Friona Was Center of Manhunt Tuesday As Patrolmen Raced Here to Check Clue

COLUMN LEFT

The mumps "epidemic" at the local schools is at rather a standstill this week, with eighteen students absent from the school system, rather than the larger number discussed around town. Only one of these is from high school. With the siege commencing in the latter part of last week, it is expected that the next outbreak will be Monday or Tuesday of next week for those who have been exposed.

Mr. H. K. (Pudgy) Kendrick, formerly of Amarillo, has purchased the local Phillips 66 Wholesale agency from Paul Fortenberry. Kendrick is making his announcement elsewhere in this issue. Fortenberry has made no announcement of future plans, although professing intention to remain in Friona.

Still time to enter the fascinating contest announced last week. Write your headlines now! A number of entries have been submitted, but we need more. If you are not sure of the rules, come in and get a copy of last week's Star wherein the contest was outlined. Last date for entry: Saturday, Jan. 13, 6 PM.

Over 10,000 acres of cotton has been indicated in the immediate Friona vicinity, as reported on cards mailed out to farmers the past week. The survey was made to assist some prospective ginners who are showing interest in placing a new gin here. In fact, the gin was definitely promised contingent upon adequate acreage.

Water main pipes are arriving in Friona this week, and are being placed near to position along the streets where pipe laying is scheduled to commence January 15.

Apologies to S. T. Thornton. Evidently we failed to mention beet pulp in his weekly advertisement last week. The truth, we contend, was that we thought our genial friend said he would "beat us to a pulp," but evidently there was a misunderstanding. And here this editor was dodging S. T. all week in fear of the beeting!

The United Pentecostal church is having a revival at which everyone is invited to attend. Bro. Travis Timmins of Pauls Valley, Okla., is conducting, and it will last about two weeks.

Can This Be True?

(An Editorial)

We cannot condone this situation.

Whether pictured above is a badly covered septic tank or water seepage from pipes draining from the Vocational Agricultural building, or drainage from the grade school showers, or drainage from the cafeteria is possibly beside the point; such situation should not be present on the school grounds of the Friona Public Schools.

This editor was shocked early this week, when casually driving along the west side of the cafeteria, to see grade school children jumping upon some loosely laid boards placed across the kind of hole with water being splashed out on the outlying ground and into the ditch. Apprehensive of some danger of a child falling into a hole covered by the boards, we stopped and investigated, thinking possibly only a water-main had burst. But such was not the case. The water was not clear. It was polluted, as far as eyes could determine. Laying two of the boards to one side, a probe was made with a stick about four feet in length; bottom was not found!

Checking with city authorities, the school officials, and plumbers revealed that this was a septic outlet, though opinions differed as to source. Check revealed that the schools had never been connected to the city sewer system, rather, they were still using the group of septic tanks upon the school grounds. The city sewer line was placed in early 1950. Then along came August and the city secretary prepared a letter outlining the prerequisites to be met by the school for connecting to the line. And now comes January, 1951, and the cess pools still are used. Even bureaucratic government red tape could scarcely be slower in action.

Check with City Health Officer Dr. Paul Spring revealed that no party had ever contacted him regarding the situation.

This editorial is not written to censor any individual; but rather to bring to light a disgraceful situation that must be remedied, now, for the protection of your child and mine, the children of the taxpayers of this district.

Even should analysis indicate no health hazard (but I believe this hardly possible), the mere danger of an easily accessible water hole on the public school grounds is just cause for alarm.

Enough of dilly-dallying; action is imperative.

Funeral Services Held For 'Grandpa' Watkins

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon in Elk City, Okla., for J. S. "Grandpa" Watkins. Mr. Watkins passed away at the home of his son, Drew Watkins of Sudan. He had been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. R. S. Smalts of the Oklahoma Lane community.

Mr. Watkins had just passed his 98th birthday.

January 31 Is Last Day for Poll Tax Payment Here

Mrs. Bess Mansfield, deputy county tax collector, stated yesterday that $35 poll tax had been paid to date in Parmer County. The last year total for the county was 2,019.

Probably more than 80 per cent of other state and county taxes have been paid, the office revealed, as this is the last month for payment without penalty.

Even though this year is not a regular election year, there always is possibility of special elections; a poll tax receipt is necessary even for these.

