VOLUME 28—NUMBER 7

FRIONA, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1952

Column Left. . .

Most everyone connected with the fair held last week-end recognize the cooperative spirit that put the job over.

A note from Martin Fulcher reads:

"Thank you for the fine cooperation throughout the entire county for a wonderful fair. Our personal thanks to Raymond Euler, Officers and Directors." And Wright Williams speaks for the Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, sponsors of the barbecue, in making special mention of Hank Outland for his services, S. I. Thornton for the cans and pots for coffee, Meads Bakery for 125 loaves bread, Blanton Butane, Inc., for the burners, the Friona Methodist Church for the tables used, and all others who made it possible for the serving of barbecue to 2200 people.

Both news contributors and advertisers in the Star are asked to submit copy early as possible next week. Most of the type probably will be set in an out-of-town commercial shop next week, and for this reason we hope much of the copy will be in our hands by Monday noon. We anticipate being back on regular schedule the following week.

For once, mechanical difficulties did not materialize during or just before the annual fair, but this week more than made up for easier days beforehand! - and it is only by the coffee la Villa Cafe at 3 and 4 a. m. for most nights this week that a paper is coming to you at all!

Speaking of Mr. and Mrs. Krueger's eating establishment - it really is quite a service in a town this size to have a modern cafe open 24-hours per day. And it would surprise many of you the number of people who stop there during the wee hours. Also our eyes were opened this week to the many duties imposed upon a proprietor of such - people arriving searching for local residents, telephone calls with urgent messages, etc. So thanks, Mr. and Mrs. Krueger, for the little publicised services you render.

Our able reporter, Mrs. W. A. Tinney, comes up with some of the most unexpected oddities. For instance, her trail in search of news early this week was earmarked by some mighty squeaky and annoying shoes! So what did the shoe repairman do? He removed the heels, drilled a hole in each, filling it with baby powder before re-assembling - so now our "tiny" Tinney again treads softly. It worked.

Wright Williams asks us to inform anyone who would like to have some hand pullers for their cotton and who have a place for them to live, to contact him at the North Plains Gin - either Mexican Nationalists or South Texas natives can be obtained.

Members of the Friona Chiefs football squad were guests of Bill McGlothlin Wednesday evening at the Regal Theatre for the showing of "Jim Thorpe, All American." Bill is just another one of the local fellows who go all the way to support the school. Twenty-one of the squad members saw the show.

Principal John Parish sends word to the parents of the community that he certainly appreciates the cooperation in remedying the stray dog situation that proved quite aggravating and even dangerous at the school grounds.

Osborn Cops Laurels With Herefords; Fair Well Attended Here

Parmer County last week staged a county fair that ranked with the very best of county fairs in Texas, according to "those in the know" who have made the circuits this year. With the adverse weather and crop conditions over the state, the high quality of feedstuffs, vegetables, cattle and whatnot at the Friona Fair was even more remarkable.

Over 2200 people were present at the Friday night barbecue that highlighted the social activities of the fair.

The Saturday parade was one of the more colorful ones seen here, with visiting riders and bands adding to the festivities. Parade awards were:

School bands: Farwell, 1st; Bovina, 2nd. The Friona band did not compete for the cash awards. Prizes were $20 and $10.

Civic organizations floats: First award of $15 to the Senior Woman's Club; and 2nd prize of $10 to the Girl Scouts.

School floats: 1st, $12.50 to the seniors; and 2nd of $7.50 to the juniors.

Bicycles and pets: 1st, $5 to Charles Jones on his homemade tractor; 2nd, $4, to Patricia Baxter for cart and duck; 3rd, $3, to Robbie Osborn with his motor wagon; and 4th of $2 to Frankie Spring for his bicycle with crepe paper canopy.

M. C. Osborn, Friona FFA member, showed the grand champion in both male and female divisions of the beef cattle group with his Hereford entries.

Earl Stevenson showed both grand champions in the Angus show.

D. C. Burnett of Friona showed the grand champion bull in the Brown Swiss division, one of the largest divisions in the dairy cattle show. Martin Fulcher of Black, pioneer booster of the Brown Swiss breed in the Panhandle, showed the grand champion female.

In a special class for club boy exhibitors of Brown Swiss, Raymond Brown showed the first place winner and Leroy Burnett the second place animal.

