MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This item was brought in by a Star reader who thought it worth passing on to parents.)

CHAMPAIGN, I. — Set up safety rules for children and help them save their lives.

"Children who obey authority—the school patrolman, policeman, teacher or bus driver—are most likely to return home safely," said O. L. Hogsett, safety specialist at the University of Illinois Agriculture college.

Youngsters who walk to school must be taught where and how to cross the street or road, he said.

If there are no sidewalks, Hogsett said, parents should train the child to walk on the left-hand shoulder of the road so he can see oncoming cars. And a bright jacket or cap will help the drivers to see the child.

Bicyclists must be taught to obey traffic signs, and to be ready to give way to thoughtless or careless drivers. They should pedal in the right lane, close to the curb or the road's edge.

Children who ride a school bus should be taught: 1. Obey the driver. 2. Be careful of traffic when entering or leaving the bus—there is always a chance a motorist will not stop when the bus does.

Bumper Crop Harvest Is Marred Only by Prices, Shortage of Railway Cars

Grain sorghum in the area has been quite slow in drying sufficiently for qualifications set for government loan, and the harvest picture as of this week finds probably less than 25 per cent of the crop harvested.

Despite wide publicity of storage cited for the plains area, the local situation definitely appears to be that of shortage of transportation rather than storage. Rail cars for movement of the grain have been coming in only a trickle, with the outlook uncertain for the next few days.

Some of the grain is being sold, with most going in the loan. Market price is about 4 cents below the loan today, and grain too moist to meet loan standards is in some instances being sold, dumped on the ground in many cases.

Yields are generally very high on all the irrigated land, observers report locally, much of the grain yielding from 5,000 to 7,000 pounds per acre. L. C. Johnson, farming the Gordon Hough land north of Friona, has been delivering grain believed to average 6,700 pounds. One elevator operator said the lowest he had heard of was 1,700 lbs., with this only an isolated case. Most of the fields evidently come in the 4,000-6,000 lb. category.

Indicating the acute transportation shortage, one elevator secured four cars Wednesday night, making a week total of five cars!

First Large Scale Sesame Harvest Finds Crop Being Grown on Over 1400 Acres

Friona County's first large scale sesame harvest is underway, with most of the 1400 acres in the county being cut with row binders or grain binders and shocked this week. The tiny sesame seed will then be combined from the shocks after the plants have cured from 10 to 14 days, depending on weather conditions, stated Doyle Cummings, local seed dealer.

Earl H. Collier of the Texas Sesame Research Foundation at Renner, Texas, was in Friona recently to explain in detail the harvesting and marketing of the comparatively new crop for this section. He explained that after the sesame has cured in the shock and practically all of the pods have turned brown and opened slightly, the seed is usually dry enough for combining. Most conventional type combines will do a satisfactory job of harvesting, when properly adjusted and operated.

Threshing of the seed can be accomplished by driving the combine from shock to shock and maximum recovery of seed from the shock can be accomplished with a minimum of hand labor by using a platform attachment extending about four feet in front of the cutter bar, stated Cummings. With the use of this attachment, three men can usually thresh one acre of sesame in one hour, based on approximately 40 shocks per acre.

Cummings Farm Store will receive the sesame seed from over the county, and it will probably be trucked out to Paris, Texas, to the Texas Sesame Seed Growers Association, for re-cleaning and distribution to the major United States markets. This re-cleaning process is necessary before the seed is acceptable for human consumption.

The frost on October 6 damaged some of the sesame crop around Friona and Bovina, but Cummings stated that he believed the harvest would be better than that of last year. Most of the sesame growers received approximately $9.60 per 100 pounds, net, on the crop from last year, which would indicate that sesame is the cash crop a farmer can fit on his land he cannot use for cotton.

All of the sesame cut to date has been on irrigated land. The crop planted on dry land will not be harvested, said Cummings.

Sesame appears to be well adapted to the climatic and soil conditions throughout the cotton growing areas of Texas. In addition to being an excellent oil for cooking, oleomargarine and shortings, sesame oil can be used in manufacture of paints, soaps, cosmetics, perfumes, insecticides, and pharmaceutical products. The seeds are used in garnishing bakery products and in the manufacture of candies.

