Local Administration of Relief Advises Public Of Changes in Set-up

Because of the numerous inquiries being made in reference to the closing of the local relief I am giving the public the benefit of the best information I have in reference to the change in the government program.

The changes to be made in Coryell County are the same as are made in every County in Texas.

The Rural Rehabilitation Administration has been made into a new department and is now called the Rural Resettlement Department. It has been separated from the Texas Relief Commission and Mr. H. E. Welborn is in charge in Coryell County and has his offices in the Courthouse.

The Coryell County Relief work will be taken over by a District Relief Office to be established in the near future, and the work program will be carried on thru the Works Progress Administration with headquarters at Waco. It will probably be several weeks before the complete change will be effected.

The present relief work will likely be carried on as it is now until the Works Progress Administration is able to take care of the labor thru their new program and until such time as the District Relief Office is established at Waco.

The effort is being made to continue the work for those now working on relief, but no new cases are to be added under the present program, but they may make applications under the new program as soon as the set-up is completed.

The duties of the County Administrator and all employees working under him will be gradually absorbed by the District Relief Administrator as soon as the change can be made. The personnel of this office is being offered places under the new program as the work of the Relief Commission is changed over to the Works Progress Administration.

No change is being made in Coryell County that is not also made in every County in Texas, and we feel like those in charge of the New Program will take care of the un-employed and relief work as quickly and efficiently as possible.

This information is being given due to the fact that many rumors are being circulated in (Continued bot. next col.)

Damage Case Holds Limelight in Week's District Court Here

Finishing the third week of District Court, case of Cecil C. Burrage vs. Commercial Casualty Insurance Company et al. held the limelight, being the most important case disposed of, with the exception of the Barr case which was transferred to the Waco courts.

District Clerk Pleas M. Post gives below a complete list of the cases pending in the district court that have been called for trial and finally disposed of since last Tuesday:

W. O. Pharr vs. Ross Motor Coaches et al; suit for damages; settled and dismissed at defendant's cost.

Cecil C. Burrage vs. Commercial Casualty Insurance Company et al.; action for damages; verdict on special issues in favor of defendant.

Rabon Balch et al vs. W. C. Norton et al.; action for debt; submitted on special issues; verdict against W. C. Norton and in favor of the other defendants.

The State of Texas vs. H. F. Hardin, charged with embezzlement, eleven cases; dismissed on motion of the district attorney.

The State of Texas vs. Vernon Litchfield, charged with burglary, two cases; jury waived and tried before the court, plea of guilty, two years in each case to run concurrent.

The State of Texas vs. Royce Faubion, charged with theft of sheep; verdict of guilty and assessed three years in the penitentiary.

The State of Texas vs. Archie Gentry, charged with theft of sheep; verdict of guilty; assessed three years in penitentiary.

The State of Texas vs. A. L. Gentry, charged with burglary; plea of guilty before the court and given two years in the penitentiary.

In the case of the State of Texas against Mrs. Ethel Johnson, charged with murder of her daughter-in-law, special venire drawn and case set for August 12th.

In the case of the State of Texas vs. D. B. Scott, charged with the murder of Herman Wheat, special venire drawn and case set for trial August 12th.

regard to changes in relief work and the persons employed in the local relief office. I also wish to state that I am not an applicant for any position in the new program. Since July 1 I have had the affairs of my office ready for transfer to the new program but at the request of State officials I have continued to serve and will continue to serve as County Administrator for a short time until the new organization can be effected. After the re-organization is effected and the District Office at Waco is in operation I will not be connected in any manner with FERA, ERA, CWA, WPA, PWA, NRS, ECW, CCC or any other division of the State or Federal Government activities.

Respectfully submitted,
FRED G. PREWITT,
County Relief Administrator.

CORYELL MURDER CASE TRANSFERRED TO WACO

John Barr of Coryell county will face his fourth trial on a murder charge in McLennan county. He asked for a change of venue Wednesday in Gatesville, and it was granted.

Judge D. W. Bartlett of Waco was on the bench, sitting for Judge Bates Cross, excused.

