COLUMN LEFT

While Mrs. CL isn't watching, we'll slip in a quotation from a recent story by Lewis Nurdyke, Panhandle author of note:

Seems that Nurdyke was driving through Florida and seeing several herds of whiteface cattle, he stopped to query a negro, having a bit of fun at the same time.

"Is this Texas," asked the author, "Must be with all these cattle."

To which the darkie replied: "No suh, things is shore messed up. The cattle have come East, the colored folks have gone North, and the Republicans have come South!"

City Marshal Roberts reminds everyone that the street markers were painted for a purpose, and that parking should be governed accordingly. Tickets will be given for offenders.

Personally, we think the markers in the business section and to the front of the churches add much to our town—to the orderly pattern of traffic, and we can see no excuse for non-observance. We anticipate full cooperation with Mr. Roberts and the city officials.

Still more paint is being splashed around—to the betterment of the "Friona face". For instance—the Herring Implement Company. Other noticeable items along the streets are the big banners proclaiming the 1c Sale at the Bi-Wize Drug, the new real estate firm in the old bakery building, and face-lifting at the old bank building. Announcement will be made soon regarding new occupancy there.

Sure is nice to have "Uncle John" White around the Star office these days. If anyone can lay claim to a home in our plant, it is Uncle John, embodiment of The Star to lots of readers of many years duration.

Another old hand back with us is Tommie Jasper who has all the makings of a printer. Tommie was our first employee hired in Friona, at a time when we were using school boys each week to fold papers. He has graduated a bit since then and can tackle most any job around.

The Texas Highway Patrol representatives were by this week and re-emphasized the importance of stopping while school buses were picking up or discharging the little folks. They report several near serious accidents in this four-county area.

We told a tale in this column last week of how dry it was reported in New Mexico, but we have since found more startling local facts:

It comes straight to us that it is so dry in Parmer County that Mrs. A. O. Drake mailed a letter this week, sealed with a safety pin—mighty, mighty dry we must say.

Certainly Hob's Shoe Shop should come in for some mention in this column. This firm, though without local competition, has directed a message through our advertising columns each week since its establishment, the ads telling of some phase of their

SCD Officials Talk to Lions

Activity of the local Soil Conservation District personnel this week has included bench leveling on the Preach Edelman farm, pipe line layout on the N. L. Tharp land, and location of irrigation wells for Volley Hodges and Wesley Barnes.

Incidentally, Tharp is one of the leading promoters of underground irrigation pipe, having completed 2½ miles of line and now constructing 3700 feet more.

The SCD was in charge of the Lions Club program in Friona Thursday evening. A. L. Black told of phases of work and goals within the district, and Bavousett showed locally-taken slides.

Galilean Proved To Be Popular Speaker Here

Stephen A. Haboush, a native Galilean shepherd, spoke this week on several occasions in Friona, at the school, at the Methodist church Sunday morning, and at a special program Wednesday evening at the church.

Haboush spoke Sunday on the subject, "The Shepherd Psalm", recounting his experiences as a shepherd to make the 23rd Psalm a living experience. He was attired in his native shepherd costume.

Good attendance was reported at each of his services.

And the Rider Escaped Without a Scratch

Highway Patrolman Joe Kirkwood checks the tractor that was overturned in a collision west of Bovina Friday afternoon, with driver Larry Berry escaping without any apparent injuries.

Probably the luckiest fellow in Parmer County this week is Larry Ben Berry, 19, of Bovina, who escaped from underneath the tractor pictured above, without a scratch.

Berry was going east a few miles west of Bovina on Highway 60 last Friday, pulling a broadcast binder, when he was struck from the rear by a 1949 Ford driven by Samuel Jasper Gleason, 84, of Black.

Both the tractor and binder were badly damaged, with damage to the binder estimated at $150, tractor damage about $200, but only minor damage to the car.

Highway Patrolmen Joe Kirkwood and Joe Culp, together with Parmer County Sheriff Charles Lovelace, investigated the accident.

Three Dead, Results Collision Near Black

Continuing the alarming highway accident toll in Parmer county, one man was instantly killed and two others later died from a wreck east of Black early Saturday morning.

Dead are Joseph Leon Fondren, 22, farm worker near Black who recently had moved to the vicinity, Herman Vinson Gertz, 49, Enid, Oklahoma, and Mr. Gertz's mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Christine Salladay, 85.

The daughter of Gertz, Ethel Louise, 15 suffered lacerations on the face.

Investigating highway patrolmen explained that the accident occurred after Fondren, who was having truck trouble, attempted to push the unlighted vehicle across the highway to use the ditch slope to gain momentum to start the truck. Gertz, driving west at an evident moderate speed, was unable to stop or swerve when he saw the truck at the near distance at which it was visible at night.

