HIS MOUNTAIN GIRL

By RONALD HOSS.

Marvin was in his later thirties. College bred, he had gone West after making a failure of his life.

One day, as Marvin rode through the woods, he came upon a slip of a mountain girl bending over a brook.

They fell into an easy conversation. Her father was a small sheep rancher living in the valley.

He met her once more, twice—then the day came when he rode down to the valley to buy his supplies.

"Joe Cooper's gal," the storekeeper told him. "She's sort of queer. Old Jim Bates is crazy to marry her, but he's in his fifties and the gal don't care for an old man."

Marvin, returning, saw a group of three at the door of the house. The two men were arguing angrily with the girl.

But the days hung drearily on his hands, and he felt a vague longing to see the forest girl again.

"You are in trouble," he said. "What can I do to help you?" Then in sudden realization, "You were coming to me?"

She nodded dumbly. "I can't stand for it in the valley," she said. "I won't marry Jim Bates. I won't. I hate him. All my life I have wanted to live in the mountains, away from folks."

"I, too, love the mountains," he said. "Would you come and live with me—I mean, if we were to be married?"

That night he dreamed that he was pursuing Laura through a vast, smoky land, a wilderness with no other living being in sight.

He gasped and sat up. Through the window of his cabin he saw a lurid light that seemed to fill the sky.

He hurried into his clothes and ran to the stable. The horse was whinnying, fearful of the fire that seemed to be creeping nearer.

He tethered his horse securely and ran down the valley. He saw smoldering homesteads, fallen trees, blackened rooftops of deserted houses.

He ran through the little irrigated patch and hammered furiously at the door. It fell crashing beneath his blows.

"You are not hurt?" he cried. "Where is your father? Your—"

"I don't know," she sobbed. "When I awoke the house was beginning to burn. I dressed and hurried out here. I think—I think they have gone with the settlers toward the mountains."

"They left you to burn?" exclaimed Marvin, in horror.

"She laid her hand on his arm. 'I heard them calling for me,' she said. 'But I hid here. Tomorrow I was to have married Jim.'"

"And now?" asked Marvin, bending over her.

"Now, I just can't. I can't. Leave me to die."

"He caught her in his arms and carried her up the valley, over the smoldering ruins of the little settlement. When they reached unburned ground he set her down and walked beside her, holding her to him. Her hair, unloosed, fell over him. They were together and content, immeasurably content, and nothing else mattered."

TAKING EVIDENCE IN OSCAR WELLS' CASE

STATE RESTS THIS MORNING AND DEFENSE WITNESSES NOW TESTIFYING.

FATAL SHOOTING DESCRIBED

Negroes Tell How Defendant Entered Barber Shop and Began Using Pistol.

A statement made by the defendant before Deputy County Attorney John Davenport and the dying declaration of Kid Hopper in connection with whose killing he is being tried for murder were introduced by the state in the trial of Oscar Wells in the 78th district court now in progress. Objection was made to the introduction of each of these statements by the attorneys for the defense. The statement of Kid Hopper was allowed to go before the jury only after it had been censored by Judge Nicholson who blotted parts that were considered hearsay and irrelevant.

Dying Statement Used.
In his statement to Deputy County Attorney Davenport Wells said he had made up his mind to kill Hopper and Ed Johnson, whom he shot at the same time and who also died in connection with whose death Wells is also under indictment for murder, because they had mistreated him on the night before the killing. He said he had come upon the two negroes beating a third negro and that he interfered. When he did so, he said, they drew their knives and started after him. The next evening he went into the barber shop where they were and started shooting. In his statement he said they made no hostile move toward him when he entered the barber shop and that his only reason for shooting them was because they had mistreated him on the previous night.

The declaration of Kid Hopper was made before Dr. M. M. Walker. He said that Oscar Wells came up to where George Johnson was having a dispute on the night before the shooting and that Wells tried to hit Johnson with a wine bottle he was carrying. Hopper said he jerked the wine bottle out of Wells' hand and threw it away. Wells then broke and ran. He saw Wells when he and Johnson and another negro were standing in front of a saloon the next evening. Wells went into the saloon past them and came out again. They went over to the barber shop and passed Wells on the way. One of them said "Hello Oscar," in about 25 minutes Wells came into the barber shop and said "All right boys" and commenced shooting. After he had emptied his gun, the declaration continued, Wells broke and ran.

Negro Doctor Testifies.
Dr. M. M. Walker was on the stand Thursday afternoon. He described the wounds of the two negroes and the circumstances under which he was called to the scene. He told of taking the dying declaration of Kid Hopper.

Dr. Johnson, a negro physician, followed Dr. Walker on the stand. He also described the wounds and discussed the effect of such wounds. Dr. Johnson in his testimony used a number of technical terms of polysyllabic character which drove Court Stenographer Sherrod to his medical dictionary.

The jury which was completed late yesterday afternoon comprises the following:
R. M. Brown, R. E. Brubaker, T. E. Dobson, S. M. Bruce, J. L. Cavanaugh, W. J. Audrey, B. Stewart, E. F. Albritton, A. L. Warren, E.

W. Creed, T. G. Taylor, O. C. Baumgardner.

State Rests Case.

After the testimony of four eye-witnesses to the killing the state rested this morning. The state's witnesses this morning were Bill Skelton, Sam Thompson, Noah Bennett and C. W. Williams. All were in the barber shop when the shooting started. After the first shot all were somewhere else. Thompson said he was a block and a half away when the second shot was fired. All the others testified they were getting away when the shooting was going on. Several of them testified that Wells came into the barber shop and said, "All right boys" and commenced shooting.

Roy Foreman was the first witness for the defense. He testified to having witnessed the trouble on the night preceding the shooting. He said that Wells came up where Hopper and Johnson had Ed Myers down and tried to stop the fight; that the two negroes took a wine bottle from Wells and threw it into the street.

Ed Myers testified that Hopper and Johnson got out their knives and chased Wells away. He also testified that the two negroes made threats that they would kill Wells.

GOLF EXPERT TO COME HERE AND AID NEW ORGANIZATION

Will Help in Selection of Site and in Laying Out Course for the Country Club.

William Nicholas, golf instructor at the Lanewood Club of Dallas, has accepted an invitation to come to Wichita Falls to give his advice to the newly organized Golf and Country Club in the selection of a site and laying out the grounds.

He has wired C. W. Reid, secretary of the local organization, that he will be here Monday. On his arrival the sites proposed will be visited and after an examination Mr. Nicholas is expected to make a recommendation. As the location of the club is of vital importance to the success of the club, it is Mr. Reid's idea, as well as other members of the committee on location that this matter be considered thoroughly and that the opinion of an expert be secured before any recommendation be made to the club by the committee.

Mr. Nicholas before going to Dallas was connected with a golf club at Muskogee. He has played on many of the best courses in England and in the East. He is recognized as one of the best experts in the country.

Sixty Years the Standard

Made from Cream of Tartar

The European war is bringing prosperity in abundance to concerns that manufacture deadly weapons.

Only about two months until Christmas, and that reminds us that the Czar of Russia said he was going to eat his Christmas dinner in Berlin, and the Emperor was going to take his in Petrograd.

This year a ton of cotton seed is just about equal to the price of a bale of cotton last year, and if cotton seed products continue to go up in price in the next few years as rapidly as they have advanced during the past five years, it will not be surprising to see cotton seed selling at about the same price per pound as lint cotton.

Only yesterday the Times made note of the fact that cotton seed was selling at $35 per ton in Texas town, the highest price ever paid.

There is some little opposition developing to voting $225,000 worth of bonds with which to construct and equip a new court house for Wichita county, and for the most part this opposition springs from a source least expected, in that when propositions are before the people that, if voted on favorably would have a tendency to cut down the amount of court business these gentlemen voted against it, and now do not look with favor upon a proposition to build a court house and equip it in order that the increased court business might receive proper attention.

It is said that it is the program of the present administration to double the strength of the American navy within the next five years, which is probably the proper thing to do, but is yet considerably short of the demands of the American lineages.

This is the way an editor friend was sent to the Panama-Pacific exposition. A number of his subscribers thought it would be a good thing for him and the paper, if he took a vacation. So they all paid their subscriptions a year in advance. Then they passed the word down the line and others fell in with the idea.

HE MAY HAVE STARTED SOMETHING.

(Chicago Herald.)

The prominent railway official who resigned as co-receiver with the assertion that he couldn't earn his $3,000 monthly fee has been persuaded that he is needed to "operate the road."

However, the unconventional effort of Henry U. Mudge to avoid taking money he felt he wasn't earning, seems likely to stir a little more thought about the philosophy of the receivership.

Mr. Mudge's effort may have opened some crevices in the walls through which may come the light of day in the sweet by-and-by when receiverships will be less politely profitable to receivers and of more tangible benefit and less cost to investors.

Local hunters who were at the lake this morning ready for the opening of the duck shooting season found the pickings rather slim.

CITY COUNCIL ARRANGES FOR PAY FOR NEW HOSPITAL. The city council last night passed an ordinance providing for the issuance of warrants for the payment of invoices and freight on shipments of equipment and supplies for the new hospital. This is now beginning to arrive. The whole bills will be paid by the city, the county later paying the city for its half of the bills. The county is not permitted to pay bills until they have been passed on by the county commissioners and warrants ordered by that body, so the city council was asked to make provision whereby the freight, for and other necessary expenses would be met in the interim before the commissioners meet. WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS

HARRY WALSH IS VICTOR OVER LYONS IN 4 ROUNDS

ATHLETIC CLUB HAS INTERESTING CARD

MAIN BOUT AND PRELIMINARIES FURNISH FUN FOR LARGE CROWD.

BOBBY WAUGH TO APPEAR HERE

"Champion of Dixie" Will Meet Walsh Lyons Knocked Down in the Fourth Round.

The second smother of the Wichita Falls Athletic Club at the Wichita Theater Thursday night proved a very interesting round of sport for a crowd of about 400. The main event on the card, the bout between Harry Walsh and "Battling" Lyons resulted in a victory for the former, when Lyons, after being knocked down in the fourth round, threw the sponge into the ring.

While the main bout did not furnish the clever exhibition that marked the Walsh-Henderson contest, the program was full of interest and excitement. Lyons was outclassed by the Californian, but gave a fairly good account of himself for several rounds. Manager Howard of the Athletic club announced that Bobby Waugh wanted to meet the winner, and the "champion of Dixie" will fight Walsh here probably about the last of this month. "Red" Henderson will challenge the winner of that bout.

Athletic Club Plans.
Announcement was also made of the fact that the athletic club has purchased the quarters formerly occupied by the Moose lodge, and that a gymnasium will be established there.

The Walsh-Waugh bout, which is the next scheduled event, is expected to furnish some of the real mixt stuff. While Waugh's record indicates that he should be able to handle Walsh, those who know the latter best declare that he will make the champion work very hard for everything he gets. This bout is being looked forward to with considerable interest.

Thursday night's first preliminary was between two youths who boxed three rounds in a fairly brisk manner, honors being about even. Then Dave Blank and James Shipley put on the gloves for a four round bout that was one of the evening's best features. The boys were as peaceful as a couple of peevish bear-cats and went for each other fast and furiously, with plenty of action.

Preliminary Bout.
Two negroes, one from Jolly and the other a home talent offering boxed four rounds in which the Wichitan had the better of the argument, the other quitting in the fifth round. Stearns and Rawls, two local boys started what was scheduled to be a four round bout, but they did not appear to be sufficiently in earnest in the first round to suit Manager Howard and he called them off. Bill Skoen and Tom Courtney, two well known local boys boxed for four rounds. Courtney showed much cleverness and quickness and the bout was full of interest, without either boxer having any very decided advantage. The "battle royal" was next staged, four negroes entering the ring together. One of them was knocked down early in the fray and got up with a wobbly look on his face, quitting the ring. Another soon followed example, and the remaining two furnished some fairly fast fighting for a few minutes.

Walsh Shows Much Steam.
Manager Howard was presented to the crowd and made some announcements about prospective bouts. He introduced Lyons and Walsh, and "Red" Henderson was also presented to the crowd, being well received. With Jimmy Maxwell as referee, the main bout began, Walsh announcing his weight as 122 and Lyons at 131. Lyons is a roney, spare-built youth with a pleasant face that he soon screwed up into a regular fighting phiz. Walsh showed his superiority in the first round and soon had the Englishman covering repeatedly, though neither got in any very healthy blows. In the second and third rounds Lyons showed more class and at times unhooked his left arm for some sharp swings, of which several landed. Much of the time, however, Walsh's style of attack forced Lyons to cover up, and when he did so the Californian landed kidney blows that soon began to tell on the Englishman. In the fourth round Walsh rushed the attack with considerable vigor and broke through Lyons' defense; several sharp blows to the face knocked Lyons to the floor, apparently for the count, but the gong sounded before the required ten seconds had passed. He was lifted into his chair, and feeling himself unable to continue the fight, threw a sponge into the ring.

