OVER $42,000 PARITY CHECKS FOR FARMERS

Grand Jury Makes Report and Adjourns This Session of Court

19 TRUE BILLS FOUND

The Coryell County grand jury for the present term of District Court adjourned last Tuesday and made the following report:

TO THE HON. R. B. CROSS, District Judge:

We, your Grand Jury duly empanelled for the January Term of the District Court of Coryell County, respectfully submit the following report:

We have been in session 14 days, examined 261 witnesses and returned 19 bills of indictment consisting of 18 felonies and 1 misdemeanor.

Generally speaking, we find conditions good in our county so far as enforcement and observance of the law is concerned.

We find that slot machines and marble board games are being operated in different parts of the county, some being operated in such manner as to constitute a violation of the law. We condemn the maintenance and operation of any gambling devices in Coryell county and have instructed our officers to see that such practices are stopped. We call upon the citizens to co-operate with the officers of the law to end these gambling nuisances and that steps be taken as the officers may be permitted to take under the law to put down such practices.

We desire to express our thanks to the sheriff, bailiff, district and county attorneys and all other officers of the court for their hearty co-operation and aid given to us in our labors.

We also thank your honor for the courtesy shown to us and the assistance rendered to us by your honor.

Having completed our labors, we present this our final report and respectfully request

200 Farms in Coryell Are Leased in Rural Rehabilitation Project

200 FARMS SPOKEN FOR

Two hundred farms have been leased by the government in Coryell county under the work of the rural rehabilitation project. The land, which includes approximately 6,000 acres, will be subleased to men on relief rolls who will make the land their homes for the next five years.

The government will finance the farmer in making a crop and he is to pay back all the money he makes above living expenses. The amount of money he should pay will be worked out by the rural supervisor, H. E. Wellborn.

Families have already spoken for the 200 farms, one hundred have moved to them and the remaining will be taken within the next few weeks.

Leasing is stopped in the county at present until all forms are taken and plans made for crops. It is not known whether more land will be leased in the future.

Pazdral were loud in their praise of this new department and the manner in which it is being conducted.

These two state officials were on their way to Austin from Brownwood where they had both appeared on the program of the Mid-Texas Educational association February 1.

G'Ville Defeats Pearl 29-12; Many Games Slated as Tourney Ends

HAMILTON TOURNEY HERE

The largest crowd ever to witness a basketball game, or to have attended the local gym, was on hand Saturday night to meet the surprise of the season, and witness the Gatesville Hornets defeat the Pearl Cagers, 29-12. Keeton, Pearl's key man was smothered throughout the game, and with little help from his mates, never threatened to whip the locals in the county tournament.

The Hamilton County tournament opened here yesterday morning and continued throughout the day. This tournament will terminate this afternoon in time for the important games slated tonight.

At 7 o'clock tonight the Pidcoke boys will play the Purmela boys. The local colored team will encounter a like team from McGregor at 8 o'clock, and the Merchants will take the CCC boys of Neff Park for the final game of the evening.

Among the important games slated for Wednesday night is the game between the strong Gulf Oilers of Waco, and an all-star team being managed by Truman Blanton. The Waco Oilers, who are rated as one of the best teams in Waco, will probably give Blanton's all-star crew a good licking. Flat will play Oglesby high school on that night as well as the all-stars from those places.

Thursday night the Coryell County Tournament will swing back into action, and we find Pearl against Ireland for the first game, Gatesville pitted against Copperas Cove in the second game. The third game of the evening will be between the winner of the Pearl-Ireland game and the loser of the Gatesville-Copperas Cove game.

Saturday night the final game of the County Tournament will

ARNOLD'S DRUG HAS NEW PHARMACY CLERK

Mr. C. E. Nesbitt, formerly of Evant but originally of Big Spring, recently assumed the duties as pharmacy clerk at the Arnold Drug Store.

Mr. Nesbitt, who has been at Evant for the past ten months, is a registered pharmacist, and was connected with a drug firm while in Big Spring.

Mrs. Nesbitt, now in Big Spring, will join her husband here within the next two weeks and they will make their home here.

The News joins the friends of this couple in welcoming them to Gatesville.

