ANOTHER ENLISTMENT CORYELL BOYS ARE OFF FOR ARIZONA CCC

Seventeen boys fill the list that are to be sent to the C. C. Camps from this county's quota. These boys will be sent to Arizona C. C. C. camps, location not definitely known by those in authority here, according to John Frank Post.

Those from this county include: Eldrige Gough, R. L. Kinard, Gee Lawrence, Alton Franks, Lee Grover, Noah Mill-sap, Robert Rudd, D. R. Boone, Jr., Louie Voges, Bowers Harman, Claudie Hickson, Lawrence Beckett, Henry Lee, Wilbur Morgan, Wesley Kinsey, J. L. Gulley, George Brumbalow, and J. M. Sandlin as supernumerary. First, the boys will be examined by the Recruiting Service at Waco, and then be sent on to the camp. This number completes the quota from this county, since three have already been sent to Neff Park C. C. Camp. Those sent to the Veteran's Camp at Troy were J. J. Briton and R. B. Scott.

WACO MAN GIVEN CHURCH CONTRACT ON CONDITION

At the Sunday morning services of the Baptist Church the members voted to give the General Committee in charge of building arrangements permission to let contract for the new building to C. C. Ramsey of Waco, with some provisions not announced, according to J. M. Witcher, Publicity Director.

Some of the provisions were that the building doesn't cost more than $45,000 and the remaining indebtedness on the part of the church does not amount to more than $15,000.

It is understood that if arrangements can be completed, ground will be broken on Gatesville's new church about May 1.

Gulf States Telephone Co. Will Erect Modern Exchange Building Here

Representatives Oscar Burton, Mr. McKnight and Joe N. Hooper of the Gulf States Telephone Company, visited a short while in Gatesville the past week in the interest of erecting an exchange and office building on Main and Tenth Streets.

Mr. Burton stated that a new building had been completed at Commerce, Texas, and as far as he knew the new building here would start sometime during the last half of this year. He was willing to co-operate in every way with residents in the block where the new building is to be erected. It is planned to erect a residence type building to conform with other buildings in the block, and beautify the grounds in an effort to make the Company's building a place that Gatesville as well as the Company will be proud.

Charlie (Jack) Whigham of Leon Junction and former Gatesville athlete, was in one of the grocery marts buying articles for human consumption. Then there's Glenn Hendrickson, social secretary to Lieut. John Bailey, late of California now using Uncle Sam's stop-over privileges before assuming his duties as a Naval Aid in Washington. Ben Johnson (Col.) was nearly covered with Easter white shoes in a local barber shop Saturday afternoon when he was putting a new finish on shoes used some other Easter. Richard Dickey, one of the local "Bings" was heard for at least a block "yodeling" some favorite ditty. Seems like there're a number of after Easter headaches, from something, according to coffee drinkers hanging around the coffee emporiums such as the Cozy, Eddies, Meeks, and Hester Bros. Courthouse Cafe. However, we missed.

Mrs. A. P. Brasher and little daughter, Betty Jo, and Mrs. J. D. Ward and son, Billy Carol, of Temple were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Prewitt Sunday afternoon.

days, the show has many friends here who have attested to its value in performance and entertainment.

Willard has issued a challenge to any welder in Gatesville that he can get out of a barrel after it is chained up and welded inside. That alone certainly should be some show.

BLOOMIN' BLAWSTED BULLETIN

News as she is written in Old Blighty, Old England to you, or to be exact, we have to hand, as it were, a copy of The Daily Telegraph, London, November 6, that has been received by Mrs. Will Powell from her piano playing son, Mr. Lytle Powell, now studying and playing concerts in old London, my dears!

Page one is covered with concert ads, tours, vital statistics, classified ads, without a sign of a headline. Pages 2, 3 and 4 are financial stocks and bonds, etc., 5 has shipping intelligence, also going in for divorces with a two column story of a rather racy divorce suit. Six is book reviews. Seven carries story of libel suit against newspaper by Sir Oswald Mosley, Fascist leader in England. Eight carries B. B. Co. page with radio broadcasts and styles for women. The last pages 21, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26 carry want ads for a varied number of things.

This is an example of how the Englishman likes his news written up. "Belisha" Beacon Stolen—Two Youths Fined.

"This sort of thing is going on all over London; it is very foolish," said Mr. Bertrand Watson, the Clerkenwell magistrate, yesterday, when fining Reginald Ogley, 20, a student of University Hall, Queen's-walk, Ealing, and Brian P. Barker, 19, a draper, of Hanover Park, Peckham, 2 pounds each for being concerned together in stealing a "Belisha" beacon globe from the corner of Doughty-street and Henry-street on Sunday night.

A police-constable said he saw the two prisoners take the glass globe from the top of the beacon. Having put it in a motor car they were about to drive away. One of them said, "Several of us were trying to get one each. I will pay you for it."

This is "very British" as they say, but personally we'll take our news in the good old fashioned United States manner.

WACO MAYOR-ELECT HAS RELATIVES HERE

News of the election of Joe W. Hale, Waco's new commissioner as the new Mayor of Waco, was received here with additional interest due to the fact that Mr. or Mayor Hale, now, is related to our own people, the M. W. Murrays, and the Perry Hales.

Mayor Hale is a trustee of Baylor University, a graduate of that school and a lawyer of note. Mr. Hale is also Past Master of the J. W. Speight Masonic Lodge of Waco.

METHODISTS CLOSED HELPFUL TEN DAY REVIVAL LAST SUN. NIGHT

AT THE EASTER PARADE

On the glorious Easter Sunday morning, churches were certainly in vogue, along with the new Easter finery, consisting of clothes, shoes, hats, hair dressing, corsages, buttonaires, lillies and whatnot.

Seen during the Easter Parade were Gladys Westerman, featuring black, trimmed with white and crowned by a pert white hat; she's of Austin; innumerable tots, stiff with Easterness, and usually with the ever present Easter Baskets; Faye Hamilton, under a wide brimmed hat, blue dress trimmed, of course, with the conventional white. Mrs. C. C. Pinckney, school marm in white with touches of black; Ethel Kutherford, adds a touch of red to her spring costume, featuring a spring 3/4 length coat; three of the McGilvray sisters, using the new spring net, and light spring coats, and our own Liz Wms. (for type's sake) in blue, spotted with white, she's our Society Editress.

Also, not in their finery, necessarily, but topped with an aura of white hair, were Harry Dillashaw Sr., Arch Boyd and Uncle Rab Dickey, all recognizing the fact that we have with us this wonderful Spring and Summer Season.