After the fight Walsh announced his willingness to meet Waugh, saying he had been trying to get a bout with him for six months.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS AT HIGH SCHOOL GETTING BUSY

Glee Clubs Are Being Formed and Orchestra is Also Planned by The Students.

The first practice of the girls glee club of the high school was held this morning with 85 students in the club. Miss Agnew, music supervisor, has just finished her preliminary work on the musical department of the high school and has announced regular dates for rehearsals for the girls glee club the boys glee club which will be held Tuesday morning and the high school orchestra which will meet for the first time this afternoon. The orchestra will commence with about fifteen instruments.

The senior glee club is still to be formed perhaps the middle of next week and a new organization of boys will be made, that of boys whose voices have not changed. It is expected there will be about sixteen of the younger boys in this glee.

The high school boys glee club will contain about 22 voices.

Miss Agnew also hopes to have a high school quartette and has plans for still other activities along musical lines for the high school.

For the first time since the organization of the musical department the high school students are doing four part chorus work in chapel meetings, the students now being seated with regard to their voices. It is expected that this will prove very much of a success and that the chorus music in chapel will be much improved.

LUNCHEON ON NEXT THURSDAY

George Keith Chosen President and Large Number of New Members Are Elected.

With the election of officers and directors, the completion of plans for the weekly luncheons, the Rotary Club Thursday night perfected its organization, at a well attended meeting at the city hall. The first luncheon will be held next Thursday and luncheons will be held on Wednesday of each week thereafter.

The following officers were elected: George Keith, president; J. M. Bland, first vice president; O. T. Bacon, second vice president; J. E. Arnold, secretary; W. M. Mr. Keith, the president, has been very active in getting the organization started and was one of the first to enter the movement. At the meeting the rules of the Fort Worth Rotarians were adopted for temporary guidance and after a reading of the platform, steps for permanent organization were taken. A committee consisting of Messrs. Bacon, Bland and Robertson was appointed to nominate nine directors and after it reported it was decided to increase the number to twelve, so the three committees were added as directors. After the meeting adjourned, the directors met and elected officers.

A number of new members were elected Thursday night and only a few lines of activity are still unrepresented in the club. Members will probably be chosen from these at an early date.

Much interest was manifested in the club and the meeting was an enthusiastic one. Present were: Messrs. Keith, Harvey, Colonna, Marin, J. H. AT THE THEATERS

The Majestic
 A Mina comedy, a one part Essanay drama "Does the Woman Forget" and a two part Essanay with Nell Cosgrove, "Business Rivals" makes up today's program at the Majestic. The two part picture is another of the Braga series, adapted from the stories in the Cosmopolitan Magazine. A synopsis of "Business Rivals" is given.
 Upon learning that the wealthy Primrose McFarland is to give a birthday party and display the famous family jewels, Braga, an international crook, plans to attend the affair and discover the identity of the rival crook who has been spotting all his thieving plans. The night of the party Braga enters the house, disguised as a matron, having made love to the maid in order to get this chance. He hides in a chest in the lower hall while Dominica is singing. Dominica discovers their rival thief, LeGrand, an ex-police official, acting as a table assistant. The party is over. Braga is still hiding in the chest and LeGrand has not succeeded in procuring the jewels yet. Young McFarland, nephew of the spinster, takes the jewels under his arm, planning to deposit them in the safe deposit vault in the morning. LeGrand follows. In the meantime Dominica, disguised as an Italian street singer boy, waits for Braga. McFarland is attacked by LeGrand, but Dominica warns him in time. After a fierce struggle McFarland breaks loose and LeGrand falls with Dominica lying wounded on the ground. McFarland takes her home in a taxicab. The next morning Braga, defeated and fearful of the police, advises fleeing for safety's sake. Dominica renounces him as a coward and orders him away from her suite.

The Gem
 Anita Stewart and Earle Williams are the features today at the Gem in the serial "The Goddess." Aside from this two-part feature there is an excellent program, including a Ham comedy and a Lubin drama, "The Spark and the Flame." A story is given: Bob Benham, a derelict of the city, thinks sadly of his present state and the so-called good times that made him so. Mary Hamilton, a country girl who has come to the city in search of a career, also realizes that she has made a mistake. Her money runs out and she is pressed by the insistent demands of her landlady. She secures a job at four dollars a week as a salesgirl in a department store, not because of her ability, but because she appeals to the grocer senses of the

 The moving municipality of Ringlingville cover an area of 20 acres. Its population, according to the last monthly census, consists of 1,371 people, 735 horses, 41 elephants, 10 zebras and 1,003 wild animals.
 To move their tented enterprise over the country Ringling Brothers employ a total of 89 double-length railroad cars. These are divided into five, six or more trains depending upon the grades to be overcome by the motive power. One section of twenty cars is used to haul the parade equipment. Another carries the portable stage, costumes, special scenery and electrical apparatus used in this season's 1,250 character spectacle of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. Attached to this train are the sleepers on which travel the hundreds of dancing girls who appear in this mammoth production.
 Ringling Brothers' circus represents an investment of $4,000,000, and the daily expense is approximated at $3,000. Large as the initial sum may seem it is easily understood when ele-

The best of any written in the last decade. The play is gorgeously mounted with all special scenery—with practically the same original cast of artists especially selected for their respective roles.
 Do not confound "The Commercial Traveler" with the "Travelling Salesman," for there is no similarity in either. The latter deals with the traveling man in an entirely new way.

"COMMERCIAL TRAVELER" AT WICHITA THEATER SATURDAY.
 "The Commercial Traveler" which opened its engagement here last night at the "Theater" is one of the best ever shown at that theater. Few shows ever presented here that have carried any more evenly balanced company of actors. Each one rose to the situations with a nicety that disclosed them to be real artists in their professions—Kansas City Star.
 Len B. Parker the author of "The Commercial Traveler" has given to the theater going public the greatest play he has ever written, and by far at last takes the girl back to their home town. The girl herself proves to be true blue, satisfying even Blair's old guardian, a rough cattle-man of her love for Dan and fitness to be his wife.

RETURNED MISSIONARY AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
 The lecture of Dr. H. L. Weber at the First Presbyterian Church tonight at 7:30 is looked forward to as one of the most interesting affairs of the kind in this city for some time. Dr. Weber is a returned medical missionary who has seen much service in Africa and it is said he will have a very interesting message. Dr. Weber was born in 1873 in Springfield, N. Y., was graduated from Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., in 1895 and from Rush Medical in 1901. Before receiving his appointment to West Africa, under the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A., in 1902, he spent one year in the City Hospital at Stillwater, Minn.
 Dr. Weber and wife reached Kameroon, W. A., in October, 1902. Since then he has led the busy life of the missionary physician, ministering to the spiritual as well as the physical needs of those around him. Dr. Weber is well fitted for his position as the evangelistic part of the work is most important. Last year, of the non-Christians entering the hospital, 78 per cent accepted Christ before leaving. His adaptability has also been an important feature in his success, as the varied duties of a missionary's life have brought to him not only medical work, but also building, the superintending of men and boys and preaching a considerable part of the time.

 Upon his first furlough, Dr. Weber completed his dental course, thus being able to render much valuable service to his fellow missionaries, as there is no other dentist on the west coast within a hundred miles. The second furlough was utilized in Bible study at Moody's in Chicago and speaking among the churches.
 The outbreak of the European war at the time of the third furlough delayed the departure of the home coming missionaries and threatens to delay their return.

"PROSECUTORS HAVE HIGHER DUTY THAN CONVICTING"
 Austin, Oct. 14.—Prosecuting officers were reminded by the court of criminal appeals that they have a higher duty to perform than the mere securing of a conviction—a duty to see that each man is tried in accordance with the rules of the law and that no improper advantage is taken of any one, no matter with what crime he is charged nor how guilty he may be believed to be. The court cautioned prosecuting officers not to let their zeal get the better of their judgment.
 The retrial was given in an opinion reversing and remanding the case of Frank M. Bullington, from Fannin county, given eight years in the penitentiary upon conviction of a charge of assault to kill his wife. The higher court found that improper questions had been asked the defendant it refused to affirm the judgment of the lower court and ordered a new trial.

BOSTON RED SOX WIN WORLDS' CHAMPIONSHIP

HOME RUN IN NINTH WINS FOURTH GAME

PHILLIES STARTED STRONG BUT CARRIGAN'S MEN ALSO DEVELOPE OFFENSIVE.

PHILLIES IN THE LEAD TWICE

Mighty Swats of Lewis and Hooper For Full Circuits Cinch Championship for Boston.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—The baseball championship of the world rests upon the Boston team of the American League this afternoon for the second time in four seasons. They defeated the Philadelphia Nationals 5 to 4, coming from behind in the eighth and ninth innings, the mighty swats of Lewis and Hooper for home runs, bringing them victory.

All the Philadelphia fans who could crowd into the Nationals' cozy little park gathered and saw their team acquire a two run lead then lose it; saw another two run lead attained, held for an inning or two then lost again—saw Hooper land on the ball in the ninth, send it to the far right field corner where it took a bounce and went outside the lot, giving the Boston outfielder his second home run of the game—saw their world's championship prospects face and then flicker to darkness when the Phillies went down in one two three order in the final half inning.

Boston's performance in this series—taking four straight games after their opening defeat—is surpassed in baseball annals of recent years only by that of another Boston team, the Nationals, last year, when another Philadelphia team, the Americans, went down in four straight games before the "miracle men" of George Stallings.

A Game of Thrills. It was a game of thrills, of sudden and sweeping changes. Incidentally it was a game that saw the record for home runs in a world's series game broken, four full circuit drives being registered, one by a Philly and three by Red Sox players. Contrary to expectations, Manager Moran sent Mayer, who met defeat at Boston's hands Saturday, in to take the box against Boston; six hits in two and a third inning were counted off this offering, then he was derrick and Rixey, a left hander was sent in. One lone hit was all he allowed the slugging Bostonians in four innings and then he weakened.

After Gainer had hit safely in the eighth, Lewis, Boston's left fielder whose hitting has been one of the features of the series, hit a home run, sending Gainer around ahead of Carrigan and making the score; the eighth passed and then in the ninth Hooper completed the Phillies' undoing. Hooper worked all the way for Boston and while he allowed nine hits, only in the first inning did he appear to be weak.

The Phillies started briskly. In the first inning, Stock was hit by a pitched ball and Bancroft singled. Paskert beat out a bunt, filling the bases. Then Cravath hit into a double play that made things look less rosy, but Luderus came forward with the needful two sack drive that scored two runs.

Boston came back hard after two were out in the next inning. Gainer uncocked a three base clout and scored on Barry's single. In the third inning Hooper, who was first up, landed for his first home run tying the score. The Phillies untied it in the fourth. With one down, Luderus brought the home fans screaming to their feet with a home run drive. Whitted went out, but Niehoff, hit safely, advanced on Burns' single and scored on an error.

The Phillies maintained their two run lead until the eighth when as set forth above, Boston again tied the game up, winning out in the ninth. Up to the eighth, Rixey seemed to be pitching invincible ball but the hard hitters of the Sox found him with a vengeance in that frame. The weather was clear and warm and many of the spectators in the stands shed their coats to keep comfortable. Before the game Alexander was presented with a floral horse shoe. Umpires were assigned as follows: Klem at the plate, Rigler in left field, O'Laughlin on the bases, Evans in right field.

FIRST INNING. Boston—Hooper drove the first ball pitched out of the diamond for a single. Scott tried to bunt, but popped out to first. Speaker forced Hooper with a grounder to second. Speaker tried to steal and was out. No runs, no hit, no errors.

Philadelphia—Stock stopped one of Foster's shoots with his ribs, and was given his base. Hancock singled to left field, advancing Stock to second. Paskert tried to lay down a bunt, sending the ball toward third so neatly that he was able to beat it to first, filling the bases. Cravath was a great disappointment when he batted into a double play which forced Stock out at the plate, Foster to Thomas to Hoblitzel. But Luderus was there at the right time with a cracking double base drive that scored Hancock and Paskert. Whitted retired the side with a fly to Speaker. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING. Boston—Hoblitzel was out on a grounder to first, Mayer covering the sack. The dangerous Lewis went out, short to first. With two down, Gardner uncocked a drive to deep center that netted him three bases, and scored when Barry singled to left field. Thomas got the third hit of the inning to center, sending Gardner to second. Foster popped out to first. One run, three hits, no errors.

Philadelphia—Niehoff struck out Burns popped out to third. Mayer was the inning's second strike out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING. Boston—Hooper brought the score even with a home run drive into the far center field stands, the first full circuit clout of the series. The Royal Rooters from Boston went wild in their joy. Scott fled out to center field. Speaker singled to right field. Rixey replaced Mayer in the box for Philadelphia and Manager Carrigan promptly sent Gainer, a left handed batter in to hit for Hoblitzel, Rixey being a southpaw. A double play retired the side, Gainer hitting a grounder to Niehoff who touched second and then threw to first. Two hits, one run, no errors.

