Virgil E. Adams Pays School Tax for Year

The first person to pay his 1932 school tax in Friona independent school district was Virgil E. Adams, living in the southwest part of the district.

Mr. Adams stepped into the collector's office Friday of last week and asked what the discount would be on his school taxes if paid immediately. On receiving the desired information he asked that a receipt be made for him and that he would pay the amount due which was $62.45, and was the first to go on record as having paid his school tax for this year.

Monday morning Mrs. J. A. Blackwell stepped into the collector's office and made an offer to pay the school tax for her husband, the Blackwell hardware and furniture store, and that of J. M. Blackwell. Her offer was at once accepted by the collector and a check for the amount of $134.06 was added to the school fund.

Congratulations to these prompt tax payers, and may the good work keep steadily on.

Cotton Ginning Good.

The Friona gin for the past week or more has been running continuously night and day, with a full crew for each shift. This arrangement has been made necessary on account of the large amount of cotton coming in to be ginned, which made it impossible to get the work done in day time.

Tuesday and Tuesday night the gin turned out 67 bales, and on Wednesday afternoon had ginned a total of 664 bales for the season.

Cotton in this locality seems to be well dried and in good condition for ginning. It is reported that the crop throughout the territory is making a yield from a third to half a bale per acre. C. S. Waddell, manager of the gin, spent the first half of this week on a business mission in Dallas.

Moved From Friona.

Mulkey Ezell last Saturday moved his family to the Flato farm northwest of Bovina. This family has resided in Friona for the past two years, coming here from near Bovina to take a position with F. N. Welch, representative of the John Deere Co. Mr. Ezell was out of employment and decided to return to farming. While here Mr. and Mrs. Ezell won a host of warm friends who will regret to have them leave Friona.

Was Star Subscriber.

Word has been received at the Star office of the death of Miss Janie A. Orr of Spencer, Iowa.

While we of the Star had never met Miss Orr personally, she has been a constant subscriber and reader for the past several years, and at intervals written us letters of appreciation and encouragement, and we have always felt toward her as a friend of the paper.

The Star extends its sincere sympathy to her bereaved friends.

At Home Over Week End.

Hadley, Glenn and Miss Esther Reeve, students in W. T. S. T. C., were here to spend the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Reeve, returning to Canyon Sunday evening.

Miss Floy Goodwine, teacher at Y-L, came Saturday evening and remained over Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Minnie Goodwine, returning to her work Sunday afternoon.

Called to Cisco.

Mrs. L. G. Sympson received a message Saturday morning calling her to the bedside of her dying brother at Cisco. Mrs. Sympson left on the train for Amarillo, where she joined another brother and sister and drove with them to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cearley as Haskell, driving from there on to Cisco.

The brother whom she is visiting has been in poor health for several months and it was thought that he could last but a few days longer. He has practiced law in Cisco since 1916. Mrs. Sympson has the sincere sympathy of her Friona friends.

Harvest Season Not Over In This County

It is apparent that several more days of fair weather will be necessary for all the farmers living in the south and southeast parts of the county to get all their crops safely harvested.

There are many kinds of crops yet in the fields, such as kafir, sudan, maize, corn and cotton, all of which may go to the ground in a few hours should they be visited by a soaking rain or strong wind, owing to the fact that the stalks and leaves have already been killed by the heavy frosts of last week.

Farmers appear to be busy in an effort to save these crops, especially such as have any value for feed or grain. Some are using the hand-heading method for grain crops, others are using headers or combines, still others use the row binder.

Only a few fields of cotton have been gathered, while many fields have not been entered by pickers or bolly pullers. Most fields, however, have a portion of the crop gathered, while that which is still on the stalk seems to be opening nicely, presenting a scene resembling a field covered with a light fall of snow, while in the fields where the pickers have been there are piles of whiteness resembling high drifts of snow, but are in reality the large piles of gathered cotton awaiting to be hauled to the gin, and this process of gathering and hauling, even under favorable circumstances of continued good weather, is destined to run far toward the Christmas season before it will all have passed through the gin.