In the Holstein show, Clyde Sherrieb of Friona exhibited the first place bull, first place senior calf and first place junior calf.

The winning community exhibit was the Farwell entry, prepared by John Aldridge, Farwell attorney, and M. A. Snider, farmer south of Farwell. The exhibit was a true showcase of diversified agriculture, with specimens including sudan bundle hay, baled hay, alfalfa bales, pinto beans, oats, black-eyed peas, soy beans, vetch, okra, pumpkins, hegarl, cotton and milo combine.

The Farwell exhibit was a tribute to rains which have favored the southwestern corner of Parmer County this summer. "It's a little early and we had trouble finding mature stuff," said Snider, "but there are plenty of good crops around Farwell."

The home arts exhibit, said Mrs. Mack Bainum, superintendent, drew samples of everything from canned peaches to leather tooling.

A free barbecue ended the Friday program.

The Saturday schedule included judging of swine at 9 a. m.; a lunch at noon and a parade at 2 p. m.

J. P. Smith of Pan Tech Farm, Amarillo, judged beef and dairy cattle Saturday. Dist. Judge Alton B. Chapman, who doubles as an authority on the Milking Shorthorn breed, judged entries in the exhibit of dual purpose cattle.

Calvin Holcomb, Swisher County agent from Tulla, judged horticultural exhibits.

Clyde Little of Southwestern Public Service Company, Clovis, and Diane Reed, Boyley County home demonstration agent of Muleshoe, judged home arts exhibits.

Officers of the Parmer County Fair are Floyd Schlenker, president, Clyde Hays, vice-president; Raymond Euler, secretary-treasurer; County Agent Joe W. Jones, general superintendent, and J. T. Gee, Friona vocational agriculture teacher, assistant general superintendent.

Winners in the cattle division include:

First Bale Cotton Draws Premium; Grain Harvest Barely Commencing

Some milo and other grains are being brought to local elevators this week initiating the grain harvest season in this area.

Little irrigated feed has been cut, with the real harvest anticipated to begin in ten days or two weeks, elevator operators and farmers agree.

Much of the dryland grain being cut now is barely dry enough for cutting; loads have been testing as high as 17 and 18 per cent moisture as against the preferred 15 test or below; in fact little market is reported for the higher test loads.

Grain harvest will be considerably smaller than last year despite some high yields expected on irrigated and summer fallowed land. About 40,000 acres of irrigated grain is estimated in Parmer County, and with much of the dryland grain already lost, the bulk of the harvest will come off this acreage. About 60,000 acres of irrigated grain was harvested last year. About 210,000 acres of dryland feed was seeded, but the dry weather has cut harvest to a small percentage of this figure.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH NEWS

In the absence of the pastor, the laymen of the Congregational church took charge of the services of worship Sunday.

Otho Whitefield conducted the opening service; Mrs. Dan Luttrell sang a solo, "Make the Best of Things;" Gladys Dean gave a reading, "What Was His Creed"; Mr. Otho Whitefield gave a talk on, "Why I am an Congregationalist"; Dr. Metzner sang, "O Love that Will Not Let Me Go," and Mrs. Floyd Schlenker reported on an article, "A Catholic layman speaks his mind." Mrs. L. F. Lillard was pianist for the service.

WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP

The Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church met in the church parlors Wednesday with twelve members and several guests present.

Mrs. Otho Whitefield gave a talk on the work of the denomination in Micronesia. This year is the centennial of the establishment of the working that island and the group of which it is a part.

The Fellowship completed plans for the entertainment of the meeting of the Central Association of Congregational churches which is to be held in the local church in October.

The ladies are working on the Birth-dated calendars and anyone interested in having their name on the calendar should contact any one of the ladies of the organization.

Hostess at the meeting was Mrs. Floyd Reeve.

J. D. Fry, Murry Ford and W. A. Tinney were business visitors in Clovis Tuesday.

NOTE OF THANKS

The Home Arts Department of the Parmer County Fair wishes to express its appreciation for the cooperation and every assistance during the fair.

The entire funds derived from the County Queen Contest are used to finance our part of the fair, and we especially thank those who cast their votes, making our contest and exhibit possible.

Football Game Friday

The excitement of football season is being ushered into Friona this week with the Chiefs ready to take on the Morton Indians on Parmer soil Friday night, fresh from the initial season victory over Vega last week to the tune of 32-6.

