will receive the annual local step raises.

Hoping to improve salaries for auxiliary employees, trustees added another $30,000 for auxiliary and paraprofessional raises.

Dawson first broached the subject Monday, expressing his concern about low pay, high turnover rate and the difficulty in finding qualified personnel to fill those positions that include custodial and cafeteria workers.

The district's past pay rate schedule for auxiliary personnel gave employees with less experience a larger percentage raise than those with more experience.

"They are the least paid employees in the district," Long said. "We discussed tonight about our high turnover rates. We want to help out by raising their standard of living."

The new pay rate schedule approved by trustees include a 3 percent raise for employees with 0 to 9 years with the district, a 4 percent increase for employees with 10 to 15 years and a 5 percent raise for employees with 15 years or more.

Added back into the budget by the board, was administration recommendations of $50,000 for maintenance and $15,000 to renovation Anderson Kindergarten Center to house offices, textbook storage, record retention and the Alternative Education Program.

The proposed budget includes a 5 percent cut across the board in instruction and curriculum, about $100,000 in savings. Trustees instructed another 1 percent across the board cut for another $20,000 in savings.

With a total of $291,000 of expenses added back in by trustees, the proposed budget of $24,266,433 is estimated to have a $245,421 surplus.

"I think the public will find this budget acceptable considering the position of the economy," Long said. "We have a black budget. We still have other expenses out there that are uncertain."

The original proposal by administrators included a $536,000 budget surplus with the 2001-2002 budget cut from the 2001-2002 budget, with $1.2 million of that cut coming from the closure of Anderson Kindergarten Center and eliminating personnel positions through attrition.

The district will be faced with a $261,000 deficit this year, twice the amount planned for in the 2001-2002 budget study. The deficit will come out of the district's fund balance.

Furqueron expressed concern several times during this year's budget process about dipping into the fund balance.

The district expects to continue to lose student enrollment, which translates into decreased funding from the state.

Trustees will hold a public hearing on the proposed budget on Thursday, Aug. 8, in the board room at the high school, 707 11th Place.

Before the budget study, trustees approved dropping the district employee insurance contribution down to $150 a month from $180. Administrators made the recommendation because insurance premiums for employees will decrease across the board in the new state insurance plan.

In other business, trustees approved:

- The hiring of Jessica Bayless, special education teacher, Marcy Elementary;
- Stacy Beall, math teacher and coach, Big Spring Junior High School (BSJHS);
- Pamela Birdwell, physical education teacher and coach, BSJHS;
- Laine Lawson, eighth-grade English, BSJHS; and
- Greta Valdes, language arts teacher, Goliad Intermediate School.

- The resignations of Roxanne Castro, math teacher/coach at BSJHS; Donna Cunningham, fifth-grade teacher, Marcy Elementary; Donnitia Cunningham, district speech therapist; Melinda

- Also Osbella Rocha, assistant principal, Big Spring High School; Ricardo Rocha, seventh-grade teacher, BSJHS; Sandy Ruiz, first-grade teacher, Marcy; Frank Truex, band director, BSJHS; Sara Beth Warren, sixth-grade teacher, Goliad Elementary; and Elia Velasco, sixth-grade Spanish/ESL teacher, Goliad Intermediate.

- A letter of retirement from Lee Dale Lowery, high school marketing education teacher.

- A $4,403 bid by Al's & Son Bar-B-Q to cater the district's welcome back luncheon for employees on Aug. 14 at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The bid was for 630 plates at $6.99 a plate. Al's & Son Bar-B-Q was the only bid received.

VACCINE

receive their tetanus booster.

The diseases these vaccinations provide protection against have all but been eradicated, but the rare occurrences of the illness require the development and continued use of the vaccinations.

Although there may be an eventual increase in illness, Lopez said the diseases are treatable and the shortage of vaccine is no cause for alarm.

"We may see an increase in illness the longer there is a shortage ... within five years," she said, noting that the occurrence of these diseases is not as common as they once was. What's more, they are treatable, but without the help of vaccination they can become more severe and widespread.

Measles, which usually occurs in childhood, is an acute, viral disease that is highly contagious and involves the respiratory tract. It is characterized by small red papules that can appear anywhere on the body. It can lead to other infections such as pneumonia, but it is not usually a reason for hospitalization and is rarely fatal.

