

GENERAL FUNSTON TAKES COMMAND AT NOGALES, ARIZONA

AMERICAN TROOPS ENCAMPED NEAR SPOT WHERE FRIDAY THEY ENGAGED SNIPERS ON MEXICAN SIDE.

MEXICAN TOWN DESOLATE

Bodies of Many Villa Soldiers Lay in Streets Where They Fell in Yesterday's Fighting—Oregon Burns Villa Currency Left in the Town.

By Associated Press. Nogales, Ariz., Nov. 27.—Major General Frederick Funston who today assumed command of the 2,500 United States soldiers on duty along the border, ordered the soldiers of the 20th regiment to make camp near the international boundary where American soldiers engaged snipers of Villa's army yesterday after the main forces had evacuated Nogales, Sonora.

Mexican Nogales presented today a desolate appearance. The bodies of many Villa soldiers remained where they fell yesterday, killed either by the fire of American soldiers or in the fighting with Carranza troops who occupied the town. Many stores and other buildings which had been looted and in some cases demolished by Villa soldiers were closed.

Reports that the Carranza authorities had shot several looters arrested after their occupation of Nogales were confirmed today. The bodies of three men, said to have robbed a woman, were visible from the American side.

Villa currency left in the town was confiscated by General Oregon and burned in the streets.

Carranza officials in Nogales, Sonora said they had received reports that Magdalena on the railroad leading to Hermosillo had been captured today by their forces. This report, however, could not be confirmed.

Jose Acosta, formerly a general in Villa's army who crossed the border Tuesday, expressed a desire to live in the United States. He was given his liberty after promising to take no further part in the fighting against Carranza.

Villa Captains Remain. Disposition of prisoners who asserted that Villa soldiers fired at United States troops at various points along the boundary near here before and after General Oregon's occupation of Nogales; Sonora, yesterday took up part of General Funston's time today.

Among those who elected to remain in the United States pending investigation by the immigration authorities were three Villa captains, Antonio Sosa, Fieuceno Flores and Frederico Rivas. Seventy Mexicans were released and allowed to return to Mexico on promises that they would accept the amnesty extended by allegiance to General Venustiano Carranza.

Although General Carranza announced that he would grant amnesty to all on the same terms he let it be known that he would accept no former Villa officer within his own ranks.

Following the release of the seventy Mexicans Major General Funston sent word to General Oregon through Mexican Consul Padres that if any of the prisoners released rejoined the Villa forces and eventually were recaptured by the United States troops they would be summarily dealt with.

Besides prisoners released and those held for immigration authorities there remain tonight more than 100 wounded Villa soldiers who are housed in a school building. It was announced that some disposition of them would be made next week.

Major W. L. Nix of the Carranza forces headed a committee of citizens and solicited funds in Sonora for a testimonial of appreciation for the gallant defense in behalf of Nogales, Sonora, yesterday by the United States troops. It was decided at a meeting later that a portion of the proceeds would be used to purchase a wreath for the tier of Private Littles who died after being shot in the exchange of fire between United States infantrymen and Carranza cavalrymen under Colonel Cardenas.

The remainder of the fund thus raised will be used for the purchase of delicacies for the wounded American soldiers, Private Herbert L. Gates and Arthur L. Saupé, both of whom were reported to be doing as well as could be expected, considering the nature of their wounds.

CITY WON'T TAKE IT; OWNER WON'T RUN IT

San Angelo's Street Car System "Jonah" Owner May Tear Up Tracks From Streets

By Associated Press. San Angelo, Texas, Nov. 27.—Street car service was at a standstill early today because of the controversy between the city commission and J. D. Sugg, owner of the line. He had ordered the entire system which he said has been unprofitable for several years to San Angelo as a Christmas gift. The commission declined it. Mr. Sugg threatens to tear up the tracks. Petitions were circulated today asking the city to force reestablishment of car service.

TERMINALS CHOKED WITH FREIGHT CARS

D. L. AND W. ANNOUNCES EMBARGO ON EXPORT FREIGHT FOR INDEFINITE PERIOD

GOOD CARS NOW IN TERMINAL

Some Have Been on Sidings Eighty Days—Lack Steamship Facilities Cause of Condition

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 27.—The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad whose lines are choked as far back as Scranton with loaded freight cars which it cannot move, today instructed its agents to accept no more freight for export until further notice. More than 6000 loaded cars from the west, all containing grain, feed, flour, copper and hundreds of other commodities have virtually been turned over to the terminals and sidings of the road into a storage warehouse for weeks. Some of the cars have been here 80 days. Nearly every road terminating here is cluttered with freight cars standing loaded on sidings for hundreds of miles and it is probable that other roads will shortly follow the Lackawanna's lead.

For months, New York, the mouth of the bottle through which pours the great bulk of America's export trade, has been clogged with freight in excess of the facilities of the steamship companies. In October alone, exports to the value of about $175,000,000 left New York on 393 ships. The temporary check by the Lackawanna was to enable steamship companies to catch up with part of the traffic and permit railroads to clear their terminals and sidings of the vast accumulation of freight. The embargo is effective indefinitely. Most of the Lackawanna congestion is due, it is said, to failure of western shippers to arrange for steamships before sending their consignments to New York. In cases where such arrangements had been shipments went through virtually without a hitch.

ENORMOUS SHIPMENTS CONTINUE TO GO EAST

By Associated Press. Pittsburgh, Nov. 27.—Enormous shipments of freight for export continue to pour from the Pittsburgh district in spite of congested terminals at Atlantic seaboard points and in the yards between here and New York. Railroad officials said today that every possible effort was being made to handle the tremendous freight movement to the east from the Pittsburgh district. The officials said the lines were not suffering so much from lack of cars as in the past, but from lack of track room, many cars being held because it was impossible to secure stock space for their contents while waiting for steamships.

Several Others in Chicago Suburb Show Symptoms of Tetanus and Alarm is Felt

By Associated Press. Chicago, Nov. 27.—Two deaths from lockjaw among school children of West Hammond, a suburb, who were vaccinated recently in a smallpox epidemic, have caused alarm. The chief medical inspector of the State board of health is investigating. It was reported today that five or six other cases show symptoms of tetanus. Within the last five weeks nearly 100,000 children have been vaccinated.

POPE TO TRY AGAIN FOR PEACE OVER CHRISTMAS

Expresses Belief It is His Duty to Do So Although Success is Improbable

By Associated Press. Rome, Nov. 27.—Although the efforts of Pope Benedict last year to obtain a truce over Christmas holidays did not succeed, it is reported on good authority that he will make a similar attempt this year. He is said to have brought this up during his conference with Cardinal Von Hartman, Archbishop of Cologne. The Pope is said to have expressed the opinion that it is his duty to try for the truce although the prospect of success is no more favorable than last year.

By Associated Press. Chicago, Nov. 27.—Suits were filed today in the 53rd district court by the attorney general's department against T. H. The contract provided a penalty of $20 per day for each day's delay on separate volumes.

WILSON'S PROGRAM NOT ENOUGH SAYS SECURITY LEAGUE

PRESIDENT'S PREPAREDNESS PROGRAM TERMED STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION BUT INADEQUATE.

NAVY PLAN IS CRITICIZED

Extends Over Too Long a Period and Makes No Provision for Adequate Personnel on Ships Built, Building or Proposed.

By Associated Press. Chicago, November 27.—The preparedness program of President Wilson and his cabinet was indorsed as a step in the right direction in committee reports on the navy, the navy and the militia, read before the conference of the National Security League today. On each aspect of the problem, however, the committee findings were that the administration recommendations have not indicated a desire to make the country go far enough to prepare against attack. The proposed army increases, it was pointed out, should be broadened to provide for extensive and continuous education of officers and for the collection of large reserve stocks of supplies of all kinds.

