justice to Judge E. W. Fry and the others who were tried with him on the murder charge. The murder trial cost about $1000 and the three forgery trials which have been held since that time have cost a total of about $2000. The witness fees are paid by the state and the jury fees by Young county. This estimate does not include the fees and salaries paid to counsel for the state, or the proportionate cost of the services of the Wichita county officers. The witnesses are allowed one dollar per day, figured from the time they leave home. For the last forgery trial this amounted to six dollars for the Young county witnesses of whom there were about 60, but some witnesses came from as far away as Corpus Christi. Mileage is paid both ways by the State. The jurors received $2.50 per day or $30 per day for all twelve for eight days in the first forgery trial of September. The first two forgery trials cost about $800 each, and the third one, resulting in an instructed verdict for acquittal, probably $300.

HIGHER PENSIONS PLANNED FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS

Parliament May Increase Allowance to Those Who Are Permanently Incapacitated

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 9.—Higher pensions for disabled officers of the army and navy and for their widows, orphans and dependents have been proposed by a parliamentary committee of which Bonar Law is chairman. But even this falls far below the scale granted in the United States. Subalterns would receive under the new arrangement $750 a year, when completely disabled, with an additional $5,000 for each year of service in excess of 15 years up to a maximum of $1,250. An officer of rank corresponding to major in the army would get a minimum of $865 if partially disabled, and $1,000 if totally disabled. For lieutenant colonels and navy commanders the minimum for partial disablement is put at $1000 and an addition to $250 to their ordinary pensions if entirely disabled. The widows and dependents of subalterns have a graduated scale proposed for them, with $500 a year in the case the officer is killed in action, $375 if he dies of disease contracted on active service and $250 in the case of other injuries or disease.

By Associated Press. San Francisco, Oct. 9.—Half a dozen nation wide organizations that are working for world peace will cooperate in holding an International Peace Congress opening in the Greek Theatre at Berkeley tomorrow and continuing in San Francisco until Wednesday night. The congress is under the direct auspices of the Church Peace Union and the American Peace Society, and is assisted by the League to enforce peace, the American peace centenary committee, the American League for Limitation of armament and the world's insurance congress, as well as the San Francisco Federated Peace committee. The purposes of the congress are thus set forth:

"First—to bring together recognized leaders in public affairs from all nations, including representatives of all religions, educational, peace, legal, commercial, labor and socialistic organizations, in order to unite them into one great constructive organization to work for the abolition of war.

"Second—to present a program which in its discussion and printed results shall make such compelling impact upon world thought as speedily to hasten the overthrow of militarism.

"Third—to discuss up to date practical plans for effective international co-operation in the substitution of Christian principles and just laws for the rules of force.

"To this end, we suggest these lines of discussion:

TURKEY SUPPRESSES NEWS OF ARMENIANS

VEIL OF SECRECY THROWN AROUND ITS MEASURES AGAINST AMERICANS

GERMANY FILES PROTEST

Doubtful, However, Whether Her Ally Will Give Head—Excesses by Turks and Armenians

By Associated Press. Constantinople.—By virtue of a total suppression of all news on the subject, the Turkish government has on the Armenians; these latter, or the veil over its actions towards all Armenians. Nothing definite is obtainable in Constantinople of the fate of this people out of the provinces but it is known that severe measures planned against the Armenians in the Ottoman capital were not carried out owing to objections of the German government.

Concerning the Armenian affair, three separate notes were sent to the Ottoman government by the German ambassador ad interim, Prince Hohenlohe-Langenburg. If the Associated Press is rightly informed, these notes had no far-reaching effect, because under present conditions, the German government has been obliged to act rather gently. Turkey is still the ally of Germany, and the Armenians seem to have alienated the good will of the German government and people to a considerable extent by having made open cause with the Entente Powers.

Many of them have joined the Russian forces near Van and at Zeitoun and Dort Jul they revolted against Turkish authority. The three notes referred to were but official incidents in weeks of endeavor to persuade the Turkish government to take a more reasonable and humane view of the Armenian affair. One of the notes stated that the great injustice of making all Armenians suffer for the acts of a few. The Turkish government, however, seems to have remained adamant.