Alvise, both father and son in all white Easter colors in entirety, followed by Dr. Otis C. Ray, complete in linen, not to mention, Harry Fientge and others. Youngsters included the Hanna boys, coatless with white shirts, summer knee bitches, short sox and bare legs.

Show windows still being full of Spring and Summer finery, those of us who didn't make the Easter Parade, may appease our vanity, and get into comfortable light weight clothes from the varied assortments shown by the numerous local merchants, and at the surprisingly low cost. Ensembles this year feature a varied assortment of color, size, shape and material, both for men and women. It was a very successful Easter Parade! N'est-ce pas!

NEW ADDITION TO CITY HALL NEARING COMPLETION

Having finished the second floor of the new addition to the city hall, the Relief offices will be moved there this week, according to John Frank Post.

When the ground floor is finished within the next few days, the Case Department, Rural Rehabilitation and commissary Departments will be housed there.

Also, the sewing room, which now occupies the space over the fire house will be moved directly over city hall offices, making room for the Firemen's Recreation Room to be finished there. The roof of the engine house will be lowered and some other alterations made.

Climaxing a very successful revival, both from the spiritual and other viewpoints, Sunday night's Easter program at the First Methodist was well attended, according to the pastor, Rev. M. M. Chunn.

Checking up, Rev. Chunn stated there were some forty additions to the church, divided as follows: by baptism 28; by vows, 10, and by letter three. A number of babies were baptised during the morning service.

Featuring the story of Easter from the time Christ entered Jerusalem until the Resurrection, the musical program was enjoyed by a full house, even filling the balconies. This complete program was in song and consisted of duets, solos, choruses and mass singing. Decorations for the Eastertide were a lighted Cross, candles and Easter lillies.

Throughout the whole meeting the crowds were attentive and interested, and the pastor is well pleased from every viewpoint.

OSAGE BAPTIST CALL REV. BROOKS SASSE PASTOR

At a recent conference of the congregation the Osage Missionary Baptist church called Rev. Brooks Sasse of Gatesville to the pastorate of that flock.

Reverend Sasse is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Sasse of this city, and for the past several years has been active in church work among young people in west Texas and other places. He is a student of the Bible department of Baylor University where he expects to complete the ministerial course at a later date.

He filled the pulpit there at two services last Sunday, at which time he gave his acceptance of the church call.

NEWS FASHION FEATURE FOR FEMININE FANS

By arrangements with local merchants and their dress makers, fitters, alterers, seamstresses, stylists and designers, the News, assisted by this, is instituting a "News Fashion Suggestion" column for the benefit of its many feminine readers.

Twice each week, this feature will appear, and starting with Alvis-Garner Co., and running alphabetically thru the list of those handling women's ready-to-wear, piece goods, dresses, accessories, etc., until the entire list is used, including Benson's Style & Beauty Shop, Davidson Bros. Co., Joe Hanna's Cash Store, Leaird's Department Store, and Painter & Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Straw were Waco visitors Monday.

ing room for the Firemen's Recreation Room to be finished there. The roof of the engine house will be lowered and some other alterations made.

IT MUST BE DONE

Mechanically speaking, the automobile of today is infinitely safer than that of ten years ago. Brakes reach perfection. Lights have been vastly improved. Steering mechanisms are fool-proof. Car bodies can stand terrific punishment.

Similar progress has taken place in road building. The modern highway, with traffic lanes, banked turns and "skidless" surfaces, is a tribute to engineering science which has done wonders in seeking to make driving safe and pleasant.

Yet automobile accidents continue to rise—both in number and severity. The motorist has no alibi. He can't blame the car or the road for mishaps, save in an infinitesimal percentage of instances. The human element—and the human element alone—is at fault in ninety-odd accidents out of a hundred.

Most drivers are competent. Most are careful. Most realize that an automobile is a potential killer. But that minority of motorists which is either careless, incompetent, or plain reckless, menaces us all. Perhaps ten per cent of drivers fall into one of those categories—and the lives, health and property of the other ninety per cent is placed in peril because of them.

Last year saw 36,000 people killed—unnecessarily—in auto accidents. It is the duty of every citizen and every unit of government to see that a different record is made this year. Traffic laws must be modernized and enforced with the utmost strictness. The dangerous driver has been given every chance. He has been urged to change his ways, and has refused. Now he must be forced to drive safely—or be deprived of the right to drive on public streets and highways.

SILVER GROWS SCARCE

Silver is growing increasingly scarce.

The American government's silver purchase program, whereby thousands of ounces of the metal are purchased in the world market from time to time, has absorbed much of the available supply.

In addition, foreign governments which hold large quantities of silver, such as China, are showing disinclination to sell, for fear that their banking and currency systems might be disrupted as a result.

The inevitable consequence of this trend will be gradual appreciation in the value of silver—and the more demand outruns supply, the higher the price will become. That means much to the future of the mining industry, both here and abroad.

Various European countries are now looking to the U. S. to give a hand in bringing order out of the chaos created by Germany's declaration to re-arm.

These countries believe that we will cooperate because of the fact that we, in company with all the powers involved in the World war, signed the Versailles treaty.

"For a nation so devoted to fact-finding bodies of one sort or another, it is surprising how few facts are uncovered and how many words are employed to conceal these few."—Barron's.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Young of Seymour have announced the arrival of a baby girl who was born Thursday, '11. She was named Sylvia. Mrs. Young and baby are at the home of Mrs. Mrs. Young's mother, Mrs. F. T. McColum.

Judge S. P. Sadler of Dallas visited the first of the week with his brother, W. K. Sadler.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Draper of Winstboro were here this week visiting her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Will Gooch.

World Comment

By JOE BURNS

While our ship of State continues to sail in red ink, Great Britain ends the year with thirty-five million dollars in her till. That just goes to show what a nation can accomplish by industry, sobriety, frugality and a bad memory for war debts.—Today.

"Too Much Gimme" in the Roosevelt camp is the keynote of the attack made by Gov. Eugene Talmage of Georgia upon President Roosevelt. Referring to Mr. Roosevelt as a radical in the extreme form, this ardent critic of the administration and its policies predicted a third party ticket in the 1936 election that would sweep Mr. Roosevelt from office. Talmadge, virtual dictator of Georgia, is planning a campaign to be conducted thru the Cotton States attacking the cotton processing tax inaugurated by Roosevelt's Agricultural Secretary, Henry Wallace.

