French Army Officers Do Not Regard Position of Army as Critical, Claim That Bulgarians Have Been Repulsed in South

By Associated Press. Saloniki, Nov. 5.—Serbian resistance to the Austro-German drive is of the most heroic character accorded to travelers who have arrived here from the front.

The native troops, experts in mountain fighting, take advantage of every natural position of strength, forcing the invaders to dislodge them and leaving no ground until compelled to do so.

The journey from Nish to Saloniki the only outlet to the sea, takes nine days. Every means of transportation must be employed over the route to Tristina and Pristina through Albania.

French headquarters confirms the Serbian evacuation of Katschank Pass and that the Bulgarians are driving south from Galez in direct attack of Piroet between which points and Tetozo the Serbians thus far have repulsed the invaders inflicting heavy losses.

French staff officers do not seem to regard the position of the Serbian army as critical. They declare that the retreat gives the attacking army a strategic advantage without endangering it.

The maintain that the all important thing is for the Serbians to continue their fight while the allies are increasing their forces, extending their lines and limiting their field of Bulgarian action.

Dissolution of the Greek Parliament Would Make Their Position Somewhat Delicate.

By Associated Press. Paris, Nov. 5.—While agreeing that the Greek crisis is serious, opinion here is divided as to the probable consequences. G. Herbetie, an authority on international politics, points out that the 147 deputies who turned out to press the dissolution of parliament represent a majority of the Greek people, for among those who supported the cabinet there was more than one deputy of uncertain nationality from newly acquired provinces.

Declares Victory For Allies Would Give Greece Much Territory Acquired By Bulgarians.

By Associated Press. Athens, Nov. 5.—The statement by former Premier Venizelos which attracted special attention in the debate in the chamber of deputies today was that Great Britain's offer to cede the island of Cyprus to Greece, was independent of the result of the war while promise of concessions was conditional on the success of the allies.

Greece he said was to acquire part of Brusa and Bulgarian Thrace, while Bulgaria was to be shown of the territory she gained as a result of the Balkan war.

All this, he declared, would be obtained by Greece, at all cost, since the proposals of the entente powers required only the assistance of smaller units of the Greek fleet.

Predictions of bullish ginning returns on Monday and the absence of anything to indicate increasing pressure of spot cotton in the south as well as the extent of the recent decline in futures, appeared to attract some fresh bull support, while there was also considerable covering on the advance to 11.85 for January and 12.05 for March.

PRESIDENT URGES FULL SUPPORT FOR DEFENSE PROGRAM

DELIVERS ADDRESS BEFORE ANNUAL DINNER OF MANHATTAN CLUB IN NEW YORK CITY THURSDAY NIGHT.

SPEAKS OF DANGERS WITHIN

Pays Respect to Allies Who Pretend to Be Americans—Outlines Defense Plans in Detail and Pleads for National Support.

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 5.—A plea for military and naval forces sufficient to adequately defend the nation was voiced by President Wilson Thursday night in his address before the 50th anniversary dinner of the Manhattan Club. Incidentally, the president referred to a danger within this country when he spoke of "voices that have been raised in America professing to be the voices of Americans which were not in deed and in truth American, but which spoke alien sympathies, which came from men who loved other countries better than they loved America."

He spoke also in rebuke of manifestations of religious and sectarian antagonism. The president outlined the defense plans in detail and urged the nation to come to the administration's aid by putting the program into effect.

"Mr. Toastmaster and Gentlemen: I warmly felicitate the club upon the completion of fifty years of successful and interesting life. Club life may be made to mean a great deal to those who know how to use it. I have no doubt that to a great many of you has come genuine stimulation in the associations of this place and that as the years have multiplied you have seen more and more the useful ends which may be served by organizations of this sort."

"But I have not come to speak wholly of that, for there are others of your own members who can speak of the club with a knowledge and an intelligence which no one can have who has not been intimately associated with it. Men had themselves together for the sake of the association, and from my view of greater and deeper that because they are conscious of common interests lying outside their business occupations, because they are members of the same community and in frequent intercourse find mutual stimulation and a real maximum of strength and vigor."

"A year and a half ago our thought would have been almost altogether of great domestic questions. They are many and of vital consequence. We must and shall address ourselves to their solution with diligence, firmness and self-possession, notwithstanding we are disturbed by great disaster and abate with terrible war; but our thought is now inevitably of new things about which formerly we gave ourselves little concern. We are thinking now chiefly of our relations with the rest of the world—not our commercial relations—about which we have thought and planned always—but about our political relations, our duties as an individual and independent force in the world to ourselves, our neighbors and the world itself."

"Our principles are well known, it is not necessary to repeat them again. We believe in political liberty and founded our great government to obtain it, the liberty of men and of peoples of men to choose their own lives and of peoples to choose their own allegiance. Our ambition, also, all the world has knowledge of. It is not only of free and prosperous life, but also to be able to be the friend and thoughtful partisan of those who are free of our desire freedom the world over. If we have had aggressive purposes and covetous ambitions, they were the fruit of our thoughtless youth as a nation and we have put them aside. We shall, I confidently believe, never again take another foot of territory by conquest. We shall never in any circumstances seek to make an independent people subject to our domain, because we believe, we passionately believe, in the right of every people to choose their own lives and to govern themselves. For ourselves we wish nothing but the full liberty of self development; and with ourselves in this great matter we associate all the peoples of our own hemisphere. We wish not only the fullest freedom of independent growth and of action, for we know that throughout this hemisphere the same aspirations are everywhere being worked out, under diverse conditions but with the same impulse and ultimate object."

"All this is very clear to us and will, I confidently predict, become more and more clear to the whole world as the great processes of the future unfold themselves. It is with

BRYAN TAKES ISSUE WITH PRESIDENT ON DEFENSE QUESTION

FORMER SECRETARY OF STATE COMES OUT SQUARELY AGAINST PRESIDENT'S PLAN

ANSWERS MANHATTAN SPEECH

Statement Believed to Be Opening Gun in Fight to Be Made in Congress Against Adoption of Administration's Plan

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 5.—Former Secretary of State William J. Bryan came out squarely against President Wilson's national defense plan today, in a formal statement in which he took issue with the president's views as expressed last night in New York.

"A departure from our traditions, a reversal of our national policy, a menace to our peace and safety and a challenge to the spirit of Christian amity which teaches us to influence others by example, rather than by exciting fear," said Mr. Bryan. His statement which reiterates his views on the subject of preparedness for war was regarded as the opening gun in the fight which administration leaders expect in Congress against adoption of the plan.

"I have read the president's speech at New York with sorrow and concern," continued Mr. Bryan, "he is doing what he believes to be his duty, and so long as a man follows his conscience and judgment, we cannot criticize his motives, but we may be compelled to dissent from his conclusions. I feel it my duty to dissent and as he has given his views with clearness, those who differ from him are under a like obligation to express themselves with equal clearness."

"The president's ideal is a policy which has never before been adopted in this country and never indorsed by any party in the country and he has no way of knowing until he hears from the people whether he has correctly interpreted the will of the public. His appeal is not to any party, but, as he says, to men of all shades of opinion. From my view of the subject, the plan which he proposes is not only a departure from our traditions, but is a menace to our peace and safety."

"The president says we should be prepared, not for aggression, but for defense. That is the ground upon which all preparedness advocates stand. I believe that we have ever prepared for war, on the theory that it was preparing for aggression. It is only fair to assume that the European rulers who are involved in the present war thought they were contributing toward the maintenance of peace when they were making elaborate preparations for defense."

"The president's plan is the spirit of a revolver and whoever carries a revolver except for defense? It leads him not only to use it on slight provocation but to use language that provokes trouble."

"I speak softly and carry a big stick is one of the maxims employed by those who put their faith in force. There are two answers to it. First, the man who speaks softly has not the disposition to carry a club and second if a man with a soft voice is persuaded to carry a club, his voice changes as soon as he begins to rely on it."

"If there is any truth in our religion a nation must respect as an individual does, not by carrying arms, but by an upright honorable course that invites confidence and assures good will. This nation has won its position in the world without resorting to the habit of toting a pistol or carrying a club. Why reverse our policy at this time? The president himself admits that there is no reason for a change. If we are not threatened by any nation, if our relations with all nations are friendly, everybody knows that we are able to defend ourselves if necessary and if there is no fear among us, why is this time chosen to revolutionize our national theories and to change our policy for the policy of Europe?"

"Why abandon the hope we have so long entertained, of setting an example for Europe? Why encourage the nations of Europe in their fatal folly by imitating them? Why impose upon the western hemisphere a policy so disastrous. May we not expect Latin America to be stimulated to preparation if we enter upon a new era of preparation? And such a policy, make conflicts between these republics more probable? We shall do infinite harm to the neighboring nations as well as to ourselves if we are drawn into this policy which provokes war by preparation which is impossible without a large increase in taxation and the arousing of a military system which sets up false standards of honor."

"We are now spending more than $250,000,000 a year on preparedness, ten times as much as we are spending on agriculture and I feel sure that the taxpayers are not in favor of increasing this sum at this time, when a change is not only unnecessary but a menace to our national ideals. There has not been a time

Offer Strenuous Resistance to Teutonic Invaders, while Allied Troops Coming to Assistance Continue to Grow More Formidable.

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 5.—The all night meeting of the Greek chamber, the new attack of former Premier Venizelos on the policy of government and his criticism of the Greek king's interference with "constitutional liberties" of the Greek people are regarded as the new political crisis for the time being has overshadowed the military situation in the Balkans.

According to latest information from Athens, the king is expected to continue the Zaimis cabinet and dissolve parliament, rather than accept the other alternative of permitting Venizelos to return to power.

King Constantine is said to be in thorough sympathy with the conduct of Gen. Yamakissas, the war minister whose remarks before the chamber brought on the crisis, and to have demonstrated appreciation of the minister's course by appointing him an aide de camp.

In view of the large range of possibilities, London is not indulging in premature optimism over the defeat of the Zaimis cabinet. It is disposed to await further developments before accepting the situation as in any way indicative of Greece's intention to fight with Serbia against Bulgaria.

The Bulgarians are reported to have reached a point six miles north-east of Nish and to have advanced among the hills east and southeast of the city to positions almost as near.

The Germans on the north Serbian front are not so fortunate in their attack, but are slowly pressing back their opponents. The promised assistance for the Serbians is now materializing, according to advices from Saloniki, and two divisions of British troops have arrived at Strumitsa where they joined the French.

German and Austrian official reports although indicating things are going well for the Teutons on the Russian front, make it clear that they are now occupied chiefly with defending themselves against Russian attacks. Except in the way of counter attacks their own initiative apparently has been spent.

