Concentrated Drive Is Underway For Rural Telephone Applicants

Larger Membership Gives Lower Rate

REA Membership Not Required of Those Wishing Telephones

A concentrated drive is being made this week to secure some two hundred additional applications for rural telephone service under the Rural Telephone Cooperative plan. Mr. Leo Forrest, manager of the Deaf Smith Rural Electric Cooperative, has announced.

Application already has been made for a loan to the West Texas Rural Telephone Corporation, and over 800 applications now are on file, but the additional subscribers are necessary to facilitate the loan and to insure minimum costs to each consumer; the more consumers, the cheaper the rate.

Hollis Campbell, engineer of Lubbock is working with directors of the local organization this week to bring the total applications to the higher figure necessary.

It is likely that the loan necessary will be in excess of $600,000.00 and will be allocated for use in Parmer, Deaf Smith and Castro counties.

Parmer County directors of the organization are Floyd Schlenker of Rhea, and Harold Carpenter of Oklahoma Lane. Interested parties are urged to contact one of these men or the central office at Hereford this week. Mr. Forrest emphasizes the fact that applicants need not be REA consumers or even on an REA line.

Rural Electric and Rural Telephone officials anticipate speedy approval of the loan upon presentation of the increased list of consumer applicants, contingent of course upon availability of the materials needed.

NEW DIRECTORIES

Tentative dates for release of new telephone directories for Friona-Bovina have been set as October 26, according to information received from the General Telephone Directory company, directory compilers for Southwestern Associated Telephone company.

The new directories are scheduled to go to the printers about September 15, and will be considerably larger than the old ones now in use.

Parmer Farmers Swing To Increased Use Of Barnyard Fertilizer

More and more farmers of this area are making full use of barnyard manure as fertilizer for field crops, reports W. G. Kennedy of the county Soil conservation district.

Five tons of the fertilizer is being spread per acre on a quarter section tract belonging to Triplett & Pringle of Bovina.

Others utilizing this fertilizer include C. C. Christian, Carl Schlenker and Billy Sudderth. Row crops now growing on the Sudderth farm plainly demonstrate the effect of the manure, with a distinct line being noticeable between crops on the fertilized and non-fertilized ground.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Norwood Jr. and daughter of Albuquerque arrived Monday evening for a visit in the W. B. Norwood home here.

4th Year Veterans Agriculture Class To Be Organized

All veterans interested in a Fourth Year agriculture class are asked by Harold M. Lillard, coordinator of the Parmer County Vocation school, to meet at the Bovina Veterans' agriculture building Tuesday night, September 5, 8 PM. Necessary enrollment forms will be filled out at that time.

Lillard explains that only those veterans that have completed 3 years in institutional farm training will be eligible for the fourth year program. Veterans who have previously been enrolled as Part VII trainees may enroll as Part VIII according to the latest instructions from the Veterans administration.

Five veterans vocational schools are now operating within Parmer County; two are at Friona, and one each at Bovina, Lazbuddie and Farwell. Instructors are Lillard and Delmo Williams at Friona, Wilfred Quicke, Farwell; Tyson Eubanks, Bovina; and Leon Grissom at Lazbuddie. Phillip Hawk is employed as a fulltime shopman in welding, auto maintenance, etc., and he visits each of the four shops twice monthly.

Ninety veterans are enrolled in the five schools, to bring the enrollment to its peak since inauguration of the training program.

Parmer Group Goes To Plainview Meet Plains Water Users

Public hearings conducted by the State Board of Water Engineers in Plainview Tuesday revealed that the water control situation over Texas may yet be far from settled, and continued and concentrated effort on the part of every farmer is necessary to assure minimum controls and equitable administration.

Though the meeting Tuesday was simply to hear evidence for defining water reservoir boundaries, everyone attending drew the conclusion that definite and early action under the present water control bill was necessary to prevent more rigid state controls.

In the light of this fact, W. L. Edelman, chairman of the Parmer County Water Users Association, urges every farmer to cooperate with the local group in obtaining proper data and presenting a solid front at future hearings.

Needed for record now is the listing of any land that is incapable of furnishing 150,000 gallons of water daily. This will later be used to determine possible smaller reservoir districts. The smaller the district, the more localized the control, Edelman reiterated.

Also, Parmer irrigation farmers are urged to join the local association 100% strong, listing all wells now drilled, in event of any priorities that might arise in future water controls under other laws. Membership fees are $10 per well and should be made to any member of the county water board.

