THE FRIONA STAR, THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1954

With the warmer days, the question again is being asked, "When and how in Friona to have a swimming pool?"

We are in favor, and sooner the better.

Couldn't such a project be tied in with the school, enabling an ALL-YEAR pool?

It occurs to us that the recent bond issue voted was for the amount of $250,000. The primary building contract was for $147,200, leaving a difference of some $102,000. Has the school board considered using some of this in a pool recreation project? Would you be in favor? Let us hear your reaction.

The Optimist on Main Street reminds us that when feeling discouraged we should think of the poor flea—he knows for a certainty that all his children are going to the dogs.

Potatoman Herman Neff is keeping his fingers crossed, but it sure looks as if the local crop will hit the mid-western markets at the ideal time this year, before the Idaho and surrounding area spuds are shipped. This is a break that potato growers look forward to, and we think it would be well earned this year in the Friona vicinity.

The crop is looking mighty, mighty good at this date, with harvest anticipated soon after the first of the month. Some 400 acres were seeded in this immediate area.

The Observer on the Highway notes that a great many people, like cats, lick themselves with their tongues.

We've finally found the bottleneck, the hurdle that must be jumped, cause of it all—

Anyone with one good eye can see that there is a surplus of eligible bachelors in Friona and area. And as time progresses, the list grows rather than diminishes.

And accidentally, this morning, we found a clue that may be the solution, pure and simple.

We casually asked our friend and eligible bachelor, Rev. Lewis Knight when in the world he was going to supply us an announcement regarding a hostess for the Congregational parsonage.

Answer: "When Charles Allen makes the leap, you can count me as next; but until I can be best man at Charles' wedding, no announcement from me."

Now is that any way for a mayor to act—as a brake on the desires and matrimonial ambitions of the bachelors of the town? A mayor holding back progress! And election time already has passed.

The doctor can bury his mistakes; the lawyer can put his in jail; the little woman may divorce her's, but brother, we have to read ours!

We drove over the area Tuesday afternoon immediately after the hail streaked through the section, and we must say that we have never seen more damage in the spots hit by the hail. Low corners of the fields were stacked with the stones for several hours after they were washed there from higher ground. The rapid fall of rain, varying from 7 to near 2 inches, caused considerable washing on some sections, with other sections only a mile away being perfectly dry.

All in the location: In the big city you may be considered "safe society" while in the small town you are merely the town drunk.

Then you have an invitation from its manager, Mrs. Mary Schumann, who also plays catch position, to attend the games that already are drawing good attendance.

Sixteen women report regularly for practice, with Coach C. W. Dukes lending a hand. Patience Clark is pitcher.

Last two games were played with Muleshoe and Stegall. At 5:30 this afternoon (Thursday) the women will engage Enochs in a game at Lazbuddie. No admission charge is made at any of the games. Suits are expected soon for the players; several local merchants assisted in the purchase of these suits, and Mrs. Schumann asks that this paper express the appreciation of the team to these businessmen.

Farm Bureau Report

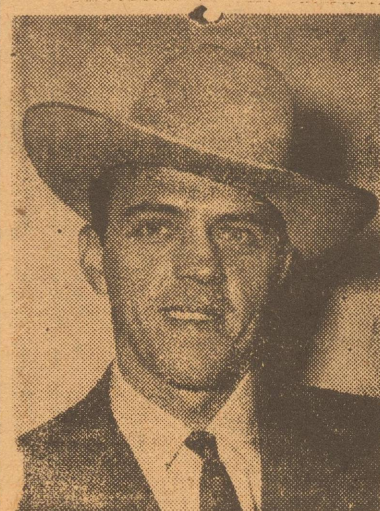

By RAYMOND EULER

Farm Bureau Directors meet next Monday (June 14, at 8:00 p. m.) in the Friona Legion Hall.

