

ALLIES URGING GREECE TO CAST LOT ON THEIR SIDE

Definite Information as to Events On Bulgarian Front Lacking. New Drive At Riga

By Associated Press:

London, October 21.—The entente powers are bringing all possible pressure to bear on Greece in order to elicit an unequivocal definition of her policy towards the other Balkan states and the European belligerents. They have intimated clearly that on account of the geographical position of Greece and her treaty obligations to Serbia her announced policy of neutrality would be difficult if not impossible to maintain.

It has become a question in the opinion of the allied diplomats of not permitting Greece to continue what is considered an ambiguous policy until their opponents in the war are able to utilize the neutral position of Greece to their own advantage.

The Greek government is considering the British offer of the island of Cyprus which, according to an Athens message, Britain will cede immediately on condition that Greece joins the allies.

The fleet of the allies already has established a close blockade of the Aegean coast of Bulgaria. It has not been established whether the Bulgarians have occupied Aranya on the Nish-Salonki railroad concerning which there are conflicting reports. It is a fact however that railroad communications between Nish and Usuv has been interrupted and if the Bulgarians have not actually crossed the line they have advanced at least far enough to interrupt traffic which accomplished the same purpose.

The principal pressure on Serbia is now coming from the Bulgarian side. Recent dispatches reveal that further advances have been made by General Mackensen of the German and Austrian forces.

The two outstanding features on the Russian front are the continued offensives of the Russians south of Pripet and new German offensive south of Riga. In the latter district the Germans are making a most determined effort to cross the Dvina river in a country presenting many difficulties to the invaders.

SERBIAN ARMY SERIOUSLY MENACED; GERMANS FAIL IN RHEMIS ATTACK

By Associated Press:

Paris, October 21.—Following their futile bombardment last evening to the east of Rheims the Germans renewed their attacks in this region according to a French war office announcement. In spite of a very violent preparatory artillery fire they were checked again and cut down by the fire of the French artillery and machine guns. They did not succeed in winning a single position in the French first line trenches.

An official statement issued yesterday at Nish which was forwarded here says the Serbian army is now menaced seriously. The Serbian war office says the railroad line to Saloniki has been cut in several places.

NINE YEAR SENTENCE IN MOONSHINE CASE

THIS AND $33,000 FINE IS PENALTY ASSESSED AGAINST RING LEADER

OTHERS DRAW SHORTER TERMS

Range From Six Months to Two Years Confinement With Varying Fines

By Associated Press. Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 21.—John L. Casper of Kansas City, alleged head of the "moonshine" conspiracy, who pleaded guilty in the United States district court here yesterday, was sentenced today to nine years and three days in the Leavenworth penitentiary and to a fine of $33,000.

The six others who admitted their guilt received sentences varying from six months in jail to two years in the penitentiary. These sentences were:

J. Henry Brown of Harrison, Ark., government ranger, two years in the penitentiary; S. L. Williams of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, former government revenue agent; Charles Brewbaker and George Harman of Kansas City, one year and one day in the penitentiary, fined $1000 each; John Farrabee of Kansas City, John Coffey of Fort Smith, six months in jail, fined $1000 each.

Judge Youmans, in sentencing Casper, said: "I doubt if ever in the history of the country there has been a more bold, defiant and open violation of the law than the one in which you were engaged. It has taken more money and men to bring this case to justice than has been required to protect the Texas frontier. Nothing can be said in mitigation for you; without multiplying words, I shall pronounce sentence."

It was planned to start the men to Leavenworth penitentiary late tonight or tomorrow. The jail sentences will be served in the Fort Smith jail.

Robert Childs of Chicago, special attorney for the government, who prosecuted the cases, suggested of the court that Brewbaker be given a jail sentence. The defendant, however, said he preferred to be sent to the Leavenworth prison.

"I can get plenty of exercise there," said he. After the court had sentenced Williams, the latter requested that he be permitted to return to his home at Winston-Salem, North Carolina, to make arrangements for the care of his family while he was in prison. His request was refused.

Brown, the former government ranger, who is the father of nine children asked the court if he might be taken to Leavenworth by way of the trial of William Rockefeller and ten other directors, past and present of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad would call former President William H. Taft as a witness. It is expected that Mr. Taft will be asked concerning a conference between him and Lewis Bass Ledyard in regard to the taking over of the Boston and Maine railroads by the New Haven.

R. L. Batts, attorney for the government, said that the government would "if possible" avoid calling the former president.

Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven, on taking the stand when court opened, told how, when general manager of the New York & New England at a time when competition was "cut-throat on both sides" he was employed by C. C. Clark, then president of the New Haven, and a defendant in this case, as second vice-president in charge of traffic for the New Haven two months after he had begun a rate war with the New Haven.

"Clarke said I was too much of a nuisance," said the witness. Mr. Mellen said Clarke asked him to institute a suit against the New Haven and that he did it through Boston brokers. The suit, the government alleged, was intended to embarrass the New England. When asked where he had heard of the Goldsmith suit—another litigation which the government alleges was used to force the New England into receivership, Mr. Mellen replied: "I have heard Mr. Clarke talk about it."

Mr. Sinker asked the court to instruct the witness to answer the question responsibly.

"The witness is frankly hostile to the government," said the attorney. Judge Hunt spoke a few words to the witness, but the attorney did not succeed in getting much precise information on the question.

BERT BEAN TALKS ON COFFEE

Delivers First of Business Addresses—Committees Are Named By President Keith

More than 40 Rotarians attended the initial weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club at noon today at the Metropolitan Cafe and heard the talk of B. J. Bean on the coffee industry. The luncheon was a very successful affair in the opinion of the members and the occasion proved very gratifying to those who have been working to get the organization going.

The luncheon will hereafter be held on Wednesdays and at each meeting some member will discuss his business. The speakers are to be chosen in alphabetical order, the next to be J. E. Arnold. In his talk this morning Mr. Bean gave a history of the coffee industry, discussed the popularity of the drink and defended it against some criticisms that have been made. He said that coffee could not be digested by some people, but pointed out that the same thing might be said of sweet milk and other nourishing foods.

President Keith appointed several permanent committees as follows: Membership W. M. Priddy, R. O. Harvey, T. B. Noble, Q. B. Lee, J. W. Thomas; Fellowship O. S. Bacon, J. W. Bradley and M. A. Bundy; grievances F. N. Layton, F. P. Brown, Harry May.

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 21.—So great has been the tide of gold poured into New York to pay the bills of the belligerents that the task of melting it up has almost overwhelmed the employees of the United States assay office here. Ordinarily about $100,000,000 in gold passes through the assay office in a year. Since July 1 the office here has received and melted more than $2,000,000,000 worth. Nearly a year's work has been done in the last few months.