As was explained locally in the Bovina county-wide meeting, the present bill is a measure to prevent control rather than enforce state regulation of water. Judge Burrell Jackson of Beaumont, president of the Texas water users group, emphasized this point and urged full cooperation under the present bill lest other bills be introduced that might actually have harmful regulatory effects. W. O. Fortenberry of Monroe presided at the Plainview meeting as president of the High Plains association.

Attending from Parmer county were Edelman, J. G. McFarland, Roy Daniel of Lazbuddie, Buddy Jones and County Agent Joe Jones of Farwell and Arlen Hartzog of Oklahoma Lane.

Also he will serve on the Special Arrangement and Entertainment committee one of the most important assignments of the conference, inasmuch as this group will form the nucleus of the "Texas Welcome" arrangements.

Bleacher Construction To Begin Immediately Special Board Meeting Also Approves New Furnishings For Eight Schoolrooms

Board of Equalization Raises Certain Property Valuations Wednesday

Football fans will be able to observe all home football games in Friona from new 1,000 seating capacity bleachers to be erected immediately, finished in time for the first home game, Supt. Caffey announced today.

This action came from a special school board meeting called yesterday.

It was pointed out that the funds for the bleachers was to be furnished by the school district, but was in the form of a loan to be repaid by the local athletic association. The association will probably sell season tickets to help meet this expense, and the bleachers absolutely will not cost the taxpayer one penny, the board emphasized.

Contract was let to Rogers Construction Company of Plainview for a sum of $6,000.00 which will include construction of modern steel and wood seating, set in concrete. Although the new construction will be on the east side of the football field, the hazardous old bleachers now on the west side will be removed at once.

Public Urged to Attend Discussion Of Area-Wide Problems and Re-Activation Of Chamber of Commerce-Agriculture

More Burglaries But Few Clues!

No new developments have been reported in the recent series of burglaries at Friona and Bovina.

Soon after the Bovina break-ins, Sheriff Lovelace reported recovery of all the checks taken from the Bovina Implement Company; they had been strewn along the highway west of Bovina.

Friday night the Parmer County Implement Company here was entered through a back door, the safe was broken into and some $87.75 taken in cash. The City Drug was also entered but only about $5.00 taken there.

Sunday night the lock was broken on one of the storage tanks of gasoline at the Consumers in Friona and an undetermined amount of fuel was taken.

Sheriff Lovelace this week is tracking down all clues, including questioning some men nabbed on the north plains for similar break-ins.

Witnesses reported that Jennings was in a sharp turn, preparatory to making his first dusting run on the John Stine farm, six miles northwest of Sudan, when his plane suddenly plowed into the ground.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, Phillip and Lenroe, his mother of Duncan, Okla., two brothers, and three sisters.

Funeral services were conducted by an uncle, Rev. Ernest Jennings of Springfield, Mo., and were held in the First Methodist church of Muleshoe Tuesday afternoon.

Out-of-Town Speakers Will Be Present Here

Farmers, Businessmen, clerks, and all interested citizens of the Friona territory are urged to attend a meeting in Friona Tuesday night to thresh out the feasibility, advantages, problems, etc. of taking immediate action to re-activate the chamber of commerce and agricultural organization here.

Out-of-town speakers and business men will be present to enter into the discussions, probably answering from experience many of the questions to be raised, it has been announced.

C. O. Green, Southwestern Public Service manager at Clovis will lead in a discussion and fact-finding period, speaking from his experiences in a position of leadership with the Clovis organization.

In connection with assisting Friona in any civic re-organization, Fred Brookshier Clovis C. of C. manager, and Leon Cantrell, Clovis businessman, were in Friona Tuesday talking with a number of the local businessmen, pledging assistance in any manner.

W. L. Edelman has called Tuesday night's meeting at the Methodist church annex, 8 PM, and urges everyone to be present. Special invitations are extended outlying communities and farmers interested in working with one another for community betterment.

A number of projects concerning both Friona and rural areas are demanding immediate attention, and it is hoped that out of this meeting will come some concrete plans of action.

The Law & You

By Robt. (Bob) Kirk

County Attorney, Lamb County, Texas

Do you know that marble or pinball machines are a violation of the law, if they give a free game?

While there is a wide difference of opinion among members of the public as a whole, as to the legality and propriety of these machines the law itself is quite clear.

