Busy cleaning up could lead to buzzing bees

By MARY McATEER

As autumn approaches, gardeners are beginning yard cleanup.

Potential problems with stinging insects that may have established themselves in a quiet corner or under a relatively untouched bush need to be considered.

Paul Jackson, chief inspector with the Texas Apiary Inspection Service, says at least 50 percent of stinging situations could be avoided by taking action before trouble starts. Many people who have been severely stung in recent years knew the beehive was there for two or three months and did nothing.

Jackson says consistent yard and home care can help keep stinging insects away. Keep bushes trimmed, lawns mowed and check eaves and spaces under houses frequently to see if intruders have moved into the neighborhood.

European honey bees usually establish themselves in early spring and don't move during summer and fall. Africanized bees are much more likely to move, especially if the colony is under stress. Any bees will abscond if the

Here are some tips on what to do about colonies of bees:

Bees

Fire ants can force a colony to abscond or make European bees mean, Jackson says, and so can varroa mites.

About 75 percent of feral swarms have mites, which attack the soft parts of the body under the wings, and can wipe out a colony in a year. European bees will swarm to get away from mites.

Heat can cause a colony to swarm - Africanized bees like a small cavity in a tree or a hollow in a wall. If heat builds up. part of the colony will leave to find cooler quarters.

If you're cleaning up the yard and find a colony, Jackson recommends calling an exterminator or a local beekeeper to dispose of it.

A beekeeper will smoke the hive. Many people believe the smoke subdues the bees, but Jackson says the smoke makes them believe the hive is on fire. They eat as much honey as they can, so they can transport it, which makes them sleepy and docile.

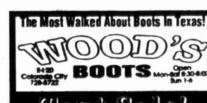

Once they're subdued, it's a fairly simple task for an expert to gather them up and take them away. The advantage to this method is the beekeeper will take the honey and wax.

An exterminator will spray the bees, killing the colony. If the hive is Africanized, this method is safest, but it leaves the honey and wax to be cleaned

As a colony grows and broods, honey builds up. After the bees have been exterminated, the honey and wax will melt and run down, attracting ants. Once the weather cools down, mice will be drawn indoors, also seeking the honey and wax in Jackson says the only way to take care of this problem is to open the wall and clean out the cavity. If you don't know for certain where the hive is, wait and melted honey will seep out, giving a sure indicator of where the hive was.

Anytime a wild beehive is found, officials recommend sending a sample to the Apiary Inspection Service.

Goo clogging up playground

BAYTOWN (AP) - While workers clean black, tar-like goo from an elementary school playground, students will be sent to other schools because officials say the chemical contamination is more extensive than first thought.

Goose Creek Consolidated Independent School District officials were working on a plan Sunday to send the roughly 800 G.W. Carver students to other schools next week, said spokeswoman Kathy Clausen. "We're working on alternate sites," she said, adding that she didn't know how long the closure would last. "I can't make an estimate at this time."

Workers hired by Exxon Co. USA began cleaning up the goo at G.W. Carver Elementary School on Friday with hopes of finishing before students return from the Labor Day holiday.

But officials say the contamination is more widespread than the 150-by-80-foot area first tar-

A statement from the district on Saturday said students should not return on Tuesday because of dangers posed by heavy equipment being used in the cleanup.

The black goo was discovered oozing from beneath the playground surface on June 29. It was coming from a pit where crude oil was stored in the 1920s and 1930s, before Humble Oil now Exxon — donated the land to Baytown's Goose Creek

Results mixed on highway interdiction programs

FORT WORTH (AP) Texas leads the nation in highway drug and cash seizures, but across the Lone Star State law enforcement agencies report mixed results with highway drug interdiction programs.

The practice has largely failed on heavily traveled Dallas-Fort Worth freeways. After a trial run last year, the Tarrant County Drug Task force abandoned its program commander Art Van Dorn

But last year in Jefferson County, authorities confiscated more than 21,000 pounds of cocaine, 69,000 pounds of marjuana and about $10 million in cash along state roadways.