Mumps, like the measles, is another so-called "childhood disease" that is rarely seen. It is a virus that usually occurs between the ages of 5 and 15, but can occur at any age. If it occurs in adulthood the symptoms can be more severe. It can cause added complications for males, but rarely causes sterility.

It is usually identified by the swelling of the parotid glands located near the ear.

Rubella, also known as German or three-day measles, is also a virus and is usually mild. But for a woman who is pregnant, the disease can cause tragic birth defects such as heart defects, cataracts, deafness and mental retardation.

Tetanus is a neurotoxin and is one of the most lethal poisons known. It is commonly found in the superficial layers of soil and is a natural inhabitant of the intestines of cows and horses. It infects only wounds that have dead tissue and can enter the body through puncture wounds, abrasions, lacerations or burns.

Tetanus vaccinations are given only as boosters or every 10 years, whichever comes first.

The Texas Department of Health recommends prioritization for use of the tetanus toxoid for specific groups. Persons who have received less than three doses of any vaccine containing tetanus and diphtheria toxoids and are in the process of completing a primary series have the highest priority. This includes children who have not received a dose of DTaP/DTP/TD on or after their fourth birthday.

Other priority groups are those who have severe wounds, pregnant women who have not had the booster within the past 10 years, and persons traveling to a country where the risk for diphtheria is high.

The vaccine shortage — which has existed since 2001 — will continue into 2003, health officials say. The vaccines are in limited supply as a result of the withdrawal from the market by Wyeth Lederle.

Wyeth Lederle's withdrawal has left only one manufacturer, Aventis Pasteur, which has increased its production capabilities but has not been able to make up for the shortfall.

Ed Corson, pharmacy manager of Leonard's Pharmacy, said that the supply of tetanus toxoid has been short for several months, but that doesn't mean people can't get it if they need it.

"Shipments have been allocated to hospitals and doctors. Its use is being reserved for boosters and severe injuries. The 10-year school boosters are being deferred for one year," he said.

However, that doesn't include infants and toddlers to age 4.

"They should have enough to start their first three doses up to the age of 4," Corson said. The later doses for children ages 4 to 6 and 11 and 12-year-olds are being deferred for one year, he said.

Why Wyeth Lederle discontinued manufacture of the medications is a matter of speculation.

"I assume for economic reasons," Corson said. "They really don't usually want to broadcast that sort of thing."

For more information about school vaccinations, call the Texas Department of Health at 263-9775.

Judge will have to decide on Williams' fate

INVERNESS, Fla. (AP) — A judge will decide whether Ted Williams wanted to be frozen or cremated after the baseball great's will and the executor of his estate presented conflicting accounts of his intentions.

In the will that was filed and made public Tuesday, Williams said he wanted his ashes "sprinkled at sea off the coast of Florida where the water is very deep."

Williams also specified he didn't want a funeral or memorial service. But after he wrote his will on Dec. 20, 1996, the Hall of Famer and fishing enthusiast expressed a desire to have his body frozen, according to the executor, Albert Cassidy.

"After the time of his will, Ted chose to have his body cryonically preserved," Cassidy said Tuesday.

Cassidy presented no documents to support his statement and refused to say how he knew of Williams' wish to be frozen.

Along with the will, Cassidy filed a petition asking a judge that Williams' body remain in a cryonics lab in Arizona.

Cassidy wrote he "is in doubt as to whether any change in the disposition of this decedent's body is required." John Henry Williams and Bobby-Jo Williams Ferrell, his half sister, have been fighting over their father's remains since the Boston Red Sox great died July 5 at 83.

John Henry Williams had his father's body flown to Alcor Life Extension Foundation in Scottsdale, Ariz., to be frozen, against the wishes of Ferrell, who said Ted Williams wanted to be cremated. A third child, Claudia Williams, has sided with her brother.

Both sides have 20 days to respond to the will, and a hearing date can be set after that.

Richard Fitzpatrick, an attorney for Ferrell, said Cassidy offered nothing to back his claim that Williams wanted to be frozen indefinitely.

Rangers activate Kapler, option Benoit to OK City

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Texas Rangers activated outfielder Gabe Kapler from the 15-day disabled list Tuesday and inserted him into the starting lineup for their game against Kansas City.