If the machine is operated and used strictly for amusement, it is legal to operate one. However, merely placing a stick-r "This machine for amusement only" on the machine does not end the operator's responsibility. In the first place, if the machine gives anything of value as a result of skillful manipulation of the machine, it is used for gambling purposes and subject to the laws governing such devices. Even the giving of a free game has been held such a thing of value as to make the machine subject to confiscation as a gambling device. Further, even if the machine or operator give nothing of value but those who play the machine bet upon the results of their operation of the same, and the operator of the machine knows of this fact and permits it to be done, then he is subject to punishment and the machine subject to confiscation.

For further information on this subject see your local attorney.

Rites Solemnized McLellan - Rector

Nuptial vows for Miss Betty Louise McLellan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. McLellan of Friona, and Lloyd Rector, son of Mr. and Mrs. Foister Rector, also of Friona, were read at 6:30 Saturday afternoon, August 26, in the Friona Methodist church.

Rev. James E. Tidwell, pastor of the church, performed the lovely double-ring ceremony in the presence of more than one hundred relatives and friends. Decorations featured banks of greenery, with large bouquets of yellow asters and pale lemon-yellow gladioli being arranged. Miss Lunell McFarland served as maid of honor, wearing a green formal, while Miss Jo Hannah Shouster, Tulla, and Miss Sue Edmonds, Happy, were the bridesmaids, dressed identically in yellow and green organdy over taffeta. All three carried bouquets of yellow asters with long green maline streamers.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss McLellan wore a formal gown of white nylon with an appliqued border while her wrist-length mitts were of the same material. The dress was fashioned with a full skirt, which was emphasized by hoops in the net slip.

Her veil of imported illusion fell to her waist from a head-dress of satin embroidered with seed pearls, and she carried a white Bible on which lay a bouquet of white rosebuds, with long white satin streamers.

Mrs. McLellan, mother of the bride, was attired in a street-length dress of cocoa crepe with navy accessories and wore a gardenia corsage, while Mrs. Rector, mother of the groom, wore pink taffeta with white accessories and also had a gardenia corsage.

Best man was Lee Cranfill, and ushers were Floyd Rector, brother of the groom, Kenneth McLellan, and Kenneth and Wayne Bainum.

The bride is a graduate of the Friona school and attended West Texas State college at Canyon the past year. Mrs. Rector also is a graduate of Friona, since finishing high school has been engaged in farming and raising dairy animals. After a honeymoon to New Mexico, the couple will be at home on the Rector farm near Friona.

Action, Pro or Con, Is urged on Re-Activation of Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture; Attendance At Tuesday Meeting Is Important to Rural and City Citizens Alike; Will You Be Present?

Will you be there Tuesday night? I am referring to the public meeting called to bring some action on the lagging re-activation of the chamber of commerce and agriculture.

Whatever your view, come out to the meeting and let's either get the organization operating or call it "quits." And if you just don't think the effort to attend that one meeting worthwhile, how about dropping this paper a letter, we'd like to print some pros and cons from YOU.

A neighboring town gets along very well with the slogan "The Town WITHOUT a Toothache," but I wonder how long Friona might profit from the name of "A Town WITHOUT, Period;" a town without a chamber of commerce and agriculture, and without this and that.

I am not being antagonistic; I sincerely believe every one of us as interested citizens actually see the need of some form of concentrated effort on all our parts to effect a better, more thriving, more enjoyable community for our living, playing and trading. But you and I just don't exert the effort to push a solution. Let's try it this once. Not only are there civic problems that need to be met, there are road projects, trade problems, and any number of items that need attention.

We have editorialized and commented elsewhere in the Star from time to time on need of some organization of this type. We won't say much in this issue; but we'll be at Tuesday night's meeting, and we hope to see you there.

Fair Time Near; You and I Probably Will Be Called on For Help; We're Ready!

It is not long until the Farmer County Fair . . . just two weeks in fact.

We happen to know that the directors have spent some long hours and have worked far into the night to provide a well-planned fair. Everything has been done to encourage and reward exhibitors in the many different classes and divisions of the show.

But there is much work yet to be done, whether you are an exhibitor or a bystander. Many of you will be called upon for use of your talents in staging a good show. Others will be asked for money contributions. I believe all of us will assist when called upon.

New features of the fair include some good entertainment in the form of greased pig chases, boxing matches, fiddlers' contest and of course there is the New 1950 Ford that someone will get, absolutely FREE. Ask some of the American Legion boys about this car. You need the car; they need money to retire the debt on the Legion hall here. I imagine you can get together on the deal.