Not everyone supports such efforts at a local level. Fort Worth police Chief Thomas Windham believes local departments should leave the highway drug interdiction business to state and federal authorities.

"People are concerned about drugs' effect on their neighborhoods, not the highways," he said. "That's where we should concentrate our resources.

But in less-populated quarters of North Texas such as Denton, Rockwall, Parker and Palo Pinto counties, programs are up and running.

Denton County Sheriff Weldon Lucas said his office and the local task force operate interdiction programs along Interstate 35 that have netted a "tremendous amount of drugs of all kinds."

Officers have confiscated enough drug money to pay for their efforts, Lucas said.

NAFTA's promises not being realized

North American Free Trade Agreement's promise of new jobs and increased exports to Mexico isn't being realized even by many of the corporate cheerleaders who were eager to see Congress ratify the pact in 1993, says a new study.

Public Citizen, which lobbied vigorously against the agreement creating a free trade zone from the Yukon to the Yucatan. contends that American workers are feeling the pinch.

Commerce Secretary Ron Brown took issue with the find-

"NAFTA clearly has had a positive impact on U.S. jobs and exports," he said. "It's time to stop playing the 'blame NAFTA' game every time there is a 'shock' felt in the international financial markets."

Public Citizen examined the goals set by 81 companies before the pact's approval, then interviewed company officials this summer to find out if projections had been met.

The pre-NAFTA promises were culled from company comments in National Association of Manufacturers and USA NAFTA publications or those made to government officials and Congress.

year and a half of NAFTA shows quite clearly that NAFTA is not working," said Lori Wallach, director of Public Citizen's Global Trade Watch. "New jobs have not been created and a lot of existing jobs have been lost. And, U.S. wages are at their lowest point in 20 years and declining." Mexico's economic woes, prompted by the abrupt peso devaluation, make it difficult to assess NAFTA's impact, critics of the study said. "Is there some disappointment generally in the Mexican market? Undeniably, but that doesn't mean NAFTA is a bad idea. If anything, it means it is more important," said Judge Morris, the National Association of Manufacturers' senior policy director for international

The Commerce Department agreed, pointing out that unlike 1982 — when Mexico's economy last suffered a major jolt — the country isn't slapping new tariffs on imports.

Switzer's changes no cause for worry

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Don't bother looking for changes in Barry Switzer heading into his second season as coach of the Dallas Cowboys.

As far as Switzer is concerned, his coaching style is no different after a year in the NFL. His knowledge of the league and his players is just a little better and he'll be hoping to use both to get the Cowboys back on top in the NFL.

His first test comes tonight when the three-time defending NFC East champions visit Giants Stadium to play the Dan Reeves-coached New York Giants, a club that thinks it can challenge Dallas for the division title.

Switzer, who already has been given a vote of confidence for the 1996 season by owner Jerry Jones, is looking forward to the meeting and this season.

"From your freshman to sophomore year, there's a great growth that probably makes the tenure you have in any endeavor or career," Switzer said. "Get that first year out of your way and then make great strides from then on."

Switzer took some heat in his first year for not being more like Jimmy Johnson, his predecessor who led the Cowboys to consecutive Super Bowl titles in 1992 and 1993.

Quarterback Troy Aikman even admitted he felt more comfortable with Johnson's approach to the game.

However, Aikman said the players have gotten to know Switzer better and that training camp went smoother this year. "His approach to football, contrary to what a lot of people are saying in the media, has been really consistent to what it was a year ago," Aikman said last week. "From that, at least players understand how he is going to respond to situations and handle this football team..."

Switzer feels good about his team, which still has two-thirds of the starting unit from '93. What's missing is depth, a victim of the salary cap and free agency. The Cowboys lost three starters to free agency.

San Francisco 49ers wide receiver Jerry Rice leaps past his blocker Kirk Scrafford as New Orleans Saints defensive tackle Robert Goff brings him down by a foot. The 49ers won the game in New Orleans, La., Superdome 24-22 Sunday.