Philadelphia—Stock went out, third to first. Bancroft drew two and three then fled out to right. With two down, Paskert singled to center field, his second hit in twice up. Pae

Naval Consulting Board Begins Work By Deciding To Build Big Laboratory

NAVAL CONSULTING BOARD INDICATES PETER COOPER HEWITT, First Vice Chairman

The first concrete result of the preliminary labors of the naval consulting board on inventions, created by Secretary Daniels, developed when formal announcement was made that the board had unanimously approved a plan for the establishment of a great research and experimental laboratory for the United States navy. The plan, as adopted, was proposed by Thomas A. Edison, chairman of the board. It calls for the establishment of an laboratory at a cost of $5,000,000 for grounds, buildings and equipment, to be operated at an annual expenditure of from $2,500,000. The board recommends that the laboratory be located in tide water of sufficient depth to permit a Drednaught to come to the dock, and that it be near, but not in, a large city. As thus described, the laboratory would be near some large port on the Atlantic Coast. It could not be located at Washington because the depth of water in the Potomac river is not great enough to permit Drednaughts to go to the city. The board elected these officers: Chairman, Thomas A. Edison, Orange, N. J.; first vice chairman, Peter Cooper Hewitt, New York; second vice chairman, William L. Saunders, Plainfield, N. J.; secretary, Thomas Robins, Stamford, Conn.; assistant to chairman, M. R. Hutchinson, Orange, N. J. In the picture may be seen Mr. Edison sitting with Secretary Daniels; also behind them, Mr. Hewitt (indicated by an X); the board member at the right is Hudson Maxim, the distinguished inventor.

DECLARATION OF WAR BY BULGARIA ANNOUNCED

Twelfth Nation to Enter European War Has Issued Formal Declaration. By Associated Press. London, Oct. 13.—Bulgaria has declared war on Serbia says a Central News dispatch from Paris. The decision of Bulgaria, the twelfth nation to enter the war, to join the ranks of the belligerents on the side of Germany, Austria and Turkey, was reached only after a diplomatic duel waged for months by representatives of the Teutonic allies and the Triple Entente. Each side offered many inducements, in an effort to gain another ally but the Bulgarian government finally decided Germany and her friends had made the higher bid. Bulgaria is rated as one of the most powerful of the Christian Balkan states. It has been reported that Bulgaria has been promised a regulation of the frontier north of Adrianople as far as the Black Sea whereby the district of Kirkkhrise would revert to her. She also is said to have been pledged efficient help in obtaining the whole of Macedonia, including the so-called disputed part of Uskub and the coast region along the Aegean Sea to the straits as well as a part of Dobruja.

A GREAT AMERICAN FLEET IS PLANNED

FIVE YEAR NAVAL PROGRAM IS PROPOSED BY DANIELS CREATING STRONG NAVY. MANY SUBMARINES PLANNED. Would Add Drednaughts, Cruisers, Submarines, and Other Auxiliaries to American Navy. By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 13.—A new American fleet of dreadnaughts, battle cruisers, submarines and other necessary auxiliaries is contemplated by Secretary Daniels. A five year naval program is proposed at the end of which time from fifteen to twenty dreadnaughts and battle cruisers, nearly one hundred submarines, about seventy destroyers and several scout cruisers and a proportionate number of auxiliaries would be added to the present fleet. With the seventy submarines already building the total undersea craft would total about 170 in five years. The entire program for the first year which would include provision for at least 8,000 additional men, would it not be able to spare any troops to this purpose.

THE FRENCH MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS RESIGNS

DELCASSE'S RETIREMENT IS ANNOUNCED TODAY. Man Who Brought About Triple Entente Quits Because of Growing Infirmitie. By Associated Press. Paris, Oct. 13.—Foreign Minister Delcasse resigned today. His resignation was accepted. The desire to obtain united support of all elements in parliament in upholding the hands of the government in dealing with foreign affairs particularly the Balkans will probably result in other changes in the ministry. The continued ill health of Foreign Minister Delcasse has given serious concern for some time. Premier Viviani in announcing the resignation to the chamber of deputies said that M. Delcasse first offered his letter of resignation upon returning from his recent trip to England and again offered it last night. The premier declared there had been no discord between M. Delcasse and the government on the nation's foreign policy.

The concessions were made in response to recent representations by the United States, but unofficial information has reached here indicating that the persecutions were continuing. RUSSIANS CLAIM ANOTHER VERY IMPORTANT VICTORY

By Associated Press. Petrograd, October 13, (via London, 4:30.)—Another striking victory has been won by the Russians on the southern front in Eastern Galicia. They have pierced the last line of Austrian defenses on the Stripa river and stormed one of the strongest forts on the Austro-German right flank.

THE TEUTON ADVANCE INTO SERBIA IS MAKING PROGRESS

By Associated Press. Berlin, October 13, (via London.)—The Austro-German invasion of Serbia is making progress, the war office announced today, although the Serbians by their resistance are interfering to some extent with the advance. A village and other positions south of Belgrade have been captured.

FRENCH RESUMING THE OFFENSIVE IN WEST. Greece Continues Her Attitude of Armed Neutrality—No Reports From Dardanelles. By Associated Press. London, Oct. 13.—The issue between Bulgaria and Serbia apparently has been joined squarely. It is reported unofficially that Bulgaria has declared war. Little is known here of the progress of hostilities between these combatants beyond the fact that Bulgaria has invaded Serbia and is said to have suffered reverses in the opening engagement. In northern Serbia the Austro-German invaders are meeting with stubborn resistance.

The report from Petrograd yesterday of an important Russian success in Galicia has been confirmed officially. General Janoff has broken the Austro-German front along the Stripa, taking 2,000 prisoners and a number of guns. If the Russian victory is as definite as is indicated by the official announcement the Austrians may be compelled to fall back on Lemberg. Such a retreat would be certain to have a moral effect in the Balkans where the continued neutrality of several states is believed to be due largely to the severe reverses suffered by Russians during the summer campaign.

In the Dvinsk region desperate but indecisive fighting continues with the offensive shifting frequently from one side to the other. Field Marshal Von Hindenburg evidently intends to continue his attacks as it is reported reinforcements for his army are on the way to the Dvinsk front. From the western front comes reports indicating that the French are resuming the offensive in the campaign. Paris claims slow but steady progress accompanied by the capture of a few prisoners and heavy losses for the Germans.

Beyond the announcement by Premier Viviani in the French chamber little has yet developed as to the extent of the aid to be given by the entente powers to Serbia. It is reported unofficially, however, that Italy is not able to spare any troops to this purpose.

GREECE'S ATTITUDE. Greece is maintaining her attitude of armed neutrality. Athens advises that the Greek government does not consider the existing situation a purely Balkan affair, and that therefore Greece is not bound by her treaty with Serbia to come to the latter's aid in resisting the present Bulgarian attack.

From the Dardanelles the only recent reports are from the Turkish side recounting minor successes. Berlin announces that the Teutonic advances south of the Danube continue and that Russian attacks at Dvinsk and northeast of Smolens have been repulsed. On the western front the Germans report gains east of Sochez and in the Vosges and the result of a German attack northeast of Verdun, and the French assaults south of Tahure.

AMERICAN SEAL VIOLATED BY TURKISH AUTHORITIES

METHODISTS ENDORSE PICTURES AND BANDS. BREAK SEAL DESPITE PROTESTS OF U. S. CONSUL. By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 13.—Ambassador Morrenthau has been directed to inquire of the Turkish foreign office, it was learned today, as to whether concessions regarding an exemption from prosecution of Protestant and Catholic Armenians were being carried out. The concessions were made in response to recent representations by the United States, but unofficial information has reached here indicating that the persecutions were continuing. By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 13.—Orville Wright has sold his entire interest in the Wright Aeroplane Company at Dayton, Ohio to a syndicate consisting of William Johnson, August Wiggin, president of the Chase National Bank of New York, and T. Manville of the John Manville company, according to an announcement made here today.

BOSTON WINS ANOTHER GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES

BOSTON NOW NEEDS ONLY ONE MORE GAME TO WIN THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

LUCK BIG FACTOR TODAY

Special to The Times.
Boston, Oct. 12.—Boston won again and again the score was 2 to

Chalmers falling down when he tried to field a bunt, allowing Cady to reach first safely.

The crowd broke all records for attendance at the National pastime, there being in excess of 42,000 people gathered in the National League park to witness the brilliant contest.

Tomorrow's game at Philadelphia may end the series, as the Boston team needs only one more game to clinch the title.

FIRST INNING.
Philadelphia—Stock led off with a sacrifice to left, but was put out at second by Scott when he tried to stretch the drive to a two-bagger. Bancroft drew a base on balls and went to second when Barry dropped bad throw by Cady. Faskert struck out, and Cravath did likewise, cutting short the visitors' hopes for a score. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SECOND INNING.
Philadelphia—Luderus singled to right field. Whitted sacrificed him to second with a bunt down the first base line. Niehoff fouled out to Cady.

Burns drew a base on balls, but Chalmers struck out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Boston—Hobbs surprised the home folks by striking out. Evans was out on a grounder to Chalmers. Gardner filed out to center. No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING.
Philadelphia—Stock was out on a grounder to Shore. Bancroft drew his second base on balls and Faskert struck out for the second time this game. Cravath again disappeared by flying out to left field. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Boston—Barry drew his base on balls. Cady tried to sacrifice and both runners were safe when Chalmers slipped and fell trying to field the bunt. Cady being credited with a single. Chalmers made what Evans designated as a ball and the runners were ordered to advance, but Rigler ordered them back. Shore went out, third to first, advancing both runners. Hooper hit a line drive over second and while Niehoff was able to knock the ball down, it went for a single, scoring Barry and advancing Cady to third. Scott sent a high foul to left field, Whitted taking it with a running one-handed stab. Speaker could not deliver the needed pinch, being out on a grounder to first. One run, two hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING.
Philadelphia—Luderus filed out to right field. Whitted went out on a grounder to short. With two down, Niehoff walked Chalmers delivered a single to right, advancing Niehoff to second. Chalmers forced Niehoff at third, retiring the side. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Gardner filed out to center. Lewis being held at second. Barry died, the pitcher to first. One run, two hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING.
Philadelphia—As the seventh inning started the band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and both spectators and players arose with uncovered heads. The selection failed to inspire Burns, who went out on an easy grounder to short. Chalmers did better, winning over second. Stock forced Chalmers at second with a grounder to short. Barry threw badly to complete the double, Stock going to second where he was caught off by a throw from Hobbs a moment later. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Boston—Cady struck out, and Shore did likewise. Hooper went out on a grounder to third. No runs, no hits, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING.
Philadelphia—Bancroft filed out to left. Faskert popped out to the first. With two down, Cravath slammed out one to deep center for a three bagger and scored when Luderus slipped. Ducey, formerly of Waco, Texas, ran for Luderus and stole second, but Whitted went out, pitcher to first. One run, two hits, no errors.

Boston—Whitted took first base for Philadelphia. Burns repeated him to left field. Scott went out third to first. Speaker hit through third for a single which Hobbs followed with another strike to left. Speaker taking third. Chalmers took no chances on Lewis, who walked toiling the bases. Gardner hit a grounder to Chalmers, who forced Speaker at the plate, Gardner being doubled out at first.

NINTH INNING.
Philadelphia—Niehoff went out, third to first. Burns filed out to short. Byrne went in to fill for Chalmers and filed out to left. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Managers And Captains Big Figures In Contending World's Series Teams

All baseball writers on the world's series agree in the statement that in result of the blue ribbon sporting event depends largely on the quality of the man who is to direct their struggles for the world's pennant. Moran is a man of the quiet, brainy sort, who plays a whole ball game and says little.

Four Times In World's Series Game When Big Crowd Held Its Breath

Four of the most interesting scenes in the first game of the world's series between the Philadelphia Nationals and the Boston Red Sox, played in Philadelphia, October 8 and won by the Phillies by the score of 3 to 1, are shown in the accompanying photographs. 1. Lewis of the Red Sox caught between second and third; Barry safe at second, second inning; 2. Speaker of the Red Sox safe at second on Niehoff's out, eighth inning; 3. Luderus of the Phillies at bat, second inning; 4. Luderus caught stealing, eighth inning.

TRIS SPEAKER AND TWO OF HIS PLAYS IN WORLD SERIES GAMES—Upper—BATTING HOME RUN; Lower—SAFE AT SECOND.

Best of 'em all" was what they called Tris Speaker, center fielder of the Red Sox, before the world's series began, but of course in the culminating contests of the year a man has to show his ability. He isn't allowed to rest on past honors. Tris Speaker had plenty of these to fall back upon for an all-time baseball brilliant—juniors, being right behind the only player in some baseballistic as he outshines the Tiger Star.

Batteries For Today Are—Says Umpire Who's The Catcher? Asks The Crowd

BURNS ON WHERE GAMES ARE PLAYED IN BOSTON OR CADY.

