

Plans Set-up for Drought Relief Here

Dillinger Is Killed; Hamilton Escapes Pen

Two notorious occurrences took place in different parts of the country Sunday when John Dillinger, Number One Badman, was shot down in Chicago by fifteen department of justice officers and Raymond Hamilton with two other death-sentenced Texas prison convicts escaped daringly.

Federal agents had been on the trail of Dillinger for months and upon receipt of reliable information as to the bandit's whereabouts posted themselves in front of a Chicago theater. As Dillinger came out of the show with two women companions he was met by the fifteen crack marksmen who opened fire upon the desperado; he died a few minutes later.

Six prisoners of the "death house" at the Huntsville penitentiary attempted a break Sunday afternoon. As a final result, three escaped, two were injured and one killed. Raymond Hamilton, Joe Palmer, and Blackie Thompson were at large Monday.

The convicts had obtained three pistols with which they perfected their escape. When a guard brought their evening meal one of the sextette overpowered and disarmed him. Succeeding in getting to the prison wall the three escaped.

COMPLETES COURSE IN SCHOOL OF DRAMATICS

Miss Elizabeth Williams recently returned to her home here after being graduated from the Pearle Wallace Chappell School of Dramatics, at Dallas.

Miss Williams completed a special summer course under the individual direction of Mrs. Chappell which may be described as a normal course for teachers of dramatic expression. The study covered four weeks time.

Miss Williams plans to continue her work as an instructor of dramatics.

Demonstrators Meet; Discuss Clothing and Plan Clothes Exhibit

The clothing demonstrators from ten home demonstration clubs met Saturday, July 21, in the home demonstration agent's office for their first session.

At this meeting, each demonstrator took an inventory of the clothing on hand, and made plans for what is needed for an adequate and suitable wardrobe.

Plans were made for another meeting the second Saturday in September at which time each demonstrator will exhibit, "something from almost nothing."

Saturday Crowd Makes Audience for Speakers To Seek Local Support

TWO CANDIDATES HEARD

Two candidates for high office addressed the voters of this section who were among the customary Saturday afternoon crowd. A large number listened attentively to the messages of these two respective candidates, which came within fifteen minutes of each other. Few of the audience left during the lapse of time between the two speeches but retained their choice seats to get the benefit of what both had to say.

Tom L. Robinson, Gatesville, candidate for District Judge was the first to gather his audience at three o'clock on the east side of the courthouse lawn.

Mr. Robinson pointed to his record as district attorney, the office which he now holds, appealing to the voters to promote him to the judgeship "a custom in this district for the past thirty years." He placed emphasis on the necessity of cooperation between parents, teachers and officers in the fight against crime among the youth of this country. Mr. Robinson stated that he was not being endorsed by any one group but sought only the endorsement of the voting public of this district.

At four o'clock Hon. O. H. Cross, candidate for reelection to the United States Congress, was introduced by County Judge Rob't W. Brown. Mr. Cross devoted the first part of his address to the functions of Congress and his record as a member of that body, emphasizing the fact that it "takes years in Congress to be recognized on the floor of that house."

Mr. Cross appealed to his listeners to support a candidate who had stood behind the present administration and behind a man who is a loyal member of the Democratic party.

BOARD IS UP NOW—NEW NAMES ON IT

The familiar election board, it may be interesting to note, is up now and the job of painting the names on it has been left to Oliver Tatum. Many new names grace the board this year for the first time.

Contrary to the former location the election board has been moved to the south side of the courthouse steps on the east, instead of the north side, where it has been stationed during many elections of the past.

Lights across the top of the board will burn as customary.

Franks and Hix Defeat Kirkpatrick, Culberson In Tournament Finals

HALBROOK, WOMENS' CHAMP.

With one match on Friday and three on Saturday, the finals in the men's singles remain as the terminating contest of the City Tournament in which more than thirty entrants have engaged.

In the men's singles finals David Franks will meet Lloyd Neil Kirkpatrick. Franks won from Jack Bone in the semi-finals, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, and young Kirkpatrick defeated Jim Hix, 6-2, 7-5. The championship will be decided sometime this week.

Spectators on hand Saturday afternoon turned most of their attention to the doubles championship among the men, while on the other court two singles matches went off, in which Mamie Sue Halbrook defeated Mary Ella Schloeman, 6-3, 6-3, for the women's title and youthful Duncan Kirkpatrick won from Steve Lindley for the boys' singles crown, 6-4, 6-2.

In the main round, Jim Hix and David Franks defeated their younger adversaries, Lloyd Kirkpatrick and Dave Culberson, 9-7, 3-6, 8-6, 6-1, after splitting the first two sets. The former team managed to hold its own while the youngsters weakened in the third and fourth sets.

Estimate that 4,000 Votes May Be Polled In Coryell Balloting

4,386 POLL TAXES PAID

Drug store politicians have made varied prophesies as to the number of votes that will be cast in Coryell County in the Democratic Primary this year. If anyone should know as closely the number as anyone else it should be the candidates themselves.

Guesses as to the total vote to be cast range from 3,800 upward to 4,300. These estimates are based on any number of facts which should cut some figure in the balloting this year.

The fact is that there were 4,386 poll taxes paid this year as compared with 4,818 in 1932, in which election 4,380 votes were recorded.

The largest voting box in the county is Gatesville Ward 2, with 750 expected from that box in the forthcoming election, and Ward 1 second with 500. The third and fourth largest boxes are Copperas Cove and Oglesby with approximately 300 votes from each expected.

Audience Gathers in Shade of Courthouse Hears Maury Hughes

ATTENTIVE CROWD PRESENT

By Brack Curry

Maury Hughes of Dallas, former State Democratic Chairman and New Deal candidate for Governor, addressed a crowd of farmers and World War "buddies" here Friday morning on the courthouse lawn.

The speaker was introduced by Hon. T. R. Mears, local attorney.

