Judge won't put up with disrespect in his courtroom

By BILL MCCLELLAN

News Editor

Municipal Court Judge Timothy Green is mad and he's not going to take it any more.

What has the judge upset is the lack of respect many juveniles — and adults, for that matter — are exhibiting in his courtroom. He's tired of gum-popping, shorts-clad individuals appearing before his bench. And he wants them to know it.

"We're raising the level of respect in this courtroom. It was my hope that parents — before they bring their children to court — would look at them and say 'you are going to court, you are not going to dress like that,' but they haven't," said Green. From now on, defendants who show up in

"They are going to be sent home. I'm going to tell them, 'You need to go home and we will let you know when we have rescheduled your court date."

That applies to adults as well as juveniles.

"If they come back the same way the next time, I'm going to find them in contempt of court and throw them (the adults) in jail," said Green. "I can't do that with juveniles, but I can refer them to the juvenile probation office. They have a few more tools, they can use to discipline juveniles than I do."

Thursday, the court will have a juvenile docket call, and Green expects 25 to 30 juvenile cases. Juveniles are required to make a plea in open court.

Despite rain, downtown fiesta a big success

Tejano music, low riders bring crowd to park area

Saturday's Diez y Seis de Septiembre Fiesta in downtown Big Spring was a raging success, even after the fiesta's start Friday evening was a bit under the weather.

The event, held in the downtown area centered around Heart of the City Park, was sponsored by the Downtown Revitalization Association.

Event coordinator Raul Marquez, co-station manager of KBYG radio in Big Spring, took time out from his dunking booth duties Saturday to praise area residents for making the party a success.

"Things are wonderful, they're going real good," he said. "It's unfortunate that Friday we had the rain come in, but today, Saturday it's going real good. I'm just extremely happy that we're down here in downtown Big Spring for the first time. We're all having a good time, what can I say?"

Marquez, dripping wet, was even happy about his stint in the booth.

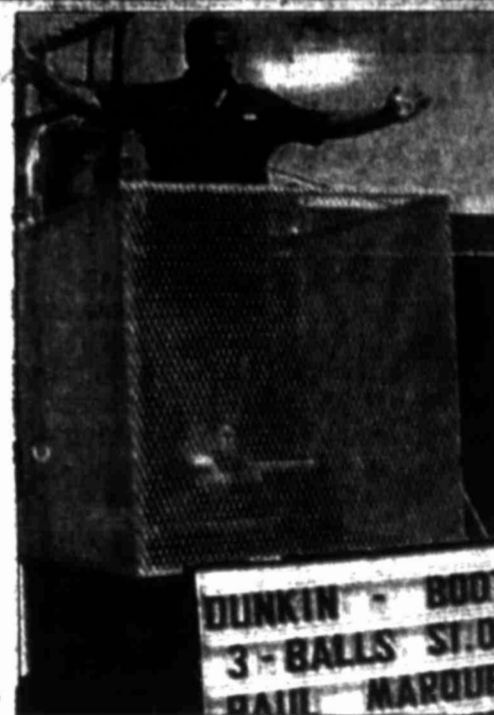

"This is the coolest place to be," he said. "I'm making more money than anybody.

Effort made to organize Civil War re-enactment group here

By ROGER CLINE

Staff Writer

About 140 years ago, a war was fought to decide whether this country would remain united or split in two.

A group is forming in Big Spring to live through some of those Civil War days by re-enacting its battles and events.

The Civil War re-enactment group — calling itself "The First Texas Light Artillery" — will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the home of organizers Errol and Kay Porter, 4514 Palm Road in Big Spring.

Mrs. Porter said to go out Wasson Road to Hickory, turn right and follow Hickory until it dead-ends into Palm, and turn left.

"It's the first house on the right," she said. "If things go like we want, we're going to have some original camping equipment out on the front lawn. We're hoping to have the tent and everything in the front lawn so people can say, 'Oh, that's where it is.'"

The Porters are forming the group along with Paula and Donny Jones of Coahoma, Kay said.

Members don't have to be big Civil War trivia buffs or even fight in the mock battles staged by the group, she said. "Not necessarily," she said. "You can just be there for the history of it, you can be there to take an active group part of it, or if you just want to learn something about history, I myself was never a big history person, and I am learning things new every day from Doors will open at 11:30 a.m. with the meal catered by Al's & Son Barbecue. Luncheon-goers will enter and go straight through the buffet line before sitting down.

"We encourage people to get there right at 11:30 to get a good seat," said Scott. "The lines get pretty long. If they wish to arrive late so they don't have to wait in line, that's fine, but they won't get as good of a seat."

Guest speaker for the event is Spike Dykes, former high school and collegiate coach. In addition to his message, United Way officials will be introduced and the crowd will be informed as to how the campaign is progressing toward its goal of $250,000.

"We've had some reports from some of companies and we'll make those public," said Scott. "We'll announce" the Pacesetters, which is a large amount. H-E-B has done more than 30 percent over last year. They'll be recognized as well."

Boy Scouts from Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan will present the colors and door prizes will also be given away, including a football signed by Dykes and members of the first Texas Tech Red Raider team to play in the Big 12 Conference.

Dykes is well known in the Crossroads area. After serving as an assistant in Eastland and Ballinger, Dykes got his first head coaching job in 1964 in Coahoma and led the Bulldogs to the playoffs with a 10-1 record. The next year he coached the Bulldogs to a 12-1 season, one game short of the state championship. He took over the Big Spring Steers in 1967 and amassed a 16-14 record before moving on to collegiate ball.

He spent five years under Darrell Royal at the University of Texas, was an assistant at the University of New Mexico and Mississippi State, then came back to West Texas as head coach of the Midland Lee Rebels in 1980. Dykes spent four years at Lee, turning the Rebels into a gridiron powerhouse. In 1983 his team finished 13-3, losing to Converse Judson 25-21 in the Class 5A state championship game.