As already stated, it has been impossible to secure accurate information in the present state of affairs. Officials have either refused to discuss the situation, or have placed all blame places 50,000 Armenians had been on the other hand, have either refused to talk for fear of being also persecuted, or have assigned all responsibility to the Turks. A mass of irreconcilable statements has been the result, ranging on the part of the Turkish officials, from the absurd claim that the Armenians were being well treated, to the assertions of Armenians that in Zeitoun, Dort Jul and other places 10,000 Armenians had been massacred.

That the Turks have in many instances been guilty of needless severity, and in some cases have permitted barbaric acts of violence, including murder and rape, seems well established. On the other hand, the Armenians in the Van country have been accused of similar excesses against the Turkish population and the Turks, having power on their side, have repaid such acts with liberal interest, it is said, in well informed Constantinople circles.

It cannot be said that the acts of the Turkish government in this connection have found the approbation of the advanced Turkish classes in the capital, who, for the greater part, favor a policy of conciliation, and some of whom even go as far as to advocate the establishment of a separate Armenian state in Asia Minor under the sovereignty of the Ottoman Imperial government. Meanwhile the tendency of the Ottoman government to either deny altogether allegations that the Armenians are being persecuted, or give its acts a too obviously artificial basis and character, would have but one result, namely that it is both ashamed and afraid to let the truth be known. The many attempts made by the Associated Press correspondent to throw the light on the Armenian situation resulted in failure, because the Turkish officials would not talk and the censorship would not permit the free passage of dispatches on the subject.

Nevertheless it must be said that Armenians are not blameless. Divested of all the factors related to the Gallipoli Peninsula, have turned their conduct towards the Turks and the Ottoman government has invited constantly measures of repression. The rising of Zeitoun, Dort Jul and Van, and wholesale desertions of Armenian soldiers to the Allies on the Gallipoli Peninsula, have turned the Turk's heart into stone in matters Armenian, he is now wreaking vengeance upon guilty and innocent alike.

REMARKABLE FEAT OF AN AUSTRIAN MARKSMAN

Vienna.—A remarkable feat of marksmanship is reported from the southwestern front, where many of the famous Tyrolean riflemen are fighting against the Italians. A troop of the so-called Kaiser Light Infantry, which was fighting on the Dobredo plateau, got into a most precarious position in advance of the Austrian lines. They could not retreat as the ground over which they would have to run was fully covered by the Italian guns. They held their ground for several days, while suffering greatly for lack of food and water.

The Italian artillery was playing upon them with accuracy, being directed by means of a post of observers on higher ground than that held by the Tyrolese. It was regarded as necessary to get rid of that post, which consisted of eight Alpini; and a soldier who had made a reputation for himself in the Ostal as a highly expert poacher volunteered to undertake the difficult task. Climbing stealthily by night, as if hunting chamois, he reached a hiding place in easy shot of the post; and when the eight Italians began to stir the next morning he quickly picked them off one after the other.

FLED 1000 MILES BUT MAN CAUGHT AND KILLED HER.

By Associated Press. Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 9.—While apparently seeking to escape from an enemy who is supposed to have followed her more than 1,000 miles Mrs. Katherine Arnold of Buffalo, N. Y. was choked to death in a small hotel by a man who boldly walked in and asked to see her. Following the identification of the woman and the story of her efforts to avoid some person she feared the police held four witnesses and brought several other persons whom she was acquainted with and saw her in the five days she was alive in this city.

Automobile Painting Draws Business from Fort Worth

As an indication that our department for painting automobiles is proving a success, we point with pride to the fact that we have just received an order for repainting an auto truck for the Iten Biscuit Company of Fort Worth.

Mr. F. H. Elliott, who is now in charge of this department of our business, has been with the Wichita Falls Motor Company for several years, in charge of their finishing department, and has had thirty years experience in carriage and auto finishing.

He has a reputation throughout the automobile trade as being an expert in his work, and every car entrusted to us will receive his very best attention.

Mr. Elliott uses a system of painting cars which is known as the Elliott Eight-Coat Progressive System of Painting, which has attracted the attention of some of the largest paint manufacturers in the country. Cars painted by this system are absolutely guaranteed not to crack, chip or peel, no matter what the vibration of the car may be.

You can extend the life and beauty of your car with fresh painting, at comparatively low cost.

