Anderson Ortega Found Not Guilty By Jury Here Late Thursday

In the case of the State of Texas vs. Anderson Ortega, charged with the murder of Paul Rodgers, on October 6, 1934, defendant was found not guilty by a jury Thursday afternoon.

The attorneys made their charge to the jury Wednesday, and the case went to the jury at 12:25 Wednesday. The jury returned Thursday morning and reported to Judge R. B. Cross, but had not reached a verdict.

The trouble between the Mexicans occurred in front of the Jim Ortega home, brother of the defendant, located in the north-east part of Gatesville.

Defense attorneys claimed Ortega stabbed Rodgers in self-defense.

PUBLIC UTILITY SERVICE CO. HAS NEW EMPLOYEE

The Public Utility Service Co., formerly the Texas-Louisiana Power Co., has a new employee, Mr. Sammie Smith of Goldthwaite, who is filling the place of lineman.

Mr. Smith has had many years' experience with the company, and will be in Gatesville for an indefinite time repairing lines and other work that has been needed for the past two or three years.

Mr. Smith, his wife and three children are temporarily located at the Boyer Hotel, until they can secure a house.

Gatesville is glad to welcome this family among the new additions to our increasing population.

I heard a good one on Sherrill Kendrick yesterday, friends of his call him the local Phil Baker. Vern Walley delights in calling me a News' hound, but still he never wants his name in the paper. Inquiring as to who the Snooper is, Liman Yates asks me if it wasn't 'eh'll' making my usual trip 'round the square? It always tickles a fellow for some one to greet him, and the office crew at the City Hall has always got a pleasant word for me. Speaking of passing pleasant words, R. M. Arnold, who passed away this week, was a man that was sincere in passing on the good of humanity, and what he has done for this city will linger long in the hearts of her citizens.

Work Started on New City Hall Tuesday With Help of Relief Labor

First Baptist Church Building Program

By J. M. Witcher
Sunday, March 3, will be the climax of months of hard work, serious thought and much faithful prayer among the Baptist People of Gatesville. The services on this Sunday will be dedicated to the matter of completing plans and preliminary arrangements for the letting of a contract and the beginning of actual construction of a building that will meet the needs and ideals of a conscientious Christian denomination in a thrifty growing town.

Thus far in all committee work unanimous agreements have been reached. The spiritual life and active enthusiasm of the First Baptist People leads one to believe that same loyal fellowship will characterize each member and his friends in supporting the plans of the Finance Committee to the limits of his possibilities.

Every member of the First Baptist Church who is not providentially kept away should make it a part of his program to be present at the morning and evening services next Sunday.

A crisis is the testing time of any individual or people. Faith backed up by works means glorious success.

The young men of the First Baptist Church say, "We must" and with their courage and faith we will.

COZY CAFE NOW LOCATED IN BURT BUILDING

The Cozy Cafe, prominent dining place in Gatesville, Kay and Bill Ament proprietors, recently moved from the Hanna building, next to the City Drug to the Burt building next to the Gatesville Drug, the place formerly occupied by the Carlton Sanitary Grocery.

In making the move the management had two motives, the acquisition of a dining hall and more general floor space that was lacking in their former location.

The Cozy opened first of this week in their new location, under the able management of the Ament brothers, the original founders of the business some three years ago. They invite you to visit their modern and up-to-date new place of business.

GATESVILLE WEATHER MAN RECEIVES APPARATUS

Pat Holt, local cooperative observer for the U. S. weather bureau, received equipment a few days ago with which to make a weather vane to add to the rain gauge and maximum and minimum thermometers already sent him.

Work on the north wing of the local City Hall began Tuesday under the supervision of Paul Wiley, local contractor. In this addition to the City Hall will be the Library, Sewing Room and Commissariat.

The work on this project being done by relief labor, it is not known when the project will be completed, however, it is estimated between 60 and 90 days. The project will cost something in the neighborhood of $7,500 and will be a portion of plans fulfilled by Birch D. Easterwood, Waco architect.

The addition of the north wing to the local Municipal building is needed and will be of great help in furnishing the adequate floor space for offices and other required room.

Gatesville has started the movement in spring building by promoting this local project and with other projects using relief labor, our city has begun to show an increase in business enterprise in spite of the so-called "depression."

Pledge

I will think—talk—write . . . Texas Centennial in 1936! This is to be my celebration. In its achievement I may give free play to my patriotic love for Texas' heroic past; my confidence in its glories that are to be.

TEXAS INDEPENDENCE DAY—MARCH 2

Unlike July 4, date of the Declaration of Independence of the United States from England, March 2, our own Texas' Independence hardly registers on our minds and memories. We hardly know that the day is here except that the banks are closed and maybe there is an occasional Texas flag flown.

