ROAD TO CONSTANTINOPLE GOAL OF OPPOSING ARMIES; CRUCIAL TIME IN BALKANS

SERBIANS RESIST STUBBORNLY AND DELAY INVADERS

FRENCH TROOPS AS YET HAVE GIVEN LITTLE ASSISTANCE—RUSSIA TO SEND FORCE TO ATTACK BULGARIA

ALLIES FORCES STILL SMALL

Russia Forces Fighting at Riga and Dvinsk—Evidence That New Offensive is Near in West—Italy Attacking With Small Success

By Associated Press. London, October 26.—The race for the road to Constantinople has reached an exciting stage. The Bulgarians are within a few miles of forming a junction with their Austro-German allies, while the French in small force, already have joined the Serbians.

The French are not in sufficient number to assume an actual offensive in Macedonia, but the rapidity of the Bulgarian advance in that region already has diminished. Along the old Bulgarian frontier, from a point northeast of Vranja to the Roumanian border, the Serbians are yielding little ground.

Actual junction between the Bulgarians and their allies, which may be a matter of only a few hours, will soon show whether the Serbians are able to hold their mountain positions until the entente allies bring up strong forces.

Italy is still hammering away at the Austrian front, which is shaken, but unbroken. It is expected in London that the Italian offensive will at least prevent the Austrians from reinforcing their Balkan army.

Russia, by her stubborn defense of Riga and Dvinsk, and her continued offensive in Galicia, is keeping her opponents engaged busily along the whole eastern front. In the west there is evidence that the entente allies are again preparing for an offensive which may prevent the Germans from diverting any of their forces there.

According to Paris advices, Russia has completed her preparation for the dispatch of strong forces to help Serbia. TURKS TO OPPOSE RUSSIANS. Turkish troops will meet any effort Russia may make to land an army on the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria, it is reported from Athens, and they already are being concentrated. Germans will have charge of the defense, another report states. The Athens report declares it is feared the

SALOON KEEPERS PROTEST AGAINST VIOLATION OF LAW

Urigo Governor and Controller To Take Steps Against "Clubs" and Bootleggers

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Oct. 26.—A protest was lodged today with Governor Ferguson and Controller Terrell by a committee from the Texas Retail Liquor Dealers Association headed by Mayo Parletto of Galveston, against the continued violation of the liquor law throughout the state, through the operation of the so-called social clubs, "bootleggers, blind tigers, etc. Mr. Parletto declined to discuss the matter but it was ascertained that the regularly licensed saloons are placed at a great disadvantage at these places where liquor is dispensed in some instances on the same basis as at regular saloons.

Bulgarians could not be counted upon to resist the Russians. A Bucharest account of the crossing of the Danube by the Austrians in the vicinity of Orsova, near the Roumanian frontier, mentions the presence of a Russian battery with the Serbian forces and of a Russian steamer on the Danube, which is declared to have bombarded Orsova.

Teutonic troops are making more progress in Northwestern Serbia, according to the latest Austrian official statement. Austrian cavalry is declared to have entered Valjevo, which lies about 25 miles south of the Sava river, and 45 miles southwest of Belgrade.

ANOTHER PEACE MOVE.

The report that Turkish troops are being concentrated at Burgas, Varna and other points on the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria, is reiterated in reports from Athens. Reuther's correspondent says that the Turks are to oppose Russian attempts to land troops, having replaced Bulgarians because it was feared the latter could not continue to resist the Russians.

A report reached here today that Prince Von Buelow, former German chancellor, will shortly submit to President Wilson and King Alfonso of Spain an outline of the conditions on which Germany might be disposed to discuss terms of peace.

Waif, Abandoned On Cathedral Steps, Gould Heir; Adopted By The Shepards

MR. and MRS. FINLEY J. SHEPARD and FOUNDLING BOY THEY ADOPTED

New York, Oct. 26.—Who was Finley Jay Shepard, Jr. before he was adopted Thursday by Finley J. Shepard, Sr., and Mrs. Helen Gould Shepard, Sr., when he became the presumptive heir to $20,000,000? Not since the epoch of the Iron Mask has such impenetrable mystery surrounded the identity of a human being.

Mr. Shepard doesn't know who the boy was—or if he does he steadfastly refuses to tell. Helen Gould Shepard doesn't know who he was, or if she does she likewise refuses to say. Hampton G. Silcox, the Philadelphia detective, who backed by the Gould millions, conducted a world-wide search for the boy's parents that exceeded in scope the historic hunt for Charlie Ross, Dorothy Arnold or Jimmie Glass, doesn't know who he was. James McGregor, Michigan, the Philadelphia attorney, who acted for the Shepards and who secretly employed Silcox to conduct the extensive search, doesn't know who he was.

Today every effect behind the curtain was found on the steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral bundled in rags, is shrouded in uncertainty as silent as the tomb.

"That boy simply dropped from the clouds," Detective Silcox declared in Philadelphia tonight. "He's like Topaz—he just grooved."

Then Silcox told the entrancing story of the part he had played in the destiny of the newly-made little millionaire. "After John Doe No. 104, as he was designated at the New York Children's Society, had been found at the cathedral door," Silcox said, "he was closely questioned. He mentioned either 63 or 64 Broad Street. This fact caused the search for his parents to radiate from Philadelphia. We commenced by making a systematic search of Broad Street, Philadelphia, and when this yielded nothing we searched every house on the side streets for five miles off Broad."

"List Exceeds Thousands." "Falling here, we obtained the names of every town in America in which there was a Broad Street, or a Sixth Street. Our list exceeded a thousand, and our men combed every Broad and Sixth Street in America with the utmost care. Circulars bearing the boy's description and a history of his findings were posted in every school house in the Eastern part of the United States. The lad had told officers at the Children's Society that he was "Austin McCleary," so we saw that every school child in the country heard this name, hoping some one would recognize a playmate.

"The postal department, through mail carriers, parcel-delivery men and inspectors, conducted a systematic search to discover a home that would answer the description of the one that John Doe No. 104 told about. Never in the history of the American police was such a search made. We were backed by unlimited funds—although I did not know at the time that our fortune's purse was the Gould millions—and had instructions to spend any amount of money necessary. "Thousands of letters poured into our office from persons who believed they could identify John Doe No. 104. But every clue we found, every hope to which we pinned our faith ultimately collapsed. At the end of the long search we found ourselves as far away from the truth about Finley Jay Shepard, Jr., as we were the day we combed."