The navy plan was criticized as extending over too long a period for completion and as making no provision for adequate personnel on ships built, building or proposed. "Good As First Step." The project of a "continental army" was indorsed merely as a "first step" and the suggestion was made that men between ages eighteen and twenty-one should be enrolled and have military education.

Delegates were present from more than half a hundred cities when the conference opened, the representatives of branches of the League, including governors, former governors, business men and editors. Mayor Thompson of Chicago indorsed the work of the league in his welcoming address and S. Stanwood Menkes, president of the organization then addressed the meeting.

The report of the navy committee began with a strongly worded warning that the league go on record as believing "that the American navy should be at once raised to the position of second naval power which it held a few years ago." The report added: "The league believes that an essential weakness in the proposed increase of our naval establishment, as reported in the press, lies in the failure to provide an adequate increase in personnel."

It was declared that four battleships of the Atlantic fleet would have to be placed in reserve next winter to get crews to man the new superdreadnaughts, Nevada and Oklahoma.

Not Enough Men. "To correct a popular misapprehension, it must be made clear that this shortage of men is not due to the difficulty in recruiting," said the report, "the sole trouble lies in the fact that Congress has limited the number of men to 51,500."

It was stated that the proposed recommendation of the Secretary of the Navy for 10,000 additional men was inadequate and there was also a shortage of at least 2,000 officers. The committee indorsed the building program "so far as it follows the recommendations of the general board, but said that since Congress can bind succeeding congresses the ships should all be laid down at once.

A very radical upbuilding of the naval reserve also was favored. The committee on militia presented a double report. The first section dealt with conclusions drawn up after a meeting last March declaring that the "enrollment and education of the entire citizen soldiery" and the "maintenance of the organized militia in proper strength, not on the basis of the regular soldier, but as volunteer soldiers of as high an order as practicable."

FERGUSON INVITED TO FORD'S PEACE CONFERENCE

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Nov. 27.—Governor Ferguson today received a telegram from Henry Ford inviting him to attend the international conference for settling the war. The governor wired approving the peace plan but regretting his inability to attend the meeting.

IMPORTANT EVIDENCE IN MUNITIONS PLOT

By Associated Press. Washington, November 27.—New disclosures rivalling in importance those which led to the prosecution of Robert Fay in New York, are expected by the department of justice, it became known today, as a sequel to the arrest of C. C. Crowley in San Francisco yesterday, in connection with alleged plots against munitions factories. Officials of the department, however, refused to discuss Crowley's case. Crowley, according to information here, did not devote his attention to the Pacific coast alone but traveled extensively throughout the country.

GERMAN EMBASSY RESENTS CHARGES AGAINST BOY-ED

VON BERNSTORFF PREPARING TO FILE VIGOROUS COMPLAINT—MAY ASK FOR AN APOLOGY IN CASE OF NAVAL ATTACK.

BOY-ED KEPT WITHIN LAW

German Military Attaché, it is Claimed Did no More Than Naval Attaches of Entente Allies—Embassy Orders a Copy of Remarks of Counsel.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—The German embassy, according to information today from an authoritative source, resents the accusations which are understood to have been made against Captain Karl Boy-Ed, German naval attaché here, in the trial in the federal court at New York, of officials of the Hamburg-American line. It was said Ambassador Von Bernstorff was preparing to file a vigorous complaint with the state department at the conclusion of the trial, asking at least for something in the nature of a retraction and possibly an apology.

The German embassy, it is understood, has not yet decided just what form the protest will take. A copy of the stenographic report of the remarks of the counsel for the government, and the testimony given at the trial, is understood to have been ordered from New York so that officials of the embassy may know exactly what has been said in the court room.

The embassy is particularly anxious to determine whether Captain Boy-Ed was included by inference or otherwise, in the reference made by Assistant United States District Attorney Wood to the defendant in the case as "riding roughshod over the laws of the United States, treating them as if they were scraps of paper."

It was said by a person in close touch with officials of the embassy that it was felt Captain Boy-Ed had been very harshly treated in the circumstances, and that too much had been made out of his connection with the case. The embassy was described further as feeling that Captain Boy-Ed under the law did not do anything he did not have a perfect right to do, and that all things considered, he has done no more than naval attaches of embassies of the entente allies.

It is known that Secretary Lansing himself for several days has considered it probable that the German ambassador would make a protest. The state department took the position that the disbursing of funds did not mean that the naval attaché had done anything illegal.

It is understood the belief in Germany that there was a falsification of papers, it must have been the result of an effort to prevent the enemies of Germany from securing information which might cause disaster to come to her forces and ships.

SIX FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN FARM HOUSE.

By Associated Press. New Brunswick, Nov. 27.—Six persons were found shot to death in a farm house on a country road three miles north of here tonight. Five of them had been murdered while the sixth apparently committed suicide after shooting the others. A farmer and his family were killed and two farm hands, apparently foreigners were shot to death. One of the employes, according to the authorities, did the shooting while the others were asleep last Tuesday night, and then killed himself. The dead.

SARAH WEITZMANN, 50 years old. DAVID KIGNER, 28 years old, son-in-law. MRS. BEATRICE KIGNER, 24 years old.

Two farm hands, apparently Polish, names unknown. That the murders were committed Tuesday night, and were not disclosed until tonight was due to the remoteness of the Weitzmann home.

Weitzmann and his wife and Mrs. Kigner had been not where they slept. One of the farm hands had died while he evidently was kneeling in prayer on his bed. He was shot in the back of the head. On the floor lay the body of Kigner.

In another bed was the body of the other farm hand whom the investigators believe did all the shooting. In his right hand was a revolver. This man had been employed by Weitzmann only one month and the motive for the murder and suicide is unknown to the authorities.

BUSH AUTHORIZED TO FILE SUIT AGAINST GEORGE GOULD

St. Louis, Nov. 27.—R. F. Bush, receiver of the Missouri Pacific railway today was authorized to file suit to recover from George Gould, property which the latter is said to hold in trust, provided Gould did not surrender title to the property in the next 30 days.

The expenditure of $648,000 on improvements of the Missouri Pacific line and for necessary equipment was authorized today in federal court. The receiver also was authorized to pay $743,000 due as interest on the six per cent gold notes of the company and to spend $18,000 in paying interest on the bonds of the Salina, Sterling and El Paso railroad and $30,000 interest on bonds of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern.

ENTENTE ALLIES FACE GRAVE SITUATION IN GREECE

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 28. (2:29 a. m.)—The Greek situation is again disquieting. Reuters correspondent at Athens says, with reference to the new joint note of the entente ministers that optimism has given way to skepticism. An Athens dispatch to Lloyd's News says that the note demanded a reply at the earliest possible moment. The interview of Premier Skoulioudis with the king lasted an hour, after which the cabinet council discussed the serious questions at issue for several hours and held that only several of the points formulated are acceptable to Greece.

WIRELESS TELEPHONY AROUND THE WORLD

Secretary Daniels Predicts that Messages May Soon Be Sent Around the World

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 27.—Wireless telephony soon will be extended around the world, Secretary of the Navy Daniels told guests at a banquet given at the Lotus Club tonight in honor of John J. Carty, who recently has succeeded in extending the use of the wireless telephony.

"We thought until recently that wireless telephony was the last of modern miracles that had to do with communication," said Secretary Daniels, "recently the world was amazed when the human voice was heard in San Francisco. When fully perfected we may talk to our friends from Greenland's icy mountain to India's coral strand. The man whose genius is making this possible is Mr. Carty."

