Early voting for general election to begin Wednesday morning Hours for voting will be from 8 a.m.

By JOHN H. WALKER

Managing Editor

Early voting for the Nov. 5 General Election gets under way at 8 a.m. Wedensday at the Howard County

There are 17,897 voters on the books in Howard County, a number estimated to be about 1,200 high because federal election laws no longer allow for the purging of expired voter registrations.

Early voting continues through Friday, Nov. 1. The last day a ballot may be mailed out by the county clerk's office is Tuesday, Oct. 29.

until 5 p.m. daily in the main courthouse. In addition, the clerk's office will be open on Saturday, Oct. 26 from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. for early voting. This year, as in years past, mobile voting booths will be taken to both Canterbury North and Canterbury South Retirement Centers. Voting will be conducted at North from 9-11 a.m. next Tuesday and at South from 9-11 a.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 23.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. on election day.

There are only three Howard County races that are contested sheriff, county commissioner and constable.

In the sheriff's race, Republican W.B. ticular attention to in Howard County "Bill" Jennings, a former Department of Public Safety trooper, faces current Howard County Deputy Sheriff Barney Edens. The two are seeking the post being vacated by long-time sheriff A.N. Standard, who did not seek re-election.

In the race for the Precinct 3 Commissioner's seat, long-time incumbent W.B. "Bill" Crooker, a Republican, is being challenged by former county engineer Bill Mims, a Democrat.

Key races voters will be paying par-include the Texas District 70 House seat currently held by David Counts (D-Knox City). Counts is being challenged by Republican Big Spring businessman Scott McLaughlin.

Also being watched is the race for the 17th Congressional District seat currently held by Charles Stenholm (D-Stamford). Stenholm is being challenged by San Angelo rancher/dentist Rudy Izzard, also a Republican.

Another regional race of interest is the special election to fill the 28th Texas Senate district seat left vacant when John Montford resigned to become the first chancellor of the Texas Tech University system.

A total of seven candidates - four Republicans and three Democrats are seeking the seat, Republicans in the race are Dick Bowen from El Paso, state representative Robert Duncan of Lubbock, state board of education member Monte Hasie of Lubbock and Republican National Committeeman Tim Lambert, also of Lubbock.

Democrats in the race are former state rep Gary Watkins of Odessa, former Lubbock mayor David Langston and former Montford aide Lorenzo

Meningitis cases noted in Coahoma

By STEVE REAGAN

COAHOMA Coahoma Independent School District officials confirmed today that two cases of viral meningitis have been reported at the district's kindergarten center.

The latest case of the infectious disease — which causes swelling in the meninges area of the brain and produces fever, nausea and stiffness - was confirmed Saturday.

Coahoma superintendent L.D. Monroe said the children are apparently fine now, with one planning to return to class Wednesday.

District officials have been busy notifying parents of the situation. A district spokesman said that operations were returned to normal after these steps were taken.

"We've been communicating parents what they're sup posed to watch for," Monroe said. "Also, we've been taking extra sanitary measures ... Actually, you treat this much like you would any other virus." A nurse at the elementary school said no special precautions were needed as far as cleaning of facilities is concerned. But officials are stressing to children the neccesity of washing hands and not sharing utensils.

There are two forms of meningitis: viral and bacterial. The viral variety of the disease is transmitted through close contact very common among kindergarten-age children. A nurse at Malone & Hogan Clinic, who asked not to be identified, said the virus can be transmitted if the victim is "coughed on, spit on or sneezed on." Sharing food or utensils also can lead to transmittal of the disease, she said.

Once the virus is transmitted, it has a quick incubation period, usually within a few days.

"The child becomes very ill, very fast," the nurse said. "They can suffer from extremely high temperature, severe headaches a helping hand.

The Howard County Commissioners Court decided Monday to give a new business

Commissioners approved a five-year, 50 percent tax abatement for Fiber Composite Co. Inc. during their regular meeting Monday at the county courthouse.

The abatement is valued at $1,486 a year, Commissioner William Crooker said. The business, located at 100 Runnels St., is valued at $625,969.

In return for the abatement, Fiber Composite, has agreed to create at least 10 new jobs a year during the course of the agreement, Crooker said.

The abatement must be agreed upon by all taxing entities affected, including the city of Big Spring and the Big Spring Independent School District and Howard College.

Big Spring ISD would be the entity most affected by the abatement, losing $8,901 off its tax rolls. Howard College is least affected, dropping only $625 off its rolls. The City of Big Spring will drop about $2,034 from its tax rolls for the next five years as a result of the abatement.

Forsan trustees leaving cafeteria price issue alone

By STEVE REAGAN

Staff Writer

The idea of rais-FORSAN ing school cafeteria prices at Forsan ISD schools seems to be losing steam — for now School trustees decided during their Monday night meeting to hold off on any price increase until the spring semester at the earliest. It now appears that the board will not take up the matter again until the end of the school year.

Forsan lost $81,000 in cafeteria shortfalls last school year, and Superintendent George White told trustees that the cafeterias are already operating under a bigger deficit this year than he anticipated.

The cafeteria system received far fewer commodities last month than usual, and that was the major cause of the shortfall. White said.

Despite the deficit, White who has always expressed reluctance in raising school meal prices - said an immediate price hike wouldn't neccesarily be the solution.

"I don't think it would cut into the deficit all that much," White said. "When you've got $81,000 in losses, I don't think an extra quarter would make that much difference."