"Clad in Tattered Clothing." "I believe that when he was left on the cathedral steps he was purposely clad in tattered clothing to conceal his identity. We traced every garment he wore back to the factory in which it was made, thence to the wholesaler, to the jobber and to the retailer. But there had been such a host of duplicates sold that this line of endeavor yielded absolutely nothing.

"Yet no clothes, no matter how shabby or dirty, could hide the intelligence and refinement of that little boy. From the top of his curly head to the soles of his pink, chubby feet, he is a Little Lord Fauntleroy. Training and culture beam in his blue eyes; frankness and a light heart show in his flashing smiles. He is one of those little chaps who has his arms about your neck the minute he sees you. It was evident from the first that he had been brought up alone. Toys of all sorts did not seem new to him although they amused him mightily. But with human playmates it was different. Boys and girls his own age were marvellous to him. And they delighted him more than the toys.

"Frequently while we were throwing our giant dragnet over this country for his parents, John Doe, No. 104 came to Philadelphia to aid us. Even then there was an air of mystery. He would come over from New York in a big, closely curtained limousine, accompanied by his nurse, his governess, his footman and his chauffeur. His retinue of 'saunders' may not have enjoyed the frequent trips, but Finley Shepard, Jr., enjoyed them immensely.

"Silcox predicts that since Mr. and Mrs. Shepard have legally adopted John Doe, No. 104, a host of persons claiming to be his parents will appear and demand his custody.

"Mrs. Shepard was seen today for a fleeting minute. "Are you satisfied with your new son?" she was asked.

"Perfectly," she rejoined. "He has a wonderful intellect." "She would not speak further of Finley, Jr."

Mr. Shepard, however, was more communicative. "It was an act of Providence," he exclaimed, "that we found this delightful child."

"What can you tell about his life before he was found a waif on the cathedral steps?" he was asked.

"It is too romantic a story to tell now," he declared. "I think I shall write it myself some of these days. It is the most remarkable story that has been written since the heyday of Victor Hugo."

"His past life is never spoken of to him. We think it better that he should grow away from it entirely."

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 26.—Attempts by John D. Rockefeller to exclude all mercantile business from the block in West 54th street from Fifth to Sixth avenues where he and his son have their home, have failed, and a firm of art dealers has leased the residence of Commodore Morton S. Mr. Rockefeller has been buying every house in the block, where it was feared that business might get a foothold and it was estimated today that his efforts have cost him close to $1,000,000. He was unable to buy the Plant home, as it was understood the owner would not sell.

MEXICAN BANDITS ATTACK OFFICIAL OF BORDER RAILROAD

SOLDIERS CONTINUE SEARCH

Some Indications of Robberies and Disorders on Mexican Side of River as Well as on Texas Bank Have Been Received

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 26.—Sam Robertson, president of the San Benito and Rio Grande Valley Railroad bandits eighteen miles east of San Benito yesterday afternoon, the first alone and the second with the road fought two battles with Mexican assistance of a fourteen year old boy who landed the Fifes. Robertson reached San Benito at 3:30 this morning with a bullet hole through the shoulder of his coat and with one heel of a shoe shot off.

Bullet Hole in Clothes. Several weeks ago Robertson was attacked by bandits near San Benito and a hole was shot through his hat. Robertson said that at 3:15 yesterday he was near the San Pedro branch east of Brownsville travelling in an automobile with a load of hardware for a hotel being constructed near the coast. Six miles east of the Anahuacitas ranch Robertson lost some of his hardware and leaving the automobile near the roadside he set out to find the packages. Returning to the automobile he discovered five Mexicans there. They opened fire on him while he returned the fire from behind a tree.

Robertson saw one man fall and later found three pools of blood, but the wounded man had been taken away when he drove the bandits off. Robertson then set out afoot through the brush to look for a telephone recently placed on a tree in that vicinity. He ran across a fourteen year old Mexican boy, and giving the youngster his Winchester, he left his pump gun. With this reinforcement Robertson started again to get help at the Anahuacitas ranch. Suddenly the boy turned and said "look out."

Troops Sent to Scene. Robertson looked back and saw several Mexicans just how many he could not say. He began firing and with the assistance of the boy succeeded in getting the best of the situation. The Mexicans were driven off again. It was in the second fight that Robertson was shot in the coat and lost the heel of his shoe. Reaching the telephone he found it working badly. San Benito, hearing only that he had been in trouble, sent troops out in automobiles. Some of these returned last night, and others this morning without finding the Mexicans. An infantry detachment is still in the vicinity searching.

Reported Chasing Bandits. Confidential advices at Fort Brown from the Carranza garrison at Reynosa, Mexico, are chasing a band of Mexican bandits southward from the Rio Grande. That robberies and assassinations occur on the Mexican side of the border as well as on the American side was indicated by an order posted in Matamoros, notifying civilians and soldiers that such crimes will be punished to the limit of the law. The notice was signed by Gen. Lopez.

Orders have been issued at all points on the Mexican side of the border instructing civilians who were loaned guns during the attack on Matamoros last April by Villistas to return them to military headquarters. There were reports that Mexican soldiers were leaving the army and selling their guns for a small amount.

Confession by Bandit. A border bandit confession, claimed to have been received by the sheriff's department from a prisoner, got only admits participation in last week's train wreck and murders near here, but involves several other Mexicans and leads the officers to believe they are on the trail of the chief offenders in the Texas border terrors of the past three months.

The Mexican, who is said by the officers to have confessed, is Chano Flores and was arrested Friday in the company of Luciano Chapa, another Mexican, who denies Flores' story. The sheriff's department is making arrests every day now and has eight men suspected of complicity in the past week's depredations.

The supposed confession of Flores says that the prime object of the series of raids has been to secure liberty and independence for Mexicans in Texas' Robbery and loot, it says, are of secondary importance.

