

SERBIA IN GREAT DANGER OF BEING OVERWHELMED; TEUTONS GAIN IN BALKANS

BULGARIANS HAVE CUT RAILWAY FROM NISH TO SALONIKI

NO WORD RECEIVED AS TO OPERATIONS OF ANGLO-FRENCH FORCES—TEUTON ADVANCE ON MONTENEGRO RUMORED

GERMANS REINFORCED IN EAST

Expected to Resume Offensive On That Front—British Submarines Continue to Harass Shipping in the Baltic—Russians Help

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 20.—Latest reports from the east indicate that Serbia is in deadly danger of being overwhelmed by the armies of her neighbors. No less than Bulgarian corps have crossed into Serbian territory.

The Austro-German forces are advancing slowly but steadily, their latest claim being that a junction has been effected to the west of Semendria. The railroad between Nish and Saloniki has been cut by the Bulgarians, sweeping over the frontier in superior numbers. No news has been received of the movement of the Anglo-French army, although it is known to have been in action as the arrival of French wounded at Saloniki has been reported.

Italy's declaration of war against Bulgaria increases the hope of her allies that she will join in the Balkan campaign but what form her assistance will take has not been indicated definitely. Russia, the first of the allied powers to present an ultimatum to Bulgaria, now finds herself alone in not having issued a formal declaration of war against her former ally.

GERMANS TAKE OFFENSIVE. Along the eastern front activity is confined to the tips of the long battle lines. The Germans are pressing their offensive in the northern area near Riga, while General Ivanoff claims several successes for his Russian army in Galicia.

Reports from the entente allies on the western front indicate that the Germans have been reinforced heavily and are showing a disposition to assume the offensive. Field Marshal French announces the complete repulse north of Loos of Germans who made an attack after heavy artillery preparation. Paris reports that east Rheims, the Germans made a fierce attack on a large scale, occupying several French trenches.

The illness of Premier Asquith has brought a lull in political activity and the crisis which many persons expected would develop in the cabinet this week is hardly likely to occur until the premier is able to appear in the House of Commons. At that time Sir Edward Carson may give a public explanation of his resignation of the attorney generalship.

British submarines now reported to have been reinforced by Russian craft continue to inflict severe losses on German shipping in the Baltic. A Copenhagen newspaper asserts that eight steamships have been the prey of submarines since Monday.

TO MOVE ON MONTENEGRO. Turkish forces are to cooperate energetically with the Bulgarians in opposing the allied operations in the Balkans, Athens advises state. Turkish troops, it is reported, are being concentrated near Dedegatch, Bulgaria, on the Aegean sea. The landing of an allied force at Enos was reported recently. Bulgarian troops are being concentrated on the frontiers of both Roumania and Greece, according to a Saloniki dispatch to Paris. Three divisions are being gathered near the Greek border, it is said.

Reports from German sources, received in London, indicate that a campaign against Montenegro by Austro-German forces is contemplated, 20,000 in number have been sent from Galicia to Bosnia in preparation for an advance into Montenegro, it is reported.

RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT PLANS HALF BILLION DOLLAR LOAN

Expects to Borrow Money at Home—Interest Rate to Be 5 1/2 Per Cent

By Associated Press. Petrograd, Oct. 20.—The Russian government is preparing for the early issue of an internal loan of 1,000,000,000 rubles ($500,000,000). The interest rate will be 5 1/2 per cent. The loan will run for a short term.

PLEAS OF GUILTY BY 7 DEFENDANTS IN MOONSHINE CASE

SURPRISE IS SPRUNG TODAY IN TRIAL OF THE MEN WHO ARE CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO DEFAUD GOVERNMENT.

ONE CASE IS NOLLE PROSSED

Sentence Will Be Passed Upon the Accused Tomorrow—Charges Include Well-Prepared Scheme to Evade the Payment of Whiskey Tax.

By Associated Press. Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 20.—Seven men on trial charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the manufacture of whiskey pleaded guilty in the United States district court here today. Sentence will be passed tomorrow. The case against Fred Bowles of Fort Smith, the eighth defendant, was nolle prossed. The cases against the defendants went to trial yesterday and their action today was a surprise.

Those who entered pleas of guilty were: John L. Casper of Kansas City, alleged head of the conspiracy; Geo. Hartman and Charles Brewbaker of Kansas City, alleged employees of Casper; J. Henry Brown, of Harrison, Ark., formerly a government gauger; John Farrabee of Kansas City, said to have worked for Casper; S. L. Williams of Winston-Salem, N. C., former revenue agent, who resigned from the government service to enter business with Casper and John Kossey of Fort Worth.

The indictment under which the men were placed on trial yesterday contained 23 counts. It charged the defendants with carrying on a business of distilling from March, 1914 to April, 1915, at Fort Smith, with intent to defraud the United States government of the tax imposed on distilled spirits.

The defendants brought to trial in connection with the so-called moonshine conspiracy numbered over a score of men, including several former officials of the United States internal revenue service. They were indicted by the federal grand jury last June.

The government authorities predict that out of the cases may grow a gigantic prosecution of many other men who, it is alleged, have swindled the government of $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 during the last ten years.

The alleged head of the conspiracy is John L. Casper, an officer of the Ruch Distilling Company of Kansas City, who with Guy L. Hartman of Kansas City, James C. Brewbaker of Kansas City and others are charged with maintaining an illicit distillery at Fort Smith and with shipping thousands of gallons of spurious whiskey, manufactured at the plant, to the plant, to the distilling company.

Revenue Officers Named. The six revenue officers are named with other defendants in a blanket indictment for conspiracy and one of them Knox Booth is accused of accepting bribes from Casper and Hartman. Booth was formerly superintendent of the Tennessee revenue division and was removed from office after the issue of the warrant for his arrest. Government officers say he confessed and gave valuable information as to the working of the alleged conspiracy.

The other revenue men indicted were: James Surber, Atlanta, Ga., former superintendent of the Georgia revenue division; resigned shortly before his indictment.

Thomas C. McCoy, Asheville, N. C., former revenue agent; resigned from service five years ago. S. L. Williams, Winston, Salem, N. C., former revenue agent; became independent of the Georgia revenue division; resigned shortly before his indictment.

Newton C. Spradling, Aurora, Mo., former gauger; resigned when arrested. J. W. Grider of Sonora, Ark., not in service when indicted.