"Batteries for today are," an umpire, and the crowd at the world's series game sits back to watch the pitcher wind up for the opening throw. Next to him in importance is the man who receives the ball, if the batter does not incept it. Both the Phillies and the Red Sox are well provided with back stops, although the prospects of the Quakers were injured when Killifer their catcher, was injured and his playing in the big series made doubtful. He has a good understudy in Burns. Cady is considered the best of the Red Sox behind the plate, although Manager Carrigan does the milti sometimes. Pat Moran, manager of the Phillies, was also a catcher in his playing days. Thomas is second string catcher of the Red Sox and Adams of the Phillies.

TODAY'S CROWD BREAKS ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS

Thousands of Boston fans came out to have a good time. There are all sorts of rooters organizations here and they were all in evidence today. Most of them brought bands with them which played. A Scotch bagpipe band made a great hit, while a callopie in the far right field stand offered periodic solos that were favorably received.

We should see another great contest today if Chalmers and Shore are right," said Iron Man Jack Coombs, pitching hero in the Athletic-Cub contest in 1910 and a star in the world's series with the New York Giants the next year. Coombs has been a student of pitching for years and came down from Maine to look over the games here.

The teams will play in Chicago, Omaha, Denver and Salt Lake City on the way to the coast and also in Los Angeles and San Diego.

OPPOSES MILITARY DRILLS IN SCHOOLS

PEAKER AT PEACE CONGRESS SAYS MOVEMENT OUT PRUSSIANIZES PRUSSIA

ARMAMENTS VS ARMAMENTS

If American School House Becomes Infected By Military Ideal Last Hope Disappears

By Associated Press. San Francisco, Oct. 12.—An indictment of the movement for military training in the public schools was submitted to the International Peace Congress at its meeting today by Louis P. Lochner, secretary of the Chicago Peace Society. He said in part:

"The most stupendous war in history, if we are to accept the view most current in America, is being fought in the name of democracy and avowedly in opposition to militarism—a war to end war is the phrase applied by ally and Teuton alike yet within the warring countries democracy is being more and more overshadowed by the very militarism which each power is seeking to destroy in the other. The allies, to crush German land militarism, are raising the most gigantic armies ever assembled and are superseding civil law by martial law in their respective countries (and martial law is no law at all—only the will of the military officer). The Germans, to destroy British sea militarism, are building so many submarines and battleships, that should they be victorious and smash the English navy, their own marine equipment for war will be quite as much of a menace to the freedom of the seas as they deem England's to be.

"In other words, each country, in seeking to destroy the military ideal in the other, becomes virtually conquered by that very ideal in the process. More than that, the latter-day idealized human society today that a wave of reaction sweeping over one part of the human race is bound to touch the whole family. We too are in grave danger of becoming converts to the philosophy of force.

"The efforts now under way to establish military training in our public schools are part of the general swinging back of the pendulum to the ideals of a century in which the gun patriots would not have commanded nearly as much notoriety as now. Already the legislatures of Ohio and Massachusetts have been stampeded into the appointment of commissions to consider the advisability or feasibility of introducing such military training into the educational system of their commonwealths. Members of the board of education of New York City have lately been repeatedly approached to introduce such training. Providence, R. I., has even voted a definite budget for military instruction in its schools, thereby out-militarizing Prussia, for even in that militaristic Prussia they have not sunk to the level of teaching mere children how to kill. A determined effort will be made in other states and communities to secure similar action, unless we can recover our sanity and again face forward instead of backward.

"At first it will be a voluntary matter for the children. Then it will be extended into the high schools, colleges and the universities in ever increasing measure. Soon it will appear advisable that the young men who are unable to go beyond the grammar school be given the same opportunity for patriotic service that their more fortunate comrades have had at the high school, college and university level. The best college and university training will be provided. Do you not see whither we shall then be drifting, whether in fact, we are already drifting. A few legislators controlled by gun makers and munitions manufacturers, a few big papers subsidized or at least swayed by the same influences, potential enemy draped long over before our eyes—can concoct only a question of time.

"Any new governmental policy, especially a military one, introduced in one country is bound to be felt all over the world. We have a constant proof that this is true. When one fleet sailed around the world to show everybody we could lick (it was a lie) it became responsible for the inflated naval programs of several South American sister republics. Our huge military appropriations make similar appropriations in Japan almost inevitable—and Japan has no money to pay for them; only debt. When the German Emperor decades ago uttered his famous Ungerer Zucht nicht leicht aus dem Wasser (our future lies on the waters) he brought about an almost revolutionary realignment of the European powers and soon converted the traditional enmity between France and England into friendship. When France two years ago in self defense against outside threats extended her military conscription period from two to three years she drew out an instant response from Germany in that the country levied a heavy income tax upon her rich people, so as to swell her defensive war chest. When Russia showed special signs of activity in the Baltic region, the Swedish people implored their king to increase the armaments of their country. And so on. The military program of one country is invariably bound up with that of the whole civilized world.

J. A. KEMP PRESIDENT GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB

Officers Elected at Meeting Last Night—Directors Will Inspect Sites Proposed Soon

From Tuesday's Daily. At a meeting of directors of the golf and country club last night, officers were elected, by-laws were adopted and steps taken for selection of a site. The officers are: J. A. Kemp, president; W. M. McGee, first vice president; Frank Gillman, second vice president; W. H. Carnes, secretary; C. W. Reid, treasurer.

As soon as the weather permits the directors will visit the sites which have been offered to the committee, and a recommendation as to the location will probably be submitted the entire membership at an early date.

The by-laws provide for a regular membership of not over 150, but young ladies who are not in the families of members, will be admitted as associate members. Ministers will be extended membership privileges. The annual dues for the first year will not exceed $24 and will probably be less than that.

POLICY HOLDER SEEKS WAR LOAN INJUNCTION

Chicago Woman Asks That Mutual Life Co. Be Restrained From Buying Bonds

Chicago, October 12.—Alleging that the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York contemplates investing $10,000,000 of its trust funds in the Anglo-French loan of $500,000,000, Olga H. S. Walsh, Chicago holder of $5,000 insurance policy in the Mutual, filed suit for injunction in the federal court here today.

The insurance company, Charles Peabody president, the directors, members of the Anglo-French loan commission, J. P. Morgan individually and J. P. Morgan & Company, were named as defendants.

Frank S. Monett, former attorney general of Ohio, who prosecuted the anti-trust case in that state against the Standard Oil Company, acted as attorney for the plaintiff.

Antagonism is feared. The complaint to the court sets forth that among the thousands of policy holders in the Mutual Life Insurance company are many persons of various nationalities and that the investment of the trust fund of these policy holders in the Anglo-French loan would tend to produce antagonism among the policy holders, which might lead to disrupting the company and thereby depreciate the value of her interest in the company.

In the language of the bill the court is informed that "the solvency of the company and the conservation of the reserve fund depends upon the good will of the policy holders and any investment of the trust fund of the company in the Anglo-French loan would tend to disrupt the company and thereby depreciate the value of her interest in the company."

Would Restrain Officers. The bill asks that the company officers be restrained from investing trust funds in the loan or suffering any of its assets to be used for the purpose of aiding the manufacture of munitions of war, aeroplanes, sub-

President Wilson's Engagement Followed His Daughter's Interest In His Fiancee

MRS. NORMAN GALT, FIANCEE OF PRESIDENT WILSON. © 1915 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Taking Washington by surprise was the announcement by Secretary Taft of the engagement of President Wilson to Mrs. Norman Galt of Washington, but by a number of intimates it has long been expected. Miss Margaret Wilson and her cousin, Miss Bones, drew Mrs. Galt into the White House circle. They met her first in the early autumn of last year and were so much attracted by her that they sought her out more and more frequently, and the friendship between them rapidly ripened into an affectionate intimacy. Mrs. Galt spent a month this summer at Corfish as the house guest of the president's eldest daughter. It was through this intimacy of his daughter and cousin that the president had an opportunity to meet and know Mrs. Galt. One of the most interesting facts about the engagement, indeed, as told by friends, is that the president's daughters should have chosen Mrs. Galt as the object of their admiration and friendship before their father did. Mrs. Galt is the widow of a well known business man of Washington, who died eight years ago, leaving a jewelry business that still bears his name. She has lived in Washington since her marriage in 1896. She is about thirty-eight years old and was Miss Edith Bolling. She was born in Wytheville, Va., where her girlhood was spent and where her father, the late William H. Bolling, was a prominent lawyer. In the circle of people who have known Mrs. Galt for many years she has been regarded as a woman of unusual beauty, gifted with a natural charm. Friends speak of her as being constantly sought out as a delightful companion, remarking especially on her thoughtfulness and capacity for accomplishing anything she chose to undertake.

marines, any naval outfit or appliances to be used by the English or French nations for belligerent purposes. It further asks that J. P. Morgan and J. P. Morgan & Company, be restrained from soliciting or conniving with the officers and directors of the Mutual Life Insurance Company for the purpose of procuring any of its funds, directly or indirectly, to be invested in the $500,000,000 Anglo-French loan. A similar rule of court is petitioned against the members of the Anglo-French loan commission headed by Baron Reading.

The statutes of the state of Illinois and of the state of New York governing investment of insurance company funds are incorporated in the bill and the court is informed that the investment in the foreign loan is contrary to the statutes, although it is declared the defendant company has already invested large sums in British consols, Cape of Good Hope stock and various Australian government securities.

Reference to Conference Made. One of the salient paragraphs of the bill alleges that Charles A. Peabody, president of the Mutual Life Insurance company and George P. Baker, one of its directors, on Sept. 11, 1915, met secretly at one of the selected rendezvous of J. P. Morgan and the Anglo-French commission and have met with them on other dates since pledging the support of the Mutual Life Insurance company, directly or indirectly. The assertion is made in the bill that the officers of the Mutual Life Insurance company contemplate and are about to invest about $10,000,000 of the assets of the company in the loan.

Cheers And Smiles Tell President Public Approves Of His Engagement

PRESIDENT WILSON and MRS. GALT in New York Oct 9. © 1915 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

For the first time since the announcement of their engagement President Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt appeared in public together in New York, driving about the city and attending the theatre. From the time the president and Mrs. Galt arrived at the Pennsylvania station until the end of the city's entertainment, crowds pressed about them to see the woman who will soon be the first lady of the land. With the crowds, the policemen and secret service agents everywhere present, the visit of the president and his bride to be took on the character of a public demonstration. When they went for an automobile ride their car was followed by ten others. When on foot they were never able to move until a van guard of secret service men had opened a way through throngs of interested people. But, although both the president and Mrs. Galt sought to avoid publicity as much as possible, they never seemed to resent the interest and enthusiasm of the public. On one or two occasions Mrs. Galt acknowledged the cheering with bows and smiles, and several times Mr. Wilson doffed his hat to the crowds. The people, on their part, showed more enthusiasm for the president, perhaps, than at any previous informal appearance. Cheering, handclapping and shouts greeted him whenever he was seen. The picture shows Mrs. Galt and the president leaving a New York hotel.

TESTIMONY CLOSED IN MURDER TRIAL

ONLY FOUR WITNESSES, ONE FOR THE STATE AND THREE FOR DEFENSE EXAMINED.

CASE NOW BEING ARGUED

Bessie Bradshaw, proprietress of the House Where Killing Took Place Testified for State.

From Tuesday's Daily. After only four witnesses had been examined both the state and defense rested in the trial of O. P. Scott of San Angelo charged with murder in connection with the killing of Lorene Shaw in a resort here a month ago. The attorneys are now following their arguments before the jury and it is probable that the case will reach the jury about five o'clock this afternoon.

The main witness for the state was Bessie Bradshaw, proprietress of the resort where the girl was killed. The defense put on three witnesses: Bessie Browning, who lived in a house adjoining the one where the shooting took place, Clara Johnson an inmate of the Bradshaw house, and Claud Hicks. Bessie Browning testified to Scott's having borrowed a gun answering the description of the one with which the girl was killed from her on the day before the killing. Hicks testified that he heard the Bradshaw woman tell the father of the defendant that the defendant after the killing exclaimed to his dying victim "Honey, you done it."

Attorney W. F. Weeks is representing the defendant. District Attorney Leslie Humphrey is being assisted by Deputy County Attorney John Davenport. A large number of San Angelo citizens were summoned as witnesses but were not put on the stand.

During the examination of witnesses the father and mother of the defendant sat at his side. Taking testimony began this morning in the case of O. P. Scott, charged with murder, on trial in the 78th district court. The jury was completed at about 11 o'clock and the first witness for the state was Bessie Bradshaw, proprietress of the resort where Lorene Shaw, in connection with whose death Scott was indicted, was killed.

Farmers predominate on the jury chosen to try Scott, the two men being the following: W. I. Aubrey, farmer, Iowa Park; W. T. Arthur, city; J. S. Bridwell, city; N. L. Buckler, Iowa Park; C. A. Teague, Iowa Park; John Warmuth, Allendale; R. S. Van Horn of Iowa Park; R. M. Brown, city; Fred Little, north of city; Luther Lelsan, north of city; W. O. Lamb, north of city on river; H. M. Yates, city. Eleven jurors had been accepted when the special venire was exhausted and the twelfth member was soon selected from the additional talemens.

