Examinations will be made under direction of the advisory committee of the various county medical societies throughout the State.

Guy Powell of Wise County Takes Post, Effective August 15

Effective Aug. 15, D. W. Sherrill, County Agent for the past two years will be replaced by Guy Powell of Wise County, thru authority of the Extension Service. Mr. Sherrill is going to Hockley County to accept a more lucrative position.

Below, Mr. Sherrill has a letter to the people of Coryell county with whom he has diligently worked. Also, following this is a letter from T. B. Wood, District Agent of the Extension Service to County Judge Floyd Zeigler.

A change in county agents will occur August 15th. D. W. Sherrill moves to Hockley county, Levelland, Texas, and Mr. Guy Powell who has been county agent at Decatur, Wise county, will come to Gatesville, August 15th to fill the place of county agent in Coryell county.

In this announcement D. W. Sherrill makes this statement to the people of Coryell county. The change being effective and arranged for by the officials of Extension Service, I wish to take this opportunity to express deep appreciation to those who have co-operated wholeheartedly in the tremendous New Deal for Agriculture Program of the last two years in Coryell county. You are acquainted with all of the programs since I came here in June 1933. In leaving I trust that I have no apologies to make for my stewardship. I do hope that I have rendered to most of the people of Coryell county some service that has been beneficial.

Surely the people, and farmers especially, of Coryell county will carry on with the new County Agent, Mr. Guy Powell, and build for Agriculture a surer, firmer, and more staple foundation and economic basis. Agricultural Adjustment has only begun. Farmers must stick together and demand equality and justice for the foundation industry, Agriculture.

I as your county agent for the last two years and almost two months, have learned to like your county and to be a booster for it. I wish to thank every individual who has lent a helping hand to put over the biggest farm program which has even been the privilege of the farmers and which has been the biggest contribution and assistance ever given by the Federal Government to Agriculture. It is up to the farmers as to the sound course for Agriculture which the Government will pursue. The farmers, big and little, must speak, in no unmistakable terms and demand equality with other industries.

To those committeemen who have been closest to me in my efforts to "get the job done," I want to especially thank and express my profound confidence in them. They have done the job well, have been faithful and untiring in serving not only the Government but the farmers and people of Coryell county. They are your leaders and have your best interests at heart.

Co-operate with them in order that you may carry on the work begun.

It is regretted that with the huge and various programs that I as county agent could not please all the people all the time. I do want to say that regardless of any misunderstanding, the water (so to speak) has run under the

PUBLIC LIBRARY

Hot Dawg! With the gradual fade-out of the relief, there's another hope for citizens of Coryell County. Some time ago, the new City Hall in Gatesville was started with the idea of having a part of it as a Library, municipal in fact, but county wide in its use.

Since the advent of alphabet soup and alphabet government, three of the letters of the alphabetical government have made possible a part of the City Hall for a library, and since "project" has become the big word in our language now, we're going to have a public library, with the help of a local civic clubs.

Complete plans have not been made for furnishing this civic enterprise, or securing books, but with local clubs doing the promoting and sponsoring, independent citizens, all of us, will and should get in behind this movement to make this public library a reality.

In any plan or project like this, we need to stop and think a minute about the benefits to be derived. Libraries are depositories of knowledge, research banks, mental carnivals and gymnasiums. You read sports, comics, poetry, fiction, "drammer" history, biography, newspapers, magazines, science—well, it's a library, a card catalogued index of the world's experience, pleasure and knowledge, within arm's reach and at practically no cost. We believe nothing could be better for this county and town than a public library, and those who use it are going to be the beneficiaries. If a library is not used, it is useless as a morgue to the living, but with use, continued use, it is a world of experience and pleasure within itself. Use and support it!

D. W. SHERRILL

A little man (in statue only) with an enormous job. People, in considering the success or failure of a man in any job, first, we must consider what he is up against, what his problems are, what the regulations of his office are—looking at the whole thing fairly and squarely.