Third party sentiment is undoubtedly growing thruout the nation. The trouble lies in the fact that the independents of both regular parties can not get together. A Long-Coughlin-Sinclair-La Follette-Olsen-Talmadge could make a strong showing at the 1936 election but if such a party movement were launched, each of the above would want to be the candidate, with the exception of Coughlin. And none of the other would want to be best man to a leader. The Roosevelt strategy lies in keeping the dissident Democrats and other independents from getting together. The real threat lies in the fact that a third party might be able to carry enough votes from the Democratic column to slip in the G. O. P. candidate.

Adolf Hitler reaffirmed Germany's independence of other nations last week by declaring that the League of Nations Council has no right to judge Germany's action in scrapping the Versailles Treaty. Why should they, contends Herr Hitler, when Nazi Germany is not a member of the League? Hitler, through his foreign office, discreetly refrained from further antagonizing Great Britain by announcing that the door is not closed to further international discussions pertaining to the reduction of the world's armed forces. But Germany's armed forces continue to increase at a rapid pace, according to recent dispatches. While the other powers dicker, Hitler rearms and when the former Allies finally awake, they will find a strong and united Germany ready to say NO to any proposals not advantageous to her Fatherland.

Germany expects the next war to be over in twenty-four hours. A devastating aerial attack upon the enemy's key industrial cities will prepare the way for a speedy and effective conquest by the land forces, contend the Germans, and in pursuance of such a policy, Hitler and his aides are building a strong air fleet. Von Blom-berg, the present Minister of War, once said to the Reichfuhrer, "Just give me 20,000 planes and see what I can do." And the French quaver in their boots.

HENS in Texas come across regularly, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Texas is fourth among the egg-producing states, with 145,355,000,000 in 1928 compared with the winner's (Iowa) 188,336,600,000. Whether the depression has hurt egg production the Department report failed to indicate.

A $3,000,000,000 (billions) increase in bank deposits in the last six months of 1934 was disclosed on April 6 by officials of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The total bank deposits in the U. S. on December 31 were put at slightly less than fifty billion dollar. This may or may not be attributed to the New Deal but when the precarious state of thousands of banks throughout the nation in 1933 is recalled, even you good Republicans must admit that something has caused this increase in deposits.

BEAUTY PARLOR BILL IS FINALLY PASSED

Austin, Texas, April 13—Before adjourning till Monday, the Senate passed one bill Friday, a measure regulating the occupation of hair dressers and cosmetologists, to create a board of examiners and enforce sanitary methods. All beauty parlors must obtain permits and the operators be licensed, if the Governor approves the bill.

Efforts to exempt beauty parlors and their operators in the smaller towns were defeated. The prediction was made that the law will prove a hardship on small town operators.

Claud Westerfeld obtained adoption of an amendment which struck from the bill a provision requiring eighteen months experience before a certificate would be issued to a person who had successfully passed the examination. Thus assistant cosmetologists and hair dresser will receive these certificates immediately on passing the examinations.

JEFF SOULS

Funeral services were held Wednesday, April 17, at four o'clock at Seaton Cemetery for Mr. Jeff Souls, with Rev. Geo. Siler conducting the rites.

Mr. Souls passed away at his home three miles south of Turnersville Sunday evening, April 14th at 4:20 o'clock.

He was born in Troy, Alabama, December 16, 1861, and came to Texas with his parents at the age of 12. He married Miss Martha Jane Ross, who preceded him in death six years.

Mr. Soul is survived by six sons, D. A., A. J. and A. S. Souls of Turnersville, O. D. and J. S. of Horse Springs, New Mexico. Two brothers, J. S. Souls of Enumelow, Washington, and John of Fort Worth, and one sister, Mrs. Hurrion Fenkenbinder, also survive.

MRS. KATE MORGAN-BELL BURIED AT CLAYROCK

Mrs. Kate Morgan-Bell died at the family home in Copperas Cove Thursday afternoon, April 11. She had been sick for more than a year taking treatment at Temple, and had been confined to her bed for six weeks. Funeral services and burial were in the Clayrock cemetery Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Bell, whose maiden name was Miss Kate Terry, was born and reared in Lampasas county, near Rumley, and lived in this county until two years ago. She first married Forrest Morgan who died several years ago. She lived two years here with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown and two years ago married J. J. Bell, a merchant of Copperas Cove. She was well and favorably known to the people of her community and was a sincere christian character. She was a member of the Methodist at Clayrock.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her two sisters, Mrs. Albert Brown of Lampasas and Mrs. Will Trussell of Rumley, and four brothers, Alex, Jack, and Tom Terry of Christoval and Bob Terry of Lometa. —Lampasas Record.

—If you have something to sell, you have something to advertise!

June 28, this year she would have celebrated her thirty-sixth birthday anniversary. In 1918 she was married to Eli M. Hedgpeth and he with their young son and daughter, Robert Williams and Mamie Jack, survive her. Other survivors are her mother and the following brothers and sisters, Tom Boling, Ireland; Earl and Robert Boling, Canyon; Mrs. J. B. Favor, Ireland; Mrs. R. W. Distruke, Abilene; Mrs. Georgia Beechly, Gatesville.

Her christian life was exemplary. Mrs. Hedgpeth was converted in early childhood and united with the Methodist church. She was a kind, helpful and loyal as a neighbor and friend and was active in all good work. She was an idol in her home and amongst her kin and her death to them is a loss insupportable.

The sympathy of all who know the sorrow stricken family is expressed tenderly in an effort to sustain and comfort them these dark hours.—Hamilton Herald Record.

MRS. E. M. HEDGPETH OF IRELAND PASSES AWAY

In the early years of her maturity of a beautiful and promising life, Mrs. Pearl Boling Hedgpeth, beloved wife of Eli M. Hedgpeth, of the Ireland Saturday morning, April 3, at 8:25 o'clock.

Funeral rites were conducted by Rev. Bell of the Ireland Methodist Church, at the Evergreen cemetery in the late hours of Saturday, and the body of Mrs. Hedgpeth was laid to sleep until the trumpet of the Archangel on that bright and cloudless morning when "all the dead in Christ shall rise."

Pearl Boling was the daughter of Mrs. C. T. Boling, who lives in the towns of Abilene and Canyon, Texas, the greater part of the time. The family is well known and the death of the lovely young woman is deeply deplored by numerous friends. Pearl Boiding was born and reared in Coryell county near Ireland. Had she lived until

Mrs. J. F. Basham and children wish at this time to try to express their appreciation to their friends and neighbors for the sympathy and kindness shown them at the death of their dear husband and father, Mr. James F. Basham.

Mrs. J. F. Basham and Family.