The testimony of Bessie Bradshaw shed no light upon the motive for the shooting, dealing largely with the circumstances of the homicide. She said that Scott had been at the resort that evening, and that he went to Lorene Shaw's room about 10 o'clock, the Shaw woman following him shortly afterward, and closing, but not locking the door. The witness said she was in the hall talking to

Chick Findlay when she heard the first shot, and that about four seconds later a second shot was fired. Both she and Findlay entered the room, said the witness; they saw Lorene Shaw and Scott lying side by side across the bed, the woman with her left arm partly around the defendant. As they entered, said the witness, Scott called to them, "Keep out of here, you

Just after they entered the room the witness contended Scott raised the pistol and shot himself in the temple, sinking down upon the bed. Shortly afterward he got up, the witness said, and walked around the room, saying "It's no use to call a doctor, I've killed her and I've killed myself." The witness said she saw Scott go back to the room after he was shot in the hall. She did not see one of the Shaw girl's wounds being in the face, near the nose, but said she did not see the other wound.

On cross examination the witness said she did not see the shots fired and did not know what happened in the room. Just before she entered the room, she said, she heard Lorene say "Please don't hit me." She testified that while Scott was walking around the house, after he had wounded himself, blood was streaming from his face. The witness' testimony was not shaken on any material point by cross examination. She said she did not hear the defendant say "You did it yourself, honey." She said she had told the defendant's father that Scott had said "She was the cause of it" or words to that effect.

NORTH AMERICA CAN TEACH EUROPE

CITIES 4,000 MILES BOUNDRY BETWEEN U. S. AND CANADA WITHOUT GUN AS EXAMPLE

DR. J. A. McDONALD SPEAKS

Editor of Toronto Paper Delivers Address Before International Peace Conference

By Associated Press. San Francisco, October 11.—The International Peace Congress, which held its first meeting in the Greek Theatre at Berkeley yesterday, met today in the Court of the Universe on the Exposition grounds in San Francisco.

Dr. James A. McDonald, editor of the Daily Globe of Toronto, Canada, who was one of the principal speakers today, discussed "North America's International Experiment." He said: "As compared with European history North America is but of yesterday and yet North America presents an international experiment without parallel elsewhere in all the world: an international achievement that gives war-stricken Europe of today a chance and a hope for a better tomorrow."

He reviewed the experiments in democracy in Canada, the U. S. and Mexico, and particularly the remarkable achievement of Canada in coming up from colonial dependence to national self-government, not by evolution—leading the way to national freedom and self-government for Australia and New Zealand and South Africa.

"But," he continued, "the greatest thing North America has done, the thing which puts into visible and concrete form the spirit and purpose of this International Congress, is the joint achievement of these two nations, the United States and Canada. From the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Pacific across to the Atlantic there stretches an international boundary line of 4,000 miles, where sovereignty meets sovereignty, where nations salute nations, but for a hundred years the international waters of those Great Lakes have been unfretted by any ship of war, those rolling prairies have been unmarked by any hostile fort, those majestic mountains have never echoed to the roar of any alien gun.

"Four thousand miles! For one hundred years! Tell me, you men from other continents, where in all the world is there a match for this that North America has done? Where is there a civilization so unadorned? Where is there a boundary so free? Where is there a history so worthy of record? Let Europe answer."

"Europe! From whom we inherited our civilization, whose two thousand years is our background, whose achievements were our inspiration. Europe! whose Christianity is in our creeds, whose culture is in our colleges, whose hearts-blood is in our veins! Europe! bristling with guns from the Helbrides to the Dardanelles, bleeding at every boundary with death wounds none can staunch—Oh, Europe! how often would America have come to you with the gospel of international good-will, teaching you the secret of Anglo-American peace, proving to you the power of international disarmament, and helping to gather your shattered nationalities into a United States of Europe! How often! But you would not. Now, no matter who among you is to blame, we, too, must suffer in your agony. The national peace of this American Republic is threatened by your madness. The best red blood of the Canadian Dominion is being soaked into your battlefields because of the blood-guiltiness of your sin.

"But when this world-storm of Europe is past, when this red rain has ended the roots of Europe's next venture, the United States and Canada, their common democracy made stronger by their common experience shall come again into the council chamber of the nations, and with the released democracies of the warring peoples of Europe, shall speak the words of the autocrats and the despots and the war lords and all that demagogic system of militarism that has cursed Europe for two thousand years."

U. S. Asks Germany to Provide Passengers American Ships Something Better Than Open Coats

Washington, Oct. 12.—The United States is a note dispatched to Germany today to be presented by Ambassador Gerard on the case of the American ship, William P. Frye, asks that it be found necessary to detain American ships carrying absolute contraband, passengers and crew be removed to a safer place than small boats.

The American government accepts the German suggestion in reply to the American proposal concerning commission to fix damages for the Frye and leave the case to two experts from each country. Germany already has given the assurance that American vessels carrying conditional contraband will not be molested under any circumstances.

LUCK BIG FACTOR TODAY

Special to The Times. Boston, Oct. 12.—Boston won again and again the score was 2 to

1. This afternoon the American League champions are within one game of victory. The breaks were with the Red Sox in today's game and while that does not tell the whole story, it accounts in large measure for the result. Chalmers, Moran's box offering, pitched an surprisingly good game and his work in the pitcher's box was highly creditable. Shore, who suffered defeat at Philadelphia's hands in the opening game of the series, pitched effectively, if not brilliantly, but it was the ill-timed support that saved him more than once.

Each team earned one run. Boston led in the sixth on a single and a two-bagger, while the Phillies acquired their lone tally in the eighth with a three-bagger and a single. But the Red Sox overthrew a largely a case of horseshoes.

Chalmers falling down when he tried to field a bunt, allowing Cady to reach first safely.

The crowd broke all records for attendance at the National pastime, there being in excess of 42,000 people gathered in the National League park to witness the brilliant contest. Tomorrow's game at Philadelphia may end the series, as the Boston team needs only one more game to clinch the title.

FIRST INNING. Philadelphia—Stock led off with a single to left, but was put out at second by Scott when he tried to stretch the drive to a two-bagger. Bancroft drew a base on balls and went to second when Barry dropped bad throw by Cady. Paskert struck out, and Cravath did likewise, cutting short the visitors' hopes for a score. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SECOND INNING. Philadelphia—Luderus singled to right field. Whitted sacrificed him to second with a bunt down the first base line. Niehoff fouled out to Cady.

THIRD INNING. Philadelphia—Stock was out on a grounder to Shore. Bancroft drew his second base on balls and Paskert struck out for the second time this game. Cravath again disappointed by being out to left field. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING. Philadelphia—As the seventh inning started the band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and both spectators and players arose with uncovered heads. The selection failed to inspire Burns, who went out on an easy grounder to short. Chalmers did better, standing over second. Stock forced Chalmers at second with a grounder to short. Barry threw badly to complete the double, Stock going to second where he was caught off by a throw from Hoblitzell a moment later. No runs, no hits, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING. Philadelphia—Bancroft filed out to left. Paskert popped out to third. With two down, Cravath rchamed out one to deep center for a three-bagger and scored when Luderus slipped. Ducey, formerly of Waco, Texas, ran for Luderus and stole second, but Whitted went out, pitcher to first. One run, two hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING. Philadelphia—Niehoff went out, third to first. Burns filed out to short. Byne went in to hit for Chalmers and filed out to left. No runs, no hits, no errors.

TOTALS. BOSTON 3 1 7 21 10 0. PHILADELPHIA 1 0 3 11 6 0. Run for Luderus in 8th.

Four Times In World's Series Game When Big Crowd Held Its Breath

Four of the most interesting scenes in the first game of the world's series between the Philadelphia Nationals and the Boston Red Sox, played in Philadelphia, October 8 and won by the Phillies by the score of 3 to 1, are shown in the accompanying photographs: 1, Lewis of the Red Sox caught between second and third; 2, Speaker of the Red Sox safe at second on Hoblitzell's out; 3, Luderus of the Phillies at bat; 4, Luderus caught stealing; 5, eighth inning.

TRIS SPEAKER AND TWO OF HIS PLAYS IN WORLD SERIES GAMES—Upper—BATTING HOME; Lower, SAFE AT SECOND.

"Best of 'em all" was what they called Tris Speaker, center fielder of the Red Sox, before the world's series began, but of course in the culminating contests of the year a man has to show his ability. He isn't allowed to rest on past honors. Tris Speaker had plenty of these to fall back upon for an all-time record, because of his brilliant tumbling, his right behind the only one in some baseballistic art, outshines the Tiger Star.

The pictures show a portrait of Speaker and two of his plays in former world's series games—in one he is whacking out a home run. In the other he's getting a safe decision in a close play at second.

Managers And Captains Big Figures In Contending World's Series Teams

All baseball writers on the world's series agree in the statement that the result of the blue ribbon sporting event depends largely on the quality of the manarship of the two contending teams, especially shown in the selection of pitchers. This being so, Carrigan thinks just as much, but he's more active and hustling all the time. On the field the two managers are ably seconded by their lieutenants, the captains of the teams, Luderus, the Phillie's first baseman, and Barry (formerly of the Athletics), the second baseman of the Red Sox.

Fields Jammed to Capacity We Hundreds Seek Standing Room on Grounds

"Bateries for today are—" announced the umpire, and the crowd ited Sox are well provided with back steps, although the prospects of the Quakers were injured when Killifer, their catcher, was injured and his playing in the big contest made doubtful. He has a good understudy in outside of the grounds hoping to get the privilege of standing room. The thousands of Boston fans came out to have a good time. There are all sorts of rosters organizations here and they were all in evidence today. Most of them brought bands with them which played. A Scotch bagpipe band made a great hit, while a calliope in the far right field stand offered periodic solos that were favorably received.

"We should see another great contest today if Chalmers and Shore are right," said Iron Man Jack Coombs, pitching hero in the Athletic-Club contest in 1910 and a star in the world's series with the New York Giants the next year. Coombs has been a student of pitching for years and came down from Maine to look over the games here.

PENNANT WINNERS WILL GO TO PACIFIC COAST

Boston and Philadelphia Teams Will Play Series of Games in San Francisco Boston, October 12.—The Boston Americans and Philadelphia Nationals now battling for the world's championship will go to the Pacific coast for a series of games beginning in San Francisco October 29, according to arrangements made today by the National Commission, the presidents of the two clubs and a representative from San Francisco. The teams will play in Chicago, Omaha, Denver and Salt Lake City on the way to the coast and also in Los Angeles and San Diego.

SPEAKER AT PEACE CONGRESS SAYS MOVEMENT OP PRUSSIANIZES PRUSSIA

ARMAMENTS VS. ARMAMENTS

By Associated Press. San Francisco, Oct. 12.—An indictment of the movement for military training in the public schools was submitted to the International Peace Congress at its meeting today by Louis P. Lochner, secretary of the Chicago Peace Society. He said in part:

"The most stupendous war in history, if we are to accept the view most current in America, is being fought in the name of democracy and proceeds in opposition to militarism. To end war in the phrase applied by ally and foe alike—yet within the warring countries democracy is being more and more overshadowed by the very militarism which each power is seeking to destroy in the other. The allies, to crush German land militarism, are raising the most gigantic armies ever assembled and are superseding civil law by martial law in their respective countries (and martial law is no law at all—only the will of the military officer). The Germans, to destroy British sea militarism, are building so many submarines and battleships, that should they be victorious and smash the English navy, their own marine contingent for war will be quite as much of a menace to the freedom of the seas as they deem England's to be.

"In other words, each country, in seeking to destroy the military ideal in the other, becomes virtually conquered by that very ideal in the process. More than that, so internationalized is human society today that one part of the human race is bound to touch the whole family. We, too, are in grave danger of becoming converts to the philosophy of force.

"The efforts now under way to establish military training in our public schools are part and parcel of this general swing back of the pendulum to the ideals of a century in which the run patriots would not have commanded nearly as much notoriety as now. Already the legislatures of Ohio and Massachusetts have been stampeded into the appointment of commissions to consider the advisability or feasibility of introducing such military training into the educational system of their commonwealths. Members of the Board of Education of New York City have lately been repeatedly approached to introduce such training. Providence, R. I., has even voted a definite budget for military instruction in its schools, thereby out-Prussianizing Prussia, for even militant Prussia has never sunk to the level of teaching mere children how to kill. A determined effort will be made in other states and communities to secure similar action, unless we can recover our sanity and again face forward instead of backward.

"At first it will be a voluntary matter for the children. Then it will be extended into the high schools, colleges and the universities in ever increasing measure. Soon it will appear advisable that the young men who are unable to go beyond the grammar school be given the same opportunity for patriotic service that their more fortunate comrades have had at the high school, college, and university. The best college and university graduates will be required to undergo a period of military training before they can be admitted to the professions. Do you not see whither we shall then be drifting, whether in fact, we are already drifting. A few legislators controlled by gun makers and munitions manufacturers, a few big papers subsidized or at least swayed by the same interests, a potential enemy daggered in our hands, our eyes—can you see any only a question of time.