WELCOME BACK

Teams return to old homes, new teams give it a go

By BARRY WILNER

AP Football Writer

Welcome back, Raiders, Welcome aboard, Panthers and Jaguars And hello to you, too, St

Louis Rams The NFL season began Sun day with the Raiders returning victoriously to Oakland, the expansion teams from Carolina and Jacksonville joining the fraternity and the relocated Rams doing something odd by winning on the road.

Oakland opened its arms wide to the return of the Silver and Black, which last called the Bay Area home in 1981. The celebrations were punctuated by a 17-7 victory over defending AFC champion San Diego

"It was like having a 12th man on the field," said defensive end Pat Swilling, a revitalized performer who had a sack, forced a fumble, knocked down a pass in the late going and harried Chargers quarterback Stan Humphries much of the day. Really, it was just so exciting, you really had to catch yourself. It was just an unbelievable feeling. Even coming here on the bus, people were yelling, beat-

i'm melting, melting

Tell 'em they can keep beating on the bus. It was great." It also felt great for the Panthers and Jaguars to get going for real even though both newcomers lost. Carolina fell to Atlanta 23-20 in overtime, while Jacksonville wasn't nearly impressive in falling to Houston

'We know there's still lots of work ahead," said Mike McCormack, the Panthers president "But that doesn't diminish how proud we all feel to have finally made it to this point." The Jaguars sounded a bit more frustrated about their defeat, mainly because they played poorly against one of the league's weakest teams.

"It gets frustrating," said veteran defensive end Jeff Lageman. "I thought we did everything we could possibly do on defense except get turnovers. We've got no reason to hang our heads.

The Packers probably do after losing at home to the transplanted Rams, who had lost six in a row on the road. Green Bay had taken 10 straight at Lambeau Field before defense and special teams lifted St. Louis.

Sean Gilbert hassled Packers quarterback Brett Favre all day, and Isaac Bruce blocked a punt, then caught a TD pass five seconds later.

"It's a lot harder to block a punt than it is to catch a touchdown pass," said Bruce, who had four exhibition-game TDs. 'It's the first one I've ever blocked. I just tried to beat everybody to the ball. He was taking a lot of time and I guess he didn't see me."

Elsewhere, it was Miami 52, the New York Jets 14; Kansas City 34, Seattle 10; Washington 27, Arizona 7; Chicago 31, Minnesota 14; New England 17, Cleveland 14; San Francisco 24, New Orleans 22; Tampa Bay 21, Philadelphia 6; Pittsburgh 23, Detroit 20; Cincinnati 24, Indianapolis 21 in OT; and Denver 22, Buffalo 7.

Oilers declaw the Jaguars

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Jacksonville's first game was probably its best chance to win all year. The Jaguars were playing before a boisterous crowd that had waited nearly two decades for a team to call its own. The opponent was Houston, the worst team in the NFL last season. But it was apparent Sunday that Jacksonville has a long way to go as Gary Brown rushed for 101 yards, including 45 on the only touchdown drive of the day, and Houston ruined the first game for the league's newest team, beating the Jaguars 10-3. After watching the Jaguars manage only 151 yards despite a quarterback change in the third quarter, the crowd of 72,363 must have wondered why it had craved an NFL team for so many years. Steve Beuerlein was just 7 of 17 for 60 yards before he was replaced by Mark Brunell.

Brunell's scrambling opened some holes and led to the first points in Jaguars history, a 26yard field goal by Mike Hollis with 11:58 remaining in the game. But Brunell was only 3 of Even when Jacksonville got the ball back on its own 18 with 55 seconds remaining and a chance to tie, many of the fans were on their way to the exits, sensing an 82-yard drive was too much to expect. They were right as Brunell's first pass was intercepted by Darryll Lewis.

The Oilers will take any victory they can get after going 2-14 last season and enduring a tumultuous preseason which included highly publicized talks concerning a move to Nashville, Tenn., and the cancellation of an exhibition because of a poor playing surface.

The Oilers, who averaged only 14 points a game in '94 after abandoning the run-and-shoot, simply ran the ball at the Jaguars on the first possession. Brown carried eight times for 45 yards on a 13-play, 78-yard drive which culminated with a 4-yard pass from Chris Chandler to Haywood Jeffries 6:43 into the game.

