Hearing set for teen accused of murder

By ROGER CLINE

Staff Writer

For the second time this week, a hearing Friday will determine whether a juvenile will stand trial for murder as an adult.

One of two teen suspects in the Aug. 5 slaying of 16year-old Lennon Lane of Big Spring will face Howard County Judge Ben Lockhart at about 10:30 a.m. Friday. Lockhart will determine whether he should be tried in the adult criminal system rather than the juvenile sys-

Mayors satisfied with 9-1-1 District explanations; miscommunications cited as cause of problem director and certified public accountant Heath Hughes were also present to answer questions.

Those questions centered around a $220,000 budget amendment approved by the board in January to allow the purchase of the district's new headquarters building, located at 610 S. Main in Big Spring.

The amendment more than doubled the district's budget — from $196,268

The mayors and Judge Lockhart all said their entities never received letters that Sullivan said he mailed out in January requesting the budget

Howard County 9-1-1 Communications District Director Tommy Sullivan, left, and members of the 9-1-1 District board of directors fielded questions from Coahoma Mayor Bill Read, Big Spring City Council Member Tommy Tune and Big Spring Mayor Russ McEwen about an amendment to the district's budget and the purchase of the district's new headquarters building at a special meeting Wednesday evening.

Board members could offer no explanation of why none of the letters were received other than a possible Post Office mistake.

"The one mistake we made was we didn't send them by certified mail," said Bogard.

The admission didn't curb the mayors' enthusiasm about the progress achieved in the meeting.

"I think it went excellent," said McEwen. "It was what government is all about and especially what local government is all about, which is a free exchange of ideas, and people

Parker. Hannifin, which currently employs 20 people and is housed in a 9,000 squarefoot facility, is looking for more room.

"They have told us they have a contract with John Deere to make controllers for hydraulic excavators, said Tim Blackshear, new board president for Moore Development.

For the past several months, Moore Development officials have worked with the company to meet its request for assistance in an expansion. Parker-Hannifin is located at the McMahon-Wrinkle Airpark in the building that formerly housed Avantech Corp., a company it purchased in October 1999. Also located in the building are the Texas Department Criminal Justice Wilderness Camp inmates. Board members have said that both Parker-Hannifin and the Wilderness Camp program are expanding and in need of more space.

Moore Development board members had earlier agreed to construct a 15,000 squarefoot building for Parker-Hannifin.

The company rejected the offer, stating a time factor problem, Kent Sharp, Moore Development executive director, said.

At Wednesday's meeting, board members agreed to offer the company help with

HC trustees take second Police blotter look at proposed plans

By LYNDEL MOODY

Howard College trustees will take a second look at proposed construction plans for a new auditorium building Friday.

"We've been working on the fine detail," Howard College President Dr. Cheryl Sparks said.

"The theater, art and music departments have had some meetings with (project architect) Phil (Furqueron) to expand the conceptual drawings."

Trustees will meet at 11:30 a.m. in the campus' Dora Roberts Student Union Building, 1001 Birdwell Lane

At the Aug. 26 board meeting, Furqueron presented eight rough-draft drawings to trustees emphasizing the administration's recommendation for option five.

This option centers on the creation of a flexible performance area and then adding amenities around it.

The new building will be approximately 24,285 square feet, larger than the existing structure under this option.

"In my opinion, no there is not," he said. "There's nothing else to pursue, because we look into things, and there's such a tendency on peoples' part to become defensive. Sullivan complimented the Big Spring City Council for bringing the problem into the open.

"I applaud Russ McEwen and the city council for asking the questions.," he said. "They're tough and hard questions, but we're trying to do our job the way we're supposed to and not hide anything. Communication was one of our downfalls. If you learn from your experiences, next time you'll do better."

Early in the meeting, McEwen inundated the board with questions about the amendment and the transaction to purchase the new headquarters building.

McEwen asked if the board was concerned that none of the local entities received the letter mailed by Sullivan and if there was any followup by Sullivan or the board to see whether any of the entities had received it.

The board said that they were concerned, but — due to the wording of the letter, "If you do not have a problem with this request, no response is necessary" they assumed the entities had received the letter and were satisfied with the proposal. They said there was no followup. In response to a question from McEwen, Sullivan said the letters were mailed by staff of the Sparenberg Building, the 9-1-1 District's previous headquarters. Sullivan said that the district closed on the new building prior to the deadline set for response by the entites because the seller said another buyer was interested and the district had to act or lose the opportunity to obtain the building. McEwen asked about John White Construction, a company hired by the 9-1-1 district to renovate the new location. Hernandez provided information about White, including a copy of his dri-best for the citizens of ver's license, and said he had been operating in the construction business about five years.