MATTER IS REPORTED

The Ojo de Agua fight has been reported to Carranza Consul J. J. Garza and the seriousness of the situation has been strongly impressed. Consul Garza immediately went to Matamoros to place the matter before Gen. Lopez, the 24 year old commander of Carranza forces on the lower border. Reynosa, apparently a menacing point for the operations of bandit leader De la Rosa, is in Lopez jurisdiction.

According to news received in Brownsville the band that attacked the detachment at Ojo de Agua was well organized. Whether they were mounted or not is not known. The village is only one mile from the bank of the Rio Grande. Members of the Mexican band found dead at the scene of the fight had white handkerchiefs which bore the words "viva Villa."

Military officials were well pleased over the good accounting the soldiers gave of themselves in the fight. The latest trouble greatly adds to an already serious situation along the lower border which opened after a lull of three weeks. Despite the fact that 5000 American troops are patrolling the border the bandits have been able through an apparent lack of co-operation on the Mexican side of the river to operate along the river at their will and to strike at most unexpected points.

The opinion among army men seems to be that more troops will be needed and urgent messages are being sent out at all points along the lower border asking for more men, familiar

STRONG FORCE OF BANDITS ESCAPES AFTER ATTACK

Leave Several Dead Behind—Latest Outbreak One of Most Serious Yet Reported

By Associated Press:

Brownsville, Texas, October 21.—A band of 75 to 100 Mexican bandits at two o'clock this morning attacked a detachment of fifteen American soldiers at Ojo de Agua, a Mexican village seven miles from Mission, killing three soldiers and wounding seven, while the other five escaped. Five dead Mexicans were found in the darkness after the fight.

The entire band, minus the dead and wounded, escaped back across the river.

The American detachment, commanded by Sergeant Schaffer, who was killed, was not surprised. A guard on duty reported the presence of the Mexicans just before the attack and the soldiers were ready. The fighting continued until the arrival, about 45 minutes later of Captain McCoy, with two troops of cavalry from Mission. The Mexicans then scattered in the chapparal between Ojo de Agua and the river, with the army detachment in pursuit.

with methods of the Mexicans. They say that last night's attack at Ojo de Agua probably was financed from the funds taken from passengers robbed on the wrecked train near here Monday night. Only a few dollars to each bandit would be necessary to obtain his assistance.

MORE BODIES ARE FOUND. Four bodies of dead Mexicans killed as a result of the wreck and robberies of Monday night were found late yesterday and early today about five miles from Brownsville in the vicinity of the wreck. One of the four was identified as a one-eyed laborer living near Ojo de Agua while the others are still unknown. One wore khaki trousers, two wore blue shirts and one wore a jumper. No inquest will be held over the bodies, the local justice of the peace said.

The field wireless set was destroyed in the first volley of shots at Ojo de Agua this morning. It is understood that additional field wireless sets will be requested for patrols along the river, not carrying this equipment. Cutting of telephone communication in the past has caused delay of arrival of troops in emergencies.

FRANCE CARING FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS

MEN BEING PRACTICALLY MADE OVER AT THE INSTITUTION NEAR PARIS.

MANY ARE LEARNING TRADES

Those With One Limb Missing Are Taught to Take Care of Seives Without It.

By Associated Press. Saint Maurice, October 21.—The problem of caring for the disabled and disabled soldiers is being gradually worked out. The government is doing its best to support not only the disabled but also the families of the disabled. The city is functional, and the professional re-education of physical training. A million francs ($200,000) is being spent on this work. Here, not far from Paris, in the National Convalescent Asylum and Military Hospital are quartered at present 825 men about 150 of whom are cured and are learning new trades or professions in the various schools of the institution. Other similar establishments will be put into operation at Bordeaux, Bayonne, Bourges, Montpellier, Rouen, Tours, Toulouse, Caen, Limoges, Nancy, Pau, Saint-Etienne, Brest and Orlans (Algeria). The Saint-Maurice institution, created by Napoleon III, and located in a large well-kept park, is admirably adapted to this work. Its halls are large and well ventilated and equipped with modern apparatus. Victims of paralysis, ankylosis, those whose tendons have been cut out and others suffering from various lesions may be seen working special machines, most of them made in the United States, to exercise stiff joints and bring back life to desiccated muscles. In many cases after patient application to the treatment the member functions normally. There is an appliance for almost every conceivable complication resulting from a wound. Most of the patients are able to use them without aid after having been shown, then it is simply a case of sticking to it. The adjoining room is filled with the whir of electric massage instruments manipulated by nurses.

Learn How to Walk. On a concrete walk in the garden large footprints have been painted. These are for the guidance of the disabled. The patients who are in control of their legs through nerve shock or otherwise are taught to begin over again. They are given an outdoor gymnasium for the purpose of training them in walking. The patients are given a course of physical training. This is the work of Saint Maurice is no less complete than that provided for the restoration of suspended physical functions. Several hospitals devoted to physical therapy and professional aid in all matters recently constructed the soldiers themselves are making artificial limbs such as have heretofore come from the United States. Dr. Maurice Bouillon, director of the institution says the majority of grimping are unable to pay the price for imported artificial limbs so they are learning how to compete with the American trade. The trade schools are in successful operation and arrangements are being made to take care of the increased numbers of arrivals as the war continues. At present there is great need of men who can repair the American farm machinery, tractors and so forth used in France and a number of them are being trained for this work. In the dispensing room a number of men who have lost their right arms are training themselves with the aid of various American drawing devices to use their left hand. After these men have been sufficiently trained the Government will find positions where such as have mastered a new calling may earn a decent living. All those who have fought for the country will be well cared for, according to Minister Jules Bricse, in charge of this work; none will become a charge. They can choose whatever work they wish. Private societies that are interested in aiding the maimed will be subsidized but the government will exercise control generally.

INSURANCE ACT OF ENGLISH WORKING CLASSES AGAINST SICKNESS AND EMPLOYMENT.

JUST STARTED WHEN WAR BEGAN

Patterned after German System. It Provided Means For Those Over-taken by Misfortune.

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 21.—The partial break down of the machinery of Lloyd George's famous insurance act for protecting the working classes against illness and unemployment is one of the incidents of the upheaval of financial conditions caused by the war. The scheme, with the old age pensions act, also linked with the name of the former Chancellor of the Exchequer, constituted the most important part of the program for social reform fathered by the liberal party. Both schemes were patterned after the German system. The insurance act came into effect on the first of May, 1912 and the organization for its working had hardly been perfected when the war began. Hostile critics of the plan predicted from the beginning that it would prove a failure. They now declare that the war has only hastened the inevitable development, while the supporters lay the blame upon war conditions. Handel Booth, M. P., presiding at a meeting of insurance experts this week, declared that the position of the act is critical, and others urged that parliament pass an emergency bill to amend it. Prospective beneficiaries fear that this will mean a reduction of the benefits they were promised in return for their compulsory contributions. Maintained at Heavy Expense. The employment of a great host of officials and a huge staff of doctors, together with complications caused by the participation of benefit societies and industrial insurance companies, are held to be the principal causes for the failure of contributions and promised benefits to balance. Four separate commissions, one for each of four kingdoms and each with a great clerical staff and a cumbersome joint committee, were created for the administration of the act. The salaries of officials alone consumed $2,500,000 per year; office rentals and stationery expenses also have eaten up a considerable percentage of income. Retrenchment in these items is the first measure of reform considered and the amalgamation of the English, Scottish and Welsh commissions is proposed. On its payment side the insurance act provided for contributions of 18 cents per week for all persons earning $2.75 or less. Of this the workman or woman paid eight cents, the employer six cents and the state four cents. Free medical attendance at all times an allowance during sickness of $2.50 per week for men and $1.75 for women for the first three months, and free shillings for permanent disablement were the principal benefits, while a maternity allowance of thirty shillings for the

SUFFRAGE OVERWHELMINGLY DEFEATED IN NEW JERSEY

Falls to Carry a Single County—The President's Home Precinct Goes Against It.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 21.—Suffrage was beaten in New Jersey by 50,000 to 65,000.

