Department of Justice at Washington Sending More Agents to Border Country to Co-operate with Army Department in Suppressing Raids

Washington, Oct. 22.—The Twenty-eighth regiment of infantry has been ordered from Galveston to Harlingen by the war department as a result of renewal of bandit raids on Texas border towns. The troops will be used by Gen. Fubston to give adequate protection to small posts such as Ojo del Agua where three soldiers were killed and eight wounded yesterday morning in a bandit attack. The Twenty-third infantry now at Jacksonville, Fla., attending the national rifle practice there will be returned to Galveston where it will be held in reserve for use on the border.

Officials explain today that the army was doing all it legally could to check the border bandit raids. The situation, it was said, was not a military one but a civil one under the jurisdiction of Texas. Unless the governor should formally ask federal intervention there is no authority for the establishment of a military zone and declaration of martial law. Many of the raiders, officials believe, live on the American side. Army detachments guarding various towns may repel attacks but can not go beyond that without additional authority. As it is the troops are acting beyond a rigid interpretation of their power in aiding in pursuit of the raiders.

War department officials, however, will give every possible aid to the civil authorities in protecting towns and ranches. The department of justice will detail more agents along the border immediately to co-operate with the war and treasury department, to meet raids and violations of the embargo on arms.

After receiving information from Secretary Garrison on border raids at Arroyo, Gregory conferred with President Wilson and announced that the number of department of justice agents would be increased. Regarding the case of General Huerta, now held at Fort Bliss, Mr. Gregory said he expected evidence will be laid before the grand jury in the next few weeks to obtain an indictment on the charge of attempting to violate neutrality laws of the United States. No request for the extradition of Huerta has been received from the Mexican government.

MEXICANS ATTACK GERMAN FARMER NEAR SAN MARCOS

In Hand to Hand Fight Two Mexicans Killed and Alfred Wilke is Seriously Injured.

By Associated Press. San Marcos, Texas, Oct. 22.—Alfred Wilke and his wife were attacked by three Mexicans at their home near Martindale last night. The Mexicans were driven off, two being killed. Wilke and his wife are in a precarious condition, being severely cut by the Mexicans and were conveyed to Lockhart to a sanitarium there. Wilke is not expected to live.

WILKE'S WIFE TELLS OF ATTACK BY MEXICANS

By Associated Press. Lockhart, Texas, Oct. 22.—A. K. Wilke, German farmer who was assaulted near Sertress by two Mexicans Thursday morning, is here with his family recuperating from the hand to hand battle in which the entire family engaged to save their lives. It is believed Wilke will recover. Mrs. Wilke told of the fight this morning. She said the Mexicans approached Wilke, asking for work and when he turned his back shot him as he ran. The Mexicans followed him into the house, still firing. One of the Mexicans had a knife which Mrs. Wilke wrested from him, after getting her hands severely cut. She handed the knife to her husband who almost severed the Mexican's head from his body. Miss Wilke trained a shotgun on the other Mexican and killed him instantly. Wilke with five bullet wounds walked nearly a mile with his family with a baby in his arms to report the matter. Wilke claims that the Mexicans were hired to kill him, having been given fifty dollars with a promise of five hundred dollars more. He believes that one of the Mexicans came from San Antonio and the other from Seguin.

MORE CARRANZA TROOPS TO COPE WITH BANDITS REQUESTED BY GENERAL

Carranza Consul Promises Active Campaign in Effort to Stamp Out Bandits on Mexican Side—Opponents of Carranza Blamed

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 22.—An active campaign against bandits on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande by Gen. Eugenio Lopez, Carranza commander in Matamoros, was promised today by Jose de Garza, Carranza consul here. Mr. Garza said Gen. Lopez had requested more troops in order to handle the Mexican side of the raid. Mr. Garza said investigation is under way of the reported appearance in Reynosa, Mexico of Luis De la Rosa, the Texas bandit leader, a few hours before the raid on an American soldiers' camp at Ojo del Agua yesterday morning. De la Rosa and Aniceto Pizano, his colleague, Mr. Garza said, had spread hatred for the Americans among ignorant Mexicans on the Mexican side of the river. These Mexicans have afforded protection for De la Rosa and his followers when they fled across the river, Mr. Garza said. He said the bandits have been financed by opponents of the Carranza regime in an attempt to show that Carranza can not keep order on the border. Slain in Van announced the release of four Mexican prisoners all named Cantu, held here in connection with the Monday night train robbery.

CLAIM SERBIANS FAR FROM BEING CRUSHED

Austro-Germans Fought Nine Days to Advance Eight Miles—Serbians Not Discouraged

By Associated Press. Saloniki, Greece, Oct. 22.—Officers of the Anglo-French expeditionary force in the Balkans who returned from the Serbian front assert that notwithstanding the odds against which they are fighting the Serbians are not discouraged. "I would not advise you to bet ten cents that Serbia will be crushed," said one of the officers. "Last Thursday we were north of Ralis, where the Austrians and Germans are making their principal attack. It took them nine days to gain eight miles on that front. At that rate of progress it will be next year before they can effect a junction with the Germans. The Serbian line is absolutely unbroken."

REV. C. C. SMITH GOES TO OKLAHOMA CITY

HAS BEEN APPOINTED PASTOR OF WESLEY M. E. CHURCH IN THAT CITY.

REV. BRANDON COMES HERE

New Pastor Has Been With Church in Dallas—Rev. Smith to Leave in the Next Ten Days.

Rev. C. C. Smith, for the past two years pastor of the First M. E. Church of this city, will leave shortly for Oklahoma City, he having been assigned to the Wesley M. E. Church of that city. He will be succeeded here by Rev. C. C. Brandon, now pastor of a church at Dallas. The change was made at the M. E. Conference just concluded at Oklahoma City, from which Mr. Smith returned last night. The assignment came as a complete surprise to him, as it had been expected that he would remain in charge here, but there were conditions in the church to which he was assigned that caused the bishop to consider him a fit man for the position. The Wesley church is a new one and is said to offer exceptional opportunities. Mr. Smith will leave in about ten days, but will probably preach his last sermon here Sunday. During his pastorate of the church here, he has endeared himself greatly to the congregation and his efforts in the church have been attended by marked results. The new pastor, Rev. C. C. Brandon, is understood to be one of the Methodist church's representatives in the Southwest. He is expected to reach this city next week.

Fourteen members of the committee attended the meeting which was presided over by Chairman Paul Wampler of Fort Worth with Charles J. Kirk of Houston as secretary. Roll call showed that the majority of those present were from points considerably distant while committee members from Central and North Texas were conspicuously absent. Hon. Cone Johnson and R. M. Johnson of Houston and several other prominent democrats mingled with the committee men.

GERMANY WILL "BEGIN" TO FIGHT IN NEXT TWO MONTHS.

By Associated Press. Berlin, Oct. 22.—Germany will "really begin" to fight the British within two months, a high official of the Kaiser's foreign office said today. "The command on the success of the Balkan campaign with the opening of a source of such needed supplies when he spoke. "In five more weeks a way will be opened through Serbia to Bulgaria and Turkey," he said, "where great quantities of food and raw materials are now stored. Within two months we will have all the Anatolian cotton and wool we require, so that we will not need an American supply. When we have established communication with Bulgaria and Turkey, war against England will really begin. We have enough of France and Russia already to guarantee satisfactory peace terms with these two powers. Our success in the Balkans will mean the menacing of the British empire. Once the way to Constantinople is open to us, we can strike at Suez and Egypt."

MELLEN TESTIFIES IN THE TRIAL OF ELEVEN DIRECTORS

FORMER PRESIDENT IDENTIFIES MINUTES OF MEETING RECORDING LEASE OF COMPETITIVE LINE

SHOWS ROCKEFELLER'S PART

Not Present But Sent Letter—Also Voted to Punish New York and New England Line For Attempting to Create Competition to N. H.

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 22.—Charles F. Mellen, former president of the New Haven railroad, was again called to the stand today in the trial of the eleven directors and former directors of this road for violation of the criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust laws. Mr. Mellen was asked to identify the minutes of the New Haven directors meeting which described the successful negotiation in 1892 of a lease of the New York, Providence and Boston lines, one of the New Haven's early competitors through its steamship connection with New York. The lease carried with it a contract under which stock of the New York, Providence and Boston was to be subsequently exchanged for New Haven stock, share for share and the lease canceled. William Rockefeller, the minutes showed, was not present at the directors meeting at which the lease was approved but wrote a letter asking to be recorded as in favor of the proposition. The New Haven stock, in order to provide for the exchange with the Providence line shares was increased by $50,000,000, according to other minutes which the witness identified. This action was taken in May, 1892, and later in that year it was shown that the New Haven also acquired another line, the Providence and Worcester. The federal attorney handed the witness the so-called "Sound Lines Agreement," dated 1881, signed by the president of the then existing New England Steamship line and their connecting New England railroad line, to fix rates. The witness identified records revealing that the directors through Mr. Rockefeller, voted in April, 1891 to withdraw from joint service with the New York and New England, if the New England should open a proposed through line connected by water with New York. Similar action was threatened with the Boston and Maine if another through connection was routed.

INCREASE IN PARCELS POST BUSINESS SHOWN

Total of 5232 Packages Handled Through Local Office First 15 Days of October

A steady and considerable growth in the number of parcels post packages handled through the Wichita Falls postoffice is shown by the count for the first fifteen days of October. The results of this count have just been compiled and have been made public by Postmaster O. T. Bacon. The count shows that for the period from October 1 to October 15th a total of 5232 parcels post packages were handled. This is compared with a total of 4592 packages for the first fifteen days in October, 1914 and 4532 packages for the first fifteen days of April, 1915. In the first fifteen days in October, 1912 the total number of packages handled was 4395. Of the 5232 packages handled through the local office during the first fifteen days of this month 1544 were parcels mailed here while 3688 were mailed from other offices. Only 14 parcels were mailed here for local delivery during that period.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY MAY BE MADE BY GOVERNMENT

A geological survey of Wichita county, the north part of Clay county and surrounding oil and gas territory is in prospect. Representatives of the U. S. geological survey who have been investigating the gas field and for the cities of Fort Worth and Dallas, at the request of local parties, have written the head of the bureau asking an estimate of the cost of such a survey. It is the understanding that government engineers would conduct the survey, their salaries being paid by the government, but the sections in which the survey is being made would be required to foot the field expenses. As soon as a reply is received from the bureau officials the matter will be laid before the Chamber of Commerce. Oil men operating in the fields in this section have signified a willingness to contribute their share toward the expenses of such a survey. Several years ago a report on the Electric field was made by representatives of the University of Texas. The survey proposed by the government engineers would be more extensive and more complete.

COTTON RECOVERS AFTER BIG DECLINE

PRICES GO DOWN UNDER HEAVY SELLING BUT MARKET CLOSES AT A NET GAIN

WEATHER IN EAST FACTOR

After Reaching Lowest Prices of the Month Covering of Decline and Buying on Weather

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 22.—There was renewal of yesterday's selling movement in the cotton market early today and after opening at a decline of four to seven points prices sold about 7 to 9 points net lower with December declining to 12.37, January to 12.43 and March to 12.46, or the lowest prices reached since the publication of the government report early in the month. Offerings this morning were encouraged by relatively easy cables but there was good deal of covering on the decline and some scattered buying on the unfavorable or eastern belt forecast.

WHEAT CLOSED DOWN AFTER SHOW OF STRENGTH.

By Associated Press. Chicago, Oct. 22.—Some firmness developed in the wheat market today because of the relative strength of quotations at Liverpool where the scarcity of offerings was said to be pronounced. Heavy receipts at Minneapolis, Duluth and Winnipeg continued enough to make the bulls cautious. Houses with northern connections sold freely. Opening prices which ranged from 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 with December at 105 1/2, and May at 104 1/2 in 1915, were followed by a general decline and then a material upturn.

"Pure American games of baseball will be encouraged instead," said the agent.