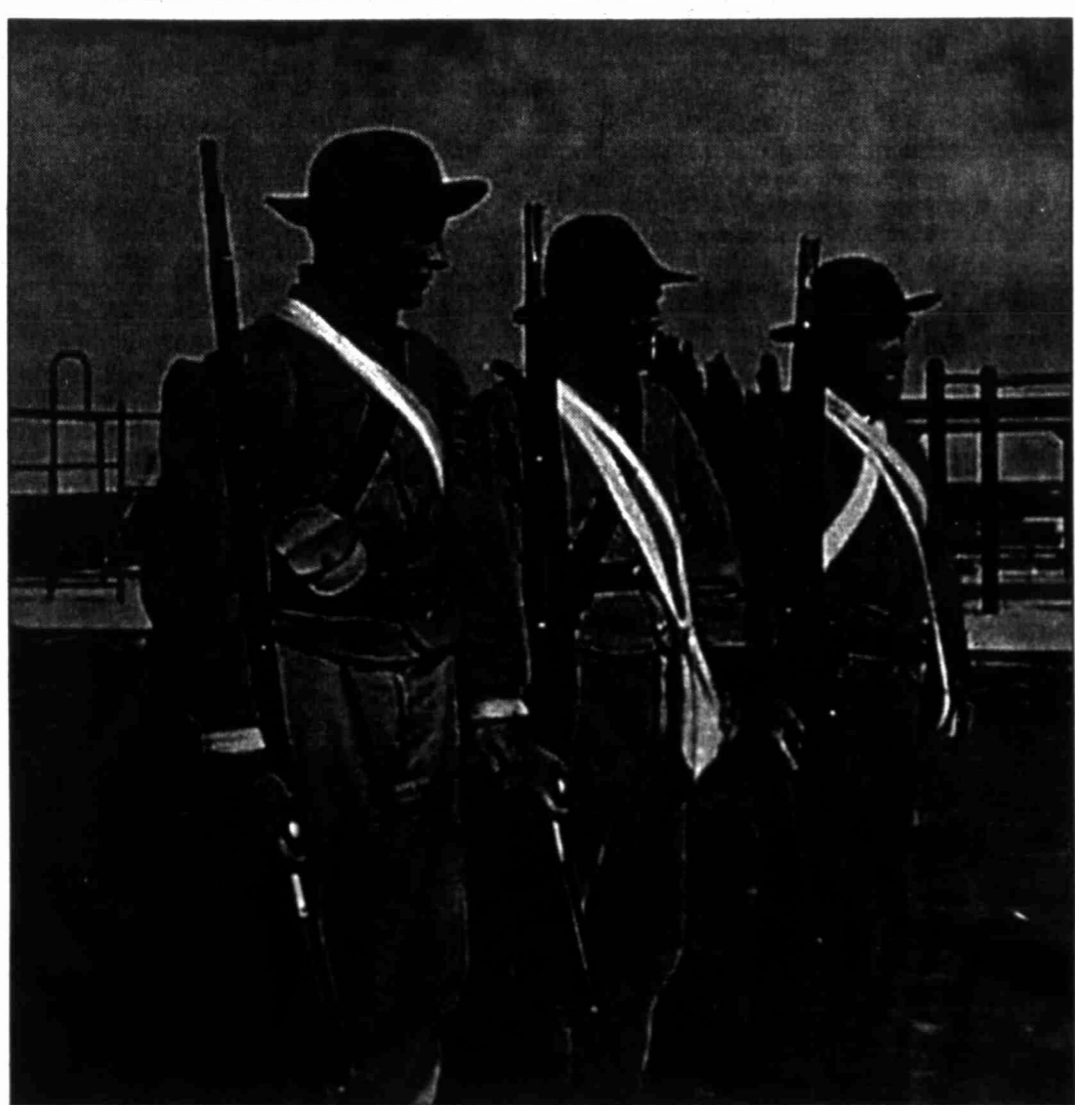

The next year Dykes was hired as defensive coordinator at Texas Tech and took over the head coach's position two weeks before the Red Raiders were to play in the Independence Bowl in 1986.

He spent 13 years in the head coach's spot — in which he led the Raiders to seven bowl games, was named Southwest Conference Coach of the Year three times and Big 12 Coach of the Year once. He retired in 1999.

There are many roles to play, she added.

"You can have anywhere from the music corps to the cannons to the rifles," she said. "Then we have the ladies that have several different things that are going on as historians, and they will dress in the Southern Belle dresses and the men in the Confederate or the Union clothing."

Even though women virtually never fought in Civil War battles, women interested in doing so with the re-enactment group can dress as men, Kay said.

Civil War re-enactment is a national pastime, and re-enactment groups have been used as extras in movie battle scenes, she added.

"If you saw the movie

'Gettysburg,' nine-tenths of the people that were doing the battle scenes were Civil War re-enactment groups," she said. "They're all over the United States."

DRA President Allan Johnson paid his dollar to take three shots, and managed to get Marquez wet once.

"It looks like things are great," Johnson said. "People are coming out and having a great time. Things are steady. I can't give you a good solid number, but I think we have a great crowd."

Get your United Way tickets now

If you haven't secured your tickets for the United Way of Big Spring and Howard County Campaign Kickoff Luncheon you'd best do it quickly. The event takes place Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. in First Methodist Church's Garrett Hall, 400 Scurry St.

Tickets are on sale at the United Way office and the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce. They're just $10 each.

Spike Dykes, former high school and collegiate football coach, will be the guest speaker. As an educator and coach, Dykes played a pivotal role for many students over the years. A former coach at Coahoma and Big Spring, he retired in the late 1990s after a successful 13-year career at Texas Tech University.

In addition to the speaker, those who attend will be introduced to key United Way volunteers and enjoy a lunch catered by Al's & Son Barbecue.

There are lots of reasons to go to the luncheon, but none more important than United Way itself. Each year, this great organization helps more than a dozen local agencies keep their doors open. They include Northside Community Center, Victim Services, West Side Community Center, West Side Day Care Center, West Texas Girl Scout Council, The Salvation Army and the YMCA of Big Spring.

Others are the American Red Cross West Texas Chapter, the Boys Club of Big Spring, Buffalo Trail Council Boy Scouts of America, Council on Aging, Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, the Humane Society Pet Therapy Department and Isaiah 58.

So get your tickets at the United Way office or chamber — or reserve them by calling 267-5201. We hope you'll make plans to join us Tuesday and get this campaign off to a great start.

YOUR VIEWS

To the Editor:

On Tuesday, Sept. 3, while driving home to Big Spring on I-20, my car blew its right rear tire. I immediately pulled onto the shoulder and put on my flashers. And there I sat for the next two hours.

After I got bored counting the number of cars and trucks which passed me by, I decided it might instead be more profitable to count my blessings. I thanked God that it was nighttime and not high noon, so I was not likely to be turned into toast before someone finally stopped to help me. I thanked Him for the beautiful night sky and that I could see Big Spring's twinkling lights in the distance.

I also gave "thanks in advance" for the new cell phone that my husband was most certainly going to buy me the very next day. And I further gave thanks for my rescuer, whomever they might be.

Suddenly there was a bright light behind me and someone approaching my van. Yes, it was my rescuee, Texas Department of Public Safety officer Michael Sparks. He graciously offered to change my tire. In talking with him, I discovered that he hails from Stanton and he changes quite a few flat tires for folks stranded out on I-20, especially in hot weather.

I want to publicly thank Officer Sparks for his kindness. Yes, God does answer prayer; this time in the form of a handsome young man who happens to wear a state trooper's badge. May God bless you!

Impressions. First impressions are extremely important to most people and for opens this week I have a few first impressions I'd like to share.

Before we even get to the point of disagreement, remember these are my first impressions not someone else's.

At a meeting about 10 days ago at the Dora Roberts Community Center there was a group of students from one gifted and talented class attending the meeting as part of their educational process.

This was great for a couple reasons at least. First, it allowed them to experience how hard it can be to pull a large group together which has members with different points of view.

But probably more importantly it allowed the adults to observe the leaders of tomorrow.

If this group is representative of what we can expect then we are going to be in good hands.

I called Mike Ritchey, Big Spring High School principal, that very afternoon to tell him that this group of young people gave every appearance of being one of the finest groups of young people I have ever had the experience of sharing time with.

They were quiet, but it was far more than that. They were attentive.

To top this off, Mike shared with me that on the way back to school our group of tomorrow's leaders came up with a full list of ideas to help rebuild the economic strength of Big Spring and ways to pull this group of several different organizations into one.

My impressions are these young people are well mannered, well taught and well thought — if you will allow me some incorrect grammar.

Next on the list was a trip to parents' night at the high school. Son Michael is the last of four children and is in his junior year.

If you add up school years for each child independently, Marilyn and I have had a child in school for many more years than we have been married.

Obviously there was some overlap, but our children are far enough apart that we never had all four children enrolled in the same school district at the same time.

As I went from classroom to classroom for the abbreviated sessions it was amazing how open the teachers are in the classrooms here.

A couple of the teachers even offered phone numbers at home for students who were doing home work and reaching a frustration level.

That's amazing to me.

I have been around many school systems where the students' well being was never as important as the paycheck at the end of the pay period.

This certainly does not appear to be the case here. Maybe once all the parents left there was a mass change back to the way "they really are!" But I must be honest, I don't believe there is any change.

I have never met a schoolteacher or principal that didn't have some students and parents dislike them.

Often that happens when you're trying to do your job and make judgments for the many, not the few.

Kinda like being a newspaper publisher, believe me!

The Permian football game was a good one and as the season goes on I see the Steers' football squad getting more comfortable with what's happening on the field and as we move into district play it may be a powerful squad we will pull for this year.

These are big-hearted, hard-nosed athletes and quitting isn't part of their make-up. We'll see how things go at home this weekend.

And so, for another week, thanks and thirty.

Story of a perfect jewel in a perfect setting

I never notice jewelry, to the irritation of friends and sisters who love and wear it.

You have to shove a diamond in my eye, push a ruby under my nose, before I utter the socially correct response: "My, that's a lovely ring."

Mostly, I fear jewelry. Fear I'll lose it, abuse it, choose it poorly. Jewels are for other women, or The Other Woman, surely somebody else besides me.

There is a jewelry store I love, however, in the town of Corinth, Miss. — better known for its slug burgers than baubles. A slug, by the way, is a fried burger made from cereal, flour and lard — plus a gnat's eyeball worth of beef. The slug was invented here during the meat-rationing days of World War II, and the town celebrates the burger with an annual festival. A "slugfest," if you will.

But back to jewelry and finer things. The store is Waits Jewelry, which opened its doors in 1865, making it the oldest store in Mississippi, according to Eugenia Waits. Mrs. Waits is the real jewel here, the 94-year-old widow of Earnest Waits, whose father started the business.