At the table were receivers connected with the wireless stations at San Francisco and elsewhere.

WORKING ON NEW CLUE IN DEATH OF DALLAS WOMAN

Police Abandon Suicide Theory and Now Investigating Letters Coming to Woman Who is Dead.

By Associated Press. Dallas, Tex., Nov. 27.—At the suggestion of police Commissioner R. L. Winfrey, police and county officers have tonight given up the suicide theory in connection with the mysterious death of Mrs. Hugh Perry, whose body was found Thanksgiving day. The police today were working on a clue in which it had developed that letters addressed to Mrs. Perry in care of the suburban postoffice where she had resided and not her street address had continued to arrive after her disappearance. The police would not divulge the postmark or other information about the letters which have become of sufficient interest to obtain permission to open them. Indications the police say, to a mystery as deep as the murder of Miss Florence Brown here two years ago, whose slayer has never been found.

The finding of a clot of blood, two inches square, on the brain of Mrs. Perry, tonight, indicated almost positively, according to physicians, that she ceased to live as a result of strangulation. Murder is probable, as self strangulation would have produced an effect different from a blood clot, the physician explained.

GREECE IS STILL DALLING WITH THE ENTENTE POWERS

LONDON'S CHEERFUL VIEW OF GREEK SITUATION HAS BEEN SUCCEEDED BY REACTION IN PUBLIC MIND.

MORE OF SERBIA IS INVADED

Bulgarian Operations Blast Hopes of Union of Serbian and Allied Forces in Southern Serbia—Big Russian Force on Rumanian Side.

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 27.—London's cheerful view of the Greek situation has been succeeded by something in the nature of a reaction at the prevailing opinion at the present time is that the press and public jumped too quickly to the agreeable conclusion that Greece would concede readily to all the allies demands.

Although all the forecasts and speculations regarding Greece's reply to the entente note embodying the detailed demands of their governments and Greece's guarantee security and liberty of action to the French and British troops on Greek soil, continue to be optimistic, the latest information from Athens clearly indicates that Greece has not yet abandoned the dilatory tactics which caused the allies much uneasiness. It is now reported from Athens that the Greek government probably will propose that military experts be appointed by the entente powers shall discuss with the Greek general staff matters which it has been assumed were already satisfactorily answered.

The Bulgarian operations in the neighborhood of Monastir apparently have frustrated the hopes of a union of Serbian and allied troops in Southern Serbia; hence the use of the railroad in Greek territory to effect such a union has become of the utmost importance.

The Germans officially announce further progress beyond Pristina and Mitrovitsa and central Serbia apparently is almost cleared of Serbian troops. But in the southern sector in the neighborhood of Krynolak, the French are at least holding their own, if they have not gained a slight advantage in the series of attacks and counter attacks which have given the fighting there the character of an almost continuous battle for several days.

Notwithstanding the persistence of the Bulgarian advance the Serbians continue their strong defense south and west of Prilep and, according to a late unconfirmed Athens dispatch, they have retaken Krushevo.

Russia is now said to have 350,000 troops near the Rumanian frontier in preparation for an attack on Bulgaria by land or sea, but this has not communicated any definite declaration of Rumania's intention. The strip of territory held by the Serbians along the western edge of their national domain has grown notably thinner under the steady pressure of the Austro-Hungarian forces. In the northern end of the line the Austrians have cleared the region of King Peter's troops for some distance to the southwest of Mitrovitsa while the Germans have advanced across the Stribna river and occupied the heights on the left bank across the Kossova plains from Pristina.

To the south the Bulgarians are still further west. They are reported by Berlin as having crossed a line running through Stimila and Ljubent, the latter place being about 20 miles east of Pristene, which lies close to the frontier, Stimila lying directly north of Ljubent. The Bulgarian lines seem to threaten the complete cutting off of a Serbian retreat to the south, except through Albanian territory.

FIELD MARSHAL KITCHENER STRENGTHENED WITH ITALY

By Associated Press. Rome, Nov. 27.—The censor prohibits the transmission of news regarding the result of the visit to Rome of Field Marshal Kitchener, so far as these relate to impending military developments. It may be said, however, that the conference Earl Kitchener had here yesterday and on his visit to the front today has further strengthened and perfected the close accord between Italy and her allies. It also has contributed to shaping the active assistance which Italy is to give in the entente operations in the near east.

EXHIBITION DECEMBER 15 TO 18

Good List Regular Premiums And Many Special Prizes Offered—Many Breeders Will Compete

Editor Times: Through the columns of your valuable paper we wish to remind its many readers of the second annual exhibition of the North Texas Poultry Association to be held at Wichita Falls, December 15 to 18. Our first exhibition was a success notwithstanding it was held late in the season and gotten up on short notice. Some 300 birds were exhibited at that time. The prospects for the coming show are flattering thus far. Quite a few breeders from different parts of the state and of Oklahoma have expressed their intention of sending birds to our show.

We very urgently insist on every breeder in Wichita Falls and adjoining territory sending some birds to this show. The single entry fees are but 25 cents each which is as low as any show. The single entry fees are but 25 cents each which is as low as any show. The expense, therefore, on even several birds is not much. Of course every one can not win, but your cooperation is needed. Many a farmer who has never exhibited any poultry has real fine birds and don't know it. Sending them to the show will enable you to know the quality of your birds and at the same time advertise them in the most effective way.

Our regular premiums are equal to those of most shows. Our special premiums number more than 100, ranging from merchandise to cash specials and even a diamond ring. Beside these our business and professional men are offering handsome silver cups to the value of $200. These cups may be seen at Halton & Frigley's Jewelry Store. Begin now to look over your birds and select a few of the best ones for this show. Write or phone our secretary, 805 Bluff street for catalogs and entry blanks. If you fail to get entry blank, or decide at the last moment to send some birds you may do so and blanks will be made out on receipt of birds. Don't fail to send entry fees with entries when made. All birds should be in the show room by Tuesday night, December 14. Birds coming in on any train Tuesday night will be received Wednesday morning. Birds will be cooped in the show room in their respective classes in the order in which the entries are made. Coops will be furnished free for all who do not care to furnish their own coops.

We wish to thank the business men who have thus far contributed to the financial side of our coming show and will greatly appreciate any favors that any others may yet show us. When our secretary calls on you please encourage him in a substantial way. We also invite you to join our association. The annual dues are but $1. A number of our premiums will be limited to only associational members. There will be held at the city hall next Monday night, November 29 another meeting of our association. All interested in our show are urged to attend. On that night we appeal for cooperation, especially in the matter of sending birds. Let them come—ducks, geese, turkeys, chickens, pigeons and pet stock generally. Wichita Falls must come to the front in the matter of a poultry show and the poultry industry generally. Will you help us? W. P. BROOKS, President. T. E. CANNEDY, Secretary.

TO ORGANIZE FIELD TRIAL ASSOCIATION TODAY

Officers to be Chosen for North Texas Field Trial Association Today

Representatives from a number of North Texas towns will meet here this afternoon to organize the North Texas Amateur Field Trial Association. It is expected that a constitution and by-laws will be adopted at this meeting and officers elected. Gus Wilford of this city and S. A. Searight of Bowie, have been the promoters of the organization. It had been planned to hold field trials November 29 and 30, but the meet was postponed until after the organization had been perfected.

There are said to be more bird hunters and more fine dogs in North Texas than any other similar area in the world. To become a member of the association, however, it will not be necessary to own a dog or even to own a gun.