We announced the wrong date last week. They are always on the second Monday of the month, and you are welcome to sit in on these meetings. A release from the United States Department of Agriculture corroborates information received earlier from Texas Farm Bureau President, Walter Hammond, that "Distress" loans would be available for producers who could not find storage for wheat this season. The news release will probably appear elsewhere in the paper you are reading. This is the provision, passage of which made daily headlines nationally in 1949, along with Farm Bureau and Hammond when he made the proposal in Washington. Farm Bureau was instrumental in gaining reinstatement of this provision last week. If you like this provision, we believe you will keep your dues current for several years to come without its costing you anything.

Andy Rogers Is Senate Candidate

Mr. Rogers' statement of candidacy follows:

It was deep satisfaction in 1951, as a state representative, to help create our new 30th Senatorial District and thereby give West Texas a fair share of representation in Austin.

It has been an honor, a pleasure and a privilege to serve as the first senator from that new district.

In reviewing my record, I would be the first to insist that I have made mistakes. No doubt, I shall make others. These will always be honest mistakes.

As your freshman senator, I gained the following committees: Chairman of Stock and Stock Raising; vice-chairman of Agriculture; vice-chairman of Education and member of Water Rights and Irrigation, Veterans Affairs and Public Printing.

Major legislation I introduced, and which is now law, includes an amendment to the Gilmer-Aiker school program which has saved our district $250,000.00 of your local school tax money; Texas' first Grain-Warehouse and Grain Storage law, and an act creating the Greenbelt Municipal Industrial Water Authority to build a dam on the Red river near Clarendon and Hedley.

My bill to prohibit the sale, publication and distribution of lewd, lascivious and vulgar literature and pictures in Texas passed the Senate unanimously, but died in the House of Representatives.

I consider water, its development and conservation, to be our most pressing state problem. I shall continue to do all within my power to keep the control of underground water resources in the hands of those who own the land.

When you elected me two years ago at the age of 27, I was the youngest senator ever to have had the honor of serving West Texas. This is my fourth occasion to ask to serve the people of West Texas—twice as state representative, and now, the second time as your state senator.

This is the second time I have been unopposed. For this—and for all of your kindness, help, encouragement, cooperation, friendship and understanding—I say "thank you" from the bottom of my heart. I will appreciate your vote and support and pledge my best to the opportunity of serving you again. I shall approach the job humbly and prayerfully.

Wheat Harvest Commences; First Friona Load Delivered Saturday

Hail Streaked Across County Tuesday P.M.

Rain and hail streaked through the county mid-afternoon Tuesday, bringing sudden downpours and devastating damage to sections in a few minutes time.

Most hail damage appeared to be in a swath beginning near Bovina and extending northeastward. The farms in vicinity of the "dobe house," Harold Lillard, McKenzie Bros., A. W. Anthony, Jr., Mayo Phipps and neighbors (some 8 miles northwest of Friona) suffered from heavy hail of hen egg size on an average. Lillard reported 100 per cent loss on a half section of wheat, and damage in other fields was similar. About 7 inch rain accompanied the hail there, and its sudden fall washed many fields and made some roads impassable for several hours.

Further northeast, about 10 miles from Friona, G. H. Whitaker reported even larger hailstones, completely ruining his crops including 300 acres of wheat. His car, standing in the open, was badly dented from the hail that he reported "actually caused the floors to vibrate in my house." About 1 1/2 inch rain fell there. Further

These hailstones would have filled this space had they not melted! Actually, an error by the engravers accounts for the small picture here. Note comparison of hail size to the egg. Harold Lillard brought these stones to town Tuesday from his farm 8 miles northwest of Friona.

Volunteer Firemen Saving Homes, Money

By GAY CASS

One of the gala events of the season was the annual firemen's banquet held Thursday night in the Legion Hall. Fire departments from Hereford, Farwell, and Dimmitt were present, dressed in their uniforms which consisted of skirt, blouse, tie and cap. Dimmitt firemen were also in uniforms and their caps, placed on chairs, windows, and other convenient niches only appeared to constitute a part of the decorations of the evening.

When firemen assemble it is never less than exciting, for the listener hears all kinds of tales about fire fighting and instances related concerning the fires that have been quelled in the past years. If the entire city of Friona could have been there, they would begin to have an idea of the work that the volunteer firemen have done for the year, the amount of property and money saved by precautions beforehand and the actual prevention of damage by fire fighting. Indispensable as they are to the community, they are often taken for granted.

