School Boys, Girls to Meet Teachers, Supt. As School Opens Sat.

Following closely on the Thirteenth, the fourteenth is the real bugaboo to the "younger set" hereabouts, since the familiar old bell on "College Hill" starts telling those mournful sounds, not to be stilled until along about June of next year—meaning, school opens Saturday, September 14, with registration.

New instructors will be met in the schools including Miss Kinsey, Miss Simpson, Miss Dufham, Miss Lawrence, Miss Grimes, Mr. Lasseter, Mr. Briggs, Mr. Worley, Miss Scott, Miss Carll, and Miss Brown.

Some time is going to be consumed with new students from nearly every section of the county, and an additional bus or two bringing in their load of school students who must be "acclimated" and meet the new classmates and teachers.

New courses of study are outlined by Supt. Williams and his cohorts for the interest of students and for their grief too. Additional studies since we were students are Vocational Agriculture, Home Economics, General Home Economics, General Science, Typewriting, Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Public Speaking, Music, and Band Music.

Campus courses will be taken, sports will be headlined, everything will be clubs and organization, with pep squads, choral and glee clubs, bands, orchestras, language clubs, and so on. The school is open!

FRIDAY 13

"THIRTEENTH"

One of those days when anything is likely to happen! Good or Bad, whichever you've found it, but any way, it's FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH.

A day of suspicion, mystery, black cats, ladders, mirrors—or a day of rabbit's feet, horse shoes, four-leaf-clovers—just however you want to take it. But any way, the fact remains, it's just another day.

If you're of the bad-luck classification, be careful—if you're the good-luck strata of society, open up, because this is certainly your day—

Friday, 13.

Modification of Cotton Loan Plan Announced By AAA Authorities

Information received at the office of the County Agent is to the effect that the Cotton Loan Plan has been modified, according to Guy Powell. The text of the article follows:

The objective of the Administration has been to get an average return of at least 12 cents per pound, basis 7-8 middling, for the producers of cotton. The plan announced last week was modified, one change making it possible for each producer of cotton to know on marketing his cotton the total amount he will receive for it. The new plan proposes a loan of 10 cents per pound of 7-8 low middling or better. The total received by growers of cotton which does not command premiums cannot exceed 12 cents per pound, so long as the price is below 12 cents per pound. Instead of making the adjustment payment on the basis of the four months' average of 10 spot markets, this adjustment payment will now be based on the daily average of the 10 markets. In other words, the adjustment payment will be made on the basis of the 10 spot average on the actual day that the cotton is sold by the producer. These adjustment payments will be made through the cotton year up to August 1, 1936. As before stated they will be made to those producers who have cooperated in the adjustment program and who agree to participate in the 1936 crop program. Adjustment payments to cotton farmers will be limited to 2 cents per pound. If it should develop that prices drop below 10 cents—a highly improbable contingency—producers would be expected to put their cotton in the loan and wait for prices to recover. Loans and payments will be restricted to actual production not in excess of the Bankhead allotment. This program for loans and adjustment payment on the 1935 crop will go into effect as soon as it is physically possible to set up the necessary machinery. The loan forms probably will be available for the 10 cents loan during the week of September 13. (See COTTON Page 6)

NEW HOURS FOR P. O. ALLOWS DISPATCH OF MAILS LATER

According to C. W. Ford, Postmaster, hours of some of the Post Office employees has been changed so that mail dispatches in the afternoon will be later than has been in the past.

Phillip Pearson, 19, Johnny Pearson, 15, and Rachel Smith, 18, confessed to San Antonio officials to the hold up of Pat Olsen's Garage here early Friday morning of last week, according to Sheriff Joe White.

Sheriff White got word from San Antonio officials Monday that they had taken the three in custody and for him to bring down some one to identify them, since they had confessed to the job along with the same sort of stick-up at Alvarado and Georgetown. Before starting on the jaunt, they had held up a negro taxi driver in San Antonio, and then started on the escapade.

J. P. King, Pat Olsen and Sam McCarver accompanied Sheriff White to San Antonio and positively identified the three as the trio who held up the local garage here.