JAMES F. BASHAM

To the union of C. J. Basham and Miss Julia Ann Waggoner were born six children, Dican Basham, Ary Carnegia, William Basham, James F. Basham, John Basham and Julia Laxson.

James F. Basham was born in Texas, July 5, 1864. He joined the King Baptist Church at the age of 16; and later became a charter member of the Basham Baptist Church now known as the Purmela Baptist Church. He lived a devoted christian life.

Mr. James F. Basham and Miss Nancy Elizabeth Roberts were married January 13, 1897. To this union were born eight children.

Mr. Basham in 1918 was sent to the San Antonio Hospital where he remained until his death April 20, 1935. His death was due to hemorrhage of the brain.

He is survived by his wife and 6 children and by one brother, John Basham. The children are Mrs. Tabitha Moore of San Benito, James Basham of Purmela, Miss May Basham, Mrs. Viola Culp of Gatesville, Mrs. Velma Logan of Purmela, and Miss Opal Basham. He is also survived by five grandchildren.

We shall miss our dear husband and father, oh so much, even though he has been separated from us for many years. He was a kind, loving father and husband; and everyone who knew him, loved him and had the highest regards for him.

Crop Loans Starting!

Raymond News Service

THE signing of the Deficiency Bill, making the $60,000,000 for Crop and Seed Production Loans available, was good news for farmers who are now buying seed, fertilizers, and other supplies. The bill will be a boost for American industry, since the Farm Credit Administration suggests that borrowers buy American-made supplies. Agricultural leaders have long felt that farmers should support American industry by using fertilizers made in the United States, such as American nitrate of soda, sulphate of ammonia and potash.

P. P. FEWELL

Mr. P. P. Fewell, 79, resident of Gatesville for the last four years died at his home here Friday afternoon at 4:36 following a four weeks illness. Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock at the Slater cemetery where burial was made. Rev. Ira Grantham, pastor at Romly, conducted the rites.

Mr. Fewell was born in Bell county April 22, 1857. In 1879 he was married to Miss M. T. Johnson. He had lived in Coryell county for many years, and had been a successful farmer. Mr. Fewell entered into the Christian life about forty years ago, when he was united with the Church of Christ. He has walked uprightly and his entire life has been exemplary.

To mourn his going he leaves his widow, two daughters and a son. They are Mrs. P. P. Fewell, Mrs. J. N. Cowan, Mrs. E. D. Sanders and Mr. J. L. Fewell.

Bastrop—Twenty-seven cut ant hills were exterminated in February on the farm of Mrs. Bob Moore of Bastrop county by the use of five gallons of carbon disulphide, according to W. S. Millington, county agricultural agent. The dirt was scraped away from the center of the main town until a hole was found leading straight down. Thirty gallons of water were poured into the hole and this was followed by a mixture of two gallons of water and one pint to one quart of the carbon disulphide. The hole and all other openings were then covered and dirt packed over them. If any signs of ant life are observed the treatment will be repeated, Mrs. Moore said.

Andrews—A ten month old Hereford calf, weighing 696 pounds, belonging to Eugene Walden, Jr., Andrews county 4-H club member, took first place in the class for calves at a local livestock and poultry show, according to H. L. Atkins, Jr., county agricultural agent. A liberal valuation of $15 put on the calf at the start of feeding, plus $40 spent on feed and labor were his only expenses, while the calf sold for 15 cents per pound and brought $10 in prize money. This gave him a profit of $49.10 on his feeding venture. The calf was fed chiefly on ground corn, ground milo, mineral and cottonseed meal with 100 pounds of rolled barley during the last 30 days.

Seymour—More than 4000 feet of subirrigation tile were laid by 18 farmers in Baylor county in January and February of this year, according to P. C. Colgin, county agricultural agent. In addition to the amount already laid, 2014 feet of tile are still in the hands of three local men who are making tile, for sale and in the hands of three farmers who have not yet laid it in their gardens. During 1934, 10,600 feet of subirrigation tile were laid by Baylor county farmers.

Wichita Falls—Using parts of old clothes to hook into a gunny sack foundation, Mrs. Leon Rankin, home industries demonstrator for the Freberg Home Demonstration Club in Wichita county, made a top for a foot stool, according to Miss Bessie Lee Sikes, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Rankin made the foot stool from a piece of waste lumber and four discarded stove legs and a bit of left over black enamel. Her only cash expense was 10 cents for black upholstery tacks which she used to fasten the top to the stool.

Cooper—A candlewick bedspread has just been completed for 20 cents cash by Mrs. T. A. Mosley, member of the Enloe Demonstration Club in Delta county, according to Miss Mary Louise Ramsey, home demonstration agent. As a foundation, Mrs. Mosley used heavy feed sacks which were permanently crinkled and resemble homespun. The thread used for the embroidery was the kind used by milling companies for sewing up sacks. When this was doubled it was heavy enough. Mrs. Mosley's only expense was for the thread.

A design of interlocked circles 10 inches in diameter was used, and as the design was close enough to cover a large portion of the spread, the seams where the sacks were sewed together did not show.

Falfurrias—At a cost of $3.75 for lumber and labor, Mrs. J. T. Sharp, 4-H pantry demonstrator of the Falfurrias Home Demonstration Club in Brooks county, put 21 feet of shelving in her kitchen to store her canned goods conveniently and systematically, according to Miss Louise Hogue, home demonstration agent.

Although the canning season for vegetables has not begun, Mrs. Sharp has 108 jars and cans labeled with the 4-H pantry labels to place on her shelves. Of the 108, 61 containers were citrus fruit products made from the fruit of a few citrus trees in her own back yard and from two bushels of grape fruit given her. The cans are organized on the shelves according to the plan recommended by the Extension Service.

If Your Job Calls for ECONOMY, You'll Get a Real Thrill Out of This New INTERNATIONAL

● The new low-priced 1 to 1½-ton Model C-20 carries on the International economy tradition. It brings to truck buyers all the proved economy of former Internationals, together with new beauty of line and many mechanical refinements. It has strength without excess weight, speed for long hauls, and an abundance of power for emergencies. The four-speed transmission adapts it to dump truck service. Two wheelbases—133 and 157 inches—permit the mounting of a wide variety of body types.

This new International features hardened exhaust-valve seat inserts, cam-and-lever steering gear, and full-floating rear axle. While the C-20 is a new model, its engine is well-known to thousands of International users. Bakers, laundrymen, dairymen, dry cleaners, florists, retailers, and others whose delivery service calls for a great many stops, have found this dependable engine a big factor in reducing their delivery costs.

