BELIEVED SHE WILL ENTER BALKAN FIGHT AS SOON AS ALLIES FORCES REACH TOTAL OF 500,000 MEN THERE.

MONASTIR'S FATE NOT KNOWN

Italians Still Hammering at Gorizia, While Russian Front is Quiet—Greece Persisted in Her Refusal to Remove Her Forces.

By Associated Press. London, Dec. 1.—Roumania's attitude apparently is causing the central powers great uneasiness, while Greece' refusal to limit her military effectiveness is of equal concern to the entente powers.

Roumania is said to be only awaiting the presence in the Balkans of preponderant entente military forces before dispatching an ultimatum to Austria and German military critics, according to dispatches reaching London, predict military and diplomatic difficulties despite the brilliant Serbian campaign. It is also reported that Austria is opposed to the idea and possibility of Bulgarian domination of the Balkan states and it is suggested that a desire to forestall any friction in this connection was responsible for the German emperor's recent visit to Vienna.

Greece steadfastly refuses to concede entente demands for the unrecited use of the Greek port of Saloniki as a base, and declines to remove her army from Macedonia. Except for the capture of Pristina by the Bulgarians, there has been no marked change in the Serbian military situation. The fate of Monastir remains obscure. The eastern front has been comparatively quiet.

The Russians are reported as being greatly strengthened along the Vienna front. The Italians seem determined to capture Gorizia with the least possible loss of men. Roumania's attitude to Austria is expected when the allies concentrate 500,000 men in the Balkans, it is reported in Bucharest.

2500 HOGS VACCINATED IN STOPPING CHOLERA EPIDEMIC

Disease Now Well Under Control, According to Agent—Rust in Wheat is Reported

The epidemic of hog cholera which several weeks ago threatened to cause serious loss to the farmers of Wichita county is now practically stamped out, according to J. W. Campbell, district agricultural agent upon whose shoulders fell the task of combating the disease. Mr. Campbell within 20 days vaccinated a total of about 2500 hogs and he believes that the disease has about been eliminated. It appeared in several sections of the county, being at its worst on some farms in the immediate vicinity of Wichita Falls. After Mr. Campbell got his work started, he was aided greatly by farmers notifying him as soon as they discovered the disease in their hog pens, thus enabling him to check it before it had spread too far. All along the Red River valley where thousands of hogs are raised every year, the cholera was prevalent and it is considered remarkable that the loss was not greater. The saving to the farmers of Wichita county on this item alone was greater than the amount Mr. Campbell collects in salary in a number of months.

GERMAN EMBASSY IN POSSESSION OF DOCUMENTS IN CASE

PART WHICH BERLIN GOVT. PLAYED IN NEGOTIATIONS IS TOLD IN CONSPIRACY TRIAL OF STEAMER OFFICIALS

BUENZ COMPLETES TESTIMONY

Said He Merely Carried Out Instructions of Government at Berlin and Had No Intention of Deceiving Officials

By Associated Press. New York, Dec. 1.—The abstract of the Hamburg-American line's agreement with the German government, whereby the former agreed to supply German cruisers at sea with coal and supplies in neutral ships sailing from American ports early in the war has passed into the keeping of the German embassy at Washington. Dr. Karl Buenz, managing director of the line, so testified today in his trial and that of three other line officials and employees, on charges of conspiracy, now nearing its close in United States district court here. Moreover, Dr. Buenz testified all correspondence on the subject by letter or cable, likewise has been turned over to the embassy.

His testimony was opposed by the government. The cablegrams, it was said, were in the German naval code and were removed to the embassy when it was thought there was danger of their becoming public through this trial and thus revealing to representatives of England, France and Russia, the key to the German secret code. Messages Not Stopped. Notwithstanding the severance of the German cable to America by the British early in the war, the Hamburg-American line was in constant cable communication with Germany, Dr. Buenz testified. These cablegrams sent at the time the line sent out relief ships, told Dr. Buenz when to send ships to meet German cruisers notwithstanding the isolation of the German warships from the German admiralty. Dr. Buenz said in doing this he merely carried out instructions of the German government and he had no intention of deceiving or conspiring against the United States. He concluded his direct examination this afternoon.