Barr, who had been free on bond for some time, was required to make a new bond of $7500 when the venue was changed, and Judge Bartlett refused to approve one of his bondsmen Wednesday, so the accused man was held in the Coryell county jail pending approval of a new bond by Bartlett, which was expected to be Thursday morning, according to Sheriff Joe White of Coryell county.

Twice Barr has been convicted and had obtained reversals on appeal; once he got a hung jury. His sentences on conviction were 50 and 45 years. He allegedly killed John Mayhew with a wagon standard in December, 1932.

LOCAL SINGER WILL APPEAR ON WACO THEATRE STAGE

Clinton Chamlee, local singer, will appear on the stage of the Waco Theatre Tuesday, August 6th, at 6:00 o'clock on the Chevrolet Amateur program. Clinton will sing "One Alone" from Ramberg's "Desert Song" and will be accompanied by Jack Reesing, local pianist.

The contest that will be held in Waco is one of nine such contests which the Chevrolet dealers of the North Texas district are having. Five winners will be chosen from the Waco contestants. These winners will receive all-expense trips to Dallas where they will appear on a Sunday Chevrolet program over WFAA on the stage of the Melba Theatre.

The winner of this broadcast will then compete with the other eight district winners for the grand prize which will be a trip to Hollywood including a tour of major motion picture studios, a two day stop-over at the San Diego Exposition and an appearance over the N. B. C. network. Other winners appear over WFAA in Dallas.

Clinton will be judged principally by the response of the Waco Theatre audience. Let us all drive down to Waco next Tuesday and cast our vote for him.

DOUBLE-BAND CONCERT TUESDAY EVENING AT RABY PARK

Similar to the "Double-Band Dances" in cities, citizens of the county are to be treated to a double-band concert here in Raby Park, when the combined Gatesville and State Juvenile & Training School Band will give a concert, under the direction of D. W. Diserens and the new state instructor, Prof. Jack Orr.

At the time of going to press the News does not have a program to present, but Mr. Diserens assures that the program will include numbers to please all types of listeners.

Mrs. Lillian Brubaker of Waco has returned to her home after visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Mayes.

Doolittle's Rodeo Stars Shine and in Reality "The Shokus" Was on Cowboys from all parts of Texas and different points in the United States competed at Austin Doolittle's sixth annual rodeo which took place at The Grove Friday and Saturday.

Cheers of excitement filled the air when such broncs as "Tickle-toe," Goodnight, and "Domino" could not be ridden by riders who meet and compete at such rodeos as the Fort Worth Stock Show and other leading shows in the southwest.

One of the exciting scenes during the first day took place when J. R. Phillips of Marble Falls won the calf roping contest by roping his calf in fourteen seconds flat. Ben Pleasant, colored rider from Pendleton, made an impressive ride on the famous "One Eared Mule." Another feature of the show was the presentation of Emmet Digbey and his trained horse.

The most impressive of the second day took place when Glen Booth, one of the best known riders in the south, tickled his toes only twenty seconds to the convex of the famous bronc "Tickletoe," when he went twirling through the air as if he were "The Man on the Flying Trapeze."

Despite the brutality of the wild steers and broncs, the riders, with skinned faces, broken arms, and crushed legs, fought to a finish and held a steady nerve to the last ride to win the prizes. Slim Brown of Gatesville coming out of chute No. 4 on the bronc "Domino" had the misfortune of his horse falling and pinning Slim's leg underneath. Slim receiving a hard blow as he hit the ground was recuperated after several minutes. After his revival, Slim, still weak and bleeding remounted "Domino" and "rode that hoss."

Cheers again rang out when John Henry, the oldest active bronc rider in the world, rode "Daffie Dean" to win second money for the day.

Another feature of the second show was when H. Truelove's horse jumped over an automobile.

Comedy was furnished by several colored riders who also gave the crowd several thrills. When eight bucking mules were turned out of the chutes at the same time, cheers again filled the air.

Although the show took place in a small town, it was really a big town rodeo. Spectators and riders said that it equalled any rodeo ever given in the state of Texas.

Approximately 3000 people attended the two shows.

Additional improvements will be made for the annual show, and the crowd is promised to see an even better Rodeo next year.

Winners of First Day Calf Roping

First: J. R. Phillips, Marble Falls, Texas, 14 seconds; Second: C. Campbell, Malone, Texas, 16 4-5 seconds; Third: Dee Spence, Salado, Texas, 17 2-5 seconds.