275 RURAL SCHOOLS QUALIFY FOR STATE AID.

By Associated Press. Austin, Tex., Oct. 22.—Out of a total of approximately one thousand applications for state aid, in accordance with provisions and limitations of the governor's one million dollar rural school law, only 275 schools in common school districts of Texas have qualified and received such aid by the State Board of Education. The greater bulk of applicants, it was disclosed, have been unable to meet the requirements providing that a school must have levied a fifty-cent school tax. The amounts appropriated to successful schools ranged from $100 to $500.

MANY SCHOOL TERMS IN TEXAS ARE SHORTENED.

By Associated Press. Austin, Tex., Oct. 22.—Because of a reduction from $8 to $6 per capita in the annual state apportionment of the available school fund for this scholastic year, a great bulk of the 10,000 common school districts in Texas have been compelled to shorten the school term at least one month, according to information here. Last scholastic year $8 was apportioned, but only $7 paid, and this year the total apportionment was placed at $7, but of that amount $1 is to apply on last term's deficit. This is said to be the greatest hardship on small country schools because independent school districts have assessed special taxes for educational purposes.

ITS FATE DEPENDS UPON SPEED OF AID FROM HER ALLIES

ENGLISH AND FRENCH FORCES MOVING NORTHWARD ONLY HOPE FOR SERBIANS PRESSED BY ENEMY

BULGARIANS MOST FEARED

Attack on Flank, It is Feared Would Be Disastrous—Austro-Germans Advancing Slowly and at Heavy Cost—Greece Still Hesitates.

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 22.—Serbia's military position is critical. Hampered by numerous forces on two sides her armies are threatened with being crushed as no army has been crushed during the war.

Not only are these facts admitted in England, France and Russia but they are reflected in official Serbian statements. The key to escape from this situation is the speed with which France and England can throw forces north of Saloniki with the hope of relieving Serbia from the Austrians and Germans in the north and the Bulgarians in the east.

The Bulgarians are now battling under the eyes of King Ferdinand. Notwithstanding the presumably superior artillery of the Austrians and Germans it is the flank attack by the Bulgarians which seems to be the most menacing to the Serbians. In few places are the Teutons as much as 20 miles from the Danube, in fact the ground gained averages only a depth of ten miles. The Bulgarians for their part are displaying tremendous energy, indicative of carefully laid plans preceding the declaration of war. With 20 miles of the Nish-Saloniki railway in their hands they have a decided advantage which will be difficult to overcome.

The movement of the "intente" troops from Saloniki is still unknown to the public but if any considerable force has been detailed for the task of doing for Serbia what England attempted to do for Belgium, it must be heard from soon.

From Sofia and Saloniki comes despatches that the Bulgarians have lost Strumitsa. This means that Bulgarian soil is still free from invasion. It is reported that Turkey cavalry is co-operating with the Bulgarians and that a great battle is raging at the Macedonian town of Zelze where the Serbs won a victory over the Turks in the Balkan war of 1912. According to unofficial reports the Bulgarians have taken the town.

GREECE STILL HESITATES. Greece still hesitates; England's offer of Cyprus and according to a report a considerable extension of Greek territory along the Aegean Sea and of the colonies in Asia have brought no outward change in the situation.

On most of the long eastern front the Russians seem to be in the ascendancy but both Petrograd and Berlin emphasize the increasing danger of Riga's position. From the southwest the Germans are nearing the village of Olai, which is only 12 miles from Riga. They are also increasing their hold along the Dvina river to the southwest of the city, being in that quarter within eight miles of their goal. The Russians assert that German attacks in the region of Olai were repulsed but the Germans are bombarding the Riga-Dvina railway beyond the Dvina, interfering with the forwarding of Russian reinforcements.

OCTOBER 29 DATE FOR THE WAUGH-WALSH BOUT

Match Will Bring Together Two of Cleverest Lightweight Seen in the Southwest

Friday night October 29th has been definitely fixed as the time of the Waugh-Walsh bout before the Wichita Falls Business Men's Athletic Club here. The bout which will be for ten rounds promises to be one of the most interesting ever held in Texas and already a number of out of town admirers of the manly art have put in their bids for invitations.

Bobby Waugh, the Texas lightweight, is known over the Southwest as one of the gamest and fastest fighters who has ever stepped into the squared circle in these parts. Harry Walsh, his Texas opponent, has won a multitude of admirers in several sections of the corner of seventh and fifth and got a scare this morning when an automobile bearing an Oklahoma license knocked an old man down. However, he was unhurt and refused assistance.

MARTIN'S SELZ ROYAL BLUE SHOE STORE

Give Your Children the Protection They Deserve

As a rule children don't grow about foot trouble, their fancy begins and ends with exterior appearance of shoes. The flexibility of their tender feet enables them to wear anything and with the wrong shoe a shoe salesman, after the money, may do permanent injury to a child's feet.

Here are children's shoes that meet the requirements of the most critical experts on feet.—Your attention particularly, please, to this Selz Waukenphast Jr., which is recognized as an absolutely perfect model for children. It's entirely sewed, not nailed, perfectly formed solid leather throughout, room for every toe, scientifically correct in construction and will positively protect a child's foot.

All leathers $1.75 to $3.50 for Children; $3.00 for Young Women

Contributions to the society columns are invited, phone 1671 or send to this office. Contributions must be in by 12 o'clock to appear in that day's issue. All contributions for the Sunday society page and the Social Calendar must be in by 12 o'clock Saturday morning.

From "October in Tennessee." Far, far away, beyond a hazy height The turquoise skies are hung in the dreamy sleep; Below the folds of cotton, fleecy white, Are spreading like a mighty flock of sheep.

Now, like Aladdin of the days of old, October robes the weeds in purple gowns; He sprinkles all the sterile fields with gold, And all the rustic trees were royal crowns.

The straggling fences all are interlaced With pink and purple morning glory blooms; The starchy asters glorify the waste, While grasses stand on guard with pikes and plumes.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

A cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health. If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

At all drug stores.
Beware of cheap imitations. Selz's Cardui is the only one in plain wrapper. B.O. 158

GRAHAM TEAM WILL PLAY HIGH SCHOOL TOMORROW

The Graham high school football team will meet the local opponents eleven tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 on the city park grounds. Graham has been one of the best teams of the season on the local grounds. The Graham team is said to be one of the strongest in West Texas, and it is coming with the expectation of taking the locals into camp.

The Wichitans have been practicing hard this week and are confident of victory. This is the fourth game of the season for the locals. They lost one to Henrietta on a fluke, defeated Burk Burnett and tied Electra on a muddy field last Saturday. Their lineup tomorrow will be as follows:

President's Bride To Be Not A Member Of The Smart Set

(Gilson Gardner in Dallas Dispatch.) Washington, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Norman Galt, soon to be Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, is settling an old score with Washington society. Her husband was "in trade," so Washington society did not take her in. The score has been settling up for nineteen years.

Before her marriage Edith Bolling of Myrtle, Va., did not know what it was to receive a social snub. The Bollings were "kin" to all the first families in Virginia, and Virginia's F. F.'s hold themselves superior to anything which superior wealth may have brought to the later social camera. But trade—retail, trade—ever, though in jewelry and even though the business had been established along with the constitution, has put its traditional barrier between the name of Galt. So Washington did not extend its arms.

What She Did. And not being a climbing or a pushing person, Edith Bolling Galt accepted the situation without bitterness and amused herself in other ways. She gave attention to the business of her husband; she traveled; she went about in a little shabby electric, which she drove herself, and in time formed a small circle of friends who were not of Washington's society.

So when the country was startled by the announcement that President Wilson would soon choose for first lady of the land a Washington widow, and everybody asked, "Who is this Mrs. Galt?" It was discovered that she was not of Washington's "cave dwellers" set; nor yet of the "smart set," nor yet of Mrs. Charlotte Hopkins' settlement house and associated charities set; nor of the Preston Wilson's theatrical and dancing set; nor the Chevy

Chas. John's golfing and tennis set; nor the two fishing and sport club set; nor the younger congressional set; nor the older congressional set; nor the set of the business men; nor the judiciary, nor the church, nor the high society, nor any other set. It was discovered that she was not a member of the board of St. Thomas Episcopal church, which furnished auspices for the Eye, Ear and Throat hospital; but since she had withdrawn her letter from St. Thomas and taken a leave of St. Margaret's, even this connection had probably lapsed. St. Margaret's had been slow in appreciating its social opportunity and the roster of its guilds and societies bears not the name of Galt.

So there you are! The president had picked for the greatest social honor Washington knows a person quite unknown to social Washington. He had elevated this "person" from "trade" to dispense the social honors of the nation.

Talk about the prince and the beggar girl! It isn't only in fiction that there is romantic drama.

ers. The bunch that wrecked a train and robbed the passengers, killing two or three Americans, were shouting for Carranza, and another bunch of Mexican raiders made it known that they were with Villa. If Carranza can't stop that sort of business it may yet lead to intervention on the part part of the United States.

If President Wilson's recommendations are to be accepted by congress which convenes in December, about one billion of good American dollars will be expended during the next six years on the navy and army. The President is to make his plans known for the expenditure of this vast amount of money in an address to be delivered on November 4th.

The boll weevil did great damage to cotton throughout this section of the State this year, and those who have studied the boll weevil say he will be here in greater numbers next year and will do greater damage to the cotton crop than was done this year. Viewing the matter in that light, it would seem that farmers would plant more wheat this fall and more other kinds of crops next spring, reducing still further instead of increasing the cotton acreage.

Our troubles on the Mexican border seem to be multiplying instead of growing less, and this too, right in the face of the fact that the Carranza government has received official recognition on the part of the United States. It appears also, that the Mexican bandits are about equally divided between Carranza and Villa sympathiz-

Pure, Healthful, Dependable Made from Cream of Tartar No Alum—No Phosphate

If that is done there is hardly a doubt but that the price of cotton will remain at about the figure it is now, and possibly go higher still. Wheat is now bringing above one dollar per bushel, and this is the fact of the fact that the largest crop in the history of the United States was produced. But there is a market at a good price for every bushel of it and the prospects now are that the price will go to about $1.50 per bushel before another crop is raised.

The anniversary of the surrender of the British forces under Lord Cornwallis to General George Washington at Yorktown, October, 1781 was elaborately celebrated at Yorktown Tuesday. That was a great victory over Great Britain and others have since been obtained, but British tyranny must still be taught another lesson, to wit: That it can no (with impunity) override American neutral rights in commerce by its outrageous expedient of issuing orders in council, setting at naught these rights as defined by international law. This country has achieved a substantial diplomatic victory over Germany in the assertion of these rights; the time has now come for Great Britain also to be made to respect them in their fullness.—Houston Post.

It occurs to just Americans that it is just about the right time now to call Great Britain down on her high-handedness in being so heedless of the rights of other nations. Uncle Sam stood firmly with Germany and won his point. He should not delay longer in insisting that Great Britain shall respect our rights as a nation or take the consequences.

THE OLIVES WE SELL.

In only one, little, isolated spot in the world, is the Queen Olive found. This territory lying adjacent to the town of Saville, Spain, is not more than 40 miles wide at its widest part and upon it rests the burden of providing all the Queen Olives consumed throughout Europe and America.

Firm, sound, selected fruit, picked by hand, at that period of its growth most essential to the perfection of its flavor is the first desideratum. The curing of the selected olive is a most delicate operation, its delightful properties do not appear under unskilled or hurried treatment.

This brief outline suggests the character of the olives we are selling under our own brand. They are most perfect forms of true olive culture, and in their uniformity, suavity, and blandness of flavor are prized by lovers of this delicious fruit from the sunny orchards of old Spain.

We have them in bottles containing just enough for a luncheon for two persons or enough for a banquet of one hundred persons. WE ROAST COFFEE EVERY DAY.

SERBIA IN GREAT DANGER OF BEING OVERWHELMED; TEUTONS GAIN IN BALKANS

BULGARIANS HAVE CUT RAILWAY FROM NISH TO SALONIKI

NO WORD RECEIVED AS TO OPERATIONS OF ANGLO-FRENCH FORCES—TEUTON ADVANCE ON MONTENEGRO RUMORED

GERMANS REINFORCED IN EAST

Expected to Resume Offensive On That Front—British Submarines Continue to Harass Shipping in the Baltic—Russians Help

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 20.—Latest reports from the near east indicate that Serbia is in deadly danger of being overwhelmed by the armies of her neighbors. No less than Bulgarian corps have crossed into Serbian territory.

