DID NOT TOUCH US

We notice a statement in a Dallas paper that the incorporated banks of Dallas have sixty one million dollars on deposit. Instantly we took an inventory of our pocket book and the amount totaled 61 cts. and our bank deposits practically net. We are glad however there is plenty of money in the country even if our cash balance is low.

R. J. W. KEEBLE DIED AT ABILENE MONDAY

Confederate Soldier, Student Under "Stonewall" Jackson at Virginia Military Institute

Dr. Keeble a well known minister of the Protestant Episcopal Church, died at Abilene, Monday, and the funeral was held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. Dr. Keeble was well known in Baird, where he was pastor of the Episcopal Church, visiting here at regular intervals for several years.

Dr. Keeble taught school before the Civil War and Rev. John R. Morris, formerly Presiding Elder of the Abilene District M. E. Church, was one of his students. We heard the Doctor once say to Mr. Morris "I succeeded in everything I tried to do with you, save one, I made a failure in my religious teaching of you." Mr. Morris thought a great deal of his old school master and always had a kind word for him though they were ministers of the gospel in different denominations. Dr. Keeble was a Knight Templar and his Masonic brethren at Baird with his many brethren in and out of the church are grieved over his death.

A good man has gone to his reward.

Sketch of His Life

We are indebted to the Abilene Reporter for the following sketch of R. J. W. Keeble.

Rev. James Walter Keeble was born on Gwynn's Island, Matthews county, Virginia, May 31st, 1835. His father was a sea captain and Dr. Keeble was the first of his family to break away from following the sea. He was educated at the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va. During his four years there he was under the instruction of Gen. "Stonewall" Jackson. While at the Institute he joined the Protestant Episcopal Church. He graduated in 1857, after which he taught school for four years. When the Civil war broke out he organized a company of his school boys and entered the service of the Confederacy as their chaplain. He served with distinction throughout the war, reaching the rank of Major. A few years after the war he began his studies for the Episcopal ministry. He was ordained as a deacon in Mobile, Ala., July 3rd, 1864, by Bishop Richard W. Wilmer. He was ordained to the ministry in Henderson, Ky., by Bishop Cummins. As a minister he was active and was in great demand as a preacher. During his long life he held prominent charges in different states. For several years he was pastor of All Saints Church of Cleveland, Ohio, during which time he built one the handsomest church buildings in that city.

Dr. Keeble moved to Abilene in February, 1898, as pastor of the Church of the Heavenly Rest. He resigned and retired from active service in 1907 on account of his extreme feebleness. He was married in 1873 to Miss Lucie Robinson of Essex county, Virginia. Five children were born to them. He is survived by his wife and three children, as follows: Wm. T. Keeble, Assistant Cashier of the F. & M. National Bank of Abilene; Mrs. Alston Gowdy of Oak Cliff; and H. Rob Keeble, County Attorney of Taylor county.

Dr. Keeble was a devoted and tender father and husband, and was beloved by all classes of people wherever he lived. His broad culture, his tender sympathy with all humanity and his charming personality won the hearts of all who came in touch with his life. He made one think of Stevenson's definition of a gentleman: "He could talk with a Prince without feeling self-conscious, and with a coal-heaver without making him feel self-conscious."

IN MEMORIAM.

Nov. 13th—God in his wisdom has seen fit to call home a darling baby from our midst, Little Taylor Stewart, aged one year and two days. All who knew Little Taylor loved him for we do not meet with as bright noble countenance every day as his. Ah! how sad to see him suffer so, but as we can see God can heal all pain and we all know where he is resting, he is safe in Jesus' arms. All was done for him that medical aid and loving hands could do. He will be missed at Sunday School, at church and everywhere and especially in the home.

May this be the means of drawing us all closer together and closer to God's house not made with hands where he has gone to live.

The dear patient, sweet mother and father have our deepest sympathy.

A darling one from us has gone
A voice we loved is stilled
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled
Dear little hands I miss them so
All through the day wherever I go
All through the night how lonely it seems

For no little hands wake me out of my dreams
I miss them all through the long weary hours

I miss them as others do sunshine and flowers
Day time or night time wherever I go

—One who loved him.

The little baby mentioned above was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart of Rowden, and the many friends of the family extend sincere sympathy to them in their bereavement.