Others indicted were: John Farrabee, George Hartman and Charles Brewbaker of Kansas City; C. M. Hawkins of Marion, N. C.; John Coffey, Fred Bowles and J. B. Thomas of Fort Smith; James Smith, Atlanta, Ga.; Henry Cummings, Wheeling, W. Va.; William Smith, Fort Smith; Leo F. Brock and M. B. Brock, Salesbury, N. C.; Ed P. Jarrett, Ernest Sumner and J. W. Grider, addresses unknown.

President Wilson's New Summer Home Palatial Mansion On The Coast Of New Jersey

"SHADOW LAWN" WILL BE "SUMMER WHITE HOUSE"

President Wilson has decided to spend next summer at Shadow Lawn, the fifty acre estate of the late John A. McCall, at Ellersbourn, near Long Branch, N. J., which is now owned by Colonel J. B. Greenhut. The president, addressing a delegation from New Jersey, asked that those who arranged to get the McCall estate for him should permit him to pay as rental the amount he paid for the house of Winston Churchill at Cornish, N. H., which the Wilson family has occupied for the last summers. If the committee pleased, he said, it could give the amount to charity. Shadow Lawn was built in 1902 for John A. McCall, the insurance company president, at a cost of more than $500,000. The house is three stories high and contains thirty-two rooms, which are richly furnished. A runner for one of the seventy-five foot halls was bought abroad at a cost of $50,000. Two flights of stone steps run up the terrace to the top of the rise of ground on which the house is built. The entrance is guarded by a large dome level with the roof of the second floor, supported by eight columns. A PART OF GRAND STAIRCASE porch about 250 feet in length runs about the north, east and south sides of the house, commanding a view of the ocean and of beautiful country. The building is of wood and painted white and of stone.

RECONSTRUCTION WITHOUT DELAY IS CABRANZA'S PLAN

INTIMATES THAT HE WILL BE A CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT OF REPUBLIC—HEARS OF RECOGNITION ORDER

DENIES CATHOLICS' CHARGES

Says Only Those Politically Active Have Been Punished—Is Visited by Newspaper Men While on a Trip to Coahuila State

By Associated Press. Coahuila, Mexico, Oct. 19.—Via Eagle Pass, Texas, Oct. 20.—First Chief Venustiano Carranza, touring northern Mexican states, was informed here today of his formal recognition as executive of the de facto government in Mexico, in a telegram from Eliseo Arredondo, his confidential agent in Washington.

The first chief outlined to the Associated Press correspondent his plans for reconstruction in Mexico, both physical and political. He denied the allegations of members of the Catholic church, that he had "sapped" the church. He said only those who received harm were they who had sought to do harm against the constitutionalists in politics. He would not say definitely whether he would become a candidate for the presidency of Mexico at the general election, but added laconically that "there was no law to prohibit me."

As to what title he would be recognized under by the United States, the first chief said he did not know. "I presume," he said, "that the title of in-charge of the executive power of the republic that I have been using will be the one used. However, I do not wish to be approved as president of the republic because so many men have been named president when they were not warranted in assuming that title."

General Carranza was talking in his private car with newspaper correspondents when he was asked if there was any reason why he should not become a candidate for the presidency. "I have not had the character of the presidency," he replied, "I have never been president, I have only been governor of Coahuila and the first chief of the constitutionalists army. Anyone may be a candidate; there is no law that prohibits me from being a candidate."

"Will you be a candidate?" he was asked. "I do not know, I might accept or I might not," he said. Carranza does not expect that any presidential election will be held immediately. However, he expressed his opinion that the reconstruction period would continue to run year, more or less.

Carranza lifted from his desk a telegram in which one of his agents told him that newspapers in the United States were quoting leaders of the Catholic party in Mexico as saying that recognition of the Carranza government was an insult of the Catholic church.

"This message adds," said Carranza, "that they hold us responsible for the assassinations in the churches. The first chief smiled as he laid the sheet down, saying, 'I will leave it to you how many have killed. All the Catholics that have been punished have been punished because they have taken part in politics.'"

Regarding his choice for an American ambassador he said he would welcome anyone the United States sent, but added that a man should be sent who was familiar with Mexico and her internal affairs.

NEW HAVEN'S FORMER PRESIDENT WITNESS

SKIRMISH LOST BY DEFENSE

Judge Holds That Statute of Limitations Does Not Apply in Offering Testimony

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 20.—Attorneys for the defense in the trial of the eleven directors, past and present, of the New Haven railroad, under the Sherman anti-trust law lost a legal battle today at the outset of the introduction of the government's first evidence in the case. They set up the statute of limitations against the consideration of evidence having to do with acts committed prior to 1912 until acts committed within the first placed before the jury.

Charles S. Mellett, former president of the New Haven, waiting to be called as a witness for the government, had a most near several of the defendants, against whom he was to testify, and by whom he was greeted with every evidence of cordiality when he entered the court room. Mr. Mellett took the stand at 2:50.

Arthur Clark, secretary of the New Haven was the first witness called, and the government began the introduction of documentary evidence. This had to do with the early history of the New Haven. Thomas Thatcher for the defense objected; he set up against its admission the statute of limitations. Judge Hunt, in overruling the objection said there were two questions for the jury to decide.

Judge Hunt then instructed counsel for the government to endeavor to establish the prima facie evidence of a conspiracy.

TEN EXECUTIONS OF MEXICANS ALONG BORDER REPORTED

QUIET REIGNS TODAY AT SCENE OF MONDAY NIGHT'S MURDER, WRECK AND ROBBERY IN THE BROWNSVILLE COUNTRY

COOPERATING WITH CABRANZA

Now Believed That Mexicans From Both Texas and Mexican Sides of River Participated in Raid. Border Being Patrolled.

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 20.—The border resumed quiet today for the first time since the train wreck, robbery and murder by Mexican bandits Monday night. No further execution of Mexicans since yesterday is reported. There were not over ten executions.

Cooperation with Carranza authorities at Matamoros to run down the bandits was established today. General Hugueno Lopez, commander at Matamoros said he sent a patrol along the river yesterday, but this patrol reported that it found nothing to indicate crossing of the river by any force of men.

Colonel A. P. Blockson, commanding the cavalry patrol along the American side of the river, submitted to American Consul Jessie H. Johnson at Matamoros a report of the robbery which Mr. Johnson transmitted to General Lopez.

Colonel Blockson and Sheriff Vaan of this county said today that they believed the Mexicans in the robbery came from both sides of the border, but Colonel Blockson said that he thought if the Mexicans crossed the river, they did so singly over a long front, gathering in a body with other Mexicans after reaching the American side.

