Local Crop Diversification Now Including Cantaloupes Grown on Commercial Scale

Will lettuce and onions follow as the next commercial crop in Farmer County?

This editor was driving in the vicinity of the John Renner and David Moseley farms south of Friona yesterday, and within a one-mile stretch noted commercial crops of potatoes, castor beans, sorghums, cotton, sudan wheat, and cantaloupes—all indicative of the diversification catching hold here—successfully.

John Renner and Jack Moseley are pioneering cantaloupes in this area, having planted 10 acres each this year to that crop.

Moseley probably speaks for both growers in noting that the crop is experimental this year, and most certainly a gamble. However the vines are doing well at this date, loaded with blooms and small melons. Harvest will follow in early August.

Cantaloupes are planted here in late May, and harvest can last from August until the first killing frost, with up to three pickings proving productive in the field.

Cost of growing cantaloupes has been close to the $25 per acre mark for growers of the Friona-Hereford-Muleshoe area in past seasons.

The grower is a victim of the market, with harvesting and marketing procedures closely paralleling those of potatoes.

The Barrett Produce Company of Muleshoe is supervising growing of cantaloupes in this area, furnishing all planting equipment and labor for the harvesting and shipping. Their 70 acres represents the bulk of the crop around Muleshoe, and the 20 acres near Friona are considered a rather large scale experimentation.

Yields could well be around 200 crates per acre, with up to $6.00 per crate market. Processing and harvesting costs run around $2.25 per crate, Moseley said. This represents comparatively easy money, and top returns, on the other hand a poor market can react just the opposite.

With attention recently focused on Farmer County as a portion of the "drouth disaster area", rains began falling here last Thursday evening to continue in some degree throughout the week since, with all parts of the county receiving beneficial moisture from 1 inch to 4 or more inches.

The first shower was indicative of the pattern of succeeding rains, favoring some farms with 2 and more inches, others getting only a sprinkle. Coy Patton, west of Black, had only a light shower at that time, while Ray Landrum, west of Friona two miles, had 2 inches, and Jim Shaffer, southeast of town, getting 2 of an inch. Later night-time showers more or less evened the scores, with most of the county being soaked. Lightest fall has been north and east of Friona with an average there of 1.5 inches in the total of four or five showers.

Friona started with 8 in the initial rain, and at this writing has benefitted from over 3 inches, and cloudy skies and thunder showers still prevailing.

It is difficult to make a comprehensive report of the rainfall, inasmuch as only a section line often divided light fall from the heavier deluges, so streaked have been the showers.

David Moseley received 1.5 in. last weekend at his place south of Friona; but early this week wells were pumping on most fields in that area.

The first field of potatoes, that of W. H. Long, was harvested before the showers, with the last load coming in last Thursday. Digging commenced immediately on the Ross Terry farm north of Friona, that locality missing the early moisture. However, digging has been stopped most of the time since, with the ground too wet on fields that are ready. Potato man anticipates no undue damage to the crop unless prolonged rains follow.

Grain crops and cotton are taking on added life with the rain, and crop conditions in Farmer County probably are the best in the state today.

Jones explains that the recent rains have posed a field work urgency, and that many of the boys and adult leaders would be unable to attend the New Mexico camp on the originally set days.

All other details of the camp remain the same, Jones pointed out. Trucks will pick up the boys on Monday, August 3rd at the Friona High School at 6:45 a. m.; Bovina High School at 7:15 a. m.; at the Courthouse at 7:45 a. m.; Lazbuddie Store at 7:00 a. m.

Any one unable to attend, yet having previously paid their fees, is asked to notify the county agent immediately.

Activities at the camp will include fishing, ball playing, and nightly program.

Funeral services were held in Big Spring, Texas, last Saturday for Jack Adair, related to several Friona residents. Adair was the husband of the former Opal Wimberly of Friona.

Attending the funeral from here were Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Brock, Keith Brock, Sandra Brock and Sherrill Reece, Mrs. Adair and Mrs. Brock are sisters.

Adair, 47, died of a heart attack. He taught in the Texas Technological College before moving to Big Spring where he opened a music store.

