

Public Hearing on Street Improvements Slated Friday Morning at City Hall

COLUMN LEFT

County Judge A. D. Smith has forwarded a copy of a June 18 letter from the Texas Highway Department noting receipt of the County Commission order accepting provisions of the minute authorizing the farm-to-market road extending from State Highway 86 at Bovina south to Oklahoma Lane, a 9-mile stretch. Mr. Greer, state engineer, noted that the order was in proper form and would consequently make this minute fully operative.

We sat in on a meeting Tuesday night of the directors of the Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. We only wish that you had done likewise, for it opened our eyes even more to the sincere effort that this group is expanding, netting accomplishments that are being felt both directly and indirectly by the area. With this organization on the ball, we do not hesitate to predict many benefits, not only to Friona, but to Bovina, Farwell, and all the Farmer County citizens — especially the farmers.

Sometimes it is difficult to gauge the worth of a group when direct association is not maintained, and we must admit we had been a bit lax in evaluating the accomplishments of this re-activated organization. But no longer so! However zealous these directors and the secretaries are, they still need your help and aid. Following through in this cooperative community-improvement program, we anticipate untold good and a whole lot of fun!

Incidentally, I did not meet with the group merely by happenstance; it was a pre-meditated visit and a forerunner of other visits to our county and city meetings, including the school board sessions, city commission meetings, and the county commission contacts. There's nothing we enjoy more than meeting with our friends and observing these men at work for the public welfare.

CLASSIFIED QUIZZERS

The following questions are about famous cathedrals, temples and churches. How many can you identify? Check your answers with those on the Classified Page.

You might also look among the classifieds for the names of those relieving free tickets to the Regal theatre in Friona.

1.—Is the seat of England's Archbishop the Canterbury Cathedral or the Oxford Cathedral?

2.—What famous cathedral in Paris has the same name as an American University? Is it William and Mary, Notre Dame or the College of Cardinals?

3.—In this building are crowned the rulers of England. Is it Buckingham Palace, St. Paul's Cathedral or Westminster Abbey?

4.—The largest Christian church in the world is in Rome and is named for a Saint. Is it St. Paul's, St. Peter's or St. George's?

5.—This temple, built by a king of Israel in the 10th century B. C. on the Hill of Zion was made with the cedars of Lebanon and overlaid with gold. Was it Solomon's Temple, the Tower of Babel or the Temple of Herod?

Now we've been subjected to everything! Tornadoes overhead, earth tremors underneath, and Trumanites in the Whitehouse.

Just ran across a new word—trot. It's a good English word signifying a deduction allowed purchasers on certain goods. Someone should page the Gimbel and Macys boys; they're probably sick and tired of trol!

Friday morning at 10 a.m. a public hearing will be held at the Friona Legion Hall regarding the proposed paving program which Friona will get underway next month according to Roy Wilson, city clerk.

The proposed program will include installation of curbs and gutters as well as paving on 62 blocks within the city limits.

Brown and Root, I.M.C., of Houston have been awarded the construction contract, and representatives of the company, their attorneys, and local city officials will be present at the hearing tomorrow to hear discussion on the proposed improvements.

"This is the property owners' time to express himself. We should like to have his views on this construction which the city proposes to undertake," says Wilson.

Cost of the curb and gutter installation will be about $1.60 a foot, paving cost varies with location and according to the width of the street, running from $2.67 a foot to $5.64.

However, Wilson emphasizes that all the paving is under the same contracting specifications. It will all be one and a quarter inch asphalt concrete on a flexible base of six inches of aliche.

As the program gets underway commissioners declare they will try to make any arrangements for any additional paving which property owners may later decide to undertake.

School Bond Election Is This Saturday

Remember — the school bond election for re-building of the Friona High School is to be held this Saturday.

The election will be held in the Grade School building, and it will involve vote on $250,000.00 to become payable as outlined in the legal notice reprinted in this issue of the Star for your convenience.

Engineers have emphasized that this amount will allow for 7,500 additional square feet of floor space in the building, enabling housing of the agriculture and music departments in the same building in a fireproof building.

The investment company holding bonds of the school has stated that the bonds would not require any increase in valuation or in the tax rate within the district. The bonds would mature in 25 years, drawing 3 1/2 percent or less interest.

Spraying of City Imminent in Fight For Insect Control

The war on insects around Friona is about to begin. City officials have planned to spray the town and surrounding areas this week-end.

Solution used will be a ten percent D.D.T. dust and the work will be done by airplane.

Materials have been received and Elvin Jennings of Bengel Field has been commissioned by city officials to do the dusting. A permit from Civil Aeronautics Authority in Amarillo was necessary before Jennings could undertake the job.

Dr. Paul Spring, who on June 11 officially became the city health officer by action of the city commissioners, said, "We advocate opening doors and windows in your houses so that the dust can penetrate the

FIRST WHEAT ARRIVES

So That the People May Know... The TRUTH... No SCS Move!

Farmer County citizens are entitled to more than un-truths or even distorted half-truths.

And it is in behalf of the dignity of the intelligent individuals of this county, that this editorial is being written, exposing the unbiased truth about some nasty dealings involving the location of the Soil Conservation Service, an organization designed to benefit equally every person in the county availing themselves of its service.

The State Line Tribune today carried a large, black and bold headline screaming "SCS Office Moved Here (Farwell)."

Such has not been the case, as we will point out.

Whether the statement was a case of faulty reporting or whether it was the actual information handed out by Buddy Jones (to whom the story was credited) is maybe even beside the point. The fact still remains: that it was an un-truth.

Check with proper state officials of the statewide Soil Conservation office confirmed our belief that the local Board of Supervisors had no authority over personnel of the SCS service relating to any movement of their headquarters. Furthermore, Mr. Courtney Tidwell, State SCS fieldman under whose jurisdiction this area falls, knew nothing of any move.