Essex county (Newark) alone returned 14,000 against the constitutional amendment to give women the ballot.

Suffrage leaders of the State are planning to carry their cause before the legislature in an effort to obtain presidential suffrage and will also join the movement seeking an amendment to the national constitution granting women the vote.

President Wilson's own district went anti. The district rejected the cause by a vote of 150 to 64. The town of Princeton, in which the president voted, rejected the suffrage amendment by a majority of 152. Later returns made it evident that the suffragists had failed to carry a single county. Early figures indicated the county of the twenty-one Ocean, had voted in favor of giving the women the vote. Returns received shortly before noon, however, indicated the anti carried Ocean by a majority of 200.

CIRCUS DAY BRINGS HUGE CROWDS TO WICHITA FALLS

Few Disorders are Reported and General Behavior is Good. Show at Altus Today

Immense crowds attended both performances of Ringling's circus here Wednesday, the tent being filled to its capacity in the afternoon and having only a few vacant seats at night. It is stated, there must have been in excess of 25,000 admissions at both performances. The thousands of visitors that came to the city in automobiles and on trains were well behaved and only a few minor disorders were noted. Some of the out of town folks wanted to jay walk but there was little trouble on that score. Restaurants and rooming houses had all the patronage they could handle while all the available garage room was occupied by visiting cars in addition to the dozens of machines that were parked in the streets. The weather was ideal and the big crowd made the most of the holiday. The circus left Wednesday for Altus, where it is showing today, the big top disappearing in an incredibly short time after the last spectators departed.

mother of each child born was a popular feature. The simple reason for the failure of the great enterprise to meet the expectations of its sanguine promoters is that expenses have far exceeded the original estimates. The building of sanatoria for consumptives at a cost of $7,500,000 was an important feature which has not been realized because of lack of funds to build. The doctors of the United Kingdom have profited greatly through the insurance act, according to popular belief. In the beginning there was a deadlock between the government and the British medical association over the terms of payment to the official physicians. They should have been given an annual rate of $1.50 per person including drugs to be furnished by the doctors. The compromise gave the doctors a maximum of $2.25 per possible patient. The estimates of the total cost of medical attention under the act were about $5,000,000 for 14,700,000 persons, but the actual results are not known.

MUSKOGEE INDIAN LAWYER TELLS HIS PEOPLE'S NEEDS

Says Full Bloods Ought to Be Prepared for the Responsibilities Awaiting Them.

By Associated Press. Mohonk Lake, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Outlining "Our Future Policy Toward the Full Blood Indians of Oklahoma," Grant Foreman, a Muskogee lawyer, declared today at the Lake Mohonk conference on the Indian and other dependent peoples that for the better protection of the Indians Congress should legislate for them as individuals instead of legislating for them in the mass.

He said in part: "When the restrictions were removed from the sale of land owned by the Indians of the five civilized tribes of less than three quarters Indian blood, they soon sold their land and now very few of them have either land or money to show for their former tribal holdings. Of the more than 100,000 Indians of these tribes only about one third are now restricted so that they cannot sell their lands. These Indians for the most part are full bloods, and they should be the objects of concern by Congress which still retains jurisdiction to legislate for them and is responsible for their future.

"The restriction on the sale of their land will be removed by the lapse of time in fifteen years, if it is not sooner removed by Congress. The purpose of Congress should be to prepare these people for the day that they are thrown on their own resources. But it is very evident that adequate preparation is not being made.

"Permitted by the laws of Congress to lease their lands, though they may not sell them, most of these Indians have leased their allotments including their homes, to white men, and have been compelled in many cases to move off into the hills or woods. These leases are usually made for inadequate consideration and the Indian not only gets the worst of the deal but forfeits the avowed purpose of Congress to establish him in his allotment and teach him how to make his living from it.

"Many cases of destitution are found among these Indians who are the owners of good tracts of land, either because they have leased it or will not work it. Tuberculosis is increasing and there is no money nor facilities available to treat the cases. When these cases are called to the attention of the superintendent at Muskogee, it is necessary to sell part of the Indian's land under departmental supervision and use the proceeds for the relief of the Indian.

"This wasteful proceeding would be necessary if Congress would make adequate provision for the treatment of disease and relief of destitution. "The law forbidding these Indians to lease their land except under the supervision of the department should be repealed, and they should not be allowed to lease their homesteads at all. Part of their surplus should be paid under departmental supervision, the proceeds to be used as necessary in improving their homesteads and the unexpended funds held by the department against their future needs. He should be required to remove his homestead and made to understand that he must make his living from it.

"Restrictions were moved by Congress on the sale of over 10,000,000 acres of land upon a test only as to the quantum of Indian blood, and the result was disastrous. Congress should adopt a policy of legislating for the individual Indians instead of legislating for them in the mass. A commission or representative of the interior department should be empowered to examine each of the 33,000 restricted Indians, classify them based on their individual needs and qualifications. Only by individual attention can distress and disease among these people be relieved, or can these restricted Indians in any adequate measure be prepared for the day their restrictions are removed and they are exposed to the white grater."

Two Men Satisfied

There is something fine about the transaction between the Buick dealer and his customer. A Buick purchase means more than "value received." It is the expression of confidence.

- Confidence of the buyer in the dealer.
- Confidence of the dealer in Buick Motor Co.
- Confidence of both in the Buick car—in its supreme value and security.
- The friendship between dealer and buyer stands the test of time—because Buick does.
- Pioneers in thinking out and developing the Valve-in-Head motor. Pioneers in bringing the entire car to Valve-in-Head standards. Pioneers in building cars that keep dealers and customer satisfied. These are the achievements and responsibilities of the Buick builders.
- Great as are the previous Buick sales and performance records, 1916 Buick—Valve-in-Head sixes exclusively—will outdo them.
- The unqualified public endorsement of the past has, this year, increased to phenomenal proportions. 1916 Buick demand is sweeping far beyond all expectations. Already many Buick dealers are oversold. Place the order for your Buick now.