Den 3 Cub Scouts of Den 3 met Tuesday night at the home of their Den Mother, Mrs. Glenn Reeve, for a weiner roast and game session.

Attending were Danny Black, Tony Sanders, Jerry Rankin, Larry Drake, Tommy Roberts, Larry Pelt, Tommy Scales, Nowlin Tubbs, Max Reeve and the Assistant Den Mother, Mrs. V. R. Roberts.

Visitors were Joe Reeve, Mary Ann Roberts and Mrs. O. L. Rankin.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Spring and Mrs. Herschel Johnson spent the week-end in the mountains at Cowles, New Mexico.

Curtis O'Rear of Amarillo spent the week-end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reeve.

Mr. and Mrs. Dub Brungton and children of Petersburg visited her parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cribbs and Wayne, over the week-end.

Authentic report is that Joe was awakened at his home east of town during the night by the cries of his puppy. Barefooted, sans pants, shirt et al (except for shorts) Joe groped his way to the dog house seeing the score, stumbling back to the house for a gun which he was never able to load, then grabbing the handiest weapon, a broom, and hurrying back to the dog house to beat the woods kitty over the head as it still held to Pinto's tail!

Luckily Mrs. Joe was away visiting for a week - probably will extend her vacation until fumigation at the farm does its work.

RTA Directors Searching Solution of No Contracts

Directors of the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative have been called for a meeting Monday afternoon at 2:00 in the Hereford offices to consider steps for the establishment of satisfactory service between the rural subscribers and toll stations and connecting lines into Friona, Bovina and more distant points.

To date no contracts for even toll service have been entered into.

Manager Leo Forrest of the RTA said today that he hoped to contact the Washington offices of the cooperative during the board meeting Monday to coordinate efforts with the national headquarters in working out agreements with Southwestern Bell and General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Negotiations on the local level so far have been fruitless in the Parmer County situation.

All exchanges here have been energized, excepting Hub, enabling "within-the-exchange" service. Linemen and engineers are checking these lines and exchanges, Forrest said, and the users may expect just as good telephone reception as anywhere in the nation.

WASHINGTON AND

"Small Business"

—By C. WILSON HARDER

Often major Washington explosions are triggered by a circumstance obscure to the public.

Thus, recent request of major airlines could set off probe.

Major airlines have applied to CAB, the Civil Aeronautics Board, for permission to reduce commissions paid thousands of independent travel agencies. CAB has authority on everything pertaining to civil aviation.

CAB has in the past taken many steps to block independent airlines from competing with the majors, so they apparently feel it will be a routine matter to secure approval for the plan to cut down the independent travel agent. Yet, the issue, from the airlines' standpoint, is so petty, it may be the straw that breaks the camel's back.

Independent travel agents are credited with doing a great selling job for air travel, but in addition travel agents have become almost indispensable to the traveler. Buying transportation through an experienced travel agent who knows facilities, connecting lines, and other data, the traveler avoids standing in line in an airline ticket office, the often futile attempts to seek information from a green clerk and other harassments.

For this service, the travel agent receives a 5% commission. Thus, on a cross country trip, the average commission to the agent for all his services is only $4.95. But now the major airlines want to cut this to $1.50.

In fact, major airlines are going even further.

Fully staffed ticket offices are opening in many communities so small they do not even support a medium-sized department store. In smaller towns they are trying to sell tickets through traveling ticket trucks.

It is important to bear in mind that airline tickets are not a commodity bought by a large share of the people on a frequent basis. Thus, in many communities there is no economic justification for an airline office.

Yet major airlines are willing to spend dollars to save pennies.

Therefore, this move may start a full scale probe of airlines. There are many in Washington, in and out of Congress, who have long asked, "Just how good is the business management of the major airlines?"

It is based on several factors. For example, despite the fact that the major airlines receive millions from the U. S. Treasury as a mail subsidy, in practically every major U. S. city plus airline facilities occupy highest valued property.

Yet, when independent competition has succeeded in getting permission to fly, despite CAB obstructions, it has given the public good low-cost service at a profit with no subsidies.

Many in Washington feel major airlines represent monopoly practice in the highest degree. Competition is restricted by a government bureau and they enjoy heavy subsidies. And now, to keep from paying 5% commission on tickets, the major airlines are willing to spend several times that amount to operate ticket sales facilities in small communities.