McEwen asked why a request for information including purchase invoices for equipment and renovations at the new building was not honored. Sullivan said he had only received word from a 9-1-1 attorney in Austin late Wednesday night that it was OK to release the information.

Patton's body was discovered in a field off Rock House Road July 30. Preliminary results of an autopsy ordered by Justice of the Peace Marilyn Carson indicate that the cause of death is asphyxiation by strangulation.

"I believe my past experience working with different cultures has prepared me for my position with SWCID," Fahnbulleh said through interpreter Laura Garcia.

Fahnbulleh's Jennifer was one of the first students to graduate from SWCID, he said. While she is currently in Bermuda working and living, plans are for the couple to reunite at SWCID.

"I believe Dr. Sparks actually talks more highly of my wife than of me," he joked. His outstanding sense of humor is obvious in all Fahnbulleh's dealings with students. He said he is often teased about pursuing a career as a stand-up comic.

"When my wife is angry with me, I can make jokes and get her laughing, which she does not always like, but she usually comes around," he said.

OUR VIEWS

Let's pause on Friday for POW-MIA Day

riday will be POW-MIA Recognition Day and local observances will include a brief ceremony set for 7 p.m. at Big Spring's Vietnam Memorial — a chance to remember those who should never be forgotten.

Members of the Vietnam Memorial Committee conduct a ceremony at the memorial on Sept. 20 each year to recognize the major sacrifice POWs and MIAs made for our nation and the freedoms we enjoy as Americans. The general public is always encouraged to attend.

And this year the committee has extended a special invitation to all of the community's firefighters, law enforcement personnel and other emergency responders since plans have been made to include an observance for the victims of the Sept. 11, 2001, terrorist attacks in New York and Washington, D.C., as well as those victims of United Airlines Flight 93 that sacrificed themselves in thwarting the efforts of hijackers that

"We (members of the committee) feel that it's doubly important to not only remember our POWs and MIAs, but to honor those who lost their lives on Sept. 11 and to recognize the people who put their lives on the line for us here in Big Spring and Howard County every day," explained Jerry Groves the publicity chairman for the committee.

Those attending the Friday ceremony will have an opportunity to see results of the Vietnam Memorial Committee's latest efforts to install memorial granite bricks surrounding the monolith.

The committee is still taking orders for the bricks of pink Texas granite that can be inscribed with three lines of up to 14 letters per line. They are priced at $30 each and order forms are available at the Sparenberg Building downtown and at Athletic Supply in the Big Spring Mall.

We encourage everyone to take a few minutes out of their evening activities Friday and join us at the Vietnam Memorial.

Lest we forget.

A SMALL PRAYER

Your love, Lord, is available to us in unlimited quantities. Help us to gather all we can.

Ignoring United Nations pacts is routine

raq's decision to allow U.N. weapons inspectors back into the country proves one thing: Saddam Hussein understands how the United Nations really operates better than we do. The United Nations is all about promises. Most member countries sign declarations, covenants. protocols and treaties after endless debates filled with high-flown rhetoric and lavish commitments, then go about their business as usual, ignoring the very documents they've agreed to. That's why President Bush's careful enumeration of Iraq's failure to abide by previous U.N. Security Council resolutions fell on so many deaf ears at the United Nations. Only a handful of nations really mean what they say when they commit themselves to U.N. obligations.

From 1992-1996, I was a member of the United Nation's sub-commission on Human Rights, attending meetings each August in Geneva. I went into the position skeptical of the United Nations and came out a confirmed cynic. For weeks on end, I watched my fellow members condemn the United States and Israel for alleged human rights violations, while ignoring blatant human rights abuses in countries like China, Cuba, North Korea, Saudi Arabia, Syria and elsewhere.

Indeed the very document that governs U.N. jurisdiction in the human rights area, the U.N. International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, is a monument to the hypocrisy of member nations. The document commits signatories to allow for freedom of religious belief and practice, freedom of expression, freedom of association, freedom from discrimination on the basis of "race, color, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status." Both Iran and Iraq have signed the covenant, as have Egypt, North Korea, Sudan, Syria, and other paragons of political, religious and ethnic tolerance. tures mean absolutely nothing with respect to the intentions or practices of these nations.

But, of course, U.N. Security Council resolutions are supposed to be taken more seriously, carrying the ultimate weight and sanction of the body. The Security Council includes five permanent members, each of which may exercise veto power the United States, China, France, Russia and the United Kingdom — plus 10 rotating members, which at the moment includes Syria, an Iraqi ally.