And here's the joker of the whole deal—the board of supervisors DID vote (by the usual 3-2 count) to hold their own monthly meetings in Farwell. That's OK and above-board. THAT WAS THE ONLY VOTE TAKEN REGARDING MOVEMENT OF ANY OF THE ACTIVITIES.

And Buddy Jones was repeatedly referred to in the article today as being chairman of the SCS committee. Clyde S. Erriebe was, and is, chairman; and Mr. Sherrig knew nothing of any movement of the SCS offices for the simple reason that there was none. A. L. Black, who also was present at the Monday meeting, was unmistakably surprised when the article was shown him, for A. L. KNEW NOTHING OF THE KIND HAD TRANSPIRED.

So, friends, no office furniture, no records, no personnel has been transferred to the southwest corner of the county, despite allegations from that sector.

Incidentally, cards mailed to every taxpayer in Farmer County a few weeks ago disclosed that an overwhelming majority favored having the agricultural offices in a central location, specifically naming Friona.

This editor called Buddy Jones late this evening, and Mr. Jones clearly, in good English, said that the article as appearing in the Farwell paper was correct. Jones further pointed out that the movement had nothing to do with the FMA-SCS-Extension Service merger. This was just a decision of the board of supervisors of the SCS! Boy, oh boy! It is very interesting that all this action should come at the peculiar time when any movement was connected with the merger in the minds of many of us. Well, likely a move of the SCS offices to Farwell WOULD influence the merger, making very plausible the request that all offices stay together, in FARWELL.

One cannot help but analyze the situation: what was the cause of the misrepresentations, by whom were they made? Was a sneak planned? Was someone hoping to influence parties through the abused use of the free press?

Whatever proves to be the final answer, the situation now standing "just plain stinks."

And the Star, together with other straight-thinking, community-interested parties is ready to stand its ground, exposing and condemning stench wherever it is found.

Bovina Youths Were Hospitalized After "Hot Rod" Accident

A "hot rod" accident involving two boys from Bovina sent both lads to the Farmer County Hospital for treatment on Sunday.

Injured were Scott Berggran and Bill Berggran, sons of Le-Roy Berggran of Bovina. They were driving a stripped down auto when they had a flat on a gravelled road about three miles from their home.

The boys were thrown from the car into a fence. Bill received severe scalp lacerations lacerations of his left arm chest and neck. Scott had lacerations on his neck and face and contusions.

Annual Meeting Friona Wheat Growers Scheduled Friday Night; Uncle Jay and Frank Triplett Will be Guest Speakers

Families Invited to Business, Social Hour

The Friona Wheat Growers will hold their annual stockholders' meeting tomorrow night, June 22, at the school house auditorium with Johnny Lynn "Uncle Jay" of the staff of KGND and Frank Triplett, manager of Producers Grain Corporation, as guest speakers.

The meeting is scheduled for 8:30. All stockholders are urged to attend, emphasizes Arthur Drake, manager of Friona Wheat Growers, for during the business meeting two directors will be elected.

There are 1376 stockholders of the Friona Wheat Growers, but only 663 who hold common stock, and thus hold membership in the corporation.

All members, their wives and their families are invited to tomorrow's meeting. Door prizes amounting to $150.00 will be given away to stockholders of their wives present at the meeting.

A. W. Anthony, president of the board of directors, will act as master of ceremonies for the event. Topics of the talks which Mr. Triplett and Uncle Jay will make have not been announced. Following the business and entertainment a social hour will be held and refreshments will be served to those present.

Officers of the corporation besides Mr. Anthony are Sloan Osborn, vice president, Clyde V. Goodwine, secretary-treasurer and E. L. Fairchild and Lewis Smith, directors.

Each director serves a three year term, and in 1951 the terms of Clyde Goodwine and Sloan Osborn will expire. Both men, however, will be eligible for reelection.

Fairchild will serve until 1952, and Anthony and Smith hold office until 1953.

Stockholders notifying them of the Friday night meeting according to Mr. Drake, who has been manager of the elevator since 1943, and has worked there for the past 13 years.

When the Friona Wheat Growers was organized in 1934 there were only about 20 or 30 stockholders. When the corporation closed its book with its fiscal year ending April 30, their records showed a savings of $105,811.19.

LEGION SOCIAL HELD

Canasta was played throughout the evening at the Monday night social of the local American Legion post and Auxiliary. Door prizes, a new feature of the third Monday meetings went to John Blackburn and Allen Stewart.

Next Legion meeting will be the business session slated for July 2nd. Several items of importance to the welfare of the local post already have been booked, and a full attendance is urged for this particular meeting.

Earth Tremor Was Centered Near Here

That's right, it was an earth tremor!

Residents of the plains area experienced a definite earthquake yesterday (Wednesday) at 12:36 o'clock noon when the vibrations were sufficient during their 5-second duration to attract the attention of most everyone. The center of the quake area evidently was in the Deaf Smith County region, with reports coming in from as far as Lubbock and Borger. The tremor was recorded on seismograph readings in Denver.

First to call the Star regarding the quake was Roy Wilson who called only a few minutes after its occurrence. He had checked the time at 12:36, the same as had the Star editor. Official time was set in Amarillo at 12:37.

Evidently persons sitting at the time were more acutely aware of the disturbance, as several reported violent rocking of their chairs. A mild rumble preceded the quaking.

C of C Directors Endorsed Water Conservation Dist.

Directors of the Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture met Tuesday night, attending to a full slate of current business.

The secretary was authorized to pay $150.00 to the county livestock show deficit, matching the same amount given by the local Lions Club.