A fellow editor at Weatherford (Texas) says there is always someone who is depreciating anyone who gets ahead. A fellow told him recently that he wasn't too impressed with Elizabeth II, after all, she got the job through relatives!

Probably this isn't the kind of information passed on to President Eisenhower, and likely the "overnight" cattlemen haven't heard of it, but despite the drought in West Texas, this area with only 33 per cent of Texas population represented 34 per cent of the state total retail sales in the past year, although the large metropolitan centers are without the borders of this plain country.

Average per family income of West Texas' 132 counties was $4,864; compared with $3,864 in the total Texas average. Retail sales in West Texas per capita totaled $1,275; the national average was $1,041. Now comes the meat for local consumption: Parmer County constituted a 1952 buying power of $10,427,000; this figure ranked comparatively high among Texas counties, BUT in retail sales, Parmer hit bottom!

What does this mean? It means that money has been made here, living is on more prosperous scale than in many, many counties, but the citizens have been going elsewhere to buy!

Deaf Smith County, immediately our neighbor, chalked up retail sales of $14,902,000. And of course Lubbock and Potter County sales were in the high brackets. Even Randall County, with its close proximity to Amarillo, showed $11,910,000 retail sales.

Then the figures show something that many of us have realized for some time: someone has slipped—either the local resident has little yen for supporting the local merchant, or the local merchant has fallen down in his merchandising, leaving more advantageous conditions to be found elsewhere. Maybe it has been a combination of both factors that threw us.

BUT TIMES ARE CHANGING—IN OUR FAVOR, Mr. Consumer and Mr. Merchant. New businesses are coming in. Older businesses are on their toes. Competition is benefitting the consumer, of course. And civic pride seems on the up and up, too.

Butch if we all pitch in, the 1954 figures will look much different when Mr. West Texas Chamber of Commerce makes his annual survey. It's up to us, working collectively.

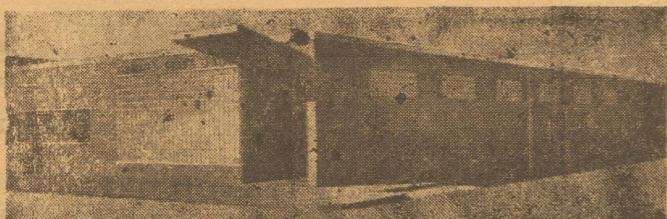

Last week we were giving Mrs. CL some pointers on column writing, and only today we happened to come across some advice given another lady correspondent, in another vein, but certainly worth passing on for its ludicrous yet often-applicable angle:

"I want to give you some advice . . . Stand with feet slightly apart, an alert and somewhat determined expression on your face. Now . . . when all manner of people approach you with suggestions . . . assuming stated position, lean slightly forward, look straight in the eye and in a clear voice state—
"SHED DU PPPP. (Translation: shut up.)!"

Farm Safety Week

Farm Safety Week, endorsed by every farm group, has our approval, too! We want our customers and friends to live long and well . . . So we are passing on ten Farm Safety practices that will help reduce the farm accident toll, if only they are followed:

1. KEEP MACHINES IN GOOD REPAIR
2. OPERATE TRACTORS SAFELY
3. USE THE RIGHT TOOLS FOR THE JOB
4. WATCH YOUR STEP TO PREVENT FALLS
5. SPEAK TO ANIMALS WHEN APPROACHING THEM
6. KNOW AND OBEY ALL TRAFFIC LAWS
7. BE "FIRESIGHTED"
8. BE A GOOD HOUSEKEEPER
9. APPLY FIRST AID PROMPTLY
10. TREAT ALL GUNS AS IF THEY WERE LOADED