BETTY'S CHERRY PIE

By CLARISSA MACKIE.

It was such a delectable cherry pie—flaky, pale-brown crust, with delicate pink juice oozing through a tiny hole at the top as if to give a hint of the imprisoned rapture within.

Because it was her first really successful cherry pie, Betty was highly elated as she placed it in the pantry window to cool. It was to grace the dinner table that night when her father returned from the city, hot and tired, after a long day in the office.

Later Betty changed her frock and with a readable book went out to the hammock swinging under the apple tree.

She loved this tiny vine-wreathed cottage which her father had hired for the season from its owner, Miss Alicia Peck. She fairly yearned over the polished mahogany furniture, the fine old china and the pervading atmosphere of a bygone day that was completed by Miss Alicia herself, a tiny little woman who clung to the customs of her mother's time.

There was no one to notice when a ragged and unkempt young man appeared from the direction of the river and tried the kitchen door. But the key was under Betty's pillow in the hammock and all the other doors were locked as well, for Betty was a cautious little soul.

Then the intruder went around to the pantry window, glanced speculatively at the removable screen—and saw the cherry pie.

His eyes sparkled with anticipation as he reached a long arm, pushed aside the screen, and removed the pie, plate and all. Betty's eyes popped wide open, just in time to glimpse the ragged stranger disappearing with the cherry pie.

"Of all the impudence!" breathed Betty as she slipped from the hammock and followed him. "There never will be another such a cherry pie in this world!"

When Betty came upon him, he was holding half the cherry pie in each hand, and his ecstatic expression and general stickiness of countenance proclaimed that Betty's effort was without doubt a success.

"What are you eating?" demanded Betty in an aggrieved tone.

"Ambrosia," he replied with an unconscious smack of his lips.

Betty started resentfully.

"That's a nice way to evade explaining why you stole my cherry pie! I'd be ashamed, a great big strong man like you—a stealing man!"

"Why steal plain bread and butter, or even cake, when you can find pie like this? (Cherry pie is my favorite of all pies," he said, with a fond glance at the pastry. "And I never tasted a better cherry pie in all my life.")

"Why don't you go to work and earn money to buy food?" she asked, after she had watched him with fascinated eyes, consume the remainder of the pie.

"I do work part of the time," he confessed.

"What is your trade?"

"Painter," he said, rather humbly.

Betty's eyes brightened. Here was an opportunity to make this recreant youth pay for his pie.

"Then you can come right up to the house and paint the veranda chairs for me," she said decisively. "I was going to do them myself, but you might as well pay for the pie."

"Very well," he said with astonishing meekness, considering his size and strength, square chin.

They had reached the house by this time, the tramp limping painfully after her through the prickling stubble of the orchard.

Betty turned to speak to her companion, but she was silent in the face of his manifest amazement at their destination.

"You said it was your pie," he reproached her. "Why, I could have sworn Aunt Alicia made it."

"Miss Alicia?" faltered Betty. "Why—it's made by her recipe—she showed me how—why do you call her your aunt?"

"Because she is," returned this amazing tramp cheerfully. "The only and best aunt a fellow ever had. Are you visiting her?"

Betty told him the circumstances.

"I never received her letter," he said with chagrin. "I came down the river in a canoe, took a notion to go swimming before I came up to the house, and left my clothes on the shore. When I came out my own clothes had disappeared, and I found these. I had to wash them out first and dry them in the sun before I put them on, and then I came on up to Aunt Alicia, knowing I had some old clothes in the kitchen loft chamber. I found Aunt Alicia was not at home, but I discovered the cherry pie—and annexed it, and believe me, Aunt Alicia hasn't anything over you on cherry pie. But I don't believe there'll be another one just like this."

Betty blushed. "If you are Miss Alicia's nephew, you must be the artist of whom she is so proud—Mr. Gordon Craig," said the girl rather shyly, as she remembered all she had said to him an hour before.

Gordon Craig was quite right. There never was just such another cherry pie as that one which Betty made and Gordon stole—which episode introduced them to each other and finally ended in Miss Peck becoming Betty's Aunt Alicia as well as Gordon-Craig's.

MISS SAMMONS HONORS MISS KEMP WEDNESDAY

Possibly one of the very prettiest parties of the fall and among the delightful series of entertainments being given for Miss Kemp, next week's bride, was the bridge afternoon and linen shower Wednesday with Miss Florence Sammons as hostess. The wedding colors, gold and white, were paid a compliment in the hostess' arrangements and decorations, yellow and white roses in baskets and vases being used in the rooms where the card tables were arranged. The dining room featured the yellow tones and the music room was in white. The shades were drawn, the softened light from yellow shaded chandeliers adding to the attractiveness of the scene.

Several games were played and the hostess prize, a silver bon bon basket was cut by Miss Lillian Avis. Miss Kemp was presented with the honoree's favor, a bud vase then she was asked to enter the dining room where the hostess presented her with a treasure chest of gold and white which when opened disclosed numerous gifts in incense-scented treasure for the October bride. The two-course luncheon featured the yellow and white color motif in the salad plate and in the ice cream molded into yellow roses and the yellow and white cake. Miss Sammons shared her honors as hostess with her mother, Mrs. F. T. Danson also assisting in entertaining. The guest list included: Misses Kemp, Frances, Misses Bertha Mae Kemp, Bess Kell, Willie Mae Kell, Genevieve Carver, Agnes Reid, Kathleen Blair, Lillian McGregor, Mabel Simpson, Lillian Avis, Anne Carrigan, Alice

JAPANESE EMPEROR SENDS MESSAGE TO DEAD STATESMAN

Death of Marquis Inouye Removes the Man Known as the Power Behind the Throne.

By Associated Press. Tokio, October 21.—Emperor Yoshihito has sent the following message to the spirit of the late Marquis Kuroki Inouye, one of the last of the genro, or elder statesmen, who died September 1st:

"Thou, our loyal subject, in the cause of the Imperial Throne, devoted thy best efforts to the restoration of the Imperial regime, to the broadening of the foundations of the Empire by advocating foreign intercourse such as the times demanded; to the enforcement of the prefectural system of administration, and to the consolidation of the Empire's economic and financial basis, not deterred in these efforts by any difficulties however great. This loyal and gallant service was faithfully maintained to an advanced age. Now thou art no more, and our grief knows no bounds. We hereby dispatch a messenger to offer thee our profound condolence."

The famous genro was given an imposing public funeral. Thousands of people from all walks of life crowded into one of the parks of the city where Buddhist services were held. The Emperor sent a military guard of honor, and besides sending a message of eulogy made offerings, fulfilling Japanese custom, of five rolls of white silk and several wreaths.

There are 271 on the submission docket, the remaining cases being on the application docket. More than five hundred cases were disposed of at the last term of court.

