Friona Schools Have Increased Enrollment

Enrollment at the Friona schools this morning had topped 604 scholastics, with more registrations expected during the week. Compared with the initial enrollment last year of 526 students, the local school system finds itself serving at least 75 more pupils than last term.

Column Left. . .

If all fishermen could have the luck of some fishermen!

We have it on good authority that Wright Williams went fishing for the very first time last week and hauls in a 5-lb. channel cat! Location: Hot Springs, New Mexico.

Most everyone except fishermen refer to that New Mexico town as Truth of Consequences (yes, that actually is its name); but fishermen still shy away from that word "truth". Seriously, though, Wright actually brought in the reported catch.

We're toying with the idea of attractive auto stickers proclaiming "Friona—Gateway to the Irrigation Belt." Believe the service stations, chamber of commerce, and the local businesses will be receptive, ultimately benefitting from this publicity.

School time again—and students and parents alike find it advisable to become increasingly safety conscious.

For you who travel the highways, we remind that under Texas law, motor vehicles must stop for a stopped school bus—whether you are following or approaching. Don't run down an innocent child—there will be over one-third million youngsters in Texas school busses this year.

And here are some safety rules that we hope are impressed upon all the young students:

1. Where there are sidewalks, use them.
2. If you must walk in the street, walk facing oncoming traffic.
3. Cross only at intersections.
4. If riding a bicycle, ride it on the right side of the street, and use hand signals.

From the Texas Safety Association: "Youngsters, today, have the opportunity for a wonderful education. Send them from home to learn—not to die."

Farm Bureau and community-wide meeting tomorrow (Friday) night at the Rhea Parish hall. Remember when the businessmen of panhandle towns used to get together and visit the rural communities, attending the programs, helping when called upon, and getting better acquainted with the neighbors and customers? A mighty, mighty good idea that we hope is not dead.

What do you parents think of a safety patrol to guard street and highway crossings near the Friona schools?

Certainly there is confusion and danger alike with the pupils crossing at any point along the street and busy highway 60 at lunchtime and before and after school.

Many schools have found it practical to designate a safety patrol of students who direct crossings at the busy hours. Sometimes local safety conscious groups such as fire departments, private firms, civic organizations have chipped in to provide a simple uniform or Sam Brown belt for the boys, then compensating them with a small payment of $1 per week, for example.

We understand it is easy to get volunteer students for this work during the warmer months; but during wintertime—when

Band Instruments Will Be Displayed In Auditorium

Fry, has announced he has arranged for Mr. Earl Ray of Acme Music Co. of Lubbock, representative of Olds-Selmer and LaBlanc Instrument Company, to show a display of instruments at the Friona High School auditorium on Monday, September 8, from 4 to 6 p. m. and from 7 til 9 p. m. the same evening.

Mr. Fry states there are a limited number of instruments available for students, and it has been necessary in the past for two or more students to use the same instrument, which Fry says is the cause of much confusion and disorder leading to the student losing interest in his band work.

The band director recommends these makes of instruments to both parents and students of the band.

Mr. Ray has 19 years of experience in directing bands, and along with Mr. Fry they will be able to answer questions which may arise.

Mr. Fry urges that parents and students now taking band, and those who may be interested in band to attend this showing of instruments.

No Labor Problem in Parmer County?

Still any interest here in a labor camp for Mexican farm workers?

Understand the Dimmitt merchants "wouldn't take anything" for their camp there.

Hereford's camp is full and has proven a ready source of labor supply, while some neighboring communities were "wanting."

Plainview is planning expansion of their present camp facilities.

Childress is sitting on top with their camp.

Another Home Institution Expands

Understand that some six new rooms are to be added to the local hospital. Not a surprising move in the least, for most of us are acquainted with the growing need for added space there.

We only regret that this addition was necessary before an entirely new and larger hospital building was financially practical and possible. We predict that in a very few years, likely only two or three, still more room will be needed, and that sooner or later plans will materialize for a new brick building with added facilities. Increased enrollment in the schools of the county ever-increasing use of the local hospital by residents here, and the promise of still more population increase as influenced by irrigation, advent of cotton, and more small farms—all these pretend for growth of the community and consequently of the hospital.