The Austro-German forces are advancing slowly but steadily, their latest claim being that a junction has been effected to the west of Semendria. The railroad between Nish and Saloniki has been cut by the Bulgarians, sweeping over the frontier in superior numbers. No news has been received of the movement of the Anglo-French army, although it is known to have been in action as the arrival of French wounded at Saloniki has been reported.

Italy's declaration of war against Bulgaria increases the hope of her allies that she will join in the Balkan campaign but what form her assistance will take has not been indicated definitely. Russia, the first of the allied powers to present an ultimatum to Bulgaria, now finds herself alone in not having issued a formal declaration of war against her former protegee.

GERMANS TAKE OFFENSIVE. Along the eastern front activity is confined to the tips of the long battle line. The Germans are pressing their offensive in the northern area near Riga, while General Ivanoff claims several successes for his Russian army in Galicia.

Reports from the entente allies on the western front indicate that the Germans have been reinforced heavily and are showing a disposition to assume the offensive. Field Marshal French announces the complete repulse north of Loos of Germans who made an attack after heavy artillery preparation. Paris reports that east Rheims, the Germans made a fierce attack on a large scale, occupying several French trenches.

The illness of Premier Asquith has brought a lull in political activity and the crisis which many persons expected would develop in the cabinet this week is hardly likely to occur until the premier is able to appear in the House of Commons. At that time Sir Edward Carson may give a public explanation of his resignation of the attorney generalship.

British submarines now reported to have been reinforced by Russian craft continue to inflict severe losses on German shipping in the Baltic Sea. A Copenhagen newspaper asserts that eight steamships have been the prey of submarines since Monday.

TO MOVE ON MONTENEGRO. Turkish forces are to cooperate energetically with the Bulgarians in opposing the allied operations in the Balkans. Athens advises state. Turkish troops, it is reported, are being concentrated near Dedeaghat, Bulgaria, on the Aegean sea. The landing of an allied force at Enos was reported recently. Bulgarian troops are being concentrated on the frontiers of both Roumania and Greece, according to a Saloniki dispatch to Paris. Three divisions are being gathered near the Greek border, it is said.

Reports from German sources, received in London, indicate that a campaign against Montenegro by Austro-German forces is contemplated. 20,000 in fantrymen together with an artillery force have been sent from Galicia to Bosnia in preparation for an advance into Montenegro, it is reported.

PLEAS OF GUILTY BY 7 DEFENDANTS IN MOONSHINE CASE

SURPRISE IS SPRUNG TODAY IN TRIAL OF THE MEN WHO ARE CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO DEFAUD GOVERNMENT.

ONE CASE IS NOLLE PROSSED

Sentence Will Be Passed Upon the Accused Tomorrow—Charges Include Well-prepared Scheme to Evade the Payment of Whiskey Tax.

By Associated Press. Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 20.—Seven men on trial charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the manufacture of whiskey pleaded guilty in the United States district court here today. Sentence will be passed tomorrow. The case against Fred Howles of Fort Smith, the eighth defendant, was nolle prossed. The cases against the defendants went to trial yesterday and their action today was a surprise.

Those who entered pleas of guilty were: John L. Casper of Kansas City, alleged head of the conspiracy; Geo. Hartman and Charles Brewbaker of Kansas City, alleged employees of Casper; J. Henry Brown, of Harrison, Ark., formerly a government gauger; John Farrabee of Kansas City, said to have worked for Casper; S. L. Williams of Winston-Salem, N. C., former revenue agent, who resigned from the government service to enter business with Casper and John Kossey of Fort Worth.

The indictment under which the men were placed on trial yesterday contained 33 counts. It charged the defendants with carrying on a business of distilling from March, 1914 to April, 1915, at Fort Smith, with intent to defraud the United States government of the tax imposed on distilled spirits.

The defendants brought to trial in connection with the so-called moonshine conspiracy numbered over a score seven of them officials or former officials of the United States Internal revenue service. They were indicted by the federal grand jury last June.

The government authorities predict that out of the cases may grow a gigantic prosecution of many other men who, it is alleged, have swindled the government of the United States out of between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 during the last ten years.

The alleged head of the conspiracy is John L. Casper, an officer of the Rush Distilling Company of Kansas City, who with Guy L. Hartman of Kansas City and others are charged with maintaining an illicit distillery at Fort Smith and with shipping thousands of gallons of spurious whiskey, manufactured at the plant, to the plant, to the distilling company. The six revenue officers are named with other defendants in a blanket indictment for conspiracy and one of them, known to the public as the Tennessee revenue agent, is accused of accepting bribes from Casper and Hartman. Booth was formerly superintendent of the Tennessee revenue division and was removed from office after the issue of the warrant for his arrest. Government officers say he confessed and gave valuable information as to the working of the alleged conspiracy.

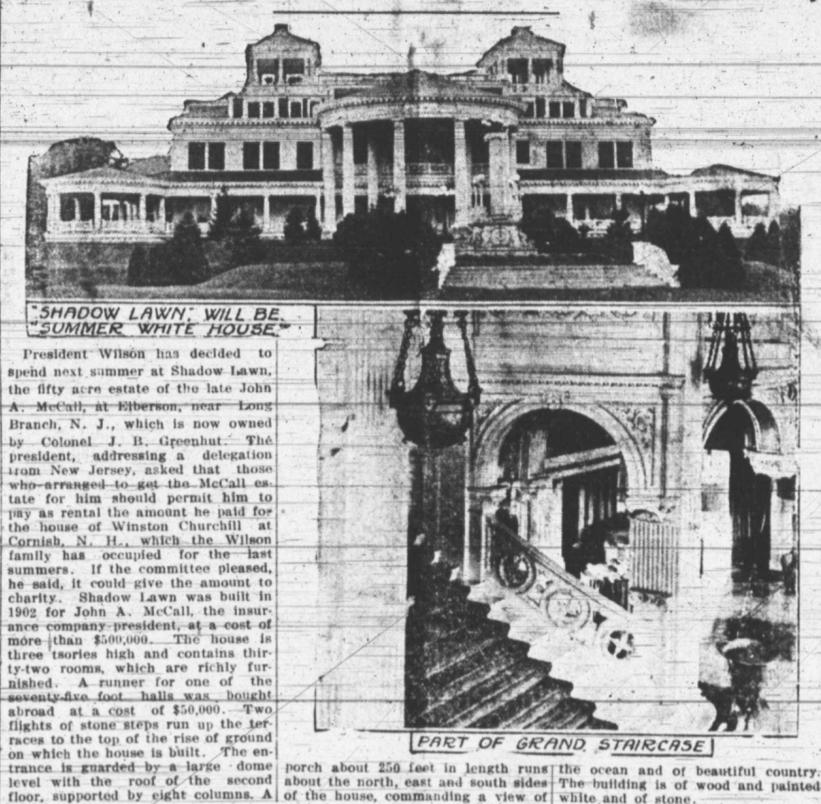

The other revenue men indicted were: James Surber, Atlanta, Ga., former superintendent of the Georgia revenue division; resigned shortly before his indictment; Thomas C. McCoy, Asheville, N. C., former revenue agent; resigned from service five years ago; S. L. Williams, Winston, Salem, N. C., former revenue agent; resigned several years ago and became associated with Casper in the distilling business; J. Henry Brown, Harrison, Ark., former government gauger; still in government service when arrested; Newton C. Spradling, Aurora, Mo., former gauger; resigned when arrested; J. W. Grider of Sonora, Ark., not in service when indicted.

Others indicted were: John Farrabee, George Hartman and Charles Brewbaker of Kansas City; C. M. Hawkins of Marion, N. C.; John Coffey, Fred Bowle and J. B. Thomas of Fort Smith; James Smith, Atlanta, Ga.; Henry Cummings, Wheeling, W. Va.; William Smith, Fort Smith; Leo F. Brock and M. B. Brock, Salesbury, Pa.; Ed P. Jarrett, Ernest Sumner and J. W. Grider, addresses unknown.

President Wilson's New Summer Home Palatial Mansion On The Coast Of New Jersey

SHADOW LAWN WILL BE SUMMER WHITE HOUSE

President Wilson has decided to spend next summer at Shadow Lawn, the fifty acre estate of the late John A. McCall, at Elberon, near Long Branch, N. J., which is now owned by Colonel J. B. Greenbut. The president, addressing a delegation from New Jersey, asked that those who arranged to get the McCall estate for him should permit him to pay as rental the amount he paid for the house of Winston Churchill at Cornish, N. H., which the Wilson family has occupied for the last summers. If the committee pleased, he said, it could give the amount to charity. Shadow Lawn was built in 1902 for John A. McCall, the insurance company president, at a cost of more than $500,000. The house is three stories high and contains thirty-two rooms, which are richly furnished. A runner for one of the seventy-five foot halls was bought abroad at a cost of $50,000. Two flights of stone steps run up the terraces to the top of the rise of ground on which the house is built. The entrance is guarded by a large dome porch about 250 feet in length runs about the north, east and south sides of the house, commanding a view of the ocean and of beautiful country. The building is of wood and painted white and of stone.

PART OF GRAND STAIRCASE

government was an insult of the Catholic church. "This message adds," said Carranza, "that they hold us responsible for the assassinations in the churches." The first chief smiled as he laid the sheet down, saying, "I will leave it to you how many I have killed. All the Catholics that have been punished have been punished because they have taken part in politics." Regarding his choice for an American ambassador he said he would welcome anyone the United States sent, but added that a man should be sent who was familiar with Mexico and her internal affairs.

RECONSTRUCTION WITHOUT DELAY IS CARRANZA'S PLAN

INTIMATES THAT HE WILL BE A CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT OF REPUBLIC—HEARS OF RECOGNITION ORDER

Denies Catholics' Charges. Says Only Those Politically Active Have Been Punished—Is Visited by Newspaper Men While on a Trip to Coahuila State

By Associated Press. Gomez Palacio, Coahuila, Mexico, Oct. 19, via Eagle Pass, Texas, Oct. 20.—First Chief Venustiano Carranza, touring northern Mexican states, was informed here today of his formal recognition as executive of the de facto government in Mexico, in a telegram from Eliseo Arredondo, his confidential agent in Washington.

The first chief outlined to the Associated Press correspondent his plans for reconstruction in Mexico, both physical and political. He denied the allegations of members of the Catholic church, that he had "sapped" the church. He said only those who received harm were they who had sought to do harm against the constitutionalists in politics. He would not say definitely whether he would become a candidate for the presidency of Mexico at the general election, but added inconclusively that "there was no law to prohibit me."

As to what title he would be recognized under by the United States, the first chief said he did not know. "I presume," he said, "that the title of 'in charge of the executive power of the republic' that I have been using will be the one used. However, I do not wish to be approved as president of the republic because so many men have been named president when they were not warranted in assuming that title."

General Carranza was talking in his private car with newspaper correspondents when he was asked if there was any reason why he should not become a candidate for the presidency. "I have not had the character of the presidency," he replied, "I have never been president; I have only been governor of Coahuila and the first chief of the constitutionalists army. Anyone may be a candidate; there is no law that prohibits me from being a candidate."

"Will you be a candidate?" he was asked. "I do not know, I might accept or I might not," he said. Carranza does not expect that any presidential election will be held immediately. However, he expressed his opinion that the reconstruction period would continue for a year, more or less.

Carranza lifted from his desk a telegram in which one of his agents told him that newspapers in the United States were quoting leaders of the Catholic party in Mexico as saying that recognition of the Carranza

NEW HAVEN'S FORMER PRESIDENT WITNESS

CHARLES S. MELLETT TAKES THE STAND AGAINST HIS RECENT COLLEAGUES

SKIRMISH LOST BY DEFENSE

Judge Holds That Statute of Limitations Does Not Apply in Offering Testimony

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 20.—Attorneys for the defense in the trial of the eleven directors, past and present, of the New Haven railroad, under the Sherman anti-trust law lost a legal battle today at the outset of the introduction of the government's first evidence in the case. They set up the statute of limitations against the consideration of evidence having to do with acts committed prior to 1912 until acts committed within the subsequent three year period were first placed before the jury.