RAIN HELPING RUSSIANS TO STOP GERMAN ADVANCE

By Associated Press. Petrograd, Oct. 21.—The early and persistent rain—season over the greater part of the fighting front is taken by the Russian peasants as a sign that the text inscribed on the original standards—God is on our Side—is not misplaced. The Russian places great faith in the defensive merits of his rainy season, especially in the marshy sections, where intimate knowledge of the bogs will enable local guerrilla bands, under the skilled leadership of picked Cossack dare devils to keep up a continual harassment of the German flanks and rear.

The local peasantry alone is familiar with the shifts and tricks of the marshlands, especially in the treacherous Pinsk district, for there the bogs vary with the seasons and according to the rainfall. A case has already been reported from this district in which a German column was cunningly surrounded by a small force of guerrillas, who crept by secret ways across the swamps and raised an alarm on all sides at once. The enemy, seized with panic, endeavored to find a way out and the whole column disappeared in a treacherous morass which seemed a possible road to safety from the unknown strength of the attackers.

St. Louis is bidding for both the Democratic and Republican national conventions, and for that purpose has offered $200,000. But Dallas has not yet given up hope of securing the Democratic National convention for which she pledges $100,000.

The recognition of Carranza and his government in Mexico on the part of the United States has caused a New Orleans financial concern to close a contract to loan $10,000,000 in gold to the Mexican administration, and to return for this favor the American syndicate is to be given the right to handle the entire Mexican crop of sisal through New Orleans. A million dollar plant is to be erected at New Orleans for the purpose of manufacturing sisal.

It is said that Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court of the United States is soon to retire, and that President Wilson is considering seriously the advisability of appointing ex-President Taft as White's successor. While the ex-president is a Republican, he is one of the broad-gauged variety, and has not allowed his Republicanism to sway him in the least when it came to standing by President Wilson in his policy of treating with foreign powers, and in this way has been of much assistance to the President. It is probably this that is causing the President to consider seriously placing the ex-president of the United States as presiding jurist of the highest court in the United States.

Some of the allies of the Democrats in the progress of the campaign it is said the attempt to open them will be abandoned. Seven battalions and 100,000 soldiers have been sacrificed by the Allies and the Turks will hold out. Also comes the report that Great Britain needs 3,000,000 more soldiers, and must have them by spring. It is said that the European war is going to last for a while longer and that also means that the demand for American wheat will not diminish. The wheat crop in the United States is not much larger in production, but a wheat crop next year. A record breaking crop was produced this year, and the price has remained above the dollar mark almost from the time harvest began.

A big circus can only afford to show in the best towns. It is perhaps unnecessary to add that Wichita Falls has not been slighted in this respect. The Ringling circus was with us yesterday, and the crowd it drew taxed to the very limit the seating capacity of its big tent. A circus, some will contend, carries away with it a lot of money, and this is probably true. But at the same time, they afford an immense lot of pleasure to an innumerable number of people at a comparatively small price. What a great majority of the people see at the circus they would be unable to see unless they had the money and felt inclined to spend it by going to some large city that boasts of zoological gardens and such things, and unless the circus come this way they would most likely never have the opportunity of seeing the various wild animals usually to be found in a first class circus. In this respect, the circus is an educator, and in our own humble judgment the amount of money they take away from a community is money well expended.

Judge John P. Slaton of Hereford is quoted by the Amarillo Panhandle as being much in favor of the division of Texas into two or more states. Judge Slaton was a very active candidate for senator of this district a few years ago and received a large vote in the primary. There are very few public men in all of West Texas who have given the subject any considerable thought but have come to the same conclusion. The proposed state of Jefferson would make the banner state of the union in ten years and would be destined for a great future.—The Hill County Herald. It was Senator Johnson, editor of the Hill County Herald, who introduced the bill to create the new State of Jefferson. Out of it he got a good deal of publicity. To that extent it served its purpose. No one ever dreamed that Senator Johnson was serious when he introduced that bill, and many who know him personally did not hesitate to say that if the matter of splitting up Texas was left to him, he would cast his vote against such a proposition. Texas is none too big as now. What she needs most is developing and this can be accomplished quicker by electing to the legislature men who will study the best interests of the State as a whole, rather than take up the time of the law making body in efforts to put through some scheme of a political nature that has for its purpose the promoting of their own political and selfish interests. That's what is troubling Texas most now. The people have been too careless in the selection of the material to make our laws, and if it be true that there is any considerable number of people who want a division of the State they have been brought to that way of thinking by becoming thoroughly disgusted with the manner in which the State's tax monies are being expended without any corresponding benefits. Texas ought never to be divided.

ILLOGICAL REASONING.

If three-fourths of the States in the Union have no power to change the constitution by which they are governed, then indeed are the rights of the States threatened. For no matter what the interests of all may be all must submit to the determination of one-fourth of the States. —Baltimore News. Three-fourths of the States certainly have the right to change the constitution "by which they are governed," which is to say that three-fourths of the States have the right to make any change in the constitution so far as the National Government is concerned. But three-fourths of the States have the right to take charge of a State's internal affairs because this right was reserved by the States until themselves then the "entire" federation. If three-fourths of the States have the right to take charge of a State's internal affairs, then they have the right to take from it all powers of whatsoever kind. The News' reasoning that because a majority isn't permitted to control a minority, the majority rules the minority is about as faulty a piece of logic as was ever perpetrated. A majority of the States oppose woman suffrage; a minority of the States favor it and grant woman suffrage; does the minority dominate the majority? A majority of the States oppose prohibition of the whiskey traffic; does the minority control the majority? A majority of the States oppose whites and blacks attending the same schools; a minority of the States favor and permit mixed schools; does the minority control the majority? Most assuredly not. Each State controls its own local affairs. This is the democracy of Jefferson—it is the scheme under which the world's greatest Government has been built. Surely there are not now Democrats who are ready to declare the States-rights dream of Jefferson a failure and turn to the strong-central-Government dream of Hamilton.—Honey Grove Signal.

SCHAFF CALLS ON LOONEY.