Flores is said to have confessed to taking part in a raid on a ranch at Sebastian, in this county, several months ago. (Continued on Page Four)

GERMAN OFFICER TO BE ARRAIGNED ON CHARGE TODAY

FOUR MEN IN CUSTODY ON CONSPIRACY CHARGE AND POLICE ARE SEARCHING FOR ANOTHER MAN TODAY

EMBASSY ATTACHES CLEARED

Secret Service Chief Exonerates Boy Ed and Von Pappen—Evidence That Fay Charged to Blow Up Chemical Works

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 26.—Robert Fay, a lieutenant in the German army and Walter Scholz and Paul Daecher were arraigned in a Weehawken, New Jersey police court today on charges in connection with an alleged plot to blow-up steamships sailing from New York with munitions for the allies. The three men were discharged by the court, but were immediately arrested by federal agents on charges of conspiracy sworn to by Chief Flynn of the federal secret service.

Fay, Scholz and Daecher were brought to New York in custody of the federal officers. They will be arraigned later before United States Commissioner Houghton. The complaint charges that the three, in conjunction with Dr. Herbert Kienzie held in default of $25,000 bail and Max Breitling still at liberty, conspired to commit an offense against the United States.

Hearing This Afternoon. Fay and Scholz reached New York from Weehawken shortly after noon and were taken to the office of Chief Flynn, where it is understood they were again questioned. Arrangements were made to keep them there until their arraignment at 4 o'clock before United States Commissioner Houghton.

The complaint on which they will be arraigned charges that they with Dr. Kienzie and Max Breitling, the latter being still at liberty, conspired to commit an offense against the United States.

Daecher at first agreed to go to New York with the federal officers, but when counsel advised him that he had the right of arraignment before the nearest federal commissioner, he claimed that privilege, saying he had nothing in common with the others.

Tells of "Joke Bombs." While waiting for the men to be transferred to his custody this morning, Chief Flynn said he was in possession of information that Fay had told a man named Veic that the proper way to stop the shipments of munitions to the allies was to blow up the chemical works. He explained that shell and powder works could make repairs easily. Fay had also, the chief said, ridiculed some of the bombs found on various ships in the harbor and declared they were no good and made by amateurs. "Joke bombs" he termed them.

Letter Was Destroyed. According to the chief, he ascertained that when he left Houston for America on the Rotterdam he carried a letter to a high official but on the first day out he destroyed it fearing he might be searched and the letter found. Chief Flynn when asked if he believed that Captain Boy Ed and Captain Von Pappen had been implicated replied that he absolved them from all participation.

After failing to locate Breitling at either his home or office here the police sent out a general alarm for him.

DEPARTMENT NOT SURE GOVERNMENT HAS CASE

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 26.—Officials of the department of justice today expressed doubt whether the government can make out a case against the men implicated in the plot to blow up munitions ships sailing from the United States. PORTER CHARLTON FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING WIFE

Italian Court Sentences American to Six Years and Eight Months Imprisonment.

Cemo, Italy, Oct. 26.—Porter Charlton, the American who has been on trial here charged with murdering his wife in 1910 was Monday condemned to six years and eight months imprisonment.

The crown prosecutor, Signor Mellini, delivred his argument to the jury. Signor Mellini denied that Charlton was essentially irresponsible, even momentarily, at the time the deed was committed.

The prosecutor denied Charlton had provoked the killing of his wife and insisted he married her for her savings and that he had appropriated her jewels after killing her. He concluded his address with a demand for a heavy sentence.

Speaking in defense of Charlton, Attorney Cantano maintained that the prisoner was an epileptic and Charlton was mentally irresponsible when the crime was committed. Even if the jury did not wish to admit that, he urged, it should at least give its assent to the claim that the defendant was not more than partly responsible and that there was great provocation.

SCORELESS TIE RESULTS IN SUNDAY'S LAWTON GAME

The Wichita Falls football team played a scoreless tie game with the Lawton eleven at Lawton Sunday, before a large crowd. The Wichitans threatened their opponents' goal once, missing a drop kick from the 20 yard line, but the Lawtonites were never nearer than 20 yards to their opponents' goal. Tom Courtney was the Wichita Falls star on both offensive and defensive. The Lawton team outweighted the Wichitans twelve pounds to the man, but this advantage was more than offset by the speed and pep of the Wichita Falls squad.

Next Sunday the Tleetra team, old time rival, will play the Wichita Falls team here. On the Sunday following the locals will again go to Lawton for a game with the soldiers' team from Fort Hill.

INTERNMENT BIG PROBLEM IN FRANCE

FOREIGN RESIDENTS HAVE COST THE GOVERNMENT $85,000,000 TO DATE.

PRISONERS WELL CARED FOR

Have Little Cause for Complaint—Fed and Given Medical Attention Without Cost.

By Associated Press. Paris, Oct. 26.—The supervision and support of subjects of belligerent countries interned or allowed to reside in France, has given the government a vast amount of work and entailed an expense of approximately $85,000,000 to date.

"The government's policy has been to treat justly all subjects of countries at war with France residing within its territory at the outbreak of the war and to treat them as liberally as the necessary precautions for the nation's security would permit," the Associated Press is informed by Minister of the Interior Malvy, upon whom this great responsibility has devolved.

"At the beginning of hostilities," he continued, "it became necessary to intern in concentration camps 30,000 subjects of countries at war with France. That number has been reduced to 14,000 by the repatriation of a certain number by agreement between the interested powers and by according to others residence permits that seemed to be justified by their ethnological origin or other considerations."

"The Poles, Belgians and Austrians and the Austrians of Italian origin, natives of Trentino have benefited from these exceptional measures." Residence permits have been issued to 1,124 Germans and 576 Austrians. Some of them are naturalized Germans whose attitude towards France has been correct in all circumstances. Some are fathers of boys serving in our armies. Others are old and tried servants in French, English or American families who are vouched for by their employers.

There were 3,754 subjects of the Ottoman Empire residing in France before the declaration of war by Turkey. All of these have been allowed to reside here with the exception of about 50 whose antecedents made their internment necessary in the interests of the national defense. The interned civilians were sent to 62 different camps widely distributed throughout the country where they have been fed absolutely free of any cost to them and at an expense to the government of $15,000 a month. They have also received all necessary medical attendance free of charge. Some of these little colonies have even seen their numbers increased by births that have occurred under the most favorable conditions.

All the civilian camps are under the general direction of the interior department and are directly supervised by the prefect of the department. They are generally maintained by a commissary of police who receives the requests and complaints of the interned and supervises their correspondence. There has been little for the commissaries to do, however, for the needs of the interned have, so far as possible, been anticipated by the government.