MRS. EUGENE R. MILLER OF GUYMON, OKLAHOMA

describes her home freezer

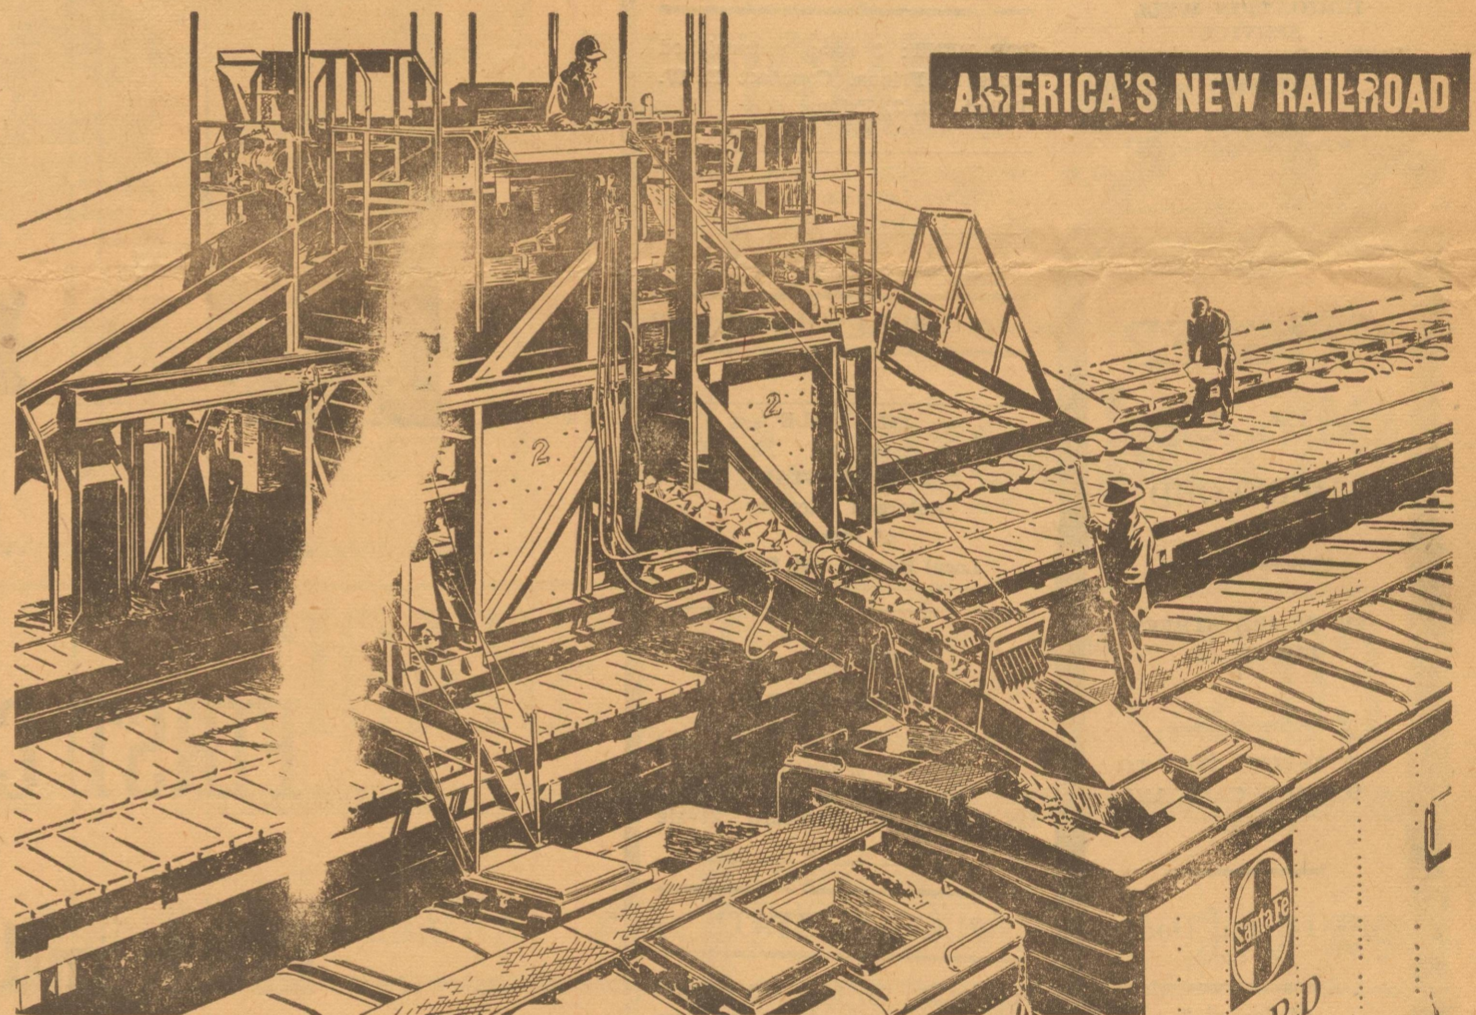

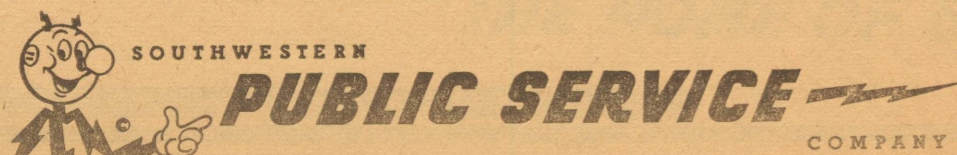

SYMBOL OF QUALITY

Ladies, when you can save both time and money, you have the kind of economy that homemakers really love. Listen, then, to what Mrs. Miller says.

"Our home freezer has proven to be very economical, and has saved about 10 hours a week in grocery shopping and food preparation."

Think of saving money—and 10 hours a week—and you'll think it's time for a freezer in your home now.

15 of these big icing machines are in operation at ice-servicing points along the Santa Fe.

Ever see so much fuss just to chill an orange?

It's the best way there is today to refrigerate a "reefer"—but Santa Fe is developing an even newer and better way to do the job

In 60 seconds flat, the giant ice-crushing machines Santa Fe recently installed can fill the bunkers of a refrigerator car with five tons of ice!
They are the newest and fastest machines for icing cars yet devised. And Santa Fe "reefers" are the most efficient type of refrigerator cars now on the rails.

These refrigerator cars and icing machines have carried the technique of ice refrigeration to the ultimate of present day knowledge.

WHAT ABOUT TOMORROW?

We can't be sure, BUT—

Santa Fe is now experimenting with a newer way to refrigerate cars automatically for hauling foods which may require temperatures as low as 25° below zero.

30 new experimental refrigerator cars designed by Santa Fe, built in its own shops and each with a capacity of 128,000 pounds of frozen foods, are now being utilized in the movement of frozen foods.

Each of these new cars has its own thermostatically-controlled diesel-driven compressor-type refrigerator unit. It carries 400 gallons of fuel (almost the exact amount Lindbergh used to fly the Atlantic). It can maintain sub-zero temperatures all the way from California to New York.

