

Editorially Speaking

Hmmm, What are We Contributing to the Welfare of That Civic Organization or Veterans' Group to Which We Belong? This Is a Frequent but Justified Query

To what organizations do you belong? Are you satisfied with their operations, accomplishments, and reputation?

This area is quite fortunate in having the better welfare organizations, civic clubs, veterans organizations, farm groups, etc. represented here. But at times we have been questioned about the justification for practically every one of these organizations.

The intent and purposes of practically every civic group in the country amply justifies its existence; BUT the public service rendered over a period of weeks or months only can be controlled by the active participation of its members; and that is where most of us fall down.

Certainly a wide-awake veterans organization is advantageous in any community. Here we have the American Legion, an organization embracing men who have served their country in the armed forces, supposedly alert to the welfare of the nation and community. The national organization furnishes the local post with many helps, but only local enthusiasm and an aggressive and planned program of local operation can uphold the prestige and justification of the post. And that is where you come in, dear member.

The Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture was re-activated here by a sincere group of farmers and business men cognizant of the welfare of their community. A program of work was set up, with a full-time professional manager at the helm. Much good has been accomplished even at this early date. BUT the future public acceptance of the organization will be forthcoming only upon continued work and accomplishment—not just by the manager, but by you and myself as a members, as a committeeman, or as a director. We would like to see more committee meetings, more director meetings, maybe some community gatherings of interest to every man, woman, and child. Are we asking too much? You are going to take interest in the organization only so long as you put something into it . . . that is simply a universal human trait.

We cite these two organizations only at random. The same principles apply to our church activities, our masonic orders, our Lions Club, our Farm Bureau, etc. With such a wealth of local organizations, enthusiastic participation could net only a bright future in the Friona area for ourselves and our children, in one of the most Progressive towns in the Panhandle.

THE AMERICAN WAY

A Reasonable Question

Do You Remember?

12 YEARS AGO

The city of Friona was soon to have a new fire truck which was being built at the Reeve Chevrolet under the direction of Charlie Bainum, one of the firemen. The truck will have ample room for all the firemen and their equipment. The motor was to be powerful enough to get any distance within the city limits in the shortest length of time.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schlenker and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schlenker and Mrs. Ralph Wilson who left for Iowa two weeks ago returned home last week. The elder Mr. and Mrs. Schlenker are natives of Iowa and were there visiting their former home, relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall and children and Mr. and Mrs. Smoky Price and son visited in the Joe Pittman home Sunday afternoon.

Second place winner was Hazel Marie Crow who told of plans to improve her room.

There was to be a joint meeting of all interested persons at the Methodist Church. This meeting was to decide whether the people wanted to repeal the 18th amendment. The program was topics discussed by local citizens. They were "Would law enforcement be more effective," by A. S. Curry, "Do we want a return of the saloon", J. A. Wimberly, "What effect would legalized liquor have on business", by John White, "What effect will the vote of women have on the question", by Mrs. L. G. Simpson, "How are you going to vote and why," Rev. Samuel Pearson.

26 YEARS AGO

The mass meeting was well attended that was called to decide what the people prefer to do in regard to the school enlargement. Several suggestions were discussed, most of the people were in favor of a central school and for enlargement suggestions were, to build adjoining rooms to the present buildings, building of separate buildings on the school grounds, and that of adding a third story to the present building.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Boggess and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lockhart are planning to leave soon on an extended vacation through the South and East. They will visit points of interest in Kentucky and Washington.

Guests in the home of Mrs. J. M. Watson recently have been her daughter and grandsons, Mrs. R. L. Bates, Dwight and Phillip, of Sunray, who have been with Mrs. Watson during her convalescence. On Sunday Mr. Bates drove up and his family returned with him. They were guests this week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Welch, also. Mrs. Welch and Mrs. Bates are sisters.

Visiting with Mrs. Ed White is her mother, Mrs. Lena Hamm of Hutchinson, Kansas. She arrived Friday and will visit in Friona a month.

Mrs. Merle Shirley left last week for Granite, Oklahoma, where she plans to spend a month or two visiting her brothers and sisters.