The setting of the picture is in France in the century past and the scenes vary from the haunts of the poorest and most depraved of the Parisian criminals to the palaces of the nobility of the land. Both girls are beautiful and their beauty proves to be a sore trial for them, left orphans and poor. Never before has Theda Bara been given a chance to make the public love her for the character she plays, always there has been admiration but not for her womanliness and charm but rather for her technical ability as an actress. In Henriette however, she is seen as a most lovable girl who is wrapped up in her great love for her sister. Her love and affection is rewarded in due time and she finds a true lover also.

AL H. WILSON PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE HERE

Al H. Wilson, for fifteen years a favorite among music loving theatre goers, was at the Wichita Theatre Monday night, appearing in "As Years Roll On." The performance was a pleasing one and met with a very cordial reception, the songs by Wilson himself being especially well received. Although by no means the singer that he once was, Al Wilson is still able to delight his hearers and it was difficult last night for the audience to let him go. There was some disappointment because the yodelling which has always been an enjoyable feature of Wilson's performances, was omitted, but if time has somewhat warped Wilson's vocal chords and forced him to forego the Swiss melodies that used to delight his audiences so, there is still left a wealth of melody. The play "As Years Roll On" is an interesting one, with more pathos than thrills, and serves as an excellent vehicle for the singer. The song "As Years Roll On, As Days Go By" was the favored number. Wilson sang a number of the songs which he made famous, including "Helen" and "Harvest Moon."

It would seem that Mary has a long way to go in coming back but how this is accomplished is told in a manner that makes the remainder of the picture most interesting.

In Fact, It Was All on Account of the Young Lady, That It Happened Thus.

Future dental patients of Robert E. Huff, Jr., of this city who is a dentistry student at Northwestern University, may take warning in advance. If while they repose in his operating chair awaiting the grip of the forceps upon the throbbing molar, he suddenly bursts into the balcony scene from "The Merchant of Venice" or some other Shakespearean passage, they may understand the cause for the brilliance of the footlights is contesting the right of way with the joys of plate and bridge work in Robert's career. In explanation of which, the below article appearing in the Chicago Herald of Saturday accompanied by pictures of Miss Foster and Mr. Huff, is here reproduced:

Art is long, and cash is short, and time is fleeting and love will have its way. All of which sums up the incident of the Armenian Hamlet, was confronted by the following problem, brought about by extraneous financial circumstances over which we had no control.

"To play or not to play, that is the question." Mr. Light had ambitions to put on a production of Hamlet at the Central Music Hall on October 27th. Unfortunately that was about all he had, because Louise Chase, his Ophelia (who designed all her own gowns), did a quick disappearance act and left Mr. Light quite Ophelialess. Also funds were light. Then Mr. Light saw a light.

Through her father, an attorney, he became acquainted with Miss Marguerite Foster, 4635 Winthrop avenue. Miss Foster is very pretty, 19, and obsessed with a desire to tread the boards in interpretation of the works of the Immortal Bard.

With a quality of liberality quite unusual in a Thespian, Mr. Light offered to let Miss Foster play Ophelia, and he furthermore promised not to charge her, a cent for the privilege, provided she furnished her own costume.

Marguerite saw visions of applauding throngs and an ultimate biography and testimonials of perfume bearing her indorsement, and she accepted the job.

At this point enters Robert, Huff, Jr., student of dentistry at the Northwestern University, and engaged to be married to Miss Foster at such time as Mr. Huff builds up a practice in pulling teeth that will net him at least $2 a pull.

A week or two of rehearsal demonstrated to Miss Foster that she had a soul that was above molar pursuits. Her previous enthusiasm in biocipids and gums had given away to a more lofty worship.

"I'm afraid we can never get along unless you adopt a more interesting and artistic career," she told the dismayed Mr. Huff.

"I'm pretty good at carving," said Mr. Huff tentatively.

Miss Foster had an inspiration. At the next rehearsal, she told Mr. Light she had a young man whom she wanted made into an actor. He was a very nice young man, she explained to Mr. Light. She HAD been engaged to him.

"But the cast is full," remonstrated Hamlet.

"I don't care," pouted Ophelia. "If you don't put him in the cast I won't play."

"But what can he play?" asked the desperate Mr. Light.

"He can play the Ghost," was the triumphant response. "Anybody can play the part of a ghost."

So it was decided that Mr. Huff was to play the ghost, and since then he has been practicing diligently the art of appearing ghostly and sepulchral.

"I'm getting to like it first rate," he confided yesterday. "And Mr. Light hasn't charged me a cent. Of course, there are lots of understudies and supers that he hires, and they have to pay from $35 to $50 to play, but on account of my pull with Miss Foster I'm free like she is. I'm going to play Romeo opposite her Juliet some day, although I was getting along pretty well in my dentistry. But you know what women are."

Mr. Light could not be found. It was learned he was out soliciting advertisements for a program, which he will issue on the auspicious night of October 27th, when the initial performance of the Shakespearean comedy will be presented at the Central Music Hall.

ELECTIONS IN MANY STATES NEXT WEEK

WOMAN SUFFRAGE TO BE VOTED ON THREE COMMON WEALTHS.

FOUR GOVERNORS TO BE NAMED

Liquor Question is Issue in Ohio—New Constitution is Submitted in New York State.

Eight states, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio and Mississippi, will hold elections to Tuesday, November 2nd.

In four of these states, Massachusetts, Maryland, Kentucky and Mississippi governors are to be elected; in six states, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Kentucky and Mississippi the state legislatures, in whole or in part, are to be elected, and in five states, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Ohio, important constitutional issues are to be decided.

With a few local exceptions, in fact, these constitutional questions will be dominant issues on election day, including as they do such fundamental matters as woman suffrage, municipal home rule, prohibition, state income taxes, referendum plans, and some lesser reforms.

The woman suffrage question will come up for discussion in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, which states will furnish, in point of population, the greatest test—the suffrage issue has ever had in the United States. New Jersey, the first state in the east to vote on equal suffrage, defeated the proposition at a special election given over exclusively to the suffrage question on October 7th. While it has been held by some political observers that the result of the test in New Jersey would be reliably indicative of what might be expected in the bigger neighboring states, the suffrage leaders have not been discouraged by the big majority with which the issue was defeated in New Jersey, and look forward to the bigger test with confidence.

The importance of this test is indicated by the fact that, in point of population, the state of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, which will vote on suffrage November 2nd, include over 20,000,000 people—a fifth of the population of the entire United States—and these 20,000,000 are practically double the population of the states in which equal suffrage has as yet been fully achieved.