Mr. Schaff of the "Katy" called on Mr. Looney, the attorney general. Of course, none of us know the precise manner of their conversation, but as their business was of a somewhat unpleasant nature, it is fair to assume that they approached the subject in delicate style. Mr. Schaff began by remarking that when he left St. Louis it was cool enough morning for fires and he was anxious to get back to lay in his winter supply of coal. He had always noticed that when the snows were particularly numerous in the month of October, a severe winter followed. One winter he had to take along a hot brick every time he went to the theatre, and that was the winter that Nat Goodwin got out his book on his matrimonial career. He had read the book over two or three times, and he was due out at the library the day he left home with the fete-m of that book, and now he would have to pay two cents a day for the whole time he was away, which only went to show the cost of high living. Mr. Looney said that this far he had had very agreeable weather in Texas, although he had noticed that very morning that his breath had gathered on the window pane and this would necessitate his sending to Greenville for his overcoat. He had intended getting a new overcoat this winter, but the steady advance in the price of gasoline had put that out of the question. Besides, his sweet potato crop had not come up to expectations. Then Mr. Schaff broke in to say that the general average of the crops was fairly good, but he had noticed along the track as he came down an awful lot of boll weevils, some of them as big as a grasshopper. He thought it might not be a bad idea to construct immense water basins and stock them with fish to catch the weevils. He also thought the silos might be profitably used in connection. Then Mr. Looney branched off to the war. He was not right sure but what

FEARS BRITONS WILL LEAVE TO ESCAPE CONSCRIPTION London, Oct. 21.—Immediate steps will be taken by the authorities, the Evening News understands, to restrict the sudden rush of able-bodied Britons of military age from Great Britain in order to escape military service. "It is perfectly obvious," the newspaper says, "that grave damage will be caused to the relations between the mother country and her dependencies if hundreds of thousands are allowed to pour into Canada, Australia and India, which have given their best blood for the Empire."

COTTON GOES LOWER, WHEAT ALSO DROPS

LIQUIDATION AND WEATHER CONDITIONS FAVOR THE BEARS IN COTTON.

BIG RECEIPTS AFFECT GRAIN

Higher Prices At Liverpool Are More Than Offset By Conditions in the Northwest.

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 21.—The cotton market opened barely steady at unchanged prices to a decline of twelve points today under scattering liquidation and local pressure. Liverpool barely met yesterday's local advance while prospect for generally clear weather west of the river probably encouraged the local selling movement. December contracts sold off to 12.51, January to 12.65 and March to 12.86, during the early trading or about 50 to 90 points net lower. Offerings continued very heavy during the middle of the morning, with December selling off to 12.41 and January to 12.53 or about 20 to 25 points net lower. Rallies of seven or eight points followed on trade buying but the market was still nervous and unsettled at midday. Unsettled foreign political conditions, improved weather and an idea that bullish crop estimates had been discounted seemed to be the factors of the decline.

Table with columns: Chicago Grain, Dec, Jan, Feb, Mar, Apr, May, July. Includes Chicago Provisions data.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Favorable weather and big receipts at Northwest terminals more than offset in the wheat market today the effect of higher prices at Liverpool. Commission houses especially were free sellers. The buying was mainly on resting orders. A big opening 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 to 3 1/4 lower with December at 104 1/4 to 104 3/8 and May at 105 to 105 1/4 the market here underwent a further sag, but then made a good rally. Corn, like wheat, was bearishly affected by the fine weather. There was persistent selling led by large brokerage houses. Opening prices which ranged from a shade to 1 1/4 lower were followed by additional losses before any recovery set in. Oats although firm at the start, eased off with other grains. Trade was small.

SOLVED A GREAT MYSTERY

Gardener's Explanation Must Have Made Eminent Savants Feel Somewhat Small.

Buffon, the great naturalist, one day entertained a company of distinguished savants at dinner, at the conclusion of which they all went into the garden. It was a very hot summer's day. In the center of the grounds there stood on a pedestal a large glass globe, which one of the guests happened to touch with his hand, when he found, to his astonishment, that it was warmer on the shady side than on the side turned toward the sun. He communicated this discovery to the other guests, who at once proceeded to verify the statement. What could be the cause? An animated discussion ensued, in the course of which every imaginable law of physics was made to account for the strange paradox. At length the scientists agreed that it must be so, owing to the laws of reflection, repulsion, or exhalation, or some other law of physics with a long name. The host was, however, not quite convinced, and, calling the gardener, he said to him: "Pray, tell us why the globe is warmer on the shady side than on the side turned to the sun?" The man replied: "Because just now I turned it round for fear of its cracking with the great heat."

HELPFUL COMPANY STORES

Among the corporations which sustain company stores of the newer type—the kind that are intended to foster thrift among employees, should be mentioned the New York City Railways company. It has in operation three such stores, at which its workers buy meats, groceries, vegetables, and so on, at actual cost. Needless to say, this is considerably less than the cost of such articles at retail stores, since the company maintains no delivery system, purchases being carried home by the buyers. About 65 per cent of the sales are in meats and 40 per cent of the sales take place on Saturdays.

At The Theaters

Unable to resist the Opera Director's vivid promises of a brilliant operatic career, a chorus girl leaves her husband. Months later he finds her starring in a beautiful opera, of which he is the composer. This is a brief outline of Vitagraph's Three-Part Broadway Star Feature, "My Dear One." A startling scene is where the husband creates a sensation by rushing up the theater aisle, crying "My Lost One!" The star recognizes her husband and is overjoyed. She quiets the audience and a happy reunion takes place between husband and wife. He proves authorship of his stolen opera, and comes into his own as Operatic Director.

FIRST NEW FEATURE AT EMPRESS TOMORROW. "The Girl of the Year" is the first of the "Empress" series which will be shown at this theater on Friday will be shown. This picture is "The Woman Next Door," founded on the stage play of that name by David.

How Jenny Gay, a theatrical star, is driven from home and stage career by the mad infatuation and continued persecution of Jake Lake, a confidence man, and is finally discovered in a quaint New England village where she has taken refuge is the central theme of the story which is familiar to theatergoers the nation over. Tom Grayson, a construction engineer who has made the acquaintance of Lake in Mexico, returns home and is visited by the little stranger next door in none other than the former object of his affection. Tom and Jenny Gray promptly fall in love and Lake, in a fit of jealous rage, reveals her identity as the notorious actress whose scandalous divorce suit had dragged her name through the mire a year before. Tom immediately takes a hand in the controversy and, in a series of intensely interesting and spectacular scenes, forces a confession from Lake showing how he had arranged every detail of the divorce.

The Empress. "The Battle of Ambrose and Warsaw" an elaborate travesty on the war pictures prevalent at this time, has been staged by Keystone and will be shown today on the program with a two part American, "The Divine Decree." Winifred Greenwood and Ed Costen are featured in the American, a story of which is given below.

Dora Darby, the little daughter of a crook, is mercifully taken out of her squalid environment and placed in the care of her Aunt Jane in the country. Tom Burton, her playmate, son of the crook's partner in crime, however, is left to grow up in the slum. At last Dick and Dora meet. Dick and Burton are both successful in business and Dora is now a fifteen-year-old beauty. In the belief that her father is seeking his fortune in Alaska, she eagerly awaits their reunion. The crooks are released, and Burton pleads with Tom, his son, not to follow in his footsteps. The boy, who already has pulled off several successful burglaries, only laughs at the old man. However, in the act of committing a robbery, Tom is visited by a vision of his little playmate, Dora. Dropping the tools, he goes in search of her. At the cottage in the country, Tom finds Dora and her father, happily reunited. The girl introduces Darby as having just returned from Alaska. Tom says to the ex-crook, "I also have been on the road to Alaska. With the help of Dora, I am turning back."