As President Bush reminded the United Nations last week, Iraq has flouted every pertinent Security Council resolution since 1991, including the commitments it made to secure a cease-fire in the Gulf War. If the United Nations expects to be taken seriously, it must enforce those resolutions by whatever means necessary, including military action. Otherwise, as the president noted ruefully, the United Nations will become "irrelevant."

Hussein is betting that many, if not most, U.N. members don't care, even if they've formally agreed to the resolutions. In large part, the problem here is cultural. Western culture has at its core respect for the rule of law. Laws, contracts, treaties and formal agreements mean something in the West. The rule of law is the most fundamental principle on which democracy rests. When the United States votes for a formal U.N. resolution or signs a declaration, we expect to abide by every jot and tittle - which is why we haven't signed or ratified a number of U.N. documents that conflict or might interfere with U.S.

But that is hardly the case with many U.N. member nations, some of them despotic regimes for whom brute force is the only law they respect. So when Saddam Hussein promises to allow in inspectors, many U.N. members breathe a collective sigh of relief. Hussein's decision delays the inevitable. The United Nations can pretend it has real moral authority. Its members can pretend they hold one another accountable for obeying U.N. resolutions. And if and when the United States tries to enforce previous U.N. Security Council resolutions, we will be made to look like the bad guys.

grandmother were here, but since she isn't I'll say it for her.

On her 20th birthday my mom was already a mom and without going into a lot of detail, a single mom at that.

Being a single mom in a time when it was not acceptable was difficult to say the least, but with the support of her friends and eventually family she weathered that storm which was one of many to come.

I've often said that she is my hero because she had the courage to not only finish high school, but to fulfill her dream of being a nurse as well.

She encouraged me to attend college and eventually I would become a nurse and follow in her footsteps.

She and Dad raised three children and although we were not driving around in a Mercedes Benz or wearing the latest fashions, we were never hungry or ever found ourselves on anyone's doorstep asking for help. We all had what we needed and the security of knowing we had parents that cared.

When I was 10 or 11 she sat down and taught me about sex and reproduction with the aid of a World Book Encyclopedia. (Sorry I cried Mom.)

For this she and I are both grateful.

That was one surprise I could do without and she knew it.

Free screening to be held at Malone and Hogan Clinic

Specall to the Herald

Covenant Health System will hold regional Peripheral Vascular Disease (PVD) screenings in Big Spring, Monday, Sept. 23, at Covenant Malone and Hogan Clinic, 1501 West 11th Place. The PVD screenings will take place from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Covenant is holding the PVD screenings to promote the Legs for Life campaign, a public education and wellness program committed to improving the cardiovascular health of the community.

PVD is a common circulation problem in which the arteries that carry blood to the legs or arms become narrowed or clogged. PVD is sometimes also called "hardening of the arteries."

PVD affects eight million people in the U.S., including five percent of the over 50-age population. Of these eight million people affected with PVD, only one quarter

IN BRIEF Lady Steers sweep past Colorado City

By TOMMY WELLS

Sports Editor

Katy Abner and Brinnan Pierce did everything but drive the bus for the Big Spring Junior High School Lady Steers Monday night against the Colorado City Lady Wolves. They might have done that, too, if BSJHS head coach Terri Hopkins had let them.

Abner served up 10 points and Pierce added eight and two kills en route to leading Big Spring to a 15-12, 15-12 victory.

With the win, the BSJHS eighth grade "A" Lady Steers improved their record to 4-3.

The Lady Steers also picked up and Haley Adams.

"Haley and Brinnan did a fantastic job setting up the kills, and Katy and Amber played excellent back row defense," said Hopkins.

Odessa Permian's Jon McDowell has blossomed into a featured running back this season for the Panthers. After playing defensive back last season, he has rushed for more than 250 yards in Permian's first three games.

Permian running back making a name for himself after year's wait

ODESSA (AP) — Just mention the name, stand back and watch the faces illuminate. It's a rare occurrence, but every so often an athlete comes along who possesses that certain something that makes grown men as giddy as a schoolboy on a first date.

Jon McDowell seems to possess that certain something.

"Coaching 26 years, you get a pretty good idea what a player looks like and how he acts on the grass,' Permian High School football coach T.J. Mills said with a noticeable gleam in his eyes. "I've gotta say he's a player. I'm gonna go out on that limb and say that."