Kapler hit .263 with no homers and 14 RBIs before going on the disabled list June 24 with tendinitis in his left wrist. He hit .471 with one home run and five RBIs in a five-game rehabilitation assignment with Triple-A Oklahoma.

The Rangers also activated right-handed reliever Danny Kolb, who had been out all season with a partial tear of his rotator cuff.

Kolb was 1-1 with an 1.88 earned run average in nine minor league rehabilitation appearances for Double-A Tulsa and Class-A Charlotte.

To make room for Kapler and Kolb the Rangers optioned Joaquin Benoit to Triple-A Oklahoma and designated rookie Randy Flores for assignment.

The right-handed Benoit was 2-1 with a 4.50 earned run average in four games, including three starts, for Texas. He walked seven, a season high for a Rangers pitcher, in a loss Monday to the Kansas City Royals.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY

The ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, July 17, the 198th day of 2002. There are 167 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On July 17, 1981, 114 people were killed when a pair of walkways above the lobby of the Kansas City Hyatt Regency Hotel collapsed during a "tea dance."
In 1821, Spain ceded Florida to the United States. In 1898, during the Spanish-American War, Spanish troops in Santiago, Cuba, surrendered to U.S. forces. In 1917, the British royal family adopted the name "Windsor." In 1938, aviator Douglas Corrigan took off from New York, saying he was headed for California; he ended up in Ireland, earning the nickname "Wrong Way Corrigan." In 1944, 322 people were killed when a pair of ammunition ships exploded in Port Chicago, Calif. Most of them were blacks who were loading the ships. In 1945, President Harry S. Truman, Soviet leader Josef Stalin and British Prime Minister Winston S. Churchill began meeting at Potsdam in the final Allied summit of World War II. In 1955, Disneyland debuted in Anaheim, Calif. In 1975, an Apollo spacecraft docked with a Soyuz spacecraft in orbit in the first superpower link-up of its kind. In 1979, Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza resigned and fled into exile in Miami. In 1996, TWA Flight 800, a Paris-bound Boeing 747, exploded and crashed off New York's Long Island shortly after departing John F. Kennedy International Airport. All 230 people aboard were killed. Ten years ago: A historic accord for deep cuts in tanks and other non-nuclear arms in Europe went into effect, nearly two years after it was signed by NATO and the now-defunct Warsaw Pact.

The Beaver State

Oregon From A to Z

Oregon, a Pacific Coast state, is known for its forests, mountains and coast, with tall cliffs, sandy beaches and harbors.

Today, the manufacturing of forest products, food products, metals, plastics, computer parts and software is important. World corporations such as Nike are headquartered there.

Tourism is a big industry. Native Americans first settled in the area about 13,000 years ago. Spanish, British and Russian explorers all claimed it for their countries.

Fur-trading companies such as the Hudson's Bay Co. were early leaders in settling the area.

Until President Thomas Jefferson sent Meriwether Lewis and William Clark to explore the area in 1804, few white people settled there. The Lewis and Clark explorations gave the U.S. the strongest claim to the land. It became a state in 1859.

Oregon is the 28th most populated state, with about 3 1/2 million people.

Crater Lake is the deepest lake in the country, and the seventh deepest in the world, at 1,532 feet deep. It is actually the opening of a volcano that collapsed more than 6,500 years ago.

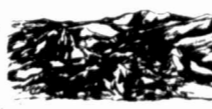

See to see
www.oregon.gov

Agriculture is very important. Oregon is one of the nation's top growers of hazelnuts, Christmas trees, grass seed, various berries and peppermint.

Wheat, prunes, plums, onions, cauliflower, pears, flower bulbs, lilies, poultry, dairy products, apples, animal feed, sugar beets and potatoes are also important.

The Beaver is the state animal. It was important in attracting early trappers who wanted to sell beaver skins.

The Cascades, the Coast Range and the Willowa

Mountains attract many outdoor-loving visitors, skiers and snowboarders.

Depoe Bay is the world's smallest natural harbor in which ships can travel.

The Douglas Fir is the state tree.

Eugene is the second-largest city, with about 138,000 people. It is known for its walking and biking trails.

