Fighting of great violence is continuing. The present German offensive has been in progress more than three weeks. It has resulted in important net gains.

INSPECTION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

PLAN FOR MEDICAL AND DENTAL EXAMINATION FAVORABLE AT MEETING

FOR NEXT SESSION

Committee is Appointed to Work Out Details For Putting Idea Into Force

Wichita Falls school children will undergo medical and dental inspection next session, along the lines adopted in larger cities, it plans formulated at a meeting last night...

While no definite program has been outlined as yet, the inspection would probably include the examination of all pupils for such physical defects as adenoids, enlarged tonsils and bad eyesight.

The dental inspections would include an examination of the mouth of each pupil, a record being kept of each case for the information of the pupils and their parents.

Employment of a school nurse is still another feature of the tentative plans for medical inspection.

No effort will be made to put the plans into force before next September, but there is every reason to believe that some definite action will have been taken by that time.

Talks were made at last night's meeting by Judge P. A. Martin, Dr. A. R. Prothro, Dr. Q. B. Lee, Dr. C. R. Hartsook and W. J. Bullock.

Dr. Q. B. Lee, who was formerly a medical inspector in the San Antonio schools, related some of his experiences in that city.

The committee in whose hands the working out of plans was placed will probably submit a definite program for action within the near future.

Bright Thoughts.
Think health, and health will find you,
Be certain as the day,
And pain will lag behind you,
And lose you on the way.

Think love, and love will meet you,
And go wherever you go,
And fate can no more treat you
Like some malicious foe.

Think joy, and joy will hear you,
For thoughts are always heard,
And shall nestle near you
Like some contented bird.

Whatever your sad condition,
Whatever your words or pains,
Bright thoughts shall bring fruition,
As surely as God reigns.

OECHSNER-COURIER NUPTIALS AT CATHOLIC CHURCH

Miss Betty V. Oechner and Henry W. Courier were united in marriage at Catholic Church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. J. J. Campbell officiated with the impressive ring ceremony followed by mass. Following the wedding ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Oechner home, the attendance being limited to the immediate family and close friends of the contracting parties. The bride was attended by her younger sister, Miss Rose Oechner and Henry Hand was the best man. The bride was gowned in a modish suit of gros de l'indes with accessories perfect in every detail.

Mr. and Mrs. Courier left at 8 o'clock for Dallas and points in South Texas for their wedding trip. To these young people belongs the unique distinction of being the first married in the beautiful new church but recently dedicated. The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mrs. M. Oechner and the groom, who has been for the last four years in the employ of the Wichita Motor Company, is the only son of Mrs. Cleodening of Kansas City. SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no-Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

At all druggists.

Hon. Andrew Randall of Greenville, son of Hon. Choice B. Randall, for twelve years congressman in that district, has announced as a candidate for congress against Hon. Sam Rayburn. Mr. Randall is a personal friend of President Wilson and was the leader of the Wilson forces in his district four years ago. His father was a member of Congress and was known as a public servant of high character. If his son is his father's equal he will make a splendid congressman.

Friends of J. A. Kemp are urging him to become a candidate for the Legislature. The Times hopes that Mr. Kemp will consent to accept the nomination. His services in the legislature would, of course, take time, but he may not be able to spare from his extensive business affairs, but if he can see his way clear to make the personal sacrifice his services would involve, he will render an invaluable service. His sound judgement, liberal views, his experience with large affairs, all should make his service to his state invaluable. The very few who think Mr. Kemp would accept nomination for the legislature would hearten and cheer the people of Texas and would encourage other men of great ability and high standing to serve their state in a legislative capacity. No more cheering word could come at this time than the consent of Mr. Kemp to become a candidate for the Legislature.