They drove in from the west, here, ordered King to fill the car and afterward put water in the radiator. When he started to wipe off the windshield they ordered him to stick up his hands and to go inside and lay down on the floor. Unable to open the cash drawer, he was forced to get up and open it. The girl stayed in the car, with the other boy in the door watching. After pilfering the cash register, they turned the car around and drove west.

Officers got in touch with Arnett, Hamilton and Evant in futile attempts to stop them, but to no avail. They used a Chevrolet 1935 car with two tail lights, according to reports.

None of the loot taken by the three has been recovered according to reports.

There's lots of room in the FORD V-8

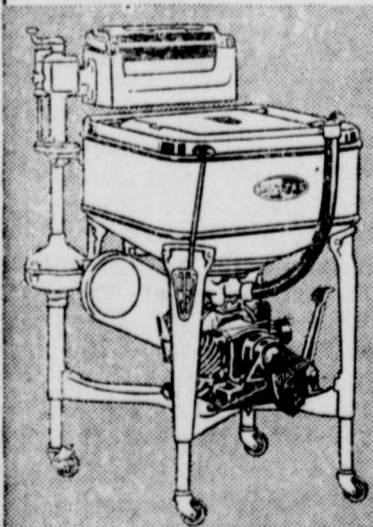

EVERY ONE who steps into the Ford V-8 for the first time is surprised at its roominess. There's exceptional seat room, leg room and head room in all body types — the whole car gives you a feeling of substantial size.

The Ford gives you extra body room because of the compact design of the V-8 engine — an exclusive Ford feature at a low price. This V-8 engine takes up less space in the hood and permits more of the car's length to be used for passenger comfort. Many a car selling at a higher price does not give you as much interior room as the Ford V-8.

Rear seats are wide and restful . . . three people can ride comfortably in the front seat of the Fordor Sedan, Fordor Touring Sedan, Convertible Sedan and Phaeton, and in the Coupes and Roadster. The seat of the Ford V-8 Roadster is 52 inches wide. A ride in the Ford V-8 will show that it combines unusual body room with fine-car performance, safety and comfort.

IRELAND NEWS

We are having plenty of rain and some to spare, which insures plenty of stock water for the winter.

Plenty of rain this spring at the right time enabled the farmers to produce the best corn crop made in years, that is now being gathered.

Mr. John Beechly and family of Spur are here visiting relatives in and around Ireland. They formerly lived in Coryell county in the many years gone by.

Mr. Joe Motleon has been buying corn and shipping from Ireland until the rains discontinued the gathering.

Mr. Charley Casey and family, who live near Ireland, were aroused one night the past week by the barking of their faithful Bull Dog out in the yard. Mr. Casey went to investigate and found the dog had located a large rattlesnake under the door step. The dog managed to kill the rattlesnake after being bitten by it. The dog died in a short time. The snake had 12 hatters. Charley is still regretting the loss of his faithful dog.

MODERNIZING SCHOOL

School modernization is with us and rightly! We understand the local schools are changing their courses of study so as to give the student work along the line of work he expects to "get his bread and butter from" when he finishes school.

This is rather a new idea (locally) we believe will meet the approval of everyone concerned. It means this: Boys who are going to college will stress more the literary side, and qualifications for college entrance. Those who are to be engineers and doctors or follow professions of a more technical nature will stress science and mathematics. Those who will not go to college, will omit a lot of the literary courses, stressing whatever they plan to follow thru life; Vocational Agriculture, Home Economics and any other thing they may select, choosing the subjects most likely to answer the first question asked a graduate of ANY school, "What can you do?"

Employers don't ask any graduate, first, "What school did you go to or graduate from?" They ask, "What can you do?" They employ people for what they can do and not what college, university or other school you attended. They simply don't care. They have a job for you to do, and if you can't do it, they want someone who KNOWS how.

This certainly is an aim for a school to shoot at as it should be, because schools are to PREPARE one for what they are to follow in life, and not so they can sit up and SPOUT OFF what was learned just to appall goggle-eyed listeners. They want action and not words!

We congratulate and urge the school authorities on in their endeavors to "fix" this school business so that their EFFICIENCY grade will be raised.