Chandler sustained a bruised left shoulder in the first half and didn't play at all in the second. Hollis missed a 36-yard field goal on Jacksonville's only other serious scoring drive.

and back on top of the division. "When we've won this year, its been the whole team doing the job, not just the middle of the lineup," Colorado manager

Don Baylor said. Sunday's victory over St. Louis was a case in point.

It was Joe Girardi's two-out single that boosted the Rockies to a 5-4, 11-inning win over St. Louis. Of course, the rally started with a leadoff single by one of Baylor's big guns, Andres Galarraga.

With runners and first and second, Girardi lined a single to left off Jeff Parrett (4-4) to score Galarraga.

"I was telling myself while I was on the bench that I had to be ready if I got a chance to hit," said Girardi, who entered the game as part of a double switch. Darren Holmes (6-1) pitched a scoreless 10th for the victory, and Bruce Ruffin retired the Cardinals in the 11th to earn his ninth save. The Rockies won two of the three games from the Cardinals in the weekend series. In other games Sunday, it was burgh over Cincinnati 7-3, Florida over Houston 8-7 in 11 innings, New York over San Francisco 11-6 and Philadelphia over San Diego 3-2.

Marlins 8, Astros 7, 11 innings Put in a pressure-packed and unfamiliar position, pitcher Craig McMurtry simply did the expected. Forced to bat when Houston ran out of hitters, he struck out with the tying run on third base in the 11th inning, and the Astros lost to Florida.

The loss at the Astrodome dropped the Astros one-half game behind Los Angeles in the wild-card race.

Quilvio Veras tripled off Jim Dougherty (8-4) to start the Florida 11th, Chuck Carr singled and Jeff Conine hit an RBI single. McMurtry relieved with the bases loaded and Greg Colbrunn hit a sacrifice fly. Dodgers 6, Expos 3

Los Angeles kept pace with Colorado as Eric Karros put the Dodgers ahead with his 26th home run and Ramon Martinez made it stand up.

Martinez (14-7), who gave up a home run to Tony Tarasco to start the game, won his third straight decision, retiring 13 of his last 14 batters at Dodger Stadium. Todd Worrell pitched the ninth for his 26th save, and first since blowing two chances.

Route to Sarajevo re-opening

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina (AP) - With a deadline for more NATO airstrikes fast approaching, Bosnian Serbs today kept their big guns firmly in place around besieged Saraje

The Serbs, however, were not interfering with a U.N. move to reopen one route in and out of Trucks crossed over the Sarajevo airport and into the city from government-held territory on the south side without incident. Much of the winding onemile route is exposed to Serb fire. Dozens of trucks, most of them empty, lined up this morning in Sarajevo waiting to cross the route and load up on goods to bring back into the city. Nine trucks used the route on Sunday after the United Nations and the Bosnian government made a surprise announcement that the route was being opened.

But allowing that single route to open fell far short of U.N. and NATO demands, and officials reiterated that the Serbs faced new NATO sirstrikes if they did not ease up further on Sarajevo by 11 p.m. (5 p.m. EDT). If the Serbs do not comply, said the U.N. chief for former Yugoslavia, Yasushi Akashi, "then NATO airstrikes could resume at that point.'

He said there was no indication that the Serbs were pulling back from Sarajevo, and his assessment was backed up by U.N. military officers on the ground in Sarajevo.

Lt. Col. Pierre Briere said there was no evidence that the Serbs had moved even a single gun out of range of the city.

Luis threatening the Caribbean

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Hurricane Luis churned today toward the Caribbean, where islanders began building emergency shelters and stockpiling supplies to prepare for the second major storm in little more than a week.

Luis, with sustained winds of 140 mph, was moving west at nearly 13 mph at 5 a.m. EDT. The storm's center was 585 miles southeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico, or about 500 miles southeast of the Vir gin Islands.

The National Weather Ser vice said it could strike the Caribbean within two days.