PROMISE PEACE IN MEXICO VERY SOON

CARRANZA REPRESENTATIVES SAY RECOGNITION MEANS END OF STRIFE

ARRONDO IS CONGRATULATED

Will Leave Shortly For Saltillo To See First Chief—Much Elation Among Mexicans

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 20.—Mexican revolutionary elements here friendly to General Carranza were today celebrating his recognition by the United States and other Latin American republics, as the chief executive of the de facto government in Mexico. It was the goal for which the various factions had striven for almost three years.

The first chief's friends here regard the action as a triumph of Pan-American policy. They claim that the recognition means the restoration of peace and normal conditions within the southern republic within a short time.

Eliseo Arredondo, personal representative of General Carranza was preparing today to leave for Saltillo, Mexico where he will personally convey to General Carranza letters of recognition from the government of the United States and the south and central American republics. He expects to depart within the next 24 hours.

Congratulations were being received by Mr. Arredondo at the Mexican embassy over the extension of recognition. A number of diplomats called in person, while many congratulatory telegrams were received.

QUARANTINE ESTABLISHED ON TEXAS-MEXICAN BORDER

State Health Officer Says Action is Necessary to Keep Infectious Diseases Out

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 20.—Dr. W. B. Collins, state health officer here today, announced that he had established a quarantine along the Texas border to keep infectious diseases out of the state. From this source more than forty Mexican bandits, the people of Texas are liable to suffer. This is especially true because of the large number of Mexicans crossing the Rio Grande, following the defeat to Villa and the triumph of Carranza.

CARRANZA AGENTS GIVEN TERM OF EIGHTEEN MONTHS

Accused of Organizing Expedition Against Villa—Are Released on Bond of $7500

By Associated Press. El Paso, Tex., Oct. 20.—Victor L. Ochoa, Jose Orozco and E. L. Holmbach, Carranza adherents convicted in the United States district court of conspiracy to violate American neutrality laws were sentenced today to eighteen months each in the federal prison at Leavenworth. They furnished $7,500 bond each pending appeal. The defendants were charged with organizing a Carranza expedition against Villa and shipping munitions to Columbus, New Mexico about a year ago.

Prohibition of Exports Does Not Apply to Faction Which Wilson Has Recognized

Washington, Oct. 20.—President Wilson today declared an embargo on the shipment of arms and ammunition to Mexico. The president signed a supplemental order which excepts General Carranza's government from the embargo and permits munitions to go through to him unimpeded. The prohibition applies to the factions opposed to the government which the United States has recognized.

The president's proclamation is based upon the authority conferred by Congress in 1912 and follows closely the terms of President Taft's proclamation and issued when the revolution was on against Madero.

RINGLING'S CIRCUS HERE BIG CROWD SEES PARADE

FOUR TRAINS BRING SHOWS EQUIPMENT

MANY WITNESS UNLOADING OF CARS—THOUSANDS OF VISITORS IN THE CITY.

5600 GRIDDLE CAKES SERVED

Breakfast at Show Grounds is Big Affair—Afternoon Performance Before Packed Tent.

Circus day, the one big holiday of the year for the youngsters as well as the grown ups, dawned bright and clear this morning and just about the time of sun rise four long trains brought the thousand wonders of Ringling Brothers' world's greatest shows to the city.

The entire aggregation rolled quietly into the city, coming on 36 cars from Gainesville where the circus exhibited yesterday. The usual quota of excited small boys and quite a few of their fond parents gathered in the railroad yards to watch the big show unload and move to the circus grounds. A number of the youngsters were accorded the privilege of carrying water for the animals and in return for their services received a ticket admitting them to one of the performances. In a surprisingly short space of time the city of white tents was erected and everything was ready for the start of the street parade on scheduled time.

One of the interesting sights at the show grounds during the early morning hours was the cook house where the entire aggregation of performers and workmen sat down to a bountiful breakfast, consisting of some 250 dozen eggs, 5,000 griddle cakes and 500 pounds of chops, not to mention a liberal supply of fruit and breakfast food and coffee.

Thousands See Parade. The street parade started from the show grounds promptly at 10 o'clock and was a revelation of beauty and grandeur. It was by far the longest and most gorgeous procession ever seen in the streets of this city and was composed of the neatest and the cleanest appearing men and women that have ever visited here with a circus. The costumes and trappings were bright and fresh and the female contingent of the procession surprisingly fair to look upon. The Ringling Brothers have always kept their promises and their loudly heralded street pageant was but another proof that their word can always be relied upon. The procession was more than three miles in length and was an imposing array of novelties, light and color. The famous Ringling horses 735 in all, were in line, both in harness and mounted, and they made a splendid and impressive sight. Pretty and effective pictures were furnished by the long cavalcade of massive and glittering lantern wagons and allegorical cars, filled with pretty ballet girls in gay costumes. Then came a long string of menagerie wagons displaying the choice specimens from the Ringling Brothers' big menagerie. The herd of forty-one ponderous elephants was another interesting and impressive sight. Two calliopes and six hand-furnished a continuous round of melody and the clowns were out in full force to amuse the children.

Large Crowds in City. Every train, trolley and wagon road brought a throng of people into the city this morning and long before the parade started, the streets were lined with men, women and children. Immediately after the procession a free aerial exhibition was given on the show grounds and a large proportion of the crowd followed the parade to the grounds. The doors of the big side show, containing the freaks was thrown open at an early hour and a rushing business was done by this institution until time for the doors of the big show to open.

The afternoon performance began promptly at 2 o'clock and the glitzy big top was crowded with humanity. Opening the program came the elaborate spectacle of "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba" in which more than 1,250 characters appeared, including a ballet of 200 beautiful dancing girls. Nothing so richly costumed and effectively presented has ever been seen here before, either under canvas or in a theatre and the crowds were more than generous with their applause when the curtain descended upon the final scene of this production.

Leaves Here For Altus. The circus performance in the three big rings, two stages and a the main of intricate aerial rigging. More novel and sensational European novelties are on the Ringling Brothers program this year, than have ever been presented under a circus banner. More than 400 artists appeared in this portion of the entertainment and of these the majority were foreigners making their first appearance in America this season. The riding, aerial and acrobatic numbers were exceptionally clever and unusual and the fifty funny clowns kept the entire audience in a constant state of good natured uproar.

The circus will give another performance at 8 o'clock this evening and the doors will open an hour before the show starts in order that spectators may have ample time to visit the menagerie. The circus moves from here to Altus, leaving over the Wichita Falls & Northwestern shortly after midnight.