In New York State, in addition to the suffrage issue, a dominant feature of the election will be the question of adopting a new state constitution as revised by a recent state constitutional convention, presided over by Elihu Root. The new constitution, at the request of the suffrage leaders, has not been made to include the suffrage amendment, hence the constitution and the suffrage issue will be voted upon separately, neither question having anything to do directly with the fate of the other.

The features of the revised constitution are measures designed to give the cities the state greater latitude in the management of municipal affairs, and coincidentally to relieve the legislature of a vast amount of local matters; to make the governor a more responsible individual by making the numerous executive arms of the administration more directly responsible to him; to reform the judiciary in so as to eliminate some of the red tape that is declared to handicap the prompt execution of the laws; and among other provisions the short ballot and the budget system. Two important articles, relating to taxation and reapportionment will be submitted to the voters, separate from the other separate amendments would provide for a $7,000,000 bond issue to complete the Barge Canal, and to permit the legislature to alter the rate of interest on certain state debts already incurred. Although the Republicans were in a majority in the convention, they are not at all in support of the new constitution nor are the Democrats standing solidly against it.

In personnel, the New York election calls for the choice of a full assembly of 150 members, eleven Supreme justices and three Congressmen, as well as county and city officials in some sections of the State. Congressional successors are to be chosen to Joseph A. Goulden, Democrat, of the twenty-third district, and Edwin A. Merritt, Jr., and Leren E. Payne, of the thirty-first and thirty-sixth, respectively, who died while serving in the last Congress. The candidates are: William S. Bennett, Republican, and Elsworth J. Healy, Democrat, both of New York, in the twenty-third district; Bertrand H. Snell, of Potsdam, Republican, William L. Allen, of Malone, Democrat, and Howard although one Congressman is to be in the thirty-first district; and Norman S. Gould, of Seneca Falls, Republican-Progressive, and Louis J. Light, of Geneva, Democrat, in the thirty-sixth.

Massachusetts. Massachusetts, in addition to the suffrage amendment, will vote on the proposition of giving the legislature authority to impose a tax on incomes and similar authority for the taking over of land in country districts for the purpose of establishing homesteads for those who may wish to escape from the more congested quarters of the cities.

A successor to Governor David I. Walsh, Democrat, is to be elected and the candidates, including Governor Walsh, are: Nelson B. Clark, Progressive; Samuel W. McCall, Republican; William Shaw, Prohibitionist; Walter S. Hutchins, Socialist, and Peter O'Rourke, Socialist-Laborer.

A lieutenant governor and various other state officials together with forty senators and 240 members of the state House of Representatives are also to be elected.

Pennsylvania will have comparatively little of general interest to its election outside of the vote on the suffrage question. No state officers are to be elected with the exception of three candidates to fill vacancies on the Superior Court bench. In general the only thing other than the suffrage issue that interests voters to the polls will be county and municipal elections elected to fill a vacancy in the twenty-fourth district.

In Philadelphia the Republican organization has conducted a vigorous campaign to regain control of the city administration, which was wrested from it four years ago when the reform elements united with the Democratic party and elected Rudolph Blankenburg, a life-long reformer in politics, as mayor. The Republican candidate for the mayoralty this fall is Thomas B. Smith, former postmaster of Philadelphia. His chief opponent is George D. Porter, a reformer who has been director of the department of public safety in the Blankenburg administration. He resigned to make the canvas for the mayoralty under the banner of the recently formed "Franklin" party. The Democratic party is running its candidates on a straight party ticket.

Maryland will elect a governor, comptroller of the state treasury, attorney-general, a full house of delegates and half of the state senate. In addition four constitutional amendments will be voted upon, and local minor officers will be chosen in the counties and Baltimore City. Candidates to succeed Governor Goldsborough, Republican, are: Ovington E. Weller, Republican; Emerson C. Harshbarger, Democrat; and George R. Gorsuch, Prohibitionist.

The constitutional amendments are for the referendum, a new taxation scheme, home rule for cities, and police in territorial divisions. This referendum plan is practically the same as that followed in other states, except that the Maryland proposition includes a prohibition against the use of the referendum in any local option or license legislation. If the home rule amendment carries the legislature will be relieved of a vast amount of purely local legislation, which would be vested in the city and county councils; while the taxation amendment provides for the classification of all kinds of property for the purpose of taxation.

Ohio. There will be general interest in the election in Ohio for the reason that statewide prohibition of the liquor traffic is an issue again this year, as it was last year in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment which would forbid the sale of alcoholic beverages. The vote has centered this proposal with petition under the initiative and referendum law by which the people will also vote on another provision which would prevent the submission of any constitutional amendment more than twice in six years. Ohio is the only state in the Union which will vote this fall upon the liquor issue. In addition to the broader question of prohibition the so-called liquor license decentralization law, passed by the recent legislature, will be subjected to referendum. This issue concerns largely the method of selection of license commissioners.

legislature, will also be under fire by referendum, which was petitioned by the Democratic state organization. The redistricting act as drawn would be declared, result in normal years in the election of sixteen Republican congressmen and possibly six Democratic congressmen. The Democrats claim that the law which they passed when in power divided the districts about evenly as between the two parties.

All cities in Ohio will select mayors and other municipal officers at the coming election, but no state officers are to be chosen this fall.

Kentucky. The Kentuckians will elect a governor for a four year term; all other state officers, one half of the state senate and an entire assembly. Democrats, Republicans and prohibitionists have candidates for all the state offices, with Republican and Democratic contestants for every place on the ballot and the Progressives are represented by candidates for nearly all the state offices and numerous seats in the general assembly. The socialist party has only a candidate for governor.

In the last presidential election the Progressive party in Kentucky polled approximately 12,000 more votes than the Republicans; but the latter claim to have regained many of those who had left the ranks.

Four years ago when Governor McCraw, Democrat, was elected, his majority over his Republican opponent was approximately 23,000.

Former Congressman A. O. Stanley of Henderson, recently won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in a three-sided contest by the largest plurality ever accorded a candidate in Kentucky. The runner-up declared in favor of statewide prohibition. Mr. Stanley favored continuing in effect the county unit law of local option. This stand later was incorporated in the Democratic party platform. The platform also favors submitting a vote of the people a constitutional amendment that would do away with the prison contract system and permitting the working of convicts on the country roads.