Considerable discussion was centered in the proposed High Plains Water Conservation District, a project which the directors voted full approval. Petitions are now being circulated calling for the formation of the district.

With the first local chamber of commerce having been established just 25 years ago, the group approved plans to hold a celebration, possibly at county fair time, commemorating this 25th anniversary; and a committee was appointed to begin work immediately securing an outstanding speaker. Probably a barbecue will be held in conjunction.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HAS PICNIC

One of the Adult Sunday School classes of the Baptist church gathered after church in the Hillcrest Park at Clovis for a picnic.

Those attending this were, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller, Donna and Linda, Mrs. Lee Renner, Mrs. Elwin Collier, Mrs. Bill Sheehan and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Murphy.

Fairchild Was Close Second on Same Day

Wheat harvest officially opened in Friona Monday morning when E. G. Phipps delivered the first load of wheat in town to the Santa Fe Grain Company about 7:30 a.m.

According to Preach Cranfill, manager of Santa Fe Grain, Mr. Phipps wasn't even thinking about the distinction of bringing in the first load of wheat. "He cut some on Friday, some more on Saturday, and finally decided to bring in his wheat Monday morning. When he got to town, he discovered he had just become the first farmer to bring in his wheat this season," said Mr. Cranfill.

He was followed about a half hour later by E. L. Fairchild, who delivered his grain to the Friona Wheat Growers, thereby gaining the distinction of bringing in the first load of wheat to that elevator during harvest both in 1950 and 1951.

Last year Ed Bogus delivered the first load of wheat in the town to the Santa Fe Grain Company.

Phipps' wheat, which tested 60 pounds and 11.7 moisture brought him the regular $25.00 premium on the 9840 pound load, and he sold it at the prevailing market price of $2.16 according to Cranfill.

Fairchild's load of 203 and 2-3 bushels was taken into storage testing number one at 61 pounds, and with a moisture content of 11.8. He also will receive a $25.00 premium said Arthur Drake.

Both farmers were harvesting Early Wichita on dry land plots which they estimated would Taking honors for delivering the first load of wheat within the county was J. L. Ivy of Lubbock, taking a load to Sherler Grain Company, Bovina last Thursday. His wheat tested 67.5.

No other Bovina elevator has received any wheat, an early morning check today revealed. Neither had Black received any.

Gene Lovelace of the Lovelace Grain firm at Farwell reported a load on Saturday, harvested by A. J. Jones, living about 5 miles south of Farwell, in the very corner of the county. With his first load testing 61 with 12% moisture, a premium of 11c was added to the prevailing $2.14 market. Paying a first load price of $2.25.

yield between 12 and 15 bushels to the acre. Fairchild farms about 15 miles southeast of Friona and Phipps is cutting on a 240 acre patch ten miles north west.

First loads for this year are coming in later than usual; but elevator men commented on the unusually dry test which the first wheat is making. Fairchild delivered his 1950 load on June 12. The unsettled weather conditions this year, plus late rains not only threw harvest behind schedule but helped farmers to make a greater yield than they anticipated earlier in the year.

Although harvest has finally begun most of the wheat probably will not be cut until about the first of July according to the elevator operators. Most of the wheat has green suckers that won't mature until later.

Cranfill estimated that most of the wheat in the county would come from the southern and the northwest parts because those parts were not bothered so much with bugs.

The Panhandle wheat growing belt ordinarily produces good quality wheat and number one tests are not unusual. Just lately, however, wheat growers

Editorially Speaking

We pass on these supplications of Henry Van Dyke, for we believe their principles might well be applicable to other professions than that of the writer:

"Lord, let me never tag a moral to a tale, nor tell a story without a meaning. Make me respect my material so much that I dare not slight my work.

Help me to deal very honestly with words and with people, for they are both alive. Show me that as in a river, so in a writing, clearness is the best quality and a little that is pure is worth more than much that is mixed.

Teach me to see the local color without being blind to the inner light.

Give me an ideal that will stand the strain of weaving into human stuff on the loom of the real.

Keep me from caring more for books than for life.

Steady me to do the full stint of work as well as I can; and when that is done, stop me; pay what wages Thou wilt, and help me to say, from a quiet heart, a grateful Amen."

Regarding Happiness

Who are the happy people?

Does this blunt and somewhat abstract query startle or confound you?

Then why in the world are we discussing it editorially? Maybe a few explanatory words are justified: Never do we sit down to the typewriter to commence preparations for an issue of this paper without inwardly censoring ourselves for lack of "happy" news to make some reader just a bit more satisfied with his lot, or to provoke a smile on some stranger's lips, or to make another subscriber glad that he lives in Parmer County! Newspapers, in their role of factual reporters to the public, must of necessity carry all the news, and the world knows that much of the news in 1951 is not cheerful. So the first step we took one year ago when launching the new Friona Star was a determined pledge to carry as much news as possible about folks at home, leaving the state and nation-wide issues to the dailies. But here we have another problem . . . all is not happiness here at home.

Who are the happy people?

The minister would certainly have an answer; the Chamber of Commerce no doubt would have a different but significant answer; the scholar could add even other attributes meriting happiness.

But we are going to stick our neck out and observe that the happiest people in Parmer County in 1951 are those most distantly removed from the functions of government! We mean those people least affected by the OPS requirements of detailed reports, those least concerned with the regulatory powers given ample exercise by bureaucratic elements.

We don't like to concern ourselves with Washington—no, but it is only from the honest and God-fearing citizens, those in Parmer County and their kin, that a concrete move can be made to remedy the national ills. And when the people are sufficiently aroused, then the government will serve the people, rather than visa versa, and all of us will be happier under a "Government by the People". Are we on our way?

If the warring nations ever get into a race to develop an Oxygen Bomb, Russia should win hands down — for Russians seem to have more oxygen (or at least hot air) than any people anywhere.

