RECRUITING OF ARMY TO FULL STRENGTH STARTED

American troops, reported to number 5000, are advancing into Mexico in two columns, crossing the border Wednesday. Their progress so far has been without interruption or incident. Carranza troops are said to be "cooperating" with the Americans, but reports are not clear as to whether they are actually accompanying the expedition.

Carranza Troops Across Border Offer No Opposition—Many Details of Invasion Are Withheld Through Censorship

By Associated Press. Columbus, N. M., March 16.—The American expedition which entered Mexico yesterday spent an uneventful night encamped only a short distance across the boundary line.

Brigadier General John J. Pershing, commander of the expedition, accompanied the force as far as the border, then returned with another part of the troops and entered Mexico at the flank of the main army.

Despite rigorous censorship, it became known that about 5000 troops, entered Mexico. Aeroplanes in motor trucks are believed to have gone with the expedition. Flying conditions due to the clearness of the atmosphere, are ideal.

General Pershing gave the order to march at ten o'clock yesterday morning. The soldiers swept forward with a shout. Cowboys off the range, enrolled as scouts, and cavalry, led the way. Two infantry regiments, some field artillery and a wagon train followed.

The departure was as business like as a practice march. A long hazy line of alkali dust standing out against the dull white of the plains, and the blazing light of the sun, marked their progress toward the border.

Col. Davila promised Col. Slocum that no resistance would be made to crossing the border. The entire Mexican population in Palomas, soldiers and civilians, cleared a way, when the Americans passed through the town.

The censor has asked all correspondents filing by mail not to disclose military movements or details as to numbers of troops, saying that to make public matters of such military importance might mean a loss of American lives. This rule applied only to mail matter, as not even the general facts of the crossing have been allowed to cover the telegraph wires which are under military control.

The column leaving Columbus was thoroughly equipped for all conditions that might arise and represented all arms of the service.

Reports Tell of Men Lining Up at Recruiting Offices—New Stations Are Opening at Various Points Through Out Country

By Associated Press. Washington, March 16.—President Wilson was informed by Secretary Baker early today that both columns of American troops now in Mexico in pursuit of Villa and his bandits were meeting with hearty cooperation from the Carranza soldiers.

The campaign to enroll approximately 20,000 recruits for the regular army in the shortest time possible was in full swing today. Under an order issued yesterday, 170 auxiliary recruiting stations were reported re-opened after having been closed more than a year. Adjutant General McCain has assigned 200 additional enlisted men to the work of gathering recruits. There are 54 main recruiting depots with the auxiliary stations, which are now working in conjunction.

From the auxiliary stations groups of uniformed soldiers are being sent to nearby towns, villages and hamlets; they are well-supplied with recruiting literature and the system spreads a net-work over the entire country.

Gen. McCain was highly pleased with the speed with which the system had been put in operation. Although no estimates of the number of men enrolled yesterday the first day of the campaign, have been received, reports tell of lines of men waiting at many stations to present their applications.

BORDER PATROLS ARE REORGANIZED

Remaining Troops Busy Filling in Gaps and Keeping Up Lines of Communication

By Associated Press. El Paso, Tex., March 16.—New and powerful army units were forming rapidly today along the Mexican border to fill the gaps left yesterday when the first expeditionary army entered Mexico from two border points.

In El Paso, Brigadier General Bell Jr., moving in here on the heels of Brigadier General Pershing who led the first force into Mexico, was busy gathering up a new organization and attending to the problem of arranging lines of communication with and supplying food and water to the more than 4000 men who today were out on a virtual desert, rapidly getting farther from their bases.

Believed That Presence of Carranza Troops Prevented Bandit Leader from Making Raid

By Associated Press. San Antonio, Tex., March 16.—The report that Brigadier General Pershing commanding the expeditionary forces into Mexico to Major General Funston, stating that all was so well as reported at Fort Sam Houston this morning.

The report dealt with the strength of Gen. Pershing's command, the disposition of the expedition, the delay of the first day's march and the movements of the troops. All these matters have under the general supervision and were not reported.

Pershing Across Border. Brigadier General Pershing's start across the border, with the Mexican forces and apparently without serious disturbance, resulting along the border, was the big topic of conversation today at Fort Sam Houston, headquarters of Major General Frederick Funston.

Next in interest was the successful working of the censorship imposed by General Funston after it was decided to catch and punish Francisco Villa for the Columbus outrage.

Funston has paid close attention to the attitude of Gen. Carranza and his following. Trouble at Brownsville. When Gen. Pershing crossed yesterday that he had crossed the border and had been joined by the Carranza forces stationed at Palomas, the major general evinced great satisfaction.

This was heightened this morning when it was reported that the Carranza forces had been in the Columbus, New Mexico early Thursday. His regiment was a member of Gen. Pershing's command.

While the primary purpose of the censorship was to notify Francisco Villa, it is known that it also was in the nature of a military experiment, partly to determine the attitude of the American press and the people toward such methods, and that it met with no sort of objection and that the Carranza forces were a surprise to Gen. Funston who had said when he announced the plan, "I suppose they will hit me into camp."

Funston today voiced his satisfaction that after the public fully understood the situation there has been no expressions of military censure, and that the expeditionary force to make an early start.

Young Dallas Woman Has Boa Constrictor Pet. By Associated Press. Dallas, Tex., March 16.—Some where in Dallas there is a snake charmer. She possesses a boa constrictor which she is raising as a pet. Recently a wholesale importing house unloaded a car of bananas. Nestled among the bunches of tropical fruit was the reptile. The fact was published and soon after a young woman called at the depot and asked for the snake. It was cheerfully given to her. Now she is raising it as a part of her domestic life.

Troops Are Sent to Border Where Mexicans Were Said to Be Gathering

By Associated Press. Del Rio, Tex., March 16.—A detachment of United States Cavalry today was sent to Pinto 20 miles east of here, in response to a telephone call from there telling of the organization of a force of Mexicans across the border from the American town.