STONE'S

"Rich Fruit" Cake For Thanksgiving Dinner

40 CENTS PER POUND

It is absolutely impossible to give you any idea of the quality, flavor and richness of STONE'S "RICH FRUIT" CAKE through the medium of paper and ink. We could easily use a column in telling you about the materials that go in it—Pineapples from Hawaii, Almonds from Spain, Pecans from Texas, Cherries from California, and so on through the list of twelve fruits that are used but what good does it do to name them over, when the deliciousness is only half in the materials, the other half being the art and skill with which they are combined to make the perfect Fruit Cake.

SOME BIG COTTON DEALS.

T. A. Irvin sold sixty bales of cotton at Oplin this week for 20c.

Herman Schwartz, Baird's oldest merchant, sold 256 bales of cotton this week for 20 1-8cts, the record cotton sale in the history of Baird. Mr. Schwartz bought some of this cotton in 1914 and has been stored in the Baird Cotton Warehouse since that time together with cotton bought since then. However he sold since that time 176 bales.

The Baird warehouse is nearer empty than it has been since it was built in 1914. This warehouse has saved thousands of dollars to the merchants and farmers of this county and made some money for the stockholders. The sale amounted to something like $27,000 all cash.

WORK IN CHAPTER.

CHARITY ORGANIZATION

Mayor Schwartz suggested to us that Baird should organize a Charity organization to solicit funds to provide for the needy, worthy poor in Baird during the coming winter. The suggestion is a good one and we heartily endorse it and it should be acted upon at once. Space forbids more mention of the subject this week but will have more to say next week. Think about it in the meantime.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of the Sunday School Course in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Copyright, 1916, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 26 A LIVING SACRIFICE.

LESSON TEXT—Romans 12.
GOLDEN TEXT—Present your bodies as living sacrifices, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your spiritual service.—Rom. 12:1 R. V.

The first 11 chapters of this letter teach and illustrate the great principles of the Christian life. Paul calls it "my Gospel." Its fundamental principle is that justification regenerates men, and nothing else. The second section is the practical application of these truths.

I. The Exhortation to Gratitude (vv. 1-2). "Therefore," because of the work of Christ on our behalf, we are to present our bodies as living sacrifices unto God, to be used for His glory and service. (See chapter 6:15, 18-19). Paul urges, he beseeches; he is winsome, though he might command. To "present" technically means, "bring an offering to God." The body is the sum of all human faculties, physical and spiritual. It must not be defiled by being yielded as an instrument to sin, for it is the temple of God. (1 Cor. 3:16, 17). A "Living Offering," (not as the bodies of slain animals offered by Jews) is a consecration of the body, and not a destruction of life. The original means that this—the offering of ourselves as a living sacrifice—is a reasonable, rational service. God has the right of ownership of every member of our body, and there never was a day when there was greater need of insisting upon a Christianity that affects the bodies of men than today. Hands, lips, ears, eyes—every member should be constantly presented to Him who purchased it by the blood of His own Son. (1 Cor. 6:20; 1 Pet. 1:18-19). This is a spiritual, religious service because it is our spirit which presents the offering of the body which he inhabits. Too many of us are "fashioned according to this age."

II. The Expression of Gratitude (vv. 3-8). Or the right use of the gifts of God. (1) Avoid "self-conceit" (vv. 3-5). These verses indicate how important this subject is. Conceit is "entertaining an exaggerated opinion of one's own ability. The church has many members, and they do not all have the same office; there is a variety in the unity of the body. So in the church there are many "members in one body," each of which is important; all are essential. (2) "Prophecy" (v. 6), not necessarily foretelling, but the revelation of spiritual truth and experience according to the proportion of our faith (Ps. 33:3), the living, spiritual experience of the presence of God within us. (3) "Ministry" (v. 7). The business side of the church, collecting of its money and the distribution to the poor. Some can best attend to such business. Many churches fall by not selecting wise leaders for this work. (4) "He that teacheth." The true pastor is a combined prophet, pastor and teacher. We are all teaching, whether we wish to or not. It is a privilege as well as an obligation.