"THE HOME OF BETTER FOODS FOR BETTER LIVING"

Inquiries, Postal Rates, Taxes Increase Pressure on Whitehouse

TROUBLE ON CAPITOL HILL:

Look for something to happen in the present engagement between McCarthy and the White House or Central Intelligence employees being subpoenaed before McCarthy's committee. It is going to be a tough decision for the White House. McCarthy has played his cards so that the White House would be in a corner. If the White House lets these employees testify, a great risk will be involved concerning the possible leakage of secret information. If it refuses, McCarthy can charge the White House and the State Department with defending one Bundy, who happens to be the son in law of Dean Acheson and who is alleged to have contributed $400,000 to the Alger Hiss defense fund. Lots of trouble could come out of this.

POSTAL RATE INCREASE:

There is much opposition on the Hill to the postal rate increases by Postmaster General Summerfield. Strong opposition will be encountered in the Post Office and Civil Service Committee; much general opposition on the Floor. This may subside. Opposition argues that first class mail pays its own way; that increasing this from three to four cents is making the average letter writer subsidize big magazines and periodicals.

FOREIGN AID: The pressure is on to prevent further cuts in the foreign aid program. The President had recommended $4 billion dollars. This was trimmed by the House to just under five billion dollars. It was raised by the Senate to 5.1 billion. This was the authorization. The big worry now is whether or not the appropriations committees will make further cuts in providing actual funds. Incidentally, the Senate raised the House version by more than 150 million dollars. This raise alone is more than has been asked in the way of money to be used for loan purposes in meeting the drought disaster.