WOULD ABOLISH THE COUNTY JAILS

CONDEMNED BY EXPERT AS UNSANITARY, IMMORAL MEDICAL, CRIME BREEDERS.

FEELBLEMINDEDNESS A FACTOR

President of Prison Association Speaks On the Objects of Prison Reform Movement.

By Associated Press.
Oakland, Cal., Oct. 9.—To prevent crime, stop the production of criminals and abolish prisons were given as the final objects of prison reform in an address which Joseph Byers of Philadelphia, president of the American Prison Association, delivered at the opening of the convention of the organization here today.

"The causes of crime lie outside our penal and correctional institutions," he said. "Just as boils on the body are indications of disorders in the blood, so are these institutions symptoms of disease in the body politic. Our prisons and reformatories are, if you please, hospitals for the care and treatment of those who through criminal conduct have shown symptoms of criminal character."

"But symptoms are good only for diagnosis. If we stop here we shall never effect a cure. We shall have to go on passing new laws and devising new penalties as long as we shut our eyes to the causes that make laws and penalties and institutions necessary. The causes of crime exist for the most part, outside these institutions and it is on the outside that we must apply the real remedies."

12 Per Cent Subnormal.
President Byers discussed the extent to which feeble mindedness complicates the problem of crime prevention and stated that "the stronghold of crime in the United States is defended by a standing army of not less than 400,000." This figure, he explained, was obtained by an analysis of United States census figures for 1910 and he reached the conclusion that 12 per cent of the total are subnormal mentally. He argued that feeble minded criminals should never be sentenced to imprisonment, but committed to permanent custody in special institutions because the presence of such sub-normal persons in penitentiaries works harm both to them and to society.

"To submit them to the test of the 'honor system' or to apply to them the principle of self government tends inevitably to discredit the one and make ridiculous the other," he added, and then pointed out that according to figures compiled in Massachusetts 57.5 per cent of the criminals in that State were "repeaters" and that this class alone committed 91 per cent of the crimes for which punishments were inflicted.

President Byers reviewed the history of prison reform movements, pointing out particulars in which he thought progress had been recorded. Of the shortcomings of the present system he said in part:

Employment of Prisoners.
"We are still experimenting with prison labor with some fair hope that in the State use plan we have found a rational substitute for contract labor. We have proven beyond any question that prisoners may be safely and profitably employed outside the prison walls, but that this is not true of all prisoners."

"We have not yet recognized the principle of indemnification by the State for wrongful imprisonment."

"Our prison school systems, with a few notable exceptions, are systems largely in name only."

"We have gone all too slow in requiring parents to pay for the school or parental support of their delinquent children."

"We are still guilty of the folly of punishing chronic misdeemants by repeated short sentences."

A DANGEROUS MISTAKE.

Wichita Falls Mothers Should Not Neglect Kidney Weakness In Children.

Many children have weak kidneys. An early warning is bed-wetting. Often followed by headache, head ache, languor.

"This a mistake to neglect these troubles. Seek to check the cause. Save the child from dangerous kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weak kidneys."

"Wichita Falls parents know their worth. Mrs. R. D. Cato, 1303 Scott Ave. Wichita Falls, says: 'A younger one of the family had always been troubled by her kidneys and had never been what we could call a healthy child. The action of her kidneys was irregular and the kidney secretions were unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills strengthened her kidneys and the child is in much better health now.'"

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Cato recommends. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

FANS HERE FOLLOW GAMES PLAY BY PLAY

EVERY PLAY IN WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES TICKED OFF HERE AS THEY ARE MADE

BLEACHERS HERE AT HOME

Fans Follow Game Hundreds Of Miles Away With Tense Eagerness And Wild Enthusiasm.

"He struck out! No hits, no runs, no errors."
The air is blue with tobacco smoke and the cuss words of Philadelphia backers. About 100 fans are grouped around a small table, whereon is a telegraph instrument that ticks off play by play, the progress of the world's series game. The wire clatters its message, the operator tells the announcer and the announcer in turn tells the crowd.