NEW AUTOMOBILE ROUTE TO FORT WORTH PLANNED

Plans for a new automobile route between Wichita Falls and Fort Worth, going by way of Mineral Wells and Jackboro, were made at a conference of citizens from the cities interested at the local Chamber of Commerce this afternoon. "It is probable that the local Chamber of Commerce will assist in financing improvements in the road system of Parker county now being made. Information given out after the meeting showed that the completion of this trip in Parker county is all that is needed to make the whole line complete. A road has been completed across Palo Pinto county to the Parker county line. The road from Fort Worth has been constructed as far as Poolville."

He had with him a pair of Texas steer horns which he acquired in Kent county measuring 7 feet 3 and a half inches from tip to tip on a straight line and 8 feet four inches measured by the curves. Mr. Bertillon said the steer that wore the horns was killed in Denton county by Sam Bass, the noted outlaw. Bertillon traded a watch for the horns. He said he would sell them for $100 cash.

ARMY WINS FROM NAVY TEAM 14 TO 0

SAILORS UNABLE TO STOP IRRESISTIBLE ATTACKS IN PERSON ELSMER O. OLIPHANT.

MIDDIES FOUGHT BRAVELY

Army Team Without Oliphant Might Not Have Been Able To Defeat Navy.

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 27.—The Army football eleven, showing a better state of preparedness than the Navy team, triumphed over their Annapolis rivals here today by a score of 14 to 0. Twice during the 60 minute battle between the competing academies the soldiers hurled a 42-centimeter shell in the person of Elmer O. Oliphant through the armor of the sailors' battleship and in the gray dusk of a drizzling afternoon the midshipmen sank with every gun working desperately but uselessly against the superior equipment of the Army.

Although the middy team fought with unflinching courage from the opening shot until the naval academy sank from sight the struggle availed it nothing against the overwhelming power of the Cadets' attack. The irresistible attacks from the Purdue University star could not be stopped by the sailors and the West Pointers time and again pierced the first and second lines of defense until the Navy was astounded.

Had Oliphant been injured in the opening minutes of the conflict the midshipmen might have had a chance but the middle western battering ram refused to best with every gun working but scarcely halted his mad rushes. Through the line or around the end he plunged or sprinted, hurling off tackler after tackler until the middies found that it required the entire eleven to stop him. Since it was not always possible to concentrate the whole squad, his gains covered about 70 per cent of the distance gained by the army team.

President Wilson and some 44,000 other spectators watched the battle between the rival arms of the service.

RICE MAKES GOOD SHOWING AGAINST NOTRE DAME

By Associated Press. Houston, Texas, Nov. 27.—Notre Dame wound up its football season today by trampling over the Rice institute team 55 to 2 in a game in which the Catholics were played almost to a standstill in the first two periods but in the last two wore down the opposition by the sheer weight of their battering backs and forwards and the excellence of their interference running. For one period, the second, Rice outplayed Notre Dame in all departments and the only score of the quarter was a safety scored against Notre Dame when Clark tackled Coffal behind his own goal line after he had recovered a bad pass from center.

The car and Bradley disappeared on the same night.

BONDED WAREHOUSE FOR HASKELL IS NOW ASSURED (Haskell Free Press) All the stock in the Haskell Bonded Warehouse Company has been subscribed and the application for a charter was this week forwarded by W. H. Murchison. This is record the successful culmination of the movement recently launched for a warehouse for Haskell. The capital stock of the concern is $1,500 which is about equally divided between farmers and business men. There are something like 150 to 200 stockholders in the company. The board of directors is composed of three farmers and three business men. Throughout the campaign for the organization of a warehouse for this county a most gratifying spirit of co-operation has existed between farmers and business men of this city. The assurance of a warehouse will doubtless have a bearing as to the cotton acreage for next year, as splendid storage facilities will be afforded producers in the event the market is low.

AMERICAN TOYS FOR CHILDREN THIS YEAR

MOST OF SANTA CLAUS' PRESENTS ARE NOW OF UNITED STATES MAKE

STILL COMING FROM GERMANY

War Has Not Stopped Exports—Real Toy Submarines and Other War Devices Offered

John Bull may have cut off German trade in other lines but he hasn't interfered with Germany's contribution to Santa Claus' pack for American boys and girls. Ninety per cent of the cheaper toys found on the counters in Wichita Falls toyshops are of German manufacture. The legend "Made in Germany" however, is noticeable for its absence. This legend was an exacting measure by England before the war, as a patriotic measure. England required that all German goods sold in England should bear the inscription "Made in Germany" in the hope that the English people would buy English goods instead.

While the Germans were making these goods for England they put the "Made in Germany" label on all goods exported from that country. Now since the Germans cannot hope to sell any toys in England and since there are some people in the United States who might not want to buy German made toys, the German have diplomatically neglected to put the usual legend on their products.

Early in the year the outlook was pretty dark for the toy shops. England was holding up all exports from Germany even though they were already on the wharves of neutral ports in Holland and had already been sold and paid for by American importers. The American factories were turning out toys with feverish haste but there was no hope that they would be able to furnish enough toys of the cheaper sort to supply the demand. Finally after representations by the American government, England consented to let toys already in neutral ports, or already paid for in Germany by Americans, come through to America. The supply is now adequate.

While German toys of the cheaper sort still dominate the counters, the German trade in the higher class of toys especially those of the mechanical sort has been captured by the American manufacturers who have not only corralled this trade in the United States but are reaching out across the ocean and taking this trade in all lands. The war has had little to do with this. The American toys of this class are winning because they are better and are more ingenious.

Shipments of this class of toys are now being unpacked by some Wichita Falls dealers. "We are right there with this preparedness stuff," said one dealer yesterday. "We've got a complete assortment of super-dreadnaughts, torpedo boats, submarines, aeroplanes and other warlike devices. One of the cleverest of these is a torpedo boat that fires a torpedo. This isn't much more ingenious, however, than the battleship that gets hit and breaks to pieces and sinks. These toys require a tub or pool of water. One of them is a submarine that fires a torpedo. Another is a submarine that rises and sinks automatically. We haven't unpacked all our toys but I wouldn't be surprised if we didn't find a hydroplane that would fly in the air and float on water."

German dolls continue the favorites but there are some mighty pretty ones—they are expensive too—that come from Providence, Rhode Island, New Haven, Connecticut, or some other Yankee factory town.

Government figures for the seven months ending with July show that dolls and parts of dolls brought in to this country had a value of $451,114, compared with $741,981 in the same period of 1914. All other toys imported here the seven months of this year totaled $1,887,188—a big falling off when compared with $3,091,422, the seven months' record a year ago. Whereas in the seven months of 1914 imports of German toys exclusively reached the high total of $3,093,320, their value in the similar period this year was only $1,917,674.

The commanding position of Germany, either in peace or in war, as a world purveyor of toys is reflected in the government statistics, which reveal that in the seven months covered by the official statistical review imports of toys from all other countries aggregated only $420,658 and in the same period of 1914, $740,082.

Japan, which made such far reaching efforts to capture the toy market from Germany in the last few months, proves to be last in the running as the final round up is made in the Christmas trade. The material from which the toys were made in the opinion of American wholesale dealers and importers, was too cheap, and although the prices have been very low, the wares which were merely imitations of European articles, have not been in much demand.

Wichita Falls, Tex., Nov. 28, 1915.