The Mexicans are reported to be strong but the purpose of the organization has not been made known. This section of the border is otherwise quiet.

Measures Suggested For Remedy of Conditions Which Have Caused Trouble

By Associated Press. Washington, March 16.—Navigation through the Panama Canal has not hitherto been so seriously interrupted by slides and realization of the great importance which the waterway has acquired since the outbreak of the war, according to the findings of a committee of scientists appointed by the national academy of sciences at the request of President Wilson to investigate the problem.

While the committee realizes that slides may be considerably multiplied since the outbreak of the war, a number of years, it believes there will be little trouble after present difficulties have been overcome. A summary of a preliminary report by the committee was made public today at the White House. No time was set when the canal can be opened for navigation but it was said that "this time is not far off."

Excessive rainfall was found to be one of the chief causes for the slides and control of the falling water was the most important remedy suggested. The committee made detailed recommendations for the prevention of slides in the future. Although the committee's final report will not be ready until April, William Welch, president of the Academy, has transmitted to President Wilson a preliminary report of the committee.

Charles F. Carpenter, professor of mechanical engineering in Cornell University, Arthur Davis, chief of the reclamation service, Washington, John C. Frazier, consulting engineer, Providence, J. F. Hayford, dean of the College of Engineering, Northwestern University, Larry F. King, professor of engineering, Johns Hopkins University, expressed confidence.

The committee looks to the future of the canal with confidence, the report declared. It is not unduly alarmed, the report said, by the present slides, and it realizes that slides may be a considerable, but not an unreasonable, large, maintenance charge upon the canal for a number of years, it also realizes that trouble here, the Cuba district may possibly again close the canal. Nevertheless, the committee firmly believes that after the present difficulties have been overcome, navigation through the canal is not likely again to be seriously interrupted. There is absolutely no justification for the statement that traffic will be repeatedly interrupted during long periods for years to come. The canal will serve the great purpose for which it was constructed and the realization of that purpose in the near future is assured.

All slide material which reaches the canal must, of course, be removed at a certain expense and inconvenience. The engineers estimate that about 9,000,000 cubic yards will have to be removed between the two Cucaracha slides, and the dredges can move this material in about a month, but it must not be supposed that the canal will remain closed for nine months; as soon as the channels have been sufficiently deepened and the movement of the slides become so slow that the dredges even when interrupted by the passage of ships, can more than keep pace with them, the canal may be opened for navigation. This time is probably not far off.

The committee believes that some sliding ground will continue to enter the canal for several years to come, though by diminishing amounts. Any slides which are not removed by the dredges will tend to arrest the present active slides, or which promise to reduce the charge against maintenance of the canal in the future are therefore fully warranted.

What Causes Slides. The slides in the canal zone are essentially like many in other parts of the world; they are due to the liability of the earth or rock to support the weight of overlying materials. Show processes of natural erosion, rapid cutting by flooded streams and excavations by man frequently lead to landslides. Much of the canal has been cut through weak rocks, and in the Cucaracha district the prism is exceptionally deep.

The rocks of Cucaracha district are of two kinds, stratified and massive. The chief material involved in the slides is the stratified Cucaracha formation. It is composed of slippery minerals which are only weakly consolidated. The Cucaracha beds are limited, along the line of the canal, to the Cucaracha district but they have a thickness in places of over 400 feet. The soft-slippery nature of its materials and their loose, unconsolidated condition, make it unusually weak and unable to sustain any considerable load.

The strength of the Cucaracha cliffs is greatly decreased by the presence of water and the heavy tropical rains which nearly saturated the greater part of the year; for the broken and irregular surface of the slides and the open cracks around their borders, greedily drink in the water that falls upon them.

Slackening in intensity of German bombardment is reported and no new attacks have been made lately.

Next German Move. Believed Attempt Will Be Made To Southeast—Change in German Naval Ministry Significant, According to Berlin.

By Associated Press. London, March 16.—One of the frequent pauses which characterized the German campaign for Verdun is again in evidence. After having made their gains of Tuesday west of the Meuse, toward Dead Man's Hill, the crown prince's forces have not again advanced to the attack. Speedy resumption of the heavy fighting is not indicated as probable, as a slackening in the intensity of the bombardment has been reported.

Apparently there is anticipation by the French that the next German move may be to the southeast of the fortress in a flanking operation, as the French bombardment has been extended heavily along the heights of the Meuse, overlooking the Woerth plains.

Today's German official statement conforms to that from Paris as to the unchanged situation north of Verdun. Its text, however, indicates that possession of Dead Man's Hill, on which the Germans yesterday reported by an advance is claimed by the German war office. The statement speaks of further attempts by the French to dislodge our possession of Dead Man's Hill and of German troops in the wood to the north. These attempts are declared to have failed.

Apart from the Verdun region there has been little military activity on the western front except in Champagne. There the French made several attacks on the German positions near Somme. The British made a Somme road, which Berlin claims were without success.

It is officially declared in Berlin that the change in the head of the ministry of marine involving the retirement of Admiral Von Cappelle signifies no change in the German government's submarine policy.

Consul Promised Report. Olney Arnold, American consul general at Cadix, sent a passenger on the ship from Naples to Lisbon. He told Captain Deschelles that he would forward a full report to the United States government.

It was news, however, to Captain Deschelles that cable dispatches have since reported that Mr. Arnold who was returning home, died at Lisbon the day after his departure. The information received by the state department was that he was on the vessel of a nervous breakdown at the time of his departure from Cadix.

The night before the submarine appeared Captain Deschelles received this warning by wireless from Algiers.

Be careful. Submarine sighted about 100 miles off Cape de Guardar. He remained on the bridge all night and posted frequent lookouts around the ship. The captain said he did not personally see the submarine or the torpedo but both were seen by his first officer, and by a number of passengers.