Forsan currently charges elementary students 50 cents for breakfast and 75 cents for lunch. Secondary students pay 50 cents for breakfast and $1 for lunch. Those rates are the lowest among Howard County public schools.

Board secretary 'Cynthia Breyman raised the issue of increasing meal prices in August, but she's become convinced that cafeteria personnel are doing their best to contain costs. As a result, Breyman is putting the brakes at least temporarily on talks of a price hike.

"This is something that will not die," Breyman said. "We have to find other schools that have solved this problem and see if (their solutions) would work here ... I'm not backing off (a price hike), but I'm happier with the fact that they're doing the best they can at the cafeteria. I don't think we should go up in prices right now.

Counts' committee to hear water concerns at meeting

HERALD Staff Report

The Texas House Committee on Natural Resources will meet in Abilene Thursday to discuss water issues facing Texas and to receive testimony from concerned local citizens.

District 70 State Rep. David Counts, chairman of the committee, called the public hearing because of recent public concerns in the area and what those concerns mean for West Texas and Texas as a whole.

The hearing will begin at 10 a.m. in the multipurpose room of the Johnson Building on the campus of Hardin-Simmons University. The committee will be briefed by representatives of the Texas Water Development Board (the state's water planning and financial assistance agency) and the Texas Natural Resources Conservation Commission (the state's water rights and water quality regulatory agency) on the ongoing efforts to revise the State Water Plan and on identified water policy

"The drought has brought water issues to the forefront of the public's eye. We are anticipating that water will be a hot issue in the upcoming legislative session, and we want to get as much input from citizens as possible before the January session

Since the citizens of Big Spring approved a referendum in May 1990 establishing that a one-half cent sales tax be used to create an economic development board, that effort has been a priority in the revitalization of Big Spring and Howard County. Moore Development For Big Spring Inc. was born as a result of the 1990 referendum, was issued a certificate of incorporation in September 1990 and began operations on Oct. 1, 1990. In its six years of existence, Moore Development, according to a summary and analysis of it operations, has retained or helped create 893 jobs in Big Spring and has issued incentives totaling $5,330,270 to some 20 businesses in Big Spring. The average annual payroll of these businesses, according to Moore Development's estimate that each job retained or created carries an annual salary of assumes that 40 percent of this payroll is retained in the Big Spring community, meaning since its inception, Moore Development has helped retain an additional $7,144,000 to the Big Spring economy.

$20,000, is $17,860,000. Moore Development also

It is also estimated that the payroll will turn over four times in the Big Spring commu-nity, meaning $28,576,000 has flowed through the local economy in the last six years as a result of economic development efforts. The overall economic impact of these efforts during a 10-year period is estimated to be

The goals for Development for 1996-97, as outlined at its recent annual meeting, include increasing employment in Big Spring by 130 new jobs and the ad valorem tax base by $4 million; and to continue the accomplishment of three top priority elements (community image improvement program, development of a local public relations campaign and development of relations with transportation offibegins," Counts stated. "Folks out in West Texas often find it difficult, if not possible, to spend an entire day traveling to Austin to voice their concerns to their state representatives, so we're bringing government out to the people.

The Committee on Natural Resources is the committee which is primarily responsible for handling water related matters and has jurisdiction over state agencies that regulate the state's water resources. The committee is expected to be a primary battle ground for water legislation in January

Texas is at a historical crossroads with regard to water, according to Counts.

"The era of having enough new water supply development to readily meet an area's needs is mostly past," Counts stated. "Today, the scarcity and competition for water, the high costs of new supplies, local concerns about transferring water from one basin to another, heightened environmental concerns, and a projected doubling of the Texas population in the next 50 years indicate that we need to make some tough decisions today so that we will have time to adequately prepare for tomorrow."

Collection of basic data includes assisting local businesses with erganizing industry-related councils; develop a comprehensive list of vacant property acquired through tax liens zoned for commercial or industrial use and offer these sites to potential basic businesses. Moore Development also plans to work with the Howard College Business Development Center (BDC) in developing a job training program, which will include working with the Big Spring Independent School District, Howard College, Job Training Partnership Act and Texas Workforce Commission.

Follow-up on studies completed and in progress concerning the physical and economic feasibility of an intermodal facility; direct study on highway access to the airpark from Interstate 20; and coordination through the BDC of an incubator feasibility study will be implemented during the 1996-97

Despite the severity of the symptoms, viral meningitis is not considered fatal or even lifethreatening. A spokesman for Texas Department of Health's Infectious Diseases section said the disease usually runs its course within 10 days. "Aseptic/viral meningitis is rarely a 'serious' disease, but can be very 'unpleasant' for the patient, who can become acutely ill," TDH spokesman James Perdue noted. "Meningitis is not transmitted from one person to another, but the viruses that cause ... meningitis can be spead easily."

Because the disease is viral in nature, treatment options are limited. The TDH spokesman said treatment includes controlling pain of the sufferers and making sure they have enough to eat and drink

Meningitis sufferers tend to dehydrate quickly, and because of that, some must be hospitalized, although it is not a common occurrence.

Jury seated in DWI case could be precedent setting

CORPUS CHRISTI - A drunken-driving case could become precedent for deciding when a fetus is legally declared human in

Frank Flores Cuellar is charged with intoxication manslaughter. He's being tried for the death of a child delivered by Caesarean section just hours after a traffic accident.

Defense attorney Anne Marshall argues that her client cannot be convicted because Krystal Zuniga was a fetus, not a human, at the time that Cuellar slammed his Chevrolet Blazer into another car on June 15.