After congress has provided for the increase in the army and navy in the national defense program some attention ought to be given to the improvement of the conditions of service of enlisted men in the service, especially in the army. Under the conditions that now prevail there is very little to attract the high class of manhood desired for army service, either in a citizen army or in the professional service. A great deal has been written and spoken about the harsh discipline and the despicable caste system that prevails in the Prussian army yet there are some observers who claim that the discipline in the American army service is as harsh and the caste system as pronounced as in the German army. Certain it is that recruits who have served in both the American and British armies testify that of the two the British army is the most democratic. Until the organization of the American army is made more democratic it cannot hope to attract high class recruits in sufficient numbers to give the force required. Men who enlist ought not to be required to do menial service for the exalted autocrats. As it is now the soldier who has finished his days work may expect to be informed that there still remains the task of emptying Mrs. Officer's slop can, moving her lawn, and in various other ways rendering personal service. To secure the class of men capable of assuming the duties of officers and efficient non-commissioned officers in some future crisis, it will be necessary to change all this and to raise the social status of the soldier above that of a lackey. The old belief that it is necessary to crush the recruit's self respect and to brutalize him in order to make a good soldier is one of the things that must go.

The efforts of Judge E. W. Fry to mandamus the district clerk of Young county to produce the grand jury list for the coming term of district court brings that county, with its unfortunate political situation, again into the light of publicity. Young county has suffered considerably as a result of events in the past fifteen months, and it should be the hope of all good citizens that the present tangle may be amicably and peacefully straightened out. The Times has no interest in the matter, so far as the individuals involved are concerned, and its sole purpose in publishing what it has regarding the situation at Graham has been to give its readers the facts, as impartially as possible, and not with a view to aiding either of the factions in Young county or to serve any particular interest. When charges are made and petitions are filed in the courts, their publication is usually a matter of general interest, even though the newspaper articles happen sometimes to have the appearance of being aimed at someone. The Times wants to keep its news columns as free from appearances of that kind as is consistent with its policy of giving all the news.

BAILEY WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE IN 1916

By Walter S. Gard in the Houston Post

Washington, February 21.—Former Senator Bailey has returned to Washington following his business trip to the Pacific coast and his brief visit to Texas.

He will not be a candidate for the senate in 1916.

The Texans in Washington have been just as deeply interested during the last three months as the Texans at home in the decision to which Senator Bailey would come with respect to the senatorial election.

Everybody here recalls, of course, that something like a year ago the senator publicly announced he would not be a candidate this year, and that he reiterated that determination at the Dallas banquet, but they also know that a tremendous pressure has been brought to bear on him during the last two or three months, and some of his closest friends have predicted that he would be at last compelled to yield to that pressure.

He has received thousands of letters, pleading with him to become a candidate, and a very considerable proportion of those letters have come from men who opposed him in that memorable fight eight years ago, but while Senator Bailey has not authorized your correspondent to speak for him and seems to think that his announcement made a year ago does not need to be supplemented with another announcement to the same effect, I feel safe in saying that Senator Bailey will not be a candidate for the senate this year.

The appeals which had come to him were not without their effect upon his mind, and though he does not desire to return to the senate, he was almost persuaded to become a candidate when the question of "preparedness" became a burning issue.

As Senator Bailey stated in a letter to a friend sometime ago, he is "utterly opposed to the so-called 'preparedness' which the president is now so earnestly advocating," and no man who knows Senator Bailey, whether that man be friend or foe, believes for one moment that he would recede a hair's breadth from his position in order to be elected to any office, even

It is ever so anxious to have that office.

The people of Texas may not be in favor of a preparedness which calls for a large increase in the standing army and the mightiest navy of the world; but the newspapers indicate that such is the case, and I think it, therefore, safe to assume that Senator Bailey will neither yield to that sentiment in order to obtain the senatorship, nor take the chance of being defeated for an office which he does not want by challenging what appears to be the sentiment of the state.

It is understood here that the senator will spend next summer at home, as he has done each year since retiring from the senate, and some of those who are closest to him say that he is approaching a point when he will spend all of his time at his Gainesville home. Whatever may be true about the latter report, it is certain that his present program for the summer includes a number of speeches at different places in Texas, and that he will take issue with what he describes as the "preparedness emotion," exactly as he once took issue with the "expansion emotion."

Set The State A Milking.