Dutch Steamers' Passengers Safe. By Associated Press. London, March 16.—A Renter dispatch from the Hook of Holland says a wireless message has been received from these steamers, that the large passenger steamship Tubantia, which was taken from Amsterdam to the river Humber, has been torpedoed and is in a sinking condition near the Noordvliet lightship. All the passengers have been taken off on boats.

It is now certain that the steamship Tubantia, which was reported today in a sinking condition, was torpedoed and without warning, telegraphs the Amsterdam correspondent of the United States.

Three Americans on board. They were Richard Schilling, an American consul, Emma Schilling and Carmen Schilling.

A wireless dispatch sent from the Tubantia last night as given by Reuters, correspondent at Muiden, Holland, says the steamship was torpedoed. This correspondent asserts all so there were Americans on board.

Lloyd's reported later than the Tubantia had sunk, but that all the passengers and crew were safe. It was learned that a number of Americans intended to board the Tubantia at Falmouth.

By Associated Press. Seattle, Wash., March 16.—Unconfirmed reports that Dr. Walter Gelhorn, a German physician, was taken from a steamer at Kirkwall while en route to Germany to join the German Red Cross hospital, escorted by the British military authorities, have been received by friends here.

Efforts to ascertain Dr. Gelhorn's whereabouts could be kept up without avail, according to his friends and the state department was asked to investigate his case. Dr. Gelhorn resides in St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. C. S. Farnburg, a close friend of Dr. Gelhorn, said that from the time of Dr. Gelhorn's imprisonment December 9, he had received letters at frequent intervals until four weeks ago since which time he has been unable to learn anything of Dr. Gelhorn.

FARMERS TO PLANT PEANUTS THIS YEAR

Large Acreage Is Considered Probable in This County—Soil Well Adapted

A number of Wichita county farmers will plant a few acres in peanuts this year, it is learned, and this crop, which is comparatively new in West Texas, will receive considerable attention, according to Agricultural Agent Campbell who was here today. The acreage will not be large, but will be much greater than before. Very few farmers have ever planted peanuts in this county heretofore. April is peanut planting time. While the peanut has its commercial value, it is on account of its advantages as hog feed that West Texas farmers are paying attention to it. If the crop is short, farmers can sell the peanuts to candy manufacturers and jobbers, keeping the hay for forage, while if the crop is too large for the production to bring good prices, the nuts may be crushed in the same manner as cotton seed; peanut meal is valuable for cattle feed, and there is good demand for the oil.

GUN CLUB'S FIRST SHOOT TOMORROW

Trap Is Being Installed East of City and Contests Will Begin Shortly

The Wichita Gun Club is planning to hold its first shoot tomorrow afternoon, provided the equipment can be installed by that time. The trap will be located near the old ball park east of the city, a little farther out than the former location and at a place where conditions are favorable for good shooting. The trap arrived several days ago, and will be installed either today or tomorrow. The club was organized only recently, but already has a large membership, and a number will take part in the shoot. The expense will include only the actual cost of the clay pigeons and the shells. After the club gets under way, it is planned to bring trap shooters from other cities here for match shoots.

Fleming and Manila Ease Up On Gym Workouts—To Go 15 Rounds Friday

With their second meeting just one day off, Freddie Fleming and Manila, principals over the 15 round route at the old Moose Club Friday night, leaped into "high" so far as their condition work is concerned. Both little leather weight tigers have shown some terrors in the past few days and the hard spells each after lunch with the gloves are giving them the distance. The fancy boys have been passed up by the boys, and if training camp Hicks can count for anything, the "hugs" who attend Friday night are sure to see a lot of classy sluggers when they start out on their marathon journey.

Manilla says he will hike it to Fort Worth directly after his fracas with Fleming and tangle with Bobby Burns or Frankie Saunders before the Fort Worth club. Of course the Fort Worth date with either Burns or Saunders hinges on a win over Fleming. On the other hand Fleming has been made the same offer if he can take the measure of Manila. The date is a prospective bout at the B. M. A. Club with Jimmy Pappas over the twenty round route for the winner some time next month. The boys are anxious for the date with the little Greek, so the winner will be right on the road to fame and fortune.

Wichita Falls fight fans have been paying strict attention to the work outs of the little fellows, trying to figure out the prospective winner. Among the favorites are the boys of the first meeting. However, Manila has been showing such splendid form the past few days with the gloves that he is being looked upon as the ten round mark has been reached is a myth now. Yesterday afternoon the Italian whirlwind lined up four sparring partners and named his trainers, crashed through 15 rounds of gymnasium slugging. Slugging in a gymnasium with twelve ounce gloves is far from the same as regular battle with the five ounce leathers. Manila drew up his slugging without a long breath. The little Italian jumped out of the ring as fresh as a daisy and says he will ease up on his boxing so that he will not am right for any kind of disaster. "I am going to go to get some money on myself to win this scrap with a knockout. I don't want a decision, however as I am sure I can win it. My condition is everything that I could expect and I am satisfied that I will set a rapid pace that will blow the boys out before twelve rounds have been burned up."

Joe Art of the B. M. A. C. says there is a big demand for tickets. The demand has been extra heavy and the out of town reservations are just double at this period of what they were when Burns and Fleming were in the line-up.

TOMORROW SACRED TO SAINT PATRICK

Will Be Observed By Sons of Erin Everywhere, Honoring Irish Patron's Memory

Tomorrow is "just after being" Saint Patrick's Birthday and, surely, all the brave Irishmen that will be a wear in the grate. March 17 is Saint Patrick's Birthday, popularly supposed to be so at any rate, though there is discussion among the ranks of historians, some claiming it to be the date of the driving out of the snakes from the Emerald Isle. The shamrock is the national emblem, along with the spailly, the harp and the humble Irish potato, the Irish are not the least bit stingy with their emblems and these various articles may be employed with propriety in decorating the person in observance of the day. However a green necktie or like touch of Kelly is generally deemed quite sufficient.