FRIONA SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

Dear Uncle Bert,

Well, this has been a very, very lively week, according to the freshman boys. They were sold Friday at a regular auction, with Judge Barker as the auctioneer. The price limit on the first few boys was $150. Then a few "specials" were offered with no price limit. Some boys were sold for as high as $130. All this money goes to the F.F.A.

Right after the auction a pep rally was held to cheer the boys on to victory Friday night. The pep rally was really so funny, I can hardly describe it. First of all, the cheer leaders decided that they couldn't lead because they weren't wearing the proper clothes. They then asked for volunteer teachers to help lead. None volunteered, so some were appointed. Those who led us in some rollicking cheers were Mr. Cook, Miss Jones, Mr. Gee, Miss Rudd, Miss Smith and Miss Rymer. Miss Rymer, by the way, was sold at the auction as a greenhand, much to her surprise.

I guess the pep rally was really a big help to the boys, because we won the game with Hart, 44-0. It was a real good ball game. At the half, the twirlers put on a beautiful exhibition of twirling with fire batons.

After the ball game, we all enjoyed a real nice party at the Baptist church. We had cookies and punch and listened to records.

There won't be a ball game next week. That will give us a chance to kind of rest up for the big homecoming game the following week.

It really is gonna be something. The plans for it are already forming in some brilliant students' heads. There will be a meeting of all the committee chairmen at Miss Smith's residence tonight to discuss those plans.

The tryouts for the Thespians play were held Friday and Saturday. The results are not known as of yet, and all those who tried out are holding their breaths. The play is entitled, "The Importance of Being Earnest." It is a comedy for serious people and it is really funny whether you are serious or not.

I hear the S.F.C. is trying to sell about 48 bottles of vanilla in order to buy "The Talking Bible," a two-volume recording of the Bible. Won't that be nice? If you need any vanilla and would like to help out, Uncle Bert, just contact one of the S.F.C. members.

Oh, Uncle Bert, I forgot to tell you. The students of F.H.S. have a request to make concerning the football games.

Last week we put up signs along the fence, asking the people to please not stand in front of the fence. We got pretty good cooperation but we would like it to be even better.

Please stay away from in front of the fence, you who stand there. You are blocking the view of the people in the stands. Especially stay away in the homecoming game so that the spectators in the stands can see the coronation of the queen and any other activity that might take place on the field.

Also, if you who watch the game while sitting in your car, would cooperate by getting out of your car, standing and removing your hat while the National Anthem is being played, we would appreciate it. I know we should all be proud to live in a free country and we should learn to show our respects in some way.

I guess that's all I have to say now, Uncle Bert.

Love, Big Minnie.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sherley were Monday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Hand.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jacobs and family of Clovis were Sunday visitors in the O. C. Jones home.

Cotton Pulling Is Barely Underway

Cotton pulling and ginning is getting underway in earnest this week-end in the Friona-Hub vicinity, though a very small percentage of the crop has been harvested to date. The four gins in the immediate area reported a total of 650 bales ginned as of noon yesterday.

Shortage of labor in the pulling so far has hampered progress of the picking; though more Mexican nationals are due in over the week-end. Most available living quarters at the gins and at the farms already are occupied to capacity.

Estimates of needed help have run from 150 to 300 hands believed needed immediately.

Loan price of cotton is 33.32, slightly above yesterday's market price of 32.90.

Though ginners and farmers alike profess the quality of local cotton as being fully equal to that of last year, graders at Lubbock have been marking it down apparently, possibly due to some worm spots found. Some ginners have said the classing has been at least one grade below that of last season.

Mexican Workers In Local Fields

Migratory Mexican farm laborers are moving into the Friona area this week in sizable numbers, but still more are needed, according to report of the Texas Employment Commission.

Dick Habbinga, now associated with the Commission, has set up headquarters on Highway 60 in Friona, assisting both farmers and the laborers in placement service—directing crews to needed areas. Habbinga states he has jobs for at least 250 more workers, if they were available.