Hurricane warnings were in effect for the Leeward Islands and for Dominica, Guadeloupe and surrounding islands. Early today, a hurricane alert was posted for Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

In Antigua, residents pre pared not only for Luis but also for the possible influx of evacuees from Montserrat.

Manager Marcel Lachemann, ejected during the loss at Fenway Park, called a closed-door meeting. After it ended, Tony Phillips — also ejected — was involved in a heated discussion with third base coach Bobby Knoop.

"We are just not being ourselves," Angels outfielder Tim Salmon said. "The frustrations of one player feeds on the next."

California, which has not held a lead in its last 70 innings, lost for the 12th time in 13 games. The Angels, whose division lead is down to 51/2 games, are mired in their worst skid since dropping 10 straight in July 1993.

Lachemann declined to say what the Angels talked about after the game. But he admitted he made a mistake in the fourth inning when he got ejected by plate umpire Larry Barnett during a trip to the mound.

In other games, Seattle beat Baltimore 9-6, Cleveland defeated Detroit 9-8 in 10 innings, Oakland downed New York 10-9 in 10 innings, Milwaukee beat Minnesota 7-6, Kansas

Rather than beating other City defeated Texas 8-5 and in two runs and tied Bobby Chicago beat Toronto 6-5.

Athletics 10, Yankees 9, 10 innings

Tony Fernandez became the first Yankees player to hit for the cycle since Bobby Murcer in 1972, but Rickey Henderson's home run in the 10th inning won it for visiting Oakland.

Fernandez completed the cycle with a double in the ninth and scored a run that tied it 9-9. He is the 10th Yankees player to hit for the cycle.

Indians 9, Tigers 8, 11 innings Cleveland improved to 12-0 in extra innings this season, coming back after Detroit tied it in the ninth on Ron Tingley's grand slam off Jose Mesa at Tiger Stadium.

Omar Vizquel singled home the go-ahead with two outs in the 10th. The shortstop also started a game-ending double play on Cecil Fielder's grounder with runners on first and second.

The record for extra-inning wins in a season is 15 by the 1943 Red Sox.

Mariners 9, Orioles 6

Seattle stood and cheered for Cal Ripken, then beat the Baltimore Orioles at Camden Yards.

When the game became official after five innings, the Mariners climbed to the top step of the dugout and joined the sellout crowd of 46,269 in applauding Ripken's 2,128th straight game, two short of Lou Gehrig's record. Ripken drove Doerr for 82nd on the career list with 1,247.

Brewers 7, Twins 6

Pinch-hitter Matt Mieske hit Milwaukee's ninth grand slam of the season, and the Brewers broke a six-game losing streak by winning at the Metrodome.

The Brewers tied a team record for slams in a season and matched San Diego's total for most in the majors. Overall, there have been a record number of grand slams in the majors this season.

Royals 8, Rangers 5 Gary Gaetti's 400-feet drive to center popped out of Otis Nixon's glove and fell over the center field fence for a three-run homer in the eighth, lifting Kansas City over visiting Texas.

The victory was the ninth in 11 games for Kansas City, including five of seven against the Rangers, and kept the Royals percentage points ahead in the AL wild-card race. Texas, which has lost eight of 10, dropped a game behind Kansas City and Seattle.

White Sox 6, Blue Jays 5

At Chicago, Robin Ventura and Lyle Mouton hit consecutive home runs in the fourth to lead the White Sox to their fifth straight win.

Ventura also hit an RBI single and Ozzie Guillen added his first home run since June 23, 1994 as the White Sox handed the visiting Blue Jays their seventh consecutive loss.

separation of church and state. Maybe if there was more church in everything, we would be a more moral and value-conscious society.

Some people may not want to go to church, but what gives anyone the right to tell another person where to kneel and where to pray?

We don't have a Berlin Wall or an Iron Curtain in this country, but we certainly do have some very narrow-minded leaders who want to impose more and more restrictions on us.

Maybe Forrest Gump is right, "Stupid is as stupid does."

Fassero (13-11). Braves 2, Cubs 0

Pressed into starting duty because Kent Mercker's back was sore, rookie Jason Schmidt did his job admirably.