County fairs likely have as much influence on the farm boys and girls of our country as any other institution touching the fruits of their farm labors; their care of that calf, or the raising of that pen of poultry. Yes, the fair is quite an event for them, and we all should encourage such enterprise and competition. I'm betting that many a successful cattleman or poultryman can trace the beginning of his success and the beginning of his profits right back to some county fair or contest he won as a boy.

DO YOU REMEMBER

From the Files of The Star

10 YEARS AGO

The Friona Chiefs lost to the Amarillo Blues, in a report written under the name of "Diamond Dust" by Ed White. Williams, Lewis, Renner and P. Brookfield were listed as the hitting stars of the game for Friona. Wright pitched the last two innings, not allowing a Blue on base, and striking out four. All the children of Mayor and Mrs. Floyd Reeve visited in their parents home before leaving to teach; Hadley at Perryton, Miss Mary Reeve at Pampa, and Charles at Tulia. Mrs. Olive Hinds opened a Music Studio on north Main street.

20 YEARS AGO

Burglars entered the City Drug store through a window and cleaned out J. R. Roden's stock of narcotics and medicinal spirits.

25 YEARS AGO

F. N. Welch had 850 acres ready for wheat sowing, the largest acreage reported in Friona territory. Mr. White editorialized on the need for more residences in Friona.

Texas Panhandle & Gulf railroad stock was being subscribed with reported enthusiasm. A picture show, Wild Bill Hickok, was to show immediately after the Chatauqua program Saturday night.

One hundred and eighty six acres of land within two miles of Friona was advertised at $25 per acre by M. A. Crum. Santa Fe Grain advertised that "We want to put your Betsy on the Milky Way" (by selling some new dairy feeds). Jones Barber and Tailor shop advertised the three S's—Suits, Shave, Shingle. O. E. Stevick advertised the 4 P's! Pebbledash, Plaster, Paper or Paint.

Costly Government? It's Easy To See

From the Liberty Vindicator
It doesn't take a certified public accountant to figure why it costs so much to run our local, State and national governments. Any average citizen, without a pencil or a notebook can do it. All he needs to do to get the correct answer is to start a chain of thoughts something like this

A Liberty citizen who pays $20 in city taxes each year appears before the City Council to request and demand that a street light be put on his isolated corner the sewer line be extended to his house at a cost of $250, and the street in front of his home be kept in excellent condition even if the maintainr (at a cost of several dollars an hour) must neglect thickly populated areas in order to serve his personal needs.

A Dayton citizen goes before the school board to suggest that Johnny, that the school bus add more playground equipment be added for the sake of his little expensive heaters and running ice water, and that a course for the perpetuation of the love-life of aphids be added to the high school curriculum

A Cleveland citizen reminds the Commissioner's Court of Liberty County that it would be mighty easy to add air-conditioning in the courthouse, build a new jail and pour a paved road to every man's front door.

A Beaumont citizen hies himself to Austin to request that the Legislature appropriate hundreds of thousands of dollars for the enlargement of Lamar College. (The same citizen in the next issue of The Beaumont Enterprise, writes a scathing "Letter to the Editor" about the scandalous cost of maintaining our State government!)

A Texas Congressman begs, politics, promises, tradesout, speech-makes and pussy-foots in order to get a bill through the House that will provide appropriations for wading pools, Turkish baths and deepfreeze units for every home-owner in his district. (And the same Congressman, the next day, almost raises the capitol roof with a searing speech attacking our wasteful, bureaucratic, short-sighted, election-minded administration)

Maybe this average citizen has been reading enough to know that, despite all the election promises, his State government and his national government are spending far more during 1950 than they are collecting—and that 1951, according to the present forecasts, promises to be even easier pickings for the tax eaters. (The tax eaters even as you and me).

Maybe this citizen noted that out of the 15 major divisions of our government, only 12 are spending less this year than they spent in 1949—and that State expenses during July were $469,000 more than State revenues

Maybe this citizen believes the man who spoke these wise words struck at the heart of what is the matter with our democratic system of government:

"We strongly favor the perpetuation of any special-privileges which we personally enjoy."

Dr. Paul Spring was slightly injured last week as his car overturned on mountain roads near Delta N. M. Suffering superficial cuts about his face and arms, he received treatment at a Las Vegas hospital, and was brought home last weekend by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spring.