Testimony was scheduled to begin today before a jury of six men a d six women.

The mother, Jeannie Coronado, was 70 months pregnant at the time of the accident. The baby, weighing just 4 pounds, survived birth but suffered extensive brain damage and died 44 hours

Rachel Stout undergoes surgery; Full recovery expected

DALLAS — Doctors expect 10-year-old Rachel Stout to recover fully from colon-removal surgery that followed her parents' monthlong battle against child welfare officials and doctors who recommended the operation.

Rachel was resting comfortably in good condition Monday at Duke University Medical Center after the procedure that doctors said was necessary to save her life from severe ulcerative colitis.

Rachel's parents, Steve and Patricia Stout, denied through their attorney Monday that the actions of Texas Child Protective Services prompted their eventual decision to allow the surgery. But attorney Larry Friedman said the Stouts may yet sue CPS for trying to force the procedure. The Stouts allege that CPS actions hindered their ability to seek alternative treatments for

"They didn't have the opportunity to avail themselves of all the possibilities," Friedman said. "Their civil rights were definitely

Suspect in slaying of four located in Kerrville

KERRVILLE — A former security guard wanted in the slayings of four Pearland residents has been found at the Kerrville State Hospital and arrested by police.

Working on a tip from Del Rio police, Kerrville authorities went to the state psychiatric hospital early Monday and found Virgil Martinez, 28, who had been admitted Oct. 3 under the name of Carlos Hernandez.

Martinez immediately was taken to the Kerr County jail and formally charged with capital murder in the four deaths, Kerrville Police Detective Harry Fleming said.

Brazoria County authorities were en route to Kerrville Monday to retrieve Martinez and return him to Brazoria County where Martinez' estranged girlfriend, Veronica Fuentes, 27; her son, Joshua, 5, her daughter, Casandra, 3, and John Gomez, 18, a family friend from Houston, were killed Oct. 1.

A $2 million bond was set for Martinez, Fleming said.

LEFORS — Fourteen people have won tracts of land in Lefors, where the population is 650 -- and growing.

Town leaders promoted the giveaway as a means of drawing a bigger population and a larger tax base. The names of 14 winners and 14 alternates were selected

Monday night in a drawing that turned into a party of sorts complete with live music and dancing. The winners were picked from 581 names. About 400 other peo-

Fourteen alternate winners were chosen in case the winners don't meet the requirements of building a house or putting a trailer on their tract of land within six months.

Congressional runoffs could give Texans last word

DALLAS (AP) — If control of slide in 1994, so the Texas close.' the U.S. House comes down to runoffs could be of kee just a few seats, all eyes may be on Texas after Election Day.

Because of a court-ordered redistricting plan that has plunged the Texas electoral process into disarray, final results in as many as 11 of the Lone Star state's congressional races may not be known until December

Forty-nine candidates are jostling for 13 seats in redrawn districts. Most of those races are expected to be decided Nov. 5. But in races in which no one emerges with a majority, voters will go back to the polls for a runoff Dec. 10.

Even House Speaker Newt Gingrich, R-Ga., concedes the possibility of a Democratic counterslam to the GOP land-outside the state. A swing of just 18 seats nationally would put House Democratic leader Dick Gephardt of Missouri in line for Gingrich's job controlling the legislative agenda. "It's the election after the election — that makes the difference," says Stephen Hess, senior fellow at the Brookings Institution, a Washington think tank. "It will have incredible impact if, after Nov. 5, the number of seats in Texas that are contestable is greater than the difference between the two par-

Predicts Larry Sabato, a government professor at the University of Virginia: "You will break all spending records in Texas if the House division is adjacent ones.

With incumbents retiring this year, Republicans were already hoping to snag the four seats needed to gain the majority in the state's 30-member House delegation. Democrats now hold an 18-12 edge. Redistricting was supposed to help. Indeed, it was Republican plaintiffs who argued that the Democrat-controlled Legislature unconstitutionally gerrymandered three Texas districts along racial lines after the 1990 census.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled in their favor in June. Last month, a federal appeals court in Texas redrew the borders for those three districts and for 10

The results surprised many people.

"The buzz was that these judges who were drawing the map were all Republican. appointments and would take the opportunity provided them and really fix it for the Republicans, if you will,' Austin political consultant Bill Miller says. "But the map that resulted from their effort really didn't have that kind of effect.' If they didn't make major gains on paper, the Republicans still unleashed a flood of new candidates and deprived the Democrats of straight-ticket vot ing in all 13 redrawn districts. And the judges' negation of the March primary results is thought to benefit Republicans, who tend to turn out more voters in runoffs

Dole considering a Texas appearance on Oct.

Clinton's state campaign chairman is crowing over a report that Republican challenger Bob Dole has decided not to visit Texas between now and election

The Dallas Morning News, in its Sunday editions, quoted Dole's campaign manager, Scott Reed, as saying the GOP nominee didn't plan any Texas stops between now and Nov. 5 because the campaign believes it has already won the state.

"If Bob Dole's going to take the state for granted, it's going to be that much easier for us to carry the state," Garry Mauro, Clinton's Texas chairman, said.

ry of turning out politicians and reported today that Dole will be voting against politicians that take 'em for granted.

"From my perspective, it's an early Christmas present."

But other Republicans were talking differently on Monday, saying it's too early to rule out an appearance.

Christina Martin, a spokeswoman for Dole's campaign in Washington, said Monday that Reed's comments were based on information he had before a weekend strategy meeting.