He pitched eight shutout innings in his first major league start, allowing six hits, striking out seven and walking five before Mark Wohlers came on to earn his 21st save.

The Braves ended a two-game losing skid and reduced their magic number to 12 for winning the NL East.

Pirates 7, Reds 3

Pittsburgh finally found the formula for winning at Riverfront Stadium: Plenty of good pitching, good hitting and good luck.

Paul Wagner (4-13) got his first career win over Cincinnati and Orlando Merced hit a threerun homer to highlight another big inning and help the Pirates save face against the NL Central leaders.

Pittsburgh sent 10 batters to the plate in the fourth for five runs off Dave Burba (9-3), who took his first loss for Cincinnati.

Phillies 3, Padres 2

A bad stretch finally came to an end for Paul Quantrill, who recorded his first win in more than a month.

Quantrill (10-9) allowed two runs on nine hits in seven-plus innings to pick up his first win since July 26. Quantrill, who struck out three and walked three, had lost his last three decisions. Gregg Jefferies drove in two runs to help keep the Phillies in contention for a wild-card playoff spot. Mets 11, Giants 6

New York kept coming back against the Giants, finally hanging on to win and avoid their cisco since 1991. After rallying to tie three times, the Mets took the lead for good in the seventh when Ryan Thompson's grounder bounced past Giants reliever Carlos Valdez (0-1), scoring Chris

Jones, who tripled, and break-

in the second half. Falcons 23, Panthers 20, OT At Atlanta, the Panthers had a chance to become only the second expansion team to win its opener; Minnesota did it in 1961. Carolina forced overtime when Frank Reich hit Willie Green with a 44-yard scoring pass with 26 seconds left in regulation. Carolina lined up for a 2-point conversion, but ditched that idea when a false-start penalty pushed them back 5 yards. The Panthers settled for John Kasay's tying extra point. In OT. Lester Archambeau stripped Reich of the ball and recovered on the Panthers 31 to set up the game-winner. Rams 17, Packers 14 The Rams, who fled Anaheim, Calif., last winter and replaced coach Chuck Knox with Rich Brooks, picked off three of Brett Favre's passes. Chris Miller had a 30-yard scoring pass to Alexander Wright.

"It's a great start for me personally and a great start for the team," Gilbert said after the Rams snapped a seven-game overall losing streak.

Reggie White, the NFL career sacks leader, picked up 21/2 sacks, giving him 1471/2 overall. Steelers 23, Lions 20

At Pittsburgh, the Steelers had a costly victory. Star cornerback Rod Woodson tore a knee ligament and probably is out for the season. Quarterback Neil O'Donnell also went down, with a broken pinky, and is out for at least two weeks.

Norm Johnson, signed off the waiver wire two weeks ago, kicked a 31-yard field goal as time ran out. Mike Tomczak directed two second-half TD drives after Woodson and O'Donnell were hurt.

Scott Mitchell was 18-of-32 for 195 yards and two TDs for the Lions. Barry Sanders rushed for 108 yards.

49ers 24, Saints 22

At New Orleans, Steve Young overcame a bruised neck and led the 49ers to a difficult victory. Jerry Rice turned a short pass into a 50-yard TD and Tim McDonald returned an interception 52 yards for a score. Young, 21-of-27 for 260 yards and sacked five times, left the game briefly in the first half with a pinched nerve in his neck, and his replacement, Elvis Grbac, had his first pass intercepted for a touchdown by Sean Lumpkin.

The 49ers wrapped up the game when Tyronne Drakeford sacked Jim Everett and stripped him of the ball on fourth-and-10 at the Saints 40 with just over a minute left. Moments earlier, cornerback Eric Davis made a game-saving deflection of a pass for Michael Haynes.