Reviewing the incidents of Texas' Declaration, and clearing in our minds just what it is all about, we present these facts: Texas' Declaration of Independence was written by George C. Childress, delegate from Red River to the convention called for March 1, 1836, at Washington, Texas, the capital at that time. It contains the following general complaints of the people of Texas against the tyrannical government of Mexico: (1) Mexico oppressed the people of Texas instead of giving them a republican form of government, (2) Stephen F. Austin, one of the original colonists and leaders, was unjustly imprisoned, (3) The governments of Texas and Coahuila had been overthrown, (4) Attempts had been made to arrest citizens of Texas and take them to Mexico City for military trial instead of trial by jury, and finally, (5) Mexico failed to establish a system of public education.

The above, anyone can learn is stated in Texas' Declaration of Independence, a copy of which will be found in most text books on Texas history, but there are too few Texans who know the importance of this day—sufficient that all should conscientiously and sincerely observe this birthday of Texas with the same fervor and zeal that we do that of the United States on July 4.

One of the principal reasons for the planned Texas Centennial in 1936 is to celebrate this incident and to materially impress on the minds of the people of Texas and the world, the significance and past glory connected with this very important date, Texas' Independence Day, March the 2nd.

CITY ELECTION

On April 2, one week from Saturday, citizens of Gatesville are again privileged to determine who shall guide the destinies of the city for another two years. So far, only those who have already served in various capacities in the government have announced, and should there be those who disagree with the handling of the city's business or believe they could be a better asset to the city in filling the places now aspired to, it is very timely at this moment that they make their beliefs known and come out with their announcements.

Obviously, if no one announces for any of the places, then it is up to the citizenry to unanimously re-elect these faithful, and for the most part, unpaid citizens who so generously have given their time and thought to the present and future welfare of our city.

World Comment

By JOE BURNS

GOVERNMENT power experts have announced plans to carry the adverse decision against the Tennessee Valley Authority directly to the Supreme Court. United District Judge W. I. Grubb of Birmingham has ruled that the TVA has no authority to dispose of surplus power generated at the hydro-electric plants on the Tennessee River. The ruling by Judge Grubb also made permanent the injunction which prohibited certain Alabama towns from negotiating public works loans to build municipal power plants.

Although this does not nullify the entire TVA act, it does mean that the administration will be forced to carry the decision to the highest court in the land. Senators McKellar of Tennessee and Black of Alabama, whose states are directly affected by the TVA program, expressed the opinion that Judge Grubb's decision will be overruled by the higher court.

PARAGUAY joined the growing list of nations dissatisfied with the League of Nations by withdrawing from the League Saturday. By neglecting to accept the League's proposals for settlement of the Choco war with Bolivia, Paraguay was accused of being the aggressor in the war. During the last two years Japan and Germany have withdrawn because of dissatisfaction with league policies. The League arms embargo against the belligerent nations in the Chaco will be lifted from Bolivia by this action and Paraguay will have to pay bootleg prices for munitions.

The United States is now importing large quantities of feed and food stuffs as a result of the drouth and AAA crop restrictions. For the first time in history agricultural products of other nations can find a ready market where heretofore there has been a large surplus for exportation purposes. The AAA has brought higher prices for farm products but as a result of these artificial prices other nations can ship to the U. S., scale the high tariff walls, and still make a profit.

While fields in the Middle West lay idle and people go hungry where there used to be on of the greatest granaries of the world, the government is forced to import over one million bushels of wheat during the first months of this year. Now where is the profit in your crop-reducing, price raising projects?

And now little SWITZERLAND joins the rapidly increasing list of nations feverishly arming or rearming for the fatal day that seems sure to come. In a nation-wide referendum, the people voted 506 000 to 431,000 to lengthen the period of compulsory military service. Under the program the infantry, artillery, and engineers will train for 83 days out of 365, cavalry for 102 and air and motor units for 74. Switzerland maintains an army of 46,000 men and the air corps has nearly 200 planes.

SIAM, a wealthy Asiatic kingdom that forms a buffer state between French and British possessions in Southwestern Asia, is going through that period of conflict between constitutionalists and absolutists that has provoked so much trouble in other parts of the world. The Siamese king, Prajadhipok, is jealous of his royal prerogatives and refuses to give the elective assembly a veto on his acts. The King is now in London and has threatened to abdicate if the parliament does not submit to his will.

The Siamese government, one of the few remaining monarchies in the world, was forcibly transformed into a limited monarchy by a coup d'etat on the night of June 23-24, 1932. The King was forced to decree the establishment of a constitution. Last year the King staged his own coup and discarded the constitution but again the revolutionists are clamoring for a constitutional form of government. So far the King has steadfastly refused to yield a point and remains in far-away London holding the spectre of a kingless nation over the heads of the dissenters.

A total of $44.75 has been received by Mrs. Jime Galloway of Caldwell county during the past year from the sale of 29 hooked mats, according to Miss Leta Bennett, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Galloway makes her mats from old hose and underwear, and consequently her only expense is for dye. Her mats have been standardized by the home industries specialist of the Extension Service. She also sold one hooked rug and two hooked purses during the year for $10, making her total income $54.75 from this source.