"Any new governmental policy, especially a military one, introduced in one country is bound to be felt over the world. We have a man in the world that this is true. When one fleet sailed around the world to show everybody we could lick Russia, it was no longer responsible for the inflated naval programs of several South American sister republics. Oh, huge military appropriations maksimilar appropriations in Japan at most inevitable and Japan has no money to pay for them; only debt. When the German Emperor decades ago uttered his famous Unsere Zukunft liegt auf dem Wasser (our future lies on the waters) he brought about an almost revolutionary realignment of the European powers and converted the traditional enmity between France and England into friendship. When France two years ago in self defense against outside threats extended her military conscription period from two to three years she drew out an instant response from Germany in that that country levied a heavy income tax upon her rich people, so as to swell her defensive war chest. When Russia showed special signs of activity in the Baltic region, the Swedish people implored their king to increase the armaments of their country. And so on. The military program of one country is invariably bound up with that of the whole civilized world."

J. A. KEMP PRESIDENT GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB

From Tuesday's Daily.

At a meeting of directors of the golf and country club last night, officers were elected; by-laws were adopted and steps taken for selection of a site. The officers are: J. A. Kemp, president; W. M. McFadden, first vice president; Frank Cullinan, second vice president; W. H. Carnes, secretary; C. W. Reid, treasurer.

As soon as the weather permits the directors will visit the sites which have been offered the committee, and a recommendation as to the location will probably be submitted the entire membership at an early date.

The by-laws provide for a regular membership of not over 150, but young ladies who are not in the families of members, will be admitted as associate members. Ministers will be extended membership privileges. The annual dues for the first year, will not exceed $24 and will probably be less than that.

POLICY HOLDER SEEKS WAR LOAN INJUNCTION

Chicago Woman Asks That Mutual Life Co. Be Restrained From Buying Bonds

Chicago, October 12.—Alleging that the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York contemplates investing $10,000,000 of its trust funds in the Anglo-French loan of $500,000,000, Olga H. S. Walsh, Chicago holder of a $2,000 insurance policy in the Mutual, filed suit for injunction in the federal court here today.

The insurance company, Charles Peabody, president, the directors, members of the Anglo-French loan commission, J. P. Morgan individually and J. P. Morgan & Company, were named as defendants.

Frank S. Monett, former attorney general of Ohio, who prosecuted the anti-trust case in that state against the Standard Oil Company, acted as attorney for the plaintiff.

Antagonism is feared.

The complaint to the court sets forth that among the thousands of policy holders in the Mutual Life Insurance company are many persons of various nationalities and that the investment of the trust fund of these policy holders in the Anglo-French loan would tend to produce antagonism among the policy holders, which might lead to disrupting the company and thereby depreciate the value of her interest in the company.

In the language of the bill the court is informed that "the solvency of the company and the conservation of the reserve fund depends upon the good will of the policy holders and that if the assets of the company should be loaned or invested in the securities of any of the warring nations or issued for the purpose of abetting existing wars."

Would Re train Officers.

The bill asks that the company of officers be restrained from investing its trust funds in the loan or suffering any of its assets to be used for the purpose of aiding the manufacture of munitions of war, aeroplanes, submarines, any naval outfit or appliances to be used by the English or French nations for belligerent purposes.

It further asks that J. P. Morgan and J. P. Morgan & Company, be restrained from soliciting or conveying with the officers and directors of the Mutual Life Insurance Company for the purpose of procuring any of its funds, directly or indirectly, to be invested in the $500,000,000 Anglo-French loan. A similar rule of court is petitioned against the members of the Anglo-French loan commission headed by Baron Reading.

MRS. NORMAN GALT, FIANCEE OF PRESIDENT WILSON

Taking Washington by surprise was the announcement by Secretary Taft of the engagement of President Wilson to Mrs. Norman Galt of Washington, but by a number of intimate friends it has long been expected. Miss Margaret Wilson and her cousin, Miss Bones, drew Mrs. Galt into the White House circle. They met her first in the early autumn of last year and were so much attracted by her that they sought her out more and more frequently, and the friendship between them rapidly ripened into an affectionate intimacy. Mrs. Galt spent a month this summer at Cornish as the house guest of the president's oldest daughter. It was through this intimacy of his daughter and cousin that the president had an opportunity to meet and know Mrs. Galt. One of the most interesting facts about the engagement, indeed, as told by friends, is that the president's daughter should have chosen Mrs. Galt as the object of her admiration and friendship before their father did. Mrs. Galt is the widow of a well known business man of Washington, who died eight years ago, leaving a jewelry business that still bears his name. She has lived in Washington since her marriage in 1896. She is about thirty-eight years old and was Miss Edith Bolling. She was born in Wytheville, Va., where her girlhood was spent and where her father, the late William H. Bolling, was a prominent lawyer. In the circle of people who have known Mrs. Galt for many years she has been regarded as a woman of unusual beauty, gifted with a natural charm. Friends speak of her as being constantly sought out as a delightful companion, remarking especially on her thoughtfulness and capacity for accomplishing anything she chose to undertake.

ing investment of insurance company funds are incorporated in the bill and the court is informed that the investment in the foreign loan is contrary to the statutes, although it is declared the defendant company has already invested large sums in British consols, Cape of Good Hope stock and various Australian government securities.

Reference to Conference Made.

One of the salient paragraphs of the bill alleges that Charles A. Peabody, president of the Mutual Life Insurance company and George P. Baker, one of its directors, on Sept. 11, 1915, met secretly at one of the selected rendezvous of J. P. Morgan and the Anglo-French commission and have met with them on other dates since pledging the support of the Mutual Life Insurance company, directly or indirectly. The assertion is made in the bill that the officers of the Mutual Life Insurance company contemplate and "are about to invest about $10,000,000 of the assets of the company in the loan."

Mr. Monett is a member of the legal committee of the National Peace League.

C. C. Huff, general attorney for the Katy lines in Texas and solicitor for the receiver of those lines, was here today.

During the examination of witnesses the father and mother of the defendant sat at his side.

Taking testimony began this morning in the case of P. P. Scott, charged with murder, on trial in the 78th district court. The jury was completed at about 11 o'clock and the first witness for the state was Bessie Bradshaw, proprietress of the resort where Lorene Shaw, in connection with whose death Scott was indicted, was killed.

Farmers predominated on the jury chosen to try Scott, the twelve men being the following: W. J. Aubrey, farmer, Iowa Park; W. T. Arthur, city; J. S. Bridwell, city; N. L. Buckler, Iowa Park; C. A. Teague, Iowa Park; John Warmath, Allendale; B. S. Van Horn of Iowa Park; R. M. Brown, city; Fred Littlekin, north of city; Luther Lelsler, north of city; W. O. Lamb, north of city; on river; H. M. Yates, city. Eleven jurors had been accepted when the special venire was exhausted and the twelfth member was soon selected from the additional talesmen.

The testimony of Bessie Bradshaw shed no light upon the motive for the shooting, dealing largely with the circumstances of the homicide. She said that Scott had been at the resort that evening, and that he went to Lorene Shaw's room about 10 o'clock, afterward, and closing, but not locking the door. The witness said she was in the hall talking to "Chick" Flinday when she heard the first shot, and that about four seconds later a second shot was fired. Both she and Flinday entered the room, said the witness; they saw Lorene Shaw and Scott lying side by side across the bed, the woman with her left arm partly around the defendant. As they entered, said the witness, Scott called to them, "Keep out of here, you

For the first time since the announcement of their engagement President Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt appeared in public together in New York, driving about the city and attending the theatre.

From the time the president and Mrs. Galt arrived at the Pennsylvania station until the end of the city's entertainment, crowds pressed about them to see the woman who will soon be "the first lady of the land." With the crowds, the policemen and secret service, agents everywhere present, the spirit of the president and his bride to be took on the character of a public demonstration. When they went for an automobile ride their car was followed by ten others. When on foot they were never able to move until a van guard of secret service men had opened a way through throngs of interested people. But, although both the president and Mrs. Galt sought to avoid publicity as much as possible, they never seemed to resent the interest and enthusiasm of the public. On one or two occasions Mrs. Galt acknowledged the cheering with bows and smiles, and several times Mr. Wilson doffed his hat to the crowds. The people, on their part, showed more enthusiasm for their president, perhaps, than at any previous informal appearance. Cheers, handclapping and shouts greeted him whenever he was seen. The picture shows Mrs. Galt and the president leaving a New York hotel.

TESTIMONY CLOSED IN MURDER TRIAL

ONLY FOUR WITNESSES, ONE FOR THE STATE AND THREE FOR DEFENSE EXAMINED

CASE NOW BEING ARGUED

From Tuesday's Daily.

After only four witnesses had been examined both the state and defense rested in the trial of P. P. Scott of San Angelo charged with murder in connection with the killing of Lorene Shaw in a resort here a month ago. The attorneys are now delivering their arguments before the jury and it is probable that the case will reach the jury about five o'clock this afternoon.

The main witness for the state was Bessie Bradshaw, proprietress of the resort where the girl was killed. The defense put on three witnesses; Bessie Bradshaw, who lived in a house adjoining the one where the shooting took place, Clara Johnson an inmate of the Bradshaw house, and Claud Hicks. Bessie Bradshaw testified "Chick" Flinday, a companion of Scott's having borrowed a gun answering the description of the one with which the girl was killed from her on the day before the killing. Hicks testified that he heard the Bradshaw woman tell the defendant after the killing exclaimed to his dying victim "Honey, you done it."

Attorney W. F. Weeks is representing the defendant. District Attorney Leslie Humphrey is being assisted by Deputy County Attorney John Davenport. A large number of San Angelo citizens were summoned as witnesses but were not put on the stand.

During the examination of witnesses the father and mother of the defendant sat at his side.

Taking testimony began this morning in the case of P. P. Scott, charged with murder, on trial in the 78th district court. NORTH AMERICA CAN TEACH EUROPE

CITES 4,000 MILES BOUNDARY BETWEEN U. S. AND CANADA WITHOUT GUN AS EXAMPLE

DR. J. A. McDONALD SPEAKS

By Associated Press. October 11.—The International Peace Congress, which held its first meeting in the Greek Theatre at Berkeley yesterday, met today in the Court of the Universe on the Exposition grounds in San Francisco.

Dr. James A. McDonald, editor of the Daily Globe of Toronto, Canada, who was one of the principal speakers today, discussed "North America's International Experiment. He said:

"As compared with European history North America is but of yesterday and yet North America presents an international experiment without parallel elsewhere in all the world: an international achievement that gives war-stricken Europe of today a chance and a hope for a better tomorrow."

He reviewed the experiments in democracy in Canada, the U. S. and Mexico, and particularly the remarkable achievement of Canada in coming up from colonial dependence to national self-government, not by evolution—leading the way to national freedom and self-government for Australia and New Zealand and South Africa.

"But," he continued, "the greatest thing North America has done, the thing which puts into visible and concrete form the spirit and purpose of this International Congress, is the joint achievement of these two nations, the United States and Canada. From the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Pacific across to the Atlantic there stretches an international boundary line of 9,000 miles, whose territory touches territory, whose sovereignty meets sovereignty, where nations salute nation, but for a hundred years the international waters of those Great Lakes have been unfretted by any ship of war, those rolling prairies have been unmarked by any hostile force, those majestic mountains have never echoed the roar of any alien gun.

"Four thousand miles! For one hundred years! Tell me, you men from other continents, where in all the world is there a match for this that North America has done? Where is there a civilization so undisturbed? Where is there a boundary so free? Where is there a history so worthy of record? Let Europe answer.

"Europe! From whom we inherited our civilization, whose two thousand years is our background, whose achievements were our inspiration. Europe! whose Christianity is in our creeds, whose culture is in our colleges, whose hearts-blood is in our veins! Europe! bristling with guns from the Hebrides to the Dardanelles, bleeding at every boundary with death wounds none can stanch—Oh, Europe! how often would America have come to you with the gospel of international good-will, reaching you the secret of Anglo-American peace, proving to you the power of international disarmament, and helping to gather your shattered nationalities into a United States of Europe! How often! But ye would not. Now, no matter who among you is to blame, we, too, must suffer in your agony. The national peace of this American Republic is threatened by your madness. The best red blood of the Canadian Dominion is being soaked into your battlefields because of the blood-guiltiness of your sin.

"But when this world-storm of Europe is past, when this red rain has enriched the roads of Europe's next verdure, the United States and Canada, their common democracy made stronger by their common experience shall come again into the council chamber of the nations, and with the released democracies of the warring peoples of Europe, shall speak the words of the prophets and the despots and the war lords and all that domineering system of militarism that has cursed Europe for two thousand years."

When peace is restored in Mexico and that some more certain right now than at any time during the past three or four years, it will have a tendency toward about more prosperous commercial conditions in Texas.