It is a curious sight that crowd. The faces are tense with interest, the bodies bent forward to hear the tidings. Faces with anxiety written large upon the features; faces long and solemn with the prospect of defeat; faces cheerful and expectant with hope of victory; the set, statue like face of the born gambler—all these are in evidence. Here is a man whose hands are gripped together as in a vise, as if that pressure could influence events in Philadelphia, 1500 miles away; there is another rocking back and forth in his chair, in his nervousness; another—has his feet propped up on the seat of his chair, tenseness evident in his every move. Business and family and native land are forgotten—there is a man on third.

Some psychologist can dope it out if he wants to. Here are 100 men in Wichita Falls, 1500 miles as the Ford flies from the game. Many of them, probably most of them, have never been in Philadelphia or Boston; almost certainly none of them know the Red Sox or a Philly by sight, much less personally. They are all fever heat over the performance of nine men who happen to wear the word "Boston" on their baseball suits although these same nine came from Kalamazoo and Oshkosh and Three Forks and Slippery Elm Crossing and almost anywhere save from Boston. There are 21,000 fans seeing the game and 50,000,000 more who are either getting reports by wire, or watching score boards or reading extras. There is a problem for some to figure out why such things should be.

The news comes swiftly, but not too swiftly for the long distance fans. Probably not over a minute elapses from the time a play is made until the details of that play are known as well in Jacksonville, Florida and Seattle, Washington, as in Wichita Falls, Texas, as they are a block from the baseball park. A telegraph operator at the game flashes each play to New York, over a direct wire, and from New York the nimble fingers of other operators relay the messages to Chicago and St. Louis, whence in turn they are sped over the country. Some times it is possible to send the report direct from the ball park to Texas points, but usually the messages are relayed over Texas from Dallas. But so swiftly is it done that when a batter strikes out, that fact is known in far distant places by the time the next batter has spit up in his hands and stepped to the plate.

And so the crowd that gathers in Wichita Falls on each day of the series in the old Odd Fellows hall is not far behind the more fortunate fans in Philadelphia who have seats at the game. And it is hard to imagine the actual spectators at the game getting more excited over the game than these long distance fans.

"Speaker up!" calls the announcer Eugene Leopold.

"Hit'er out, Speaker, hit'er out, Speaker, hit'er out, Speaker, hit'er out," yells a Boston fan, getting up out of his seat in his eagerness. Mark Twain has told about the beetle that prayed without knowing that it prayed. Perhaps the fan who bet for a hit from a man 1500 miles away is praying also, without being aware of it. It's about the same thing as "body English" in playing billiards. It doesn't help the game a bit, but it alleviates your feelings.

And any advantage gained by one side or the other is greeted with the wildest cheers. "He singles!" says the announcer and the fans who stand that single slap each other on the back and stand up in their chairs and cheer like mad and poke fun at the fans who didn't stand that single and the others stand it the best they can, and presently their theme comes to cheer. When the situation is critical, the announcement of "one ball" or "one strike" are even greeted with cheers, according as they spell victory or defeat to the individual fan.

Bleachers Begin to Leave.
Like the fan at the game, the crowd begins to break up when the ninth inning comes. One run behind two out and nobody out—it looks like a cinch, but the Boston rooters wait to make assurance doubly sure and the Philadelphia contingent waits with that hope which we are told springs eternal in the human breast—even with two out in the ninth inning.

"He's out, short to first," says the announcer.

"O you Boston!" gleefully sing the Boston fans. "But the Philadelphia fans say, 'O well, Monday is another day.'"

Being A Circus Clown Is Serious Business, Not As Easy As It Was

To the individual who sits on the pyramided boards and rests about the sawdust strewn area of a circus tent it may not appear that there is much that is sensible and sedate beneath the pates of the clowns who, urged on by the giggles and laughter of the spectators, are fighting a Gettysburg battle of fun with slapsticks and blown up ballders. However, the clown is a very serious minded person. He generally looks like the saddest man connected with the show and after you get to know him you will find out that it takes a good deal of resourcefulness and fun-inventiveness to make a fool of one's self so that the populace may broadly smile.

The clown has always been, and will forever be one of the standbys of the circus. He belongs to that eternal firm foundation of the circus city—the elephant, the peanuts and himself. What would a circus be without clowns? It would be as the milk julep without the freshly plucked green leaf, like the Manhattan without the cherry or a baseball game without the bleachers. It just cannot be. Ringling Brothers have always believed in the clown and their big circus has a representative from every voting district in the rampant, ripping republic of Finland. This year they have half a hundred of the merry sons of Momus and they tie a laugh to every minute that passes in the running off of the big show.