The candidate dealt first with law enforcement, describing what is known as the Hughes Law Enforcement plan. He said he favored the establishment of a modern State police force, with a central law enforcement bureau and responsible head.

In speaking of the pardon system, Hughes said: "There is not enough political pull to get President Roosevelt to free Machine Gun Kelly and there should not be enough to persuade the Governor of Texas to pardon hardened criminals."

The second part of his address was devoted to taxation. Mr. Hughes said he favored a tax on all intangible assets, such as

Tom McKinney Makes Final Appeal to the Voters of Precinct 1

POINTS TO EXPERIENCE

To the voters of precinct No. One Coryell County:

In the closing hours of the campaign I wish to thank my many friends for the courtesy shown me in my candidacy for Constable of this precinct. Owing to my farming interest I have failed to meet many of the voters of the precinct and this is a personal appeal to all the voters and especially those I have failed to see for your vote and influence in the coming primary next Saturday.

I am not without experience as a peace officer as I served as Constable of precinct No. 8 Coryell County. I was a special ranger for 2 years and I feel that this thoroughly equips me for the office of Constable. If elected I promise you a faithful, honest performance of the duties of this office. Any support that you may see fit to give me I assure you will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,
Tom J. McKinney.

There has been established at the courthouse in Gatesville an affair where applications for emergency feed loans will be received, according to announcement of J. M. Johnson Jr., field supervisor.

This loan will apply to farmers and stock men for the purchase of feed for farm and range livestock and to plant forage crops in Coryell which has been designated in the emergency drought area. Walter Moore, who had charge of the Farm Loans last Spring is to have charge of this program. There will be a committee to pass on all applications.

In discussing the regulations, the field supervisor pointed out that applications can be accepted only from applicants who have no means or other sources of credit enabling them to undertake the production of a forage crop or to purchase feed for livestock.

Loans will be advanced in monthly installments, with a supplementary application necessary for each month's requirement.

If there exists any liens against stock owned by applicants, the lien holder must agree to take no steps to enforce payment or collection by foreclosure of lien against stock or dispossess him of said property before January 1, 1935.

Each application must be submitted to the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Committee for approval.

SOME FOLK WONDER ABOUT VOTING RIGHT

Local people who are in a quandry as to whether they shall be entitled to vote or not might note several facts that determine the question.

All white citizens are entitled the right to vote in the Democratic Primary who have paid their poll tax. All those sixty years old and over January 1, 1933 may vote without tax receipts, or if they were under twenty-one on that date and have since become 21.

One who is 60 since January 1, 1933, must have paid a poll tax in order to vote as the 1933 tax receipt is used for voting.

Persons who were under 21 on January 1, 1933 but are now 22 may vote without poll tax receipts. Persons who have become 21 since January 1, 1933 may also vote.

In the first half of 1934, 265 new oil wells were drilled in California fields compared with 199 for the same period of 1933.

EDITORIALS IN BRIEF

If endurance is a potential asset, great progress should be expected from Maury Hughes, candidate for Governor of Texas. Mr. Hughes will make fifty political speeches from last Friday until Saturday, (this week). The prominent Texas party leader addressed a very attentive audience on the west side of the courthouse Friday morning. Before he had finished the sun had crept across the courthouse dome and was shining down on the gathering, but the speaker had to mention the fact before the people really knew they were smelting, so interested were they in what Mr. Hughes had to say. Maury Hughes may say without boasting that he swung some several votes in Gatesville Friday morning. His address was appreciated and highly informatory.

We have noticed for some time the name of Hon. Fred B. Robinson, of Waco, among the political aspirants in the Waco newspapers. Mr. Robinson is seeking the office of Flotrial Representative. We wish that the News could help elect this man to the office which he seeks. He has for years edited a newspaper column entitled "With the Texas Press" and it has been the good fortune of the News to be publicized in Mr. Robinson's column on several occasions which we consider a compliment, coming from a man like Mr. Robinson, who has kept up with newspapers all over Texas for many years.

Hamilton is living up to that city's reputation as usual. Plans are already underway there to promote a County Fair in October. At a meeting last Wednesday the citizens of that vicinity pledged their whole-hearted support to the Fair and united efforts towards its success. Committees are already at work on the inter-community enterprise. Booths for the exhibition of products from every community in Hamilton County will be provided in the Fair. Nominal prizes will be given for the best displays among these agricultural exhibits. Despite existing conditions and the present drought, the citizens of Hamilton County are not to be outdone. Although it may not be an elaborate affair, those who attend may expect to find a worthwhile community project in the Hamilton County Fair.

The visit of R.H. Ziehm, national Red Cross representative, to Gatesville was most timely. In a meeting of local Red Cross executives on Monday night Mr. Ziehm recommended that a life-preserver be provided for the city swimming pool for use in emergency cases. City officials took up the suggestion, passed on it and decided to order one immediately. Two days later a small child barely escaped being the victim of drowning. The addition of a life-preserver to the swimming pool equipment will satisfy a great need even though it may never be used, and we hope that its use will never be necessary.

With the weather growing warmer and things getting hotter in general the strike tendency has moved farther north, fro mSanFrancisco to Portland, for the summer.

One fellow said he had washed his car every day for the past week remembering that during the winter every time he washed the fliver it was certain to rain.

STUMPIN' THE STATE

WITH THE SPECTATOR

Editor's Note.—This column is published by the News as a news feature because of the interesting comments of this writer upon politics. The views expressed are those of the writer and should not be interpreted as reflecting the editorial opinions of this newspaper.

It is of the utmost importance that the voters send a man to Washington who is qualified to represent a state whose interests are as varied as those of Texas. In only four more days the voters will have to choose between the two leading contenders for the office of United States Senator, Tom Connally, the incumbent, and Joseph W. Bailey Jr., the challenger. In order to acquaint our readers with the lives, previous experience and qualifications of these gentlemen, we are glad to print the following: (The two candidates will be discussed in the order in which they appear on the Coryell county ballot.)