She walked into this store at age 20, nearly three-quarters of a century ago. She continues to work six days a week, gliding about beneath the tall, old show-cases, wearing, in summer, a winter shirt and sensible shoes. Mrs. Waits might be 94, but her skin is as smooth and white as a fine porcelain plate the brides choose from the store's shelves. She is as dainty as a music box's ballerina figurine, her voice a tiny purr that you must strain to hear.

"This," she says, carefully removing a Wedgwood cup and saucer with wild strawberries on it, "was Princess Diana's pattern." Her hands gently lift the fragile cup, holding it up to the morning sunlight that streams through the shop's window. Her practiced handling explains why, in all these years, she's never broken a single piece of her own pattern, a blue and white Spode china pattern she shows me next.

"And I use it every day," she brags.

She loves this elegant old store, you can tell, and who could not? The paintings by her late husband circle the elongated room, dark and compelling landscapes that he painted in about 1925. He was a Renaissance man, her Earnest, building an airplane from bamboo that was featured in a 1911 issue of Popular Mechanics, then again in a PM retrospective last month.

"Oh, yes, he could do anything," she says. The words are full of respect, awe even.

In this world of chain department stores and impersonal service, I wish every bride could make her choices here, could begin married life in such a hushed and unhurried way with Mrs. Waits as guide. The white-gloved treatment they'd receive surely might improve the odds of their actual marriages. Forget china patterns; perhaps she'd give advice about their most important choice, the groom.

Mrs. Waits keeps records of all "her" brides, their silver, china and crystal carefully noted for posterity.

Regal beginnings do not assure storybook endings — Princess Di of the wild strawberries proved that — but some moments are meant to be serene and savored.

I linger too long, looking at everything Mrs. Waits wants to show me. She never gets in a hurry with any customer.

There is such hope behind the glass cabinets, porcelain portents of lives yet to ripen, holiday meals and family celebrations to come.

All is new and without cracks, perfect placé settings with no flaws, no chips, no scratches.

I blush for the brides who will discover that marriage is no dinner party, that fate respects no pattern. Too soon they'll know about the world beyond Waits, and they'll learn silver tarnishes.

Yet this anachronistic oasis makes me optimistic that some traditions are rooted and real. And beauty is not always in a natural stone or a finely-crafted piece of pottery.

Sometimes beauty is in the face of a woman who has loved and has been loved.

Howard College nursing students receive seven of 124 scholarships

Institution also receives three of 51 Professional Nursing Student Scholarships awarded

Special to the Herald

Howard College nursing students received seven of the 124 licensed and registered nursing scholarships awarded to community colleges this fall from the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

"We are thrilled to have received so many of the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board's scholarships awarded this year," said Cindy Stokes, dean of nursing/division director of allied health at Howard College.

These scholarships, based on financial need and academic success, are awarded on a highly competitive basis, according to Ann Duncan, director of enrollment management.

"This is an incredible honor for Howard College, especially considering we are allowed to submit a very limited number of applications for the state competition," Duncan said.

Duncan said for one scholarship, the LVN to RN Scholarship, Howard College was permitted to nominate only four students, and two of those, Cheryl Morrison of Lamesa and Lark Olivias of Big Spring were selected. A total of 34 LVN to RN Scholarship statewide were awarded to community colleges.

"That shows how competitive the scholarship is, and also says volumes about the success of the Howard College nursing program, as half of our nominated students received the scholarship," Duncan said.

A total of 51 Professional Nursing Student

Scholarships were awarded to community colleges, and three of those were awarded to Howard College students. Michelle Williams of Colorado City, Angela Willborn of Sterling City, and Jason Arguello of Big Spring received the Howard College awards.

"That scholarship is very competitive" Duncan said.

Of 25 Vocational General Nursing Scholarships awarded to community colleges, Howard College nursing student Kay Arthur of Big Spring was the Howard College recipient.

And Lisa Rackard of Stanton received the Vocational Rural Scholarship for Howard College, out of 14 awarded to community colleges statewide.

"We are so very proud of our students, and of our program," Duncan said.

The scholarship deadline for Howard College for Fall 2003 is April 1. Call the Student Assistance Center at 264-5083 for more information or to request an application.

HOROSCOPE

BY JACQUELINE BIGAR
HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Sunday, Sept. 15:

Your ingenuity glides over any unanticipated problems this year. You seem to find a way, a solution or a pal to help. Still, avoid wild risk-taking, especially with your finances. You easily could go overboard. Misunderstandings seem to happen more easily with work and funds. "Verify and clarify" needs to be your motto this year. If you are single, you will sprinkle some hot spices into your love life. In a year or so, you decide which hot tamale you can live with! If attached, your love life will sizzle and will prove to be a lot more exciting. Add that special touch. CAPRICORN adds to the quality of your life.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19) **** Check in with a parent or loved one. Sort through a confusing statement by helping this person clarify what is on his or her mind. Create an event to bring family and friends together. Be more upbeat with others. Tonight: Leader of the gang.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) **** Your solution-finding skills find an answer when no one else can. Through being able to detach, you find unusually beneficial ideas and solutions. Understand what might be happening behind the scenes. You might need help finishing a project. Tonight: Do something totally new.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) **** Clearly express your limits. Others might not think exactly as you would like them to. A discussion with a special friend or family member illuminates your thinking. Do something special with this person. Be thankful for this friendship. Tonight: Togetherness works.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) **** What you hear might not be exactly what you think you should be hearing. Give others time to clarify their thoughts or ask the right questions. Don't worry about a missed or unreturned call. Reach out for that person now. Tonight: Join family and/or friends.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) *** Get into a project that you can do at home while relaxing. Don't push yourself beyond your natural limits. Take a nap if you wish. Work on making everything easy for now. You sometimes push way beyond your limits. Catch up on mail. Tonight: Happy as a cat not doing much.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) **** With your ruler, Mercury, retrograding, you might be slightly out of sorts. Recognize uptightness, especially with money issues. Meanwhile, make the most of company and those around you. Don't rain on your own parade! Tonight: Play away.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) *** Be more direct with your dealings right now. What you believe to be direct, others see as convoluted. Don't get uptight if someone seems to be overquestioning a thought or decision. Visit with loved ones close to home. You don't need to make a big deal out of anything. Tonight: Your home is your castle.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) **** Reach out to neighbors and friends. You bring many different types of people together under the same roof. Laugh and enjoy yourself. A touch of confusion adds to the funky fun. Help others relax and not be so uptight. Tonight: Be King or Queen Bee.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) *** Relax in the company of others. What seemed like a problem really doesn't have to be. Add more fun and liveliness to the moment. Be careful not to overdo it with a parent or some other authority figure in your life. Tonight: Make love, not war.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) **** Invite friends over and add to the fun of the moment. What might prove to be a problem actually could reverse itself. Laughter heals. Stop pushing someone away who wants to be close. Look at your fears here. Tonight: Where the gang is.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) ** Walk away from your life's pressures for 24 hours. Your humor helps. Understand what you might want or need from others. Put on a favorite piece of music and relax. Curl up with a great book. Watch a special movie. Just don't stress yourself out. Tonight: Early to bed.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) **** Happily join friends and/or family. You flourish when you're dealing with groups right now. Express your gregarious, fun personality in a way that counts. Your playfulness puts everyone in the right mood to let go. Tonight: Do something special for a partner.

Bovines shake offensive slump with 418 yard effort against Hereford

By TOMMY WELLS

HEREFORD — The Big Spring Steers found their magic Friday night. To the Hereford Whitefaces that magic probably tasted a lot like Bertie Bott's Every Flavor Beans — foul.

Tye Butler passed for 320 yards and Josh Mathews rushed for 101 more as Big Spring shrugged off two weeks of offensive woes and rolled to a 35-20 victory in front of a large crowd at Whiteface Stadium. In all, the Steers rolled up a season-high 418 yards on offense and — more importantly — found the end zone five times against a Hereford squad that qualified for the state 4A playoffs a year ago.

"We still have some things to work on. We let down a little in the second half but it's still a win, and we'll never turn down a win," said head coach Dwight Butler, who watched on as his team notched its first win of the year.

"These young men came out fighting and never gave up," he added.

Big Spring needed a lot of fight to overcome an early mistake that left the Steers in a tough position.

Hereford linebacker Derek Mendoza took advantage of a bad snap on a punt try to block Mike Ornelas' initial attempt. The Herd recovered the ball at the Big Spring 33.

Whiteface fullback Ryan Artho put the Steers in an even bigger hole on Hereford's first play from scrimmage. He took a hand-off from C.J. Berryman and rambled to the BSHS 17.