Particularly fierce Russian attacks are reported along the Dvina and the Sijta.

A full consciousness of such principles and such conditions, that we are asking citizens at the present time what our duty is with regard to the armed force of the nation. Within a year we have witnessed what we did not believe possible, a great European conflict involving many of the greatest nations of the world. The influence of a great war are everywhere in the air. All Europe is agitated. Forces everywhere speak out with a loud and imperious voice in a titanic struggle of governments, and from one end of our own dear country to the other men are asking one another what our own force is, how far we are prepared to maintain ourselves against any interference with our national action or development.

Defense, Not Aggression. "In no man's mind, I am sure, is there even raised the question of the willful use of force on our part against any nation or any people. No matter what military or naval force the United States might develop, statesmen throughout the whole world might rest assured that we were gathering that force, not for attack in any quarter, not for aggression of any kind, not for the satisfaction of any political or international ambition, but merely to make sure of our own security. We have it in mind to be prepared, but not for war, but only for defense; and with the thought constantly in our minds that the principles we hold most dear can be achieved by the slow processes of history only in the kindly and wholesome atmosphere of peace and not by the use of hostile force. The mission of America in the world is essentially a mission of peace and good will among men. She has become the home and asylum of men of all creeds and races. Within her hospitable borders they have found homes and congenial associations and freedom and a wide and cordial welcome, and they have become part of the bone and sinew and spirit of America itself. America has been made up of out of the nations of the world and is the friend of the nations of the world.

More Trained Citizens. "And we know that we can do this in a way that will be itself an illustration of the American spirit. In accordance with our American tradition we want and shall work for only an army adequate to the constant and legitimate uses of times of international peace. But we do want to feel that there is a great body of citizens who have received at least the most rudimentary and necessary forms of military training; that they will be ready to form themselves into a fighting force at the call of the nation; and that the nation has the munitions and supplies with which to equip them without delay should it be necessary to call them into action. We wish to supply them with the training they need, and we think we can do so without calling them at any time too long away from their civilian pursuits.

"It is with this idea, with this conception, in mind that the plans have been made which it will be my privilege to lay before the Congress at its next session. That plan calls for only such an increase in the regular army of the United States as experience has proved to be required for the performance of the necessary duties of the army in the Philippines, in Hawaii, in Porto Rico, upon the borders of the United States, at the coast fortifications and at the military posts of the interior. For the rest it calls for the training within only an army adequate to the constant and legitimate uses of times of international peace. But we do want to feel that there is a great body of citizens who have received at least the most rudimentary and necessary forms of military training; that they will be ready to form themselves into a fighting force at the call of the nation; and that the nation has the munitions and supplies with which to equip them without delay should it be necessary to call them into action. We wish to supply them with the training they need, and we think we can do so without calling them at any time too long away from their civilian pursuits.

"The National Guard. "And none of this would be done in such a way as in the slightest degree to supersede or subordinate our present serviceable and efficient National Guard. On the contrary, the National Guard itself, would be used as part of the instrumentality by which training would be given to the citizens who enlisted under the new conditions, and I should hope and expect that the legislation by which all this would be accomplished would put the National Guard itself upon a better and more permanent footing than it has ever been before, giving it not only the recognition which it deserves, but a more definite support from the national government as a more definite connection with the military organization of the nation.

"What we all wish to accomplish is that the forces of the nation should indeed be part of the nation and not a separate professional force, and the chief cost of the system would not be in the enlistment or in the training of the men, but in the providing of ample equipment in case it should be necessary to call all forces into the field.

FORT WORTH TRAVELING SALESMAN OUT WITH FACAS

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 3, 1915.—"I was exceedingly nervous and did run down and had practically to drag myself along and force myself to take every step," stated Mr. C. B. Hawes to the Tonic man at Covey & Martin Company's store.

"When I read so much about what Tonic has been doing and what a strong reconstructive tonic it is, and when it was so highly recommended to me by friends and acquaintances who are taking it, I decided to try one bottle anyhow. "I must confess that I had very little faith in the new medicine to begin with and it was a great surprise to me when I began to notice a marked change in my condition after the first few days. Tonic has built up my system, increased my appetite and has an uplifting tonic I should say that it is unparalleled. I am recommending it to all my friends and relatives for it has helped me so much.

"I nearly always feel sluggish and run down in the summer time, but this summer is going to be an exception, for I intend to continue taking Tonic as it seems to give me renewed energy."

Mr. Hawes boards at 1216 Jennings Ave., Ft. Worth and travels out of that city. Tonic will continue to be explained at the Palace Drug Store.—(Adv.)

The navy as the first and chief line of defense. The navy of the United States is already a very great and efficient force. Not rapidly, but slowly, with careful attention, our naval force has been developed until the navy of the United States stands recognized as one of the most efficient and noble of the modern time. All that is needed in order to bring it to a point of extraordinary force and efficiency as compared with the other navies of the world is that we should hasten our pace in the policy we have long been pursuing, and that chief of all we should have a definite policy of development, not made from year to year, but looking well into the future and planning for a definite consummation. We can and should profit in all that we do by the experience and example that have been made obvious to us by the military and naval events of the actual present. It is not merely a matter of building battleships and cruisers and submarines, but also a matter of making sure that we shall have the adequate equipment of men and munitions and supplies for the vessels we build and intend to build. Part of our problem is the problem of what I may call the mobilization of the resources of the nation at the proper time if it should ever be necessary to mobilize them for national defense. We shall study efficiency and adequate equipment as carefully as we shall study the number and size of our ships, and I believe that the plans already in part made public by the navy department are plans which the whole nation can approve with national enthusiasm.

"No thoughtful man feels any panic haste in this matter. The country is not threatened from any quarter. She stands in friendly relations with all the world. Her resources are known and her self respect and her capacity to care for her own citizens and her own rights. There is no fear amongst us. Under the new world conditions we have become thoughtful of the things which all reasonable men consider necessary for security, and self defense on the part of every nation confronted with the great enterprise of human liberty and independence. That is all.

"Is the plan we propose sane and reasonable and suited to the needs of the hour? Does it not conform to the ancient traditions of America? Has any better plan been proposed than this program that we now place before the country? In it there is no pride of opinion. It represents the best professional and expert judgment of the country. But I am not so much interested in programs as I am in safeguarding at every cost the good faith and honor of the country. If you differ with me in this vital matter, I shall ask them to make it clear how far and in what way they are interested in making the permanent interests of the country safe against disturbance.

Makes Plea For Support. "In the fulfillment of the program I propose I shall ask for the hearty support of the country, of the rank and file of America, of men of all shades of political opinion. For my position in this important matter is different from that of the private individual who is free to speak his own thoughts and to risk his own opinions in this matter. We are here dealing with things that are vital to the life of America itself. In doing this I have tried to purge my heart of all personal and selfish motives. For the time being, I speak as the trustee and guardian of a nation's rights, charged with the duty of speaking for that nation in matters involving her sovereignty—a nation too big and generous to be exacting and yet courageous enough to defend its rights and the liberties of its people wherever assailed or invaded. I would not feel that I was discharging the solemn obligation I owe the country were I not to speak in terms of the deepest solemnity of the urgency and necessity of preparing ourselves to guard and protect the rights and privileges of our people, our sacred heritage of the fathers who struggled to make us an independent nation.

The only thing with our own borders that has given us grave concern in recent months has been that voices have been raised in America professing to be the voice of Americans which were not indeed and in truth American, but which spoke alien sympathies, which came from men who loved other countries better than they loved America, men who were partisans of other causes than that of America and had forgotten that their chief and only allegiance...

The answer to your questions about Cottolene

Every housewife who uses it knows by experience that no other shortening produces such splendid biscuits, pastry, etc., or fries foods so deliciously and so digestibly as does Cottolene.

The reason for this is in its extreme purity and unfailing quality, and in the fact that this exact combination of the purest refined cottonseed oil and choicest beef stearine seems to create just those cooking elements which are necessary for the ideal shortening and frying product.

Cottolene

Because of its purity and quality you do not need to use so much of Cottolene. Use one-third less than of butter or lard. Heat it slowly for frying. Follow these simple instructions and the results will more than please your family.

It is not only a pleasure for the cook to have a shortening and frying product which she can use with absolute confidence, but it is appetizing to you and your family to know and realize the purity and wholesomeness of Cottolene.

SILVER WEDDING OBSERVED BY DR. AND MRS. ANDREWS

The passage of twenty-five years of happy married life was marked by Dr. and Mrs. Allen L. Andrews at the celebration of their silver anniversary Thursday evening at the M. E. Church, South. The bride and groom of twenty-five years ago were attended by their seven children and in the conventional wedding procession order entered the church parlors and proceeded to an altar of smilax and yellow and white chrysanthemums where they were met by Dr. Frank P. Culver, of Waco, classmate and friend of Dr. Andrews since boyhood and best man at the wedding which took place twenty-five years ago in Huntsville, Ala. The three youngest children, Holt, Lee and Louis acted as ribbon bearers and Miss Ruth, the young daughter was flower girl. Misses Lila and Virginia were bridesmaids and the oldest son, Will, was in the capacity of attendant for his father. As the party stood at the altar Dr. Culver made a short congratulatory talk and pronounced a marriage benediction.

A musical program and an informal order of speech was carried out. Mrs. Lee Clark sang "Always" and "Mother Machree," Mrs. C. Y. Tully's selections were old favorites, "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and Ivan Murchison sang, "Then You'll Remember Me," from The Bohemian Girl and "My Faith in Thee." In his characteristic happy vein Judge John C. Kay spoke the deep appreciation the people of the church feel for Dr. Andrews and his family, who in the short time they have been here have entered so thoroughly into the life of the church community. Dr. Andrews responded in like manner to this tribute and Dr. Culver also spoke marking the subject of his complimentary remarks the bride of twenty-five years back, stating that much of Dr. Andrews' success he owes to his wife.

The occasion was one marked by the receipt of many handsome gifts in silver from both out of town and friends here. A more handsome array of presents has seldom been noticed here and one of the most appreciated gifts was a chest of silver, presented by the people of the church. Telegrams poured in throughout the day from friends in Texas and also in Alabama, their home State and the anniversary will be one long to be remembered by Dr. and Mrs. Andrews, rendered so by the loving thoughtfulness of their many friends.

The church parlors were decorated in a pleasing manner with gold and white chrysanthemums and ferns. Punch was served throughout the evening and there were between five and six hundred guests.

Mrs. Andrews wore a handsome black lace gown trimmed with silver metal lace and worn over blue satin. Miss Virginia wore a white lace gown, Miss Lila's frock was pink chiffon and Miss Ruth wore a pink silk and chiffon frock.