NORTHERN HUNTING SEASON CAUSES DEATHS OF 59

By Associated Press. Chicago, Dec. 1.—Fifty-nine persons killed and 96 injured in the hunting season which ended yesterday, according to statistics available here today. Last season 111 persons were killed and 162 wounded. Dr. Buenz, elderly and somewhat infirm, was assisted to the witness chair soon after William Rand Jr. had concluded the opening address to the jury on behalf of the defense. Previously Federal Judge Howe had denied a motion by Rand to dismiss the indictments. Dr. Buenz, in the witness chair under the friendly guidance of counsel, Dr. Buenz sketched his seventy-two year career, during which he had served his country abroad in the United States, in Mexico and in Haiti—in the consular or diplomatic service until three years ago, when he was made directing head in this country of the Hamburg-American line's affairs. Prepared for War in 1913. In the fall of 1913, Dr. Buenz testified, he received from Hamburg a letter which notified him that his superior officers and the German government had signed an agreement which would become operative in time of war—which there was not then a whisper—and that an abstract of this agreement would be sent shortly to the German consul general in New York, where he might see it. The letter then outlined the salient points which were as recalled by Dr. Buenz, about as follows: "That the Hamburg-American line would undertake to send coal and supplies to any German warships needing them in the Atlantic ocean. That certain methods of communication would be used to advise the line's officials in New York where to send the supply ships."

GERMAN RULER'S TRIP

Visit of Emperor William to Vienna Precedes Announcement of Resignation—Roumanian Question May Be One of Causes.

By Associated Press. Amsterdam, Dec. 1.—Reports that several members of the Austrian cabinet have resigned are confirmed by an autograph letter from Emperor Francis Joseph, published in the Wiener Zeitung of Vienna. The emperor has accepted the resignation of Dr. Karl Heindl, Uby-nely, minister of the interior; Dr. Rudolf Schuster von Boimott, minister of commerce and Baron Engel von Malnfeld, minister of finance.

The first report of the resignation of Austrian cabinet members came almost simultaneously with the visit to Vienna of Emperor William last Monday. No authentic information has been received concerning what brought about the retirement of the ministers, but their withdrawal and Emperor William's interview with Emperor Francis Joseph have given free rein to speculation concerning Austria's reported willingness to enter into peace negotiations. It has been represented that Emperor William went to Vienna because of this situation, although other dispatches were to the effect that he desired Austria to make concessions to keep Roumania out of the war.

BUSINESS METHODS NEEDED BY FARMERS

IRELAND'S EX-MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE ADDRESSES MARKETING CONFERENCE.

SAYS COOPERATION NEEDED How Land and Tenancy Problems Were Settled in Ireland is Also Explained.

By Associated Press. Chicago, Ill., Dec. 1.—Declaring that America should launch a citizenship movement for the organization among farmers of self help, the Right Honorable Sir Horace Plunkett, K. C. V. O. of Dublin, Ireland, last night addressed the opening session of the Third National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits, speaking to delegates from 40 states.

The speaker came across the ocean to address it as the first of a series of talks and conferences that he will hold throughout the United States, with the end in view of organizing American agriculture. He was the first minister of agriculture of Ireland and called the "father of the Irish cooperative movement" which has under its wings 105,000 Irish farmers organized into 1000 cooperative societies.

He described the weak spot in American rural economies as being a lack of business organization among farmers. He dwelt upon the chaotic conditions that accompany the marketing of farmers' products and the purchasing of farmers' supplies. He showed how the cities of America and other nations have been developed at the expense of the countryside.

He showed how the co-operative movement of Europe has stood the test of the greatest crises in the world's history and dwelt at length upon the sharpening of the business ability of the co-operative managers as a result of present stringent conditions. Not only must America learn to organize her food supply, he said, to meet critical periods, such as war, but America must prepare for the great international competition which is bound to strike the American farmer keenest since he is farthest behind in organization for his own interest.

He said that the co-operative movement of Europe has stood the test of the greatest crises in the world's history and dwelt at length upon the sharpening of the business ability of the co-operative managers as a result of present stringent conditions.