Up Front, Personal Report of Korean War Is Presented by Marguerite Higgins, Girl Reporter Compared with Ernie Pyle

Even comparable to Ernie Pyle is Marguerite Higgins, girl from June through December, reporter, many critics say. In her report of the "War in Korea" she further earns this title both as a reporter and in ally. I have tried to show how the hearts of the American people.

Young and photogenic for a war correspondent, sent to Korea by the New York Herald Tribune, she proved to be not only a brilliant reporter but was greatly admired by the fighting men. She went right along with them, dodging bullets and facing the same dangers as they did, asking neither favor or privileges for herself. She has been publicly commended for her bravery in helping the wounded while in the line of fire and on the outside of duty.

Gifted with the discerning eye of an expert reporter and possessing the warm sympathy of a woman, living through the agony of her country-men, Miss Higgins tells the whole story of the bitter Korean campaign up to January 1951.

She tells of the young and green troops maturing in battle; of Communist bullets kicking over the coffeepot at breakfast, or as refugees, the terrain of the shortage of American arms and the terrible price we pay both gay and sad, as well as when we are caught up in the Miss Higgins says that she up tries to report phases of the Korean War as I saw it. With the exception of four weeks in November, I was almost constantly on active duty; General McArthur and two and three star generals, natives at home or as refugees, the terrain of the battle fields, and others, number of the author all dressed in a clean uniform—of her choosing—or with the dirt and grime of battle on her face as she wrote the battle news for the people at home.

THE LAW and YOU

DO YOU KNOW when your Notary Public commission expires?

The commission of a notary public in Texas expires on the person can be appointed to act on the first day of June, of the odd as a notary public only in his numbered years. Those who have county of his or her residence. One who is appointed a notary public can take acknowledgment-missions prior to Jun 1, 1951. If you have not renewed your commission as a notary public, appointed. If after appointment you should contact your County Clerk immediately. The Sec- sionary of State is in charge of in this state, his appointment of notary shall terminate as to that matter is county; and to secure the right to act as a notary public, he must make a new application, give a bond, and take the oath of commission as a notary public in the county to which he has moved.

Parity in Government Would Turn a Lot of Bureaucrats Out to Pasture, No Doubt Solving Many National Ills

A Fort Worth cattleman recently remarked to the editor of the Livestock Reporter there: "Those fellows in Washington are sure crazy about this Parity Idea! "You know, I think we ought to have another kind of Parity. "We could stand a little parity in Government!" To us, this fellow had it all figured out in a few simple words. We have long believed there was too much government, and a corresponding cut in government spending and in a bureaucratic employees would go a long way in creating some vestige of "normalcy" in our national welfare.

The cattleman further remarked that true parity in the numbers of government employees would turn a lot of the professional hangers-on out to pasture, too!

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The great puppet show drags on in Washington's sticky weather. Stooze-like, one brass bound witness after another appears before the Senate committee investigating MacArthur dismissal.

Despite millions of words of testimony, no reason for dismissal has been established. On military grounds, none will.

The real reason for sacking will not come to light until Senate inquiries into MacArthur's beliefs regarding Japanese peace treaty.

Acheson did not want MacArthur to participate in peace treaty. The peace treaty is due to be arranged soon; hence the rush to get rid of the General.

Russians, who theoretically have a voice in the Japanese occupation, and coming peace treaty, had been protesting bitterly about the way MacArthur shut them out. Acheson took notice of their protests.

Besides Russians, MacArthur made bitter enemies of big monopolies, both in America and abroad who disliked his Japanese trust busting. Acheson took notice of these protests, too.

Before MacArthur, entire Japanese economy was controlled by five big family owned trusts. The Big Five of Japan controlled all business, just as the Big Five does today in Hawaii.

MacArthur created the climate in Japan for a free enterprise system of small business to flourish, bringing to an end the monopoly understandings that the old Japanese Big Five had with British and American monopolies.

Apparently Acheson does not want a peace treaty to be reached which will permit freedom of enterprise to continue in Japan.

Britain has already announced they want terms in the peace treaty which will definitely limit the extent that the Japanese can engage in ocean transportation.