It has been some 1543 or 1546 years ago, historians and biographers are at variance on the exact date when Emerald Isle was born some say in France in the Normandy district but his exact birthplace remains a matter of mystery. In his early youth he was taken captive to Ireland and worked as a slave, escaping after a few years, however and returning to his native land. He then went to Rome, then the center of learning and Christianity. He became interested in the preaching of the faith and was sent by the church to Ireland, where he had been a captive. Here he spent the remainder of his life working among the half wild people of the island and so much good did he accomplish and so well was he loved that the people took him for their patron saint. The legends, poems and songs woven about Saint Patrick's legendary history gives him credit for having driven the snakes out of Ireland and if he had done nothing else in all his life he would still be called blessed by the Irish, who are mortal enemies of all snakes, with the possible exception of the kind that come from "bottled in bond."

There will be no special observance of the day here.

TWO HOG CHOLERA CASES DEVELOPED

Prompt Action Taken—J. W. Campbell Says Cotton Acreage Is To Be Increased Here

Two cases of hog cholera have developed near this city and are to day being given prompt treatment by Agricultural Agent Campbell who was called when the ailment was diagnosed. He is administering the serum, which has proven quite effective and every precaution will be taken to prevent spread of the disease. Last fall there was quite an epidemic of cholera in this county but it was quickly brought under control by Mr. Campbell, who vaccinated many hundreds of hogs. What is looking remarkably well in spite of the dry weather, says Mr. Campbell, but a rain would not be very welcome at this time. Oats also need rain, he says.

Mr. Campbell regrets to report that the separation of the nitrogen from the oxygen in the air is accomplished by compressing the air into liquid form. The nitrogen, which boils zero (Fahrenheit), is led away by specially constructed mains, and the oxygen which boils at about 296 below zero, is utilized on account of its extremely low temperature, to assist in the liquefaction process. Ultimately it escapes into the air again.

SPECIAL ROAD TAX VOTED IN ARCHER

Precinct No. 1 Votes For Better Roads, Connecting With Wichita County Highways

Improved roads in the northern part of Archer county are now promised as the result of a special road tax which was recently voted in Precinct No. 1 of that county. Precinct No. 1 borders Wichita county, and at a recent election a fifteen cent special road tax was voted. The expenditure of the additional revenue thus derived will give better roads in the northern part of Archer county, and as Wichita county has recently improved the roads in the southern part of this county, to the Archer line, farmers in the northern part of that county will have a much better road all the way to Wichita Falls, than formerly.

WORK OF CHURCH AMONG JUVENILES

State Superintendent of Baptist Organizations Speaks Here Wednesday Night

The problems confronting the church in the work of the juveniles were discussed at length by Mrs. J. W. Byers of Waco at the mid week prayer service at the First Baptist church last evening. The speaking was conducted by W. L. Robertson in the absence of the pastor, R. C. Miller, and special music was furnished by the choir, the director, Mrs. Walter S. Robertson, giving a vocal solo.

Mrs. Byers in the state superintendent of the Baptist work among children and in her talk stressed the necessity of organizations for the entertainment and moral instruction of boys between the ages of twelve and sixteen. The various organizations of the church and their activities were discussed that are expected to prove quite helpful to the boys and young people among the children were made. In addition Mrs. Byers told of the exceptional work which is being done in the Beckwith's Orphan's Home. Following the prayer hour a social half hour was held and refreshments of punch and cake were served. The bodies of the church had arranged for this special time and had decorated the church with flowers, vases and vials and pot plants. Messrs. R. C. Miller, J. B. Jones and W. E. Miller presided at the church house and were assisted by serving by the Girls Auxiliary members and the Royal Ambassadors, the boys' organization. In the afternoon Mrs. Byers conducted a short demonstration service at the Fourth Street church.

NITROGEN DRAWN FROM ATMOSPHERE

Immense Plant in Norway Converts Element Into Commercial Products

By Associated Press. (Special Mail)—The process of withdrawing nitrogen from the air for use in manufacturing artificial fertilizers and high explosives may be seen in operation at the new 60,000 horse power plant at Odda, in the Hardanger Fjord.

The separation of the nitrogen from the oxygen in the air is accomplished by compressing the air into liquid form. The nitrogen, which boils zero (Fahrenheit), is led away by specially constructed mains, and the oxygen which boils at about 296 below zero, is utilized on account of its extremely low temperature, to assist in the liquefaction process. Ultimately it escapes into the air again.

The power for the gigantic Odda falls is furnished by the nearby waterfalls. This line and coal are fused together in a series of furnaces each employing 3,000 horse power. All the pyrotechnics of a steel furnace are replaced when one of the great Odda carbide plants, for the molten carbide pours forth with a glare that no man there faces with unprotected eyes.

While the production of the nitrogen is being pursued in another department—Air for the purpose of drawing in a series of mountain tops. This was found necessary because the air in the valleys around the great works was found to contain traces of acetylene gas from the carbide. Acetylene gas under pressure is dangerously explosive, and even a trace of it in the liquefaction plant would be likely to cause the destruction of the entire plant.

A Wichita county exhibitor has again won the grand championship of the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show on carload exhibits of fat hogs. T. P. Roberts is the exhibitor. Mr. Roberts has won this award so often that it has become a habit for the judges to give this place to him. Mr. Roberts is one of Wichita county's valuable assets. He is the best argument that can be offered that hog raising and feeding can be carried on here successfully. Mr. Roberts has made money in the hog raising and feeding line.

The Sherman Democrat says that it is reported that the Villa raiders drove off more than fifty U. S. Cavalry horses then they retreated from Columbus, New Mexico, and says somebody must have been asleep. It does appear that the proper vigilance might have prevented Villa reaching the town. The Americans ought to have had the Mexican side of the border sown with spies and ought to have had spies in Villa's hand itself. But notwithstanding the apparent lack of precaution the American troops gave a good account of themselves, fifty troopers chasing a band of about 1500 Villistas many miles into Mexico, inflicting severe losses upon the Mexicans.