A record crowd, both local boosters and the visiting supporters of the Morton aggregation, is anticipated for the Friona game to be called at 8 o'clock.

Friona took an early lead which they held throughout the encounter last week, looking mighty good to those who made the trek to Vega. After the two-touchdown lead racked up in the first period, Coach Cook's charges amassed more points in the second and final stanzas. Four of the five touchdowns earned by the Frionans were made by Darrell Robbins, quarterback.

Twenty-four players are listed on the Friona football programs to be sold at the game tonight by the athletic department. Mort lists 30.

Weights of the two teams are indicated to average near the same, with figures furnished the Star showing 149 lbs average for Friona and 151 for the visiting Morton team.

Coaching the local team are Raymond Cook who returns after a better-than-average season last year, and Lee Burnett who comes from Sul Ross College at Alpine as assistant coach.

Coaches for Morton are H. V. Marcum and Bill Hartgraves.

James W. Burselon of the Lazbuddie Community takes honors for the first 1952 bale of cotton in Parmer County reported to the Star.

North Plains Gin Company at Friona ginned the bale Wednesday and paid a premium price of 50c per lb to Burselon. Probable market price on the bale would have been near 34c. The check delivered by gin manager Wright Williams was in the amount of $301.50.

Living 3 miles west and 3 miles south of the Lazbuddie store, Burselon has commenced hand pulling of 320 acres of irrigated cotton, and he expects the yield to average about a bale per acre. Negro labor is being used in the pulling. The macca variety cotton was planted in late April.

The first bale weighed 540 lbs, coming from a 2050 lb load.

Studied the Platforms?

In checking the major planks of both the national Democratic and Republican parties, this writer finds no striking differences, inasmuch as the wording used by both groups is at times ambiguous. Both parties pledge sounder government - financially and politically - although the Republicans are more definite in their plan to economize in foreign spending and in internal affairs.

So for this reason, we minimize the platforms themselves in studying the placing of our vote. Rather we are considering the personalities involved, the benefits that we believe will come by a change in administration, and the psychological effect that would have its repercussions both here and abroad if the nation again endorsed the party in power that has become known in late years for its spending and tolerance of graft.

Actually, we believe the farm program, the administrative item that most closely affects our own locality, will be with us from now on, regardless of party in power; so we are not alarmed about any changes in this field.

Through the cooperation of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, we are listing below a concise comparison of the two national platforms as relating to national defense and foreign program spending - and even these are so general in their phrasing that votes hardly could be cast on them alone. That's why we're advocating attention to the man and to a change of administration rather than strict study of the written platforms.

Language of the two platforms on these subjects, in essence, as follows:

National Defense:
Democratic platform: Promises continued support of "the expansion and maintenance of military and civil defense forces required for our national safety;" rejects "The defeatist view of those who say we cannot afford the expense and effort necessary to defend ourselves."
Republican platform: Promises adequate support for national defense and for meeting treaty obligations; seeks "quickest possible development" of adequate air power; promises to "strip ur entire preparedness program clean of waste," and to eliminate conflict inertia and lack of cooperation among the armed forces.

Foreign program spending:
Democratic platform: Promises to encourage the "economic and political security of Europe," to "carry forward and expand the Voice of American programs, to continue to aid Israel and the Middle East, to aid growth of the United Nations, to continue South American programs, and to help India and Pakistan create a better life for their people." Support is pledged for expansion of the Point Four program to help undeveloped lands raise living standards. Continuation of present aid to Nationalist China is pledged.

Republican platform: Promises to "encourage and aid" collective security force in western Europe and elsewhere and to "end neglect of the Far East;" pledges aid to Israel and the Arab states. Support of the United Nations and strengthening of ties with South America are pledged. Measuring of foreign commitments "so that they can be borne without endangering the economic health of the United States" is also promised. This plank declares for continuance of the program of exchange of students with foreign countries and efforts for improvement of underdeveloped countries. It promises "to sever from the public payroll all the hordes of loafers, incompetents and unnecessary employees who clutter up the administration of our foreign affairs. The party will rid the State Department and other agencies of "those responsible for the needless perils in which we find ourselves," the plank states.