Britain always seeks to monopolize the business of ocean transportation, a most profitable business.

For example, American taxpayers have paid out more than a half billion dollars, largely to foreign shipping firms, for the transportation of billions of dollars worth of Marshall Plan goods given to Europe.

But the shipping monopoly is just one of the monopolies that MacArthur antagonized.

No Japanese peace treaty that recognizes and encourages the development of the small businessman is wanted.

Thus the whole dreary, sordid investigation of the MacArthur ouster could be wound up in a half day.

A few simple senatorial questions on the proposed peace treaty for Japan could supply all the reasons for the dismissal.

MacArthur knows more about the Japanese situation than any one in high government office.

Should such a probe result in Congress strong insistence on administrative control of government drafting MacArthur to direct Japanese peace treaty, many facts would be revealed.

It is possible some of the revelations could be felt abroad.

These revelations could not only upset the plans for a dictatorship by Socialism at No. 10 Downing Street, but could also undo accomplishments of Prime Minister Attlee on his recent visit to Washington.

Here's the Distinction Between "Certified" and Other High Quality Seed

Certification of variety by authorized State certifying agencies gives assurance of trueness to type for new and improved varieties of certain field crop seeds. New, improved alfalfas such as Ranger, Buffalo, and Atlantic, and clovers such as Kenland and Midland in which the seed is indistinguishable from ordinary seed, are certified as to inheritance and quality, to protect the buyer.

However, the great bulk of processed, tested, and labeled seed available to the American farmer today is not certified seed, and does not lend itself to certification. Without this supply of high-quality seed furnished by the field seed industry, American agriculture could not carry on at its present high level of production.

Perhaps less than 3 per cent of all small-seeded legumes and grasses is certified, and a much smaller per cent of cereals and large legume seeds. The protection to the buyer as to the quality of this non-certified seed is the analysis tag or label. If the seed is from a reputable seedsmen, the tag will show the kind, the purity, the germination, and give other information fully describing the quality. Untagged seed, however, glowingly described, or uncleaned and untested seed from a neighbor, or "bargain" seed offered by unknown peddlers, will not be bought by the careful farmer. He knows, regardless of how "cheap" it is, that it probably would be the costliest in the end.

Occasionally a well-intentioned writer desiring to caution the farmer against using poor, weedy seed, will suggest that the farmer insist on "high quality certified seed." The writer in most cases probably has in mind tested seed of known quality from a reliable source, properly tagged, rather than "certified" seed in its strictly-applied meaning.

Unfortunately, confusion has arisen in the minds of many farmers through this somewhat loose use of the word "certified."

The seed the farmer is wanting to buy most likely is one of those kinds that does not exist as certified seed. Such kinds either have no recognized varietal differences, or the seeds are readily distinguishable by appearance in analysis.

Certification cannot cover most of the farm seed in use today, nor is certification necessary for this large volume of high quality refined seed.

You Can Cook Quick-Frozen Foods As Thrifty Part Of Oven Dinner

It's a time-saving and fuel-saving idea to cook quick-frozen foods in the oven by the same heat that's roasting meat or baking a pudding. And Birds Eye has worked out a cooking timetable to make this kind of meal easy.

Various menus can be planned for oven cooking. A meat loaf, for instance, with baked potatoes, quick-frozen green peas and spinach or golden sweet corn is a good meal. Baked quick-frozen fillets of haddock or ocean perch, with quick-frozen French fried potatoes, French style green beans or broccoli, and corn would be another appetizing combination. If your family likes rice pudding served warm, you can bake one in the same oven. If you take it from the oven at the beginning of the meal, it will cool sufficiently before dessert for pleasant eating.

HOW TO COOK

1. Place 1 box frozen vegetable, 2 tablespoons butter, and 1/4 teaspoon salt in baking dish.
2. Cover and bake in moderate oven (325° F.) to (375° F.) as directed below, or until just tender.