It is reported that cotton throughout the Friona territory will make an average of a half bale or better to the acre, and the gathering of the crop is furnishing employment to all who care to accept that kind of employment, and it appears that most of them are gratefully accepting it, to the extent that it is rather difficult to pick up a hand for an odd job in town at present.

Much of the row crops grow so slowly during the dry spell and continued to grow so long after the rains came that it failed to fully mature before the killing frost which came last week. It is reported that this condition will greatly reduce the general yield of these grains, and owing to the extremely low price now prevailing, it is possible that much of it will not be harvested, since the returns would not be sufficient to meet the expense of harvesting.

Many wheat fields in that locality are already presenting a solid green appearance from the growth of young wheat upon them, either volunteer or from sowed crops. From appearance the wheat sowing season is pretty well over for this year and most of the fields of later sowing show the young crop coming through the ground nicely

Friona Faculty Has Unusual Talent

A few weeks ago the Star carried a story relative to the unusual ability of one member of our school faculty as an orator, reader and speaker on important and the worthwhile themes generally, in the person of Prof. Wayne C. Eubanks.

At that time it appears our people had not become well enough acquainted with certain other members of the faculty to fully realize their special talents in other lines than that of teaching.

It now appears that each member of the faculty has an unusual talent as instructor of the young, and several others are also blessed or possessed of more than ordinary ability in other lines as well.

Prof. O. M. Stewart has proven his ability to deliver most interesting talks along progressive lines of thinking, thus proving that he is a young man of more than ordinary qualifications as a real thinker, and those who have heard him are unstinted in their praise of his ability.

By his vocal solos and choir leading, Prof. Davis is rapidly winning popularity as a singer of unusual merit, and his selections are listened to with rapt attention. In addition to his ability as a singer, he is an accomplished pianist and is using his musical talent freely for the entertainment and cultural growth of the community.

Prof. Strain is also proving himself to be a musician of pronounced degree of attainment and an excellent bandmaster.

Miss Jacobsen is also an accomplished pianist of far more than ordinary ability, and all things considered, the patrons of the Friona school have just reasons to be proud of their force of teachers for the present term of school.

The Centennial Amendment.

There is a proposed amendment to the state constitution to be voted on next Tuesday making it constitutional for the state legislature, if it chooses to do so, to elect to hold a Texas Centennial honoring the pioneer days of Texas' early history.

The amendment, if elected, does not make it obligatory on the legislature to arrange to hold this centennial, but merely gives it the liberty to do so if it so desires.

It is not proposed to levy any extra tax on the people to build the centennial, nor to issue any state bonds for this purpose. If the voice of the people and conditions do not seem to justify holding the centennial in 1936, the legislature may construe the historic period to be at any time from the founding of the first settlement to the admission as a state into the Union and may postpone the date of the centennial or drop it altogether.

As to the ability to finance the affair, two recent illustrations are available: The Chicago "Century of Progress" is already an assured success a year in advance of its opening. The California Legislature appropriated $1,000,000 for the recent Olympic Games and the revenue paid all this back with another million dollars as profit for the state. Surely Texas can do as well as with whatever it undertakes.

A. D. Smith spent the first of the week in Fort Sumner, New Mexico, on business and visiting relatives.

and presenting a good stand. Present appearance is favorable for a good wheat yield next season.

Anti-Ferguson Speaking.

Judge Nix of Amarillo spoke here at the Capitol theatre Wednesday night in the interest of Orville Bullington as candidate for governor as opposed to the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam Ferguson.

Owing to the fact that the speaking had not been advertised here very few people were aware of it and attendance was therefore proportionately small.

Judge Nix stated that he is a native Texan and has always loyally supported the Democratic nominees, but that in this instance he feels it his duty, for the sake of good government, to vote otherwise.

Dangers of Winter Driving Stressed

The following, taken from the Industrial News Review, contains many facts and suggestions that are worth repeating and the serious consideration of all motor car drivers:

The fall and winter months are the most dangerous of all the year for automobile driving. Rain, snow, sleet, hail and ice, early darkness, haste to reach home and escape the cold, tightly closed cars and low visibility, all contribute to the hazards.