Local Methodist Men Will Sponsor Early Breakfasts

Rev. Hubert Thomson Addressed Group At Tuesday Eye-Opener

The Methodist men are at it again, according to Rev. J. E. Tidwell, who reports that an early morning breakfast is being scheduled for the local men once each month during the next five months. Featured will be Wesley Foster at the dough board and the "Flatfoot Four" quartet on the music.

Thirty-seven men met at the church annex Tuesday morning at 6:45 o'clock at the kick-off breakfast.

Rev. Hubert Thomson of the San Jacinto Methodist church in Amarillo addressed the group on the subject, "Perils to Our Freedom." In his talk, he brought to focus some of the issues facing the general public, offering some encouragement as he pointed to factors which could combat the perils.

The first point cited was the "political" situation, and Rev. Thomson pointed out the responsibility of the national leaders as strong and worthy heads of government. The second, citizenship, peril was noted, with comments of the public laziness in performing civic duties. Rev. Thomson concluded with the mention of the peril of religious indifference and consequent failure of many to take a stand in upholding the religious institutions.

March of Dimes Annual Drive Starts Next Monday in Parmer County; Local County Fund In Arrears, Officials Note

Public Poll

WOULD OIL DISCOVERY BE BENEFICIAL TO PARMER COUNTY?

Mrs. Earl Black
It certainly would be a great help to the town. It would help the business houses and the community would grow in general.

Mrs. A. A. Crow
I think it could if it were in the right way.

Mrs. E. Crump
I think it definitely would. The town would grow and many people would benefit from it.

Mrs. T. O. Griffiths
I'd never thought about it but I don't see why it wouldn't be beneficial.

Mrs. Dalton Caffey
Having come from an oil producing country I think it would be very beneficial. It would bring problems but I think the income derived from it would overcome the problems.

Mrs. Pearl Kinsley
I don't think so. I wouldn't want to live in an oil town although it would be advantageous in a financial way.

E. R. Bowers
It would certainly be a wonderful thing not only for improvement of the county but this section of the country. It would certainly improve the price of land.

Mrs. Paul Fortenberry
I think it would help the county and the surrounding country. It would bring more people and people help make the town grow and bring in more business houses.

Mrs. M. L. Lawson
I surely do. It would bring more labor, more labor means more money and just make the town grow in general.

Yearly Withdrawals From National Funds Exceed Contributions

"You can do your part in combatting polio! And you will have opportunity to do just that commencing next Monday, January 15, when the county-wide drive for March of Dimes Drive funds will be commenced," announced Alan Romich, County drive chairman. Loyde Brewer is County foundation head.

One half of all funds subscribed stay within the county, with privilege of drawing on the national fund for any excess needed.

Parmer County last year contributed $3,513.62, with $1,755.60 remaining in the county.

In 1949 there were several cases of polio here resulting in a heavy withdrawal of national funds; after paying back to the national headquarters in 1950, the Parmer County fund is some $500.00 in the red, and an urgent request is made for full cooperation in the present drive to put the county back on top.

All officials join in urging generous support, enabling a fund sufficient to meet any calls.

Additional Hospital Room Being Added

Workmen are engaged this week constructing a 14 foot by 30 foot addition to the west wing of the Parmer County Community hospital in Friona. The added space will provide separate men's and women's rest rooms, one patient room, and an additional outside entrance.

Materials have been secured, and early completion of the project will only depend on weather conditions.

Survey Was Made of Local Merchants In Quest of Answer to Questions Facing Mrs. Housewife and John Public in 1951

By BONNIE WARREN

Friona Star Staff Writer
Price fluctuations and merchandise availability are keeping both the public and the retail merchants guessing over the entire nation as 1951 begins as a very unpredictable year, so far as retail trade is concerned.

Merchants in every town have been presented with the new problems incurred, and the Friona tradesman is no exception.

In attempting to secure an over-all picture of the price and quantity outlook for the new year, a canvass was made this week whereby a cross-section of Friona merchants were queried regarding the local aspects of the problem. Answers varied, but in most cases the merchant was apprehensive of price increases, making his predictions on the basis of trends during the recent weeks.