County Agent Sherrill reports that 1,979 Cotton Parity checks amounting to $42,161.85 were received for Coryell County farmers yesterday to be distributed to those who cooperated in the cotton reduction program for 1934-35. This will give relief to many farmers who have waited long and patiently for these checks. Due to the fact that there were so many checks to be written in the Washington office the parity checks for this county were delayed.

Due to the many papers necessary to be signed up before and after the parity checks have been received it is necessary that each one notified by card (all of which were mailed out yesterday, Monday, immediately after receipt of checks) that the person receiving such card call in person to sign the receipt and other necessary papers. In case of a landlord and managing share tenant both having signed a contract it is only necessary for the landlord and managing share tenant or cash tenant to sign a receipt. However, in case the landlord or managing share tenant had rented land to other tenants on which cotton was grown in 1934 it is necessary that the parity check be received "in trust" for all tenants who had cotton on that farm but who did not sign the contract themselves. Every tenant who had cotton on any farm under a 1934-35 contract in 1934 must receive according to the reduction contract his prorata share of the parity payment in the same proportion as said tenant had cotton acreage on this farm in 1934.

The parity payment is the amount of money derived from multiplying one cent per pound times forty percent of the five year average of cotton production. In other words if the five year average cotton acreage is 100 acres and the adjusted accepted yield per acre is 100 pounds this gives a five year average production of 10,000 pounds. Forty per cent of this which is 4,000 pounds is the farm allotment which is consumed in the United States and

J. M. CLEMONS' STORE ROBBED

Some time during Sunday night or early Monday morning J. M. Clemons' store at Carden on the Waco Road was robbed.

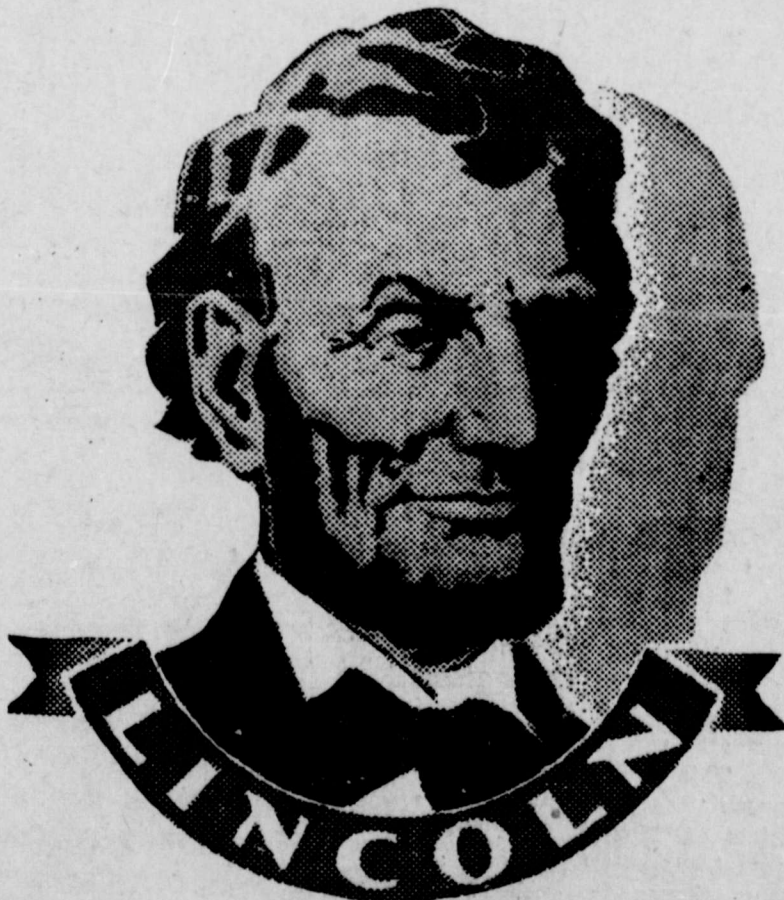

Person or persons entering the store took what change Mr. Clemons had in the cash drawer, and five or six dollars worth of cigarettes. The loss was estimated by Mr. Clemons between ten and twelve dollars.

Mr. Clemons knew nothing of the ransacking until Monday morning.