One man with five ordinary cows can make more money on ten acres of land than a farmer who raises ten bares of cotton per year and nothing else. In one case, the land grows richer and all the time, while in the other the fertility of the land is being sold off and the production per acre grows smaller each year. Which are you doing? Mr. Farmer? Are you going to sell your land away in small lots, or are you going to keep cows and lay up riches for yourself in the soil?

The South is now buying from the North something like seventy five million pounds of butter per year and paying cash for it. Think of it! Over twenty million dollars of your money going to the North and West and all for a product that you could just as well produce for yourself. Can it be that our enterprising farmers and Southern business men are overlooking such an opportunity? No; they are awakening to these facts and are beginning to keep cows.

During the last two years, the farmers of North and South Carolina as well as Tennessee and Mississippi, have fallen in line and are now, through the medium of creameries and buying stations, producing a great deal of butter, but nothing like the amount they could and should produce. In the radius of these creameries the farmer is realizing from $5 to $6 per cow per month from their cream alone. Some of them have but two or three cows; but this amount coming in every month means a great deal to them, and is enabling them to pay cash for their groceries and other incidentals that would otherwise be bought on credit.

A farmer with ten or twelve cows will receive from five to six hundred dollars per year for cream, while at the same time he can raise a number of good beef calves and some fine hogs on the skim milk, besides having his farmyard manure with which to fertilize his crops. You can make no mistake, friend farmer, by going into the dairy or live-stock business, for though the work is an all year job, the money comes in all the year too. Best of all, your land will be growing richer every year. There is nothing that will increase the value of a farm faster than will farmyard manure, this being especially true in all sections where the single crop methods is practiced.

Save the farmyard manure. It will make your land rich and you wealthy.

Valve-in-Head Cars Sticking to a Principle! The Buick Motor Company, alone of all companies, has adhered to one principle of motor construction since it started in business fourteen years ago. Every Buick catalogue for the fourteen years Buicks have been manufactured has emphasized the Valve-in-Head motor principle. The first Buick motor car ever made had a Valve-in-Head motor. The soundness of this principle is further established by the almost daily announcements of competing manufacturers to make and market cars with Valve-in-Head motors. We confidently predict that within a very few years all motor car manufacturers will use Valve-in-Head motors. The public has learned that the Valve-in-Head motor is every way superior—in power, in economy, in dependability. Hence the ever-increasing demand that will not be satisfied with any other motor type. Hence the ever-increasing demand that will not be satisfied with any other motor type. Hence the demand for 1916 six-cylinder Valve-in-Head Buick Motor Cars—a demand which we believe is more insistent than any previous demand for any manufactured product. "EVERYWOMAN" IN COMING IN MARCH

Noted Allegorical Play To Be At Wichita Theatre For Two Days

"Everywoman" the allegorical play which has attracted such widespread attention in recent years, is coming to Wichita Falls, March 22 and 23 are the dates tentatively announced by Madge Kearnas of the Wichita Theatre, it being his intention to have the production here for two days in order that Wichita and folks in neighboring towns may attend. "Everywoman" is an allegory dealing with present day problems of woman-kind, and is considered one of the highest class offerings ever brought here.

The Gem.

The program today consists of four reels, the feature being a two-part Selig, "The Golden Spurs." In the cast are Bessie Eytan, Wheeler Oakman and Edwin Wallack. A synopsis is given:

Dick Belmont and George Favre, brother officers, are rivals for Helen Ryder's hand. Bert Ryder, Helen's brother, is in the power of Favre. Helen and Dick announce their engagement at a weekend reception held at Helen's home. Dick loses for a pair of golden spurs owned by Col. Ryder, who declines to sell them. Favre forces Bert Ryder to steal the spurs from his father's home and place them in Dick's room.

Helen's father breaks his daughter's engagement with Dick, who later is dismissed from the military service. Living in the solitude in the jungle, Dick sees on a hunting trip Helen and Favre out together to force his advances. Helen frightens, flies to Dick's shack. Favre searches for her in vain. Having no means for defense Dick fashions a torch with which he hopes to frighten a lion. Throwing the torch from the window, it sets the cabin ablaze. The flames are seen by searchers who drive off the lion and rescue Dick and Helen. Favre is later found dead, the victim of a leopard.