Dry goods merchants reported probably the sharpest increase of prices in recent months. Cotton goods have taken a substantial rise in price, but little scarcity is anticipated until late Spring as most warehouses are now well stocked. Shelves are low on sheets, but this is mainly due to over-buying by the housewife several months ago when a shortage was anticipated. Mrs. Housewife remembers World War II! Leather merchandise is slow in delivery, and prices are up.

But there is one ray of sunshine—most merchants indicate merrily need have few worries about hose, as nylon factories are in many instances being converted to silk processing, silk now being available from the large Japanese source of supply.

Foster's Dry Goods report that they have had no trouble in obtaining most of their stock, but the warehouse stock will be used up in the near future. Mr. Foster said that at the present time rayon wash silks may be purchased for the price of cotton goods; his khaki and denim clothes are slow being delivered and the price has certainly risen. He revealed a large supply of nylon articles and as yet he has seen no scarcity.

Knox's Ready-to-Wear says that there is no particular scarcity in their line but they are having slow delivery, especially o shoes. Men's dress suits have also made a sharp increase and the greatest increases have been made in the last six weeks. Knox's are still well supplied on work clothes at no increase in price, they said.

Hardware merchants say that there are very few things hard to get, but when the present supply is exhausted that they may become scarce. Copper has been scarce and has been greatly affected by the price, increased from 10 to 20 per cent.

Welch - Blackburn Hardware reports that very few things are impossible to get but they expect scarcity in a few months. They say all their merchandise generally has risen 10 per cent since last June.

Eroy Wilson at the Plains Hardware says that pipe is the only thing really scarce in his line and that the price has hiked about 15 to 20 per cent. Cast iron and galvanized metal are slow being delivered but have only slightly increased in price.

In the variety business Mrs. Henry Lewis says that aluminum and steel is becoming very scarce. Needles and pins are still the same price but are packed fewer in a package.

EDITORIAL . . .

You and I Will Get Quite Well Acquainted With the Draft Boards in Months to Come; Would It Not Be Wise to Count A World War II Veteran As a Member of Every County Board?

Increased draft calls are confronting us. With no disrespect or discredit directed at present board members the country over, we must conscientiously insist that veterans be placed in key positions whenever possible on such boards. Sure, the veteran is mature enough to act wisely. Sure, the veteran has proved himself able on other fronts—the battle front, the economic front, the social front, the home front; does this not qualify him to act with wisdom in carrying out the directives under which the selective service boards function? In fact, we believe the military experience of the veteran should definitely make him into a better draft board member, with the reservation, of course, that he is otherwise qualified.

We hope that agitation for a nation-wide choice of at least one veteran on each county board will not have to be fostered by veterans organizations. We hope that the general public will note the fairness and advisability of such action and effect their own solution. But if early action is not taken by the public, we are wholeheartedly behind any move of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, AmVets, etc. to see that the draft is at least partially directed by fellow veterans.

Why are not more veterans of World War II sitting as draft board members during the present mobilization? Are they qualified? Are they interested enough in the nation's welfare to be chosen as full-time citizens, taking their seats of responsibility on local draft boards? Of course, there are isolated cases of World War II vets setting on the selective service panels, but you must agree that the instances are infrequent.

American Government, Like Individual, Can Spend Itself Into Bankruptcy, Says Apprehensive Ochiltree County Editor

There is an old saying that no man is so rich that he can't spend himself into bankruptcy, and unless some changes are made, America may find itself in that position.

The American policy of providing all of the money and practically all of the manpower for every United Nations undertaking, whether it be political or military, should soon be stopped. The United Nations have sent only token forces to Korea to stand off the Communist army, and correspondent Dave Rasco who spoke here last week said that a conservative estimate would place America's share of the fighting men at 90 percent of the United Nations total.

Now we are to send hundreds of thousands of American boys and countless millions of dollars to bolster the defenses of Western Europe. Certainly we should help in Europe and throughout the world in stemming the red tide of Communism, but we should not bear the whole load. France, for example, wants to equip ten divisions of men, with the United States footing the bill for nine divisions, France one.

We should take a hard-boiled attitude toward the European nations and tell them that we will assist in direct proportion to their own participation both as to manpower and armaments.

In the United Nations General Assembly recently, it was considered a bold stroke when the members voted 54 to 5 in favor of resolutions against aggression. However, it was not much of a triumph, considering that the United States is furnishing most of the men and materials in the fight.