We are now showing the new International Model C-20. Come in and see it, or phone us and we will arrange a demonstration.

International Trucks are available in sizes ranging from ½-ton to 10-ton.

CHAPTER VI

WHAT HAS HAPPENED

Arthur Jones, clerk, is the double of Killer Mannion, escaped murderer and gangster. The police give Jones a passport to identify him as not being Mannion. Mannion corners Jones in his room and takes the passport, using it by night—Jones using it by day. Mannion plans to have Jones killed, so that the police will believe he, Mannion, is dead. Mannion has imprisoned Jones' Aunt Agatha and pretty Wilhelmina "Bill" Clark, whom Jones loves. Jones is on his way to the bank on Mannion's mission, which is the death trap, for the police are waiting, believing it is Mannion.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

The quickest way for Jones to reach the First National Bank was by subway. That is, it should have been. But the train was stalled in the long underground tunnel. Something wrong on the tracks. Jones clutched the conductor's arm.

"How long are we going to be stalled like this, conductor?"

"Search me. It might be a minute and it might be hours."

Before the conductor could stop him, Jones was off the train and down on the tracks, scurrying along to the nearby station platform. Outside, he hopped into a cab. The cab managed a short distance, then was stopped by the parade. Indeed, the Pates were throwing a monkey wrench into Mr. Mannion's plans.

Jones paid the fare, then hopped out. Vainly, he tried to break through the crowds watching the procession.

In the bank, the captain was addressing his men. "I don't want any slip-ups. We got to finish him now or never."

Finally, Jones broke through, only to be stopped on the other side by another crowd. Frantic, now, he tried to push and shove.

As in circuses, carnivals, any public gathering, pickpockets are likely to do business. So it was in the parade. Two of them spotted Jones. There was a sudden bustle. Jones bent over to pick up his knocked-off hat, and when he straightened again, his pocketbook had taken wings. Of course, Jones didn't know that yet, but gone it was.

Again, Jones pressed forward, but he stopped short, his eyes widening. There in front of him was the man who had first seen him in the restaurant and had mistaken him for Mannion. With a gasp, he broke away and ran for the bank. The doorman stiffened. Mannion! His hand pressed the button and the loud bell whirled the alarm through the bank. Mannion! The police arsenal was ready.

As Jones reached the door, he stopped and felt for his wallet. Gone! Fearfully, he searched every pocket. Gone! He couldn't know that Mannion's ten thousand was only blank paper.

"That's funny. I must have forgotten it. I guess I left it on the table! I'll have to go back for it."

But "Mannion's" original "discoverer" was not letting him get away this time. He followed Jones as closely as the crowds would let him.

Pandemonium broke loose in the bank when the doorman shouted. "He's left—he's getting away!" The chase was on!

Jones finally reached Mannion's hide-out again. But the persistent "man of the restaurant" was still following. Jones rang the bell. A lookout poked his head from the window and in another moment, the door was opened and Jones entered. To the lookout, this was Mannion. How could he know? And besides, the boys had been imbibing a bit.

"Any news, boss? Have the cops croaked Jones yet?" asked the lookout.

A startled look came to Jones' eyes. He realized now that he was mistaken for Mannion. "I don't know," he said in guarded tones.

They entered the room, where the rest of the gang were still playing cards. "Well, Killer," asked one of the henchmen with a leer, "did you say good-bye to Gert all right?"

Another looked up. "Look, Boss. When I phoned the cops you was gonna stick up that bank, I called from a booth right around the corner. We oughta blow out of here before they start prowling around, tryin' to trace the call."

"How about the reward?" another asked, grinning. "D'you suppose we oughta claim it?"

"What are we gonna do with those three people in there?" asked another. "The Clark girl an' Seaver ain't so bad. But that Aunt Agatha dame is a holy terror. Don't never ask me to take care of no old lady again. She's nearly talked me to death."

Jones almost gasped. So Aunt Agatha had come. And Bill—she was in there—in the other room! And Seaver—oh, my goodness!

They all jumped as the bell downstairs rang again. The lookout jumped to the window. "It's Jones!" he shouted.

Jones quickly walked to the window. Aunt Agatha, Bill, Seaver. Something must be done! The worried henchmen surrounded Jones.

"Somethin' must've gone wrong."

"What's the boob comin' back for?"

"What'll we do, Boss?"

Jones made a sudden decision. "Let him in." Jones now had a new authority. His voice was crisp, crackling. "You two guys stand in front of the door." The two henchmen obeyed. Jones spoke grimly. "Let him have it the minute the door opens."

"Plug him?"

"Yeah—" said Jones. "Plug him." He nodded to one of the men, for Mannion's footsteps were at the door.

The henchman's arm moved, the door swung open. Mannion stood there a moment, puzzled. His hand rose, pointing to Jones who stood in the doorway facing him. Before any incrimination could be made, two guns cracked simultaneously. Staccato. Deadly. Mannion slumped to the floor. Killer Mannion had ceased to be.

"G-get him in there—" said Jones, indicating one of the rooms. He turned and spoke sharply. "Give 'em a hand, boys."

The rest of the gang hurried to obey. Jones walked quickly to the table where the men had left their guns. He picked up two of the weapons, and turned, the revolvers menacingly pointing at Mannion's men. He faced them defiantly, though his knees were a bit wobbly.

"Back up in there!"

The men gaped, open-mouthed. What the?—

"Get in there, I say!"

Jones' hands began to tremble. Too much. Suddenly, the guns began to belch forth bullets. The men yelled and ducked for the room where Jones had been held prisoner. Fright of the exploding guns had caused Jones to drop them. But he didn't need them now. He ran quickly to the door and turned the key in the lock. Mannion's men were prisoners in their own hide-out! The fight was practically over—for all the shoulder holsters of the men were draped over the chairs where they had been playing cards.

The man who had followed Jones had come back. This time with a squad of police.

Jones, his knees still clacking, jumped as a furious pounding began on the bedroom door. Bristling with the guns he had gathered, he walked unsteadily to the door and threw it open. Aunt Agatha was doing the pounding. In back of here were Bill and Seaver. They started back, fearing it was Mannion. But, then, they knew it wasn't—for Jones had fainted!

"It's Jones!" shouted Bill. "He's fainted. Get some water—quick." She bent over the fallen Jones.

Aunt Agatha ran around excitedly. Water? Where was water? In fact, she was still asking when Boyle and Howe, the detectives, rushed in.

"The what?" asked Boyle.

"Water—we want water! He's fainted!" Aunt Agatha rushed for the bedroom, not knowing, of course, of the room's precious cargo. She turned the key and the door swung open. Out poured the gangsters. But they didn't pour far, for the police were now in the room.