'Tis said that the proposed H-Bomb is more potent than any yet conceived. Reason: It's an A-Bomb dipped in Hadacol.

And now it appears that Truman yearns to be a pugilist. Anyway, it goes well with his letter writing.

Insubordination seems to be a bigger reason for dismissal than inefficiency.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Other Editors Say --

How Honorable?

From, The Wellington Leader
As five percenters are joined by deep freezes and mink coats in White House circles, Americans with a conscience ask more often: What kind of man is Harry Truman?

As his term of office advances, questioners delve more and more into his past dealings and come up with facts that make it appear that his life before and after 1945 fit into a single pattern.

In its May issue, the American Mercury asks bluntly: "Is President Truman an Honorable Man?" It answers in the negative.

The idea of Harry Truman, honest haberdasher who went broke in 1922, then labored years to pay off his debts, is refuted. A reputable Kansas City attorney, who has represented the president's brother, is quoted as saying that contrary to all reports, Mr. Truman made no effort to pay his debts.

The judgment records of the Circuit Court of Jackson County, Mo., shows that a bank, suing to collect on a note made when the President was in business, won a judgment in the amount of $8,944.78 — but it couldn't collect a cent because the defendant was on the public pay rolls and was not subject to garnishment. Later, when the successor to that bank went into liquidation, the Federal Court ordered that a suggestion by Truman's political friends be carried out, and that the bank settle the judgment for $1,000, only 10 cents on the dollar.

This was not paid by the president, but by political followers. The president never did seek out his creditors and ask for long-term agreements on settlements, one of the two honorable courses open to him.

He was in the Pendegast politics and he was not vulnerable to garnishment, since he owned nothing and he did not keep a bank account. He did not go into bankruptcy, the second honorable course, since that would have been a political liability.

Even after he became president of the United States, some of his friends were asking creditors to accept "settlements" and mark old judgments "satisfied."

Going further into Mr. Truman's brand of honor, The Mercury points to a loan he engineered from the Jackson County School Fund, from which individuals might borrow if they had the right "political" recommendations. In 1938, the president borrowed $35,000 on his mother's farm from this fund. The note was not only unsecured and non-bankable, it was even illegal, since neither he nor his guarantors owned the property in excess of the mortgage.

Not one penny of interest on the loan or taxes on the farm were paid, and despite a rapid rise in land values occasioned by the second war, the county finally had to foreclose the mortgage, and President's mother was dispossessed and sent to the little house in Granview where she died.

To the President's assertions that he never had sought the support of the Pendegast political organization in Missouri, and that scandal did not involve it until after he entered the senate, as made to the Associated Press October 16, 1944, even his closest friends do not question that this is a double-barreled lie, the Mercury asserts. Might not the same be that some of the "fixers" in the R.F.C. and other high official places are "all honorable men?" Why then, do Americans continue to judge the president apart from his political friends and appointees, attributing one standard of honor to him and another to General Harry Vaughn, or John Maragon, or Merl Young? Why have men some to Washington broke and left it rich? Behind the laughter at the antics of certain Truman aides, what is being done to manipulate government and public money to get rich?

Does this set the pace for our conception of honor? If not our own, what about the generation growing up? How long will we have the standard to distinguish an honorable man from a dishonest one?

"If this nation is to survive — or, indeed, be worthy of survival — its citizenry will have to reject the Truman definition of honor. For why should patriots continue to nourish a nation with their blood when the proper has become what you can get away with, when the expedient has become the honorable, when a lie has become the truth?" the Mercury asks.

FOOT INJURIES SUFFERED

Glenn Evan Reeve, Jr., fifteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Glenn Evan Reeve, injured his right foot about ten thirty Monday morning while harrowing on the Reeve farm west of town.

According to his father, Glenn apparently released the power lit accidentally while he was working, and it smashed down on his big toe. Although it was badly mashed, no bones were broken.

After the accident, Glenn walked to the car parked near where he was working and drove it about a half a mile to the house where his grandfather, F. W. Reeve, brought him to the Parmer County Hospital.

He was treated and hospitalized over night and returned to his home on Tuesday.

The Law & You

By Robt. (Bob) Kirk

DO YOU KNOW whether reports of the proceedings of a Grand Jury may be published by a newspaper?

The proceedings of the grand jury may not be divulged either by the members of the grand jury, or the witnesses who appear before them. It is an offense punishable by a fine of not less than One Hundred nor more than One Thousand Dollars on imprisonment in jail not exceeding six months for any person to reveal any of the proceedings before the grand jury.

At the conclusion of its hearings, the grand jury may make summaries of its findings in the form of recommendations and deliver the same to the Judge. The Judge may then make the recommendations of the grand jury public.

Under certain conditions, it may become proper for a Grand Juror to testify in a court trial, and he may there, while under his oath as a witness, testify as to some matters which he is questioned about, regarding matters before the Grand Jury. Therefore, since it is illegal and improper for persons to reveal the transactions of the grand jury, it would be illegal and improper for a newspaper to publish information which was thus obtained.

Unusual Recipes are Added to Collection

EDITOR'S NOTE: We've been hearing some might favorable comments on the quality of recipes being published in the Star—those favorite dishes of women in Friona, Bovina, Oklahoma Lane, and all over the county. Personally, we think there are no finer cooks anywhere than right here in the Panhandle, specifically Farmer County. But just in case some of you ladies want to try something different, printed below are some foreign dishes, this time from Belgium.

MEALS TO REMEMBER

First is Endive au Gratin and is simply delicious. Endive may be a little on the expensive side or hard to get at times, but you can substitute celery stalks if necessary. This makes a delicious luncheon or supper dish. It is nice for entertaining too, because it is different and every hostess likes to surprise her guests with something out of the ordinary. (recipe below).