D. B. KEELER HAS BEEN WITH DENVER 24 YEARS

D. B. Keeler, vice president of the Fort Worth & Denver City railroad, will on Tuesday round out his twenty-fourth year of active service with the company. In 1891 he occupied the position of assistant general freight agent for the Union Pacific at Denver. Nov. 30 of that year he began service with the Fort Worth & Denver City at Fort Worth as general freight and passenger agent. March 6, 1899 his work had been so satisfactory that he was made vice president of the road, which office he continues to occupy. In connection with Keeler's railroad experience Avery Turner of the Frisco cast a sidelong Monday. He said that in 1877 Keeler was a conductor on the Carson branch of the Kansas Pacific, now the Union Pacific and ran between Carson and La Junta. In addition to being conductor Keeler also occupied the position of terminal agent and when his train arrived at La Junta Keeler would open the station, do the telegraphing, receive freight and sell tickets, and just before the train departed he closed the office and donned his conductor's cap and assumed charge of the train.

Frocks and Wraps for Evening Wear Offer Big Variety of Selections

New York, Nov. 1.—Now that winter is upon us and the season of gaudiness has begun, we find ourselves scurrying about, here and there, hearts in a flurry and brimming over with happy expectation of the coming festivities where we may dance away the merry hours, oblivious of time and the many perplexities of this little world of ours, except for now modish. Although many prefer the effective simple frock, others delight in the awaying of tiny ruffles and frills and the swishing of crisp failles and taffetas, panniers of filmy fabrics, puffed, shirred and pleated, quaintly mimicking creations of decades ago. These are carelessly caught up and held in place by tiny clusters of rosebuds, or perhaps a single flower of lace, gold or silver. Metallic ornaments have supplanted trimmings of silk, buds and flowers, to a certain extent and when used sparingly make most effective finishes.

The Scarf of Chiffon. As the frame is to the picture, so is the dainty, filmy scarf to the frock for evening wear; endless ideas may be carried out with these. They are beaded, embroidered, fringed and hand colored; developed in the sheerest of netts, chiffons, gauzes and wonderfully patterned. Oriental fabrics, designed with visions of Hours and dreamy harem beauties in mind. One of the many effective uses of the scarf is with the sleeveless gown; it may be draped in most becoming ways. A charming example of this was brought to my attention the other evening. The dress was of canary colored taffeta made with eight gored skirt, in which alternating gored were of the canary taffeta and satin or a delicate blue. Each gore was rounded at the lower edge and finished with narrow quilting of chiffon matching the taffeta bodice. Over this striking shirred tunic a canary colored taffeta scarf, with blended tones of canary color and blue, was draped around the shoulders in a wavy like arrangement giving the effect of sleeves when the arms were raised. The ends were wound loosely around the neck, quite as one would use the regular throw scarf of heavier material. It was exceedingly practical and pleased the eyes of those who appreciate daintiness and grace.

A Romy Coat a Necessity. In our quest for evening necessities, the all enveloping coat must not be forgotten. Those with large, romy sleeves, or no sleeves at all, are the most practical for the delicate trimmings and fabrics they are to cover. Velvet, velours, and broadcloths are, of course the standard materials, practical and rich in effect; but many beautifully colored, novelty velvets, showing a strong Chinese influence in their exquisite embroideries, may be found. Egyptian novelties also, never falling in beauty, offer themselves for coat and wrap of maid and matron this season.

Aside From Gown and Wrap. One must not neglect footwear, slippers, stockings and the "under-mysteries" of the evening frock. Satin slippers in the delicate shade of the gown are first in favor, black patent leather with jeweled buckles and black satin slippers come next for those a bit more practically inclined. The stockings generally match the frock in tone, or are of white.

The old-fashioned pantalette, scorned and laughed at since the days of hoops and Daguerrotypes, are among the very daintiest and most feminine of evening accessories. They are of satin, chiffon or net, frilled or fur trimmed, and one merely catches a fleeting glimpse of them now and then, and thinks of them only as a very effective part of the frock. If one chooses well materials and accessories, there is little danger of a jarring note in the costume; these jarring notes, it is sad to say, more the ever present question of dress. Alluring Silks and Satins. There are numbers of dainty silks and sheer fabrics, such as taffetas, gros de Londres, soft satins, chiffons, nets and novelty brocades which are charmingly suited to dance and dinner frocks. Gros de Londres comes plain and striped, combining often two of the most delicate pastel shades. The soft satins and taffetas are particularly effective, under the web like tunics

WISER THAN THEY THOUGHT.

Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia is full of excellent stories of the old-time statesmen of Georgia.

Just after the war John B. Gordon was, of course, the hero and idol of the Southern people.

When Gordon rose to speak he recited Toombs' last remark and said: "If General Toombs had been where I was when this scar was received, in all probability it would have been on his back and not on his cheek."

After which the great Georgia triumvirate concluded that General John B. Gordon had more brains and much more wit than they thought he had.

While Men Fight, Women of France Carry on Farming, Doing Heavy Labor and Harvesting Large Crops

By Associated Press. Clermont-Ferrand, Central France, Oct. 26.—(By mail) The women of France have gathered the crops this year, while their sons and brothers are fighting at the front, and they are big crops.

For three days a correspondent of the Associated Press has passed through 800 miles of this farming region, under escort of army officers assigned by the ministry of war.

Women were to be seen everywhere bending over the furrows or with panniers on their backs carrying the heavy loads of carrots and turnips; on top of straw ricks pitching the grain into place or loading it on wagons.

Women in the Fields. In one 30 acre field of turnips five sturdy matrons were at work, and one young woman, with an old gray bearded peasant, evidently the father, in a chair under a sheltering tree with the baby beside him.

On one large farm a party of women were mending in the fall fertilizer before the winter set in. Some were on the carts baling in the manure, and scores of others were scattered over the black earth leveling and distributing the fertilizer.

Several times along the route there was a picture of the army of fighting men on one hand and the army of working women on the other, when a detachment of artillery or cavalry passed forward on their way to the front.

After the detachment of heavy field guns had passed, we stopped to examine the road, to see if this splendid macadam had been cut by the constant passing of artillery and the digging of cavalry hoofs.

Women Do Heavy Labor. The women's work in the farm regions is not confined to the fields, but covers the whole range of work incident to agriculture.

A commercial club with a large membership was organized Monday night at a meeting at Burk Burnett, at which practically all the business men of that community were present.

Occasionally a few men are seen in the fields, but they seem out of place sprinkled among the ranks of the robust women.

But these men are mere supernumeraries now a days, much as the women were before the war, when they gave a helping hand when the harvest pressure was greatest.

The new babies, too, are very few in the farm regions. In the three days through the farm region only two farm women were seen carrying young babies.

Curious detail: Even the farm beasts—the cows—are bearing the burden of the war here in the farm regions, while most of their male brethren—the oxen—have been mobilized at the front for the supply wagons.

"Yes, in wartime even the cows must carry their share," was the reply. And it was further explained that the few horses seen in the fields were mares as the heavy stallions were needed for the artillery, except the few retained for stud purposes.

Inquiry of the farm women brought out some interesting phases. They have organized the work much as the men did. The women workers are graded and paid according to ability and position.

FOUR MEETINGS PLANNED BY BOYS FARMING CLUBS

The future farmers of Wichita county and Northwest Texas will be given opportunity in the near future to show what they have done during the past year, when the annual club days are held in this county.

FORM COMPANY TO DRILL OIL WELL ON DEVOL ANTICLINE. Governments' Geological Report is Used in Locating Test—Local Men Interested. The Grandfield Oil and Gas Company organized here yesterday will drill the first test for oil and gas in what is known to geologists as the Devol anticline between the Red and the Deep Red rivers in Tillman county, Oklahoma. This territory was surveyed by engineers of the U. S. Geological survey about a year ago and was the subject of special bulletins issued by the government. This anticline was pointed out as favorable for the existence of oil and the point where the well is to be drilled was declared in the report to be one of the most favorable places for oil in the territory surveyed. The location is on the Witt farm, the southeast quarter section of section 9, township 4, range 15 west and is five miles west of Grandfield. It is at the highest point of the anticline. A contract has been let to sink a hole 2000 feet and this may go to 2000 feet if oil is not found under 2000 feet. The map issued by the government in connection with its report shows the Devol anticline to be almost parallel with the anticline extending from Electra, through Burk Burnett and to Petrolia. The Red river bottom separates the Texas anticline from the Devol anticline. The Deep Red lies between the Devol anticline and the Wichita mountains. The authorized capital of the Grandfield Oil & Gas Company is $25,000. The officers of the company are: L. C. Heydrick, president; J. L. Mahon, formerly assistant superintendent of the Producers Oil Company; vice president and E. E. Couch of Fort Worth, secretary and treasurer. The home office of the company is Wichita Falls. Material and machinery is now on the way to the location for the first well. The company has 2500 acres surrounding the location under lease. Other leases are being acquired from the Gysels, Carter, Minnehoma and other Oklahoma companies who have land under lease on the anticline.