"Stick 'em up, boys," said Boyle. And the boys did.

The newspapers the next day carried this headline: JONES WINS TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND. Writer Gets Reward for Slaying of Killer and Capture of His Gang. Marries one of Three Prisoners He Rescued.

Nice reward, eh? That's what Jones thought.

The steamship dock was a busy place. News photographers, reporters, and curious crowds surrounded Jones as they bid good-bye to the interpid little clerk, writer or what have you, and his bride, Miss Wilhelmina "Bill" Clark. Aunt Agatha was there, too. She was bidding good-bye. Oh, it was marvelous. It was going to be such a swell honeymoon.

Oh, yes. That's right. The boat was bound for Shanghai. Nice place to spend a honeymoon, don't you think?

And now Jones wouldn't have to save postage stamps...

THE END

High Davis Picnic Great Annual Event to Many

"If at first you do not succeed try-try again" has not been applicable in the case of the superlative ability of Mr. and Mrs. High Davis to entertain the large number of their friends and relatives whom they so adorably accepted as their guests at their home playground on the day of their Annual which has come yearly for a long time, now. They have succeeded every year in a most charming manner but it does seem that Saturday, April 13th was the best all around picnic ever held at this place.

After so many dirt storms—the change in the condition of such to one of the fairest—most beautiful days we have ever known was something outstanding to be thankful for. With fair weather and every member present in as fair a condition the events in the form of contests of various kinds terminated in barrels and barrels of fun both for those participating and those watching from grand—"stand" seats.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis and Loyce Davis and wife who were co-host and hostess had previously made out the program which called for various ball games that began at 9:30 a. m. as pre-scheduled, which lasted until the noon hour.

The noon hour!!! Mr. Davis, knowing his invitations had been extended to quite a few this year, who had not been attending his annual, had enlarged his table several feet, which was indeed the wise thing for, not until after the first servings, was there room for even an extra cookie on the long table. While the poor table heaved and groaned under its enormous load of good eats the crowd smiled from ear to ear as they devoured much barbecue that was prepared in the best style possible—and much of anything you can name that would add to the best picnic—spread you can imagine. Immediately preceding the lunch—instrumental numbers were furnished by a string band—those playing were Delbert Gill, Loyce Davis and Houston Bunch. The invocation was then read by Rev. J. H. Baldrige of Gatesville.

As has always been true—the barbecue, bread and pickles were the treat furnished by the host. The coffee was the treat of Mat Davis and the Admiration Coffee Company served by their representatives, Mr. and Mrs. Moore of Waco. The other foods on the menu were brought by the invited guests.

Shortly after noon the games and contests—so many I don't try to mention them all—began again. More ball games—racing contests—talking contests, each one trying to excell in the one he or she entered.

Dook Vandiver won first place both in the tournament race where the person catching the most ring from the post arm while riding a horse—and in the goat-roping contest. Dook was asked to present the trophy he won to the prettiest girl in the crowd, his choide was little Miss Olive Humes of Turnersville.

Miss Ruth Davis of Buster won first for like contests for women. "No fair tellin' who she passed her trophy on to."

In the target practice contest for women Mrs. Loyce Davis won first. For men—Mr. Alex

Davidson of Pecan Grove. Mr. Davidson wins this distinction by popular vote only—as he was not so young as the others, for there were several men and boys who hit the bull's eye and rang the bell the first shot, but somehow Uncle Ec won the trophy. Little three year-old Donald Humes deserves mention as his chivalry dared him into trying his aim at the bull's eye.

Mrs. Gordon Davis presided over the register in which, on checking up, she found 305 names. I guess after all, the most interesting feature of the day was the exchange of conversation and the little visits between girl and boyhood—first name friends whom they had not seen for years. Among these we might name Mr. and Mrs. Burb Jones of Richmosd, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Childress Buford of Houston, Dr. and Mrs. John Davis—Seminole, Okla., Mrs. Iizy Boyer—Waco, Mrs. Margaret Davis—McGregor, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bright—Waco.

Among the out-of-community visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Kay Henderson, F. Henderson and wards, A. E. and Paul Morris Miss Carver—Waco, T. N. Ed-families and others—McGregor, Jess Davis family—Buster, Rev. Morrison and others—Turnersville, Rev. Whitefield, Jim Walker and family, Dwight Boyer and others, Oglesby, Theon Hall and others Crawford, Mrs. Vir-gie Mae Greenhaw and daughter, Nolanville, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Baldrige, Rev. and Mrs. Chunn, Effie Jean Chunn, Clay Allen Vandiver, Ed Clark, Gordon Davis family and Miss Vera Sams and others, Gatesville. Several from Pecan Grove Mound, Hackney, Evant, Comanche Springs, Levita, Osage, South Bosque and Harris.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. High Davis present were Carl and family, Pancake; Mrs. Neta Wright, husband and children, Turnersville; Mrs. Blanch Humes, husband and children, Turnersville; Bert and family, Coryell Church; Mrs. Allyne Davidson, husband and family, Pecan Grove; besides Mr. and Mrs. Loyce Davis who helped make the day perfect from start to the grand final so far as first class entertainment and loyalty to guests goes.

Sheer Net Jacket Frock

This design would be very smart made of navy blue net over navy crepe slip, with navy blue bows of grosgrain ribbon on the front of the blouse and with white grosgrain ribbon at the neck for contrasting color. With either white or blue net gloves, touches of white on the navy belt and shoes, this would make a very stunning ensemble.

Syndicate Writer Has Ardent Fan Here

George Matthew Adams, writer of syndicated articles has a very admirable fan here, Mrs. Eleanor D. DuBes, and he acknowledges the fact in a letter recently received by Mrs. DuBes.

Mr. Adams writes editorials and essays on a varied list of subjects, some of which are, Thinking, Enjoyment, Books, Groping, Understanding, Prejudice, Wealth, etc. Mr. Adams began to write his "Talks" for the newspapers some 20 years ago just to please himself, and because of the enthusiastic reception they received, he has continued to write them. He has organized the George Matthews Adams Service for newspapers and other periodicals. Among the successful writers Mr. Adams helped to get their starts are Bob Ripley, H. T. Webster, Thornton Burgess, the late Dr. Frank Crane and Geo. Fitch; Edgar Guest, Walt Mason and others.

Collecting an interesting library of favorite books including many first editions, he has also been a collector of etchings, and owns one of the finest collections of Legros, the French etcher-painter, in existence.