MERRY MATRONS MEET WITH MRS. PITCHFORD

The Merry Matrons met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. D. W. Pitchford as hostess. MUSICIANS CLUB PRACTICE THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The Musicians Club held an interesting and profitable chorus practice Thursday afternoon at the parlors of the Westland. An invitation to the club to hear Dr. J. D. Wharoy of the University of Texas next Tuesday evening at the First Presbyterian Church was extended by the Unity Club, and after a business discussion the club worked on music, or both Thanksgiving and Christmas programs. The work under Director Machlin is progressing nicely and it is urged that all who intend to enter into the chorus work this year be present at the practice next Thursday. To make a success of the work undertaken it is necessary to have a full and regular attendance so all members are urged to be on hand at the Westland next Thursday at 2:30.

MEETING OF THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB YESTERDAY

Mrs. M. F. Winfrey's hospitality for the Thursday Bridge Club Thursday afternoon was an exceptionally delightful one, her guests including five tables of members and substitutes. The souvenir of the game, a piece of cut glass, went to Mrs. H. O. Craven in a cut and the conclusion of the game was marked by the service of a dainty two-course luncheon. The substitutes were: Mrs. Gwynn of Fort Worth, Mesdames E. L. Smith, John Shaw and E. P. Greenwood; club members: Mesdames Allen, Wiley Blair, Frank Blair, Craven, Robertson, Toney, Reese, Cullinan, Kunkel, McGregor, Wade Walker, Sherrod, Gwynn, Jones, Stanforth and Miss Sherrod.

MRS. NICHOLSON SEW SO HOSTESS THURSDAY

Mrs. E. W. Nicholson was hostess Thursday afternoon to the Sew So Club, the usual order of entertainment being followed. Music by Miss Laura Martin was a special diversion and with the refreshment service came a novelty, the hostess, passing plates of candy, each piece of candy containing the picture of a member. Pumpkin pie with hot tea was served to the following guests: Mrs. Laura Martin, Mrs. H. L. Hunter, Mrs. T. J. DeBerry, members: Mesdames Baggett, Nicholson, Coffield, Fitzgerald, Foville, Howery, Jamison, Naylor, Martin, Perkins, Taylor, Urban and Williams.

CALLED MEETING OF STANDARD CLUB

The Standard Club met Wednesday afternoon in called session with Mrs. H. B. Patterson. Following the roll call answered with historical facts about King Richard the usual round table discussion was engaged in. The resignation of some of the members brought forth a pretty tribute to these members by Mrs. Patterson and several new members were welcomed, these being Mesdames Plahell, Bloodworth, W. W. Little, Miss Hunter and Miss Harding. The lesson was led by Miss Hickman, the study being scenes one and two of Act 1 of "King Richard." Miss Alder had a paper on "The Historical Thread Between King John and Richard" and Mrs. Fulton gave the forecast of the play, both historical and Shakespearean. A light refreshment course was served by the hostess at the conclusion of the program.

DINNER FOR DR. AND MRS. ANDREW THURSDAY.

The wedding party of the Andrews silver anniversary celebration were guests of honor at a six o'clock dinner Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Salder. The large dining table was exquisite with the silver and cut glass accessories and the centerpiece was formed of a wedding party of Kewpie. Bride and groom and attendant faced a Kewpie minister in the conventional order. Bud vases containing pink La France buds outlined the center of the table. A four course menu was served to the following: Dr. and Mrs. Andrews, Misses Virginia, Lila and Ruth Andrews, Will, Louis and Holt Andrews, Dr. Culver of Waco and the host and hostess.

MRS. SHAPPELL HOSTESS TO CONGENIAL CROCHET CLUB.

The Congenial Crochet Club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. T. O. Shappell. The usual crocheting and conversation furnished employment for fingers and tongues until late in the afternoon when the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Lurline and Miss Gertrude Taylor served a tempting refreshment course. Mrs. Mary Friberg and Mrs. I. H. Fehr of Denison were the guests, the club members present being: Mesdames Eymann, Taylor, C. A. Andree, Dollard, Bachman, Brown, Snyder, Corkhill and the hostess.

M. Bell, J. G. Presley and Murph.

According to Dr. Grutch a Serbian army doctor now in London, there are 2,600 women fighting in the Serbian army with their husbands.

The Greek cabinet has resigned, which was brought about by a remark by the War Minister which was considered very insulting.

Frank Wilson and Speaker Champ Clark have been in conference with each other regarding matters of national interest that will come before the next Congress. That looks like there was harmony between the Democratic leaders of this Democratic administration.

The Mexicans are going back to Mexico in great numbers, so report the railroads that run to and across the border, all of which indicates that these Mexicans who left their country when the war broke out are now convinced that peace is near at hand.

Of the 1275 claims for damages as a result of the explosion of a tank of gasoline, killing more than forty people and destroying property to the amount of millions of dollars, the committee of citizens of Ardmore, selected by the claimants and accepted by the Santa Fe railway company, 316 have been settled without going into court, and there is a fair prospect that all of them will be settled in the same way.

Foreign exports from the port of Galveston, during October, consisting principally of cotton and wheat, show an increase over the same month last year. The value of exports for October, 1915, were $24,008,097 against $23,592,140 for October 1914. Imports for the same month were $469,209, against $951,980 for October, 1914. The falling off of imports is attributed to interruption of trade and traffic between Mexico and the United States.

"National Defense" was the subject of President Wilson's address at the Manhattan Club in New York yesterday, and it is regarded as his opening speech for the presidential campaign of 1916. The hall was filled to capacity with leading Democrats of the city of New York who were happy over the victory in Tuesday's election in which the Tammany ticket swept everything before it. Among the guests present were Charles F. Murphy, Tammany chief, and he and the President shook hands. It was their first meeting since the presidential election of 1912, and indicates that when Wilson's name goes before the next Democratic National Convention, Tammany and Boss Murphy will be for Wilson instead of against him, as was the case at Baltimore.

If Elihu Root was considered the strongest candidate the Republican party had to put up against Wilson the defeat of the proposed new constitution for the state of New York indicates that he is more popular outside of New York than in it. Four hundred and fifty thousand is an awful majority for any proposition, labeled as the project of a presidential aspirant to go down under, and it may mean that Mr. Root will be forced to abandon his presidential aspirations.

Speaking of present day baseball and the way the game used to be played, the Stephenville Enterprise stops long enough to make the following observation: "It is amusing to hear these boys of the younger generation alluding to the 2 to 1 games between Boston and Philadelphia as yondrous baseball playing. Only three scores made in nine innings, yet they call it good ball! Wonder what some of these present day fans would exclaim if they could witness a real game, such as was played between the Waxahachie Antelopes and the Ennis Coyotes in 1880, when the score stood 63 to 33 in favor of the Antelopes. At this distant day perhaps it would not be immodest in us to state that we occupied the exalted position of Captain of the winning team."

Gaby DeLays, known as the modern king deposer because of what she did for the poor, silly youth who was formerly king of Portugal, has reached America to spend her winter season as plain and fancy dancer. Gaby brought with her a little Mexican dog wearing diamond ear rings; one hundred and eighty trunks containing her wardrobe; a score or more of servants and other necessary evils. It is refreshing to learn that she has enlarged her wardrobe, even to the extent of a hundred and eight trunks full; pictures of the famous dancer in times past have created the impression that her wardrobe might conveniently be carried in one's vest pocket.—Brownwood Bulletin.

At The Theaters

The Empress. Something brand new in motion picture comedy will be the offering at the Empress theater today when George Kleine's "The Fixer" featuring Bickel and Watson is scheduled for screening.

"The Fixer" is the latest product of the Kleine Studios, and is in many ways a precedent maker. The interior, supporting casts and general detail is of real feature quality which is unusual in comedy productions. The greatest slap-stick artist in the world Bickel and Watson, will be seen in a logical story, charged with many funny situations and in no way dependent upon the ordinary tumble-about comedy or stock business tricks of any individual. Supporting Bickel and Watson are Sam Edwards, Ben L. Tassart, Alva Hanlon, Ruby Hoffman, John Nicholson and other Broadway

The Majestic. Joseph Jefferson is featured in a multiple reel feature "Rip Van Winkle" secured especially for today for the benefit performance for the Austin Mother's Club. This well known actor plays his most famous role in the moving picture which repeats the stage success of the play "Rip Van Winkle."

The Lydie Margaret. Today's picture program includes a three part feature drama "Her Three Mothers" with Agnes Vernon featured. The story is one that is rather pathetic at the start with a wholesome and pleasing ending. The little stars most pleasing in this picture.

The Gods. Today the fifteenth and last chapter of "The Goddess" is shown and there will be many who will regret to see the last of Anita Stewart in one of her most appealing roles as well as Earle Williams as the young hero. These Vitagraph stars have doubled their popularity in this serial. Four other reels are on the program, including an Essanay, "Broncho Billy and the Lumber King," with G. M. Anderson and Marguerite Clayton featured.

Some time last week the clamps holding the glass top on a cigar case at the Kemp and Kell building cigar stand, run by Miss Thelma Bryant, were unclamped, and a quantity of cigars stolen. Several times before the cigar and tobacco cases at this stand had been burglarized. Recently they were equipped with locks. The thief last night got around the locks by taking the top off the case.

GOTTON REACHES GERMANY DESPITE CONTRABAND ORDER

Lausanne, Switzerland, Nov. 5.—According to news received here from Metz, a heavy consignment of cotton that arrived there recently is being sent across the frontier into Germany notwithstanding the rigorous measures against contraband. The consignment is said to have received from Germany about the same time a thousand large tin boxes. It was noticed that the cotton was gradually disappearing; the tin boxes also. The cotton, compressed in the boxes, found its way into the Rhine and was fished out by the Baden ferryman who operates the line between Switzerland and Germany a little farther down stream.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

VILLA MAY STRIKE FOR MEXICO'S WESTERN COAST

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 5.-Confidential reports to the war department from official sources in Mexico indicate that Gen. Villa, in his movement to Sancer, is carrying out part of a plan to strike from there through the interior to the Pacific to capture Guaymas as a base then probably to move toward Mexico City. On the coast the American embargo on arms will not prevent the receipt of munitions by Villa.

The attention of Confederate veterans in this vicinity is again called to the roll call meeting at the court house at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. It is hoped that every veteran who can come to this meeting will do so.

BRYAN TAKES ISSUE WITH PRES. ON DEFENSE PROGRAM

In 50 years when there was less reason to add to the expenses of the army and navy for we are not only without any enemy but our preparedness is increasing relatively as our nations exhaust themselves and there never was and there never has been a time in our whole history when our duty to the world more imperatively demanded self-restraint and the councils of peace.