III. Conduct Toward All Men (vv. 9-21). The renewed soul needs guidance, encouragement and instruction. (1) "In love" (v. 9). The hypocrite wears a mask. Notice the close connection of "abhor that which is evil" with "cleave to that which is good." The word for cleave means literally to glue it, so that nothing can separate you from love which is the supreme good. "In honor preferring one another" (v. 10). Let others carry the banner—few of us can stand this acid test. (3) "Diligent in business" (v. 11). Whatever your hands find to do, do it with your might, being fervent or boiling in spirit, the reverse of the previous exhortation, in that which we are thus to serve the Lord. Few need exhortation to be diligent in their own business, but all of us need this exhortation with regard to the "king's business." (4) "Rejoicing in hope" (v. 12). Triumphant over trials and difficulties in the way. Looking for that "blessed hope" (Titus 2:13). (5) Patience and tribulation (v. 12). The Latin "tribulum" was the threshing instrument or roller whereby the husbandman separated grain from the husk. Sorrow, distress and adversity are the means for separating men from the chaff of their lives. Sometimes small annoyances, long continued, become great tribulations. (See Joshua 24:12). (6) Continuing in the school of prayer (v. 12). Steadfast, urgent, pressing, persevering prayer (Luke 12:1). (7) "Given to hospitality" (v. 13); literally, pursued it.

The word "condescend" is not strong enough—it should be literally "Borne away" from the living things along the line of the things that are humble.

(8) Living peaceably with all men (v. 18); being ready for peace and to do more than your share of reconciliation.

(9) Overcoming evil with good (vv. 19-21). The heaping of coals upon the enemy's head is not the object but the result of returning good for evil. (See Proverbs 25:21-22.) The only real victory is, "Be not overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good."

Good Roads Fill Churches.

The good road fills the country churches. It stands for neighborliness, and, best of all, it leaves good schools all along its line. It keeps the country boy with it. The good road is a sign of the culture, knowledge, and civilization in a county, a state, or a nation. Does your community stand the test?

COULDN'T LEARN TO DRILL

Deserter From British Army Says He Ran Away to Avoid Making Trouble for Officers.

There is something rather fine in the excuse made by a deserter who was charged at Willesden police court with being unable to read or write, who shows that education can have influence on the qualities of the recruits. He told the bench that he left the army because he was so sorry for the officers. A captain, two lieutenants, sergeant major, two sergeants and three corporals had tried to teach him to drill; but he was totally unable to learn it.

Why, argued this man, illiterate but of noble mind, waste the time of these able officers on useless labor? Why impose on them the Sisyphean toll of trying to drill the undrillable? He could imagine the enthusiasm with which they turned to the instruction of more teachable recruits.

We could wish there were more like him, remarks the Globe. There are those who are unable to learn, but cannot recognize it. You may tell a certain type of office-boy four thousand times to put the waste paper basket on the right side of your desk, and on the fourth thousand and first time he will place it on the left, as ever. But he will not dream of removing himself. How different from the deserter of Willesden!

SCOFFER RISES TO REMARK

Little Dissertation on the Oft-Repeated Assertion That All Men Are Born Free and Equal.

"They say that all men are born free and equal. Sure! It's daylight in the daytime and dark at night, too. What about it? All the horses in the Suburban Handicap start from the same post at the same time, but that ain't sayin' they get back together. They go under the webbin' with their tails in line, startin' equal and free to get back as quick as their legs'll let 'em. That don't buy 'em any hay, you know. They don't get nothin' for startin'. That's the reason why they start equal. Anybody'll give anybody their half of nothin' that nobody wants!"

"The hay stake and the getaway money's all paid for the finish; an' hubble me, bo, them nags that dusted the same part o' the track with their hind feet at the same time don't nose the dough together. An' what o' that? If they did, nobody'd ever put up the dough to 'run for, an' they wouldn't be no horse racin'. Then all the ponies could drag plows, couldn't they? Yeh! But some could go down a cornfield quicker than some others, and the ones that got into the end of the furrow first would get the most eats an' the best stalls. Free an' equal!"—William Slavens McNutt in Munsey's Magazine.

Make the Most of Life.

"But, when you come right down to it, why should anyone want to live to be one hundred or even ninety? A man who was said to be one hundred and eight years old attended one of the Billy Sunday meetings here, and everyone who saw him pitied him. He was a wrinkled shadow of a man who lived beyond his time.

The chief end of life, says the Kansas City Star, should not be so much to live to be eighty or ninety years old as to get the most out of the years that he does live, and the only way to do that is to live rightly, which means sanely, temperately, usefully, with due regard to the rights and feelings of others. Living that way you may not exist for a great span of years, but you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you made the most of the years that were allotted you.

Male Angels.

"Ever think of this," he went on without looking up, "that all the angels and saints mentioned in the Scriptures are referred to as he's?"