LIBRARY FACILITIES

The comparative dearth of public library facilities in Texas, exclusive of the college and school libraries limited to special classes, induces Alonzo Wasson in editorial correspondence to The News from Austin to speculate on the feasibility of interesting the counties to consolidate so as to support a single efficient public library service for a wide area. The thought is certain to attract any one who has studied or sponsored the cause of county consolidation in the interest of more efficient and less costly government. Actual consolidation is not necessary to utilize the library plan. But the economy of a single library, supplying several counties, no one of which could finance it alone, would constitute a striking illustration of what could be done in other directions in a State that has now far too many county governments.

It is to be hoped, however, that the mere fact that this is true will not hinder the movement to provide better library facilities. Texas has today but fourteen county libraries and only forty municipal. Against California's 97 per cent of population within reach of free public library service available. Depression conditions have stunted growth of existing facilities, but the real tragedy is the wide area of Texas which is not served even on an inadequate basis.

Texas should study, with a view to adoption, this comprehensive plan of the State Library Association which would encourage wider provision both for municipal and county public library systems.—Dallas Morning News.

World Comment

By JOE BURNS

DEATH of United States Senator Huey P. Long, self-styled "Kingfish" of Louisiana, marks the end of one of the most spectacular careers in American History. Senator Long died early Tuesday from a gun wound inflicted Sunday by Dr. C. A. Weiss, anti-Longite.

Long was the absolute dictator of the Louisiana Commonwealth, ruling thru a proxy governor. Bitter foe of President Roosevelt, he was considered a potential candidate for President next year on an independent. Many believed he could deprive Mr. Roosevelt of re-election by carrying the normally Democratic South from the Roosevelt column.

Huey Pierce Long was born forty-two years ago in the little town of Winnfield in the red clay hills of Central Louisiana. "Winn County," the Senator once told an audience, in stressing the fact that he was wrought of common clay, "is full of hillbilly, Cajun and sapsucker relatives of mine." The family estate was one neither of wealth nor of poverty. There was no luxury in the Long household. Neither was there any such thing as want. Huey P. Long, Sr. is authority for the statement that young Huey hated farm work and did little of it as possible.

Huey attended the schools of his native community, working at odd jobs, one of which was a horse-and-buggy journey thru the rural sections of Louisiana and Mississippi during a summer vacation, tacking up soap and tobacco signs on trees.

Long early demonstrated an ability to organize and cajole his followers into doing his bidding. While in high school, he formed a secret society, "a sort of circle that was to run things," according to Huey, "laying down certain rules the students would have to follow; and if they followed the faculty instead of our rules, we kept them off the baseball team." "We" meant Huey Long. Long, the dictator, the ruler, from this early age.

Young Long was expelled from school for organizing against the faculty, but before leaving he carried a petition over the town asking the removal of the school principal who expelled him. It was signed by a majority of school patrons of the community and the principal was removed. The future Senator used the same tactics in later years in forming his air-tight political machine; demonstrated the same ruthlessness against his own State.

After leaving school Huey spent several years peddling kitchen wares to Louisiana housewives. Later he managed to attend Oklahoma University for a few semesters, then studied law at Tulane University but failed to graduate. Nevertheless, he was admitted to the bar in his home state when he was twenty-one. Leaving Winnfield, he moved to Shreveport, and almost immediately became a member of the Railroad Commission. In 1924 he ran for governor, was defeated but returned in 1928 to be elected by a huge majority. In 1932 he resigned to accept a seat in the U. S. Senate.

As Governor, he ran the State debt up from $46,000,000 to $143,000,000 and doubled its annual operating expenses, but at the time of his death few persons in Louisiana dared challenge his power. The Governor was his puppet. He cursed the State Legislature to its face and then boldly boasted that "they are the finest collection of lawmakers money can buy." The State judiciary is so packed with Longsters that a legal test of the autocracy of the Long machine is out of the question even now. The State guard was, in effect, a private political army to put down any and all anti-Long squawkers. Huey rigged the State's election machinery so that an outsider

FOOTBALL TRAINING OPENS IN SOUTHWESTERN CONFERENCE

The seven coaches of the Southwestern Conference will start working out their squads this week in an effort to place the in the winning streak of the scramble for the conference.