Now comes a Mr. Hefflin of Alabama who gives it out that cotton will go to 26 cents per pound before another crop is produced. He bases his prediction purely upon the fact that the crop is short—so short that there will be a legitimate demand for every bale of the 1914 cotton and if the cotton producers will only warehouse their cotton and borrow money on it at a low rate of interest, the crop can be marketed slowly, or as it is used, and by that method, of marketing the price can be made to advance. He may be right. We hope he is, but when some one predicted 15-cent cotton, when it was not selling for half that much, it was then thought the fellow was just merely talking to boost the price up a little, and it may have had that effect. And it may be that 15-cent cotton will be a reality before the 1915 crop is all picked. But 20-cent cotton is almost too good to expect.

You never can tell. For the last six months the president was supposed to be kept at a high nervous tension with urgent official business and anxiety over international affairs. But evidently he was not too busy or worried to do some courting and arrange for a second marriage—the sly old fox—Kansas City Journal.

The Gainesville Signal very truthfully and accurately remarks: "With cotton one past the 12-cent mark and the seed selling for $30 per ton is a good argument that a short crop is in the air. Sure thing, Mr. Farmer. Just cut the acreage down 10 per cent or more next year and you will get 12 cents per pound for every pound of it—Shannon Democrat."

Some of the eastern newspapers say that there is more money to the cotton producer when a large crop is produced than there is in a small crop, but the cotton producer knows better than that. A large cotton crop possibly makes it possible for the eastern manufacturers to buy cotton at a lower price, and the cheaper they buy the raw product the more profit there is for them in the finished article. The consumers of cotton goods rarely ever get the advantage they are entitled to when cotton is selling at a low price. The same cotton goods that were selling when cotton sold for 6 cents per pound, are now being sold at about the same price when cotton is selling at 12 cents per pound.

Temple had a religious parade through the business streets of the city Thursday night. We hope it is evidence of a healthful reaction from another kind of demonstration that occurred on the streets of that city one Friday night not many weeks ago—Waco News.

Don't try to start anything. If you want to visit among the tombs, go to the cemetery. It is not a safe place to go every day. Something like this may be, and something like that you are able to prove that the city will be punished under the law for this in some time and maybe when you are ready to get out of the cemetery, you will find a bullet in your back. It is a healthy reaction, compared with a murder that occurred in the city with serious comment—The Texas Colonist.

Lynchings are had for any state or community, but in most instances when lynchings occur, the cause can be traced directly to the fact that justice has miscarried. And another curious thing is that, as a rule, those whose feelings have been wounded the greatest because a lynching has taken place and who have the most to say in condemnation of mob law are the fellows who, by their influence over courts and juries do more to promote lynchings and mob law than all others. When our laws against crime are so amended as to require the courts and juries to take testimony and render verdicts as the law directs, there will be fewer lynchings.

It is fifty years since the civil war closed, yet there remained at the end of the past fiscal year a total of 396,370 persons on the government's pension roll, receiving pay as "Union veterans" about $3,000 less than a year ago. The total amount paid out in pensions during the year was $169,648,000, compared with $172,417,000 the preceding year. Pension office records show that nearly 1,817,000 soldiers have died since the close of the civil war and that since that time a total of $4,614,443,000 has been paid in pensions to veterans, their widows and children. If the pension roll were an honest one, there would be no objection to paying the real surviving veterans of that war the pensions to which they are entitled under the law, but the burden of a dishonest roll is one under which the taxpayers of the Republic are increasingly crying for relief but which cry remains unanswered because of the exigencies of political expediency—Houston Post.

The election to vote on the proposition of issuing $225,000 of bonds for the purpose of constructing and equipping a new court house for Wichita county has been ordered for November 30th, and none but properly qualified property-tax-paying citizens will have a voice in that matter.

"That Times classified page is a wonder for getting results," said J. J. Moran, the real estate man to a Times representative Monday. "I had a house vacant for a month and a half, thinking all the time that I would advertise it, but just neglecting to do so every day. Saturday I thought of it in time to get an ad in for Sunday, and before noon Sunday I had the place rented. During the afternoon I must have had a half a dozen calls. I put the ad in for three times, but one day was enough, and you can take it out right away before I have a half-hundred more calls. As the house rents for $2750 per month, I figure I beat myself out of about $69 by not putting the ad in as soon as the place became vacant." That's the way most patrons of the Times classified page talk. If you want anything, and it can be found in the country, it finds its way to you, and if you have anything for sale, rent, or exchange, and there is any demand whatever for it, it will find its way in nine cases out of ten will place you in connection with the fellow you want to see.

Farmers are now talking of increasing the acreage to be planted to cotton next year, and if this is done, the chances are there will be more cotton produced, but it will not sell for as much had the acreage not been increased. It seems this year that no more cotton will be produced than for which there will be a legitimate demand and as the producers have been placed in a position where it is possible for them to hold their cotton, borrow money on it at a low rate of interest and market it gradually, the cotton producers should not get the idea that the price would be just what it now is had four or five million bales more been produced. Supply and demand has cut some figure in advancing the price; it will always have a tendency to do that. To prove that this is true, the 11,000,000 bale cotton crop of 1915 is going to bring the cotton producers of the South more money than the 16,000,000 bale crop of 1914.

Salonaki, Landing Place Of French; Porro Plans An Italian Expedition

WATERFRONT OF SALONIKI. General PORRO.

Among the European strongholds Saloniki, at which France landed troops when Bulgaria's attitude became threatening, has always been conspicuous on account of its strategic position at the head of the gulf of Saloniki. The city was captured by the Greeks in the Turko-Balkan war. It is 140 miles south by west of Soles. The city has been described as one of the most picturesque in Europe, its houses rising in terraces from the flat shore to a height crowned by the seven towered citadel. Italy's entrance into the Balkan situation brings into prominence General Porro, chief of staff of the Italian expedition to the Balkans. In addition to the Italian troops who have already gone to the Aegean sea and are now occupying Rhodes and other islands, Italy has troops concentrated in Bitolist and neighboring towns. The picture shows General Porro and his daughter, Alexandra, a Red Cross nurse, with a view of Saloniki.

as to his critics, who have persistently asserted that his ambition to be president was the chief cause for his resignation from President Wilson's cabinet. Mr. Bryan is also somewhat disapproving of his enemies in that he continues to praise President Wilson and his administration in nearly every lecture or speech he delivers. The very fact that the friendly relations between the President and Mr. Bryan were not severed at the time the latter resigned seems to irritate those who are openly opposed to Bryan, and secretly and under cover have their knives sharpened for Wilson when the opportunity to present itself. Their only reason for not making open warfare on the President is simply because they lack the courage. Bryan was the chief champion of Wilson in the Baltimore convention and he did not hesitate to make the fight that resulted in the nomination of Wilson. The enemies of Bryan, for the most part, are the enemies of Wilson, and they are shrewd enough to figure out that in the event they can by some means or other get Bryan out of the way, it will be easy work for them to control the next national Democratic convention, dictate the platform and also name the ticket. But the announcement that he expects to continue in politics, though not as an office seeker, is a hint to the political enemies of Bryan that he will meet them face to face again on the floor of the next National Democratic convention, and that is exactly what they don't want to happen.

The action of the commissioners on yesterday in ordering an election to determine the matter of a new court house for Wichita County accords with the approval of at least 90 per cent of the taxpayers here.

The recent slides, occurring so frequently, probably has induced him to do this, as he seems anxious to hold the position until such time as the problem of preventing landslides can be in some way solved. What about the United States making protest to Great Britain and France about their violation of Greek neutrality? Ex-President Roosevelt has been throwing several hundred votes because President Wilson failed to protest to Germany for having run over Belgium so ruthlessly, and now it looks as if the allies were going to let Germany off for the same offense. Our guess is that the Colonel will have nothing to say.

The Daily Times, Wichita Falls, Texas, is objecting because every able-bodied native American man in that state is compelled to pay an annual poll tax, while thousands of Mexicans are fraudulently voting in every election who pay no taxes, poll or otherwise—Lawrence (Kansas) Journal-World.

2000 BARREL REFINERY PROMISED WICHITA FALLS

ert attempted a delayed steal and failed. No runs, one hit no errors. FOURTH INNING.
Boston—Lewis flled out to left. Gardner drew his base on balls. Barry forced Gardner at second with a grounder to third. Barry flled out to right field. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Philadelphia—Cravath drew two strikes and three balls, then struck out. Not at all discouraged by the failure of "Wooden Shoes" Luderus tapped one over the right field fence for four bases, the second home run of the game, and his own second extra base whack. Whitted popped out to third and with two down, Niehoff singled to center for his first hit of the series. He advanced to third when Burns sent a one base drive into right field. Niehoff scored when a throw to catch him at third bounded over Gardner's head. Burns took second on the play. Rixey went out third to first. Two runs, three hits, one error.

FIFTH INNING.
Boston—Foster who got three hits in his first game, singled to center. Hooper was hit by a pitched ball, sending Foster to second. Scott flled out to center, both runners getting held. Both runners advanced on Speaker's out, pitcher to first. Garner brought great relief to the Philly routers by popping out to second. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Philadelphia—Stock went out, third to first. Gardner juggled the ball for a breathless second or two, but recovered in time to throw the runner out at first. Bancroft got his second single of the game, a drive to center. Pakert failed to get his third hit, flying out to center. Bancroft was hit out trying to steal. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SIXTH INNING.
Boston—Luderus went out on a grounder to short. Gardner popped a short one that Burns captured. Barry hit a grounder to Bancroft who threw the ball away trying to complete the play, Barry winding up to Thomas and drew a base on balls. Foster went out on a grounder to second. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Philadelphia—Cravath struck out, the second time this game. Luderus walked, the first pass issued by Foster this game. Luderus tried to steal second and was tagged. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING.
Boston—Hooper was out on a grounder to short. Scott was out on a short fly to first. The seventh passed for Boston when Speaker grounded out, short to first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Philadelphia—Niehoff went out on a roller to the box. Burns was out on a pop fly to the catcher. Why two men down, Rixey singled sharply to left field. Stock flled out to right. No runs, one hit, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING.
Boston—Garner beat out a short hit to third and Lewis proved himself Boston's biggest man by slugging a home run drive to right field, clearing the bases and sending deepest gloom into the Philly standards. Gardner flled out to center and Cady followed suit. Two hits, two runs, one error.

Philadelphia—Bancroft went out, short to first. Cravath drew his customary two and three, then got the fourth ball. Dugan ran for Cravath. Luderus was hit by a pitched ball and second base was advanced. Why two men down, Rixey flled to first, while Cravath hit but a grounder to left for a base. No runs, no hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING.
Boston—Speaker placed a bunt in right field for the Phillies. Forer struck out, being hit by a ball and second base was advanced. Why two men down, Rixey flled to first, while Cravath hit but a grounder to left for a base. No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRTY ACRE SITE ASKED OF CITIZENS

THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS BEING SUBSCRIBED TODAY TO ASSURE NEW PLANT

PIPE LINES TO OIL FIELDS

Oklahoma and Kansas Refiners Behind Move to Establish Refining Plant Here

With a 2000 barrel oil refinery promised this city if a 30 acre site is given, and with forty thousand of the money for the site already subscribed, prospects for another large industrial plant for the city looked large today. A proposition submitted by the men who were planning a refinery at Petrolia was submitted to the Chamber of Commerce directors this morning, promptly accepted, and steps taken at once to raise the $3,000 needed for the site.

The proposition was submitted by Messrs. Manor of Oklahoma and Brown of Independence, Kansas, who were just getting ready to erect a refinery at Petrolia. In conjunction with other parties, they were recently interested in this city as a location and a Chamber of Commerce committee had the matter up with them last week. As a result, a definite proposition was submitted today for a 2000 barrel refinery—twice as large as the one it was proposed to erect at Petrolia—the offer being conditioned on a 20 acre site across the river and an 1800 foot spur track. It is believed the Northwestern will construct the necessary track.

The directors at a called session this morning promptly accepted the proposition and a committee consisting of C. W. Bean, T. B. Noble and J. W. Stringer was named to raise the money. This committee had made good progress at noon, and there was some possibility that it would be able to wire the promoters today that the money had been subscribed.

While the refinery will not employ as many men as some other industries, its advantages lies in the fact that with an independent plant here, the price of oil will be kept up. Mr. Bean said at the meeting this morning that he had every reason to believe that while it was not the small independent refineries in Oklahoma, oil would now be bringing not over 50 cents in Oklahoma, and Northwest Texas. He stated that the company would construct pipe lines to Elctora and Burk Burnett, and that while no definite promise had been made, he was certain that if the plant prospered here, it would increase the line of business within a short time.

Big Plant Subscribed.

Messrs. Kemp and Bell announced that they would give one fourth of the total needed to purchase the 20 acre site, which is to cost $3,000. Other subscriptions were promptly received bringing the total to about $1600 before the meeting broke up.

The men behind the proposed refinery are experienced refinery men, it is stated, and their coming to Wichita Falls is thought to assure an independent plant that will be of great value to the city.

Welsh Language.

Welsh is taught in the public schools of Wales, is universally spoken there, and is extensively spoken in this country. The language is not closely related to the Irish and Highland Gaelic, but is of the same branch as the ancient Cornish and Breton languages.