SAYS BRITISH CENSORSHIP SHIELDS PUBLIC OFFICIALS

Letter to Newspapers Complaining of Treatment of Soldiers Not Allowed to Go In.

By Associated Press. London, October 20.—The inconsistency and partiality of the British censorship is again the subject of bitter complaint. Sir Frederick Milner in a letter to the Times writes:

"I have always supposed that the business of the Press Censor was to prevent the circulation of any news likely to be of service to the enemy. It appears, however, that he also deems it his duty to shield officials at home who do not correctly carry out their duties.

"Last week I wrote a letter, which was in fact published in the principal London papers, pointing out some cruel cases of injustice to soldiers, incapacitated and discharged, giving the actual facts.

"Unfortunately, as I wished the letter to be widely circulated in the local press, I sent a copy of the letter to the Press Association. The manager deemed it his duty to submit the letter to the censor, and at the same time informed him that the letter would appear in Monday's issue of the London papers.

"A hurried message was issued to these papers forbidding them to publish the letter, or any letter dealing with the legitimate grievances of our wounded heroes. I contend, and everybody I have spoken to agrees that this is a monstrous abuse of the powers of the censor.

"Fortunately, I was able to defeat him to a certain extent, as I got the letter published in a leading Scottish newspaper, and also in a leading newspaper in the North of England, so that the facts will be well known in the North.

"I hope to get this abuse of the censor's powers taken up in Parliament. In any case, I can assure him that though he may succeed in muzzling the press, he won't succeed in muzzling me, and so long as this rank injustice continues so long will I go on exposing it, and I am convinced I shall have the whole British public at my back."

DISTANCE NO LONGER KEEPS FOLKS FROM SEEING CIRCUS

Little Old — Just Rambles Right To Town—Visitors From Many Sections Here Today

Certain activities at Detroit, Michigan have materially lengthened the drawing radius of the circus. This is one reason why a big circus-like Ringling Brothers draws crowds on each reappearance in Wichita Falls larger than the preceding year. It's no longer necessary for Ringlings to reap a big pile of half dollars from Vernon or Graham or Seymour or any other towns in this section of the state, to pitch their tent in those towns. All that is necessary is to send the bill posters around when the show comes to Wichita Falls. Automobiles will bring the big part of the population of those towns here.

Scores of automobile loads came in this morning from Vernon. A number of machines were here from Knox county while Young county also sent in a large number. The condition of the roads kept many from attempting the trip but even had mud and holes did not deter thousands of others. Some came from a distance of more than 75 miles.

Carranza First To Revolt Against Regime Of Huerta

Washington, Oct. 20.—Gen. Venustiano Carranza, who has won the recognition of the United States and the Pan American republics as chief executive of the de facto government of Mexico, was the first to rise in revolt against Huerta.

He was at the time governor of the state of Coahuila and in order with a provision in the Mexican constitution which requires that the governor uphold the constitution, the revolutionists or constitutionalists chose him as the rightful successor of Madero and the depository of the executive power.

In Mexico he is known today as first chief of the constitutionalist army in charge of the executive power.

General Carranza's career has been a picturesque one in Mexican politics. He was born 55 years ago of a prominent family, which supported Benito Juarez in his three years war against the French invasion. He studied for a professional career at Sanlito, his home, and Mexico City, but was forced to abandon it on account of poor sight. Later he took to farming. He entered politics early and always has been an advocate of local self government. He was the first municipal president of Cuadra Clemente, a deputy to the state legislature of Coahuila and at present a member of the Mexican senate from Coahuila state. He opposed the Diaz regime politically in Coahuila and ran for vice president of the state with General Bernardo Reyes against Diaz.

Member of Madero's Cabinet. He supported Francisco Madero in his successful campaign in the election of 1910 against Diaz. He was a member of Madero's provisional cabinet, while in revolution against Diaz, and afterward became provisional governor of Coahuila. Later in

WANTS INDIANS INFORMED AS TO THEIR LEGAL RIGHTS

Speaker at Lake Mohonk Conference Urges That the Government Supply Information.

By Associated Press. Mohonk Lake, N. Y., Oct. 20.—A regular bulletin service, conducted by the government along newspaper lines like the consular trade reports, to keep the Indians and Indian guardians informed of what is being done in their interest, was advocated today by Joh M. Ostson of New York in an address before the Lake Mohonk Conference on the Indian and Other Dependent Peoples.

He said: "One item of the platform of the Society for American Indians is embodied in this section:

"The present confusion of reservation Indians as to their legal rights is due very largely to their lack of essential information. They have no easy means of knowing what their tribal claims are or the letter of the laws and rulings governing them.

"This information should be commonly available, as also should be a report of the income and disbursements of the tribe through rents, leases or trust funds.

"To bring the Indians to the position of enlightened citizenship, the Indians must know the details that affect their progress to this point.

"We, therefore call upon the Interior Department, through the Bureau of Indian Affairs, to prepare a set of simple booklets giving digests of the laws governing reservations, and to publish the special rulings of each agency.

"To these should be added financial accountings, in order that the Indians most affected may be given that confidence in the Government's interest that is so necessary for good citizenship.

"Certainly if I believe him capable of taking some part in solving these problems, we ought to let him know the actual laws and Indian Office rulings under which he must act.

"Very jealously, and properly, the Indian Office has refused to make public the financial conditions of individual Indians. But when it is possible for Indians to be deceived as to the source of money expended for their that benefit (believing it to come from the Government as a gift, when in fact, it is taken from Indian money) it is time at least to publish fully the facts as to tribal funds.

"I would welcome a regular bulletin service by the Bureau of Indian Affairs. Let this be issued at regular intervals. Let it be of the character of excellent Consular Reports of the Department of Commerce, gathering up from all the material which comes in to the Washington office all suggestions for the betterment of the Service.

"Let these regular hints, news items and reports of progress go to as many of the Indians as can read them. Give the intelligent Indians on the reservations a chance to know what is being done in the reservation world. Give them a chance to take the initiative in putting some of the plans into practice.

"I would have this bulletin service prepared, not by any clerk bound by the routine of the office nor by an overworked Commissioner, but by a person trained to sift material for the significant and interesting grains and to put this in simple, readable form. I would have a trained newspaper writer to establish and maintain this bulletin service under the direct supervision of, and with the hearty cooperation of, the Bureau."

Two Men Satisfied.

There is something fine about the transaction between the Buick dealer and his customer. A Buick purchase means more than "value received." It is the expression of confidence.