Baylor University, known for the tradition of never meeting defeat at the hands of the S. M. U. Ponies on Carroll Field, are little stronger this season than last, however, the Grizzlies are not expected to deal the leaders of the conference much trouble.

Rice Institute, Coach Jimmy Kitts' feathered tribe, who won the conference last season, are doped by authorities of the game to repeat, however, this has never been done, but young Coach Kitts has the material to repeat if he can keep the Owls from getting over-confident.

Coach Matty Bell, new S. M. U. Coach, is due to put a strong pounding squad of Mustangs on the gridiron, but will not have a great deal of reserves.

T. C. U. is ranking next to Rice for the title of the Southwestern loop. The Hornet Frogs, for the past several years have produced better teams than most critics expected, and are due to be in the winning streak this season.

Arkansas and A. & M. are in the class with Baylor, having more or less a mediocre team, but who knows, these teams are usually the ones that decide the championship.

The entire Southwestern loop is in a scramble this season, and most thrilling games are promised as the season gets underway. Rice, losing only a couple of first string men, is due to repeat despite the fact that no team in the history of the conference has won the title two consecutive years.

FOOTBALL CHATTER

By TEDDY

In this issue of the News we are carrying dope on the Southwestern Conference teams as we see them. Tuesday we will have the dope on the Class B line-up in this district.

Coach Ewing arrived here last Saturday afternoon and made a run for this office all in smiles, as if tickled to death to see us. With a brown coat of tan, and a Gonzales grin from ear to ear we chatted, making an honest effort to place a good team of Hornets on the gridiron, why not stick with them, and let them know you are with them despite the fact that they are not producing a winning team.

"HORNETS' HEADQUARTERS"

WE'RE WITH YOU!

Football training in the Southwestern Conference loop started Tuesday and will be in a scramble before the season is far underway. Rice Institute is due to repeat for conference champions this year, however, this has never been done in the history of the organization.

Approximately more men will be out for training Monday than are out now due to the fact that school will open on that day, and the weight for the Hornet line-up is from over the county. A better team of Hornets will be on the gridiron this fall than the ordinary fan expects.

LOCAL HORNETS GO THRU WEEK OF HARD WORK, EWING ARRIVES

Under the direction of Head Coach Earle Worley and Line Coach Maurice Ewing, who arrived here Saturday to help Worley with the preseason training, local Hornets have gone thru the mill this week here the 27th with Bruceville-Eddy.

Some twenty-five or thirty candidates have been out this week most of which has been devoted to scrimmaging. Coach Worley stated yesterday morning that he would let up on the hard scrimmaging as soon as school opened as about twenty men are expected in from over the county who know nothing about the game, and local coaches will have to emphasize the fundamentals.

Local fans are turning out daily witnessing the Hornets as they go through all phases of the game, and more interest is being created. The diminutive squad is taking the training more serious this year, however, it is a little early to pick places on the team.

When players from over the county arrive which is Monday more weight will be added, and Coach Worley says he likes to make a team look large whether they are or not. Ewing is of the opinion that a much better line will be on the gridiron this season than last due to several reasons.

Under the capable direction of the two local coaches, the Hornet squad of this season is more determined in general, and fans are urged to give the coaches a word of encouragement as the season gets underway, whereas a much better spirit may be created locally.

COTTON

September 2. The adjustment payments will apply to all sales of 1935 cotton, including those already made.

Cotton producers who may wish to sell their cotton immediately and whose crop is already being harvested and ginned for sale are urged by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to obtain and keep sales slips from buyers, so as to be sure to have adequate sales records on which the government will be able to make adjustment payments under the new loan and payment plan. The necessary forms upon which payments of the difference between the average price and 12 cents will be disbursed are being prepared. In the interim producers who desire to market their crop are advised to compile a careful record which will include a description of the cotton sold, the buyer to whom the cotton was sold, the date of sales and the names of the parties, including tenants, who have an interest in the cotton sold. It is especially important that producers should obtain from the buyer a memorandum of sale which contains the date of sale and the gross weight of the bale or bales sold."

WORLD COMMENT—

could never win. At 38, the entire State of Louisiana was under the power of this country boy. At the time of his death Senator Long was looking for more worlds to conquer. His dream was to become President. He boldly declared that the Democrats would beg him to run in 1940.