Retiring Judge Has an Enviably Record as Shown by Statement

In resigning, Judge Robert W. Brown leaves his statement to the voters showing the condition of his office at the time of his retirement and what has been accomplished during his tenure of office. We present below the statement handed us by Judge Brown:

In resigning as County Judge I think the following matters that relate to my administration and to the County might be interesting:

We have bought Right-of-Way and had three Highway Construction jobs.

Our Jail was condemned and we built one of the best and most modern small jails in Texas.

We have built lateral roads and our Commissioners have graveled more roads than was ever done in twice the time.

In the early days of the depression I was the first Judge in Texas to advocate and put thru a general reduction of tax values.

Our County owes less than it has owed in fifty years.

All our funds except one road beat is on a cash basis.

There are only six small Counties in Texas that owe less money.

Considering our population and tax values there is no County in Texas in better financial condition.

Because of the reduced tax values we have operated on less money than any administration in recent years.

I greatly appreciate the co-operation of our people and the advice and council they have given me.

I am grateful for the co-operation of the County Officials, especially Ben Morrison and others who have served with me on the Court. We have worked in such harmony that I have voted off only three tie votes in my four terms.

I can never fully express my appreciation of the honor and confidence the people of Coryell County have shown in me, and I hope my administration has in some means met your approval.

I will open a law office in Gatesville in the near future and any rumor to the effect that I am leaving Gatesville or have received a State or Federal appointment are without foundation.

Respectfully submitted,
ROBT W. BROWN.

JUDGE ROBERT W. BROWN

County officials rarely receive credit for performance of duty, and only receive notoriety when they do not perform or get in bad in some other way during their tenure of office.

We are paying tribute to a county official, who, quietly, and in a business like way, with no bluster has made Coryell County one of the finest if not the finest county officer within our cognizance.

Judge Brown has not been a "professional politician," he has been what he was elected for, County Judge, and with the aid and co-operation of the Commissioner's Court, has made himself a leader, where leaders are few. He has shunned publicity, and literally kept his nose to the grindstone and shouldered his tasks without a whimper.

Judge Brown exemplifies the statement that business men, or rather lawyers with "business heads" can and do outshine public officials who have the legal training, and political aspirations, without very necessary business training.

Judge Brown makes his own statement as to what has been accomplished during his administration, not in an egotistical way, but a plain statement of the results of the time he has been in office.

So, as Judge Brown retires, let us hand a flower where a flower is due, and say simply, and truthfully "Well done, Judge, and we are indebted to your administration for its good work, and in parting, wish you success in your every venture."

ETHIOPIO-ITALIANO

Looks like the next "Big Blunder" is about to take place in and around "ay-be-see 'in-you." It's going to be a "colorful" battle too, with 7 plus foot Ethiopians and Italians from the very dark and short in statue Sicillians to the "nordics" of northern Italy who are lighter, bordering on the Albinos.

What strikes us about all the preparation, is the terrible calmness, and deliberateness by which they seemingly are working to get to kill each other with all the known devices used in past and present "butcherings" which "glorify" our history. We are not pacifists, but cool deliberate planning of a slaughter gets our goat.

Let us hope that the occasion will never arise where we will have to plan "gang murder" as is now being done in this instance.

VITAL SERVICES TO THE FARMER

An example of the vital services that good cooperative institutions provide for their members—services that are not obtainable elsewhere—was provided during the recent eleventh annual session of the American Institute of Cooperation.

Executives of cooperative dairy associations, coupled with research experts, made the most searching probe in ten years concerning the national and foreign outlook for marketing America's dairy products.

The probe and the ensuing appraisal included factors of production; the trend of consumption; the effect of imports on both dairy products and competitive oils and fats; the extent to which two years of operation under federal and state control has changed market conditions; the possible influence of reciprocal trade agreements upon dairy products, and similar questions which affect the future welfare of the dairy farmer.

It is impossible to exaggerate the worth of such a probe. Leaders of dairy cooperatives throughout the country will be much better prepared to cope with the marketing and price problems they face, and to inform their members as to the best course of future action. They will be able to scientifically develop plans, and to proceed with greater confidence and certainty.