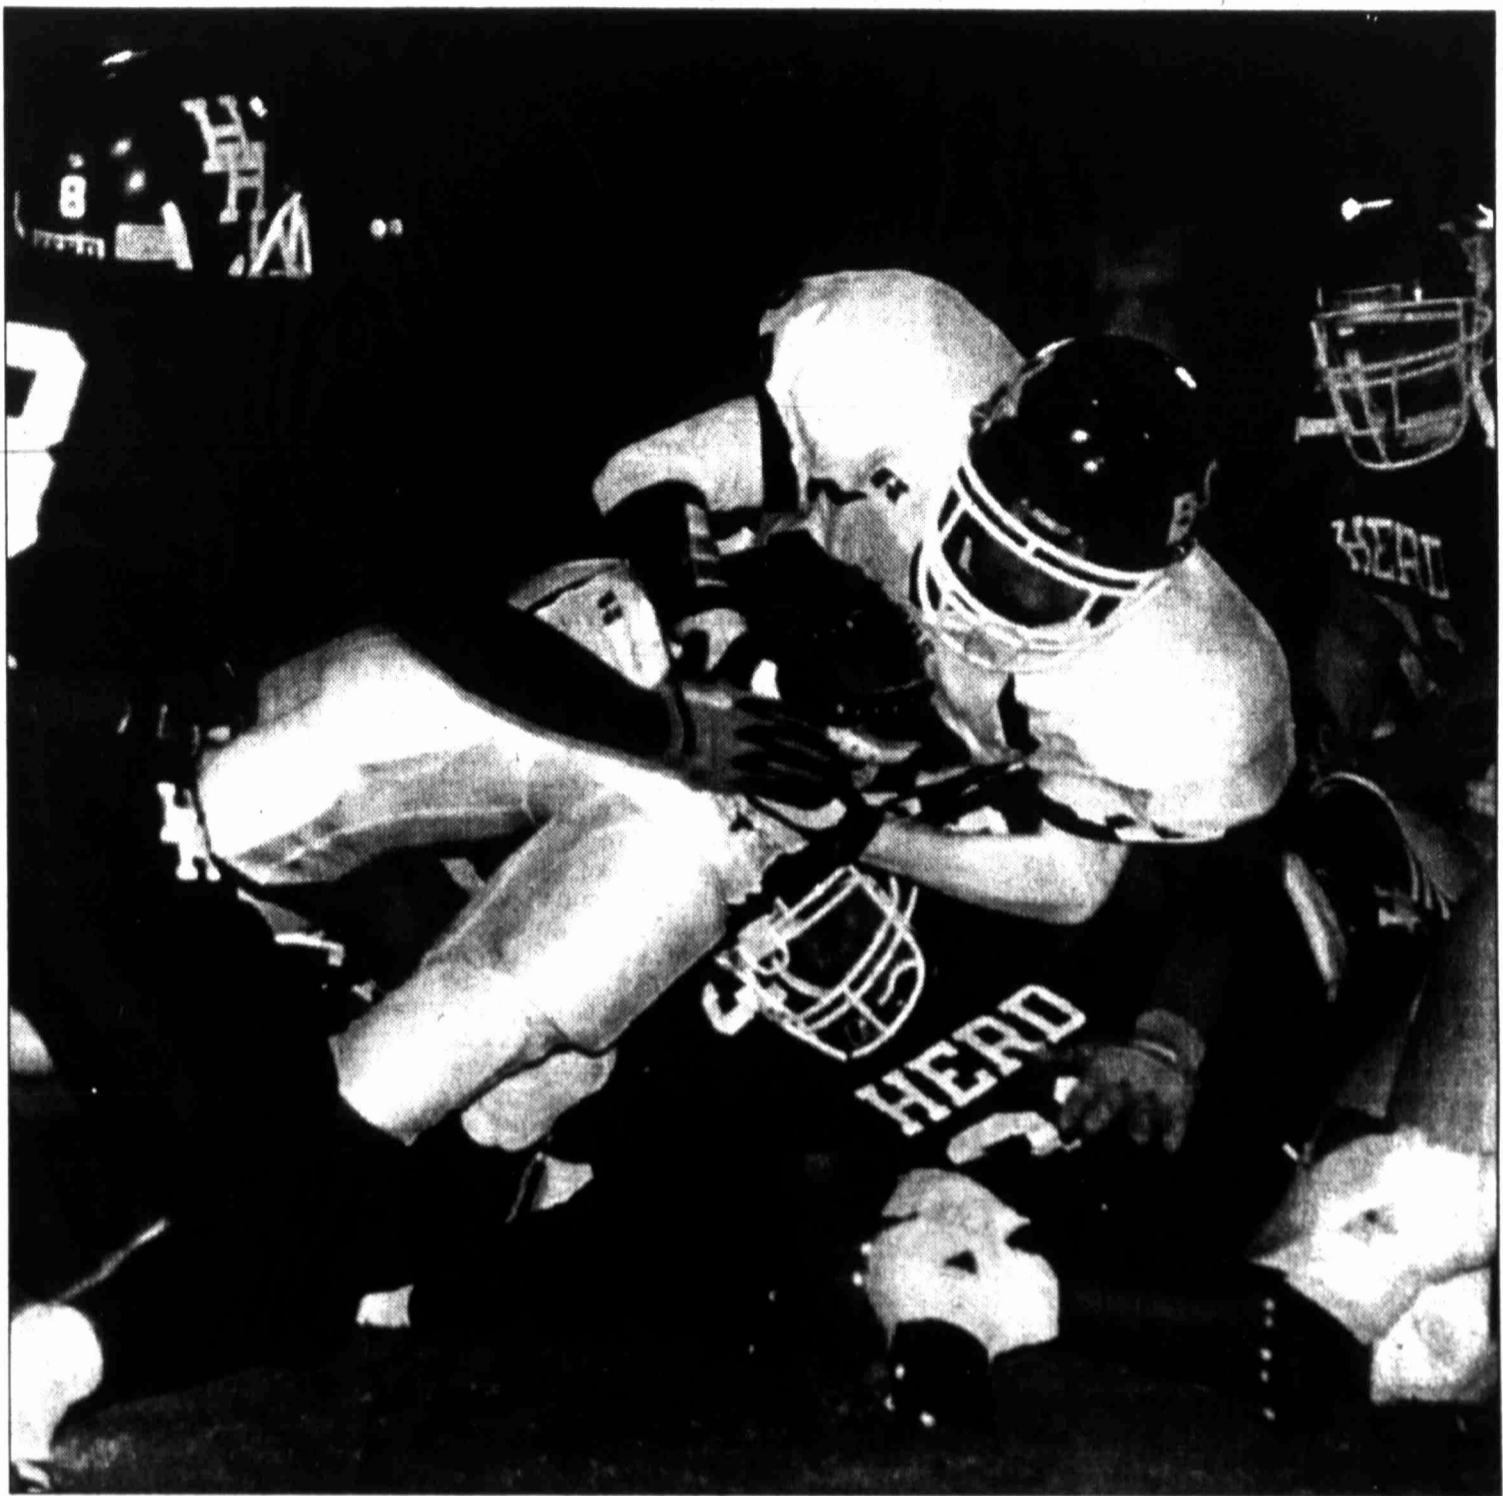

After runs of 7, 5 and 1 yard by Artho had moved the ball to the Big Spring 4, the Steer defense rose to the challenge. On 1st-and-goal Eric Chavez hauled down Artho after a short one-yard gain. Two plays later, Artho fumbled a pitch from Berryman and lost 11 yards, back to the Steers' 16.

Big Spring dodged a bullet from there. Tim Schlabb's 33-yard field goal try sailed wide left, leaving the score knotted at 0-0.

It didn't take the Steers long to get their offense in gear. In fact, it took just 15 seconds for Butler to hook up with Mendoza on an 80-yard scoring strike. Mendoza's score, and Jordan Cobb's ensuing two-point conversion, gave Big Spring an 8-0 lead with 6:50 remaining in the first period.