As you enjoy this savory dish from Belgium, your thoughts will focus on this charming little country with its interesting historical background. It's a wonderful place to visit... gay Brussels with its ancient and beautiful cathedrals and trade guild houses, the peaceful canals of Bruges, and the busy barge-laden ones of Ghent, the famous port of Antwerp. These are just a few highspots and you are sure to want to see them all one of these days.

From Belgium also comes a delicious way to prepare rabbit, which, by the way, is a pleasant change from poultry and meat. It's so tasty and good too, that you can use it as a main course on festive occasions.

6 slices boiled ham
1 cup white sauce
1 cup grated cheese (parmesan or swiss)

add half of cheese and stir over very low heat until cheese is melted and dot with butter. Bake in moderate oven approximately 15 minutes. 6 servings.

BRAISED RABBIT WITH PRUNES

Rabbit, 3 to 4 lbs.
salt and pepper
Butter, oil or other fat, about 3 tbsps.
Liquid, 1 to 2 cups 1-2 water and 1-2 wine (if desired)
1 cup pitted prunes
Cut cleaned rabbit into pieces for serving. Wash under running water. Dry thoroughly. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Heat in a heavy skillet and brown rabbit in it. Add part of liquid. Cover tightly and simmer over low heat 1-2 to 2 hours or until tender. About 15 minutes before rabbit is cooked, add prunes and white wine (if desired). The prunes should be soaked in the wine several hours before using.

RHEA NEWS

By Lucille Hoffman

Vacation Bible School was conducted at the Lutheran church from June 4th until June 25th with an average attendance of 34 children per day. More than 100 were present for the closing exercises held Friday night. The program included recitations, songs, dramatization, and the play entitled "A Boy and His Prayer." A Bible School picnic was held at the Lutheran church grounds Sunday with most of the children and their parents present. A baseball game between parents and children was the main event of the afternoon. Contests and various other games were conducted among the smaller children.

Visiting with Herman Herzog Sunday were his mother, a sister, Ella Herzog, and his brother Adolph Herzog and family, all of Lubbock and a sister, Frieda Herzog of Waco.

Miss Lillian Schueler began work Monday in her new secretarial position at the International in Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Macke and son of Ft. Wayne, Indiana stopped overnight at the Robert Schueler home last Tuesday. They were on the way to Arizona.

Efforts Made to Expedite Construction Of Rural Telephone Lines Within Area

Additional Stations Are Recommended Here

The unaccountable delay in action on the proposed construction of Rural Telephone Lines in this area may terminate soon and allow Rural Electrification officials to proceed with plans and specifications for the telephone lines, according to Leo Forrest, manager of the Deaf Smith County REA.

Forest, incensed by the month long delay in official action on the loan plans from the Panhandle called George W. Haggard, deputy administrator of the REA in Washington Monday night.

Haggard said he had been out of town for a week and didn't know what had transpired in his office while he was gone, but he promised to look into the matter and report to Forrest within the next few days.

"I did check the status of your loan once before and everything that you were supposed to do had been done and everything that was supposed to be in was in," said Haggard.

The bottleneck apparently is in the engineering department of REA headquarters where they were handicapped by being short-handed and were a month behind in their work.

Haggard is due in Lubbock on June 30 to attend a conference, and Forrest said he plans to discuss the pending matter with him often enough before this Lubbock meeting, that Haggard will be able to take definite action at that time, if possible.

On Tuesday, a field engineer for the construction company which will build the proposed REA lines, was riding over Parmer County checking over the land and getting ready to make an "ultimate system study."

The resident engineer, Mr. Seigler, will thus determine what the ultimate number of subscribers in the county can be so that the lines which will actually be constructed, will also be in accord with any future progress and enlargement campaign which may be necessitated later.

Also on Tuesday morning Forrest was notified that tentative recommendation had been made for the addition of two more central office stations in the Friona area, one to be northwest of town, and one southeast.

"This will save wire size; and give subscribers out there better service," Forrest explained.

Although the list of subscribers to the proposed RTA service has not been broken down by counties, officials estimated that about 300 of them lived in Parmer County.

"We can use more subscribers, of course, but I do think we can get our loan approved with the understanding that other people will come into the program during the construction," Forrest declared.

There is always a slack period between approval of the loan and the time when the detailed specifications of construction can be planned and carried out.

Farmer View Methods In Cotton Insect Control

Cotton insect control demonstrations were conducted throughout Parmer County Wednesday in a concentrated effort to prevent wholesale intrusion of pests here.

Sponsored by the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College, and represented locally by County Agent Joe Jones, the meetings were highlighted by discussions led by Mr. Harry Harvey, Extension Service Entomologist, a specialist in insect control. Various implement dealers handling spraying and dusting equipment were on hand at each of the meetings to show their wares in operation. Included in this group were Parmer County Implement Company, Herring Implement Company, Maurer Machinery Company, Benger Air Park Spraying and Dusting Service, and Bovina Implement Company. Attendance at the demonstrations varied, with the Friona meeting drawing over fifty spectators.

Attend Austin Session

Among those attending the first summer session for mothers of pre-school deaf children in Austin June 6 to 13 were Mrs. Willard H. May of Friona, and her son Murl who is hard of hearing.

A beginning venture, the initial and perhaps principal benefit was the sharing of the problems among the mothers so that each realizes that her situation is not unique. The ten-day session provided an opportunity, for the mothers of the pre-school deaf children to see specialists with whom many would never have had an opportunity to counsel. It gave help on the basic problems presented by their children's deafness and helped their children get what their hearing friends gained principally by mimicry.

The school was sponsored by the Texas School for the Deaf in cooperation with the State Department of Public Welfare, the State Health Department, the Hogg Foundation, Texas Education Agency, and the University of Texas.