SOAK-THE-RICH A FACT. ENGLAND REBUILDS NAVY. CUTTING FOR BORAH.

MR. ROOSEVELT's taunted soak-the-rich bill has emerged from the depths of Congressional committee rooms and is now awaiting consideration before the two Houses. Early passage by the House is expected and Administration leaders have set Aug. 20 as the deadline for Senate passage.

In the Senate, Republicans sought to stop passage by proposing adjournment of Congress Aug. 10 but the proposal was promptly tabled by Democrats and Republicans alike, 52 to 10.

In brief, the bill places new levies on inheritances and gifts in addition to those already on estates and gifts; boosts the levies on individual incomes above $50,000 to 31 per cent; lifts existing excess profits taxes and levies a graduated tax of 13 and one-fourth to 14 and one-fourth per cent on the next income of corporations; boosts the levy on incomes between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 to 73 per cent; 74 per cent between $2,000,000 to $5,000,000; 75 per cent on all incomes over $5,000,000.

Officials estimate $275,000,000 will be realized by the next taxes. Republicans, warming up for the 1936 campaign, have attacked the new levies, charging they are "covered with political frosting." Only a little "pocket change" will be raised.

Senator Vanderberg said in a biting attack. But certainly, the $275,000,000 anticipated cannot be considered mere pocket change even in this day of billions. It is a start toward budget balancing and that is what the Republicans supposedly want. But Republicans must attack Democrats and Democrats attack Republicans for the two party system to exist.

Huey Long and others want to soak the rich in an extreme form. When you consider a few figures, you will see that Roosevelt has "soaked" the rich all they can be soaked. The more-than-a-million incomes reported in 1933 are divided as follows, the number of this category for 1934 not being made public as yet:

$1,000,000 to $2,000,000	35
$2,000,000 to $3,000,000	8
$3,000,000 to $4,000,000	1
$4,000,000 to $5,000,000	1
$5,000,000 and over	1

Forty-six millionaires are all that are affected by the President's program. Seventy-five per cent is about all the government can rightfully take of this group's income. Then from where will Huey Long's $5,000 for every American family come?

ENGLAND will rebuild its navy in a grant $750,000,000 program extending over seven years, it was revealed by a London newspaper this week. The huge new schedule, announced the Daily Herald, provides for battleships, cruisers, submarines, aircraft carriers and all the necessary auxiliary vessels. Work will be begun on many of the ships next year and will continue until 1943 when John Bull hopes to be the undisputed master of the seas.

Japan is likely to raise the bet, but what will Uncle Sam do? Will he let the supremacy of the two seas slip into the hands of the British and Nipponese? Its almost a sure bet that as long as Franklin Roosevelt is in office the U. S. navy will dominate the two seas. A $400,000,000 naval construction program was recently announced at Washington.

Britain has abandoned the ratio system of naval limitations, initiated at the Washington arms conference in 1922. Japan is constructing a great merchant fleet and threatening to drive American merchantmen from the Pacific ocean. Guam, the Aleutian Islands and the Philippines are unfortified, causing concern among navy men with the possibility of a naval race before them. Although independence has been granted, the Government retains the right to fortify the Philippines. Japanese Pacific possessions are heavily fortified. Why don't Uncle Sam act?

Washington news reports say the New Deal high command has decided to invade Idaho in the 1936 election and seek to defeat the venerable Senator William Edgar Borah, conservative Republican. Associated Press reports that the decision was reached at a meeting of Democratic bigwigs, headed by James A. (for Aloysius) Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Farley is now on his way to Hawaii where he will vacation but is expected to sound out the sentiment among Idahoans on the way for replacing Borah next year.

The Administration, when and if a final decision is reached, will support Democratic Governor Ben Ross, third-term. Ross won a second term in 1932 by almost a 2-to-1 vote. Last year he won by a smaller majority but labored under the

HONOR

"Everybody here now" asked the First Classman as the last plebes came filing into the room. "Well, let's begin this first lecture on honor with a discussion of the underlying principles of our honor system. Really, there is only one rule you need to remember. If you do remember it, and apply it every time you answer a question or make a statement, you will always obey the code of honor. That rule is frankly to speak the whole truth in all situations regardless of the consequences to yourself or to anyone else."