Fondren was crushed between the car and truck, and died in the Hereford hospital about an hour after the collision. Gertz was killed instantly with chest injuries, and Mrs. Salladay died about five hours later.

Passengers in the Fondren truck included his wife and brother-in-law, Homer Boldes, of Portales, neither of whom were injured.

Election Near At Lazbuddie

Farmers of the Lazbuddie community will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock to elect their directors for the Parmer County Soil Conservation District.

Henry Ivy, who has served in that capacity, has concluded his five-year term of office, and it is his replacement that is to be elected.

Qualified to vote are those farmers owning land and farming it themselves, not necessarily co-operators in the Soil Conservation program.

The director elected must be selected from those present at the meeting, Steve Bavousett of the local office, emphasizes.

Annual Bureau Meet Scheduled Tuesday

Farm Bureau Report

Next Tuesday night, October 20, at 7:30 in the Farwell High School Auditorium, Parmer County Farm Bureau's Fifth Annual convention will get under way. Mrs. Jones, band director at Farwell, will conduct the band in a 30 minute concert preceding the business period.

Texas Farm Bureau Leadership Pins will be presented to the four outstanding boys in FFA and 4-H chapters in the county. Brief reports on the past year's activities will be given; resolutions will be elected; resolutions discussed and voted upon.

Resolutions already formulated by the committee on resolutions include the following subjects: Grain Sorghums—shall they be declared basic commodities? Cotton—Investigation of Lubbock buying and grading procedures requested. Wheat Allotments—A suggestion for district directors of Farm Bureau. There will be a resolution pertaining to the cattle situation which is still being studied by the committee, and possibly a vote on the Texas Farm Bureau proposal for a different, overall acreage allotment type of Agricultural program after 1954. Resolutions in the above groups will be taken to the State Farm Bureau convention as passed in the County convention.

Resolutions ready for presentation pertaining to Parmer County only include: Request for explanation of certain tax evaluation changes in the county; Request for improvement of highway and railroad intersection crossing; Request for maximum speed limits at gins and elevators during rush season; Noxious weed eradication along roads, fences and railroads, and one amendment to the Parmer County by-laws on director replacement procedure.

CONSIDER THIS: But whose hearkeneth unto me shall dwell safely, and shall be quiet, from fear of evil. Proverbs 1:33.

FRIONA SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

October 13, 1953

Dear Uncle Bert:

If you happened to pass the school building Saturday and noticed that the entire school's facilities were lit up — it wasn't school going on, but a new Public address system being installed through the campus. The system sure will be nice to communicate messages from one building to another. The system will be completely installed in the near future, or as soon as light poles can be installed. It is necessary to install two 30-foot poles on the north side of the building to cross the highway with the necessary wires to the school bus stop.

On Wednesday of this week, Mr. Haboush will meet with the students of the grade school and high school and give them the highlights of his program to be held in the Methodist church. We are looking forward to hearing Mr. Haboush, as we know he will have an interesting program for us.

Tickets are on sale here in school, by some of the students, to the program Wednesday night at the Methodist church. Most everyone is purchasing their tickets early to save fifty cents. A good idea.

The P-T.A. will hold their monthly meeting in the school auditorium Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. I believe the P-T.A. is planning on showing the students a film on the tornado at San Angelo last Spring. I hope each student in high school will remember to bring their parents membership dues before Thursday as I heard Mr. Kelley say that Thursday would be the last day for the drive. Uncle Bert, have you sent in your dues yet?

The new gymnasium received a new coat of gym finish over the weekend. The three janitors gave the gym a thorough cleaning and put one coat on Saturday, and they added another coat Monday.

Layman to Conduc Sunday Services Here

J. P. Ready will be the guest speaker Sunday morning at the regular worship hour of the Friona Methodist church Sunday is designated as Laymen's Day in the Methodist churches, and laymen of the congregation will be in charge of programs all over the area.

Forrest Osborn, Church Lay leader, invites the general public to attend.

A Bale for the Lord's Use

W. H. Long may have started something this week. In the midst of his cotton harvest, he brought a bale to the North Plains Gin Monday and told Wright Williams, gin owner, to "write the check for this bale to the Friona Methodist Church."

no one would be angry if others followed suit! Long's bale netted the church over $175.00. The church here has a membership of 450. Its budget includes such items as home and foreign missions, local causes, and benevolences. It also makes an annual contribution to the Chinzei Gakum School in Nagasaki, Japan, an institution completely destroyed by the second atomic bomb dropped in Japan.