A prominent business man of Denison is urging the Chamber of Commerce of that city to encourage a jitney boat service on Red River. He points out that the project is entirely feasible and ought to be operated at a profit after it is once started. He says that in the fifties the government supplied its troops twenty miles above Denison by steamboat. Motor jitney boats can operate on twelve inches of water and remove jitney boats, plying to and from Denison, he believes, would draw more trade to that city than most anything that could be done.

Old magazines are selling at half a cent a pound at points near enough paper mills to be shipped at a cost not greater than their value. Woolen rags are selling as high as ten and twelve cents a pound. Old iron and other metals are selling at fancy prices. Buyers are scouring the country for them. People have begun to save them instead of paying money to have them carted off to the rubbish heap. The European war has made them valuable. This war is costing the American people in many other ways. But it is learning them the value of saving and the value of little and insignificant things. In other words it is teaching us conservation. If we remember and practice this saving and conservation after the war is over it may mean more to us than all the war has cost us.

THE INVASION OF TEXAS The Washington government has never at any time given proper protection to the border, and this remissness is largely responsible for the punitive expedition on foreign soil, says the Waco Times-Herald in one column in an editorial defending former governor Colquitt. In another column under the heading "Poor Old Texas," in the same issue, the Times-Herald says: "This is a humiliating moment in the history of our state. Here is the Washington government actually authorizing the invasion of Texas soil by the armed troops of the de facto government of Mexico, and the governor of Texas raising no objection to the procedure."

The Times does not undertake to say what should have been the procedure under the Constitution and the writings of Jefferson and in following the Times-Herald has become confused. First, the Times-Herald defends the man who wanted to send the Texas state forces on an expedition across the border into a friendly nation without asking the consent of the federal governments of either nation, and criticizes the Washington government for its remissness in not giving proper protection on the border. In the next column the Times-Herald is distressed, when, as a measure to give the protection which in the first column the federal government is criticized for not giving, the latter government proposes, in accordance with an old treaty, to allow Mexican troops to pursue bandits across the border from Mexico onto Texas—American—soil, and says that the federal government has exceeded the limits of its authority in granting such permission. The Times-Herald apparently concedes that it is the right and duty of the federal government to protect the border, yet is humiliated when the authorities take what may be a very necessary step to give this protection. There are many who question the advisability of allowing Mexican troops to cross into American territory but the forecast of the Times-Herald that the second term precedent will be broken because Governor Ferguson has consented to an invasion of "state rights" is not shared by any large number of voters.

The Villa attack on Columbus developed a real "war heroine," Mrs. G. Parks, wife of the editor of the Columbus Courier, was in charge of the telephone exchange when the raid began. For two hours she sat at the switchboard with her baby in her lap, sending out the news and calling for troops, while bullets flew through the room and her face was cut and bleeding from broken glass. This is not the first case of heroism of women telephone operators, but it accentuates the fact that American women may always be depended upon in time of need.—Austin American.

The Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce is going to invest $20,000 for dairy cows to go on the farms of Wichita county. That is a fine move and the Democrat suggested something like this for Grayson county not long ago. The city has one of the best equipped creameries in the south, and could handle thousands of pounds more of cream every week than comes here at present. Not only this, but the cows would increase the earning capacity of the farms.—Sherman Democrat.

WHAT THE ISSUE REALLY WAS.

The issue in the warning resolution fight was not whether Americans should travel on armed ships of the belligerents, but whether an exceedingly delicate diplomatic controversy should be conducted by the constitutional authority without interference and whether a distinctly foreign influence can boldly attempt to influence the deliberations of congress and confuse the councils of those entrusted with exercising the powers of the government.

The peril of ocean travel has been made too manifest to be ignored by men who travel, and as a result it has been well stopped. To any sensible person surely the Lusitania tragedy would appeal with more force than all the resolutions congress might pass in a year. But some people must travel, even if it be dangerous, and if the travel be legally undertaken, the government's protecting arm must be around them, warning or no warning.

It need not be reiterated here that the unutterably objectionable feature of the warning resolutions was their exceedingly mischievous tendency to embarrass and confounding the efforts of the president at a most critical stage of his negotiations.

No doubt the reputed authors were innocent enough of the origin of the enterprise in which they so eagerly and glibly embarked, but there has never been such an audacious lobby in Washington as that which has been adroitly organizing what was hoped to be an insurance among the democrats in congress against the administration.

It was all the more insidious and in solem because of the peculiar methods

DIAMONDS Are the GIFT SUPREME If you contemplate the purchase of a stone for a gift or for personal use, we invite you to look over our stock. At present we're carrying upwards of $30,000.00 Worth of the finest gems we have ever owned, and they are offered at much less price than most dealers ask. Art Loan & Jewelry Co. 705 Ohio Avenue invoked to achieve the one purpose, if it had been the payment or promise of money, the whole thing would have died in the beginning, but it was a case of political terrorizing and it was handled in such a way as to appeal with overpowering plausibility to many members who had not fathomed the deeper purposes of the anti-American propaganda which has been so active for eighteen months past.

With the disposal of the warning resolutions, we may look for further measures designed to create discord in the congress and worry the president. These, too, will fail, as they ought to fail, because an inevitable result of the warning issues will be the clearing up of the entire situation. Congressmen who were misled in the warning campaign will understand the source of the agitation that is disturbing their deliberations.

THE CITY AND THE COUNTRY. "No city can grow great that does not afford opportunity, not alone for thrift but for labor. In the last analysis it is the labor market that counts most in the upbuilding of any community in a commercial sense."