Profits Still Are Essential Balanced National Economy

From The Livestock Reporter
A few words about profits. When you listen to some people attack profits you almost feel you are committing a crime when you strive hard to earn a dollar. Where else can "money come from? Those of us who depend on profits for existence are constantly reminded of the fact that the American business system is not a profit system. It is a profit and loss system where we always face a risk of losing money, and when we do it is bad for the people as a whole as it is for us individually.

Without money or profits, industry is helpless to increase productivity, unable to give employment, and helpless in developing new ideas. On the other hand:

Profits create jobs.
Profits provide a yardstick of efficiency.
Profits provide an essential incentive.
Profits provide a guide by which we can determine which of our products are wanted most by consumers.
Profits provide a balance that tends to compensate for the risk always present when capital is invested in a business enterprise.
Profits provide a return for the use of investors' money.
Profits provide consumers with the benefit derived from constant improvements. In our competitive economy businessmen strive to improve methods as a means of lowering costs. These cost savings soon are passed on to the consumer in the form of improved products and lower prices.

The same exaction of time to produce another crop of "retreads" in the present emergency may have occurred among the World War II veterans called for military service again. Five years of civilian life can make a physical wreck of a World War II airman Maj. Gen. Earl S. Hoag, in charge of recalling Air Force reservists, declared on a recent visit to Arlington State college. This obsolescence would apply particularly to the veteran who underwent combat and prolonged service on the fighting fronts in the last war. Hence, it would be unsafe to rely upon the 15 million exeservice men of World War II as an easily available source of trained manpower for this emergency.

While the World War II "retreads" are available, time has taken its toll, and a 35-year-old veteran may not be as valuable to the service as a 22-year-old, even allowing for the difference in experience.

Whether they like it or not, war is still essentially a young man's endeavor, and it will fall upon the younger ones to supply the manpower for this one.

Brite - Martinez Vows Read In Bovina Church

St. Anne's church at Bovina was the scene of the wedding of Miss Mary Rose Brite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Brite, of Bovina, and Alex Martinez of Amarillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Martinez of Higgins, Texas.

The double ring ceremony was read by Father Nathaniel Madden of Hereford, at 9 o'clock, Saturday morning, August 26, at Bovina.

The altar was decorated with tall vases of white gladiolas and pink and blue asters. The white tapers on gold candelabras softly glowed on the main altar. Wedding selections were played by Miss Ester Armiji of Clovis. She also played accompaniment for Mrs. Eloy Marion of Clovis who sang throughout the ceremony.

Given away in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional bridal gown of white satin featuring a full hooped skirt with a fitted bodice which had a sheer yoke trimmed in lace. Her finger-tip veil of bridal illusion trimmed with matching lace was held in place by a beaded coronet. She carried a bouquet of white gladiolas and white satin ribbon and silver rosary belonging to her mother.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. George Cervantez who wore a dress of lime color, full length and carried a bouquet of salmon color gladiolas.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. R. L. Cervantez of Portales, N. M., and Matelda Brita of Bovina, sisters of the bride, and Josephine Martinez of Higgins, sister of the groom.

All wore yellow sheer gowns, and carried bouquets of yellow and pink asters. Their head dresses were white veil turbans with yellow ribbons.

Best man was George Cervantez of Bovina. Ushers were R. L. Crvantez of Portales, N. M., Gene Brito of Bovina, and Manuel Martinez of Higgins.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Brito in Bovina where the couple cut the first piece from the three tier cake. Miss Lola Martinez of Friona and Lucy Brite, sister of the bride had charge of serving the cake and punch to the many

Blanket Deferments Are Out For Reservists

Physical disqualification is the only basis for exemption from active military service of members of the Army Organized Reserve Corps when called to active duty in time of national emergency, Col. Oscar B. Abbott, chief of the Texas Military district, stated this week.

However, delays may be authorized for compassionate or occupational reasons when applied for by the individual or, in case of occupational reasons, by the employer of the reservist.

Deferments or delays for compassionate reasons, may be authorized by the Texas Military headquarters up to a maximum of three months. Requests for deferments for a longer time must be forwarded on to higher authorities for final decision, Colonel Abbott explained.

When requested in writing by his employer, a reservist will receive consideration for deferment if his civilian occupation or activity is critically necessary to the maintenance of national health, safety or interest.

However, recall to active duty of a reservist engaged in a critical civilian occupation will not be delayed:

(1) If there is need for him in a military assignment which will make full use of critical civilian skill.