The Majestic. "The Haunted Hotel" a Lubin and a three-part Essanay make up today's program. Bryant Washburn, Edna Mayo and Henry Wallace are featured in the multiple reel feature, "The Woman Hater." Jack Warder, woman-hater, is kidnapped by his friend, Dick Wainwright and taken on a yacht cruise, where Mabel Whiting makes the bashful bachelor miserable. As time passes, he learns to care for her companionship and decides to love her. He proposes but later reneges. Twice he is led to the altar and runs away. In his panic, he runs to the station and is there arrested as a desperate bandit. Dick and Mabel discover him and he is released. Mabel induces him to go to the altar the third time, she agreeing to say "I do." She says she doesn't want to marry him but wants to get even. At the wedding she says "you sumpounding Warden. However, as he is married there is nothing else to do but accept married life and they do so happily on their honeymoon.

ATTRACTION NEXT MONDAY. Al H. Wilson, the singing dialect comedian, will hold forth at the Wichita Theatre on October 25 as the central character in a new play entitled "As Years Roll On." This new Wilson offering is by Herbert Hall Winslow and Chase Horwitz, and it is said that in "As Years Roll On" they have provided a vehicle that will carry genial Al H. on to greater success. The play is replete with new songs injected at intervals by Mr. Wilson. Picturisque stage settings, appropriate costumes and a well-balanced company all combine in making the performance an enjoyable one.

ENDORES CHRISTIAN SCIENCE PRINCIPLES. Mr. Editor: Please allow a blind man a little space in your valuable paper, The Times.

I am a Christian Scientist and believe strongly in it, because, primarily, it is founded on the Bible. The founder of the Mother Church, Mrs. Eddy, loved and wonderfully expounded the Word of God and has written several books which are second only to the Scriptures. These books contain the highest code of morals and serve as a measure by which we may determine our standing religiously and morally and by practicing the precepts contained in them, we avoid many evils which would otherwise mar our happiness and peace.

In them, drunkenness, hatred, murder, covetousness, falsehood, hypocrisy and all the low crimes of the wicked are condemned, as well as the smaller crimes radiating from these lower ones, all of which is proven to be the offspring of the flesh or the fruits of it, and to be shunned by Christians. Sin is set forth in the Scriptures as the works of the flesh. One apostle says: "I know that in my flesh dwelleth no good thing." Comparing the flesh with the spirit, the flesh is declared to be corrupt, and a fountain of evil and that "if we walk after the flesh, we shall die, but if we through the spirit, do mortify the deeds of the body, we shall live." The fruit of the spirit is love, peace, joy, long suffering, gentleness, meekness, faith, etc. From each of these radiates in the possessor of them admirable and attractive qualities that every one desires who seeks them. It makes parents love and care for their children—brothers and sisters kind and gentle to each other, children affectionate, true and helpful to their parents; husbands and wives devoted to each other and to union and the appearance of evil. How pleasant and delightful are these beautiful qualities!

But how revolting the sad sight of parents' cruelty and neglect of their children—wives and husbands unkind and inattentive to each other, bestowing their favors and smiles on others.

Horrifying indeed, it is to see sons and daughters ungrateful to and neglectful of their parents; refusing them assistance when they are old or in need, but how sickening and unchristian for a mother to be abandoned and refused a home by her children—left "turned out" to battle alone for life! They forget that their mothers and their fathers were attended, and their many necessities were supplied by a loving mother. In their childhood she spent many sleepless nights in caring for and succoring them in illness.

Mr. Editor, says in her message to the Mothers' Church in June, 1901: "I only should remember that mother worked and won for them by facing the world. All honor and success to those who honor their father and mother."

The world has but little if any confidence in a fatherly whose votaries are zealously devoted to games, plays or any other selfish desires. To the gratification of their carnal nature. A professed Christian, whose time is spent in accumulating money or property does not share much of the confidence of his associates as a Christian. For Jesus says, "you cannot serve two masters; you cannot serve God and Mammon."

But the professor who is careful in his manners toward men, cautious about his indulgences; denies himself carnal gratifications, commands the confidence and esteem of his fellowmen, yet they may differ widely in belief.

With love for true Christian Science principles put into practice. J. M. DRINKARD.

Berlin, Oct. 21.—In furtherance of the suggestion that school children assist in conserving the national resources by a systematic collection of nuts to which each variety of nut can be put as a food for animals; the percentage of albuminous and oily contents of each variety; and, finally, the market for the nuts and the prices that rule in it.

GOVERNMENT FACTORY FOR MUNITIONS DANIELS' PLAN

Says Time Has Come For the Nation to Take This Business Into Its Own Hands.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 21.—A big government armor plate plant and projectile factory are proposed in the navy's national defense program. Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced Wednesday in a speech at the State House, sounding the keynote of the administration's preparedness policy. Daniels said he would ask Congress to appropriate for the two new projects this year $20,000,000.

He also urged passage of the government ship purchase bill to provide naval auxiliary ships and the use and extension of a government shipyard at the manufacturing plant. The time has come for the navy to build an armor plate factory of its own. The secretary of the navy said in Cleveland's last administration. Secretary Herbert recommended the erection of an armor plate factory, but no action was taken. In the naval appropriation act, approved June 7, 1900 the sum of $4,000,000 was appropriated for a factory for the manufacture of armor, but the act declared that the secretary of navy need not build the factory provided such contracts can be made at a price which, in his judgment, is reasonable and equitable. The secretary decided the price offered was reasonable and equitable and no factory was built. The price of armor plate in 1905 was $446 per ton. It jumped in 1907 to $420 a ton and continued to rise. The factory had been built in 1907 as Congress authorized the government would have saved enough on armor plate to pay for the plant many times over.

"There has been no competition in armor plate and recently two of the three plants came under a single ownership. The time has come for the navy to build a factory of its own, which should have been erected in 1907 when the money was available. It has been ascertained by a special commission that the navy, with a modern plant, can manufacture armor plate from $220 to $250 an ton against the noncompetitive prices of $425 to $520 charged under the last contract."

Daniels' announcement was the first official statement that the armor plate and projectile plants were included in the navy's estimates for national defense.

GULF, TEXAS AND WESTERN RAILROADS SUBJECT OF SUDDEN REPORT. A report is current among railroad men that the Gulf, Texas and Western operating between Mineral Wells and Seymour, is to be taken over by the Santa Fe railroad. This report is said to be correct.

The Weatherford, Mineral Wells & North Seymour, which allows freight trains to run over the latter's road to Weatherford.

Should this deal be consummated, the Santa Fe, it is said, would extend the line to the northwest and operate it in conjunction with the Panhandle line.

Another rumor current is that the Gulf, Texas & Western contemplates building into Fort Worth. Several officials of the road were in Fort Worth a few days ago. Neither of the reports can be verified.

LARGE INCREASE SHOWN IN SWEDEN'S EXPORT BUSINESS

Believed to Be Due to the Fact That Germany is Taking Large Supplies.