Charles S. Mellett, former president of the New Haven, waiting to be called as a witness for the government, had a seat near several of the defendants, against whom he was to testify and by whom he was greeted with every evidence of cordiality when he entered the courtroom. Mr. Mellett took the stand at 2:50.

Arthur Clark, secretary of the New Haven was the first witness called, and the government began the introduction of documentary evidence. This had to do with the early history of the New Haven. Thomas Thatcher for the defense objected; he set up against his admission the statute of limitations. Judge Hunt, in overruling the objection said there were two questions for the jury to decide.

Judge Hunt then instructed counsel for the government to endeavor to establish the prima facie evidence of a conspiracy.

PROMISE PEACE IN MEXICO VERY SOON

CARRANZA REPRESENTATIVES SAY RECOGNITION MEANS END OF STRIFE

ARRERDONDO IS CONGRATULATED

Will Leave Shortly For Saltillo To See First Chief—Much Elation Among Mexicans

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 20.—Mexican revolutionary elements here friendly to General Carranza were today celebrating his recognition by the United States and other Latin American republics, as the chief executive of the de facto government in Mexico. It was the goal for which the various factions had striven for almost three years.

The first chief's friends here regard the action as a triumph of Pan-American policy. They claim that the recognition means the restoration of peace and normal conditions within the southern republic within a short time. Eliseo Arredondo, personal representative of General Carranza was preparing today to leave for Saltillo, Mexico where he will personally convey to General Carranza letters of recognition from the government of the United States and the south and central American republics. He expects to depart within the next 24 hours.

Congratulations were being received by Mr. Arredondo at the Mexican embassy over the extension of recognition. A number of diplomats called in person, while many congratulatory telegrams were received.

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 20.—Dr. W. B. Collins, state health officer here today, announced that he had established a quarantine along the Texas border to keep infectious diseases out of the state. From this source more than forty Mexican bandits, the people of Texas are liable to suffer. This is especially true because of the large number of Mexicans crossing the Rio Grande; following the defeat at Villa and the triumph of Carranza.

The president signed a supplemental order which excepts General Carranza's government from the embargo and permits munitions to go through to him unhampered. The prohibition applies to the factions opposed to the government which the United States has recognized.

The president's proclamation is based upon the authority conferred by Congress in 1912 and follows closely the terms of President Taft's proclamation and issued when the revolution was on against Madero.

PROSECUTOR TELLS OF NEW HAVEN DEALS

New York, Oct. 19.—The statement of what the government expects to prove in its anti-trust suit against William Rockefeller and other present and former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad was continued today by the jury Monday by Mr. Batts' special presentation of the government's case yesterday.

The alleged unlawful methods by which the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company is charged with having secured a monopolistic grip on the traffic of New England were set forth to the jury Monday by Mr. Batts' special presentation of the government's case yesterday.

These were some of the acts alleged by the federal district attorney as having been committed by New Haven. Mr. Batts emphasized that had the New Haven combination been attained in the natural and legitimate growth of business it might not necessarily have come within the scope of monopolistic corporations which the Sherman law was intended to reach.

All these offenses, the attorney outlined in a general way and then, using a map showing the ten principal New England railroads that operated independently in 1890, traced one by one the history of their acquisition.

William Rockefeller he accused of having with other directors now dead, secretly instituted a suit which forced one of these roads, the New York & New England into a foreclosure. J. P. Morgan & Co., he said, was used as a means of concealing the ownership of stock of the Old Colony Steamboat Company at a time when the New Haven attempt to acquire it was being inquired into by the Massachusetts authorities.

The Morgan firm gave a note for the stock that bore no interest, he said, and kept it in their possession long enough for the president of the Old Colony railroad, then a subsidiary of the New Haven, to say that the railroad did not own it.

REAL KIND HEARTED THIEF RETURNS PART OF HIS LOOT

There is probably some mitigation in the taking of money from a drunk man when the man who takes it comes around the next morning and gives the morning after defendant enough money to pay his fine and go to the show besides. This is what a defendant in the city court this morning experienced. He said, when he got up he had a few dollars in his pocket. He went to his room pulled off his shoes and lay down on the bed. He kept his money, something over twenty dollars in his sock. After while he felt some one pulling at his sock and saw a man whose acquaintance he had formed taking his money. The purport of the action did not dawn on him until the man and the police got him for intoxication. This morning, he said, the man came and handed him $12 of the money through the cell door. Under the circumstances he was so thankful that he would not file a complaint against the man.

Yesterday a defendant in the city court said he felt himself becoming intoxicated and started for his room. When he got to the hall of his rooming house a young man caught him, he said, and held him, and went through his pockets taking his money. He said he started out to find the man and while looking for him was taken up by the officers.

SUFFRAGE BEFORE NEW JERSEY VOTERS

ELECTION ON CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT IS BEING HELD TODAY

Newark, N. J., Oct. 19.—The fight for woman's suffrage in New Jersey was on today. The polls opened at 9 to remain until 9 tonight but voting on the constitutional amendment to give women the ballot will end at 7 p. m. Counting the vote begins at 9.

Women watchers took their places at practically every polling place in New Jersey today. Scores of young women in automobiles went through every section of this city to bring voters to the polls.

The election is on a proposed amendment to the state constitution, which if adopted, will give the franchise to all women over 21 years of age who have resided in the state five years. The New Jersey fight is the first of four to be decided in the Eastern suffrage theatre. Voters in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania will not pass upon the matter until the next regular election on Nov. 2.

In New Jersey, however, the issue is to be fought out in a special election, the sole question coming before the electorate, being the adoption of the amendment and two others of minor importance.

Party lines have been swept aside. The entire four months' campaign has been waged virtually by the proponents of suffrage with little rivalry, but in the face of quiet and organized opposition.

Both sides claimed victory last night. The Woman's Political Union and the New Jersey State Suffrage Association, in co-operation and aided by the National Suffrage Association, have conducted a tireless campaign sending their four flying squadrons into almost every section of the state.

Suffrage workers are still jubilant over President Wilson's declaration in favor of the cause and believe that his stand will contribute more than any other single cause to the expected victory.

Six of the New Jersey's 21 counties, it is thought, will virtually decide the issue. These are Hudson, Essex, Bergen, Passaic, Union and Mercer counties, in which Trenton, the capital, is located, will also have a big voice in deciding the issue. This is the county in which President Wilson will cast his vote for the amendment.

NAMES OF STREETS IN PARIS CHANGED IF FROM GERMANY

Proposal to Name Thoroughfares After Live Heroes, However, Is Not Favored.

Paris, Oct. 19.—The disappearance of Berlin and Germany as street names in Paris has not satisfied patriots. They continue to insist that names that all street names of German origin, even those of Wagner, Gluck, Beethoven and Mozart, give way to names commemorating heroes or heroic deeds of the war.

Every proposition for the changing of a street name is referred to a committee of the municipal council. Monsieur Ernest Gay, secretary of the committee, explains that the delay in action on different propositions is not altogether due to a reluctance to proposed changes, but to the necessity of deliberation in the choice of new names. Numerous are the names that must be changed. They are for ostentatious by the heroes that must be honored.

Heroes and celebrities of other days, like Turpin and Hugo whose names are given to streets, avenues, boulevards and squares may also find their honors encroached upon after the war in order to give a place to those who have distinguished themselves in the great European conflict.

French law and custom both are opposed to the choice of the name of a celebrity living or too recent to lead for a street or a public place. Consequently the war will have been several years a thing of the past before the new nomenclature has been finished. It occasionally happens that a municipality allows the enthusiasm of the moment to get the better of custom in this respect. A parliamentary commission making a tour of the fortified towns of Eastern France were astonished to see the name of Arleide Briand at the corner of a village street.

Mr. Sampson says the people of the Brownsville section do not believe the recognition of the Carranza government will bring about a settlement of the Mexican trouble. The Carranza authorities, he says, appear disinclined to prevent raids from the Mexican side into American territory or else are inefficient.

CROWN PRINCE OF BULGARIA IS INTERESTING CHARACTER

Reported to Be Engaged to the Eldest Daughter of Russian Czar—Has Often Visited Petrograd

Sofia, Oct. 19.—The announcement that Prince Boris, the Crown Prince of Bulgaria, will be commander in chief of the Bulgarian army, recalls the love affair between him and the Russian Emperor's eldest daughter, the Princess Olga. The engagement has been announced by the papers on two occasions and, while not officially confirmed, his visits to the czar have given color to the romance. He knows Petrograd better than any city outside his own country and prefers it to any other foreign city.

Prince Boris is only 21 years old and is the eldest of four children by King Ferdinand's first wife, the Princess Marie Louise of Parma. While King Ferdinand remains a Roman Catholic, Prince Boris is a Greek Catholic. The prince's conversion which took place at the early age of two years, was a condition demanded by Russia in return for Russian recognition of Ferdinand as king.

by rough men of the moonshine type to uncover the still where it is alleged the illicit liquor was made. They found it standing boldly on one of Fort Smith's streets—a dilapidated old building, as innocent looking as some deserted Arkansas farm house. But inside, machinery modern to the minute, the government, alleges manufactured Six Year Old Kentucky Bourbon, Fine Old Private Stock and Seven Year Old Rye from pure alcohol in fifty hours, the sparkle and blend being given by means of chemicals. With the aid of attractive labels, the government alleges, the conspirators sold their products through agents in Kansas City to the southwestern retail trade.

The Fort Smith plant once was a legal distillery. In March, 1914, however, its owners advised the revenue department at Washington of their intention to cease business. The government immediately withdrew its official gauger and sealed the doors of the plant, the machinery was soon broken, the old machinery removed and new machinery set up.

In investigating the case, government men quickly covered Missouri, Arkansas, Georgia, North Carolina and Tennessee and picked up clues here and there, which finally resulted in the seizure of the distillery. Among the discoveries they made was that the plant was connected with a large sewer, with outlets so arranged that the contents of its eight ten thousand gallon tubs could be discharged into the Arkansas river within a few minutes.

Six indictments in all were handed down, the first charging Casper, Hartman, Brewbaker, Williams, and other defendants with intent to defraud the United States of the tax imposed on distilled spirits and with having in their possession cancelled revenue stamps.

Casper in the second indictment is charged with having bought a bridge of $1,900 in connection with the removal of 25,000 gallons of whiskey from the distillery without payment of the internal revenue tax. This offense is alleged to have occurred when the place was still a legal distillery. The third indictment charges Booth with accepting the bribe and also one of $500 from Guy L. Hartman.

The fourth is a blanket bill charging conspiracy against the six revenue officers, the two Hartmans, Casper, Brewbaker and others. It describes purchases of supplies alleged to have been used in distilling, mentioning the names of many Fort Smith firms having held the products. The fifth charges Casper with 2,000 gallons of water to Guy L. Hartman. It is charged, for use in the plant. In this indictment, also is specified the alleged shipments of whiskey to the Russ Distilling Company and alleged fraudulent marking of liquor to indicate that it had been inspected by Brown.

The fifth charges Casper and Guy L. Hartman with the illegal rectification of distilled spirits.

The sixth covers operations by the M. B. Brock Distillery in Fort Smith—a separate concern from the Brewbaker distillery. It alleges violations of a date much earlier than those charged against the Brewbaker plant, but names, together with M. B. Brock, several of the same alleged conspirators.

TELLS WHY CHINA BECAME REPUBLIC

FORMER MINISTER TO UNITED STATES GIVES EXPLANATION OF CHANGE.

No One in Line For Crown, He Says. Wu Ting-fang Expected to Live To Age of 150.

Shanghai, Oct. 20.—Dr. Wu Ting-fang, the former Chinese minister to the United States, although he plans to live to be 150 years old, now considers himself out of public life, and for the next seventy-five years will be just an onlooker, regardless whether the Chinese Republic is turned back into an Empire.