The Majestic.

Ruth Stonehouse, Edmond F. Cobb and Madge Kearnas are the principals in a two-act Essanay, "Angels Unaware," on today's program at the Majestic. A story is given:

While in a light, Freckles, a little street waif, hurls an apple through a window. Instead of running away, she goes into the house and confesses. It happens to be the home of Thomas Wade, clerk of the Juvenile Court, whose sister, Grace, is an invalid and longs for company. Grace tells Freckles not to worry about the broken window and the two become great friends, Freckles promising to come and see her every day. Grace tells her brother of her new acquaintance. That night Freckles is forced to aid her stepfather in a robbery and is caught. She is sent to a reform school. Many days pass and Grace wonders why Freckles does not come to see her. One night Freckles escapes from the reformatory and goes to Grace's home. She has no sooner arrived than Wade receives a message of her escape. Grace pleads with her brother to allow her to stay with them and her request is granted.

The Empress.

"The Gentleman from Indiana" is the offering at the Empress.

After leaving the university where he has been one of the greatest football stars in years, John Harkless (Dustin Farnum) plunges into the thick of Indiana politics through purchasing the Platville Herald and fearlessly smashing the corrupt political machine of Rodney McCune.

While this in a few words describes the gist of the play it by no means conveys to the reader the wonderful photoplay that has been built around Booth Tarkington's very human story. Pen and ink cannot describe the smoothness of the action, the transition from scene to scene as Mr. Farnum lives, not acts, the part of the character he is portraying.

To the man or woman who was born in a small town, the "Main Street" of Platville will seem like a picture of the old "homestead." To the city born it will bring a view of what a country town really looks like. And the characters are the everyday persons one meets in a town of this kind. The local political "boss," the university professor, who had fallen from grace by his love for liquor, reforms when offered a helping hand; the leader of the "Whitecaps" and his crew of ruffians; the girl who has been adopted by her aunt in the city, all are true to life.

The Lydia Margaret.

Tyrone Power and Kathlyn Williams, two Selig stars, have the leads in an unusual Selig drama, "Thou Shalt Not Covet." This spectacular drama in five acts includes the wreck of a liner in mid ocean while thousands of men and women battle desperately for life. The play has its inspiration in the Tenth commandment in the law of Moses, "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife." The man in the picture is placed in a trying situation. He says:

"As the great ship shivered and groaned a live thing—I thought of my neighbor's wife. I rushed to her stateroom and there found her helpless. I gathered her into my arms and with her I leaped into the sea. When she awoke her mind was disarranged from the shock and she thought I was her husband. In her strange madness she called me by her husband's name, and gave me all the love she had for him. In the jungle we made our home and she came to me as she had always come to her husband and I prayed for strength in my hour of dire temptation. And did the man who madly loved his neighbor's wife overcome temptation?—Did the woman who later came to a realization of her situation, again find the husband she so dearly loved, or did she succumb to fate?"

DRAMATIZATION BOOK STORY IS SEEN IN "FRECKLES"

A dramatization of Gene Stratton-Porter's "Freckles" has proven that there is no limit of success to good, clean moral story plays. The Broadway Amusement Company first saw the possibility of Mrs. Porter's work which now stands as one of the most substantial successes in the past decade of theatrical history.

The Broadway Amusement Company have given "Freckles" a perfect stage investiture and there will be found nothing wanting in the matter of scenery, accessories, music or cast when this charming story play is presented at the Wichita Theatre, Monday, February 28.

FAMILY CARES.