Vegetable	Weight of Package	Cooking Time	Number of Servings
Asparagus Cuts	12 ounces	40 to 45 minutes	3 or 4
Asparagus Spears	12 ounces	40 to 50 minutes	3 or 4
Broccoli	10 ounces	35 to 40 minutes	3
Broccoli Cuts	10 ounces	35 to 40 minutes	3
Brussels Sprouts	10 ounces	35 to 40 minutes	3
Cauliflower	10 ounces	30 to 35 minutes	3
Corn, whole kernel	10 ounces	25 to 30 minutes	3 or 4
Green Beans, cut	10 ounces	40 to 45 minutes	3 or 4
Green Beans, French Style	10 ounces	35 to 40 minutes	3 or 4
Green Peas	12 ounces	35 to 40 minutes	3 or 4
Lima Beans, small	12 ounces	45 to 50 minutes	3 or 4
Lima Beans, Fordhook	12 ounces	40 to 45 minutes	3 or 4
Mixed Vegetables	12 ounces	40 to 45 minutes	3 or 4
Peas and Carrots	12 ounces	40 to 45 minutes	3 or 4
Spinach	14 ounces	35 to 40 minutes	3 or 4
Spinach, chopped	14 ounces	30 to 35 minutes	3 or 4
Succotash	11 ounces	45 to 50 minutes	3 or 4
Wax Beans, cut	10 ounces	45 to 50 minutes	3 or 4

In hard water areas, to get clothes really clean, rinse water as well as wash water needs a softening agent. Soap combines with hard water minerals and forms scum which clings to clothes. Enough soap is carried on the clothes into the rinsing water to form this scum.

Top delicate fruit salads with rich, flavorful dressings, like 1/4 cup real mayonnaise mixed with 1/2 cup French dressing and 1/2 cup crumbled Roquefort or Blue cheese.

Spring cleaning? Then don't forget that one of the chores should include laundering linens which are seldom used. This prevents yellowing.

Looney - Hanna Vows Read Sunday, Bovina

June Gay Looney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reagan Looney, became the bride of Leonard Hanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hanna of Farwell, Sunday, June 10 at high noon. The double-ring ceremony was read in the Bovina Baptist Church with Rev. M. D. Durham reading the vows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white pique street length dress with white accessories. For something old, she wore her mother's wedding ring, the dress was something new and borrowed was a ring belonging to her aunt, Mr. Alma Vassey. Something blue was the traditional blue garter.

Peggy Sue Starr, maid of honor, wore a dress of pink sallyna trimmed in pink lace with white accessories.

Ushers were Bobby England and Howard Looney and best man was D. C. Looney, brother of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony a dinner in the home of the bride's parents was served to the wedding party and the out-of-town guests.

Mrs. Hanna was a graduate of Bovina High School in 1951. Mr. Hanna was a graduate of Farwell High School in 1948 and is serving in the army. He had served in Germany and is stationed at Gatesville where the couple will make their home.

Methodist Group Plans Sunday Night Conclusion

The Methodist Vacation Bible School will be concluded Sunday night beginning at 7:30, with a program presented by those attending the Bible School. Certificates for attendance will be presented, and the work of the students will be on display in the educational building.

For their handwork they have been doing finger painting and making folders about the church.

82nd Congress Vindicated by Congressman

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin White Sunday were Mrs. White's family, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Marshall and daughters, of Petersburg, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Smith and children, Mike and Karen were in Amarillo visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stewart were in Clovis last weekend to attend business and to see the Clovis-Borger ball game.

Miss Doris Taylor, who recently graduated from Northwestern School of Nursing in Amarillo, was in Friona this weekend visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Taylor. She will return to Amarillo for several weeks more of graduate work.

Charles Horton, a former Friona resident, was in town this week calling on his old friends.