Several were remarking on the tables which were attractively laid with vari-colored pottery and the colorful atmosphere further enhanced the bouquets of roses placed at regular intervals. The menu consisted of roast, gravy, salad, mashed potatoes, English peas, rolls, pie, ice cream, and coffee or tea.

Opal Jones gave the invocation. Charlie Bainum, Friona Fire Chief, recognized the fire departments present and introduced special guests; Mr. O. J. Beene, city commissioner, and Dan Ethridge, speaker of the evening. Dimmitt, Hereford, and Farwell fire chiefs introduced their respective departments. The total attendance was marked as 75.

O. J. Beene gave the welcome, followed by Dan Ethridge's speech in regard to information concerning fire fighting and fire insurance. Mr. Ethridge presented several interesting points, that in 1949 or 50, volunteer firemen celebrated their 300th anniversary. They have advanced from the old-fashioned bucket brigade, to the effective and modern departments that are now in use.

"In 1928," he continued, "Friona established a key rate of $1.00, and since then they have succeeded in bringing that rate down to $.52." Thus Friona has been improved northeast, Tilden Slagle told of similar damage, bringing hailstones into Friona still large as golf balls after some melting in transit.

Other hail was reported southeast of Friona in the area of the D. O. Robason farm; this is the second and even third hail to damage some farms in that area.

In other parts, however, and sometimes on adjacent sections, the wheat is looking good, with no apparent damage. Irrigated fields promise a bumper yield, with scattered fields ready for harvest.

Fire and smoke damage estimated at about $1,000 was the net result of fire early Sunday night at the Jim Rule residence in the west part of Friona.

Firemen reached the scene before open flames had blazed, but the house was filled with heavy smoke. In fact, the fire department had considerable difficulty in finding the flames or origin of the fire, even after cutting holes in roof and walls.

Fire Chief Charlie Bainum said that the fire was believed to have originated from a floor furnace.

R. F. Talley Brings First Load Here

The wheat harvest has begun. Preach Cranfill reported the first load brought to the Santa Fe Grain company Saturday at 11:15 by R. F. Talley, whose farm is located northwest of town. The load of early Wichita wheat tested in at 58.4 with a moisture content of 14.9. Yield per acre was reported as 15 bushels. The grain was stored, but samples will be sent to Amarillo to determine the protein content. First load last year was received from Calvin Talley, brother of R. F. Talley. He brought in a load shortly after the one received from his brother.

The first wheat received at the Friona Wheat Growers elevator, according to Arthur Drake, came in about noon Monday. Their $25 premium for the first load brought in will go to Russell O'Brian. Mr. O'Brian brought the grain from his farm 12 miles southeast of Friona and reported some freeze damage. The wheat was the early Wichita variety and irrigated, testing in at 60 pounds to the bushel with a moisture of 12.3. Ora Cole, from his farm eight miles northwest of town, brought in 190 bushels an hour later.

The combines are in several fields and a good deal of cutting has begun. The wheat yield is expected to increase this year locally, one deciding factor being that more irrigation is being used.

First load delivered to the Black Grain company came in Tuesday morning from the O. B. Robason farm 3 miles east of Black. Testing 61.4, it had moisture content of 12. It was irrigated Early Wichita.

S.C.D. Observations

Perry McMinn has a nice patch of vetch that is about ready to plow under. He is planning to follow A. L. Reznick's method of turning it under. A. L. had his vetch seeded on beds. To turn it under he used rolling colters on his lister. Two weeks after A. L. listed his vetch, it was almost completely decomposed. After Perry saw A. L.'s job of listing, he decided that he would try it.

Henry Ivy has a good patch of dryland wheat. I believe it is about as good as any dryland wheat I've seen.

M. A. Black, who lives just north of Friona, is going to plant 15 sacks of Chinese Red and P cowpeas. He is growing the on land that he intends to wheat this fall. He has the idea that we can't just keep taking crops from the soil without replacing something to the soil.