If we are to keep out of bankruptcy as well as free Communist domination, this country must take a more realistic view of things and stop playing Santa Claus to the world.

Politicians Should Not Throw Bricks From Glass Houses

From the Post Dispatch

The Department of Justice or somebody in the government continues to raise a hue and cry against big business. They are always in the process of filing suits against someone for being big. However, no one makes much to do about big government. We were reading over the budget requests of the different departments of the state government this week. Not one department pared its requirements down in response to the war effort or any effort. Every single one asked for more, more, more. The education bill was 55 per cent more. We are happy to see our tax money go for the good cause of education. But we wonder when will the end be reached. When are we going to start prosecuting big government? Sensitive economy and paring off non-essentials in government bureaus would help more than anything. Let's start doing without some of the government.

Logan Will Devote Full Time Promoting West Texas Projects

Agricultural and livestock activities of West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be projected into every section of West Texas as a part of the organization's 1951 program of regional and community level services, Fred H. Husbands, executive vice president and general manager of WTCC, announced today.

Logan will spend most of his time in the field on regional projects and activities, and cooperating with local chambers of commerce and farm and ranch groups in organizing and activating agricultural and livestock programs, Husbands said.

Development of more efficient marketing practices and procedures for agriculture and livestock, more and better farm roads, and water and soil conservation to rimproved and increased production will be important area-wide projects of the department, Logan said.

Services of the WTCC will also be available to chambers of commerce and other farm groups, throughout the territory in helping to organize and expand local agricultural and livestock programs, and in county and area fir planning. These services will include advisory assistance in the selections of committees, planning sound programs of work, financing and methods of successfully executing the program for maximum benefit to all concerned.

Kenneth Houlette and Ardean Fallwell have gone to Wichita, Kan., where they will work in the Boeing Aircraft plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Fallwell of Fort Worth, formerly of Friona, are the parents of a girl, Hazel Sue, weighing 7 lbs., 15 oz. Hazel Sue was born Saturday, December 30.

HOWDY, FOLKS: Other night when I went to the house for supper, the wife told me that she made me as she today, but the dog ate it.

And I nearly got killed when I told her not to worry, because we could get a new dog.

My helper told me his gal would be a wonderful dancer except for two things—her big feet!

Fellow at the station the other night told me he'd rather kiss his wife than eat—not because she was so beautiful, but because she was such a lousy cook.

My cousin in the city is always telling people where to get off—he's a conductor on a street car.

It's no joke folks! We like to take care of your car for you, and see that it runs properly, and gives you the best performance. Bring it in regularly for complete checkups and enjoy better and more motorizing pleasure.

DISORDER—DISASTER

According to a recent survey, about 20 per cent of all home accidents are caused by disorder in and about the home. No better start toward eliminating this cause of home accidents can be made than by cleaning up the yard, for, particularly during the warm-weather months, the yard is the locale of many accidents.
 You'll be sorry you allowed a rake to be left lying in the grass if you step on it some evening. A touch of antiseptic and an adhesive bandage—one of those ready-to-use dressings with the gauze pad already affixed to the adhesive tape—may take care of the damage; on the other hand, the penalty may be a broken nose.
 Other frequent yard hazards are broken glass, boards with projecting nails, rusted toys, broken outdoor furniture. If there is a swing in the yard, check the ropes or chains. True, a frayed rope or worn link may last through the season, but the risk far outweighs the trifling gain.
 The final check you should make is of a different kind. If there are healthy, energetic children in the family you have to expect a certain number of minor casualties in spite of all precautions. Make sure, therefore, that the medicine cabinet contains such basic first-aid supplies as antiseptic, burn ointment, gauze pads, roll gauze, ready-to-apply adhesive bandages and adhesive tape.

Installation of Congregational Church Officers Will Be Conducted Sunday Morn

Officers Were Named At Annual Meeting, Jan. 7

According to Rev. George E. Meyer, pastor of the Congregational church of Friona, installation of officers of the church and the hold-over officers, is to be held at the morning worship hour of the church on Sunday, at 11:00 a. m. Every officer of the church, every member and every friend of the church is urged by the pastor to be present.

Officers of the church were named for the ensuing year at the annual meeting of the church held January 7, following a "pot-luck" luncheon. The moderator of the church, Clyde Goodwine, presided. Officers of the church, including the pastor, officers of the organizations of the church made their reports.