"It's premature to rule out a visit from Bob Dole," she said, although she didn't release ask for the vote."

The Houston Chronicle in Dallas on Oct. 24.

The newspaper reported that the visit to Texas apparently was added after Gov. George W. Bush intervened, requesting in a telephone call to the Dole campaign that the nominee make at least one more stop in the state.

Bush had said last week that Dole should not take winning the state for granted.

"Gov. Bush continues to hope Sen. Dole will come to Texas,' Bush spokeswoman Karen Hughes said. "He would like Sen. Dole to come to Texas to ments reflect the campaign's confidence that Dole will win Texas, the candidate is reaching out for every vote.

"In no way, shape or form has Bob Dole given up or walked away from Texas," she said.

Earlier, a spokeswoman for Dole in Texas, said she couldn't confirm Dole's plans.

"We would love to have a visit, but even if we don't, we have got the governor, we have (Railroad Commissioner) Barry Williamson, (Agriculture Commissioner) Rick Perry. elected officials all over the state that are working very hard on Bob Dole's behalf already," Griffin said.

Teachers of year say they learned from own children

AUSTIN (AP) - The winners of this year's Texas Teachers of the Year award say it was their own children who helped them realize the importance of a teacher's role.

Bonnie Leech of Flower Mound and Tony Fierro of El Paso were announced Monday as this year's winners by Texas Education Commissioner Mike Leech, who teaches mathematics at Edward S. Marcus High School, has been teaching for 25 years. Fierro, an elementary school teacher at Sierra Vista Elementary, has been teaching for nine.

For Leech, teaching her son even the simplest task is a fulfilling experience. He was born with Down's syndrome in 1988.

Though Fierro comes from a family of teachers — his mother and grandmother taught in Mexico — he majored in marketing at the University of Texas at El Paso and worked for Frito-Lay Inc. and Southland Corporation after graduation.

Frightening statistics show domestic violence remains hile national crime statistics reported by the FBI this week indicate that violent crime is on the decline, there seems to be no stemming the increase of domestic violence.

The national statistics are disturbing: Every 15 seconds a woman is subjected to violent abuse at the hands of her spouse or partner. That's 240 battered women per hour and translates to between 4 million and 6 million reported incidents per year.

More than 3,000 U.S. women are murdered in domes tic disputes each year.

The National Coalition Against Domestic Violence's fact sheet shows domestic violence as the single greatest cause of injury to women between the ages of 15 and 44 — more common than automobile accidents, muggings and cancer deaths combined.

And for police, answering calls to domestic disputes is the second most deadly situation they face.

The numbers at state and local levels are no less frightening, according to Colleen Craver, executive director of the local Rape Crisis/Victim Services pro-

One in two Texas women will be beaten in their lifetime. Statewide, 130 women were killed in Texas last year as a result of domestic violence situations — that's 11 per month and about 3 per week.

This year, there have been no deaths resulting from domestic violence in the 5-county area served by Craver and her staff. There have been three in Odessa and two in Midland, however.

Craver notes her staff and volunteer workers have served a total of 571 victims of domestic violence this

And as distressing as the statistics may be, Craver said, there is simply no telling how many spousal or child abuse incidents go unreported.

"Quite often, it's not until the 10th to 15th time a woman or her children have been beaten that they seek help," she explained. "A great many, I'm sure, don't report the violence out of fear that it would only escalate the situation."

While Craver admits that not all victims are women and children, they do constitute 95 percent of all domestic violence victims.

What are the answers?

That, Craver notes, is a difficult question to answer. Primarily, though, some teeth needs to be placed in our legal codes.

Sadly, the statistics show that you'll get in more trouble assaulting someone you don't know than for assault ing someone you live with.

Men involved in domestic violence need counseling and education. In effect, they need treatment. Unfortunately, that's rarely required by our courts and almost never sought by abusers.

Those who've been battered also need education and

Sadder, of course, is the fact that there are more animal shelters in the United States than there are for women and children who've been the victims of domes-

But the most frightening statistic of all is that children who witness abuse or who are abused are 1,000 times more likely to abuse a spouse or child when they become adults than those raised in non-abusive homes. Whatever the cost, that cycle has to be broken.

The Hemlock Society's position on assisted suicide

By FAYE GISH

Scripps Howard News Service

Founded in 1980 the Hemlock Society USA — the largest and oldest right to die group in this country — has consistently advocated for the right of a ter minally ill, mentally competent adult to be able to receive help in dying from a physician.

We believe all people have the right to the type of death they choose and that terminal care must be improved so that as few people as possible choose to hasten their death

But if people have exhausted all the treatment and comfort care possibilities that are available and that they wish to take advantage of, they should be able to choose to end their

For those people death -- as the final passage of a well-lived life —should be dignified, gentle, painless, swift and certain; a person should be able to die in the presence of loved ones. Violent, prolonged, traumatic, surreptitious, painful options should not be all that are available - which is the case now. To achieve a peaceful, assisted death, medication is required — and it must be legal, open and a matter of record (while respecting a patient's confidentiality.) It is primarily physicians who have access to the appropriate drugs; and they are the logical people to provide the help since they are already caring for the dying person. A doctor can evaluate the disease, decide on the prognosis, and analyze the mental competence of the person making the request. Of course, any doctor may choose not to participate.