Feed shocking and cotton picking both are underway this week, drawing heavily on the labor market.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Latta visited Friday evening in the Pat Terry home in Bovina.

Farm Bureau Report

By RAYMOND EULER

Gilbert Kaltwasser and Archie McCutchan attended a District II Farm Bureau meeting in Lubbock last Thursday. It appears, from their report, that the farmers gathered there agreed on a program that will prove popular with all agricultural people. After Thursday night, Farmer County's FB Convention time, we will at least know what Farmer County Farmers think of it. Individuals who have heard it seem to like it pretty well. This is it briefly, detailed system of applying the Farm Bureau Proposed Land Fertility Bank Agricultural Program: 20 per cent of all tillable land out of production entirely; 100 per cent parity on all basic commodities under acreage allotments; 85 per cent parity on all non-basic, storable commodities with no acreage allotments; and a positive effort to sell surplus commodities on the world, competitive market. Do you like it?

E. T. Ford, Farm Bureau's Community Chairman, talked with Robert G. Schrauner, State ASC chairman, last Thursday night regarding cotton allotments in this area. According to Ford, Schrauner said that published rumors about 160,000 acre cuts in Texas cotton acreage were without official basis. He also said that the state committee will receive state allotment figures on October 25. Counties will receive their allotment figures about November 1, and the individual farmers will receive their allotments prior to December 15, the date of the referendum vote. The recent rumor of Farmer County's cotton acreage being cut 18 per cent was also named unofficial, but the minimum cut will be 7 per cent.

We are glad to note that the grain sorghum growers are beginning to consider other commodities when they figure proposals for sorghum supports. We would like to see them get together, though, on whether they want them made basic commodities or not. We don't believe they will, in the end. We really think Farm Bureau's proposal, outlined above, will give them what they want. That will be left up to the vote of the farm voters at the convention, of course.

Drive soberly and carefully. Remember that there are lots of farm wives and young people driving harvest trucks, and they are not accustomed to handling the heavy vehicles; this coupled with the five or six hundred additional vehicles on the roads during harvest, necessitates more care than usual.

CONSIDER THIS: Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways and be wise. (Proverbs 6:6).

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Fields plan to attend the general convention of Texas Baptists to be held in Houston at the Coliseum October 22-25.

"Holding Fort the Word of Life" will be the theme for the convention program.

Mrs. E. J. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wood Jr. sent the week end with the Weldon Dicksons and the Dean Halls.

Veteran Land Purchase to Resume

Earl Rudder, commissioner of the general land office, announced from Austin that the Veterans' Land Board would accept requests for application forms to purchase land through the Veterans' Land Program beginning Oct. 31, 1955.

Rudder stressed that all requests must be by mail. Requests received before Oct. 31, 1955, will not be honored, and will be returned.

Rudder continued that the requests received the five-day period of the first week, beginning Monday, October 31, will be placed in a locked box, and then be drawn and numbered. A limited number will be mailed application forms immediately. The remainder will be notified of their relative position. After that first week, requests for application forms will be numbered consecutively as received.

Rudder cautioned veterans on the following matters: (1) Old application forms will not be honored since entirely new forms have been written under the amended Veterans Land Act. These application forms can be obtained by written request to the Veterans' Land Board only.

(2) The veteran should not send checks or cash with the request for application forms.

(3) The veteran's request must clearly set out his mailing address.

(4) The veteran should have the tract selected which he wishes to purchase before requesting application forms, as veterans will have only 30 days from the date the forms are mailed from the Veterans' Land Board to complete and return them.

Rudder concluded his announcement saying, "This system which we will use is designed to eliminate accumulation of paper work, enable the veteran and seller to conduct their business promptly, and to secure efficient utilization of the Veterans' Land Board personnel."

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

AUSTIN, -- Texas public schools will get state aid this year whether integrated or segregated.

Right of both to state aid was upheld last week by the Texas Supreme Court. It says the U.S. Supreme Court decision overturns Texas' school segregation laws but does not force immediate integration.

Apparently the court action removed need for a special session of the legislature.

Litigation originated in Big Spring. Suit was brought by the Texas Citizens Council in district court to prevent payment of the state funds to mixed schools.