We've had a number of patients here in recent months from out of county and out of state, a number of these placed here because of auto accidents in the vicinity. And we are pleased to note that so many of them have handed bouquets to the local institution, expressing their surprise at the service and facilities here—comparable to the larger and more publicized hospitals. This we like to hear.

The Law and You

By Robt. (Bob) Kirk

DO YOU KNOW what happens to your property if you die without leaving a will?

A person may make a will and direct how all of his property shall be disposed of after his death. If a person dies owning property, or interest in property, and leaves no will, the statutes of the state set out certain rules providing to whom the property shall go. There are different rules governing the manner of descent of the property, depending on whether or not the property is community property of the husband and wife, or the separate property of one of the parties.

As to community property, if there are no children or their descendants, the survivor takes all of the real and personal community property. If there are surviving children or their descendants, one half goes to the surviving husband or wife, and the other half of the real and personal property goes to the surviving child or children or their descendants.

As to the separate property of the person dying without a will, there are several statutes which control the manner of descent of the property. One statute sets up a table of descent where there is no surviving husband or wife. Another statute sets up a table of descent where there is a surviving husband or wife and a child or children. Another statute sets up a different schedule of descent in the event there is a surviving husband or wife but no children or their descendants.

In the event that a person dies leaving no will, and no heirs, as set out in the statutes, after a period of years, the state can file a suit to have the property forfeited to the state.

SOME FACTS ABOUT TEXAS

More than 1,248,000 Texas families own their own homes today. (Percentage-wise this is about 55.5 percent).

The total personal income in Texas in 1950 reached $9,868,000,000.

In 1950, 2,840,000 people in Texas had jobs. This is 97 percent of the total labor force.

The 1951 figures reflect that 207,100 businesses were in operation in Texas. The manufacturing establishments figure had reached 7,128 in 1947, the latest year for which these figures are available. 25,000 new businesses started in Texas in 1951.

Manufacturing establishments in Texas added $2,268,663,000 in value to raw materials in 1950.

Bank deposits, private, time and demand, totaled in 1951, $6,106,089,000. On a per capita basis this amounts to $729.00.

Cattle production in 1951 was 2,153,335,000 lbs.

Farm products marketed in 1951 brought Texas farmers $2,151,930,000 in cash.

Sixty-nine percent of the farmers in Texas own their own homes.

Many more statistics could be given, but these will serve to indicate the great progress Texas is making on several fronts. As I have told you before, the manufacturing districts of the East and Middle West look with suspicion on the Southwest. The above statistics indicate that the people living in the old and established manufacturing centers of this country have reason to be alarmed about the possibility of losing some of their manufacturing establishments. Actually they should not be alarmed because they would undoubtedly enjoy living in Texas among our fine people and in our excellent climate. The truth is Texas has just commenced. The future holds much for us and our people.

Prisoners of War in Korea

Reports are that the Red Chinese and North Koreans have been most uncooperative with the Red Cross and other agencies concerning information about prisoners of war. The information that they give us is very little and in most cases very vague and unsatisfactory. They are apparently making little effort to deliver mail to the prisoners of war and less effort to afford the prisoners of war opportunity to write their home folks. This of course is not surprising, as they and their backers (the Soviet Union) have always insisted that the rules of war apply to all nations except their own. Humanitarian principles are to them merely vehicles for propaganda purposes and not for actual application.