"I hope the president will not be deceived by the atmosphere of the Manhattan Club. That is the only place in the United States where the Mammon-worshipping portion of the democratic party meets to exchange compliments—there is no group farther removed from the sentiment of the masses, whether you measure the distance by social or religious standards."

DETERMINED RESISTANCE IS OFFERED BY SERBIANS

By Associated Press. Paris, Nov. 5.—Reports from the Serbian front indicate that determined resistance is still being offered by the Bulgarian forces. The Greatest Coat Cutter

In America can do nothing more than follow the measurements he has at hand. The finest tailors in the world make clothes that would not fit anything but a hippopotamus. But don't blame the tailors or the engineers who design clothes because the fit depends on the man who LAYS THE TAPE. The artist of the craft tailoring must depend for his specifications on the man who measures the form that is to wear the suit. For years I have laid the tape on every shape and size of man from the "Beef Trust" to the "Bean Pole" and made the suits fit. Any time the suit don't fit it is my suit and you can't leave my shop with it. It won't cost you a penny to find out whether or not I can make these statements stick.

Sudden Retreat of Attacking Forces Not Understood By American Army Observers—No New Attack Expected at Present Time

By Associated Press. Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 3.—Gen. Villa forced by hunger, thirst and scanty supply of ammunition to abandon his plans for an immediate assault on the strongly entrenched city of Agua Prieta commenced withdrawing his army today and shortly after 9 o'clock most of his force was moving towards Anacacab Pass, twelve miles southwest.

It is his apparent intention to reach water which is plentiful farther southwest and provision his hungry men. Gen. Mendez with about 1500 men had been holding the post for several days and will remain there guarding the entrance to the valley for the return of Villa. Meantime, it is said, heavy supplies of ammunition will reach Villa from the east. That Villa's intentions temporarily to withdraw his forces from the vicinity of Agua Prieta was sudden, was shown by the fact that his men in command of rapid fire guns on the right wing took nothing but their guns with them. American army officers are somewhat mystified at this movement.

Villa dead left on the field are 336. Two hundred were counted lying west of Agua Prieta and 136 to the east. Carranza deaths were 25 soldiers killed and 70 wounded.

WILL ARBITRATE CASE OF STEAMER SEIZED BY BRITISH

INCIDENT IS FIRST UNDER GREAT BRITAIN'S RECENT DECLARATION OF CHANGED POLICY IN SUCH MATTERS

United States Contends That Flag a Vessel is Entitled to Bear Determines Nationality—New Controversy is Impending

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 3.—Settlement by arbitration of the case of the American steamer Hocking, seized by a British cruiser off the Atlantic coast, was forecast today as a result of the new issue which has arisen between the United States and the entente allies over the question of methods of determining the nationality of merchant ships.

The seizure of the Hocking is the first since the British government's change of policy conformable to the French rule, that a vessel's nationality is determined by ownership and not by flag. This is widely at variance with the policy of the United States. Great Britain and the United States heretofore virtually have agreed that a vessel's nationality is determined by the flag she is entitled to fly. The British government it is understood will contend that the Hocking was purchased with German money.

DISAGREEMENT RESULTS IN FORFEITURE OF TWO BONDS

City Court Cases Not to be Continued Promiscuously, Judge Rye Declares.

Judge Rye announced in the city court this morning that he would not continue cases in which agreements had been made with city officers unless such agreements were brought to his attention. He made this announcement in refusing a request to rescind an order forfeiting fifty dollar bonds for two defendants who had failed to appear yesterday morning when their cases were called.

The attorney for these defendants claimed that he had made an agreement with one of the city officers to try the cases this morning instead of yesterday morning. The officer in question said he did not understand that any arrangement for a continuance had been made. City Attorney Horace Nutt announced that he would issue citations for judgment in the cases of the forfeited bonds.

SUFFRAGE LOSES IN THREE STATES; REPUBLICAN GAINS

OHIO AGAIN DEFEATS PROHIBITION—DEMOCRATS LOSE ONE CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, ALSO ONE GOVERNOR.

NEW YORK CONSTITUTION FAILS

Incomplete Returns in Kentucky Indicate Democratic Victory—Republicans Elect Mayors in Philadelphia and Other Cities.

NEW YORK CONSTITUTION FAILS

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 3.—Elections in ten states yesterday emphatically defeated woman's suffrage amendments in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania—gave the republicans an additional representative in Congress and a new governor in Massachusetts.

The democrats apparently elected a governor in Maryland and an entire state ticket besides a majority in the state legislature.

In Kentucky, both parties claim a victory in the gubernatorial contest, but incomplete returns from 111 of the 120 counties gave the late congressman A. O. Stanley, democrat, a lead of 9000 votes over E. D. Morrow, his republican opponent.

Mississippi, the only other state to elect a governor, went as usual, democrat.

In New York former Congressman William S. Bennett was elected in the 22nd district to succeed the late democratic congressman Jacob Golden. Republicans will succeed republicans in the 31st and 36th congressional districts of New York and the 24th district of Pennsylvania. In New York the republicans retained their control of the lower house of the legislature although they lost one assemblyman. They also elected a majority of the mayors chosen in cities of the state.

In addition to defeating the suffrage amendment by about 120,000 votes the people of New York repudiated the new state constitution drafted at the recent constitutional convention.

Samuel W. McCall the republican who will succeed David Walsh a democrat, as governor of Massachusetts won by a plurality of 6600 votes. The republicans retained control of the Massachusetts legislature.

The republicans returned to power in Philadelphia where their candidate, Thomas E. Smith was elected mayor by 73,009.

In New Jersey the republicans gained two state senators and two members of the assembly and will continue in control of both houses of the legislature.

Statewide prohibition was rejected in Ohio by a majority of from 39,000 to 40,000 votes. Last year the amendment was defeated by 84,000 votes. The republicans elected mayors in Cleveland and Cincinnati. The city of Toledo voted against a 25 year street car franchise and will take over all lines controlled by the Toledo Railways & Light Company.

The election of members of the Virginia assembly will send a heavy majority to the senate and house pledged to the enactment of prohibition legislation when the state goes dry by constitutional amendment on November 1, 1916.

FORCES LANDING ON GRECIAN COAST MAY PROVE MENACE

POSSIBILITY OF BULGARIANS BEING OUTFLANKED IS PRESENTED BY NEW ANGLO-FRENCH MOVE

Russia Reports Germany is Withdrawing Men from Eastern Front—One Dispatch Says Serbians Almost Surrounded

FEW PRISONERS BEING TAKEN

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 3.—The landing of French troops at Kaveia on the Greek coast is reported in a Sofia telegram to Berlin and although this news is unconfirmed it seems a likely sequel to yesterday's information that British and French transports have been sighted off this Greek port. Whether these forces will be able to connect speedily enough with the other troops to form a line against the Bulgarians from Hrisopolak to Strumitza to relieve the pressure there and by a possible flank attack threaten the rear of the Bulgarian forces is admittedly problematical. But the appearance of these fresh troops in the Balkans is regarded in London as the gratifying materialization of Premier Asquith's positive announcement yesterday that the independence of Serbia was one of the essential projects of the war and that Great Britain and France were in agreement regarding the means whereby this end might be attained.

With the exception with this reported landing of troops the Balkan situation today presents little beside conflicting rumors including that Monastir is already in Bulgarian hands and that the Serbians are almost surrounded by the Austrians, Germans and Bulgarians and are retreating to their last position in the Albanian mountains. These rumors however, are discredited here or are at least regarded as premature since the official communications from Vienna and Sofia record no such developments.

The Austro-German forces in northern and western Serbia and the Bulgarians in the east continue their attacks against which the defense gradually yields ground but the situation is not vitally changed.

The size of the German forces operating against Serbia is fixed at 150,000 men. Thus far the prisoners captured by this force is small. The Austrians have admitted that they have only been able to capture 20 Serbian officers and 6600 men.

Petrograd furnishes the information that additional German troops have been sent from the Russian front to Serbia and military observers here believe that the opportunity will come soon the Russian army to develop their offensive which has been under way for some time.

Thousands Expected to Attend Unique Affair—Local Athletes Plan To Take Part

From Tuesday's Daily. More than 100 employees of the Katy system in this city are planning to journey to Denison Saturday to attend the first annual athletic meet of that railroad at which it is expected that from 5000 to 7000 members of the Katy family will be in attendance.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL HAVE CADET CORPS; PLANS UNDER WAY

FIRST MEETING IS HELD MON. DAY AFTERNOON—AND MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED—TWO COMPANIES PROPOSED

FACULTY MEMBER IN CHARGE

Prof. H. A. Baker, National Guard Captain, To Be in Command—School Board and Superintendent Approve of Idea

From Tuesday's Daily. The Wichita Falls high school is to have a cadet organization similar to the organizations now popular all over the country designed to give training, not exactly military, but to improve the students physically and to give them a much needed discipline. At a recent meeting of the school board the plan of a military organization in the school was broached and met with the hearty approval of the board, who felt that the present opportunity was one not to be neglected as they had in the past. He has signified his willingness to undertake the organization of one or more companies; he hopes to have two companies ultimately and the boys of the high school will benefit by his years of experience. The instructions will be equal to that in the Dallas and Fort Worth high schools, where high school cadet corps have lately been formed.

Membership in these companies will of course be optional but to judge from the mass meeting of the boys held Monday afternoon after school to discuss the movement with Mr. Baker there will be no lack of members. The war strength of a United States company is one hundred and fifty and the peace strength ranges from 40 to 60. In all probability the high school companies will consist of about 40. The uniforms will be worn to school and the military discipline will govern the boys in their school life.

Superintendent Lee Clark stated that the idea was not to make soldiers out of the boys by this military training but to make men of them. The drills and setting up exercises will give them physical training and the discipline will benefit them morally. It is thought that the end of next week, which is the beginning of the third school month will see at least one company fully organized. Mr. Baker will devote his time to the formation of the companies and instructing the officers who will be selected from the older boys of the school and by the middle of the month at least the high school cadets will be a reality. The schools which have instituted this military training have found numerous benefits to accrue from it. The discipline makes an improvement in the general behavior of the boys, the drills tend to make them of a better appearance and stronger physically and in all activities of the school it is found that the boys in the military divisions are leaders.

This movement will probably be one of the most popular ever instituted by the local school authorities in keeping with the progressive and up to date policy of the Wichita Falls high school. Details of the formation of the companies will probably be given by the last of this week or the first of next.