DECLINE IN COTTON WHEAT MORE FIRM. COTTON IS STEADY ON GINNING REPORTS AND GENERAL OPTIMISTIC ADVICES. FOREIGN BUYING AIDS GRAIN. Opening Weakness is Followed by Advance—Corn and Oats Also Higher Today. By Associated Press. New York, Dec. 1.—Easy cables were followed by an opening decline of two to four points in the cotton market here today with January selling at 12.25 and March at 12.50 on the call. There was evidently some scattering liquidation and also a little southern selling supposedly in the way of hedging, but offerings were well absorbed by commission house buying or local bull support and prices soon firmed up on bullish overnight spot advices, rumors of small private ginning returns and the publication of optimistic trade advices from nearly all the larger financial and industrial centers of the country. January sold up to 12.35 and March to 12.70 toward the middle of the morning or about five to ten points net higher. New York Cotton. Chicago, Dec. 1.—Foreign buying of futures rallied the wheat market today after a decline at the opening. Large deliveries on December contracts were chiefly responsible for the initial weakness. The opening which varied from unchanged to 1/2 lower with December at 104 1/2 to 105 and May 107 1/4 to 107 3/4, were followed by an upturn all around to well above yesterday's finish. Corn also was bought on European account. After opening a shade to 3-8 up prices scored moderate additional gains. Oats reflected the action of corn. Trade was light. Absence of selling pressure allowed provisions to rise. Fort Worth Live Stock. Fort Worth, Dec. 1.—Cattle receipts 2600, market steady. Beeves $5.50 to $6.75. Hog receipts 2000, active to five cents lower; $6.40 to $6.55. Sheep receipts 1200, steady; lambs $7 to $8.

AUSTIN SCHOOL BOARD TO TEST INSPECTION LAW. By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Dec. 1.—The city school board has refused to pay to the state the fee of one per cent for state inspection of a proposed school building. The effect of this refusal will be to test in the courts the constitutionality of the law passed by the Thirty-fourth legislature providing for such state inspection. The law provides that inspection shall be made under the direction of the state inspector of masonry of all county and municipal buildings which cost $25,000 or over. W. R. Hendrickson, state inspector of masonry welcomes the opportunity of having the constitutionality of the law tested out of the issue which has been forced by the Austin city school authorities. ART LITERATURE CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. FILGO. The Art Literature Club, meeting in regular session with Mrs. G. W. Filgo Tuesday afternoon studied the Bayview lesson on Trojan women under the leadership of Mrs. Gebhardt. The lesson's illustrations were explained by Mrs. J. P. Reed and Miss Phillips read a very interesting paper on "Preparedness and Women's Part in It." A parliamentary drill completed the program and a social half hour over the refreshment plate enjoyed. Mrs. House and Mrs. E. O. Filgo were guests, the club members present being: Meedames Bean, Pridden, DeBerry, Harris, Robertson, Gebhardt, Reed, Leicham, Rountree, Pressley, Blankenship, Misses Davis and Phillips. The Thursday Forty-two Club will meet Saturday evening with Mrs. T. B. Noble.

RECEIVED AT CAMBRIDGE. Cambridge, Eng. (By mail)—The Cambridge University Library has just acquired from a graduate in China a volume containing the complete works of the poet-statesman Li T. sung Yuan. The work is dated 1167, and is printed from blocks. It is the earliest printed book in the library, being 37 years earlier than any book previous preserved there.

POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS FOR NOVEMBER SHOW INCREASE. Twelve Per Cent Gain Over Same Month in 1914 Recorded. More Money Orders. Improved business conditions that prevail in Wichita Falls and throughout the country are reflected in the postal business here during the month of November. The receipts for the month just closed were $5516.23 compared with $4927.15 for the corresponding month in 1914. The gain figures 589.18, a little more than 12 per cent. Money orders paid here in November amounted to double the sum paid in the corresponding month a year ago and amount paid upon money orders is now greatly in excess of the amount paid for money orders at the postoffice here. This indicates that more merchandise is being bought here from persons at a distance than Wichita Falls people are buying at other points as this business is usually paid for in money orders. The amount paid out in money orders here in November was $25,285.39. A year ago the amount was only $12,827.56.

Lydia Margaret.

to the rare evidence of versatility, for in this subject he is not only called upon to portray comedy situations, but many strongly dramatic episodes as well.

For the story, the brief outline that the rising son of a millionaire who goes through life with little regard for his future or even his present welfare, finds himself in a combination of circumstances from which he emerges to find himself thrown out of his father's house, and on the road as a tramp, to the point where, through inherent courage, determination and quick-wittedness, he discloses a conspiracy to cheat his father, saving the latter's fortune and honor, will indicate the numerous possibilities for strong characterization by Mr. Barrymore, of all of which he takes full advantage.

The Majestic.
 A Selig drama, "An Auction Sale of

Down Ranch, a two-part Kaleid, "The Man in Irons," one of "The Mysteries of the Grand Hotel," and a George Ade Comedy make up today's program at the Majestic. The slung table is "The Fable of the Statesman Who Didn't Make Good," and Harry Dunkinson and Frankie Raymond are in the parts of the statesman and his wife.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG AT LYDIA MARGARET THURSDAY

"The Heart of the Blue Ridge," a World Film special with Clara Kimball Young featured will be the Thursday attraction at the Lydia Margaret. The picture is set in the heart of the mountain district and the characters are homely mountaineers with quaint views of life. Miss Young is pleasing.

"THE MASTER OF THE HOUSE" AT THE MAJESTIC THURSDAY.

"The Master of the House," the latest and most powerful production yet produced by the Equitable Motion Pictures Corporation, the new three-million combine, that distributes its productions through the noted World Film Corporation, has as its featured player Mr. Julius Steger, the renowned portrayer of big dramatic characters. "The Master of the House" was made into picture play form from the spoken drama by Joseph Golden, of the Triumph Film Corporation, under the direct supervision of the heads of the Equitable Company.

The Gem.

Thomas Santosci and Leo Pierson are featured on the head line picture "The Blood Seedling" showing today at the Gem. The story begins in the conventional way. Allen Golyer, a young farmer is in love with Susie Barringer, one of his neighbors. They are estranged by young Leon, a traveling salesman, whose suit Susie favors. They become engaged, much to the sorrow of Allen. Shortly after the engagement is announced Leon leaves, telling Susie good bye. She hears nothing from him and after months passes the time as usual. Her engagement to Allen she has broken. Her position of suitor and they marry. There is apparently nothing out of the ordinary in the picture up to this point. Twenty-five years pass happily for Allen and his wife. One night they are asked to attend a seance at the home of a neighbor. The further developments are startling in the extreme. The picture takes its name from a tree, given the young farmer by Colonel Blood, which he calls "The Blood Seedling." This seedling has a secret and this secret is the story. To tell it would spoil interest in the picture.

FIVE STARS IN A BUNCH HERE IN "NEW HENRIETTA"

Joseph Brooks' five star combination—William H. Crane, Thomas W. Ross, Maclyn Arbuckle, Amelia Bingham and Mabel Taliaferro, supported by an excellent company of players, will present Bronson Howard's masterpiece, "The New Henrietta" at the Wichita Theatre December 11th.

The visit of this great aggregation of stars in a single play marks the engagement as one of the big events of the year for theatre-goers. Except in the hurried one day visits of some all star operatic combination, there has never been a dramatic or comedy company presenting so many real stars in a single play on a regular tour of the country. The fact that for a single admission price one can see five people for whom one has paid five times the cost of a ticket to see these players in parts quite as strong as those in plays in which they have starred, makes "The New Henrietta" a bargain of unusual quality.

ELK'S MINSTREL TONIGHT: EVERYTHING IN READINESS

Seat Sale Has Been Heavy and Large Crowd is Expected at First Performance.