TOM CONNALLY was born in McLennan county near Eddy fifty-seven years ago next Aug. 19 and attended the public schools there. He received a degree at Baylor University in 1896 and entered the Law department of the University of Texas. He fought in the Spanish-American War and in the World War, leaving his seat in Congress to enter the army. He is a member of the Interparliamentary Union.

Connally, previous to his election to the Senate, had served two terms as county attorney of Falls county, two terms as a State representative from Falls county, and five terms in the lower house of Congress.

Senator Connally defeated Earle B. Mayfield in the run-off primary of 1928 for the office of junior United States Senator from Texas.

Senator Connally, proclaiming his record his platform, returned home late in June and has been discussing that record before the voters, stressing his support of the Roosevelt administration.

JOSEPH WELDON BAILEY JR. was born in Gainesville, Dec. 15, 1892, and was educated in the public schools there. Later he attended Lawrenceville Academy at Princetown, N. J., in preparation for college work and was graduated at Princeton University in 1915 while his father, then retired from the United States Senate, was practicing law in Washington. He entered the University of Virginia but the course was interrupted by the United States' participation in the World War. He came back from France a first lieutenant and returned to the University of Virginia, where he received his law degree in 1920.

He returned to Texas and joined the law firm of Bailey and Nickles. In 1923, the friends of Bailey insisted that he enter the race for Representative-at-Large. He emerged from the first primary to make the run-off with the veteran campaigner, J. H. (Cyclone) Davis. Davis, an ardent dry, lost to the youthful aspirant, who was outspokenly wet.

His friends have consistently exhorted him to aspire to higher office, Governor or Senator. Finally, his warmest supporters decided that he should make the race for Senator and he announced.

Mr. Bailey campaigned throughout the State in 1933 for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Bailey, well biked in Washington and Texas, has been attacking the Connally record and has told the voters that the two stand equal in support of the administration.

Stockburger Makes
Last Minute Appeal
To Voters of Coryell

To the People of Coryell County:

As a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Public Instruction, I have presented my candidacy to you for a careful consideration. My educational training in the public schools, The North Texas State Teacher's College and The University of Texas, and my wide range of teaching experience in the public schools of Coryell county and Central Texas causes me to believe that I am qualified to serve you in the capacity of this office if you see fit to bestow this honor upon me.

I will not attempt to outline or discuss any phase of the educational problems that confront the American people of today. My entire life and a major portion of my teaching is an open record before the good people of Coryell county.

In the closing days of my campaign I realize that it has been an impossibility for me to see each and every one of you and make a personal solicitation of your vote and influence. I, therefore, take this method of asking you for a careful consideration when you cast your ballot for County Superintendent, assuring you that if elected I will do my best to serve you in such a manner that you will have no regret of casting your ballot for me.

Yours respectfully,

W. D. Stockburger,
Candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Flentge Seeks Support
Of Voters Who Desire
Fearless Prosecution

Last January I announced for the office of District Attorney and owing to the size of the district it has been impossible for me to see each voter personally. In the event I have not seen you kindly consider this a personal solicitation for your vote.

To all of you that believe in a fair and impartial investigation of all offenses; in a candid opinion to the Grand Jury as to the sufficiency of the facts in order to save needless expense; in prosecution of all the laws but not in persecution and in the doctrine that it is as much the duty of the District Attorney to protect the innocent as prosecute the guilty, I earnestly solicit your vote because upon these principles I have based my candidacy.

If it is possible for you to support your home County candidate upon the above principles and upon a pledge of fearless prosecution of all offenses, I will greatly appreciate your support.

Thanking you for any consideration shown, I am

Civil Service Exams For Gov't Engineers

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced open competitive examinations as follows:

Chief engineering draftsman, $2,600; principal engineering draftsman, $2,300; senior engineering draftsman, $2,000, and engineering draftsman, $1,800 a year, for work on ships. Optional branches are (1) ship piping, (2) ship ventilation, (3) marine engines and boilers, and (4) electrical (ship). Closing date, August 10, 1934.

The salaries named are subject to a deduction of not to exceed 5 per cent during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, as a measure of economy, and also to a deduction of 3 1/2 per cent toward a retirement annuity.

All States except Iowa, Vermont, Virginia, Maryland, and the District of Columbia have received less than their quota of appointments in the apportioned department service in Washington, D. C.

Full information may be obtained from E. C. Farmer, Gatesville, Secretary of the United States Civil Service Board of Examiners, at the post office in this city.

A Final Word to the Voters From
J. Y. Hamilton

I had hoped to visit each home and see each voter personally, but I know there are many I have missed in spite of my best efforts, but whether I have seen you or not I want you to know that I will greatly appreciate your support in my ambition to be your next sheriff.

For several years I was deputy under the late Sheriff W. W. Hollingsworth, have also served under Sheriff Mack Morgan of Hamilton, and believe that my knowledge of the duties of a sheriff, together with my ambition to render my native county a service, justifies me in seeking this office.

If elected sheriff of Coryell county I pledge my best efforts to see that the law is enforced and that the business of the sheriff's office is carried on in a business like manner. It will be my purpose to so conduct myself that none will ever have cause to regret giving me their vote and influence.

I sincerely thank my friends for their help and encouragement in this campaign. While I certainly hold no ill will toward anyone for supporting other candidates in this race, I assure each and every voter that I will deeply appreciate anything you do for me, and will try to repay you by making the best sheriff possible.

Sincerely yours,

J. Y. Hamilton

Mike Coleman Thanks Voters for Courtesy During His Campaign

To the Voters of Coryell County: I wish to take this opportunity to thank the people of Coryell County for the courtesy that they have shown me during my campaign for County Superintendent. I have not been able to meet all the voters of the county, but I hope that you will consider this a personal solicitation of your vote and influence.

To you who do not know of my character and qualifications for filling this office I take pleasure in referring you to my neighbors who have known me from boyhood. I am willing to leave the verdict with them.