McDowell, Permian's new running back of the future, has been stamped with the label of greatness previously reserved for the John Williamses, Shawn Crows and JaQuay Wilburns of the past. Problem is, such expectations might be a little premature,

"He is an unproven commodity right now," Mills said. "He hasn't played at the varsity level to prove what he's capable of doing, except for one football game. I thought he played outstanding that night.'

Indeed. And the basis for all the giddiness and high hopes is directly linked to that November night at Ratliff Stadium last season.

McDowell, a cornerback most of the season, played only one game at running back in 2001, but he showed enough in that brief time to stir a wave of anticipation.

In the season finale against Odessa High, McDowell ran for 85 yards on 14 carries (a 6.1 average), showing a leaping, darting brand of athleticism not seen from a Permian running back since the days of James "Boobie" Miles.

Weekend's schedule

The following is a list of the area high school

Friday, Sept. 13 Plainview at Big Spring 7:30 p.m. Forsan at Sonora .7:30 p.m Stanton at Iraan. Coahoma at Ozona Balmorhea at Sands*7:30 p.m Grady vs, Buena Vista7:30 p.m. Garden City at Irion County . .7:30 p.m. Ira at Borden County 7:30 p.m Homecoming games

All of which begs the question: Where was he before then?

We went into spring ball last year with the idea that we had to find a tailback," Mills said. "We went in with Jon McDowell and Jayson Dorman, and at the same time we were filling other positions too. We came to the conclusion that Jayson Dorman was a little bit better than Jon at that point, and we knew it was a senior versus a junior. But we also thought Jon could play on the defensive side of the ball and make a dif-

To his credit, McDowell played the part of the good soldier, biding his time until the spotlight came to him.

"I knew I wouldn't get to play run-ning back because of Dorman, so I just went to cornerback so I could have a shot to play," said McDowell, who has rushed 52 times for 254 yards and three touchdowns through three games this season. "Then I finally got some action. I did the best that I could."

But while Dorman was busy leading District 4-5A in rushing, McDowell was busy dealing with a nagging back injury that kept him sidelined most of the season.

"He had a lower back injury that was one of those nagging deals that you could never put you're finger on exactly what it was," Mills said. "It was just a lower back pain that did not allow him to run freely. He looked like an old man trying to run. So far he's had no problems. But he may walk in here in a minute hunched over like me. Let's hope

As the frustration mounted. McDowell began to show the intangibles that only add to the mounds of heightened expectations.

"It was very frustrating," he said. "I got fed up at one point, but I just had to push through it. I just wanted to forget it, but you have to keep fighting through it and working hard until you get your chance.'

Such determination showed the character that coaches love and the attitude that leads to greatness. So while his junior year slowly turned into a washout, McDowell took note of the future and began to transform

"Jon is such a motivated, hardworking kid that we'd have to lock the weight room or he'd be in there,' Mills said. "He'd be here in the mornings and he'd lift in the afternoons, then he'd try and go back in after practice to lift. We thought that was aggravating the injury actually, but he kept working, kept running and kept trying to practice. We probably should have locked him in box somewhere.

That work ethic has paid noticeable dividends. At 5-foot-10 and 181 pounds, McDowell is a sculpted specimen torn straight from some muscle mag. Yet the added bulk has only added to his speed, quickness and

Big Spring's Jane Jones remained in the hunt for the 2002 Senior Women's West Texas Amateur Championship crown Wednesday. She advanced to today's final round with an easy win yesterday on the Amarillo Country Club

Jones was the only Big Spring golfer to advance to Thursday's finals. She defeated Karli Dye of the Amarillo Country Club by a two and one margin in the Fifth Flight of second round.

Janelle Britton, who had won her first round match, just missed reaching the final round. She suffered a Seliger of Amarillo in second round action.

Sarah Lands and Bonnie Long weren't as fortunate as Jones and Britton. Both closed out their appearances at the 3-day event with losses. Lands suffered a 2 and 1 loss to Green Tree Country Club's Dede Plank in the Consolation round. Long took a 3 and 1 loss at the hands of Amarillo's

The Big Spring Junior High School eighth grade Lady Steers proved they are one of the top junior high volleyball squads in the area Saturday with a solid performance in the annual Spring Tournament. The Lady Steers advanced to the tournament finals before falling to Lamesa 15-6, 15-12.

Big Spring opened the tournament with vengeance. They breezed past the Sterling City Lady Eagles in the opener, claiming a 15-3, 15-0 victory.

Jacquelyn Hopkins powered the BSJHS floor show in the contest from her setter position.