"The folks up at Peking are running things. They haven't asked my advice and they probably wouldn't act on it if I gave it," said Dr. Wu Ting-fang, when asked for his comments on the monarchical movement.

"In my recent book on America I told what I thought about the American government, the Chinese government and governments in general. I couldn't say any more than I said in that book and I haven't changed my mind since I wrote it," the venerable diplomat continued.

Dr. Wu's book called, "America Through the Spectacles of an Oriental Diplomat," contains a chapter reviewing monarchical and republican forms of government in detail. He says: "It may be pertinently asked why China has become a republic, since from time immemorial she has had a monarchical form of government. The answer is that the conditions and circumstances in China are peculiar, and are different from those prevailing in Japan and other countries. Japan it is claimed that the empire was founded by the first emperor, Jimmu Tenno, 660 B. C., and that the dynasty founded by him has continued ever since. It is well known that the Chinese imperial family is of Manchu origin. The Ching dynasty was founded in 1644 by conquest, not by succession. Upon the recent overthrow of the Manchu dynasty it was found very difficult to find a Chinese, however popular and able, who possessed the legal right of succeeding to the throne. Jealousy and provincial feelings played this suggestion absolutely beyond discussion. Disagreements, frictions, and constant civil wars would have ensued if any attempt had been made to establish a Chinese dynasty. Another fact is that a large majority of the intelligent people of China were disgusted with the system of monarchical government. Thus it will be seen that for the sake of the peace and welfare of the nation there was no other course for the people but to take a long jump and to establish the present republic. The law of evolution has been very actively at work in China, and so doubt it will be for her ultimate good, and therefore for the benefit of all mankind. China is now an infant republic, but she will grow into a healthy and strong youth."

The home of Dr. Wu is a modern granite house, located in a large walled garden, rich in palms and luxuriant tropical flowers. At the side gate a tall Sikh, wearing a red turban, greets visitors and bids the drivers to proceed along the gravelled road leading to the port-cochere banked with potted plants of various colors. The entrance leads into a wide hall. At one side of this is Dr. Wu's study at the other a large drawing room furnished in beautiful blackwood pieces of Chinese designs, and with white walls relieved by silk banners bearing quotations from the Chinese classics. In the center of the room is a great round table of blackwood with mottled marble top. Dr. Wu and The Associated Press correspondents were sitting drinking tea while the statesman discussed his future plans.

"I shall devote the rest of my life to literary work. I have just finished a book on the history of the national subjects. I am much interested in a better system of schools for my country. "You still cling to your vegetarian principles?" "Oh, yes. I have found the secret of health. No liquor nor tobacco for me, and no meat. Gas learns how to live sanely as one advances in years. "And you plan to make Shanghai your permanent home?" "Oh, yes, at least for the present. I am happier here than anywhere else. After my long years abroad I returned to Peking still with enthusiasm and new ideas which I desire to see put in effect in China. But I found the atmosphere of Peking too conservative. The officials there lived too much out of the world currents, and were too unwilling to consider new ideas. I chose Shanghai as my present home because it is so cosmopolitan. There are people here from all over the world and from all over China. It is a busy commercial center, a clearing house for modern thought. I find inspiration here and I am happy in watching China work out government under which she will be able to develop her limitless resources."

MEXICAN BANDITS WRECK TRAIN, KILL THREE AND ROB MANY PASSENGERS

STATE OFFICIAL IS AMONG VICTIMS OF NEW BORDER RAID

ST. LOUIS, BROWNSVILLE AND MEXICO TRAINS DERAILED AND BANDITS GO THROUGH PASSENGERS

One Soldier and Engineer Also Slain—Bandits Believed to Be Members of De La Rosa Gang—Officers and Troops Making Search Today

Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 19.—Twenty Mexicans who claim to be followers of the self-styled revolutionists and who were believed to come from the Mexican side of the river last night staged the most spectacular and bloodiest train robbery in many years in the Southwest at Olmito, seven miles north of here.

Of the three victims of the robbery, one is Dr. E. S. McCain, deputy state health officer at Brownsville, and for more than six years state quarantine officer. He was shot in the abdomen while hiding in the toilet on the train, a bandit firing at him through the door. He died at 1:25 this afternoon. The dead—

Dr. E. S. McCain, Brownsville. Corporal McBEE of Third United States Cavalry.

H. H. KENDALL, engineer, pinned beneath his engine.

It was reported here this afternoon that two Mexicans suspected of being implicated in the wreck, murder and robbery were being held near the health officer at Brownsville. Eight others were arrested and examined; four were released and four brought here and lodged in the county jail.

The train was that of the St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico Railway.

The injured are Harry J. Wallis of Brownsville, shot in the arm. Woodhull, fireman, scalded and bruised. Captain J. Brishaw of Troop A, Sixth Cavalry, shot in the jaw; C. H. Layman of Troop D, Third Cavalry, shot in the neck and leg.

REMOVE SPIKES FROM TRACK.

This robbery was the boldest piece of work by bandits since their raids began three months ago. Proximity of the holdup to a river crossing close to Matamoros caused Americans here to question the good faith or the efficiency of the new Carranza military administration.

Chemists Find Substitutes For Fertilizers Formerly Imported and Farms Yield Heavily

Berlin, Oct. 19.—German farmers will continue to feed the country without the aid of overseas imports, in the opinion of Prof. Gerlach, an authority in agricultural chemistry. Speaking before the German agricultural society at its yearly meeting at Berlin he gave details showing that until 1914 and 1915 the yield of crops was increased by using phosphate of ammonia and cyanamide, a combination of atmospheric nitrogen with calcium as fertilizers.

BURNED FRESTLE STOPS TROOPS

After the robbery the Mexicans burned a trestle north of them, which prevented prompt arrival of United States soldiers from San Benito to take up pursuit of the bandits. These troops had to leave their train and hike to the track to reach the wrecked train. The robbery was conducted by five or six Mexican bandits, clad in khaki uniforms and with cheap straw hats, while outside the train some fifteen or twenty more Mexicans kept up a constant fire apparently shooting either over or beneath the train.

John W. Sword of Pineville, Ky., a discharged United States soldier said that he and three soldiers occupied a corner seat in the front end of the smoking car. Others of them McBee, Brishaw and Layman were in uniform but Sword was not. He said there was a lurch and the four men pitched forward as the train came to a stop. He noticed five or six Mexicans crowding into the rear end of the coach next to the first class day coach. The Mexicans came forward with guns drawn and firing. The first firing was directed at the United States army uniforms worn by Sword's companions. McCain and Wallis managed to hide in the toilet, without being observed by the bandits. Kleiber fell as if shot, while Wright and Sauer hid under the seats.

MEXICANS NOT MOLESTED.

Sword said the bandits then announced to the several Mexicans in the coach that they need not fear that they would not be harmed. In the smoking compartment, in addition to Sword and the three soldiers, were Dr. McCain, Wallis, District Attorney Jno. I. Kleiber of Brownsville, R. Wright a traveling man Houston and E. Sauer, a traveling man of San Antonio. There were also several Mexicans, as it is customary for Mexican women and children to ride in both the smoker and the day coaches.

In the meantime Sword sat quiet but took $90 in bills from his pocket and hid the money under his seat. The bandits came up and asked him if he had any more. He said, "sure" reached in his trousers pocket and fished out 40 cents, saying "take that and bust yourselves." He then stood up, told the Mexican near him a woman was badly frightened in the other coach and he must attend to her. He brushed aside a bandit's arm, proceeded into the first class coach and passed through without being stopped. Dropping off the rear end, he ran three miles to a telephone.

IS SHOT THROUGH DOOR.

Sword said that just before he left the coach a well dressed young Mexican, apparently badly frightened, told the bandits there were two "gringos" in the toilet. These were Dr. McCain and Wallis. Wright, who had hidden under a seat and between the two feet of two Mexican women, said the bandits knocked on the door and commanded the two men to come out. McCain and Wallis refused, whereupon the Mexican fired through the door hitting McCain in the abdomen and wounding Wallis twice.

San Benito is the next station north of Olmito and has had much Mexican trouble.

Sauer, the San Antonio traveler, was relieved of $35 in cash, but the Mexicans refused a dollar watch.

TAKE CASH AND JEWELRY.

The bandits stole the shoes from the dead soldier. McBee and they also stole the shoes from two live and unguarded negroes on the train. During the smoking car shooting passengers in the day coach either crawled under seats or sheltered themselves in some way from the wild firing by the bandits outside the train. The bandits robbed the day coach passengers, getting small amounts of money and jewelry. Mr. and Mrs. Finkelstein of Houston reported Mrs. Finkelstein lost a diamond ring and $50 in cash. She saved one diamond ring by the simple expedient of turning one stone around toward the palm of her hand. The robbery occurred about midnight with the train running 35 miles an hour. The mail and express clerks were not molested.

Five oil well drillers camped about 1000 feet from the scene of the holdup kept up close, but seeing that they were outnumbered they remained in hiding until the Mexicans left. The United States soldiers and county officers today searched the Mexican village on the American side of Villa Buena, five miles from Brownsville, where it was believed the bandits had hidden.

Wallis today said he recognized De La Rosa, with whom he is acquainted, as one of the bandits. Colonel Blockson says he does not believe the bandits came from the Mexican side of the river as he received no report to indicate crossings last night. Sheriff Vann, however, said he thought the bandits came from the Mexican side.

GERMANY HAS ENOUGH FOOD DESPITE ENGLISH BLOCKADE

Chemists Find Substitutes For Fertilizers Formerly Imported and Farms Yield Heavily

Berlin, Oct. 19.—German farmers will continue to feed the country without the aid of overseas imports, in the opinion of Prof. Gerlach, an authority in agricultural chemistry. Speaking before the German agricultural society at its yearly meeting at Berlin he gave details showing that until 1914 and 1915 the yield of crops was increased by using phosphate of ammonia and cyanamide, a combination of atmospheric nitrogen with calcium as fertilizers.

Prof. Gerlach regards the new industry of extracting nitrogen from the atmosphere as of great promise for the future of Germany. He said that the factories for its recovery, mostly begun since the outbreak of the war, are now finished or nearing completion, and that when they are all in operation they will produce yearly an equivalent of 120,000 tons of pure nitrogen or already considerably more than half of what was formerly imported. A considerable proportion of this is now being used by the military authorities for making ammunition but will after the war be available for fertilizing purposes.

Pending the increase of the output till all kinds of crops can be fertilized with cyanamide, Prof. Gerlach advises that it be used mainly for increasing the grain yield; potatoes, Germany can do very well without a fertilizer, as is proved by the splendid crop of this year.

MUD HOLES NO OBSTACLE TO BIG CIRCUS TEAMS

Mud holes into which the heavy wagons sunk up to the hub formed no obstacles for Ringling's teams and teamsters this morning. There was one bad hole just before the show grounds were reached. Wagons carrying many tons of tent poles, seats and other equipment were dragged through this hole with ease. Eighteen to a dozen and sometimes twenty and more teams were hitched onto the wagons. Without the crack of a whip or a loudly spoken word the big dappled gray teams would lay against their collars and pull the huge wagons through the mud without checking.

The horses some of which have been in the circus for more than fifteen years appeared to know exactly what was expected of them and wheeled into their places without scarcely the pull of the lines.

Scene At Taylor Family Reunion At Holiday Celebrating Fiftieth Anniversary Of Wedding

Three Front Kneeling (left to right)— Mildred Hawley, John Merritt Hawley, Marguerite Hawley. Next row, (left to right)—Mrs. Tula Hawley, Jas. M. Taylor, Mrs. Jas. M. Taylor, Mrs. W. D. Yeager, Mrs. W. H. Taylor and infant son. Last Row, Standing (left to right)—J. M. Hawley and infant daughter, Catherine, Mrs. Mattie Chiles, Mrs. C. W. Taylor, Miss Bertina Taylor, Mrs. Virginia Huggins, Mrs. W. H. Huggins, Mrs. W. H. Taylor and Mrs. Jennette Calvert.