THE TAX MORATORIUM:

Last week I mentioned the fact that a tax moratorium had been voted by the House for the whiskey distilleries on whiskey still in storage. The moratorium is for four years and it is estimated that it involves approximately 185 million gallons of liquor. At $10.50 a gallon tax, it would indicate that the collection of over 2 billion dollars was postponed for four years. While at the same time, it was argued that the excess profits tax, which could only bring in 800 million dollars, had to be extended to balance the budget. The issue is so hot that the Senate committee will probably table the bill.

The admissions tax on movie theaters will be repealed by the time you get this letter, or soon thereafter. This tax repeal bill was brought out under a closed rule. This means that the bill can not be amended on the House Floor. It must be accepted or rejected as written. I regretted this rule as there were several amendments that I think should go on the bill to give some tax relief to some who are equally in distress.

PRICE SUPPORTS FOR CATTLE:

A tremendous grass roots movement is afoot to place price supports or a floor under cattle. This is a decision that must be made by the Secretary of Agriculture who presently has the authority to invoke such floor or supports. The proposal to adjourn Congress by July 31st does not leave sufficient time for Congress to work out a mandatory program on this subject.

THE FARMERS: So much attention was paid to the cattle business on the drought question that the little farmer was almost forgotten. Most of the laws concerning credit in the disaster program apply to the farmer as well as the cattlemann. I have called this to the attention of the House several times during recent weeks and have also tried to impress upon the House that the credit should not be limited to a select few. There are many young people, and especially veterans, who have been hit by this disaster and who have not been in the business long enough to establish themselves as well as they would have liked. They are sons and daughters of farming and ranching people and it is their business. They shouldn't be discriminated against.

The proposed regulations concerning eligibility for emergency feed are highly unsatisfactory. These may be changed before they are released. A release is due shortly after this letter is

Lofty Quest for Uranium

EVEN MORE dramatic than the gold rush days is America's quest for uranium ore, now under way high on the rugged Colorado Plateau. At Uruvan, below, ore mined in the Rockies is refined. Town was named for "ura" in uranium, "van" in vanadium.

ONCE PROCESSING IS completed, uranium, below, has a black, sticky form. Drying reduces the material to powder.

SANDSTONE near this typical mining structure yields carnotite. From it are derived traces of uranium ore.

MOUNTAIN-CLIMBING International trucks, one of which is shown in background, haul the ore to mills from nearly inaccessible mines. Miners examine ore for yellow streak, proof of uranium.

It stands to reason...

Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

Big truck users, small truck users, all truck users buy more Chevrolet trucks than any other make. It stands to reason Chevrolet trucks must offer more of what you want.

When you stop to think about it, the best proof of outstanding value in any product is continued public preference. That's the way it is with Chevrolet trucks. They're the top selling trucks in America today . . . for the twelfth straight production year.

This is a mighty important fact to consider before you buy your next truck. You'll also want to consider that, while Chevrolet trucks give you more features you want, it's the lowest-priced truck line of all! Come in and talk it over with us.

Farm Bureau Report

Some of Farmer County's prettiest young ladies will pass in review August 21 when Farm Bureau members assemble to witness election by an out of county panel of judges, the candidate to attend the district convention in Abilene September 2. Aubrey Wilson, Bovina Local President, who is promoting the contest met with Mrs. Flossie Anderson, Friday, outlining the rules and regulations, and asking her to take the lead, which she is now doing. News of this project appears elsewhere in this paper. Evidence of the strength of agriculture when organized is shown in the fact that of thirty-six laws supported by Texas Farm Bureau Federation in the current legislative session, thirty were passed. These laws were formulated from the counties individually first, modified and passed at the State Convention by all Texas Counties. In Austin, our State Vice President, C. H. Devaney and Loys Barbour, a district director, worked for passage, asking for telegrams from county organizations when necessary.

John C. White, Texas Agriculture Commissioner complimented Farm Bureau for insistence on passage of the Texas Warehouse Act.