In the second round, the Lady Steers rode the talents of Katy Abner and Amber Sides to a wild come-frombehind win over Monahans. Big Spring dropped the first game but rallied to win the

After suffering a 15-9 setback in the first game against Monahans, the Lady Steers hit stride. Big Spring tied the game at 1-1 by taking the second set by a 15-6 clip.

In the decisive third game, the Lady Steers, sparked by the play of setter Haley Adams, posted a 15-10 effort.

With the win, Big Spring earned a spot opposite Lamesa in the tournament championship Lamesa had advanced to the finals by virtue of back-toback wins over Andrews and Snyder.

Lamesa, despite six service points from Brenna Pherneton and three more apiece from Brinnan Pierce and Hopkins, downed the BSJHS squad in the finals, claiming a 15-6, 15-12 edge.

The loss didn't dampen the Big Spring effort, however. Head coach Terri Hopkins said the Lady Steers' overall effort was

Teen's indescretion upset parents

Dear Annie: I am a 16year-old girl, and my boyfriend, "Jon," is 17. We are both good students and have been dating for a year. We go out about three times a week. Usually we go to the ice cream store and then for a drive - most of the time to a parking lot. We've never had sex. He's not ready for that, and I'm not going to risk it. I know Jon respects me, and that's what matters.

Recently, we got some ice cream and then went to the mall's parking garage. We talked for a while and then started making out. I was essentially in his lap, and his hands were in my back pockets. Suddenly, my dad was next to Jon's truck yelling at me to get out. We explained what was going on, but both of my parents are convinced that Jon and I have been having sex.

I've tried to talk to my parents, but they won't listen. How can I get them to believe me? Sign me -Trustworthy and Exasperated

Dear Exasperated: You may be perfectly innocent, but it doesn't appear that way. It is easy for parents to think the worst, especially if they are convinced that most high school kids are having sex. Try talking to your parents again, and, if necessary, enlist the help of a family friend or close relative. It won't be easy, but don't give up. When your parents see how much you value their respect and trust, they may reconsider.

Dear Annie: This is for the woman whose husband and sons do not put the toilet seat down. My son had the same bad habit, but I finally came up with a solution that worked.

When he was young, he cherished his weekly allowance. I told him, every time he left the seat up, he would be fined a quarter. I kept track of his forgetfulness, and at the end of the week, his allowance came with a note indicating all the dates he left the seat up and the fines deducted. He

Passing game begins to catch on

Big Spring's Brandon Mendoza leads the BSHS receiving corps through three games, having caught 18 passes for 266 yards. Overall, the Steers have 54 catches for 614 yards.

By TOMMY WELLS

Sports Editor

Over the first two weeks of the season Big Spring head coach Dwight Butler had a lot of names for the new pass-oriented offense his staff was installing. Unfortunately, most of them might made a sailor blush.

A mere 132 total yards in the opener. Only 199 the following week. One would have been hard pressed to fault the Steers' head coach if he had gone running down the Gregg Street screaming "Where's the beef?"

Then came the Steers' effort against Hereford Friday night when the only thing that the scheme could be called was "impressive."

Big Spring utilized five different receivers in the first two quarters and rolled up more than 250 yards and four touchdowns. In that 24 minute span, the Steers almost matched their entire offensive output for the year.

"We're so much better than we were three weeks ago it isn't even funny," said Butler, who decided to implement the offense last year after visiting with officials at Southern Methodist University and two-time defending state champion

Ennis.

Most of the improvement, according to Butler, comes from the experience the players gain. The more they play in the offense, the more their confidence grows.

The numbers back Butler up. In the Steers' opener against Odessa, Big Spring quarterback Tye Butler endured a rough day, completing just nine passes. One week later, he hit on 16 of 22 attempts. Backup Wes Smith also completed three of his six tosses.

Then came Hereford. The Steers completed 11 of their 23 passes for a season-high 324 yards — 202 in the first half alone — and two TDs.

"The quarterbacks, receivers and linemen are becoming a little more used to it every day," he added. "We're not even close to where we want to be in a month, but we're getting better all the time." said Butler.

Plainview another solid test for Steers

By TOMMY WELLS

Sports Editor

Big Spring head coach Dwight Butler knows his team is facing two opponents this Friday night when they walk on the field at Memorial Stadium. The enemy is Plainview ... and themselves.

Coming off the Steers' impressive win over Hereford, Butler is quick to remind his players they have to regroup, refocus and remain hungry against a Plainview squad that is similar in many ways to Odessa Permian.

"They're big, strong and have a very fast tailback," said Butler. "They have some good athletes to go so we're going to have to guard against the idea that we're a good team now that we've won. We can't afford to become complacent."