(2) Unless the firm or agency by which employed is principally engaged in production of items or services obviously essential to national health, safety or interest.

(3) Unless written request from pursuit of the reservist outweighs the need of the armed forces for his services.

(4) Unless written request from the employer for delay to active duty of the reservist is submitted when the reservist is informed that he is to be ordered to extended active duty.

The initial delay if granted to reservists with critical skills and not considered immediately replaceable in the industry will not exceed a period of six months. An extension of the delay may be authorized for a like period but will be subject to a more rigid application of the above requirements.

In addition to delays that may be granted for compassionate

Each request submitted by reservists or their employers for deferment from extended active duty will be considered on an individual basis—there will be no blanket deferments, Colonel Abbott declared.

Vacation Bible School Ends at Congregational Church; Program Given

A comfortably filled church greeted the youngsters of the Congregational Daily Vacation Bible school for their "demonstration" service held Sunday night.

The program of the primary department was in charge of Mrs. Otho Whitefield and that of the upper grades in charge of the pastor, Rev. George E. Meyer. The program consisted of several choral numbers, readings and other exercises and congregational singing.

The youngsters were presented certificates of merit. The attendance averaged a bit more than 50 for each session.

Work of the handicraft department of the school was in display. It consisted of numerous articles of wood, tin, clay and paper.

The pastor-director of the school presented the faculty, thanking them for very fine work. In addition to Mrs. Whitefield working in the primary department were Mrs. Jane Ann Morris, Miss Florence Dean and Miss Charlene Hall. Those of the upper grades' faculty in addition to the pastor were Miss Doris Ann Lange, Mrs. George Treider and Mrs. Glen Reeve with Mary Sissell assisting.

The pastor announced his sermon for the morning worship hour, 11 a. m. September 3 as "The Eternal Market." He stated that the Rev. Mrs. Meyer will be the minister of the service of September 10 and that her sermon will be "The Task of the Church."

Old-Age, Survivors Insurance Payments Substantially Raised

Here is what happened to old-age and survivors insurance in the Texas Panhandle area when President Truman signed the 1950 amendments to the Social Security act.

All monthly insurance checks now being paid to the 2589 social security beneficiaries in the 26 counties administered by the Amarillo field office will be raised substantially. This raise will be in the October checks, which are for the month of September, according to John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo office. The new amounts will be computed by the Social Security administration, automatically, and no action is necessary on the part of persons already receiving checks to obtain the increase.

Sanderson stated that under the old terms of the Social Security act the 2589 beneficiaries in the Panhandle area would have received about $45,000 for the month of September. Under the new increases, however, total payments for September are estimated to be about $84,000, or an immediate increase of some $39,000 monthly in insurance benefits in this area.

NO PICNIC HERE . . . This action at Union Square in New York City was unscheduled—at least the headbreaking and scratching portion of the activity. It was entered on the agenda when a "peace in Korea" meeting turned into a riot which required almost a regiment of cops to quell. Here, a demonstrator hits the ground as a policeman mixes with others in his attempt to disperse the rioters. The sign in the store window in the background ironically proclaims: "It's a Picnic."

DRAMATIC RESCUE . . . Volunteer firemen in Pittsburgh effect a dramatic rescue as they assist Mrs. Harry Schiefelbein, 57, to safety from a trolley car stalled in Midvale, on the outskirts of Pittsburgh by high waters resulting from recent torrential rains. The car, belonging to an unnamed motorist, was also stalled by the rush of the waters. The flooded street was washed by another of the flash floods that have been so frequent in all parts of the nation this spring and summer.

BAIL JUMPER AND TWO RENEGADES . . . Gerhard Eisler, bail-jumping fugitive from justice in the United States and propaganda boss for east German Communists, smirks from between a British corporal, Keith Waller (left), and a United States private, Robert Natzkaku, at a press conference in Berlin where the western soldiers told of their desertion to seek asylum in eastern Germany. U. S. authorities said the American went AWOL while waiting for shipment to the U.S. and discharge from the army as undesirable following three disciplinary court martials this year.