There are Americans and clowns from every land, most prominent among the foreigners being the famous Deltorellis, who have appeared in every country in the world and who by special command of the Shah of Persia visited the palace and made him laugh until his feet almost lost their tassels. The clown works hard and leads a healthy happy life, generally has a fine home for the winter and saves his money. But like the rest of humanity he has a complaint. Pete Mardo, one of the best known and funniest clowns in America, says that the cost of fun making has gone just as high in the air as the cost of living. In fact he states that fun making production now costs at least 40 per cent more than it did in the days of the circus of our daddies.

"We clowns must get together soon," said Mardo, "and get materials for making laughter on a new schedule or we will all soon be as ludicrous as a crutch. For instance the last few congresses have put such a high tariff on lumber that a slapstick now costs as much as a champion hitter's baseball bat while blown up ballders are getting as scarce as real silk teeth and you know these are the clowns implements of warfare when he gets into the battle of fun. Of course there is still the seltzer bottle which never fails to cause a laugh when we squirt a stream of cold water into the eye of a partner, but some of the towns in these parts are so dry that you can't even buy seltzer without a physician's prescription. And look at all of the white and paint we put on our faces. Why those prices have gone so far up that to make yourself look really funny these days it costs almost as much as painting a house. Something's got to be done."

"Well," said Ed Nemo, another good laugh maker, "why not let's all put on our war paint and visit the committee on tariff and after a few stunts to get them in a good humor make an appeal to put laugh making materials on the free list putting smiling and giggling in the reach of all the plain people."

Among the Ringling clowns is Al Miacio, the dean of the profession, who though 71 years old turns a hand spring with the agility of a boy back of the schoolhouse. Then there is Al White, the female impersonator, Jules Turnour, the famous French pantomimist; George Hartzell, one of the old fashion singers and talking clowns; Fred Stellings with his somersaulting dog and Jas. Spriggs, whom every child in the world knows as the policeman of clownland. All of the rest are old seasoned hippodrome track fun makers so there will be plenty of laugh-

AT THE THEATERS

"THE MAKER OF DREAMS" AT THE GEM MONDAY

Hal Forde, a new photoplay favorite and Alice Hollister are featured in a four part Broadway favorites production, "The Maker of Dreams." A synopsis is given.

It is Mrs. Merwin's desire that her son, Harold shall marry Rena. She gives a week end party in the heiress' honor. Harold, finding himself unable to stand the chatter of the guests, strikes out toward the woods. Attracted by the music, Lorna approaches the mansion. Harold is amazed to see the girl break into a dance, beautiful in its wildness. Discovering her audience, Lorna flees. Harold overtakes her just as she reaches her cabin. The two fall in love.

Mrs. Merwin is horrified when she discovers what has occurred. Meeting Lorna, she makes the girl believe that Harold's future demands that he marry Rena. Unaware of this interview, Harold is thunderstruck when Lorna breaks their engagement. Piled with rage and plague, the boy makes Rena his bride.

The shock drives Lorna insane. The ignorant settlers gradually come to regard her as a witch woman. Neal, Harold's son, bears a remarkable resemblance to the father. The latter has never forgotten Lorna and when Neal announces his intention of marrying Josie, a poor girl, Harold endeavors to help the boy win Rena's consent. Neal and Josie elope, going to the Merwin mansion to spend their honeymoon. Lorna, a withered hag, sees Neal. Mistaking him for Harold, she frantically tells him that she has loved him all along. Neal, however, spurns her. Wild with rage, Lorna captures Josie and is about to kill her when Neal saves his bride's life in the nick of time. Harold follows Neal to the mansion. Thus the old sweethearts meet again. The shock of all she had endured is too great for the old woman and she dies in the arms of the man she loves.