His "Share-the-Wealth" plan was known far and wide. Long promised security and plenty for all when elected President. It was all very simple, he said; just take the wealth from the rich and give it to the poor. "Every Man a King," was the title of one of his books. His "Share-the-Wealth" clubs in every State of the Union were said to have a total membership of 3,000,000. Last winter the Kingfish received 30,000 letters a day.

Such is "Our Huey," as he was known in Louisiana.

What will now happen in Louisiana is a big question mark. When dictators go, what they have created usually goes with them. The Long machine will be no exception. Long ruled with a strong hand but his iron fist is stilled in death. Can his lieutenants carry on?

Governor Oscar K. Allen, friend of Long from boyhood, is his logical successor in the Senate. Allen is expected to resign the governorship; Lieutenant Gover James Noe will then become governor and will appoint Allen to fill the unexpired term of Senator Long.

But the anti-Long forces are already at work. The Square-

Dealers, an organization with a membership of 30,000, most of whom carry arms; the John Parker group that has dispensed Federal patronage to anti-Longites; five Congressmen eager for higher positions, and others will arise out of the mist to harass the leaderless Longites.

Louisiana can expect "another deal" in the near future but will it be a "New Deal?" Will the forces in favor of constitutional government and fair elections triumph or will another "Delta Dictator" come forward who, under the guise of democratic institutions, completely destroy the power of the people of Louisiana to act for themselves and maintain self-government?

LEGISLATIVE SESSION STARTS NEXT WEEK

The Special Session of the Legislature is supposed to convene September 16, although I have never received any official notice or call. I am sure that most of the members would be glad to avoid this Session if it were possible, but since it is not possible, I hope that it may be convened without further delay, as I can conceive of no possible good that can come from postponing the Session. The action of the voters in adopting the constitutional amendments last month makes it imperative that the Legislature take action on at least three very important subjects, and it makes no difference what the Legislature does on any one of these subjects, most of the people are going to feel that it has done the wrong thing.

The amendment abolishing the fee system in the larger counties expressly provides that the Legislature shall act at the first Called Session. That requires us to fix salaries for County officials of all counties of more than 20,000 population. This applies to all of the counties in this part of the state except Bosque and Carroll. The Commissioners' Courts in these counties and all other counties of less than 20,000 will be allowed to determine whether their County officials shall remain on fee basis or receive a salary, and in all counties the Commissioners' Courts will determine how Precinct offices shall be paid. Fees will continue to be collected, but will be paid into the Treasury, and the officer will draw a salary. This will, of course, necessitate a close scrutiny on the part of the voters of the work of their officers in collecting fees, but the most difficult phase of the matter is going to be the determination of proper salaries. No matter how high the Legislature might fix the salaries, some of the officers would feel that they are not high enough, and no matter how low the salaries are made, some of the taxpayers will feel that they are too high. It seems to me that these salaries should be fixed at something less than the present maximums allowed under the fee bill. Certainly, it is worth something to the office-holder to know that a salary is guaranteed. In other words, it is better to know that he is going to get a smaller amount than it is to take a chance of getting a larger amount.

Much the same condition exists in regard to regulation of liquor. No matter how stringent the regulations may be, there will be some of our citizens who will feel that the Legislature has not gone far enough. On the other hand there are going to be those who will complain about any regulations whatever. As I see it, the people intended for the Legislature to provide legal means for the sale of liquor in territories where the local people want it sold, and to place all reasonable regulations around this sale. I do not think that people intended to authorize any unregulated sale of liquor anywhere.

Of course, when we turn to the old age pensions, we know that no one is going to be pleased. In fact, there seems to be more loose thinking on this subject than on any subject that has come before the people in a long while. People seem to think that we can pay pensions without adding to the tax burdens of the people at all. In fact, just a day or so ago, a good friend of mine told me that if I was going to vote for any new tax to pay these pensions we were going to have to part political company for as he said: "I would not support my brother if he voted for any new tax of any kind." We had not talked two minutes more until he said that he thought it a shame that we did not make provisions for a larger pension, and when I asked him where we should get the money, he said: "Appropriate it." If any of our people can tell me how we can appropriate money and pay it, without taxing someone, I will resign and support him for the State Senate.