Anyone interested in planting vetch or Madrid clover in between the rows of your grain sorghum should start looking for the seed and the equipment needed to plant it.

The Farmer County Soil Conservation District still has some vetch seed. Also your local seed dealer will probably handle the vetch. If you intend to plant Madrid clover, you should start looking for the seed pretty soon.

There seems to be more and more interest in proper water application. We are still laying out benchleveling and row irrigation systems that can give proper water distribution is used according to design.

The Country Editor Speaks from The Tullia Herald

If some of you readers are contemplating making your wills soon, these examples may prove of value in setting the pattern:

One woman in Cherokee County, North Carolina, named God as her beneficiary of her will. To settle the estate, a case was filed naming God as a party thereof. A summons was issued, but the sheriff filed a report which stated: "After due and diligent search God cannot be found in Cherokee County."

An Oklahoma City woman willed her sunny disposition and her beautiful neck to her two daughters. A hen-pecked husband provided that in the event his widow remarried, the new husband was to receive $1,000. "Him that gets her will deserve it," the will stated. Another bitter husband left his wife a quarter "for bus fare to some place to drown herself." A benign boozier directed his friends to wet their whistles over his grave, and his will provided a barrel of beer for that purpose.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Expense accounts are recognized in business. Many firms feel goodwill and harmony is promoted by purchase of a lunch, dinner, or some other gesture toward a customer or prospect.

However, in any well run firm, there is a limit on expense accounts.

But a study of U. S. Protective tariffs and their destruction by reciprocal trade treaties show that in permitting these treaties Congress has allowed C. W. Harder State Dept. to negotiate with an unlimited expense account.

Senator George Malone (Nev.) emphasizes this point stating in world trade conferences, other nations are represented by top businessmen with full knowledge of the situation. They seek or grant concessions.

U. S. is represented solely by State Department functionaries whose experience, training, aptitude and abilities are far removed from the American business scene. Our representatives are present, Senator Malone states, solely for the purpose of making friends. If cost of making such "friends" results in giving away an American industry, and the workers' jobs, the State Department officials neither realize nor care they have paid a bribe for friendship, and that's that.

In early 1933, before U. S. went on reciprocal trade treaty, U. S. tariffs protected domestic producers with an average rate of 50 per cent.

But now, Senator Malone states, 60 per cent of all imports come in free and the average rate on the balance is 12 1/2 per cent. Thus the average tariff on all imports coming into the U. S. is now only 5 per cent.

But England, who more than a year ago, started to promote free trade with U. S. with slogan "Trade, Not Aid" has an average tariff of 25.6%, Chile has a 46.3% rate, Mexico 20.6%, France 10.6%, Italy 8.4%.

Yet Randall Report urges further reductions in U. S. tariffs.

Drive to gain "friends" by giving away the country appears to be bureaucratic mania.

Rep. J. Dempsey (N.M.) states on April 7, U. S. had 356 million pounds of surplus butter in storage.

Yet on April 1, Army Department reported it bought 5,341,000 pounds of butter in foreign markets, principally Denmark and other countries, when surplus butter had been shipped from U. S. west coast.

Congressman Cleveland Bailey (W.Va.) states a recent survey establishes that at least 500,000 American workers are now jobless because of inadequate tariff protection from cheap foreign products made by workers receiving as little as 14c per hour.

That briefly, is background of Congressional battle on reciprocal tariff treaties.

While expense accounts are recognized in business world no firm permits its emissaries to give the company away.

So many Congressmen feel now is the time to stop use of bank checks drawn against nation's economic health. A bribe "friends" feeling perhaps such "friends" are more deadly than nation's enemies.

Monday Morning Musings

First hot days of the season call to mind some of the tales of heat in Texas. For instance:
Two thirsty cowboys came to a water hole. When the horses waded in for a drink, they stirred up lots of mud. One cowboy threw himself down between the horses and began to drink. The other, moving to the far side, asked the first one why he didn't come around and drink where it was clear.
"Don't make no difference," drawled the first one when he came up for breath. "I aim to drink it all anyway." —From John Randolph's collection of The Jokes on Texas.