Mississippi. The election in Mississippi will be merely a ratification of the nominations made by the Democratic party at the state primaries held last August, inasmuch as no other party has candidates in the field. A full set of state, county and district officers will be formally elected, as well as members of both branches of the legislature. No congressmen will be elected this year.

The present lieutenant governor, Theodore G. Bilbo will become governor, succeeding Earl Brewer and Lee M. Russell will be the lieutenant governor. Other candidates for state offices include Secretary of State Joseph W. Power; attorney general, Ross A. Collins; treasurer, Dr. J. P. Taylor; superintendent of education, H. H. Smith.

New Jersey. Having disposed of the suffrage issue at the special election October 19, New Jersey has left little of general interest for the election of November 2. Voting on this day will be confined to the election of six members of the senate and a full membership of 60 in the house. The campaign has been very quiet, no statewide issues being involved. In some legislative districts, local option has been an issue.

The elections in the eight states that have been mentioned in the foregoing comprise all of the state elections that will be held in the United States this fall, and as will be noted, the voting is confined entirely to states east of the Mississippi river.

There is some opposition developing to the proposition, and the purpose of the meeting to be held tonight at 8 o'clock is to perfect an organization that will work for the success of the proposition at the polls on November 20th.

An Austin press dispatch says the state railroad is now making a little money above operating expenses, the manager reporting that the sum of $309 was cleared during the month of September, which is the first month in several years that it not only failed to make money for the state, but was operated at a loss that amounted to about $2,000 per month. When rates are adjusted the manager of the State railroad will be placed in position where it can be operated at a profit the year round.

Judge Belmont of Washington steers the situation up this way in an address delivered before the National Defense League: "If Germany has lain in wait on the high seas and slain our citizens in cold blood, Great Britain has taken control of our commerce on the high seas, as absolute as if we were a colony of hers, having no voice in her councils." "We don't know who Judge Belmont is or whether he is a Republican or Democrat, but he talks just like an old-fashioned American—the kind that don't believe in letting any foreign nation, whether it be Great Britain or Germany, trespass on the rights of Americans. The American government has told Germany that she must respect our rights, and Germany, after so long a time, has finally concluded to do this. But it is quite different with Great Britain. If she respects our rights on the high seas, at all, she is going to take her own time about doing it."

Porter Carlton, the American who killed his wife of Lake Como, Italy, June 10, 1910, by striking her on the head with a hammer, has finally been tried and found guilty and sentenced to six years imprisonment. Carlton was only about 29 when he married his wife, who was several years his senior and the possessor of several thousand dollars worth of diamonds and jewels. They were on their honeymoon in Italy, and after squandering his wife's wealth, they quarreled, and in a fit of anger he struck her with a hammer and struck her harder than he intended, killing the woman, and thinking to hide his crime he placed the body in a trunk and dumped it into the lake, after which he fled to America, and later was arrested, and for three years was held in jail at Jersey City while resisting extradition. Carlton was greatly pleased at the verdict of the Italian court, as it was evidently much lighter than he or his friends had expected. He had hoped to save his neck, and perhaps would have been satisfied with a verdict of life imprisonment, Carlton will be given credit on his six year sentence for the time he has been confined in an Italian prison, and in addition to that one year off under the amnesty for all offenses committed before Italy entered the war. Reports from the country surrounding Wichita Falls indicate that a larger acreage to wheat is being sown than ever before. There is little hope that the European war will end before another year and that means there will be a demand for every bushel of wheat that can be raised at a price above one dollar per bushel. The wheat crop of the United States is estimated to be worth $125,000,000 more than the crop of 1914. It was the greatest crop ever produced in the United States, and the way things look now the 1916 crop will be greater in yield than that of this year. The cause for this is that Russia's wheat crop and that of the Balkans and Australia have been cut off from the countries where it naturally finds a market by conditions brought about by the European war, thereby causing the great demand for American wheat. Next year it will be the same, and probably the demand for the American wheat will be even greater than now. That is the way most wheat farmers are viewing the situation, and accounts for the increased acreage that is being planted to wheat. There is good money in raising wheat at one dollar per bushel. Better than raising cotton at 10 cents per pound.

Senator Morgan of Alabama worked faithfully and long for an Isthmian canal, but wanted it through Nicaragua, and many now believe that he was right, since the canal is closed. It will require several months to remove the ten million yards of earth cavings and sludges, and that means some more millions of expense. How many more millions will be needed to make the canal safe and secure would be unsafe to gamble on. That canal should have been a sea-level waterway instead of the lock and dam system. It would be far better should an enemy attack the canal. When the works are disabled the canal is useless. It is also less expensive to maintain the sea level system—Sherman Democrat.

THE AWAKENING SOUTH

Though Henry W. Grady has been dead many years, his influence still lives in the awakening of the "consciousness" of the people of the South to the tremendous possibilities of material development that awaited the intelligent direction of their energies in the exploitation of natural resources of unparalleled richness. In his writings and speeches, burning with eloquence of thought and expression, he gave to the South a new vision, so to speak, of its own greatness, when its people should grasp the fulcrum of his message and energetically address themselves to the task of bringing about its realization.

Amidst the desolation wrought by the blight of a four years war from which his beloved Southland was but slowly emerging, his thoughts turned to the tillers of the soil and not infrequently his words were directed in an effort to uplift them from the rut of despondency that oppressed them under a system of agriculture that brought to them but a bare existence from unending years of hard toil.

Forecasting what was to be and is now coming to be measurably realized, he prophesied: "When every farmer in the South shall sit broad from his own fields and meat from his own pastures, and disturbed by no creditor, and enslaved by no debt, shall sit amid his teeming gardens, and orchards and vineyards, and dairies and barnyards, pitching his crop in his own wisdom and growing them in independence, making chosen his clean surplus and selling it by his own time, and in his own market, and not at a master's bidding—getting his pay in cash and not in a receipted mortgage that discharges his debt, but does not restore his freedom, then shall be breaking the fulness of our day."

This vision of the "New South" has been steadily growing upon the Southern people, and in awakened responsibility his words are addressing themselves to the task of making it a reality with courage and determination that is effecting marvels in the way of achievement. The South is working out from under its burdens of the past and is rapidly coming into its own as the most prosperous section of the Union.—Houston Post.