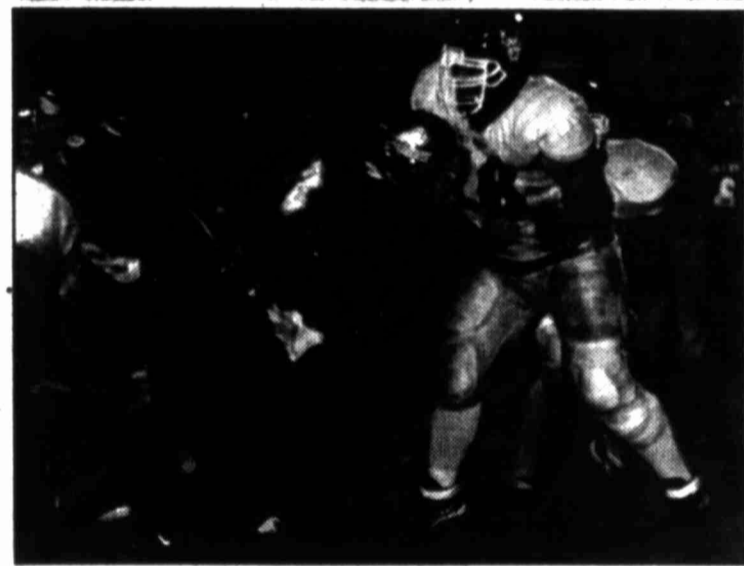

The Steers used their quick strike attack to burn the Herd defense again later in the first. Butler capped a 3-play, 67-yard drive with an 11-yard scoring toss to Mike Ornelas. Ronnie Johnson set up Ornelas' first TD reception of the year earlier in the drive by hauling in a clutch 32-yard pass play on first down. Hereford was

Stanton upends unbeaten Devils, 29-12

By BRANDON HALLFORD

Special to the Herald

STANTON — The Stanton Buffaloes gave the large crowd at Buffalo Stadium plenty to cheer about Friday night as they treated the SHS faithful a 29-12 homecoming victory over the Rankin Red Devils.

With the win, Stanton notched its first victory of the 2002 season and gave new head coach Larry Tate his first win at the school.

Stanton, which had been held scoreless in reach of its first two games, wasted little time in getting its game plan hitting on all cylinders. The Buffalo defense forced the Devils into making the first mistake of the evening by applying a heavy rush that prompted Rankin punter Tyler McSpadden to mishandle a snap on a punt attempt in the RHS end zone. Tullie Louder and Zeke Bryand tackled McSpadden in the end zone and handed Stanton a 2-0 lead with only a minute having expired.

Rankin, which had entered the game with a perfect 2-0 record, managed to answer the Buffs' challenge.

After a Stanton fumble at the Rankin 44, the Devils' brother tandem of Shane and Brad Morgan engineered an RHS drive that put the Rankin on the board at the 8:10 mark of the second quarter. The big play on the Devils' drive came on a 34-yard romp to the Stanton 2 by Shane Morgan. Brad Morgan capped the effort one play later with a 2-yard dive into the end zone.

Morgan's touchdown run put Rankin on top, 6-2. The Stanton defense, which has allowed just 57 points in its first three games, proved to be the match of Rankin's. The Buffs recovered a Red Devil fumble at the 16-yard line and set up the team's second scoring effort of the year.

The Buffs turned the miscue into a 14-yard pass play from quarterback Victor Hernandez to Tanner Riley. Riley's reception set Stanton up with first-and-goal from the RHS 2. After a 4-yard loss on first down, the Buffaloes hit paydirt when Hernandez found Zeke Bryand in the end zone for a

Hawks rain on Coahoma High homecoming with 33-0 victory

By ROGER CLINE

Coach Robert Wood had plenty of excuses to choose from, but the Coahoma Bulldogs' head football coach declined.

Wood could have blamed it on the rain, saying the more-than-an-hour delay during the second quarter cooled off his red-clad squad. He could have said that thoughts of the impending homecoming dance distracted his players.

He could even have even chalked up the 33-0 drubbing by the Wall Hawks as Friday the 13th bad luck.

The coach did none of the above, playing it straight instead.

"There's no excuse to the way we're playing right now," he said. "We've got some kids back that played on a good team last year. They know what level to play at and we're not doing it. There's no excuse. Wall just took it to us. They played with more intensity and they wanted it more and they just ran over our tail."

Wood pointed out two major flaws in his team's play.

"We had some kids out there that should have been able to block, and we didn't tackle very well tonight," he said. "Blocking and tackling, that's the two basic things you need to do to play this game."

Wood would also like to see more desire in his players.

"You've got to turn up your motor and go play. I don't think we're playing with enough intensity," he said. "We tried to stress that this week and somewhere we failed to do that as coaches. So I think as coaches we're going to try to re-evaluate some things. We may move some people around, we may do some things, but we are going to find some intensity somewhere."

Wood took a bit of the blame himself.

"I'm not disappointed in the kids as much... we're just didn't play as good as we can and we're not making a good showing and that's my fault," he said. "If the kids will stay together, we'll hold together and maybe we can fix this thing."

Big Spring harriers win third straight meet

By TOMMY WELLS

The Big Spring Steers nailed down their third cross country meet crown in as many weeks Saturday morning by running to the PrimAmerica championship in Lubbock.

The Steers edged out Odessa High and fourth-ranked Hereford for the team title.

"It's great for the kids to win," said Big Spring coach Randy Britton. "It's important that we ran well on the same course we will be running on at regional."

The Steers had five runners, including Daniel Garza, Mike Flores, Andy Arguello, Andy Cuellar and Tony Arguello, finish in the top 12 places. Garza placed fifth, while Flores, Andy Arguello and Cuellar took sixth, 10th and 11th, respectively. Tony Arguello was 12th overall.

Jacob Marquez, David Garza, Martin DeLoSantos and Rocky Torres also finished well, as did the Lady Steers' Eva Tobar and Tasha Rios.

Tobar was 15th overall despite not arriving home until after 3 a.m. from the Hereford-Big Spring football matchup.

By TOMMY WELLS

Sports Editor

The Big Spring Lady Steers snapped their recent 4-game losing streak in grand fashion Saturday afternoon by rolling past Monahans in front of a small crowd in the Big Spring Steer gymnasium.

The Lady Steers, now 10-9 for the season, swept both games from Monahans, winning 18-16, 15-7.

Big Spring, behind solid play from LeKenya Wrightsil, Sterling Burchett and Lindsay Phillips, survived a scare from the MHS girls in the opener. The Lady Steers fought off a strong charge to win by two.

Wrightsil and Co. made easier work of Monahans in the second game, using a fast-paced attacking offense to claim an 8-point victory.

Big Spring, which had dropped four straight games dating back to the Seminole Tournament heading into Saturday's game, will close out its non-district slate next week with bouts against Wink, beginning Tuesday, and Lubbock Cooper.

Robert Lee deals GC its second loss of year

Staff report
The Robert Lee Steers scored twice in the first 12 minutes and never looked back Friday night en route to handing the Garden City Bearkats a 26-6 loss in front of a large crowd at Bearkat Stadium.
The loss was Garden City's second in a row since opening the 2002 year with a thrilling 7-6 win over Sterling City. Robert Lee improved to 2-1.
The Steers, despite an outstanding offensive performance from Brian Hillger and Drew Plagens, drew first blood in the non-district showdown, Robert Lee's Anson Lott scored on a 72-yard scamper just two minutes into the game to stake the Steers to a 6-0 cushion.
Robert Lee added to its lead less than five minutes later when Stewart Millican broke free on a 25-yard scoring jaunt, giving the Steers a 14-0 lead heading into the half.
Neither team managed to score in the second quarter.

Sands, Klondike suffer tough losses

Staff report
Two of the Crossroads' four six-man football teams took it on the chin Friday night. Sands and Klondike both suffered tough losses at the hands of Sanderson and Buena Vista, respectively.
Sanderson handed Sands its first setback of the year by claiming a 50-40 victory in a game featuring two nationally ranked teams.
Sanderson, 2-0, rushed out to a 14-0 lead at the end of the first quarter and then held on to down the Mustangs, who had entered the contest rated No. 2 nationally.

Garden City, which rolled up more than 250 yards on offense, answered back in the second. Brian Hillger capped a Bearkat drive with a 1-yard run at the 8:04 mark of the second period.
Hillger finished the contest as the Bearkats' second-leading rusher, gaining 63 yards on 25 carries. Drew Plagens lead all GCHS backs with 125 yards on 21 tries.
Robert Lee stretched its lead to 20-6 midway through the third on a 6-yard run by Millican, who closed out the night as the game's top rusher. He chewed up 185 yards and three touchdowns on 16 attempts.
Lott amassed 86 yards on 12 carries.
Millican picked up his third touchdown of the evening late in the fourth quarter when he snapped off a 90-yard run.
Garden City quarterback Donato Gonzales was perfect in the game, completing his only passing attempt to Daniel Martinez for 20 yards.