"That's because the Scriptures were all written by men—the ballots they cast in advance for their own immortality. The prejudices of your sex have laid a sort of spiritual impropriety upon us in the next world," I retorted sharply.

"I don't know," he laughed; "women may be needed so much forever in this world that the Lord can't spare you just to sing soprano in heaven."—From "A Circuit Rider's Widow," by Corra Harris in the Saturday Evening Post.

Mammoth Cooking Kettle.

Recently a well-known brass and copper company in Indianapolis took pride in displaying on the streets of that city a huge copper kettle it had made, which has a capacity of approximately 2,000 gallons—big enough to hold 12 men without crowding them, as a photograph in the Popular Mechanics Magazine testifies. Five men worked six weeks to complete it.

This is without doubt one of the largest cooking kettles in the United States. It will be used by a fruit company in New Jersey in boiling orange and lemon peel.

A $6.00 Daily and Sunday Newspaper for $3.65.

A PENNY A DAY

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

With the exception of black ink, all raw materials used in manufacture of a newspaper have advanced in cost during the past twelve months approximately 100 per cent. This means that it will cost your publisher practically double to supply you with a newspaper the coming year.

Under stress of these unusual conditions, The Star-Telegram has been forced to increase its "Bargain Days" rate from $3.25 to $3.65. An increase of 40c per year (3 1-3c per month) or 12 per cent. Based on the conservative estimate increase in production cost of 100 per cent, under this price the division of added expense will be as follows:

Increased expense to The Star-Telegram 88%
Increased expense to The Reader 12%

This situation means that after "Bargain Days" the regular rate of $6.00 per year must be strictly enforced. We have battered the price to the very bottom in order to protect our Annual Subscription Cheap Rate Period, which has been in effect since the establishment of The Star-Telegram.

Do not take chances, save the $2.35, by ordering before Bargain Days expire. Take advantage of the $3.65 rate.

The high standard of The Star-Telegram will be maintained as long as there is a Star-Telegram regardless of any war burdens.

At The Queen Theatre, Abilene, Wednesday and Thursday (Thanksgivings) Nov. 29-30. Matinee Thursday

D. W. Griffith's World's Mightiest Spectacle "The Birth of a Nation" will be presented at the Queen Theatre, Abilene, for two nights Wednesday and Thursday (Thanksgiving) Nov. 29-30 with a matinee Thursday. The prices will be $1.00 and $1.50 at all performances. The seats will be on sale at the Mission Theatre Box Office. No phone orders or seats held for this engagement.

"The Birth of a Nation" brings forth D. W. Griffith's wonderful new art of pictorialized spectacle with music. The first half of the production, which was suggested by Thomas Dixon's "The Clansman," exhibits the salient events of the War between the States. The formation of the Confederacy; Lincoln's call for troops, Sherman's march to sea, the battle of Petersburg; Lee's surrender to Grant; and the awful tragedy of Lincoln's assassination at Ford's Theatre: April 14th 1865, live before the spectator of the Griffith drama. In the second half the South's "second uprising"—this time against the Carpetbagger regime—is shown in a thrilling story of Reconstruction days. The romance of the "little Confederate Colonel," Bea Cameron with the Northern Elsie Stoneman, and that of the Unionist Captain, Phil Stoneman with Margaret Cameron, the South Carolina lassie, maintain two threads of continuous love-interest throughout the story.

But the great out-of-doors is Mr. Griffith's special field. Tremendous battle scenes and the wild rides of the Ku Klux Klansmen are staged with thousands of participants. Eighteen thousand actors and three thousand horses were employed in the making of the picture, which cost half a million dollars and took eight months to produce. Some idea of its immensity is gained from the fact that there are no less than 5000 distinct and individual scenes.

On the musical side Mr. Griffith attempted what was previously unheard of in connection with motion pictures. This was the synchronizing of a complete symphonic score with the appearance of the important characters and the enactment of the principal scenes. This magnificent instrumental music is played by a large orchestra of twenty-five musicians.

New president of the Association of State Farmers' Union Presidents who has announced in favor of the repeal of the Adamson law, claiming that it is a discrimination against the farmer. He contends that by decreasing the hours of the trainmen congress has shifted an increase of hours to the backs of the men who follow the plow.

Shape for Country Roads.

Country roads should be kept in such condition that they will shed every drop of water that falls on them.