FIFTEEN NAVAL RECRUITS SECURED HERE IN OCTOBER

Much Interest Being Taken in Work Judging From Number of Inquiries Received

From Tuesday's Daily. Fifteen recruits were sent to the United States navy from the Wichita Falls station during the month of October. The agitation for better national defense appears to be creating greater interest in the navy judging from the number of inquiries that are being received at the recruiting station. Those enlisting here in October were: P. M. McCoy, Wichita Falls; Guy Hagood, Henrietta; John McMea, Wichita Falls; Clyde Hank, Rowell, N. Calendar of Anti Alcohol Action In Europe Since Outbreak of War France: August 1914: A few days after the outbreak of war the Military Government of Paris and Lyons prohibited the sale of absinthe in their territory. On August 16 the French Government enjoined Prefects to take the same step in their Department.

February 12, 1915: The President of the French Republic issued a decree and exportation of absinthe, throughout France. The French Chamber of Deputies, by 481 votes to 52, passed a bill suppressing for all time the manufacture, sale, and exportation of absinthe. "Similar Drinks" to absinthe were also prohibited. The Senate ratified the measure.

April: General Joffre forbade the sale of spirits to the French army in the war zone. June: General Gosser forbade the sale of spirits to the soldiers of the French, British and Belgian armies in Normandy. July: General Gallieni, Military Governor of Paris, forbade the sale of spirits to the troops in the Paris command.

October: The sale of liquor before noon forbidden and sale to women and children prohibited. Right of private manufacture of alcoholic liquors suspended.

November 18: War tax on beer. February 28, 1915: Mr. Lloyd George, as Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated at Bannock that war work was being delayed by the drinking habits of a minority of the workers. "Drink is doing us more damage in the war than all the German submarines put together," he said.

March 17: Mr. Lloyd George told a Conference of Trade Union representatives conveyed "at the request of the Government—that drinking habits were gravely interfering with the output and transport of munitions of war."

March 25: The Executive of the Transport Workers' Federation in the interests of national well-being urged the Government "to take immediate decisive action to reduce the output of intoxication to a minimum."

March 29: A deputation from the Shipbuilding Employers' Federation waited on the Chancellor and urged "the total prohibition during the period of the war of the sale of excisable liquor."

Mr. Lloyd George said in reply: "Nothing but root-and-branch methods will be of the slightest avail in dealing with this evil. I am permitted to say that King is very deeply concerned on this very question."

March 30: Lord Stamfordham, Chancellor expressing deep concern at the "wretchedly done largely due to drink" in the output and transport of munitions. "The King will be prepared," he added, "to set the example by giving up all alcoholic liquor himself, and begging orders against its consumption in the Royal Household, so that no difference shall be made so far as His Majesty is concerned between the treatment of the rich and poor in this question."

April 23: An official return published, setting out the evidence of delay, attributed to drink, in the output and transport of munitions. May 7: The proposed heavy taxes on liquor withdrawn in face of the opposition of the liquor trade.

May 19: The proposals for complete State control of the liquor traffic in war-work areas became a law. May 26: A Central Control Board appointed to exercise the new powers rubles, or about half that sum in dollars. In 1914 the amount was 95,368 rubles. In the four months only of 1915 the amount was 193,900 rubles. The increase was evidently due to prohibition. The amount of revenue surrendered by the Russian Government was approximately $300,000,000. All sources testify to the benefits of the policy.

It is known that: (1) During the first period of mobilization (i. e., until August 31, 1914) the sale of alcohol was forbidden in German towns. There were no exceptions. The Order was withdrawn. (2) The sale of spirits to soldiers in uniform has been prohibited in certain areas.

August 12, 1914: Powers were given the Navy and Military Authorities to close at any time licensed premises in or near a fortified place. August 31: Intoxicating liquor (temporary restriction) act became law.

November 18: War tax on beer. February 28, 1915: Mr. Lloyd George, as Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated at Bannock that war work was being delayed by the drinking habits of a minority of the workers. "Drink is doing us more damage in the war than all the German submarines put together," he said.

HERMAN RIDDER, PROMINENT GERMAN PUBLISHER, IS DEAD

Was Treasurer of Democratic National Committee—Leading Figure in Newspaper Circles

New York, Nov. 2.—Herman Ridder, treasurer of the Democratic national committee and publisher of the New York Staats-Zeitung, died suddenly late Monday at his home in this city.

The cause of Mr. Ridder's death was kidney trouble in an acute form. He had been ill about ten months and for two weeks past his condition had been critical. He was in his sixty-fifth year. Members of his family were summoned to the bedside when it was seen that he could last but little longer.

Among a large number of prominent German-American citizens of the United States, Herman Ridder was one of the most conspicuous figures in the newspaper publishing business and in politics. His associates in the publishing business had honored him at one time with the presidency of the American Newspaper Association, and for many years he held high offices in the Associated Press as treasurer and a director. In politics he was such a factor that he was talked of at the national Democratic convention at Denver in 1908 as a possible nominee for vice president on the ticket with Bryan, whom, however, Mr. Ridder opposed at that time. He also was discussed later as a likely selection for ambassador to Germany.

Following the nomination of Bryan at the 1908 convention after former Governor Haskell of Oklahoma had resigned as treasurer of the national Democratic committee because of his affiliation with Standard Oil interests, Mr. Ridder was chosen as treasurer, and in his own name and those of his largest contributors he raised the largest sum of money for the Bryan campaign.

Mr. Ridder was owner and editor of the New York Staats-Zeitung, one of the foremost German newspapers in the United States, and through this he was conspicuous lately in his ardent defense of the German position in the European war. Mr. Ridder was one of the so-called self-made men, and a New Yorker from birth until his death.

The story is told of a dinner which he gave to 25 New York men at the time Colonel Clowry first established himself in New York to take charge of the Western Union Telegraph Company. A poll of birthplaces was taken at the table just for fun, and the German editor proved to be the only born New Yorker present. He was born March 5, 1851. His German parents were not far removed from poverty—so near that young Ridder began earning his own living when 11 years old as an errand boy in a hat-store. His stages progressed in a Wall street broker's office, as employee of a fire insurance company and then as an insurance agent. At 18 he had become interested in politics and at that early age, before he was 20, he had stamped the whole lower east side of New York City and won for his favorite a nomination for district judge, later electing his man.

LEGLESS BEGGAR ACQUIRES WHOLE CIRCUS MENAGERIE

From Tuesday's Daily.

A legless beggar went out into the factory district Saturday night with a blanket and a quart and a pint of whiskey, to pull off a drunk by his lonesome on the prairie. By morning he had acquired a whole menagerie, snakes and green lizards being his specialty. He was out on the open prairie and unable to move. The sheriff's office was notified and went out last night and brought him to town in an automobile. This morning his menagerie and disappear and he asked for a cup of coffee. As soon as he is able to get about he will be invited to quit the city.

of the State in war-work areas. June 10: Powers of the Central Control Board announced. These powers permit the Board to deal with the liquor situation in war-work areas absolutely as may seem best to them.

On March 29, 1915, Hon. David Lloyd George made his famous statement. We are fighting Germany, Austria and drink, and as far as I can see the greatest of these three deadly foes is drink. Lord Kitchener urged the expeditionary force against wine and temperance propaganda movements have been numerous and vigorous. The majority of the leading military and naval men are setting an example of total abstinence.

It has been well said that in Great Britain it was the normal drink evil which was suddenly seen to be a great menace to national safety and welfare. Drinking was not abnormal after the outbreak of war. The estimated national drink bill for 1914 was $10,000,000 less than for 1913. Strong drink, not in exceptional quantities, but as Great Britain had used itself to liquor, was threatening the life of the nation.

Neutral Countries. In Denmark the sale of liquor to soldiers in certain districts has been prohibited and the manufacture of alcohol from potatoes and various kinds of corn forbidden. In Norway steps were taken to curtail the consumption of liquors, and prohibition is at the present time a political issue.

In Sweden the measures taken resulted in decreasing the consumption of liquor by half. Eventual prohibition is certain. In Switzerland the Federal Council prohibited the use of grain and potatoes in the making of spirits.

FOOTBALL AND OTHER THINGS AT ELECTRA

WICHITA FALLS TEAM HHAS SMALL END OF 17-0 SCORE SUNDAY

MANY UNPLEASANT FEATURES

Reception Not Entirely Cordial and Officials of Game Are Threatened by Crowd

From Monday's Daily. Electra defeated the Wichita Falls football team Sunday afternoon at Electra by the score of 17 to 0. The victory may be credited, not to the Electra team, but to the spectators as well as it was their conduct that counted most toward the result. The Wichita Falls team, opposed by a much heavier squad on one side, and with several hundred spectators on hand to tend its "moral support," was about as happily situated as Serbia.

In spite of the superior weight of the Electra team and the unquestioned excellence of its playing, the victory was not one to which either the team or the Electra fans can point with any pride, as the sportsmanlike and discourteous treatment of the visiting players and the officials contributed very decidedly to the score. Wichita Falls twice crossed the Electra goal-line, Mathis taking the ball over both times. The first touchdown was not allowed when the head linesman, an Electra man, declared that Wichita Falls players were offside.

It was when Mathis scored another touchdown, running the full length of the field, that the mob scene was staged. Electra had been close to the Wichita Falls goal and was apparently about to score when Referee Stanforth stopped the game a moment until the crowd, which seemed to consider side-lines as purely ornamental, could be gotten off the field. While the Wichita Falls players were waiting for the crowd to get back and before the referee ordered play resumed, the Electra team passed the ball and charged across the goal line. Referee Stanforth, acting upon specific provisions of his rule book, ruled the touchdown out, and was severely and unbecomingly demonstrated by the crowd. The Electra players finally accepted the decision and made another attempt. The ball was fumbled and Mathis seized it, running with a clear field to the opposite goal.

The Electra fans at once crowded on the field and surrounded the officials declaring that the touchdown should not be allowed. Between the official rule book on one hand, and the emphatic promise of the crowd to do violence to the officials if the touchdown was permitted to stand, a compromise was effected. The objection of the Electra fans was based on the fact that time was up before Mathis crossed the goal line, although there were still eight seconds of the first half to be played when the ball passed and time could not be called until the play was finished. The spectators cursed and threatened the officials and gave a realistic imitation of a movie mob scene.

While the conduct of the Electra players was some improvement over that of the spectators, it was not exactly exemplary. Any Electra player who was tackled with anything save utmost gentleness accused the Wichitans of dirty play, though it was considered rare sport to use all the roughness possible in tackling the Wichita Falls players. An Electra player was held out for a minute when he tackled a Wichita who was making a headlong rush with the ball. The crowd immediately swarmed on the field again, and insisted upon the removal of the Wichita Falls player. It would have been a physical impossibility for the man with the ball to intentionally injure his opponent. Other unpleasant features of the game were the several offers and threats of bodily violence to officials, uttered by Electra players.