With carefully drawn laws permitting this practice and providing extensive safeguards it will be possible to monitor this activity, which now occurs without supervision, consultation, or criteria. As it continues to be illegal a vast underground network is developing

We already have seen that jurors will ignore existing law when someone is be accused of assisting in a compassionate death. If there is no law it will mean that suffering patients who wish to hasten their death will resort to violent, painful or uncertain means and risk implicating friends and physicians, or will have to die alone and isolated. People whose lives are being sustained by treatment such as antibiotics, a respirator, or artificial food and hydration can make the choice to stop treatment and end their lives. The law is clear that any American can refuse unwanted treatment, including food and water, even if it should lead to

The appeals courts in the 2nd and 9th Circuit noted the inequity that results when one terminally ill patient can choose to die by refusing treatment while another person, possibly with the same diagnosis, must prolong the suffering of dying and not be able to ask for help.

Many ethicists have noted that it is not more moral for a doctor to watch a patient die from withdrawal of treatment than it is to provide assistance. It does not turn a "healer into a killer" when a compassionate doctor enables a patient who requests it to die a gentle, peaceful death. Doctors do lose humanity when they are responsible for prolonging a patient's suffering against his or her will!

For some people, life is sacred and they would never make the choice to accelerate its end. Others have the view that, as thinking, willing human beings, they should be able to make the choice about what happens to them and when they should be able to die. There is no reason why this society cannot accommo date everyone's wishes about death in the most humane and painless way possible.

(Faye Gish, Ed.D. is executive director of the Hemlock Society USA.)

The AMA takes a different stand on assisted suicide

By NANCY W. DICKEY

Scripps Howard News Service

The decision of the U.S. Supreme Court to rule on physician-assisted suicide sets the stage for a legal judgment of monumental moral and social impact

If rulings from lower courts are upheld, doctors and their patients will have to deal with a passage to death that represents a fundamental break with thousands of years of moral and medical tradition.

We must distinguish the patient's right to control his or her own destiny from what physicians must do for their patients.

The Hemlock Society and other proponents of physicianassisted suicide tell us it is a Constitutional right. The problem for doctors is that rights, once established in the courts, can quickly become duties. In the Netherlands, where assisted suicide and euthanasia are common, the line between the two has become blurred and confused. Even with established guidelines in place, more requests for euthanasia come from families than from patients and hundreds of Dutch patients are killed each year without their consent.

Legalizing or otherwise condoning physician-assisted suicide would utterly transform the relationship between doctors and patients, increase pressures on the very ill to kill themselves, and create loopholes for abuse. The patients of America must trust that their physician is devoted to their health, welfare and comfort not deciding what is a "quality" life or whether their remaining days have value.

The American Medical Association is doing all in its power to preserve and maintain the trust physicians have earned over the past millennia through our commitment to caring for the lives of our patients.

For the past three decades, the growth of medical technology has focused primarily on preserving life. As a result, the medical profession has not, to the necessary degree, concentrated on the issue of quality dying. The only appropriate alternative to physician-assisted suicide is improved care through a better informed medical profession and public to ensure that for patients facing death, their remaining days are meaningful, dignified and as comfortable as possible. While fear of suffering, being a burden to or dependent upon fami ly members, or losing control is understandable, a compassionate society would offer more than premature death.

Physicians must be equipped with the knowledge and skills to provide for our dying patients. Compassionate care and autonomy is something that physicians are obligated to provide for their patients at the end of life. By using hospice care, providing adequate pain medication and encouraging advance care planning to clarify patients' wishes for end-oflife-care, physicians can offer patients a dignified death with quality and value. It is a fallacy that compassion requires

The American Medical Association is mounting an aggressive national program to intentionally killing patients

educate physicians, other health care professionals and our patients concerning the issues that constitute a dignified death. This promises to be a monumental task, but the AMA is up to the challenge. However, we cannot tolerate any movement that asks physicians to act with the intent of ending patients' lives We must never lose sight of the caveat that physicians are healers, and where we cannot heal, our role is to comfort. When it comes to protecting the health and welfare of the patients of America, the AMA is firm in its resolution that physicians are, and must continue to be, their trusted ally. It is a trust physicians have earned over thousands of years, and one not to be relinquished.

(Nancy W. Dickey, MD, is chair of the American Medical Association's Board of Trustees.)

Beebe never had a bigger game, and it couldn't have come at a better time for the Green Bay Packers.

The 32-year-old journeyman receiver stepped in for the injured Robert Brooks and caught 11 passes for a career-best 220 yards as Green Bay beat San Francisco 23-20 in overtime Monday night before a record crowd of 60,716 at Lambeau Field.

"I've had four touchdowns in a game and I've had 10 catches," said Beebe, who played in four Super Bowls with Buffalo. "But considering how this came out, i'd have to say this was my best game.'

Beebe, whose 220 yards were the third-highest in the Packers' 76-year history, had a 13-yard catch that

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Don helped set up Chris Jacke's 53-yard 27-17 playoff loss last season. field goal, the longest overtime kick in NFL history.

He also had a controversial 59-yard catch for a touchdown that sparked the Packers' comeback from a 17-6 deficit in the third period.

Brooks, Brett Favre's favorite receiver and Green Bay's best deep threat, was lost for the season with a knee injury on the Packers' first offensive play. He landed awkwardly when 49ers cornerback Tyronne Drakeford pulled him down.

"It's a shame," said coach Mike Holmgren, who said Brooks would undergo surgery this week.

This was a game between two of the

For most of the game, it looked like San Francisco would win.

Led by Dana Stubblefield, Lee Woodall and Marquez Pope, the 49ers (4-2) dominated on defense, limiting Green Bay to 68 yards rushing and forcing Favre to pass a team-record 61 times. He completed 28 for 395 yards.