Reasonable Proposition.

A good road between every farm and market is a reasonable and worthwhile proposition.

Muddy Roads Cut Profits.

Muddy roads always add to the distance to market and cut the profits on produce.

COTTONWOOD LOCALS

November 21, 1916

Editor Star: This morning we are having rain and the wind is in the north which renders it's extremely disagreeable out-doors, but we are pleased to report the peanuts all thrashed, that is, all save a few isolated crops.

It was our good fortune to visit the Terminal yesterday and we are forced to exclaim that we saw more peanuts there than we ever saw before at one time in our lives.

There is a bunch of the Cross Plains business men, armed with a tin horn each and when a load of peanuts drives in town they attack it with the aforesaid tin horns and soon you will see the wagon driving for a ware house, always driving around the go-to-right stone, however we noticed that one of the above mentioned stones, displayed evidence, that someone had been trying to drive on both sides at the same time.

Ross Respass who has been on an extended visit to Wilbarger County and other points west, returned to his home at Cottonwood last Saturday.

J. M. Coffman and Eldon Boydston were visitors at Cottonwood Wednesday, last.

Mr. James Swore, formerly of Cross Plains but now a citizen of "out" west somewhere, passed through Cottonwood Wednesday, en-route for Cross Plains to visit friends and relatives at that place.

Mrs. Gattis who has been living in Cottonwood for quite a while has moved to her farm two miles east of Cottonwood again. Mrs. Gattis has a good farm and we are impressed with the idea that she is somewhat partial to a rural life.

Dr. Upton, recently of Coleman, has located in Cottonwood and will practice his profession here. We have had quite a season without a doctor and have enjoyed a splendid season of health. We fear the results.

The little son of W. P. Wilson is sick with an attack of typhoid fever. We are in hopes it will prove to be a light attack.

The school opened up yesterday with a good attendance and a full corps of teachers. We predict a prosperous and successful year.

Jake Faulkenbury who has been living at Cottonwood for quite a while moved to S. N. Strahan's to live with the family. We presume Mrs. Faulkenbury will be house-keeper.

Yesterday was Confederate day at Cross Plains and was regular day to elect officers. D. M. Rumpb, was reelected Commander, J. K. Williams Lieut., J. T. Respas Adjutant, J. W. Wesley Color Bearer and J. S. Ray Chaplain.

"Old Juan" the ugly "booger," did not show up. We are led to believe he is not onto the job, of driving around the rocks."

Well we have just got to "Keno." "Uncle Jimmie."

HER SON SUBJECT TO CROUP.

"My son Edwin is subject to croup," writes Mrs. E. O. Irwin, New Kensington, Pa. "I put in many sleepless hours at night before I learned of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mothers need not fear this disease if they keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and use it as directed. It always gave my boy relief."

245,000 ACRES

Of Capitol Syndicate Land on the Market to ACTUAL SETTLERS in Palmer and Deaf Smith Counties

We have Homes for the Homeless; a Country of Sunshine and Happiness. No Chills, no Fever. Terms and Condition as follows:

On farm land, 40 acres up to 640, $3.00 down, nothing more due until November 1, 1918, at 6 per cent annual interest. Will lease you as much as you buy at 17 1-2c per acre up to 320 acres with privilege of buying leased land. Will furnish stock to stock this land to responsible people at 8 per cent annual interest.

We have grass land we will sell on the very best terms. The country is especially adapted to wheat and oats, kaffir, feterita, sorghum, alfalfa, sweet clover, beans and peas, peanuts, fruits of all kinds, good cattle, both dairy and beef, and is the home of good hogs, sheep and goats. We have the best grasses the world over; black gamma curly mesquite, no bare places, thick as hair on a dog's back.

The country is settled up with the very best of people. Good schools, churches, rural routes, telephones, and will some day be the GARDEN SPOT OF THE WORLD. To go and look means to buy a home. If you will only look at the rating of Farmell Bros. you will find that they are able and that they will sell you a home on terms and conditions, and will not let you fail if you will only try.

As to railroad outlet, we have the Santa Fe, which is the best in the United States, with three good lines. One going north to the northern markets, and one going south to Gulf Coast and west Coast, making an outlet for anything we might raise. As to dairying, we have the best market for all the butter fat that can be produced, and it is a mortgage lifter at any rate, as the cow will take care of the pig, chickens and eggs are in demand all the time.