Brave pioneers who took the Oregon Trail usually traveled in covered wagons. The trip might take as long as six months. Families packed their most valuable possessions in these wagons.

Last year was a big one for tennis player Jennifer Capriati. She won the Australian Open and the French Open tournaments. She was in the finals at the German Open and the Canadian Open. At the end of the year, she was No. 2 in the rankings.

This year she won her second Australian Open. Jennifer turned pro in 1990. Some of her other wins include the 1992 Olympics and the 1991 Canadian Open. She lives in Wesley Chapel, Fla. Her hobbies include reading, writing, watching movies and swing dancing. Her younger brother plays tennis at the University of Arizona.

Meet Lee Ann Womack

One of the biggest songs last year was "I Hope You Dance" by Lee Ann Womack. Lee Ann, 35, grew up in Jacksonville, Texas. Her father was a high school principal and radio disc jockey and her mother a homemaker.

While growing up, Lee Ann loved listening to country music. She decided when she was young that she wanted to be a country singer.

In 1990, she moved to Nashville and worked for a record company. She also worked on her singing career. Her first album came out in 1996.

Lee Ann lives in Nashville with her two children. She likes reading, camping, skiing, playing tennis and sewing.

MIGHTY FUNNY'S Mini Jokes

All the following jokes have something in common. Can you guess the common theme or category?

Sarah: What is black and white, black and white, black and white and green?
Tom: Three skunks eating a pickle!

Mike: Did you hear the joke about the skunk?
Susan: Yes, it stunk!

Terry: Why did the baby skunk follow the advice of the bigger skunk?
Jim: Because it was odor and wiser!

More About Oregon

Fishing is a big industry. Some of the top catches include oysters, clams, salmon, crab, shrimp, halibut and bass.

Forests cover more than half the state. Oregon is one of the top sellers of lumber and wood products in the world.

The Oregon Grape is the state flower. Oregon grows 99 percent of all the hazelnuts in the U.S.

Hells Canyon is the deepest river canyon in North America. It follows the Snake River on the border between Oregon and Idaho.

Indian tribes such as the Paiute, Modoc and Nez Perce suffered great losses in wars with settlers.

The John Day Fossil Beds National Monument near Kimberly features a well-preserved record of how plants and animals changed from 55 million to 10 million years ago.

Klamath Basin has the largest number of wintering bald eagles in any of the lower 48 states. Thousands of migrating birds, including geese, mallards and pelicans, can be seen there in the fall and spring.

Limestone, sand and gravel are top minerals in the state.

The Western Meadowlark is the state bird.

Multnomah Falls is the second-highest year-round waterfall in the U.S., at 620 feet.

Oregon's Name probably came from the French name for the Columbia River, the Ouragan, which means "hurricane."

About 300 miles of Oregon's Pacific Ocean coastline are open to the public.

Portland lies near the joining of the Willamette and Columbia Rivers. It is a leading international port and the largest city, with about 530,000 people. It is known as the City of Roses because of the International Rose Test Garden there.

Large Quantities of precipitation, most in the form of rain, fall in the state. Some coastal areas get about 130 inches of precipitation a year. But mountains block the rain from reaching other areas in the east, which are desert-like.

The Columbia River forms the border between Oregon and Washington. Dams on the river provide most of the electricity for the state, and the river provides much of the irrigation for farming.

Salem is the capital, with about 137,000 people. Its name comes from the Hebrew word for peace, "shalom."

The Oregon Trail, which ended in western Oregon and began in Missouri, was the dangerous path thousands of pioneers had to take on their way West in the 1800s, until the railroad was built in the 1860s.

Underground marvels can be seen in 21 marble caves at Oregon Caves National Monument in Cave Junction.

The dormant, or sleeping, Volcano, Mount Hood, last erupted in 1907. It is the second most climbed mountain in the world.

The Windsurfing capital of the world is the Columbia Gorge.

EXplorers Lewis and Clark reached the Pacific shores of Oregon and Washington in 1805.

The Yaquina Head Lighthouse near Newport is one of many lighthouses along Oregon's rocky coast, many of which are still in use.

The Oregon Zoo in Portland has 72 species of threatened or endangered animals, including the ring-tailed lemur, black rhinoceros, golden lion tamarin and Siberian tiger.