- Confidence of the buyer in the dealer.
- Confidence of the dealer in Buick Motor Co.
- Confidence of both in the Buick car—in its supreme value and security.
- The friendship between dealer and buyer stands the test of time because Buick does.
- Pioneers in thinking out and developing the Valve-in-Head motor. Pioneers in bringing the entire car to "Valve-in-Head" standards. Pioneers in building cars that keep dealers and customer satisfied. These are the achievements and responsibilities of the Buick builders.
- Great as are the previous Buick sales and performance records, 1916 Buick—Valve-in-Head sixes exclusively—will outdo them.
- The unqualified public endorsement of the past has this year, increased to phenomenal proportions. 1916 Buick demand is sweeping far beyond all expectations. Already many Buick dealers are oversold. Place the order for your Buick now.
- Despite our low price we guarantee 1916 Buicks contain more drop forgings, better upholstery, better paint and finish—greater quality throughout than any previous models. Buick cars are furnished complete to the smallest detail.
- Regardless of the car you buy or the price you pay, nowhere can you get greater value.

Camping Out.
Dropping down the current in a leaky boat.
Dressed in faded flannels and an ancient coat.
Luncheon in a basket, pipe between your teeth.
Watching sun and shadow slipping underneath.
Sunfish, minnows, bullheads, redfins too in schools.
Yanking speckled beauties from the pebbled pools.
Later, in the twilight, frying pans of trout.
That's the fun of camping—camping out.

Looking through the tent flaps at the marching stars.
Getting well acquainted with Jupiter and Mars.
Listening to the crickets piping from the sod.
Feeling somehow nearer all the time to God.
Seeing how the woodlands' every growing limb.
Through the storm and sunshine reaches up to Him.
Taking time for thinking what it's all about.
That's the best of camping—camping out!

MISS DELANEY B. O. P. HOSTESS TUESDAY AFTERNOON

It was the pleasure of the B. O. P. Club to meet Tuesday afternoon with Miss Jewel Delaney. The usual diversions of sewing, music and conversation made the time pass very pleasantly and the mother of the hostess snapped a number of kodak pictures of the group to serve as souvenirs. A delicious fruit salad with devil food cake was served to the following members: Misses Tula Stokes, Annette Coffield, Rhea Gardner, Sander, Marion Crabtree, Katharine Johnson, Mrs. Glenn Berry, Mrs. M. P. Kelly and the hostess, Miss Delaney.

REV. AND MRS. MILLER TO ENTERTAIN FRIDAY

Invitations have been issued for Friday as follows: A social evening, with refreshments and a short program, will be held at the First Baptist Church, Friday, October the 23 7:30 p. m. You are requested to be present and meet every member of the church. R. C. Miller and wife.

ROWENA CIRCLE MEETS TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. E. L. Richardson was a pleasant hostess to the Rowena Circle Tuesday afternoon the club combining as usual business and pleasure. A lengthy business discussion of plans for the work for the order was taken up, the lesson being led by Mrs. Joseph South from the twentieth chapter of Ivanhoe. Several guessing contests instituted by the hostess were enjoyed and a tempting salad plate was served. Mrs. Harrett and Mr. South were guests, the members present being: Mesdames Shuler, South, Zetzache, Leggett, McAllister and the hostess. The circle will meet next November 2 with Mrs. W. W. Shuler, 710 Scott.

LUNCHEON FOR MISS KEMP TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The approach of the Kemp-Langford wedding, the event of next week, is marked by numerous entertainments for the bride-elect, the most recent being the luncheon accorded the bridal party and close relatives of the bride at which it was the pleasure of Mrs. P. P. Langford, aunt of the groom to be hostess Tuesday.
The reception suite of the Langford home was beautified by roses and ferns and the dining room presented a scene of rare beauty. The luncheon table, a long rectangle was centered with a mass of La France roses, arranged on a bank of fern and tulle. The electrolier was shaded with pink satin and tulle and a delicate tracery of lace fern. Golden arrows were taught in the streamers of tulle, which led from the electrolier to the centerpiece. Four bud vases, each holding a single La France bud outlined a rectangle about the flower center. Around the central motif a second rectangle was outlined by tiny pink candles in gold holders, the four corners being marked by large crystal candlesticks, pink shaded and tulle ornamented. The table accessories accented the bridal motif, heart and arrow mints being contained in heart shaped cut glass bon-bon holders. The menu was found to be in keeping ing with the general scheme, heart shaped umbels and the cases and French pastries in heart shapes, ornamented with pink and white making various courses attractive.

The affair of the bride-elect waltzed with a huge bow of pink satin ribbon and a cunning Kewpie bride with veil and bouquet marked her cover. For the remainder of the guests the name cards were pretty gold lettered affairs, marked with wedding rings and with a little bag of rice attached. Individual favors were pink satin roses, containing a vanity bag with a bit of fern attached to simulate a corsage flower. Small gold baskets, he-handled tied with pink tulle, filled with salted nuts were at each cover, adding the last touch to the perfection of the luncheon table.

The entrance of Miss Kemp to the dining room was marked by a sashet shower, literal as well as figurative, the guests showering her with dainty sachet concertos. Following this shower the hostess pulled the string attached to the large wedding bell suspended between the doorway of the library and the dining room, precipitating a shower of rose confetti on the head of the bride-elect.

The six-course menu was interspersed with the giving of two toasts, one to the bride by Mrs. Bruce Greenwood and the second to the groom, Miss Kell toasting. A prettily embossed and ribbon tied bride's book was provided by the hostess wherein the guests inscribed their wishes.

Mrs. Langford's guests included, Miss Kemp, the honoree, her mother and sisters, Mrs. J. A. Kemp, Mrs. Newton Maer and Miss Bertha Mae Kemp, Misses Agnes Reid, Kell, Bess Kell and Lillian McGregor, Mesdames Bruce Greenwood, Wade Walker, Orrille Bullington, M. M. Addicks, Monte Stanforth, M. R. Garrison, Eugene Sherrod, J. T. Montgomery and Ghede of Kansas City.

MRS. BLANKENSHIP ART LITERATURE HOSTESS.

The regular session of the Art Literature Club was held this week with Mrs. J. M. Blankenship as hostess. Sixteen members answered roll call with current events and in the business session preceding the program two new members, Mrs. J. F. Reed and Mrs. Steele were elected. The resignation of Mrs. Fox was read and accepted. Mrs. C. W. Bean led the Bay-view lesson, an interesting study of Haiti and Emile Derhaer. Miss Phillips read a paper of timely interest on "The Manufactures of the U. S. A." and a parliamentary drill was conducted by Mrs. Harris. Music by Miss Davis rounded out the program. During the social hour the hostess, assisted by Mrs. DeBerry and Mrs. Bean served a delightful refreshment plate. Mrs. Simon was the guest of the afternoon, the club members present including Mesdames Burgess, Bean, Reed, DeBerry, Harris, Scruggs, Prigden, Gebhart, Eligo, Roundtree, Kerr, Pressley, Blankenship, Miss Phillips and Miss Davis.