Of course, there will be a great number of different ideas on each of these subjects, and, probably, many bills will be presented to the Legislature. I do not expect to pass legislation on any of these subjects, that will, even be satisfactory to myself, but I have long ago come to the conclusion that the public is probably a great deal better off when it gets legislation which is the result of the compromise of various view points, than when its legislation is simple the result of propaganda inspired, mass prejudiced, or enthusiasm, so I sincerely hope that no one will feel too badly if the Legislature does not act on each of these questions just as you want it to act. The Legislature is faced with a very difficult job, but we asked for it, and will do the best we can. In the meantime, if any of the citizens of the 13th District, Falls, Limestone, McLennan, and Milam, want to be appointed Notary Public, please write me at once at Austin, c/o State Senate.

APPLICATION FORMS FOR COTTON SUBSIDY ARE NOW AVAILABLE

College Station—"Forms are now being printed for the producer to make application for the adjustment payment, commonly known as subsidy, on the 1935 crop of cotton and they will probably be available immediately for distribution to county agricultural agents in charge of the program in the counties." F. E. Lichte, senior administrative assistant, division of cotton, said.

Information required on this form is the date of sale, name and address of producer and purchaser, and the following items: number of bales; gross weight, including bagging and ties; price per pound paid producer; total value of cotton; amount of charges, if any; amount paid producer, followed by signature of the purchaser. Where cotton is sold in the seed, the amount of seed cotton purchased and the seed cotton expressed in pounds of lint is required.

"Any producer under a cotton adjustment contract who agrees to participate in the 1936 cotton adjustment program and sells his 1935 crop cotton before August 1, 1936, is entitled to the adjustment payment," Lichte said.

He added that the producer who did not sign a contract is also eligible to make claim for the subsidy. He will, of course, agree to participate in the 1936 cotton adjustment program and will be paid when his compliance has been certified.

The subsidy will be the difference between the average of the 10 spot markets on the date of sale and 12 cents, middling seven-eighths basis. Maximum payment, however, cannot be more than two cents. The total sales subject to subsidy is the amount of such producer's Bankhead allotment.

"It is expected that checks will be delivered to producers approximately December 15, 1935, and March 15 and August 15, 1936, depending on the date the application is signed. The information will be checked in the county and audited at College Station. It is proposed that a disbursing section will be set up in Texas, thereby saving much time," Lichte added.

Watermelon prices in Georgia, Florida, North Carolina and South Carolina are higher this year than they have been in five years.

RAM AND BILLY SALE

Scheduled for yesterday, the Ram and Billy Sale was to promote interest in better stock, was canceled on account of inclement weather. Mr. Powell County Agent said no attempt would be made to have this sale this year.

Buyers and Sellers of rams or billies are asked to get in touch with the County Agent's office and they will give the names of those having animals either for sale or for those who wish to buy.

RESETTLEMENT LEASES NOT TO BE RENEWED

I am using this means of notifying the public of what they have been waiting for a long time. Below is an excerpt from a letter received from Austin yesterday morning. "It was thought for a while that the Resettlement Administration would attempt to secure new leases or renewals on old leases for another year. We now have definite instructions, however, that the Resettlement Administration will retain all leases it now has, which run for more than one year, but there will be no more new leases or renewals of old leases by the Resettlement Administration. In other words, the Resettlement Administration as such is not to be in the leasing business." I hope this is not too big a disappointment to you. If anything else comes up, I will notify you through the papers.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

PLAYGROUND APPARATUS

When asked to name the most important piece of playground apparatus, my questioners are usually surprised when