Above is a picture of the family reunion group taken when Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and in a covered wagon with a made team started west. They stopped at Wyandotte, were incorporated into Kansas City, Kansas in 1869.

In October, 1874 they left Kansas for Texas, making the trip overland in a covered wagon and arrived at Salado, Bell county, Texas the latter part of that year. In 1875 Walter Sterling Taylor was born to Mr. and Mrs. Taylor at Salado, Texas and died of spinal meningitis at the age of fourteen months. He is the only one of the seven children, three boys and four girls, born to them who is not now living.

In 1891 Mr. and Mrs. Taylor moved from Bell county to Holliday, Archer county, Texas. Their car of household goods was the first car of outside freight moved over the Wichita Valley railway.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are strong on education and gave each of their children as high collegiate equipment for the world as their then limited means would permit. All the children have attended college and some of them are college graduates. They have one of the largest and most complete libraries in the State and all modern musical instruments.

James Madison Taylor is in his 86th year and is hale and hearty. He does not know the taste of liquor and has not used tobacco in over 40 years. He is in full possession of his physical and mental faculties. He cultivates unassisted three acres of orchard and garden and still has time to attend to a bunch of fine milch cows and to keep up a beautiful yard in flowers and shrubbery as the back ground of the family group taken in front of his home will show.

Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, his wife, is in her 76th year. She is a remarkably intelligent woman and though she has suffered for years with rheumatism, is as interested in life and the progress of the world as when a girl. Both have been devout and consistent Methodists since childhood.

The children are: Mrs. M. E. Chiles, widow of W. T. Chiles, who at the time of his death was cashier of the First State Bank of Holliday; no children.

W. H. Taylor, prominent stockman and merchant of Holliday, wife and infant son.

C. M. Taylor, single, known throughout commercial oil refining circles of the South and now connected officially with one of the strongest independent oil refineries of the State.

Mrs. Virginia Huggins, wife of W. H. Huggins, assistant cashier of the Wagoner National Bank, Vernon; no children.

Miss Bertina Taylor of Holliday. Mrs. Tula Hawley, wife of J. M. Hawley, merchant and stock farmer; four children, one boy and three girls.

Among the friends present were: Mrs. W. D. Yeager, sister of Mrs. Jas. M. Taylor, Bonham, Texas; Mrs. Jeanette Calvert, Archer City, D. B. Read of Florida.

PLOWING UNDER WEEVIL INFESTED PLANTS IS URGED

Federal Department of Agriculture Issues Bulletin to the Farmers in Northwest Texas.

The prevalence of the cotton boll weevil pest in Northwest Texas has come to the attention of the U. S. department of agriculture, which is urging the farmers to pick their cotton at once and to destroy the plants. A bulletin issued by the department follows:

The unusual storms of August and the very rapid multiplication of the boll weevil in Texas have resulted in a tremendous movement into Northwest Texas and Oklahoma. This movement is probably not yet completed, nor has it been entirely mapped out. The indications are that over half of the State or Oklahoma is now infested. Information has just been received that the boll weevil is at Vernon in Wilbarger county Texas and at Cuche in Comanche county and Minco in the extreme northern part of Grady county, Oklahoma. Unless immediate measures are taken by the planters throughout Oklahoma and Northwestern Texas it can be expected that the boll weevil will do some damage next year.

The bureau of entomology advises that the planters throughout Oklahoma and the supposedly infested sections of Texas begin immediately to pick their cotton and destroy the plants. By destroying the plants the developing weevils will be killed. Two methods of destruction are available. If the plants can be plowed under to four or five inches this is the most desirable method of procedure, otherwise they should be stacked in windrows and burned as soon as dry.

After destroying the plants preparation should be made for a winter cover crop and for a rotation of crops next year.

The weevil has maintained its position in Arkansas and has probably extended its area a little farther north in the western portions. The entire State of Mississippi is infested and the weevil is now known to be in McNairy and Hardin counties, Tennessee. Tennessee planters along the entire southern borders should take the same precautions that have been recommended to Oklahoma planters.

"Probably only four or five counties in the mountainous sections of Northeastern Alabama will escape infestation by the boll weevil this year. Over thirty counties in Western Georgia are already known to be infested and there is no doubt but that five more will be reported soon. Planters in Georgia and Alabama whether in infested counties or not, should take immediate measures to destroy the cotton stalks and prepare the fields for winter cover crops."

DISCRIMINATION ALLEGED IN SUIT AGAINST RAILROAD

From Monday's Daily. The suit of J. E. Frazier against the Fort Worth & Denver railroad is on trial before a jury in the 78th district court today. Frazier who is a resident of Vernon is asking $1500 in penalties against the railroad for being discriminated.

In his petition he alleged he drove down from Vernon in his automobile on the night of June 5th, 1915 during the flood season and bought a ticket to Fort Worth. The ticket agent, he said, told him that the train was several hours late but assured him that it would go through to Fort Worth that morning. On this representation he remained in Wichita Falls and that his wife and daughter returned to Vernon in the automobile.

On the day following service being suspended between Wichita Falls and Fort Worth over the Denver a train was made up here and run to Fort Worth via the Wichita Valley and the Texas & Pacific. Other passengers were carried through, the plaintiff alleged, but he was refused transportation on this train, and was told that he would have to buy a ticket to Fort Worth, at a cost greater than the ticket he had already bought to Fort Worth from Wichita Falls. On the second day he was also refused passage on the train by way of Abilene and the Texas & Pacific but on the third day he was taken. He asks $500 penalties for each of the two days he was refused passage on this train and $500 penalty for requirement of the railway company that he exchange his ticket for another at a higher cost.

Judge Nicholson overruled the defendant's demurrers and the selection of a jury was begun this morning. The plaintiff is represented by Judge C. B. Felder, Judge J. T. Montgomery is representing the defendant.

BAG 22 DUCKS TODAY; SHOOTING REPORTED GOOD

F. P. St. Clair was in town this morning exhibiting a string of 22 ducks which he and his son Earl had killed in half an hour's time at Lake Wichita this morning. Mr. St. Clair reports that smaller ducks and some geese are coming into the lake now. Today's shooting was the best since the season opened.

MAN WHO LAID OUT ABILENE TRAIL, DEAD TO BE AMBASSADOR

JOSEPH MCCOY, SURVEYOR OF TEXAS-KANSAS CATTLE TRAIL PASSES ON

By Associated Press. Kansas City, Oct. 19.—Joseph G. McCoy who laid out the famous cattle trail from Texas to Abilene, Kansas died here today after two months illness.

Joseph G. McCoy promoted and laid out the famous cattle trail leading from the great plains of Texas to Abilene—a station on the Union Pacific railroad—in Kansas, over which during the decade following 1867, upwards of ten million head of cattle, valued at $150,000,000 were driven. He was a neighbor of Abraham Lincoln in early life, having been born at Springfield, Ill., December 20, 1837.

Engaging in the drover business, McCoy in the middle sixties, found it difficult to secure supplies of beef cattle and he finally made a trip through the middle-west in an effort to solve the problem. In Texas he found vast herds, but no means of transportation. The nearest railroad was Sedalia, Mo., and water rates on livestock were prohibitive. He made the situation, McCoy remarked, half jokingly to an acquaintance, "Why not make a summer drive up to that new line in Kansas?" The suggestion raised a laugh among the cattlemen.

Idea Taken as Joke. Clinging to his idea, McCoy returned east and attempted to interest the president of the Union Pacific, but was told that his scheme was impracticable. He then went to the manager of the Sedalia line, whose office he was asked to leave when his project became known.

Nothing daunted, McCoy went out on the line of the Union Pacific then nearing completion, and selected Abilene as the northern terminus of the long trail he selected to establish. The railroad refusing to act, he built stockyards capable of holding 5,000 head of cattle and erected such crude buildings as he thought would be needed.

At the head of a party of surveyors, he proceeded to lay out and mark the trail, leading south from Abilene across the prairies of Kansas, the then Indiana Territory, the Texas Panhandle and into the center of the state—a distance of nearly 1,900 miles. On the cattle plains, he and his agents rode from ranch to ranch in an effort to induce the owners to try the experiment of sending their herds north. During 1867 the first of the great migrations took place, 3,000 head reaching Abilene and being shipped thence to the eastward.

McCoy's compensation came from a small commission, which the railroad finally agreed to allow him on each car of cattle shipped, an arrangement which endured but a very short time.

Abilene's First Mayor. Following 1867 and pending the building of railroads into the cattle country, the greatest movement of livestock ever known in history took place over the McCoy trail.

McCoy engaged in business at Abilene and became the first mayor of the town, which was noted for its turbulence. One of his official acts was the appointment of Wild Bill Hickox to the position of marshal. Hickox, renowned as a lawbreaker, is said to have killed 45 men at Abilene in efforts to establish order.

McCoy continued in the cattle business almost to the end of his life, his interests being centered at Wichita, Kansas for many years.

NOTICES ARE BEING POSTED FOR COURT HOUSE ELECTION

Official Posters Are Being Placed This Week—Voting Places and Officers Named.

The sheriff's department is posting notices this week for the court house bond election on November 29th. Notices must be posted at each voting place and officers who will preside at the election, the regular election officers having been named to hold the election.

As stated on the official notice the question to be voted on is: "Shall the commissioners' court of the county of Wichita of the State of Texas be authorized to issue bonds of said county in the sum of $225,000 payable forty years after date, with the option of redeeming same at any time after ten years from date, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum payable semi-annually on the tenth of April and the tenth of October and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interests on said bonds and create a sinking fund sufficient to redeem them at maturity, for the purpose of building and equipping a court house."

Large Drill in Small Press. Drilling a hole larger than the maximum capacity of a small drill press can be done by turning down the shank of the drill to a size that will fit the chuck. The hole should first be drilled a size smaller than is desired; then the large drill used. This step is necessary because the speed of the average small press is too fast for a large drill.—World's Advance.

ARRONDONO GETS NOTE FROM LANSING THAT REPESENTATIVE WILL BE RECEIVED

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 19.—Formal recognition by the United States of the de facto government of Mexico with Carranza as chief executive, was accomplished at noon today by the delivery to Gen. Carranza's representative, Eliseo Arredondo, of the Mexican embassy, of a letter from Secretary Lansing. Recognition letters from the Pan American conferees also were received by Mr. Arredondo. The letter from Lansing was sent by messenger.

Later Mr. Arredondo was invited to the state department for a general conference with Lansing on Mexican affairs. Tomorrow Arredondo will start for Saltillo, Mexico, to meet Carranza and present him the letters and notes of recognition.

Others Expected to Follow. Recognition by other nations than those in the Pan American conference is expected soon. Great Britain probably will be one of the first. The British charge at Mexico City now is in New York. He will communicate to the British foreign office the United States action and British recognition is expected through him.

Although no final decision has been reached as to the appointment of an American ambassador to Mexico, the most likely choice is Henry K. Fletcher, at present ambassador to Chile. He has had long experience in Latin American countries. Although a republican he was promoted from minister to ambassador by Wilson.

Embargo is Probable. Lansing's letter says the president takes pleasure in informing Mr. Arredondo that the United States recognizes the de facto government of Mexico as soon as one can be sent to Washington. The question of an embargo on war munitions is now under consideration by the state department. It was intimated, the proper procedure will be adoption of a complete embargo. Afterward permits will be granted for shipments to the de facto government. American Red Cross work may be renewed at any time.

Foreign claims against Mexico for property damage and loss of life will come up later.

KENTUCKY COLONELS WILL HAVE DAY AT STATE FAIR

Natives of Blue-Grass State Are Expected to Gather in Salina on October the 28th.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 19.—One day last Jan. Colonel Epps G. Knight, a leading member of the Council of Churches of Dallas, was hesitating to a noonday luncheon of the Council at the Southland Hotel. It so happened that a number of former Kentuckians had also arranged for a luncheon at the Southland to celebrate the one hundred and twenty-third anniversary of admission of their native State into the Union and Colonel Knight unknowingly entered the dining room of the Colonels and took a seat at their festive board.