Congress is giving detailed attention to American Farm Bureau's proposal for cotton allotments for 1954. This proposal includes maximum percentage cuts for all cotton producing states. No state should be cut more than 27.5 per cent of its 1952 acreage according to these proposals. Since this is a USDA problem, it is naturally fitting that it be approached by our national organization, giving equal consideration to all states. Since these ideas came directly from cotton farmers, we can rest assured they are in the interest of farmers. These suggested adjustments would add 329 thousand acres to Texas's share.

To wheat producers: American Farm Bureau Federation successfully supported amendments passed by congress, setting a minimum national acreage of 62 million acres and a minimum per farm of 15 acres. AFBF was the only organization testifying in favor of maintaining the right of small growers to vote on marketing quotas.

At least two or three Farmer County men are planning on attending the Texas Farm Bureau Institute at College Station August 2 to 6.

It's the Law in Texas:

CHECK TITLE WHEN PURCHASING HOME

A real estate title is a claim of ownership, or your right to land you have purchased. Most of us have little or no idea of the possible pitfalls in acquiring a good title when we buy a home. Many prospective home buyers' title difficulties result from commonly held misconceptions of the significance of certain kinds of real estate papers.

If you can prove your title against all the world, it is a good title. If, in addition, the evidence of your claim of ownership is contained in proper public records, it is a good record title. Ordinarily only a good record title is salable.

How do you know if you are receiving a good title to property you plan to purchase? The safest method is to have a title examination made—that is, a careful study of the abstract and other title evidence.

Here are a few of the common sources of trouble in real estate transactions to show why the minor expense of a title examination is justified.

Many persons sign "earnest

Consider this: Open thy mouth, judge righteously, and plead the cause of the poor and needy. Proverbs 31:9.

money contracts' believing that they are mere receipts with no serious implications. In reality they may specify, among other things, the kind of title you must accept.

A "warranty deed" from a responsible seller is comforting to have but it is a poor substitute for a careful title examination. A warranty deed does not guarantee a marketable title.

Moreover, serious title defects may not come to light until long after the seller on a warranty deed is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt. Even if he is available a good title is much better than a law suit.

The fact that the seller has possession of an "abstract" does not mean that he owns the property. An abstract is only a history of a title. Possession of an abstract no more indicates ownership of land than possession of the history of Texas means that you own the state.

Some purchasers of land feel safe because the title is being examined at the time of purchase by an attorney for the mortgage lenders. This seems logical but is a dangerous theory. Mortgage lenders are sometimes willing to accept less than good record title as security. This is sound business for them because, among other reasons, the chances are that the mortgage will be paid off so that no expense in perfecting the title would ever need be incurred. It is risky business for you when you are putting your life savings into the purchase.

These are a few of the reasons why a title examination is an important safeguard to you. When it is completed, the attorney gives you a written opinion stating his conclusions as to who owns the land, the defects in or charges against such ownership, and the requirements to be met if any, to make good record title.

Off-hand this may seem a simple operation. In fact it is not. It requires the interpretation of numerous deeds, mortgages, wills, court decrees and other instruments; the consideration of the order in which transactions and events affecting the title occurred; and the application of statutes and court decisions to the various situations disclosed in the abstract.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on legal and other problems involved in buying a home has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Austin 15, Texas.

MAPLE PEACH SURPRISE

- 1 cup canned sliced peaches, drained
2 teaspoons butter
1/2 cup maple-blended syrup
1/4 cup peach juice
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 pint vanilla ice cream

Place sliced peaches in greased shallow baking dish. Dot with butter. Combine syrup, peach juice, cinnamon, and salt. Pour over peaches. Place under broiler. 5 to 10 minutes, or until peaches are thoroughly heated. Or bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 30 minutes. Arrange alternate layers of peach slices and ice cream in parfait glasses.

In foods, just as in fashion, a basic recipe can be dressed up or down to meet any occasion. The basic recipe here might be a scoop of ice cream with a quick pour-on of Log Cabin Syrup from the cupboard shelf, a delicious dessert for any family meal.

For dress-up, add peaches and spice to your syrup, give the combination a quick broil to mellow the flavors and spoon into parfait glasses, alternating layers of ice cream and fruited syrup. The resulting Maple Peach Surprise is designed to be served with a bit of lace and festivity.