The 49ers took a 17-6 halftime lead on TD passes of 7 and 13 yards to Jerry Rice and allowed only one touchdown — the debatable touchdown pass from Favre to Beebe on which Beebe dived to catch the pass, got up as Pope went over him and ran to the end zone.

"It was definitely a catch," Beebe NFL's best teams that lived up to its said. "I felt something touch me, but I that's why I got up and ran."

It came midway through the third quarter and cut the deficit to 17-14 after Favre hit Edgar Bennett for a 2point conversion. That allowed Jacke's 35-yarder with 3:35 left to tie

'There were some of the most zany things I'd ever seen in a game," San Francisco coach George Seifert said.

Still, it looked like the San Francisco defense would ruin Beebe's big day after Pope intercepted a pass with 2:13 left and returned it to the Green Bay 12.

"Right then, I said, 'God, I guess it's over," Favre said.

But the 49ers played conservatively, Green Bay used two timeouts and the billing as the 49ers tried to reverse a didn't know if I was down yet. So 2-minute warning, and there was still 1:50 left when Jeff Wilkins kicked a 28-yard field goal that gave the 49ers a 20-17 lead.

But the defense gave Green Bay a shorter field — Steve Israel, a reserve defensive back for the 49ers, was called for a 5-yard hands to the face penalty, then was penalized 15 more yards and ejected from the game for unsportsmanlike conduct. That gave Jacke a chip shot of 31 yards to tie it.

In overtime, the 49ers went three and out, and Green Bay got the ball at its own 44. A 13-yard pass to Beebe moved the ball into scoring position, then Holmgren decided to have Jacke try from 53 yards.

"It was about the only good decision I made all night," Holmgren said.

Steers face serious road test in Lake View's Chiefs

HERALD Staff Report

Big Spring's Steers (2-4, 1-0) showed they could well be a factor in the District 4-4A race by crushing the Pecos Eagles (3-3, 0-1) 50-0 last Friday night before a Homecoming crowd at Memorial Stadium.

The Steers can't rest on the laurels of that win, though, as they hit the road Friday to face San Angelo Lake View's Chiefs, 31-14 road winners over Fort Stockton. In the other district game last week, No. 5 state-ranked Sweetwater shut out Andrews 14-0.

Sweetwater is at Fort Stockton and Andrews is at Pecos this week.

In Big Spring's win, running backs Antwoyne Edwards and Frankie Green had outstanding performances. Edwards rushed for 154 yards on 29 carries and scored three touchdowns. It was the fifth time in six games that the junior tailback has rushed for over 100 yards and it gives him 797 rushing yards on the season.

Lake View (5-1, 1-0) started slowly but finished strong to defeat Fort Stockton (3-3, 0-1).

Lake View showed a balanced attack, with a whopping 459 total yards of offense. Standout quarterback Sterlin Gilbert completed 13 of 20 for 231 yards, while Adam Binnix rushed 22 times for 171 yards.

The Chiefs slowed slightly but couldn't stop district leading rusher Jacob Vasquez, who ran 19 times for 132 yards. However, on his longest run of the night, a 65-yard scamper, Green gained 75 yards on he was stripped of the ball and

Lady Steers hope for revenge against Sweetwater

By CLIFF NEWELL

Head coach Traci Pierce hopes the Sweetwater Lady Mustangs see a different version of her Big Spring Lady Steers volleyball team tonight when they clash in a district contest at 7 in Steer Gym.

In the first meeting, the Lady Steers were "out of control" in losing at Sweetwater. With two straight district wins under their belts, the Big Spring volleyballers look to be new and improved this time around.

"I certainly hope so," Pierce said. "We're looking for stronger defense. We didn't play good defense the first time.'

formance similar to the one the team gave last Saturday against Fort Stockton. The Lady Steers showed courage under fire in taking a 16-14, 15-13 victory. They displayed an ability to hang tough in clutch situations that they hadn't shown earlier in the season, and Pierce praised the team for the way it "took control" of the match.

Sweetwater, whose only district win has come against Big Spring, appears quite beatable. They have a strong sophomore hitter up front, but overall they lack expe-

Others being counted on heavily include Fulani Williams, Jessica Cobos, Juanita Valdez, Dee Hill, and Melisa Martinez.

The Lady Steers will bring an 8-16 overall record and a 2-4 district mark into tonight's matchup.

The varsity clash will be preceded by a freshman match at 5 p.m. and a jayvee con-crucial. Even though the Big Spring is next to last right now, Pierce pointed out, "Anything can haopen.

Braves scalp Redbirds, 14-0

ST. LOUIS (AP) - The Atlanta Braves made it seem

As if they just decided it was time to win, the Braves staved off elimination in the NL championship series with one of the most overpowering performances ever in October.

The defending World Series champions, heeding manager Bobby Cox's pregame call, matched the biggest postseason rout in history Monday night with a 14-0 romp over St. Louis that cut the Cardinals' lead to

"I had a short meeting, nothing real big. It wasn't like 'Let's all have a nice winter.' It was more like I expect to play 7-to-10 more games," Cox said.

Marquis Grissom set the tone with a single on Game 2 winner Todd Stottlemyre's first pitch. By the end of the inning, helped by a misplayed fly ball that turned into a two-out triple for Jeff Blauser, Atlanta had six hits and led 5-0.