REAL KIND HEARTED THIEF RETURNS PART OF HIS LOOT

There is probably some mitigation in the taking of money from a drunk man when the man who takes it comes around the next morning and gives the morning after defendant enough money to pay his fine and go to the show besides. This is what a defendant in the city court this morning experienced. He said when he felt that he had drunk too much to locomote in a manner to escape the police he went to his room pulled off his shoes and lay down on the bed. He kept his money, something over twenty dollars in his sock. After while he felt some one pulling at his sock and saw a man whose acquaintance he had formed taking his money. The purport of the action did not dawn on him until the man and the police got him for intoxication. This morning, he said, the man came and handed him $12 of the money through the cell door. Under the circumstances he was so thankful that he would not file a complaint against the man.

Yesterday a defendant in the city court said he felt himself becoming intoxicated and started for his room. When he got to the hall of his rooming house a young man caught him he said, and held him and went through his pockets taking his money. He said he started out to find the man and while looking for him was taken up by the officers.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mr. Alry, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell, this lady, suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell. I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. I did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it. Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sidesache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui today. You won't regret it. All druggists.

Write to: Cardui Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Canton, Mass., for Cardui instructions on your case and 64-page book. Send 10 cents for book.

NAMES OF STREETS IN PARIS CHANGED IF FROM GERMANY

Proposal to Name Thoroughfares After Live Heroes, However, is Not Favored.

By Associated Press—Paris, Oct. 19.—The disappearance of Berlin and Germany as street names in Paris has not satisfied patriots. They continue insistent demands that all street names of Germanic origin, even those of Wagner, Gluck, Beethoven and Mozart, give way to names commemorating heroes or heroic deeds of the war.

Every proposition for the changing of a street name is referred to a committee of the municipal council, Monsieur Ernest Gay, secretary of the committee, explains that the delay in action on different protestations is not altogether due to a resistance to proposed changes, but to the necessity of deliberation in the choice of new names. Numerous as are the names that must be changed, they are far outnumbered by the heroes that must be honored.

Heroes and celebrities of other days, like Turanne and Hugo whose names are given to streets, avenues, boulevards and squares may also find their honors encroached upon after the war in order to give a place to those who have distinguished themselves in the great European conflict.

French law and custom both are opposed to the choice of the name of a celebrity living or too recently dead for a street or a public place. Consequently the war will have been several years a thing of the past before the new nomenclature has been finished. It occasionally happens

Woman suffrage lost in New Jersey yesterday by a vote of nearly two to one. That shows, at least, how the men of that state think on that question. Had the women been allowed to express their wishes in the matter it might have been different. In all such elections, where the rights of women are involved, it would be nothing but fair to allow the women to vote. But our laws do not permit this, and to that extent our laws should be changed. It would be better, perhaps, if only women should be allowed to vote at such elections. It is their affair, and their rights is the only question involved.

COTTON QUIET TODAY; WEAKNESS IN WHEAT

CABLES AND LIQUIDATION PREVENT MUCH ACTION IN COTTON MARKET

WEATHER INFLUENCES WHEAT

Large Canadian Receipts Also Favor Bears—Cables Have Little Effect

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 20.—Reports of the heavy rain in the eastern belt failed to inspire any general or aggressive buying in the cotton market during today's early trading and business was comparatively quiet. The market opened steady to one point higher to four points lower in response to relatively easy cables and sold about nine to twelve points net lower during the early trading, with December ending off to 12.59, January to 12.72 and March to 12.95. Under scattering liquidation and local pressure rallies of three or four points followed and the market was more or less irregular toward the middle of the morning. Reports from Georgia claimed damage to unpicker cotton from the rain and there were rumors that private ginning returns showed 5,750,000 bales ginned to October 18th.

Chicago Grain. By Associated Press. Chicago, Oct. 20.—Fresh weakness that developed today in the wheat market was explained as due to good weather and to the abnormally large receipts northwest. Arrivals at Winnipeg were 1964 carloads, ten times as many as on the corresponding day a year ago, and there were estimates current that the Canadian export surplus would total 250,000,000 bushels. High prices at Liverpool caused a little show of firmness here at the outset, but the effect was brief. Opening prices which ranged from 1/4 off to 3/4 up with December at 106 1/4 to 106 3/4, and May at 107 1/4 to 107 3/4 were followed by a substantial general decline. Corn turned downgrade with wheat strong Liverpool cables had only a slight temporary influence. After opening at 1/2 decline to a shade advance the market sagged all around. Oats followed other grains. On the decline, however, commission houses were buyers.

ORIGIN OF MUSSEL CATCHING

Like Many Other Discoveries of Value It Came About Purely Through Accident

Mussel culture in France—where it is carried on more extensively than anywhere else—originated so far back as 1235, when an Irish ship was wrecked near La Rochelle. One of the rescued sailors, James Walton, being hard put to it for a living, conceived the plan of setting nets on poles for the capture of sea fowl at night, the muddy shores of the bay being frequented by these birds in large numbers. Before long he noticed that myriads of young mussels became attached to the stakes, and that, being above the mud, they grew rapidly. Thereupon he interlaced branches of trees between the stakes, thus forming a kind of wickerwork, which also became coated with mussels. Walton's example was followed by some of the natives of La Rochelle, and an industry was started which has flourished for close on eight hundred years.

"Kilmeny" an unusual story and an unusual picture is today's offering.
A beautiful gypsy known as Kilmeny, but in reality, the long lost daughter Calhoun—whose kidnapping twelve years before was one of the sensational mysteries of England, attracts Lord Leigh by her wonderful love of every living thing and he persuades his wife to take her into the castle. There dwains a romance with Lady Leigh's younger brother, but it comes to naught when Lady Leigh becomes foolishly jealous of her husband and the gypsy. The sensitive girl, unable to abide where she is not loved in return, quits the estate and returns to the gypsies even though it means marriage to a brutal fellow she had fled from. A little hunchback she had befriended stands her in stead, however, and he carries the word which results in Doris Calhoun's real parents arriving on the scene and reclaiming their missing daughter.
Conscience stricken at having hurt Kilmeny, the Leighs meanwhile search for her high and low to no avail. Totally unprepared for any surprise, they come to spend the week end with the rich Calhouns, who live the other end of the county. And who should come down the ancestral staircase to greet them but their Kilmeny, now Miss Calhoun.
The Leighs are beside themselves with happiness; the younger brother rather in particular.