All of the scoring was done in the second half. Magallian of Electra made a long gain on a forward pass and Fred Barron carried the ball across the line. A few minutes later Barron executed a very pretty drop kick from the 35-yard line. The second touchdown was made by Magallian on a forward pass. Courtney, Bachman, Mathis and Bell did the best work for Wichita Falls, the entire team performing very creditably considering that Electra averaged fourteen pounds heavier. The line-up: Electra—Green, center; Ware and Stancliff, guards; Thornton and Johns, tackles; Erby and Magallian, ends; E. Barron, quarter; Myers and Bourland, half backs; Fred Barron, captain, full back.

Wichita Falls—Colborn, center; Vincent and Hageman, guards; Skeen, Powell and Clopton, tackles; Bachman and Courtney, ends; Mathis, quarter; Tevis and Bell, half backs; Junk, captain and full back.

Officials—Stanforth, referee; Gould, umpire; Briggs, head linesman; Nebbett and Smith, time keepers.

YOUNG MAN, WILDLY INSANE, IS BROUGHT IN MONDAY NIGHT

Two Men Required to Restrain Him—Tears Clothing off When Placed in Jail

From Tuesday's Daily. Oakley Lennington, aged 21, whose home is at Denton and who left Wichita Falls about two weeks ago to pick cotton was brought in on last night's train wildly insane. Two strong men were required to prevent him from injuring himself or others. When placed in a cell at the county jail he immediately tore every piece of his clothing into shreds. An inquiry into his sanity will be held this afternoon.

EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR WINS PRAISE

ONLY FACTORY PRODUCTS ARE INCLUDED IN THIS COUNTY'S DISPLAY

DECLARED TO BE EYEPENER

Gave Visitors to Fair New Idea of City's Importance as Manufacturing Center

From Monday's Daily. Although most of Wichita county's agricultural products were on display at the Dallas Fair, this year, the manufacturing exhibit has attracted much favorable comment, all of the local factories being represented. Commenting upon the booth, the Dallas News of Sunday says: A departure from the usual nature of county exhibits at the State Fair is represented this year from Wichita county. Instead of representing agricultural products of the county, as has been done for many years, the Chamber of Commerce of Wichita Falls sent a variety of products from the factory manufacturing plants of that city, making the exhibit one consisting exclusively of manufactured articles. It has been an eye opener to many thousands of people visiting the fair, as the growth of the manufacturing industry in this Texas county has been so rapid that but comparatively few people realized its great extent.

J. T. Young of Wichita Falls, who has charge of the Wichita county exhibit for the last ten years, is in charge again this year. There are about forty factories of various kinds in Wichita Falls. The value of their output amounts to more than $5,900,000 annually. There are almost 1,500 employes engaged in the manufacture of these products, making a monthly payroll of $80,000. It would take a long list to enumerate the many things made in Wichita Falls and shown in the exhibit. There are gas hoisters, building and drainage tiles, brick and brooms. In glass products there is window glass, fruit jars and bottles. In crockery are to be seen jugs, churns, water coolers, cusplors, flower pots, fine connections, etc.

Many parts of a motor truck are shown, representing the work of a motor truck manufacturing plant, in which everything except the motor cylinder is cast and cut in Wichita Falls, and all the machine work on this one part is done there. It is stated that this plant comes nearer making all the parts and doing all the finishing on its product than any other plant in the country.

There are wire fence stays, foundry products of different kinds, including brass and iron castings, brake shoes for locomotives and cars, journal boxes, grates, etc. Sweeping compounds, candy and cigars are other of the manufactured products of that place.

"Guns is a good location for factories," said Mr. Young. "Fuel is cheap as the price of natural gas for manufacturing purposes is as low as 4c per thousand. The Petrolia gas fields, sixteen miles east of Wichita Falls produces 600,000,000 cubic feet daily. The price of gas for domestic use is 25c. We have one of the largest flouring mills and elevators in the State. Another elevator has been built and next year a mill will be added to it."

Shown in the exhibit is a great variety of mill products. There are two cottonseed oil mills in Wichita Falls.

COTTON GINNINGS SHOW BIG DECREASE

ONLY 776 BALES UP TO OCTOBER 18TH IN THIS COUNTY, FIGURES SHOW.

ONLY 776 BALES UP TO OCTOBER 18TH IN THIS COUNTY, FIGURES SHOW.

5614 AT SAME TIME IN 1914

Archer County Also Shows Big Loss—Reduced Acreage and Boll Weevil Causes.

Just 776 bales this year, as compared with 5614 in 1914, shows the effect of reduced acreage and the boll weevil upon the cotton crop of Wichita county. The government's report showed 476 bales ginned in this county up to October 18, less than one-seventh as much as had been ginned at the same time in 1914, when the total was 5614 bales.

In Archer county there is also a marked reduction, though the difference is not as great as in Wichita county. There were 728 bales ginned in Archer county up to October 18, as compared with 3741 at the same time last year. Taking the two counties together, the 1915 ginnings are almost exactly one-sixth of those in 1914.

The figures from Wichita and Archer counties are furnished the government by O. F. Martle of this city, who is crop reporter for the two counties.

Admiration. "Bliggins is a remarkable fisherman," "I don't believe it is more wonderful for a man to think up the stories Bliggins tells than it would be actually to catch the fish."

POSTMASTER TELLS HOW CITY GOT NAME

O. T. BACON IS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT ROTARY LUNCHEON TODAY.

NEW MEMBERS ARE ELECTED

Increased Attendance is Noted—New Parcels Post Possibilities are Pointed Out.

From Wednesday's Daily. More than 50 members of the Rotary Club were present at the weekly luncheon at the Metropolitan today.

Seven new members were elected today and a number of other amendments are in the hands of the membership committee.

Postmaster Bacon's talk dealt largely with the postoffice, but he also told some interesting things about Wichita Falls. The name Wichita, he said, resulted from the visit here of an Indian tribe which was migrating to the southward.

Mr. Bacon called attention to the promised automobile-mail routes out of Wichita Falls and said that when they were established, which will probably be in the near future, much greater opportunities for selling goods by parcels post will be afforded Wichita Falls merchants.

Mayor Britain who attended a Rotary dinner for the first time today, spoke briefly.

Those present today included Geo. Keith, O. T. Bacon, J. M. Bland, J. E. Arnold, J. Carpenter, J. W. Pond, I. H. Roberts, N. M. Clifford, C. R. Hartsook, Q. E. Lee, H. H. Bray, J. B. Stokes, A. L. Washington, Nov. 3.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, gave notice at the state department that both Great Britain and France are about to extend recognition to the government of Gen. Carranza in Mexico. It probably will be done by communication to Carranza's agents in Paris and London.

TEST WELL TO BE DRILLED JUST NORTH OF BURKBURNETT

Location One Mile From Town is Made and Will Be Watched With Interest

From Tuesday's Daily. Milton Clendennin, editor of the Burkburnett Star, is in town today. Mr. Clendennin reports that material is being hauled out for a test well about one mile north of that town. The location is on a bluff on Red River on land owned by Mr. Pickle. This is the first well to be sunk in that vicinity and developments will be watched with great interest. The well is being sunk by Andrew Urban and associates.

Government experts who have looked over the field are said to have indicated that the location was a favorable one. The nearest well is several miles away from this location. It is rumored at Burkburnett that another test is to be made close to the town.

SOCIETY

The Wolf. When the babe is in his cradle and the gudeman in his bed, And I cover up the embers on the hearth, And the frost creeps in upon us with its silent, stealthy tread, And the snow has hid the bars, brown face of earth—

Then the wolf that in the daytime keeps his distance bides and slinks, Grows so bold that he dares to snuffle at the door.

Is it fancy—do I sense him, though the unperceivable chinks? Is that sound the deadly menace of his paw?

But I push the bolts in tighter, and I steal into my bed, And I listen till I hear his howl afar—

Safe at last, until tomorrow, for today we have been fed, And the wolf of famine leaves us as we are!

INTERESTING WEDDING AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

An unusually pretty church wedding took place today at noon when Miss Lillian Irene Bachman became the bride of Ross Harold Corlett, the ceremony taking place at the First Methodist Church at 1 o'clock.

The church was effectively decorated with ferns and palms, the choir niche being banked with ferns with a bowl of feathery white chrysanthemums relieving the green. The pulpit was a pyramid of ferns and white chrysanthemums intermingled, the green forming a pleasing background for the wedding party.

Mrs. Roy Marquande, organist and Miss Agnew, soloist, furnished the wedding music. Schubert's "Serenade" was given as a prelude and Miss Agnew sang Carrie Jacob Bond's "I Love You Truly."

As the first strains of Mendelssohn's wedding processionalsounded the officiating minister, Rev. C. C. Smith of Oklahoma City, formerly pastor of the First Methodist Church entered from the study and proceeded from the pulpit to the altar. Miss Rubie Bachman, sister of the bride and her only attendant, acted as maid of honor entered alone from the left. The groom and his best man, Addison Walker and the bride on the arm of her father, H. J. Bachman, then entered at opposite doors and met at the altar, where the minister and maid of honor had preceded them.

The simple ring ceremony was used, the bride being given away by her father. During the ceremony Mrs. Marquande played Dvorak's "Humoresque" on the pipe organ, breaking into the recessional as the final words were spoken.

The bride wore her traveling gown, a tailored suit of modish cut in African bronze, with hat, shoes and other accessories in bronze. She carried a bouquet of white roses with a shower of valley lilies and rose buds. Miss Rubie Bachman wore a frock of Belgian blue charmeuse combined with white Georgette crepe. She wore a black velvet pillbox hat, trimmed with pink ostrich. The groom and his attendant were garbed in the conventional wedding black. Messrs. Homer Karrenbrock and Floyd Friberg were ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Corlett left immediately after the ceremony for South Texas points for a brief wedding trip. They will be at home on Denver avenue.

Owing to the popularity and prominence of both young people the event was one of much interest and the attendance at the ceremony was large.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Bachman, has been reared here and among her wide circle of friends is known as a young lady of much personal charm and accomplishments. She is a graduate of the local high school and is a finished musician. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Corlett of this city and is employed in the offices of the Petroleum Oil Company. During his residence of several years in this city he has made a host of friends who with those of the bride are now uniting in congratulations.

The popularity of the young people was attested to in the usual manner, an exceptionally large number of handsome gifts in silver, cut glass and linen being received.

Out of town guests here for the affair were Mrs. J. H. Fehr of Denison, aunt of the bride, Miss Edna Berner of Henrietta, intimate friend of the bride and a member of the house party, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Moss of Petrolia, sister of the groom and her husband, Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Smith of Oklahoma City were also special guests.