A vote of thanks was given the treasurer, O. F. Lange; E. R. Bowers for his work in and about the church building, and Mrs. Bowers for her splendid cooperation in the work of the church. The church created a Board of Benevolences, name of the members, in addition to the pastor, to be named by the organizations of the church. The church voted to support and enter into such cooperative efforts with the other churches of the city that might be arranged.

Mrs. L. F. Lillard reported for the nominating committee. The report was accepted and officers elected. Floyd T. Schlenker and George Treider were elected to the board and W. H. Flippin was chosen as a new deacon.

Officers of the church, including holdovers on the board, deacons and deaconesses stand as named:

Trustees: Floyd T. Schlenker, George Treider, Ralph Wilson, Mrs. Otho Whitefield, Glen Reeve and Mrs. Fred White, Deacons: Carl C. Maurer, Buell Sanders, W. H. Paper goods also are becoming scarce. Prices have risen as much as one-third on some of the merchandise.

Groceries have taken great hikes lately and local grocers report shortening has made the greatest increase, about 40 per cent in the last six weeks. Meat prices have risen, especially beef. Pork prices have made no increase recently. Grocers expecting scarcity again, and the public can expect more glass containers.

The Corner grocery reports that tomatoes have become scarce and increased in price, but that it is probably due to the early freeze in South Texas. Corn has taken a hike in price. Clyde Hale says that the most rapid increase has been the last 15 to 20 days.

Orville Houser of the Cashway grocery says that he has noticed about 10 per cent increase in his entire merchandise. He says that cookies and crackers have advanced in price for the first time in ages.

"Prices are really hard to keep up with in my business; they are always shifting," reports Ed White, manager of the Cash grocery. He believes the scarcity is due to the government buying such large quantities at times, and therefore making goods scarce to retail merchants.

Car dealers report no great change in price or scarcity of items but that parts shelves are well stocked for awhile. All cars are the same price as last year since the government froze the price about a month ago.

Granville McFarland stated that price will not be a problem in his business, but scarcity of goods will affect them. Reeve Chevrolet said they have noted only about a 6 per cent increase in repairs, and they have had no scarcity yet, though experiencing slow deliveries.

Tires have increased tremendously in price and are scarce, most agree. Bill Smith of the Phillips 66 station says there is indication that there will be less pure rubber in new tires and more synthetic rubber used.

The lumber business is well stocked and there has been no price increase according to O. F. Lange of Rockwell Bros. Co. The quality of lumber is better than six months ago. "We do not expect an increase unless freight and labor goes up," Lange said. Metal objects are the only ones that have taken a hike in prices.

As you can see from this and other reports, everything in general has increased in price to some extent. Farm products and other raw products are higher therefore the finished materials are increased in proportion.

Vocational Classes Combined Locally Due To Teacher Transfer

Two Vocational school classes in Friona have been consolidated under the direction of Harold Lillard as result of recent transfer of former teacher Delmo Williams to the Deaf Smith county school at Hereford.

As the local classes are quite large, about seven students are being transferred to the Bovina classes where Blake Herley and Tyson Eubanks are teachers.

Simple Ceremony Will Mark 1951 Inauguration At Texas Capitol

A simple "swearing-in ceremony" in Austin Jan. 16 will strat Gov. Allan Shivers on his first full term in the state's highest office.

The Governor will take the oath of office at noon that day on the front steps of the state capitol. It will be administered to both Shivers and Ben Ramsey. Lieutenant-governor elect, by J. E. Hickman, chief justice of the state supreme court. Both Shivers and Ramsey will make brief inaugural addresses.

The only state function to be held in connection with the inauguration is a reception at 7 p. m. in the capitol rotunda, where the public will have a chance to meet Shivers, Ramsey and other state officials.

"In view of the president's proclamation of a national emergency," Governor Shivers told the committee, "I feel it advisable that the inauguration be limited to a simple oath-taking ceremony."

Mr. James Terrell, formerly of Wellington, has been assigned to the Friona office of the Soil Conservation Service, beginning his tenure here this week.

Terrell, a graduate of Texas A. & M., was with the soil conservation program at Wellington where he specialized in terrace construction. "Farmer Country has different kinds of crops, but the principal of farming is the same here," he said.