Receiving letters from such people as Mr. Adams, Mrs. DuBes is to be congratulated, and incidentally, she has a very interesting start to a hobby of "autograph" hunting.

Culinary Jingles by Marcia Camp

You may not be able To love like Clark Gable, Or vamp like Jean Harlow, But you CAN make a marlow.

SMOOTH as velvet, more delicious than ambrosia, and as delicate as love's young dream—that's chocolate marlow. It belongs, furthermore, to the "can't fail" family of marshmallow frozen desserts, so you can be sure not only of the admiration of your family and guests but of their searty co-operation in the disposal of our marlow.

It is really so simple to make that you can, if rushed yourself, safely delegate the work to your young daughter. Even if she has never made ice cream in her life before, she will turn out a perfect one with this recipe. After she gets it into the refrigerator tray it's up to the refrigerator—but if the quantity dwindles mysteriously during the freezing process, don't blame the refrigerator! And you won't blame the young cook, either, after you have tasted the marlow yourself! Of course a mechanical refrigerator is not essential. Use a freezer, without agitating, or a mold, covered and sealed in an ice-salt mixture.

CHOCOLATE MARLOW

- 1/2 cup cocoa or 1 square chocolate
1 cup milk
16 marshmallows
1 1/2 tablespoons vanilla
Few grains salt
1/2 pint cream, stiffly beaten

Put cocoa into the top of a double boiler and add milk gradually, stirring to form a smooth paste. Add marshmallows and steam over hot water until thoroughly melted, blend to a smooth mixture with milk and cocoa. Add vanilla and salt, and cool. When cold and slightly stiffened, combine with the stiffly beaten cream. Pour into containers and freeze without stirring.

If chocolate is used instead of cocoa, put marshmallows into the pan first, pour milk over them, and add the chocolate, shaved finely. Steam until both marshmallows and chocolate are melted, and proceed as with cocoa.

The sixteen marshmallows called for in this recipe are the entire contents of one of the four pack-ettes contained in the new triple-sealed economy pound packages of camp-fire marshmallows. Each of the pack-ettes is sealed separately, so when you open another quarter-pound you will find its contents as fresh as the day they left the factory. Try keeping a package or two always on hand, and see how often they are useful for combining with a fruit salad, or topping a baked pudding, or serving with hot beverages, or handing out to a hungry child just home from school.

Interesting News of Copperas Cove

(Taken from the Copperas Cove Crony)

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday night, it was decided to have a free barbecue again this year. The date has been set for May 23. This affair is for the entire school district and not only the members of the Chamber of Commerce. Everyone in the district is asked to take a part.

Last year about 4,000 persons attended the picnic. It is expected that the crowd will be even larger this year. As you can see, the problem of entertaining and feeding so many people is going to take both work and money, but if we all pull together, we can make it a big success.

The Trade Days will continue to be held on the second and last Saturday of each month. On either of these days auctions will be held.

It was decided to have a Chamber of Commerce softball team and Otto Smith was elected captain.

Teachers Elected for Next Year

The Board of Trustees met April 17th for the purpose of electing teachers for the 1935-1936 term. The following were elected: J. C. Culwell, principal; Miss Lucille Holt, Miss Jimmie Jacobs, Miss Jewell Dixon, Miss Jewell Yarborough, primary; and Miss Bessie Gilbreath, music teacher.

Mr. J. H. Wagle handed in his resignation as superintendent which was accepted.

The addition of Miss Bessie Gilbreath to the staff of teachers, fills a need that has long been felt in the Copperas Cove school. Miss Gilbreath has been giving her time to the school for the past two years whenever it was needed and is a very competent teacher of music. In the past, no credits have been given in music, but next year it will be taught as a subject in the school.

This leaves only two vacancies in the faculty. That of the superintendent and a teacher in the grammar school.

Uncle John Vann Passes Away

At the age of 91 years, Uncle John Vann, who has made his home near Copperas Cove for more than fifty years, passed away April 14. Mr. Vann came to Texas in 1869, and with the exception of a few years, has spent most of these years near here.

J. M. Vann was born February 14, 1844. He served in the Confederate army throughout the Civil War. On December 6, 1868, he was married to Miss Collie Hinson and in 1869 he and his young bride moved to Texas. To this union four sons were born, one of whom preceded him in death. The three who survive him are Jim, Tom, and John. Jim and Tom live in the vicinity of Copperas Cove and John's home is in south Texas.

Interment was made in the Clem Cemetery Monday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Brashear, assisted by Rev. Henry Hinson.

52nd Birthday of Baptist Church

One hundred thirty-six visitors registered at the Baptist church last Thursday night, when they celebrated their 52nd birthday. A number of out-of-town visitors were present, who at one time were members of the church. Among them were: Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Dixon of Florence, Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Brashear of Killeen, Mrs. Cors Stanley of Lampasas, and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Clements of Killeen. Rev. Brashear was at one time pastor of the church.

The members of the church had a well planned and interesting program, which included a history of the church. Refreshments of cake and punch were served to the guests, and everyone had a good time.

A free-will offering of $22.07 was accepted by the church, and will be used to a good cause in the church work.

DEAN OF TEXAS U. MEDICAL PASSES AWAY

In the dailys, account of the death of Dr. George E. Bethel, 41, dean of the University of Texas medical school on April 17.

Interesting to people here, is the fact that Dr. Bethel is related to S. F. Bethel of Gatesville.

Dean Bethel was educated in the Garland public schools and was graduated from the University of Texas. Later he was on the staff of the General Hospital at Philadelphia.

Teaching anatomy at the medical school and in 1926, Dr. Bethel was transferred to Austin as director of the University of Texas health service. He also held the position of professor of therapeutics in the school of Pharmacy. He became dean of the medical college in 1928.

MEMBER OF PIONEER FAMILY PASSES AWAY

J. K. Sadler, an early pioneer of Coryell county, died Friday, April 12 at 12 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joe Frank, in Fort Wayne, Indiana, with whom he had been living for the past several years.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 10:30 at the Sparkman-Holtz-Brand chapel, Dallas, with Dr. William M. Anderson officiating.

Mr. Sadler was born June 4, 1849 in Tennessee. He was the son of C. C. Sadler. In 1852 he moved to Texas with his family first settling near Bonham. In 1854 they moved to Coryell City, where he was later married to Edna Armstrong, moving to Gatesville some years later to educate his three children. In later years he lived in Austin. In 1912 during the flu epidemic he lost his wife and daughter, Floy.