We maintain D. W. Sherrill, retiring County Agent has done a swell job. We don't envy him this position he has so admirably held for the past two and two months one iota. His has been a BIG job, and all "caps."

Imagine, holding a corn-hog program, cotton reduction, wheat reduction, cattle and sheep program, and an unlimited number of other duties, besides taking care of the duties of the County Agent. In the words of Jimmie Durante, "It's colossal, it's gigantic, it's stupendous, it's miraculous, it's titanic," and so on ad infinitum.

So, if Mr. Sherrill has done anything with a program like this and under departmental and board control with bulletins, orders and regulations by the score coming from AAA, XYZ, and all the other alphabetical offices, it's enough to run anyone "nertz" with the mass of detail etc., that must be handled.

We say again, D. W. Sherrill has acquitted himself well in the task he has undertaken, and we are certain that when Mr. Guy Powell, the new County Agent, arrives and looks over the situation he's going to be of the same opinion.

Again, Coryell loses, and Hockley gains, and bon voyage to D. W. Sherrill!

BUSINESS UPTURN
$186,000,000 FOR TEXAS.
ANOTHER PEG?
GIBSON PROPOSAL.

UNITED PRESS, world-wide news-gathering agency, recently concluded a survey of business conditions in the country. Business is reported expecting a high level of recovery this fall with the greatest volume of business since 1930. Heavy industry, particularly steel production and building construction, anticipating a sharp extraseasonal rise in the next few months with pay rolls for the wage earner fatter than they have been for several years.

The country is in fact now having a minor boom—if there is such a thing as a boom in the State any more. Building is up to 1929 levels the country over and will continue throughout the winter as a result of the works-relief program; the automobile industry is demanding increasing quantities of steel, as are the railroads.

Midwestern retailers believe the depression is definitely over in their part of the country because of better prices for farm products. "The general level of farm prices is up enough to encourage farmers to buy more merchandise than they bought last year and for several preceding years," explained the president of the midwest Retail Merchants Council, meeting at Kansas City this week. One-sided aid to laborers will not bring prosperity, the farmer must be prosperous for the nation—and the laborer—to be prosperous. Every dollar spent by the Administration for farm benefits thru the AAA not only helped the farmer but laborer and salaried men thru an increased demand for the goods they manufacture or retail.

There is little prospect of a decrease in the number of those dependent on relief this winter. Roosevelt hopes for private industry to absorb 800,000 jobless that he hasn't the money to put to work. If present trends in business continue, it can absorb this many unemployed who are now receiving temporary. On the other hand, many at work in the fields will have to ask for relief again this winter, probably as many as will receive work in private industry.

Unemployment now stands at 9,000,000, about 3,000,000 below the 1933 peak, out of a population of 125,000,000. The government plans to have 3,500,000 jobless working on work-relief projects by Nov. 1 and another 3,500,000 will be given jobs indirectly supplying materials for the work-relief projects—a total of 7,000,000 put to work by Nov.

TEXAS' SHARE of the $4,000,000,000 Federal work-relief appropriation will approximate $186,000,000, reports the United Press. May relief rolls in the State, which were used to allot the vast sum among the forty-eight states, showed 203,493 direct relief cases. For each family the works program allows $1143 to be spent on wages and materials. Texas, therefore, should receive about $186,074,000 to remove 162,592 "employables" from the relief rolls. Texas wages will (Continued on page 6)

Texas Relief Program To Be Handled by 38 District Headquarters

Austin, Aug. 7.—Location of the 38 district headquarters to administer relief in Texas, supplanting the county administrative offices, and the names of the district administrators were announced last week by the Texas Relief Commission at the conclusion of a three-day training period here for district staff members.

While the county administration of relief will be completely eliminated, county offices will continue to operate until they have been replaced by the district offices, it was emphasized. Moreover, case workers will be maintained in the counties after district administration is set up and clients will not have to go outside their own county to obtain relief.