Last year 1740 persons were killed and 51,720 were injured in 44,510 accidents due to skidding cars.

The automobilist cannot carry the driving practices of the late spring and summer over the fall and winter without running a great risk of accident, says Maxwell Halsey, traffic engineer of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. Conditions become vastly different in the last three months of the year and the driver must take them into consideration. Mr. Halsey lays down certain rules for the dangerous driving months:

Have your car thoroughly inspected for any mechanical defects that may have developed during the summer months. Be especially sure your brakes are effective, be sure your tires are in first class condition, also your lights and your windshield wiper.

Cut down your summer speed. Allow for early darkness and for decreased visibility. If you find your car going into a skid do not jam on your brakes. Under the most perfect conditions the driver of an automobile should exercise extreme care. And when the bad days come that care should be stretched to the utmost.

Friona Woman's Club Report.

The Friona Woman's club met with Mrs. O. F. Lange Wednesday of last week with a large number present, and the following program was given:

Response, Interesting facts about Franklin Roosevelt.

Tariff Revision: Mrs. Sympson. Eighteenth Amendment: Mrs. D. W. Hanson.

Unemployment: Mrs. Dilger. Discussion: Mrs. Hanson.

After the program refreshments were served by the hostesses, Meses. Lange and E. S. White. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. T. H. Hughes, November 16.

Mrs. Tray Lee Lewis of Pampa, and Mrs. and Mrs. C. F. Rodgers and Mrs. A. A. Crow spent last week with relatives and friends at Comanche.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Westfall at their home west of Friona, Thursday, November 3, a son.

Local Candidates Names On Ballot

It appears from questions asked that many people of the county are unacquainted with the names of the candidates that appear on the county ticket for the general election to be held Tuesday, November 8. For the benefit of such persons, we give a list of county candidates, Democratic and Republican:

Democratic—County judge, John H. Aldridge, Jr.; sheriff, W. W. Hall; district and county clerk, E. V. Rushing; county tax assessor, Earl Booth; county treasurer, Walter Lander; county attorney, Perry Brown; commissioners, Friona and Black, J. M. W. Alexander; Bovina, Jack Carr; Farwell, Lee Thompson; Lazburry, Joseph Paul.

Republican: County judge, R. H. Kinsley; county and district clerk, L. G. Sympson.

Be careful to mark your ballot right, no matter for whom you wish to vote. A spoiled or mutilated ballot does no one any good.

Hawk Takes the Stump.

Information reaches the Star office to the effect that Wilbur C. Hawk of the Amarillo News-Globe, and president of the West Texas chamber of commerce, has taken the stump in the interest of the campaign of Orville Bullington for Governor of Texas.

Mr. Hawk, although owning an interest in a number of Democratic papers, has determined that the time has come for the election of Mr. Bullington in the interest of better government for the state.

His itinerary has included Plainview, Floydada, Lockney, Dimmitt, Littlefield, Brownfield, Lamesa, Slaton, concluding with Lubbock, where his speech will be broadcast.

Friona supporters of Mr. Bullington will no doubt be pleased to listen to Mr. Hawk's radio speech.

Halloween Party.

Miss Agnes Garrett was hostess to a masquerade party at her home southeast of town Monday night. Prizes were awarded to parties having the best costumes, and were won by Kenneth O'Brien and Bill Harder, first, and Eloine Manderfeld and Noel Garrett, second.

Many interesting Halloween games were played and at a late hour refreshments of peanuts, popcorn, apples and candy were served to Cecil Lowry, Eloine Manderfeld, Lex Alexander, Bill Harder, Marian, Kenneth, Russell and Tom O'Brien, Gene Fairchild, Clayton and Dean Vincent, Sarah and Pansy Berry, Tom and Glenn Wilkerson, Mary Kate and Bill James, Helen and Robert Maggard, Ruth and Loretta Melton, Margaret, Allen and Jim Guinn, Pauline and Aveline Mahler, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Wilson, Mrs. Ira Miller and Claude and Grace.