As he listened to the conversation which ran largely to racehorses, bluegrass and moonshine, and as he gazed upon the faces of many whom he had never seen at the Council of Churches his glance happened to fall upon the real homelike elder which the Colonels were imbibing with great relish.

"Most certainly I am in the wrong place," exclaimed Colonel Knight, as he vanished hastily from the room in the hope of saving his reputation at a statewide prohibitionist.

Resulting from this meeting the "Kentucky Colonels' Club of Texas" was organized, with Colonel Wm. Green Street of the Dallas News as president, and W. C. Barlickman of the Texas Industrial Congress as secretary.

The club has selected Thursday, October 28th, as "Kentucky Day" at the State Fair, and a thousand "unarmed Kentuckians" are expected to gather there on that day and exchange reminiscences of their native State or to hear the truth about Kentucky and transplanted Kentuckians from a number of prominent speakers.

Among those who are expected to take part in the proceedings are Congressman J. H. Eagle of Houston and James L. Slayden of San Antonio. General Franklin H. Bell, now the second ranking officer of the United States Army, and a native of Shelby county, Kentucky will be present and has been invited to speak.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF IS RETURNED IN DAMAGE SUIT

The jury in the county court yesterday afternoon returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the suit of W. L. Thomas against the Fort Worth & Denver. The case had been appealed from the justice of peace court at Electra which had awarded the plaintiff $175 damages. The jury yesterday assessed his damages at $300. He will be permitted to recover only $175 however.

sources of this immensely favored country new wealth is created so rapidly that there is a disposition existing among many people to get as much as they can out of the new wealth, without any regard to the future. Many people seem to have the feeling that if they throw away a dollar today it does not matter, because two or three dollars will come tomorrow to take its place. This may appear true for a short time, but the day of reckoning comes just as surely for individuals as it does for nations and the person who carelessly squanders his earnings will most certainly find to regret bitterly his want of foresight.

As in the history of the English, systematic saving among individuals was started when the nation was very young, so with people in modern times, the habit of saving should be started just as early as possible. No child is too young to have a savings account and just as soon as it is able to appreciate the meaning of money it should be taught that the saving of every dollar is a definite part of the plan that must be set aside for future use.

Saving is the source of all independent wealth and has done more to build up fortunes than all the luck and genius of the world combined. The one thing about saving that makes it so reliable is the absolute certainty of its results. Genius is just as likely as not to die in the poorhouse unappreciated; luck goes hither and thither like a leaf blown before the wind, but steady saving never fails and never steps aside from the straight path that leads to financial independence and success.

And it must be borne very clearly in mind, above everything else, that it is not the amount set aside that counts so much as the absolute unfailing regularity with which it is saved. A few pennies, nickels or dimes set aside faithfully day in and day out will, in the course of time, produce results that could never be accomplished by a haphazard policy of depositing a few dollars in the savings account "every once in a while."

It is not for nothing that the world's successful men, regardless of nationality or occupation constantly, in all ages, preach the doctrine of systematic saving. It is from the depths of their knowledge and experience that they speak and because they know what it was that laid the foundation upon which they were able to erect their own success.

And what others have done, others will continue to do so long as this world lasts. The degree of success will of course vary with conditions, but the fundamental fact of achieving financial independence is the same in every case, and the new boy on the street or the orphan in the institution has exactly the same chance to become financially independent as the son of the most prosperous and thrifty business man in the city.

It is for each one of us to realize firmly that prudent, sensible saving will inevitably bring its reward and when we have realized this it is surely within our power of will to live up to what we know is right and desirable.

There are ominous reports today of greater hardships in store for Belgium, greater strain upon endurance already so desperately taxed. Stimulated by this knowledge it is certainly our privilege and, may I not add, our duty to appeal to Americans doubly blessed in their peaceful isolation and detachment from the vortex of horrors and bloodshed and agony of the battlefields of Europe to help those who are too poor to help themselves?

This year as last our Dollar Christmas Fund is in complete sympathy with every other appeal in behalf of Belgian destitute and differs from other appeals only in the sense that the total sum received will be forwarded as a special Christmas Contribution from the people of this country to the destitute people of Belgium, an expression of sympathy with sorrow from one people to another and a tangible proof that Christmas goodwill even in these days of strife and bloodshed has not disappeared from earth. If, as many have forecasted, Belgians have heights of sacrifice and martyrdom so far unattained to scale this winter we can at least ensure that the old men, the frail women, the little children—many of them orphans of war—shall not go unaided and without your aid, as we know, the bereft people of Belgium this winter will be the ruler rather than the exception. I ask therefore with great earnestness that you send along your dollar bill—and send more if you can! All contributions should be addressed to the Treasurer and each will be promptly acknowledged.

Manufacturers of munitions of war have discovered that cotton seed lint—meaning the lint extracted from cotton seed after they have passed through the gin for the first time—is more valuable in the making of explosives than the low grade cotton, which has formerly been used for that purpose, in that the staple is so much shorter and is freer from dirt and trash, therefore requiring less cutting up and grinding than the cotton of longer staple. This probably accounts for the present high price of linters, which is selling as high as 7 cents per pound. Last year at this time the cotton oil mill warehouses were filled with bales of linters and there was no market for them, except at less than 1 cent per pound. Now it looks very much like that if the European war continues the demand for explosives will be so great there will be a shortage of linters, and for that reason the price is likely to go higher than it is now. The high price paid for linters is also partially responsible for the high price of cotton seed. From a ton of cotton seed as they come from the gin, cotton oil mills figure on getting from 80 to 125 pounds of lint cotton, or $8 or $9 worth of lint cotton at the present prices. This makes it possible for them to pay that much more for the cotton seed.

DOLLAR CHRISTMAS FUND FOR BELGIANS—SECOND YEAR'S APPEAL.

To the Editor: Twelve months ago I made an appeal to Americans in behalf of the Dollar Christmas Fund for Belgians—one of the many efforts made here and in Europe to avert the threatened starvation of a nation. The response was prompt and generous and not alone the rich contributed but even many of the very poor with the happy result that we were able to send to Belgium a Christmas ship laden not only with Christmas good wishes but with food and clothing. Those were the days when every shipload meant lives saved. Some of our best friends were newspaper men and gave little children in Sunday school gave freely of their penny banks in behalf of other children less happy than themselves.

To the American Commission for Relief in Belgium—the Saviors of Belgium to quote Cardinal Mercier—has been left the vital task of solving the food problem and though the future of Belgium in 1918 is beyond prophecy and must apparently depend to a larger extent than ever upon American help, one may feel reasonably assured that the prospect of famine—for this year at least, has been definitely removed. One-third of a soldier's ration—enough at least to keep a body and soul together—is now served daily to all necessitous persons in Belgium.

The task now undertaken by the Dollar Christmas Fund is to collect money for shoes, boots and clothes which are most urgently needed and for which special money must be provided. The necessity is appalling because at the present time there are roughly 2,500,000 destitute people in Belgium and the number increases as the winter approaches. The Belgians are unable to buy shoes, boots and clothes themselves—many even of the former wealthy are now in the daily bread line.

This year, as last, our Fund has the warm approval and valued cooperation of a committee of representative citizens including Colonel George Harvey, Dr. William T. Hornaday, Victor F. Lawson, Adolph S. Ochs, Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborn, William C. Reick, Melville E. Stone, Oscar S. Straus, Geo. T. Wilson. All our workers are honest and all money collected will be expended by the American Commission for the Relief in Belgium. No better guarantee can be given that every penny subscribed will be wisely spent. Mr. Percy Bullen of 56 Broadway, New York, has again undertaken the office of secretary.

No better guarantee can be given that every penny subscribed will be wisely spent. Mr. Percy Bullen of 56 Broadway, New York, has again undertaken the office of secretary.

There are ominous reports today of greater hardships in store for Belgium, greater strain upon endurance already so desperately taxed. Stimulated by this knowledge it is certainly our privilege and, may I not add, our duty to appeal to Americans doubly blessed in their peaceful isolation and detachment from the vortex of horrors and bloodshed and agony of the battlefields of Europe to help those who are too poor to help themselves?

This year as last our Dollar Christmas Fund is in complete sympathy with every other appeal in behalf of Belgian destitute and differs from other appeals only in the sense that the total sum received will be forwarded as a special Christmas Contribution from the people of this country to the destitute people of Belgium, an expression of sympathy with sorrow from one people to another and a tangible proof that Christmas goodwill even in these days of strife and bloodshed has not disappeared from earth. If, as many have forecasted, Belgians have heights of sacrifice and martyrdom so far unattained to scale this winter we can at least ensure that the old men, the frail women, the little children—many of them orphans of war—shall not go unaided and without your aid, as we know, the bereft people of Belgium this winter will be the ruler rather than the exception. I ask therefore with great earnestness that you send along your dollar bill—and send more if you can! All contributions should be addressed to the Treasurer and each will be promptly acknowledged.

HENRY CLEWS, Treasurer, Dollar Christmas Fund for Destitute Belgians, Broad Street, New York.

Manufacturers of munitions of war have discovered that cotton seed lint—meaning the lint extracted from cotton seed after they have passed through the gin for the first time—is more valuable in the making of explosives than the low grade cotton, which has formerly been used for that purpose, in that the staple is so much shorter and is freer from dirt and trash, therefore requiring less cutting up and grinding than the cotton of longer staple. This probably accounts for the present high price of linters, which is selling as high as 7 cents per pound. Last year at this time the cotton oil mill warehouses were filled with bales of linters and there was no market for them, except at less than 1 cent per pound. Now it looks very much like that if the European war continues the demand for explosives will be so great there will be a shortage of linters, and for that reason the price is likely to go higher than it is now. The high price paid for linters is also partially responsible for the high price of cotton seed. From a ton of cotton seed as they come from the gin, cotton oil mills figure on getting from 80 to 125 pounds of lint cotton, or $8 or $9 worth of lint cotton at the present prices. This makes it possible for them to pay that much more for the cotton seed.

DOLLAR CHRISTMAS FUND FOR BELGIANS—SECOND YEAR'S APPEAL.

To the Editor: Twelve months ago I made an appeal to Americans in behalf of the Dollar Christmas Fund for Belgians—one of the many efforts made here and in Europe to avert the threatened starvation of a nation. The response was prompt and generous and not alone the rich contributed but even many of the very poor with the happy result that we were able to send to Belgium a Christmas ship laden not only with Christmas good wishes but with food and clothing. Those were the days when every shipload meant lives saved. Some of our best friends were newspaper men and gave little children in Sunday school gave freely of their penny banks in behalf of other children less happy than themselves.

To the American Commission for Relief in Belgium—the Saviors of Belgium to quote Cardinal Mercier—has been left the vital task of solving the food problem and though the future of Belgium in 1918 is beyond prophecy and must apparently depend to a larger extent than ever upon American help, one may feel reasonably assured that the prospect of famine—for this year at least, has been definitely removed. One-third of a soldier's ration—enough at least to keep a body and soul together—is now served daily to all necessitous persons in Belgium.

The task now undertaken by the Dollar Christmas Fund is to collect money for shoes, boots and clothes which are most urgently needed and for which special money must be provided. The necessity is appalling because at the present time there are roughly 2,500,000 destitute people in Belgium and the number increases as the winter approaches. The Belgians are unable to buy shoes, boots and clothes themselves—many even of the former wealthy are now in the daily bread line.