High court judges, in effect, upheld District Judge Charlie N. Sullivan's ruling that portions of state law requiring segregation are unconstitutional.

Gov. Allen Shivers was quick to point out that neither the state nor U. S. courts set a deadline for desegregation, but both leave it to the local school authorities.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd had sided with the citizens merely said the decision of the law in Texas on a "case by case" basis. He added that "nothing will be a 'district by district' matter."

Hospitals Move Forward

A priority list has been set up to use the remaining $10 million in the state hospital building program fund during the next two years.

On the day a new medical and surgical building was dedicated at the Austin State Hospital, the State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools decided on this order for new projects, by cities: Mexia, Wichita Falls, Austin, San Antonio and Abilene.

Two others, one in Austin, one in Harlingen, are under construction now.

Governor Shivers spoke at the dedication of the $1,312,000 medical-surgical hospital in Austin.

Narcotics Hearings Under Way
Texas has been labeled a "national gateway" for illegal narcotics trade from Mexico.

Witnesses so testified before U. S. Sen. Price Daniel's subcommittee in Austin.

Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison charged that Mexican authorities are not cooperating with Texas officers in trying to halt the flow of dope across the border. Garrison and W. E. Naylor, chief narcotics agent of the department, testified that 90 per cent of the heroin and 98 per cent of the marijuana reaching Texas or flowing through Texas, came from Mexico.

Daniel invited the Mexican secretary of state and the Mexican representative on the narcotics committee of the United Nations to attend hearings. They did not show up at Austin, however.

From Austin, hearings went to San Antonio, Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Judge Criticized, Supported

Judge Liliyd Davidson of the Court of Criminal Appeals has been the target for both verbal brickbats and bouquets.

Davidson, a new judge, tipped the scales in the court's two to one decision nullifying 104 Duval County indictments on grounds the grand jury was illegally constituted.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and Duval County District Atty. Sam Burris was sharply critical of the court's opinion. They announced plans to file a motion or re-hearing and said they were considering a motion to disqualify Davidson. He had "expressed himself" on the cases before they came before him as a judge, they contended.

Meanwhile, Hunt and Hopkins County Bar Associations sent telegrams affirming their faith in the integrity of Davidson and the court. Hunt lawyers expressed regret that "politicians have seen fit to abuse Judge Davidson."

Texas Farm Income Down

Texas farm income for the first eight months of the year dropped six per cent below 1954.

Decreases in prices of 10 of the 19 major farm commodities account for the slump, said the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Reported down were cotton, cottonseed, wheat, oats, flax, rice, calves, hogs, wool and poultry. Corn prices remained about the same. Increases were noted for grain sorghum, peanuts, cattle, sheep and lambs, mohair, eggs, milk and fruits and vegetables.

Though cotton prices are down prospective production is up. U. S. Department of Agriculture forecasts put the 1955 Texas crop at four million bales, 150,000 bales more than was expected a month ago. This would be two percent more than in 1954, 18 per cent above average.

Ramsey Choice Explained

Lt. Governor Ben Ramsey was chosen national Democratic Committeeman, at the suggestion of U. S. Senator Lyndon Johnson, the Senator explained.

The suggestion was made to Governor Shivers, when the latter paid a visit to the Senator at his ranch where he is recuperating from a heart attack.

Johnson explained that when Shivers returned to Austin, he mentioned the discussion to Ramsey. The Lieutenant Governor then called Johnson to talk over the matter. Ramsey said he was not asking for the job, but he would take it if it would help to solve a difficult situation.

Further discussion between Mr. Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn resulted in the choice which surprised many Texans.

SHORT SNORTS Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder, chairman of the Veterans Land Board, announced the board will resume loans to World War II veterans on Nov. 1. The board will have about $6 million available to service loans to an additional 1,000 veterans — Ralph Wolf, former Waco mayor, was named executive director of the State Building Commission, and steps have been started for construction of two $3 million state buildings in Austin. — Texas has dropped from 12th to 17th in national traffic safety ratings by states, according to the Texas Safety Association. — Texans entering the armed forces during September totaled 4,698, and 4,249 were separated.