The mothers through their ten-day school had an opportunity to hear Mrs. Spencer Tracy, wife of the famed motion picture star, who shared with the mothers her experience as a mother of a pre-school deaf child. Her son, now twenty-six, was discovered to be deaf at the age of ten months. The mothers attended classes each morning during the ten-day session, and heard a special lecturer each afternoon. In short, the mothers had gathered for them during the ten-day period the people who could best provide the answers to their many questions. Deafness presents the greatest of educational handicaps, and most mothers are at a loss to know where to get the answers that can be given only by an expert. A staff of teachers from the Texas School for the deaf provided the instructional opportunity for the mothers and they were assisted by special lecturers who spoke on various aspects of deafness and the treatment of the deaf children each afternoon.

Mrs. O. B. Dathridge and children from Panhandle left Monday, they had been visiting with her mother, Mrs. C. D. Carter.

Shower Honors Recent Bride, Mrs. Bob Myers

A miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. Bob Meyers was held last week in the home of Mrs. Fred Helmke in Friona with Mrs. Anna Coffman, Mrs. Rawleigh Rule and Miss Cneida Coffman as co-hostesses.

The honoree is a recent bride, the former Jean Knight.

A pastel color scheme was carried out in decorations and snap dragons and other spring flowers were used on serving tables and throughout the house. Recorded music provided background music during the calling hours.

Greeting the guests were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. C. Knight, and Mrs. C. L. Sharp of Potosia, aunt of the groom.

The wedding took place on May 22 in Dallas. The bride is a graduate of the Friona High School Class of 1951. The groom, son of Mrs. Frankie Myers of Denton, was graduated from Clovis High School in 1950. Mr. and Mrs. Myers will make their home in Clovis where he is employed by the Santa Fe Railroad.

GRADUATE NURSE

Miss Doris Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Taylor of Friona, is completing her studies at the Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing in Amarillo, having graduated there May 21st and finishing all work by July 25th.

Miss Taylor, who attended the Friona schools until 1948, plans to return here for employment in the local hospital.

The Star Presents: Meet Your Parmer County Neighbors

F. L. Spring

F. L. Spring, Pioneer, Recounts Rich Historical Parmer County Background In Interview with Star Roving Reporter

The sign says, "F. L. Spring—General Merchandise."

It doesn't say that Frank Lewis Spring was one of the men who helped organize Parmer County, or that he was a witness in the Armstrong murder case, or that, for 25 years he and his general store have been right there on Friona's Main Street watching and helping the town to grow.

Those things you sort of find out for yourself.

But Mr. Spring, who will celebrate his 79th birthday on December 15, says he feels just as young now as he did when he first moved out to the Texas Panhandle back in 1905.

"I've just got a little more experience, that's all," he says.

And his life covered a span that is now a significant period of American history.

He was born in 1872 in Cobden, Illinois, and his boyhood was right out of the pages of Tom Sawyer. He loved the trees and the woods near his home and spent his spare time there fishing in the Hudgon's Creek, swimming in Mussin's Pond and rolling prairie, supplied with an abundance of purest water had a fine hotel, livery stable, two general stores, mail, telegraph and express service, and a building was erected in which the bank would be established.

"The climate is absolutely unsurpassed for healthful living," the bulletin declared.

But Frank Spring withstood all this pleasant persuasion for years. He was busy farming on his half section, raising his family, his garden, his livestock, an dhis row crop.

It was then he got acquainted with Joe Rhea of the famous Rhea Ranch land.

Bovina at that time was one of the biggest cattle shipping centers in the world. The big spreads, the ranches who grazed their cattle within a radius of 200 miles, brought their Herefords into Bovina and shipped them into Chicago and Kansas City, and the other big markets of the east.

Those were the days of the XIX, th Spring Lake, and the Sixty-Eight spreads, when cowboys, getting a reprieve from the lonely life on the prairie blew into town with five hundred head of cattle to ship and lived a gay life for a while.

"Why, I remember when on outfit would bring in enough cattle to fill two train loads," said Mr. Spring.

It was also the day when farmers and ranchers came to town rarely, when supplies were brought by the wagon load and hauled perhaps a hundred miles to the ranch headquarters.

"There were two general stores in Bovina then," mused Mr. Spring, "and they kept an inventory of $25,000 to $30,000 worth of stock all the time."

The Springs were pretty self-sufficient out on the farm.

One day they decided to have a dance. It was during the winter of 1910 or so, and the word got around that there would be a square dance at the Springs so late in the afternoon the guests began to arrive.

They had a two-story farm house the living room was cleared for action. Bud Queen and his dad were the fiddlers and they worked up plenty of enthusiasm for the Texas Star, Skip to my Lou and Put Your Little Foot, as they "do-si-doed" and "honored their ladies" far into the night.

There was a big snow on the ground, but that didn't keep back the guests, many of whom came in sleds out of Bovina. But as the night wore on, the temperature continued to drop. Down to zero, and still it kept going. The water froze up. It was far too cold to send their guests home, so when they had all danced to the point of exhaustion, the Springs made arrangements for bedding everybody down, and to sleep they all went.

The next morning the sun come out, a huge breakfast was served to all the people, and back they went on their way. It was a very successful party.

There were other forms of entertainment which used to delight the early day pioneers. The Chautauqua provided cultural events for the scattered towns throughout the West, and the Springs remember one time when they got in their buggy and drove to Friona to hear William Jennings Bryan talk on his silver standard.

But Mr. Spring definitely doesn't believe in the Good Old Days.

"Huh, why just to show you what it used to be like I remember once when my wife and I went to Texico, and it was about 25 miles away. It was wintertime, and we left real early, before sun up.