The Busch Stadium record crowd of 56,782, meanwhile, was silent 'Before they could even get their popcorn and beer, they were down five," said Chipper Jones, who had a two-run double. "What I really liked is that we had the killer instinct. We kept piling it on. Last night, I didn't sense that."

Coming off a 4-3 loss in which the Braves blew a three-run lead in a postseason game for the first time in franchise history, they made sure there would be no letup.

By the time Javy Lopez singled in the fourth, every Braves batter had a hit. When he homered to dead center the next inning, Atlanta led 11-0 and already had an NLCS record with 17 hits.

The Braves finished with an LCS-record 22 hits, including two by pitcher John Smoltz, who worked seven shutout

"The only thing is when we win a game like this, you wish it counts for two," Smoltz said. "You would think that a 10-run rule would count for two.'

No, but it did send the Braves home to Atlanta with renewed hope in the best-of-7 series.

And no wonder. Four-time Cv Young winner Greg Maddux will try to rebound from his loss in Game 2 when he pitches Wednesday night against Donovan Osborne. If Atlanta wins, 1995 World Series MVP

Tom Glavine will start Game 7. "I'm glad that I get to pitch again," Maddux said. "You know, you come to the park today getting ready to pitch, but in the back of your mind, you're not."

National League Championship Series

Stottlemyre, working on three days' rest for the first time since July 1995, also felt ready. That was until he gave up hits to nine of the 12 batters he faced before manager Tony La Russa pulled him.

'That's the way it goes," Stottlemyre said. "They were fighting for their lives.

The Braves, a team that began the game batting only .213 in this year's postseason, got four hits each from Lopez and Mark Lemke. Lopez scored four runs and Fred McGriff drove in the last two with a home run

We got out early and took their crowd out of it," Lemke said. "I think you have to credit the whole offense. really came through.

The Cardinals had won nine in a row at home in the postseason before the Braves broke loose. Atlanta is trying to become the eighth team — out of 48 — to overcome a 3-1 deficit; St. Louis is the only club to twice blow such leads, in the 1968 and 1985 World

"Before we could escape, they had put up a couple of crooked numbers," La Russa said. "It just wasn't any fun. That game got away from us.

"We've had a few of those not many - but when we've had them, we shook it off. We'll be ready the next time we're scheduled to play.

The Braves broke the LCS record of 19 hits set by the New York Yankees against Oakland in 1981. The Braves also surpassed the Chicago Cubs' 13-0 win over San Diego in 1984 for the largest margin of victory in an LCS game.

The Braves matched the record for a postseason rout. The New York Yankees beat the New York Giants 18-4 in Game 2 of the 1936 World Series

Smoltz, not that the Braves needed him to be so sharp on this night, improved to 8-1 lifetime in the postseason and 3-0 this October. The major league leader in wins and strikeouts this year, he passed Bob Gibson and Whitey Ford to become baseball's career leader in postseason strikeouts with

"Now that we're able to pitch two guys on four days' rest, now we can say we have somewhat of an advantage," said Smoltz, who has 27 victories overall this season.

Shante Carver returns to Cowboys' defense

IRVING (AP) - As if it needed help, the Dallas Cowboys' top-ranked defense is getting some this week.

Suspended end Shante Carver returned to the team Monday after serving his six-game suspension for violating the NFL's substance abuse policy.

Michael Irvin gave an emotional lift to the defending Super Bowl champions' offense Sunday as they finally struggled back to .500 with a 17-3 domination of the Arizona Cardinals Defensive lineman Chad Hennings said Carver's arrival gives the defensive line some much-needed depth.

It relly helps to have Shante back, and now if we can get

Charles Haley well, we'll really do some damage on defense," Hennings said. "We need all the help we can get because we need to make a big run. We dug ourselves a hole at the start of the season.

The Cowboys started 1-3, but have bounced back with wins against Philadelphia and Arizona and have the winless Atlanta Falcons coming to Texas Stadium on Sunday.

Carver will share time with Hurvin McCormack, who has been starting in Haley's absence. Haley has missed two consecutive games with back pain, but still expects to play again this season.

"We'll start Hurvin and work

Barry Switzer said. "We'd like bandwagon. Well, the bandwagto see Charles back in there soon too, but don't know for sure if he will be able to play Sunday."

Carver made himself scarce in the Cowboys' locker room, opting not to answer questions about his problems.

There was some of the old Cowboys swagger at Valley Ranch on Monday because of the strong performance against the Cardinals, including two touchdowns and a season-high 112 yards rushing by Emmitt Quarterback Troy Aikman, who got mad at offensive coordinator Ernie Zampese at one point during the game because the plays were slow coming down from the coaches booth, said "those things can be cleared up. The main thing is that this team is starting to get its confidence back. And confidence always goes with playing well and winning.'

Switzer said Aikman had a big game and Smith "reminded me of a guy I remembered last year. He's still not 100 percent healthy, but he broke some tackles and looks a lot better."

Hungarian official suspended over Olympic swimming fraud

LAUSANNE, Switzerland the Atlanta Olympics based on (AP) — The secretary general of Hungary's swimming federation was suspended for two years today by the sports world governing body for falsifying Olympic qualifying times.

The Hungarian federation itself escaped with a "severe warning" from FINA, the international swimming federation.

Secretary general Jozsef Ruza, who admitted knowledge of the scandal, was banned by FINA's executive board "from any international activity" for two years.

FINA acted following disclosures that half of Hungary's swimming team qualified for fictitious times from a meet that never took place.

Eleven of the 22 Hungarian swim team members had not met Olympic qualification times at national and regional meets. So a phantom meet was held last June and imaginary times were entered.