Ah! Tonight's the night! And everybody is going at least almost everybody, as they all want to see the catchers of the end-men and hear the catchy songs and choruses that will be presented by the Elks' Minstrel Company, at the Wichita Theater tonight. Everything is in great shape for the show and all the performers are eager and anxious for the curtain to go up on the opening song and dance. There has been a big sale of seats for tonight's performance but there still are a few good reservations to be secured. Tomorrow night's sale opened with a rush and from the number of seats already disposed of, it is evident the Elks will play to a big house on tomorrow night. If you haven't secured your seat do so at once. They are sale at the Rexall drug store.

"SHOP EARLY" PROPAGANDA SEEMS OF LITTLE EFFECT

Advantages of Christmas Buying Before Rush Comes Are Generally Overlooked

With just 21 shopping days remaining before Christmas day, briskness in the holiday trade is beginning to be decidedly noticeable in Wichita Falls and this week is expected to see considerable activity along this line. It seems hard for the average shopper to begin Christmas buying in dead earnest before December sets in and after the first of the month, business will probably continue brisk until Christmas day. During the past few years there has been much agitation for early Christmas shopping and the advantages of buying presents before the rush comes are too numerous and too patent to require setting forth here. It has been difficult however to persuade the great mass of shoppers to do their buying before the last week or ten days before Christmas, and the fact that by buying earlier they can have better attention from clerks, greater selections, less annoyance and numerous other benefits has never been to count. Of the millions of people who postpone their shopping until the last possible moment each year, there is none perhaps who do not solemnly swear when he gets the task finished, that next year he will not wait so long, yet each holiday season witnesses the same mad rush. The confusion that results affects not only the clerks and the delivery wagons and others connected with the stores, but it brings about a most uncomfortable situation in express and postoffices. Now that it is possible to mail packages with "Do not open until Christmas" written on the outside, there would seem

"Captain Macklin, Vice President of Honduras"

Richard Harding Davis is, I suppose, the best news reporter on earth. When you read him you feel, somehow, as though you were there.

At least—I feel that way.

And I suppose that is one reason "Captain Macklin" makes such a crackling Master-Picture.

It is just facts that happen very, very fast. From the day he was stripped of his uniform at West Point until the people were cheering him as Vice President of Honduras was less than two months. And, as was every day of the life he led, so every inch of the film that tells it is crowded with action and intrigue and action.

A fine looking young fellow—fresh from West Point; two lovely girls (one just a bit too lovely perhaps), uniforms (some pretty badly battered), gallies, half-breeds, blazing plazas, the swing and glitter of Romance and War—doesn't it make your blood tingle to think of it?

You know the prickly feeling that runs up and down your spine when a hundred-piece Regimental Band comes blaring and booming by—even in a parade?

Well,—you feel like that only more so when you see to be little excuse for delaying so long and yet by far the greater proportion of Christmas packages are not on their way to the recipient until there is barely time for them to get these by Christmas. Christmas morning always finds postoffice clerks and express-company employees swamped under a veritable deluge of bundles and all their efforts to induce the public to "do it early" prove unavailing.

This year the postoffice department has sent out an urgent request to the public to mail parcels early and only by a general observance of such a rule can satisfactory service result, leaving entirely out of consideration the right of the postoffice clerk and the express-company employe to enjoy his Christmas like other humans and looking at the question from a purely selfish standpoint, it would seem better to have the task out of the way early and off one's mind. Other than the "Merry Christmas" which adorns the bundle may greet the eye, on Christmas morning, of someone in the midst of the biggest day's work of the year whose Christmas is anything but merry.

IS IT YOUR KIDNEYS?
Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Wichita Citizen Gives a Valuable Hint

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is where danger often lies. You should realize that these troubles often lead to dropsy or Bright's disease. An effective remedy for weak or diseased kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the experience of a resident of Wichita Falls who has tested Doan's. Mrs. J. J. Pike, 1300 Scott Ave. Wichita Falls, says: "I have no objection to stating that I have used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Fred Harrington's Drug Store, on different occasions, as I have needed them. They have always given prompt results and I am satisfied that they are a dependable kidney medicine." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Pike had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