Especially against Plainview — the Steers' fourth straight playoff-caliber opponent.

Big Spring, which has won two of the last three meetings between the schools, is scheduled to face Plainview beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The Bulldogs, who handed Big Spring a 27-14 setback last year, head into Friday night's showdown with a head of steam. Plainview upped its season record to 2-1 last week routing Canyon High School by a 30-10 clip.

Paced by quarterback Danny Garcia. Bulldogs the have started strong this season, scoring an average of 30 points a night over the first three weeks. Plainview opened the 2002 season with a 39-14 win over Borger. Their only loss came in Week 1, a 35-21 setback at the hands of Lubbock Coronado.

With Garcia pulling the trigger, the Bulldogs have averaged almost 300 yards a game this season.

Helping power the PHS attack is running back Taber Minner, a speedy junior that has rushed for over 200

"He's a very good back," said Butler "He's a lot like the kid (Jon McDowell) that Permian had. We're going to have to make sure we're in and make the tackle, defensive-

"We're going to have to get a lot of people to the ball and make sure we tackle," he added.

Plainview, like Odessa High and Odessa Permian will have a sizable advantage up front. The Bulldogs offensive line, which is led by Nathan Young, averaged roughly 250 pounds per man.

The Big Spring defensive line, on average, weighs in at about 220.

The Big Spring offense, Butler feels, can offset any advantage Plainview may have by controlling the ball and thereby keeping the BSHS defense off the field for extended periods of time.

"We know we need to make a few first downs and give our defense a break," he said/ "We're going to try and control the ball and, hopefully, not make them stay out there.'

Big Spring proved it had the tools to the right position move the ball against Hereford. The Steers, led by running back Josh Mathews and receivers Brandon Mendoza and Curtis Woodruff, reeled off three long scoring drives against a Whiteface defense that lead the team to the playoffs last year. In all, Big Spring rolled up 418 yards against the BS quarterback Tye Butler has hit stride as of late. In his last seven quarters, he has thrown for 493 yards and four touchdowns.

Mathews will play a key role in keeping the Plainview defensive secondary honest. Last week, he forced Hereford's linebackers to respect the Steers' rushing game — a fact that left the HHS secondary suspect to Big Spring's four-receiver set.

They're a good football team," said Butler. "but we feel like we can do some things against them that they haven't seen vet."

Big Spring owns a 2-1 advantage over Plainview in its last three meetings. Prior to suffering the loss to the Bulldogs last fall, Big Spring earned a 27-26 win in 2000 and recorded a 30-6 rout in 1967 under former BSHS and Coahoma head coach Spike Dykes.

Sands hoping to bounce back against Balmorhea

By TOMMY WELLS

Sports Editor

The Sands Mustangs tasted defeat for the first time this season. Their 50-40 loss to Sanderson isn't something they liked — or something they particularly want to experience again any time soon.

Especially this Friday while the school celebrates it 2002 homecoming activities.

The Mustangs will try and rebound from the loss Friday when they square off against another West Texas power, the Balmorhea Bears. The two teams are scheduled to kick-off at 7:30 p.m. in Ackerly.

Balmorhea, according to Sands head coach Larry Reid, won't be a pushover even though the team was hit hard by graduation last year. The Bears have won their first two games of the year easily, rolling up nearly 90 points in their first two out-

"They're fairly young overall," said Reid, but from everything I've heard, they're extremely quick. We're looking at a team that moves pretty well, uses the spread, and gets to the ball in a hurry."

Balmorhea is no stranger to the Mustangs. The two split a pair of decisions last season.

It's the Balmorhea speed that worries Reid the most. The team has the ability to spread the field and roll up large amounts of yardage on any given

"We're going to have to contain them when they get into the spread," said. "Anybody can go off and have a good day out of the spread if you don't get in the right positions and contain them. We're very and four touchdowns in just three games. aware of the capabilities.'

The Bears should pose a good test for a Sands defense that has starred this year. The Mustangs, who held state-ranked Sanderson to less than 200 yards rushing last Friday, have allowed opposing teams less than 115 yards rushing per game in 2002.

Linebackers Heath Webb and Brandon Woods spearhead the SHS defensive unit. Webb has almost 12 tackles a game this year. Woods, a junior, has racked up 7.3 stops a night.

Offensively, Sands is powered by the 1-2 punch of running back Nate Looney and quarterback Jeremy Renteria. Looney has rushed for 326 yards Webb has added to the SHS rushing attack, as well. The senior back has gained 165 yards and scored five times on just 16 attempts.