I believe that my experience and training have given me first hand information concerning the many problems that confront our rural schools. I received my elementary education in the rural schools of this county; my Bachelor of Science degree from the North Texas State Teachers College; and have completed more hours of graduate work in the University of Texas and in the University of Colorado than are required for my Master Degree. I have had much experience in school administration which will enable me to render efficient service as supervisor of the rural schools of our county.

My teaching experience ranges from the principalship of rural schools in Coryell and adjoining counties to the principalship of a twelve year accredited high school under the North Central Association, and I believe that this experience has given me a broad view of your school problems.

I am a young man interested in advancing in the educational world and I am seeking the County Superintendent's office with this view in mind. I have never before asked the people for a public office, and I am doing so under the belief that the only way a man can advance in any profession is by rendering superior service. I believe that with my educational attainments and my experience in solving the many problems that have confronted me in dealing with the public and in making my way in the world since a mere boy will enable me to render efficient service as your County Superintendent.

My conception of education is that it is a preparation for service. I fully believe that if the future citizenship of this county is to be prosperous and happy we must provide equal educational opportunities for all of our boys and girls regardless of their financial status.

There is a crying need for efficient men in so many occupations, that the school has been required to fashion its instruction and alter its methods to comply with these demands. The world demands knowledge, skill, and performance of important acts, character that shows itself in influence, habits and ideals.

If elected your County Superintendent I shall foster a school program which will build sturdy citizens of tomorrow.

Sincerely yours,
M. J. (Mike) Coleman.

TOM L. ROBINSON

In line for District Judge. Tried out with twelve years experience as a District Officer. Has the distinction of being the only District Attorney to serve his district for the third term. He has made good as District Clerk and County Attorney of his home county, as District Court Reporter and District Attorney. His legal training under three able District Judges and his eighteen years of actual experience as a practicing attorney in both civil and criminal cases fully qualifies him to render to the district that service which the citizenship have a right to expect. He knows the district and it's needs and has the confidence of the citizenship as a man and as a Christian gentleman. He is a friend to the young people, patient and ever ready to point out the right to them. His past service and his candidacy is endorsed by the people and when elected District Judge he will serve the people, as well as the attorneys, efficiently, courteously, fairly and impartially. He is frank, temperate and energetic and believes in practicing what you preach. His life and public record is an open book to the citizenship. He has the courage to say "No" as well as "Yes." He has advanced step by step and deserves promotion to District Judge which has been accorded other District Attorneys for nearly thirty years. His friends of Coryell county present his candidacy for your consideration and assure you that your vote and influence in his behalf will be appreciated and that he will repay you by honest and efficient service as your District Judge.

FOR SHERIFF

I do not appeal to the voters of Coryell county for their support and influence because I am at present farming; I do not ask your support because I have viewed the far western world of China, Japan and the South Sea Islands through the portholes of Uncle Sam's battleships back in 1910 and 1912 and spent 4 years of my life facing the blizzards of the frozen North, the Klondikes of Alaska. Those were my own wishes, and I am not asking the voters, the American Legion, and the ex-service men to endorse me because I am the only ex-service man in the sheriff's race and served my country and you during the World War of 1918. I have rubbed elbows with people of almost every class and nationality under the sun. Only upon my own merits do I ask you for your support and influence. Just the same fair consideration that each precinct, county, and district candidate is asking for.

If I should be your choice I feel that I am fully qualified, and will keep in mind that I am your servant and was elected to be your peace officer and peacemaker.

Respectfully,

G. B. FLETCHER

Joe White Points to Experience As Deputy Among Qualifications

I have served several years as deputy sheriff in Coryell County, under the late W. W. Hollingsworth.

For the past 12 months I have been first deputy sheriff, making my home at the jail, and attending to much of the business of the sheriff's office in person.

W. W. Hollingsworth was my friend, and working under him, I did not desire to run against him, and therefore did not announce for the office until several days after his death.

Announcing late and feeling that the duties of the office came first, it has been impossible for me to see all the voters in this county.

I therefore take this method of soliciting your support. I feel that the experience that I have had while serving as deputy sheriff will better qualify me to carry on the work as sheriff.

Any favors shown me will be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully,

JOE WHITE

Mrs. and Mrs. Roberts Celebrate 32nd. Anniversary.

On last Wednesday, friends and relatives surprised Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Roberts with a dinner celebrating their 32nd wedding anniversary.

The guests met at the home about 10:00 o'clock a. m. and motored to the Crossing at Plum Creek, where they enjoyed a bountiful dinner.

The afternoon was spent enjoying swims in the creek, playing games and watermelon feasts.

The guests left about 6:00 o'clock, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Roberts many more happy anniversaries.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Alford and daughter, Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Roberts and baby, Virginia Marie, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Woodlock and son, Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Marian Huckabee and Mr. N. F. Roberts.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Walley, who has been visiting Miss Dorothy Jones in Granbury, has returned home. Dorothy returned with her for several days stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Neely of Fort Worth came Thursday to attend the funeral of their father, Mr. R. J. Brown. Mrs. Neely and Mrs. Miller remained over for several days stay with their mother.

Delicious grape juice has been made from mustang grapes by Mrs. Sam Hinson, pantry cooperator of the Antelope home demonstration club. She exhibited a bottle of her grape juice at the meeting of the home demonstration club women in the home demonstration agent's office Saturday. Her recipe follows:

Heat grapes to 160 degrees, press for juice. Use 2 lbs. sugar syrup for every gallon of juice. Add sugar syrup to juice and pasturize at 180 degrees for 30 minutes. If the temperature goes above 180 (simmering) the natural flavor of the product will be spoiled.

The whites of eggs may be used to settle out tartrates. The whites of three eggs for one gallon of juice when stirred for a few minutes will cause most of the tartrates to settle out, and the product can be sponged off and bottled with very little settling taking place, therefore. Bottle while at the temperature of 180 degrees.

notes, bonds, and certificates of indebtedness. He claimed that a registration tax on these and intoxicating liquor would bring the State an additional $10,000,000 revenue.