If the First Classman mentioned above had said nothing else about honor that night, his message would still have been complete; for in that short speech he expressed the essence of the five lectures he was to give on honor.

Of course, the lectures were helpful to the plebes in broadening their understanding of the honor system. For instance, the first lecture made it clear that cadets are automatically on their honor in the class room; that they must not copy any academic work; and that they must not discuss a previous day's recitation in the presence of other cadets who have not had that recitation. The second lecture impresses on the plebes that their signature has the same force as a promise. The third lecture makes the new cadets realize that a man is honor bound to care for and turn in property that has been issued him for training. The last two lectures define the term "All Right" and teach the proper use of this phrase.

An "All Right" is simply a promise. There are eight circumstances under which a cadet may say, "All right, sir!" These circumstances are each definitely defined, but let it suffice here to quote only one definition, i. e., "From a cadet outside his own room, the report 'All Right' means: that he has been, or is going on an authorized visit to an authorized place and nowhere else and that no undue advantage has been or is to be taken of the privilege." Undue advantage is defined as (1) drinking or the use or handling of narcotics, (2) gambling (3) hazing, and (4) going off limits. Of course, there are many times when cadets are not bound by the "All Right," but when they are so bound only rarely does one betray the trust placed in him.

Equally as important, to my mind, as the formal instruction in honor are the little lessons in honor. As an example, suppose an upper classman orders a plebe to practice fifteen minutes in his own room on right shoulder arms and to report back to him when he has done so. The plebe, of course, could merely report and say he had practiced, but that would be violating the trust vested in him. Incidents such as this help the plebes to learn how to play fair with their superiors.

One small event happened to me that gave me a clearer conception of honor than all lectures I ever heard. I was late to dinner formation one day (plebes must be in ranks five minutes before others) because an upper classman had sent me on an errand. When I reached ranks, another upper classman came up to me and demanded, "Any excuse for being late, Mr. Arnold?"

"Yes, sir, Mr. Jackson had me—"

"Stop!" interrupted the upper classman. "You don't need to explain. The word of a cadet is accepted implicitly. Your 'Yes, sir' is a sufficient answer for me!"

"Certainly," I thought to myself as he walked away. "It is worth all the efforts we put forth, to have our word accepted so unquestionably. Therein lies honor's own reward."

FESTIVAL WEEK

WE STARTED OUR PARADE OF HITS with "The Glass Key," which opened the door to the grandest entertainment week in the history of this Theatre.

WE ARE SURE you will not want to miss any of these outstanding entertainment values—so, if you were not among those present yesterday, may we remind you—Today is the last day—

ALL OF YOU WILL ENJOY IT.

STAR PRODUCTIONS,

WE DO NOT MAKE FOOLISH CLAIMS in our advertising which you may find impossible to believe. Our messages to you are so constructed as to advise you of what we have to present.

WE ARE PROUD of the confidence we have gained from most of our patrons, by trying always to represent a picture as it is. We study our pictures and know before we show them whether you will like or dislike them. We also try to study each of your likes and dislikes individually, and if you are one of our regular patrons, we know pretty well what you like. Any time you ask us about a picture and we recommend it, YOU MUST BE PLEASED. If you are not, you may either request a refund or your money, or a PASS to see another show. YOUR REQUEST WILL BE GRANTED.

WE DO NOT describe all our pictures as "big pictures," "specials" and other over-worked adjectives. We often have pictures that are outstanding productions, but which we believe will not appeal to all classes of the theatre-going public. With such pictures, we advertise them for what they are.

THE PALACE has been built on quality shows, and we will not depart from this practice as long as we are in the Theatre business.

WE HAD RATHER you wouldn't see one of our pictures if you could not enjoy it. The producers we buy from make enough good pictures for the masses, that it is not necessary for us to try and sell you a picture which does not suit your taste.

Most sincerely,
(Signed) HAROLD A. CUNYUS.

ARMY TESTING NEW RAY TO SPOT COMING WARSHIPS

Fort Monmouth, Hghlands, N.