Tunnell leads Wildcats' past Wellman

By BRANDON HALLFORD
Special to the Herald
LENORAH — If the Grady Wildcats keep living on the edge, head coach Carl Krug may want to go and invest in Pepto-Bismol stock.

Grady, after a lengthy weather delay, withstood a furious second half comeback attempt by the Wellman-Union Wildcats to claim a 34-28 at a rain-soaked M.W. Tunnell field Friday night.

The game was delayed for more than an hour and a half due to strong thunderstorms and lightning that prompted superintendents from both schools to delay the game for safety reasons.

Wellman started the game off with a bang. Felipe Escobedo took the opening kickoff at his own 35 and did not stop until he reached the Grady end zone — just 11 seconds into the game.

Grady was unfazed, however. The Wildcats answered right back, taking their first possession and marching 57 yards to the Wellman-Union 3. The drive fizzled out, however. A turnover seconds later enabled Wellman to maintain its advantage.

Grady wouldn't be denied on its second series. The Wildcats engineered a 65-yard march that culminated in a 1-yard plunge by running back Eric Tunnell. The ensuing conversion kick failed, leaving Wellman with a slim 8-6 cushion.

The Wildcats defense again came up big on Wellman's next possession, forcing them to punt the ball after just three plays. After a 34-yard punt, Grady wasted little time getting back on the scoreboard.

Grady took the lead early in the second, scoring in just three plays, with the big strike being a 52-yard touchdown run by Tunnell. Tunnell's second touchdown gave Grady a 12-8 lead with just over eight minutes left in the half.

Grady's defense continued to be stingy. The Wildcats held Wellman to just three plays and a punt en route to setting up another Grady touchdown.

Following the punt, Grady needed just two plays — and only 20 seconds — before punching the ball in. The big plays on the drive were a 14 yard pass to number Andrew Villa and a 38-yard scoring toss to T.Springer.

Wellman got untracked on their next possession. Following a 9-yard kickoff return of the kickoff by Ryan Nutt, Wellman methodically marched the ball 61 yards in seven plays, scoring with 3:05 left in the half to pull to within 20-14.

Grady continued the first half track meet on its ensuing possession. The Wildcats took the ball 50 yards in five plays, with the final 29 yards being covered on a pass from Tunnell to Villa.

"The big thing for us was getting points early," Krug said.

Grady looked like it was going to take up where it had left off in the first half, when, on the first possession of the second half the Wildcats took the ball on their own 32 and was in the process of driving the ball down the field. The Wildcats were moving at will until Wellman forced a

Grady took advantage of a Wellman fumble midway through the third quarter to add to its lead. The big play of the drive came on a 15-yard pass from Tate from Tunnell.

Big Spring's Annie Ward highlighted the 2002 West Texas Senior Ladies Golf Classic by sinking a hole-in-one on the No. 9 hole Wednesday during play at the Canadian Golf Course in Wellman then decided to make things interesting. The Wildcats answered Grady's offensive effort with one of their own, taking the ball 65 yards in 10 plays for a score that cut the Wildcats' lead to 34-21.

Wellman took advantage of an injury to Tunnell late in the fourth quarter to throw a scare into the Wildcats. Wellman's Chris Gibson passed to Albert Castillo for a 5-yard scoring toss that pulled them to within 34-28 with 4:24 remaining.

Wellman wasn't through making noise. After forcing Grady to punt away on its ensuing series, Wellman threatened to steal the game by moving into scoring distance with less than three minutes to play.

The Grady defense arose to the occasion. Springer, on back-to-back plays, batted away passes in the final minute to preserve the win. Ben Hirth knocked down a third pass.

On the night, Grady racked up a total of 359 yards with 216 of it coming through the air. The Wildcats defense only gave up 249 yards total offense with 93 of it coming on the ground.

Grady is scheduled to return to action Friday in Imperial against the Buena Vista Longhorns.

Special to the Herald
The Forsan Buffalos ran into an angry juggernaut Friday night. In the end, the state-ranked Roscoe Plowboys were just too much.

Roscoe avenged last week's loss to Post by scoring a 48-14 win over the stubborn Buffs, who slipped to 1-2 on the year with the loss. Roscoe, ranked seventh in the latest Class A poll, is now 2-1.

Roscoe started the game off quickly. Plowboys return ace Cale Smith returned the opening kick off 72 yards, giving Roscoe a lead it would never relinquish just 14 seconds into the non-district showdown.

After Roscoe had added two more scores to up their lead to 20-0, Forsan finally got on the board.

Buffaloes' quarterback Josh Helmstetler got the Forsan offense in motion with 1:19 left in the first quarter. He hooked up with receiver David Lee on a 50-yard scoring pass.

Lee's touchdown reception cut Roscoe's lead to 14, at 20-6, at the start of the second period.

Forsan managed to outscore the Plowboys in the second quarter. Running back Wes Longorio highlighted a solid performance by scoring on a 16-yard pass from Helmstetler with 37 seconds remaining in the half.

Forsan trailed by only 26-14 at the half.

The second half belonged to Roscoe. The Plowboys, who rolled up a season-high 401 yards rushing, scored two touchdowns in the final 24 minutes on runs of 2 and 9 yards, respectively.

CHS
When referees called a halt to the action with 2:31 left to play in the second quarter, Coahoma was already behind 13-0 on two big-yardage Jaron Haney (40) plays: A 34-yard TD run and a 72-yard blast on a punt return.

When the rain quit an hour and 20 minutes later, the teams waited a bit longer for Coahoma to crown Homecoming Queen Jessie Bennett before getting back to the action.

And that action was all Wall.

Haney struck again from one yard out halfway through the third quarter, and Jason Fuessel (32) broke loose from the pack with an 80-yard sprint with six seconds to play in the period.

Fuessel found paydirt again from three yards out after a 49-yard setup run by Josh Kaczyk (10) at the eight-minute mark in the final quarter. The Jason Rasberry (11) kick changed the scoreboard the final time.

Statistically, the Hawks were dominant in every important way. They had 15 first downs to the 'Dogs' 4. They amassed 337 rushing and 19 passing yards to Coahoma's 50 and 4. Coahoma passed 12 times, but only completed two of those throws, one for a six-yard loss. Wall only struck on one of four passes for an impressive (19 yards) gain.

Next week, Coahoma goes on the road to face the Ozona Lions.

The Roscoe defense also scored in the half, returning a fumble 22 yards for a touchdown.

On the night, the Buffs offense gained 255 yards total offense, 198 of it coming off the arm of Helmstetler. Lee was the leading receiver, gaining 112 yards on just four catches.

Helmstetler lead the rushing attack, gaining 21 yards on 12 carries. He was aided by 14 yards from Longorio and 12 yards from Billy Acosta.

Forsan returns to action Friday night. They are scheduled to travel to Sonora for a 7:30 p.m. bout with the Bronchos.

STEERS

also flagged for an unsports-manlike conduct call in the series.

Butler finished the game with a season-high 320 yards. He completed 11-of-23 attempts with no interceptions.

The news didn't get any better for the Whitefaces in the second. Big Spring scored on its first two possessions of the frame and stretched its lead to a commanding 28-0 cushion.

The Steers, who held the ball just six minutes in the first two quarters of play, inflated their lead to 21-0 midway through the second period on a 3-yard run by plays before running back Jorge Gonzales bounced around the left end for 14 yards and a touchdown.

Hereford's PAT try failed, leaving Big Spring clinging to a 28-6 lead with 7:48 left.

Big Spring defensive back Wesley Smith set up the Steers' final touchdown of the evening in the waning minutes of the third quarter. The junior intercepted a Berryman pass at the BSHS 32 with 1:37 left in the quarter.

Woodruff made sure the opportunity wasn't wasted.
On second down from their Steer 23, he took a short pass on the left wing from Butler, danced around two defenders and raced 75 yards to the HHS 1-yard line. Mathews finished off the effort moments later with a 1-yard dive.

Woodruff finished the game with 103 yards receiving on just two catches.
Mendoza led all BSHS receivers with 146 yard on four catches.

Cobb, who converted 3-of-4 PAT attempts, added the extra point, staking Big Spring to a 35-6 lead heading into the final 12 minutes of play.

Hereford, which attempted 38 of the 61 passes thrown in the game, didn't go down quietly. The Whiteface special teams, sparked a 14-point outburst
in the final nine minutes with a stellar effort.