Stockholm, October 21.—Figures showing Swedish exports since the beginning of the war and upholding the official contention that Sweden has acted as a valuable channel for the delivery of materials to Germany, have been obtained by the correspondents of the Associated Press. According to these statistics, which are as yet unpublished, and now available for the first time, Sweden's cotton imports during the first six months of 1915 were nine times as large as her cotton exports during the corresponding months of the previous year. From January to June, 1914, Sweden imported 12,957,830 pounds of cotton. During the equivalent period this year, the import was risen to 109,926,021 kilos. Although cotton shows the most startling increase, the importation of other articles has risen considerably. Twenty-three million kilos of coffee have been imported in the first six months of 1915, against sixteen millions for the same part of the previous year. Cocoa beans have increased from 800 thousand to one million six hundred thousand during the same period of time. Lubricating and mineral oils have also shown increase. While Sweden exported only 328,589 kilos of copper during the six months before the war began, she exported during the next six months 2,852,205 kilos. The figures given do not tell what portion of this export has gone to Germany and what portion elsewhere, but it is generally agreed that it has been sent almost exclusively to Germany. Figures regarding other exports are not now available.

Lloyd Weaver is confined to his home with illness. An attack of typhoid fever is feared.

NIGHT CLUBS CAUSING MUCH TROUBLE TO LONDON POLICE

Permit Drinking at Late Hours and Habitudes of Underworld are Frequenters. London, Oct. 21.-The "night club" which is just now the subject of a heated controversy in London, is an institution peculiar to England. It aims to provide amusement and refreshment, the latter mostly liquid, during the late hours of the evening and the early hours of the morning. Since the war, the club, like the saloon or cafe, has been subjected to rather rigid restrictions as to the sale of alcoholic beverages, but the police complain that it is difficult to obtain evidence against law breaking night clubs.

There are probably 400 night clubs in London. Nearly half of these are located within the narrow limits of the district known as Soho, which is the center of the foreign quarter. "There are between 150 and 200 night clubs in Soho," says the London Times, "and most of these are respectable. The bishop of London does not exaggerate when he says that for the most part these establishments are the habit and only the grounds of sharks and loose women whose trade is to exploit the follies and weaknesses of those induced to go there."

"It is unnecessary to insist upon the mischief to which such companies expose the young officers, some of whom have but little experience of life. These mischief are in one sense a public danger at all times, but the danger is enormously magnified when the sufferers are soldiers and the nation is at war."

The immediate loss of money which can ill be spared is perhaps the least among them. Debt, blackmail, drink and the loss of self respect which follows from these things and from yielding to the temptations of another kind men find in night clubs, do deeper and more lasting evil."

WHEAT ACREAGE INCREASES, SOME IS ALREADY COMING UP. Farmers in Burk Burnett District Are Planting on Corn Land for Next Crop. Practically all the stubble land and much that was planted in corn last season in the Burk Burnett section is being plowed up and sown in wheat this fall, according to County Commissioner J. A. D. Smith who was here today. Many farmers have sown a considerable part of their crop he reports, and in many fields the wheat is up and covers the ground.

Mule Day in County Court; Two Suits On Trial. Today is mule day in the county court. At the morning session the suit of G. A. Cuffman vs. Brown and Swenson was heard by a jury. The plaintiff in this suit is asking damages for the value of a mule. The defendants hired a mule team from the plaintiff for work with a threshing outfit. One of the mules choked itself to death on a rope tied about its neck. At the afternoon session the suit of Hoff vs. Stone et al on a note was taken up. The note was on even in payment for a jack. The defendant acknowledges the note but claims that certain guarantees were made concerning the jack which have failed of fulfillment.

SEED CORN TESTING IN PROGRESS TODAY

DEMONSTRATION CAR ARRIVES AND TESTER IS NOW AT WORK.

IS MAKING TOUR OF TEXAS

One Hundred Ears From Each Farmer Are Used in Determining Seed Value.

A demonstration of the method of testing seed corn was given by Frank Clark of Fort Worth before a number of farmers and business men in special car parked opposite the Union Station at three o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Clark's car will leave tonight for Bowie where he will give a demonstration tomorrow.

One hundred ears of corn are made the basis of each test. Six grains of corn are picked from each ear, the grains being taken from different parts of the ear. Each six grains are placed in separate germinating cells, there being 100 cells in each tray. The ears are tagged to correspond with the number of each cell. The trays are then placed in a germinating room heated to the proper temperature by an oil stove. After a few days in this room the grains in each cell are examined and a report mailed the farmer or having the test made on each ear. Those ears from which all six grains do not germinate properly are marked as unfit for seed corn.

J. W. Campbell, agricultural demonstrator for Wichita county, reported that a boy in this county had raised one-sixth more corn on a part of a field in which he had planted tested and proven seed than on the other part of the field which had been planted in seed not tested.

The main object in bringing Mr. Clark here was to show the farmers how they might test their seed.

GREAT BRITAIN TO OFFER CYPRUS ISLAND TO GREECE

Report Says It Would Be Given If Athens Government Would Enter War.

London, Oct. 21.-Great Britain has made a formal offer of the island of Cyprus to Greece as soon as Greece undertakes to intervene in the war on the side of the allies. The Daily Telegraph makes this announcement.

"Thus far Greece has not replied to the offer. Our Athens correspondents inform us that it is believed the offer will create an excellent impression in Greece, since it is an actual present concession and not a mere promise which Germany might suggest and would never be carried out."

Austin, Oct. 21.-Recent announcement by officials of the Interscholastic League of the University of Texas that contests in essay writing will be conducted among all public schools of the State, is said to be attracting considerable attention and many inquiries are being received as to the contests. Along with debate and declamation contests, the essay writing forms a part of the extension department's effort to afford training to more efficient citizenship to students who are not resident students of the University. Prizes are to be offered in county, district and state contests. The essays to be based upon personal experiences of writers and being confined to the field of narration.

No lease too difficult for us. We grind them. Fonville Optical Co. 621 Eighth St. 33-4c

THE OLIVES WE SELL.
In only one, little, isolated spot in the world, is the Queen Olive found. This territory lying adjacent to the town of Saville, Spain, is not more than 40 miles wide at its widest part and upon it rests the burden of providing all the Queen Olives consumed throughout Europe and America.

Firm, sound, selected fruit, picked by hand, at that period of its growth most essential to the perfection of its flavor is the first desideratum. The curing of the selected olive is a most delicate operation, its delightful properties do not appear under unskilled or hurried treatment.

This brief outline suggests the character of the olives we are selling under our own brand. They are most perfect forms of true olive culture, and in their uniformity, suavity, and blandness of flavor are prized by lovers of this delicious fruit from the sunny orchards of old Spain.

We have them in bottles containing just enough for a luncheon for two persons or enough for a banquet of one hundred persons. WE ROAST COFFEE EVERY DAY.