J., July 30.—Double details of military police paced outside the army reservation today while officers, amid utmost secrecy, studied a new "mystery ray" said to be capable of de- tecting the presence of a ship 50 miles at sea through fog and darkness. Signal corps technicians de- clined to confirm reports that they already had begun a series of nightly tests designed to demonstrate the day's effective- ness in spotting not only ships but airplanes at high altitudes.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

School Promotions

It is becoming increasingly more difficult to justify the annual promotion scheme used by most school systems. Educators recognize the faults and they're looking around for a substitute.

Parents can help at home by not placing so much emphasis upon the importance of promotion. Making it appear to be a "life and death" matter is dangerous. It becomes the horrible monster of the nightmare. Something terrible to be feared. No child can be happy or do good work with such a mental hazard. He comes to think of promotion as a means of escaping a parent's wrath or some dreadful mark of inferiority for life.

After all, the annual promotion is just another tradition, merely a custom inherited from the past. We shouldn't let it mean so much if we would be fair to the child. June may close the school year, but let it go at that. It's the beginning of the summer vacation. In September go on as though there had been no break. Education never stops, whether school is open or closed. Let each child go as fast as he can. Help him to do his best. But let's stop making him feel that promotion is the ONE great objective of education and life.

In his next article Dr. Ireland will show how summer play may be useful as well as entertaining.

The United States ranks as the outstanding source of toys imported by Mexico, but its share of the total Mexican toy trade has declined. Imports from Japan are increasing.

ALWAYS THE PUREST

Proposed Constitutional Amendments

Concise Explanation Given out by Secretary of State, Gerald C. Mann.

ABOLISHING FEE SYSTEM FOR PAYING OFFICIALS

Two years ago a Senate investigating committee discovered a number of flagrant abuses of the fee system as practised in Texas for recompensing certain public officials. The fee system was established and written into the Texas Constitution at a time when it was impossible to pay salaries and the theory was that an official was entitled to "as he could make." Since the Senate committee discovered and revealed the malpractices existing under the system there has been a demand for a Constitutional change on this score, according to Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann.

Proposed Amendment No. 6 on the ballot provides that the fee system as a method of paying certain precinct, county and district officials shall be abolished in counties having 20,000 or more population according to the last Federal census. The Legislature will, if the amendment is adopted, set the salaries for officials now receiving fees in such counties. In counties of under 20,000 population the Commissioners Courts may put their county and precinct officials on a salary basis if they so desire. The Amendment does not specifically state who shall set the salaries of such officials in this case.

If this amendment is adopted all district officers must be compensated on a salary basis.

The amendment provides that fees shall continue to be collected as at present but they will go to the county instead of the officer. The evident purpose of this amendment is to place as many public officials on straight salaries as is possible and thus abolish, insofar as is possible the payment of officials through the present fee system.

---AND SUDDEN DEATH

BEFORE YOU STEP ON IT STOP TO THINK OF THIS

Next time you are tempted to hit it up on the highway pause a moment and think of the following—it's a piece of plain talk about motor car accidents in the August issue of Reader's Digest. It was written by a man who hopes that a little gruesome realism may cause the reckless driver to mend his ways:

It's hard to find a surviving accident victim who can bear to talk. After you come to, the gnawing, searing pain throughout your body is accounted for by learning that you have both collarbones smashed, both shoulder blades splintered, your right arm broken in three places and three ribs cracked, with every chance of bad internal ruptures. But the pain can't distract you, as the shock begins to wear off, from realizing that you are probably on your way out. You can't forget that, not even when they shift you from the ground to the stretcher and your broken ribs bite into your lungs and the sharp ends of your collarbones slide over to stab deep into each side of your screaming throat. When you've stopped screaming, it all comes back—you're dying and you hate yourself for it. That isn't fiction either. It's what it actually feels like to be one of that 36,000.

And every time you pass on a blind curve, every time you hit it up on a slippery road, every time you step on it harder than your reflexes will safely take, every time you drive with your reactions slowed down by a drink or two, every time you follow the man ahead too closely, you're gambling a few seconds against this kind of blood and agony and sudden death.

MEAL OF THE MONTH

Tempting Ready-to-Serve Meats of many varieties are the basis of the quickly prepared Meal of the Month for July.

By MARIE GIFFORD
Armour Food Economist

TEMPTING cold cuts which are obtainable in almost endless variety are the basis of the Meal of the Month for July.