Abolishment of the county administration of relief in Texas was announced last week by State Relief Director Adam R. Johnson, who explained that curtailment of administrative costs in line with the reduced program of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, which is being partly supplanted by the Works Progress Administration, necessitated the business end of the 253 county administrators offices are taken over by district administrators, whose staffs will administer relief over a much wider area.

Under the new set-up, allocations will continue to be made to counties, but funds will be disbursed from the district offices. County relief boards will be continued as advisory bodies.

The 38 districts are outlined according to the pattern of the Works Progress Administration districts in the state, with each WPA district, with a few exceptions, divided into two FERA districts. One of these two FERA district administrator offices in each WPA district has been located when possible in the town where the latter office is now located. The other office was located in a town in the district adjudged the most convenient from all considerations. The town must furnish office and commodity storage space and pay the utility bills of the office.

Styles Out Of Smoke—An Innovation In The Very Latest American Fashions

SOME styles go up in smoke but others originate in smoke, according to one of New York's leading fashion commentators. No longer need American women look to Paris openings for style pointers. All they have to do is watch the Lucky Strike girls who so colorfully decorate the country's billboards and the back covers of national magazines. The Lucky Strike girl of the present day, according to our commentator, bids fair to take the place of the Gibson Girl of the nineties as the symbol of advance fashions.

New costumes for the fall, especially designed and executed for the Lucky Strike models who are shown in the advertisements, have just appeared in New York. Hats and accessories have been created by fashion experts to match the costumes so that each ensemble is complete, harmonious and in good taste. Prominent shops in all the leading cities will offer shortly, these exclusive Lucky Strike models.

Thus has a well-known tobacco company assumed fashion leadership for American women.

FERA PROJECTS TO GO TO WPA PROGRAM

Austin, Aug. 7.—What will happen to Federal Emergency Relief Administration projects as the FERA employables are transferred to the Works Progress Administration rolls has been explained by J. B. Keely, chief engineer for the Texas Commission.

The projects are to be re-estimated and, if accepted, transmitted to the WPA, which is expected to complete them, Keely said. In some cases, the workers on a FERA project will be transferred with the project, and activity will not be halted.

Also, Keely pointed out, proposed projects which local communities have sponsored but which have not yet been accepted by the FERA, should be submitted to the WPA through the proper district office. Only enough work projects will be handled by the FERA to take care of employable relief clients until they are transferred to the WPA.

Presbyterian Church

This has been a very busy summer for the pastor. Beginning with the latter part of May, we were away for three weeks while we attended the meeting of the General Assembly at Montreat, N. C., and visited many other points of interest. The latter part of June we were busy in our Presbyterial Intermediate Camp, trying to feed and take care of about 90 boys and girls. Now we are at Kerrville attending the Bible Conference which is being held at the Presbyterian Encampment. My wife and boy are with me, and all of us are enjoying the cool climate in "the heart of the hills." We expect to return August 9, preaching next Sunday, August 11. We will be at home only a few days, when we are away again, this time to Rosebud, where we will preach for a revival.

While we are away, may we request the prayers of our friends and the members of the church, that we may return rested in body, refreshed in mind, and inspired with a new zeal and love. As you pray, ask that our own church may be prepared for the revival when Rev. John P. Kidd comes to us, September 22-29.

As we enjoy the fellowship of our friends and brother ministers, and the inspiration of the conference, our hearts are lifted to God for you.

WHEELER & WOOLSEY: "THE NITWITS" VS. THE BLACK WIDOW

"The Nitwits" vs. the masked terror, the Black Widow, is the main event at the Regal Theatre Saturday night at 10:30 also showing Sunday and Monday.

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey are the contenders for the sleuthing title in this comedy bout in seven reels said to end in a knockout laugh.

Scoring with a neat killing, the Black Widow hammers out a decisive lead in the early reels. With a slashing lie detecting mechanism as a counter offensive, "The Nitwits" even the score in the late cantos, but subsequently are on the verge of being knocked out for a long count running into three figures.