THE 82ND CONGRESS

Much has been said in the newspapers lately to the effect that the President may call this another "do nothing" Congress; also that this Congress has been slow and inactive in passing major legislation. These are general terms and do not give a clear picture of what is going on. Only yesterday the Majority Whip, Congressman Percy Priest of Tennessee, made the announcement on the Floor that the House was keeping up with the Rules Committee and that there was no backlog whatever of legislation that had come to the House Floor that had not been attended to. Before legislation can come to the House Floor it must come through the Rules Committee. As fast as the Rules Committee is moving legislation to the Floor, the House is attending to business, and is presently waiting for measures that have cleared other committees to be voted out by the Rules Committee. All of the committees are working exhaustively on legislative matters in an effort to work out the problems that could cause extended and costly debate on the Floor of the House. This is especially true of the Appropriations Committee and the appropriations sub-committees. These committees have been holding extended hearings on all appropriation matters in an effort to cut out every expenditure possible. When these bills come to the floor, they are below the budget estimates and show that a great amount of exhaustive work has been done by the committees. If this kind of work is what is being called "do nothing", I say we need more of it. The statement that this Congress has been slow in passing major legislation is certainly true if the major legislation referred to is the FEPC

the Civil Rights, the socialized medicine, and other socialistic legislation. This Congress is not only going to be "slow" in passing this so-called major legislation, it is just not going to pass it. Furthermore this Congress is not going to pass legislation that would give more and extended controls to bureaucrats. It is going to require a lot of time and a lot of work to stop that kind of legislation, and I say that the time and work spent in stopping that kind of legislation is certainly well spent on behalf of the American citizen and the American taxpayer. One of the big troubles with this country now is that there are so many Federal laws that the average citizen cannot so much as read them much less understand them. When you add the Federal Laws to the many and complex State and local laws, the average business man must be a law expert to keep from being a law violator. More work is needed toward simplifying the laws and regulations. Too much time has been devoted by so-called intellectuals toward creating complexities that the average man in ordinary business pursuit cannot understand nor comply with. Honest compliance with simple straightforward and understood basic laws is much more important to the preservation of this country than the promulgation and enforcement of long, involved and complex statutes containing ambiguous and technical words and phrase behind which can be hidden ulterior purposes. The truth still rings out in the phrase "the best governed are the least governed."

Here is more information about some of the progress this Congress is making against bureaucracy. You will remember in an earlier news letter my statements regarding HR-1, the bill providing for $10,000 life insurance for veterans while on active duty. This bill was approved by the Committee on Veterans Affairs of which I am a member. I told you at the time that it would reduce the administrative costs and save the taxpayer many dollars. The truth of that statement is now proven. Notices terminating employment have gone out to more than 800 employees who were employed to process applications and other matters connected with the Government life insurance program. This will save the taxpayers approximately two and a half million dollars and will reduce the Federal payroll by the 800 employees referred to. Had this bill finally passed both houses as it passed the House of Representatives the savings to the taxpayers would have been approximately four million dollars and the reduction in employees would have been nearer 1200. This is the kind of "do nothing" work that this Congress is doing, and will continue to do.

MORE ON THE BEEF PRICE ROLLBACKS

A group of cattle people called on the President the other day seeking to compromise the beef price rollback program. These people did not represent the thoughts of most of the cattle people that have discussed the problem with me, and it is my firm opinion that compromise in this matter is like appeasement—it just won't work. The action of the OPS in rolling back the prices is either right or wrong. In my opinion it is wrong and can only be righted by retracting the order. Under the present order the only people who stand to profit are the BIG packers, and the people will find this out later on down the line. I was on a radio program the other day with Senator Sparkman of Alabama, Congressman Tobey Morris of Oklahoma, and Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse, a former Congresswoman who is now serving in a liaison capacity with the OPS. She made the unqualified statement that the cattle feeders and consumers would be benefited by the rollback. I showed her in simple arithmetic that that statement could not possibly be true. She thereupon undertook to justify her position by going off into the realm of speculation. I hope that some of you folks heard that program. It doesn't take a government official or a college graduate to understand that no man can afford to feed cattle at a cost of 85 cents a day when he can only recover 63 cents for the meat that is put on the animal. I could understand that when I was in the second grade. Mrs. Woodhouse also made the statement that the OPS had received numerous letters from cattle feeders to the effect that they were satisfied with the order. After the program was over I asked Mrs. Woodhouse if she would furnish me with copies of the letters she had received from Texas cattle feeders. Her answer was that the OPS had received no such letters from Texas cattle feeders. There is entirely too much theory in these controls and not enough practical common sense. The result is that this Congress is going to be very reluctant to extend many of these controls after June 30th. You can watch for a good fight on this measure.

Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Whitley and daughter Vickie, of Pampa; Mrs. Doyle Weatherly and baby girl of Turkey; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Carlile and sons Jeff and Winford of Tullia, accompanied by Miss Nancy Howell of Corpus Christi.

means to the people of Texas if they will use the facilities which are there for them. Friona should be proud, we are one of the smaller chambers in the state and yet we lead in budget and finance.

Many cities have set up civil defense programs in the event that an atomic attack is forthcoming, but it was brought out during the meeting at San Antonio that we in the small areas are those who are going to be called upon to shoulder a load which will be most important to those in the large areas, we will be the ones who will be called upon to furnish food, water, transportation and manpower, and we should be organized in the event that something does happen, meetings will be held for the purpose of informing each of us as to our responsibilities and what we may be asked to do, so that the time ever comes we will be organized and ready. It was pointed out that from now or indefinitely this will be a threat and a permanent setup all over the United States. You will be notified when these meetings will be held and it is requested that each will attend these meetings and avail themselves with the information.

Foster Trip — club because he is the president elect, and will take office at the first meeting in July to head the club for a year.

This is the second time this club has sent a delegate to a convention. Last year Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gee attended the Chicago meeting. Mr. Gee was retiring president of the club.

The Boss Lion elect has been a member of this club for six years. During that time he has served as Secretary, and for three years has been program chairman of the club.

Of course he's pretty excited about the trip he'll make. Personally, he says he's more excited at the prospects of seeing Washington than any other place, because he's always wanted to see the capital. Guide service has already been employed for the bus load of delegates, to make sure they see everything of interest while there.

Mrs. Foster is looking forward to seeing the Atlantic Ocean, and enjoying the Board walk. There's only one thing that mars the vacation, and that's the fact that the Foster's two daughters, Ray Nell, who has just completed her freshman year at Texas Technological College in Lubbock, and Patti-John, a third grader in Friona Schools, cannot take the trip with their parents. They will stay with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Lamb.

But the Fosters will be back on July 3, full of stories about their big excursion to the east coast, and all ready for the new Boss Lion to lead the Lions Club on to an even more successful year.

Cotton Meeting — they can find. Therefore, if cotton fields are near there is danger of getting thrip damage.

Beginning very early growers should watch for thrips. Their damage can be noted by the silvery appearance on the underside of the leaves. Thrips are slender straw-colored bugs about one sixteenth of an inch long. Wherever silverying of the leaves occurs generally through the field it is time to start poisoning.

It is highly recommended that growers follow an early season control program based on automatic treatment which may be done at the time of cultivation thus eliminating some of the expense. It must be remembered that insects are easier killed early in the season and that it takes less insecticide.

In areas where fleahoppers usually occur in some degree every year, the first application should be put on the eight leaf stage or earlier if necessary depending on the thrips and aphids. It is about this time that the squares first begin to form and this is a critical time for the fleahopper. If the first application is put on in the eight leaf stage then seven days later a second application should follow. After these two applications, the early season automatic treatments should stop to allow time for the beneficial insects to build up. Seven days later the cotton should be inspected and continued to be inspected once a week for fleahoppers. If fifteen fleahoppers are found per one hundred terminal buds it is time to put on another application. By using the two early applications the fleahoppers should be knocked out; however, constant watch should be maintained, for the fleahopper is a migratory insect and can move in at any time.

All growers should obtain "The Guide For Controlling Cotton Insects" from their County Agent. This guide has a lot of valuable information including a table listing all the dusts and sprays that will control the early and late season insects. There are several insecticides listed and they are all good. Use the one that you prefer or whichever is available at the best price.

Whether sprays or dusts are used, it is important to remember that the poison must cover the plants to kill insects. When the plants put on new growth, or the poison is washed off, the plants are no longer protected.

Insects are indeed a major threat to economical cotton production, but they can be profitably controlled if growers will use the right poison at the right time. With the chance for a good price and the urgent need for cotton, growers more than ever should include in their plans for this year's crop, a good insect control program.