FIRST METHODIST LADIES HOLD SOCIAL MONDAY

The regular monthly social meeting of the ladies of the First Methodist Church was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. Y. Friberg. Business plans were discussed and the ladies greeted at this time their new pastor and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Brandon. A refreshment course was served consisting of sandwiches, olives, cake, pears with whipped cream and coffee. Mrs. Friberg shared the honors of hostess with Mrs. Swartz and Mrs. Thornberry.

DINNER FOR BACHMAN-CORLETT BRIDAL PARTY

To compliment the Bachman-Corlett bridal party Miss Rubie Bachman, the maid of honor, entertained a dinner Tuesday evening. The table was overlaid with a hand crocheted cloth, centered by a silver mirror reflector on which rested a cut glass vase filled with pink and white rose buds. Covers were laid for twelve, the places being marked by dainty cards carrying out the rose motif. A nice course repast was served, the party retiring to the church following the dinner to rehearse for the ceremony of the coming day. Miss Stella Bachman, assisted by Miss Rhea Gardner superintended the dinner service, the guests including the honorees, Mr. Corlett and Miss Bachman, Miss Jessie Mae Agnew, sister of the groomer of Henrietta, Miss Rubie Bachman, Messrs. Homer Karrenbrock, Floyd Friberg, Addison Walker, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bachman and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Marquande.

KITCHEN SHOWER FOR MISS BACHMAN TUESDAY

Mrs. W. W. Brown and Miss Imogene Brown entertained Tuesday afternoon with a surprise kitchen shower for Miss Lillian Bachman. The library and parlor were decorated in chrysanthemums to carry out a gold and white color scheme and a bridal motif was reserved for the dining room which was in pink and white. Kewpies were suspended from the chandelier and tied with tulle bows and the centerpiece was formed of pink and white roses. The refreshment plate featured the rose and white tones in the ice and cake and pink roses were plate favors. As the bride-elect entered she was blindfolded by the hostess and after being led into the library the bandage was removed and a table loaded with white enamel kitchen ware was disclosed to her surprised eyes. After the gifts had been examined a short time was spent with informal conversation and refreshments were served. Misses Jewell Brown, Louella Morgan and Vella Mae Snyder assisting the hostess. Those present included: Miss Bachman, the honoree, her mother, Mrs. H. J. Bachman, Mrs. I. H. Fehr of Denison, Miss Edna Berner of Henrietta, Messrs. Addison Walker, E. Y. MISS GENEVIEVE CARVER TO BE COTTON PALACE DUCHESS

Texas society is at this time very much interested in the festivities of the Waco Cotton Palace and the Queen's Ball and Coronation which takes place the night of November 11. It will be an elaborate pageant with the girls and men from all over Texas recognized as society leaders in their respective cities as attendants and members of the royal family.

Miss Genevieve Carver as duchess of Wichita Falls has been honored by the royal committee of the Cotton Palace and to her was left the choice of attendants in her retinue, a maid of honor, a knight for herself and an acquire for the maid of honor. Miss Myrtice Strinzer was selected as the maid of honor and Miss Carver will be attended by Mr. Stiles of Taylor as her knight.

J. Martin of this city will be Miss Strinzer's esquire. As members of the royal party these young people will be honor guests at a concert at the coliseum given by Cavallo's band bands and the coronation and Queen's ball in the evening. There are also a number of social events scheduled for several days following at which the visitors will be guests of honor. Score Of Children Died In Fire Which Destroyed Peabody School

PEABODY SCHOOL BEFORE FIRE IN WHICH SCORE OF CHILDREN DIED.

Nineteen little girls were burned to death and two girls died from injuries when fire swept through St. John's parochial school at Peabody, Mass., with such rapidity that several hundred pupils became jammed inside the front entrance in a mass, fighting blindly to escape the flames and smoke. Before the police and firemen were able to burst open the doors eight or ten had fallen victims.

THREE GUN TURRETS AND ANTI-AIRCRAFT WEAPONS FEATURES OF THE NEVADA

The battleship Nevada latest and greatest of American warcraft afloat, has been sent to the New York navy yard for preparation for her final trials. The gun arrangement on the Nevada marks an entirely new departure in American battleship armament. In all of the vessels that have been built heretofore the guns of the main batteries have been placed two to a turret. In the Nevada the ten guns are mounted in four turrets, two in turrets 2 and 3 there are two guns, and in the other two turrets, the extreme aft one, there are three guns. The three guns to a turret arrangement is of French origin. Another interesting feature in the armament of the Nevada is the anti-aircraft battery of four high angle three inch guns. Two of these guns are mounted forward on the main deck, one on either side. The other two are to be mounted atop of turret 3, just aft of the second of the lattice work masts, forward of the aft three gun turret. The next most interesting feature of the Nevada is the fact that she will be the first dreadnought which will burn oil exclusively. Her great oil tanks have a capacity of nearly 600,000 gallons of fuel.

AMERICAN MISSIONARIES IN ARMENIA MEET DEATH

Shock of War Tragedies Results in Deaths—Many Teachers Among Massacre Victims

New York, Nov. 3.—The shock of war tragedies has caused the death of five American missionaries in Armenia. The report says that the missionaries were killed in the Turkish empire since May, according to the annual report of Rev. Dr. James L. Barton, foreign secretary of the board of commissioners of foreign missions. Among the hundreds of thousands of Armenians and other Christians who perished there were scores of professors and teachers in the missionary schools, pastors and preachers, all of whom miserably perished at home or died of exposure on the road to northern Arabia where vast multitudes have been exterminated.

SERBIA TO GET MUNITIONS THROUGH MONTENEGRO PORTS

Large Quantities of War Materials Destroyed to Prevent Invaders Getting Them.

Paris, Nov. 3.—According to a Saloniki dispatch filed yesterday, arrangements are being made to keep Serbia supplied with munitions through Montenegro. While the Serbian losses are said to have been moderate in view of the desperate fighting, it has been necessary to destroy large quantities of war materials to prevent them from falling into the hands of the invaders.

DINNER, DANCE AND BALL GOWNS

New York. Afternoon will appeal to most of us very pleasantly. Many of the imported gowns show the apron overskirt, usually made of chiffon, embroidered or heavily beaded, combined with straight full skirts, pouched with velvet on cloth and silk frocks. Some of these models show a profusion of trimming; others are simplicity and dignity itself, relying entirely on the cut and color combination for effect.

COTTON PICKER ADJUDGED INSANE BY COMMISSION

Walter Dennington was adjudged insane by a commission of the county court Tuesday afternoon. Dennington whose home is in Denton county was brought in from Oklahoma last night where he had been picking cotton. He tore off his clothing and it was impossible to keep clothes on him long enough to bring him into the court room, so that the commissioners had to go to his cell in the county jail to conduct the examination.

gown of black satin, heavily trimmed with sparkling jet; there are many velveteen models, too; taffetas, failles and satins, veiled with beaded nets of chiffons. Gray is nearly as popular a shade for this type of frock as for daytime wear; often it is combined with black lace over white most effectively. Much velvet is used.

combined with satin, taffeta or faille, or as bandings for the cloth frocks which are quite popular.

The Day of the Dance Not Passed. Dancing is still much in favor. Some charmingly capricious frocks have been designed this winter especially for the maid or matron who dances. Many of these are delightfully youthful and frivolous; one especially dainty creation has a skirt made entirely of ribbon with net bodice, veiling a band of the ribbon at the bustline. Net, and the daintily colored bordered chiffons are much used for these gowns; also the quaintly patterned taffetas and brocades, so reminiscent of days gone by. The nets and chiffons are usually hung over slips of satin or taffeta, or looped up, pannier fashion, over a silver or gold brocaded satin underskirt.

The Fancy Dress Costume.

There are times when it is pleasant to dispense with the frock especially designed for certain purposes, and to let fancy take her own way and garb us as she will, in some particularly fantastic creation all her own. All Saints' Eve or Halloween is one of these times. The maid who looks for her fate in the candle's flame and the man who frolics in fantastic garb, are at perfect liberty to enjoy this weird evening in whatever costume pleases them most. There is no more demure, pleasing costume for the maid, than this quaint Empire frock with its frilled pantalettes, its crescent and six rickety bonnet, and its fuzzy tailed black cats, world wide omens of good luck and witches magic, bordering its short, full skirt. The man may wear a Pierrot costume; it has always been a favorite and loses none of its charm this winter.

NOT THE ONLY ISSUE.

The following thoughtful paragraph from the Hamlet Herald is worthy of serious consideration:

Governor Ross was an anti-prohibitionist but thousands of prohibitionists supported him in preference to Marion Martin who favored prohibition.

And in Texas multiplied thousands of men of both factions united in support of President Wilson, who is strictly a local official.

Men have been inclined to scoff at the declaration of Colonel Watterston that no prohibitionist could be a democrat.

When it is prohibition or nothing a voter, he is not a democrat.

A few months ago the Citizens Light and Power Company entered into an agreement by which it is to sell to the Wichita Electric Company its light plant and other properties.

The Post knows scores of good and true men on either side of the question, men who are capable of rendering conspicuous and lasting service to the State.

The Post has supported men who believe in prohibition and it has opposed men who are opposed to prohibition.

Governor Ferguson has asked President Wilson to wire Carranza and tell him what he must do to fit the matter of the border troubles.

"TRUTH IS STRANGER THAN FICTION"

A news dispatch from Washington states that Secretary McAdoo has rejected a site for building a post office at Seattle, because of the ground, was under eight feet of water.

In the light of this development, we are prepared to believe the story of the enterprising real estate dealer at San Diego, Calif., when he discovered that all the available land adjoining the city had already been plotted into additions.

But, when he came in sight of the bay from a high bluff, he saw the water was flowing the flat he drove his auto in another direction and entertained his visitor with glowing descriptions of the scenery, climate and other attractions of the hotel at the hotel with the remark that he would be busy for the afternoon and would call the next morning.

THE SENATORIAL RACE.

The Fort Worth Record furnishes this bit of information: "George Washington Riddle has spoken. He expects to stay in the race for the United States senate to the end, and he is for Woodrow Wilson, and against whisky. Easy platform. He expects to catch 'em comin' and goin'."

Mr. Riddle is a good man. But we do not know on what he bases his claims for the high office of a Senator from Texas.

Riddle lives in Dallas. Davis lives in Dallas. Colquitt lives in Dallas. Culberson lives in Dallas. Four Dallas men in the race for the Senate.

Burgess lives in Gonzalez. One South Texas man in the race for the Senate. Campbell lives in Palestine. He will likely announce for the Senate. One East Texas man in the race for the Senate.

Riddle and Campbell and Brooks are "dry". Culberson, Colquitt, Burgess and Henry are "wets".