The man who never asks for trade By local line or ad displayed, Cares more for rest than worldly gain, And patronage but gives him pain, Treat lightly, friends; let no rude sound Disturb his solitude profound; Here let him live in calm repose, Unsought except by men he owes. Weather and Unresponsive Cables are Factors

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 26.—The cotton market showed rather a steadier tone early today and after opening at a decline of one to four points, sold about five to nine points net higher, with January touching 12.41, March 12.63 and May 12.74 during the first hour. After yesterday's sharp break the technical position of the market was supposed to be stronger, as the scattering long interests had been much reduced, while it is believed that there has been some selling for short account and bullish overnight covering. Private cables reported some trade calling in Liverpool, but the market there fully responded to yesterday's local decline.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Declines took place in the wheat market today on account of unresponsive cables and because of favorable weather in the Northwest. Renewal of gossip that the Canadian duty was likely to be removed tended also to handicap the bulls. Besides, messages were received that the apparent lightness of receipts at Minneapolis was due only to the temporary holding back of cars so as to prevent congestion of terminal facilities. Opening prices which ranged from 3-8 to 1/2 off to 3-8 up with December at 101 and 101 1/4 and May at 102 to 102 3/8 were followed by a material setback all around. Corn eased off with wheat. Favorable weather more than offset strong cables. After opening unchanged to 1-4 to 3-8 low on the market under wet moderate rain. Traders in oats took their cue from the bearish action of other grains. However, the market showed little pressure to sell. Lack of support weakened provisions, on the other hand no important liquidation was in evidence.

weeks ago in which a father, son and two stepsons were killed. After this Flores' story takes him back to Mexico where he says he remained, taking no further part in raids until the train wrecking near here last Monday night. The confession declares that Luis de la Rosa and Aniceto Pizano, reputed leaders of the revolutionary forces, have been in Reynosa, Mexico, for several weeks, maintaining headquarters here.

Flores describes the so-called Texas revolutionary army as a force of about 500 divided into several companies, the one to which he belonged containing from fifty to sixty men.

He has given the name of a man whom he charges was captain of the train last Monday night. The companies which made the raid at Ojo-de-Aguia, Progresso and other points up the river from here were unknown to Flores, according to his statements, but that all are under the general leadership of De la Rosa and Pizano.

Flores is said to have confessed that on the night of the wreck some thirty Mexicans crossed the Rio Grande into Texas and were joined by fifteen to twenty on this side. They then laid plans for wrecking the train and he says the names of three men who he said pulled the rail out just ahead of the engine.

Following the wreck and robbery the members of the band who had horses struck out north through the Pecos tract, eleven miles north of Brownsville, intending to go as far as Raymondville, forty-nine miles north of here with the further intention of doubling south and recrossing the Rio Grande to Mexico in the vicinity of Mission, Texas. Members of the band who were unaccounted went northeast into the section of country about the Rio Hondo, east of San Benito and in the region where the trouble originally broke out with the idea of hiding in the Sebastian district, thirty-three miles north of here.

Apparently the members got little or nothing of the loot. He said if the bandits saw a horse, a saddle, pair of shoes or anything else they wanted they got them regardless of what sets were necessary to get results.

HOSPITAL STRIKE ENDS; MEN RESUME WORK TODAY

Painters, Plumbers and Gasfitters Quit Work When Union Rules Are Infringed

The strike which tied up the painting, plumbing and carpenter work at the new county and city hospital Monday has been settled and the members of these crafts went back to work this morning.

The strike was said to have been caused by a negro employed by the Fort Worth contractor installing the heating plant having painted a radiator in the building. This painting, it is understood, was done on Sunday and was discovered by the union painters when they went to work Monday morning. They immediately struck and the carpenters and plumbers went off the job with them.

Satisfactory amends to the painters having been made the union workmen in the three crafts who were taken off the job went back to work this morning. The terms of the settlement were not made public.

The strike will further delay the opening of the hospital which had been tentatively set for November 1. It is doubtful, however, whether the hospital could have been opened at that time had there been no strike, as the beds have not yet arrived. They are reported en route and are expected to arrive at any time.

DANCING TO COLT'S MUSIC INTERRUPTED BY OFFICERS

Regular Wild West Stunt Pulled off With Negro as Victim—White Man Arrested

In the midst of an alcohol-fueled, vision of a white man in the negro district last night saw the familiar picture of a cowboy making the tenderfoot dance to Colt's music. The man awoke in the county jail this morning to learn that he was in custody to answer a charge of carrying a six shooter. Constable Will Allen and Deputy Hunter were in the flats last night when they heard the bark of a shot. On their way to the locality from which the report came, they heard the shrill whistle of a siren and more arriving at the street found a white man with a big 38-40 Colt's shooting up the dust in the feet of a negro who was dancing a lively tune. The white man was pretty well organized but the bullets were striking at a safe distance from the negro, who nevertheless, was striving his utmost to be according to the enlarged ideas of his instructor. The negro told the officers that he was in no fear; that he saw that the white man's revolver would soon be empty and that he had made up his mind that when this happened somebody else in the little party of two was then going to furnish the entertainment.

MELLEN TELLS ABOUT HIS ENCOUNTER WITH MORGAN

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 26.—Evidence presented by the government today at the trial of the eleven New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad directors to prove the steps alleged to have been taken by the New Haven to prevent New England traffic from passing over any other route than the New Haven furnished Charles F. Mellen an opportunity to tell the jury how he saved himself from being ousted as second vice president of the road by the late J. P. Morgan.

Trouble had arisen between the New Haven and the New York Central over traffic and D. P. Clark, then president of the New Haven, told Mellen that Mr. Morgan, who was a director of both roads, thought he had tampered it and should be reprimanded.

"As I always did," said Mr. Mellen, "I told him what Mr. Clark had said, and he said 'That is correct. I said I know he was the kind of a man that would hear both sides and he said 'certainly, certainly.' Then I explained the situation to him and Mr. Morgan said 'I never understood it before, Mr. Mellen, I have been misinformed. I have been used as a doormat. Good day.'"

The recital of this interview was precipitated by the introduction of a circular letter sent by Mr. Mellen in the early months to the New Haven directors, proposing a readjustment of rates in reprisal, the government contends, for the alleged failure of the New York Central to live up to an agreement.

RUMORED A. A. ALLEN HAS IMPORTANT JOB WITH ALLIES

Former Head of Katy Said to Be in Charge of the British Transportation Bureau.