Will Play Football.

It is announced on good authority that the Friona Chiefs will be engaged in at least three more grid encounters during the present season.

Friday, November 11, they will play the Happy boys on Friona grounds, and a game has also been arranged with Farwell and another with Clovis, but the exact dates for these games have not yet been announced. Watch the Star for these dates and places of playing the games.

Grade School News.

The carnival Halloween booth The Cave of the Winds, was a suc- cess. Screams caused by the roar of the winds and the dead man's parts aroused enough curiosity to earn 91 nickles for the P.-T. A. Only two accidents occurred dur- ing the entire show.

During the Halloween days the room was decorated in black yel- low and orange. Posters of brown- ies sitting on pumpkins, playing a horn and looking at the moon were made.

The flowers are doing well. The carbon-dioxide, that the 47 chil- dren off has helped them grow faster than they usually would.

Sixth Grade.

The sixth grade pupils were glad to make $3.75 for P.-T. A. by having a fish pond at the school carnival.

The following pupils made 100 in spelling during the past week: Gladys Jones, Edith Mosley, Lou Ella Talley, Virginia Turner, Mar- vin Jasper, Stanley Massey, Paul Helmke and Maurine McFarland.

Seventh Grade.

The seventh grade pupils had an art gallery and palm reading in their carnival booth. Curious ad- venturers visited the booth thro- out the evening.

The pupils in regular attend- ance are missing a number of their classmates who are helping gather the cotton crop. The class is hop- ing that all empty seats will soon be occupied.

Grade School Music Notes.

Pupils of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades are enthusiastically working on an operetta entitled, "Thanksgiving Story Book".

This operetta will be given dur- ing Thanksgiving week. A definite date will be announced later. The small admission fee to be charged will be used to buy library books for the fifth, sixth and seventh grades.

Junior Woman's Club.

The Junior Woman's club met at the home of Miss Orman White for its regular meeting Tuesday night, with Mrs. E. B. Wills and Miss White as hostesses.

There were 12 members present including Mmes. Bill Stevens, Sloan Osborn, A. C. Echols and H. T. Magnus. Misses Louise Jacob- sen, Louise Holgate, Martha Mc- Farland, Wanda Walker, Mary Lou Truitt, Lola Goodwine and the hostesses, Mrs. Wills and Miss White.

An Armistice Day program was rendered, containing the following numbers:

Song, America.
Paper, Can War be Abolished: Mrs. H. T. Magnus.

Quartet, Till We Meet Again: Mrs. Sloan Osborn, Misses Martha McFarland, Lola Goodwine and Louise Jacobson.

Following the program refresh- ments of sandwiches, fruit salad and hot cocoa were served to the members.

First Grade Notes.

Mrs. Lange, the room mother, gave the boys and girls hats and horns on carnival day. After they dressed up in their Hallow- een costumes they paraded over the high school to scare Mr. Heath. Ouida Shaffer was ill three days but is back in school.

Are You Living In The DARK AGES?

If your living room is dark and gloomy you're still comparatively benighted. There's nothing like light to brighten your surroundings. Take stock frankly—are your rooms hospitable or forbidding? Wouldn't a lamp here, a splash of warm light there, enliven, beautify your home? You owe it to your family, to your guests. Every arm chair should have a reading lamp beside it to prevent eye strain. Proper light for the card table is absolutely necessary. Perhaps a newer, more modern central fixture would help solve your problem—or more suitably placed wall brackets.

Decide upon the type of lighting your room needs—then visit your dealer's display of smart new lamps and fixtures. You'll find just the improvements your home requires—at extremely reasonable prices. The change in your rooms will surprise you.

THE CHRISTIAN AND WORLD PEACE

Ps. 72:9-17

9. They that dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him; and his enemies shall lick the dust.

10. The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall render tribute to the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

11. Yea, all kings shall fall down before him; all nations shall serve him.

12. For he will deliver the needy when he crieth, and the poor, that hath no helper.

13. He will have pity on the poor and needy, and the souls of the needy he will save.

14. He will redeem their soul from oppression and violence; and precious will their blood be in his sight:

And they shall live; and gold shall be given of the gold of Sheba; and men shall pray for him continually; they shall bless him all the day long.