What We May Expect on Inflation And Deflation:

I have never been able to gaze into a crystal ball and foretell the future. However, the consensus of opinion here seems to be that we have about reached the pinnacle of inflation and that there will be a gradual deflationary trend during the next two-year period; that this trend will not be so sharp as to cause undue hardships to any of the people. This opinion has been based on the economy and not on politics. It is thought that this trend will be inevitable regardless of who serves as President. Frankly, I do not know whether to believe it or not. I thought that when cattle reached 18 cents, they were bound to be at the top; also when $3500.00 houses started selling for $10,000 it was my opinion that they must go down. However, as all of you know, cattle, hogs and everything else has continued to climb. I personally cannot see how they can go any higher for the simple reason that the people do not have the money to purchase most of these commodities at their present prices. Some deflation is an absolute necessity in order to keep these commodities moving and the money in circulation. People just can not buy as they do not have the money or the source of money through which they can pay. It is true that more credit can be provided, but such a course would prove detrimental in the end, rather than beneficial. Much work has been done in Congress to stop false controls and false credit and to permit the economy to level off and stabilize itself. Such a course will no doubt be criticized and condemned by many, but it must come sooner or later. As a child I was taught that distasteful situations had to be met head-in and that delay in facing them merely increased their distastefulness. Most of you can remember the days of castor oil.

The Glen Harrelson and the Frank Baurers went to Clovis Sunday to the calf roping contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Baxter returned home Monday from a weeks vacation at Denver, Colo. and Rudiso, N. M. Their children Beverly and Roger, stayed with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hanks at Hobbs, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Bainum visited relatives in Gainsville, Denton and Commerce last week. Kenneth Bainum came home with them to spend ten days before going back for the fall term at ETSTC.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Mingus and son, Ernest, returned home Tuesday from a three weeks vacation trip through Colorado, South Dakota, Kansas and Oklahoma City. They spent ten days with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Agee and children of Ree Heights, South Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Guinn went to Muleshoe Monday to visit the C. A. Guinns.

Mrs. W. A. Tinney was an Amarillo visitor Tuesday. She also visited the DeWayne Cleavelands in Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Daniels and children of Hereford were business visitors in Friona Wednesday afternoon.

ANICETO SPARAGNA

Aniceto Sparagna, former Roman Catholic priest and Franciscan Monk for twenty years, is 39 years old. He is familiar with Italian, English, Greek, Hebrew, Latin, Russian and French languages. He holds the degree of Doctor of Philosophy and Theology and also Doctor of Laws. In various Roman Catholic schools he has been an instructor in Theology Bible, Church History, Paleography, and Elocution. He has preached in all the major cities of Italy and the pope in the public squares to audiences up to thirty-five thousand.

He has written many pamphlets in Italian against the tyranny of the Roman hierarchy, preached against Fascism and Communism in Italy, and has striven courageously for truth and freedom persistently throughout his life. For this he was severely punished many times by his religious superiors.

During World War II, he served as a chaplain in the Italian army and was present at the battle of Stalingrad. For his participation in negotiating the exchange of prisoners between Italian Fascists and Partisans he once faced an Italian firing squad.

but God intended something else for him. He saved many lives by his action.

In 1948, unable to tolerate the Roman Church any longer, he escaped from his monastery and fled to America. The Roman Church continued to sought to utilize the American courts to penalize him and to have him deported to Italy. The influence of brethren and friends thwarted this plot.

On October 15, 1950, he became a member of the Trenton Church of Christ during a meeting conducted by Bro. Ernest Finley, minister of the West Douglas Church of Christ in Wichita, Kansas. Before becoming acquainted with the church of Christ, he had intended to establish an independent church based on New Testament principles.

Since his identification with the church in October, 1950, he baptized a surgeon of Newark, N. J., Dr. Venanzio Testa (a former Roman Catholic) a Roman priest, Anthony Mattucci, and was instrumental in the conversion of another priest, Joseph Gualtieri, who was baptized by Bro. Mattucci March 2, 1952.

Brethren Sparagna and Ralph Graham will be in Friona September 14, and will speak in the high school auditorium at 3:00 p. m. They left New Jersey June 29 and have spoken in 47 churches, enjoying large crowds at nearly every service. Some auditoriums have been unable to seat the crowds and people have had to stand in aisles both downstairs and in the balconies. You are cordially invited to attend this service.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy.

In the church the ministerial is molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these uncertain times.

Then we, with our children, should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" —form a combination for good.