"Two kinds of people work for the government; civil servants, who get sick leave, pensions, and holidays; and taxpayers, who don't." —Texas Tax Journal.

Notice a number of gadgets on the market to "turn-off-unwanted advertising from your favorite TV or radio program."

Should the American people cater to this idea, it will be themselves —the TV fan, the radio fan, the American consumer—who will suffer the most.

The high quality program of the air, the informative newspapers with world-wide coverage, even the little weekly hometown paper—all are made possible only by the advertisers who use these mediums.

The alternative: Socialistic control of the air and press.

Though we may not care for some product or the advertising thereof, we cannot but feel hypocritical when listening to its sponsored program.

So—we do hope you think twice next time when you bely the advertiser. He's the foremost exponent of Democratic free enterprise, making possible the high standard of living we expect and enjoy.

An Iowa paper carried in its "Local Gossip" column a drawing of two women chatting over a back yard fence. Underneath were these frank lines:
"I know not how the truth may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

June Is Drink More Milk Month
"How about another glass of milk, Mom. June is Dairy Month."
Ten thousand dairy herds furnish Grade A milk for Texans, both young and old, and dairying adds $200,000,000 annually to the state's evaporated, condensed and powdered milk. Dairy products are hailed as nature's most perfect food.

Burlison says milk production is several billion pounds above the national average, but consumption per capita is down about 17 per cent. From a dairyman's standpoint, this accentuates the importance of efficient marketing.
This month everyone is urged to "have an extra glass" and to eat more ice cream, cheese and other wholesome products from the dairy farm.
Dairy products help build stronger Texans!
The best place to find a helping hand is at the end of your arm.

AUSTIN, Texas.—Texas is moving to clean up its insurance "mess."

A study of reform proposals has been scheduled by the Texas Legislative Council, with a special committee of legislators in charge of the project. Other state agencies will participate.

A. W. Worthy, executive director of the council, said that Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey has written to all insurance companies operating in Texas, asking for their co-operation in the study.

Sixty insurance companies have failed in Texas since 1939, Worthy said. The council will look at the records of these companies to see why they went bankrupt.

Another aspect of the council's work will be to examine Texas' insurance laws and recommend changes "to assume a sound and stable insurance industry."

Yarborough's Charges
Ralph W. Yarborough, candidate for governor, charged that there had been "influence peddling" in connection with the insurance situation. Yarborough recommended: "A complete investigation looking into retainers, bank accounts, expense accounts, income tax returns, and excessive personal expenditures of state government officials connected with insurance law administration in Texas."

Insurance News
Nearly everybody got into the insurance show. These included: Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, who recommended 29 changes in the state insurance laws, including state control over insurance company stock sales.

Chairman Garland A. Smith of the insurance commission, who denounced "blatant untruths and half-truths" in a Time Magazine article. Smith said the magazine was "joining with jealous big Eastern insurance companies in trying to smear the Texas insurance industry."

Good Business
Dr. John R. Stockton of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research says that a trade decline is over and recovery has started.

Business activity rose two per cent from March to April in Texas, Dr. Stockton found, representing "a recovery of approximately half of the decline from January, 1953, and January, 1954."

This finding indicates, Dr. Stockton said, "that the decline in business, which has been under way since the spring of 1953, is approaching an end."

Lots of Roads
A construction program for 1055-1956, costing about $211 million, was announced by the state highway commission.

It was the largest program ever approved in Texas.
Involved is the construction of 2,663 miles of roads, but, said Commission Chairman E. H. Thornton, Jr., "it can only eliminate a minor per cent of the critical deficiencies of the (highway) system."

About $43 million of the money

Two County Boys Are Attending 4H Roundup

Two Parmer County 4-H members left Monday to attend the state 4-H Roundup in Austin, where some 1,600 member boys and girls from all over the state are meeting for sessions lasting through Thursday.

Bible School Has Record Crowds

The attendance this year at the Sixth Street Church of Christ Bible school was larger than was even anticipated, with an average attendance daily of 177, the largest attendance recorded being 185. It was much larger than last year, several people coming from Lazbuddie and Bovina each day.