THEMA BARA AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE TUESDAY

The Tuesday Fox feature at the Majestic will be "Lady Audley's Secret," a five-part masterpiece. As is customary with all William Fox productions, the cast of his latest success, "Lady Audley's Secret" is far above the average photo drama cast. Theda Bara, who created such a furor by her marvellously artistic portrayals of the Vampire woman in "A Fool There Was" quite surpasses herself in her latest vehicle. The story of the woman, cursed by an hereditary malady, that causes her to attempt her own husband's life, and to bring misery upon her own, is one of thrilling dramatic power. This production will undoubtedly be considered one of the greatest vehicles that has yet been furnished Miss Bara.

In support of Miss Bara, there appear Clifford Bruce, who starred in many well known Broadway productions before entering the field of the Silent Drama under the banner of William Fox; Stephen Gratton, who among many other successes created the title role in the original production of "The Prisoner of Zenda"; Wm. Riley Hatch, who played the title part in the Fox production of the "Plunderer."

The circus will give two performances and a morning street parade circus day, Wednesday, October 20.

"KINDLING" AT THE EMPRESS THEATRE MONDAY

Miss Charlotte Walker, the distinguished dramatic star, is to make her photodramatic debut in the production of "Kindling" which is offered by the Lasky Feature Play Company through an arrangement with E. J. Bowser. This play, which is the most dramatic offering yet produced by the Lasky Company, and which had an extraordinary Broadway success, is especially adapted to the dramatic genius of Miss Walker, who thus makes her debut under the most favorable auspices.

The company engaged to support Miss Walker in "Kindling" includes Thomas Meighan, Raymond Hatton, Mrs. McCord, Billy Elmer, Lillian Langdon, Florence Dagmar and Tom Forman. "Kindling" tells the story of a poor woman of the tenements who is married to a man of Germanic extraction with socialistic theories. He is in every way a good husband, but has got a theory that it is wrong for poor people to have children and bring them up in poverty and under conditions that do not really give them a fair chance in life.

The husband repeats this idea to his wife, who is especially depressing owing to the fact that a strike has left the family almost penniless, and she is afraid to confess that she is soon to give birth to an infant. At about this time she makes the acquaintance of a rich young woman who is interested in settlement work and this woman, sympathizing with her hardships, offers her work in her home. Among the acquaintances of the tenement is a young crook, and he persuades the frightened wife to help him rob the home of wealth and luxury where she is working.

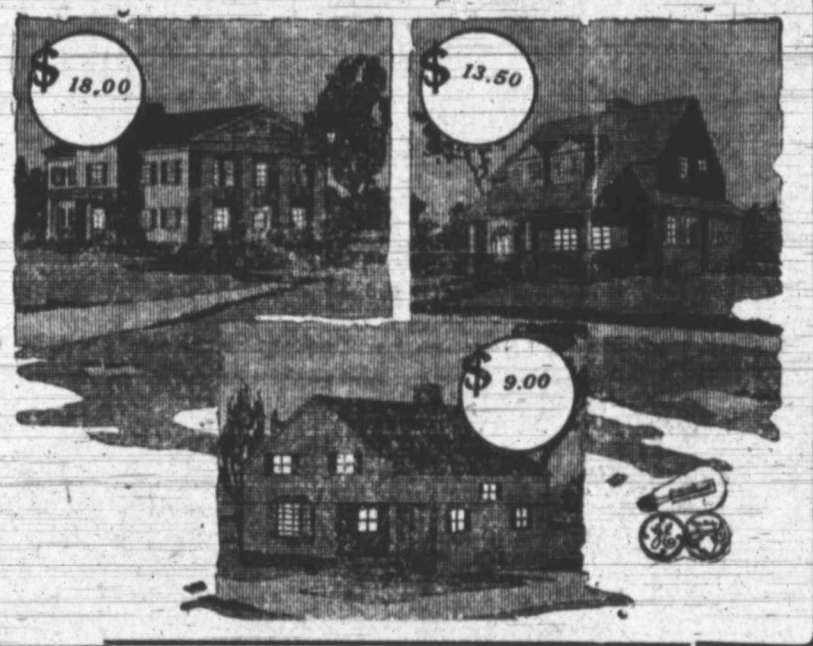

The only motive that the wife has is to get the sum of money necessary for her to go West, where she can have her child under different circumstances. The robbery, however, is traced. The husband proves his worthiness by upholding his wife when he finds the motive that led her to commit the crime and offering to shoulder the blame.