The Honorable C. H. Morris of Winsboro, has confirmed the report in circulation to the effect that he was a candidate for governor against Governor Ferguson. The announcement that he was or would be a candidate is the first information the Times had that Mr. Morris had any such intentions. In fact, we might make a further confession of our ignorance, or stupidity, or whatever one is mind to call it, by saying that it is absolutely the first time we ever heard that there was such a man in the state. But that's the way it was with Governor Jim Ferguson. Until he came out for governor, few people outside his own town or county knew who he was, and that might have been an advantage to the Bell county man in that he had made no record as a statesman or public official, and therefore had nothing for his opponent to fight him with. It will be different the next time however. Governor Jim has made a record and, as the Winsboro man has none it may be that he can accomplish that which as yet has not been—defeat for a second term a candidate for governor of Texas.

There is a political rumor that Dr. S. P. Brooks of Waco will be sidetracked for United States Senator and Tom Campbell of Palestine, put in his place. It is not believed by some that Dr. Brooks is slick enough in the political game to win. If the politicians crowd Dr. Brooks out of the race and substitute Tom Campbell and the second primary narrows down between Colquitt and Campbell, there will be some strange political alignments in grand old Texas.—Georgetown Commercial.

Should the race narrow down to two, and the two be Campbell and Colquitt, it will prove not only a very lively, but a most interesting political fight. Both are ex-governors, one a firm supporter of President Wilson and his administration, and the other against almost everything President Wilson stands for. Doubtless, he will be able to land all the anti-administration Democrats, and that together with the German-American vote in Texas, which is almost if not quite solid against the President and his administration, will count for considerable. In addition to differing with each other on national matters they are wide apart on the prohibition question—one being a staunch prohibitionist and the other an anti of about as rank as anti-prohibitionists ever get to be. Really, this newspaper would have not the slightest objections if all other aspirants to the senatorship should withdraw from the contest and turn it over to Campbell and Colquitt—and let them at each other.

The recent result in the three-cornered Tennessee senatorial primary indicates, as we see it, that former Governor Malcolm R. Patterson will be the next Senator from Tennessee. Congressman McKellar, anti, secured a plurality of 2,700 over Patterson and Senator Lee, and if prohibition was the main issue, as was declared during the campaign, Lee's vote or a large majority of it may be expected to go for Patterson in the second primary, albeit there are many Tennessee pros who haven't a great deal of use for "Ham" or confidence in his belated conversion to their cause.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

"Ham" Patterson is a "flopper," in that he has been on both sides of the prohibition question. While governor of Tennessee Senator Carmack, one of the most brilliant men Tennessee or the south ever produced, was shot down like a dog on the streets of Nashville, and the man who did the shooting was a warm friend of the governor, and was closeted with him in the executive mansion a few hours before the killing of Carmack took place. Patterson used his influence and position to have the slayer of Carmack acquitted. Their differences grew out of the prohibition election in that state, Carmack being a pro and his slayer at the head of the anti-wing of the Democratic party of that state. After serving out his term as governor, and seeing that the pros of the state were in power, Ham Patterson, after debauching himself in a questionable resort, suddenly became converted to religion and is now a rampant prohibitionist. He is an able man, and it would seem has succeeded in making a majority of the people believe that his conversion is real, and as a reward it looks very much like he is going to occupy a seat in the United States Senate—the same position that Carmack held and would in all probability be holding today but for the bullet fired by the man who was Patterson's bosom friend and political backer. The game of politics is a strange one, and only those who know how it is played should ever venture in.

"Doctor, I want to ask you a question."

"Yes," he said, "what is it?"

"Am I going to get well?"

The doctor hesitated a moment and the patient said:

"Don't treat me as a child. I have a right to know. Tell me."

"Well," he said, "you may recover this time; but the second or third attack is pretty sure to prove fatal."

The sick man caught the doctor's coat and said to him:

"Doctor, I am afraid to die. Tell me what lies on the other side."

Very quietly the doctor said: "I do not know."

"You don't know? You a Christian man, do not know what is on the other side?"

The doctor was holding the handle of the door, on the other side of which came sounds of scratching and whining, and as he opened the door a dog sprang into the room and leaped on him with eager show of gladness. Turning to the patient, the doctor said:

"Did you notice that dog? He had never been in this room before. He did not know what was inside. He knew nothing except that his master was there, and when the door was opened he sprang in without fear. I know little of what is on the other side of death, but I know one thing. PRESIDENT CONVERTED $1000 NOW PROBLEM

By Associated Press.

New York, Nov. 27.—Officers of the congressional Union for Woman's Suffrage are wondering today how they can best make use of $1000 contributed by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont for the express purpose of "converting" President Wilson to the support of a proposed suffrage amendment to the federal constitution. Mrs. Belmont did not stipulate the manner in which the funds shall be expended. Mrs. Belmont also advocates the use of suffrage funds to induce southern congressmen to support the federal amendment. The union has received a contribution of $100 from Ellihu Root, as he was one of their strongest opponents in the recent campaign in this state.

At a special meeting of the city council last night a special census of the city was authorized. Work will begin immediately and be pushed with all possible haste. The city is now operating under the general laws, and it is practically certain that in the event the population has reached the required mark a movement will be inaugurated for either a commission form of government or the so-called city manager plan.

IMPORTANT BRITISH VICTORY NEAR BAGDAD

By Associated Press.

London, Nov. 27.—The battle between British and Turkish forces at Ctesiphon near Bagdad, which for a time looked like a check to the Mesopotamian expedition, is now reported to have been a success of first importance. Information today is that the retirement of the British after the capture of Ctesiphon, occasioned by lack of water, was only temporary. After the Turks withdrew toward Bagdad the British re-occupied their former position, encountering no opposition. The British at once began clearing the Turkish trenches which were filled with dead and wounded. The British captured a large quantity of arms and ammunition and also 15000 prisoners. Ctesiphon has been the scene of many fateful battles. The ancient city was besieged and plundered a dozen times by Greek and Roman invaders from the east, before the Arabs finally sacked it.

ALLIED FORCE AT SALONIKI ESTIMATED AT 125,000

By Associated Press.

Paris, Nov. 27.—Press dispatches from Athens say the British and the French at Saloniki number 125,000 men. They are abundantly supplied with arms and ammunition. About 40,000 or 45,000 more men are said to be on the way to Saloniki where 3000 troops are debarking daily.

BULGARIA MAY YET FIGHT AGAINST TURKEY.

By Associated Press.

Paris, Nov. 27.—Newspapers of Bulgaria, says the correspondent at Saloniki of the Petit Parisien, are declaring that the Bulgarian army, having conquered Serbian Macedonia should be satisfied with its triumph and seeing that Thrace is retained by the Turks, should not further increase the fears of the Serbians. That correspondent quotes the Bulgarian newspapers as saying that there are now seven Turkish divisions at Sufli, northeast of Dedoagatch, one division at Mustafa Pasha, one division at Varna and one each at Burgas and Constantinople. The Bulgarian newspapers, he says are strongly insisting that the question of Thrace has not been definitely settled and that with Germany's support, Turkey in Europe should be replaced to the limit in which she was confined in 1911. He adds:

"If the misunderstanding on this subject continues, and this may happen, in view of the recent speech by the premier of Bulgaria in which he declared Thrace should be Bulgarian, the prophecy of ex-premier Venizelos of Greece may yet be realized and the Bulgarians in the end may be found fighting on the side of those they formerly attacked."

GREEKS CLAIM HEAVY LOSSES FOR THE ALLIES.