Melody ad thrills serve as seconds to the comedy and mystery contenders in "The Nitwits." Betty Grable and Wheeler sing and dance to "Music in My Heart." Joey Ray and Joan Sanderson, musical comedy favorites, vocalize, "You Opened My Eyes." Woolsey offers one of his inimitable comedy numbers in "The Black Widow Will Get You If You Don't Watch Out."

range from $21 per month for unskilled labor to $75 a month for technical or professional work, according to this news agency.

ADMINISTRATION farm officials doubt the advisability of a 12c loan to help peg the 1935 cotton crop prices as suggested by certain agricultural groups. The Commodity Credit Corporation has already advanced directly or thru private agencies 12c loans totaling nearly $281,000,000 on 4,400,000 bales of cotton and will be unable to collect the loans unless the price of cotton reaches 13c a pound.

Futher pegging may be necessary to permit the government to collect these loans.

Private estimates of the 1935 crop run as large as 12,000,000 bales. With a carry-over on Aug. 1 of 8,300,000 bales, the farm administration will be confronted with a delicate problem with prices down as a result of the large production.

SEN. ERNEST GIBSON of Vermont, who recently returned from a trip of inspection of the Philippine Islands and other Pacific possessions, will introduce at the next session of Congress a bill designed to strengthen control over the Nation's territorial possessions under a new Cabinet officer. Due to unsettled world conditions, Sen. Gibson fears that the U. S. will be unable to maintain its supremacy in the Pacific unless the Philippines and other Pacific possessions are placed under one government department. His bill will propose the creation of a colonial department headed by a secretary who would have the same status as other Cabinet officers. The new bureau would be in complete charge of the affairs of all possessions.

At present our possessions in the Pacific and the Caribbean are under the jurisdiction of three government departments. The navy directs administration in Guam, Samoa and Wake Islands, all in the Pacific; the Interior Department has charge of the Virgin Island, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska; the War Department administers the Philippines and the Panama Canal Zone.

Britain directs its colonies (not the Dominions and Commonwealths) thru a colonial office; Japan and France do likewise, with a unification of control over insular and territorial possessions vitally necessary in time of war. If Washington wants to control the Pacific, this is a step that must be taken. Better administration of the Islands could be expected, eliminating the traditional disputes such as the recent Virgin Island inquiry.

---AND SUDDEN DEATH

WHEN AUTOMOBILES STRIKE HEAD-ON

The modern death-trap is likely to be a straight stretch with three lanes of traffic—like the notorious Astor Flats on the Albany Post Road, in New York, where there have been as many as 27 fatalities in one summer month, says F. C. Furnas, writing in the August issue of Reader's Digest. With the idea of shocking the motorist into a realization of the consequences of careless driving Mr. Furnas then proceeds to give the following gruesome account of a smash-up on this stretch of highway.

This sudden vision of broad, straight road tempts many an ordinarily sensible driver into passing the man ahead. Simultaneously a driver coming the other way swings out at high speed. At the last moment each tries to get into line again, but the gaps are closed. As the cars in line are forced into the ditch to capsize or crash fences, the passers meet, almost head on, in a swirling, grinding smash that sends them caroming obliquely into the others.

A trooper described such an accident—five cars in one mess, seven killed on the spot, two dead on the way to the hospital, two more dead in the long run. He remembered it far more vividly than he wanted to—the quick way the doctor turned away from a dead man to check up on a woman with a broken back; the three bodies out of one car so soaked with oil from the crankcase that they looked like wet brown cigars and not human at all; a man, walking around and babbling to himself, oblivious of the dead and dying, even oblivious of the dagger-like sliver of steel that stuck out of his streaming wrist; a pretty girl with her forehead laid open, trying hopelessly to crawl out of a ditch (Continued Bot. next Col.)