Cold meats have always had a leading place in some menus, but few women realize how many different combinations can be prepared which will make each meal of ready-to-serve meats new and interesting.

The other dishes making up the menu should be varied also.

Here are some suggested combinations of ham, sausage, meat loaves and cheese which make attractive cold plates.

Boneless baked ham, pickle and pimiento loaf, canned corned beef, canned Vienna sausage, American cheese.

II
Thuringer sausage, luncheon meat, pickled pigs feet.

III
Spiced luncheon meat, braunschweiger (liver sausage), Swiss cheese, summer sausage.

IV
Lunch tongue, cooked ham, salami.

Any of these combinations will please the family if supplemented with tomatoes stuffed with corn and olives, buttered carrots with chopped chives, hot buttered apricot muffins and iced coffee.

As a dessert for the Meal of the Month, we have selected baked custard with shredded cocoanut. Tests have shown this complete meal can be prepared in only 21 minutes. It is not only convenient but it is economical because there is no bone or waste to the cold meats and the supply may be kept in the refrigerator for several days.

Frankie Lee Franks and Raby Burt visited in the Ferrell Moore home in Gatesville Sunday evening.

spent the week end with Mrs. Fizzie Turner and family near Schley.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE AND RELATED SUBJECTS

By W. E. LASSETER
Instructor in Vocational Agriculture, G. H. S.

EVENING SCHOOLS

Agricultural evening schools and part time classes have been mentioned in previous articles as a part of the program of the vocational agriculture teacher. Evening schools (as they are called for want of a more appropriate name, since they are usually held at night) are meetings of groups of adult farmers at a convenient meeting place, usually the school house or church in a rural community, for the purpose of discussing problems of a common interest. These discussions are for the purpose of arriving at a solution of some needy problem common to the community, such as soil conservation, crop and livestock problems, government programs, and other subjects where there is enough interest for several to meet together to discuss. It is the duty of the agriculture teacher to furnish information and direct the discussion in such a manner that the correct solution may be arrived at by the group. The agriculture teacher does not solve the problem but should supply enough information, if needed, to enable the farmers themselves to arrive at a decision.

Part time classes differ from evening school classes in that they are designed for a different aged group. Part time classes are for young men not in school between the ages of 18 and 25 years. Meetings may be held once, twice, or three times a week, at night or in the day time, depending upon the convenience of the members of the group. Classes usually run from twelve to twenty weeks, depending largely upon the number of meetings held per week. Classes last approximately one and one-half hours. Coupled with this type of work, there is usually a recreational period for athletics or other forms of entertainment. The subject matter for the classes is worked out by the boys themselves and will consist of such subjects as the majority of the group by vote determine shall be discussed.

It is to be understood that there is no expense attached to either type of school. It is free for the asking. It is the intention of the local vocational agricultural teacher (the writer) to conduct three or more of these schools this fall and winter. More will be said in this column later as to the time and place of meetings.

A Democrat, Joseph Pope, won the other Senate seat in 1932 over Republican Thomas by 25,000 votes. Pope will support the candidacy of Ross. Roosevelt beat Hoover by 40,000 ballots. In 1932 and 1934 Democrats captured the state's two seats in the House. In 1930 Borah polled 91,000 votes for re-election and Ross is the only Idaho Democrat who has ever bettered this figure.

In the 1934 campaign Chairman Farley supported Democratic Representative Dennis Chavez in New Mexico against independent Republican Bronson Cutting, incumbent. Liberal Senators Johnson, Borah, Norris, Nye, La Follette and Shipstead supported their friend Cutting. Cutting won by a slim majority, Chavez contested the election with the support of the Democratic National Committee and aroused the ire of the liberal bloc against Roosevelt. Farley erred but won. Cutting was killed this Spring in an airplane crash and Democratic Chavez was appointed to fill his unexpired term. The liberals, headed by George Norris and La Follette, walked out of the Senate chamber when Chavez was sworn in. They have announced their intention of aiding Borah in his campaign next year if needed.

Borah, 70 years old, has served in the Senate since 1907, a total of 24 consecutive years or four terms when his present term expires. For many years he was chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and became internationally known.