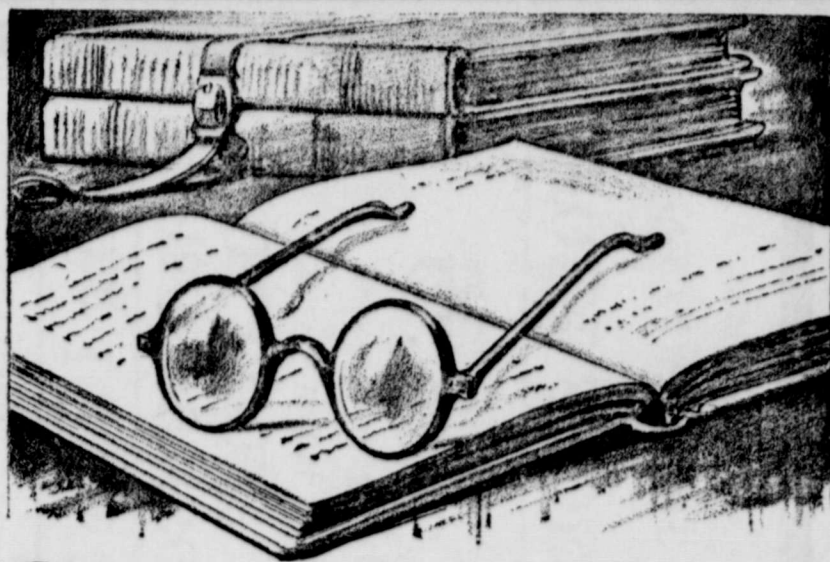

I answer, the sand box. Of course, this piece is for young children only. The balance beam or rail is my choice for the older children.

The sand box, when used under adult supervision, is really an educational device. Here a child may truly create something. He can work out an idea, putting into actual form something first created in the imagination.

You see in this the same impulse which guides sculptors, artists, musicians, and construction engineers. True, the child's castle or tunnel of sand is not permanent, but the sense of achievement is. He has built something that is all his from the original idea to the final product. It is a most satisfying experience.

The balance beam or walking rail is valuable in posture training. Many interesting stunts can be performed on it. The balance required trains the muscles and nerves in body control which is an important factor in posture.

The first eclipse of the moon recorded by the ancients was made by the Chaldeans in the year 721 B. C.

Glasses or Good Lighting?

Four Sight-Saving Suggestions

1. Make sure there is a reading lamp for every member of the family and a study lamp for the children. These lamps should have shades that are light-colored inside, open at the top, deep enough to prevent glare from bare bulbs and wide enough to throw the light where it is needed.
2. See that every reading or study lamp is equipped with the proper-sized bulbs—one 100-watt, two 60's or three 40's, according to the number of sockets.
3. Place lamps so that there is no direct or reflected glare in your eyes.
4. Do your visual work in a room that is moderately well lighted throughout. Reading under a floor lamp in an otherwise dark room is a sure source of eyestrain.

It is an appalling fact that one-fifth of all grade school children have something wrong with their eyes. At college age, forty students out of every 100 suffer from defective vision.

The new Science of Seeing reveals that one of the principal causes of eyestrain is improper lighting. A student who reads in dim light instinctively forms the habit of bringing his book or other object of study closer to his eyes. His eyes adjust themselves to this wrong reading distance—and he eventually becomes near-sighted.

If your child habitually reads with the printed page less than 14 inches from his eyes, there are two things you should do at once. First, have his eyes examined by a competent eye specialist. Then, correct your lighting to conform with the sight-saving suggestions shown at the left. We'll gladly help you with your lighting problems, free of charge.

T-Bone Steak Cooked
In Wine—Um-m!

Chef Gesell, Hotel New Yorker has delicious recipe.

ANYONE who enjoys a T-bone steak will welcome the recipe listed below, a favorite of Jacques Gesell, famous chef at the Hotel New Yorker in New York City.

Gesell, who was born in France, master not only in the art of cooking French and American dishes but also Italian, English, German and Russian as well. His apprenticeship was spent working under famous chefs in Luneville, Paris, Rheims, Brussels and Antwerp.

Housewives who wish to surprise their families with a T-Bone steak which will invite exclamations of praise and delight will do well to copy Chef Gesell's recipe, shown below. Addition of domestic wine is one of the principal reasons for the delicious flavor of the steak, says Gesell.

T-BONE STEAK BORDELAISE
2 lb. T-Bone steak
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons chopped shallots
1 cup domestic red wine
Salt and pepper to taste
Sauté the steak until well browned on both sides. Season with salt and pepper. Add the butter and shallots. Allow to cook for 5 minutes. Add the wine and cook for 5 more minutes. Serve the remaining juice as a sauce over the steak.