"We hitched the mules to the buggy, drove into town, where my wife had her tooth fixed and then we came right on home. Got here late that night. Must have been traveling about five or six miles an hour," he remembered.

And on another occasion, also in the winter, he was taking five hogs into the slaughter house in Hereford. He hitched up his mule team, and by the time he got the hogs rounded up it was sun up.

By the time he got to Hereford it was pitch dark. The next morning he took the hog out about 2 and a half miles beyond town to the slaughter house, sold them, and got back home late that night.

"And I got five cents a pound for those hogs, too," he snorted.

Discussing health in the early days, Mr. Spring says people either stayed well or if they were awfully sick they drove into Farwell or Hereford to a doctor.

"We didn't go in much for home remedies. I don't reckon I ever took any medicine, unless it was some I was made to take when I was a kid," he said.

"We never did have any tooth-brushes, either. I hardly ever did brush my teeth years ago. But I've got all my own teeth still," and he smiled to prove it.

It was in 1907 that Parmer county was organized. Until then it had been under the jurisdiction of Deaf Smith County, but a group of civic leaders decided it was time to set up their own county government.

Parmer had been created from Bexar Territory in 1876 and named for Martin Parmer, one of the signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence.

The county judge was Uncle Bill Townsend, sheriff chosen was Lidge Stevenson, and the clerk was Jess McKay. Three commissioners were chosen and they were F. L. Spring, from Bovina, Frank Reed, and Mr. Goodwine.

Mr. Spring served for ten or twelve years for his precinct.

After he gave up farming and moved to town so his growing family could have the advantages of the schools on Bovina he went back to work in a general store.

It was about this time that he happened to witness the shooting of John Armstrong, foreman of the XIX by John Williams, in some misunderstanding over a cattle deal. The event occurred in broad daylight on the streets of Bovina.

Mr. Spring said he was about the third man to reach Armstrong and by the time he got there, Armstrong gave one last gasp for breath and then died. Naturally, the law called all the witnesses to appear at the trial to testify.

In 1926 the Springs moved to Friona, where they traded some land to Mr. McLallen for the store on Main Street. By this time the family consisted of Frank, Edward Gardner or Ese, Paul, Lee, Mary and Lydia Marie.

Running the store was sort of a family enterprise, and they all pitched in to help.

"But it was Mrs. Spring that raised the kids," says the father "I fed 'em, but she raised 'em."

And their business became a general store. There you could buy groceries, hardware, school supplies, clothes, shoes, yard goods, candles and soda pop.

Asked what he liked best about his business, the long time merchant replied, "I get a living out of it."

It might have been the memories of his boyhood in Illinois, and of the days spent in the woods there that created his interest in trees. He has a most complete orchard at his home in Friona, and his sons say that they have always had trees where ever they have lived.

Here you'll find peach, apple pear, and cherry trees, butter-nut and pecan trees, quince apricot, mulberry, English and black walnut, and even current bushes.

He even has a few specimens that a nurseryman ordered for him from Poland. He's considered something of an authority on trees around here and has given many sprouts of his Chinese Elm and mulberry trees to his neighbors and friends all over the area.

It has indeed been a busy life, full of his family, his business and civic affairs. He was a city commissioner for Friona, and was a school trustee when they built the Friona High School.

"You know, I used to think that when people got old it would be pretty hard, but it's not. It's germ on contact. Get happy re-lots easier. I guess it's just that lief IN ONE HOUR or your 40c people feel sorry for you and back at any drug store. Today at you get out of a lot of things."

Mr. Spring decided. Mr. and Mrs. Spring can look back on some active, busy years. Mrs. Spring is a jolly little woman with beautiful, soft white hair that other women envy. Their children are all grown now and are living busy lives of their own.

Frank is executive vice president of the Friona State Bank. Ese is busy farming wheat and row crop. Paul is county and city health officer and staff physician at Parmer County Community Hospital. Lee is a senior at the University of Texas Medical school.

Mary is working with Russell Stationery in Amarillo and Lydia Marie is now Mrs. Murie Sylvester and lives in Bisbee, Arizona.

There are nine grandchildren also, to live things up.

And so, F. L. Spring doesn't miss much, even though he's nearing the four score mark. Every day, you'll still find him at the little store that says, "F. L. Spring — General Merchandise."

Judge Lindsay said he had never tried gin and gingerale, but he had tried several who had.

and appurtenances, thereto, as are deemed necessary and adequate by the City Engineer; said paving to consist of construction of a hot asphaltic concrete surface course laid upon a substantial caliche base course, both of such type, construction, materials and thickness as provided for in the amended Plans and Specifications therefor prepared by the City Engineer and approved by said Board of Commissioners, all of said improvements to be done in the manner and as provided for in said Plans and Specifications and the contract covering the construction of said improvements, heretofore awarded to Brown & Root, Inc. by said Board of Commissioners, which Plans and Specifications and Contract are hereby referred to and are on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Friona, Texas.

That said Board of Commissioners, has caused the City Engineer to prepare and file the hereinafter set out estimates of the cost of such improvements and has by duly enacted Ordinances determined the necessity of levying assessments for a portion of the costs of the construction of said improvements against the property abutting upon said streets within the limits above defined, and the real and true owners thereof, and did adopt and determine the hereinafter set out proposed apportionment of the costs of said improvements between said City and abutting property, and the real and true owners thereof, and that the portion of said costs proposed to be assessed against the said abutting property and the real and true owners thereof will be in accordance with the FRONT-FOOT RULE OR PLAN, and did further adopt the following proposed rates and estimates of said costs in reference to and for each of said streets and avenues within the limits above defined as indicated in the following schedule by the names and Unit numbers of said streets and avenues, to-wit:

Of all said matters and things, all owning or claiming any such abutting property or any interest therein, as well as all others in anywise interested or affected by the things and matters herein mentioned, will take notice.