Concerning his advocacy of repeal he said: "Prohibition deprived us of a good source of revenue. If repeal is accomplished, the State will have a new income from between five and six million dollars per annum.

"Nevertheless," he continued, "I am against the open saloon and am for strict regulatory legislation under a bond and license system. I am for repeal but I favor local option and local self government as to this."

Mr. Hughes placed great stress on his old-age pension plan. "I believe any citizen who has reached the age of sixty-five and is devoid of means of support is entitled to a pension of fifteen to twenty dollars a month for the remainder of his or her life."

Mr. Hughes pledged that if elected he would put the full power and strength of the Governor's office behind the President's recovery program.

Many newspapers, he declared, were saying that the "pat" on the back" given him by the president's adviser Mr. Raymond Moley in his magazine "Today" was the unofficial endorsement of the administration.

He concluded by saying that thousands of voters from all over the State were swinging to him from other candidates as they did recently in the Oklahoma primary when the New Deal candidate was elected in the first primary.

Copperas Cove Holds Election of Officers For Reorganized C. C.

The Chamber of Commerce was reorganized Tuesday evening with twenty-two members and two visitors present. Herbert Schneider was elected president; W. R. Goodson, vice-president; Bess Smylie, secretary; Byron Gilmore, treasurer.

A big and better Copperas Cove is the aim of the new organization, and if everyone works together there is no limit to what the organization can do for our town.

The third Tuesday in each month has been set for the regular meeting date, with the third Tuesday in July for the annual meeting. The next meeting date is August 21 at 8:15 in the hotel lobby.

A committee of three was appointed to work with the farmers and the Commissioner in getting the cotton checks brought to Copperas Cove, instead of some two hundred farmers having to go to Gatesville for them.

Everyone seemed interested, and willing to back the organization to the limit. With this bunch of business men working, Copperas Cove is going to get back on the map.—Copperas Cove Crony.

A MESSAGE TO VOTERS OF PRECINCT ONE

To the Voters of Precinct No. 1:

In the closing hours of the campaign, I wish to thank my many friends for the courtesies shown me during the campaign. I have not had the pleasure of meeting all the voters and make a personal solicitation to those I have failed to meet for your vote and influence. I am running on my qualifications and past experience in this office and if elected I promise you a faithful and efficient administration and badly need what the office pays.

Gratefully yours,

W. T. Caruth.

THE STORY

CHAPTER II.—At the little settlement of Green River, Hays gets into an argument with a gambler called Stud, over a poker game. Wall saves Hank's life by bluffing the gambler out of shooting. With Hays and two other rustlers, Happy Jack and Lincoln, Jim Wall starts out for Herrick's ranch. In camp, the first night out, Jim regrets the step he has taken, but it is too late to turn back.

CHAPTER III.—The four men arrive at the ranch. Herrick announces that his sister, Helen, is coming to the ranch. Hays unfolds his plan for getting possession of the 12,000 head of live stock on the Herrick ranch. He and his lieutenants ride away to drive off the first bunch of cattle. Jim remains behind to shoot it out, if necessary, with Heeseman, Hays' rival among the cattle rustlers. Jim sees a dust cloud, which he is certain denotes the arrival of Heeseman and his gang. He stands with rifle ready.

Jack rabbits were as thick as bees. The cowboys led the dogs, which soon became unmanageable and bolted. Then the race was on. Where the ground was level and unobstructed by brush or cut up by washes, Herrick did fairly well as to horsemanship, but in rough going he could not keep to the English saddle. He would put his horse at anything and he had a jarring fall.

Notwithstanding this, Herrick finished out the hunt. He was funny, and queer, but he was game, and Jim liked him. On the way back Jim amused the Englishman by shooting jack rabbits with his revolver. He managed to kill three out of five to Herrick's infinite astonishment and admiration.

"By Jove! I never saw such marksmanship," he ejaculated. "That was really poor shooting." "Indeed. What would you call good shooting, may I ask?"

"Well, riding by a post and putting five bullets into it. Or splitting the edge of a card at twenty feet."

"Let me see your gun?" Jim Wall broke his rule when he handed it over, butt first.

Herrick looked at it with mingled feelings. "Why, there's no trigger!" he exclaimed, in utter astonishment.

"I do not use a trigger." "Thunderation, man! How do you make the pistol go off?"

"Look here. Let me show you," said Jim, taking the gun. "I thumb the hammer . . . like that."

"By Jove!—But please explain." "Mr. Herrick, the cocking of a gun and pulling the trigger require twice as much time as thumbing. For example, supposing the eyesight and the draw of two men are equal, the one who thumbs his hammer will kill the other."

"Ah—Er—Yes. I see. Most extraordinary. Your American West is quite bewildering. Is this thumbing a common practice among you desperadoes?"

"Very uncommon. So uncommon that I'll be obliged if you will keep it to yourself."

"Oh!—Yes, by Jove! I see. Ha! ha! ha! I grasp the point. . . . Wall, you're a comforting fellow to have round the place."

Herrick was evidently a free, careless, impressive man who had been used to fulfilling his desires. His eccentricity was not apparent, except in the fact of his presence there in wild Utah. He liked horses, dogs, guns, the outdoors, physical effort. But he had no conception whatever of his remarkable situation in this unsettled country.

When they arrived at the barn he asked Jim to ride up to the house, where they would look over some English guns.

The big living room had three windowed sides and was bizarre and strange to Jim, though attractive. Herrick had brought with him a quantity of rugs, skins, pictures, and weapons.

The heavy English guns earned Jim's solemn shake of head. "No good at all here, Mr. Herrick. Not even for grizzly. Get a forty-four."

"Thank you. I shall do so. I'm fond of the chase."

Herrick had his desk near a window, and upon it, standing out in relief from books, papers, ornaments, was a framed picture of a beautiful, fair-haired, young woman. The cast of her features resembled Herrick's. That was a portrait of his sister.