Great success was reported in many points. The Saturday morning program marked the close of the school. The program showed some of the work done by both teacher and student, and was very well attended by parents of the students.

Friona Clubwomen Round Out Active Year; Star Reporter Discovers Long List of Achievements

Woman's Club Was Organized in 1909

In 1909, a small group of women met on the front porch of the drug store in Friona to organize a Friona Woman's club. Indeed it was a small group, but a determined one, and the club was organized even though the first meeting was held in the modest setting. The club was federated in 1922, and is now a member of the state and also general federated clubs.

One of the charter members still active, is Mrs. Pearl Kinsley. Mrs. Kinsley was present at that first meeting. The honorary member is designated as Mrs. Margaret Henschel, who donated the land on which the clubhouse now stands.

Ten members have died during the 45 years in which the club has been organized. They include Mesdames Sarah Stevens, Elsie Clennin, Margaret Mardis, Floy Crawford, Gordia Truitt, Esther Smith, Florence White, Mae Johnson, Minnie Goodwine, and Lucy Hughes.

The club now has a membership of 34. Community projects undertaken this year consisted mainly of helping sponsor the park program, consisting of miniature golf, horse-shoe pitching, croquet, and other games, some especially designed for the younger set—the pre-school children and on up. Over $300 was raised at a benefit for the hospital. The benefit was in the form of a tea, given by the club members.

Other projects included contributions to the polio, heart, and tuberculosis funds.

Another interesting and worthwhile welfare project was undertaken by the club. Through correspondence, club members found out several items that were needed by Girl's Town. They collected miscellaneous gifts such as ironing boards, irons, material, bedspreads, drinking glasses, and pitchers. The club carried the gifts, which amounted to over $100, and visited Girl's Town. The members were enthused with the surroundings. A new dining room was being built and the rooms were attractively decorated.

In the words of the Club Woman's Litany, "The woman's club teaches me to pour my strength into three great channels of life; my family, my church, and my world."

Shown here at the last meeting of the Progressive Study Club late in May of this year is Mrs. Gloria Knox, left, the outgoing president, and Mrs. Avis White, incoming head of the club.

Outstanding decorations were featured throughout the clubroom, as this picture indicates.

Progressive Study Club Organized in 1951; Promotes Culture, Friendship

The object of the Progressive Study club is to promote culture and friendship among its members and to strengthen by organization their individual efforts for humanity.

The club, organized in January of 1951, was federated in September of the same year. The membership of the club is limited to 20. Several are placed on the waiting list and will be accepted into the club when a vacancy occurs.

Two members were placed on the secretary's records as having perfect attendance for one year. They included Avis White and Sue Procter.

The Progressive Study club took food to a needy family on Christmas. And also sponsored a pancake supper for the hospital fund.

Members have helped the mentally retarded in two ways, first by donating, as a club, $5 a month toward keeping the mentally retarded child in an institution. Gifts were also sent at Christmas to the mental patients at Wichita Falls.

The club gave two March of Dimes coffees and all proceeds were turned over to the March of Dimes drive.

One project, still underway, is the making of blankets and crib-liners for the hospital.

The Progressive Study club is a member of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

GAVEL CHANGES HANDS

Mrs. Melba Miller is the incoming president of the Modern Study Club, taking the gavel from Rhea Foster. This club was federated in 1931, and since that date has been most active in the community.

Modern Study Club Assisted In Many Civic Projects and Youth Work in Area

The Modern Study club, which kick-off banquet for the hospital was originally called the Junior building fund, (3) assisting the Red Woman's club, was organized by Cross Bloodmobile.

Another service to the community was the Home Arts Department, which cooperates with the club year-ly cooperates is the Home Arts Department.

The youth of our community also merits special attention from the club.

One of the chief aims and objectives of the Modern Study club is to help and to promote community interests and projects. One of the main objectives of the club committees, the Community Service Committee, is to help other civic organizations for all activities with which the club helps. This past equipping the park for games of club year, this committee has miniature golf, volley ball, table tennis, croquet and horseshoe March on Polio, (2) Serving at the pitching for all ages.