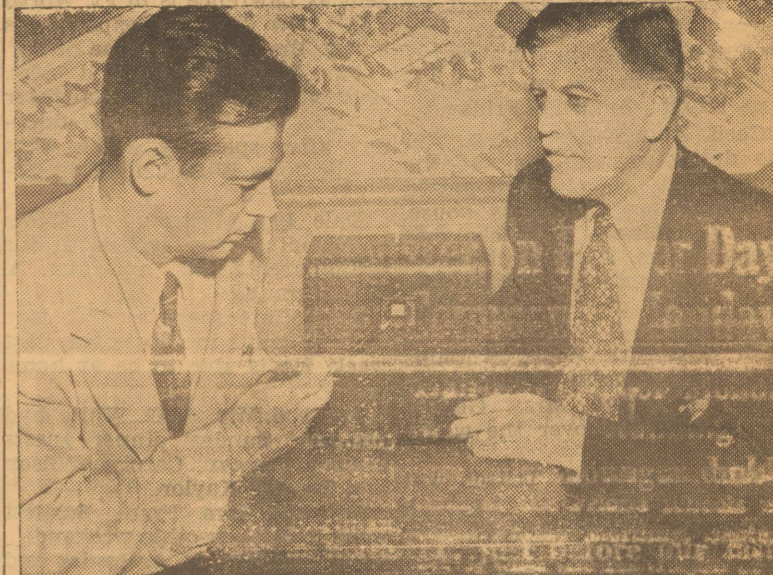

FAREWELL SCENE . . . Many Americans stationed in Japan set sail for the short run across Tsushima straits from Fukuoka to join fighting in Korea. The Japanese look upon the G.I.'s as friends rather than occupation troops and wish the warriors well. A group of women are shown weeping and waving farewell as a group of U.S. troops leave Japan to join their fellow warriors in the fight for Korea.

HONOR FATHER . . . The five sons of Harvey S. Firestone observe a statue of their father they unveiled in the dedication of an impressive memorial to the founder of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company on its 50th anniversary recently at Akron, Ohio. Located on 25 acres of trees and lawn surrounding the Firestone research building, the statue overlooks the mile-long array of plants which are the nucleus of the industrial organization Firestone founded in 1900.

ROMAN SIGHTSEERS . . . Screen star Elizabeth Taylor and Edward Bigelow, friend of her husband, Conrad Hilton, Jr., visit the Coliseum during a brief stay of the newlywed Hiltons in Rome. From Rome the Hiltons journeyed to the canal city of Venice. They were married earlier in the summer and have been traveling leisurely in Europe.

TICKER FLICKER . . . Dr. Andrew C. Ivy (right) and Dr. L. R. Krasno, University of Illinois, developers of the "flicker photometer," new scientific instrument which enables the eye a window to the heart, look over the new device. It is expected to aid the nation's physicians to save lives of potential heart attack victims by simplifying early detection of a tendency toward development of heart diseases. The instrument is a result of 10 years' research by the doctors.

SCREEN STAR CONFERS . . . Movie actress Colleen Townsend and Paul F. Heard, executive secretary of the Protestant film commission, discuss script of "Again Pioneers," in which Miss Townsend will star. Looking on at left is Oren W. Evans, west coast director of the commission. The film has as its subject migrant workers and their problems. Miss Townsend recently abandoned her position as a star in Hollywood with a major movie company to take up religious work.

RETREAT TACTICS . . . A guard of the South Korean army is shown standing at the south end of a bridge, vital to the defense of South Korea, with several packages of dynamite lying about on the ground near his feet.

FORMAL FAREWELL IN FORMOSA . . . Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who visited Taiwan, Formosa, recently and was the house guest of Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, kisses the madame's hand in a farewell at Taipei airfield. Subject of talks between MacArthur and Chiang have been kept secret, but MacArthur has announced that they in no way have altered the policy of the U.S. toward Formosa and the Chinese Nationalist Government.

Ben Guill Reports

Guill Points Out Childishness, Errors, Consistent Bungling By Louis Johnson

I think the time has come when the people of America should point the finger of wrath at Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson. It is my belief -- and the belief of the majority of the Members of Congress on both sides of the House -- that national unity and confidence, so necessary in an all-out war effort, cannot be achieved so long as Louis Johnson remains the Secretary of Defense.

It is common talk that Louis Johnson and Dean Acheson are not personally friendly and the strife between the Department of Defense and the Department of State has reached epic proportions. However, there is this difference: Secretary of State Acheson has issued orders to everyone under his leadership that no derogatory word is to be uttered against the Department of Defense, while it is very apparent that orders within the Department of Defense are that every official and every policy of the State Department is to be knifed at sight. The Department of Defense will not even keep the Department of State informed as to its plans and activities. It has not placed the State Department on its "confidential list".