OUR RELATIONS WITH JAPAN

The United States seems to be drifting more and more toward war with Japan. The drift is given flare and color by such reports as those recently spread in many American newspapers transforming a border clash in the Chinese province of Jehol, affecting a 10-mile front, into a major drive by Japan into new Chinese territory and toward Siberia.

But this is the coloring only; there is something more substantial below that the average man doesn't see. We recently heard, to the accompaniment of many alarmists, that Tokio has adopted its largest military budget in years, totaling more than a quarter billion dollars. We hear little, but Japan hears much, of the fact that the United States now has before it a military budget of more than three-quarters of a billion dollars, representing a 30 per cent increase over the fiscal year which closed last June; and likely to be increased further by ample grants from the PWA.

We announce the early independence of the Philippines, but our naval chiefs solemnly assure us that we will continue to be responsible for the military protection of the Islands. The American island of Wake, 2,300 miles west of Hawaii and directly north of the Marshall Islands which Japan took from Germany in the World War, has just been turned over to naval department control. It is said to be uninhabited. The Japanese naturally see in this the makings of an American naval base.

Congressman Hamilton Fish asserts that the Japanese, due to their determined drive for industrial efficiency, have taken 75% of the Philippine textile trade from us, and that the same thing is happening in Cuba despite our recent reciprocity arrangement with that country. He foresees a further invasion of our markets unless we hasten the formulation of trade agreements which will prevent it.

Thus the forces of war are at work. Economic friction is growing, and the public mind is being prepared.

Nevertheless, we have barely one-fourth the trade interests in the Far East that Great Britain has. France has as much at stake; the Netherlands proportionately more. Our trade with Japan itself is worth more to us than that with all the remainder of the Far East.

Thus, ignoring all consideration of humanitarian principles and the eventual cost of war, there is no logical reason why the United States should come to conflict with Japan. If there are issues at stake they are issues that concern the entire Western world as much as they do us. And they are issues which should be susceptible to peaceable adjustment between powers intelligently led.

If we insist on Britain and France participating in such adjustment, let the fact be known that we will not fight their war in the Pacific. We can be sure that Japanese statesmanship will demonstrate the desired amount of intelligence and realism—that peace will be maintained.

World Comment

By JOE BURNS

The orgy of government spending has brought about an orgy of fantastic plans for the distribution of wealth and the abolition of poverty. Dr. Townsend of California wants to give every person in the U. S. over 60 years of age $200 a month, provided they do not have a criminal record. This would be very nice, provided the 20 billions necessary for this dream could be obtained. Dr. Townsend wants to raise the money with a sales tax but it would take a new kind of sales tax to bring in 20 billions a year or a third of the present national income.

Huey Long of Louisiana has his own "share-the-wealth" plan and claims that there are thousands of "share the wealth" clubs over the nation now. "If you make one million a year, you can keep it," he says. "But if you make two millions a year, there will be a tax levy of 1 per cent, and on up to 100 per cent which will take everything." Some conclude that the Senator must be making a million a year. And it is assumed that the 100 per cent tax on earnings would be applied to anti-Longities if Huey ever reaches the presidency. In fact, the Senator has intimated that he will be a candidate for president in 1936 on the "Share-the-Wealth" program.

There seems to be a great variance of opinions about conditions in Mexico. Rep. William Connery of the House labor committee has urged that the U. S. withdraw recognition unless religious persecution is stopped in the southern republic. Ambassador Josephus Daniels was charged with "cooperating with the tyrants of Mexico to enslave the Mexican people." If what this fiery orator says is true, "the people of Mexico today are suffering under the lash of oppression, a lash wielded by a tyrannical group, a minority in power in the government." Conditions similar to this have existed in Mexico before. The regime of former President Diaz was maintained only by the large and well-trained army kept to crush all dissenters. But even this did not suffice when the people reached the point of desperation.

President Cardenas on the other hand seems to be true Mexican patriot. The assumption by most observers that he was elected president merely as the puppet of former President Plutarco Calles seems to have been wrong. Within a week after taking office President Cardenas signed a decree closing all gambling places in Mexico. This included the highly ornate "Foreign Club" on the outskirts of Mexico City, built to promote tourist trade and attracting thousands each week. These resorts belong to men who stand close to ex-President Rodriguez and the chief of all Mexico, General Calles. Cardenas has announced that he proposes to move against the liquor traffic and discussion is active as to what steps he may take.