Lobbyists Are Generous in taking Donations!

LOBBYING

A number of inquiries have come into my office lately about different organizations seeking donations to help influence the passage or defeat of legislation. This is not a new game; it is as old as the hills. Several of these inquirers have asked my advice as to whether or not contributions should be made to these organizations.

There are a great number of organizations in most state capitols and especially is that true here in Washington, that hold themselves out as being for or against some particular special legislation or bill. Many of these organizations seek donations by personal contact, mail and sometimes by radio and newspaper advertising. It is most difficult to separate the good from the bad, and I would certainly not advise anyone to contribute anything which they do not have the utmost confidence. If you receive requests from any source for donations to these fancy named organizations, you owe it to yourself to find out who the people are behind the organization, what their purpose is, and what service they can render you. Frankly, I do not pay any attention to these so-called lobbying or semi-lobbying organizations. I am interested in what the people of my district think, and expect to follow that policy. I am sure that most of the other congressmen feel the same as I do and are not going to be misled by any such activities. There are many fine business, farm, civic, religious and other types of organizations that render services to their members, and these organizations also advise their members of pending legislation that might affect them. This is a fine service and a great help to the members. This type of organization is to be commended for the fine work it is doing in building and helping the communities and the state. However there are many fly by night organizations that use high-sounding names that probably are sincere in what they are doing, but they are certainly ineffective, and money thrown into these channels is wasted by the taxpayers. If any of you have any questions about any pending legislation, all you have to do is write me and I will certainly furnish you with as much information as is available. Please do not permit yourself to be enticed into making donations that are unnecessary, and then find out too late that you have been taken.

TIDELANDS

You will of course be interested to know that the legislation for the return of the tidelands is beginning to progress, as I told you it would in a previous news letter. This should develop faster within the next few weeks, and unless something unforeseen takes place, it is my opinion that we will have the tidelands recovered by the end of this year.

CONTROLS

The extension of the controls under the Defense Production Act of 1950 appears to be in line for a good fight on the House Floor. Most of the members of congress, who are fully aware of the dangers of inflation, are dissatisfied with the manner in which the allocation and control program has been administered, and many have told me that if we are to have a continuation of the recent experiences with these bureaucratic directives, it is their opinion that it would be better to abolish the whole program and start over. It looks like a nip and tuck battle at the present time; however I am afraid that many who do not believe in controls as a fundamental proposition will vote to extend the controls. This group will not vote to enlarge the controls or extend them for any great period of time. I do not believe that the proposition to license business would get any appreciable support in this congress. Certainly I am not going to vote to license all businesses and let them be controlled from a central focal point in Washington. That would be regimentation of the worst kind and would place in the hands of a few bureaucrats life and death powers over every small business in this country. I have already served notice on the powers that be that I am unqualifiedly opposed to any such program and will fight it to the finish.

ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY

Ground work is being laid to bring tremendous pressure to pass the St. Lawrence Seaway of legislation involves expenditure of approximately 800 million dollars of American money, and incidentally is being sponsored and pushed by several economy minded Republicans who are going to meet themselves coming back if they get this bill on the floor. One of the funny things here is that a lot of these people talk economy when it is in someone else's district, but when some expenditure involving several hundred million dollars turns up in their district, it immediately becomes a defense project and all question of economy is forgotten. I can tell you though that the strong force of Jeffersonian Democrat in this Congress will not be fooled by these tactics. These pork barrel projects whether in democratic or republican territory, are going to find rough sledding.

VISITORS

Visitors from the district this week were Tom McFarland of Hereford, and David Rogers of Dawn.

The honeymoon is over when she stops dropping her eyes and starts raising her voice. It's kinda tough going nowadays when we have to do without so many things that our parents never had.

NO HURRY!

The early day in the spring, a beetle happened to notice a snail inching its way slowly up the trunk of a large cherry tree. "Hey, stupid," yelled the beetle, "There ain't no cherries up in that tree." "Relax, Buster," quipped the snail. "There will be when I get there."

have made an additional effort to plant varieties that carry the miller's stamp of approval, as grains with good milling qualities. The latest tabulations report that Parmer County's wheat was acknowledged to be 30 to 35 per cent of types acceptable for milling, which is a considerable jump from four years ago.

Where to store this year's crop apparently won't be any problem. Since the Commodity Credit Corporation has been calling in grain sorghums for export, the commercial elevators have been shipping out their supplies regularly. Now there is plenty of room for all the wheat they receive.

The Friona Wheat Growers' elevator, with a storage capacity of 1,300,000 bushels, has half that space empty, according to Drake. Santa Fe Grain, with a 700,000 bushel storage space, says they'll have plenty of room for all the wheat that is brought in.

Contrary to years past there won't be any struggle to obtain box cars.

Because of the shortage of wheat throughout the area (and authorities estimate only about 15 per cent of the acreage planted will be harvested) many farmers may decide to store their grain right on the farm.

"There's going to be a big demand for seed wheat next year," said Drake. "They can save it and sell it as seed."

Wheat carries a price support, of course, but according to the Texas Grain and Feed Dealers Association Bulletin, there has been nothing definite on the wheat loan, and this cannot be announced until the June 15 parity price is published on June 29. It is definite, though, that the producers will have to repay the wheat storage, the same as on other commodities. This will amount to about 11 1-2 cents per bushel.

COUPLE'S BRIDGE CLUB MET

Mr. and Mrs. Wright Williams were high scorers at the meeting of the Couples Bridge Club that met Monday night. Mrs. Nelson Welch won the Bingo prize.

Refreshments were served to about 20 people present by the host and hostesses, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Knox, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Maurer.