THANKSGIVING PARTY FOR B. O. P.'s FRIDAY

Friday evening the B. O. P. Girls entertained their friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Greenwood, through the courtesy of Miss Fannie Minter, sister of Mrs. Greenwood. A spirit of informality prevailed and the amusements and games were in keeping with the holiday spirit. A wit sharpening contest "Nuts to Crack" was engaged in and numerous games, many of which had not been played by the guests since their childhood days, were indulged in. A refreshment course of ice cream and angelfood cake was served, the young men finding partners by matching miniature peanuts, similar to the ones used in the contest. The final entertainment was found in a mock double wedding, effectively performed by Mr. Kelly as minister. Those enjoying the delightful hospitality of the Greenwood home were: Misses Katherine Johnson, Marion Crabtree, Annette Coffield, Marguerite Baker, Fannie Minter, Tula Stokes, Pauline Harris, entertained Wednesday afternoon by Miss Bertha Mae Kemp. Three tables of players enjoyed the game for the usual length of time, the close being marked by the service of a fruit salad course with tea and fruit cake. The souvenir, two pair of silk hose, was cut by Mrs. Earle Clayton. Miss Florence Sammons was a guest the club members present being: Misses Lillian McGregor, Orveta Wyatt, Agnes Reid, Lillian Avis.

TO TEST FOOD AND MILK OFFERED HERE

CITY COUNCIL ORDERS ANALYSIS TO SEE IF ADULTERATION IS PRACTICED

SEVERAL COMPLAINTS HEARD

One Conviction Recently on Charge of Watering Milk—Tests to Be Conducted Here

Dr. J. F. Reed, chairman of the sanitary committee, was authorized by the city council Friday night to purchase samples of food and milk offered for sale in Wichita Falls and have laboratory tests made of the same to determine whether they were up to the standard of purity or had been adulterated.

Many complaints have been received lately that milk is being sold that has been watered. Dr. Reed recently received a sample of milk containing bloody impurities. Several weeks ago one milk wagon driver pleaded guilty to a charge of watering his milk. It is believed that he is not the only one who has been guilty of this practice.

Members of the state food inspection department are not permitted to testify in the prosecution of defendants for selling impure or adulterated foods and for this reason the tests will be made in the laboratory of a local physician who has made such work a study and practice for years. It is planned to prosecute vigorously those found violating the food laws and ordinances.

ABERNATHY TO AGAIN CATCH WOLVES WITH BARE HANDS

(Frederick Leader)
Having sold his cotton gin interest in Frederick, A. H. Hill is planning for a unique Christmas holiday recreation, with John R. Abernathy, ex-United States marshal, as the chief entertainer. The event is to be nothing less than a repetition of the famous feat of catching wolves alive with his bare hands, which Abernathy pulled off near Frederick in the early days for the entertainment of President Roosevelt and a party of the presidential friends. One point of difference will be that this hunt will be staged in West Texas, owing to the fact that there are no more wolf catching places in the thickly settled farming country near Frederick. Another different feature will be that, whereas for President Roosevelt, Abernathy caught coyotes and thus won the United States marshalship for Hill and his friends he will catch the larger wolves. Just where in West Texas this hunt is to be staged is not revealed to the public. Abernathy told the Leader man a few days ago that if he should tell the location there would be a swarm of 10,000 sight seers on hand before the chase could be held, which would force him to call the whole thing off.

A STITCH IN TIME SAVES NINE

Has the luster of the varnish on your car died? If so, bring it to us and have it rubbed down and revarnished. It will make the car look new, and save repainting for another year.

If the car has gone beyond the point where varnish will do the work, and needs repainting here is where you want to have it done. Our work is second to none, and is strictly guaranteed. Mr. Frank H. Elliott, who has charge of our auto painting department, has had thirty years experience in carriage and automobile painting in some of the largest factories in the north and east. Eighteen years of that time has been spent exclusively in automobile work, during which time his eight-coat system of auto painting has received the recognition and commendation of some of the best car manufacturers in the country. The Wichita Falls fire truck which was painted by him while in the employ of the Wichita Motor Company is a fair sample of his work.

We make prices for auto painting as reasonable as the work can be done, and will be glad to give you an estimate of the cost at any time.

if you feel that way about it when you get good service from your tires, but there is a deeper and more understandable reason. The tire that you and every other motorist undoubtedly want most is not the result of hit or miss efforts. Some great factory has gone to the limit in giving you the best that human ingenuity can produce, and stakes its reputation on the result. That's how Diamond Tires are built and the great factory behind them is the largest rubber factory in the world. The horse-shoe was all right to nail over the barn-door, but for the garage four Diamond Tires on the wheels of your car constitute the best omen of good luck we know anything about.

EDITOR'S NOTE: We have procured the services of "Ye Planry," Inc., the famous home designers in editing this department and each week illustrations of practical, modern homes will be shown. Any information desired will be gladly given and complete working drawings and specification for any home shown on this page will be furnished by Wm. Cameron & Company, Inc., local agents for "Ye Planry," Inc.

A Typical California-Texas Bungalow

The illustration above is of a practical and economical little bungalow home of five rooms and sleeping porch. It has large living room with mantle and built-in book case. The kitchen has many unique and labor saving built-in devices. The bed room arrangement affords excellent ventilation in each sleeping apartment and all are convenient to the bath. The living room, dining room and hall to be finished in oak stain and the balance of the interior in white enamel. Plans for this home will be furnished as shown or reversed.

It is a well established fact that cities are judged largely by the attractions of their residential portions as well as by their commercial centers, and as statistics will bear out, the greatest developed and fastest growing cities of the world today are due largely to their beautiful homes for their development. As an example, this feature alone has caused more visitors to permanently locate in Southern California than most any other one cause. Of course, some communities have not the natural advantages to aid in beautifying the home—still, the main factor lies in the home itself—in the lines and designs of its architecture and in the interior arrangement and details. This does not necessarily demand great expenditure, and even the smallest home can be made attractive if properly designed and if care is taken of its upkeep and surroundings. Certainly every citizen desires and should have a home as comfortable and attractive as his means will allow, and to every citizen the welfare of his community should be at heart. Does it not occur to you that by making your own home and property attractive that you not only enhance its value but encourage your neighbor to do likewise, thus furthering the growth and development of your city at large? These improvements make a city more desirable for each of its residents to live in and is a source of much favorable publicity, and encourages strangers to locate and establish homes, thus increasing the population with a desirable class of residents. These statements are worthy of the consideration of every citizen and we trust may be of indirect benefit in elevating our civic attractiveness.

THOMAS W. ROSS

Wichita Falls will have a revival of the "spoken drama" at the Wichita Theater on Saturday, December 11th, that is bound to arouse interest throughout this entire section of the state.

The foremost stars of the American amusement world, are coming here in what is said to be the greatest combination since the time that Joseph Jefferson, William J. Florence, Nat Goodwin, Julia Marlowe, Mrs. John Drew and William H. Crane toured this country in a production of Richard Brinsley Sheridan's comedy "The Rivals."

William H. Crane (dean of the American stage), Thomas W. Ross, Maclyn Arbuckle, Amelia Bingham and Mabel Taliaferro—all stars of the highest rating in the blue book of stage notables—make up the new constellation.

They are presenting Bronson Howard's brilliant comedy "The Henrietta," which has been revised by Winchell Smith and Victor Mapes, whose latest work—"The Boomerang" is David Belasco's current offering at his famous New York theater, and is also the sensational success of the Eastern metropolis.

Manager Here Saturday.

E. G. Cooke, advance manager of this great combination of stars, was here Saturday. He is well known in this city, having handled the publicity department of Klaw & Erlanger's stupendous spectacle "Ben Hur." Speaking of his attraction with a representative of this publication Mr. Cooke said:

"The tour of this combination of stars was the sensation of last season as well as the present one. The long engagements of sixteen weeks at the Knickerbocker theater in New York and fourteen weeks at the Cort Theater in Chicago played last season, seemed to have awakened the entire nation to the sterling merits of this organization. For this season, their appearance on the Pacific coast has been an ovation everywhere."