A social hour was sponsored and refreshments served to 150 youths of a county combined band group. This included students of Farwell, Bovina and Friona schools.

The names and addresses of 52 service men of the Friona area were secured and published in the paper in time for Christmas mailing. This committee sent each a new letter and season's greetings.

The Modern Study club helped to organize the first Friona Concert association. Five club members are directors and others helped in the membership drive.

The Modern Study club sponsors the Cub Scouts and four members are Den Mothers. Thirteen club members are registered Girl Scout workers. Three are members on the Coronado Area Girl Scout board.

The course of study for the club this past year was "Feminine Focus." Every program has been opened with prayer, for religion plays an important role in lives of the club members. Fifteen members teach Sunday school classes.

For the past several years this club has received special recognition from Seventh District Convention for achievements. Honorable mention was given the Youth Conservation Committee for their work. The program on race relations was also recognized.

The delegate's report to convention in April won second place within its division. The Modern Study club's report won first place in Seventh District for the club year of 1953.

In the 23 years of club organization only one member, Mrs. Inez Welch, has been taken by death. The yearbook of 1948-49 was dedicated to her with this quotation taken from her scrapbook: "Life's race well run, Life's work well done, Life's crown well won, Now comes the rest."

In the club years from 1944-1954 the following statistics were compiled on members:

Fay Reeves has missed only nine meetings with four years perfect attendance.

Lilah Gaye Gee has missed 15 meetings with two years perfect attendance.

Lucille Latta has missed 18 meetings with 2 years perfect attendance.

Valoris Osborn has missed 17 meetings with one year perfect attendance.

For the club year of 1953-54 Eufaula Ethridge had a perfect attendance.

Western Canned Sweet Cherries Inspiration for Chinese Dinner

Why not try something different when it is your turn to entertain. Plan your menu with a theme in mind and let Western canned sweet cherries suggest one that will afford a conversation piece for the rest of the evening. This Chinese menu has its inspiration in the dark luscious sweet cherries from the orchards of the West. This dark purple variety is called Bing and its history is as interesting as the menu it inspired.

A Chinese gardener rescued a small straggling seedling from the trash heap. This tiny twig he tended lovingly and soon it was producing rich juicy cherries that came to be known by his musical name, "Bing."

The sweet sour sauce which makes this a bonafide Chinese menu is just as delicious when light cherries are substituted for the dark. The light ones are Royal Annes. The dark ones are the Lambert or Bing. But light or dark, all these sweet cherries are processed at the exact time of maturity to preserve every drop of their juice, every bit of their fructose or sugar. The results are perfect cans of plump, sweet fruit, versatile enough in meal planning to be used from breakfast fruit to midnight snack.

Sweet-Sour Sauce
2 cups dark Western canned sweet cherries (pitted)
1 cup cherry juice
1/4 cup vinegar
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon soy sauce
2 pounds spare ribs

Pit cherries and set aside. Add cornstarch to 2 tablespoons of the juice. Mix with other ingredients in saucepan and bring to a boil. Stir and boil for 3 minutes. Add cherries and remove from heat. Cut spare ribs lengthwise between bones. Spread in single layer on baking sheet and place in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. Remove to casserole, pour or sauce and continue baking for 30 minutes more. This will be enough for four.

Political Scene
State political campaigns opened up, with principal interest in the governor's race.

There, the contenders are incumbent Allan Shivers; Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney; and J. J. Holmes, Austin contractor.

Yarborough opened up with a speech in which he talked about "the need for integrity in state government and a sound program for the advancement of Texas."

Meanwhile, Austin political observers heard reports from the Rio Grande Valley that national CIO leaders are going all-out in an attempt to defeat Shivers. These reports said that the CIO has put up $250,000 to finance Yarborough and already has 300 paid workers in the field campaign against Shivers.

Holmes, who is beginning to step up his pace in the race, says "I'm not mad at anybody. I just want to be governor of Texas."