Washington Views:

To the People of the 18th District
THE WORLD CONTINUES TO SHRINK

The aircraft industry has reduced the size of the world so much that global flights seem to be the order of the day. For instance, you leave Los Angeles, Calif., at 12 midnight, Sunday, and the next morning you land in Winnipeg, Canada, then take off for Greenland. Then, in one jump, you arrive in Copenhagen, Denmark. It is 9:15 Tuesday morning, and you have been half way around the world. All of the big airlines seem to be competing for this type of business — wholly forgetting that there are people who must get from Borger, Pampa, Dumas and other towns — over to Oklahoma City, Dallas, Fort Worth and over to Amarillo, Lubbock and like places. The planes are all being designed for the long hauls, and the market for the smaller feeder lines seems to be overlooked. One or two American companies are looking into this matter now, but the British and the Dutch are trying to get the jump. The British by the production of the new Vickers Viscount, some of which are already in use in the United States; and the Dutch by the production of the Fokker Friendship, which is fast reaching completion. Incidentally, the Fokker plant in Holland is 7 feet below sea level, as is the airport. I am afraid, however, that neither of these planes will meet the need of the United States for the feeder type plane to make flights of between 100 and 200 miles. If air travel is to be successful without government subsidies, the operation must be economically feasible by providing fares low enough for the people to be able to pay them. Otherwise, government subsidy must be continued or the feeder line service stopped. The type of plane needed in Europe will not meet the needs of the plane needed in the United States. The air traffic in Europe is expanding rapidly. The United States must not relax in this field. Much encouragement was exhibited by our delegates to the International Civil Aviation Organization convention which was held at The Hague. It might be well to mention that Russia and a number of satellites attended and participated in the proceedings. The delegates told me that their cooperation was excellent. There are many items concerning the international aviation problems with which I am not satisfied. I was happy to hear that the ICAO convention was held in a congenial and cooperative atmosphere, because I believe much can be accomplished through that medium.

THE HEALTH PROGRAMS

The health programs in the several Scandinavian countries and Holland vary in many respects, and I understand they all differ from the health program in England. However, all are definitely in the field of socialized medicine. Some have certain methods of permitting you to choose your own doctor and the State bearing the expense or a part thereof. Other plans provide for self-selection of family doctors, but not for specialists in hospitals. Hospital expenses are also taken care of by different methods. Most of the plans are highly complicated, but none seem to me to even begin to provide the effectiveness of the doctor-patient relationship that has always existed in the United States. All of the countries are vitally interested in the polio vaccine program. In fact, Denmark has made great strides in carrying out its program, perhaps the greatest in Europe. It is manufacturing vaccine and has not been able to get its program underway. However, present plans are moving along and the health authorities assured us that they would appreciate all possible cooperation from the United States. Their country has been hard hit for several years.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Under Arthur Flemming, Office of Defense Mobilization head, a special committee has started study on a matter which in these days of creeping internationalism in Washington is considered a problem.

Here's the problem. When government buys defense materials, how far shall foreign manufacturers be protected in underbidding and taking the business away from Americans?

In short time C. W. Harder ODM will buy $65 million worth of emergency standby heavy machine tools.

But despite fact every penny will be paid from taxes on American business, labor and agriculture, no one in authority seems able to determine if American business and labor should get any of the work.

In depression 30's, Buy American Act provided U.S. bidders be given preference on federal orders. No definite rule was set, but common practice was to award to U. S. low bidder unless foreign bid was at least 25% under.

But last December White House issued edict foreign bidders under lowest U. S. bidder by only 6% to 10% should get the business.

So now, as was done by Randall Commission seeking to wreck U.S. protective tariff laws, public will again be treated to edifying spectacle of a government committee trying to compare bananas with coconuts.

For some strange reason, in past few years official Washington seems to have been working mightily to disprove premise that 2 plus 2 equals 4.

Actually, many foreign firms should be able to underbid U. S. concerns up to as much as 50%.

By law, the lowest wage a U. S. supplier can pay even a janitor is almost twice as much as a British competitor must pay a skilled machinist, and about 5 times what a Japanese competitor pays a machinist.