Renteria has been almost flawless in pulling the trigger on the Mustang offense. He has completed 38-of-62 attempts for 615 yards. He has not thrown an interception through the first 12 quarters of the season

Woods and Joe Louis Gonzales both continue to have breakout seasons as receivers. Woods has caught a team-high 11 passes for 222 yards and four scores. Gonzales has 10 catches for 145 yards and

The Bearkats, 1-2 overall, are scheduled to meet Irion County Friday in Mertzon. Kickoff is slated

Irion County could have come at a better time for Garden City. The Bearkats, hampered by an inconsistent offense, have lost their last two outings. including a 26-6 loss to Robert Lee Friday night. In their two losses, the Bearkats have scored just 19 points. The team has racked up 26 in its first three Bearkat head coach did see some signs of an offensive rebirth against Robert Lee. Garden City taxed the Steer defense for a season-high 188 vards Defensively, the Bearkats have looked strong against Class 1A teams. They held Sterling City to just six points in their season-opening win.

Offensively, Garden City is lead by Drew Plagens and Brian Hillger. Plagens rushed for 125 yards on 21 carries. Hillger contributed 63 yards on 25 car-

Irion County is coming off a 49-12 loss at the hands of No. 1-ranked Iraan. They have been outscored by more than 70 points this season.

Forsan Buffalo head coach Steve Park knows his team's schedule has been tough. In fact, my most standards, having the honors of playing a pair of perenial playoff powers in a span of three weeks wouldn't be seen as a positive.

That isn't the case with Forsan. Park is hoping his teams's non-distrct preparations will translate into district victories come time for the District 3-2A slate to get under way.

With that end in mind, Park feels his Buffs are ready for a showdown with yet another power — former district rival, Sonora.

Despite a deceiving 1-2 record. Sonora won't be a step down for Forsan. The Broncos head into Friday's showdown as a team with excellent size on the offensive and defensive lines, a quick running back, and a tradition of winning.

They're also coming off back-toback losses to Class 3A competition. Last week, Sonora dropped a 28-0 decision to Brady. Prior to that, they suffered a 25-22 setback at the hands

Quarterback Scottie Moore pulls the trigger on the SHS offense. He has thrown for more than 200 yards this year. His main target is speedy wideout Juan Rodriguez.

The Broncos' offensive line averaged more than 220 pounds.

Forsan, 1-2 on the year, enters the contest as one of the state's most underrated squads. Among the Buffs' first three opponents, two — Iraan and Roscoe - are currently ranked among the state's Top 10.

Forsan is coming off a tough

48-14 loss to Roscoe, the state's No. 7ranked squad in Class A. In that game, the Buffs managed just over 200 vards of total offense.

All was not as bad as it seemed, however. Quarterback Josh Helmstetler had a solid performance against the Plowboys, throwing for more than 100 yards.

Helmstetler's growing presence combined with a Buffalo running game that features two solid rushers could be trouble for a Sonora defense that has given up more than 200 yards a game this year. Tailback Wes Longorio and fullback Billy Acosta led the FHS ground game.

Longorio has rushed for 197 yards in his first three games.

The Buffs, who have been outscored by a 54-21 clip in the fourth quarter this season, also may have an added incentive when they take to the field. Forsan lost its last encounter with Sonora by a 9-6 margin on a last-second field goal.

Forsan JV, junior highs to host Sonora today

The Forsan Buffalo junior varsity and junior high squad are scheduled to face Sonora this afteroon at the FHS stadium.

The FJHS Buffs will begin play at 5 p.m. The junior varsity Buffaloes will face Sonora beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Kemper, Bulldogs hoping to avoid 0-4 start against Ozona

By TOMMY WELLS

Sports Editor

Coahoma head coach Robert Wood knows two things about his team's showdown with Ozona Friday night. First, a win over the unbeaten Lions would validate the hard work his team has put in over the past five weeks. And secondly, a loss means absolutely nothing to a team trying to work out its growing pains during a brutal non-district schedule.

"Remember 5-5 isn't a great record unless you win the last five." the Bulldogs' thirdyear head coach said earlier this year. "We've just got to keep our heads up and keep working to get better."

The Bulldogs work this weekend begins at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Ozona as they try and snap a 3-game slide with a revamped look.

Wood, following Coahoma's 33-0 loss to Wall last week, said he would juggle his lineup this week in an effort to kick-start a CHS offense that managed just four first downs and a grand total of minus-6 yards passing in the first three quarters.