Jim carried a vision of Helen Herrick's picture in his mind as he rode back down the bench. And he cursed the predicament into which he had allowed himself to become inveigled.

"I'll have to stick it out," he muttered, that fair face and shining hair before his inward eye. "I might have chucked this outfit."

"I'll have to hoof it up to see the boss tonight," Hays said, after finishing the late supper. "Put me wise to what's come off in my absence."

"We've had no sign of Smoky's outfit. So we don't know where his camp is."

"I do. Good place an' out of sight. I gave Smoky orders to pack supplies back from Grand Junction every trip."

"Hank, reckon you're figgerin' up a long hole-up somewheres," said Happy Jack, with a grin.

"Have you run into Heeseman?" went on Hays, ignoring Jack's hint.

"Yes. He called on us," replied Jim, casually.

"Humph! I don't savvy that dodge. It's no good. Heeseman is the slickest customer in Utah. Just tryin' to scrape acquaintance, eh?"

"I think so. It struck me that he might be wanting to throw his outfit with yours."

"Ahuh. I had that hunch. It might well be," replied Hays, meditatively.

"Herrick took me up to see his guns," went on Jim, easily, with furtive eyes on Hays. "Have you seen them?"

"Yes. Funny lot of knickknacks. There's one thing I'm goin' to own, though."

Jim laughed. He did not need to ask any more. Suddenly then a tigerish sensation shot through his vitals. It was like an unexpected attack.

"I'd like to own all that stuff," he said carelessly.

Three days of genuine labor around the ranch followed. But on the fourth day, Herrick approached Jim.

"Wall, I want you to go to Grand Junction tomorrow after my sister," he said. "Take the cowboy Barnes with you. His home is in Grand Junction. Have him hitch the black team to the buckboard and start the biggest of your life. And you risk angering Herrick at this stage."

Hays puffed his pipe. He was beaten.

"Wal," he said, finally. "I reckon mebbe you're right, Jim. Only it didn't seem so."

By sunrise next day Jim Wall was on his way to Grand Junction. Young Barnes, the cowboy, had his hands full with the spirited team.

Presently Jim's ever-watchful eyes caught dust far ahead, and dots of riders getting off the road into the cedar thickets. They would be Smoky's outfit, Jim calculated, and gave them credit for seeing the buckboard first. They did not appear again, and Jim knew they were hiding on their way back to Star ranch.

At four o'clock they drove into Grand Junction, which was considerably larger and busier than Green River.

"Barnes, here we are," said Jim. "This is a metropolis, compared to Green River."

"Fust I've been home for long," rejoined Barnes. "I'll take care of the team at my paw's."

After supper Jim turned in. Awakening early he got up and leisurely shaved and dressed, pay early.

"Boss, I reckon I'll go along with Wall," Hays said, coolly.

"Hays, I did not ask your services," returned Herrick. "You are needed here." His tone as much as his words settled the matter.

Jim purposely delayed his hour of quitting, in order to avoid Hays.

After supper Hays lighted his pipe. Then, without facing Jim, he said:

"Jim, had the boss mentioned this here trip before?"

"No. I was as surprised as you."

"Wal, suppose you make some excuse an' let me go instead?"

"But Herrick won't like that, Hays," protested Jim. "He turned down your proposal cold."

"Shore. He did. D—n funny, I take thet, too. But if you wouldn't or couldn't go, I'd be next choice."

"Hays, you surprise me. Here you are on the eve of a big deal—ing more than usual attention to his appearance. He was there to escort an English girl fifty miles across the wilderness to Star ranch. One thing he was sure of, and that was that it would be vastly better for Miss Herrick than if Hank Hays had been sent. Suddenly this fact struck Jim as singular. Was he any better than Hank Hays? (To be continued next Friday)

Commission

Seeks Re-election
Second
Full Term

The following groups will support His candidacy for re-election to a second full term:

Labor, because this organization has ever received just and fair consideration from his official acts as State Senator and Railroad Commissioner.

Cattlemen, goat and sheep raisers, because of rates obtaining on cattle, wool and mohair shipments and removal of differentials.

Cotton growers, ginners and compress operators, because of Commission orders helpful to them.

Grain growers, shippers and millers, because of fair rates and removal of differentials in the grain belt.

Land owners, lease holders, legitimate operators, producers and refineries in the oil industry because of the service rendered in an effort to protect this great industry.

Transportation agencies, railroads, motor buses, motor trucks, because they have received a square deal at his hands.

Gas consumers throughout the state because of efforts to procure cheap gas rates.

Our women because of his record in support of their just claims for equal suffrage when he was a member of the State Senate.

During the thirteen years, not twenty-five as his opponents would have you believe, he has held state office only by a vote of the people, and has not during that time taken a vacation.

He does not ask for the suffrage of the Democrats of Texas as an untried neophyte. His thirteen years in state office have ripened into labors of experience which qualify him for greater and more efficient service.

He makes no promises other than his motto indicates.

Fair Bathers Take Shower

On a warm afternoon a half dozen beauties from Neptune Follies at the new World's Fair slip away to enjoy the cooling spray of a shower in the largest bath tub in the world at the Crane & Company exhibit. They seem too happy to notice that their play is being laughingly overseen by men who peep at them through the glass window that forms a part of the side of the tub. But, after all, they are more or less on exhibition, and they did not tremble at public gaze.

Baptists	4	2	.666
Firemen	3	2	.500
Roundtable	1	3	.250

FRIDAY'S RESULTS

Baptists 5 vs. Fire Boys 3. Batteries: Baptists, Blanton and Kirby; Fire Boys, Alvis and Miller.

SCHEDULE

Wednesday, July 25.

Methodists vs. Baptists. Roundtable vs. Fire Boys.

SOFTBALL SYMPTOMS

By TEDDY

The Baptists made another step toward their goal Friday night, defeating the Firemen 5 to 3. These churchmen have shown more improvement this division than any team in the league. Blanton has a bunch of "kids" that he can make hustle.