SAYS BRITISH CENSORSHIP SHIELDS PUBLIC OFFICIALS. By Associated Press. London, October 20.—The inconsistency and partiality of the British censorship is again the subject of bitter complaint. Sir Frederick Milner in a letter to the Times writes: "I have always supposed that the business of the Press Censor was to prevent the circulation of any news likely to be of service to the enemy. It appears, however, that he also deems it his duty to shield officials at home who do not correctly carry out their duties. "Last week I wrote a letter, which was to have appeared in the principal London papers, pointing out some cruel cases of injustice to soldiers, ill and incapacitated and discharged, giving the actual facts. "Unfortunately, as I wished the letter to be widely circulated in the local press, I sent a copy of the letter to the Press Association. The manager deemed it his duty to submit the letter to the censor, and at the same time informed him that the letter would appear in Monday's issue of the London papers. "A hurried message was issued to these papers forbidding them to publish the letter, or any letter dealing with the legitimate grievances of our wounded heroes. I contend, and everybody I have spoken to agrees that this is a monstrous abuse of the powers of the censor. "Fortunately, I was able to defeat him to a certain extent, as I got the letter published in a leading Scottish newspaper, and also in a leading paper in the North of England, so that the facts will be well known in the North. "I hope to get this abuse of the censor's powers taken up in Parliament. In any case, I can assure him that though he may succeed in muzzling the press, he won't succeed in muzzling me, and so long as this rank injustice continues so long will I go on exposing it, and I am convinced I shall have the whole British public at my back." TRUTH TRIUMPHS. Wichita Falls Citizens Testify for the Public Benefit. A truthful statement of a Wichita Falls citizen, given in his own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine. A Wichita Falls citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills. "Could you demand more convincing proof of merit? H. L. Snydam, 504 Lee St., Wichita Falls, says: "I have had spells with my back and kidneys when I couldn't do anything. The constant dull ache across my kidneys kept me in misery. My kidneys didn't act as they should and the kidneys secretions contained sediment. I used different medicines, but none gave me the results that Doan's Kidney Pills did. My back soon felt easier and my kidneys again acted properly. Price 50c at all dealers. RINGLING'S CIRCUS HERE BIG CROWD SEES PARADE

FOUR TRAINS BRING SHOWS EQUIPMENT

MANY WITNESS UNLOADING OF CARS—THOUSANDS OF VISITORS IN THE CITY.

5600 GRIDDLE CAKES SERVED

Breakfast at Show Grounds is Big Affair—Afternoon Performance Before Packed Tent.

Circus day, the one big holiday of the year for the youngsters as well as the grown up, dawned bright and clear this morning and just about the time of sun rise four long trains brought the interesting wonders of Ringling Brothers' world's greatest shows to the city.

The entire aggregation rolled quietly into the city, coming on 86 cars from Gainesville where the circus exhibited yesterday. The usual quota of excited small boys and quite a few of their fond parents gathered in the railroad yards to watch the big show unload and move to the circus grounds. A number of the youngsters were accorded the privilege of carrying water for the animals and in return for their services received a ticket admitting them to one of the performances. In a surprisingly short space of time the city of white tents was erected and everything was ready for the start of the street parade.

One of the interesting sights at the show grounds during the early morning hours was the cook house where the entire aggregation of performers and workmen sat down to a bountiful breakfast, consisting of some 250 dozen eggs, 5,600 griddle cakes and 500 pounds of chops, not to mention a liberal supply of fruit and breakfast food and coffee.

Thousands See Parade. The street parade started from the show grounds promptly at 10 o'clock and was a revelation of beauty and grandeur. It was by far the longest and most gorgeous procession ever seen in the streets of this city and was composed of the neatest and the cleanest appearing men and women that have ever visited here with a circus. The costumes and trappings were bright and fresh and the female contingent of the procession surprisingly fair to look upon. The Ringling Brothers have always kept their promises and their loudly heralded street pageant was but another proof that their word can always be relied upon. The procession was more than three miles in length and was one unending array of novelties, light and color.

The famous Ringling horses 735 in all, were in line, both in harness and mounted, and they made a splendid and impressive sight. Pretty and effective pictures were furnished by the long cavalcade of massive and glittering tableaux wagons and allegorical cars, filled with pretty ballet girls in gay costumes. Then came a long string of menagerie wagons displaying the choicest specimens from the Ringling Brothers' big menagerie. The herd of forty-one ponderous elephants was another interesting and impressive sight. Two calliope and six bands furnished a continuous round of melody and the clowns were out in full force to amuse the children.

Large Crowds in City. Every train, trolley and wagon road brought a throng of people into the city this morning and long before the parade started the streets were lined with men, women and children. Immediately after the procession a free aerial exhibition was given on the show grounds and a large proportion of the crowd followed the parade to the grounds. The doors of the big side show, containing the freaks was thrown open at an early hour and a rushing business was done by the institution until time for the doors of the big show to open.

The afternoon performance began promptly at 2 o'clock and the gigantic big top was crowded with humanity. Opening the program came the elaborate spectacle of "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba" in which more than 1,250 characters appeared, including a ballet of 300 beautiful dancing girls. Nothing so richly costumed and effectively presented has prepared not by any clerk bound by the routine of the office nor by an overworked Commissioner, but by a person trained to sift material for the significant and interesting grains and to put this in simple, readable form. I would have a trained newspaper writer to establish and maintain this bulletin service under the direct supervision of, and with the hearty cooperation of, the Bureau.

TUBERCULOSIS IN ARMY IS ANOTHER FRENCH PROBLEM

Many Sufferers From Lung Trouble Are Cared for By Service But Others Weaken.

By Associated Press. Paris, Oct. 20.—Among the many problems with which the government has to deal as an effect of the war is that of tuberculosis. Life at the front has cured or benefitted many soldiers predisposed to lung troubles. On the other hand a large number have been unable to withstand the rigors of a long campaign and the white plague has left its mark in the ranks.

For the treatment and care of tubercular soldiers the department of public hygiene has at its disposal a preliminary sum of 2,000,000 francs ($400,000). As all arrangements for caring for the men have not been completed, the war department has temporarily undertaken the task and has been granted for each patient an allowance of 3 francs (60 cents) a day for three months. While the sanitary service is studying the best means of dealing with the question, the army is at work weeding out all who show the slightest indication of tuberculosis. Their presence is regarded as dangerous to the health of others and every precaution is taken.

For the long we hope to have these men isolated, where they will be in the hands of specialists and given the most scientific treatment in sanatoria adapted to the purpose," said Monsieur Jules Brisac, director of the public health service to the Associated Press.

WANTS INDIANS INFORMED AS TO THEIR LEGAL RIGHTS

Speaker at Lake Mohonk Conference Urges That the Government Supply Information.

By Associated Press. Mohonk Lake, N. Y., Oct. 20.—A regular bulletin service, conducted by the government along newspaper lines like the consular trade reports, to keep the Indians and Indian guardians informed of the latest news in their interest was advocated today by Joh M. Oskison of New York in an address before the Lake Mohonk Conference on the Indian and Other Dependent Peoples. He said: "One item of the platform of the Society for American Indians is embodied in this section: "The present confusion of reservation Indians as to their legal rights is due very largely to their lack of essential information. They have no easy means of knowing what their tribal claims are or the letter of the laws and rulings governing them. "This information should be commonly available, as also should be a report of the income and disbursements of the tribe through rents, leases or trust funds. "To bring the Indians to the position of enlightened citizenship, the Indians must know the details that affect their progress to this point. "We, therefore call upon the Interior Department, through the Bureau of Indian Affairs, to prepare a set of simple booklets giving details of the laws governing reservations, and to publish the special rulings of each agency. "To these should be added financial accountings, in order that the Indians most affected may be given that confidence in the Government's interest that is so necessary for good citizenship. "Certainly if we believe him capable of talking some part in solving these problems, we ought to let him know the actual laws and Indian Office rulings under which he must act. "Very jealously, and properly, the Indian Office has refused to make public the financial conditions of individual Indians. But when it is possible for Indians to be deceived as to the source of money expended for their tribal benefit (believing it to come from the Government as a gift when in fact, it is taken from Indian money) it is time at least to publish fully the facts as to tribal funds. "It would welcome a regular bulletin service by the Bureau of Indian Affairs. Let this be issued at regular intervals. Let it be of the character of excellent Consular Reports of the Department of Commerce, gathering up from all the material which comes in to the Washington office all suggestions for the betterment of the Service. "Let these regular hints, news items and reports of progress go to as many of the Indians as can read them. Give the intelligent Indians on the reservation a chance to know what is being done in the reservation world. Give them a chance to take the initiative in putting some of the plans into practice. "I would have this bulletin service

BANDITS ATTEMPTING TO GET RECRUITS IN TEXAS

Offer Uniform, Gun, Six Dollars a Day and Division of Loot, According to Reports.

Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 20.—Evidence that recruiting agents for the so-called Texas revolution still are working among the soldiers of General Eugenio Lopez in Matamoros was obtained recently by an American who visited Matamoros and talked to a sergeant in Lopez's army. This sergeant says that early today a Mexican who claimed to be an agent for the revolutionists came to him and offered him $10 in gold, a uniform, gun, pistol, 75 cents a day and a division of spoils whenever there was a raid. The sergeant turned down the offer, saying he had enough of fighting on the Mexican side and did not care to take chances.

The American, taking advantage of the apparent candor of this sergeant, who is an Huasteco Indian, continued his questions and was told by the sergeant that the latter knew of eight men who had accepted such an offer and had gone to the American side of the river. One youthful soldier told the American he also had received this offer but refused to accept it. The sergeant did not know the name of the alleged agent, but stated that he had said he would return and renew the offer. The American, whose name was not given because of possible danger to him in Mexico, said: "My conversation with this sergeant came up while he was doing some work for me. He asked if I knew where he could get work on the American side, saying the money he made in the army was just enough to pay his board. He then referred casually to the offer of the revolutionary agent, speaking of it as a business proposition, with an element of personal danger which he did not want to encounter. He is from far in the interior, where they consider fighting as a means of livelihood, and that it was wrong to carry such fighting into the United States apparently never occurred to him."

SALE OF THOROUGHBREDS TO END FAMOUS KENTUCKY FARM

Property of Late James Haggins, the Noted Horse Racer, Soon to Go Under the Hammer.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 20.—A sale of thoroughbreds which will begin October 28th, will mark the passing of the race horse breeding farm, Elmendorf, a 5,000 acre Bluegrass estate valued at $3,000,000, established near Lexington by the late James B. Haggins, who for twenty years was the greatest breeder of race horses in the world. The stallions, Ballot, Hessian and Sals with sixty-eight broodmares and thirty-one yearlings are to go under the hammer.

From the early nineties to 1910-11 Mr. Haggins imported from England and the Antipodes the celebrated stallions Watercress, Goldfinch, Darebin, Golden Garter, Sir Modred, Star Ruby, Prestonsians, Toddington, Dendonne, Greenan, Rapallo, Bassettlow and St. Andrew, and scores of highly bred mares, and from these and from American stock he developed and marketed more race horses than all other American breeders of his time combined. Between 1894 and 1905 Mr. Haggins

Wichita Falls Camp No. 17096 M. V. of A. meets every Thursday at 8 p. m., 708-1/2 Seventh Street. B. W. DeLard, Consul; E. G. Cook, Clerk. maintained from 600 to 1,000 stallions and mares at a 30,000-acre ranch in California known as the Rancho del Paso stud, and from 1897 to 1912 there were from 150 to 200 stallions and mares at Elmendorf, which place he began to organize in 1897 by purchasing the old Swigart farm.

Rancho del Paso was abandoned in 1906 and the stallions and mares there were auctioned. Mr. Haggins buying most of the desirable for Elmendorf. To obtain the stallion, Ballot, Mr. Haggins paid the highest price given for a native American thoroughbred stallion since Sir Martin sold for $75,000 in 1908. Ballot won eighteen races worth $152,000 during his four years on the turf in America and in England. The Suburban Handicap, at Sheepshead Bay, was one of his victories.

There were upward of 250 mares and fifty or more stallions at Elmendorf when Governor Hughes of New York put through his anti-racing laws of 1908 and 1910, and Mr. Haggins, realizing that it would be impossible to market in this country the produce of an establishment so considerable without racing about New York to maintain a demand for young stock, began to ship his thoroughbreds to other countries. He sent yearlings to England and France for seven seasons, stallions and mares to the Argentine Republic and mares to France, Austria-Hungary and Germany. The breeders of the Argentine secured the famous stallion Kinley Mack, winner of the Brooklyn and Suburban handicaps in 1900, Africaner, the greatest 3-year-old of 1903; McChesney, one of the crack handicap horses of 1903. England and France and the Central Empires of Europe got some of their best producing mares from Elmendorf.