We do not know to which group Davis belongs. If they all stay in the race it means a second primary to determine between the two receiving the highest number of votes.

Culberson is at this time the Senator. He was for four years the State's attorney general and then served four years as governor. He has been a member of the Senate since March 4, 1899.—Waco Times-Herald.

Admitting the unfortunate handling of the Mexican situation up to this time, we may yet ask what did the Republican administration do toward solving that knotty problem?

As for the European situation, the Republicans will find that a dangerous question. They may attempt to array the German-Americans against the president, but for every German-American they win over, they are likely to lose from the native American stock.

And what will the Republicans say with respect to the Federal reserve bank system after their failure for nearly fifty years to give the country a safe and flexible currency system?

And when the administration avails itself of military programs that have been completed, as it will be before the conventions assemble, what will they say to their long period of neglect to give the country adequate defenses?

Preferential treatment of the tariff law as a reform not yet tested, and reforms yet to be enacted, what administration in fifty years has such a record of constructive achievements as Mr. Wilson's has.

Of course, it is the law of politics for the minority party to find all the faults it can, real or imaginary, but how can it hope to convince the people in the face of the remarkable record which lies to the credit of President Wilson?

SENA-TOR MORGAN WAS RIGHT.

Senator Morgan of Alabama worked faithfully and long for an isthmian canal, but wanted it through Nicaragua, and many now believe that he was right, since the canal is closed. It will require several months to remove the ten million yards of earth savings and shovels, and that means some more millions more of expense.

It is sometimes the case that one, who loses or wins a proposition before the people, in the matter of the election to vote $225,000 worth of bonds for the building and equipping of a new court house for Wichita county on the 20th of this month, there are not so very many taxpayers who will oppose the proposition.

The Dallas fair has come to an end, and Art Smith, the greatest attraction, still lives.

Some of the schools in Texas are re-instating the old Blue Back speller. It's a good move. The pity is that it was ever discarded, when there was nothing as good that could be substituted.

The Blind Institute that so many Texas towns have been making an effort to get will remain at Austin, as that city has given a bonus of $15,000 and a desirable site of 75 acres.

Elections are being held today in eight states—New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio, and Mississippi. Governors are to be elected in Massachusetts, Maryland, Kentucky and Mississippi.

The note of this government to England, protesting in the matter of American shipping to neutral countries, is now on the way to England, and is said to contain 10,000 words.

The special edition published recently by the West Texas Reporter at Graham was a credit both to Graham and to the newspaper profession.

REPUBLICAN LINE OF ATTACK.

What could better illustrate the flubdub and tommyrot of politics than the address of Chairman Hilles setting forth the probable line of campaign to be followed by the Republican party?

We are told by him that it will include an attack on the Democratic tariff, criticism of the administration's handling of affairs in Europe and charges that the democracy has failed to keep its promise of an economical administration and other platform pledges.

In what way can the Republicans attack the Democratic tariff? What do they know about its virtues or defects? And how can they know its value or its undesirability until it can be tested in normal times?

Surely they can not say that the tariff has permitted a flood of cheap foreign goods to derange and injure American industry, because as a matter of fact our imports from Europe have been negligible.

Contracts agreeing to give six months' work at good wages and passage both ways is the inducement England is holding out to skilled American labor to work in her arm factories, but it seems there are but few Americans who are willing to leave this country.

During the past few days cotton has dropped off in price about $1.50 per bale. The Times can't figure out what has caused the drop, but perhaps the newspapers and statesmen who take credit for themselves for shoving up the price from 5 cents to 12 cents per pound can explain just why the slump came and how long it will stay.

And now Senator Morris Shepherd has incurred the ill will of Governor Ferguson. Probably the Governor gains the friendship of some who opposed him in his race for the governorship.

available for the cotton farmer who wants to store his cotton. In this we are inclined to agree with the Tribune and believe in giving the Waco congressman the credit.

The very fact that the Federal government has made it possible for cotton producers to get money on their cotton at 8 per cent interest and less has enabled them to hold their cotton off the market until the price justified selling.

According to the press dispatches General Villa, who has his army estimated at from 10,000 to 18,000 men, at or near Agua Prieta, State of Sonora, which is near the border at Douglas, Ariz., learned for the first time on yesterday that the United States had permitted Carranza to move about 5,000 of his troops over American territory in order to reinforce his troops at Agua Prieta.

Carranza says there will be no elections held in Mexico for two years. That means that he will endeavor to govern by force during that time, and with the backing of the United States, may succeed in restoring peace.

Of the twelve federal reserve banks, the three in the South, located at Dallas, Atlanta and Richmond, have proven the best money makers.

Now, if you bought it in October, pay for it in November. But don't forget to buy it in Wichita Falls. That's the principal thing to do.

Editor of the Times: I have noticed your unsportsmanlike "write-up" of Sunday's football game at Electra, between Wichita Falls and Electra. To prove yourself a sportsman, you should apologize to the Electra team and to the citizens as your accusations were unjust and unwarranted.

It seems as though the Wichita Falls boys take the sting of defeat awfully hard, but they as sportsmen should not do so. If they cannot accept defeat gracefully they should quit the game, and as to "dirty" playing, some of the Wichita Falls players have the world beat, and have that reputation.

Before the game the captains agreed to a clean game in every way and the Electra team did not break their word, while the Wichita Falls boys did.

As to the referee, Mr. Stanforth, we can sure praise him, as there never was a squarer man stepped on the football field.

The Electra team has a game scheduled to be played at Wichita Falls on November 14th, and we will give the Wichita Falls people a chance to see for themselves that accusation of "dirty" playing and "rowdiness" is false.

Very truly yours, PAUL GREEN, Mgr. Electra, Tex., Nov. 2, 1915.

The report of the game was prepared by the undersigned, who witnessed the contest and who was one of the unfortunate officials. The report makes no accusation whatever against the citizenship of Electra, for the writer did not, and does not, believe that the representative citizenship of the Electra players and one against whose playing and conduct no criticism could be uttered, really considers Mr. Stanforth a square referee, why did he, as manager of the Electra team, stand passively by and permit the spectators to swear on the field and "swear" the officials? If Mr. Stanforth was a square official and was attempting to conduct the game impartially and according to the accepted rules, was it sportsmanlike to allow his decisions to be overruled by the mob spirit? Or was the sting of possible defeat being felt too keenly when Electra fumbled and a Wichita Falls player ran the length of the field with the ball?

The terms "unsportsmanlike" and "discourteous" were used in describing the treatment given the visitors, because of the offers of bodily violence made to the officials by some of the Electra players, under circumstances when it was impossible to resent them. The undersigned could not possibly be mistaken as to these facts, and he does not believe Mr. Green will deny them.

The undersigned has in the past criticized Wichita Falls players and Wichita Falls spectators when their conduct did not measure up to that degree of sportsmanlike that ought to characterize a friendly contest. If a Wichita Falls crowd had acted unfairly toward visiting players and officials, it would certainly not have been spared in commenting on the game. And the undersigned, as a lover of football and of clean sport, hopes that when Electra appears here on November 14th, there will be not the slightest suggestion of unpleasantness.

EXPLANATION GIVEN BY BRAND WHITLOCK

EMBARRASSED BY PUBLICITY

Washington, Oct. 28.—(Special) Not Believe Ministers Usefulness Has Been Impaired

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, has transmitted a long report to the United States government...

The minister declares that reports made by him on the subject constituted merely a recital of facts without expression of opinion and that he had submitted them to Ambassador Page at London for his information...

Referring to reports from London that there was evidence of bad faith on the part of the German authorities before the execution of Miss Cayvell took place, the minister says the legation officially received no pledge or promise that it would be kept informed of the disposition of the case...

It was made clear today that none of the reports on the subjects had been referred to the state department here before they were made public and that the United States obtained its first information on the incident through the press reports.

THE MATCHMAKERS

By KEITH KENYON.

"Well, I'm here!" called a gay young voice just outside the door. The three elderly bachelors turned from the breakfast table and viewed with amazement a very pretty young person...

"Well, uncle dear," she pouted, "I'm homesick already! Not one of you seems to be glad to see me; and I've traveled miles just to be with you."

"I suppose father forgot to mail it. It was written a week ago and I've all wondered why you didn't answer. I told them I supposed you were so preoccupied with joy at my coming that you simply couldn't reply."

grandchildren, who proceeded to enjoy her youthful enthusiasm to the utmost. Uncle Anthony loved to recite his favorite poems to Helena, and in her found a gentle, appreciative listener...

It was about this time that a remarkable change took place in Helena. Something seemed to have dampened her high spirits, and she went about with a depressed and half-frightened look on her charming face.

"The girls used to keep me waiting when I drove up in a buggy. I notice they never keep you waiting long these days. Why? The girls know how quick you are to get out of date as well as we do."

FOUR ON AN ISLAND

By DOROTHY ALLEN.

"It's a little bit of an island, you know, not large at all. Sometimes when there's a storm the sea comes clear up to the garden, but it's lovely there in the summer. I'm glad you could both run down to see Lawrence."

Gwen smiled at the two in the opposite seat. She had deliberately and with malice aforethought and most delightful impartiality, Flick returned the smile each in his own way.

"How's Larry bearing up?" asked Dolf. "Well, of course, he's not really fully recovered. It was awfully nice of you boys to come way out from the city to cheer him up."

"Then there was" came the accident. It had been voted a pleasant and advisable thing by the junior class to place a goat of mature years and lively sense of justice in the private consulting room of the seniors...

"I am not Helena Strang," she confessed tearfully. "I am quite another—Helena—Helena Clifton. I have been Mrs. Strang's private secretary for several years—I am twenty-four. I never had a home. I was brought up in an orphan asylum and when I was old enough to go out into the world I found a place in a store and worked until I could save money enough to take a business course."

"I have something to tell you, all," she began with a catch in her voice. "I have told Mr. Lyman—Jack—and he has forgiven me. I hope you will, too, for I love you all so dearly!"

"Chocolate was known to the Aztecs of Mexico. It was a great temptation to me to come down here—and so I came. You know the rest—and if you want to send for the police, you may! But you have been wonderfully kind to me and I don't believe Helena Strang could love you more than I do! So there!"

The gloves are four ounces in weight. The gloves are about the size of ordinary frame gloves, some idea of Willard's big hand. On the right-hand glove are several cuts made when the crowd about the ringside at Havana attempted to cut the gloves from Willard's hands as souvenirs of the fight. On this glove is also a small break made during the fight when one of Willard's knuckles landed with terrific force against the ding's head breaking through the soft pliable leather. The gloves have been placed on exhibition at Wilfong & Woods store.