Methodists Withdraw

The Methodists crew withdrew from the league Friday. They did have a good team until the rule that the first game of each night had to start at 8:15 P. M. On Friday Arnold immediately signed-up Joe Powell, Methodists hurler, and the Roundtable was managing to make a Bachelor out of Oscar Gloff and Sheeter Shephard, when another team was permitted to enter the league the efforts of both Arnold and the Roundtable "blew-up". No player that has signed-up with the Methodists can play with any team but the team that has just been formed. The manager has not been announced, but will appear in the next issue of the News.

—MY—DOPE—

Wednesday—The Firemen will defeat the Bachelors by several runs.

The Baptists will make another step toward their goal by giving the new Methodists team their first licking.

Earl Huddleston Seeks Second-Term Reelection As State Representative

During the one term which I have served the people of Coryell and Hamilton counties as your Representative I have endeavored to keep the promise which I made the people before elected that I would, as a member of the legislature, stand for an honest and economical administration of our State Government and also that I would stay on the job and try to represent not just a special few but every person in my District. I have at all times sought to know the will of the people of our District so that I might serve them.

I want to take this method of soliciting the support of the citizens of Coryell and Hamilton counties in my effort to be elected for a second term. I

A trench silo proved very profitable to H. F. Reist, Brooks county dairyman, because without it his feed would have been lost, due to the heavy rains last year. Mr. Reist has the only trench silo so far constructed in Brooks county, but a number of dairyman are so impressed by his savings that they will follow his example this summer.

assure each of you even though it may be that I have not had the pleasure of seeing you personally that your vote and influence in my behalf will always be remembered by me.

If elected your Representative a second term I assure you one and all that I will serve you to the best of my ability.

Sincerely,

Earl Huddleston.

A Word to the Voters

FROM

MARVIN E. FLETCHER

In closing my campaign for the office of county clerk, I take this method of soliciting the vote and influence of those I have been unable to see personally.

I am 33 years of age, have a wife and two children, was born and reared in Coryell county and have spent most of my life here.

My opponent has served sixteen years in this office, (6 years as deputy and 10 years as clerk). I have never asked for or held a public office, but believe that my nine years of experience in general office work has fully qualified me to keep accounts and records of the county.

I wish to express my thanks for the many favors shown me, and will appreciate a good word to your friends in my behalf, and if elected, I promise an efficient courteous administrator.

Respectfully,

Marvin E. Fletcher

Bankhead Forms Now On Hand; Plans Made To Begin Work Soon

Although all the necessary forms for making applications under the bankhead law have been received by the County Agent some detailed instructions have not been received and further notice will be made through the newspapers exactly when the receiving of applications will start. Each committeeman for the respective district as outlined below will be stationed at a central point in his district and will receive applications for the bankhead allotment. Each farm must have an application for allotment under the bankhead law made for it by either the producer or the landlord and any failure to make application would cause a tax on all the cotton produced on that farm. Announcement in the papers will be made when the work of receiving applications for allotment starts.

Contract signers will have their five year record of acreage and production copied onto the application from the 1934-35 Adjustment Contract. Non-signers must before placing their application present to the local committeeman the exact record for each year since 1927 for the farm on which cotton was raised this year. This record must include the acreage, number of bales, and weights of bales produced for each year of the years 1928 to 1933 inclusive. This will be much the same type of record as the contract signers were required to submit. Complete cooperation is necessary on the part of all signers and non-signers in securing the nearest and most accurate records of past acreage and production as possible.

In order that the County Committee in recommending the bankhead allotments to signers and non-signers, may meet out as near perfect fairness to all and because of the tremendous responsibility placed upon the County Allotment Committee, it has been deemed advisable and in order by the County Agent and the Cotton Reduction Committee to draft into the service and on the County Bankhead Allotment Committee new members. These are Mr. D. I. Glass, Gatesville, Texas, and Mr. P. H. Martin, Oglesby, Texas. The ability and knowledge of these two men of the condition of the farms in Coryell county along with the experience and knowledge of the County cotton reduction composed of Mr. W. E. Hayes, Mr. John L. Voss and Mr. John T. Morgan who have rendered very efficient service in the Adjustment Contracts as County Committeemen. The above five men will constitute the County Committee on Bankhead Allotment. Although the measuring of cotton acreage and the taking of Bankhead applications will come close together they are separate and distinct programs but will be carried out by the same experienced and faithful committeemen.

RE-ELECT

LON A. SMITH
Second Full Term
RAILROAD COMMISSIONER

To the People of Coryell County:
In the closing hours of the political campaign I want to urge my friends and the people of this section to Texas that they do not forget Hon. Lon A. Smith in his campaign for re-election to a second full term to Railway Commission. Mr. Smith is a real servant of the people, having at all times their best interest at heart. We learned this about him when he made such a splendid record as State Comptroller, and especially do we old ex-Confederate soldiers and wives remember his untiring efforts in our behalf. He signed the order reducing the gas rates in Texas and if this order stands it will greatly aid the consumers of gas in over 200 towns in Texas. Mr. Smith is courteous and obliging and he is a man who stands for and with the masses of the people and can always be relied upon to labor in their behalf. He is experienced and much able to now handle the complicated matters that come before the Commission than any untried and inexperienced man would be. I urge my friends to rally to his support and I know he will greatly appreciate it.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Jennie Ayres,

A WORD TO THE VOTERS

From

IVY EDMONDSON

As the election is drawing near, I want to take this opportunity of expressing to you my appreciation for the courteous manner in which I have been treated and for the many nice things that you have said to me.

I have served you about one term as your tax assessor, and as you know in 1932 the office of Tax Assessor and Tax Collector were consolidated and now I am running for re-election as second term, the race being for the consolidated office. I was in favor of consolidation of the two offices because it cut down expenses to the tax payers; but I felt that if I served you only one term as Tax Assessor, that according to the time honored custom, you would surely consider this, when you started to vote on the race for the consolidated office of Tax Assessor and Collector; and I sure will appreciate it, if you see fit to support me in this race for re-election second term.