"The greatness of every city is measured by the opportunity it affords its people to earn a living. It is not enough to be a trade center, whose people are content with the broker's profit. It is not enough that values should be increased through real estate deals and the buying and selling of goods at nominal profit. It is the difference between the cost of raw material and the finished product, represented by the labor cost that makes a city grow in riches. And that's why cities which have acquired the habit and thought of manufacturing grow richer and more affluent and more prosperous than their neighbors, which are merely selling agents for the manufacturers."

Risenberg, who is the father of Mrs. J. L. Art of this city, is from the Sherman Democrat: "Sam Risenberg of this city has sold his cigar factory and will in a few days move with his family to Wichita Falls, where he is interested in a wholesale and retail jewelry business. Mr. Risenberg has lived in Sherman many years, and has been successful in business. He owns quite a lot of real estate. Sherman and will retain this interest here. RESTAURANT MEN
PAY $60 FINES

Prosecuted for violation of the state fifty-four hour work law, both J. A. Rochester and R. D. Bartholomew, proprietors of a restaurant, pleaded guilty and were fined $50 and costs in the county court today.

This is the first case having to do with violation of the law tried in Wichita Falls. The state was represented by Bruce Greenwood, county attorney.

The law provides that women employes shall not be kept at work longer than ten hours in any single day nor more than a total of fifty-four hours for the week.

It was alleged that the two men, who employ women waiters in their restaurant had them work overtime.

HAULING MOUNTAIN ARTILLERY & LOADING SUPPLIES FOR TROOPS

In the column expected to move from El Paso toward the Laguna region of Chihuahua, in pursuit of Villa the Fourth Field Artillery is expected to be one of the most active units. Some, if not all, of the Sixth Field Artillery may be sent. This is light horse artillery, and its guns are howitzers of the 4.7 inch type. The cannons are mounted on horses and could traverse the country handsly. Howitzers would be more available than the 3.2 inch rapid fire guns with which the First and Fifth Field Artillery regiments are equipped. The upper picture shows United States soldiers handling a mountain howitzer. The lower picture shows the loading of stores for the use of troops in Texas and Mexico.

The meeting was called by Secretary D. R. Cole of San Antonio. This association increased its membership more than 500 per cent during the past year, and a larger attendance than ever was expected at today's convention. Impetus given by scores of Texas counties in good roads conventions was expected to be reflected in the reports from various sections.

NEGRO UNABLE TO

Porter at Kress Store Captured By Policeman Bailey After Long Chase Today

"Hey, stop that nigger," shouted an excited clerk, dashing out of the Kress store on Indiana.

Patrolman D. D. Bailey, who has lately become known as the champion sprinter of the bluecoats, promptly but footed it down the street after a long lean negro indicated by the salesman.

The chase at a fast pace led up the street to the Senate Bar, where the officer nabbed his man.

"What the dum dum did you run away from me when I told you to stop," inquired the officer.

"Boss, I wasn't running from you, I was trying to catch another nigger up the street," Bailey was informed.

As a result of the case, Will Sanders, porter for the Kress store, is being detained by the police.

It is alleged that several pairs of silk hose were found on him while at his house, the officers say numerous trunks were located. These are said to have been stolen from the store, where Sanders was employed.

APPOINTMENT OF INSPECTOR LIKELY

Council May Take Action Tonight Upon Recommendations For Pure Food Campaign

The appointment of a local pure food inspector will be taken up at the meeting of the city council tonight, says Mayor Britain. This place has been vacant for some months. There are several applicants for the position, it is understood.

This action is believed by many to be a result of the recent inspection of dairies by Mrs. E. L. Darwin, inspector for the state food and drug department.

CARNEGIE LIBRARY ACTION DELAYED

Mayor is Informed Institutions Receive Poor Support in Many Texas Towns

Judging from the tenor of the communication from the Carnegie Corporation of New York just received by Mayor A. J. Britain, Wichita Falls stands but little chance of having a Carnegie library established here at this time.

The letter informs the mayor that on account of the libraries receiving such comparatively small support in many Texas towns, the matter could not be gone into further until a report had been received by the corporation from the State Librarian at Austin. The Carnegie people are waiting for this report before entering into further pledges with towns in the State.

Mayor Britain has turned the communication over to Mrs. C. W. Snider, member of the library committee from the Civic League.

China is described as hopelessly unprepared, but just think of the army of Crown Princess Emp Yuan could put in the field.—Washington Post.

Wichita Falls Judge Carrigan is greatly pleased with Amarillo and takes occasion to say a number of very pleasing things about the city. Yesterday in conversations with friends Judge Carrigan said: "Amarillo has grown a great deal within the comparatively recent past, and I am glad to see the development throughout all this section of the great State of Texas."

Asked relative to moisture conditions and crops near Wichita Falls, Judge Carrigan replied: "Our winter and spring oats have been killed but the wheat is giving wonderful promise at present. The moisture conditions have been unfavorable, but even with this there has been but little half in the growth of the wheat crop. Our people are expecting a harvest all things continuing favorable that has not been surpassed. Business conditions are quite good and our people are optimistic with reference to the future. Wichita Falls would be a compliment to any country, and we're proud of her."

MAJESTIC

Today Is the Last Showing of the Best Picture Since the "Battle Cry of Peace"

GEORGE BEBAN

"AN ALIEN"

DON'T MISS IT

Children 5c Adults 15c

COMING FRIDAY—Ella Hall and Helen Ware in "Secret Love."

The production is an enormous one and the company one of the largest ever sent on tour. An enormous clientele is carried by the organization.

The Majestic Today "An Alien" feature picture with George Beban in the title role will be repeated, having been shown to splendid audiences yesterday. The story of the picture is an appealing one and Mr. Beban makes the most of his role, that of a poor Italian laborer whose heart and soul is whipped up in his little daughter, Rosa. The production has its full quota of pathos and almost an equal amount of sincere humor so that it makes a pleasing offering for an evening's entertainment. In its universal heart appeal "An Alien" is one of the most attractive pictures shown here for some time and Mr. Beban is a most convincing character actor.