One player likely to remain a key figure in the Coahoma attack is running back Kelby Kemper. The CHS senior turned in a strong performance in the Bulldogs' loss, gaining 65 yards on 19 carries.

Unfortunately for Coahoma, that was pretty much the whole show against Wall. The Bulldogs, courtesy of several sacks and seven key penalties, finished with just 59 yards.

All isn't bad news for the Bulldogs on offense. Coahoma proved it was capable of controlling the ball for large amounts of time against Wall. The Bulldogs held the ball all but 4 minutes, 23 seconds of the first quarter last Friday. Overall, the team held the ball more than the Hawks.

Defensively, the Bulldogs are capable of dominating. Despite giving up 33 points in each of its last two outings, the Coahoma defense, led by linebacker J.C. Watts and Kemper, held Wall to 19 yards passing and 15 first downs.

Ozona, which dealt Fort Stockton a 15-6 defeat last week, also owns a strong defense. The Lions had three players record 13 or more tackles against Fort Stockton, including Jarryd Taylor (16), Ramon Trujillo (14) and Quay Oglesby (13).

Running back G.L. Bunger shoulders the load offensively for the Lions. Last week, he pounded out 79 yards on 13 carries.

The Coahoma Bulldogs junior varsity squad will try and break into the win column tonight when they face Ozona at Bulldog Stadium. Kick-off time is 6 p.m.

Buena Vista poses strong challenge for Wildcats

Need a recipe for excitement? Take two running backs that has rushed for more than 100 yards in each of the past two weeks. Add in a pair of teams that rolled up yards faster than an Astroturf repairman. Agitate both well and release.

When done, you'll have the same recipe fans will see Friday night as Eric Tunnell and the Grady Wildcats visit the Buena Vista Longhorns.

The two West Texas six-man powers are scheduled to play beginning at 7:30 p.m. at Longhorn Field in Imperial.

The game will feature a matchup of two unbeaten teams who can score almost at will. Both teams have averaged more than 40 points a game this season.

In Buena Vista, the Wildcats will get their strongest test of the 2002 season. The Longhorns have looked strong in their first two outings, racking up over 100 points and 400 yards a game.

The Longhorns also have one of the state's top rushers in Gary Lopez. He rushed for 215 yards in Buena Vista's 60-34 win over Klondike.

Grady has its weapons as well. spreadback Eric Tunnell will lead a high-octane GHS offense onto the field.

Tunnell has amassed more than 500 all-purpose yards in the Wildcats' first two games, and played a role in all 11 of the team's touchdowns. Through two games, he has rushed for 364 yards and 5 TDs and thrown for 341 yards and 5 scores.

Tunnell is the only weapon. Running back Trent May and end T. Springer have each had solid performances in the team's season-opening wins over Ropes and Wellman-Union.

Grady has averaged more than 40 points and 370 yards per game thus far this season.

New-look Buffs planning to derail top-ranked Iraan

By TOMMY WELLS

Sports Editor

Following their loss to Reagan County, Stanton head coach Larry Tate looked at an 0-2 team struggling offensively to move the ball. With that in mind, he decided drastic measures were needed to combat drastic times.

Tate scrapped the Buffaloes' wing-I offensive set and installed a new wishbone approach. He also implemented a shotgun formation.

Tate's moves paid off last week as the Buffs hit stride against the Rankin Red Devils. The new-look Buffaloes cranked out 21 points in the second half and dealt the previously unbeaten Devils a 29-12 setback.

Stanton, now 1-2; hopes its winning aways against unbeaten teams continues this week as the Buffaloes face off against No. 1-ranked Iraan, beginning at 7:30 p.m. at Braves Field in Iraan.

The Braves will mark the second state-ranked team Stanton will have faced in non-district play. The Buffs gave No. 5 Roscoe fits in their season opener before falling 18-0.

Defensively, Stanton is a force. Lance Kargl and Jesse DeLeon anchor a SHS squad that has limited its first three foes to just 50 points.

The Buffs will need all the defense the can muster against Iraan, now 3-0. The Braves, who opened the year with a win over Class 2A Forsan, have outscired their opponents by a staggering 155-18 clip.

Th Iraan offense is powered by running back Quincy Pope. The IHS standout has rushed for more than 120 yards in every game this season. Last week, in the Braves' rout of Irion County, he gained 150 yards and scored four touchdowns.

Stanton has a trio of rushers to lean on, including Tanner Riley, Victor Hernandez and Joel Martinez, who rushed for 92 yards on 11 carries last week.

Stanton gained a season-high 239 yards total on offense against Rankin, with 166 yards coming on 35 carries.