I have appreciated working with the people in this office, and my work as your tax assessor has been approved by the Commissioners Court and the Department at Austin.

It was expensive to make the campaign two years ago and with this race on hand for re-election, which necessitated additional expense, I am sure the voters will understand that after deducting these expenses, I have made very little out of the office in the short while that I have held it. I have used as many deputies as I could, so that others in hard times like these might also live; and I hope that you will consider this in my race.

I need the office and I hope my work and conduct as a public official has been such that you will see fit to vote for me for re-election; for which I will be very grateful and always indebted to you.

Sincerely,

IVY EDMONDSON

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow
Extension Service Editor
A. & M. College

Stinnett—Three hundred feet of garden tile laid last year convinced Mrs. Willis Lackey, garden demonstrator for the Hold Home Demonstration Club in Hutchinson county, that a tile garden is just what she wants. Her husband is adding 750 feet of tile to the garden this year which will tile the remainder of the garden.

In addition to tiling his own garden, Mr. Lackey has assisted three neighbors in tiling their gardens this spring and is making 50 feet of tile for his mother's garden.

Canadian—Thirty-five cans of asparagus have been put up from her home garden this season by Grace Robbins of the Locust Grove Home Demonstration Club of Hemphill county in addition to that used fresh by her family and friends. According to the home demonstration agent, this would seem to indicate that asparagus should be more generally planted in this section where spring winds delay early gardens.

Nacogdoches—A rose garden should be at least four or five feet from the border planting. Mrs. Vernon Ammons, yard demonstrator of the Central Heights Home Demonstration Club in Nacogdoches county has learned. For three years she has carried on a yard demonstration, but her roses have never done well until this year when she extended her yard 30 feet in the back and 24 feet on one side making more room for her roses. She now has 23 rooted rose bushes and 21 rose cuttings living in her cutting bed.

Victoria—The government cotton acreage reduction plan taught J. F. Ballard of Victoria county the value of legumes in a crop rotation plan. Last fall he planted 12 acres of cow peas on plowed-up cotton land and turned them under green. He now has this 12 acres planted to corn and states the corn where the peas were planted can be told to the row as it is still green while the other corn is firing.

"This corn is larger, has a much healthier appearance, and will make a fair crop of corn without rain while the other will not make anything without a rain," Mr. Ballard says. He has planted all of his retired cotton acres in peas this year to add to the fertility of the soil.

Comanche—At least 10 bushels more oats will be made on the 40 acre field of Tom Homsley of Comanche county than would have been made if the land had not been terraced, according to an estimate made for the county agent.

He also states that he finds that the road water is an aid to his place for he has well run and constructed terraces that catch the road water and spread it over a large flat and let it remain until a good bottom season is stored up. "A large number of grain men who have gone over the oats say that they will make at least 55 to 60 bushels average per acre, and along where the extra road water was spread they will make from 80 to 90 bushels per acre," Mr. Homsley adds.

Mount Vernon—A small plot slightly less than one-quarter of an acre planted in strawberries paid large dividends to J. B. Jagers of Franklin county, according to the county agent. From this plot he sold $88.15 worth of berries, and his actual expenses for marketing were $19.14. This left him a net profit of $69.01.

Many of the berries were sold locally by the bucket. The variety is Blakemore which was planted in February 1933. They withstood the dry summer of 1933 with less than 10 per cent loss.

HOWARD COMPTON

To the Voters of Coryell County

Having been honored by you in the past with the duties and responsibilities of the Tax Collector's Office, I come to you at the close of this campaign to tender to you my sincere appreciation and gratitude for the many favors you have extended me and the cooperation I have received from your hands in my efforts to render to you a satisfactory service in the position you so kindly entrusted to my care and further solicit your support in my candidacy for the combined office of Tax Assessor and Tax Collector which was created as you doubtless understand by a Constitutional Amendment adopted by the people at general Election in November 1932.

The consolidation of these two Departments under one Officer will result in a greatly increased responsibility and I feel that in your consideration of Candidates for this or in fact any office, you should consider the availability and qualifications of myself or any other Candidate to fill the office to which we aspire and solely upon this ground do seek your support and offer you my service of the past as your Tax Collector as an assurance of the manner in which I will undertake to conduct the affairs of the Tax Assessor and Collectors Office in the future should I be elected to do so.

I claim no prior right in the matter over any citizen who should see fit to seek the same position and I desire to thank my opponent and all other Candidates for the very pleasant manner and the high plane upon which this campaign has been conducted and assure you, one and all, that whatever may be the result in the coming Primary on July 28, I shall remember with pleasure and recall in grateful appreciation the many kindnesses and favors received at your hands.

Soliciting your consideration of my candidacy and assuring you your support and every kind word spoken in my behalf will be appreciated and remembered, I am,

MAURY HUGHES For Governor

“A New Deal for Texas”

Hon. Mr. Hughes was a delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago and as a member of the Platform Committee was one of authors of the Democratic National Platform upon which President Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected. Mr. Hughes, with a handfull of other delegates managed to insert a plank in this platform that called for the AID OF AGRICULTURE and as a result the value of a farmer's products has increased 200 to 500 per cent. At that time we were getting 10 cents for oats and 4 cents for cotton.

Mr. Hughes, without compensation and of course at great personal expense, made eight trips to Washington, D. C. in behalf of the people of Texas. So let us farmers, merchants and others who have been benefited by this New Deal give Mr. Hughs a solid vote on the 28th as they are doing in other sections of the state. Let us have an agricultural-minded governor instead of an oil-minded, rubber-stamp proxy and a tool of the utilities and other interests.

Mr. Hughes is conceded to lead the ticket in the first primary at the rate he has been gaining in the last few days.