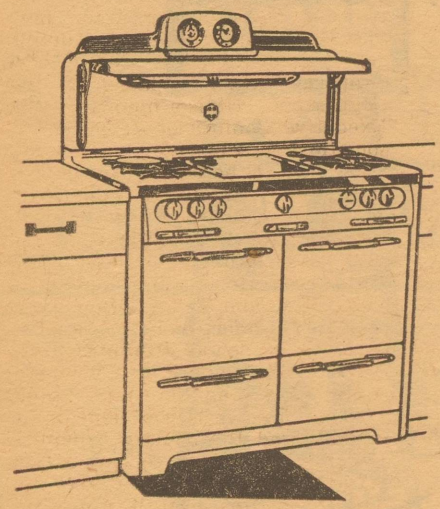

In addition, U. S. firms must under law pay for a lot of welfare trimmings such as social security and unemployment insurance, not to mention compensation insurance, local, state and federal taxes and other items.

It is comparable to one horse in a race carrying usual size jockey, another horse carrying a 300 pound rider.

Actually, present thought carried to logical conclusion should result in all U. S. military supplies being made by foreigners plus staffing armed forces in all ranks completely with lower priced foreigners.

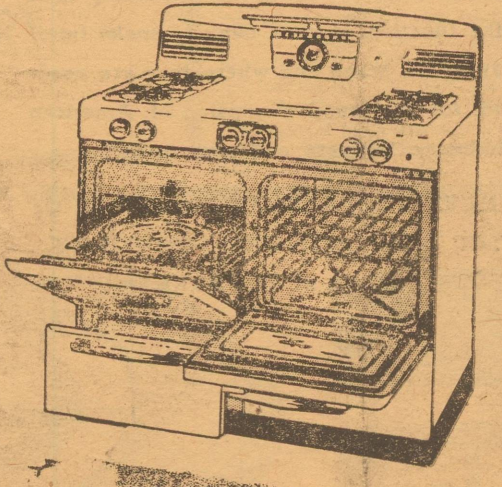

Although eventually sacked by barbarians, no one can accuse the Old Romans of inconsistency. Eventually when it came to matters of defense they went whole hog on the question of depending on foreign mercenaries.

Your grass and legume yield from permanent pasturing can be increased through pasture rotation. This type of pasturing has been greatly simplified with modern electric fences. The electric fence also permits you to take full advantage of temporary pastures, and it is equally as useful for permanent fencing.

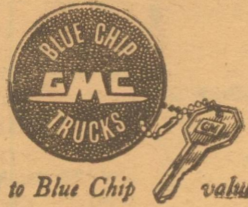

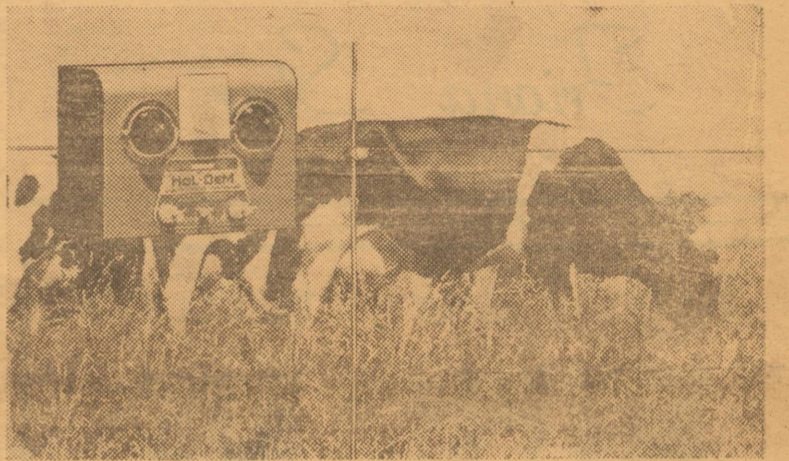

M. L. Simpson, Jr., Castro County, reports that his dairy cow pasture produces more profit than any of his crop land. His pasture layout consists of six units divided and fenced all the way around with an electric fence. The dairy cows pasture on one plot only four nights. This system allows the grasses and legumes in the pasture to maintain a high level of vitality that keeps them growing fast and discourages weed infestation. Mr. Simpson has set a record for top production from sixty-five acres of land.