Notes

Although Sen. Bronson Cutting of New Mexico was officially given his seat in the Senate, Jim Farley is still carrying on a private fight to oust the Senator and seat the liberal Democrat, Dennis Chavez, who ran only a few hundred behind Cutting in the November election.

Says Charles South of the west Texas Congressional district, which by the way comprises 27 counties and 50,000 square miles: "The Townsend plan cannot pass this Congress, but the danger lies with the next Congress. If the people don't get it now, they may elect a Congress next time that's pledged to it."

Insiders predict that before the year is over Japan will be recognized tacitly as China's boss and reorganizer except by a minority of irreconcilables.

The collapse of Russian debt negotiations is due to a shrewd bit of strategy on the part of France. France needed an ally in Europe against Germany. Russia was about to come to terms because of the urgent need of credit but France seized the opportunity and stepped into the breach, promising credit aplenty. France gained a friend and America lost a debt.

Germany Must Decide on War or Peace

Berlin, Feb. 10.—Intensive preparations for another possible European war was an alternative which German military strategists were envisaging Sunday during their study of the Anglo-French agreement. The other alternative was to sign a nonaggressive pact with Germany's neighbors.

Adolf Hitler reportedly was told in unmistakable terms by the French and British ambassadors that there is only one thing that can prevent the welding of an iron ring of unfriendly powers around Germany. That is that Germany fall in line with the ideas of British, French and Italian statesmen.

THE DEATH OF A NATIVE TEXAN

By Dave Grubb

The death of Mrs. Mary Virginia Newton at Hanley in Jones county at the age of 94 years, seven months and seven days, a native Texan, whose life was full of interesting stories of the early days and Indian massacres.

She relates a very interesting story of her mother who danced in the first house built in Austin, a log structure, split logs for flooring and that the Indians stole in on the dancers and some of the men were injured, while the women made good their escape.

Mrs. Newton was born June 25, 1840 in Colorado county and has lived in Coryell, Williamson and Lampasas counties, and was making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Edgar Newton at Valentine, Texas. She was married to J. B. Newton in Colorado county, November 30, 1859. Mr. Newton died in Coryell county 22 years ago.

She has been a devoted member of the Baptist church since 1861.

Grandma Newton as she was known to us all enjoyed the friendship of a large acquaintance of people, then how interesting she recalled the days she rode in the ox-wagon and later on ride in the outamobile over a great part of Texas, and how she enjoyed it, but the most interesting trip she ever took and one she enjoyed the most was in the flying machine or airplane with John Barnes here in Ireland, at the age of 91 years. She said the trip was delightful, just fine, that she could have remained up in the air much longer.

Grandma Newton has been visiting her son, M. M. Newton, in Jones county since last October and where she contracted pneumonia about three weeks ago which resulted in her death. She is survived by more than 100 direct descendants.

Rev. F. A. Pope of the Hanley Baptist Church conducted the funeral. Burial followed in the Hanley cemetery.

Surviving are three daughters; Mrs. Bettie Sewell of Ireland, Mrs. J. A. Deal of Conroe, Mrs. R. E. Newton of Valentine and four sons; M. W. Newton, Jim Newton both of Clyde, C. W. Newton, Oakwood and Joe Newton of Goree, Texas.

Our sympathy is extended to all the relatives.

FARM MODERNIZATION CAMPAIGN STARTS

College Station—Opening the Farm Modernization Campaign of the Federal Housing Administration in the Rio Grande Valley and progressing from there to the Panhandle is the plan for the spring, according to W. A. Orth, farm representative, who with Carl H. Miller, farm representative, will have charge of the rural phases of the Federal Housing Work in Texas. The purpose of the campaign is to encourage farmers to repair and modernize their farmsteads now under the terms of the Federal Housing Act. Details of the plan were outlined at a meeting of the State Advisory Committee held here recently.