(Dallas Journal)
Is Andy (A. A.) Allen, formerly head of the Katy Railroad system, now the head of the transportation bureau which is moving Kitchener's armies about in the European war?

According to information reaching here, J. A. Edison, president of the Kansas City Southern Railroad answers the foregoing question in the affirmative.

"He is sitting in a swivel chair in London and telling those Englishmen how to do it," Mr. Edison is quoted as saying. "He is the head of the transportation bureau that is moving Kitchener's armies and feeding them after they get to France and the Dardanelles. He is the man behind the commissary wagon—a long way behind it—and that, my boy, may be the reason the British army over in France and the one in the Mediterranean country is being kept supplied with something to eat and something to shoot with. For few men know the art of transportation better than that same Andy Allen."

Colonel John N. Simpson of Dallas, who was one of the most intimate friends of Mr. Allen, said today that he is unable either to confirm or deny the report. "All he knows is that when Mr. Allen retired from the management of the Katy Railroad about four years ago, he went to England and has since that time resided in London.

"Mr. Allen is probably the best qualified man to be found anywhere to handle the transportation and supply problems of the British Army," said Colonel Simpson. "I don't know how Kitchener feels about it, but if I were in Kitchener's place and knew Allen as I know him, there is no one in the world who could beat Allen out of the job of managing the transportation bureau."

"The former head of the Katy system is to my mind one of the most wonderful transportation geniuses of his time. Independently wealthy and generous with his personal property, he is positively stony when it comes to handling the railroad's money. He wouldn't give you one cent of the Katy's money, but if you needed it and he liked you, you could get the last dollar of his private fortune. If he is in charge of the British transportation bureau, you may be sure that everything is being moved on schedule time and at minimum cost.

"I wish I knew whether that story credited to Mr. Edison is true."

Mr. Allen is well known in Dallas, having made many trips here in his capacity as an official of the Katy.

The Gulf Wind

I think I'm some kin to the lilies,
For I toll not, nor do I spin,
But sit in my cabin doorway
Till the wind from the gulf blows in.

It carries a song through the pine trees,
A soft little hush a bye strain,
That sings to the human heart-strings,
Then echoes it back again.

It hushes the cries in the marshes
And ripples a smile on the bay;
Its kiss is a benediction
Bringing peace at the close of the day.

It heralds the footsteps of twilight
Still corning, now softer and sweeter,
Till it's lost in the shadowy distance
After singing the Southland to sleep.

So I reckon I'm kin to the lilies;
I toll not, nor do I spin,
But sit in my cabin doorway
Till the wind from the gulf blows in.

ACCIDENT AT POWER PLANT CAUSES INJURY TO EMPLOYEE

Town in Darkness For Several Minutes—Man is Severely Burned by Electric Current.

The slipping of a steel wrench across connections on the switchboard at the power plant of the Wichita Falls Company Monday night resulted in serious burns to Martin Ruby, an electrician of Amarillo, and darkened every lamp in town on that company's wires for about ten minutes.

Ruby who is in the employ of the Phoenix Construction Company which has been installing the high tension system by which the light company serves the towns of Burkburnett, Electra and Iowa Park was engaged in making some adjustments at the switchboard when his wrench made a connection between the switches. Instantly the switchboard became a chaos of lightning and fire. The fire enveloped Ruby's hands and flew into his face. His cries brought an employe of the plant to his assistance. The man threw a switch cutting off the current from the switchboard and summoned aid. Ruby did not receive the current into his body but his hands and face were painfully burned. One tongue of flame also shot against his body over his heart searing the flesh through his clothing but his burns are not considered fatal.

He was removed to the Wichita Falls Sanitarium shortly after he was burned and was getting along nicely today.

The accident happened at the most thrilling moment in the play at the Wichita Theatre. Candles were lighted and after a considerable delay the hero was permitting to continue his escape from the cruel captivities.

In each of the three states the vital issue will be fought out by ballot on Nov. 2. In New York state the suffragists will make their most heroic battle. MOONSHINE DEFENDANTS REACH LEAVENWORTH PRISON

Are Hopeful of Receiving Early Pardon. Parole and Are in Good Spirits.

By Associated Press, Kan., Oct. 26.—The six men who pleaded guilty at Fort Smith in the moonshine conspiracy cases were received at the federal penitentiary here Monday. Hope of an early parole or pardon kept up the spirits of the men.

Anyone can carry his burden, however heavy, till nightfall. Anyone can do his work, however hard, for one day. Anyone can live sweetly, patiently, lovingly, purely, till the sun goes down. And that is all that life ever really means.—R. L. Stevenson.

BUS BUSINESS BETTER WITH LONDON IN DARKNESS.

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 26.—Darkest London has swelled the bus receipts as a large part of the public would rather pay a penny to cross the street than to risk its neck at night. When in dark, take a bus, in the way a new saying puts it. At any rate, the number of short fares has increased noticeably since the new darkening order has gone into effect. While bus receipts suffered from a slackening of the theatre crowds after the big Zeppelin raid, this loss was made up many fold by the visitors to the ruined buildings.

Our Business Is Goods

And I am proud of the class of business that comes to my shop. I have always strived to please my customers with the best in work and service, and there is a satisfaction in knowing that I have succeeded. My customers are proof that the best is none too good for a customer. The customers of a business are usually on a par with the business itself. Good work and good service bring good customers, while cheap, dependable service brings customers who do not appreciate the best. If you want the best, let us have your business, as that is the only kind of service we have.

THE OLIVES WE SELL.

In only one, little, isolated spot in the world, is the Queen Olive found. This territory lying adjacent to the town of Saville, Spain, is not more than 40 miles wide at its widest part and upon it rests the burden of providing all the Queen Olives consumed throughout Europe and America. Firm, sound, selected fruit, picked by hand, at that period of its growth most essential to the perfection of its flavor is the first desideratum. The curing of the selected olive is a most delicate operation, its delightful properties do not appear under unskilled or hurried treatment. This brief outline suggests the character of the olives we are selling under our own brand. They are most perfect forms of true olive culture, and in their uniformity, suavity, and blandness of flavor are prized by lovers of this delicious fruit from the sunny orchards of old Spain. We have them in bottles containing just enough for a luncheon for two persons or enough for a banquet of one hundred persons. WE ROAST COFFEE EVERY DAY.