The Empress Today "The Drifter" is a Mutual Masterpicture. "The Drifter," a plot which holds the interest from start to finish and vigorous delineation of character makes "The Drifter" conspicuous among the photo features of the hour. This Masterpicture, De Luxe edition, produced at the Gaumont studios, is presented by Richard Garrick's all-star company, with Lucille Taft and Alexander Garden in the leads. John H. Clynner is the author.

Miss Taft, the fascinating Southern girl, whose beauty and brains make her one of the most successful stars before the camera, plays Faith Willis. In the opening chapter she is simply a very sweet, lovable young girl. But the closing act reveals her as a woman, cool and courageous almost beyond belief. Upon her self-reliance and fealty and valorous silence, depends the regeneration of "The Drifter" whom she has loved and trusted despite everything.

Mr. Garden's capacity for dramatic psychological contrasts is the faculty which chiefly has made possible his remarkable impersonation of the title role. "The Drifter," Harold Derwent, familiarly known in his fleetest days as "Pittsburgh Hal," is an idealist, whose character is undermined by single vice—the passion for gambling. In him a call to preach the gospel struggles with the lure of the gaming table. He loses faith in his better nature, and chooses the wastrel's path. Years later, on a railroad train, bound for the other end of nowhere like a lucky number on the last desperate toss of the dice, a fighting chance for Derwent's manhood turns up.

Some of Mr. Garden's best work is realized at this psychological turning point of the play. He makes of it a wonderful moment. From a poor devil about to drink the last dregs of despair he is re-created before our eyes into a human being fired anew with the determination to make good. No more vivid example of what hope will do for a man ever has appeared in motion pictures.

The Gem. A Broadway Star Feature in three parts. "The Rise" is the principal picture of the program at the Gem today. Naomi Childers and Harry Stone have prominent parts in this production, a story of which follows: At a lawn party given by Mr. John Cottrell and his young wife, Emily, Morgan Dallas, an old college friend of the former appears to cast the first cloud upon the domestic happiness of the otherwise devoted couple. Through a combination of strange circumstances in which Emily's subconscious "brother" Edgar, plays a prominent part, the young wife is too great fondness in the unscrupulous Dallas cause her husband to seriously suspect her fidelity. Dallas, under the guise of "brother" Edgar, is a crook to further his friendship with Mrs. Cottrell and gradually his sinister influence impresses her so that she begins to fear him. John is a man of the world and notes these things, worrying greatly over it. Finally, he tells a doctor, his friend, in a case he has determined to adopt to test his wife. With the doctor's aid John is brought home as if from an accident. And the doctor, tells Emily that her husband's mind is a hopeless blank. The test commences for Emily and it is a severe one. For Dallas seizes her in his arms and forcibly kissing her. She struggles free, but he follows her to her bedroom, who while pretending he knows what is going on, arrests and knocking at the door, demands admittance. Inside a dark figure has entered through the window and as Dallas grabs Emily he stops the rascal at the point of a gun. It is Edgar. Then things happen quickly. Dallas seeing he is being put up a fight and tries to kill John. Edgar shouts and kills Dallas; then Emily helps her brother escape, reveals to John and the happy termination of the affair dispels forever the cloud which threatened to wreck the Cottrell home, bringing happiness to all concerned.

ONCE BOUGHT CATTLE AT CASAS GRANDES

Mexican Country Invaded by Americans is Familiar to Frank Kell of This City

The Casas Grandes country in Mexico, which is understood to be the first objective of the American troops, who are slated in a second edition of The Times Wednesday afternoon, have begun their invasion. It is well known to Frank Kell, who about 22 years ago was in that part of the republic buying cattle. Mr. Kell is familiar with that section of Mexico, and will read the dispatches about the American troops with more than ordinary interest.

When Mr. Kell was in that section it was then, as now, inhabited by a colony of Mexicans from whom he bought cattle, and Mr. Kell recalls looking at one bunch of native cattle that were as wild and fleet of foot as deer. He did not buy them, however.

The Casas Grandes country is described as a fairly fruitful land, but the country, which the troops must cross to reach it, is desolate and practically uninhabited except by coyotes and rattlesnakes.

Little Folks Have Their Own Part In Parade Of Fashions

What ravishing frocks For we curly locks. Fine feathers for little birds fine. What fetching chaparral. What stunning mantoux. For little Miss Three up to Nine.

And still the style show goes on. It didn't end the other night. While much has been said about the good clothes parade for grown-ups, the little fellows have been to a great extent ignored. One notices on the streets, especially in the late afternoon and early evening when the tiny folk are on parade with their mothers, that the children of Wichita Falls have caught the "dress up" and stay that way. This is especially true of the little girls; some of their frocks, to take the words out of the society editor's mouth, are real creations and the dainty know-it-alls, at least, they act like they do.

The little men, after they get their frocks, and are not behind in the style profession. But their new "rigging" is by no means so striking nor so "creative" as that of their sister sisters. Boys are supposed to be just boys, no matter how the styles come and go.

WANT FORD TO GET CHEAPER GASOLINE

Automobile Manufacturer Will Be Asked to Solve One of Day's Problems

Washington, March 15.—Henry Ford is to be asked to use his brains and money in solving the problem of the high cost of gasoline.

Representative Randall of California is preparing a letter to him, asking him to test the so-called Rittman process for the manufacture of gasoline. By this process, discovered by the tried States Bureau of Mines, it is claimed gasoline can be manufactured at a much reduced cost.

If no other way is to be found, Randall says the Government should manufacture gasoline. He has introduced a resolution calling on the President to formulate the necessary legislation for such a plan.

Representative Steenerson of Minnesota, who introduced a resolution some time ago, asking the Attorney General to inform the House of Representatives why he has not prosecuted the oil companies under the anti-trust laws, expects to speak on his resolution in a few days.