"The Government itself does not loan money," Mr. Orth explained, "but it insures the qualified lending agency against loss up to 20 per cent of the total amount of all loans made under the provisions of the Act. The Act provides that an applicant for a loan must own or have an equity in the property to be improved, must be good credit risk, have an income of at least five times as much as the annual payment on the loan, and agree to spend the money on permanent improvements to the property." The lending agency is the sole judge of who is not good credit risk, and may impose additional restrictions. The term "permanent improvements" has been defined to include housing repairs, the addition of well, silos, and fruit trees, and terracing of farm land.

Judge S. A. Lindsey, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Texas Bankers' Association, speaking at the meeting, stressed cooperation with the county Federal Farm Loan Associations and urged building at this time as good investment because materials are cheap and the best of labor is available.

Bell County to Have Part in Centennial

Belton, Tex., Feb. 7.—Bell county, among other plans for observance of the Centennial of Texas' independence in 1936, is preparing to commemorate the early efforts toward affording educational advantages for the youth of Texas, forming basis of the vast educational and cultural opportunities in the State today. The rural schools, as are others in the State, are practicing on songs for the county and district meetings next year and the Parent-Teachers Associations of the county propose to erect a monument on the highway near Salado in honor of early education in Bell county.

Salado is a small hamlet, located nine miles southwest of Belton, and, according to authentic records in the possession of Dr. Alex Dienst, former President of the Texas State Historical Society, in the early days barely missed being made the seat of the University of Texas, when that institution was established.

It was at Salado in the pioneer days that Col. E. Sterling C. Robertson set up Salado College, the greatest educational institution of its time in Texas. Many noted Texans received their education there and it was conducted there for sixty years, being located on a hill overlooking a clear spring on Salado Creek. Its glories began to wane in the '90s, after Dr. John Hill Luther brought Baylor Female College to Belton from Old Independence in 1887.

It was in about 1856 that Colonel Robertson, a son of Sterling Robertson, one of the empresarios of those days, settled upon a league of land, where Salado stands today. With a vision of great things for the pioneer community, Colonel Robertson induced friends to settle in the vicinity and created the college. The old Robertson home, with its slave quarters and family burial ground, all constructed after the fashion of the Texas pioneer days, stand today practically in the same condition as before the War between the States.

THE STORY OF CANCER CONTROL

Written Especially for Women, with Special Emphasis on Preventability and Cure.

CANCER IS OFTEN PREVENTABLE. EARLY LOCALIZED CANCER IS FREQUENTLY CURABLE.

Doctor Franklin Martin, Director-General of the American College of Surgeons, states that one-third of the total number of cancer cases is preventable. Although prevention of cancer furnishes one of the most hopeful fields for the diminution of suffering and the reduction of mortality from this devastating disease, the general public has failed to realize its importance. The prevention of cancer depends largely upon the avoidance or correction of various forms of chronic irritation or inflammation which evidently favor the development of this disease.

The majority of cancers occurring in the reproductive organs of women are preceded either by chronic inflammation due to injuries received at childbirth or to some form of infection.

A complete examination of these organs should be made twice a year by a physician who is familiar with the predisposing causes of cancer. Some of the more enterprising family physicians today are using a simple, harmless test by means of which they can state in any particular case: (1) that the mucous membrane of the birth canal is now normal but that it would be wise for the patient to repeat the examination at least every six months; (2) that a condition exists which makes it advisable to institute treatment in order to prevent the development of cancer in the future; (3) that an area suspicious or cancer is present, in which case if laboratory aids determine it to be a small, early cancer, it can frequently be successfully treated by an expert with radium. This incurs a minimum of discomfort and financial expenditure and in the majority of cases the patient need expect no recurrence.

In connection with the breast, every definite tumor should be removed. It is never possible to be certain that a tumor will remain benign. Therefore, local removal and microscopic examination is the safest procedure.

The three lines of defense in the control of cancer of the breast and reproductive organs are for the patient to demand:

1. A semi-yearly examination—seeking a report of "normal breast and mucous membranes."
2. The immediate removal of all predisposing causes.
3. Expert advise and treatment where there are early and suspicious cancerous areas.