Shivers' Race
Shivers, returning from Korea, said that the thing for Texans to do is to keep our government at home, and not turn it over to outsiders.

At a press conference, the governor said he expected some opposition from Democrats who supported Adlai Stevenson last time.

Shivers pointed out that he led the fight for Eisenhower because the Republican nominee saw eye-to-eye with him on the tidelands issue, whereas Stevenson thought the tidelands ought to belong to the federal government.

Since the return of the tidelands to Texas a year ago, Shivers said, this state has collected from them about $32 million in mineral rights, and this money goes to the state school fund.

Care in Selecting Water Supply Is Emphasized for Summer Vacationists

One of the most important factors contributing to the well-being of summer vacationists is a safe and healthful water supply. Contaminated water is the annual cause of much sickness and many fatalities. Water from sources not known to be safe should never be used to supply vacation needs.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, state health officer, stated this week that most municipal water supplies in Texas are periodically inspected and samples submitted to the state or local public health laboratories for examination. He advised that it is always best, when in doubt, to endeavor to secure water from a municipal supply.

"Families away from home on picnics, excursions, or vacation trips," Dr. Holle said, "should either ascertain that their water supply is safe or they should make it safe for human consumption. Water can be rendered safe by boiling for 15 minutes or by the addition of chlorine. A few drops of ordinary chlorine laundry bleach can be added to a gallon of clear water and if the water is allowed to stand for 15 minutes it may be used for drinking."

If drinking water is obtained from a private well, Dr. Holle advised vacationists to look for these protective features: A well-site protected from flooding with good drainage, and a concrete platform surrounding the pump. The pump itself should be securely mounted on the platform, should have a rod that enters the top through packing, and should have a turned-down spout. Contaminated water is usually found in wells with open wood platforms, pits underneath the pump, openings where the pump rod enters the pump, and in pumps that require priming to operate.

HURRY, HURRY, HURRY, Last Call For "FEATURE ATTRACTION"!

6 Electric Ranges FREE!

JUNE 12TH IS LAST DAY FOR ENTRIES IN BIG RANGE CONTEST

FEATURE ATTRACTION, the interesting and exciting contest in which six lucky ladies are going to win modern electric ranges, is in the home stretch. June 12th, that's next Saturday, is the last day on which you can submit your entry, so be sure to see your Reddy Kilowatt Dealer and have him give you a complete demonstration of his range. After the demonstration, pick the feature which most appealed to you, and tell why it did in 25 words or less on the entry card that he will give you. It's that easy, but it's fun, and exciting, too. Don't be left out.

LOOK FOR THESE FEATURES—AND MANY OTHERS—ON MODERN ELECTRIC RANGES

- CONTROLLED HEAT—You can actually melt chocolate or cook a frosting right on a surface unit. No need for a double-boiler.
- ACCURATE—Your thermostat oven heat control, plus six-sided insulation, is your assurance of accurate oven heat measurement.
- ECONOMICAL—The average family can cook electrically for 7 cents a day. Then there's the big economy that comes from electric cooking's cleanliness.
- LABOR-SAVING—Complete meals can be prepared in the oven and deep well, a great time-saver. Economical, too, for you use only one heating unit.
- COOL—The cooking heat goes right from the element into the pan. None escapes to heat up your kitchen.
- CLEAN—Most spillovers burn off, and drip trays are removed easily. Walls and curtains stay bright and shiny with flameless electric cooking.
- AUTOMATIC—No more pot-watching when you cook on an electric range. Set the oven timer to turn the meal on and off. That's all there is to it.
- FAST—High speed units heat up at once, and all of the heat goes into the cooking task. There's no waste heat electric cooking.

LOOK FOR MANY OTHER FEATURES ON YOUR DEALER'S RANGE

Here are the rules...

Just list the feature you like best on the entry card your Reddy Kilowatt Dealer will give you, then tell why you like this feature in 25 words or less. All entries will be judged on originality, sincerity, and aptness of thought. Decision of the judges will be final, and all entries become the property of Southwestern Public Service Company. Your entry must be in by June 12, 1954.