The Majestic.
The fifth in "The Mysteries of the Grand Hotel" entitled "A Double Identity" is on today's program, also a George Ado Fable in Slang and a Selig Wild Animal drama, "The Orangoutang." The Ade fable is concerning the Roystering Pilgrims.
Out in the Celery Belt there is a Stunted Flag Station whose Leading Citizens still wear Gum Arctics. In this Lonesome Keel two highly respected Money Getters marched at the head of the Women and School Children during Dry Movement Day. As a result Liqueur was not to be obtained in town except at the drug store or in cellars of well conducted houses. For eleven months and three weeks of every year they battled to uplift the community but every autumn they went Sky-larking in the Windy City. Every night of their week of hilarity they turned in with Daylight, tickling their Noses and awoke entirely surrounded by Towels. The Fourth morning their bodies were taken to the Union Station. Two weeks later at the Union Revival services when the Rev. Mr. Pol Dexter gave out Yield Not to Temptation, Milt and Henry sang their heads off.
Moral: One who would put Satan on the mat must get inside information at his training quarters.
The Gem.
Anna Tuttle, Jean Palette and Vivian Reed are featured in a three part special Selig, "The Scarlet Lady" a synopsis of which is given.
Doris Gray and Jim Courtney plight their troth during a ball at Mrs. Gray's seashore home. Howard Shaw, Jim's rival for the love of Doris, vows revenge. Mrs. Gray announces the engagement of Doris to Jim to the assembled guests, which includes Judge Malone, an old friend of the Grays. Judge Malone accepts an invitation from Jim to accompany Mrs. Gray and Doris on Jim's yacht the next day.
Judge Malone invites the girl to attend a session of the night court. Ethel Hayes is pleading with the Judge for leniency. In the presence of Doris and her mother, she tells Judge Malone the story of her life; of how she was obliged to pose as an artist's model and how later she was compelled to submit to worse than a living death.
Doris Gray sympathizes with the girl, takes her under her protection and gives her a chance for happiness. Mrs. Gray and Doris tell Ethel that they introduce her as a friend from abroad and no one shall ever know the truth.
As time rolls on, Ethel becomes the society favorite. Jim Courtney, overcome by Ethel's charms, tells her that he loves her. Jim's attitude toward Ethel is seen by both Howard Shaw and Doris. Ethel pleads with Jim to remember his allegiance to Doris and Jim steps back ashamed. Ethel, returning to the house, meets Howard. She tells him that she must leave for the city. Howard offers her the use of his yacht. Then he orders that Ethel be taken to Jim Courtney's yacht instead of his own.
Before leaving Ethel writes a note to Doris telling her that she does not wish to cause her unhappiness. Jim also writes Doris saying that he is going away to try and fight against his love for Ethel. Aboard Jim Courtney's yacht Ethel confronts the owner, and in an embarrassed way, says: "I thought I was aboard Howard Shaw's yacht." She is about to take her departure when Jim is overcome by smallpox.
Ethel again meets Doris accompanied by Howard Shaw and starts to tell Doris how Howard got her aboard Jim's yacht. The health authorities orders Jim's yacht quarantined—Doris backs away from the sick room in fear, while Ethel courageously attends the invalid.
Weeks later Jim is convalescent. He receives a note from Doris saying: "I rejoice in your recovery. Our engagement was a mistake and I hope to hear of your marriage to Ethel." Jim takes Ethel by the hand and says: "I have sent for a minister and I want you to marry me today."

CROWN PRINCE OF BULGARIA IS INTERESTING CHARACTER

Reported to Be Engaged to the Eldest Daughter of Russian Czar—Has Often Visited Petrograd.

By Associated Press.
Sofia, Oct. 19.—The announcement that Prince Boris, the Crown Prince of Bulgaria, will be commander in chief of the Bulgarian army, recalls the love affair between him and the Russian Emperor's eldest daughter, the Princess Olga. The engagement has been announced by the papers on two occasions and, while not officially confirmed, his visits to the czar have given color to the romance. He knows Petrograd better than any city outside his own country and prefers it to any other foreign city. Prince Boris is only 21 years old and is the eldest of four children by King Ferdinand's first wife, the Princess Marie-Louise of Parma. While King Ferdinand remains a Roman Catholic, Prince Boris is a Greek Catholic. The prince's convention which took place at the early age of two years, was a condition demanded by Russia in return for Russian recognition of Ferdinand as king.

When only four years old, the little prince astonished the Russian court on his first visit to Petrograd by his perfect knowledge of the niceties of etiquette. The rule of the Russian court gives precedence to ecclesiastical over lay dignitaries. When attending court, the child prince never made a mistake in distinguishing between the two, kissing the hands of the church men and presenting his own hand to the laymen to be kissed.

SALE OF THOROUGHBREDS TO END FAMOUS KENTUCKY FARM Property of Late James Haggins, the Noted Horse Racer, Soon to Go Under the Hammer.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 20 - A sale of thoroughbreds which will begin October 28th, will mark the beginning of the race horse breeding farm, Elmendorf, an 8,000 acre Bluegrass estate valued at $3,000,000, established near Lexington by the late James B. Haggins, who for twenty years was the greatest breeder of race horses in the world. The stallions, Ballot, Hessian and Sain with sixty-eight broodmares and thirty-one yearlings are to go under the hammer. From the early nineties to 1910-11 Mr. Haggins imported from England and the Antipodes the celebrated stallions Watercross, Goldfinch, Darcbin Golden Garter, Sir Modrag, Star Ruby, Prestosians, Toddington, Dieudonne Greenan, Rapallo, Bassettlow and St. Andrew, and scores of highly bred mares, and from these and from American stock he developed and marketed more race horses than all the American breeders of his time combined. Between 1894 and 1905 Mr. Haggins maintained from 600 to 1,000 stallions and mares at a 30,000 acre ranch in California known as the Rancho de Pico Blanco, and from 1897 to 1913 there were from 150 to 200 stallions and mares at Elmendorf, which place he began to organize in 1897 by purchasing the old Swick ranch. The ranch was abandoned in 1906, and stallions and mares there were auctioned, Mr. Haggins buying most of the desirable stallions. To obtain the stallion, Ballot, Mr. Haggins paid the highest price given for a really American thoroughbred stallion since Sir Martin sold for $75,000 in 1908. Ballot won eighteen races, worth $152,602 during his four years on the turf, in America and in England. The Suburban Handicap, at Sheepshead Bay, was one of his victories. There were upward of 250 mares and fifty or more stallions at Elmendorf when Governor Hughes of New York put through his anti-racing laws of 1908 and 1910, and Mr. Haggins, realizing that it would be impossible to market in this country the produce of an establishment so considerable with out racing about New York to maintain a demand for young stock, began to ship his thoroughbreds to other countries. He sent yearlings to England and France for seven seasons, stallions and mares to France, Austria, Hungary and Germany. The breeders of the Argentine secured the famous stallions Kipling, March, Sinner, the Brooklyn and Suburban handi-caps in 1909, Africander, the greatest 3-year-old of 1903; McChesney, one of the crack handicap horses of 1902, England and France and the Central Empires of Europe got some of their best producing mares from Elmendorf.