From a garden 90 by 100 feet, Mrs. Gordon Cummings, farm food supply demonstrator for the West Side home demonstration club in Randall county, produced more than enough vegetables and fruits to fill a food budget for her family of two in 1934, according to Miss Katie Bass, home demonstration agent. In a new concrete lined cellar costing $15 and containing 125 feet of shelves, a gas light and a water faucet, she has stored 886 containers valued at $184.65. In addition to 150 quarts of canned meats, she has 200 pounds of cured meats. The total cost of the pantry including the money spent on the cellar was $30.

Church of Christ
We sincerely believe this congregation has better opportunities than ever before in history. We are better prepared, we have a stronger membership and the field is open. There are many people who would love to have the truth and that only. But do not know what it is or where to find it. It is important that we be teachers—teachers of the Word. We cannot do a very good job telling people how to be saved or how to live a Christian life when we do not know what to say or how to say it. "Study to show thyself approved unto God."

We most cordially invite you to attend our regular services as here given:

Holiday on Washington Birthday

School was dismissed Friday, George Washington's birthday. This date marked the 203rd anniversary of his birth. He was an American soldier and statesman, first president of the United States and the greatest figure of America in the eighteenth century. He rode to Boston on July 3, 1775, and standing under the historic elm, which stood until 1931, took command of the Continental army at Cambridge. He was inaugurated on April 30, 1789. On Dec. 14, 1799, about ten o'clock in the evening, two days after he took the quinsy, he died in perfect peace. From the day of his death to the present people all over the United States have celebrated Washington's birthday as a memorial to this great man.

The Hornets turned away some of the best teams in Central Texas sometimes by overwhelming scores, and at other times by fighting out a victory. The Hornets chalked up 928 points to 550 for the opponents.

Reminisin' a little, wouldn't you give a couple of pretties to hear Nelle Goodall sing Blue Moon again? How many boys in GHS? Well, anyhow, I am one of these several hundred that wish Miss Worthy was a little younger.

Explanation of 1935 Cotton Program Given In Following Letter

To County Agents in Cotton Producing States:

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration has investigated the present supply, the probable market requirements, the probably carry over August 1, 1935 of American cotton, and the foreign situation in an effort to determine the size crop that would bring producers the largest income in 1935. As a result of these investigations it would seem that a crop of about 11,500,000 in 1935 should be planned for. While a crop somewhat small would in all probability bring a higher price per pound, the total income from the crop might be less. On the other hand, a crop materially larger than 11,500,000 bales would unduly depress the market in 1935 and make it difficult to reduce the carry over to a desirable figure by August 1, 1936, and in this way would affect the 1936 price as well as the 1935 price.

If the objective of a crop of approximately 11,500,000 bales is to be achieved in 1935, it will be necessary for contract signers to take the full 35 per cent reduction permitted in 1935. If producers who signed contracts in 1934 and those who sign contracts in 1935 reduce 35 per cent, it is estimated that a crop of about 11,500,000 bales will be produced if yields are no more than average.

It will be to the advantage of individual cotton producers to remove 35 per cent of their base acreage from cotton production and receive the maximum rentals payments permitted under their contracts in 1935.

It will be to the further advantage of individual producers to plant in 1935 only 65 per cent of their base acreage because in no case will the bases used in making allotments of tax-exemption certificates be more than 65 per cent of a producer's base production. Producers should therefore be cautioned against planting more than 65 per cent of their base acreage with the anticipation of buying surplus exemption certificates at reduced prices in 1935. It will be our recommendation that provisions be made which will prevent surplus exemption certificates being sold much below the full amount of the tax. We will also recommend that the tax be kept adjusted at 50 per cent of the price. Neither of these things were done in 1934.

Due partly to the drought, food and feed will be somewhat less plentiful and prices will be higher in 1935 than they were in 1934. For this reason cotton producers should plant only 65 per cent of their base acreage to cotton, thus making available additional land on which to produce food and feed for home consumption.

It should also be called to the attention of producers that if two crops of different size are sold for the same gross value a larger proportion of the total market value is usually returned to the producer from the smaller crop. It is certain that the farmer cannot produce the larger crop as cheaply.

Whether contract signers rent 25 per cent or 35 per cent in 1935 will be determined by how well they are informed of the need for a 35 per cent reduction in 1935, and it is left that you are in the best position to inform them as to the action they should take in 1935.

The efficient manner in which you handled the 1933 and 1934 programs is known and appreciated in Washington. We expect that you will succeed in the 1935 Cotton Program.

Very truly yours,
C. A. Cobb, Chief
Cotton Production Sec.
C. W. Warburton,
Director of Extension Work.

Corn Acreage Increase Not Prohibited by 1935 Cotton Contract in Effect

If a farmer signs only a cotton contract in 1935, or if his contract continues paragraph 4 does not restrict corn for sale on the farm covered by a cotton contract. Of course the cotton rented acres must be used for production for food or feed crops only for home use.

Paragraph 4 of the contract now reads: "Not increase in 1935 above 1933 or 1934, except as may be permitted under a contract between the producer and the secretary, the acreage planted to peanuts, rice, tobacco or wheat for sale. Thus because of drought and shortage of feed supplies there is no restrictions on planting corn."

The deadline on applying for Corn-Hog Contract is to-day, March 1st.