After the Whiteface

defense had held Big Spring on a 4th-and-4 play near midfield, Carr fielded an Ornelas punt at his own 24 and raced 76 yards in the other direction for a touchdown.

Carr's return cut the Steers' lead to 35-12 with 8:47 remaining.

Less than two minutes later, the Hereford offense hit stride. The Whitefaces, starting from their own 7, drove 59 yards to the Steer 34 in five plays before

Berryman found Carr on the opposite end of a 34-yard scoring toss, Berryman passed to Preston Sapp for the 2-point conversion and cut the Big Spring's lead to 15, at 35-20.

The Whitefaces threatened again late in the final frame, driving to the Steer 24 before Mendoza thwarted the HHS effort. Mendoza picked off a Berryman pass in the corner of the end zone with 1:46 left to seal the Steers' victory.

Butler, who threw for 228 yards in the first 24 minutes of the non-district affair, carried the drive. He completed passes of 30 and 36 yards to Curtis Woodruff and Mendoza, respectively, in the series.

Hereford's offense wasn't as lucky on their second drive of the quarter. Dustyn rush inside from David Lopez, Jeremy Hones and Jarod Boyd, sacked

Berryman for a 6-yard loss on a key 3rd-and-10 play near midfield. The sack forced the Herd into a punt-

The Steers vexed the Whiteface defense again from there. Big Spring, after Hereford's Russell Carr had punted the ball away, scored on its fourth straight possession and ballooned its

This month, we honor the heritage of a culture rich with tradition, spirit and unity.

“Hispanic Heritage Month recognizes the accomplishments of those who came before us. It's an opportunity to remember where I come from, in terms of a cultural perspective. This month is a celebration that encourages people to place more value on learning about different cultures. It encourages positive exploration — to find out more about each other. Learning adds value to one's character and knowledge enhances aspirations.”

Juan Alonso
Vice President of Operations/Pantry Foods
has been with H-E-B for 5 years.

“I come from a truly diverse family.
We enjoy and value each other because we have learned and accepted each person's similarities and differences. Acceptance is about understanding someone who's different from you. I know from personal experience how recognizing diversity can work to everyone's benefit. You learn to value people for what really counts.”

Jo Helen O'Gilbert
Service Manager/Houston Region has been with H-E-B for almost 13 years.

“Hispanic Heritage Month creates awareness and appreciation of what Hispanics have contributed to the United States. It also gives people an opportunity to learn more about the Hispanic culture.
If I could tell people one important thing about this culture, it would be how family oriented it is and supportive of building relationships with all people. We should all share our unique experiences and histories to gain awareness and understanding of one another.
It's important. Without it, it's difficult to relate to people different from you. It's like being in a foreign country without knowing the language — you can miss out on a lot!”

Rocio Rojas Lozano
Store Director/South Texas Region
has been with H-E-B for 6 years.

Hispanic Heritage Month

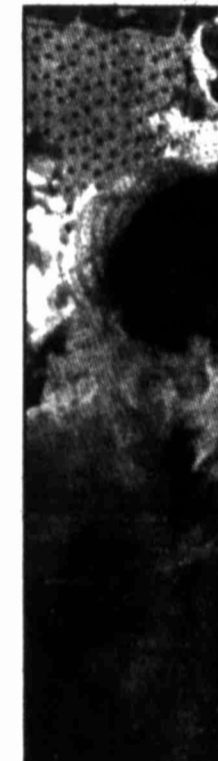

Hispanic Heritage Month was created to build awareness of the Hispanic presence in the United States. No account of this nation's past — or understanding of what we are today — can be complete without acknowledging the important contributions of Hispanics. At H-E-B, we believe in Diversity — and that each and every person counts. We are committed to providing an environment where we respect and value the individuality of each and every person we come in contact with. We invite you to learn more about Hispanic culture and history this month — and every month of the year.

High Tea

Pre-k teacher uses tea party to reacquaint former students

St. Mary's Episcopal School's pre-kindergarten teacher, Theda Brooks treats her former lady students to an elegant tea party every year.

The high end affair is formal and features hors d'oeuvre and tea served in fine china while invited guests dine by candlelight at tables appointed with crystal and draped in lace tablecloths.

The young ladies attend the tea dressed in their most elegant finery usually in a Victorian flavor including hats, gloves, boas and sculptured coiffures.

Every year the educator throws a tea party to get acquainted with the girls in her last year's class.

Brooks spends at least two days decorating her room in a Victorian style theme.

White lace table cloths with a pink underlay covers the school room tables and candles illuminate the room and create an elegant ambiance.

For such a special event, Brooks breaks out her mother's china.

The first order of business when the young ladies arrive is learning tea party manners and how to hold the china correctly.

Then the group is ready for the extraordinary tea.

A specially prepared recipe which includes a little tea mixed into a lot of strawberry soda is prepared and served.

For her boys, Brooks throws a pizza party because, she said, they appreciate that a little bit more.

Some first experiences are hotter than others, even chili

Several years back, while working as a "country radio personality" on KHEM radio, I had the extreme pleasure of meeting and working with Bob Lewis, alias "Tumbleweed Smith."

AL SCOTT

Now this was long before Tumbleweed had started his now famous and very popular radio show, "Sound of Texas," and before he started writing all those Big Spring columns and his syndicated columns that are now famous that bear his name.

Bob had joined KHEM as a local news radio reporter. He was absolutely great, with his deep, mellow pleasant radio voice. (I had always admired these deep voice announcer types, because mine was a California nasal quality likened only to Don Knotts or Eddy Bracken.)

Only problem with Tumbleweed, was that he was prone to breaking up while on the air.

I think he has never forgiven me for playing a sound effect of a squealing pig, that I inserted one morning during an 8 o'clock newscast.

Quite an introduction! However Bob started to snort and giggle... just got up, short of rolling on the floor, exited laughing out of the control booth, which left me with several seconds of dead air. I quickly grabbed a 45 rpm disk with Johnny Cash singing "A Boy Named Sue," which of course did not help the situation at all.

So, it was during this period of early 1970 Tumbleweed grabbed me by the arm and stated that we were going with him to a Chili Cookoff at Terlingua.

I asked, "Bob, where is Terlingua and what the heck is a Chili Cookoff?"

I found out. It was a five hour drive and we wound up at Alpine to visit one of Tumbleweed's friends, Mr. H. Allen Smith.

A New York Humorist and another column writer. What an honor for me, because I was in the company of one of the greatest humorist of all time.

H. Allen Smith, who was a veteran chili cook, along with Frank X. Tolbert, who initiated the famous, now historical event.

He told us that his chili was not hot, but essentially a "warm" chili. And of course we listened to several of H. Allen's side splitting stories.

One was about some character friend of his who got himself drunk on beer and fell into a bed of hot barbecue coals.

Well the result of all this was at Al Scott became a novice chili cook.

Took me some ten years to learn how to cook up the famous "State Food of Texas."

I finally learned how and today I am fairly well qualified to enter a bunch of our local cooking events, and to compete with former Mayor Maxwell ("No Tax" Max) Green. I have won a trophy or two and a bunch of "Showmanship" awards. My M.O. was to dress up in my Marine Dress Blue uniform and display some of my secret ingredients such as "Big Spring Tap Water," "Fire Ant Blood" and a powder labeled "Preparation H."

But the most fun was competing with former Mayor Max Green, whom I have always maintained in my argument that "bookkeepers can't cook chili."

At our last Cookoff this January 2002, Mayor Max was conspicuous by his absence at our annual HOG Cookoff.

BSSH employee stars in Midland production

Herald Staff Report

Big Spring State Hospital Activity Therapies Department Assistant Director Jaime Sotelo will be one of four actors presenting "My Way" opening Friday at the Midland Community Theater.

Midland Community Theater is one of the first community theaters in the nation producing this cabaret-style revue.

The cast includes Sotelo, Rob Montgomery, Cyndie Sledge and Amy Stoker.

All four actors play themselves and interpret 50-plus songs made popular by Frank Sinatra.

"We actually play ourselves and talk about Frank Sinatra while reminiscing about the music we enjoy," Sotelo said. "I've always enjoyed his music and did some of his songs in college during my recitals."

Several medleys and many solos are performed during the show, which was conceived by David Grapes and Todd Olson, who also wrote the book.

Many of the medleys center around a theme, such as a loser's medley and a survivor's medley.