THE AMERICAN WAY

The Showdown

WASHINGTON AND "Small Business"

—By C. WILSON HARDER

The furor stirred up by the release of the hitherto secret report of the Federal Trade Commission on an international oil monopoly to the Senate Small Business Committee, is creating the No. 1 problem in Washington right now.

The report, long buried in secret, and now released, has posed a problem which will not be solved today, or tomorrow, but which must be solved on the basis of the facts brought out.

Here are some of the facts contained in almost 400 printed pages. Five U. S. companies, Standard of New Jersey, Standard of California, Socony-Vacuum, Gulf and Texaco, plus two British firms, Anglo-Iranian and Royal Dutch Shell, control the world's known petroleum reserves and production.

The FTC claims these seven control 33.6% of U. S. reserves, 81.2% of foreign reserves, or 65% of all reserves. They also control 86.5% of Western hemisphere production; 96.1% of Eastern hemisphere production.

FTC also shows in the report that these seven companies, through ownership of subsidiaries all over the world, have pegged prices, curtailed production to hold up those prices.

With the start of the Marshall Plan, which with its successor, has cost U. S. taxpayers almost a billion and a half dollars to date for oil to Europe, the price of Mediterranean basin oil jumped from $1.05 to $2.22 per barrel.

94% of this oil was sold by six of the Big Seven largely to their own subsidiaries in the nations receiving aid.

A subsequent price adjustment resulted in this oil being sold in Europe for $1.75 but when shipped halfway around the world to the U. S. the price was $1.43. This resulted in the shut down of independent U. S. producers, drowned out by the flood of oil imported by the Big Seven.

The report also gives Aramco's net profit for three years when the majority of sales was to nations receiving U. S. aid.

In 1948 it was 98.9 cents per barrel, in 1949 95.4 cents, in 1950 84.5 cents.

These and many other facts are reasons why something will have to be done. Washington feels, especially as this report has aroused more foreign interest than any Congressional report in the past. If nothing else, it is felt, world opinion will force action.

As to be expected, there are many solutions advanced. One, of course, is the Socialistic plan to nationalize the oil industry. The Big Seven seek to justify their revealed tactics on the basis of national welfare.

But the most hopeful sign seen of an American settlement of the problem is the suit filed by Justice Department for $67 million to recover alleged oil company overcharges to the Marshall Plan.

This could be the first of a series of Justice Department actions under the anti-trust laws to put the U. S. oil industry on a free, independent and competitive basis. With the issue now dragged out into the open, anything can happen.

The Law and You

By Robt. (Bob) Kirk

DO YOU KNOW whether or not a newspaper may publish facts about your private life against your will and desire?

Some of the States of the Union have passed statutes regulating how far a newspaper may go with regard to invading the private lives of individuals, and reporting these facts in their paper. There is no such statute in the State of Texas. In a recent case decided before one of the Courts of Civil Appeals in the State of Texas, which suit was one for damages against a newspaper for reporting certain items in its paper regarding an individual, the Curt discusses the law governing this and states as follows:

"The right of privacy is defined as a personal right protecting the individual's right to be let alone. Generally speaking, it is a wrongful invasion of that personal privacy which a person has as a part of his private life. The protection of a portion of such right is found under the common law, and in our statutes, under such classification as libel and slander, wrongful search and seizure, compulsory physical examinations, a eavesdropping by others, property rights in one's own literary works, wire tapping, and other similar invasions into the private business and personal affairs of an individual in being. . . The right of privacy, as such, was not a common law right. . . So far as we can ascertain, the question has never been passed upon in Texas. . . The right of privacy as such not being recognized under the common law, as it existed when we adopted it, an our Legislature not having given such right by statute, no recovery can be had in Texas under the facts in this record. It may be noted that our Legislature has given a limited right of action under our libel statute, Art. 5430, V.T.S., for the publication of written or printed statements which blacken "the memory of the dead."