Mrs. J. K. Bissett, 603 Lee street, Wichita Falls, says: "A younger member of my family had a bad case of kidney complaint. She seemed to lose strength rapidly and was quite irritable. There was no control over the kidney secretions. Some one advised me to give her Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking the second box, she was better. Her health picked up and she became much stronger. The action of her kidneys also became regular."

sell of weakness at Winnipeg and Liverpool. The lines were most pronounced at the opening with May at 1.29 1/2 to 1.32 and July at 1.17 1/2 to 1.18 1/2. When comparative steadiness was restored, the market was 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 under Monday's closing figures. Corn developed strength despite the "back" in the value of wheat. Corn showed more sympathy with wheat than with corn. Upturns ensued in wheat but the close was unsettled 7 1/2 to 7 3/4 to 1 1/2 net low or with May 1.22 1/2 and July at 1.19 3/4. Gains in corn were pronounced. The close was firm at 7 1/2 to 1.38 net advance.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN "WILD ROSE" REHEARSALS

The Times has received the following:

Behind the scenes, in any sort of business of profession is always interesting, but perhaps no more so in any profession than the theatrical. One often sits in the front of the house, and wonders just how certain effects were obtained, just how certain maneuvers were engineered. In professional companies, of course, these things are handled by specialists. One man will have an infallible eye-for-color. His work will be to arrange the scenery, the costumes, and the lighting. The big opera companies, both light and grand, pay a man continuously to arrange all these details before the initial production. Another man will have a highly developed sense of rhythmic movement. He will have charge of the just the one detail of stage-furnishing dances and all the movements of the eighty and ninety separate articles to be used as furniture and properties. —each one of which must be in its right place at the right time. The "property man" (in this case not a man) has no small amount of responsibility. And that is only one detail. When one multiplies this detail work is enormous. And it is the harder to obtain results, because an amateur obviously needs more rehearsing than a professional one, and, as obviously, gets less. As an instance of the work attached to producing the Wild Rose, look at

in
The Gentleman From Indiana

DUSTIN FARNUM, whose engaging smile and fine manliness in "The Virginian," "The Squaw Man," "Cameo Kirby" and other big stage successes, has won him a tremendous following from coast to coast in the stupendous production of "The Gentleman From Indiana." He is called upon for an unusual demonstration of his great powers in the Pallas Film Masterpiece.

With one of the five greatest actors on the American stage—ideally carrying out to the letter Booth Tarkington's greatest work—is an achievement which fairly stuns the imagination with its realism.

NEGRO PORTER REPUDIATES HIS FORMER CONFESSION Joe Brown, negro porter at the First National Bank, on trial on a charge of theft in connection with the disappearance of $500 of the bank's funds, today repudiated the statement which he made at the time of his arrest, in which he said he took the money. "You know yo' self, Mr. Humphries," he said on cross examination, "when a nigger's scared, he's liable to say anything." The space around the witness stand look like a miniature department store while the trial was in progress. Clothing, jewelry, toilet articles and other things found in Joe's room after his arrest, were on exhibition in an effort to show that Joe had been spending more money than might have been expected. The case is expected to go to the jury late this afternoon.

CONFEDERATE MOVEMENT UNVEILED AT LLANO TUESDAY By Associated Press. Llano, Texas, February 23.—The Confederate monument recently erected in Llano by the local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy was unveiled here Tuesday. Special rates had been arranged on all trains coming into the city and early this morning the vanguard of thousands of persons from neighboring towns and counties began to arrive. The announcement that Governor James E. Ferguson had accepted an invitation to deliver an address added to the interest in the event. Little Miss Lenora Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Simpson, was delegated to unveil the monument, which is made in the form of a large base and pedestal surmounted by a statue of a Confederate soldier. It stands on the northeast side of the public square. Mr. J. T. Simpson is a veteran of the war, and his wife is a daughter of the Confederacy. In addition to Governor Ferguson's address, the program for the day called for speeches by Mayor Callahan, Wilburn Gattman and H. P. McInnis, who will respond on behalf of the Veterans. The Llano Business Men's Association have assisted the Daughters of the Confederacy in preparing for the ceremony. The entertainment of Governor Ferguson while in the city was placed in the hands of members of the association. W. E. Orcutt, scale inspector for the Fort Worth and Denver arrived last night and will install a casing joint on the local scales of the Fort Worth and Denver Fairbank scales. The casing joint is one of the latest improvements, doing away with the bumping and jolting which was very disagreeable in weighing.