That Extra Effort ..

Merchants agree that a little extra effort pays off—in good will, interest, and hard cash.

We commend the merchants who have especially attractive window displays—have you noticed the Halloween windows at Lewis Variety? And there are others all over Friona also inviting to the prospective customer.

More of such will build trade for Friona. Which brings us up to the point of this comment:

Christmas is nearer than you think. And where will the bulk of the buying take place? In the town that is attractively decorated, in the stores that have special inducements and gaily colored decorations, in the localities that have something special for the kiddies to see and realize that Christmas is all around us.

Will that town be Friona, Bovina, Farwell—the towns in Farmer County, or will it be Amarillo, Hereford and Clovis?

It's up to us, fellow merchants.

Let's don't let the time slip upon us, but join now in collective and individual effort to put out a little extra for the holiday season.

Monday Morning Musings

To learn, one must listen—and that's what throws a lot of folks!

The Roanok (Texas) Times says that it is not peace that we object to, only the nervous tension that goes with it.

A Salute is in Order

The American Legion, only local veterans' organization, is launching its annual membership drive.

Congratulations to that local group for its proven benefit to the community and nation—we know of no other organization more truly "American"— what is good for the American Legion—is good for America, and vice versa. The Legionnaires can point with pride to their records of accomplishment in every post—in the fields of veterans legislation, youth training, child welfare and citizenship.

If you served your country in time of war, we trust that you will align yourself with this group.

Wanted: Just ONE recent magazine without the Kinsey Report

We like the way the Soil Conservation Service operates. Had you thought about the fact that it is ONE government agency under the control, absolute control, of a local board of directors duly elected by the people. We anticipate the growth in stature of the SCS.

Views from the Rural Press

Seldom have we seen an election issue carried on for months and months so much as the "economy" move at the present. Usually such matters are dropped after the favorite sons are elected and appointed, but practically every newspaper coming across our desk devotes editorial space to the subjects of economy in government and the free enterprise system.

The Lovington, N. Mex., Leader states: "The sooner that everyone realizes that everyone can't work for the government and that some must work elsewhere, the better off this country will be. Someone has to pay the taxes to pay the government workers."

A Minnesota paper notes: "The Constitution of any government, if it is to withstand human corrosion and deceit must contain meat for strength, and bread and salt for stability. Nothing since the penning of our own great Document has ever reached such near perfection. Under its protective wing, men and women of all races and creeds have found nourishment and life."

And there is the Wyoming paper that observes: "Farmers must realize that an era of false prosperity will always have a day of reckoning, and unless they face problems realistically they can be unnecessarily hurt."

Ventriloquism

WASHINGTON AND

"Small Business"

—By C. WILSON HARDER

The drive to increase postal rates on all mail, including newspapers, to reduce operating deficit, turns up interesting sidelights on U. S. Postal Service.

The lot of top career postal men is not the most happy one, and it is to their credit that they maintain efficient service.

At various times, criticism crops up that P. O. service is staid with people lacking under- C. W. Harder standing of business principles, but Congressional committee hearing on subject indicate statements of this nature are largely due to ignorance of the handicaps under which the service operates.

In usual business procedure, securing possible costs is routine practice. But postal officials are barred from this established business practice.

As an example Post Office has been compelled to pay air mail rates and subsidies fixed by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Due to recent disclosures CAB now pays subsidies out of its pocket, as of Oct. 1st.

Thus an estimated total air mail subsidy for this year of $80,655,000 will not be charged against postal service.

But the postal service, paying rates of 45 and 53 cents per ton mile as fixed by the CAB, will pay airlines $56,070,000 this year for supposed service charges.

There is a lot of discussion that there is an element of subsidy even in the service rate of 45 cents per ton mile. In a recent hearing, W. Lee Pierson, TWA head stated at least a part of the 45 cent rate should be considered as payment for services rendered, leaving a strong inference that part represents subsidy.

The Senate Small Business Committee announces independent airlines which CAB classifies as irregular, has made an offer to fly mail for 15 cents per ton mile.

And although this rate would knock out as much as $40 million more from Post Office costs, the postal service is powerless to even discuss this offer, without CAB consent.

No one knows what a 15 cent per ton mile rate might do toward lowering other mail transportation costs. Testimony in a previous hearing established that in past few years rail mail rates have increased 95%.

Robert S. Henry of the Association of American Railroads estimates that rail rates for carrying mail are 16.2 cents per ton mile. In this rate, of course, is figured the transportation of the railway mail clerks.