He has told the district attorneys throughout the country have been instructed to be on the lookout for the oil companies," says Steenerson.

"Recently I heard the district attorney in Chicago is investigating the prices of gasoline. I expect, however, to show that the Clayton act has destroyed the effectiveness of the Sherman anti-trust law and makes it impossible for the Department of Justice to break up the monopoly."

Representative Britton of Illinois proposed by a bill introduced, an export tax of 50 cents a gallon on gasoline. This would require a constitutional amendment.

PALESTINE PASSES CHICKEN ORDINANCE

By Associated Press. Palestine, Texas, March 15.—Garden owners of Palestine who have suffered in years gone by from the depredations of stray chickens, are looking forward to a peace summer this year.

This city council, after earnest urging by house wives of the city, has passed a resolution which will be expected to force chicken owners to take steps to keep their fowls from their daily constituted domiciles which will be declared public nuisances.

Such chickens immediately become subject to the provisions of the ordinance. Those provide that if any person discovers a strange fowl foraging in his garden he shall "summarily" abate the nuisance by the destruction of such fowl. If the wanderer shall be located in the public highways and byways he, or she, is to be impounded by the chief of police and held in custody until the rightful owner makes proper identification and pays a fee ranging from 25 to 50 cents, retaining his property.

Supporters of the ordinance declare it will add distinctly to the community's moral tone; owners will keep their fowls at home; neighborhood quarrels and over-the-back-fence anarchy will cease.

The measure went through several sessions of the council before it was passed. Several councilmen objected to it, "finely" the women in force and impressed their views on the solons. The ordinance passed.

The economic theory that penned chickens are more valuable than the "chicken" variety was the clinching argument of the ordinance's proponents.

AT THE THEATRES

"EVERYWOMAN" SHOWN IN FIVE FOREIGN COUNTRIES

"Everywoman," the dramatic spectacle which has been translated upon foreign soil and has been played in five foreign countries, will be offered by Henry W. Savage with one of the most powerful companies of actors and singers which he has ever sent on tour at the Wichita Theatre, March 22 and 23.

In this attractive novelty there is not only spectacle, music and drama, but a re-creation of the ancient form of the play that form was eloquently made known on the American stage a few years ago when Ben Greet and a company of English artists, among them Edith Wynne Matheson, presented "Everyman." Upon "Everyman," "Walfer Brown," a New York newspaper, in the 20th Century's ordering of dramatics' pageant, its central figure, "Everywoman," young and beautiful, sets out from her home in quest of love. Truth strikes her of her danger, but she gives herself and, inflamed by the representations of Plutony, Youth, Beauty and Modesty as companions, she begins her pilgrimage which stage mounts to stardom, besieges the hearts of the American stage, a few years ago when Ben Greet and a company of English artists, among them Edith Wynne Matheson, presented "Everyman." PROLIFIC SET OF GOATS IN HARDEMAN COUNTY

(Quannah Observer) Jim Williams, who is one of our best farmers, has four nanny goats, which this past season gave birth to six kids; two sets of twins, and two sets of triplets. Of these kids, six are living and are husky youngsters. Jim says that his Angoras have done well. Their fleece was so long that it dragged the ground. Mr. Williams lately bought and received a Persian ram which weighed 250 pounds. He will in a few days go to Goodnight to get three or four Persian ewes from Captain Goodnight. The fleece on the Persian lamb is very valuable, from it the astrachan caps, cases, and furs are manufactured. Mr. Williams also bought two buffalo from Captain Goodnight, a bull and a cow. He will let them run with his other cattle in hope of crossing and thus producing a heavier beef cattle. On the Williams farm is a cow which never has had a calf, and which has been milked daily since the summer of 1910 and never has gone dry. It is, as Jim says, a spotted cow of no particular breed, just a good milker.

CHICKENS CAUSING MUCH COMPLAINT

Chief Nail Issues Warning to Poultry Owners to Keep Chickens Penned Up

Chickens—the feathered kind—running loose are the cause for much complaint at police headquarters. So great has been the damage to spring gardens and so frequent has been the inconvenience of "shooing" Dame Hen away from these gardens, that Police Chief J. B. Nail has issued a warning to poultry owners to keep their chickens up. It is pointed out that the practice of letting chickens run at large is a violation of city ordinance. Unless chicken owners prevent "biddy" from roaming at liberty they will be prosecuted, Nail says.

FIRST FRUIT CROP SCARE NOW CONSIDERED PAST

With "fair and warmer" as the weather forecast for tomorrow, and with the mercury last night failing to quite reach the freezing point, fruit growers in this section consider that the season's first scare may now be considered past. It is stated that practically no damage was done by the cold weather of this week and that the trees are apparently unaffected by the near freezes that have been recorded. State indicates that the weather was less severe than in this region, and that the damage is thought to have been less. The trees are blooming somewhat earlier than usual, however, and are therefore more liable to damage from March freezes this year. WAS NOT AT WORK WHEN HE WAS FATALLY INJURED J. M. Willis, who died Monday as the result of injuries received in a fall at the new Masonic Temple building was not at work when he was employed on the building but on the Saturday when he was injured was not working. It appears he had drawn his pay and was on his way down town with his wife and stopped at the building, site to show her about the progress of the work. He stepped on a board over an excavation, supposing, it is believed, it was nailed and it went down under his weight precipitating him against a cross piece. Blood poison developed from the injury resulting in his death.

DO YOU KNOW?

That we can buy green coffee as cheaply as any one? That coffee is a commodity like cotton, wheat, etc., for sale to all at the market price? That the cost of getting roasted coffee to the consumer through the ordinary channels of traveling salesmen, jobber and retailer, or through the house to house canvasser exceeds the cost of the coffee itself? Then don't it stand to reason—that you can get a better grade of coffee for the same money from the home roaster who has none of this expense. AND THEN—The big—best reason—FRESH ROASTED—every day. Then there's another—Your money stays at home.