16. There shall be abundance of grain in the earth upon the top of the mountains; the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon; and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth.

17. His name shall endure forever; his name shall be continued as long as the sun; and men shall be blessed in him; all nations shall call him happy.

Golden Text: Blessed are the Peacemakers; for they shall be called the sons of God.—Matt. 5:9.

Introduction.

"To the peacemaker Jesus promises the happiness of being recognized as a child of God." "Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the sons of God."—Matt. 7:9. Naturally so; for the work of promoting peace and love among men is the very work of God himself. . . . The work of the peacemaker is a clear road to happiness."—Henry Churchill King

"By becoming a neighbor to remote people he (the missionary) broadens their conception of humanity and his own, and then can be an interpreter of his new friends, to his old friends. The interest in foreign missions has, in fact, been a prime educational force, carrying a world-wide consciousness of solidarity into thousands of plain minds and homes that would otherwise have been provincial in their horizon."—Walter Rauschenbusch.

"To be at peace with man we must be at peace with ourselves. To be at peace with ourselves we must be at peace with God."—J. S. B. Monsell.

Mankind has no conception as yet of the overflowing joy which would come upon the earth with the assurance of a permanent peace, such as could only be made certain by the permanent rule of God in the hearts of men. What a satisfaction when the nations are unified in one worship, one hope, and one glad certainty; War has always been the curse of the world. It has wrecked the happiness of more homes than any other agency. It has done most to postpone the triumph of the church, to retard human progress. Another war like the world war, with the deadly instrumentalities since discovered, would, it is generally admitted, blot out civilization and compel mankind to start all over again. And by as much as war has been the world's curse, universal and assured peace would be the world's blessing.

A Messianic Psalm.

of God upon earth in its ideal character of perfection and universality. It is thus in its nature not only a prayer and a hope, but a prophecy. As each successive king of David's line failed to realize his ideal, it became clearer and clearer that its words pointed forward to One who was to come, to the true Prince of Peace."—Prof. A. F. Kirkpatrick. The opening verses of the psalm anticipate this world-wide peace. "The mountains shall bring peace to the people," sings the poet; and he goes on to paint the days when the righteous shall flourish, "and abundance of peace, till the moon is no more." This peace shall flow from the universal dominion of the King.

Peace and Prosperity.

The Psalmist saw peace as the friend of man, especially the friend of the poor. With its coming, the establishment of the Kingdom of Peace, there is to be abundance for humanity. The world even yet is paying a fearful toll for war. There are those who believe that war brings prosperity, because while it is on a nation spends lavishly and recklessly, and for a time during and after war there are high prices and money in abundance. But real prosperity cannot come of the waste of material resources, to say nothing of the waste of life. By far the larger part of our national expenditures today, fourteen years after the ending of the World War, is for the cost of that conflict and of other wars, and for preparation for wars that may come. The United States Government in times of peace spends more annually on its War and Navy Departments than all of the Churches of the United States—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—contribute for all purposes.

National Jealousies Cause War.

At the close of the Great War many people felt that the world was done with war. The horrors of it were fresh upon us. The councils of the nation seemed to promise peace as they formulated their agreements and set up the machinery of peace. Today fourteen years later, we find ourselves in a world more divided than before, a world of revolutions, of international fear, jealousies and wars that again ignore solemn agreements. And the machinery of peace is crippled and uncertain in its movements.

What Can the Christian Do to Promote Peace?

(1) He can preach the gospel of the cross and individual redemption. (2) He can preach against the causes of war. (3) He can stop glorifying war. (4) He can preach peace in times of peace. (5) He can preach the gospel of righteousness and justice between man and man and nation and nation. (6) He can cooperate with all agencies and organizations whose objects are to banish war and usher in world peace. (7) He can preach the gospel of love and brotherhood, and thus create an atmosphere in which war cannot live.