However, competition has a strange way of leading to lower costs. If the Post Office could fly mail for 15 cents per ton mile, in order to meet this competition, railroads might be able to refigure their mail rates.

It's interesting speculation, but will remain speculation unless Congress decides to give the P. O. authority to run the department on straight business principles.

But until such time that the Post Office is in a position to reject being loaded with unnecessary costs, and is able to bargain for services as a free agent on the open and competitive market, it appears that no increase in postal rates can be justified.

Something to Think About

And It Applies to Insurance, Too

When you buy for price you can never be sure. It's unwise to pay too much, but it's worse to pay too little. When you pay too much, you lose a little money, that is all. But when you pay too little, you sometimes lose everything, because the thing you bought was incapable of doing what it was bought to do.

If you deal with the lowest bidder, it is well to add something for the risk you run. And if you do that, you will have enough to pay for something better.

SCHOOL NEWS

The floor sure looks nice, and I believe the boys and girls will be able to hold their footing better.

Uncle Bert, if you want to see the Junior football team play Bovina Junior boys Thursday night. This is the first home game for the Junior boys, and I believe they will keep up their undefeated title. The Junior boys have played two games this year, and have won both of them. Come on out Thursday night and watch the boys win their third game of the season.

Friday night the senior boys will play Bovina here. This game will be our second conference game, and the last home game for the season. Bovina is rated as one of the highest contenders for the district. Sure hope the boys work hard and defeat them. If the boys can defeat Bovina they have an excellent chance of winning second place in the district. So far this week we do not have any boys with serious injuries, and by all indications they will be ready to go.

This Friday night will not only be the second conference game, but the football boys will crown the football queen. Carol Blackburn will be crowned as football Queen at the half-time, and Gay Ann McFarland, Denise Magness, Carmel Fields, and Phyllis Fairchild will be her attendants. I learned through Mr. Fry that they are planning a special program for this event. This is one of the highlights of the football season, and will be an exceptionally good event to watch.

Mr. Kelley said he sure wanted to thank the Methodist people for the excellent dinner, and the enjoyable evening they gave the teacher last Sunday evening. All the teachers were not present for the dinner, but some of them were ill, and had made arrangements to be out of town before the dinner was planned. Mr. Cook said he never saw so much food in all his life, and the only objections he had was that he couldn't make it around to all the dishes.

Time for the bell, so will write more next week.

Your loving niece,
BIG MINNIE.

Lazbuddie FFA Gets Pickup Truck

The Lazbuddie Chapter of the Future Farmers of America has been provided the use of a 1953 red Ford-6, courtesy the Mule-shoe Motor Company. The pickup will be used in chapter business including the carrying of projects to livestock shows, transporting of hogs, equipment, etc.

The Lazbuddie Chapter met in regular meeting Monday night, at which time the group voted to purchase two Berkshire gilts with a $138 fund donated by the Sear's program. Freshmen boys drew for the gilts, and Pat Allen won. The other boys drew separately and Weldon Crim won the other gilt.

Committees were set to work for the third annual livestock show at LaLazbuddie.

One of the most widely discussed automobiles—the Chevrolet Corvette—has been placed in distribution. A two-passenger open model (with removable top), the car is the American auto industry's first sports car and the first to carry a plastic body built by mass production methods. Traditional Chevrolet features include a special 150-horsepower "Blue-Flame" engine and a Powerglide automatic transmission. Production followed special showings of an experimental model in many cities.

Rogers Discusses Debated Matters of Taxes, Etc.

There are several controversial matters getting quite a bit of attention in Washington at the moment. Probably the two important ones, or that is, the ones receiving the most attention, are the sales tax issue and the recent appointment of Governor Warren to the Supreme Court.