THE TAX PROBLEM FOR THE NEXT FEW YEARS

One of the greatest fights in Congress for the next few years will not be confined alone to cutting government expenditures in numerous fields. The biggest problem will be to see that the benefits of these expenditure cuts benefit the individual taxpayers. History reveals that the cutting of government expenditures in various fields does not always mean relief for the taxpayer. So many times the money saved by expenditure cuts in one field have been used in other fields or for the promotion of additional schemes, the result being no tax reduction. How many of you have ever heard of a tax law being repealed? Many times additional taxes are levied and the people are told that the taxes collected from the new source will be used as a substitute for taxes that have been collected from some other source in the past. Looking again to history, we find that such has not been the case. The so-called "substitute" tax is usually misnamed, because it ends up as an additional tax burden. Once a tax has been levied, whether it be local, state or federal, it usually stays on the books. A good example is the income tax. This originated as a tax that would be fair and equitable tax borne equally by all according to income, and a tax that would provide measurable reductions in taxes theretofore collected from other tax sources. This same theory has been used in many states and cities to pass local and state income tax laws. The same is true of the sales tax. However, the result has always been the same. The money collected from these additional so-called "substitute" taxes has never been sufficient to effect a reduction in other taxes. Actually, the existence of the funds thereby collected has always resulted in increased governmental expenditures providing additional services by the government to the people, many of which were not solicited and are unwanted. The job that Congress will have in the next few years is to see that cuts in federal spending result in direct benefit to the individual taxpayer in the form of a reduced tax bill. It makes little difference who may be President or which party may have control of Congress, this job is going to be just as big, for the simple reason that most politicians, regardless of party, regardless of platform, and regardless of promises, seem to recognize as a cardinal rule that expenditures by the government providing all kinds of services to the citizens will sustain them in power. It is my belief that such a rule is false, especially in the Panhandle of Texas, that our people would much prefer that government services be confined to necessary services, and that the individual retain possession and control of as many of his dollars as possible. However, the fact remains that it is no less difficult today than in yesterday to repeal or deuce a tax levy. We are gaining much strength in our efforts to bring tax relief to the individual taxpayer, and I sincerely hope that this gain will continue.

THE VTRAAS HOUSING SCANDALS

The report that was recently released by a select committee condemning the practice of some builders preying upon veterans, should not only awaken the bulling trade, should also awaken the veteran. Many of the veterans bought houses, relying upon the representations of fast talking real estate promoters. This has proven to be a sad experience for many of them. Let us hope that in the future the veteran will get his contracts in writing and will go into the matter fully as to what he is paying for and what he is to get. It is too bad that some people have dropped so low in

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:
It often becomes advisable for older persons to undergo surgery. Such surgery can now be undertaken with safety. As a result of the use of antibiotics and blood transfusions, and because of improved techniques in anesthesia and surgery, the danger grows less and less.

Answer to Question No. 2:
Lymph nodes are small bean-shaped organs located within the body, ranging up to an inch long. They act as barriers to disease, taking up and destroying bacteria from nearby regions and preventing the spread of infection. In this function, they tend to become enlarged, but as the infection subsides they usually return to their normal size.

Answer to Question No. 3:
Hemophilia is a disease of the blood which is marked by a tendency to excessive bleeding (even from a small wound) as the blood does not clot promptly. There are about 40,000 cases in this country. People who suffer from this disease should carefully follow the advice of their family doctor. It is inherited through the mother. A great deal of research work is being done to control the disease and its complications.

(Copyright 1952 by Health Information Foundation)

their morals that they would prey upon a boy who has so ably and patriotically served his country. The veteran certainly had the right to rely upon representations of his fellow man, but the fact remains that in many cases he has been taken. This experience naturally results in causing the veteran to look with suspicion on all people in that business. The building trade, realizing that the unscrupulous practices of a few in their ranks brings condemnation on the entire trade, has commenced a program to adjust wrongs and weed out the unscrupulous. The success of their efforts in this respect will determine whether or not federal legislation will be passed. The veterans who have been wronged are certainly entitled to redress, and it is up to those who have committed the wrong to provide the redress. The unscrupulous practices uncovered on the part of some of the builders was an indirect raid on the public treasury. These practices not only affected the veterans, but the final result will be an impact on the taxpayer. The loans on those houses are insured by the federal government. If the loans are not paid, then the federal government becomes responsible. This means that if a borrower defaults in the payment of a loan on a house that was purchased for $12,000.00 and the house is sold at a foreclosure sale for less than the amount of the loan at the time of the default, the federal government becomes liable for the difference. The many defects in some of these houses could easily reduce the value of the house by several thousand dollars. This, plus a slight downward trend in the real estate market, could easily result in liability of the federal government for several thousand dollars on many of these defective houses. John Q. Taxpayer would, of course, end up paying the bill.