When the alarm clock rings tomorrow morning, 11,123 persons in this country would stay in bed if they had any inkling of the fact that some time during the day they would meet with an accident. Among them 243 persons will never hear the alarm clock again. It's sad but true. What do you say, let's all be more careful.—Tips and Topics.

TARGET OF PLOT

Startling details of an extortion plot aimed at Barton Sewell, young Beverly Hills (Calif.) millionaire, were disclosed as investigators for the district attorney's office pressed an intensive investigation which they admitted they have been carrying on for several weeks. The disclosures followed close on the heels of the filing of a sensational group of marital suits in which Sewell also is involved. The young man received threats that he and his mother would come to grief unless $25,000 was paid.

MAYBE IT'S LOVE" SNAPPY COMEDY AT REGAL TODAY

A new pair of film lovers in Gloria Stuart and Ross Alexander comes to the screen of the Regal Theatre today, where "Maybe It's Love," opens for the first time.

The two make an unusually presentable couple, Alexander being tall and dark while Gloria is a natural blonde of medium height. They play opposite each other in the leading roles in the picture which is a rollicking romance of marital bliss and discord.

There is a quadrangular love affair with the boss' son making a play for the beautiful Gloria, who is stenographer in the office until she marries Alexander another, employee, and an office vamp casting her eyes at the husband.

The picture carries the spectator through many hilarious and thrilling situations with the girl's family always "butting in" to add to their troubles.

The picture is based on a play by the famous Broadway playwright, Maxwell Anderson and was directed by William McGann. The screen play is by Jerry Wald and Harry Sauber, written from an adaptation by Lawrence Hazard.

Coryell Girl Gets Post In Wyoming Hospital

HONOR GRAD OF C. I. A.

Miss Thelma Meharg, well known Coryell girl, left Thursday for Rock Springs, Wyo., where she has accepted a position as dietitian in the General hospital there.

Miss Meharg was an honor graduate of C. I. A. in 1931 with nutrition and foods as her major.

The following year she spent in Cook county hospital, the world's largest in Chicago, doing work in hospital dietetics. The fact that she has had six years of experience as a teacher in the public schools of this state is of special value to her in filling the position she recently accepted.

The Brooklyn Dodgers will be the First National league club in camp this year. They will report in Orlando Feb. 25.

Neff Park Receiving Beautification Under Federal CCC Program

SKILLED MEN IN CHARGE

By R. H. Williams, Educational Adviser.

Plans for developing Mother Neff State Park nine miles from McGregor have been announced by C. R. Byram, project superintendent. The program will be completed within eighteen to twenty-four months.

At present this park, involving about three hundred acres, donated to the State by Ex-Governor Pat Neff, lies mostly in a heavily wooded jungle in an oblong tract bordering the Leon River and extending about a mile and a half to the north. Superintendent Byram says the natural effect of this wood will not be disturbed.

All construction jobs will be of the natural, medium-hard, gray limestone found recently in a quarry half a mile off the park grounds. The largest job will be a concession building seventy-five by forty-five feet, cross shaped, with an open-air pavilion in the center; concession stands and keepers quarters in one wing and rest rooms and bath in the other. Cedar beams cut from the park grounds or from nearby timber will be used to carry out the rustic effect of the natural stone. The building will be crowned by a look-out tower, the lower part of which will conceal a water tank.

Enrollees of Company 817, CCC, are now taking rock out of the quarry and shaping it; clearing brush and timber for a road that will meander the length of the park and for the network of bridle paths and trails to be constructed; and are breaking ground for the two heavy rock piers that will form the main entrance from the McGregor road. This entrance will likely be the first job on the rock list.

In addition to it and the concession building there will be eight picnic units consisting each of tables and benches and a brick lined stone cooking grill; several stone foot bridges, and a rock comfort station.

It is estimated that five hundred cubic yards of stone will be needed, which, with another possible five hundred yards that will have to be quarried in order to supply the selected stone, would build a one-foot wall six miles long.

There is some unusually large timber in the park, elm, pecan, oak, sycamore, and considerable cedar, as well as an almost impenetrable jungle of brush and vines. This bramble will be left as is.