The building of an electric fence is further simplified because the fence is an open circuit.

The wire leads from the controller to any number of dead ends; therefore, current for cross fencing may be taken from any point on the fence wire. The circuit is completed through the ground. For this reason your electric fencing equipment need consist of only one wire (for cattle), properly insulated posts and an adequately grounded fence controller.

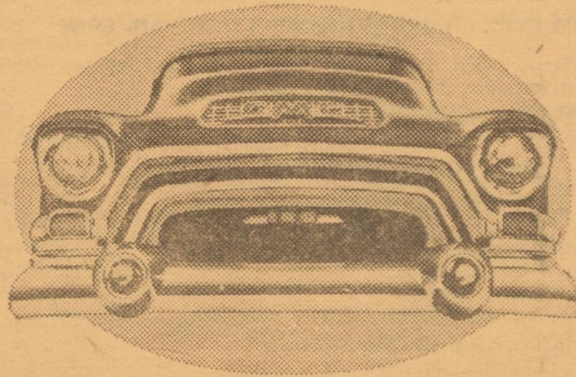

Experts caution not to use a home-made fence controller of any kind and to install approved units strictly according to the manufacturer's directions. An approved fence controller is designed to deliver only a small fraction of an ampere of electricity for a duration of a small fraction of a second. The current should be interrupted, on-and-off, with impulses carefully limited and spaced. A tested and approved controller makes your electric fence a safe, economical investment for your farm.

"My electric fence is inexpensive, easy to install and practical," says M. L. Simpson, Jr., Castro County, Texas. "I can take down and rebuild a fence for an entire pasture in a few hours because of the small amount of equipment that is needed. Iron posts are installed by merely pushing them into the ground by hand."

VETERANS ? Box

Q—I would like to go to France to study cooking under the Korean GI Bill at one of the world-famous restaurants. Would this be possible?

A—It would NOT be possible. Foreign training, under the Korean GI Bill, is limited only to VA-approved courses in colleges and universities.

Q—I am a service-disabled Korea veteran. Recently I was blinded in an industrial accident. Would I be entitled to VA aids for the blind, even though my loss of sight was not service-connected?

A—So long as you have a service-connected disability, you may be entitled to VA aids for the blind. Blindness itself does not need to be service-connected.

Q—I hold a World War II GI insurance policy. I have just been married, and I would like to change my beneficiary from my mother to my wife. Am I supposed to notify my mother of this change?

A—You have the right to change beneficiaries without notifying either the old or the new beneficiary. All you have to do is notify the VA district office that handles your insurance account.

Q—I am a Korea veteran with a 20 per cent disability rating. Would that automatically make me eligible for vocational rehabilitation training?

A—Not necessarily. In order to qualify, you must have a need for training to overcome the handicap caused by your disability.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Patterson were in Amarillo, Saturday night, attending a birthday party for their son-in-law, Mr. Bill Moore.

Grant Made to Texas Universities For Extensive Cancer Research Program

AUSTIN.—An institutional grant in the amount of $140,100 has been awarded to the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston by the American Cancer Society, Inc., as part of its nationwide research program. It was announced today by Travis T. Wallace of Dallas, president of the Society's Texas Division.

The new grant of funds covers research at the hospital and institute for the period September 1, 1955, through August 31, 1956. It is part of the more than $6,000,000 national research program voted recently by the society's executive committee in New York, Wallacendeavor, still remains the number two killer collected during the society's annual Cancer Crusade in April, Wallace said, is set aside for purposes of cancer research.

The M. D. Anderson grant is under the supervision of Dr. R. Leuenally and Clark, Jr., director of the hospital, and is for the ACS approved project entitled: "Factors Regulating Growth—a Hormonal, Radiobiological and Biochemical Study."