SALES TAX ISSUE: The president, at his recent news conference, appeared to be equally-opposed to a retail sales tax collectible at the retail level. I think the great majority of the Congress is in wholehearted accord with the President's position on this particular matter. However, there is a sharp difference of opinion with regard to the so-called "manufacturers tax." This is actually a sales tax under an assumed name. The only difference is in the method of collection. If a federal retail sales tax, collectible on the retail level was enforced, it would simply mean that the tax would be collected over and above the advertised price of the product. In other words, if a loaf of bread sold for 20 cents and a retail sales tax of 5 per cent was in effect, the grocer would sell you the bread for 20 cents and charge you 1 cent sales tax before he delivered you the bread. If the tax was put on at the manufacturers level, it would simply mean that the government would figure out the tax and charge the baker who produced the loaf of bread so much for each loaf of bread that he sold. This would mean that, instead of the loaf of bread costing you 20 cents at the grocery store and your having to pay an additional 1 cent extra tax you would simply pay 21 cents for the loaf of bread and that would be the advertised price for it. The truth is that a federal retail sales tax collected at the retail level would be utter folly. The cost of administering and policing such a program would be almost prohibitive. The most practical and the least expensive method of collecting a federal sales tax would be to levy and collect the tax at the source of the product to be taxed. This would not only save millions and millions of dollars in the administration of such a program and in the policing thereof, but it would put a stop to many, many loopholes and practices that could be indulged in by those who wanted to escape or dodge such tax. The presence of such loopholes in such a program would simply mean that the taxpayers would again get it in the neck insofar as expenses were concerned because many people would be arrested for violation and tax evasion and the costs of trying these cases and in getting them ready for trial would run into the millions. State and municipal retail level, simply because many of the products sold, or we could say, most of them, sold, at retail are not manufactured in the state in which they are sold. This would not be true insofar as a federal retail sales tax is concerned, because all of the articles that are sold over the counters in the United States are manufactured here with the exception of those goods that are imported. This would not create any problem, because all imports are of record anyway and such a tax could be levied and collected from their importers.

I WANT IT DEFINITELY UNDERSTOOD THAT I AM OPPOSED TO A FEDERAL RETAIL TAX, whether it is put on to be collected at the retail level or at the manufacturers' level. The people of Texas have long opposed sales taxes and have been successful in their fight against this type of tax, both in the Texas Legislature and in the several municipalities. Therefore, I will say that I sincerely hope that a sales tax, either under its real or an assumed name, does not pass the Congress. I shall certainly do all in my power to prevent this additional levy being placed on the backs of the American taxpayers, regardless of what it is called.

THE SUPREME COURT APPOINTMENT: Although most of the people here feel that the appointment of Governor Warren of California as the new Chief Justice of the Supreme Court is a very fine appointment and will prove itself when the record is written, it has been very interesting to read the comments of the different columnists and the editorial writers in the papers in this section of the country. On October 1 the Washington Post printed a two-column editorial concerning the appointment. This editorial would appear to be most complimentary of Governor Warren and his appointment. However, there are two sentences in the editorial that struck me as very interesting. I quote you these sentences. "He is a man of sound judgment, with little partisanship in his make-up. His middle of the road political philosophy and his liberal attitude toward civil rights, as indicated by his successful fight to remove the detested loyalty oath required of teachers by the University of California, had a special appeal for Eisenhower."

It had been my sincere hope that the vacancy on the Supreme Court would be filled by the appointment of some outstanding jurist, wholly disconnected with politics, and of which we have many in this country. I have long deplored the appointment of political figures to the Supreme Court. This has been going on for many, many years, in fact, before the turn of the century. The three pillars or branches upon which our government rests are the legislative branch, the executive branch and the judicial branch. The judicial branch in the federal make-up is supposed to be the balance-wheel. In order to support and fulfill the responsibilities incident to such status, it has always been my philosophy that the judicial branch of the government should be above, beyond and completely apart from the other two branches. I do not criticize any of those who have received appointments to the high courts of this land because they might have been political figures, but it is well to remember that an appointment to most of the high courts is a lifetime appointment, and the removal of a judge from the bench is almost an impossibility. Governor Warren has my best wishes for a successful career that will exemplify strict adherence to the Constitution and laws of the United States of America.

Mrs. Richard E. Jackson OF 2510 37th, LUBBOCK, TEXAS, LIKES ELECTRIC COOKING!

Mrs. Jackson finds electric top-of-range cooking cool and clean. All the heat goes into the food to be cooked—none spills over to heat up the kitchen.

She likes the even baking and economy of electric oven-baked cookies and other pastries, pies and meats. Meat shrinkage is at minimum with electric baking.

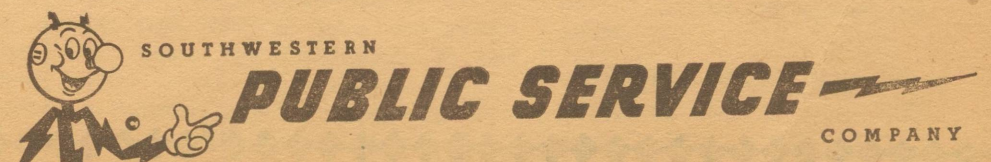

Too, she likes the easy method of preparing timely meals. Before going out, Mrs. Jackson sets oven controls—meals cook electrically while she's gone.

She says -

"Some of the outstanding features I like about electric cooking are the cleanliness and the coolness of my kitchen, the easy method of preparing timely meals, the even baking and economy. For my family of four, it costs only a few cents a day to prepare the meals."