Jim Everett was 23-of-35 for 266 yards and two fourth-quarter TDs that brought the Saints back from a 24-9 deficit. Patriots 17, Browns 14

At Foxboro, Mass., Drew Bledsoe engineered another great escape, going 30-of-47 for 302 yards. Rookie Curtis Martin gained 102 yards and scored from a yard out with 19 seconds

On the winning, 85-yard drive, Bledsoe was 5-of-8 for 72 yards, including a 30-yarder to Sam Gash to the Browns 25. On a fourth-and-1 at the 3, Bledsoe barely made the first down on a

Bengals 24, Colts 21, OT

At Indianapolis, Doug Pelfrey gave Cincinnati its first win in September since 1992, a span of 10 games. Pelfrey's fifth field goal, 2:36 into overtime, rescued the Bengals after the Colts sent the game into OT with a 5-yard TD pass from backup quarterback Jim Harbaugh to Flipper Anderson and a 2-point conversion pass to Floyd Turner with three seconds left.

Broncos 22, Bills 7 At Denver, Shannon Sharpe caught 10 passes for 180 yards as Denver gained 439 yards. John Elway passed for 317 yards, helping set up Jason Elam's five field goals in Mike Shanahan's successful debut as coach.

Rookie Terrell Davis scored Denver's lone touchdown, a 3yard burst.

Dolphins 52, Jets 14

At Miami, the game was tied 14-14 at one point. Then the Dolphins went wild and the Jets turned meek

Dan Marino threw for three TDs and Troy Vincent scored on a 69-yard interception return. Miami's Bernie Parmalee lost two fumbles, but compensated with scoring runs of 24 and 4

Bears 31, Vikings 14

At Chicago, Erik Kramer. back as the starting quarterback, had three TD passes, including throws of 73 and 5 yards to Curtis Conway. But Bears fullback Raymont Harris broke his right collarbone about three minutes into the game. Redskins 27, Cardinals 7

At Washington, Buddy Ryan said his team's effort "bordered on pathetic." The Redskins had plenty to do with that, even though they lost No. 1 quarterback Heath Shuler for 3-4 weeks with a shoulder injury.

Buccaneers 21, Eagles 6 At Philadelphia, Ray Rhodes' coaching debut with the Eagles was a bust, thanks to Trent Dilfer, who threw for two TDs, and Horace Copeland, who had five catches for 155 yards

Chiefs 34, Seahawks 10

At Seattle, Steve Bono was sensational as the Chiefs spoiled the coaching debut of Dennis Erickson. Willie Davis caught TD passes of 60 and 40 yards in the first half and Tamarick Vanover had a 99-yard kickoff return for a score to open the second half.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Monday, Sept. 4, 1995:

This is a special birthday year for you. You feel as if you can get more going than you have in past years. Your creativity is unusually high, and you draw ideas, resources and people to you 1996. If you are single, romance is intense in 1996, and you could meet that special person. If attached, this year could be exciting and romantic. In 1995 you make some strong decisions about your home life. CAPRICORN adores you.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19) *Bring folks together for a fun day. Enjoy the last summer holiday. Catch up on news, and talk about a recent happy event. Develop an acquaintance into something more. Good vibes abound because of your graciousness. Tonight: You're in the middle of the action.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20) Get together with a friend who is at a distance. You are preparing to take a leap in faith. Be direct and more empathetic with a loved one. Brainstorming, chatting and just hanging out opens an unexpected door. Tonight: Talk, talk, talk.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20) One-to-one relating is highlighted. You choose to isolate yourself with one special person or make time for one person at a party. Others notice your caring nature. A relationship could blossom if you are single. Touch base with a family member. Tonight: Enjoy intimate chats.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)Others dominate the scene. Accept invitations, get together with friends and make the most of the day. Celebrating, sharing good feelings and getting together with others are all important. Don't overreact to a family member's inquiry. Tonight: Say yes.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22)*Bring others together for a fun day. A barbecue may be right up your alley. Be willing to put in the extra effort to make an event successful. Others seek you out for company, advice and your sunny ways. Tonight: Flip the burgers!