Hungary won six swimming medals in Atlanta, including three gold.

Last month, the Hungarian swimming federation re-elected Tamas Gyarfas as its president and Ruza as secretary general.

Gyarfas said he had no previous knowledge of the fraud.

NEW YORK (AP) - After taking a day off to rest following their first AL pennant in 15 years, the New York Yankees are returning to practice with an eye to healing their nagging injuries.

On Monday, the clubhouse was nearly quiet, mail piled neatly on the players' chairs, World Series tickets filling envelopes on a table in the middle of the room.

Boggs and O'Neill, shaking up the lineup and trying to give them a day of rest. Charlie Hayes took over at third and Strawberry played right.

"It's a nice luxury to have," Johnson said, wishing he had spare parts of that quality.

Torre has staved with O'Neill and Boggs, even through their hitting funks.

Torre also has some big decisions to make about his pitchers. Andy Pettitte, who allowed just three hits in eight innings in Sunday's clincher, could start Game 1 on five days' rest. Or Cone could start on nine days' rest.

039 Personal NOVENA PRAYER TO THE Holy Spirit; Holy Spirit you who makes me see everything and shows me the way to teach my ideas: You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me, I in this short dialogue want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones. Say this prayer for three consecutive days asking for your request. After the third day, your wish will be granted, no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this dialogue as soon as your favor has been granted. J.D.F

HOROSCOPE

HAPPY BIRTHDAY FOR WEDNESDAY, OCT. 16:

This is a joyful year. You find yourself happily scattered all over the place. Don't lose your focus. Express ideas. It is also important to be organized. There is plenty of ground to cover. You are supersocial. Domestic life and private time become very dear to you. As a result, you want plenty of time alone or with family. If you are single, your love life becomes spicy in 1997. You derive great enjoyment from it. Be careful, though; someone you meet could be emotionally unavailable. If attached, feelings deepen if you are willing to share them. SAGITTARIUS is a superb conversationalist.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your insights are impressive. Speak your mind, and convey ideas. You bypass a lot of what is going on and see only the big picture. Convey what needs to be done for others. Another lets you know how high you are on his special list. Tonight: Make weekend plans. *****

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Discuss a partnership, funds and a decision. Input from a coworker is worthwhile. Streamline your days, and focus on what is important to you. Directness is important with a child, who may be rather crazed. Tonight: Make time for a loved one. ****

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Other seek you out with pleasant news. Be more fun-loving. A light approach is effective with a budding romance. Your interest in others enhances your domestic life. Brainstorm with colleagues at work. What comes up is amazing. Tonight: Go out on the town! *****

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You get much done as you exchange ideas. You are on top of work. You even find time for a flirtatious conversation! Your charm melts barriers. Make sure, though, that others understand you. Stay on target. Tonight: Enjoy a good workout.

cult. Friends feel your influ-reckon with. * ence. Logically explain what is happening. Take time at lunch to buy a gift for a loved one. Much goodwill stems from this caring gesture. Tonight: Live reputation. *****

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Prioritize what is needed, and stay in charge of your schedule. You let whimsy play too big a role in your choices. Syndicate Inc.

Make a phone call to verify your bank balance and certain payments involving your security. Consider making a change. Tonight: Pay bills. ****

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Communications are important. Finally, others respond to and understand you. Highlight an exchange of ideas. Clear your desk, and return calls. Discipline yourself to concentrate and to avoid daydreaming too much. Tonight: Go to a favorite spot. *****

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Operate instinctively with financial investments. Seek out feedback. But make sure the guidance is expert. Friends mean well, but may know nothing. Be cautious about spending. Consider pitfalls before agreeing to any expensive plans. Tonight: Have dinner out.  SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Realize that others need more lightness at work. Though you might feel silly on some level, join in with the group. Make what you want happen. Exchange ideas with others. Network, and listen to a friend who has been down a similar trail. Tonight: Keep smiling. *****

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Much goes on behind the scenes. Your ability to get to the point gives you an edge at work. Speaking to a superior makes you a sure-fire winner. Important news from afar is exciting. Make a long-distance call to someone whom you care about. Tonight: Take a personal night. ***

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Aim for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. You might need it. A partner is most extravagant. Dig up more information before you decide to run with certain facts. The more you know, the stronger your position grows. Tonight: Gather the troops. *****

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Take your bows in the limelight. A loved one could be excessive with his affections. Be honest with yourself about how much you enjoy this display. Initiate a conversation with a partner about finances. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your You think better as a duo. make a situation feel less diffi- Tonight: You are a force to

DEAR ABBY: My grandfather molested by a parent you now allow to spend time with your children? You alone have the power to protect them. The problem doesn't just go away.

> The first step is to TELL someone. Remember the shame belongs only to the pedophiles, not the victims they violate. Adults must teach children to protect themselves, and it's never too late to start. You can't remain silent and protect your kids. You must make a choice. — LIVING IN GOD'S GLORY AND GRACE

DEAR LIVING: Two of the most damaging results of sexual abuse are the shame and isolation felt by the victims. Healing cannot begin until the facts are brought out in the open and discussed among all the parties involved.

The National Child Abuse Hotline, 1-800-422-4453, provides information and referral for victims and family members. Telephone crisis counseling is also offered. Your local mental health society can recommend therapists specializing in counseling for those who were molested as children and still harbor the bitter memories.

Counseling helps victims work through their painful memories so they can finally be sue a pedophile in another put to rest.