Tracks of Prehistoric Beasts Found at Evant

Coryell and Hamilton counties were favorite haunts of the dinosaurs in prehistoric times, as evidenced by the numerous tracks left; these tracks, according to Dr. Clyde Bailey of Gatesville, being plainer and more numerous than in any other part of this continent. Nicholas Fletcher of Waco quotes Dr. Bailey as saying.

The tracks impinge on each other in the districts west of Evant, Fletcher is told by Dr. Bailey. The huge reptiles left their footprints in what was soft ooze at the time, but which since solidified into solid rock and left imperishable records. Some of them are several inches deep, and as clearly defined as though they had been recently made, Fletcher said.

Fletcher believes that Dr. Bailey has one of the best collections of relics of Indian life to be found anywhere.

"Dr. Bailey's collection of Indian arrow heads, spears and general artifacts has been seen by a number of Wacoans," said Fletcher.

Efforts are being made by some citizens there to have one of the big oil companies buy the land on which the dinosaur tracks are thickest, and station a man there to protect these evidences of this prehistoric life, Fletcher reports. Some residents of Gatesville and of Hamilton county have been much interested in the matter for some time, and with the help of Dr. Bailey the belief obtains that some steps soon will be taken to protect and preserve them, particularly at points where they are thickest.

Some dinosaur tracks and the actual remains of bodies of dinosaurs also have been reported from Williamson county, not far from Youngsfort.—Waco News-Tribune.

The writer wishes to commend the editor of our paper for the position he takes in regard to the preparation for war being made by some of the leading nations of the world.

The surest and best way to end war is by molding public opinion to oppose war and the most effective way to do this is through the schools and press. Teachers have the power if they will (especially history teachers) to change the attitude of the youth in regard to war and teach them its horrors.

The influence of a good teacher is shown in the following illustration. A very conscientious little teacher was approached one day by a pupil (a 16 year old boy) who astonished her by saying, "Miss M— I've been watching you a long time and I've decided to become a christian."

Miss M— concealed her surprise as best she could and told him how glad she was encouraging him in every possible way.

Life at West Point

By CADET BRYAN ARNOLD

CLASSES

The rays of the early morning sun are just beginning to gild the battlements of the academic buildings, when the area of barracks becomes a milling rectangle of gray-clad figures. It is 7:55 a. m.; a bugle sounds suddenly the mob becomes quiet and quickly forms in line on both sides of the area into little groups of about twelve men each. These groups are called sections; each section will have class in the same room. The cadet officer of the day looks over the formation to see that everyone is in place and that the section marchers are in front of their groups. Then he commands, "March off your sections!" Section after section passes by the cadet officer of the day or officer of the guard on its way to the academic buildings. Each section marcher reports to these cadet officers the names of the men absent from his section. The sections march on to their particular rooms. The day's work has begun!

On arriving at the classroom, the section marcher calls, "Halt, Fall out!" The section breaks into twelve individuals who hang up their caps and file into the section room. Each man takes his place behind his chair and stands at attention. The section marcher's report to the instructor breaks the stiff silence, "Section 3-A is all present, sir!"

"Take seats," says the professor.

After the scraping of the chairs and the thumping of pages subsides, the teacher asks, "Any questions on the lesson?" A queer way to start a class, perhaps, but the cadets are supposed to have studied the lesson thoroughly enough to know what they do and do not understand. Questions are asked and answered. Some questions are intelligent; others are not. After the questions are all asked, there may or may not be a period of discussion of the lesson; that depends on the instructor. After the questions, the professor says, "Take boards in section order!" The men pass to the boards, section marcher at the number one board and so on around the room. The instructor then tells each man on what his recitation shall be. If the class is in mathematics, each man may have three problems to work; in French, vocabulary and sentences to write; in English, the outline of a paragraph may be required. After every man has finished his board work, the instructor says, "Mr. So—and—So, we will hear your recitation!" At that, Mr. So—and—So goes to his board and taking a pointer explains to the class what he has written. The instructor will probably cross-examine him during his speech. When Mr. So—and—So has finished, he is graded by the instructor. Often, through lack of time, all the cadets do not get to recite; in that case, their board work is graded. When the time for the end of the period comes, the teacher says, "Class dismissed!" The section forms in the hall and marches back to the area of barracks where the section marcher dismisses it. Then as the group resolves into individuals again, a bystander might hear remarks such as these:

"I believe I got a good grade!"