The deceased is survived by his daughter, Mrs. J. D. Frank of Fort Wayne; two brothers, Judge S. P. Sadler of Dallas, W. K. Sadler of Gatesville; one sister, Mrs. Linna Gage of Gatesville.

Active pall bearers were Judge M. N. Chestman, D. A. Frank, Dexter Hamilton, Harold Young, Tulane Smith and H. Walker Sadler.

Honorary pall bearers: L. M. Rice, L. B. Milam, Sam Leake, W. P. Henry, C. A. Gates, D. E. Waggoner, S. B. Perkins, C. V. Compton, John C. Cheek, C. J. Moore, R. K. Coke, all of Dallas and W. A. Hanger of Fort Worth.

DUSTING COVERS — OF — TEXAS HISTORY

Immigrant volunteers from New Orleans were indignant over the action against the Texas government. They would see that justice was done and honor the dead of the Alamo and Goliad, regardless of whether they were native-born Texans. General disapproval turned into violent disregard of orders. Santa Anna, by the secret treaty of Velasco, was to be returned to Vera Cruz June 1, but when the volunteers reached Texas, they demanded that he be punished severely.

Gen. Santa Anna likewise became indignant over the turn of events. He declared that he would appeal to President Jackson. Civil authorities had been forced to turn their prisoner over to the soldiers, in spite of protest on Santa Anna's part that he had been exposed to many hardships. His plea was repeated with sarcasm by those whose fathers and husbands had died at the Alamo or Goliad.

"You have caused us some privation also," President Burnet told Santa Anna, "and we shall not regret too deeply that you must also share some of them."

President Jackson refused to do anything about the quarrel between the two countries. Mexico had disavowed the Treaty of Velasco, and the President made no effort to have it enforced. Santa Anna was placed in close confinement, and remained there during the summer, and it was not until President Houston was inaugurated that he was released. Another appeal was made immediately to Jackson, who again did nothing.

A United States naval vessel accompanied Santa Anna back to Vera Cruz in February, 1837. He and his deeds were never forgotten, but in the course of time Texans were in the midst of government organization, and they had no time to waste in hating a man whose powerful leadership had practically destroyed a state. They simply ignored him for the time being, and set about to establish their Republic.

It is the Centennial of this Republic which the State of Texas is celebrating in 1936.

A. AND M. FARMERS' SHORT COURSE ANNOUNCED

College Station.—“Changing Country Life” will be the theme for the twenty-sixth annual Farmers' Short Course to be held at A and M College July 28 to August 2, according to Roy W. Snyder, chairman of the central committee.

Phases of the housing problems facing the rural family; soil conservation with particular reference to emergency erosion work; and agricultural adjustment will furnish features of the program. Demonstration in doing will be stressed rather than talks and lectures at this event, the largest rural gathering in Texas each year.

In addition to the programs planned for farmers, ranchmen, and rural home makers, conferences are scheduled for rural pastors and laymen of the State, agricultural editors, superintendents of rural schools, members of the bee keepers' association, producers of State registered and certified seed, and members of Epsilon Sigma Phi, national honorary fraternity of Extension Service workers.

A news paper staffed by 4-H club boys and girls as reporters will be printed daily during Short Course week. Neal Douglas, agricultural editor of the Austin American, will be managing editor. A small news sheet was mimeographed and sold on the campus last year, and because of its success plans have been made to enlarge and print the paper this year.

The central committee in charge of developing plans for the Short Course consists of Roy W. Snyder, chairman; R. H. Bush, Paul A. Cunyus, O. G. Tumlinson, Miss Onah Jacks, Mr. Dora R. Barnes, and Miss Mingie Mae Grubbs. This committee expects to have noted speakers and leaders present to bring information and lead discussions.

Green Pasture for Poultry

Because green feed was added to the ration for his hens, C. A. Luper of Dallas county gathered an average of five and one-half eggs more per hen in March 1935 than in March 1933, according to Dale Merwin, county agricultural agent. During the winter of 1933, Luper had no green feeds for his hens but fed three and one-half pounds of mash and three and one-half pounds of grain per hen. He received an average of 19.4 eggs per hen.

Luper planted alfalfa and in March 1935 he fed his hens three and one-half pounds of grain and four and one-third pounds of mash with green alfalfa. His flock averaged 25 eggs per hen.

EGGS SCRAMBLED AS TRUCK BURNS NEAR EVANT

Loaded with crates of eggs, the large truck used by a local produce house, when enroute to Lampasas, burned completely, leaving only the cab, motor and chassis, and wire or cables in tires at 11:00 a. m. Friday morning.

When approximately 22 miles out on highway 7 near Evant, the truck suddenly caught fire from an unknown cause, and driver Dale Lipsey managed to escape without injuries.

There will be a meeting of representatives from the different teams Wednesday night at 7:30 in the County Court room, according to Kenneth Hedgpeth. The organization is to be divided in two divisions with six teams in each.

“Carnival” News New Story Begins Tuesday Other Ends This Issue

“Carnival” a scenario featuring Lee Tracy, Sally Eilers and Jimmy Durante, which has been shown at one of the local theatres, is the News' next story for its readers. Supposing you saw the show here, you'll probably enjoy the five minutes or more reading this story as it comes to you each Tuesday in episodes. If you didn't, you have in store for yourself a rather fascinating story of carnival and show life, with comedy and everything that goes to make both a good story and moving picture. Start with us Tuesday next.

In this issue, “The Whole Town's Talking,” a six episode story running for the last six weeks, ends. It was also a movie and featured Edward G. Robinson and Jean Arthur. Detective is nature, and with a surprising turn, this has been a very amusing story, according to some of our readers. We're glad you enjoyed it. We did.

A MESSAGE

to Women

We think you're clever. Your homes are efficient, livable places. Your families are well cared for. You're good managers and good shoppers. You enjoy life and find time to support the activities of your churches and clubs. We're proud of you . . . but we can't refrain from taking a little of the credit for ourselves! You see, we're aware of the part that the semi-weekly News plays in your lives. You wanted suggestions for making your homes better and more pleasant. You wanted information about new fashions and current events. Naturally you turned to the News, and found articles that helped. But you didn't stop there; you found out where you could buy the articles you read about . . . you read the ads. In your usual efficient way you went about your shopping, knowing what you wanted to buy, and where you could buy it. You made your homes better, because you knew where you could get the equipment that would save you time and money. You were able to serve better meals and found that they cost you less, because you did your comparative shopping through the News. You were able to buy newer things, because you knew what stores had the newest stocks. And you found that shopping this way gave you more time for your own activities. Certainly you're clever . . . and our hats are off to you!