"In San Francisco ex-President Taft, Major General Goethals, Wm. Randolph Hearst; in fact the leaders of the nation who were there enjoying the wonders of the Panama-Pacific exposition arranged large theater parties to attend the performance of this great American comedy by the distinguished players assembled by Manager Joseph Brooks."

This week the company is playing in Minneapolis and only four weeks intervene between that city and New Orleans. Therefore, Wichita Falls theater goers are indeed fortunate that this city has been included in the route of the company.

Notwithstanding the big expense attached to this attraction, a scale of prices ranging from 50 cents to $2 has been fixed. Any one of these stars appearing individually could command the same scale. Therefore, the event must go down in local theatrical history as the greatest bargain ever offered the theater going public of this city.

Casting about for players to present this revival of Bronson Howard's "The Henrietta," which he had revised and rewritten by Winchell Smith and Victor Mapes under the title of "The New Henrietta," Joseph Brooks looked specially to get American actors of Wichita Falls will have a revival of the "spoken drama" at the Wichita Theater on Saturday, December 11th, that is bound to arouse interest throughout this entire section of the state.

The foremost stars of the American amusement world, are coming here in what is said to be the greatest combination since the time that Joseph Jefferson, William J. Florence, Nat Goodwin, Julia Marlowe, Mrs. John Drew and William H. Crane toured this country in a production of Richard Brinsley Sheridan's comedy "The Rivals."

William H. Crane (dean of the American stage), Thomas W. Ross, Maclyn Arbuckle, Amelia Bingham and Mabel Taliaferro—all stars of the highest rating in the blue book of stage notables—make up the new constellation.

They are presenting Bronson Howard's brilliant comedy "The Henrietta," which has been revised by Winchell Smith and Victor Mapes, whose latest work—"The Boomerang" is David Belasco's current offering at his famous New York theater, and is also the sensational success of the Eastern metropolis.

Manager Here Saturday.

E. G. Cooke, advance manager of this great combination of stars, was here Saturday. He is well known in this city, having handled the publicity department of Klaw & Erlanger's stupendous spectacle "Ben Hur." Speaking of his attraction with a representative of this publication Mr. Cooke said:

"The tour of this combination of stars was the sensation of last season as well as the present one. The long engagements of sixteen weeks at the Knickerbocker theater in New York and fourteen weeks at the Cort Theater in Chicago played last season, seemed to have awakened the entire nation to the sterling merits of this organization. For this season, their appearance on the Pacific coast has been an ovation everywhere."

"In San Francisco ex-President Taft, Major General Goethals, Wm. Randolph Hearst, in fact the leaders of the nation who were there enjoying the wonders of the Panama-Pacific exposition arranged large theater parties to attend the performance of this great American comedy by the distinguished players assembled by Manager Joseph Brooks."

This week the company is playing in Minneapolis and only four weeks intervene between that city and New Orleans. Therefore, Wichita Falls theater goers are indeed fortunate that this city has been included in the route of the company.

Notwithstanding the big expense attached to this attraction, a scale of prices ranging from 50 cents to $2 has been fixed. Any one of these stars appearing individually could command the same scale. Therefore, the event must go down in local theatrical history as the greatest bargain ever offered the theater going public of this city.

Casting about for players to present this revival of Bronson Howard's "The Henrietta," which he had revised and rewritten by Winchell Smith and Victor Mapes under the title of "The New Henrietta," Joseph Brooks looked specially to get American actors or

AN UNPARALLELED SUCCESS

The joyous acclaim of delighted audiences in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and all the big cities of the nation is competent testimony that "The New Henrietta" is one of the greatest comedies produced in many years. After several seasons devoid of any great successes, it looms as a distinct event in the history of the Theatre.

ways of the ultra-civilized. Irene Howley in the role of Agnes, the sister of Murray, displays real skill in the treatment of situations of power. Jennifer's tragedy is of the soul; Agnes is that and of blood as well. Miss Howley's work adds markedly to the force of the story. The veteran Russell Bassett as the father of Jennifer contributes his full measure too. Harry Brown has the heavy part, that of Weldon, who when he fails to win Jennifer not only separates bride and bridegroom but adds to his misdeed the betrayal of Agnes—and meets his death at her hand.

JACK BARRYMORE AT THE EMPRESS WEDNESDAY

"The Incurrible Dukane" a Paramount comedy drama with Jack Barrymore in the lead and title role is the Wednesday offering at the Empress.

"The Incurrible Dukane" is a unique combination of drama, comedy and romance, in which John Barrymore finds one of the greatest roles he has yet assumed since his first appearance on the screen under the Famous Players management. The comedy of the subject is derived from a series of ludicrous incidents of which John Barrymore as the young and incurrible Dukane, is the constant victim; the drama from the thrilling manner in which the hero does well redeems himself, saving the fortune and honor of his father, and the romance develops in the usual manner of youth.

wholesome life as well as brilliant talents. He picked for the play William J. Crane, Thomas W. Ross, Maclyn Arbuckle, Amelia Bingham and Mabel Taliaferro for the five principal parts—all of these actors having been given stellar honors in the past and present and in plays of the most wholesome and honest sort. Mr. Crane, who won much of his early fame as old Nick in "The Henrietta," has also claim to distinction and honor for his production of "The Senator," "Brother John," "On Probation," "The Virginia Courtship," "The Senator Keeps House," "David Harum," "Father and the Boys," and other vigorous and thoughtful American plays. Thomas W. Ross, after an apprenticeship under some of the best actors in America, flowered beautifully in Blossom's "Checkers" and followed this up with his performance of the attractive "Fortune Hunter" and the honest hero of "The Only Son." Maclyn Arbuckle's record in recent years shows him as the protagonist in George Ade's "The County Chairman," as the genial, big hearted sheriff, "Slim" Hoover in "The Round-up," and as the jolly "Hime Look" in "The Circus Man." Amelia Bingham came into prominence when she produced Clyde Fitch's "The Chieftain" following this with "A Modern Magdalene," "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson," and other brilliant plays from American pens. Mabel Taliaferro, who since her earliest recollections has been on the stage, and who despite her very few years has almost a veteran's experience, is remembered best of all for her delightful "Loves Mary," in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and her equally charming "Polly" in "Polly of the Circus." When she was quite a child she played the title part in "Lorna Doone," a poetic dramatization of Blackmore's famous story, and among her list of parts are all of the famous child characters of the last ten or fifteen years. Recently she was co-star with her sister, Edith Taliaferro, in a very pretty play, "Young Wisdom," which won much success for the sisters.

It is this group of players that Mr. Brooks brought together for his revival of "The Henrietta"—all players of acknowledged distinction and genius and all with records of playing only in the cleanest and most wholesome of the output of American dramatists. One of the strongest proofs of this contention is the fact that the principal producers of the photo drama and photo plays have seized on the list of these several stars to furnish patrons of the film theater with attractive material of the best quality.

ott, Lillian Drew, Ernest Maupin, R. C. Travers, Nell Craig and Thomas Comerford. A short story follows: Don John, returning to Spain after his conquest of Granada, is acclaimed a national hero. King Philip II, his half brother, becomes jealous of the people's love for Don John, and imagines his brother will attempt to usurp the throne.

Philip plots against his brother and his first effort is to prevent his marriage to Dolores de Mendoza. An attempt is made to kidnap the girl but she escapes and flees to Don John's castle. The couple are planning for their marriage when the king, intercepted by the king, who accuses Don John of treachery. Don John disavows it. The king then sends a reflection on Dolores, and when Don John leaps for his sword stabs him.