"I really muffed my problems!"

"Well, thank goodness, that's over!"

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE AND RELATED SUBJECTS

By W. E. LASSETER
Instructor in Vocational Agriculture, G. H. S.

SOIL EROSION

Coryell county is to have a soil erosion camp. Yes, its for you too. No, it doesn't just serve the area around Gatesville, it will serve you even if you are twenty or twenty-five miles away. What will it do? Why! Haven't you heard? Don't you know that its engineers will make a survey of your farm, outline a drainage system, and help you outline a long time cropping program. Then, if these plans are acceptable to you, will run your terrace lines, contour lines, survey your master drainage ditches, furnish the material and labor, and build all the permanent drainage structures necessary at your terrace outlets and in your drainage ditches to protect your land from future erosion. And it doesn't cost you a cent.

Say, that sounds too good to be true. What must I do in order to get in on a program of this kind? Nothing much. Just get in touch with those in charge of the camp, your county agent, or your vocational agriculture teacher, let them know you are interested, arrange to have a survey made of your farm. If the plans for your farm are acceptable to you, terrace lines will be run for you and your master drainage ditches surveyed. Your part of the job is to construct your terraces and open your drainage ditches according to specifications as set up in the plans for your farm. After you have your terraces up and your ditches open, the permanent structures will be built for you.

Fellows, let's co-operate 100 per cent with our government in the the conservation of our natural resources. We must realize that the earning power and the agricultural value of our lands decrease with the decrease in soil fertility. Mother nature was hundreds of years in building up our virgin soils, and we, by our destructive cultural methods, undo in a few years the slow accumulation of fertility in a long period of time. To restore our once fertile hill sides will require time and effort and money. Terracing is the first step. Let's do it now while we have an opportunity to receive assistance in getting a good job done.

bridge and I now, as during my stay here, leave without hard feelings toward any man and I trust that any who might feel offended by some jesture of mine during a high pressure and tension campaign may feel the same way.

Although there is a bigger, better job ahead with a small increase in salary I cannot say that I shall easily forget Coryell county. Its people shall always have a warm spot in my heart and I hope the best and most prosperous years ahead for Coryell county and its good people. It is your to carry on. Respectfully yours,

D. W. SHERRILL,
County Agent.

"I am giving you below a copy of a letter written to Mr. Floyd Zeigler, County Judge, from Mr. T. B. Wood, District Agent, which is self-explanatory.

"I appreciate very much your notice of the decision of your honorable court to withdraw their former request that Mr. Sherrill be removed from your county as county agent.

"I am sure you remember that I told you the other day that, in our efforts to comply with the request and our agreement to replace Mr. Sherrill, I was afraid we had gone too far to retract. The exchange of agents was agreed on by two other district agents and myself, with Mr. Adams, State Agent, agreeing to the exchange, and all now agree that it will be best to make the exchange as agreed upon. Therefore, on the 16th of August, Mr. Guy Powell, county agent of Wise county for the past seven years will be transferred to Coryell county. Mr. Sherrill will go to Hockey county with an increase in salary. He feels now that he is entirely exonerated and is willing to go, but of course regrets to leave those who stood by him so loyally when his administration was under fire. I regret to lose him out of my district, too, but I feel we are fortunate in being able to still retain his services in the Extension Service.

"I am sure your court will like the services of the incoming agent, Mr. Powell, and will continue your co-operation as in the past. At any time I will appreciate suggestions from you or the members of your court, relative to the betterment of the work in your county.

"Thanking you again for your continued co-operation, I am
Yours very truly,
T. B. WOOD,
District Agent."