The Soil Saving Argument

For a great number of years, much time, effort and money have been expended on a vast educational and promotional program devoted to improving soil saving practices.

This program is gradually taking effect. Farmers in Texas, especially, are becoming increasingly more aware of the importance of saving our soil for future generations. But every major undertaking has its obstacles. And the soil conservation movement is no exception.

Four major reasons loom as to why the farmers are not applying all the beneficial practices recommended for their farms. They claim:

1. Mortgage debts and high operating and living costs make it necessary to borrow money to establish these practices.

2. Many rental agreements do not provide for sharing costs of soil conservation with owners of the land.

3. Many farmers do not expect to live on their farms very long. This group includes renters with short-term agreements and owners who expect to sell or retire so soon that they could not benefit from these practices.

4. If these soil saving practices were established, farmers would have to change their major farm enterprise.

To elaborate on these reasons, many farmers said adoption of all practices would make it necessary to change from cash-crop and grain-consuming livestock such as hogs and fattening beef cattle, to roughage-consuming livestock such as beef and dairy cattle. They claim the time and expense involved prohibited the change.

Over half the tenant operators surveyed said their rental agreements did not provide the share-the-cost clause. This was especially true in crop-share rental contracts. Nearly half the owner-operators had a mortgage debt which averaged about $4,000. Other farmers said high fixed costs kept them from making additional cash soil outlays.

These arguments have valid points. As a result, continued technical assistance on how to overcome these obstacles may be necessary. It may also be desirable in some cases to give financial assistance where it is requested and definitely needed.

But those who adhere to the short-sighted policy of neglecting soil work because the land will not be in their hands much longer have nothing to recommend them.

The land will be here long

Would this work here.

Let's have some suggestions and comments, please. Write the Star or talk it over with Principal John Parish. Mr. Parish is very safety minded, and he definitely wants to exercise all safeguards for the lives of those students under his care—so we invite you to discuss the situation with him at a very early date—if the foregoing is a solution, then let's get to work at once.

Friona school officials explain lack of hot meal and balanced menu at the Wednesday opening of the cafeteria as being due to incomplete heating installations. However the gas was secured before today, and nutritious hot lunches are scheduled today and for every school day of the year.

Joy Mack YWA Installs Officers at Monday Meet

The Joy Mack YWA's met last Monday evening for the installation of their officers. The out-going officers were: president, Betty Rhodes; vice-president, Joyce Miller, secretary, Mary Joyce Renner, and treasurer, Nancy Messenger. The new officers were: president, Mary Joyce Renner, vice-president, Deann Buske, secretary, Sue Jones, treasurer, Margie Haws, historian, Deneise Magness, and reporter Katherine Brand.

The installation services were held in the local hospital, due to our new president being in the hospital and unable to attend the services at the church. With the cooperation of the hospital staff we had the brief installation services there. The occasion was formal, with thirteen girls present.

After returning to the church Mrs. Russell Pogue and Mrs.

after we are gone. We should pass it on to the next generation of farmers in a better condition than we found it.

Leonard Haws, had charge of initiating each girl into YWA. They were shown how heavy the burdens in life would be and how the Lord could take them off their shoulders and onto His. Then they were brought before a candle-lighted table. On the table was placed our YWA emblem with five lighted candles to represent the five ideals of YWA. Over their hearts was placed the emblem of YWA. Mrs. Russell Pogue and Mrs. Leonard Haws showed them how, by following the Lord in every thing they do and by living up to their five ideals of YWA they could be better Christians in every day life.

After the initiation, refreshments were served. Those attending were: Betty Rhodes, Sue Jones, Margie Haws, Donna Miller, Linda Miller, Laura Lee Moyer, Marie White, Nancy Messenger, Joann Agee, Deneise Magness, Deann Buske, Katherine Brand, Mrs. Russell Pogue, Mrs. Leonard Haws, and our counsellors Mrs. T. E. Lovett and Mrs. Roy Lovett.

Shirley Maurer left this week for Oregon where she will teach.