Christ the Hope of the World.

"The announcement from heaven of the birth of the Babe of Bethlehem carried the glorious promise, 'Peace on earth.' This has not had its realization, but the world is moving slowly though it be, toward that goal. In the day when Jesus lived and taught, and for many centuries after, kings could carry their countries into war and sacrifice the lives of their people without giving excuse or reason. Human life has come to be something of real value, and the world is weary of war. All these outward signs of changed conditions are evidences of the working of the 'leaven' of the gospel. The will of Jesus Christ is a will to peace, and 'he shall have his day'. Relief must come to a suffering world, and it must come soon, or the very foundations of safety, prosperity and human character will be unsettled.

Special Lessons.

1. "National selfishness does not serve even the selfish nation as honest internationalism does. But cooperative dealing must bring gains, and soon or later the nations must find that out or perish."—Harry F. Gibson.

2. "Let each church which feels responsibility for Christianizing America's international relations and wishes to share in its relation establish a Peace Committee. Where the peace interest of the church makes it desirable it might well organize a regular Church Peace Society, having its officers and an executive committee."—Rev. Sidney L. Gulick, D. D.

3. "Disarmament must be preceded by reduction of armaments. Reduction of armaments must be preceded by limitation of armaments."—Lucia Ames Mead. The world is making rapid progress along these lines.

4. "The whole movement of civilization has been from strife toward order."—President David Starr Jordan.

Has Little Meaning

In Spanish America "gringo" is a name commonly applied to persons of English speech, especially Americans. It is a gibberish word.

Halloween Party.

The Junior Woman's Club entertained with a Halloween party at the home of Miss Orma White Thursday night of last week. Each club member was supposed to attend and was granted the privilege of inviting one visitor each, which arrangement provided a goodly number of attendants.

On arriving at the home the guests were greeted at the front door by a placard announcing that to gain admittance to the haunted house they must pass to the rear door and rap three times. Having done this they were admitted to the traditional "Old Witch" and greeted with a hand shake by another witch before passing into the next room. The hand offered the guests was formed from a rubber glove filled with oatmeal porridge that had lain out in the cold until it had taken on a death-like chilliness.

When all the guests had arrived they were led out at the front door and around the house to an open window, through which they entered and were then conducted to the "lower regions", the darkness of which was broken only by a dismal gloom, filled with hideous sounds and ghastly objects. From this sepulchral domain they emerged, to be led to the tent of the fortune telling or sooth-saying witch, where each guest's future was unrolled.

The guests came in masquerade costumes and after the journey through the haunted house the masks were removed and many were th esurprises when the real identity of the guests was made known. The guests were then entertained for awhile with various games and stunts, and this was followed by the serving of a plate luncheon of the most appetizing foods.

Those present were Messrs. and Mmes. A. C. Echols, Dan Etheridge, H. T. Magness, Bill Stevens and Mrs. Fred White; Misses Alice Guyer, Louise Jacobsen, Louise Holgate, Mary Lou Truitt, Martha McFarland, Wanda Walker, Lola Goodwine and Orma White; Messrs. Reeve Guyer, Otho Whitefield, Glenn Davis, Charles Strain, Clyde Goodwine, Roy Williams and Ralph Roden; Mr. and Mrs. John White.

Baptist Church Notes.

Ninety-seven were present in Sunday school and 82 in Baptist Training Service. A duet was rendered by Edith Mae Frost and Marjorie York, entitled "Mother and Home".

The time for evening services was set up as follows: B. T. S. to begin at 7:00 o'clock and church services at 8:00. All are invited to attend these services.

At the evening service it was decided to have an all-day program with dinner on the ground on Thanksgiving Day.

REPORTER.

MESSINGER NEWS

Mrs. Bud Walker and children and Mrs. Walker's sister, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Coleman and children spent Sunday evening visiting Mr. and Mrs. George C. Messenger and children.

Miss Rosalie Messenger, whose sixth birthday was Saturday, October 29, shares her birthday and given name with Mrs. Hugh Lee, a neighbor. Neither family knew of this coincidence until a year ago.