Greece's King And Premier Differ In Policies; Queen Sophia's Influence The Problem

QUEEN SOPHIA KING CONSTANTINE VISITS LIVERPOOL'S M. VENIZELOS

Premier Eleutherios Venizelos of Greece having resigned, the king had informed him that he was unable to support the policy of his ministry. Matters in Greece rested for a time at least in the hands of King Constantine. This was the second time within a few months that Premier Venizelos resigned because of disagreement with the king, who in a brother-in-law of the German emperor, his wife, Queen Sophia, being a blockade can only be established against a belligerent port by a sufficient naval or land force. It holds, also, that the extension of the character of contraband to cotton is unjustifiable for the same reason, and in addition because Great Britain herself has heretofore held that it should not be considered.

That the ships of Americans or other neutrals which are being seized and detained and thrown into prize courts are held despite the well established principle that international law prohibits the manner in which visitation and search shall be conducted.

SOME POINTS IN COMING PROTEST NOTE TO ENGLAND

Note Now Before President for Final Approval Before Being Sent to Great Britain

Washington, Oct. 15.—The following are some of the points which will be urged in the protest note to Great Britain which the United States is soon to send to England protesting against interference with neutral commerce.

First. Neither international law nor the principle of retaliation can justify the blockade, or the equivalent of a blockade, of neutral ports against the commerce of the United States or any neutral nation.

MISS CLARKE WHOSE COSTUMES ARE THE JOY OF HER FEMININE ADMIRERS

Josephine Clarke, whose costumes are the joy of her feminine admirers wherever she goes, is coming here with Ringling Brothers' circus and all her 14 trunks of beautiful dresses are coming with her.

Miss Clarke has the reputation of being the best dressed, the prettiest and most graceful rider in all the land of spangles.

Dangerous? Perhaps so, but Miss Clarke laughs at such a suggestion. "Everybody should know how to ride," she says, "and girls, here is an opportunity for you. Why not be some of the bareback riders? I began when I was just the littlest girl and when my family sent me away to school in Paris and I didn't even have a horse except in books."

ELECTION NOVEMBER 20 ON ISSUING $225,000 BONDS TO BUILD A NEW COURT HOUSE

A bond issue for $225,000 for a new court house will be voted upon November 20th, by the tax payers of Wichita county. The commissioners court this afternoon fixed the election for that date. The vote was three to two. Commissioners McClesky and Smith voting negatively, while County Judge Hassler cast the deciding vote for the proposition.
 This action was taken following the presentation this morning of a petition with over 900 signatures asking that such an election be called.
 Mr. Young Presents Petition.
 The petition was presented by J. T. Young, who has been active in circulating it, and was read to the court by Judge Harris. The list of names was read only in part, it being too long. Among the citizens who were present at the meeting were R. E. Huff, W. Lee Moore, C. W. Bean, and Mayor A. H. Britton.
 Mr. Young said that many of the tax payers with whom he had talked about the court house thought $200,000 should be spent. Mr. Huff was asked what kind of building he thought should be built, and replied that while he had not given the matter careful consideration, he thought three stories and a basement would be necessary. Judge Huff thought the building should be large enough for the county's future needs, that there should be ample rooms for the district courts, the county court, and the federal and appellate courts which he hoped to see established here some day. Judge Huff expressed his strong faith in the future of Wichita Falls, and said he believed that there would be 25,000 people here within a few years, and he predicted that some of those would live to see a city of 100,000 people here.
 Sentiment At Iowa Park.
 Commissioner McClesky wanted to know if it would not be feasible to make the present building more nearly fire proof and add a third story to it. This idea did not seem to meet with much favor, most of those present believing it entirely impracticable. Doubt was expressed as to whether the old walls would stand the weight of an additional story. It was pointed out that the present court house is 30 years old, and that even if it would not be anything to be proud of.
 Mayor Britain announced that he had been doing some figuring and that the additional tax rate necessary for the interest and sinking fund on a $200,000 court house would be only eight cents.
 Judge Harris and others expressed the view that if a new building was constructed it should be entirely fire proof. Better accommodations for jurors was also mentioned as one of the prime needs of the new building. During further discussion of the matter, Commissioner McClesky said that while the people of his part of the county wanted sufficient accommodations for the officers, they believed that all needs could be met by adding another story on the present building. Adjournment was shortly taken until after dinner.

ARMY TOURNAMENT DAILY

Dallas, Tex., announcement by the War Department that permission will be granted the United States army troops to leave their quarters in Texas to attend the State Fair. This may reasonably be expected because of the improved financial conditions throughout the Southwest this fall. The multiplicity of new attractions at the Fair and the extensive publicity campaign of the Fair Association.
 The infield of the race track will be converted into a regulation parade ground for the accommodation of the troops. Several days before the opening date of the Fair the government guards will reach Dallas and pitch their tents at Fair Park. The tented city will be spic and span and ready for the double daily entertainments and the same regulations observed by the Army in its daily routine life will be observed to the letter. The detachment of troops to visit Dallas will require several trains for its movement. There will be several hundred horses and mules stabled in the temporary reservation.
 President W. J. Yopp of the State Fair of Texas in commenting upon this feature of the gigantic entertainment program, said: "Every citizen of the State of Texas is indebted to the War Department for its decision to permit the return to Dallas this fall of the troops which figured so instrumentally last year in making the Fair the success that it was. The maneuvers of the troops are so distinctively meritorious that there is not a man, woman or child whose participation is not stirred by the field movements, and general entertainment provided."
 The program given by the troops last year scored a signal success, and deservedly so, but from what I learn the program this year will eclipse it. The European war has demonstrated the effectiveness of aircraft in modern warfare, and the aviation corps will be represented at the Fair this year. The exhibitions given by the light mountain artillery last year carried with it thrill and excitement in plenty, but the larger guns of the heavy field artillery will add to the noise-making and sensational features of the show. We have not been advised as to how many troops will come to Dallas, but, of course, we are hoping that there will be at least 2,000 or more. The effectiveness of the field movements of the soldiers is naturally intensified by the numbers in line. We have ample space for the accommodation of the soldiers and every comfort that can possibly be provided will be arranged for them prior to their arrival.
 The program last year provided for fancy drills and field movements by the infantry, skirmishes and firing by infantry detachments sent on detours, the attack and defending of the fort, cavalry drills and fancy riding, mountain artillery in transit on mules and in action, and the engineering corps and wagon train. The large number of musicians accompanying the troops was generally divided into two bands and, from a musical angle, proved to be one of the most popular attractions on the grounds.

"REPENTANCE AND PRAYER" THEMES

LARGEST AUDIENCES OF MEETINGS HEARD REV. WALTERS SUNDAY

TWO ADDITIONS ARE RECEIVED

From Monday's Daily.
 The largest audiences yet present heard Rev. F. F. Walters yesterday in the revival services at the Christian Church. There were two additions to the church, Miss Agnew sang "Somebody Knows 'Tis Jesus" at the night service. The subject of the morning sermon was "Prayer" and at night the subject was "Repentance."
 A phrase from Luke 18-1. "Men ought always to pray" was used as a text in the morning sermon. "The infidel and the agnostic cannot pray because prayer implies a belief in God and the hereafter," Rev. Walters said. "The prayerful life lived close to God is worth more than the spoken words in prayer. Some people pray most in the times of need and trouble. We ought to pray when we are joyful and happy and prosperous. When there is something between you and someone else you cannot pray. We should have a confidence in God and confidence in man."
 "It is the spirit of prayer which counts. We must confess our sins to God and be right with Him. Prayer is for all men. Ask God's help according to your own need. If the sinner lives the Christian life he will pray."
 Repentance was Rev. Walters' theme at the night service. He took as his text: Acts 17:30. "The times have changed, men that they should all everywhere repent."
 "As long as God is supreme," he said, "as long as Christ is all powerful, as long as we must hear His declaration 'except ye repent ye shall likewise all perish' Luke 12:32, it little matters what councils decree, or formulas declare. Too much cannot be said about repentance. Too much importance cannot be placed upon this topic. The first thing John the Baptist Jesus Christ and His disciples preached was repentance a wide birth. To me are like the old colored preacher, who said he didn't like to preach a 'sinful chicken' because it always appeared to throw much coldness over the meeting and make so many of his members freeze up towards him. No matter who preaches on repentance, if it is done in God's power, he is sure to stir up snakes. Humanity hates to see her own faults, mistakes, blemishes. No photographer would make a living if he made a correct likeness of every woman that came along. If he didn't retouch out the squint here, put on or off a mole there, she would go elsewhere. It is said that you cannot get an elephant to drink from clear water. When he sees his ugly face reflected, it stirs him to fury. He lashes the water into foam. There must be lots of human nature about the elephant."
 "For the same reason, men don't like the Bible. They see reflected their own wicked hearts and can't stand it. People do not like that kind of book or sermon that roughly finds the tender spot. They want smooth preaching, sermons of the 'youthful me' and I will thank you kind. Love taw on the head are desired that make them feel like a boy with his mouth full of butter-scotch. Make a man feel his importance that the Almighty can't get along without him and he thinks you a great preacher."
 John the Baptist, Jesus and the early disciples were not that kind of men. Opening the book in the center, John said 'repent for the kingdom of God is at hand.' He took dead sin at big sinners on the front seat. None felt comfortable under his preaching. John's backbone was bigger than many preacher's bodies. He would no more flinch than a Quaker meeting. Plenty of Pharisees in Jerusalem took pains to rub the fat of the right way with old Herod, but not John. He saw Herod's horses prancing up to his meeting, pointing at the nasty woman lying on the purple cushion beside the king. John shouted, 'repent, put her away.' His words drew blood like a diamond.
 Reflection on Royalty.
 During the latter years of George III's reign all performances of Shakespeare's "King Lear" were forbidden, in consequence of the madness of the king.

The king frowned, the woman scorned, the chariot wheeled away and Roman soldiers put the lion hearted preacher in prison.
 Some Things Repentance is Not
 "Repentance is not sorrow."
 "Herod was sorry but ordered John's head cut off. Regret for wrong doing is not repentance. Godly sorrow worketh repentance unto salvation. 2 Cor. 7:10.
 "Fear is not repentance."
 "It is a mistake to think a man cannot repent to please God, without being scared most to death. Some think man must be first banished to the brink of the pit, look with evil eyes down into its awful depths, see the fire, smell the brimstone, be frightened, fear death, shiver, turn pale, see death and his coffin before he can repent. That is nonsense. If you are on the wrong train, don't be frightened, pull the bell rope, change directions. Pilate feared, washed his hands but crucified Christ. You can't scare people into repentance any more than drive jacks on out of a snake by pinning clothes pins on its tail. This scared pale death bed repentance business, is 90 per cent fear and about ten per cent repentance."
 Conviction is not repentance.
 "When old Felix saw Paul shaking those prison chains in his face and heard him reasoning concerning righteousness and judgment to come, he was deeply convicted, but did not repent. Joseph's brethren were convicted and took the last cut of the pit, but sold him for one dollar and fifty cents each. Don't call conviction repentance."
 Remorse is not repentance.
 "It is an element of but not all of repentance. Judas was a subject of keen remorse, but he suicided, instead of repenting for or of his sins. Remorse is a whip that God puts in the hand of conscience chastising the guilty."
 Confession is not repentance.
 "Judas confessed he betrayed innocent blood. Not every one that sayeth Lord, Lord shall enter into the kingdom but he that doeth the will of the Father." Man don't have to read the Bible to know when he does wrong. He knows when he lies about, steals from or betrays another, Bible or no Bible, church or no church.
 "Repentance is not sorrow, fear, conviction, remorse or confession, what then is repentance? Let us notice four things only at this time."
 1. The penitent thinks differently. Studying evidence concerning Christ, Christianity, the Bible and church, soon changes his thoughts about sin. The Prodigal Son is an illustration of genuine repentance. He thinks, talks and acts differently. He turns about and travels in a different direction. "He uses his head and thinks."
 2. The penitent feels differently. His mind being changed, his heart is also touched and melted to tears. Softened thus, like the Publican he prays God be merciful to me a sinner. Like Saul of Tarsus, he asks "Lord what wilt thou have me do?" Feels like doing something for the king and his kingdom. Ready to work.
 3. The penitent acts differently. When the Prodigal Son was really repentant he acted like it by getting out of that foreigner's hog pen and getting home to father. A story is told of an old liar who came to a church and making the confession, was taken to the creek for immersion. Among the large crowd many ask, 'do you think he is converted, has he changed, will he quit his lies?' It was cold, the November wind cut through the thinly clad candidates for baptism. An old elder said to the anxious questioners, 'wait and I will tell you whether he is converted or not. When the old time has come up from under the water do you see the bank that old elder met him with his hand and the question, 'John I am glad to see you make this start, was the water cold?' 'No the water was not cold.' The old elder shouted, 'he's a liar, put him under again.'
 But after all when we decide to go where Jesus directs, there will be no quibbling over the waters of Abana and Pharpar, Dr. Royal says, ten years missionary in Africa, tells of an old witch doctor who had many wives and slaves. When he was converted repenting of such sins, he freed all slaves and let all but one wife go to their homes.