"This is a really fun one because I get to do a lot of signing," Sotelo said. "I would say it's about 85 percent singing."

Sotelo has performed in many theatrical productions with the Midland Community Theater.

The show opens Sept. 13 and runs through Sept. 28. For additional information and ticket prices, call the Midland Community Theater box office at (915) 682-4111.

Ex-girlfriend not sure who she wants as friend

Dear Prudence: I am friends with an ex, and we talk fairly frequently on the phone and see each other once in a while. He often hints that he still cares for me and if given the chance, he would make things right between us. I'm also a friend of his current girlfriend, and we see each other at least twice a week over lunch or golf.

DEAR PRUDENCE

I am fine with this arrangement, until I see them together. Then I get extremely jealous and anxious, and subsequently sad, because I begin to question my choices. My friendships with the two of them are ones I would like to keep for a long time, but what would you suggest I do to get over this jealousy? This has been going on for almost two years now. — Getting Over It

Dear Get: How interesting; it is hard for Prudence to discern whose friendship you value more — his or hers. The jealousy you speak of can have two sources: a genuine desire for him, or not wanting anyone else to have him. Perhaps a session or two with a psychologist might help you pinpoint exactly what it is that you are feeling.

Prudie will tell you this, however: Unless you three are most unusual, if you do patch it up with your ex, forget about golf and lunch with the other lady. — Prudie, realistically

Dear Prudence: I recently started to read your column, and you seem to hand out some pretty good advice, so here goes with my "problem." I'm hoping to start up an advice column in my college newspaper, but a close friend (who is senior editor) brought up some good questions, and I was wondering how you would respond.

What do you do when someone writes in about their underage drinking, drug use and the like, all of which are rather illegal on campus and can easily result in expulsion? Besides referring them to the appropriate resources if they wish to seek help, would I be considered an "accomplice" should the person get caught, since I knew about it and did nothing? Granted, an anonymous signature would provide for some protection, but still. — Budding Columnist

Dear Bud: First, because you want to be a journo, a little tip about precision: You say that underage drinking and drugging are "rather illegal." That, my dear, is like the old joke about being "a little bit pregnant." What you refer to is, simply, illegal. And happily for you, advice columnists are not accessories before or after the fact for anything people write in about — unless it's an outright threat.

Should you go ahead with the plans for your column, rest easy that you shall not be dragged off to the hoosegow because "David in Dunster House" overdid it with the Heinekens. — Prudie, journalistically

Dear Prudence is written by Margo Howard, Ann Landers' daughter. Letters must be sent via e-mail to dearprudence@creators.com. Due to a high volume of e-mail, not all letters will be answered.

Police department fingerprints, videotapes 84 children at Schlotzky's Deli in Big Spring

Business and law enforcement working together

By ROGER CLINE

Staff Writer

The Big Spring Police fingerprinted dozens of juveniles Saturday, but these youngsters weren't in trouble with the law.

Their parents were taking advantage of Kid's Safety Day from 3 to 5 p.m. at Schlotzky's Deli, and the police were fingerprinting and videotaping them to have those records on hand should the children fall victim to abduction.

Big Spring Police ID Technician Wayne Jones said the safety fingerprinting and videotaping works well in conjunction with the newly-formed statewide Amber Alert system.

"The Child Safety Program has been in effect since 1992," Jones said. "Rick Gonzales here at Schlotzky's called me and said he would like to do this program here today, so we just brought everybody out. Of course with the child that got abducted here in Abilene, with the Amber Alert, they found that child within hours instead of days."

Blackshear said she decided protect them against predators by preserving identifying information about them "just in case."

Gonzales, Schlotzky's manager, said recent kidnappings in West Texas gave him the idea to hold the Kid Safety Day at Schlotzky's.

"With everything going on today, with society the way it is today, with kids disappearing close to home, we thought it would be good for our community and for the local towns around us, Coahoma, Forsan, to come out and get this done for their kids," Gonzales said.

Turnout has been great, he said.

"I think we've had about 50 or 60 out here today," he said around 4 p.m., halfway through the two-hour event.

Melinda Reyes, mother of Michael, 3, and Megan, 2, said she felt it was important to take the extra step to protect her children by having them fingerprinted and videoed.

"I just thought it was real important with everything going on right now, with all the other kids disappearing," she said. "I'd hate for something to happen, but if it did... I'm just glad they did this. I appreciate it."

Ramona Blackshear of Big Spring said she saw the Big Spring fire engine in front of Schlotzky's and decided to get Aaron, 3, and Caitlyn, 20 months, printed and videoed.

"We wanted to do it just in case something happened," she said. "You never know. You really never know."

An engine and crew from the Big Spring Fire Department were on scene, as were McGruff the Crime Dog and members of the Big Spring Citizens' Police Academy.

Rich Texans

Wal-Mart heir, computer magnate top the wealthy list compiled by Forbes

The Associated Press

A Wal-Mart Stores Inc. heir and a computer magnate top the list of wealthy Texans compiled by Forbes magazine.

In all, 37 Texans made Forbes' annual list of the 400 richest Americans. Many inherited their fortunes. Others made them in oil, real estate, technology and other industries.

Alice L. Walton, the 53-year-old daughter of Wal-Mart founder Sam Walton, has a net worth of $18.8 billion, putting her eighth on the Forbes list, in a virtual tie with her mother and three brothers. She lives in the Fort Worth area.

Michael Dell, who started Dell Computer Corp. while a student at the University of Texas and still lives in Austin, is worth $11.2 billion, ranking 11th in the country, the magazine said.

Former presidential candidate H. Ross Perot ranked 45th, with $3.7 billion. The Dallas resident founded Electronic Data Systems Corp., sold it to General Motors Corp. for $2.5 billion, then started Perot Systems Corp., another computer-services business.

Richard Rainwater of Fort Worth, former movie adviser to the Bass family, ranked 92nd with $1.9 billion from real estate, energy and insurance investments.

Several Bass family members also made the top 400, thanks to the oil business.

San Antonio grocery tycoon Charles C. Butt rounded out the Forbes top 100 with $1.8 billion.

Several owners of Texas professional sports franchises were among the top 400, led by Internet entrepreneur and Dallas Mavericks owner Mark Cuban, who ranked 149th with $1.3 billion.

San Antonio's Billy Joe "Red" McCombs, who made his money in the car and radio businesses and now owns the Minnesota Vikings, ranked 185th with $1.1 billion.

Last week, the expansion Houston Texans upset the Dallas Cowboys in both football teams' season opener. Now it seems Texans owner Robert McNair also has more money than Cowboys head man Jerry Jones, $1.3 billion to $875 million, according to Forbes.

Thomas O. Hicks, owner of the Texas Rangers baseball team and Dallas Stars hockey club — although the Stars are up for sale — checked in at $725 million.

PUC files settlement in overscheduling case

AUSTIN (AP) — Several companies will have to return money to the state electric grid because they received too much when they scheduled the delivery of electricity last fall, under an agreement reached between the PUC staff and the companies.

The Electric Reliability Council of Texas, which operates the grid, will then reallocate the money to other companies that received too little or paid too much.

The agreement, filed Friday, was reached by the Public Utility Commission staff, the companies and other market participants.

The PUC had been investigating six companies for allegedly overestimating energy demand in August 2001, causing price spikes in the wholesale electric market. The companies received overpayments of about $29 million, the PUC had alleged.

The companies involved in the settlement include American Electric Power Co., Mirant Corp., Reliant Energy Inc. and TXU Corp. The companies had maintained that they made honest mistakes.

The settlement says that the scheduling issues were largely the result of "market startup programs and no determination has been made by the commission that the ERCOT protocols or the substantive rules had been violated."

A deregulation pilot program began last summer. Deregulation began for most of the state in January.

"We are pleased with the settlement," said AEP spokesman Larry Jones. "We think it fairly represents what actually happened — that the errors were largely the result of market startup problems — not any type of market manipulations as has been earlier stated."

Under the settlement, AEP will pay $3.18 million; Mirant will pay $2.85 million; Reliant will pay $2.82 million; and TXU Electric will pay $1.6 million.

The companies have 15 days to respond. The PUC is expected to discuss the settlement at its Oct. 10 meeting.

Another company, Enron Power Marketing Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Enron, also was under investigation, but was not part of the settlement negotiations. The PUC has moved to fine Enron Power Marketing Inc. $7 million.

The other company under investigation, Constellation Power Source, was found to have a negligible impact on the market, said PUC spokesman Terry Hadley.