George C. Messenger was a business visitor in Hereford last Friday.

Pentecostal Church Notes.

The special Bible studies conducted by Rev. S. C. McLain on each Wednesday evening at the music room of the grade school in Friona, and on Thursday evenings at the church at Homeland are being enjoyed by all who attend.

His lessons on "The Thousand Year Reign of Christ" and the "New Heaven and the New Earth" has stirred quite an interest. He invited all to come, bring their Bibles and ask questions. Mrs. McLain will preach at Homeland Sunday and Sunday night.

Sunday School Class Party.

The young people of the Lakeview Sunday school class gave a Halloween party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Monday night, with about 50 present. Prizes were awarded to the four funniest looking spooks. After the prizes were awarded the spooks unmasked and games were played and everyone seemed to have a good time.

At a late hour refreshments of apples, popcorn balls, parched peanuts and candy were served by the hostess. Later the spooks departed after having spent a delightful evening.

F. W. Reeve last week plowed under 200 acres of beans at the Green Valley farm and will sow the land to wheat. The bean crop was not good enough to pay for harvesting, the early part of the season being too dry and the latter part too wet for the beans to mature.

Mrs. Carl C. Maurer has been quite unwell for the past several days.

Congregational Church Notes.

There was a fairly good attendance at Sunday school and preaching services Sunday morning. Prof. O. M. Stewart was chosen and accepted the position as teacher of the young people's class, and Mrs. T. J. Crawford, Mrs. J. R. Roden and Mrs. O. F. Lange have accepted positions as teachers in the primary department.

Rev. Annis delivered his third sermon as half time pastor on that date, which was well received by the congregation. Following the worship service there was a short business meeting to discuss the plans of the congregation for the coming winter, as Rev. Annis' time expires with the close of this conference year, which comes this week. As very few of those present had given much thought to the matter, it was decided to postpone action until the coming Sunday.

For the worship hour the coming Sunday, Audley Alexander will serve as leader and deliver the lesson for the day. Special music is being prepared for the day, and everybody is cordially invited.

The program committee for this month consists of R. T. Gischler, Otho Whitefield and Orma White. They announce that Prof. Davis of the Friona high school faculty, will deliver the lesson on Sunday, November 13.

Athletic Club Activities.

The boxing program given Saturday night by the Friona Athletic Club at the Capitol theatre was considered a success by the members of the club.

In the first part of the program it is stated the man from Clovis had a little the best of the bout, but it appears that opinions are divided as to the results of the Williams-Foster contest, some favoring one, some the other.

At any rate the affair went off perfectly peaceful, and those attending feel well repaid for their admission fee, and the contestants were greeted by a good sized audience.

The club managers contemplate another interesting program in the near future.

F. W. Reeve is another of our extensive wheat growers who has finished seeding operations this week.

Lakeview Demonstration Club.

The Lakeview home demonstration club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ennis Cummings, where the making of a winter hot-bed for growing vegetables for the winter months was demonstrated. Ten members and Miss Rozelle McKinney, demonstrator, were present, the latter giving a talk on the care of growing plants, soil, etc. The next meeting will be with Mrs. A. Vincent on Monday afternoon, November 7, with the subject of Health and Healthful Exercise. Visitors are welcome.

Judge Lokey Here.

Judge E. F. Lokey of Farwell was a business visitor in our city Tuesday afternoon. He has a host of warm friends here who are always pleased to have him with them.

Mrs. W. B. Stark departed last week for Alva, Oklahoma, where she is spending a few days with relatives and friends, that being her former home.

A REVERIE.

Still on the lips of all, we question
The finger of God's silence lies
Will the lost hands in ours be folded?
Will the shut eyelids ever rise?

O Friend! No proof beyond this yearning,
This outreach of our hearts we need.
God will not mock the hope He giveth,
No love He prompts shall vainly plead.

Then let us stretch our hands in darkness,
And call our loved ones o'er and o'er,
Some day their arms shall close about us,
And the old voices speak once more.