Twenty-five cents of every dollar of our citizens in the nation, killing 9,144 Texans last year. Research," Wallace pointed out, "holds the only key to conquering the dread disease. However, thousands of Texans are being saved under the supervision of Dr. R. Leuenally through our education and service programs which alerts each citizen to a knowledge of cancer, the importance of early diagnosis and adequate medical treatment, more than one-third more could be saved if more funds were available for intensification of our efforts."

Concerted Effort and Study Made By 3 State Agencies for Crime Prevention

Austin, (Special.)—Three state law enforcement organizations met in Austin, Saturday, and announced a ten-point program to enlist the aid of more Texas citizens in support of good law enforcement.

The Attorney General's Citizens Committee on Law Enforcement, the Texas Law Enforcement Foundation and the State Law Enforcement Advisory Council conferred four hours before announcing the new program.

Included are proposals "to focus public attention on the great cost of crime in wasted lives, violent deaths and property damage; to establish a new four-year college course on criminology; and to sponsor a 'Crimemobile' complete with the latest scientific crime-fighting devices, lie detector, ballistics equipment and fingerprint exhibits."

The Crimemobile will be available to all schools and Scout organizations.

Colonel Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety, is chairman of the advisory council which met with Foundation directors Saturday. Its members include the 15 presidents of State Peace Officer Associations.

Also present for the meeting was Attorney General John Ben Shepperd whose Citizens Committee on Law Enforcement suggested the original formation of the Foundation.

Other objectives of the Foundation include:

Publication of a monthly bulletin for law enforcement officials and interested citizens on crime prevention and control, and penology and court decisions.

Assistance to existing statewide peace officer and prosecutor training schools and the sponsoring of new local schools in cooperation with county and district attorneys.

A study of salary and other personnel problems of law enforcement officials with a view to enlisting citizens' support in correcting inequities and the payment of compensation in line with the constant personal risks involved.

Supplying guest lecturers or other needed assistance to Texas colleges and universities providing prosecutor or peace officer training.

Providing annual awards to outstanding law enforcement officials and lay citizens.

Establishing libraries on criminology for the use of peace officers and prosecutors and encouraging wider use of criminology materials in high school libraries.

Convincing more high school students of the advantages of a law enforcement career.

Cooperation with all branches of Civil Defense.

Street said today that the Foundation will start work immediately to implement its program.

"We feel that with the enthusiastic support and encouragement given us by the officials on the law enforcement advisory council, this program will be a significant force for better Texas law enforcement," Street said.

The meeting was held in the Austin headquarters of the Department of Public Safety.

'World's Most Dignified Beauty Contest' Designed to Select Plains Cotton Queen

LUBBOCK, Oct. 20. (Special.)—South Plains cotton industry leaders have begun their search this week for an attractive young woman who will be crowned 1955 South Plains Maid of Cotton and represent this area as one of the 20 finalists in the National Maid of Cotton contest in December.

The South Plains Maid of Cotton Committee, composed of cotton industry leaders, civic leaders, and Texas Tech College faculty, met last week to lay plans for this year's event. Raymond L. King of Lubbock Cotton Oil was named chairman to succeed Wayne Prather of West Texas Compress. Named vice-chairman was Charles Signor of Lubbock National Bank.

The committee set November 14 as the date for the local contest which will be held in Fair Park Coliseum. Last year's event drew 2,300 spectators and the 1955 committee hopes this year's attendance will break the 1954 record.

Officials of the contest, which has been called "the world's most dignified beauty contest" by the Associated Press, have received confirmation that again this year the South Plains Maid will be an automatic entry in the finals to be held in Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 28-29. All contestants for the South Plains Maid title, which offers an all-expense paid trip to Memphis and a glamorous cotton wardrobe among the prizes, must be between the ages of 19 and 25 inclusive, at least five feet five inches tall, never married and must have been born in a cotton-producing state. Contestants will be judged on the basis of personality, poise and intelligence, as well as appearance.

Entry blanks and details of the contest are available by writing to: South Plains Maid of Cotton Contest, P. O. Box 561, Lubbock, Texas, or by calling at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Last year's program attracted 30 girls from 15 different towns, who appeared before more than 2,300 persons at the contest finals.