This childishness is almost criminal in a time of national danger such as we have today. How can the State Department possibly plan an intelligent foreign policy if it does not know how the military will or will not be able to carry those policies out. Any foreign policy today must be integrated with a military program or else it isn't worth the paper it's written on. The record of Secretary Johnson in the face of the gathering clouds of war has been one of the most bungling and ineffective records ever compiled by a cabinet member. I have done a little research on Secretary Johnson's public pronouncements since January 1, 1950. Here they are:

January 12, 1950
Secretary Johnson told the House Appropriations Committee said that a $13 billion military budget was "adequate to defend this nation in any situation that may arise in the next two years." (The first "police action" in Korea revealed that this figure was ridiculously inadequate.)

January 30, 1950
Secretary Johnson told the president that the possibility of war had been greatly reduced.

February 3, 1950
In a speech at the University of Virginia, Secretary Johnson said: "Joe Stalin will know that if he starts something at 4 a. m., the fighting power of the United States will be on the job at 5 a. m." (He didn't say what year they would be ready.)

March 3, 1950
Secretary Johnson said the U. S. defense situation is more encouraging than at any time since V-J Day.

March 27, 1950
Secretary Johnson said: "I think the nation's defenses are sufficient unto the needs of the moment".

April 17, 1950
Secretary Johnson said: "We know Russia does not plan to conquer the U. S. by force or war. There is complete agreement in the Defense Department as to what the danger is and what we need to meet that danger."

April 30, 1950
Secretary Johnson again: "The United States is in a strong position to take appropriate action in any part of the world where the cause of peace is involved."

May 11, 1950
Secretary Johnson told the Kiwanis International Convention: "War is not on the horizon".

June 5, 1950
Secretary Johnson told Congress that the foreign arms aid program would grow smaller, not larger, in years to come.

June 6, 1950
(Three weeks before the Korean War) Secretary Johnson in a speech to the Pennsylvania Military College: "From a military standpoint we can successfully meet every basic requirement. We present a solid phalanx of strength that can deter designs of aggression. Once an enemy becomes convinced he cannot beat us, he will hesitate to start a war."

June 12, 1950
(Two weeks before the Korean War) Secretary Johnson said: "In 1939, when I was Assistant Secretary of War, we had a heap of catching up to do -- had to do a lot of bluffing before we got going. Next time, if war comes, we will not cry about hindsight. WE NEVER, NEVER WILL HAVE ANOTHER PEARL HARBOR. I CAN TELL YOU THAT, AGAINST ALL THE DOUBTS AND FEARS THAT HAVE AT TIMES BEEN SHRIEKED ABOUT, WE ARE NOT FEARFUL."

It seems impossible that a man in a responsible position could be so consistently wrong and so tragically misinformed. Despite all that he said during the six months prior to the war, it still remains true that our airplane production on Korea day was less than one-third of what it was on Pearl Harbor Day. It still remains true that we had only six large (General Pershing) tanks in Japan when the Communists struck, and that 30 per cent of our inadequate, light tanks were in the repair shops. And despite all the boasts Secretary Johnson has made, we had only four divisions in the Far East and they were only at 60 per cent battle strength. The only Marines we had in Japan were a handful performing guard duty in front of embassies. Secretary Johnson is personally responsible for cutting the Marine Corps down to 75,000 men.

In view of this shameful record, it is incredible that President Truman should insist that Secretary Johnson be retained in office. He is guilty of misleading the American people and the Congress of the United States into a tragic and unwarranted feeling of security and confidence which has cost the lives of hundreds of American boys in the rice paddies of Korea.

Irrigation Farmers Invited to Clovis For Demonstration

There will be an irrigation demonstration Saturday afternoon September 2 at 10 o'clock on the farm of J. A. Wilhite, three miles north and one mile west of Clovis on highway 18 (Grady Hiway).

The demonstration is being jointly sponsored by the New Mexico extension service, Soil Conservation service, and equipment manufacturers and dealers; and will be conducted by Charles S. Taylor, extension agriculture engineer from the State college and Ivan D. Woods, extension SCS irrigation specialist from Denver, Colo.

The demonstration is to be primarily of water application and control devices, but such topics as land leveling, slope, desirable heads and length of runs, soil texture and depths, and irrigation frequencies will be touched upon by local SCS men. Opportunities will be given for discussion and the answering of questions.

Successful tests have been made with sex hormones for interrupting broodiness in hens and for starting lactation in heifers and cows.