FLORIDA PARTY ON LONG AUTO TOUR VISITS HERE Have Been to Nearly All Points of Interest in West and Northwest - Now Homeward Bound

Having traveled from south to north and from east to west across the continent, a party of fifteen Florida tourists passed through here today in automobiles on their return home. They left their Florida home June 19th going to Seattle, Wash., by way of Chicago. From Seattle they went through the Yellowstone National Park and thence down the Pacific coast to San Francisco and San Diego. They also visited Salt Lake City, Denver and other points. They returned by way of Needles, Ariz., Albuquerque. During the last three days they have found very much to go. They came down from Vernon arriving about ten o'clock this morning. After a short stop they left for Fort Worth and Dallas. They were undetermined whether they would attempt to reach Florida by way of Houston and New Orleans or by way of Vicksburg and Memphis. Included in the party were William H. Hiram H. George W. Jr. and John T. Scoville and A. J. Simms. The front seats of their car which was a popular make had been arranged so that it would lay back on hinges in Pullman style each car providing sleeping quarters for two persons.

TELLS WHY CHINA BECAME REPUBLIC

Former Minister to United States Gives Explanation of Change. MANCHU DYNASTY'S OVERTHROW No One in Line For Crown, He Says. Wu Ting-fang Expects to Live To Age of 150. Shanghai, Oct. 20 - Dr. Wu Ting-fang, the former Chinese minister to the United States, although he plans to live to be 150 years old, now considers himself out of public life, and for the next seventy-five years will be just an onlooker, regardless whether the Chinese Republic is turned back into an empire. "The folks up at Peking are running things. They haven't asked my advice and they probably wouldn't act on it if I gave it," said Dr. Wu Ting-fang, when asked for his comments on the monarchical movement. "In my recent book on America I told what I thought about the American government; the Chinese revolution and governments in general. I couldn't say any more than I said in that book and I haven't changed my mind since I wrote it," the venerable diplomat continued. Dr. Wu's book called, "America Through the Spectacles of an Oriental Diplomat," contains a chapter reviewing monarchical and republican forms of government in detail. He says: "It may be pertinently asked why China has become a republic, since from time immemorial she has had a monarchical form of government. The answer is that the conditions and circumstances in China are peculiar, and are different from those prevailing in Japan and other countries. In Japan it is claimed that the empire was founded by the first emperor, Jimmu Tenno, 660 B. C., and that the dynasty founded by him has continued ever since. It is well known that the Chinese imperial family is of Manchu origin. The Chinese dynasty was founded in 1644 by conquests, not by succession. Upon the recent overthrow of the Manchu dynasty it was found very difficult to find a Chinese, however, popular and able, who possessed the legal right of succeeding to the throne. Jealousy and provincial feelings placed this suggestion absolutely beyond discussion. Disagreements, frictions, and constant civil wars would have ensued if any attempt had been made to establish a Chinese dynasty. Another fact is that a large majority of the intelligent people of China were disgusted with the system of monarchical government. Thus it will be seen that for the sake of the peace and welfare of the nation there was no other course for the people but to take a long jump and to establish the present republic. The law of evolution has been very actively at work in China, and no doubt it will be for the ultimate good, and therefore for the benefit of all mankind. China is now an infant republic, but she will grow into a healthy and strong youth."

The Home of Dr. Wu is a modern granite house, located in a large well-tended garden, rich in palms and luxuriant tropical flowers. At the lodge gate a tall Sikh, wearing a red turban, greets visitors and bids the drivers to proceed along the gravel road leading to the port-cochere banked with potted plants of various colors. The entrance leads into a wide hall. At one side of this is Dr. Wu's study at the other a large drawing room furnished in beautiful blackwood pieces of Chinese design, and with white walls relieved by silk banners bearing quotations from the Chinese classics. In the center of the room is a great round table of blackwood with mottled marble top. Dr. Wu and the Associated Press correspondent sat at this drinking tea while the statesman discussed his future plan. "I shall devote the rest of my life to literary work. I have just finished some books in Chinese on educational subjects. I am much interested in a better system of schools for my country. "You still cling to your vegetarian principles?" "Oh, yes. I have found the secret of health. No liquor, nor tobacco for me, and no meat. Life means how to live sanely as one advances in years. "And you plan to make Shanghai your permanent home?" "Oh, yes, at least for the present. I am happier here than anywhere else. After my long years abroad I returned to Peking still with enthusiasm and new ideas which I desire to see put in effect in China. But I found the atmosphere of Peking too conservative. The officials there lived too much out of the world currents, and were too unwilling to consider new ideas. I chose Shanghai as my present home because it is so cosmopolitan. There are people here from all over the world and from all over China. It is a busy commercial center, a clearing house for modern thought. I find inspiration here and I am happy in watching China work out a government under which she will be able to develop her limitless resources.

MUD HOLES NO OBSTACLE TO BIG CIRCUS TEAMS
Mud holes into which the heavy wagons sunk up to the hub formed no obstacles for Ringling's teams and teamsters this morning. There was one bad hole just before the show grounds were reached. Wagons carrying many tons of tent poles, seats and other equipment were dragged through this hole with ease. Eight ten, a dozen and sometimes twenty and more teams were hitched onto the wagons. Without the crack of a whip or a loudly spoken word the big dappled gray teams would strain their collars and pull the huge wagons through the mud without checking. The horses some of which have been with the circus for more than fifteen years appeared to know exactly what was expected of them and wheeled into their places with scarcely the pull of the lines.