You might need to discuss a what you want.

money matter and want to find an agreement. Go with the true holiday nature of the day; don't get bogged down in day-to-day details. Love and friendship flourish when you let go. Tonight: Kindle the flames of romance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22) Family members are sometimes difficult, so set down your terms. Relax and enjoy this last summer holiday. Bring friends and family together for a fun barbecue at your place. You are the host with the most. Tonight: Party

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21) A misunderstanding early in the day may throw you off. Consider your choices with care before leaping. Your awareness of and sensitivity to another helps you communicate. Hang out, laugh and enjoy the special people in your life. Tonight: Catch up on news.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 -Dec. 21) *Your natural desire to go overboard surfaces one more time. Use today to socialize and to understand a loved one better. If you are single, remember how much you have to offer. You make solid choices. A family member needs much attention. Tonight: Indulge.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19) You are personalityplus and sail past an obstacle with ease. Be aware of what a cantankerous person in your life is saying. Playfulness and fun mix because of your diplomatic ways. Make the celebration lavish. Tonight: Ask and you will receive.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18) Keep a discreet distance from a loved one who may be grumpy. Humor and understanding will help you settle the issue. You might need some downtime with someone to get centered before the work week. Celebration can be private. Tonight: Be out and about.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - March 20) Be more direct in handling a problem. Your fun-loving side comes out despite a loved one's concerns. Focus on friendship, celebration and get-togethers. You have a lot to be happy VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. about. Join friends to catch up 22)Reach out to someone. on news. Tonight: Zero in on printed a letter from a woman signed "Wiped Out." whose husband was now home after a four-month hospital stay. She said she was annoyed by people who say, "If there's anything I can do for you, please let me know." (She felt that they should have offered specific services.)

Woman's recovery eased by friends

Here's how I handled that situation: After my surgery, I was h o m e anything I can do for y ou, please let Van Buren m know."

thanked them all, recorded their names and telephone numbers in my little black book, and when I needed something, I telephoned one of them.

One neighbor, bless her heart, left her dinner preparation, put her daughter in the car, and picked me up at the emergency room. Someone else had dropped me off on her way to a meeting. Another person drove me to my hair appointment, and I called someone else to pick me up when I was done. A dear lady went to the department store to buy a skid-proof bath mat for me, etc.

Each one was delighted at the chance to help me.

I suggest that "Wiped Out" tell her pastor that she needs volunteer housekeeping help for a while. A church circle might take her on as a project. -- YOUR READER IN OMAHA

DEAR READER: I agree. It's a good idea to speak up if help is needed. Your technique of listing friends who had offered their services, then asking for one favor apiece, was wise; that way each person could help without feeling burdened. And your suggestion that she tell her pastor about her situation is well worth repeating.

DEAR ABBY: I have a beautiful, bright, 18-year-old niece who is starving herself. Last year, "Lila" got it into her head

DEAR ABBY: You recently that she was fat, so she went on a starvation diet and lost a lot of weight. She won't say how much, but she looks like she just came out of a concentration camp.

> A typical day's food for her is one piece of fruit and a couple of fat-free pretzels. She also exercises for two hours every day. Her parents (my brother and his wife) are not doing anything to help her. Her mom cries all the time and says, "I can't deal with this." Her father just makes threats, such as, "If you don't eat, you can't drive the car." Then he ends up giving her the car anyway.

My daughter, who is a year older than Lila, says all the kids at school keep asking why no one is doing anything for this girl. I have tried talking to Lila and her parents, but no one is listening to me.

How can we help her? I just can't stand by and watch my niece starve to death. -- HER AUNT IN PENNSYLVANIA

DEAR AUNT: Your niece has a serious eating disorder called "anorexia nervosa." It's usually found in young women in their teens and early 20s and is characterized by a pathological fear of gaining weight (even though their weight is normal, they perceive themeselves as fat). This leads to faulty eating patterns, malnutrition and excessive weight loss.

Lila needs to see a doctor immediately. For a free packet of information and referral to a therapist in your area, write to the National Association of Anorexia Nervosa (ANAD) at P.O. Box 7, Highland Park, Ill. 60035. Please enclose a long. business-sized, self-addressed, stamped (78 cents) envelope. The hotline is (708) 831-3438. Please write again and let me know how your niece is doing.

For an excellent guide to becoming a better conversationalist and a more attractive person, order "How to Be Popular." Send a businesssized, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby Popularity Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054-0447.