Most of the rock work is to be done by the comparatively unskilled members of the CCC camp under close supervision of the foreman, who, as an incidental part of the project, intend to give these young men all possible instruction on the job. Company 817 is the unit now stationed at the park; Lt. H. A. Little, Inf. Res., commanding, with Lt. W. D. McElroy, Inf. Res., second in command.

Besides Superintendent Byram the State men on the job are H. F. Cason, architect; W. K. Adams, engineer; S. E. King, landscape architect; W. N. Dabney, foreman and office manger; Bob R. Mason and J. E. Huddleston, foreman; S. J. Logan, rock mason. Mr. Logan has just reported from the Mineral Wells State Park where his work attracted much comment.

Falls County Prepares For Texas Centennial

Marlin, Tex., Feb. 7.—Falls county, in looking forward to the Texas Centennial celebrations of 1936, is proud to recall that, in the convention at old Washington-on-the-Brazos, which gave to Texas its Declaration of Independence, the Viesca district, headquarters of which were at the Falls of the Brazos, located in the present Falls county, supplied a delegate who took a leading part in the proceedings. He was George C. Childress, who called that historic convention to order. Upon the election of Richard Ellis, whose descendants still reside near New Boston, in Bowie county, as Chairman of the convention, it was Childress who moved to select a committee to prepare a declaration of independence from Mexico.

Childress was appointed Chairman of that committee, which prepared the declaration and submitted it to the convention. The other delegate from Viesca was Sterling C. Robertson, one of the empresarios of those days. These two are accorded first places on the roll of signers by the eminent historian, John Henry Brown.

In the provisional setup of a Government, the action of a previous convention in changing the name of the Viesca district to District of Milam was confirmed, and from that time on Viesca, at the Falls of the Brazos, became known as Fort Milam.

IN MEMORY

In loving remembrance of my dear father who passed away October 6th, 1934.

I seem to see in the soft dim light,
A face I loved the best and think of you when the sun last rays goes down in the far off west,
I miss you no less as the time passes on than I did on the day of your going.
The absence can never close the door of my heart,
And the lamp of my love is still glowing.
Your heart was the truest in all the world,
Your love the best to recall for no one on earth could take your place.
You are still the dearest of all.
A Daughter.

In loving remembrance of my darling Mother, who passed away September 20, 1930:
Oh what would I give to clasp your hand,
Your dear kind face to see, to hear your voice, to see your smile that meant so much to me.
No one knows the silent heart-ache, only those who have lost can tell the grief that is borne in silence for the one I loved so well.
When a mother breathes her last farewell,
The stroke means more than word can tell.
The world seems quite another place,
Without the smile of Mother's face.

A Daughter.

"Young man, why do I find you kissing my daughter?"
"Because you have rubber heels, sir."

ON TEXAS FARMS

Minnie Fisher Cunningham
Extension Service Editor
A. & M. College

County agent terracing in Texas on 12,769 farms amounted to 484,495 acres in the 193 counties reporting at the end of 1934, according to figures compiled by M. R. Bentley, Extension Agriculture Engineer.

An additional 61,287 acres in 62 counties were terraced by 4-H club boys as part of their year's club work.

Texas farms terraced in 1934 by everyone reached the impressive figure of 18,399 including 77,343 acres in 196 counties.

Of this acreage 128,090 acres were terraced by the use of county tractor and road grader machinery, which indicates increasing use of this taxpayer's investment.

Plans for terracing in 1935 are so wide spread that it almost seems as if general recognition of the necessity for this work had been at least achieved. People are terracing for soil conservation; for water conservation; and for flood control. They are terracing crop and pasture lands. Gardens, orchards, and even yards are being terraced to preserve the fertility of the soil, save the moisture, and prevent gully washing.

Hoax Starts Arizona Gold Rush

One of the most gigantic hoaxes in the history of Arizona was engineered by Charles Williams of Phoenix when he started a new gold rush. The miner came out of the mysterious Superstitious mountains after he had been missing 85 hours. With him he brought 12 ounces of pure gold, which he said he found in a rich cache. Later investigation and assaying proved that the gold was dental gold and melted down coins. Williams has admitted his fraud. Left to right: Charles Williams; Ed Layton, prospector into whose camp Williams stumbled as he emerged from the mountains; and Officer Guss Dobrinski, inspecting one of the gold "auggets."