Philip is terrified, thinking he has killed him. Mendoza, his general, in order to save the king, swears that he killed Don John. Later it is found that Don John has only been wounded and the king and courtiers rush back to his apartments just in time to see the priest finishing the wedding ceremony.

Darkest of all screen actresses is Dorothy Bernard, the Lady Babbie of William Fox's production of "The Little Gypsy," produced by Oscar Apfel from the scenario by Walter Lang. Miss Bernard who appears in support of William Farnum in the Fox production of "The Bondman" and plays opposite to Nance O'Neill in "Princess Romanoff" makes her how in screen work under the Fox management and already she has become the best beloved of motion picture favorites throughout the country. New York critics declare that Miss Bernard's wonderful charm and delightful freshness of method account for her universal popularity. The actress herself ascribes it to an abounding love for her work.

Better Standards of Dress Result From Adoption of American Styles Instead of Following Foreign Styles

The article below was read by Mrs. C. R. Hartsook before the meeting of the New Century Club at last week's meeting and met with such hearty approval from those who heard it that its publication was thought fitting. The article follows:

For the sake of later comparison I shall take you back to the early '60's because then a woman regarded in fashionable attire the side-walk, a vast moving something, with out grace, symmetry or beauty, in the early '70's she masqueraded in the Grecian bend. In the later '70's she was compelled to wear the tie backs, which hampered every step and rendered free walking absolutely impossible. In '86 she wore the pull backs and in '91 and '92 the street cleaners. A few years later her sleeves were so tight that circulation was retarded.

If we trace the vagaries of fashion through the past thirty years, we find that every principal of art and beauty has been systematically outraged, the requirements of health utterly ignored, styles yielding comfort and conforming to common sense have been conspicuous by their absence. Hence the growing need of something to strike the shackles from persecuted, fashioned ridden women, and just this led to the organization of the "Dress committee of the National Council of Women." It is a recent thing to speak of our national taste in dress, and here in this connection I wish to say that men have gradually and in the main conquered their passion for ornament and today they clothes rather than array themselves. Woman has not harnessed the instinct, she still allows it to drive her often to her own grave prejudice.

Under the old regime costumes were worked out to suit the various classes of people. They were adapted to both purse and pursuit. They were fitted; that is silk was not worn in huts or homes upon the estates. Slippers were for carriages and shoes for street. But our democracy destroyed class. The complications brought about by the question of clothes for many women, is a very serious one. Often it becomes not only one side of her business, but the business of her life, and sad to say husband and children are neglected and clothes is the rock upon which the family happiness splits.

The question is not that a woman should not occupy herself seriously with dress, that she should not look upon it as an art based upon sound principles, but give it a proper portion of attention. Neither is it a question of one fashion, one style of dress for all times and all women. We do not wish to say as the extremists, "What a glorious day it will be when the dressmaker ceases from trouble and the sewing machine is at rest, and when a woman can do her year's shopping in a few minutes, for all she has to do is to select the right size," but we do say that most women spend too much useful time on dress, rather the intricate style of dress. Woman must observe three principles to master the dress question, and fit it into her scheme of life. First, fitness, second beauty, and third ethics. Fitness depends upon occasion, beauty depends upon line and color and ethics upon quality and the relation to one's means. It sounds fantastic to say that whole bodies of women place their chief reliance on the social advancement upon dress, but it is true. They are or are not as they are sown, and the worst part of this is that it gives too much goise and assurance to the ignorant and useless women. A woman is often not far wrong in thinking that she is not welcome if her dress is not of the circle to which she aspires. However if she is sure of herself and has a sense of humor—this may be an amusing experience. The following from the Ladies Home Journal imposes much: "She is queer, you know." Every now and again you hear this said of a woman. And when one runs this accusation to the ground, the queer-ness comes from the fact that the woman is unusual; unusual in that she does not dress as "they"; or she may prefer to go to a symphony concert than to dance; or she may not do what every one else is doing and that, in the eyes of some is such a crime! But, generally speaking, the queer woman is interesting; not because she is queer, because her queerness is simply that she is different. She refuses to be anyone else than herself. She chooses to dress either as is most becoming to her or as is most comfortable to her. She doesn't find out what "they" are doing before she does anything. She has a healthy indifference to what "they" are wearing when she buys a hat or a dress. - She is just herself. Curious, isn't it, that one can be queer when one is merely one's self? But it is so. The fact remains, however, that the women generally adjudged to be queer add the real true color to the feminine horizon and it is not going too far to say that they are among the women who are worth while.

Out of revolt against absurdities has come one definite development in American costumes; that is the sensible street costume. There is nothing in woman's business which has more important social economic bearing than dress. We not only commit a crime against our persons but against common sense, when we think a fat face, a thin face, a long face, a short face all look equally well in a Merry Widow hat. So many of our clothes have a bad effect upon our nerves, as well as morals. For instance a large hat manifold puffs and transformations unduly heating, form a continual nerve strain; Spotted veils, tight gloves, tight arm holes, narrow skirts and high heel shoes for general wear are a menace to the person who wears them.

Next we will take up American fashions, which means beauty of designs created by American designers for American women. On the theory that a painter must know his subject before he can paint, so the designer must know his wearer before he can dress her becomingly. American fashions means a nation of women dressed by those who know their needs. Instead of compelling a woman to make frequent changes in her dress rendered necessary by the extreme and grotesque styles; the aim of American fashions is to give designs so conservative in style and beautiful in line that she need not change her hat or dress before she has had reasonable wear out of it. The American aim is also to get away with extreme changes that so conspicuously pointed out last year's productions. Of course we could not expect the French milliners and dressmakers to do this, as their livelihood depends upon it. French dressmakers never originate, but adapt. From a Russian dancer we have the Russian blouse. The Balkan war caused Turkish fashions in styles. The French go to their art galleries and libraries to study and adapt styles, so why should American women be told what to wear and how long to wear it, by people three thousand miles away. As a matter of fact the French are indifferent except for the dollars they get out of America. They are absolutely ignorant of the Anglo-Saxon women.

I will give you an illustration of how much more practical are our American manufacturers. They decided to use cloth top shoes this year owing to the scarcity of beef and veal. This, however, was not taken up owing to the long skirts, so the shoe manufacturers induced the garment makers to shorten the length of skirts, which they did and that at once created a demand for fancy top shoes. The trades people say that it is easy to know the advance styles, as one extreme follows another. Present indications show that next year's styles will be along tailored lines, so bag makers are making plain bags or purses. Jewelers are making cuff links and belt buckles. Retailers keep their eyes on the new plays of New York as so many of the styles owe their origin to the stage. Miss Mary Pickford says:

"I grow up with such an abhorrence of debt that I learned to get along with very few clothes, and now that I can afford more I do not have as many as most girls who are dependent on overworked and hard pushed fathers for every cent they spend. I do not think it good sense to spend money foolishly, and it is surely spent foolishly when squandered on garments that are hung in the closets to feed the moth."

"A good, plain suit, never in extreme style, with a neat little hat, good gloves, clean collar and waist, and shoes well polished, are in far better taste than the dress so far beyond one's means that it must serve as a best dress one year, and with tawdry and torn adornment appear as a street dress the year following. With good judgment one may buy a suit of very good material for $15 in which the wearer always looks well if she keeps it well pressed and well brushed."

"Girls with round, envious eyes tell me what they would do if they drew my pay check every Saturday night, and I tell them, as I tell you, that the more one receives the more one has to pay, so that the possibilities and limitations remain proportionately the same. I try to save. I have always done that. With the larger income and the taste for luxuries that has grown with it, I want to save as large a share of my salary as I saved when it was less."
